15,111. I understand you to say that at that time you had received no money?—No.

15,112. I put it to you directly. Did you pay a man named Mashiter, at Carnforth?—No, not a shilling.

15,113. (Mr. Hill.) 9*l.*?—No; I did not pay a shilling at Carnforth.

15,114. You say that 12 of the men you know received the money?—Yes.

FIFTEENTH DAY.

Mr. I. Jackson.

13 Sept. 1866.

15,115. Do you know of any other person in the house excepting Hodgson, besides yourself and Wollaston, who paid money ?—No.

15,116. Can you say pretty certainly that there was no person except yourself and Wollaston who did pay money in that house?—I do not think there was. I did not see any, and never heard of any other. Hodgson is quite wrong in saying that Wollaston and I were together, because I was at Carnforth.

15,117. He appears to have been wrong a good deal in his evidence ?—I wish I had my list.

15,118. I wish you had. I have half a mind to tell Hodgson what I have written against his evidence on my notes.

W. Maddock.

WILLIAM MADDOCK sworn and examined.

15,119. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A commission merchant.

15,120. Will you be kind enough to tell me what a commission merchant is ?—Buying and selling on commission.

15,121. Is it different from a commission agent ?—About the same thing. There is very little difference. I am an insurance agent as well.

15,122. Where do you reside ?—My office is No. 23, Water Street, Liverpool.

15,123. What is your private residence ?—Rock Ferry, Cheshire.

15,124. Any street ?—Green Lawn, Rock Ferry.

15,125. Is Green Lawn the name of the house ?—No ; there are a number of houses built in a square and it is called Green Lawn.

15,126. Is there any number to your house ?—No ; they are all semi-detached villas.

15,127. When were you first spoken to on the matter of the Lancaster election in 1865 ?—It would be about a week or 10 days before the election. I do not even know the date.

15,128. By whom were you spoken to ?—By Mr. H. T. Wilson.

15,129. Did he ask you to come over to Lancaster ?—He did.

15,130. Did he give you any special instructions before you came ?—Not any whatever.

15,131. Did he tell you what you were to come over for ?—Merely to assist at the election.

15,132. Had you been engaged in business with Mr. Wilson ?—I had been formerly but not at the time.

15,133. On which day did you come over to Lancaster ?—I could not tell you the date exactly. It was about 10 days before the election—eight or 10 days.

15,134. What did you do in the matter of the election when you first came over to Lancaster ?—When I first came over I was sent to Morcambe.

15,135. Who sent you to Morecambe ?—Mr. Wilson.

15,136. Was he over in Lancaster at the time ?—Yes ; I came up with him.

15,137. What did you do at Morecambe ?—I simply went to the "Queen's Hotel," which they call the enemy's camp, and I reported all I heard there to Mr. Wilson, from time to time.

15,138. You went over to act as a spy upon the enemy ?—Well, yes.

15,139. What part of the enemy's proceedings were you especially to spy into ?—Any conversations that might take place with reference to bribery or anything of that kind, or as to the number of voters they expected to get.

15,140. What did you represent yourself as at the "Queen's Arms" ?—Simply as a tourist.

15,141. A Liberal tourist ?—I never mentioned my politics at all.

15,142. How did you get into conversation at the "Queen's Arms" ?—With the people as they came into the bar.

15,143. Did you talk to them about the beauties of the country ?—Yes, I did. I admired it amazingly.

15,144. What information did you get ?—It was of a very meagre character.

15,145. And you came back with your meagre information into Lancaster ?—Yes ; I simply told all I heard and saw.

15,146. What was the next thing you did in the matter of the election ? Did you go back to Liverpool ?—No ; I remained in Morecambe until the day of the nomination.

15,147. Still spying out ?—Yes, with the exception of coming backwards and forwards to Lancaster.

15,148. Was your information all the time of a meagre character ?—Very, indeed.

15,149. Now we come to the nomination day ?—On the nomination day, I am sorry to say, I came over to Lancaster, and the first thing I got there was a shower of eggs, and in the evening of that day I was introduced to two men, a Mr. Gorst and a Mr. William Thompson, I think, of Overton.

15,150. By whom were you introduced ?—By Mr. Wilson.

15,151. For what purpose were you introduced to them ?—They were to take me to Overton to point out certain voters who had to be bribed the night before the election.

15,152. Had you at this time received any money from any one ?—At that time I was sent to Mr. Barker.

15,153. Before you went over to Overton ?—Yes ; before I went to Overton.

15,154. You went to Mr. Barker ?—Yes.

15,155. And received from him 200*l.* ?—Yes, 200*l.*

15,156. What is the next money you received in the matter of the election ?—The next sum, in different sums, amounted altogether to 250*l.* That was on the day of the election.

15,157. Besides that 200*l.* and that 250*l.* did you receive any other monies for the purpose of that election ?—I think Mr. Wilson gave me a sovereign on the day of going down, as I had no change with me, to treat the people that night.

15,158. At Overton ?—No ; the first night I went to Morecambe.

15,159. Besides that sovereign and the 450*l.* did you receive any other monies ?—No ; I did not.

15,160. Not from anyone ?—No.

15,161. Neither before nor after ?—Neither before nor after.

15,162. Nor as commission ?—Nor as commission nor anything else.

15,163. You received your expenses for coming over here ?—My railway fare was paid.

15,164. Those you would deduct afterwards from the 450*l.* ?—Yes, just so.

15,165. What was the first payment you made in the matter of that election ?—The first payment was to John Cottam, Oxcliffe Hall.

15,166. Was this on the night of the nomination ?—Yes.

15,167. Where did you pay him ?—In his own house.

15,168. At what time of night ?—It would be early in the evening. I suppose about 5 or 6 o'clock.

15,169. How much did you give him ?—10*l.* John Cottam, junior.

15,170. Is that his son ?—I am not sure whether it was his son or not, but I believe it was. They are all strangers to me. I never saw them before nor afterwards.

15,171. He was also of Oxcliffe Hall ?—I will not say that.

15,172. How much did you give him ?—10*l.*

15,173. Was that at the same time and place ?—Yes.

15,174. Who was the next ?—Adam Cottam, Oxcliffe Hall, 10*l.* ; William Jackson, Overton, 10*l.*

15,175. Was he a young man ?—I do not remember any of them ; I only saw them for a very few moments.

15,176. Who was with you at the time you paid these men ?—Mr. Gorst of Lancaster. I think he is a baker and provender dealer.

15,177. He introduced them to you ?—Yes; he pointed out the houses.

15,178. You paid Jackson at his own house ?—Yes.

15,179. Did Gorst introduce all these men to you ?—Yes; Gorst and William Thompson, they were together with me.

15,181. Were they paid together ?—Very likely they would be.

15,182. Have you written them down in the order in which you paid them ?—Yes; Thomas Caton, 10*l.*; Joseph Hadwen, 11*l.*; Matthew Jackson, of Heaton, 10*l.*; William Thompson, of Overton, 10*l.*;—he was one of the parties with me on this round.

15,183. Did you give him anything for his trouble in going round with you ?—Nothing more than the 10*l.* I do not remember giving him anything, but I possibly might. Then there is James Thompson, 10*l.* Those were all the voters I paid in that round; then there is an item to R. Snatcham—he is a publican, 1*l.*

15,184. Was that that night ?—Yes.

15,185. What was that for ?—For refreshments to some of the voters, I think. Then there was an amount I paid at the "Ship Inn" at Overton, for suppers and breakfasts for freemen who were going to vote on the following morning, 6*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.*

15,186. Have you any voucher for that ?—I had, but I tore it up shortly after the election was over, I did not want to keep it.

15,187. Did you show it to anyone before you tore it up ?—I do not think I did.

15,188. When did you pay that ?—That was on the nomination night.

15,189. You paid it on that night, did you ?—No, I beg pardon; I paid it the next morning when I took the men away; they had supper as well.

15,190. What was the next payment ?—I believe that is all, it is all I can remember; I paid my own bill at the "Queen's Hotel."

15,191. Did you pay a man named Thompson for the use of his shanty to bring voters ?—Yes, I did not put that down.

15,192. Was that the same Thompson ?—I rather think it was—William Thompson.

15,193. Publican ?—No he was not a publican, he was a farmer.

15,194. You paid him for the use of his trap 1*l.* ?—Yes.

15,195. What other payments did you make ?—I have no memorandum of any others.

15,196. Then you returned a balance of 225*l.* ?—No.

15,197. What did you do with it, then ?—On the day of the election I was engaged the whole of the day in Lancaster.

15,198. Then you have another list to give us ?—No, I have not ? I was engaged the whole day in Lancaster among entire strangers, and never took a single name down.

15,199. You spent the 225*l.* ?—Yes, nearly so.

15,200. And you have no account to give us of the way in which you disposed of it ?—No, I did not know the name of a single man; I simply saw the men vote.

15,201. Be very careful in what you say. There is a balance of 224*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* to be accounted for, and I intend to get an account of it from you, and so I tell you. Now begin and tell us how you account for that sum ?—As soon as I had polled the men from Overton and the neighbourhood I then turned my attention to any voters I possibly could find,

15,202. What time in the day was that ?—From 10 to 12 o'clock, in fact the whole day.

15,203. After 10 o'clock in the morning ?—Yes.

15,204. You had disposed of the Overton voters by 10 o'clock ?—Before 10 o'clock.

15,205. Did you go with them to the poll ?—With the majority of them I did; the others, Mr. Gorst and other parties went with, and whether they polled them or not I cannot tell.

15,206. Where did you go to after you had polled your men ?—I went to the "Bull Inn" and one of the captains (I do not know whether it was Mr. Dauson or not) told me there were a number of men there that wanted looking after, and that I had better go and get some money, and I went and got 50*l.* I think that was the first money I got from Mr. Barker.

15,207. Then this is the second part of the money ?—That is the second part of the money.

15,208. Was this the first instalment of the second sum from Mr. Barker ?—Yes.

15,209. You had paid away at that time 224*l.* ?—Yes, but I had borrowed some money from Mr. Thompson to meet the outlay on the nomination day at Overton.

15,210. How much money had you borrowed from Mr. Thompson ?—I cannot remember now, but I paid it out of the 50*l.* I got.

15,211. Had you borrowed from him the difference between 200*l.* and 225*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.* ?—Yes.

15,212. Then you had borrowed 25*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.* from Mr. Thompson ?—About that.

15,213. As soon as you had got the 50*l.* from Mr. Barker did you repay Mr. Thompson the 25*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.* ?—I did.

15,214. How soon after you got the 50*l.* did you repay that money ?—Almost immediately.

15,215. At what time in the day had you got that 50*l.* from Mr. Barker ?—I should think it would be about 10 o'clock in the morning, as near as I can judge.

15,216. What was the next thing that you did ?—The next thing I did was—there were some voters standing at the door of the "Bull Inn," they were pointed out to me and I went and polled them; I forget how many there were.

15,217. About how many ?—I believe there were ten altogether, but I had not money enough out of the 50*l.* to pay them, and I went back to Mr. Barker and got some more; I believe there were ten, but I will not be certain.

15,218. Did you pay those that you could with the money that was remaining to you before you went for some more money ?—No, they went up-stairs into the room and waited there for me,—into a private room locked up.

15,219. Then the ten men went upstairs into the private room ?—Yes; just so.

15,220. How much did you get from Mr. Wilson Barker when you went the second time ?—I believe it was 100*l.*, but I will not be sure; I did not take any notice of it.

15,221. This was at the "Bull"?—At the "Bull."

15,222. As soon as you came back with this 100*l.* what did you do ?—I went and polled the men.

15,223. Did you pay them before you polled them ?—I did.

15,224. How much ?—10*l.* each.

15,225. Now give me a list of them ?—I cannot; I did not take down the name of any one of them.

15,226. Nonsense.—I beg your pardon, I did not; this, you will remember, was on the day of the election, and it was almost impossible.

15,227. Let me look at your book. (The book is handed by the witness to the Commissioners.) What is the meaning of this first entry—"Overton, 15; Middleton, 5; Sunderland, 6 ?"—That was a memorandum that I got of the number of voters, I think.

15,228. Is all this first part of the book connected with the election ? Here, I see, is the name of John Hodgson ?—John Cottam, I think, is the first; the book should be the other way up.

15,229. "Woodman Sunderland" is the first entry ?—

FIFTEENTH DAY.

W. Maddock.

13 Sept. 1866.

That was merely a memorandum to enable us to find him.

15,230. What is this entry: "John Hodgson, 26*l.*, 10*l.*, 10*l.*, 1*l.*?" just look at it (handing the book to the witness.)—I am sure I do not know what that is; I might have given that money; I cannot remember what that is.

15,231. Who is John Hodgson?—I do not know, I am sure.

15,232. You made an entry there for the purpose of remembering the transactions; just look at it, and explain what it means?—It has escaped my memory.

15,233. Look at it?—I am under the impression that he joined us on the day of the election, and got this money from me; but I will not swear it; I do not know how to account for it; it has altogether escaped my memory.

15,234. Who is John Hodgson?—I am sure I do not know; perhaps he might be one of the captains, for aught I know; I did not know a living soul in the place when I came here.

15,235. Never mind talking so much; look at that book, and tell me what your recollection is as to that entry?—I should not have put it down here if I had not paid it to John Hodgson; that is very certain.

15,236. Is it money that you received from John Hodgson?—No, it is not.

15,237. Will you swear that?—I swear it.

15,238. Is it money that you received from any person on account of John Hodgson?—No.

15,239. Do you mean to tell me that you, having made that entry, cannot tell in the least what you meant by it?—Upon my word, I cannot; and I am sure I would not like to say what is not true.

15,240. I sincerely trust you would not. Then there is a payment of 46*l.* made to John Hodgson, and you cannot recollect what it was for. Who is this "R. Hodgson" up above?—I do not know, I am sure, who he is; there is no money paid to him, I think, is there?

15,241. There is no entry of any money paid to him?—Perhaps in the hurry I made some memorandum.

15,242. Was anybody present when you paid these ten men who were kept up in a room at the "Bull Inn"?—I fancy there was one of the captains present, but I do not know who it was; there was great confusion about the place.

15,243. But the names of these men were given to you by somebody?—Their names were not given to me at all; I did hear their names, no doubt, when they gave them in the book.

15,244. Who told you how much to pay them?—I was instructed to do the best I could.

15,245. Who told you what these men wanted?—They asked their own price; and I knew that 10*l.* was about the price, and I paid it to them.

15,246. Was there anybody there to tell you whether they were voters or not?—I saw their voting papers or cards.

15,247. Their voting papers would not prove to you that the men were voters?—I took them to the polling booth, and saw every one of them poll.

15,248. But you paid them before they polled?—I did.

15,249. How did you know, when you paid them, that they were voters?—They simply showed their cards.

15,250. Do you mean to tell me that nobody was present who gave you their names, or vouched to you that they were voters?—There were several.

15,251. Tell me their names?—I cannot tell you the name of one of them, because I did not know them; but I know that they were engaged on the Conservative side; Mr. Danson saw me actively engaged all day among them.

15,252. Did Mr. Danson see you pay these men?—No; I do not believe he did; he left; Mr. Pace was with me most of the morning.

15,253. Who is "Captain Cole, 'Sea-view Hotel,'" Bournemouth?—That entry has nothing to do with the election.

15,254. Who is he?—He is an American captain.

15,255. That entry, you say, has nothing to do with the election?—Certainly not.

15,256. Are you sure that the entry with reference to John Hodgson had nothing to do with the election?—I am completely at a loss to understand it; I think it is merely a memorandum of some remark that was made as to what he might require; but really I cannot remember it.

15,257. It does not look much like a memorandum of what he might require; it makes altogether 47*l.*; you have no recollection what you did with that 47*l.*? I cannot remember at all; I gave a statement of this in to Mr. Wilson.

15,258. These entries at the other end of the book are entries of the sums which you have given me before?—Exactly.

15,259. You polled these men, you say, but you cannot give us their names?—No, I cannot.

15,260. Nor the name of any person who was present when you paid them?—No.

15,261. That you swear upon your oath?—Yes.

15,262. That leaves 124*l.* to be accounted for; what did you do next after you had polled these ten men?—I went to Mr. Barker's and got more money, and went to each public-house in the neighbourhood.

15,263. At what time in the day did you go to Mr. Barker for the third instalment?—I cannot tell you.

15,264. About?—I cannot say.

15,265. Was it in the afternoon, before the close of the poll?—It would be somewhere between 12 and 1 o'clock, I suppose.

15,266. How much money did you receive from him on the third occasion?—I believe it was about the balance—about 100*l.*, I think, altogether; I only went to him about three times, and altogether I got 250*l.*

15,267. Then it would be about 100*l.*?—Somewhere about that.

15,268. What did you do next?—I continued my pursuit after voters.

15,269. What do you mean by continuing your pursuit after voters?—I went into every public-house; there were several places where voters were locked up, and I tried to get admission to them.

15,270. Who took you?—I went first with one, and then with another.

15,271. Give me the name of any one single person who went with you to any one single public-house, or who saw you pay one single voter?—Mr. Pace.

15,272. He is in Bombay, and therefore is a very safe man for you to vouch?—We were together.

15,273. Give me some other name?—I think William Thompson saw me pay money in Lancaster.

15,274. When do you think William Thompson saw you pay money in Lancaster?—On the morning of the election, before ten o'clock.

15,275. Those would be the Overton voters?—No; the Overton voters were paid over night.

15,276. Tell me who William Thompson saw you pay in Lancaster?—I could not tell you.

15,277. Do you mean, when you speak of William Thompson, the captain who was with you?—Exactly.

15,278. Where did he see you pay any voters?—I believe he saw me pay some at the Royal Oak; we met with a number there, I believe; I believe that Mr. Gorst saw me pay some too; there is a sum of 4*l.* that I paid to Mr. Gorst, which has just struck me.

15,279. What was that for?—That was for his services.

15,280. That is 4*l.* out of the 224*l.*?—Yes.

15,281. That leaves a balance of 220*l.* Where did Mr. Gorst see you pay any voters?—I cannot exactly tell you the place, because we were never ten minutes in one place; we were in almost every public-house in the town.

15,282. I will tell you what; we shall have a pretty exhaustive list of voters who have been paid; and it strikes me, that we shall not find twenty who received money without our having had their names given to us?—What I state is true; I cannot give you the names of the men; they were entire strangers to me.

15,283. Tell me where you paid any other voters, or tell me the names of any other public-houses that you went into?—I do not know the names of them.

15,284. You knew Lancaster pretty well, did you not?—No; I had never been in Lancaster before.

15,285. You had been here that week, you know?—I used to come in of an evening from Morecambe after dark; I was not allowed to be seen in Lancaster at all; it was not the policy of the Conservative party to see me there.

15,286. Do you mean to say that you were told not to show yourself till after dark?—I was severely rebuked for coming here at all the first or second day, and I was told not to come; I did not come over every day.

15,287. And that is the excuse you gave to us for not knowing the names of the houses to which you went to pay voters?—It is no excuse; it is the truth; I could not tell you the name of a single house, except the "Black Bull" and the "Royal Oak"; as I have told you, I was a total stranger in Lancaster.

15,288. It is not, perhaps, a matter so much for us as it is for others; but do you mean to say that you cannot account to those persons who intrusted you with all this money in any better way than you have accounted for it to us?—Certainly, I cannot.

15,289. Persons in very humble positions in life have accounted, even with reference to these bribing practices, to the last farthing; you are a defaulter to the amount of 224*l.*; and you may stand down, as far as I am concerned.

15,290. (Mr. Barstow.) It is our business to trace this money, and find out to whom it was paid?—Yes.

15,291. Here is a large sum, 224*l.*, which is unaccounted for by you?—It is accounted for; but I cannot give you the names of the persons to whom I paid it.

15,292. It is not accounted for; we cannot put down the names of voters who are unknown?—I cannot help that; it is very unfortunate that I did not put the names down, but on the day of the election there was great confusion and bustle, and if I had attempted to write the names of the men down, I might have lost half of them.

15,293. You had 220*l.*?—Just so.

15,294. That was the price of the twenty-two votes?—Yes.

15,295. Then there would be 22 names?—Yes.

15,296. How long would it have taken you, as a man of business, to write 22 names down?—It would not have taken ten minutes perhaps.

15,297. Ten minutes?—Well, five minutes.

15,298. Do you really mean to say that the reason why you did not write down the names of the persons to whom you paid money was because you would lose so much time if you did?—To tell you the truth I did not think it worth while to write them down; I did not see that there was any necessity for it.

15,299. Why did you put down the names of the persons you paid the night before?—Because the night before I had plenty of time to do it.

15,300. Do you give that seriously to us as the reason why you did not write down the names?—It is a positive fact that I did not write them down; I did not think it was worth while to write even one name down.

15,301. These men stayed quietly while you went to Mr. Wilson Barker for more money; do you think they would not have stayed quietly while you wrote down their names?—I was in a hurry to get them away. All I can say is that I did not think it worth while to take down their names.

15,302. That is a perfectly absurd account to give, and I am surprised that you should think of attempting to palm such an account upon us. When did you give this account (referring to a paper before produced)?—It might have been a week after I got back from Lancaster.

15,303. This very amount?—I have not seen it.

15,304. Look at it (showing the paper)?—I believe that is it.

15,305. You know the paper again?—It is my writing.

15,306. When did you render that account?—I rendered that account, as I have said before, about a week after I got home.

15,307. To whom did you render it?—To Mr. Wilson.

15,308. Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson?—Yes.

15,309. Did you make any remark upon it?—No, not any whatever.

15,310. And you seriously repeat to us that that is a true account?—Yes.

15,311. Can you mention the name of any one person that you saw and spoke to?—Mr. Danson saw me repeatedly and Mr. Isaac Jackson saw me repeatedly.

15,312. Did Mr. Isaac Jackson or Mr. Danson see you pay any of the voters?—No; I believe Mr. Isaac Jackson saw me take several men from the "Black Bull" and pay them.

15,313. What men?—Some of those ten that I took to vote.

15,314. Did you take the ten men all together?—No.

15,315. Did you pay them all together?—No.

15,316. I thought you said that they were all in one room?—So they were.

15,317. Did one batch wait until you had paid another batch?—Yes.

15,318. And yet you were in too great a hurry to write down their names?—I do not say that I was in too great a hurry to write them down.

15,319. But that is what you have stated?—I say I did not think it worth while to take their names down.

15,320. Do you not think it worth while to account for money which has been put into your hands for any purpose?—I never thought that any account would be required.

15,321. Why then did you put down the other names? I suppose that you, in the course of your business, have to account for money that comes into your hands?—Certainly.

15,322. And you are familiar with accounts?—Yes.

15,323. Do you really mean to say that you thought you should not have to account for this large sum of money that was left in your hands?—Yes, I did not think it would be necessary for me to do so.

15,324. (Mr. Newton.) Can you explain how it happened that you wrote down the names in a book of persons you paid before witnesses that you knew, and did not write down the names of persons you paid when you alone were present with them?—I had to go to a great many places about Overton.

15,325. I am not talking about Overton. Can you explain the distinction that you made?—I am sure I cannot tell how it was.

15,326. Can you give any explanation of it? You write down the names of the men when you pay them before Mr. Thompson and Mr. Gorst and not when you pay them before nobody?—In a great many cases neither Gorst nor Thompson were present. They stayed outside while I paid the money to these people.

15,327. Why did you write down the names of the persons you paid one night and not write them down on the following day?—Because I did not think it worth while.

15,328. Is that the only answer you can give?—Yes.

15,329. Why did you think it was not worth while to write them down?—I did not see the utility of it. I never dreamt of a Royal Commission.

15,330. But if persons entrust you with money is it not the custom to account to them for it?—I have rendered the best account I could, and I have sworn to its correctness.

15,331. (Mr. Barstow.) The proper description to give of it is that it is no account.

15,332. (Mr. Newton.) Upon the evidence as it stands it would appear that you put 220*l.* into your own pocket?—That is certainly not the case.

15,333. It is the case if you cannot give any better explanation than you have given?—I have given the best explanation I can. How is it possible for me to remember the names of voters that I had never seen before in my life and have never seen since?

15,334. How came you to put down in your book the names of people that you paid before witnesses, and not the names of others that you paid when no witnesses were present?—I beg your pardon. In the majority of these cases the men were paid when no witnesses were present.

15,335. You told us just now that Thompson and Gorst were present when you paid them?—They introduced me, but they stopped outside in the majority of cases, and they will tell you the same thing. I have sworn that the men did get the money.

15,336. I am sorry to say that I do not believe you?—I am sorry for that indeed.

15,337. You tell us that you saw Mr. Jackson in the course of that day. He has told us that he remained in China Lane until 4 o'clock when the polling was over. Tell me any place where you saw Mr. Jackson?—I might have confounded the "Black Bull" with the "Crown and Anchor."

15,338. I want you to state where you saw him that day?—I believe I saw him at the "Crown and Anchor."

15,339. At what time did you go there?—I dare say it would be about 3 o'clock.

15,340. What did you mean by telling my brother Commissioner, Mr. Hill, just now that there were only two public-houses the names of which you knew in the town—the "Black Bull" and the "Royal Oak"?—You have reminded me of the "Crown and Anchor."

15,341. No, I have not reminded you of it. You suggested that name yourself. What did you mean by saying "The Crown and Anchor?—I do not know.

15,342. At what time did you go to the "Crown and Anchor?"—It might be 2 o'clock.

15,343. Was it 2 o'clock?—I did not take particular notice of the time.

15,344. You said just now that you only went to the "Bull Inn" and the "Royal Oak," and now you have mentioned the "Crown and Anchor." How came you to mention the "Crown and Anchor."?—I do not know. Perhaps it flashed across my mind at the time. I cannot account for it.

15,345. Were you in Court yesterday?—I was here for a very short time only.

15,346. Then probably you had not an opportunity of hearing what Mr. Hill so properly said to a witness, that a witness who had been guilty of telling an untruth did not deserve to be examined any further. You may stand down.

15,347. (Mr. Barstow.) I must say that I think this is by far the most disgraceful exhibition we have witnessed in the course of our inquiry, and it is rendered much more so by the fact that you are not a poor ignorant person, but a man holding, I should suppose, a considerable position as a merchant on your own account. I can only say, that we shall certainly refuse your certificate.

15,348. (Mr. Hill.) I think the best thing you can do is to go to Mr. Wilson Barker's shop and give him back 220*l.*

T. Scanlan.

THOMAS SCANLAN sworn and examined.

15,349. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I manage the passenger traffic for the National Steam Company in Liverpool. I may add that at the time of the election I was in Mr. Wilson's office.

15,350. Where do you live?—Edge Lane, Liverpool.

15,351. I believe you came to Lancaster at the last election?—On the nomination day I did.

15,352. At whose request did you come?—At Mr. Wilson's request.

15,353. When did he make that request to you?—It was conveyed to me through Mr. Wollaston.

15,354. When, I ask you?—On the day previous to the nomination day.

15,355. Monday, the 10th?—Monday the 10th.

15,356. Did you come here alone or with anybody?—I came with Mr. Wollaston.

15,357. Mr. Wollaston and some other gentleman? I came in the same train.

15,358. Did you bring anything with you?—Yes. I brought what I believe to have been some money.

15,359. What was it in, a bag or a parcel?—In a brown paper parcel.

15,360. I am glad you do not mince the matter, but say at once what it was. What did you do when you arrived at Lancaster?—I went to the "King's Arms" hotel.

15,361. About what time?—It was late in the afternoon; perhaps 5 o'clock. I do not remember the exact hour.

15,362. What did you do when you got there?—I remained there but a very few minutes and then went with Mr. Wollaston to Mr. Wilson Barker's office.

15,363. And there delivered the money?—And there delivered the money.

15,364. Where did you go after that?—I sauntered about the town for half an hour perhaps and then came back to the "King's Arms" hotel.

15,365. Did you do anything that evening in the matter of the election?—No, not more than ascertain the geography of the "Three Crosses" or some such public-house.

15,366. Are you sure that that was the sign; was it the "White Cross"?—Perhaps that would be it; it is a public-house at the top of the hill I know.

15,367. With two doors?—I only remember one door.

16,368. It is a corner house, is it not?—Upon my word I cannot say.

15,369. Do you remember the landlord's name?—I do not.

15,370. What did you do there?—I should have said I went there with Mr. G. C. Clark.

15,371. Then it was the "White Cross"?—I simply saw the locality of the rooms and came back again.

15,372. Now we will come to the nomination day, July the 11th; What did you do on that morning?—On that morning I went to the "White Cross," at perhaps 7 or half past 7 o'clock.

15,373. I am speaking of the 11th July, the day before the polling?—I only arrived in the evening of that day. The request was conveyed to me on the Monday, but I only came on the nomination day.

15,374. At what time did you go to the "White Cross" on the morning of the 12th?—I fancy about half-past 7.

15,375. I suppose you did not go unprovided?—I did.

15,376. When did you receive any money?—Well, I went in ignorance there, expecting that money would be there; but I found out that I should have brought it; so I went at once to Mr. H. T. Wilson and he referred me to Mr. Barker, who gave me some money.

15,377. How much did he give you?—I understood it was 250*l.*, but I did not count it.

15,378. At what time did you get the money?—Before 8 o'clock I think it was.

15,379. I omitted to ask you who gave you the money that you brought from Liverpool?—The late Mr. William E. Chambers; Mr. Wilson's cashier.

15,380. Where?—I believe in Mr. Wilson's office, and I put it into my black bag.

15,381. Is Mr. Chambers dead?—He is dead.

FIFTEENTH DAY.

T. Scanlan.

13 Sept. 1866.

15,382. Do you know, or have you heard since, how much this money was that you brought with you?—I understand I brought 500*l.*

15,383. When you were upstairs in this room what took place?—I seated myself with my back to the window, according to instructions, and honoured certain checks that had been issued by Mr. Clark as they were presented to me.

15,384. What was the nature of the check?—Simply a piece of paper about the size of a railway Ticket, on which were certain letters which we had arranged beforehand; a sort of cypher.

15,385. These letters that were on the paper represented different sums of money?—Different sums of money.

15,386. Now I will ask you what your cypher was?—A B C D, and so on; the first nine letters represented the initials. A was one, B two, C three, D four, &c.

15,387. Occasionally you had to use the cypher?—We had a good deal of use for the "A K"; "A" was the "one" and the K. was the cypher.

15,388. How many voters do you suppose presented these checks?—I have rather a vague idea upon that point. I cannot say. I could not give an opinion. They kept continually coming in in ones and twos.

15,389. You can give no notion at all?—Scarcely.

15,390. How long did you continue there?—Up to perhaps 2 or 3 o'clock, 3 o'clock probably.

15,391. Perhaps you will be able to say how much money you paid away?—At first I got 520*l.* as I understand, and I got a second supply of 250*l.*, and I believe a third supply of something like 150*l.* I did not count the money. Mr. Barker gave it me all.

15,392. Did you pay away the whole of that?—No I returned the balance.

15,393. Was that the whole that you received?—That was all I received.

15,394. Do you recollect what the balance was?—I did not count it.

15,395. I believe we know from other sources; to whom did you return this balance?—To Mr. Wilson Barker.

15,396. Did you go anywhere after you left the "White Cross"?—I came down to the "King's Arms" and tried to get to the hustings to hear the condidates speak, but I did not succeed at the first attempt.

15,397. That was after the poll was over?—After the poll was over.

15,398. Did you leave Lancaster that evening?—That evening.

15,399. And that is all you know of the Lancaster election?—That is all.

15,400. I have here what Mr. Barker told us you returned, do you know what the sum was?—No; I did not count it.

15,401. He returned the balance as 118*l.* 10*s.* You made no payments, I suppose, except to voters?—Except to those men in the room.

15,402. You did not pay any bills or give any money except to those voters who came into the room?—No.

15,403. Have you read the account given by Mr. Clark of what took place?—I looked over it at breakfast the other morning.

15,404. Is it a correct account?—On the whole it is.

15,405. (Mr. Hill.) What do you mean by saying it is correct "on the whole"?—I did not read it consecutively through. I only read part of it in the morning, and when I got home in the evening it was gone.

15,406. As far as you know it is a correct account?—As far as I know it is correct.

ROBERT HAGART sworn and examined.

R. Hagart.

15,407. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Liverpool.

15,408. What are you?—I am in Mr. Lawrence's office.

15,409. As clerk?—Apprentice.

15,410. When was the first time any communication was made to you respecting the election at Lancaster.—I think about Monday the 10th.

15,411. What communication was that?—I think I was told by Mr, Wilson that if I choose to come up and help at the election, he asked me if I would like to come.

15,412. He came to you?—No, he did not come. I only heard it from a gentleman in our office.

15,413. Who was it?—A gentleman in our office, a Mr, Tronson.

15,414. Is he a clerk there?—Yes.

15,415. He told you that Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson would like you to come over here?—Yes, to help.

15,416. What do you mean by "to help"?—To do anything that there was to do.

15,417. What was it, out with it at once?—I think it was assisting.

15,418. To pay away money?—No, that was not it at all.

15,419. To come and assist at the election?—Yes.

15,420. You were not to come as a looker on you know?—Just to help. I did not know then what there was to do.

15,421. To assist at the election and help?—Yes.

15,422. Anything more?—I believe not.

15,423. When did you come to Lancaster?—On the day of the nomination.

15,424. That would be the following day?—Yes.

15,425. Did you bring anything with you?—Some money.

15,426. How was the money?—In a bag, a black bag.

15,427. A travelling bag I suppose?—Yes.

15.428. Where did you get that money from?—From our office.

15,429. From your office?—Yes; Mr. Lawrence's office.

15,430. Who came to you?—I think it was Mr. Tronson.

15,431. Are you sure it was Mr. Tronson?—I am not quite sure.

15,432. Just try and recollect?—I could not swear that it was Mr. Tronson.

15,433. Whereabouts was it?—In the office; just as I was coming up here I was asked to take it up with me.

15,434. Did he say what you were to do with it?—I was to give it to Mr. Barker.

15,435. Could it have been anyone else but Mr. Tronson?—It might have been one of the other clerks.

15,436. Could it have been Mr. Lawrence?—No, it could not have been Mr. Lawrence.

15,437. Could it have been his brother?—No, it could not have been him; I am sure they were not in the office at the time.

15,438. If it was not Mr. Tronson it must have been some other clerk?—Yes.

15,439. How many clerks were there in Mr. Lawrence's employment?—Six, I think.

15,440. Were they all there that day?—I think so.

15,441. (Mr. Hill.) Do you mean six in the same position as Tronson?—No; he is the manager.

15,442. He is the head clerk?—Yes.

15,443. (Mr. Newton.) Was the black bag locked?—I did not try.

15,444. You did not open it?—No.

15,445. Did it shut with a spring?—I do not remember; I got it shut and gave it up shut.

15,446. Your curiosity did not prompt you to look into it?—No.

15,447. Did they tell you how much money there was in it?—No.

15,448. No sum was mentioned?—No.

FIFTEENTH DAY.

R. Hagart.

13 Sept. 1866.

15,449. As near as you can recollect, tell us what your directions were?—To give it either to Mr. Taylor or Mr. Wilson Barker.

15,450. Were you told where you would find them? —Mr. Taylor, I believe, was staying at the "King's Arms."

15,451. You were told to come to the "King's Arms?"—Yes.

15,452. Was this after office hours?—No; I think it was in the forenoon.

15,453. Did you come over?—I got here, I think, about 2 o'clock.

15,454. This was on Monday?—On the nomination day.

15,455. When was the bag given to you?—That morning.

15,456. You had been told the Monday previously that you were to do so?—Yes, I think it was Monday; I was asked to come up.

15,457. On Tuesday the bag was given to you, and you got here at 2 o'clock?—Yes, I think 2 o'clock.

15,458. Did anybody else from Liverpoool come with you?—No.

15,459. None of these gentlemen; Mr. Wollaston, for instance?—No.

15,460. Mr. Scanlan?—No; I did not know any of these gentlemen.

15,461. No one that you knew came with you?—No.

15,462. What did you do when you got here?—I went to the "King's Arms" and saw Mr. Taylor.

15,463. That is Mr. Lawrence's partner?—Yes; and then I saw Mr. Wilson Barker.

15,464. Mr. Taylor gave you some directions, I suppose?—I really forget; I do not know how I found out Mr. Wilson Barker.

15,465. At all events, you got home?—Yes; I got home and gave him the money.

15,466. What time did you get there?—I think it was about 2 or 3, I forget when the train comes.

15,467. Did anybody else go with you there?—No; I think I met with Mr. Wilson Barker at the "King's Arms," and he went with me.

15,468. You handed the money over to him at his office?—Yes.

15,469. Did you get a receipt?—No, I did not get any receipt.

15,470. Do you know these Liverpool witnesses who have come here; Mr. Wollaston, for instance?—I met them at Lancaster last year.

15,471. They did not go with you?—No.

15,472. Did you take any part in the election, of any sort, after this?—I was with John Cross.

15,473. I suppose you slept at the "King's Arms" that night?—Yes.

15,474. You went out in the town and just looked about?—Yes.

15,475. In electioneering times there is no harm in that. You met Cross that night?—Yes; I met Mr. Cross, but I forget the name of the house where I met him.

15,476. Should you know it if I were to tell it to you?—I do not know.

15,477. Was it at the "Golden Ball?"—No.

15,478. You met him at some public-house?—Yes; I was told to go with him.

14,479. Did you make arrangements with him as to what was to happen the next morning?—Yes.

15,480. Who introduced you to Mr. Cross?—I forget; I was told to go with him.

15,481. By whom?—I think it was Mr. Wilson.

15,482. You went with him the next morning?—I went with him that afternoon.

15,483. Where did you go to?—We went to Mr. Barker's office and got some money.

15,484. On the Tuesday afternoon?—On the 11th I think it was.

15,485. At what time did you go to Barker's?—Between 4 and 5, perhaps; It might be later, but I do not remember.

15,486. What did you get?—Some money; I do not know how much it was; Mr. Cross signed a receipt for it.

15,487. It was put into your possession?—We went together.

15,488. Cross signed for it and the money was given to you?—Yes, I got it.

15,489. What did you do when you got it?—I went about the town with Mr. Cross to different places, and whatever he told me to give I gave it to a particular man—a voter.

15,490. Did you go to any public-house?—Yes; but I do not remember the name of it; it was getting dark at the time. I went and got some tea first; then Mr. Cross came for me and we went out together.

15,491. You went to some public-house?—We went to different houses; first of all about the town voters' houses, I suppose they were.

15,492. He told you what to pay, and you paid it? —I am not sure whether I paid anything that night or not, but I went round just to look them up.

15,493. You cannot recollect whether you paid any money that night?—No; I think there was some paid, but I am not quite sure.

15,494. Surely you must have some sort of recollection whether you did or did not pay any?—I would not swear it, but I think there was some paid.

15,495. We will take it that there was some paid; you cannot tell us what?—I do not know any of the amounts, but I think there was some paid.

15,496. Did you go to bed that night?—A little.

15,497. At what time?—I think it was about 3 o'clock.

15,498. What time did you get up the next morning? —I think at 7 o'clock.

15,499. Did some functionary or an official come and call you in the morning at the hotel?—No, I do not think so.

15,500. Did the "boots" come?—I think I got up myself.

15,501. At what time?—About 7, I believe.

15,502. Where did you go when you got up?—I met Mr. Cross.

15,503. Where at?—I think at the "King's Arms."

15,504. Where did you go to?—We went round the town again, and then we went to the "Golden Ball," I believe it is called.

15,505. When you got to the "Golden Ball" what did you do?—We went up into a room upstairs.

15,506. We must have the story, so tell it out?—I do not exactly remember what I did; if you will ask me a question I will answer it.

15,507. What did you do upstairs?—I went into a room with Mr. Cross.

15,508. You sat down at a table?—Yes.

15,509. Were voters introduced to you?—Yes; and I paid them what Mr. Cross told me.

15,510. Were tickets given to you by Cross?—I think so.

15,511. With the names on?—Yes.

15,512. And the amount?—Yes.

15,513. Did you get any more money that day from Mr. Barker?—We went once or twice, but I do not know the amounts we got each time.

15,514. Cross was with you all the time?—Yes, all the time.

15,515. You were merely, as I understood, Cross's agent?—Yes.

15,516. Do you remember how many supplies you got from Barker that day?—I think three.

15,517. Three in addition to the first?—No, I think three altogether.

15,518. Did Cross go with you each time?—Yes.

15,519. Did he sign a receipt for the money?—Yes.

15,520. Which ended first, the voters or the money? —The voters, I think; at least I gave back some to Mr. Barker.

15,521. Do you remember what it was?—I think it was about 70*l.*

15,522. 75*l.* 10*s.* is the amount Cross returned?—I think that would be right.

15,523. Did Cross go back with you to Barker?—I do not remember, but I do not think he did; I think I saw Mr. Barker himself.

15,524. Did you see him in the street or at his own house?—I forget; it was in the street or else at the "King's Arms."

15,525. That is all you know about the election?—Yes.

15,526. You went back to Liverpool that night?—Yes.

15,527. Did you come across Mr. Lawrence that day anywhere?—No, I did not speak to him at all.

15,528. Did he know you were in Lancaster?—I believe so.

15,529. You did not speak to him?—I may have made some remark to him, but I do not remember what it was.

15,530. Was it anything in reference to the money?—No.

15,531. Did you see his brother?—Yes, I saw Mr. John Lawrence.

15,532. Did you tell him about the money?—No, I just saw him at the "King's Arms."

15,533. You did not tell him about the money?—No.

15,534. Where did you dine that night?—I did not dine at all.

15,535. You had dinner before you left the house?—I was too busy; I had not time to dine.

15,536. You had a heavy tea?—I really do not remember.

15,537. I want to know where Mr. Lawrence was that night. Where did he dine?—I do not know; I did not see him.

15,538. Do you know where his brother dined?—No.

15,539. (Mr. Barstow.) You say you are not sure whether it was Mr. Tronson who gave you this money?—No.

15,540. You say it would have been some other of the clerks if it was not Mr. Tronson?—It might have been.

15,541. Could you say who it was?—No.

15,542. Could you say who it was likely to have been, if it was not Mr. Tronson?—I could not swear who it was, but it probably was Mr. Tronson.

15,543. Did Tronson say anything to you as to where the money came from?—No.

15,544. Have you talked to Mr. Tronson since about this matter?—No.

15,545. You have not said a word to him about it?—No, I do not think so, but I am not sure.

15,546. You have said nothing that you remember?—No, not about that money; I may have talked about the election

15,547. Do you remember talking to him about the election?—I do not remember any particular occasion, but I might have done.

15,548. When you say you "might have," did you talk to him about the election?—Yes.

15,549. About what part of the election was your conversation?—I really do not remember. I might have just casually said something about it.

15,550. Do you really mean to tell us it was not about the money?—Yes.

15,551. You are quite sure you avoided that fact?—I neither avoided it, nor talked about it.

15,552. When Mr. Tronson delivered the money to you, he gave you some directions?—He did not say it was money at all.

15,553. You both of you seem to have known pretty well that it was money?—That was my own opinion; but that has nothing to do with whether it was money or not.

15,554. You very properly said at once it was money, instead of fencing about it?—I was not told of it.

15,555. You knew it was?—I knew it was very heavy, and that it might be money.

15,556. You knew it was money?—I did not know it. I thought it was money.

15,557. Did not Mr. Tronson ever ask you whether you had fulfilled his directions?—No.

15,558. Whoever gave you this money, what directions did he give you when he delivered the bag to you?—I think he said I was to take it to Mr. Taylor.

15,559. Was that all?—That was all.

15,560. Mr. Taylor is the gentleman who was here yesterday?—Yes.

15,561. Did not Mr. Tronson ever ask you whether you had delivered the money to Mr. Taylor?—He may have done so, and I probably said "Yes." I had delivered it to Mr. Wilson Barker, to whom I gave it. I suppose he took it for granted.

15,562. Had you no further conversation about it?—I do not think so.

15,563. Can you swear to us that he never told you where the money came from?—Yes.

15,564. He never did?—No.

15,565. He did not take you into his confidence so far?—No.

15,566. (Mr. Hill.) Did any other of these clerks come over with you?—No.

15,564. You say you were an apprentice in Mr. Lawrence's office?—Yes.

15,568. I apprehend in a somewhat superior position in the office?—No, I have not been there long.

15,569. Were you in the habit of taking directions from any of the other clerks in Mr. Lawrence's office?—How do you mean?

15,570. You say in this office of Mr. Lawrence's Mr. Tronson is at the head?—Yes.

15,571. And you say in that office there are five or six clerks under Mr. Tronson?—Yes.

15,572. Were you in the habit of taking directions from any of those clerks under Mr. Tronson?—Do you mean about business?

15,573. Yes. Would they give you directions?—Yes, if there was anything to do, they would ask me to do it.

15,574. Would they give you directions as to leaving Liverpool, or as to bringing anything over to Lancaster?—No, I do not suppose they knew anything about it.

15,575. Nor would you be likely to take any directions from them upon such a matter as that?—I do not know.

15,576. Would you?—If any of them had asked me to take it up, I probably would have done it.

15,577. Is it likely that one of those clerks would have said, "Go to Lancaster, Hagart, and take this parcel with you;" should you have gone without consulting Mr. Tronson?—Probably not.

15,578. I should think certainly not?—I would not be sure of that.

15,579. Do you mean to say you would have come over to Lancaster by the direction of any of these clerks in the office?—If Mr. Wilson had asked me to come up.

15,580. Would not the clerks have brought the message as from Mr. Tronson or Mr. Lawrence?—They did not bring it, so I cannot say.

15,581. Your belief is that it came from Tronson?—Yes, that is my belief.

15,582. A belief upon which you have very little doubt?—I do not recollect. I got the bag and brought it to Lancaster.

15,583. You would recollect it if you received the directions from anyone else but Tronson?—I cannot say.

15,584. To the best of your belief you got it from Tronson?—Yes.

15,585. And you told Tronson that you gave it to Barker or Taylor?—I really do not recollect it. I do not remember whether he asked me anything about it.

15,586. (Mr. Newton.) Do you know Mr. Chambers, the cashier to Mr. Wilson?—No.

15,587. Was anybody else present when you delivered it to Mr. Barker, except Mr. Cross?—I went with Mr. Barker or without him to his office, and gave it to him.

15,588. No one else was present?—No one.

FIFTEENTH DAY.

R. Hagart.

13 Sept. 1866.

15,589. (Mr. Barstow.) Was anyone else present when, whoever it was, delivered this bag to you?—I got it in the office, the other clerks would have been sitting about.

15,590. They were all there as usual?—Yes.

15,591. There was no concealment?—No; I was going away, and Mr. Tronson just said, "Take this bag up to Lancaster with you."

15,592. (Mr. Newton.) It seems an extraordinary thing, asking a man to take a bag to Lancaster, and not to tell him that money was in it. You might have lost it in a cab, or dropped it?—I do not know that.

Mr. W. Barker.

Mr. WILSON BARKER recalled and further examined.

15,593. (Mr. Barstow.) You have been here during the examination of the last witness?—About five minutes.

15,594. (Mr. Newton.) He says he took a bag, by the direction of Tronson, and brought it here, and went to the "King's Arms;" saw Mr. Taylor there, and after that went to your house—nobody went with him—and that he handed over that bag to you. It was a black leather bag, and shut with a spring?—I have no recollection of any bag. A sum of 500*l.* was brought to me on the 11th, besides the 2,000*l.*

15,595. (Mr. Barstow.) That is not quite the account you gave of it to us?—To my belief it came by that morning's post. I never saw a black bag. On the 11th I received 2,500*l.*—2,000*l.* came in four bags by Mr. Wollaston, with four or five other gentlemen; and the other 500*l.*, you asked me how I received it, and I said, "to the best of my knowledge, by the post that morning." I am not certain about it. I have nothing down as to who brought it; and if this last witness brought it, I was under the impression that he was in the employ of Mr. Wilson. I changed that money; there is no doubt about it.

15,596. (Mr. Hill.) But you would not change it if was gold?—No, but I have no recollection of receiving it in gold.

15,597. (Mr. Barstow.) The last witness has just said that he brought something heavy in a black bag to you?—2,500*l.* was brought to me on that day, 2,000*l.* in four bags by Mr. Wollaston, and the other 500*l.* I believe came by post.

15,598. If nothing more than that 2,500*l.* was brought, there is a strange discrepancy in your account and the account of the last witness, because five hundred sovereigns is a very different thing from a sum which you say, specifically, was sent to you by post, and which must have been in notes because you say you changed them probably at the Lancaster Bank?—I had more than 500*l.* by me at that time of my own, besides the 500*l.* I changed at the Bank.

15,599. Do you remember walking with anybody from the "King's Arms" to your place of business?—No, I do not. I have looked everywhere for letters enclosing money, but could not find one, and I took it for granted that that 500*l.* must have come by that morning's post.

15,600. (Mr. Newton.) Do you not remember paying Cross and Hagart together?—No, I do not. I remember paying Cross, and I have Cross's signature for it, but I have not the slightest recollection of seeing Hagart with him. Seeing the numbers that came in it is impossible to recollect; the main thing was to get a receipt for the money I paid.

15,601. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you sure you did not walk with anyone from the "King's Arms" to your office?—I do not remember it.

15,602. Not with a man carrying a bag with 500 sovereigns?—I do not recollect walking with any man carrying any money. My own recollection is that I received four bags of 500*l.* each brought by Mr. Wollaston, with two or three or four other gentlemen with him, and that I received 500*l.* the same day by post.

15,603. When did that impression arise in your mind. Is it in your account that it come by post?—No, it is in my account "Chambers." I had it at first down in my memorandum "Liverpool," but I understood from Mr. Wilson that it would be from Chambers, the same as the rest.

15,604. It is in your account as credited to Chambers?—Yes, received from Chambers.

15,605. When did Mr. Wilson tell you that it was from Liverpool, the same as the rest?—I think it would be soon after the election, a few months afterwards. Whenever he came to Lancaster he generally called, and I used to show him how the account stood, whether there was a balance due to me, or the other way.

15,606. What do you call this sum in your account with him?—500*l.*

15,607. Per whom?—I put it, first "Liverpool," and then I put it "Chambers."

15,608. (Mr. Hill.) Have you got that account?—No. I have got no more accounts than those which you have.

15,609. What did you do with those accounts?—You have got an exact copy of those accounts.

15,610. (Mr. Barstow.) I thought you told us you had the originals?—No; I said I had the original documents from which I made up the amount, the vouchers, except those that were with the Town Clerk. I cannot find any original letters enclosing the money.

15,611. (Mr. Hill.) In fact, you cannot tell us with regard to those other sums that came by post whether or not they were brought in bags?—They came afterwards. There were none brought in bags afterwards.

15,612. There is "July the 12th, 450*l.* per post from W. E. Chambers," how do you know that that did not come in a bag?—Because I received no gold but what I got changed at the bank.

15,613, What did you receive on the 12th?—A cheque for 1,000*l.*, which I got changed at Mr. Ball's, and I believe I got some bank notes changed.

15,614. Where did you get them from?—I had them by me.

15,615. Did you receive nothing besides a thousand-pound cheque?—Yes, there is another sum down.

15,616. There is a sum of 450*l.* by post; how do you know that came by post?—Because I believe it all came by cheque.

15,617. Do you still believe that that 500*l.* came by post after Mr. Hagart's evidence?—No, I might be mistaken.

15,618. If you heard other evidence with regard to this 450*l.* you would say you might be mistaken also?—No; I believe no one brought any money at all except what I got changed.

15,619. Did you receive this 450*l.* by the morning's post, or have you no recollection about it?—I know I received it on the 12th. It is down on the day I received it.

15,620. (Mr. Barstow.) You received 2,000*l.* in four bags?—Yes.

15,621. What sort of bags?—Leather bags; I have them now. In fact, I believe there are five, but where the fifth came from I do not know. They are all in a drawer now. They are small leather bags such as you get from a bank in which you put five hundred sovereigns.

15,622. (Mr. Newton.) Wash-leather?—Yes.

15,623. You have got five of them?—Yes, I think five.

15,624. That is very strong evidence that you received 2,500 sovereigns?—I never thought about it. I know that those four bags came, because it made an impression on my mind these four or five gentlemen coming in.

15,625. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you sure you have got five of those bags?—I will produce them. I know there are four, and I believe there are five.

15,626. Which you received on or about the 11th of July?—I know of four I received, because I counted the money afterwards, and folded the money up in rolls of 100 sovereigns each to save time.

15,627. Are you sure you have five bags?—I will tell you when I have looked.

15,628. Where are they?—At my office.

15,629. Are they open?—No.

15,630. Are they locked up?—Yes; that is to say my office is locked up.

15,631. (Mr. Newton.) It is very strong evidence that you received 2,500*l.*?—It would be so if I received the other sums in gold instead of notes, but I am not under the impression that I did.

15,632. (Mr. Hill.) Are these five bags, if there are five, all of the same character?—They are bags that would hold 500 sovereigns each.

15,633. Wash-leather bags?—Yes; to the best of my belief they were thrown in the drawer immediately afterwards.

15,634. (Mr. Hill, to Mr. Hagart.) What sort of a bag was it you gave to Mr. Barker?—A black leather bag, I believe; but I did not leave it with him, I took it away again.

15,635. What did you take out of the bag?—I did not take anything, I gave it to Mr. Barker. I suppose he took the money out.

15,636. Did Mr. Barker return you that bag?—I got it back.

15,637. Did you see the bag emptied at that time?—I do not remember, I do not think I went into Mr. Barker's office. I gave him the bag, and he gave it to me back again.

15,638. (Mr. Newton.) Whose bag was it?—I do not know.

15,639. Was it an ordinary black leather travelling bag?—Yes, a little black bag.

15,640. You must recollect whose bag it was?—No, I do not.

15,641. It was not your own?—I got it from the office.

15,642. Was it your own?—No.

15,643. Was it Mr. Tronson's bag?—I do not know. The bag may have been lying about the office.

15,644. You saw the parcel put into the bag?—No I did not.

15,645. You say you took this black bag to Mr. Barker's office, and Mr. Barker gave it you back empty, to the best of your belief?—Yes.

15,646. You did not go into the office?—I went into the office, but Mr. Barker may have gone into some other part.

15,647. (Mr. Hill, to Mr. Wilson Barker.) When did you first collect this account which you have presented to us?—I filled it up daily.

15,648. When did you first finish it in the same way in which it was presented to us?—The last amount added to it was in July.

15,649. When did you first write in the account "By post 500*l.*?" That I could not say; I know I asked Mr. Wilson about it.

15,650. When did you ask Mr. Wilson?—Several weeks ago; before the Commission.

15,651. You made your accounts several weeks ago, before the Commission?—Long before the Commission.

15,652. How long; since the Committee?—Before the Committee; I made the account in that form from the first, within a week or two after the election.

15,653. Do you mean to say that within a week or two after the election you wrote in your account, "by post 500*l.*?—No; I put "Liverpool."

15,654. When did you alter it?—Through an intercourse with Mr. Wilson. I said, "I cannot tell how this money came, I have no memorandum of it." And he said, "It must have come from W. Chambers, the same as the rest;" and I put it "Chambers."

15,655. (Mr. Newton.) You have a distinct recollection of receiving 500*l.*?—I remember receiving 2,500*l.* on that day.

15,656. Have you a distinct recollection of receiving 500*l.* by post that morning?—I have not; I took it for granted if it came from him it must have come by post, because he was never here in Lancaster, and I never spoke to him on the subject.

15,657. You had a cheque sent by Chambers on the 8th?—No, bank notes; I have had remittances from him every month on other business, and he has always sent it in bank notes, if it is not an amount for a post-office order.

15,658. You told us the other day that you changed this cheque, whatever it was, that you got on the 11th, at the Lancaster bank?—I changed a cheque at the Preston bank for 1,000*l.*

15,659. At the Lancaster bank?—No, bank notes I changed at the Lancaster bank, and a cheque I changed with Mr. Ball, and I must have changed some others with him, very likely notes. (The witness is directed to bring the bags from his office, a messenger accompanying him.)

Adjourned for a short time.

ROBERT SHACKLETON recalled and further examined.

15,660. (Mr. Barstow.) We have had a complaint made against you this morning.—So I have been told, and I shall be glad if the Commissioners will allow me to state that I never was nearer to Mr. Vince yesterday than I was when I sat there opposite, at the time he was giving his evidence. I have never seen Mr. Vince or spoken to him in any shape or way since the day before the election.

15,661. Do you mean to say that you said nothing to him last night?—I mean most positively to say that I never spoke to him in any shape or form.

15,662. And did you use no language such as he states you did?—I used no language whatever.

15,663. It is an extraordinary statement for him to make?—Yes, it is an extraordinary statement. I went out of Court with Mr. Isaacs; Mr. Isaacs and myself were talking, and I do not know now that Vince was anywhere near us.

15,664. He says you said something insulting to him with reference to the evidence that he had given before us?—I never did, I never spoke to him.

Mr. WILSON BARKER recalled and further examined.

15,665. (Mr. Barstow.) Where were these bags (showing five leather money-bags to the witness) produced from?—Out of a drawer in the presence of the man you sent.

15,666. Was the drawer unlocked in your presence? It was not locked. I may explain that from Messrs. Wilson and Chambers I am in the habit of receiving thousands of pounds, and to the best of my belief, as I stated, the money came to me by post.

15,667. May I ask you how you came to receive so much money from Mr. Wilson through the late Mr. Chambers?—For calls.

15,668. What calls?—For the Shipowner's Company. I have received something over 20,000*l.* from them.

15,669. How does it happen that the money passes through your hands?—I am the secretary of the company, and that money is sent to me to pay into the bank.

15,670. They do not pay the money into the bank direct?—No; it is left at the office of Wilson and Chambers, and they send it to me by post.

FIFTEENTH DAY.

R. Hagart.

13 Sept. 1866.

ROBERT HAGART recalled and further examined.

15,671. (Mr. Newton.) Did you see Mr. Lawrence's brother on the day you have spoken of?—I saw him at the "King's Arms."

15,672. Was that before you saw Mr. Barker?—I cannot say; I think it was after.

15,673. Did he know that you had these bags?—No; at least, I should not think he did.

15,674. Mr. Taylor knew that you had the bags?—Yes.

15,675. He saw you with them?—Yes.

15,676. Have you anything to add to what you have told us before?—Mr. Cross has got the list of the voters that I paid, and that will probably corroborate what he has said.

15,677. We find that your figures are quite correct according to Mr. Cross's evidence; 75*l.* you returned to Mr. Barker?—Yes.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

Mr. HENRY THRELFALL WILSON sworn and examined.

15,678. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you reside?—At Lingdale.

15,679. Is that near Liverpool?—In Cheshire.

15,680. What are you?—A ship-owner.

15,681. Trading under what name?—H. T. Wilson Cunningham and Co.

15,682. Who were the members of that firm at the time of the election in 1865?—Myself and Mr. James Chambers.

15,683. Carrying on as that firm the business of shipowners?—Yes.

15,684. How long had Mr. Chambers been in partnership with you?—Nine or ten years.

15,685. How long have you been in business in Liverpool?—20 years.

15,686. You are, I believe, a native of Lancaster, are you not?—I was not born here, but I was educated here.

15,687. Are you a freeman of Lancaster?—No.

15,688. Besides having been educated at Lancaster, did you reside here for any length of time after your education was completed?—No, I left immediately.

15,689. Were you educated at the Grammar School here?—Yes, at the Grammar School.

15,690. After leaving Lancaster did you go at once to Liverpool?—Yes, I went there at once.

15,691. And have you been there ever since?—Ever since my apprenticeship was completed.

15,692. How many years ago did you become acquainted with Mr. Lawrence, the candidate?—I should think about 10 years ago.

15,693. I will call him Mr. Lawrence, and the other J. T. Lawrence; what was Mr. Lawrence in 1865?—He was a merchant.

15,694. You had had business relations with him?—Yes.

15,695. He was a merchant at Liverpool?—Yes, at Liverpool.

15,696. Besides having business relations with him, had you been on intimate terms with him?—Yes.

15,697. Had you interested yourself in any previous election at Lancaster?—I took a slight interest in the election between Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Saunders.

15,698. I do not want to take you at present at any great length into the contest between Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Saunders, but how long have you known Mr. Saunders?—I think I have known Mr. Saunders about three years from the present date.

15,699. When did you first become interested in Mr. Saunders' election, or rather in his contest?—I think I came here either the evening before or on the nomination day, I forget which.

15,700. You are referring now to the contest in 1864?—Yes.

15,701. What part did you take in that election?—I rather think that Mr. Whelon wrote for me to come over here.

15,702. Who was Mr. Whelon?—He acted for Mr. Saunders at that election.

15,703. In what way was Mr. Saunders connected with Lancaster?—I do not know in what way he was connected with Lancaster.

15,704. Was he connected with any business in Lancaster at that time?—I think with nothing except the Ship Building Company.

15,705. What is his position with regard to the Ship Building Company?—He is deputy-chairman.

15,706. Who is the chairman?—I am the chairman.

15,707. When was that company established?—About three years ago.

15,708. Is there any other business in Lancaster with which you and Mr. Saunders were connected?—There is the Shipowners' Company.

15,709. That is a distinct company from the Ship-building Company?—Yes, quite so.

15,710. What are your relative positions in that company?—Mr. Saunders is the chairman, and my firm are the managers of the company.

15,711. Can you give us an idea of what is about the capital employed in those two companies?—The capital in the Ship-building Company will be, shortly, 30,000*l.*, and in the Shipowners' Company it will be 125,000*l.*

15,712. You say that you took some slight interest in the contest between Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Saunders. Did you lay out or divide Lancaster into districts for the purposes of that election?—No, I did not.

15,713. What part did you take in the election?—I was here on the nomination day, and I rather think that Mr. Saunders asked me to see what his position was at that time.

15,714. Did you go through the canvassing books?—I saw the canvassing books.

15,715. And reported to him the probabilities of his success?—I reported to him what Mr. Whelon told me.

15,716. We know that some money was spent at that election. Had you anything to do with the money that was found at that election?—I sent some gold over from Liverpool.

15,717. To what amount?—I think 1,000*l.* or 1,500*l.* I do not remember now.

15,718. Do you know whether that 1,000*l.* or 1,500*l.* was apart from the expenses that were returned as legal expenses by the officer after the election?—It was part of the legal expenses.

15,719. Do you know anything personally (I do not ask from private conversation with Mr. Saunders) of any other money that was spent at that election?—I know that Mr. Saunders spent between 2,000*l.* and 2,100*l.* altogether.

15,721. (Mr. Hill.) Did you yourself pay away money to any persons at that election?—No, nothing.

15,722. To whom did you send this 1,000*l.* or 1,500*l.*?—I sent it to Mr. Whelon.

15,723. And you know nothing further of the manner in which it was disposed of?—I have seen the account.

15,724. When did you first interest yourself in the election which we are more immediately inquiring into now, the last election?—In February, I think it was in February, 1865, I gave them a promise that I would assist them at the general election.

15,725. You say "them;" who do you mean by them?—The Conservative party.

15,726. Can you give me the names of the heads of the party to whom you gave the understanding that you would assist them at the election?—This took place when a deputation waited upon me to invite me to contest the vacancy when Mr. Gregson died.

15,727. When would that be?—I think it was in February.

15,728. A deputation waited upon you, you say, aking you to contest it?—After Mr. Saunders had declined they waited upon me.

15,729. Mr. Saunders was asked first of all as having been first in the field, and then upon his declining they waited upon you?—Yes.

15,730. And you declined?—I declined.

15,731. Did you then promise the Conservative party that you would look out for a fit person to contest Lancaster?—I did.

15,732. And did you wait upon Mr. Lawrence, or did you see him?—I asked Mr. Lawrence. Several other persons, I think, had been invited before Mr. Lawrence.

15,733. What steps were taken with regard to Mr. Lawrence standing for Lancaster?—I waited on Mr. Lawrence myself.

15,734. Did he acquiesce in your proposition?—No, he did not.

15,735. What was done then?—I pressed Mr. Lawrence for a considerable time, I should think for a month.

15,736. And he eventually acceded to your proposition?—He did after he had been here.

15,737. He came over, did he?—Yes; he came over here to a meeting of the Shipowners' Company, and then met a deputation from the Conservative party.

15,738. Of whom did that deputation consist?—There were a good number there; I should think 20 or 30 were present.

15,739. Who were the heads of it?—I do not remember. I remember Dr. Mackreth was there, and Mr. Brockbank was there. I forget who else, but there were a good number.

15,740. Those were the heads?—No; there were several of the influential Conservatives present, but I forget their names.

15,741. Who addressed Mr. Lawrence? Who headed the deputation?—I forget who was in the chair. I rather think Mr. Dockray was.

15,742. When was this meeting held?—On the 1st of June.

15,743. Was there a resolution arrived at at that meeting?—They pressed Mr. Lawrence to stand, and Mr. Lawrence said he would give it consideration.

15,744. What was the next thing that was done?—Mr. Lawrence gave me his answer on the 7th of June.

15,745. Was that answer accepting?—He agreed on the 7th of June to accept it.

15,746. And you duly bore that answer, I presume, to the Conservative party?—Yes; I communicated it that evening.

15,747. Was anything said at that time as to the probable cost of contesting Lancaster?—Yes.

15,748. Did you convey this to Mr. Lawrence, or was this at a meeting of the Conservative party?—Mr. Lawrence told me what he was prepared to spend.

15,749. What did Mr. Lawrence tell you he was prepared to spend?—1,000*l.*

15,750. You told Mr. Lawrence, I presume, that 1,000*l.* would not do in Lancaster?—I told him that that was all I should ask him to contribute.

15,751. You knew that there would be more required than 1,000*l.*?—I thought that there might be 2,000*l.* required.

15,752. Did you think at that time that 2,000*l.* would win Lancaster?—Judging from Mr. Saunders's expenditure, I thought so.

15,753. From whence did you expect the other 1,000*l.* to come?—I intended to contribute myself.

15,754. And from what other sources did you expect it to come?—I hoped to get a contribution from his brother.

15,755. You sent that answer, you say, over to the Conservative party?—Yes.

15,756. What was the next step that was taken?—I suppose they would announce it here.

15,757-8. What was the next step that was taken of which you were personally cognizant?—After that, do you mean?

15,759. Yes?—I rather think a meeting was called.

15,760. Did you come over to attend that meeting?—I did.

15,761. And Mr. Lawrence?—Yes.

15,762. That, we know, was on the 15th of June?—On the 15th of June.

15,763. Mr. Lawrence, I presume, addressed the meeting?—He did.

15,764. Was that meeting well attended?—Yes, it was very well attended.

15,765. And did you hope, from the appearance of that meeting, for any success for Mr. Lawrence?—Yes, I did.

15,766. Of course, you would not know on the 15th of June at what time the election would be likely to take place?—No; we did not know.

15,767. What was the earliest day at which you knew of the dissolution or of the probability of a general election?—I think it was about the end of June.

15,768. What was the next step that was taken as to organizing the party for the purpose of the election?—I forget whether I met the captains, or whether Mr. Lawrence came over to canvass the electors, but those two steps were taken.

15,769. Mr. Lawrence came over to canvass the electors, and the captains were met by you?—Yes, they were.

15,770. When you say the "captains" were met by you, had you a previous acquaintance with the captains?—I knew principally who the captains would be.

15,771. Did you select them, or were they selected by the party in the town?—They selected them from the party here.

15,772. Mr. Wilson Barker, we are told, was appointed treasurer?—He was.

15,773. And he had, as he has told us, considerable business transactions with your firm?—He had.

15,774. Had you reason from that to believe that he was a fit person to be appointed treasurer?—Yes; I had perfect faith in Mr. Barker.

15,775. When you say that you met or saw the captains, what was done as to organizing the party before the election?—I met the captains and told them what my views were. I said that I thought, in the first place, that the Conservative party were not at all in an organized state here. I saw that at Mr. Saunders's election, and I told them that the first thing they had to do was to put their organization in a better shape than I had seen it at Mr. Saunders's election.

15,776. Under whose direction was the party organized?—Partly under my direction.

15,777. When you speak of captains, who were the captains you met? Were they the five gentlemen whose names have been given to us?—Yes.

15,778. Mr. Hatch, Mr. Coupland, Mr. Cross, Mr. Storey, and Mr. Clark?—Yes.

15,779. You had a meeting, I presume, with those five gentlemen?—I had.

15,780. When was that meeting?—I do not remember the date, but it must have been before they commenced the canvass.

15,781. What was arranged at that meeting?—It was arranged that they should divide the entire constituency into districts.

15,782. And it was divided into districts which were apportioned to those five captains?—Yes.

15,783. I think that, as to the names of the districts, we have sufficient information from the captains. You have, no doubt, read the evidence that has been given upon that subject. Is there anything that you wish to add to what they have told us as to the division into districts?—No; they knew more of that than I did.

15,784. What was the first thing that was said to the captains as to expenses with regard to the election?

FIFTEENTH DAY.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

13 Sept. 1866.

—There was nothing said to the captains about expenses until the Monday preceding the election. That would be the 10th of July.

15,785. Before that Monday, the 10th of July, had arrangements been made by you at Liverpool as to providing funds for the election here?—They were made by me here.

15,786. On what day did you make arrangements with Mr. Barker as to his receiving certain money in London?—Mr. Barker states that it was previous to his visit to London, and I have no doubt that Mr. Barker is correct. I know I ordered my London firm to pay him money.

15,787. You gave directions to them that he would be at "Kennan's Hotel," Cheapside?—No; Mr. Barker called at my office in London. I think he did not see my cashier or partner, and he left instructions where he was staying and they sent him 500*l.*

15,788. Have you any written document with regard to that?—I know they gave it to him on the 1st of July.

15,789. They advised you of having duly paid it to Mr. Wilson Barker?—I know they paid him. I do not know whether they advised me of it or not.

15,790. From what funds did that 500*l.* come?—From our own funds.

15,791. From the funds of the partnership?—From the funds of the firm.

15,792. What was the next thing that was done with regard to providing money?—On the 10th of July my course of procedure was laid.

15,793. What did you do in pursuing that course?—I told the captains how much money I should be prepared to spend.

15,794. How much money did you tell them you would be prepared to spend?—I told them I should be prepared to pay 10*l.*, and not more.

15,795. For a vote?—For a vote.

15,796. For any vote they might procure?—That they were obliged to pay for.

15,797. You told them I presume, to get votes under 10*l.* if they could?—Yes; to get them as cheap as they could.

15,798. You knew at that time that there was a great proportion of votes that would have to be bought?—I did not know until the Monday. On the Monday I knew it.

15,799. You knew on the 10th of July that there would be a great number of votes to be bought?—I assumed that from a conversation that I had with Mr. Starkie.

15,800. Was that Mr. Chamberlain Starkie?—Yes; Mr. Chamberlain Starkie.

15,801. Will you tell me if you please when and where that conversation with Mr. Chamberlain Starkie took place?—It took place at the "King's Arms."

15,802. What was the nature of that conversation?—Starkie came in to me alarmed, and told me that he had seen Mr. Schneider and that Mr. Schneider had stated that if Mr. Lawrence was to be returned for Lancaster, he would have to spend more than 10,000*l.*

15,803. He came to the "King's Arms" you say?—He did.

15,804. Did Mr. Starkie come and speak to you of that conversation as having just taken place with Mr. Schneider?—I am not certain whether he said it had taken place at the Vicarage on the Sunday or the Monday.

15,805. But did he speak of it as if he was taking the earliest opportunity of telling you of it?—Yes.

15,806. 10,000*l.* of course would cover a great many votes?—Yes.

15,807. And that gave you information that a great deal of money must be spent?—Yes.

15,808. And was it after hearing that, that you told the captains you should be prepared to pay 10*l.* for a vote?—I asked Mr. Starkie if he thought that Mr. Schneider was in earnest.

15,809. And what did Mr. Starkie say to that?—He said, "I am sure he is."

15,810. I presume that it was upon your suggestion that those questions were put to Mr. Starkie that I see were put to him before the Committee of the House of Commons?—It was from the knowledge I had of that conversation that those questions were put to Mr. Starkie.

15,811. You say that Mr. Starkie said this to you on the 10th?—He did.

15,812. Not on the nomination day?—No; and Mr. Schneider repeated it on the nomination day I think, both to Mr. Starkie and to Captain Thornhill also.

15,813. Having heard that, did you tell the captains where they were to look for the money?—No; I began to think whether Mr. Schneider could really be in earnest and I think I referred back to a speech that he had made on his election in February.

15,814. That was at the walk over?—That was at the walk over; and I think that Mr. Schneider then said words pretty nearly to this effect—that he was getting in cheap then—but that he would fight and show them how to fight next time. I put the two things together, and I came to the conclusion that Mr. Schneider really had made up his mind to spend money.

15,815. Then did you in your mind connect the cheapness of the walk over with the dearness of a subsequent contest?—Yes, I did.

15,816. Having made up your mind that Mr. Schneider meant what he was reported to have said to Mr. Starkie, did you then make any arrangements as to providing funds to meet him?—I think that before I made any arrangements I saw Mr. Sharp, who was Mr. Lawrence's chairman.

15,817. Who is Mr. Sharp?—He is a solicitor here.

15,818. What took place between you and Mr. Sharp?—I asked Mr. Sharp what he thought of Mr. Lawrence's prospects, and Mr. Sharp told me that the canvass book was the best he had seen.

15,819. Well?—I think I then asked Mr. Sharp whether he thought it would be policy on my part to fight the election purely or to pay for it.

15,820. By inquiring of him whether he thought it would be your policy to fight the election purely or not, I presume you meant to petition, and pray for the seat after Mr. Schneider had been returned?—To spend no money, and to petition and pray for the seat.

15,821. What was the result?—Mr. Sharp advised me to fight the election purely, 15,822. Well?—I saw a great difficulty about that.

15,823. And what was the result?—I determined then to fight Mr. Schneider with his own weapons.

15,824. What armoury did you go to for the weapons?—I then sent for money.

15,825. You went over to Liverpool I presume?—No, I did not. I wrote I think. I remained here.

15,826. To whom would you write at Liverpool?—I think I should write to my cashier.

15,827. The late Mr. Chambers?—The late Mr. William Chambers.

15,828. When did Mr. Chambers die?—I think about three or four months ago. He died very suddenly.

15,829. What did you write over to Mr. Chambers for?—I think I wrote to tell him how much money I should want.

15,830. How much did you say you should want?—I think it was 4,000*l.* or 5,000*l.*

15,831. Did you tell him to have that money ready or to send it?—I think I told him to send it.

15,832. Did you suggest to Mr. Chambers the way in which it should come, or did you leave it to him?—I left it to his discretion.

15,833. 4,000*l.* or 5,000*l.*?—I think so.

15,834. You yourself went on looking after matters in Lancaster?—I was looking after the matters here.

15,835. Did you know or were you advised by Mr. Chambers that the money would be here?—The money came.

15,836. Were you at that time continually seeing Mr. Wilson Barker?—Continually.

15,837. And had you arranged with him that he should expect the money?—I told Mr. Barker that the money would come.

15,838. Did Mr. Barker acquaint you as the money came?—I do not know that he told me of it as it came, but I knew that he had money.

15,839. I must give you this opportunity of clearing up a difficulty that occurs on Mr. Barker's evidence. He tells us that he received from Mr. W. E. Chambers on the 8th of July, 400*l.* How is that, if you did not arrange with Mr. Chambers until the 10th?—My impression is that that is the money that Mr. Hagart has been speaking about to-day. My impression is that that is the 400*l.* that Mr. Hagart brought.

15,840. But you had not written to Mr. Chambers until the 10th?—No.

15,841. Therefore Mr. Chambers could not possibly have sent over money on the 8th?—My impression is that that is the 400*l.* that Mr. Hagart brought from the office.

15,842. That could scarcely be, because the date is July the 8th?—I mean Mr. Hagart must have brought it from Messrs. Lawrence and Co. He did not bring it from my office.

15,843. Mr. Wilson Barker's date is the 8th of July?—I know it is.

15,844. He gives that as the date on which he received the money, and Mr. Hagart did not come over until the 11th?—Mr. Hagart came here twice.

15,845. He has not told us so?—Well, he was here twice.

ROBERT HAGART recalled and further examined.

R. Hagart.

15,846. (Mr. Newton.) Did you come to Lancaster twice?—I think so, but I am not sure of the date.

15,847. When was the first time that you came?—About the 8th. I think I came on a Saturday. I will not be sure of the date. I am not at all clear about it.

15,848. (Mr. Hill.) You have certainly not given us to understand what we now understand from you. Your evidence was, "On Monday the 10th I was first spoken to by Mr. Tronson who told me that Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson would like me to come over to assist at the election; and on Tuesday, the day following, I came over." Do you mean to add to that, that you were spoken to before?—I said I thought it was that day, but I was not sure. I said, "to the best of my belief."

15,849. Do you mean to say that you could possibly have come over at a previous date and forgotten it?—No; I think I came over, but I am not sure.

15,850. You think you came over when?—Twice.

15,851. Why did you tell us before that you only come once?—I do not think you asked me whether I came twice or not.

15,852. What reason had you for telling us that you came over once if you came twice?—Because I was not sure that I came twice.

15,853. Do I understand you to mean that you brought two bags, or only one?—One.

15,854. Then is the whole story that you before told us utterly inaccurate? You told my friend who examined you, "I was told to give it either to Mr. "Taylor or to Mr. Wilson Barker. I was told to "come to the 'King's Arms.' I went there and saw "Taylor. I went to Wilson Barker and gave him "the money."

15,855. (Mr. Barstow.) My note is, "I gave the "money to Wilson Barker. Nobody went with me "there. I gave the money to Barker at his house. "I did not go to Wilson Barker with the other "gentlemen. I went to Mr. Barker's with Cross. "Cross gave me a receipt for the money. I went "round the town to different places. I am not sure "I paid money that night. I think money was paid. "I went to-bed at 3 and rose at 7." That is all a story of one transaction.

15,856. (Mr. Hill.) Do you still say that you went over with Cross?—If I came the first time I must have come in the morning and gone away in the evening again.

15,857. Do you mean to say that you went with Cross to Mr. Wilson Barker or not?—I have told you that already. I came over first and then went back.

15,858. Whenever it was that you came with the money you went with Cross to Wilson Barker's?—Yes.

15,859. (Mr. Newton.) What did you come over first for?—I came over—I must have been told to come before that date.

15,860. But what did you come for; whom did you see?—Well, I came over to canvass and help at the election.

15,861. They would not be likely to send for you to come here to canvass?—I came to help.

15,862. You came for some specific purpose. Did you bring two bags with you?—No.

15,863. Take care. You ought to have known better than not to tell us the whole story at once?—I am not very clear; but I told you all, as far as I could remember.

15,864. What did you bring the first time you came?—Nothing, as far as I can remember, except myself.

15,865. Who told you to come?—I was told that Mr. Wilson would like me to come and help.

15,866. By whom were you told that?—By Mr. Tronson.

15,867. What on earth made Mr. Tronson tell you to come over for and assist on the Saturday?—It may not have been on a Saturday.

15,868. What should you come here to assist for?—They were canvassing all the time.

15,869. They would not be likely to send for a gentleman from his office at Liverpool to come and canvass here?—That does not at all follow.

15,870. You do not suppose that we shall believe that?—That is the only reason I know of.

15,871. You had better say it out at once?—I have said already that that is the only reason I know of. I I cannot say more than I know.

15,872. You cannot say there was any other reason but that you were sent over to canvass and you brought nothing with you?—Not the first time.

15,873. (Mr. Hill.) If you brought anything at all you brought it on the day of the nomination?—Yes, as far as I can remember.

15,874. (Mr. Newton.) How long did you remain the first time you came?—I think only a day.

15,875. A day and a night?—I really am not sure.

15,876. (Mr. Barstow.) I am sorry to say that you Liverpool gentlemen appear to have left your memories behind you. This is the first transaction of the kind that you were ever mixed up with, and I hope it will be the last?—I have told you all I know.

15,877. You cannot remember whether you slept here or not?—I do not think I slept here.

15,878. May I ask how old you are?—21.

15,879. You were then 20. Surely you can remember whether you slept from your home or not?—I was an infant then.

15,880. Do not talk that rubbish?—I was under age.

15,881. Be careful. Just bear in mind that we shall make a difference between you and other witnesses if you give your answers in that way?—I was under age then.

15,882. (Mr. Newton). What do you mean by answering in that way; it is trifling with us?—I really cannot remember. I have told you as far as I can remember, and that is all I can do.

15,883. Do you think you took a return ticket the first time you came?—I think I did both times.

15,884. Did you go back the same day that you came?—I think I must have done so.

15,885. You say you came here to render assistance. What assistance did you render the first time

FIFTEENTH DAY.

R. Hagart.

13 Sept. 1866.

you came?—I did not find anything to do I think, and that is why I went back again.

15,886. (Mr. Barstow.) I trust you are not a dishonest witness, but you certainly are a very puzzle-headed one, and I shall direct our secretary not to allow you your expenses.

Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson's examination resumed.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

15,887. (Mr. Hill.)) You see that according to the amount Mr. Hagart has given he brought over no money until the 11th. How did this money come over which Mr. Wilson Barker has given evidence of to us as having come in bank notes sent by Mr. W. E. Chambers on the 8th of July?—I cannot inform you. My own impression was and still is that Mr. Hagart brought that money. Saturday would be the 8th.

15,888. Then you can give us no account of how Mr. Wilson Barker became possessed of that 400*l.*?—No, not at all.

15,889. But you say you had not directed Mr. Chambers (and you are quite clear upon this) to send over money until the 10th of July?—The first money that Mr. Chambers sent over was on the 11th.

15,890. Are you quite sure that the first directions that you gave to Mr. Chambers to send over money were given on the 10th of July, after your conversation with Mr. Sharp?—Yes, except the 500*l.* from London.

15,891. Have you an account of Chambers's as to the monies that were sent over by him?—I have got an account here which has been taken from my books.

15,892. When was that taken?—It was taken by my book-keeper about a week ago.

15,893. You have not brought the book over here in which it is entered, have you?—No, but I shall be very happy to send both for the book and the ledger, if you wish it.

15,894. Unless this matter should be more satisfactorily explained we shall be obliged to have those books over, but we shall do it as we did in the case of Mr. Hadwen, in any way that will be the least inconvenient to your business?—You can either have the books or a declaration before the mayor.

15,895. We should prefer to have the books themselves if we find it necessary at the end of your examination. In the meantime you are now going to give us extracts from the accounts, as you have them there?—On the 1st of July there is 500*l.* That you have got.

15,896. How is that entered in the books?—500*l.*

15,897. Debited to whom, or credited to whom?—It was debited by the London firm to the Liverpool firm.

15,898. Does it appear on what account it was debited?—No, I think it is simply a debt of 500*l.*

15,899. What is the next?—July 11th, 500*l.*

15,900. How is that?—Cash.

15,901. Does it appear to whom it was paid?—I will explain the whole of it if you will allow me. July the 12th, 400*l.*

15,902. Cash?—Cash. July the 12th, 450*l.*

15,903. The same date?—The same date. July 15th, 500*l.*; the same date, 5*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.*; the same date, 10*l.*; the same date, 15*s.*; the same date, 1*l.*; the same date, 1*l.*; August 12th, 250*l.*; September 12th, 400*l.* That makes a total of 3,018*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.* That is the whole of it.

15,904. Is that all the money that was supplied by your firm?—That is the entry in the cash-book of my firm on the 30th of September, 1865.

15,905. How is it entered in the cash-book?—It is entered on the 30th of September 1865 to "suspense account."

15,906. What would be the meaning of the entry in your cash-book, "to suspense account?"—It would mean this, that it was not decided by the book-keeper to what account to pass it.

15,907. The entry would mean that the book-keeper had no direction where to pass it to?—Quite so.

15,908. What further sums are there?—Those are all.

15,909. Are those the whole of the sums contributed by your firm for the purposes of the election?—Yes, by myself rather.

15,910. And that appeared in the books of your firm?—Yes.

15,911. In what book are these entries that you have given us under the head of cash entered first of all?—In the cash-book.

15,912. Is there anything written against them?—My book-keeper made a copy of the account, but the 5*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.*, the 15*s.*, the 1*l.*, and the 1*l.*, did not go through Mr. Barker, though there is a bracket made in the cash-book as if they did.

15,913. How does the account-book show they have gone to Mr. Barker?—The whole is entered under one date.

15,914. But how does the account show that these sums were paid to Mr. Barker?—The whole of them are bracketed together.

15,915. Just let me see (handing a paper)?—He has written here "per Barker."

15,916. Against the whole of those sums?—Yes, against the whole of them.

15,917. I see you have added in this paper "per Barker" in pencil. Is that in your handwriting?—Yes. I remembered having seen it in the book.

15,918. That you have put in from your recollection of what you had seen in the book?—Yes.

15,919. Is there any other entry in your cash-book as to those items?—I will explain them to you. I think there is an entry opposite the 450*l.*

15,920. On the 12th of July?—Yes, on the 12th of July. As far as I recollect it was paid to Lee and Nightingale.

15,921. Are you speaking from your recollection of the books?—Yes.

15,922. That is put against 450*l.*?—Yes.

15,923. Who are Lee and Nightingale?—They are printers, in Liverpool.

15,924. Was that for the purposes of the election?—No; I will explain that to you. The 450*l.* has been a payment made by my cashier to Lee and Nightingale to avoid the interchange of money between Mr. Barker and himself, between the cash-keeper, and Mr. Barker.

15,925. Being in fact a balance of accounts between the cash-keeper and Mr. Barker?—I suppose that my cashier had to pay 450*l.* for Mr. Barker that day in Liverpool. There is an entry opposite the 5*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* It is "sundry small payments." The 10*l.* is for the Liverpool "Courier." The 15*s.* was, I think, for Mr. Lawrence's address, and there is also an entry against the two sums of 1*l.*, which appear to have been paid to two different individuals.

15,926. Is there any entry against the 250*l.*?—No, think not.

15,227. Is that all that appears in the cash-book, of money transactions connected with the election?—Except 750*l.* on the credit side.

15,928. What entries are there on the credit side?—On the 15th of July there is a credit of 750*l.*

15,929. Whose name appears against that?—J. T. Lawrence.

15,930. That is credited to J. T. Lawrence?—Yes.

15,931. What have you to tell us about that item?—Nothing.

15,932. Do you know anything about it?—No, nothing at all.

15,933. How do you know that that was connected with the election?—I saw an entry of the same date.

15,934. I do not exactly understand you?—I saw the books. My cashier died, and I looked at the books to see how matters stood as regarded the Lancaster election and myself; and I saw a debit in the "suspense account," and credit to Mr. Lawrence of 750*l.* on the 15th of July.

15,935. You know nothing further about it than that?—No.

15,936. Do you not know in what way the money came to the hands of your firm?—No, I was not there. I was in Lancaster. He did not make his entries till the 30th of September.

15,937. Just explain that 750*l.* further, if you please?—I saw the entry.

15,938. When?—I do not know, but I did see it.

15,939. After your cashier's death?—Yes. Let me tell you that my cashier was in the office at noon on the day that he died. He died very suddenly and then I took the opportunity of looking into the books, and found these entries with regard to the election; and I saw a credit to Mr. J. T. Lawrence, of 750*l.*; and, as he did not owe the firm anything, I presume that it was on account of the election.

15,940. (Mr. Newton.) The 15th of July 1865?—Yes.

15,941. Your first acquaintance with that fact was nearly 12 months afterwards?—Yes, several months afterwards. It must have been pretty nearly a year.

15,942. (Mr. Hill.) You say that as he did not owe the firm anything you knew it must have been on account of the election?—Yes, I knew there was a debit and suspense account and more money than I expected to find there. When I saw the 3018*l.* it was more than I expected to find, and when I examined the books I found this entry to the credit of Mr. Lawrence, and I directed it to be transferred to the suspense account.

15,943. At the time when your cashier died, so far as the election matter goes, your firm, or rather Mr. Lawrence, owed to you (I will call it your firm) 3,018*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—I do not say that.

15,944. The account owed to your firm 3018*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*, and you owed to him 750*l.*?—The account stood 3108*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*, and the credit 750*l.*

15,945. You say that when the account was taken from the suspense account you placed the credit of 750*l.* against the credit of 3,018*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—I did.

15,946. Besides that sum, does your cash-book show any further entries with regard to that election?—Nothing at all.

15,947. In what other books are there any other entries with regard to the money expended upon the election?—Nothing.

15,948. Then do you mean to say that the whole amount drawn upon you or upon your firm for the purposes of that election was 3,018*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—I do.

15,949. Not a penny farther than the sum you have given us came from your firm?—No, not a farthing.

15,950. Do I understand you to say that the whole amount paid to you or to your firm on account of the election was 750*l.*?—Yes.

15,951. So that there is still due to you upon the account 2,268*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—I do not say that there is anything due to me.

15,952. Why not?—Because I spent the money myself.

15,953. I say "on the account?"—On the account.

15,954. The account would show a sum due from that election, or expended by you upon that election, of 2,268*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—Yes.

15,955. Do you know anything about the other sums which were received by Mr. Wilson Barker, amounting, in the whole, to 7,050*l.* odd?—My impression is that my cashier must have sent it.

15,956. The whole of the remainder?—I think so, except the cheque. There was a cheque for 1,000*l.*

15,957. We will call it, if you please, "advanced by my firm or by myself," whichever you please?—You had better say by myself.

15,958. 3,018*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*; paid by J. T. Lawrence, 750*l.*; that would leave as paid by you, 2,268*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—Yes.

15,959. Then I will place underneath that, in order to get the sum total, "Paid by J. T. Lawrence, 750*l.*, by cheque 1,000*l.*" Do you know anything at all about that cheque?—I know he gave a cheque.

15,960. Who did?—Mr. Lawrence.

15,961. Which Mr. Lawrence?—Mr. John Lawrence.

15,962. "Cheque from J. T. Lawrence, 1,000?"—Yes.

15,963. What do you know about any of the other payments?—What payments do you mean?

15,964. The other payments for the expenses of that election?—Mr. Barker made the payments; I did not.

15,965. The payments to Mr. Barker?—I do not know except from Mr. Barker's account.

15,966. The next item in Mr. Barker's account is "per post from W. E. Chambers, 450*l.*," that is under the date of the 12th of July?—That I have accounted for.

15,967. The next is "paid by Stirzaker to Wollaston, and accounted for by him, 400*l.*?"—Yes.

15,968. Then the next item in Mr. Barker's account is "July 15th, per post from W. E. Chambers, in notes as above, 500*l.*?"—Yes.

15,969. That enters into your account of 3,000*l.*?—It does.

15,970. Then there is "August 12th, per post from W. E. Chambers, 250*l.*"—that is in your account?—Yes.

15,971. As to the 500*l.* on the 2nd of January 1866, that does not appear in your account?—No, not at all.

15,972. Do you know anything about it?—My impression is that Mr. Chambers received the money and sent it to Mr. Barker; he must have done so.

15,973. Do you tell us that you know nothing further about it?—I know nothing further about it?—

15,974. Then the only person we can look to is Mr. Lawrence?—That does not follow.

15,975. Mr. Chambers would not advance it out of his own pocket, I suppose?—I do not know what he advanced it from.

15,976. Was he in a position to advance it out of his own pocket?—Out of the firm's money he might, but he does not appear to have done so; it is not in the books at all, and that is the reason why I conclude he did not take it from our own money, for if he had done so there would have been an entry of it.

15,977. Has any claim been made by his executors or any person on his behalf for that money?—No.

15,978. Do you believe that it came out of Mr. Chambers' pocket?—I certainly do not.

15,979. Do you believe that he paid that 500*l.* himself?—He could not; he had not got it.

15,980. To whom then must we look for an explanation as to that 500*l.*?—I do not know.

15,981. Mr. J. T. Lawrence?—You might ask him about it; he may know something about it.

15,982. If we do not get an account of it from Mr. J. T. Lawrence, we must get it from Mr. Edward Lawrence. Then the next above, 750*l.*, you know no more about than you know of the 500*l.*?—No, no more.

15,983. Are there any other sums that you know anything about?—No, that completes the whole list.

15,984. That makes a total of 5,068*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*, leaving at present 2,000*l.* as nearly as possible unaccounted for?—Yes.

15,985. Do you know anything about those 2,000*l.*?—No, nothing but what I have heard here.

15,986. Are you yourself perfectly ignorant where those 2,000*l.* came from?—Yes. I was here and I find no entry about them in my books at all.

15,987. That is no answer to my question?—I have no knowledge of the 2,000*l.*

15,988. Do you state solemnly upon your oath that you are completely ignorant where that 2,000*l.* came from?—I have no knowledge where they came from.

15,989. If you will allow me to say so, that is no answer to my question; my question is, are you completely ignorant where those 2,000*l.* came from?—Yes, I am.

15,990. 2,018*l.*?—No, not the 18*l.*; that I have accounted for.

15,991. 2,000*l.* minus the 18*l.*?—Yes.

15,992. You are aware that Mr. Wilson Barker has said virtually that he received the whole of the sums of money from you, I mean coupling his evidence with that of the other persons we have had as to bringing the bags; with the exception of that cheque for 1,000*l.*, and the payment from Stirzaker of 400*l.*?—You mean from my cashier?

FIFTEENTH DAY.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

13 Sept. 1866.

15,993. From your office.—From my cashier. I am aware of that.

15,994. Had you no conversation with your cashier as to this money?—I was here.

15,995. But after the election had you no conversation with him?—No; the only conversation that I had with him was either on the 29th or the 30th of September, when these entries were made.

15,996. That was first after two of the payments had been made by him to Mr. Barker; namely, on the 12th August, and the 8th September?—He would bring me a list of the money that he had disbursed himself out of his own money.

15,997. That is not an answer to my question; my question is, did Mr. Chambers say anything to you as to having made two payments to Mr. Wilson Barker on the 12th August and the 8th of September?—I do not remember that he did.

15,998. Is it not a matter of surprise that Mr. Chambers should have paid that money, and said nothing about it?—No; Mr. Chambers was my confidential man, and had very large sums passing through his hands.

15,999. You know it was not his money?—It could not be; he must have got it elsewhere.

16,000. Do you still tell me that Mr. Chambers never hinted to you the large payments that he was making?—I tell you that I do not remember his saying anything, except about his own money.

16,001. You were coming here with reference to the business of these two firms with which you are connected in Lancaster, pretty frequently?—Yes.

16,002. Did Mr. Wilson Barker never mention to you that he had received these two sums from Mr. Chambers?—I saw the account.

16,003. Then you saw in the account that these sums of money were received from Mr. Chambers?—I will not say that I saw those sums received from Mr. Chambers; but I saw that he had received money.

16,004. Did it occur to you to ask Mr. Barker where the money came from?—I am pretty sure that it came from Mr. Chambers.

16,005. From whom do you believe Mr. Chambers had that money?—Well, he might have had it from Mr. Lawrence's cashier, or from this Mr. Tronson that has been spoken of.

16,006. And it is your belief that he had, is it not?—He might have had it there.

16,007. It is your belief that he had, is it not?—I think it is very likely.

16,008. You have no doubt of it?—I will not say that.

16,009. It is your belief, then, you will say?—He may have got it there, or elsewhere; my cashier knows that I have charge of many political things.

16,010. He is dead?—Yes; but I have volunteered to bring you my books, and I cannot give you any better evidence.

16,011. You think it most probable that Mr. Chambers would have this money from Mr. J. T. Lawrence?—I do not say he had it from there.

16,012. From his office?—He might have had it from his office; I think it likely that he might.

16,013. Have you any doubt about it?—I say it might have come from there; but I will not swear it.

16,014. Will you be good enough to suggest to me any other quarter from which Chambers could have received it?—I do not know; I received a good deal of money for political purposes, and he might have used it from that; I do not say that he did.

16,015. Do you mean mixing up Liverpool matters with Lancaster matters?—No.

16,016. We do not want to travel into that unless you compel me to do it?—No; but I shall be happy to enter into it if you wish it.

16,017. Are the Commissioners to understand that Chambers could have got this money from any money intended for political purposes in Liverpool?—No; he would never use Liverpool money for this.

16,018. That being so, can you tell me any other source besides Mr. Lawrence's office from where he could have got it?—I cannot say; he might have had money sent to him to use for this purpose.

16,019. Do you believe he had it from any other source?—I do not know.

16,020. Have you had any conversation with Mr. J. T. Lawrence upon this matter?—I have not seen Mr. Lawrence much lately.

16,021. That is no answer to my question; have you had any conversation with Mr. J. T. Lawrence upon this matter?—I told him what money I had disbursed.

16,022. Did Mr. Lawrence tell you what he had disbursed?—No.

16,023. Are we to understand this, that you, having represented the election would only cost 2,000*l.*, when it really cost upwards of 7,000*l.*, have never spoken to Mr. Lawrence about the matter?—Do you mean Mr. Edward Lawrence?

16,024. No, Mr. J. T. Lawrence?—I spoke to Mr. J. T. Lawrence, and told him what my cashier had spent.

16,025. You told Mr. J. T. Lawrence that you had spent upwards of 3,000*l.*?—Yes.

16,026. Did Mr. J. T. Lawrence tell you what he had spent?—No, you would get that from Lawrence himself.

16,027. How do you know that we shall get it from Mr. Lawrence?—Because I am sure that Mr. Lawrence would tell you what he spent, and then you will see whether there is any discrepancy.

16,028. I will leave this part of the examination, understanding from you clearly that you know of no further sums being paid than that 2,268*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—Yes; I am answerable for that.

16,029. And for that only?—That only.

16,030. You cannot tell us of your own knowledge from what sources at all any further sums were provided, except what you have heard with reference to the cheque of 1,000*l.*, and 400*l.* from Stirzaker?—I know of nothing except that which I have given you.

16,031. I will ask you, before I leave this part of the examination, whether there is anything you wish to add?—Upon money matters?

16,032. Yes.—Nothing at all.

16,033. Now, as to the conduct of the election, we are told by the captains that it was arranged that certain prices should be paid long before the date, or rather several days before the date, at which you have told us you yourself came to the conclusion that the votes would cost 10*l.* apiece?—You have been told that by one of the captains, Mr. Clark, but that is a mistake.

16,034. You cannot say it is a mistake; you were not present when Mr. Clark made the arrangements?—I am satisfied it was a mistake; they would have done nothing without me.

16,035. Mr. Clark said arrangements were made with the voters, and that money was paid also?—Mr. Clark is under the impression that he did not make the statement; but he did certainly make it, because I was in court at the time.

16,036. He did certainly make it?—Yes, and he made a mistake; none of the other captains corroborated him.

16,037. You say yourself, as far as any authority came from you, there was no settling as to the price to be paid for votes, before Monday night at any rate?—Tuesday, I think.

16,038. Have you read Vince's evidence?—I did see it in Court this morning, but I did not read it fully.

16,039. Do you know the date at which he went down and payed those retaining fees of 2*l.*?—No, I do not.

16,040. Did you authorize Vince to go down?—

Vince was not one of the men I had to deal with ; he would be a sub-captain.

16,041. Any authority he got he would get from one of the captains?—Yes.

16,042. I refer to that part of the evidence where he says he went down and arranged with Mrs. Willacy as to the sums to be paid to the voters; he payed 18 or 20 of them, or more than that, 2*l*. ?—I think the part I read of Vince's evidence was, that he had retained certain voters, and paid them so much.

16,043. He said he paid them a retaining fee of 2*l*., and agreed as to the payment of the balance?—I should think Vince would have authority from one of the captains ; he might have power to do that.

16,044. If the captains made arrangements as to the price of votes, they did it without your knowledge?—It was not done before Monday or Tuesday.

16,045. You did not fix the price of votes?—I said I would not pay more than 10*l*.

16,046. When was that?—On Monday, I think it was.

16,047. What steps did you take as to the payment of the voters?—I did not pay the voters.

16,048. What steps did you take as to the payment of voters?—The captains arranged that.

16,049. Did you leave the whole matter in the hands of the captains and Mr. Wilson Barker?—Yes, entirely.

16,050. You interested yourself in the canvass?—I did not canvass much—very little.

16,051. You became acquainted on that little canvass that you made with the probability of the voters asking considerable sums?—No; I never heard the voters ask for money.

16,052. You had heard, directly or indirectly, on the canvass, that large sums were being offered on the other side.

16,053. Yes ; we did hear of some of the distant voters being offered money ; take the Morecambe voters, for instance.

16,054. You heard of their being offered some considerable sums of money?—No, not considerable sums of money at that time.

16,055. What prices did you hear?—I think they spoke of five or six pounds in the early part of the canvass.

16,055. What was the first sum of money you paid to a voter in that election?—I do not think I saw any money paid to a voter.

16,056. Do you really mean to tell us that?—Yes, I do distinctly.

16,057. You never saw a voter receive any money? No, I kept out of the way of it entirely.

16,058. And you never knew of any arrangement at any time being made with the voters as to the price to be paid?—It was entirely left to the captains.

16,059. When did you give the captains any information as to the sums that were to be paid to the voters?—I think it would be on the Monday.

16,060. Let us come to the Monday night ; did you meet the captains on Monday night?—I think I generally saw the captains every night.

16,061. Will you tell us what took place on Monday night?—No, I cannot tell you what took place except that they would report to me the condition of the canvass and what the prospects were.

16,062. What information did you give to the captains as to their going beyond or up to the figure of 10*l*.?—I think I said I would not go beyond the figure of 10*l*.

16,063. On Monday night?—Yes.

16,064. What was said then by the captains as to the probability of winning the election?—They were satisfied all along that they would win the election.

16,065. With 10*l*.—With much less.

16,066. Then why did you say you would not go beyond 10*l*? Who suggested that you should?—I suggested 10*l*. myself ; I thought it was quite enough.

16,067. Did the captains acquiesce in that on the Monday night?—I think they did.

16,068. When did you hear of a larger price being given?—I do not think I knew it till after the election.

16,069. Do you know the "White Horse" at the bottom of Church Street?—Yes.

16,070. Were you down there on the night of the 11th?—I was not in the house.

16,071. Were you down at the "White Horse"?—I was in the street.

16,072. Opposite the "White Horse"?—Yes, opposite the "White Horse."

16,073. Were there a number of Conservative voters there?—I believe so.

16,074. At what time were you down there?—It would be half-past 11 or 12 at night, I think.

16,075. What was the price that was being discussed at that time?—I do not know, I was not in the house.

16,076. You were outside?—I was not speaking to anyone outside.

16,077. Why did you go down there?—I went with Mr. John Lawrence and Mr. Barker, I think.

16,078. Did you hear nothing said by any of the persons there as to the price of votes?—No, I went down because there was a report brought to the "King's Arms" that they were breaking into one of our houses.

16,079. What did you do when you got down there?—I stopped in the street.

16,080. Did you speak to anybody there?—No, no one.

16,081. Did you see any breaking into any of the houses?—No.

16,082. Did you read Mr. Blades's evidence in this case?—I did.

16,083. Do you know the part of it to which I refer?—I intended to bring it with me, but I did not expect you to call me to-day ; he makes no reference I think to the "White Horse."

16,084. So far as I understood him, the "White Horse" was the place he marked out—the wine stores at the bottom of Church Street?—I know the place, but I do not think he brought my name in question there.

16,085. As far as my memory serves me he did?—I do not think he brought my name in question there; I have no memorandum of it, but at all events I was not in the house ; I never was in the house at all ; I think he simply brought my name in question in respect to a conversation he had with me at the railway station.

16,086. I am coming to that. What have you got as the date of Mr. Blades's alleged conversation with you at the railway station?—He said it was the day after Mr. Lawrence's meeting.

16,087. That would be the 16th of June?—Yes.

16,088. What do you say with regard to that?—I remember seeing Mr. Blades at the railway station.

16,089. As far as I remember Mr. Blades's statement, it was that you were going to show them with your Liverpool talent how to win an election?—What I remember of it was that I simply told Mr. Blades he would find things would be better managed than they had hitherto been managed on the Conservative side ; my own impression was and still is, that the Liberals manage elections better than the Conservatives ; that there was better organization on the part of the Liberals than on the part of the Conservatives. The conversation had no reference to money.

16,090. Will you swear distinctly that it had no reference to money?—Certainly, it had not the slightest reference to money, it was only as to organization with regard to which the Liberals were very efficient and the Conservatives very deficient.

16,091. When were you out canvassing in the out-districts?—I was only out twice, I went with Mr. Lawrence to Morecambe and Galgate.

16,092. What took place the night you were at Morecambe?—Nothing particular ; I was with Mr. Lawrence at the time he addressed the electors.

16,093. Did you make no arrangement with Mrs. Willacy?—No, I did not see her at all ; Mr. Lawrence did not address the electors from the "King's Arms," but from some shop window on the crescent.

16,094. What was the other place you went to?—Galgate.

16,095. What took place there?—Mr. Lawrence addressed the electors again there.

16,096. Did you have any conversation with any of the voters?—I only saw two.

16,097. Who were they?—Mr. Chadburn or Shadburn I think it was.

16,098. What took place?—I merely called at his house as we came away.

16,099. Did you arrange with him as to the price of votes at all?—No.

16,100. What was the date of that visit to Galgate?—I forget, it was the only visit Mr. Lawrence made there.

16,101. Who was the other voter you saw besides Chadburn?—Robert Threlfall was the other.

16,102. What was arranged with Robert Threlfall?—I simply asked him if he would vote for Mr. Lawrence and he demurred; he said he was afraid if he did so he would lose his place at the mill. I then asked him to vote for Mr. Lawrence as he was my friend and he said he would split his vote and give Mr. Lawrence one vote and Mr. Fenwick the other.

16,103. What did you offer him as a consideration for splitting his vote?—Nothing.

16,104. Did you say anything about getting him another place if he lost his place?—I said that if he lost his place I would get him another place.

16,105. Did you see any other voters at any time?—There were a great many voters about.

16,106. Did you make any offer to them?—No, I never made any offers at all.

16,107. Did you not give some voters some money for refreshment?—No, not a shilling.

16,108. At no time?—No, never; I paid no money at all during the election.

16,109. Do you know, having had something to do with the previous election, the prices at which the public-houses were engaged?—No.

16,110. Had you nothing to do with regard to the price that should be offered for a vote, and had you nothing to say as to the retaining of public-houses?—No, it was left entirely to the captains.

16,111. You made no arrangements?—No.

16,112. You gave no instructions?—No, none at all; they were allowed to do just as they pleased.

16,113. You throw the whole of the illegal acts of the election from your own shoulders on to the captains?—They told me what they were going to do.

16,114. What did the captains tell you they were going to do?—They told me they would have to buy a certain number of voters.

16,115. How many did they tell you?—I do not know that they told me any specific number.

16,116. About?—I cannot say, it must have been a large number by the sum that we paid.

16,117. You can give me about?—No, I have not the most remote idea.

16,118. Was it in hundreds?—I cannot say, I never had any numbers named to me.

16,119. Did they not tell you how many in each district would require paying?—They did not.

16,120. I will repeat my question. You throw the whole of the illegal acts off your own shoulders on to the captains?—I do not want to shrink from my own responsibility.

16,121. But is it the case?—I am quite willing to bear my own share of responsibility.

16,122. You say "share of responsibility," what do you mean?—So far as number goes and paying, I know nothing about it, but so far as providing money goes I know everything.

16,123. Not everything I think?—Excepting that 2,000*l.*

16,124. Whatever was done illegally in the election was not done by your instructions?—I cannot say that.

16,125. In what way were they done by your instructions?—If I knew that the voters were to be purchased I must have known that illegal acts were going to be committed.

16,126. I am not talking of your knowledge, but of illegal acts done by your instructions?—I do not see your question.

16,127. Am I to understand that you gave general orders that voters were to be purchased, but as to the particular details you left that to the captains?—I left them with authority to do what they considered best, but not to go beyond 10*l.*

16,128. What they considered best as to the purchasing of votes?—Yes.

16,129. When did you first go over this account for the purpose of this Commission with Mr. Wilson Barker?—I have seen this account for a long time or at least one similar to this.

16,130. Let me see it (the account is handed to the Commissioners). This is the account which Mr. Barker has shown us?—No; he cannot have shown you that. I have had it some time.

16,131. It is in Mr. Barker's handwriting?—Yes.

16,132. When did you first see that account?—It is some time ago now.

16,133. When did you first see it?—I forget now.

16,134. When about? Was it this year or last year?—I think it would be this year.

16,135. When about in this year?—I do not remember. I was very frequently here.

16,136. Tell me about when you saw it?—I cannot, if I could I would.

16,137. Was it before April the 28th, the date of the Committee's Report?—You mean the House of Commons Report?

16,138. Yes?—I think it would be before that.

16,139. I should like a distinct answer upon that; are you quite sure you saw this account before this Commission was spoken about?—The Royal Commission?

16,140. Yes?—Long before the Royal Commission.

16,141. This very account as it stands now?—I think so; if I did not see that, I must have seen a copy of it.

16,142. I do not mean this very piece of paper; I mean this account?—I saw an account embracing the amount of money.

16,143. And embracing these items?—Yes, embracing these items.

16,144. At what other times have you gone through, for the purpose of this inquiry, the accounts of Mr. Wilson Barker?—I think Mr. Barker showed me the vouchers to the accounts, so that I might be satisfied that the payments had been made.

16,145. When was that?—That would be at the time he gave me this account, I think.

16,146. I ask you at what other times and since this Commission have you gone through, for the purpose of this inquiry, the accounts of Mr. Wilson Barker?—I saw the accounts frequently. If I passed through here and Mr. Barker had some new accounts, he would show them to me.

16,147. Have you not, with him, gone through the accounts for the purposes of your evidence upon this inquiry?—No, I have not. That account was made out before you sat, I think.

16,148. You say "I think." What is your best recollection upon that point?—My impression is that Mr. Barker showed me the whole of the vouchers which comprised that account.

16,149. What is your impression as to the time when you first saw this complete account?—It must be some few months ago.

16,150. To the best of your belief is that the case?—Yes, to the best of my belief.

16,151. That you saw, then, this account, or one exactly like it?—Yes, or one like it. I know the money agrees.

16,152. You were, I suppose, more than anyone else, in the company of the candidate during that election?—No, I cannot say that.

16,153. Who was, more than yourself?—Mr. Danson.

16,154. Did you accompany the candidate on his canvass?—Very little.

16,155. You were frequently and a good deal in his company ?—Yes.

16,156. And went about Lancaster with him, and introduced him to several of the electors?—Not much.

16,157. You did go?—Only four or five times, I think, altogether.

16,158. Now I will ask you this question, and I request a most clear and categorical answer upon this point. Did you see Mr. Lawrence pay any money to any voters?—No, I never did.

16,159. That you swear ?—I will swear he never did pay anybody.

16,160. You never saw him?—He never did in my presence.

16,161. Did you ever hear him promise to pay any money to any person for his vote?—No, never.

16,162. Did you ever hear him order any refreshments to be given to any voters?—No.

16,163. Have you anything else to add—and you are bound upon your oath to tell the whole truth, and I am quite sure you will endeavour to do your best—of your own knowledge of the practices with regard to which we are sent down to inquire into?—I do not understand what you refer to.

16,164. Have you any knowledge of any corrupt practices on your side, beyond those which you have mentioned to me in the answers you have given to my questions?—No, I have no other knowledge but what I have given to you.

16,165. You have not left anything out because I have not put the specific question to you ?—No ; I should be very happy to answer any question.

16,166. You have not left anything out; you have not anything else to add which is within your own knowledge of which you have not already stated ?—No.

16,167. You had several papers there in your hand Let me look at them (the papers are handed to the Commissioners). I see first of all that you have upon the paper which I hold in my hand the names of the captains whom I have given—Hatch, Coupland, and so on, and also Mr. Saunders ?—Yes.

16,168. What position did Mr. Saunders occupy with regard to that election?—He was here with Mr. Lawrence, and I think he went about with him on the canvass.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

FIFTEENTH DAY.
Mr. H. T. Wilson.
13 Sept. 1866

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Friday, 14th September 1866.

PRESENT :

MR. BARSTOW. | MR. NEWTON. | MR. HILL.

SIXTEENTH DAY.
Mr. J. T. Lawrence.
14 Sept. 186

Mr. JOHN TOULMIN LAWRENCE sworn and examined.

16,169. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a partner in the firm of Edward Lawrence and Company ?—Yes.

16,170. And you are the brother of the late candidate for Lancaster ?—Yes.

16,171. Your partners at the time of the last election were—— ?—Myself, my brother, Mr. Taylor here, and Mr. Penny in Bombay.

16,172. Where do you carry on business ?—Between Liverpool and Bombay ; an East India business.

16,173. Where is the business of your firm ?—Brown's Buildings, Liverpool.

16,174. What number ?—54 or 56 I think it is.

16,175. When were you first spoken to with reference to the late election at Lancaster ?—I think it would be sometime early in June.

16,176. By whom were you spoken to ?—I really cannot tell who it was, but very likely Wilson spoke to me about it, and very likely I conversed with my brother about it.

16,177. That is rather what I want to know, whether you spoke to your brother or Wilson first ?—I cannot tell you, I was very little in Liverpool at the time, and I cannot tax my memory whether I spoke to Wilson or my brother first.

16,178. You spoke to your brother about the election. What was the nature of your conversation with him ?—Really I cannot recollect.

16,179. Did he consult you in any way as to the propriety of taking the step ?—No.

16,180. He had already made up his mind when he spoke to you ?—He may have spoken to me about it before, but not in any way to consult me as to whether he should stand or not.

16,181. May I take it that he had already made up his mind to become a candidate when he first spoke to you ?—I do not say that he never spoke to me about the election beforehand, because I believe he did some time before he made up his mind, but I have no recollection of any conversation that I had with my brother as to whether he should stand or not.

16,182. Did he ever speak to you about the probable expenses of the election ?—No.

16,183. Did Mr. Wilson ?—Yes.

16,184. When was that ?—Some short time previous to the election. I cannot give you the dates of conversations.

16,185. You can give me a date about?—I really cannot give you the dates.

16,186. You can say whether it was the beginning of July ?—Possibly it may have been about the beginning of July.

16,187. I suppose it was. What did he say to you about the election?—He told me that the election would cost between two and three thousand pounds.

16,188. Let me ask you whether, at this time, you had conversed with your brother about the expenses of the election ?—No, I had not about the expenses.

16,189. What did you say to Mr. Wilson when he told you that the expenses would be about two or three thousand pounds?—He said that my brother would only pay 1,000*l.* towards it, and he asked me if I would contribute, and I said I would.

16,190. Was any sum settled between you that you should contribute at that time?—No specified sum. I said I would give 500*l.*, or, if absolutely necessary, I should not object to pay something more.

16,191. Was that all that you said on money matters?—That was all that passed between us about money matters.

16,192. Did you, in pursuance of that, advance money?—I left instructions, when I left Liverpool, at the office that if Mr. Wilson sent up for any money, or his cashier, that they were to be allowed to have it.

16,193. When you left Liverpool for where?—For Scotland.

16,194. You say "money," what money?—Whatever money he wanted. I presumed he might want money for the election expenses, and I simply left word that whatever money he wanted they were to let him have.

16,195. Are we to understand that you did not limit the sum which he might draw?—I certainly did not put any limit upon it, but I had no intention of giving him an unlimited order. It was based upon the probability that the election would cost 3,000*l.*

16,196. To whom was it, pray, that you gave these orders?—To my cashier.

16,197. What is his name?—Mr. Littlewood.

16,198. Is that gentleman still your cashier?—Yes.

16,199. At what time, do you remember, did you leave Liverpool for Scotland?—I left Liverpool early in June.

16,200. And it was about that time that you gave these directions to your cashier?—No, I think it was after that. I used to come down occasionally, perhaps once in a week or every 10 days.

16,201. Let me ask you directly, about what time did you give these instructions to your cashier?—I could not tell you the exact time.

16,202. I should have thought you could?—It must have been a week before the election, because I was not in Liverpool a week or 10 days before it.

16,203. I thought you said that when you left Liverpool for Scotland you left instructions that Mr. Wilson, or his cashier, should have money?—I did not say when I left for Scotland I left those instructions. I left those instructions some time during the period that elapsed between my going to Scotland and the election.

16,204. We certainly all understood you to say so, and have got it down so?—I cannot say what time it was. You pressed me to name a date, and I said it was impossible to give exact dates.

16,205. I do not ask for an exact date, but the election is a sort of era by which all these dates are fixed. How long was it before the election?—I cannot tell you how long it was.

16,206. Not to a day or two, perhaps, but about?—No, nor can I tell you to a week or 10 days. It is a matter that made no impression upon me at the time.

16,207. You can give it to me about?—What is the use of my attempting to put dates in when I cannot swear to the dates?

16,208. I did not ask you for a date. You must be able to say whether it was 10 days or a fortnight?—I cannot tax my memory to say it.

16,209. It was before the election?—Yes, it was certainly before the election.

16,210. Really is that the best information you can give us?—Certainly it is. I cannot give you better information.

16,211. It would not be the day before the election, I suppose?—No, certainly not. I was not in Liverpool a week before the election, therefore it must have been at least a week before the election.

16,212. Are you aware whether Mr. Wilson, or his cashier, did call at your office for money?—I believe Mr. Wilson's cashier did.

16,213. That was the late Mr. W. E. Chambers?—Yes.

16,214. Do you know when that was?—No, I cannot tell you the dates.

16,215. Was the money advanced to him?—Yes, the money was advanced to him.

16,216. Was any entry made of it?—No.

16,217. Do you know what sum was advanced?—Do you mean the whole sum?

16,218. Yes.—4,800*l.*, including 750*l.* which Mr. Wilson has accounted to you for, and which his bookkeeper gives me credit for in his books.

16,219. For the whole of that sum you have no entry at all in your books?—No, no entry appears in our books.

16,220. How do you know the sum was 4,800*l.*?—Because my cash keeper told me so; that that was the sum advanced.

16,221. Is that the only reason you have for saying that that is the accurate sum?—I am pretty sure there cannot be anything else, for I should know it if there was.

16,222. How should you know it?—It would be his duty to tell me. He would have no right to part with the money for any other purposes, or for that purpose unless he was authorized to do so.

16,223. Your reason for saying that the sum advanced was 4,800*l.* is, that Mr. Littlewood told you that was the sum he advanced?—Yes, that was the sum.

16,224. From where would Mr. Littlewood get that sum?—Out of his cash box.

16,225. Do you keep such a sum of money as that in your cash box?—Yes, frequently. Of course that sum was not all advanced at once. It was advanced at different times.

16,226. Would this advance appear in your banker's book?—No.

16,227. Have you no record whatever in writing of this advance in the possession of your firm?—No record; merely a memorandum that the cash, if it were balanced, would be deficient by that sum.

16,228. Have you seen that memorandum lately?—No, I have not.

16,229. Where would that memorandum be kept?—In the balance book, I suppose.

16,230. (Mr. Hill.) There would be a memorandum in the balance book?—Yes.

16,231. (Mr. Barstow.) I suppose you have that balance book?—Yes.

16,232. With you?—No.

16,233. I suppose you have not your bank book with you either?—No.

16,234. We shall require to see that?—The bank-book will throw no light upon it at all.

16,235. Who are your bankers?—We had two at that time.

16,236. Who were they?—The Alliance Bank and the Royal Bank.

16,237. The Royal Bank of Liverpool?—Yes.

16,238. Do you mean to tell us that there is no entry whatever of this sum, or any portion of it, in your banker's book?—Not that I am aware of. Of course there will be the cheque I drew here, but that will not say what it is for. My bank book may have two or three entries on the same day.

16,239. What would the entry of the cheque show us?—Merely "cash," or "cheque 1,000*l.*"

16,240. Would the payee of the cheque be mentioned?—Oh, dear no.

16,241. Have you your old cheque book?—I do not know that I have.

16,242. Do you keep your counterfoils?—I do not think that I have kept it.

16,243. Are you sure you have not got it?—I am almost certain I have not.

16,244. Do you remember having destroyed it?—No, I do not, but I think the cheque I drew was from a blank cheque that I had in my pocket.

16,245. What do you mean by a "blank cheque"?—A cheque unfilled.

16,246. A cheque that you had torn out of your cheque-book?—Yes.

16,247. The corresponding counterfoil would be blank in your old cheque-book, if it remains?—Yes, it would be, if it remains.

16,248. I mean if you have it in your possession?—Yes, if I have it it would be blank; there would be nothing filled against it, at least that is the probability; but I dare say, if you want to get at the cheque, you can very easily get it from the bank.

16,249. I suppose your cheques are not returned to you?—No.

16,250. They are filed by the bank?—I presume they are.

16,251. At which of these two banks would that cheque be?—I think it was drawn upon the Alliance Bank, but I am not quite sure.

16,252. Who has your bank-books now?—We have them ourselves.

16,253. I mean what person has them. Would it be your cashier, Mr. Littlewood?—No; the book-keeper generally has charge of those.

16,254. Who is your book-keeper?—We have two; Mr. McNair is the one acting principally now.

16,255. Who would have the charge of your bank-books?—I rather think he has.

16,256. (Mr. Hill.) What is his christian name?—I really do not know; I think it is "Thomas."

16,257. Would his address be at your office?—Yes.

16,258. (Mr. Barstow.) Where did you draw this cheque?—Here.

16,259. What was the amount of it?—1,000*l.*

16,260. To whom did you give that cheque?—Mr. Wilson.

16,261. Mr. H. T. Wilson?—Yes.

16,262. Was that the first payment that goes towards making up this sum of 4,800*l.*?—No.

16,263. What was the first?—There were two payments made before that, which I was not aware of at the time, 400*l.* and 2,000*l.*

16,264. When was the first of those payments made?—I cannot give you the dates for them. The first was money that Mr. Hagart brought over, I believe.

16,265. That money, we were told yesterday, was given to Mr. Hagart by Mr. Tronson?—Yes; I fancy Mr. Wilson's cashier would have given the order for it, and, I imagine, asked him to bring it over.

16,266. We were told yesterday by Mr. Hagart that the money was given to him by Mr. Tronson?—He was the managing man in our office, and no doubt the money was given to Mr. Hagart by Mr. Tronson.

16,267. That is the fact, that it was given to Mr. Hagart by Mr. Tronson?—I do not know. You have Mr. Hagart's word for that.

16,268. Did you give Mr. Tronson any directions about it?—I do not know; I could not say that I did. I may have repeated to him what I repeated to my cashier.

16,269. Supposing Mr. Hagart's story is correct, would Mr. Tronson be the person who would direct the payment of the money, or Mr. Littlewood?—It would be one of them. If I told Mr. Tronson, no doubt he would do it.

16,270. You do not remember whether he would or not? We only wish to know to prevent the trouble of sending for both of them?—I do not think you need trouble to send for anyone but the cashier. He will be able to give you the dates of every sum of money paid out as well.

16,271. What is the christian name?—"John."

16,272. And his address?—I do not know his private address, but our office, "Brown's Buildings," will find him.

16,273. It is your belief that if Mr. Tronson did give that money to Hagart, he did so by Littlewood's instructions?—Or Mr. Wilson's clerk, Mr. Chambers, was the person who had the management of money matters.

16,274. In any event, Mr. Tronson could not have given that money to Hagart without having first got it from Littlewood?—No, certainly not, without having got it first from the cashier.

16,275. (Mr. Hill.) If Mr. Tronson did give it, he would do it by instructions from the cashier?—I do not say by his instructions. He would merely give him the money.

16,276. He must have received it from the cashier?—Yes.

16,277. Can you yourself of your own knowledge tells us generally about the date when this 400*l.* was given?—I can merely tell you from what I heard Mr. Wilson say about the money.

16,278. Is that all that we can get from you about the 400*l.*?—Yes, I was not in Liverpool at the time myself.

16,279. You think the money he brought was 400*l.*?—I think so. He said it was himself.

16,280. No, he does not say so, indeed. What is your reason for saying that the sum of money was 400*l.*?—From seeing a list of the different items that were paid.

16,281. Have you that list with you?—No. My clerk has a list of the different items that were paid, and the times at which they were paid.

16,282. Was that Littlewood?—Yes.

16,283. It would have been very convenient if you had brought that list with you?—I dare say I shall be able to give it you in the course of the morning. I have telegraphed and requested them to send up word what the dates were.

16,284. Do you know from what Littlewood compiled that list?—Merely from the memorandum that he kept in the cash-book.

16,285. The list is a copy of the memorandum?—The memorandum is in this way. Supposing he paid 400*l.* to-day, he would be 400*l.* short the next day, and he would make a memorandum of the 400*l.*; and another day he would pay 1,000*l.* and would make a memorandum of 1,000*l.* as well, so that there would be 1,400*l.*, and so on.

16,286. That memorandum was made in a book, and the list is a copy of the memorandum?—No. The list is not a copy of the memorandum, but he can see what money he paid out each day by the deficiency in his cash, and he writes on the memorandum. It is not a copy of the book, or a copy of anything out of the book.

16,287. It is an abstract of the items from a book?—No, there is nothing entered specially in the book.

16,288. You must remember we are not in business, and to me this sort of thing at all events is quite new. Do you mean that you each day had a slip of paper given to you with "cash short, 400*l.*" for instance?—No, there was no slip of paper. He merely kept a memorandum in this balance-book. For instance, in balancing his cash he adds up his debit side and credit side, puts this amount, whatever it is, as so much money paid for Lancaster expenses.

16,289. That is what I understood just now until you gave us the last answer, saying that the memorandum was a slip of paper?—So it is a slip of paper. The memorandum and the book are two different things.

16,290. (Mr. Hill.) Is it not this? The memorandum is a slip of paper which is deposited in the cash-book as the money is taken out, and then at the close of the day the memorandum is entered in the balance book?—I do not know whether he put any memorandum in the cash book.

16,291. In the scribbling memorandum book?—I call it a balance book. It is in what he balances his cash every day. Supposing he paid 400*l.* to-day, he puts down 400*l.*, and very likely puts a memorandum opposite.

16,292. What do you call that book?—I should call it the balance book.

16,293. He would understand it as the balance book?—Yes, and I will write to him and tell him what it is that is wanted.

16,294. Is there any other book in which it is entered?—No, that is the only book in which there is any memorandum whatever of it.

16,295. Have you any other scribbling book besides?—No.

16,296. (Mr. Barstow.) This last is a copy of the items as they occur in the balance book?—The list that he wrote out for me is.

16,297. That is what I understood from the very beginning, though perhaps I did not express myself sufficiently clearly. I used the word "item," and upon that you took issue?—I do not think you quite understand it now, if you will excuse me for saying so.

16,298. I think I do, though I may be mistaken. I think your explanation is a very clear one?—If you are satisfied I am sure I am.

16,299. The list was copied from the memorandum in the cash book, showing the cash deficient each day on account of the Lancaster election?—That is sufficiently correct; but it would require some explanation to any person who did not understand it.

16,300. Now we have got to the end of the 400*l.* What was the next item?—2,000*l.* was the next item.

16,301. To whom was that 2,000*l.* paid?—I believe

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Mr. J. T. Lawrence.

14 Sept. 1866.

to Mr. Wilson's cashier, but upon that point Mr. Littlewood will be able to give you better information than I can.

16,302. What was the next item? I will not trouble you more about the 2000*l.* We think we know the history of that pretty well?—The next item, I think, was 750*l.*

16,303. What account have you to give us of that?—Simply the same as the last. That was paid over to Mr. Wilson's cashier, and Mr. Wilson's cashier gave me credit for it in his book.

16,304. When?—I cannot tell you the date.

16,305. You can tell us whether it was before or after the election?—It was after the election. That was all that was paid by my cashier before the election, 2,400*l.*

16,306. Was that also paid to Mr. W. E. Chambers?—That was also paid, I believe, to Mr. Chambers.

16,307. You do not know whether that was paid all at once?—I believe it was.

16,308. What was the next payment?—I cannot tell you the exact amount, but the other items that were paid afterwards made up the 4,800*l.*, including the cheque which I drew here and handed over to Mr. Wilson.

16,309. When was that cheque drawn?—It was drawn on the morning.

16,310. What was the next payment?—I say I cannot tell you the items, but they would pay a total of 4,800*l.*

16,311. (Mr. Hill.) The balance would be in sundry payments?—Yes, in sundry payments, perhaps two or three payments.

16,312. Mr. Littlewood, I suppose, will be able to give us those particulars?—Yes. I dare say I shall be able to give you the particulars before I go out of the box. I expect to have them sent up by telegram.

16,313. You told us in your examination just now that you did not know of this money being paid?—I did not personally, because I was not in Liverpool at the time it was paid.

16,314. When it was paid you did not know it was paid?—No. I did not know until after the election that that money had been taken out.

16,315. How did you come to make that discovery of the money being taken out?—When I went down to Liverpool I inquired.

16,316. You inquired what?—What money had been paid.

16,317. May we take it that you went to Liverpool immediately after the election?—No, I went to Scotland first, and then I went down to Liverpool to vote on the Liverpool election. I think that was the day after, or the day but one after the Lancaster election.

16,318. It is enough for you to tell us that you went to Liverpool two days after the election?—Yes.

16,319. And then you say you discovered that this sum had been paid?—Yes.

16,320. How did you make that discovery?—From the cash keeper.

16,321. It was not from any examination of your books?—No.

16,322. I suppose you do from time to time make an examination of the books of your firm?—Yes.

16,323. I presume all partners who are in business do that?—I should think so.

16,324. At any rate it is the practice of all the partners in your firm?—I can speak for myself, but I cannot speak for my partners.

15,325. Do you not know that it is so?—No; I do not know.

16,326. Do you really mean to say that you do not know?—No, I do not indeed.

16,327. Have you never seen Mr. Taylor or Mr. Lawrence examining the books?—I cannot call to my recollection that I ever have.

16,328. Do you really mean to tell us that you do not know that they ever do examine the books?—I do really mean to tell you that I do not know it; I should presume that they do, but at the same time I cannot say that they do.

16,329. Do you have a balance sheet made from time to time?—Yes.

16,330. And I suppose you share your profits according to that balance sheet?—Yes.

16,331. Cannot you really say whether your partners, for themselves, examine the books to see whether that is correct?—They would not examine the books. They would, no doubt, look over the balance sheet; but I cannot say whether they did or not. They will answer for themselves.

16,332. It would be rather a troublesome inquiry to bring them here to ask whether they examined the books?—My brother will be here, and you will be able to ask him.

16,333. Do you really mean to tell us that giving such a sum as 5000*l.* was not a subject of conversation between you and your brother?—Never. I never opened my lips to him; but bear in mind, and allow me to explain this to you, that before this election, I had not the most remote idea what the cost would be. I asked Mr. Wilson what sum he had received from our firm in Liverpool, and he was utterly ignorant of it, and I also was utterly ignorant of it until I went back to Liverpool and ascertained it.

16,334. I am speaking of after the election. You say it was a matter of surprise that the sum expended was so large, and you tell us that it being so large you never spoke to your brother or your other partner, Mr. Taylor, upon the subject?—I may have spoken to Mr. Taylor; very likely I did, and I told my brother what the expenses were likely to be after the election.

16,335. In point of fact it was a subject of conversation?—No, it was not a subject of conversation. That was all that passed between us. I told him it would cost a great deal of money; that probably the cost would be between 6,000*l.* and 7,000*l.*

16,336. You mean had been?—No; would be. I did not know what the actual cost was.

16,337. After the election, you said the amount of expenses would be between 6,000*l.* and 7,000*l.*—Yes.

16,338. Did your brother express no surprise?—Yes, he did.

16,339. What did he say?—I cannot say what he said, but he was very much disgusted.

16,340. Did you think that disgust was at the result of the election, or at the expenditure of money?—At the expenditure of money.

16,341. In the settlement of the profits of your firm, was this sum of money deducted from your brother's share?—No; it is a cash balance and remains so, except the 1,000*l.* I received from my brother; and it appears on our balance sheet as cash.

16,342. Is that a debt from Mr. Edward Lawrence to your firm?—It is not entered in any way.

16,343. But will you pay it, or Mr. Taylor, or he?—I shall pay part, and my brother part.

16,344. And Mr. Taylor part?—No, certainly not.

16,345. It is a debt from you and your brother to the firm?—If you like to call it so. I must make this remark, that I have had no special agreement with my brother as to the payment of it, but I am quite sure that my brother will not let me bear the whole expense.

16,346. It is now, I understand, a payment by the firm; but it has been incurred on behalf of an individual member of the firm?—Quite so.

16,347. My question is, is the firm to bear the loss, or is the individual to bear it?—The individual must bear the loss, either myself or my brother.

16,348. Then I may say that the money is, in point of fact, debited to Mr. Edward Lawrence?—No; it is still a cash balance. An open balance.

16,349. In what proportions will you and your brother bear the loss?—That is a matter which we have not discussed. I have abstained from mentioning the subject to him entirely; but I should be willing to bear half, if he would bear the other half.

16,350. Then for 16 months there has been no settlement as to the manner in which you propose to divide that loss?—No, there has been none.

16,351. What is the sum which you and your brother will have to share between you?—3,800*l.*; there may be some few items for travelling. 1,000*l.* I have received from my brother, which was the 1,000*l.* that he always said he would spend, and there still remains the 3,800*l.*, and there may be some few odd pounds beyond that.

16,352. Mr. Edward Lawrence has paid out of his pocket 1,000*l.* and proposes—— ?—I did not say so; I did not say he proposes.

16,353. (Mr. Hill.) You propose?—I do. I shall propose.

16,354. (Mr. Barstow.) May we say, "I shall propose that he and I share the rest of the loss?"—Yes.

16,355. Then the cost of the election would be to Mr. Edward Lawrence, 2,900*l.*?—Yes, taking that as a basis. Of course I am merely given you rough figures; there may be odd pounds for expenses.

16,356. At what time did you come to Lancaster?—The evening before the election.

16,357. That would be the 11th July?—I suppose it was.

16,358. The polling was on the 12th of July?—Then I came on the 11th.

16,359. Were you present at the nomination?—No.

16,360. You came in the evening?—I came in the evening.

16.361. Where did you go to?—To the "King's Arms."

16,362. Did you see your brother there?—Yes.

16,363. Did you dine with him that evening?—Yes.

16,364. Who were of your party?—Mr. Wilson and Mr. Saunders. I do not know whether there was anyone else. I do not remember.

16,365. You were a party of four?—I think so. I am not quite sure; there may have been some other gentleman there, but I am not quite sure about it.

16,366. You believe that it was a party of four?—I believe it was.

16,367. I daresay you were too anxious about the election to enjoy your dinner very much?—No, I was not, indeed.

16,368. Had you done anything with reference to the election before dinner?—No, I did nothing with reference to the election at all.

16,369. Nothing at all that evening?—Nothing with reference to the election; certainly not.

16,370. You saw none of the captains?—No.

16,371. Did you not go out into the town?—I went out into the town, but I do not call that doing anything.

16,372. Did you go out with any of the election people?—Yes, I went with Mr. Wilson and Mr. Wilson Barker.

16,373. Then I should have said that you were in the thick of it?—There was no electioneering done then.

16,374. Did you go about the town, or did you go anywhere particularly?—I just walked about the town. I went with Mr. Barker into two public-houses; Mr. Wilson did not go in.

16,375. Do you remember being at the "White Horse?"—I do not know what places they were that we went to.

16,376. You have heard it has been said that you went to the "White Horse," in Church Street?—I have not heard that it was said I went there.

16,377. We have had it given in evidence before us that you were seen there?—I am quite willing to admit that I might have been at the "White Horse," but I do not know whether it was the "White Horse" or the "Black Horse."

16,378. You went into different houses?—I went into two houses.

16,379. Were you introduced as the candidate's brother?—No.

16,380. Nobody knew who you were?—Nobody knew who I was.

16,381. You did not make them a speech?—No, certainly not.

16,382. I suppose there was little need for you to treat them?—I do not know at all.

16,383. You did not treat them, at all events?—No.

16,384. You did not visit any voters at their own houses?—No.

16,385. And you took no part in the canvass?—No.

16,386. Did you pay any money to anybody during the election?—Not a sixpence.

16,387. Not to Mr. Wollaston?—I carried a bag of money from Mr. Barker to Mr. Wollaston; I merely acted as a porter on that occasion.

16,388. Perhaps you do not know what it was that you carried?—Yes, I have a pretty good idea what it was.

16,389. But the sum?—No; I believe it was 200*l.*, but I could not say what it was of my own knowledge.

16,390. Did you personally pay any money to anyone for his vote in the course of the election?—No, certainly not.

16,391. Did you make any loan to anybody?—No.

16,392. Did you promise anyone employment in consideration of a vote?—No.

16,393. Perhaps you did not even ask anyone for a vote?—I did not even ask anyone. Yes, by the bye, I think I went with Mr. Wilson Barker to call on some gentleman to ask him to go down and vote for my brother; but I think he was a medical man. I went up with him in a cab, and asked him if he would come down with us.

16,394. You say you did not bribe anybody?—No; and I never knew it was being done until it was well on in the day.

16,395. You did not know that any bribing was going on?—No.

16,396. What time in the day was it when you carried this money to Mr. Wollaston?—I forget; it must have been between 12 and 1.

16,397. You must have had a pretty good guess then, I should suppose, as to what was going on?—Of course I had a good guess then.

16,398. I ask you this question because I may say almost every witness on the other side has mentioned you as displaying extreme activity on behalf of your brother?—That is absurd; it is nonsense; I never went to a single voter or spoke to him.

16,399. It would have been very natural if you had done so?—No doubt I was very anxious about my brother being returned, but beyond that I took no part or interest in the election, whatever anyone else may say.

16,400. I ask you the question with a view to your confirming or contradicting the evidence given by the preceding witnesses?—I contradict that statement most flatly.

16,401. (Mr. Newton.) How did you first know that money was being paid?—I guessed it.

16,402. You guessed it from what?—From various things; being sent for money, and hearing that more money was required at different places; of course I could not shut my ears or my eyes either.

16,403. You say you could not shut your eyes to what was going on; then you saw money paid?—No, never a sixpence.

16,404. Then what did you mean by saying that you could not shut your eyes to what was going on?—I could not shut my eyes to the fact that money was going somewhere or other—that money was flying about.

16,405. Did you see it flying about?—I never saw any of the money being paid.

16,406. Did you see it flying about?—I tell you that I took this money over to Mr. Wollaston, and I had a shrewd guess what was going on then. I had a pretty good idea what it was for; I could not help it, but I could not have stated on my oath at the time that any money had been or was being paid to a voter for his vote.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Mr. J. T. Lawrence.

14 Sept. 1866.

16,407. You never saw any money paid?—No, certainly not; never a sixpence.

16,408. Did any voter ever come to you?—No.

16,409. Had you seen Mr. Hagart in the course of that day?—No; I did not even know that he was here till I saw him in the evening.

16,410. Did he come here by your permission?—So far as this, that if Mr. Wilson said he wanted anybody down he would have been sent down. I was not in Liverpool at the time.

16,411. When do you say he came with this money?—I cannot tell you that.

16,412. Nor can you tell us the amount he brought?—400*l.*, I believe, was what he brought. I presume that is what he brought.

16,413. What induces you to believe that?—I have heard in the evidence that that was the sum stated.

16,414. No, it was not, indeed?—I understood it to be so.

16,415. That is just what we want to arrive at?—As soon as I can get the dates, I can ascertain what it was that he brought.

16,416. How?—He says it was 400*l.* that he brought down with him, I think.

16,417. (Mr. Hill.) No, 500*l.*?—The memorandum will show that; that can easily be arrived at; it can easily be ascertained what day he brought the money, and what the amount was.

16,418. Mr. Barker says that he received the money on the 11th, and received it by a cheque?—That I am not in a position to state. My impression is that he brought the money down, because what else would he come for?

16,419. He first told us yesterday that he only came once, and then, when he heard Mr. Wilson examined, it came out that he came here twice?—Yes; and I asked him afterwards, and he says that it was twice that he was down. I could get nothing more out of him than you could.

16,420. (Mr. Hill.) You said, in answer to Mr. Newton, that you knew that money was going about from the fact of more money being wanted. When did you know that more money was wanted?—I heard some of them come into the place and say that money was wanted.

16,421. You say you heard "some of them" say that. Who do you mean by "some of them?"—I cannot tell you who they were; I did not know a soul in Lancaster.

16,422. They came into what place?—I think into the committee room at the "Royal Oak," or whatever they called the room. They had several rooms there. I do not say it was a committee room; I do not know what room they called the committee room. There were plenty of rooms there.

16,423. Who were in that room?—That I cannot tell you.

16,424. You say you saw them come into the room. Who were sitting in that room?—I do not know. I did not know anyone in Lancaster.

16,425. Do you mean to tell me that you did not know any of the persons who were in that room?—I mean to say that I did not know a living soul in Lancaster when I came here.

16,426. That is not an answer to my question. My question is, do you mean to say that you did not know any of the persons who were in that room?—I did not.

16,427. You swear that?—Yes.

16,428. Was your brother there?—No.

16,429. Do you know Mr. Wilson Barker?—Yes.

16,430. Was he there?—No.

16,431. Do you know Mr. Wearing?—No.

16,432. Or Mr. Danson?—I do not know him.

16,433. Or Mr. Clark, or Mr. Cross?—Mr. Clark, the attorney, is the only one I knew. I was introduced to him.

16,434. You swear you did not know any of the men who were in that room?—Certainly.

16,435. Was Mr. Clark in the room; Mr. Clark, the attorney?—No.

16,436. How many times did you see men come into that room, to the best of your belief, to say that more money was wanted?—I could not say.

16,437. Was there money in that room?—I do not know; I never saw any.

16,438. When they came in and said that more money was wanted, can you tell us what was done?—I cannot.

16,439. You have no recollection about it?—I do not know what was done.

16,440. You recollect men coming and saying that more money was wanted?—I cannot tell what was done, because I did not interfere in the matter.

16,441. You say that you heard men come into the room and say that more money was wanted, but you cannot tell us what steps were taken upon that?—Certainly, I cannot.

16,442. You took no interest in seeing what was done?—I took none whatever.

16,443. Did you know at that time that the fate of the election depended upon which party would spend the most money?—No, I did not.

16,444. After reading all the evidence to the effect that you were yourself actively engaged in the election at Lancaster?—I have not read all the evidence.

16,445. I say, after what you have read?—I have not read anything in which I have seen my own name as taking part in the election.

16,446. Do you say distinctly that those persons who have come here and said that you were actively engaged in the election have stated what is false?—Certainly I do.

16,447. (Mr. Barstow.) Would you like to hear any of the evidence?—No, I do not care to hear it.

16,448. (Mr. Hill.) With regard to the accounts, you know that 750*l.* was placed to your credit in Mr. Wilson's suspense account?—I merely knew it yesterday; I knew that the money had been paid, but not placed to my credit.

16,449. You know yourself, also, that 2,000*l.* was paid to Mr. Wilson's cashier?—I do not know that it was paid to Mr. Wilson's cashier; I believe it was.

16,450. Can you tell me how it comes to pass that 750*l.* was placed to your credit in the suspense account, and none of these other sums?—No, I cannot.

16,451. You can give me no reason for that?—I can give you no reason whatever.

16,452. (Mr. Newton.) You have told Mr. Barstow that you received 1,000*l.* from your brother by cheque?—No, I did not. I received 1,000*l.* from my brother, but I do not say that it was by cheque.

16,453. Then we will leave out the "cheque?"—He gave me the money in the office.

16,454. When did your brother give you that 1,000*l.*?—I cannot call it to my recollection.

16,455. You must, if you please?—I cannot.

16,456. Was it before the election?—No, it was long after the election; I daresay it was six months after the election.

16,457. Tell me when it was, within six months?—I am on my oath, and I tell you that I cannot say whether it was within six or eight months. If you particularly wish it I can ascertain the exact date.

16,458. You told Mr. Barstow that you never had any conversation with your brother about the expenses of the election, except at the time when he expressed his disgust. Was it at that time that he gave you the money or not?—Possibly not.

16,459. You told Mr. Barstow that you never had any conversation with your brother about this enormous expenditure of 5,000*l.*, and you then said, that on one occasion he expressed his disgust?—Yes, he certainly did.

16,460. Which of those statements is true, that you had a conversation with your brother, or that you had not?—I had no general conversation with him.

16,461. Then you go on to say that, at a certain time after the election, you were repaid 1,000*l.*?—Yes, my brother gave it me.

16,462. When was that?—I cannot tell you.

16,463. Was it at the time he expressed his disgust or not?—I do not think it was.

16,464. Then you have had two conversations with your brother since the election?—I beg your pardon, nothing of the kind. When he gave me the 1,000*l.* I had no conversation with him about the expenses of the election.

16,465. He must have told you what he gave you that 1,000*l.* for?—I do not call it a conversation. He said, "Take that as part payment for the Lancaster election expenses." I do not say that those were the exact words that he used, but he used words that were tantamount to that. I am not going to swear that those were the exact words. I say that what he said was to that effect, according to the best of my belief.

16,466. He said those words, or words to that effect?—Yes, or words to that effect.

16,467. How was that 1,000*l.* paid to you?—I think he gave it to me in cash.

16,468. Do you mean in bank notes?—I think so; I am not quite sure about it. I think it was in bank notes.

16,469. Where?—In the office.

16,470. You say you could tell us the date?—Yes, because it is taken off the balance in the balance book.

16,471. Have you a separate booking account of your own; a private booking account, independent of the firm?—I had. I have not now.

16,472. Would it not have been easier for your brother to have paid that amount into your bankers?—The money would have been of no use to me; I should not have paid it in to my own account.

16,473. Would it not have been easier for your brother to have given you a cheque?—No; very likely it was money that he was getting in; some of his own private money that he was getting in. I do not know where he was getting money from.

16,474. But you say you can give us the dates. Where can we get them—from the balance book?—Yes.

16,475. When shall we have that?—Whenever you like to send for it. I can give you now the dates you want. I have just received this telegram (producing it).

16,476. (Mr. Hill.) Read it out, if you please?—It is "From R. V. Hagart to J. T. Lawrence. "400*l.*, 7th July; 2,000*l.*, 11th; 750*l.*, July 15th." This is an actual copy from the balance book. This cheque, which I drew on the election day, is only debited on the 17th of July.

16,477–8. (Mr. Barstow.) That is the 1,000*l.*?—Yes.

(Mr. Hill.) Let me look at the telegram. (It is handed by the witness to Mr. Hill.) I will read it. It is, "Lancaster, 14th September, 1866. R. V. "Hagart to J. T. Lawrence, King's Arms Hotel, "Lancaster. Four, 7th July; twenty, 11th July; "seven and half, 15th July; ten, 17th July; five, "22nd January; one and half, 6th July; half, 9th "August; total, four eight fifty; ten paid back, "fifteen November."

16,479. (Mr. Barstow to the witness.) At what time in the day did you draw the cheque for 1,000*l.*?—Early in the morning, before 8 o'clock.

16,480. Then you must have known at that time what was going on?—No, I did not, indeed. I did not know what money had come from Liverpool. I had not the most distant conception.

16,481. Did you give your cheque, when you drew it, at once into the hands of Mr. Wilson Barker?—No, I gave it to Mr. H. T. Wilson.

16,482. You gave it at once into his hands?—Yes.

16,483. Did you send a message to Liverpool this morning, to which message this telegram is an answer?—No; I asked Mr. Hagart to do it when he went home last night.

16,484. To consult the cash book?—No, the cashier.

16,485. So that, although the telegram comes from Mr. Hagart, it is really from the cashier?—Yes.

Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson recalled and further examined.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

(The Witness.) Will you kindly look at this telegram which I have just received (handing a telegram to the Commissioners)?

16,486. (Mr. Hill.) It is a telegram from Taylor to John Lawrence, "Hagart's telegram was right, except the last fifty-nine was wrong?"—I do not know what that is; that is some mistake.

16,487–8. Would it be "except the last fifty which was wrong?"—Yes, that is most likely, I think.

16,489. Then we will put a query against that fifty, and write, "Corrected by subsequent telegram." Mr. Littlewood will know the contents of those telegrams when he comes, I suppose?—He possibly may, or he may not. Will the Commissioners be kind enough to refer to a question which was put to me about the capital of the Shipowning Company?

16,490. Yes. You said 30,000*l.* for the one, and 125,000*l.* for the other?—The capital of the Shipowning Company is 250,000*l.*, but the directors only intend to call up 125,000*l.* That was the mistake that I made.

16,491. That is not so much a matter for us as for the general public. When we left off your examination yesterday you were telling me of the part which Mr. Saunders had taken in the election. I do not want you to be diffuse upon that point, but will you tell me, generally, what part that was?—I think Mr. Saunders saw Mr. Lawrence in the first instance, and tried to induce him to accept a requisition to stand as a candidate for Lancaster, and that he attended a meeting at the Palatine Hall. I think he went with him on his canvass, perhaps two or three times, and I think he stayed with us at the "King's Arms" for a short time.

16,492. Do you know of any subscription that was got up for the payment of expenses on behalf of Mr. Lawrence?—No, I do not.

16,493. In your belief was there any subscription got up?—No, I am sure there was no subscription.

16,494. Do you believe that any monies were paid on behalf of Mr. Lawrence except those sums which we have heard of from you, and from Mr. John Tomlin Lawrence?—No other money that I know of.

16,495. To the best of your belief is that so?—I am sure of it.

16,496. You are sure that no other monies were paid?—Quite sure.

16,497. Has there been any subscription in Liverpool to reduce the advance by the firm, either your own firm or Mr. Lawrence's, for the expenses of that election?—None.

16,498. Can you say that distinctly?—I can swear that distinctly.

16,499. Can you say, putting Liverpool out of the question, whether there has been any contribution of any sort to reduce that expense?—None.

16,500. Do you know of any promise made, either to your own firm or to Mr. Lawrence, of any repayment of the monies that that election cost you or the Messieurs Lawrence?—I do not.

16,501. We have looked over these papers which you handed in to us last night, and, referring to them and to the evidence, I see there was a statement made by a person of the name of King, as to an offer of 12*l.* to vote, by you and Mr. Coupland?—I read that statement.

16,502. What have you to say with reference to that statement?—So far as I am concerned it is quite incorrect. I do not know that I know "King."

16,503. You say that you never did offer any voters any money?—No, nothing. I had nothing to do with any payment of voters at all.

16,504. Then, as far as any evidence goes to that point, you say that that evidence is incorrect?—I do.

16,505. Completely incorrect?—Completely incorrect.

16,506. And similarly a statement by Bradshaw that you were busy in the district of Galgate?—I was never in Galgate except on the evening when I went with Mr. Lawrence.

16,507. There was a statement made also by Colonel Yeadell in which your name was mentioned?—I read that statement also.

16,508. What was that statement?—I think it had reference to staff-men, or "shouters," as he called them.

16,509. In what way had Colonel Yeadell mentioned your name in connexion with them?—I think it was something to this effect, that Mr. Wilson has come to Lancaster like "Joshua."

16,510. Did you, in fact, come like "Joshua?"—No, I think not.

16,511. You brought with you something more substantial, or had taken care that something more substantial should be provided?—Yes.

16,512. Just look at those two items, and tell me what you make of them (handing a paper to the witness)?—"Barker wrong as to Moon."

16,513. What do you mean by that?—Mr. Wilson Barker made a statement that he got money in London from Mr. Moon. Mr. Moon wrote a note to Mr. Barker to tell him that he was incorrect, that he was away at the time, and therefore he could not have got the money from him. It was got from a clerk instead of from Mr. Moon.

16,514. Is there anything else in the last line of all there? It is in your own handwriting?—It is "estimated cost, wrong date." I think, as I read the evidence, Mr. Barker's meaning was this: that at the meeting to which he referred, at which I was present with Mr. Saunders, the estimated cost had been discussed; and I think he gave it to you as 4,000*l.* or 5,000*l.* Mr. Barker is entirely wrong there as to the date, because I remember there was no discussion as to the cost then. The question of cost never came to my mind clearly before the Monday.

16,515. Then, if Mr. Wilson Barker is right as to the date, you had nothing to do with the conversation?—Quite so.

16,516. And if any such conversation took place, it would be with Mr. Lawrence, and not with you?—I am sure it did not take place with Mr. Lawrence.

16,517. But that is what it must come to if Mr. Wilson Barker is correct?—I certainly do not remember it myself at all.

16,518. I see this on this other paper, "Our expenses 750*l.* ——" (which, I suppose, means "up to") "Monday." What do you mean by that?—I think that is a clear proof that our expenses were moderate up to the Monday preceding the election.

16,519. How did you ascertain that up to Monday your expenses had been 750*l.*?—From Mr. Barker's statement.

16,520. From the statement that those were the sums paid by him up to Monday?—Up to Monday, I think, that is the amount.

16,521. Monday would be the 10th?—Yes. I took it up Monday morning, because on Monday morning I got a statement.

16,522. Then I see this note, "If petition not presented, highest bidder." What is the meaning of that?—It means that had there been no petition, Lancaster for the future must always have been offered to the highest bidder.

16,523. That is to say, if there had been no petition, and that which is consequent thereupon, namely this present Commission?—Yes, I think so.

16,524. I see that you have tabulated in these items which you have given to us the reason why you supposed it would be a money matter. First, you give us Mr. Schneider's second speech on his first election, which you have already referred to in the evidence you gave us yesterday?—Yes.

16,525. And then you put, "The request to Welch." What do you mean by that?—It refers to the statement which Mr. Welch made here, otherwise the impression I had then formed was that Mr. Schneider was prepared to bid heavily for the place, because I think that at his first election, when he got in for nothing, immediately after the election he turned to Mr. Welch and asked him if he would consent to become an "illegal agent" for the next election, and I think that that clearly shows that he had it in his mind at that time.

16,526. (Mr. Barstow.) That you have taken from Mr. Welch's evidence?—I have drawn the conclusion from Mr. Welch's evidence, and regarded it as a proof that Mr. Schneider had then made up his mind.

16,527. Next, "The request to the bank for gold." What request do you refer to there?—The request on the day of the election.

16,528. When?—On the 12th of July.

16,529. Do you refer to his own visit for 1,000*l.*?—I refer to his instructing them to go to the bank and see if they could get 1,000*l.* in gold.

16,530. The next is "Dr. Carruthers' visit." What does that refer to?—Dr. Carruthers arrived at the "King's Arms" about half-past 12 or 1 o'clock on the morning of the election. I was standing in the lobby of the "King's Arms" when he came in. I said "Doctor, what do you want here? are you aware that you are in the enemy's camp?" He said "I want to see Mr. Sly." I said "Mr. Sly is there." He spoke to Mr. Sly and went out. I then went to Mr. Sly and asked him what the doctor wanted. He said he had come to ask for Mr. Schneider. I asked him what answer he gave him, and he said "I have told him to go to the Vicarage;" and the presumption I made from that was, that Dr. Carruthers had come for the money that was to be sent to Morecambe, and that he came from Mr. Schneider, who was at the Vicarage.

16,531. The next I see is, "Statement by Schneider that he would give Saunders 1,000*l.*" What is that?—Mr. Schneider went into Mr. Clark's shop in Market Street, and made a statement to this effect.

16,532. Who was present?—He made the statement to Mr. Clark.

16,533. Which Mr. Clark?—Mr. G. C. Clark; that "he would give that fellow Saunders 1,000*l.* if "he would only consent to stand, that he might show "him how the money, or the 5*l.* notes (I forget which "was the phrase he used), would fly."

16,534. When did you understand that this statement was made to Mr. Clark?—It was made to Mr. Clark prior to the election.

16,535. How long prior?—It might be a few days before. It would not be long, because there was only a lapse of a week or ten days.

16,536. Then there is, "Hadfield to Liverpool, petition, counsel, and subscription." What does that refer to?—Mr. Hadfield, I understood, was sent from Lancaster to Liverpool to consult with the Liberals about the presentation of a petition against the two Liverpool members. A communication was made to me by one of the leading members of the Conservative party in Liverpool to this effect, and asking me if I knew anything of it; I said I knew nothing of it, that I had not heard of it, and did not believe it. He then gave me the names of the two people who had been consulted by Mr. Hadfield, and it was upon that information that I sent for one of those two persons.

16,537. Two Liverpool persons?—Two Liverpool persons, because one of them I did not know at all. That was "Cook." The other one I did know, and I sent for him, Mr. Rutherford, to ask him if it was was true, and he said it was partly true, but that he would send for Mr. Cook, who would give me all the information. Mr. Cook was sent for, or called the next day, and told me that he had been in communication with Mr. Hadfield, who had been sent from Lancaster with a view of getting a petition up against Mr. Greaves and Mr. Horsfall.

16,538. That took place after the election was over?—Yes.

16,539. And therefore it could scarcely be put down as a reason why the Lancaster election should be a matter of money?—I do not put it down as a reason for that. It is not under that head I think?

16,540. Yes, No. 5?—Then it is under the wrong head.

16,541. Then the next is, "Statement to Slater if not returned?"—Mr. Slater told me.

16,542. Which Mr. Slater?—Mr. Slater, the hairdresser.

16,543. Here in Lancaster?—In Lancaster.

16,544. What part did Mr. Slater take in the election?—I do not know that he took much part in it. I know he was on the Conservative side. He told me that Mr. Schneider had sent for him on the morning of the election, I think, to the "Queen's Hotel;" I am not sure; and he said that if he was not returned as member for Lancaster, it was the last time that Lancaster would return a member to Parliament.

16,545. There is another, headed "Promissory note to bank in April." What inference do you draw from that?—That Mr. Schneider must have made his money arrangements as early as April.

16,546. Anything further?—No, I merely draw that as an inference of my own that he had made his own money arrangements early.

16,547. The next entries seem to be with regard to Mr. Fenwick. The first is "Newton?"—I should prefer your asking Mr. Fenwick about that himself.

16,548. What do you mean by it?—I suppose you will put the same question to him that you did yesterday to me, whether he committed any act of bribery himself? I will give you my meaning if you wish it. I should like you to ask Mr. Fenwick whether he bribed this man Newton. I think his name is Thomas Newton.

16,549. Who is Thomas Newton?—He is a voter.

16,550. I am reminded by Mr. Barstow that I should ask you upon whose information you give us this statement?—I give you this information from a statement made to me by Mr. Lawrence.

16,551. The candidate?—The candidate.

16,552. Do you know from whom Mr. Lawrence received it?—I understood that Mr. Lawrence got it from some one who was present at a dinner party at which Mr. Fenwick made the statement.

16,553. That is very remote?—I could not give it more direct.

16,554. You cannot give the name of the person who heard Mr. Fenwick say so?—Mr. Lawrence can give the name because he got it.

16,555. (Mr. Newton.) Mr. Lawrence heard Mr. Fenwick say it?—No, I do not say that.

16,556. Then it is still more remote?—No, Mr. Lawrence got it direct.

16,557. Not from Mr. Fenwick?—No, not from Mr. Fenwick.

16,558. Then it is only third hand?—It is third hand.

16,559. (Mr. Hill.) There is an entry mentioning the name of a person named Western (blank) for vote; what is that?—That had reference to the previous election between Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Saunders.

16,560. Then there is a note of yours, "As to Wearing's statement of 1,000*l.*?"—I merely made a memorandum of the statement Mr. Wearing made here, that he was morally certain that the 1,000*l.* was for bribing purposes, which I thought was a very injudicious remark for him to make.

16,561. He was bound to make it; he was bound tell the truth?—But he does not know it.

16,562. Now I come to a table of yours headed "Liberal expenses," and under the head of bank, "Coulston, Jackson;" first there is a note of yours as to gold, "Stirzaker, notes and no gold." Who got it all?—The impression I formed was that you had already ascertained that on your visit to the bank.

16,563. Do we understand from you that when Mr. Stirzaker made an application at the bank for gold there was no more gold in the bank?—Yes.

16,564. How do you know that?—Because I told Mr. Stirzaker to get gold, and he was unable to get gold, and they gave him notes.

16,565. Which Mr. Stirzaker was that?—I forget. I asked Mr. Henry Stirzaker.

16,566. Do you know what Mr. Henry Stirzaker brought back?—He told me he brought notes.

16,567. You told him to get gold?—I told him to get gold.

16,568. And he brought back notes?—He brought notes.

16,569. And told you that he could not get gold?—That he could not get gold.

16,570. Is the Lancaster Bank a bank of issue?—Yes.

16,571. Were the notes that he brought Lancaster or Bank of England notes?—I believe they were Lancaster notes.

16,572. Can you tell us what time of the day that was?—It was early.

16,573. About noon?—Before that I think.

16,574. Do you know anything of the part that Mr. Coulston took in the election?—Have you finished with the gold part?

16,575. Have you anything further to add about the gold?—Yes.

16,576. Will you have the goodness, then, to tell us what that is?—I know that the Lancaster Bank received 10,000*l.* in gold from Liverpool that week.

16,577. From whom do you know that?—I know it from Mr. Lawrence.

16,578. What opportunity would Mr. Lawrence have of learning that?—The bank manager told him.

16,579. The bank manager, where?—In Liverpool.

16,580. Who is the bank manager there?—The Union Bank?

16,581. The manager of the Union Bank?—Yes.

16,582. Who is the manager?—Mr. Lister.

16,583. Did you understand that 10,000*l.* in gold had been paid to the Lancaster Bank from the Union Bank?—Yes, from the Union Bank to the Lancaster Bank; and on that statement I thought that if they had got 10,000*l.* in gold there should have been no difficulty in my getting 400*l.* in gold.

16,584. But you were aware that Mr. Wilson Barker had been changing notes extensively there?—Very little.

16,585. I do not know what you call very little?—I call 500*l.* little.

16,586. For instance, there was Mr. Lawrence's cheque for 1,000*l.*?—He got that at the Preston Bank.

16,587. You are quite right as to that; your four bags were all sent over in gold?—Yes.

16,588. What bank in Lancaster did that gold come out of?—I do not know. That is the money I did not know of.

16,589. Have you any knowledge what an ordinary week's payment of gold by the Lancaster Bank would be?—I thought you would have ascertained that when you examined the books. I know that banks balance their books every night.

16,590. Have you any knowledge yourself as to what the daily gold balance at the Lancaster Bank should be?—No, I have not seen the books, and therefore cannot tell you.

16,591. You have no knowledge upon the subject?—No.

16,592. Have you anything further to say upon the gold question?—Nothing beyond that.

16,593. Now, then, as to Mr. Coulston's personal part in that election?—I saw Mr. Coulston very busily occupied, in company with Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider, canvassing at the railway.

16,594. Is that a good place for canvassing?—There are several votes there.

16,595. Did you see Mr. Coulston there more than once?—I think I saw him twice there.

16,596. Were they talking to voters?—Speaking to people I took to be voters.

16,597. How long would that be before the election?—It would be a few days before the election. I may mention that we lost some of the railway votes which had been promised to Mr. Lawrence.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

14 Sept. 1866.

16,598. What has Mr. Coulston to do with the railway ?—He is a director.

16,599. A director of the Lancaster and Carlisle Railway ?—Yes.

16,600. How many voters are there connected with the railway ?—I do not know the number.

16,601. In round numbers ?—I have no idea at all.

16,602. As a director of the Lancaster and Carlisle Railway, he would not have much influence over the servants in the employ of the London and North-western Railway Company, would he ?—The influence was exercised, whatever it was.

16,603. Did you see Mr. Coulston personally canvassing any other persons besides the railway people? —No, I did not.

16,604. I see two names here (Fitzsimons and Peel), who are they ?—Two of the voters at the railway.

16,605. Did you see him canvassing them ?—I cannot say that I did. I understood they were to have voted for Mr. Lawrence.

16,606. Those are two persons who you understood had promised to vote for Mr. Lawrence ?—Yes.

16,607. " Mr. Jackson," what Jackson is that ?—Mr. William Jackson, the managing director of the bank.

16,608. Did you see him at all personally engaged in the election ?—I am not sure whether I saw him or not. I do not think I did see Mr. Jackson there.

16,609. What had he to do with the election ?—He was very actively engaged at home, I think.

16,610. How do you mean ?—I think he was not well at the time. I do not think I saw Mr. Jackson either at the railway or anywhere else.

16,611. Have you anything further to say as to the part taken in the election by Mr. Jackson ?—Nothing beyond what I was told, that he was very actively engaged at home.

16,612. I do not quite understand how that could be ?—He was not able to walk out at that time, but he was able to work, and did work at home.

16,613. By means of pen and ink ?—Yes, he wrote letters for instance.

16,614. Do you know of your own knowledge that he was canvassing by letter ? — He must have been, because one of the letters was put into my hands on the hustings on the nomination day.

16,615. To whom was that letter addressed ?—I do not know ; it was to one of the voters.

16,616. You saw a letter from Mr. Jackson to one of the voters ?—I did.

16,617. Mr. Jackson is also a director of the Lancaster and Carlisle Railway ?—Yes.

16,618. And managing director of the bank ?—He is the paid managing director of the bank, I believe.

16,619. Do I understand you to say that he had been engaged at Mr. Schneider's first election ?—Yes, he was actively engaged then.

16,620. Have you anything further to add upon that subject ?—I think Mr. Jackson made a remark, when he proposed Mr. Schneider, that the Conservatives could neither find a candidate nor money. As far as I remember that remark was made by him.

16,620*a*. Mr. Barton took the bag of money from the bank to the " Queen's Hotel." Is Mr. Barton at all related to Mr. Jackson ?—He is Mr. Jackson's son-in-law.

16,621. He is the son-in-law of the managing director ?—Yes.

16,622. There is an entry about Mr. Bolden ; have you anything to say about that ?—He was another bank director. I do not know that he took a very active part in the election, but I think Mr. Bolden's man was one of the men bribed on the other side. He was Mr. Bolden's head man, I think.

16,623. He is now at Liverpool ?—Yes.

16,624. Then you have made an entry, " 1,000*l.* on public-houses ? "— Yes, I thought that 1,000*l.* on public-houses, without any explanation, was a very large amount indeed.

16,625. You know there were a great many public-houses ?—But 1,000*l.* is a great deal.

16,626. How much did your side spend on public-houses ?—You have the accounts, and can tell better than I can.

16,627. No, we have not had them ?—Mr. Barker offered you the vouchers for everything. If I remember Mr. Barker's statement correctly, he offered you the vouchers of all the payments, except some 30*l.* or 40*l.*, I think. Mr. Barker is here. I think he did.

16,628. (Mr. Hill.) What in your judgment was the amount the public-houses cost the Conservative party ?—I do not remember.

16,629. You do not know ?—No, but it could be very easily ascertained.

16,630. You had not above a fourth of the number that were retained on behalf of Fenwick and Schneider ?—No, I think not 16,631. (Mr. Newton.) You were rather behindhand in getting them ?—So it appears.

16,632. (Mr. Hill.) I see you make an entry of two points, namely, the destruction of the vouchers on the Liberal side and the 1,000*l.* spent in public-houses. You say, I suppose, that that is a fair presumption that all has not been revealed ?—Yes, I do.

16,633. Do you think that more has been spent than we have heard of ?—Yes, I do. I think the 1,000*l.* in gold from Liverpool is a material matter to look at. You never heard of that before.

16,634. A bank may want a thousand pounds in gold besides for the purpose of bribery ?—It is strange they should get it from Liverpool.

16,635. Yes, it is, because Liverpool seems to have wanted it for other purposes ?—Yes, Liverpool seems to have provided all the money.

16,636. Then there is the " Queen's," 500*l.* ?—I understood the person who keeps the " Queen's " to state that he received 500*l.*, so that that would be 500*l.* out of the 1,000*l.* His bill was 500*l.*

16,637. Then there is an entry, " Bank prejudice against our company ;" that is some quarrel between your company and the bank I suppose. I do not know that we need go into that ?—We think the political weight of the bank has been brought to bear in the town.

16,638. As against the political weight of the company ?—Yes, I think so.

16,639. That is six to one and half a dozen to the other, I suppose ?—No, we have no weight there at all.

16,640. Where ?—At the bank. I say the bank had no right as a bank to use its weight politically.

16,641. It is not a point to argue with you, but would not that also apply to a ship-building company ? —You have never proved that the ship-building company interfered at all. I can tell you this, I never went near the shipyard during the whole canvass.

16,642. Are we to understand that from you ?—Yes, I never entered the shipyard during the whole of the canvass.

16,643. How many voters have you in the shipyard ?—I do not know.

16,644. I will ask you this, did you either directly or indirectly use any influence upon any voters in the shipyard during the canvass ?—Neither either directly or indirectly.

16,645. Whether money was offered to them by any of your captains is a different matter ?—I do not know anything of it. I never went near them, nor did I authorize anyone to go in my name.

16,646. Now we come to a statement made by Mr. Preston ; to what does that refer ?—Mr. Preston is a son of Mr. Preston of Ellel Grange, and he stated in the " King's Arms " that he would spend 2,000*l.* or 3000*l.* to keep Mr. Lawrence out and put Mr. Fenwick in.

16,647. Was Mr. Preston at all connected with the election ? — He was very active here during the election.

16,648. When do you understand him to have made that statement in the "King's Arms?"—A few days before the election.

16,649. That was, I suppose, merely empty bounce?—No, I do not think it. I would rather you had got Mr. Preston here; he will answer for himself.

16,650. Who heard this?—Mr. Clark, and I think two of the Couplands.

16,651. Which Mr. Clark was it?—Mr. G. C. Clark. Besides Mr. Preston was very active, I think, on the day of the election up at the "White Cross."

16,652. That was one of your own houses?—He got some of our voters I know.

16,653. Then you tell us that a person of the name of Alec Harrison saw Mr. Preston take two voters of the name of Parker from Dolphinholme?—I make that statement to you on a written statement which is amongst my papers which you have.

16,654. A written statement by Alec Harrison?—No, I think not written by Harrison; it was amongst the papers I gave you last night.

16,655. Written by John Cross?—Yes.

16,656. Is there anything material to this inquiry (and I leave it to your judgment, because I am sure you will not encumber our notes with anything immaterial) on the one side or the other that is within your knowledge, and has not been said by you owing to my not having asked you about it?—Allow me to look at those papers for a moment (the papers are handed to the witness). My attention was drawn to a payment which appeared to have been made to Mr. Schneider in the account you referred to on the 1st of July. Mr. Ramsden's name was brought up. Now Mr. Ramsden, if I remember rightly, was the person to whom Mr. Schneider delegated the power to come over here to arrange for his candidature at the first election, and I presume he was actively engaged at the second election.

16,657. Who is Mr. Ramsden?—I think he is the manager for Schneider, Hannay, and Company.

16,658. Is he steward to the Duke of Devonshire?—No, he is the secretary or manager to the railway.

16,659. Which railway?—The Furness railway.

16,660. You say he was the person who managed this first election?—He came over I know, and arranged the first election for Mr. Schneider, and when I saw his name in that account on the 1st of July my attention was immediately drawn to it, and I thought possibly Mr. Ramsden might in some way, though I do not make it as a charge, be mixed up in the present election. I think Mr. Hadwen stated that Mr. Ramsden was connected with that 2,000*l.*

16,661. (Mr. Barstow.) I do not think you are correct; it was with reference to some calls upon the Hœmatite Company?—Then I should like to draw the attention of the Commissioners to the first money which was said to have been taken to Mr. Wright Wearing or to Mr. Welch's shop, 710*l.* 10*s.* That money was said to have been taken there by a person of the name of Wright, from Milner's. Mr. Milner has never been here yet, and I should like the Commissioners to ask Mr. Milner what he has had to do with the money himself, or, if not himself, if any member of his family had anything to do with the money.

16,662. (Mr. Hill.) Upon what ground do you suggest that that will at all be useful to the present inquiry?—Because I have reason to believe that that money came through Mr. Milner's hands, or some other member of his family.

16,663. With regard to anything of that sort I think the best way would be by far, in your case as in others, we being here to inquire into the truth and find out all we can, that you should, if you can suggest any question that has any bearing upon the subject of this election, write to the secretary; those letters would be duly considered by the Commissioners, and if they thought anything depended upon it which was material to the inquiry they would send for such persons as were suggested. It would be quite in order, in an inquiry of this sort, that any such letters should be sent for perusal by the Commissioners?—I got the information, and I thought it my duty to name it.

16,664. You were quite right, but I think it would come much better in the way I suggest. Is there anything else you wish to state as evidence?—No, I think not; I do not see anything else. I may name that I have sent to Liverpool for my books, so that you might see the entries I referred to. I was especially anxious that you should see them, owing to the death of my cashier, so that you might see that the statement I have given to you was in accord with the books.

16,665. When do you expect them over here?—I hope they will be over here to-day. I suppose he will bring the ledger as well as the cash-book, and I will let my book-keeper come and show them to you; he could give you any explanation you wished. If the cashier had been living he could have given you his own explanation as to where and how he got the money. I cannot account, and it has bothered me a good deal, why he should have given credit for 750*l.* and not the other money.

16,666. I must say it puzzled me also considerably. You say that you wrote to Mr. Chambers to send you over 4,000*l.* or 5,000*l.*, knowing that that was the order given to Mr. Chambers; how do you reconcile with that order the fact that he only sent over a much smaller sum?—I do not know. He seems to have sent on the day of the election, according to the statement Mr. Lawrence has given here and the account Mr. Barker gave in, 2,500*l.* on the day of the election, and then Mr. Lawrence gave a cheque for a thousand pounds in the morning.

16,667. Pardon me, that is not what I am upon. You wrote to Mr. Chambers on the Monday night to send over 4,000*l.* or 5,000*l.*, and you left it to his discretion how to send it?—I do not exactly recollect what I wrote, but it is my impression that I wrote for that sum that day.

16,668. How do you explain the fact of his sending over so much less?—I cannot explain it. I know I wrote to him on the Monday, and it appears now that only 2,500*l.* came that day, and the rest was made up of the 1,000*l.* cheque and what I borrowed from Mr. Stirzaker.

16,669. You can give us no other explanation upon that point?—I cannot give you any clearer explanation.

16,670. Why did you order your London firm to pay Mr. Barker instead of sending it yourself from Liverpool?—I do not know; I know I did it.

16,671. We know you did, but why was it?—I do not know; it might have suited me better to give him the money there than in Liverpool.

16,672. (Mr. Barstow.) At the time of the walk over, when you were first consulted about a candidate for Lancaster, you were pretty well acquainted with the political feelings of the borough?—Do you mean when Mr. Saunders stood?

16,673. When Mr. Schneider was returned without opposition?—Yes, I had a pretty good idea of the political feeling of the borough.

16,674. You were aware that a little time before that there had been a contested election?—Yes.

16,675. You were aware also that the Conservative candidate had been defeated by a majority of something over 160?—Yes, but I attribute that to two causes: I attribute it to bad management and bribery.

16,676. You are aware, however, that from whatever cause there was a considerable Liberal majority in the borough?—Yes, but I was equally aware that Mr. Saunders had polled some 50 votes more at the previous election than Mr. Fenwick.

16,677. It is a matter of fact that the Conservative candidate was in a minority?—Yes, but I attribute that to the excessive bribery as compared with Mr. Saunders. Mr. Saunders spent 2,000*l.*, and Mr. Fenwick 4,000*l.*

16,678. You knew, then, at that time that money was a very strong motive power in winning a Lancaster election?—Yes, I did.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

14 Sept. 1866.

16,679. And I suppose that you in consequence looked out for a candidate who had some money at command?—No, I did not look at Mr. Lawrence in a money light. Mr. Lawrence is a very able man.

16,680. Mr. Lawrence at that time was, and is now, a very considerable merchant in Liverpool?—Yes, he is.

16,681. I think you were about to say what you thought his qualifications were?—Yes; I consider Mr. Lawrence one of the most able men—if not the most able man—we have in Liverpool.

16,682. In what way has he shown his ability?—He has shown his ability on every subject he has taken up.

16,683. Perhaps you will mention what particular subjects?—Any subject; it does not matter what.

16,684. That is a very wide scope?—Yes. I think Mr. Lawrence is eminently a most able man, and if you were to be present on any occasion when Mr. Lawrence was speaking you would see it.

16,685. Amongst other things you say he is a very good speaker?—Yes, he is a very good speaker.

16,686. With a very good address?—Yes; he is very well informed.

16,687. Have you any other qualifications to mention?—I think Mr. Lawrence, as a member of the House of Commons, would have made a mark for himself.

16,688. Is he a good man of business?—Yes, a most excellent man of business.

16,689. I believe he has been mayor of Liverpool?—Yes, he was mayor of Liverpool at that time.

16,690. At the time he came forward?—Yes, in 1865. I had great difficulty in inducing him to stand in consequence of his being mayor at the time.

16,691. (Mr. Barstow.) You have told us that he was unwilling to come forward?—Yes, he was very unwilling.

16,692. I believe at that time he had the reputation of being a very wealthy merchant?—Yes, I believed he was.

16,693. You have told us that you knew money was the great motive power in winning a Lancaster election, and you were acquainted generally with Mr. Schneider?—Yes.

16,694. You were acquainted, I suppose, to some extent with his public antecedents?—Yes.

16,695. And amongst those the circumstance that he had been in Parliament before?—Yes.

16,695*a*. And out of Parliament?—Yes.

16,696. And the reason of it?—Yes, and the reason of it.

16,697. Were you aware that Mr. Schneider was considered to be a man of great wealth?—Yes, I was.

16,698. And from the question I have just asked you I presume you were aware he was not very scrupulous in using it on such occasions?—Well, I thought Mr. Schneider might have been taught a lesson at Norwich.

16,699. That being so, knowing he was a man of wealth, and knowing he had so employed it before, did you not from the very beginning (to use your own phrase) think of fighting him with his own weapons?—I did not think he was a dangerous man to fight.

16,700. That is not the question. There is an old saying, "Fight with silver battalions and you conquer everything." Did you not think the battle would be carried on with silver battalions, or gold rather?—Not till the Monday.

16,701. I mean from the beginning?—No, certainly not. If I had known that, Mr. Lawrence would never have been a candidate.

16,702. Did you not think over these things which I have suggested to you?—No, I did not. I did on the Monday.

16,703. You had, very early in January, when you promised to look out for a candidate for the borough, until the time of the dissolution of Parliament to think over the matter. Did that never occur to you?—No. I remembered Mr. Schneider's antecedents.

16,704. Are we to understand that until Monday you proposed to carry on the election on principles of the most perfect purity?—No, I do not say that—moderate purity.

16,705. Imperfect purity?—Yes.

16,706. There was to be a slight sprinkling of soot upon the snow?—Yes.

16,707. In truth it comes to this, that all you thought was that the election would not cost quite so much money as it ultimately did cost?—I thought it would cost from 2,000*l.* to 3,000*l.*

16,708. Did you think that that sum would be more than enough for a pure election?—Oh, yes; a pure election ought not to have cost more than 1,000*l.*, I should think.

16,709. You, having considered this matter, and come to the conclusion that between 2,000*l.* and 3,000*l.* would be adequate, upon whose consultation and advice did you come to that conclusion?—I came to the conclusion by myself alone.

16,710. You reasoned the thing out with yourself?—I did, after I had seen Mr. Sharp.

16,711. I mean before. You had probably made some mental calculation as to what the expenses would be?—I thought 3,000*l.* ought to do a great deal.

16,712. I mean as to the detail of it?—I thought 1,000*l.* would be taken in the ordinary expenses of the election.

16,713. (Mr. Hill.) What are called legal expenses?—Yes.

16,714. (Mr. Barstow.) And you thought the balance would be——?—Illegal expenses.

16,715. That is to say, when you proposed to carry the Lancaster election on principles of purity you still thought it necessary to spend between 1,000*l.* and 2,000*l.* in illegal expenses?—I did not say on principles of purity. I say that 1,000*l.* would be about the legal expenses here, and anything beyond that would be illegal.

16,716. You proposed to spend between 2,000*l.* and 3,000*l.* in illegal expenses?—Yes.

16,717. You were astonished when your opponent proposed to spend double the amount?—I was astonished when he proposed to spend 10,000*l.* You will get it out by-and-by that he made that statement two or three times. I find I have not told you all that is known in the town.

16,718. We have something more substantial than statements to go upon. Were you present at any time during the election when the question of the division between legal and illegal expenses was considered?—Considered with whom?

16,719. With anyone; Mr. Clark, for instance?—No, not anyone. I take the whole responsibility of that myself. I am entirely responsible for it.

16,720. You first gave the impetus to the expenditure of money?—The captains told me that money would be wanted.

16,721. You were the head that directed it?—Yes. I was director-general, or whatever you like to call me.

16,722. Did you personally give any directions as to what sums should be returned as illegal expenses?—No; I was not present in Lancaster when the accounts were made up.

16,723. Did you give any directions whatever as to the division of expenses?—No, not the slightest.

16,724. Can you tell us who?—I should think Mr. Gibson made it up. In fact I am sure he made it up.

16,725. (Mr. Hill.) You made no division?—No.

16,726. You are sure Mr. Gibson must have made it up?—Yes.

16,727. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your reason for saying Mr. Gibson made that division?—I know Mr. Gibson wrote to me. I remember his writing to tell me that the time was about expiring for the accounts to be sent in to the town clerk.

16,728. Have you that letter?—Yes, I rather think I have.

16,729. I should like to see it?—I shall be happy to send it to you.

16,730. Have you the letter?—Yes, I am sure I have.

16,731. I will not ask you anything upon it until I see the letter itself?—It was reminding me that the time was about expiring for sending in the accounts.

16,732. What is your recollection about it?—That he wanted to send in the accounts to the town clerk.

16,733. (Mr. Newton.) He wanted more money, I suppose?—No, I do not think he asked for money.

16,734. (Mr. Barstow.) You have heard Mr. Lawrence's evidence?—Yes.

16,735. You have heard that he states that he gave you leave to open a credit with his house for the expenses of the election?—Yes.

16,736. Did he put any limit upon it?—No, I do not think he did. I never remember any limit being put upon the credit.

16,737. Then you confirm him in that respect?—Yes; I think that is correct.

16,738. You say you heard the evidence he has given?—Yes.

16,739. Is there anything in it you wish to correct?—No, I do not remember anything at this moment.

16,740. You heard what he said as to the way in which the money was paid?—Yes, and I think that is very likely to be quite true.

16,741. As far as you know it is quite true?—Yes.

16,742. You confirm his recollection?—Yes, I think he is quite correct.

16,743. (Mr. Newton.) Taking your definition of legal and illegal, you must have a third beyond that. You say legal expenses 1,000*l.*, and illegal 2,000*l.*?—Anything is illegal beyond what is right.

16,744. You were prepared to spend 2,000*l.* beyond what was right?—Yes.

16,745. When you come to spend 6,000*l.*, what do you call that?—Illegal.

16,746. No; there must be a third?—You may get very illegal if you like.

16,747. It is the superlative degree?—I do not know. Totnes is, perhaps, worse than Lancaster.

16,748. You altered your amount on Monday?—I will give you a reason why I went to the extreme.

16,749. Up to the Monday you were prepared to do an illegal act, when circumstances came to your knowledge, and you were prepared to go very much further?—Yes.

16,750. Up to Monday did you think you were doing right when you were going to fight Mr. Schneider with his own weapons?—Anything beyond 1,000*l.* I considered illegal.

16,751. You were all along prepared to spend 2,000*l.* beyond the 1,000*l.*?—I knew the election could not be pure. I do not think there has been a pure election here for years.

16,752. All the way along you knew you were going to do an illegal act?—I knew more money would be spent than 1,000*l.*

16,753. You knew you were going to commit an illegal act?—I knew I was going to spend more money than the legal expenses.

16,754. Did you ever converse with Mr. Barker as to these payments of money to his account?—Mr. Barker has frequently shown me the accounts as I have passed through here.

16,755. After all you have heard to-day from Mr. Lawrence and what you have told us, there is no discrepancy that you can find?—No; I am quite satisfied Mr. Barker's account is a correct account.

16,756. What did you do with the cheque that he gave to you?—I thought he had given it to Mr. Barker till I heard his statement.

16,757. What did you do with it?—I was ill on the morning of the election, and if he gave it to me I must have handed it over to Mr. Barker.

16,758. They must have got gold for that at the bank?—Yes, they did, at the Preston Bank.

16,759. Had you made any preparations at the Preston Bank?—No. I tell you I was ill on the morning of the election. I had nothing to do with the Preston Bank. Mr. Barker arranged that.

16,760. Had you made any arrangement with the Preston Bank for gold?—No, none at all.

16,761. You told us yesterday that your cashier was Chambers, and your partner's name was Chambers. Is he any relation?—He was a cousin.

16,762. Was he in Liverpool at the time of the election?—He was.

16,763. Would he have gone through the books. I want to know how it was you never came to see the entry till the death of your cashier?—I saw the entry of 3,000*l.*

16,764. No. I mean the 750*l.*?—I did not see it. I thought the suspense account ought not to have contained so large a sum as 3,000*l.*

16,765. What I am asking about is the item of 750*l.* which you never discovered till the death of your cashier?—No; I saw the entry of 3,018*l.*, and I saw on the opposite side, "Credit to J. T. Lawrence, 750*l.*"

16,766. I want to know why your firm allowed 12 months to go over without looking at the books?—That does not show at all that I did not look over the books.

16,767. You did not know of the entry?—I did not know of the entry of 750*l.*, but that entry of 750*l.* was standing there to the credit of Mr. Lawrence.

16,768. Surely you asked what that item was?—No, I did not.

16,769. You told us that the first time you knew it was upon the death of your cashier?—So it was.

16,770. You gave your clerks permission to come over here?—Yes; I think I must have given them permission.

16,771. You knew for what they were coming?—Yes, I knew why they were coming.

16,772. They were to bring money?—I did not know they were bringing money.

16,773. What did you think they were coming over here for?—To be with the captains.

16,774. To be the cashiers?—Yes.

16,775. You knew that?—Yes.

16,776. In fact, you wrote to that effect?—No; but I knew what they were coming for.

16,777. How many of your clerks came? Is Mr. Nelson one of them?—He is an out-door clerk. He had nothing to do with the money.

16,778. He was not a cashier for the occasion?—No, not at all.

16,779. Then there are Bakewell, Eaves, Wollaston, and Scanlan?—Yes.

16,780. Mr. Nelson had nothing to do with paying money?—No. If he had he would have been here, because I gave the list to your secretary.

16,781. What did he do?—What he says he did was to watch one of the houses and see that the voters were not stolen or taken away. You can have him here if you wish to see him.

16,782. I want to ascertain whether it is worth while sending for him?—I do not think it is. I asked him distinctly last week, and his name has never appeared before.

16,783. Then there is Mr. Maddock?—He is not in my office.

16,784. He came by your direction?—Yes.

16,785. Then there is Mr. Pace?—He is in India now. I got him the situation myself. He is in a very good position.

16,786. Not likely to be back just yet?—No; he has got a large salary there.

16,787. In a bank?—No, with some merchant.

16,788. Who is your private banker in Liverpool?—Mr. Lister, of the Union Bank.

16,789. Do you bank anywhere else?—At the Royal Bank.

16,790. Why should you have hesitated before giving me the name of the two banks at once?—I did not.

16,791. I thought you did?—No, not at all.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Mr. H. T. Wilson.

14 Sept. 1865.

16,792. You keep your private account at the Union Bank?—Yes.

16,793. And at the Royal Bank?—No, the Royal Bank is the firm's bank.

16,794. (Mr. Hill.) Has the firm an account at the Union Bank?—No.

16,795. Has the firm only an account at the Royal Bank?—The firm has an account also at the Union Bank of London.

16,796. Your private account is with the Union Bank in Liverpool?—Yes.

16,797. And only with that?—Yes.

16,798. What is the connexion between the Union Bank of London and the Union Bank in Liverpool?—None at all, I think.

16,799. (Mr. Newton.) You told me just now, as if you disowned the connexion, that Mr. Maddock was not in your office. Where did you find him?—He was in Liverpool, in business there.

16,800. In a good business?—I do not know that it was. I should think not.

16,801. How did you get hold of him?—I sent for him.

16,802. Why?—I thought he might give me some information.

16,803. How do you mean?—He went to Morecambe. I thought Mr. Maddock would have served me faithfully.

16,804. Why did you pitch upon him?—I do not know why. I sent for him because I had no reason to doubt his honesty.

16,805. Do you doubt his honesty now?—That is for you to judge, not for me.

16,806. I ask you the question?—I was not in court, I wish I had been, to hear his evidence.

16,807. (Mr. Hill.) It is sufficient to say that you were not satisfied with his services?—No, I was not.

16,808. (Mr. Newton.) What had he been before?—I heard a ship chandler.

16,809. (Mr. Hill.) What does a commission merchant mean?—It means a man who receives the produce of another man and takes charge of it to dispose of it. He ought rather to have said commission broker, I should have thought.

16,810. I never heard the phrase before?—That is what he meant, no doubt. I have not seen him for some months now.

16,811. Is a commission merchant a well-known trade in Liverpool, or do they call themselves agents and commission brokers?—Brokers is the usual term, I think; but Baring's, you might class them as commission merchants.

16,812. They will buy and sell anything?—Yes, on commission.

16,813. The definition of a commission merchant being a man who receives the produce of another and takes charge of it to dispose of it, Mr. Maddock was a very proper person to send here?—It did not appear so.

R. Stanton.

RICHARD STANTON sworn and examined.

16,814. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Cheapside.

16,815. What are you?—A hosier.

16,816. I suppose you are a Conservative?—Yes.

16,817. What part in this election of 1865 did you take?—I assisted Mr. Storey.

16,818. In what district?—No. 1 district.

16,819. You were a sub-captain under him?—Mr. Storey said so.

16,820. Am I to say so?—I never was called a captain before.

16,821. Then I will not call you one to-day. What were the first monies you received for the purposes of the election?—5*l.*

16,822. When?—June 26th.

16,823. From whom?—From Joseph Storey for William Storey. William Storey sent it by Joseph Storey.

16,824. When was the next?—June 30th, 10*l.* from William Storey; July 3rd, William Storey, 10*l.*; July 5th, William Storey, 8*l.*; July 7th, William Storey, 6*l.*; July 10th, William Storey, 20*l.*; July 11th, William Storey, 20*l.* That is the amount I received up to the election.

16,825. Did you receive any afterwards?—Yes.

16,826. How much?—3*l.* is the next amount I received. That might be in the course of a week afterwards, but I have no date for it.

16,827. From whom did you receive it?—William Storey. Then January the 3rd, 1866, 54*l.*

16,828. From whom?—William Storey. April 5th, 1866, William Storey, 18*l.* That is all I received.

16,829. Making a total of what?—154*l.*

16,830. When was the first payment you made on behalf of the election? Have you made out an account?—Yes (handing the account to the Commissioners).

16,831. On the 26th of June I see you paid 7*l.* 10*s.* to Thomas Capstick?—Yes, in various sums.

16,832. Who is he?—He is one of the workers of No. 1 district.

19,833. What do you call a worker?—A captain.

16,834. On the 30th you paid a man of the name of Greenall 3*l.* What is his christian name?—William Austin Greenall, I think, New Street.

16,835. What was that for?—To spend among voters.

16,836. On the 3rd of July you gave G. Briggs 1*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes, John Gibson Briggs, Church Street.

16,837. On the 5th of July you gave John Chambers 10*s.* On the 7th of July Edward Gardner 1*l.* Who is Chambers?—A butcher, in Church Street.

16,838. What was it for?—To spend amongst the voters.

16,839. And what was the 1*l.* to Gardner for?—The same.

16,840. On the 10th of July you gave 1*l.* to John Harrison?—Yes, of Saint Mary's Place.

16,841. On the 11th to Richard Harrison 1*l.* 12*s* 6*d.* Are those Harrisons brothers?—Yes. I did not give the monies on the dates you call over. The dates have reference only to the cash I received. It was given at sundry times.

16,842. The next item is 1*l.* to Garnett?—Yes, Garnett, joiner, Chapel Street.

16,843. Then 10*s.* to James Bond?—Yes, James Bond, of the "Freehold."

16,844. 5*s.* to Francis Miller; 5*s.* to Reuben Pimm, junior; 15*s.* 3*d.* writing and delivering circulars and books; 14*l.* 2*s.* 4*d.* for refreshments in seven public houses?—Yes.

16,845. Was that paid before or after the election?—Before.

16,846. The names of the seven houses are: the "Mitre," the "Sun," the "Black Bull," the "White Hart," the "White Horse," the "Moulders' Arms," ——?—Yes; it is either the "Moulders' Arms" or the "Plasterers' Arms." It is in Wood Street.

16,847. And the "Three Mariners?"—Yes.

16,848. You paid at those houses 14*l.* 2*s.* 4*d.*—Yes.

16,849. The next item is a bill of 37*l.* 19*s.* 2*d.*?—Those are various bills, and I have the vouchers here.

16,850. What sort of bills?—Public-house bills.

(The vouchers are handed to the Commissioners.)

16,851. Then the next item is, "Messengers at 'Sun Inn,' 15*s.*" Was that the committee room in your district?—Yes, it was.

16,852. "William Storey, 7*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.*?"—That was the balance that I paid Mr. Storey.

16,853. Was this all before the election?—Yes; but the balance was paid in the week after the election.

16,854. What was your next payment?—3*l.*, I think, is the next, which Mr. Storey left at a shop to pay 12 staff-men.

16,855. This is after the election?—Yes.

16,856. Are they voters?—No, non-voters.

16,857. When was that?—It would be in the week after the election.

16,858. Then you paid to John Bannister 45*l.* Do you recollect the date of that?—Here are the vouchers for them.

16,859. What is the date?—January the 3rd.

16,860. Who is Bannister?—The innkeeper of the "Sun."

16,861. And you paid 9*l.* to Mrs. Mallady?—Yes, the same date.

16,862. What did she keep?—She keeps a jerry-shop. I think it is on the Quay.

16,863. She keeps a public-house?—Yes. I see some gin down amongst it; 35 glasses.

16,864. "William Hodgson, 18*l.*?"—Yes, of the "Black Bull."

16,865. What is the sign of Mrs. Mallady's house?—The "Custom House Tavern," I think it is. I was never in the house. It is the only one I did not go to.

16,866. You were not on terms with her?—Oh yes, I was.

16,867. You did not buy any voters?—I did.

16,868. Were these staff-men that were paid voters?—No, they were not. I believe they were in the employment of Mr. William Storey.

16,869. He thought he would give them a day's out, I suppose?—I do not know about that.

16,870. Whom did you bribe?—In the first place we had a "dummy."

16,871. Is your list long?—Yes, it is a longish list.

(Adjourned for a short time.)

16,872. Have you a long list?—Yes; a part was paid by "Dummy." They all came from "Dummy."

16,873. Is it a long list?—Yes, there are 58 of them, I think.

16,874. Just tell us how all this came about; where did it take place?—At the "Sun Inn."

16,875. Did you go there?—I was there all the night.

16,876. While drinking was going on there?—I do not drink myself.

16,877. But there was drinking going on?—Yes, plenty.

16,878. What time did you commence operations?—"Dummy" came about 7 o'clock in the morning; he had been there on the nomination night. Mr. Storey introduced him.

16,879. Do you not know who he was?—I do not know his name. I have asked Mr. Barker since Mr. Storey was up, and he could not tell me; but Mr. Storey says he believes his name is Piercy, or something of that name.

16,880. Have you got the names down?—I have got the names that I know of.

16,881. "Dummy" came at 7?—On the election morning; but he was there on the nomination night.

17,882. Where did he go to?—He came to the "Sun Inn."

16,883. Whereabouts in the "Swan" was he?—In a small room there.

16,884. Upstairs?—Yes.

16,885. Just tell us what he did?—We first of all had an understanding that they were to be sent in with slips of paper with a mark on them.

16,886. Who was to write on the slips of paper?—I was to write on them, after making the bargains with them.

16,887. What were you to write?—The amount they was to receive.

16,888. Did you put their names down on those slips of paper?—I did not; no name.

16,889. You ticked the list off?—I ticked the list off.

16,890. Where were you?—In an adjoining room.

16,891. How did these voters get into the room?—I took them in, the greater part of them.

16,892. Did anybody help you in doing that?—No, I took them all in myself, that was taken in.

16,893. I thought you said just now the greater part?—There was some money sent out. I got the money from "Dummy," and it was sent out and paid by other parties, of which I will give you the names.

16,894. I do not quite understand that; you say that some of them did not come in to see you?—I bargained with some on the nomination day, and there was five that the money was sent to, I believe the night before the election day; the 11th I believe.

16,895. They were paid on the nomination day, were they?—The money was deposited; they were not paid.

16,896. With whom was the money deposited?—With Mr. William Procter, tailor; for five.

16,897. What was he to do with the money?—He was to hold the money; to be the stakeholder until they had voted.

16,898. They were very shifty, I suppose?—They were a little bit dubious.

16,899. Well?—One of them afterwards came back.

16,900. Give us the name of the one that came back; who was he?—Robert Wilson was the one that came back; he came to run off the bargain.

16,901. By "running off" you mean crying off?—To get clear of the bargain that he had made with me.

16,902. You mean to be off the bargain?—Yes, unless I would give them 1*l.* more; so I agreed to it. There was only 35*l.* paid to Procter.

16,903. That is the money that you say was taken out?—That was taken out.

16,904. By you?—No, I never touched the money.

16,905. Who took it out?—I fetched Mr. Procter, and he took the money; that is it to the best of my my recollection.

16,906. Mr. Procter took the money for them from "Dummy?"—From "Dummy," I believe.

16,907. Did you pay the 1*l.* yourself?—The extra 1*l.* was paid on the election day.

16,908. You paid that yourself?—Yes, from "Dummy." If I give you the names as I go on, I can give you the remarks.

16,909. Had "Dummy" got a list?—No, he had not; not then. This was the day before the election. I fetched Procter, and told him what he was to get from "Dummy," and told "Dummy" what he was to give him.

16,910. This was the evening before the election?—Yes, the nomination day.

16,911. Now give us the names?—743 is the first I have got down.

16,912. What is his name?—James Sharples.

16,913. How much?—6*l.* No. 227, Thomas Dobson, 10*l.* No. 647, John Parkinson, 5*l.* No. 825, Thomas Taylor. That was paid to him by one Thomas Capstick, and I have something else to say about that; shall I give you the explanation now?

16,914. What is Thomas Capstick?—A joiner.

16,915. How much to this man?—The amount of money Thomas Taylor received was 10*l.* During the election this man, Taylor, came back with his wife, and stated that he had been to vote, but when he got there some one had voted for him, and he wished to know what he was to do. I told him his best plan was to return the money, and I would get a policeman to look after it; and he did return the money.

16,916. To you?—To me.

16,917. Did you hand it back to "Dummy?"—No, I paid William Storey.

16,918. (Mr. Hill.) Then Thomas Taylor did not get any money at all?—Yes, I sent 10*s.* in the course of a few days afterwards.

16,919. But he did not get the 10*l.*?—No, he got 10*s.* He brought the money back again, and Mr. Capstick gave him 10*s.*

SIXTEENTH DAY.

R. Stanton.

14 Sept. 1866.

16,920. Now give us the next?—No. 593, Francis Miller, 10*l.*

16,921. What is Miller?—A cabinet-maker.

16,922. Have you got what they are?—Yes.

16,923. Just read them out?—He is a cabinet-maker in Moor Road, 10*l.* No. 660, Reuben Pymm, junior, stonemason, Damside Street, 12*l.* No. 235, John Taylor Dunderdale, painter, Moor Road, 7*l.* 10*s.* No. 1,384, Jonathan Wolfendale, butcher, Moor Lane.

16,924. He is a householder?—Yes.

16,925. How much?—10*l.* Now this one, Wolfendale, I have not in the original paper; but James Bond, who the money was paid to, told me since that he paid him the money, but I have not got him down.

16,926. Was Bond in the room at the time?—Bond took him the money; "Cash paid to James Bond;" he took the money.

16,927. Was Bond in the room at the time?—He fetched the money from the "Sun." I should get the money from "Dummy" to give him. No. 384, John Harrison, farm servant, Middleton, 10*l.*; No. 333, William Gregson, tin-plate worker, Pothouses, 12*l.*; No. 335, James Gregson, painter, Pothouses, 12*l.*; No. 174, John Collinson, plumber, Quay, 12*l.*; No. 871, Thomas Varley, painter, Lime Street, 10*l.*; No. 648, Richard Parkinson, painter, Quay, 9*l.*; No. 784, Joseph Sowerby, butcher, Union Square, 10*l.*; No. 224, John Dobson, cabinet-maker, Damside Street, 10*l.*, paid by Thomas Capstick; No. 432, Edward Clark Hornby, joiner, St. Mary's Place, 10*l.*; No. 372, John Hadwen Harrison, joiner, St. Mary's Place, 10*l.*; No. 966, William Woodburn, warehouseman, China Lane, 6*l.*; that man I paid the money to and voted him.

16,928. Why did you make a distinction between him and the others?—There was only two that I took to the poll; this man was one, and the other will come afterwards. No. 868, Edward Townson, whitesmith, Damside Street, 10*l.*; No. 930, Edward Williams, painter, Quay, 6*l.*; No. 641, Robert Parker, horse breaker, Brewery Lane, 10*l.*; No. 967, William Woodhouse, labourer, Quay, 10*l.*; No. 695, William Rennison, painter, Bridge Lane, 10*l.*; Thomas Rennison, No. 694, shoemaker, 10*l.* I believe that with regard to those two the money was given into the hands of William Bond, of the "Three Mariners," at the "Sun;" he was responsible, but they got the money. No. 527, Richard Lamb, cotton spinner, Upper Robert Street, 10*l.*; No. 685, Thomas Ralph, painter, New Road, 10*l.*; No. 1,272, Thomas Phizackerley, Damside Street, 10*l.*; he is since dead; No. 197, George Crosskell, yeoman, 9*l.*; No. 683, John Ralph, painter, Quay, 10*l.*; No. 682, Robert Ralph, painter, New Road, 10*l.*; No. 936, Willock, joiner, Lodge Street, 13*l.*, paid by Thomas Capstick; No. 395, Henry Hartley, plasterer, Castle Hill, 12*l.*; No. 1,077, Edward Coleman, Leonard Gate, 10*l.*

16,929. Is he a householder?—I believe so. No. 587, William Mecoid, block maker, Lime Street, 3*l.*; No. 48, James Barber, tailor, Bridge Lane, 8*l.*; No. 359, Daniel Hardy, tailor, Bridge Lane, 8*l.*; No. 50, John Barber, labourer, Edward Street; No. 49, Richard Barber, shoemaker, Bridge Lane, 8*l.*

16,930. Did you take those to the poll?—No, I only took two. I will tell you when I come to the second. I "operated" upon the greater part of them.

16,931. (Mr. Hill.) You operated on the Barbers?—Yes, I did. Then No. 944, Robert Wilson, spinner, Bridge Lane, 8*l.*; those are the five that the 35*l.* was paid for to Mr. Proctor, or rather he was the stakeholder; but they each received 8*l.* I agreed with those for 7*l.* each.

16,932. There was one man you paid 1*l.* to?—No, 1*l.* each.

16,933. You agreed with them at 7*l.*, but paid them at 8*l.*?—Yes, but 35*l.* was given into the hands of the stakeholder the night previous. Robert Wilson is a man that came back to make a fresh bargain. No. 789, William Standen, carrier, Church Street, 7*l.*; No. 297, William Gardner, joiner, 10*l.*; No. 77, Robert Beeley, brush maker, Church Street, 6*l.*; No. 43, John Ball, boatman, Henry Street, 6*l.*; No. 201, William Cubin, whitesmith, Bridge Lane, 5*l.*; No. 256, William Ellwood, shoemaker, Quay, 6*l.* 10*s.*; No. 583, Moses Mawson, farmer, Union Street, 10*l.*; that was the second one I took to vote. I only took two; he is since dead. The next is what Mr. Storey gave you; it is No. 1,287, George Cleminson Riley, 14*l.*, he voted against us; he got 14*l.*; the money came from "Dummy." No. 302, John Garnett, Church Street, 3*l.*; No. 287, John Gardner, cotton spinner, George Street, 10*l.*; No. 728, Charles Row, farmer, Highfield, 5*l.*; No. 546, John Leighton, ex-policeman, Damside Street, 5*l.*; No. 440, Robert Howson, joiner, Springfield, 5*l.*, paid by Thomas Capstick; No. 731, Benjamin Sandham, painter, Anchor Lane, 10*l.*; No. 300, Richard Gardner, labourer, Union Street, 10*l.*; No. 805, David Sykes, cooper, Great John Street, 8*l.*, the money was got from "Dummy;" he voted, but he did not come to the "Sun" for it; the bargain had been made with him the day previous; the money was got from "Dummy," and afterwards was returned to William Storey; the man got the money from another room; the money was got from "Dummy," but it was returned to William Storey.

16,934. (Mr. Hill.) Who had bribed Sykes, then?—I believe it was in Coupland's district. I think I saw it in the list. After the election was over, a little after 4, I got 10*l.* from "Dummy" for Thomas Capstick, for services.

16,935. The man who had helped you?—Yes, No. 1,057.

16,936. Including services?—Yes.

16,937. (Mr. Newton.) What time was it over?—A little after 4.

16,938. Then "Dummy" had had a very good hand altogether?—Yes.

16,939. And he played out his cards well?—Very well indeed, and the men seemed very well satisfied too.

16,940. (Mr. Hill.) Do you make that list come to 487*l.*?—No, 515*l.*, I think; there were two men you crossed off, I think.

16,941. Yes, 18*l.*; Sykes and Taylor; that leaves 487*l.*?—Yes.

16,942. (Mr. Newton.) This went on from 7 o'clock in the morning till 4 o'clock in the afternoon?—"Dummy" came somewhere about 7.

16,943. Had "Dummy" any more money?—I added them up after it was over, and we did not agree. "Dummy" had paid more than I had got down.

16,944. You have told us his name was Piercy?—I thought his name was Piercy. I understood Mr. Storey to say so.

16,945. His name was Pace?—I never ascertained his name.

16,946. This that you have told us is the transaction that took place?—This is all I know of, but I should be out three-quarters of an hour with Moses Mawson.

16,947. Do you suppose "Dummy" paid away any money then?—I cannot say.

16,948. What was the end of your dispute about the money?—I think, to the best of my recollection, he was something like 12*l.* more than I had got down on the list; 20*l.* I think it was.

16,949. What did he do about it?—I do not know.

16,950. Did you square accounts at last?—No; he went away. I never saw the man afterwards. I was not to keep any account at all. I kept it for my own curiosity.

16,951. You say it was 12*l.*?—No, 20*l.*, to the best of my recollection, was the deficiency.

16,952. Who bargained with these men?—I bargained with the greater part of them myself. I did not know many of the men. They were brought up by the captains, and I took them into the billiard-room one by one and made the best bargain with them I could.

16,953. In what line of life were they; were they artizans?—Yes; there is one a farmer amongst them.

16,954. And the others were men who were artizans, or men of the working class?—Yes, something of that sort.

16,955. Except the householders?—No, there was one named Phizackerley, who kept a shop at that time; he is a householder, and I think Colman is a householder as well.

16,956. Do they all look upon it as their right to get money for their votes?—Yes, it is quite an understood thing; there is no hiring or haffing about it, but it is a fair bargain, the same as going to market to buy a horse or a cow; they got as much as they could, and I got them as cheap as I could. Many of them said they could get more on the other side, but that they always say; they will always get as much as they can.

16,957. Have you been engaged in any other elections except this one?—No; I was but little more than looking on.

16,958. You did not go into the market, then?—I did not; the most that ever I did was to get some gold once before in change for notes.

16,959. Do you know whether any of these men had been staff-men?—No, not staff-men.

16,960. I mean by staff-men the men that Mr. Danson told us of the other day?—No, none of those.

16,961. Had they been committee men?—There were committees called every night, as far as that went, and circulars were sent out.

16,962. Had these men been getting their 5s. a sitting?—No, there were only committee meetings called at different public-houses where there was drink.

16,963. Would they get paid for attending those public-houses?—No, they only got the drink.

16,964. You finished at 4 o'clock, you say?—Yes, except paying the bills that were connected with the election.

16,965. The bills at these seven public-houses?—No, the bills for those seven public-houses were bills for the time the election was going on, before the 12th.

16,966. Had you given breakfasts to all these men?—No, there was a breakfast or something of the kind at the "White Horse."

16,967. But not at the "Sun?"—No; there might be one or two that had it, but that would be all.

16,968. Did you get paid for your services in any way?—Not a penny, neither directly or indirectly.

16,969. (Mr. Barstow.) One man, Taylor, was personated, you say?—He came back and said somebody had voted for him.

16,970, Did you ever make any inquiry about that?—Not after he got the money I did not. I had written in my poll book "query" to his name, whether he was the right man or not was the question; but those that brought him up to be operated upon said he was the man, and he got his money before he went to poll.

16,971. Do you know that the vote was given in Taylor's name?—I do not; indeed I did not inquire.

16,972. What booth was he going to poll at?—I cannot say that.

16,973. Did you hear of any other cases of personation?—No, I did not. I can tell you now which Taylor it was.

16,974. What was his number?—No. 825, Thomas Taylor, Bolton-le-Sands, labourer, and opposite to it I have written "Meeson Street, query."

16,975. The person who personated him voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—I am sure I cannot say that.

16,976. Did this Mr. Pace tell you what money he had had?—To the best of my recollection he said after the election was over that he had about 540*l.* or 550*l.*, as near as I can tell.

16,977. Left?—No, to commence with.

16,978. Did he send for any more in the course of the day?—I do not remember that he did.

16,979. Did he appear to have money at the end?—No, I do not think he had much.

16,980. (Mr. Hill.) I saw you put a lot of accounts into your pocket; have they anything to do with this election?—Yes.

16,981. Just let me look at them. (A small book and some papers are handed by the witness to Mr. Hill.)

16,982. Are these the accounts from which you made this account up?—Yes.

16,983. And this was the book you kept at the time?—That is the book.

16,984. And these are the accounts that you made up first of all from it?—Yes.

16,985. You said that committees were called; what is the meaning of calling a committee? who calls the committee?—We sent circulars out to say a committee meeting would be held at such a public-house.

16,986. Who sent them out?—I did, in Mr. Storey's name.

16,987. Were they written?—No, printed; to say that a committee meeting would be held at the "Sun Inn," at 8 o'clock, and then these men came up, and the thing was discussed.

16,988. What was discussed?—The election.

16,989. The price of votes?—No, not a word about that.

16,990. What was said?—It was discussed who we could get to vote for Mr. Lawrence, and who was to look after such a man; the great object was to get the men together, and to give them drink.

16,991. And to keep them together?—Yes.

16,992. Were you the chairman?—No, Mr. Storey was the chairman.

16,993. This took place most nights?—I daresay it took place most nights; we first went to one place and then to another, and left the men drinking there.

16,994. How many men did you get to meet at the "Sun?"—They were at various public-houses.

16,995. You sent out every night a circular for them to attend at different public-houses?—Yes, or every other night, and Mr. Storey and I went to the different public-houses.

William Talbot Rothwell sworn and examined.

W. T. Rothwell

16,996. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A gentleman, residing in the neighbourhood.

16,997. Where?—At Foxholes.

16,998. You have no occupation?—No, none.

16,999. Are you a Conservative?—Yes, I am.

17,000. Were you engaged in the last election?—No, I was not at all engaged in it.

17,001. You did not employ yourself at all in it?—I called upon some of the freemen, and asked them for their votes for the Conservative candidate.

17,002. You were engaged in canvassing?—I did call upon some of the voters.

17,003. You busied yourself in canvassing?—Yes, I did, in some measure.

17,004. How many voters do you suppose you canvassed?—30 or 40, I daresay.

17,005. In which district?—All in my own neighbourhood.

17,006. Whereabouts is that?—In the township of Ellel.

17,007. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of the last election?—Not any.

17,008. Did you pay any monies?—Not any.

17,009. Did you pay none out of your own pocket?—I have no doubt that I paid men money to get something to drink when I met them at Galgate; probably I did, but out of my own pocket.

17,010. Do you know two persons of the name of Whiteside?—I do.

17,011. Are they voters on the register?—I believe they are; they are voters.

17,012. Did you canvass them for the purpose of the election?—I did.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

W. T. Rothwell.

14 Sept. 1866.

17,013. Where did you fall in with them?—At their own houses.

17,014. Do you know a public-house called the "Bay Horse?"—I do.

17,015. Did you see the Whitesides at the "White Horse?"—I did see them there.

17,016. In what room did you see them?—I fancy it was in a front room.

17,017. Were they upstairs?—No, they were not.

17,018. Had you got those two men bottled there?—Never.

17,019. Were they there with their own consent?—I know nothing about that.

17,020. Were you not their gaoler?—Never.

17,021. I am sure you would have been a strict gaoler if you had been?—I would have done my duty I hope if I had been required to do it.

17,022. If you had been told to keep them in prison you would have done it?—I would.

17,023. Were you ever told to do so?—I was not.

17,024. Is it true what Mr. Welch says?—It is not true.

17,025. You have not yet heard the question I am going to put to you. Mr. Welch said, "These young "men (the Whitesides) had been locked up in that "room by Mr. Rothwell, of Foxholes, and by Mr. "Robert Lawson, and imprisoned there two or three "days, from Monday to the election day. We wished "to deliver their voting papers to them, but could "not get to them; they were locked up in the 'Bay "Horse.'" Did you see those persons locked up there?—They were not locked up there at all that I know of.

17,026. Were they under your influence?—No; I understood on the evening previous to the election that they had come there that afternoon.

17,027. Did you see them there?—I did. I saw them outside the door.

17,028. Not in the house?—Not on that occasion.

17,029. Did you give any instructions that they were to be kept safe there?—Never.

17,030. Which way did they vote?—They voted for Mr. Lawrence I believe.

17,031. Do you know of any endeavour having been made to get them over to the other side?—I do not know that there was.

17,032. Did they try to steal them?—I daresay they would if they could; but I do not think it would be possible to steal one under any circumstances.

17,033–4. Did you watch over them in order that they should not be stolen?—I did not.

17,035. Neither by duress nor by inducement did you keep them there?—I did not under any circumstances. I was ignorant that they were there.

17,036. Were you rather surprised to see such a statement in Mr. Wearing's evidence?—I was very much surprised.

17,037. Then it is not true?—It is not true.

17,038. Is there any other evidence with regard to which you wish to make any other remark; Mr. Bradshaw tells us that you were an active Conservative captain?—It is not true; I was no captain.

17,039. You were an active Conservative?—An active one, if you think proper to say so.

17,040. But you were active in no other way than by using argument?—Yes, and trying to persuade them to vote.

17,041. Did you use the usual Lancaster persuasion, the Lancaster logic?—I am not aware of any particular logic in Lancaster.

17,042. The golden logic?—Not at all.

17,043. Your only inducement was argument?—They were mostly Conservatives that I called on, and I had not a doubt which way they would vote before I called. I merely called because I felt it my duty.

17,044. And you kept them together?—No, I relied on their word, which I would do at the present hour.

17,045. And you did not spend or pay money at the last election?—No, except at Galgate. When I went to a public-house, and found them there, I paid for glasses of beer or brandy, or whatever they had a mind to drink.

17,046. Had you anything to do with one Towers?—I asked Towers if he would vote for Mr. Lawrence.

17,047. Which way did Towers vote?—I believe he voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

17,048. Do you recollect his christian name?—I do not.

17,049. What is the description of him, Holleth, labourer?—I daresay that would be him. He does not live in Holleth, though.

17,050. Do you think that is he?—That would be the man.

17,051. Had you anything to do with the money that was paid for his vote?—I am not aware that he got any.

17,052. You recollect that William Welch said something about John Towers, that he would vote for 10*l.*?—I believe he was taken away rather by force than argument, and probably with the persuasion that he was to get this 10*l.* I do not know whether he ever got it or not.

17,053. He got it at the "Bear and Staff" we are told?—That I do not know.

17,054. You did not sweeten the vote?—No, nor put any sour upon it either.

17,055. Who do you say took Towers away?—I do not know, but I believe Mr. William Welch.

17,056. (Mr. Newton.) By force?—More by force than anything else, because he was working in a field I understood.

17,057. (Mr. Hill.) How do you mean by force?—They got hold of him and said, "Come along."

17,058. That you call force?—It is more force than persuasion.

17,059. It was rather the final cause than the acting cause, was it not?—Yes, the golden force had great influence no doubt.

John Speight.

JOHN SPEIGHT sworn and examined.

17,060. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A rope and twine manufacturer.

17,061. And where do you manufacture rope and twine?—In Lancaster.

17,062. Whereabouts?—I live in Common Garden Street, and my twine walks are in King Street or Cawthorn Street.

17,063. You were very active for Mr. Lawrence in the last election?—I did a little.

17,064. You assisted Mr. Clark?—Yes.

17,065. First of all I will ask you what money you received for the purposes of the election?—I have put nothing down. About 25*l.* 10*s.*, I think; that was previous to the election.

17,066. You are speaking quite from memory?—Yes, I am. I have only the names of some men that I had for staff-men previous to the election and on the election day.

17,067. From whom did you receive that money?—Mr. Clark.

17,068. Mr. G. C. Clark?—Yes.

17,069. And where did you receive it?—Sometimes at his own office, and once at my own shop, at two or three different times. As near as I can tell it was about the 1st of July that I got the first money. 1*l.*, I think, was the first I received, and then 10*s.* It was either the 1st or the 3rd, I am not certain which; and then 5*l.*

17,070. At what time did you receive the 5*l.*?—It would be about the 9th or 10th. The 8th or 9th or 10th, I think, and then another 5*l.*

17,071. When was the second 5*l.*?—The day after I think, and then 2*l.* I think; and then there is 12*l.*, I think, that Mr. Clark has not given an account of; that I got on the day of the election, immediately after the poll was over.

17,072. Is that all the money you received?—That is before the election.

17,073. Now tell us what you received at the election?—And then Mr. Clark asked me what I should require for my services; if 10*l.* would do for me; and he gave me 10*l.*

17,074. Did you receive any other money after the election?—No.

17,075. 35*l.* 10*s.* in all?—Yes.

17,076. How did you spend this money?—The first was they said that the Warton district was neglected, and so I went over there, and spent 3*l.* among the voters there at the "White Lion" and the "Horse and Farrier." Then 2*l.* I spent on the Sunday morning (I think that would be the 9th) in following and fetching back two bottled voters on their way to Barrow, who had been sent off by two town council men. They said they were taking them to Mr. Schneider's. They was sent off by two town council men, Henry Welch and Wright Wearing, about 2 o'clock on the Sunday morning, and they was accompanied by three professional boxers to take care of them.

17,077. Did you rescue them from these three professional boxers and two town councillors?—Yes. They was taken in a carriage to Silverdale, and I followed them on foot there. They was taken, about 2 o'clock, out of the "White Lion" on the Sunday morning, and I followed them.

17,078. Tell us your own adventures?—I suspected as there was bottling going on, and I saw several parties taking drunken men into the house in the afternoon. One of them was a watchmaker of the name of Jackson. I saw him taken there by one Stephenson.

17,079. Was he one of the men?—He was one of the men that was bottled.

17,080. Give us the names of the two men who were bottled?—Stephenson and John Metcalfe. No, John Metcalfe; and I do not know what is his first name. Jackson and Metcalfs was the two names.

17,081. Where did you get scent of them?—I was coming up Penny Street, and there was Wearing and Welch standing there, and we had some words.

17,082. Were the voters then with Wearing and Welch?—No; they were standing just behind. There was a carriage came out of the "White Lion," and I suspected that there was a bottled voter in it that they had taken from our party, and I followed them.

17,083. Was that bottled voter either Jackson or Metcalfe?—No, he was another. He was a man that was taken away by John Bleasdale to the deep cutting bridge was this man, and then he was taken away by one Birch.

17,084. Confine yourself first of all to these two men, Jackson and Metcalfe; tell us what you did, and do not be very long about it?—I followed them to Silverdale.

17,085. We have got Welch and Wearing standing on the pavement, and the two men standing below them?—I did not see the two men.

17,086. You saw Welch and Wearing, but you did not see the two men?—No.

17,087. What happened next, when you saw Welch and Wearing and the two men standing below?—I left them standing there, and came up Penny Street, and when I got to Common Garden Street I heard the carriage going there, and we followed it down the street, and I inquired of two men that was coming up the street who was in it, and they said they thought there was some drunken voters in it, and we followed them all the way to Silverdale.

17,088. The carriage drove on, and then you followed the carriage?—Yes.

17,089. On foot?—Yes.

17,090. How far is Silverdale?—About 14 miles I fancy.

17,091. Did you get hold of the carriage behind, and run behind it?—No. The first correct information we got was at the toll-gate; we heard that the carriage had gone through, and we followed the track of the carriage till we got to Silverdale, and met the carriage coming back again.

17,092. With the voters in it?—No, the empty carriage; and so when we got nearly to Silverdale we heard the voters, and we went up to them.

17,093. Who is "we?"—My son and me.

17,094. And who were with the voters?—There was George Booth and David Wright, and a man of the name of Dent.

17,095. And you brought these men back again, did you?—I went to them, and asked them where they were going to, and the voters told me they were going to take them to Barrow, and I told them they were going to miss a treat if they went there, that they would miss a good deal of money; so I left my son there, and came back by train, and got a carriage at the "King's Arms," and brought them back again.

17,096. And for that you charged 2*l.*?—Yes.

17,097. What expenses did you incur in bringing them back?—There was my railway fare, and I had a man or two to take with me.

17,098. How many pounds was your railway fare?—That is not so much, it cost me 2*l.* altogether.

17,099. Remember you are on your oath; do you mean to tell us that walking to Silverdale and coming back cost you 2*l.*?—Yes.

17,100. Then go on with the rest of your story; what is the next?—The next was 3*l.* 10*s.* for three committee men.

17,101. How came you to pay three committee men 3*l.* 10*s.*?—Because they could not get their money on Saturday night; they said that Danson, I think it was, run short; one of them was named Edmondson, and the other name was Burrow, and Pimm I think; they was men that was under Mr. Clark.

17,102. What did you pay them 3*l.* 10*s.* for?—They was put on the staff, and they had so much a week; they was paid so much a week, 5*s.* a day or something, and they was run out of money.

17,103. Who told you they were run out of money?—The two men themselves; and they said they was going over to the other side, there was more trouble about them.

17,104. Do you upon your oath say that you paid those men 3*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

17,105. What is the next item?—1*l.* I paid to a man named Eyton for assisting me.

17,106. For assisting you in paying the committee men?—No, for assisting me for a week during the election.

17,107. Is he a voter?—No.

17,108. Did he accompany you to Silverdale?—No.

17,109. What next?—There was about 2*l.* 10*s.* that I spent in treating voters, and I gave sixpences and shillings to a good many.

17,110. What next?—I think that will be nearly all; there was 13*l.* that I paid the committee men; I had 24 staff-men at the "Travellers' Rest."

17,111. (Mr. Newton.) Did Mr. Clark pay you 2*l.* on the 24th of June?—He did pay me 2*l.*; I think I named that; the first was 1*l.*, then 10*s.* and two fives, and a 2*l.*

17,112. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you get 10*l.* to pay the "White Cross" committee room with?—No, I do not remember it; this is not in addition, only the 12*l.* that Mr. Clark has given.

17,113. (Mr. Newton.) Did he pay you 6*l.* on July the 1st for canvassing?—No.

17,114. He never did?—No.

17,115. There is another Speight, is there?—Yes; there is my son that paid some bills for Mr. Clark.

17,116. Did you do anything at the "Spinners' Arms?"—I was there once or twice, but I had nothing to do with it any further than that.

17,117. Is that which you have told us of all the money that you spent?—Yes.

17,118. You have not accounted for it all yet; can you think of no more that you spent? There is 10*l.* more to account for?—The first was 3*l.*, that I paid at Warton.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

John Speight.

14 Sept. 1866.

17,119. You have accounted to us for 25*l.*; there was 3*l.* spent at Warton; the journey to Silverdale 2*l.*?—Yes.

17,120. Then three committee men 3*l.* 10*s.*; then Eyton 1*l.*, and treating voters 2*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

17,121. That is 22*l.* 10*s.* I suppose we may say that the 2*l.* 10*s.* you cannot account for?—No; there is the 2*l.* 10*s.* that I expended in treating voters.

17,122. But you have accounted for that; in fact it has almost all gone in treating voters, and you got 10*l.* for yourself for your skill in spending all this money in treating voters?—Yes, but I had a good deal of trouble.

17,123. (Mr. Hill.) Had you anything to do with paying the staff-men at the "Travellers' Rest?"—Yes.

17,124. Your son gave you the money?—No, I got the money from Mr. Clark.

17,125. How much was that?—It was 12*l.*; it is the only account that I have is that, a book with that in.

17,126. (Mr. Barstow.) Is that the money you have just accounted for?—This is the staff-men; I got 12*l.*, but they cost me 13*l.* Here is the book.

(The book is handed to the Commissioners.)

17,127. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A twine spinner. There was four of them that was not satisfied with the 10*s.* each, and I advanced 5*s.*; four fives out of that, and you will see that it has been struck down. That is what I advanced out of the other money that I received, that is 1*l.*

17,128. Is that the case with all of them, that you paid them 4*s.* 6*d.* and charged 5*s.*?—10*s.*; and they were not satisfied, they said they had done more work than the others, and I had to give them 5*s.* more.

17,129. You paid 24 staff-men at the "Travellers' Rest;" how much did you pay them?—20 of them 10*s.* each.

17,130. Where did you get the money from?—Mr. Clark.

17,131. You have not given us that in the money you received from Mr. Clark?—I said there was 12*l.*

Mr. H. Hadwen

Mr. Henry Hadwen recalled and further examined.

17,132. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you got the book here with your gold balances?—Yes.

17,133. (Mr. Hill.) Have you also got extracts from that book?—Yes.

17,134. (Mr. Barstow.) Was there any unusual preparation made by your bank against this last election?—I should say not, although probably in anticipation of more being required than usual we should keep a larger stock of gold than we otherwise should do.

17,135. In point of fact you did keep a larger stock of gold than you generally do?—I cannot speak to it as a fact, but I think we should do.

17,136. Have you looked through the figures?—Yes.

17,137. Then you can tell from that?—It does not appear to be larger than usual.

17,138. Did you get any gold from Liverpool?—We did.

17,139. How much was that?—We got 5,000*l.* for Lancaster.

17,140. Was that from the Union Bank?—It was.

17,141. In sovereigns?—Yes.

17,142. Was this money that you got from the Union Bank extra and beyond your usual stock of gold?—It was for the legitimate requirements of our business.

17,143. You answer my question by inference, perhaps, but you do not answer it. Was that 5,000*l.* beyond the usual stock which you have in your bank?—No. I can satisfy the Commissioners for what purpose it was wanted.

17,144. The Union Bank, I presume, are your correspondents in Liverpool?—They are one of our correspondents in Liverpool.

17,145. You told us whatever you had in your bank before, plus this 5,000*l.*, you had not a larger stock of gold than usual?—I do not think it was larger than the average amount, but we always keep more than we are likely to require. (The bank book, showing the gold balance, is handed to the Commissioners.)

17,146. Just tell me, if you please (which you can do from the paper you have in your hand), what your stock of gold was on the 10th of July?—It was 4,000*l.* at Lancaster.

17,147. What was your stock of gold on the 10th of May?—That will be in the book. I have not got the extract for that.

17,148. (Mr. Barstow.) I will just ask you what is your average stock of gold?—I cannot tell what the average is, our requirements are so uncertain from the different branches.

17,149. Perhaps it will be better, if we find it necessary to have any examination upon this point, to do it privately?—If the Commissioners will allow me I will explain that transaction of 5,000*l.* In a letter from our Ulverstone branch, dated 4th of July, our agents say, "We shall require some gold and silver by the end of the week."

17,150. Have you that letter here?—Yes (handing it to the Commissioners).

17,151. Will you be so good as to explain why they wanted gold and silver?—They are continually requiring it for the purpose of wages, which are paid in large amounts.

17,152. Was that an unusually large sum for them to require?—I think it was rather larger than the average.

17,153. Did you remit to them the whole 5,000 sovereigns?—We remitted 6,000*l.* in gold and 1,000*l.* in silver.

17,154. What was the date on which you remitted that money?—On the 6th of July. There is an entry there of 7,000*l.*, gold and silver, to the credit of the head office, under the date of the 7th of July.

17,155. I presume, from what you have already told us, a request for additional gold and silver would not be an uncommon thing from the Ulverstone branch?—No, it would not.

17,156. Was this amount the largest you have ever at one time sent for?—I cannot speak from recollection.

17,157. You have answered already to us that you thought it was rather larger than usual?—Rather larger than the average.

17,158. You do not know whether it is the largest amount you ever sent them?—I do not know. I should not think it would be the largest amount we ever sent them.

17,159. What amount do you usually send on such a request?—Sometimes they specify the amount, and at other times they do not.

17,160. This was not specified?—No, not in that case. We should probably look at the stock they had on hand.

17,161. What stock on hand had the Ulverstone branch at that time?—I think, on the 4th of July, it will be found that they had on hand only 1,500*l.* in gold.

17,162. If you have the least objection to answering these questions publicly, pray say so?—I think there can be no objection.

17,163. I should think not so far as it has gone at present, but if there is any objection stop us directly. Can you tell me what at that time would be the usual stock of gold for your Ulverstone branch to hold?—If the wages were about payable a few days after they had received the gold I do not think that would be more than they should have, including what we sent them. The wages are paid, I believe, fortnightly.

17,164. Will you tell us about what sum is paid fortnightly?—I do not know.

17,165. You must be able to form some judgment, you so frequently remit money to them?—I could not speak positively as to the amount at all.

17,166. I do not expect that you could, with what you call accuracy, but within some hundreds?—It may be 3,000*l.* or 4,000*l.* I cannot tell possibly.

17,167. You cannot give it to us nearer than that?—No, I cannot.

17,168. Do you answer me, generally, that this remittance, though something larger than usual, is not an unusual remittance?—Under the circumstances, not an unusual remittance.

17,169. You know that "under the circumstances" is capable of a double meaning under these circumstances?—Just so.

17,170. I ask you whether it would be ordinary?—What I meant by "under the circumstances" was, that the amount they held was small, and we consider it important that they should be well provided.

17,171. I forget whether I asked you what the average stock of gold at this branch bank was?—When it is not required for wages I should think they ought to have between 2,000*l.* and 3,000*l.* in hand. Perhaps I may be allowed to put this letter in, which shows that on the 3rd of August, some time subsequent to the date of that letter, there was a stock of 10,000*l.* on hand, showing that the 6,000*l.* or 7,000*l.* which they had in hand on the 7th of July was by no means the largest sum they were accustomed to hold.

17,172. The stock of bullion at the Ulverstone branch was over 12,000*l.*?—Yes, in gold and specie.

17,173. Was there any special occasion for having so large a stock of specie at this time?—I presume it would be in preparation for wages in some way.

17,174. Have you made every explanation that you wish to make on this matter?—With regard to Mr. Wilson's evidence, I should like to say that 5,000*l.* was fetched by our Preston branch from the Union Bank of Liverpool.

17,175. (Mr. Hill.) Of the 10,000*l.* mentioned by Mr. Wilson, 5,000*l.* was for your Preston branch?—Yes.

17,176. (Mr. Barstow.) It is a fact that at about the time of the last election you did require for your different branches a sum of 10,000*l.* in sovereigns?—It appears so.

17,177. Perhaps you would wish to make some explanation as to why that 5,000*l.* was required for the Preston branch?—In the ordinary course of trade.

17,178. Was that an exceptionally large sum for Preston?—They have fetched as much from Liverpool.

17,179. That is no answer to my question. Was it an exceptionally large sum for Preston?—No; not exceptionally large.

17,180. (Mr. Hill.) With regard to that 5,000*l.* that came to your bank from Liverpool; can you tell me how long that money remained in the bank after it was brought there, the absolute sovereigns?—I believe it was sent on as it came from Liverpool to Ulverstone, with the addition of 1,000*l.* from our own stock.

17,181. You believe that this sum of 6,000*l.*, which is represented here in one of these letters, was the very 5,000 sovereigns from Liverpool, plus the 1,000*l.* which you added to it?—I believe so, from what I have been told by one of the clerks to-day.

17,182. To the best of your belief, as manager of the bank, it was so?—Yes; to the best of my belief it was.

17,183. These returns are required to be made by Act of Parliament, are they not?—No. It is the stock book, in which we take the account of cash every evening at the close of business.

17,184. Have you any book which represents the amount of gold as it is paid in, and as it is paid out?—We have not.

17,185. You cannot tell exactly the transactions upon any particular day, as to the nature of the money going in and out?—No.

17,186. For instance, on the 10th of July the amount of specie would be, in round numbers, at the close of the day 6,000*l.*, and on the 11th of July very nearly the same sum, as near as possible. You cannot tell me at all how much came in on the 11th of July, and how much went out?—Not precisely. We particularize on our credit vouchers the money paid to us.

17,187. Do you not enter them in any book?—No, not in any book.

17,188. In a scribbling book?—No. In the margin of the credit voucher a specification of the money is given.

17,189. What are the credit vouchers?—The vouchers signed by the customers when they place money to the credit of their accounts.

17,190. Have you no book in which those are entered up?—No.

17,191. When a customer pays money over the counter to you, does he sign a voucher?—Yes, he does.

17,192. By a close examination of these books, and the very careful attention you must have given to them, in consequence of the statements made by Mr. Wilson, and the inquiries we have made in the matters of this election, can you say that there was, to your belief, any larger sum of money drawn out on behalf of Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider than those sums which we have before us?—Not to my knowledge.

17,193. To your belief?—No, not to my belief.

17,194. The balance seems, indeed, to be rather lower those three or four days than it is at other times?—That would be partly accounted for by the payments that have been already mentioned.

17,195. That is exactly the answer I expected, and only to that extent?—Except in the course of business.

17,196. Is there anything in your books which shows you there was any money drawn out, on behalf of Mr. Lawrence's party, from the bank besides that which we have before us?—Nothing but what is before the Commissioners.

17,197. That is so with regard to specie. Have you also directed your attention to the amount drawn out in Bank of England notes and Lancaster notes?—No, I have not.

17,198. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you remember a man named Stirkazer coming for some money from your bank?—Yes.

17,199. Were you in the bank at the time?—Yes, I believe I was.

17,200. Do you remember whether Mr. Stirkazer asked for gold?—I have no knowledge of it excepting what has transpired since. I had no knowledge of it at the time.

17,201. Supposing he asked for gold did he get gold in fact?—I understood he did not.

17,202. Do you understand that he asked for gold, and, whatever the reason was, it was refused?—I understand that he asked for gold, and that he did not get it, but it was upon business grounds.

17,203. As a matter of fact he asked for gold and you did not give him gold?—I did not attend upon him.

17,204. (Mr. Hill.) That would be on the 12th of July?—Yes.

17,205. (Mr. Newton.) When were you told of it?—I believe it was on the day of election.

17,206. The same day?—Yes, I think it was, but I cannot speak positively to it.

17,207. Was any reason assigned for his not getting gold?—Nothing, except that I think it was stated we had not such an amount of gold on hand as would warrant its being paid under the circumstances suspected at that time. I rather suppose the impression was that it was wanted for electioneering purposes.

17,208. There is no doubt about that, but I want to know what was the reason assigned for your not giving gold?—I was not the party who attended to Mr. Stirzaker.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Mr. H. Hadwen.

14 Sept. 1866.

17,209. But you must have known the reason?—There was no political reason given.

17,210. You must have known why gold was not given for that cheque?—I think it would be because the stock of gold does not appear to have been large, and we wished to keep it for the purposes of business.

17,211. Had the Stirkazers a balance in your hands at that time?—Yes, I think they would have.

17,212. That means that they had?—Yes.

17,213. Did you give your Lancaster notes, your own notes, or Bank of England notes?—I am not quite sure.

17,214. (Mr. Hill.) With regard to this book there appears to be in this column, as the balance of sovereigns at the end of the day, 2,700*l.*, and in this next column, 2,000*l.*?—That should be taken along with it, making 4,700*l.*

17,215. Why does that 2,000*l.* stand out separately?—It was put there instead of altering the figures, the actual amount being in round numbers 4,700*l.*

17,216. Why was it put there?—It was a sum of money which was brought from Preston on that day.

17,217. After the bank was closed, and after this was written down?—No, during the day, but it was kept without being mixed with the stock of gold.

17,218. So that really the stock of gold available in your bank, not counting this Preston money which was kept separate for a specific purpose, was 2,700*l.*?—Yes.

17,219. Does that 2,700*l.* include the 1,000*l.* which was brought back in a bag on the 12th of July?—I think it would.

17,220. So that during the day your stock of gold would have gone down to 1,700*l.*—Yes, but for the 2,000*l.* from Preston.

17,221. That would come later in the day. You tell me that your stock of gold was low, so that you could not on business grounds allow the Stirkazers to draw out this 400*l.*?—That is my impression.

17,222. How came you under those circumstances to allow Mr. Schneider to draw out 1,000*l.*?—I think it would be drawn out before the Stirkazers demand.

17,223. You think that all that was drawn out for the Schneider party was drawn out before the application of the Stirzakers for the 400 sovereigns?—I really cannot say at what time the Stirzakers came to the bank.

17,224. We may take it that on the 12th of July during the day 1,700*l.* was the available balance of gold?—Yes.

17,225. Can you tell me at all what amount of gold had been brought in on the 12th of July apart from this 2,000*l.*?—There would be payments in and payments out, but I cannot tell to what amount.

17,226. (Mr. Newton.) Did Stirzaker get notes for his cheque?—Yes, I understand he did.

17,227. What amount of notes had you in the bank?—There was a fair amount—a large amount.

17,228. (Mr. Hill.) You can hardly say a large amount. It was a little under the average as far as I can make it out. (After referring to the book), it would be about the average?—Yes, I think you may take it as an average.

17,229. What amount of gold had you in the bank at the close of the 11th?—2,900*l.*

17,230. And what on the 10th?—4,034*l.*

17,231. (Mr. Barstow.) What was your reason for sending to Preston for 2,000*l.*?—It was done from prudential considerations.

17,232. Was your stock running low?—Yes.

17,233. At what time of day did it arrive?—It would probably be about 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

17,234. (Mr. Newton.) On the 12th?—Yes.

17,235. (Mr. Barstow.) Can you mention the smallest amount of gold you had in the bank that day?—I cannot.

17,236. Was it below 1,000*l.*?—I should think not.

17,237. (Mr. Hill.) As I understand you, you say that that 1,000*l.* which was returned, would form part of the balance at the end of the day?—Yes.

17,238. The sovereigns drawn out on that day would appear to be, as far as this inquiry goes, 1,500*l.* A thousand pounds taken out by Mr. Schneider or Mr. Barton, and 500*l.* drawn out by Wilson Barker in change for notes?—I think so.

17,239. It would be 2,500*l.* in fact, because the 1,000*l.* which was returned was not returned directly, so that inasmuch as these monies were taken out very early in the day, that 2,500*l.* would have reduced the balance to 400 sovereigns?—Assuming there were no receipts.

17,240. Earlier than that?—Yes, earlier.

17,241. (Mr. Barstow.) You answered just now that the stock was never below 1,500*l.*?—No, I should think it was not.

17,242. (Mr. Newton.) Mr. Barton drew out some money on that day?—Yes, as I stated in my evidence the other day.

17,243. What time in the day was that?—To the best of my recollection it would be about 1 o'clock.

17,244. At what time did Stirzaker come with a cheque?—I do not know.

17,245. What makes you remember one, and not the other?—Because I had to do with Mr. Barton and not Mr. Stirzaker.

17,246. Have you any book or ledger which would tell us which of those two cheques were presented first?—We have not.

17,247. Would they not be entered in the order they were presented?—Not necessarily so.

17,248. You were in the office, you say, when Mr. Barton's cheque was cashed?—There was no cheque.

17,249. When he got the 1000*l.*, at what time was that?—About 1 o'clock, I believe, but I cannot speak positively.

17,250. Shall I say between 12 and 1?—It may have been so.

17,251. Mr. Barton says it was at noon?—He may be right.

17,252. To the best of your recollection, at what time was it when Mr. Stirzaker came?—I do not know at all.

17,253. Where were you then?—I should be on the premises, I presume. I believe I was in at the time, from what I understood afterwards.

17,254. When did you first know, on that day, of the refusal to give gold for Stirzaker's cheque?—It would be sometime before the close of business.

17,255. You close at 3?—Yes.

17,256. (Mr. Barstow.) Was it not mentioned to you at the time of the refusal?—No, it was not.

17,257. Who would refuse it, Mr. Sanderson?—I understood it was not he who waited upon Mr. Stirzaker.

17,258. I ask you the question, who was it who refused it?—I do not know, unless it was the clerk who waited upon him.

17,259. (To Mr. Sanderson.) Did you pay the money to Stirzaker?—Yes, I paid Stirzaker the money.

17,260. (To the witness.) It would be a very unusual thing to refuse a customer sovereigns, would it not?—Yes, in the ordinary course of trade it would.

17,261. (Mr. Hill.) Was there not, as a fact, a certain sum of gold put by for Mr. Schneider to draw against, entirely separate from this account altogether?—I think it probable, after what he stated, that we should make provision for his requirements. We had no notice from Mr. Stirzaker.

17,262. What would be the nature of that provision for Mr. Schneider's requirements?—Nothing definite

17,263. Would there not be a sum of money set apart separately, which does not find its way into this return of specie at all?—No. I think it would be taken from the stock of gold on hand.

17,264. Would it not be taken from the stock of gold on hand at different times, and set apart for him? Is not that, to the best of your belief, about it? I must confess it seems to me so?—I think, with reference to those sums that have been spoken to, they would be put apart.

17,265. They would be taken some time previously, and set apart according to Mr. Schneider's request?—Not at that time.

17,266. It will come to this, in short. Was there not, at that time, in your bank, to the best of your belief, a sum of money set apart which is not entered here on the 10th of July?—It might be set apart the day before.

17,267. Or some days before?—Possibly so, although I do not think it.

17,268. Suppose Mr. Schneider had drawn out 2,000*l.* on the 11th of July, it is probable that he would have drawn it from some other stock than that which is returned in your book on the 10th of July?—No, I think it would be from the stock we had on hand on the 10th of July.

17,269. Is it not probable that there was a separate stock set aside; merely placed in your bank cellars, I will say?—No, I think not. It would be supplied from the general stock of gold.

17,270. Packets of 1,000*l.* are not made up in a minute in rouleaux?—It does not take more than a quarter of an hour to set apart 1,000*l.*, or even a larger sum.

17,271. Can you say whether or not there was a separate stock of gold set apart as belonging to Mr. Schneider, and merely in your custody or charge on the 10th, 11th, or 12th of July?—Not apart from the bank's own stock of gold. There was no gold provided by Mr. Schneider for us to take care of.

17,272. Will you say distinctly there were no separate parcels made up, and ready for Mr. Schneider in case of emergency?—There might be the day before. If there was 1,000*l.* taken from the stock of gold on the 10th of July, of course it would diminish the stock the following day by so much.

17,273. But supposing it to be set apart on the 10th, and not paid out until the 12th?—It would be included in the stock until charged out.

17,274. It is possible it may have been charged out, and yet still have remained in your custody apart by itself?—It would be possible.

HENRY STIRZAKER sworn and examined.

H. Stirzaker.

17,275. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At Skerton.

17,276. What are you?—A nurseryman.

17,277. Were you sent to the bank on the day of the election with a cheque?—No.

17,278. Did you go?—No, I directed my brother to go.

17,279. Then it is your brother we want?—I had a conversation with Mr. Wilson relative to the money.

17,280. What is your brother's name?—Richard.

17,281. Is he here?—No.

17,282. Do you know at what time Richard Stirzaker went to the bank?—Before 11 o'clock.

17,283. How do you know that?—Because I was waiting with Mr. Wilson till he returned.

17,284. Who is Mr. Wilson?—My cousin, H. T. Wilson.

17,285. Where were you waiting?—In the "Royal Oak." In the first instance my brother and I left home to go to vote. After we had voted we went first to the committee-room, and both of us were ascending the stairs where we met Mr. Wilson. He drew me aside, and said, "Can you let me have a few hundred pounds?" I said, "How much do you want?" He said, "Three or four hundred pounds," and I said, "Well, suppose I send for four hundred for you; will that do?" He said, "Yes." My brother was with me, and I said to him, "Go to the "bank and draw 400*l.* without any cheque, and ask "for it in gold." We had a cash account there, but he could not get gold.

17,286. How do you know he could not?—Because he brought notes back.

17,287. What time did he bring back the notes?—It would be between half-past 10 and 11 when he went. He got back before 11.

17,288. He brought the money back in notes?—Yes, 5*l.* notes.

17,289. You are certain about the time?—Yes, I am certain it was before 11.

17,290. What makes you certain about the time? Because I know the time we went to poll. We went to get there about 9 or 10, and walked about in Market Street some time before we went into the committee-room. We saw the 10 o'clock statement of the poll, and then went into the committee room.

17,291. How long a time elapsed between your reading the statement at 10 o'clock, and seeing Mr. Wilson?—Perhaps half an hour. I think not more.

17,292. Where is your brother?—He is at home.

17,293. Did anybody else see him come back besides yourself?—I was with Mr. Wilson alone when he returned.

17,294. Did your brother say the reason why he could not bring gold?—No, I do not remember that he did. He said, "I have brought it in notes."

Mr. JOHN SANDERSON recalled.

Mr. J. Sanderson.

17,295. (Mr. Newton.) Do you remember Mr. Stirzaker coming with a cheque?—Yes, perfectly.

17,296. At what time was it?—It would be about 11 o'clock I daresay.

17,297. The time Mr. Stirzaker stated?—Yes.

17,298. We heard that he did not get gold?—No, I paid him in Lancaster notes.

17,299. Why did you pay in Lancaster notes?—Because it was better for the bank to pay Lancaster notes than gold.

17,300. Why?—Because it is our interest to do so to get our notes into circulation.

17,301. Do you really mean to tell us that that was your reason?—Yes.

17,302. Now take care. Is the reason why you did not pay in gold that it was to the interest of the bank to pay in notes in order to get your notes in circulation?—Yes.

17,303. You do that when a customer asks for gold?—Yes.

17,304. Now take care what you answer?—If he had pressed for gold he could have had it.

17,305. Was not the reason that you were told not to pay in gold?—No.

17,306. Take care; you may hear of this hereafter; it is a serious matter?—Yes, I know, but I cannot alter my answer.

17,307. Do you say that you were not told at the time to refuse to pay that cheque in gold?—Certainly not.

17,308. How comes it that Mr. Hadwen has told us to-day that the reason was that there was not sufficient gold in the bank?—There was sufficient gold in the bank.

17,309. How much was there in the bank?—I should think there was never less than 1,600*l.* that day.

17,310. At any time of the day?—I should think not.

17,311. Do you mean to give as the reason you refused to pay that cheque in gold that you wanted to carry out the interest of the bank?—It is an ordinary thing with all local bankers to put out their notes whenever they can.

17,312. When a customer asks for gold?—Yes, if he does not press it.

17,313. Was not gold asked for on this occasion?—In the first instance; but I said, as well as I can remember, "Lancaster notes, I suppose, will answer your purpose?" and he said, "Very well," and took them.

Mr J. Sanderson.

14 Sept. 1866.

17,314. We shall have Mr. Stirzaker here to-morrow?—I forget what he said exactly, but he did not make any objection, and I paid him in notes.

17,315. That is all you mean to tell us?—That is all I know about it.

17,316. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you mean to tell us that when a customer comes to your bank for gold you as a clerk have a right to hand him over notes?—If he does not object to it, which he did not.

17,317. Answer my question. When a customer asks for gold have you, as a clerk, the power to give him notes?—Of course I try to study the interest of the bank as well as I can.

17,318. Will you answer my question. I ask you, if a customer comes to the Lancaster Bank for gold, is it in the power of a clerk in that bank to refuse him gold, and give him notes?—It is not in his power, but under the circumstances I gave him the notes because he did not object to it.

17,319. You have not answered my question. I ask you, is it the custom of the Lancaster Bank that when a customer comes to it for gold, a clerk in that bank may refuse him gold, and give him notes?—It is to their interest to get their notes into circulation.

17,320. Will you answer my question. Is it your custom when a customer asks for gold to give him notes?—I do not know how to answer it more satisfactorily.

17,321. Is it your custom to do so?—It is our custom to pay in notes when we can.

17,322. Is it your custom when a customer asks for gold to give him notes; do you understand the question?—Yes, it is our custom to pay in notes if possible.

17,323. I think I must have asked you the question five times. Do you understand the question or do you not?—Yes, I should say it is the custom to do as as I did.

17,324. It is the custom?—Yes, to do as I did.

17,325. It is the custom to give a customer notes when he asks for gold. That is the answer you have given?—I mean to say that the transaction I had with Stirzaker was an ordinary one.

17,326. Now, Mr. Sanderson, cashier of the Lancaster Bank, do you remember on any other occasion when a customer has come for gold you have given him notes?—Yes, if he did not object to take them. Mr. Stirzaker did not object to take our notes.

17,327. I ask you the question; do you remember (and I shall ask what the instance is afterwards) any instance where a customer has come to you, and asked for gold, you have of your own authority given him notes?—If he would take our notes.

17,328. I ask you, do you remember any instance of doing so?—No, I cannot call to mind any instance at present.

17,329. I should think not for your bank's sake.

17,330. (Mr. Newton.) You must have been told not to pay that cheque in gold?—No, I certainly was not.

17,331. You may stand down. I pity your employers.—I mean to say that the transaction with Mr. Stirzaker was an ordinary one.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Saturday, 15th September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. Barstow. | Mr. Newton.
Mr. Hill.

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

W. Hoyle.

15 Sept. 1866.

William Hoyle sworn and examined.

17,332. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am an upholsterer.

17,333. Were you engaged at the last election on the Conservative side?—I was not.

17,334. Did you vote on the Conservative side?—Yes.

17,335. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Nothing.

17,336. Neither for yourself nor to give to any one?—No.

17,337. If any one has said that you did, it is a mistake?—As far as I am concerned it is. I never received or gave any money at any election.

17,338. Do you know for whom you have been mistaken?—I do not.

17,339. Is there any other William Hoyle?—Not to my knowledge; not as a voter; there is a party, I believe, residing in Skerton of the name of William Hoyle.

17,340. Mr. Coupland has told us that you received some money for the purposes of the election?—I received no money at all.

17,341. (Mr. Hill.) Has this other William Hoyle anything to do with election matters?—Not so far as I am concerned. I understand it is Mr. Coupland who has mentioned my name. I did not see Mr. Coupland during the election or speak to him.

17,342. Have you not heard that there is some other Hoyle who busies himself in election matters?—I heard there was a party at Skerton; that is all I know.

17,343. And that he is a busy man in election matters?—I have heard so.

R. Stirzaker.

Richard Stirzaker sworn and examined.

17,344. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A nurseryman.

17,345. Where do you live?—At Skerton.

17,346. We understand that you were sent to the bank on the day of the polling with a cheque?—I was.

17,347. Who gave you the cheque?—I had not a cheque, I called for the money when I went to the bank.

17,348. What did you go to the bank with?—We had a cash account there.

17,349. Did you draw a cheque upon the bank?—I drew 400*l.* out of the bank. I asked for 400*l.*

17,350. By a cheque?—By no cheque.

17,351. Did you ask for gold or did you ask for notes?—I asked for gold.

17,352. Who from?—Mr. John Sanderson.

17,353. What did Mr. John Sanderson say to you when you asked for gold?—I asked for it twice, and then he said, "Would not notes do." I said, "Very well."

17,354. You wanted gold?—I wanted gold.

17,355. Why did you take the notes?—Because I supposed that gold was not convenient, so I took the notes.

17,356. What do you mean by "not convenient?"—

From Mr. Sanderson's manner I thought it was not convenient to give me gold ; and so I took the notes.

17,357. Did he say it was not convenient to the bank ?—He did not say so, but from his manner I judged so.

17,358. How do you mean "from his manner?"—He seemed reluctant to give me gold ; and therefore I was glad to get notes.

17,359. (Mr. Hill.) You say you asked him twice for gold ?—Yes.

17,360. Just tell me exactly what took place when you went in ?—When I went in I came to the counter and said, "I want 400*l.* in gold," and then I repeated "in gold."

17,361. What did he say to that ?—He said he could not give it me in gold.

17,362. What did you say then ?—I said I would rather have gold if he had it.

17,363. What did he say to that ?—He said nothing ; and then I added, "Let me have notes."

17,364. He said nothing ?—He said nothing, and then I added, "Then let me have it in notes."

17,365. Did you say, "Then let me have it in notes" ?—Yes ; let me have it in notes.

17,366. Do you say you added to this, "Then let me have it in notes ?"—When I asked for it in gold a second time, I did not give him time to reply, but I said, "Let me have it in notes."

17,367. Why did you take notes ?—Because I was glad to get it in any shape at all.

17,368. How do you mean you were glad to get it in any shape at all ; had you any doubt that you should be able to get it ?—None whatever.

17,369. How do you mean then that you were glad to get it at all ?—The time was getting on fast, and I wanted to go away again.

17,370. (Mr. Newton.) What time was it ?—It might be somewhere about 11 o'clock or after 11 ; I will not be sure.

17,371. When he said "I cannot give it you in gold," did he say why he could not give it you in gold ?—He did not.

17,372. He simply used those words, "I cannot give it you in gold ?"—Yes.

JOHN SPEIGHT sworn and examined.

J. Speight.

17,373. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A twine spinner.

17,374. Where do you live ?—In Common Garden Street.

17,375. What are your politics ?—Conservative.

17,376. What part did you take in the last election ? Nothing particular. I paid bills for Mr. Clark.

17,377. What district were you engaged in ?—I believe in Penny Street.

17,378. Were you engaged before the election ?—Yes.

17,379. What were you doing ?—I went with Mr. Clark to the public-houses.

17,380. Which Mr. Clark ?—Mr. George Clark.

17,381. Mr. G. C. Clark ?—Yes.

17,382. To what public-houses did you go ?—I went to the "Spinners Arms" first.

17,383. Did you receive any monies from anybody for the purposes of the last election ?—No. I paid the bills for Mr. Clark.

17,384. But you received money with which to pay them ?—Yes, but he was generally there at the public-houses.

17,385. In fact the money only went through your hands ?—Yes.

17,386. Then you paid by Mr. Clark's directions ; is that it ?—Yes.

17,387. You paid bills at public-houses for which he gave you the money ?—Yes.

17,388. You have a list in your pocket ; bring it out and tell me the names of the houses, and the amounts you paid ?—(Referring to a paper) On June 24th, the "Spinners' Arms."

17,389. How much ?—2*l.*, 26th, "Spinners' Arms ;" 2*l.* 10*s.* ; 26th, "The Travellers' Rest," 6*l.* ; 29th, "The Travellers' Rest," 6*l.* ; July 1st, "The Travellers' Rest," 6*l.* 1st, Woodhouse's : I think it is the "Painters' Arms." Mr. Clark made a mistake and said it was the "Spinner's Arms," but it was not ; it was the "Painters' Arms."

17,390. How much ?—3*l.* Then the 10th, "The White Cross," 10*s.* The 11th, "The Travellers' Rest," 5*l.*, and the 12th, "The Travellers' Rest," 4*l.*

17,391. Is that all ?—Yes.

17,392. Those monies were given to you by Mr. Clark, and you paid them to the publicans ?—Yes ; I generally got a slip of paper, a receipt, and I gave it to Mr. Clark.

17,393. 35*l.* altogether ?—Yes.

17,394. Is that what you make it ?—Yes.

17,395. Did you pay any other monies at the last election ?—I saw some voters paid.

17,396. What voters did you see paid, and by whom ?—No. 43, John Ball.

17,397. Who did you see pay him ?—Mr. Clark ; at least I got the tickets of Mr. Clark, and I went and got the money of the man that was at the "White Cross," and then I gave it to the men and went to see them vote. Mr. Clark has given them in before. One or two I took in ; the one I have given you is John Ball, No. 43, 10*l.*

17,399. The next ?—No. 816, Anthony Taylor, 10*l.*

17,400. Who paid Taylor ?—I paid Taylor. Then there were two Normans. I think they were boatmen.

17,401. How much ?—10*l.* each.

17,402. The next ?—That is all.

17,403. Those are all that you saw paid ?—Yes.

17,404. Are you certain that all those men came and received the money ?—Yes.

17,405. It is no good their coming here to say they did not then ?—No.

17,406. Have you anything else to tell us ?—No, I think not.

17,407. You have been perusing the evidence as it has come out in the papers, I have no doubt ?—Yes, I read Mr. Clark's evidence.

17,408. Is there anything you wish to correct in it ?—No, I think not.

17,409. All that has been said about the Speights has been pretty true, has it ?—I have no doubt it is.

17,410. One of the Normans is a labourer of Henry Street, Lancaster, and one is a boatman of the Pointers Scotforth ?—Yes.

17,411. Do you happen to know whether it is the labourer who lives in Henry Street, Lancaster ?—I think that is him.

17,412. And not the one in Penny Street ?—I think so. I am not quite certain.

17,413. Who do you believe it to be of the two ?—I fancy it will be him in Henry Street.

17,414. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you recollect how much money altogether you paid for Mr. Clark for any purpose ?—No, it was given to me at different times.

17,415. Did you hire the houses in this district ?—No, I hired none.

17,416. What Speight did hire them ?—They was not hired.

17,417. Not any of them ?—The "Travellers Rest" was.

17,418. Had you not committee-rooms there ?—Yes.

17,419. Were not those committee-rooms paid for ?—I only paid what Mr. Clark gave me to pay. I gave him the bills.

17,420. (Mr. Hill.) What did you get for your vote ?—I have not a vote.

17,421. (Mr. Newton.) What did your father get for his vote ?—10*l.* ; not for his vote.

17,422. (Mr. Hill.) What for then ?—For his work I suppose.

17,423. The work was done at the poll, was it ?—No.

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

W. Harrison.

15 Sept. 1866.

WILLIAM HARRISON sworn and examined.

17,424. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A tinman.

17,425. Where do you live?—In St. Nicholas Street.

17,426. You took a part on the Conservative side at the last election?—Yes.

17,427. I believe that you assisted Mr. Coupland?—Yes.

17,428. What money did you receive from Mr. Coupland?—49*l.* 10*s.*

17,429. Did you receive any money from anyone besides Mr. Coupland?—That was previous to the election. I did not receive anything else.

17,430. What was the whole amount you received?—I received 10*l.* for my services three weeks after the election.

17,431. That is all you received?—Yes.

17,432. 59*l.* then is the whole amount that you received?—Yes.

17,433. Did Coupland pay you the 10*l.* he spoke of?—Yes.

17,434. How did you dispose of this 49*l.*?—(Referring to a paper.) I paid John Leighton for services and canvassing 2*l.*

17,435. Is that the ex-policeman?—No, I think he is a clockmaker. I paid James Harrison for services 10*s.*; James Sumner for services 5*s.*

17,436. Is he a voter?—He is. I paid Edward Harrison for services 5*s.* I paid 19 committee-men 10*s.* each for expenses at the nomination and election. I have got the names if you require them.

17,437. Were these voters?—Some of them; do you require the names?

17,438. Yes, we had better have them; tell us which are voters?—William Singleton, of Edward Street.

17,439. What is Singleton? Just read his profession or trade?—I have not got his trade; I think he is a silk piecer.

17,440. How much?—10*s.*; they all got 10*s.*

17,441. You mean William Singleton and not William H. Singleton; because there are two Singletons?—No, it is William. James Harrison, of Alfred Street, whitesmith; Standen, of Ullswater Road, 10*s.*

17,442. John L. Standen?—Yes. James Sumner, of St. Nicholas Street.

17,443. He is a householder?—He is. William Bingham, of Edward Street; John Miller, of Moor Road; Samuel Gunson, Lodge Street; Thomas Harrison, Leonard Gate.

17,444. (Mr. Newton.) What is he?—He is a bookkeeper. William Harrison, Leonard Gate, coach maker; Benjamin Singleton, Edward Street; John Singleton, William Henry Singleton, Edward Street; John Whitaker, Lodge Street. I believe he gave another man 5*s.* out of that of the name of John Gardner. John Hodgson, Nicholas Street; William Simpson, China Lane.

17,445. Are those all?—Yes.

17,446. Now just distinguish those who are voters?—Those are all voters. There were four non-electors. There are other monies that I paid. I paid for refreshments for committee-men and treating voters from June the 12th to July the 11th, 23*l.*

17,447. Do you mean for paying the committee-men?—No; this was entirely for refreshments. Mr. Coupland particularly wished that the bills should not run on, and he gave me the money to pay them as I went on. I paid William Harrison, coach maker, for refreshments at the "Golden Ball" on the nomination night 2*l.* and I paid William Hoyle, clogger and farmer, for refreshments on the nomination and election day about 12*l.*, as near as I can remember. That is the whole amount.

17,448. Did you receive anything for your own services?—I received 10*l.* about three weeks after the election.

17,449. (Mr. Newton.) What did you receive from Mr. Coupland altogether?—I think it was 49*l.* 10*s.*

17,450. Did you hire any public-houses?—I cannot say I exactly hired them; I spoke to Mr. Dowthwaite of the "Boar's Head" about it.

17,451. You were not the man then who arranged with the licensed victuallers in your district for the use of their houses?—I think there was only that one, the principal one, the "Boars Head" in Nicholas Street.

17,452. Was that the only house in your district?—It was the principal house; there were others, but it was very trifling what we did there. There was a beer house kept by a man of the name of Speight; we went there and spent between 30*s.* and 2*l.*

17,453. You consider, in fact, that the "Boars Head" was the only house you had in your district?—Yes, the only house.

17,454. You did not pay for the use of rooms in other districts?—It was put in for the use of the rooms, but I believe the breakfasts were included.

17,455. In what houses were those?—There was only one house.

17,456. Not any houses besides?—Not any; not any for breakfasts except that one.

17,457. There was nothing paid for breakfasts except in one house?—That is correct.

17,458. And that was at Speights, was it?—No, at the "Boar's Head" in Nicholas Street.

17,459. I ask you if you hired any other house than the "Boar's Head;" Did you take a committee-room?—No.

17,460. Do you remember calling on a man named Lunn?—I do.

17,461. You tried to hire his house, did you not?—We heard that he was wavering and likely to come over to the Conservative side, and we went to ask him if it was true. We went to the station to meet him. We heard that he had gone to Carnforth and we went and saw him there, and he said he would let us know whether he intended to vote for us in the course of an hour or so. When we were there Mr. George Jackson, the spirit merchant, came in; the man seemed rather favourable to us till Mr. Jackson made his appearance, and when he had gone out he said the job was settled, so we were of no more use there.

17,462. Did Lunn and Jackson go aside together?—They were in the front place together.

17,463. (Mr. Hill.) Apart from you?—Yes, apart from us.

17,464. And came in after the job was settled?—Yes, they came in after the job was settled; in fact he would not look at us after he had seen Mr. Jackson; it was words to that effect, that the job was settled, or something to that effect.

17,465. What were you going to offer Lunn for his house?—I had no instructions. Our district was short of public-houses.

17,466. I do not think any district in Lancaster seems to be that?—They got them all in our district with the exception of one or two.

17,467. (Mr. Barstow.) One public-house was quite sufficient for your purpose, was it not?—I think so.

17,468. Do you think from your experience that one house is enough for all the purposes of each district?—It may be more convenient to hold meetings in different districts occasionally.

17,469. One house in each district?—Yes.

17,470. You think one is enough?—I think so.

17,471. (Mr. Newton.) For any election purposes?—Yes, I think so.

17,472. (Mr. Hill.) So long as it has two nice private rooms upstairs?—Yes.

17,473. That is all you want?—Yes, that is all I want.

17,474. (Mr. Newton.) Did you help to get the voters up to Mr. Coupland?—I think I handed about two or three, as near as I can remember.

17,475. Can you give us their names?—There was one man of the name of David Sykes.

17,476. And who else?—And Thomas or George Richmond. I do not know whether both of the Richmonds or not, I think both of the Richmonds, but I am not certain. I know there was one of them.

17,477. Who else?—David Sykes and Thomas and George Richmond.

17,478. Anyone else?—Not any that I am aware of.

17,479. Do you know that they got their money?—I handed them to Mr. Coupland, and he I suppose gave them a vote, and then they went in to the "dumming," the "stranger." Mr. Coupland gave them a vote for the money.

17,480. You mean by "a vote" a voucher I suppose?—Yes.

JAMES HARRISON sworn and examined.

J. Harrison.

17,481. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A whitesmith.

17,482. Where do you live?—In Alfred Street.

17,483. Are you a master whitesmith?—No, I am foreman.

17,484. You assisted in the election did you not?—Yes.

17,485. What were you?—Well, I was a sub-captain I suppose.

17,486. In Mr. Coupland's district?—Yes, in No. 5 district.

17,487. What money did you get from Mr. Coupland?—I got 3*l.* from Mr. Coupland before the election.

17,488. When?—Somewhere about July. I cannot tell the date exactly.

17,489. Was that all the money you got?—I got 1*l.* from William Harrison before the election.

17,490. That was the last, was it?—Yes.

17,491. Anything more?—No, nothing more before the election.

17,492. What did you get after the election, or during the election?—I got 10*l.* for my services and my vote.

17,493. That makes 14*l.* Is that all you got?—That is all I got.

17,494. What did you do with that 14*l*?—A good deal of it went in refreshments.

17,495. Where at?—At the "White Horse" and at the "Golden Ball," and "Boar's Head;" different places.

17,496. You went drinking about the town, I suppose?—Up and down the town.

17,497. Did you help to bring the voters up to Mr. Coupland?—I did.

17,498. Tell us who they were that you brought up?—Samuel Gunson.

17,499. Anybody else?—I did not bring him up. He was there and I took him.

17,500. And you saw him get the money?—Yes.

17,501. Anybody else?—William Bingham, William Powell, Henry Thomas Waterhouse, Thomas Harrison, William Harrison.

17,502. (Mr. Barstow.) Which William Harrison?—William Harrison the coachmaker. He lives in Leonard Gate. Then there is John Miller, William Singleton, Benjamin Singleton, William Henry Singleton, John Singleton, Edward Harrison, William Harrison.

17,503. Another William Harrison?—In Edward Street. Then there is Robert Hodgson, John Hodgson.

17,504. Is that John Hodgson, whitesmith?—Yes. That is the whole that I can remember.

17,505. You saw those men paid?—Yes.

17,506. Yourself?—Yes, I saw them paid.

17,507. At the "Boar's Head?"—At the "Boar's Head."

17,508. Do you know that all these men got 10*l.* each, or that most of them did?—There was one had 9*l.* Edward Harrison and William Harrison 10*l.* each.

17,509. That is all you know?—That is all I know.

17,510. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get any other money paid to you?—No.

17,511. Only 10*l.*?—10*l.* was what I got. That was on the election day.

17,512. Did you vote Tory in 1864? Did you then vote for Saunders?—Yes.

17,513. You always voted on the Conservative side?—Always.

17,514. (Mr. Newton.) What are these Harrisons and the other men you have mentioned. Are they day labourers?—Yes, they are day labourers. They work at different trades you know.

17,515. All of them?—Yes, all of them. There is one a carter.

JOHN DOBSON sworn and examined.

J. Dobson.

17,516. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—An attorney's clerk.

17,517. Clerk to whom?—Mr. Maxsted. Maxsted and Gibson now.

17,518. What are your politics?—Conservative.

17,519. What part did you take in the last election?—I was sub-captain under Mr. Clark.

17,520. Were you in Mr. Maxsted's employ at that time?—I was. I have been in his employ about 20 years, I should say.

17,521. You were sub-captain to Mr. G. C. Clark?—Yes.

17,522. In what district was that?—Penny Street.

17,523. What money did you receive for the purposes of the last election?—9*l.* 10*s.*

17,524. From whom did you receive that?—I received from Mr. Clark 5*l.* 10*s.*; from Mr. Coupland 2*l.*; and from Mr. Danson 2*l.* That was all before the election.

17,525. Now, at the election?—I received, to pay for two voters, from Mr. Clark, 20*l.*

17,526. When did you receive that?—On the morning of the election, and from Mr. John Cross, captain of another district, 20*l.*

17,527. The same day?—The same day.

17,528. Was that all you received?—Yes.

17,529. Now, after the election?—I received 10*l.* for my services. I was employed about a fortnight altogether.

17,530. But you were in your employment with Mr. Maxsted at the same time?—No, I was not. I neglected my own work to attend to that.

17,531. But you were receiving your pay from him were you not?—No.

17,532. Were your wages then knocked off?—Yes.

17,533. What are your regular wages with Mr. Maxsted?—35*s.* a week.

17,534. The work that you were engaged upon during the election was harder work than your ordinary work?—Yes, it was. I should not like to do the same work again, not for 50*l.*

17,535. You received altogether 59*l.* 10*s.* How did you spend it?—It was all spent I believe amongst the voters.

17,536. How did you spend the first 9*l.* 10*s.*?—During the fortnight in treating the voters.

17,537. Refreshing and treating voters?—Yes.

17,538. Where at?—Different public-houses in the town. It was not confined to the district in which I was engaged.

17,539. Up and down the town?—Yes.

17,540. And I suppose you occasionally gave shillings to them?—Yes.

17,541. Did they come to you in the morning?—Yes; those that were dry.

17,542. To your private residence or Mr. Maxsted's office?—I was not in the office then. They saw me in the street and sometimes at my private residence

17,543. They would come for the shillings?—Yes, for something to drink.

17,544. You spent 9*l.* 10*s.* altogether?—Yes, I did.

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

J. Dobson.

15 Sept. 1866.

17,545. In what way did you spend this 40*l.*?—In paying the voters.

17,546. What were the voters you paid?—With the 20*l.* I got from Mr. Clark, I paid John Towers, whitesmith, 10*l.*; and Edward Bond, painter, 10*l.*; and with the 20*l.* I got from Mr. Cross, I paid to William Masheder, 10*l.*, I think he is described on the list as a farmer; and Henry Thornton, Penny Street, labourer, 10*l.*

17,547. Did you pay anybody else?—No.

17,548. Have you got anything more to tell us about the election?—No. I do not know that I have.

17,549. You yourself do not know of any other persons being paid?—No.

17,550. You did not see any?—No, I did not see any others paid. I introduced several, but I did not see them paid.

17,551. Did you introduce them to Mr. Clark?—Yes.

17,552. (Mr. Barstow.) Whom do you remember having introduced?—I do not remember any in particular. They were all rushing upstairs. I told them where to go, and so on.

H. High.

HENRY HIGH sworn and examined.

17,553. (Mr. Barstow.) I am glad to see you are on the register at last?—I had better have been off I think.

17,554. You keep a shop on Castle Hill?—Yes.

17,555. What are you?—A plumber and glazier.

17,556. You exerted yourself for the Conservatives at the last election?—I did my best.

17,557. In whose district?—Mr. Clark's.

17,558. What money did you receive?—About 42*l.*

17,559. You have no account?—No.

17,560. From whom did you receive it?—I received 30*l.* of it from a gentleman from Liverpool, but I only received it in the presence of the voters.

17,561. That is you received it to pay over to the voters?—Yes.

17,562. From whom did you receive the rest?—From Mr. Clark.

17,563. How much?—Between 12*l.* and 13*l.* I could not state exactly.

17,564. How much shall I put it down as?—You may say 13*l.* at the outside. I do not think it exceeded that.

17,565. When did you receive that money?—3*l.* before the election, and 10*l.* after.

17,566. You spent that 3*l.* before the election in treating I suppose?—Yes. Both the committee-men and voters. It was not only the voters; the committee I think were as bad as the freemen.

17,567. What was the 10*l.* for, that you received after the election?—I suppose it would be for my expenses. It was seven weeks after the election that I got it.

17,568. The other 30*l.* you told us you gave to the voters, in the presence of the gentleman from Liverpool?—Yes, the cashier, I suppose he was.

17,569. Do you remember who those voters were?—There was William Cawson, shoemaker, John Hind, shoemaker, and his father from Warton. He wanted 14*l.* He said that Mr. Bleasdale, in Penny Street, had offered him 14*l.*, and he wanted the same.

17,570. He told you so?—Yes.

17,571. (Mr. Hill.) Those men received 10*l.* each?—Yes.

17,572. You paid them yourself?—Yes.

17,573. (Mr. Newton.) At the "White Cross?"—Yes.

J. Fenton.

Mr. JOSEPH FENTON sworn and examined.

17,574. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—An ironmonger.

17,575. A member of the Volunteer Corps?—Yes.

17,576. Lieutenant?—Yes.

17,577. A Conservative in politics?—Yes.

17,578. And you took a part in the election of 1865?—Yes.

17,579. In what street do you live?—I live at West Place, but my business place is in Market Street.

17,580. Were you a sub-captain?—No. I scarcely think I should come under that title. I had charge of the carriage department at the election.

17,581. Of the whole of the carriage department? Yes, of the whole of the carriage department.

17,582. How long before the election was that entrusted to you?—A week or 10 days I think. I do not exactly remember.

17,583. I suppose you went to the postmasters and carriage keepers and hired them all?—No; my duty was more specially to see that the carriages were got off to the various places in the country for the voters. That was my duty more than hiring them. I did not, as I remember, hire the conveyances.

17,584. You made no arrangement beforehand?—No; my duty was to see that the carriages were got to their respective places. They had been already collected together for that purpose.

17,585. Who had collected them together?—I cannot say to my own knowledge.

17,586. On the morning or the evening before you sent them off to the various places in the country?—Yes.

17,587. Did you receive any money for that purpose?—Yes; I did.

17,588. How much did you receive?—9*l.* 4*s.*

17,589. From whom?—Mr. Wilson Barker.

17,590. When did you receive that money?—I have got a memorandum here. On July 7th I received 5*l.* and on September 9th, 4*l.* 9*s.*, so that I see I am wrong. I received altogether nine guineas.

17,591. Did you receive any other money?—No; not for that purpose.

17,592. For any other purpose?—Yes.

17,593. How much?—5*l.* I can hardly say that I received it or paid it, though it passed through my hands. It is already accounted for as coming from Mr. Cross; I was simply a medium. I do not suppose I possessed the money two minutes, passing it from Mr. Cross or from a stranger with Mr. Cross, a man I did not know, but a man who had been employed for various purposes.

17,594. What is his name?—Christopher Towers. That is already accounted for in Mr. Cross's list.

17,595. Did you receive any other money?—No.

17,596. Not from anybody else?—No.

17,597. Did you receive any other money for your services?—No.

17,598. You did all this gratuitously?—Yes.

17,599. Where was this transaction with Cross and the voter?—In the "King's Arms" yard. That was my head-quarters. I was there all the day.

17,600. In the open yard?—The money was paid to the man in a room adjoining the yard, but I received the money in the yard.

17,601. You took the money in the yard and paid the man in a room?—Yes.

17,602. (Mr. Barstow.) Towers is a voter?—Yes, he is.

17,603. You knew that at the time?—Yes.

17,604. (Mr. Hill.) Did you know what the money was paid to him for?—It would be partly for his services and partly I think to influence his vote.

17,605. Had he voted at the time?—Yes, he had. Before he voted, knowing me (he was a man I employed) he said that he had worked day and night for us for some time.

17,606. I suppose you found money going about very freely, and got a five-pound note for him?—He said if I would promise him the money he would take my word, and I was to pay him after the election. I think I paid him in two sums, a sovereign before the election and 4*l.* afterwards, but I am not quite clear upon that point.

WILLIAM HALSTEAD sworn and examined.

17,607. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A nurseryman.

17,608. Where do you live?—Penny Street, Lancaster.

17,609. You are a Conservative in politics?—Yes.

17,610. What part did you take in the last election?—I took a pretty active part in Scotforth.

17,611. You assisted in the Scotforth district?—Yes.

17,612. Were you a captain?—I suppose so.

17,613. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the last election?—The monies that I received directly to spend was 7*l.* 3*s.*

17,614. What was the date of your receiving the first money?—The first money I received was on the 26th of June, from Mr. Cross, 1*l.* Then the other was a small sum of 2*s.*, but I do not know the date.

17,615. I do not want the small items, give it me in a lump?—7*l.* 3*s.*

17,616. Up to what date?—July 10th.

17,617. From Mr. Cross?—Yes.

17,618. Does that include the 1*l.*?—Yes, altogether 7*l.* 3*s.*

17,619. What other monies did you receive?—Those are all the monies I received directly. Other monies passed through my hands for voters.

17,620. What other monies passed through your hands?—They were paid to me by a stranger to hold for the voters till after they had voted.

17,621. Where were they paid to you?—Some of them were paid in Scotforth and some in Lancaster.

17,622. When was that?—The night before the election.

17,623. How much did you receive from the stranger?—10*l.* for Thomas Thornton, No. 839.

17,624. Did you pay that to him?—I paid that the following day after he had voted. 12*l.* for Robert Threlfall, No. 854.

17,625. That is the one they call "Bob" Threlfall?—Yes. 7*l.* 10*s.* from Mr. Cross for Moses Mawson; he is a Lancaster voter. 7*l.* for Francis Richmond, No. 1,284.

17,626. From whom did you receive that money?—Mr. Cross, or the gentleman who was with him. It passed through Mr. Cross's hands. I think Mr. Cross has given an account of it. Then Thomas Cottam, No. 178, 10*l.*, through Mr. Clark. Mr. Clark gave me the tickets, and I got the money from the man in the adjoining room, at the "White Cross."

17,627. Mr. George Clark?—Mr. G. C. Clark. The next is John Cottam, 10*l.*, No. 182.

17,628. From whom did you receive that?—I received the ticket from Mr. Clark, and the money was paid to me by the man in the next room. I believe Mr. Clark has given you an account of the monies. The gentleman who I was with at Scotforth paid William Bibby 5*l.*, and also paid James Procter 6*l.*; but I may say he was a sub-captain of mine, and I do not know whether that would be for his services, or part for his services and part for his vote. He also paid John Jackson, No. 484, 7*l.*

17,629. Which Proctor was it the stranger paid?—James Proctor, of Scotforth, No. 675. In addition to the 7*l.* which the stranger gave Jackson I gave him 10*s.*

17,630. (Mr. Newton.) Was that the night before the election?—Yes.

17,631. We have not got that?—I believe Mr. Wollaston did not give the name. The stranger altogether paid 40*l.* in Scotforth that night. Then next I paid a bill to William Jackson, September 11th, 6*l.* for the use of the house. He is a publican. I received that money from a Mr. Greenall, but I fancy it would come from Mr. Barker.

17,632. From whom did you receive the 10*s.* you gave to Jackson?—It was from monies I received from Mr. Cross. Then I paid Jackson, February 8th, 1866, 6*l.*, for a bill of refreshments and breakfasts, from money I received from Mr. Clark.

17,633. (Mr. Hill.) 6*l.* was a convenient sum for Mr. Jackson to make his bill up to?—I believe Mr. Clark arranged for his house.

17,634. Did he arrange that his bill should be always 6*l.*?—No, he had nothing to do with the bill; but he arranged 6*l.* for his house.

17,635. What was the next payment?—That is all I spent.

17,636. What sign does Mr. Jackson sell his beer under?—The "Bowling Green."

17,637. The sum you received altogether was 93*l.*?—Yes.

17,638. Have you given us an account of the expenditure of 93*l.*?—The first sum that I paid was 12*s.* to William Jackson for refreshments.

17,639. I do not want the items?—There was paid by the stranger 40*l.*

17,640. Besides the sums you have given what other sums have you spent?—12*s.* to William Jackson.

17,641. I do not want the items. Was it all spent at public-houses?—Not altogether. It was all spent at public-houses, with the exception of 1*l.* to Mr. Lawson and 13*s.* to Mr. Cross.

17,642. You paid bills at public-houses to the amount of 5*l.*?—Yes, and 1*l.* to Mr. Lawson.

17,643. What was that for?—I think it was monies to be spent at Galgate, and 13*s.* I returned to Mr. Cross. He got it from me for some one. That will make altogether 7*l.* 3*s.*

17,644. And that makes up 93*l.*?—Yes.

17,645. You appear to have kept your book very neatly?—I thought it better to put it so that you could understand it.

17,646. You have made it up since the election?—Yes.

17,647. From what?—Partly from memory and partly from a book.

17,648. Have you got the book from which you made it up?—I have got one of them showing the money paid by Mr. Wollaston, and some of the others.

17,649. You entered that at the time, did you?—Yes. I think Mr. Anthony Downham, of Scotforth, will give you some information with regard to voters. He took a very active part in getting the voters in the country, and will give you an account of some money paid to voters which has not been accounted for.

17,650. What is he?—He is an overseer there.

17,651. On which side?—On the Liberal side.

17,652. You believe he paid some of them?—Yes, I believe so.

17,653. Those are voters of whom we have not yet heard?—I think there are some of them who got more money than what they have accounted for.

17,654. You think it would answer the ends for which we are sent down here if we were to ask Mr. Downham a few questions?—I think so.

HENRY GORST sworn and examined.

17,655. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a flour dealer, in Church Street?—Yes.

17,656. You were active on the Conservative side at the last election?—I was.

17,657. Whom did you assist particularly?—I assisted in the Overton district.

17,658. What money did you receive for that purpose?—20*l.*

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

H. Gorst.

15 Sept. 1866.

17,659. 20*l.* in all ?—Yes, in all.

17,660. When did you receive it ?—I received 6*l.* previous to the election, perhaps a week before.

17,661. From whom ?—J. L. Bradshaw, and 2*l.* from Mr. William Storey.

17,662. Previous to the election ?—Yes, previous to the election ; 8*l.* from Mr. John Cross, and 4*l.* from a stranger ; I do not know.

17,663. How did you spend it ?—There was 10*l.* of it for myself for my services and vote ; 5*l.* I spent in refreshments, eating and drinking at Overton and the neighbourhood, and 5*l.* I returned again to John Cross.

17,664. You did not pay any voters ?—No, not any.

17,665. Is that all you have to tell us ?—That is all I know about the election ; the person you call Maddock, I did not know his name before, I took him down to Overton.

17,666. It is true he gave you 4*l.* ?—Yes.

17,667. When was that ?—That was on the day of the election.

17,668. On the morning of the election ?—I think it was in the afternoon.

17,669. (Mr. Hill.) Has Maddock had any talk with you ?—Very little.

17,670. Did he come to speak over the matter with you before he gave his evidence ?—I saw him before.

17,671. Did he speak with you before he gave his evidence ?—Yes, he did ; I was passing the "King's Arms," going down to the railway station on some business, and he followed me up.

17,672. He talked about the election ?—Yes.

17,673. Did he remind you that he had given you 4*l.* ?—No ; he said he had given me 3*l.*, and I said, "You are wrong, I shall contradict you upon that "point, you paid me 4*l.*"

17,674. And did you see Maddock on that day paying any voters ?—No.

17,675. Did you see him during the day ?—Yes, he was down at Overton ; we all came from Overton together.

17,676. You saw him pay the voters at Overton ?—No.

17,677. You did not see him pay any voters ?—No ; I pointed out two or three to him.

17,678. What was he doing after he had polled the Overton voters ?—I do not know.

17,679. Was he with you ?—He was with me but a very short time. I went to the "King's Arms" with him.

17,680. Do you believe he paid any voters ?—I do not know. I did not see him pay any. He was a perfect stranger to me. I did not even know his name.

17,681. Had he got any district at all assigned to him where he would be paying voters ?—He had Overton to pay.

17,682. Apart from Overton ?—Not to my knowledge.

17,683. To the best of your belief he did not pay any voters ?—Only the Overton voters.

17,684. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you know any voters except Overton voters whom he paid ?—No, I do not. I did not see him in company with any voters except Overton voters.

17,685. (Mr. Newton.) What time in the day was it he paid you the 4*l.* ?—It would be in the afternoon.

17,686. After he had polled the Overton voters ?—Yes.

17,687. What did he give it to you for ?—He gave it to make up the 6*l.* that J. L. Bradshaw gave me equal to the other voters.

17,688. That made 10*l.* ?—Yes.

17,689. Did you tell him that ?—He was going to give me 10*l.*, but I told him I had received 6*l.*, and that I only wanted 4*l.* more to be equal with the others.

17,690. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you receive anything from the other side ?—I received 5*s.*, but not on account of the election. That was, I think, a fortnight or three weeks before the election. There was a party invited me to have a ride up to Quernmore, and came up into my shop. I said "I do not mind, it is a fine day, I will go with you." I went with him, and going along the road he said, "Here is 5*s.*," he being a Quaker.

17,691. Did you promise your vote ?—No. Going along the road he said, "Here is 5*s.*, and you can treat your friends."

17,692. (Mr. Hill.) You are not a Quaker ?—No, I am not.

17,693. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a freeman ?—No.

17,694. A householder ?—Yes.

17,695. What is the rental of your house ?—24*l.*

17,696. And you received 10*l.* for your vote ?—Yes.

17,697. And 5*s.* from the other side ?—Yes.

W. Bingham

WILLIAM BINGHAM sworn and examined.

17,698. (Mr. Newton.) What are you ?—A cabinet-maker.

17,699. In whose employ are you ?—Messrs. Bell and Coupland.

17,700. Where do you live ?—In Edward Street.

17,701. Are you a freeman ?—Yes.

17,702. What part did you take in the election ?—I was on Mr. Coupland's committee.

17,703. How much money did he pay you ?—Mr. Harrison paid me 10*l.* on the morning of the election.

17,704. Did you pay away any money ?—No.

17,705. Is that all you got ?—I got 10*s.* on the nomination day.

17,706. Who from ?—From William Harrison.

17,707. The same man ?—Yes.

17,708. When did he pay you the 10*l.* ?—On the morning of the election.

17,709. When did he pay you the 10*s.* ?—On the nomination day, in the morning.

17,710. What was that for ?—For expenses during the election.

17,711. The 10*l.* was for your vote ?—It was given for being on the committee, I suppose.

17,712. Did anybody else pay you any money ?—Yes, George Jackson gave me 30*s.*

17,713. What was that for ?—He gave it to me on the Saturday previous to the election.

17,714. What else did you get ?—That was all I got.

17,715. 12*l.* ?—Yes, in all.

17,716. Did you pay anybody any money ?—No.

17,717. You are a journeyman in Messrs. Bell and Coupland's employment ?—Yes.

17,718. What are your wages ?—I work by piece work.

17,719. How much do you earn a week ?—It would average about 26*s.* a week perhaps.

T. Cranston.

THOMAS CRANSTON sworn and examined.

17,720. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A land steward.

17,721. You are steward to Mr. Garnett ?—Yes.

17,722. Who was formerly member for this borough ?—Yes.

17,723. How long have you been in Mr. Garnett's employ ?—About 15 years in the late Mr. Garnett's employ.

17,724. What are you in politics ?—I assisted the Conservatives.

17,725. What part did you take in the last election ?—I saw some of the voters in Quernmore.

17,726. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the last election ?—2*l.* from Mr. Clark, and 70*l.* from Mr. Wilson Barker.

17,727. G. C. Clark ?—Yes.

17,728. When did you receive it?—I do not know the date. I think it would be 10 days before the election.

17,729. Was that all the money you received at any time?—Yes.

17,730. Before or after the election?—Yes.

17,731. How did you lay out that money?—First of all I paid 15*s.* 6*d.* to John Curran, for expenses and trouble in going to see a voter; William Kelsall 7*s.* 6*d.*, and 5*l.*

17,732. What was that for?—7*s.* 6*d.* for expenses, and 5*l.* was for his vote.

17,733. You paid him yourself, did you?—Yes, I think I did, but I am not certain. Robert Huntington, 1*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.*, he is not a voter.

17,734. What was that for?—It was services and expenses. He was assisting in Quernmore. Richard Fox, 1*l.*

17,735. Is he a voter?—Yes.

17,736. What was that for?—He wanted it for expenses. After he voted he came to me and wanted something, and I gave him 1*l.* Richard Parkinson, 2*l.*

17,737. What was that for?—He was assisting the night before.

17,738. Is he a voter?—No. George Pease, 21*l.*

17,739. What was that for?—I suppose he would pay it away amongst the voters.

17,740. And gave one vote on the strength of it?—I do not know about that. He got other money besides I see. He will account for it I have no doubt.

17,741. What did George Pease do with that money?—I do not know; I fancy he paid it away to voters.

17,742. What voters?—I cannot tell; there were some he paid it to in Quernmore, as I know he gave money to them, and I know he had other money besides.

17,743. Who were the people in Quernmore that Pease paid?—I can give you the names.

17,744, I will have them afterwards. What is the next sum you paid?—The next is carriages and refreshments, 3*l.* 4*s.* 6*d.*, and I returned to Mr. Wilson Barker 37*l.* 5*s.*

17,745. Is that all the money you laid out?—Yes; but besides that I got from Mr. Pease 10*l.* for a voter, which I held till the man had voted.

17,746. That is a sum we have not had?—Yes.

17,747. How did you lay out that 10*l.*?—I gave it to a voter of the name of John Lamb, of Littledale. I am not quite certain whether it was 10*l.* or 12*l.* I did not count the money.

17,748. You paid that to Lamb yourself?—Yes.

17,749. Was there anything else that you laid out?—No, I paid no more money.

17,750. You were going to give me the names of these voters that Pease paid?—I fancy he paid to Cottam 10*l.* I did not see it paid, but I fancy Mr. Pease told me so.

17,751. To whom?—To James Cottam for his vote.

17,752. How much?—10*l.* I think it was. I think he told me so, and he also paid Brown, of Dolphin Lee, 8*l.*

17,753. He voted Fenwick and Lawrence?—Yes; then I think he also gave to Robert Curwen and John Curwen, William Curwen, Henry Hartley, William Lee, 5*l.* each, I believe. Those parties did not ask me for any money, but I think he told me he gave them that much.

17,754. Anybody else?—No, that is all.

17,755. That is 42*l.* He received 21*l.* from you; do you know what other sums he received?—No, I do not. I see since the Commission opened that he got some from Mr. Wilson Barker. I do not recollect the amount.

17,756. (Mr. Hill.) There is 6*l.* that he had, but you do not recollect the name of any other voter?—No, I do not.

17,757. Do you know Pease's address at present?—No.

17,758. Not who he works for?—I think he is out of business.

17,759. Have you any other persons to tell us of?—No, I think not.

17,760. You paid, then, yourself for their votes only Kelsall, Fox, and Parkinson, and Lamb?—Parkinson has not a vote.

17,761. Only Kelsall and Fox?—I did pay that, certainly. I got the money from Mr. Pease, and held it till he voted.

17,762. Did you bargain with Kelsall for his vote?—There was another man who had something to do with it.

17,763. But you arranged with Kelsall what he was to be paid?—Yes.

17,764. What is he?—A joiner.

17,765. Does he work for Mr. Garnett?—No, I think not. I do not think he has done any work for us for some time.

17,766. What did Richard Fox get it for?—After he voted he came to me and said he ought to have something for his expenses in coming, and I gave it him. I gave it to him after he had voted. He did not ask for anything.

17,767. Was he put to expenses?—He had seven or eight miles to come, or perhaps more; perhaps nine or ten miles.

17,768. He did not ask for anything for voting?—No, neither did the others. I think there was an arrangement between Mr. Pease and myself to give it to them.

17,769. To give it to all these Curwens?—Yes; they never asked me for anything.

17,770. Was this man paid after he had voted?—I did not see him paid.

17,771. Did these men never ask for anything?—They never asked for a farthing.

17,772. Do you mean to say you believe that their votes were not influenced at all?—I do not think they were; they were not by me at any rate.

17,773. But by the 5*l.*?—I do not know whether they were or not. I could not say positively.

17,774. Is this Fox that you have given us Richard Fox, of Littledale, farmer?—Yes, he is.

Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson recalled and further examined.

H. T. Wilson.

17,775. (Mr. Barstow.) We did not understand from you distinctly yesterday whether you expect to be repaid in any way the sum of money, or any portion of it, that you were out of pocket on account of the last Lancaster election?—No, I do not.

17,776. (Mr. Hill.) Then that still remains a debt of your own to the firm?—Yes.

17,777. So far as it is not written off on the books?—Yes.

17,778. (Mr. Newton.) As your own personal debt?—My own personal debt.

17,779. Can you tell us shortly what induced you to make this heavy expenditure on behalf of Mr. Lawrence?—I did it in consequence of what was told to me on the Monday.

17,780. On behalf of Mr. Lawrence?—It was on the Monday that I made up my mind to spend money.

17,781. Mr. Lawrence was your friend?—Yes.

17,782. You spent very nearly 3,000*l.* on his behalf?—2,200*l.*

17,783. What induced you to spend that money on his behalf, you not expecting to be repaid; tell us shortly?—I felt I had been instrumental in bringing Mr. Lawrence here, and when I saw that Mr. Schneider was prepared to pay heavily for the seat I was prepared then to spend money myself on Mr. Lawrence's behalf.

17,784. When you saw what you had drawn Mr. Lawrence into you felt yourself in duty bound to assist him with money?—Yes. I will not say "to assist him with money," but I felt that I had drawn him into the election, and that it was due to him that I should spend some of my own money to carry the seat if possible.

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

H. T. Wilson.

15 Sept. 1866.

JOHN LEEMING BRADSHAW sworn and examined.

J. L. Bradshaw.

17,785. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A linen and woollen draper.

17,786. In what street?—Market Street.

17,787. You took no active part in the last election on the Conservative side?—Yes, I took some little part; not a very active part.

17,788. Who do you consider to have been your captain?—No one especially.

17,789. You did not work in any particular district?—No, I just worked as I was requested by the different captains. They asked me if I had any influence, and where I had any, I assisted.

17,790. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election; tell us first the gross sum?—67*l.* altogether, but I must say I received a sum of 5*l.* further than that. That will not be debited to me by the captain. I handed it over to a man named Sampson, and I have not got it in my account, and I think the gentleman who paid the voters will have it against the man I paid it to; that will make 25*l.* more.

17,791. From whom did you receive this 67*l.*?—From Mr. Clark 4*l.*, and on the 1st of July 8*l.* from the same person; I received from John Cross 12*l.*

17,792. What date?—The 4th of July, I think. On the 11th, from Mr. Wilson Barker, 40*l.*; on the 12th, from Mr. William Storey, 2*l.*; and on the same day, from Mr. Coupland, 1*l.* I think it would be on the 11th I also received from the stranger at the "Sun" Inn the 5*l.* I have mentioned before.

17,793. What did you do with it?—I paid Mr. Dugdale, one of the attendants at the Lunatic Asylum, for himself and three others.

17,794. (Mr. Hill.) Three lunatics?—No; perhaps they might be considered so in that respect. That was for himself and three other voters, all attendants at the asylum.

17,795. (Mr. Barstow.) What are their names?—I do not know, but they are all attendants at the asylum. I gave the amount to Dugdale in the presence of two other persons.

17,796. What next?—The next was Simpson's wife; a dress, 1*l.*

17,797. Was that a dress from your own establishment?—Yes, it was.

17,798. Who is Simpson?—He is a voter living in the Derwent Road.

17,799. A householder?—I think he is. He is a labouring man.

17,800. What sort of a dress was this that you gave to Mrs. Simpson?—It was a winsey dress.

17,801. A "blue" dress?—Brown.

17,802. Bought with "Blue" money?—Yes. Then Henry Gorst, for assistance as captain of Overton, 6*l.*; Henry Ellershaw, Common Garden Street, 6*l.*

17,803. Does he keep a little hosier's shop?—Yes.

17,804. Who is the next?—His son, James Ellershaw, for vote and assistance, 6*l.*

17,805. Is he a young man in the shop?—He is in business in Market Street. Then there were my own expenses to Manchester to canvass the voters there, 1*l.*

17,806. That is a very moderate charge?—That is all it cost me. I was there on business, and of course paid my own railway fare, and did not charge that. The next is 4*l.* remitted to Mr. Hutton, of Manchester, to canvass the voters, and for expenses there.

17,807. Is he a voter himself?—He is a voter himself.

17,808. What is his christian name?—I do not know his first name; he is a painter, a freeman.

17,809. Is it John Hutton, of Fenton Street, painter?—Yes. I remitted to two voters in Manchester who were a little out of his way, they were a little way out of the town, a man named Dunderdale and Ralph, 1*l.* for both of them, 10*s.* each. Paid at Overton and Snatchem 7*s.* 6*d.*

17,810. For refreshments?—For refreshments.

17,811. Tell us where Snatchem is?—A small public-house about half way between Lancaster and Overton village.

17,812. On the river?—On the river side. Paid in town, in small sums, for treating 22*s.* 6*d.*

17,813. Is that all?—Yes, with the exception of the other which I explained.

17,814. That is within 10*s.* of the sum you received?—No, it is the exact sum.

17,815. You received 67*l.* you have told us, and you have accounted for 66*l.* 10*s.*?—You are correct, it is so.

17,816. I suppose you have nothing to say about the 10*s.*?—No, there is merely that Simpson. I got from the stranger at the "Sun" 5*l.*, and handed it to Simpson.

17,817. Which Simpson?—The same Simpson whose wife I gave the dress to; he is of Derwent Road, householder.

17,818. Where was the stranger?—At the "Sun Inn."

17,819. Do you know who the stranger was?—No.

17,820. Have you heard since?—No; but I expect he would be one of those gentlemen from Liverpool.

17,821. I forget who worked at the "Sun Inn?"—Mr. William Storey and Mr. Stanton were the captains, but I have no conception who the gentlemen were.

17,822. That is all you can tell us, is it?—That is all I have had to do with it.

17,823. Did you get anything for your own trouble?—Nothing at all.

17,824. You have never received any money at all since?—Not at all, not a farthing.

JAMES ELLERSHAW sworn and examined.

J. Ellershaw.

17,825. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Market Street.

17,826. What are you?—A hosier.

17,827. Are you a son of the gentleman who lives in Common Garden Street?—I am.

17,828. What did you do about the election?—I was sub-captain for the Market Street district, under Mr. Cross.

17,829. What were the first monies that you received for the purposes of the election?—1*l.*

17,830. Was that all?—The first money.

17,831. What did you receive in gross?—9*l.* altogether; 6*l.* from Mr. John L. Bradshaw, 1*l.* about a fortnight before the election; in the assembly room I received it.

17,832. Who from?—John Cross.

17,833. What was the next sum?—2*l.*

17,834. Who from?—John Cross.

17,835. The next?—6*l.* from John L. Bradshaw.

17,836. Is that all?—Yes, except 1*l.* 14*s.* that I received from John Cross to pay Mr. Barton, at the "Golden Ball."

17,837. How much did you receive from Bradshaw?—6*l.* and 1*l.* 14*s.* I received from John Cross to pay Mr. Barton.

17,838. That is not included in the 9*l.*?—No, the 1*l.* 14*s.* is included in Mr. Cross's expenses, he says.

17,839. You received then 10*l.* 14*s.*?—Yes.

17,840. How did you pay it?—1*l.* 14*s.* I paid at one shop, a drink shop.

17,841. Who to?—Mr. Barton.

17,842. For refreshments?—Yes.

17,843. Were the persons who were there voters?—Voters; and there were from 20 to 30 of the shipbuilding men, I should think, that and more.

17,844. Go on?—The first 1*l.*, which I received a fortnight before, I spent in treating one and another.

17,845. In different places?—In different places.

17,846. In treating up and down the town?—In Market Street, except 10*s.* 6*d.*, which I gave to Richard Tomlinson, who voted against us. Then I had 2*l.* the night before the election from John Cross and that I spent.

17,847. You said something about 10*s.* 6*d.* just now?—10*s.* 6*d.* I gave to Richard Tomlinson at different times.

17,848. What was the next?—2*l.* I received from John Cross on the nomination night.

17,849. What did you do with that?—I spent it at the "Golden Ball," that and more.

17,850. In treating again?—In treating again; the 1*l.* 14*s.* I did not spend.

17,851. Do not run on, but answer the questions? What did you do with the remainder?—6*l.*?

17,852. Yes?—I spent 1*l.* 10*s.* out of it, and the rest I kept myself.

17,853. The balance you kept for yourself?—I did.

17,854. There is 1*l.* 14*s.* you have not told us of?—It was merely a bill that Mr. Cross had to pay.

17,855. Where?—At the "Golden Ball."

17,856. You spent a good deal in eating and drinking?—Yes.

17,857. (Mr. Hill.) Did you receive anything else?—Nothing.

17,858. Are you a householder or a freeman?—A householder.

17,859. (Mr. Newton.) What is the value of your house?—33*l.*

17,860. 33*l.* rental?—Yes.

17,861. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A grocer and provision dealer.

17,862. Where?—In Common Garden Street.

17,863. Are you a Conservative?—Yes.

17,864. What part did you take in the last election?—Well, I believe they put me down captain.

17,865. For what district?—For Common Garden district.

17,866. With whom?—With Mr. John Hatch.

17,867. What monies did you receive at the last election?—(Referring to a paper) 41*l.*

17,868. When did you receive that, and from whom?—June the 26th, from G. Clark.

17,871. When?—I have no date to it.

17,872. Now the next?—G. Clark 1*l.*

17,873. The next?—That was on the 10th of July. Then on the 12th 5*l.*

17,874. Who from?—G. Clark.

17,876. How much?—33*l.* 10*s.*

17,877. When was that?—The night before the election.

17,878. The next?—No more.

17,879. Was 33*l.* 10*s.* the last?—33*l.* 10*s.*

17,880. That makes altogether 41*l.*?—Yes.

17,881. How did you lay out that money?—Well, the first that I had was 10*s.*

17,882. How did you lay out the money is my question?—I laid it out in treating voters.

17,883. In refreshing voters?—Yes.

17,884. Where at?—In different places.

17,885. Now the next sum?—1*l.*

17,886. How did you lay that out?—In the same way.

17,887. The next?—The same way.

17,888. How much was the next?—1*l.*

17,889. Now the next?—The next was 5*l.*

17,890. How did you lay that out?—That was laid out on the election morning for expenses.

17,891. Expenses, of what character?—In breakfasts and refreshments for the voters.

17,892. Where at?—My own house.

17,893. How many voters had you at your house?—Well, I cannot say exactly.

17,894. Under what sign do you sell your refreshments; what is the name of your house?—It is my own sign.

17,895. Did they have 5*l.* worth of sweets?—No, they had breakfasts.

17,896. You sold them 5*l.* worth of refreshments?—No.

17,897. How many voters had you there?—Perhaps from 10 to 15.

17,898. Breakfasts at 10*s.* a head; is yours a licensed house?—No.

17,899. What had they for breakfast?—They had ham and eggs and coffee.

17,900. And potted shrimps, I suppose; no spirits or beer?—Oh no; they were not likely to get anything of that kind weren't the voters, I should think; I would treat them with gin.

17,901. Gin?—Yes, and rum and ale.

17,902. But you had no license to sell that?—Well, I did not sell it.

17,903. You gave it away and received the money for it, that is what we call selling. That was 5*l.*?—Yes.

17,904. For 10 or 15 voters?—Yes.

17,905. What was the next sum that you laid out?—I laid out to J. Binless 2*l.*; he was in the Old Man's Hospital. I paid him through John Cross. John Cross gave me 33*l.* 10*s.*

17,906. So you have told us; you gave J. Binless how much?—2*l.*

17,907. Did you give him the money with your own hand?—Yes.

17,908. Now the next?—William Harrison.

17,909. What is he?—A butcher.

17,910. He got more than 2*l.* then?—2*l.*

17,911. Only 2*l.*?—2*l.*

17,912. The next?—Miller.

17,913. What Miller?—J. Miller.

17,914. What is he?—A freeman.

17,915. What trade or occupation?—A shoemaker.

17,917. Is Miller a householder?—A freeman.

17,918. Mr. Miller is a householder, is he not?—I cannot speak to that.

17,919. What did you get for yourself?—I got nothing.

17,920. Except from the balance of the breakfasts?—There was no balance after all was done I do assure you. I would not like to take the honour of the post again.

17,921. You have nothing else to tell us?—No, nothing particular. I think one side was as bad as the other, and therefore the less I say the better.

17,922. That is no reason why you should not tell anything you know; two wrongs do not make a right, you know?—No, I believe there was no right.

17,923. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a householder?—I am.

John Hatch sworn and examined. J. Hatch.

17,924. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In New Street.

17,925. What are you?—A joiner; at the time of the election I lived in Queen's Place.

17,926. What did you do at the last election?—Not very much; I only started on the evening of the nomination day.

17,927. Did you receive any money?—Yes.

17,928. Whom did you assist?—Mr. James Wilson.

17,929. The last witness?—Yes.

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

J. Hatch.

15 Sept. 1866.

17,930. What money did you receive?—Altogether 10*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.*

17,931. From whom did you receive that?—From Mr. John Cross.

17,932. When?—On the morning of the election, July the 12th.

17,933. How did you spend it?—To John Satterthwaite 10*l.* I had some loose money myself, but I got 2*s.* 6*d.* from Mr. Cross as well.

17,934. Who is Satterthwaite?—In Spring Garden Street he lived at that time; he is a cabinet-maker.

17,935. Where did you pay him?—In Mr. Wilson's.

17,936. That is all the money you spent, is it?—Yes, it is all the money I spent and all I received.

T. P. Standen.

THOMAS PARKIN STANDEN sworn and examined.

17,937. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Lodge Street.

17,938. Are you a householder or a freeman?—A freeman.

17,939. What are you?—A painter.

17,940. What part did you take in the election of 1865?—I was engaged by Mr. Cross to look after voters.

17,941. You were a captain under Mr. Cross?—Yes.

17,942. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—34*l.*

17,943. Who did you receive it from?—I received 22*l.* from Mr. Cross and 12*l.* from Mr. Hagart; no, 12*l.* from Mr. Cross and 22*l.* from Mr. Hagart.

17,944. How did you spend that money?—10*l.* I gave to William Hodgson for his vote.

17,945. Where does he live?—In "Golden Ball" Yard, off Market Street. He is a smith I believe.

17,946. How much to him?—10*l.* 12*l.* to William Ireland.

17,947. What is he?—He is a labourer.

17,948. Where does he live?—On Castle Hill, I believe; and 12*l.* to William Ralph.

17,949. Where does he live?—At Castle Hill.

17,950. That is 34*l.*?—Yes.

17,951. Where did you pay these men?—I paid two of them in the street, and one I paid in a public-house in China Lane.

17,952. Where did you get the money from?—At the "Golden Ball," in Market Street.

17,953. Did you receive anything for yourself?—Yes.

17,954. You have not told us about that?—On the 6th of October I received 2*l.*

17,955. From whom?—From Mr. Barker.

17,956. What for?—For services rendered; and 1*s.* from Mr. Cross for refreshments on the election day.

17,957. (Mr. Hill.) Was anything spoken to you about being paid for your assistance before you did the work?—No.

17,958. Did you expect anything?—Yes, I rather did, because I had given up a situation as check clerk in one of the polling booths, and I thought I was entitled to some recompense.

17,959. What do they give the check clerks?—A guinea each.

17,960. You gave up that because you thought you would get something better?—No, I did not think about that.

17,961. Who appointed you check clerk?—Mr. Clark, the solicitor.

17,962. (Mr. Newton.) Were you with Cross when Hagart paid all these men?—Yes, I was in the place at the time. Money was handed over to me to give to the men.

17,963. And they got it?—Yes.

17,964. Were you helping to bring the men up?—Yes, I was on the look out for them; Ralph was not in the room when the money was paid.

I. Hargreaves.

JOHN HARGREAVES sworn and examined.

17,965. (Mr. Hill.) You are a nurseryman?—Yes.

17,966. And a Conservative in politics?—Yes, rather so.

17,967. I apprehend by the use of the word "rather" you took an interest in the last election?—Not particularly so.

17,968. What did you do?—I looked about, like other people, after voters.

17,969. Looking after voters, where?—Up and down the town; I was tied to no district.

17,970. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the election?—I received 2*l.* from George Clark.

17,971. When?—About two days before the election.

17,972. What was the next sum?—3*l.*

17,973. From whom?—John Cross.

17,974. When?—On the night before the election.

17,975. What was the next sum?—None.

17,976. Is that all you received?—Yes.

17,977. That was not very much to go up and down the town with?—No, it was not.

17,978. How did you spend the 5*l.*?—I spent it in going round on the election.

17,979. It was all spent in refreshing the voters?—Yes.

17,980. And giving them shillings and so on?—Yes.

17,981. You did not choose any particular public at which to expend your money?—No.

17,982. Have you got anything more to say about the election?—No.

17,983. Did you receive anything for yourself?—No, not a farthing.

17,984. That you are sure of?—Yes.

17,985. Are you expecting anything?—No.

H. Riley.

HESKETH RILEY sworn and examined.

17,986. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A warehouseman.

17,987. Where do you live?—In Common Garden Street.

17,988. What part did you take in the last election?—I was a runner.

17,989. Are you a voter?—No.

17,990. Did you receive any money?—I received 7*s.* 6*d.* from Mr. Cross.

17,991. Anything else?—No; that is what I received.

17,992. Have you anything to tell us?—Nothing at all.

17,993. That is all?—Yes.

17,994. Is that really all?—Yes, that is really all.

17,995. Did you offer anyone any money?—No. I offered no man money.

17,996. Did anyone offer you money besides the 7*s.* 6*d.*?—No.

J. McCann.

JOHN MCCANN sworn and examined.

17,997. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In King Street.

17,998. What are you?—A cab proprietor.

17,999. Have you anything to say with regard to the election of 1865?—Yes, a little bit.

18,000. That means a good bit, I suppose? What monies did you receive for that election?—23*l.*

18,001. From whom did you receive it?—I got 20*l.* at the "Golden Ball," in Market Street, but I cannot tell from whom. He was a stranger to me; but John Cross was there, and he will be able to tell you. I do not know the man. I never saw him before.

18,001*a*. Where did you get the other 3*l*. ?—I got 2*l*. off John Cross.

18,002. Where did you get the other pound?—1*l*. off George Vince, at Morecambe.

18,003. How did you spend this 23*l*. ?—I paid 10*l*. for a committee room in Nicholas Street. I suppose it would be for his vote and all, for anything I know.

18,004. Where at ?—The "Golden Ball," in Nicholas Street.

18,005. What is his name?—I think it is Richard Townley.

18,006. It was for his vote and all?—I cannot tell. I suppose it was. I engaged the committee room, and he charged 10*l*. for it, and voted for Lawrence a plumper.

18,007. How did you spend the other money?—I gave 5*l*. to Thomas Slinger; that was for a split vote between Fenwick and Lawrence. Then I gave Edmund Hoggarth, for a split vote the same way. I split, too, with Hoggarth.

18,008. What did you get for your vote?—I got nothing.

18,009. How did you spend the other 3*l*. ?—In treating, and so on.

18,010. The balance of 3*l*. was spent in treating ?—Yes. I spent 1*l*. at Morecambe; I daresay Robert Shackleton will tell you about that. I had not as much as he had. He will tell you about my being down at Morecambe. He made remarks about me. It was the only time I was there. He had a pocket full of sovereigns, and took out a handful and shook them at me.

18,011. He would not give you any ?—No; I asked him.

18,012. I suppose if you had got some from him you would have voted for Schneider ?—No; I should have spent it on Lawrence's side.

18,013. What! Schneider's money ?—Yes, I would, if I had got hold of it; I would so.

18,014. (Mr. Barstow.) You got nothing for yourself?—Not a penny.

18,015. (Mr. Hill.) What did you get for voting for Fenwick ?—Nothing. I promised the other party, Hoggarth, if he would vote for Fenwick and Lawrence, I would split, too, the same way. I wanted to keep Schneider out.

18,016. Why ?—I did not want him.

18,017. What made you dislike him ?—No, there was no reason why I should dislike him.

18,018. Then why did you want to keep him out?—Because I thought he had no business in.

18,019. He has got plenty of money ?—I daresay he has; no doubt about it.

18,020. You say you gave 10*l*. for Richard Townley's committee room, and his vote and all. Were there any committees held there ?—Yes.

18,021. Committee meetings?—Yes.

18,022. What sort of committee meetings ?—I call them drinking meetings.

18,023. The drink was paid for ?—Yes.

18,024. (Mr. Newton.) You spent the 3*l*. there ?—Yes.

18,025. (Mr. Hill.) Was there much deliberation on political questions ?—I do not know anything about that.

18,026. You did not discuss the Reform Bill ?—No. I am no scholar, and it is a good job I isn't.

18,027. (Mr. Newton.) Who helped you at Morecambe ?—I went down with George Vince. I was only the driver.

18,028. Did anybody else go ?—Yes; Bulfield, Edward Musheder, and I think Cross was there, and Thomas Procter, of China Lane.

18,029. Did you ever go to Mr. Wilson Barker in September ?—I went for my money after the election.

18,030. You never told us about that?—That was for posting.

18,031. You never told us about that?—I had a contract.

18,032. When did you go to Mr. Wilson Barker?—I cannot exactly say when. I have it all down here. That is for canvassing and all (handing some papers to the Commissioners).

18,033. You went the 15th of August ?—Very likely I might. I could not say exactly.

18,034. What is the other paper you have in your hand ?—It is only a paper belonging to Fenwick and Schneider (handing a paper to the Commissioners).

18,035. You contracted with each party ?—Yes. I was on at both ends.

18,036. You received 130*l*. altogether from both sides?—Yes, I daresay I should.

18,037. I do not wonder at your politics being both-sided?—I had a deal to hire. I had three or four pair from Kendal.

18,038. 81*l*. 11*s*. from Mr. Barker, and 48*l*. from the other side ?—49*l*. 17*s*.

18,039. (Mr. Hill.) How much of that did you consider to be for your vote ?—Not a penny.

18,040. You would not have voted for Fenwick if you had not had that contract?—I would not have voted for Schneider. I never intended to.

18,041. Would you have given Lawrence a vote unless you had that contract?—Yes, I would. I always voted that way.

18,042. The contract had no influence upon your vote?—No, not a bit.

18,043. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you make your contract?—I included everything. If I had a carriage or two broke I had to make it good myself, and at election times you very often do have them broke, and of course, at election times, you charge heavier prices than at other times. I stood all the risk of any breakages.

18,044. I do not know now what your contract was?—There are eight pair of horses at 8*l*. a pair, and six pair the other side at 8*l*. a pair.

18,045. The contract was only for the polling day?—The nomination and polling day.

18,046. You had to find the party with whatever carriages they desired that day?—So many pairs; eight pairs for Lawrence, a one-horse carriage, and six pairs for the other side.

18,047. You have not brought us the contract?—No.

18,048. How much do you reckon a pair of horses a-day ?—I have charged 8*l*. a pair for the two days, and one horse.

18,049. And you stood all risks ?—Yes.

18,050. And you charge for drivers besides ?—I believe Mr. Fenton paid the drivers for Lawrence.

18,051. The drivers are included in Fenwick and Schneider's bill ?—Very likely they will be.

18,052. (Mr. Hill.) You charge a good deal more at election times than at other times?—Double, and little enough too.

18,053. Did you pay the Kendal men election price, or ordinary price?—I paid as little as I could.

18,054. You paid them the ordinary price, and charged election price?—No, they know how to charge at Kendal.

18,055. Who was that, Mr. Jackson?—No, Mr. Barrett, at the "Commercial." I think I had three or four pair from him, and I had a pair from another party.

18,056. You cannot read or write?—No.

18,057–8. (Mr. Barstow.) You may not be able to read or write, but you know your business?—I can charge when I have a chance. I have followed the job long enough to know it.

Adjourned to Monday next at 12 o'clock.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Monday, 17th September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. Barstow. | Mr. Newton.

Mr. Hill.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

J. Sharp.

17 Sept. 1866.

John Sharp sworn and examined.

18,059. (Mr. Barstow.) I believe you are a solicitor practising in this place?—I am.

18,060. Have you been generally active at elections on the Conservative side?—I have. I have had the management of several elections myself, as the professional agent; Mr. Garnett's two elections, and two for Mr. Greene.

18,061. We understand that at the last election you were the chairman of Mr. Lawrence's committee?—I was.

18,062. Of whom did that committee consist?—I cannot tell you. I can tell you that I received a requisition, after the canvass had proceeded some time, to act as chairman. I had taken no active part in the election and refused to do so; and I will tell you why I refused to do so. I hold the office of district registrar of the Court of Probate here, and I considered that I was better out of such things. I then received a requisition, which I have in my pocket, and which I will hand to you: it purports to proceed from the committee of Mr. Lawrence. I know of no gentlemen on the committee but those who signed that requisition. (The paper referred to is handed by the witness to the Commissioners.) You will observe that I was not a party to the formation of the committee, nor was I at all connected with it until some time after the commencement of the election. I cannot tell you the date when I received that requisition.

18,063. I understood you to say that you took no active part in the election until you received this requisition?—I took no part in it at all, and then I did not accept the invitation that requisition gave me for a day. I considered it.

18,064. I see this requisition is not dated?—No, it is not dated, and I cannot tell you the day on which I received it. I know it was on a Friday.

18,065. I suppose it would be something more than a week before the election?—Yes, I think it was.

18,066. Perhaps it would be the Friday week before the election?—Probably it would be about that time, but I cannot tell precisely; it was on a Friday.

18,067. That would be somewhere about the 1st of July?—I daresay it might. If it is important I perhaps might be able to come a little nearer than saying it probably was, but it was on a Friday, and it was after the canvass had commenced, and I think it was about a week before the election.

18,068. You were chairman of this committee; did you ever attend any of its deliberations?—I did.

18,069. About how often?—I should think I was there every day, more or less. I was very much occupied at the time at my office, but I was generally there in the evening or afternoon.

18,070. You were there part of every day for a week before the election?—Yes, I imagine so. I principally went there in the evening to see the result of the canvass of the day.

18,071. Did any considerable number of the gentlemen whose names I see here attend the committee?—Yes. I have seen them all there, I have no doubt, at time and time.

18,072. I may assume that, they being the general committee, your deliberations were very innocent?—Well, sir, our deliberations were how we could carry our candidate; but I knew nothing of any unfair means, and I certainly set my face against them as far as I could.

18,073. You never heard mention of any unfair means at those meetings?—I can tell you this, on one occasion I was present at the committee five or six days before the election, when a man came in and wanted some money; he was a very respectable tradesman in the town, and I presume I am bound to give you his name; his name is Robert Simpson, and he lives in St. Nicholas Street.

18,074. (Mr. Hill.) Is he a voter?—He is a voter.

18,075. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you understand that he wanted the money for himself?—He did not apply to me for it, but I heard him say this, that it was quite useless attempting to carry Mr. Lawrence's election unless his people were allowed to spend money, as money was flying on the other side in any quantity.

18,076. Did Simpson; then receive any money?—He did not to my knowledge, and I said that money, so far as I was concerned, should not be given for any such purpose.

18,077. Do you recollect having any conversation with anybody about the election on the subject of spending money?—I do.

18,078. With whom?—I had a conversation with Mr. Lawrence about it.

18,079. With Mr. Lawrence, the candidate?—With Mr. Lawrence, the candidate; and I will tell you, if you will allow me, how that conversation arose.

18,080. Tell us, if you please, as shortly as you can?—It arose in this way, I had learned in the course of the week, before the nomination and election, that Mr. Schneider had said that if Mr. Lawrence got in he should spend 10,000*l.* I pooh-poohed that, and said it was nonsense, that no such thing should at all induce us to do otherwise than what was right, and that I did not believe it. I heard this repeated afterwards by a gentleman who had told me before, and who said that Mr. Schneider had repeated it to him. I still said I did not believe anything of the kind, that I did not believe that anything of that sort would be done. On the day of the nomination, and after the nomination was over, I heard that Mr. Schneider had said to Mr. Chamberlain Starkie the same thing, and, happening to be alone with Mr. Lawrence in the "King's Arms," I referred to what I had just heard, and what he had heard also, about what Mr. Schneider had said.

18,081. On what day was this?—This was on the day of the nomination, after the nomination.

18,082. It was with reference to the conversation that we have heard of between Mr. Starkie and Mr. Schneider?—Yes, I had heard of it times before that. I referred to what I had heard, and Mr. Lawrence said he had heard the same thing. I said, "Well, "Mr. Lawrence, I do not know what your fortune is, "or what your family obligations may be, but if I "were you I would not spend a shilling in anything "but legitimate expenses."

18,083. What did Mr. Lawrence reply to that?—Mr. Lawrence replied that he did not intend to do so. I daresay more would have passed, but just at that moment our conversation was interrupted by two or three people coming into the room, and it was not pursued further.

18,084. Had you any conversation with anyone else on the subject? In fact, had you any conversation with Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson?—I see Mr. Wilson has said something. I do not remember that conversation with him. I am quite sure that if he had said so to me I should have given him the answer that he has told you I did give him, that I should advise him to contest the election on principles of propriety and purity.

18,085. But you do not remember that conversation?—No, I do not; I have no doubt that it took place, but I do not remember it.

18,086. Then we may take it, generally, that you discountenanced anything in the nature of the illegal expenditure of money?—I certainly did, and I would not have allowed it if I could have prevented it.

18,087. And you know nothing about it?—Except from what has transpired, I did not know that any illegal practices were being resorted to until, in the course of the polling, I looked at the poll-sheets as they came in, when I saw that a number of voters who had promised their votes for Mr. Lawrence, and who, I thought, were reliable men, were polling on the other side. I then began to suspect that there was foul play, but not till then.

18,088. Perhaps the reverse was the case, that men who had promised to vote for Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider were polling on your side?—That is quite possible, but I did not observe that; I was looking more after my own flock than theirs, and I did not care what was happening on the other side.

18,089. But your eyes must have been pretty well opened at that time?—I suspected what was going on.

18,090. I should think that suspicion at an election time is pretty much the same thing as having your eyes wide open?—That is a matter of opinion.

18,091. Did you act upon your suspicion with a view of stopping or interfering with what was going on?—No; how could I?

18,092. I should think that you could. I do not know. Might you not have issued orders for the expenditure to cease?—I did not know where it was coming from. I did not know what we were spending. Our remark was that voters were going from our side to theirs, and therefore the expenditure would be from them, and they, of course, would not obey my orders.

18,093. At any rate, as a fact, you did not interfere?—I did not, and I do not know positively that any illegal practices were resorted to.

18,094. Had you anything to do with the expenditure at the election, either legal or illegal?—No, nothing.

18,095. You knew nothing of any preliminary expenses?—No, not at all.

18,096. You probably have read the evidence, or a portion of it, that has been given here?—I have; not very diligently, but I have read portions of it.

18,097. Have you seen that for a Considerable time before the election, both on the Conservative and on the other side, small sums were given to people for the purpose of treating electors?—I have.

18,098. You had no knowledge of that?—No, I had not.

18,099. When you went about the town did you see the public-houses placarded?—I went out very little about the town. I stirred out very little. I confined myself principally to the office, and my journey was from my office to the committee room to see the result of the canvass from day to day.

18,100. Did you see no indication of a great deal of drinking going on?—I saw people drunk in the streets, as is the case at all elections; but I saw no excessive drinking that I know of.

18,101. Then, I suppose, you can tell us nothing on the subject of our inquiry?—I wish I could. I will tell you all I can. What I know is very little, and does not apply to any illegal practices.

18,102. We are quite aware that the chairman of a general committee is not likely to know anything of such practices. Do you know Mr. Lawrence's brother?—I do.

18,103. Did you see him here at the time of the election?—I am not sure whether I saw him until the morning of the election or the night before, but I certainly saw him at the "King's Arms" with Mr. Lawrence. I did not know who he was. I was not introduced to him, but I was struck with the resemblance between him and his brother, and I asked, I think, Mr. Wilson who he was, and he told me he was Mr. Lawrence's brother.

18,104. Did you know Mr. Taylor, Mr. Lawrence's partner?—No.

18,105. Did you never see him here?—I do not know him.

18,106. (Mr. Hill.) Have you seen from Mr. Barker's statement that there was a considerable sum of money expended on the Conservative side before the 10th of July, that is, before the nomination day?—Yes.

18,107. To an extent exceeding 2,500*l.*? Did the expenditure of so large a sum of money as that in Lancaster entirely escape your observation?—Yes, it did. I did not know of it.

18,108. Did you not know of the payments that were made to public-houses?—No, not anything.

18,109. Do I understand you to say that you were rather less aware of the bribing of voters than of the treating of voters?—I am aware from past experience that there is always a little treating going on, but to no great extent. I can tell you what my experience has been as to the cost of elections, and I saw nothing going on beyond what had gone on before.

18,110. With regard to Mr. Greene's election, which you managed, what were the expenses at that election?—I happen to be able to tell you what the expenditure was although I had nothing to do with it, except in a subordinate character. I was assisting at the committee. I know what the expenditure by Mr. Greene was on the occasion of the contest between him and Mr. Marton, and Mr. Patrick Stewart and Mr. William Rathbone Gregg. That is a good many years ago.

18,111. What election was that?—I do not remember the date, but it was a good many years ago. It was when Mr. Patrick Stewart was defeated, and ceased to represent Lancaster.

18,112. We have not gone quite so far back as that?—There were then two Conservative candidates, Mr. Greene and Mr. Marton on the one side, and Mr. Patrick Stewart and Mr. William Rathbone Gregg on the other.

18,113. What do you say were Mr. Greene's expenses?—Mr. Greene's expenses at that election were 400*l.*

18,114. Perhaps you will be able to give the Commissioners the date of that at some other time?—I will try to find it out for you. I can tell you who the candidates were, and that perhaps will mark it sufficiently. I can tell you what Mr. Greene's expenses were on the occasion of the contest between him and Mr. John Armstrong. Mr. Robert Armstrong was elected and was unseated. Mr. Greene was then elected, and then Mr. Greene afterwards contested the borough in opposition to Mr. John Armstrong.

18,115. In April 1853?—Yes; Mr. Greene's expenses at the contest in 1853 were either a little under or a little over 600*l.* I can tell you how I account for the difference between the 400*l.* and the 600*l.* Certain expenses would be common to him and to Mr. Marton in the 400*l.* The fight on that occasion was foot to foot between the two parties; and therefore Mr. Greene would bear the whole.

18,116. Now come, if you please, to the next election?—The next election with which I am acquainted was Mr. James Garnett's first election.

18,117. In March 1857?—I daresay it was.

18,118. What were Mr. Garnett's expenses then?—His expenses were about 1,000*l.* The next election

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

J. Sharp.

17 Sept. 1866.

of Mr. Garnett's you will have the date of, I daresay. He represented Lancaster twice.

18,119. April 1859 ?—Yes ; his expenses on that occasion exceeded 1,000*l.* a little ; I believe they were about 1,200*l.*

18,120. Is there any other election as to which you can give us information ?—No.

18,121. Do you know anything of the cost of the election of Fenwick and Saunders ?—No ; I did not even vote on that occasion.

18,122. What number of voters were paid for by Mr. Garnett in 1857 ?—I do not know, I am sure.

18,123. About how many should you say ?—I cannot tell at all ; I was not the cashier.

18,124. But I thought you would have heard since? —No, certainly not. I really do not know of any votes having been paid for. I am quite willing to believe it, and to say I have no doubt that there was money spent, that was illegally spent in treating and in paying voters their wages for coming out of the country ; but I think that the practice of making naked purchases of votes had not then arisen in the borough.

18,125. You think that at that time there was no regular price for votes and no regular practice of buying and selling votes ?—No, I do not think there was.

18,126. Was there any in 1859, when the expenditure had risen to 1,200*l.* ?—No.

18,127. Then, to the best of your belief, neither Mr. Greene nor Mr. Garnett ever purchased a vote ?—I do not think they did. I do not mean to say that they did not agree to give any money to a voter who came out of the country if he was a labourer.

18,128. And perhaps they would give him a more liberal payment for his day's wages than he would usually get ?—Probably.

I. Willacy.

ISABELLA WILLACY sworn and examined.

18,129. (Mr. Newton.) You live at the "King's Arms," at Morecambe ?—Yes, I do.

18,130. How long have you lived there ?—I have been living there going seven years.

18,131. Have you been a widow all that time ?—No, I am not a widow at all.

18,132. Have you got a husband, then ?—Yes ; I should not like to be a widow.

18,133. Did the voters come to your house ?—Yes.

18,134. At the election in 1865 ?—Yes, they did.

18,135. There was a committee room there ?—Yes.

18,136. Who took the committee room ?—I really do not know. There was a deal of Lancaster people ; I was amongst them.

18,137. Did Vince come to your house ?—Yes.

18,138. He was a sub-captain ?—Something of that sort, I daresay.

18,139. And he took the room, did he not ?—He did not. Mr. Coupland took the room.

18,140. What was he to pay you for the use of the room ?—I got 10*l.* for two rooms. We had two committee rooms.

18,141. How long before the election did he take those rooms ?—Well, I do not know ; perhaps a fortnight, or something like that.

18,142. And he used to come there every night ?—Well, not exactly every night, but they frequently came three or four times a week, or something like that.

18,143. How many people used to come ?—Really I cannot say—sometimes seven or eight, or one or two ; sometimes more and sometimes less.

18,144. Can you tell me their names ?—No, I cannot tell their names exactly. Mr. Cross and George Vince, and Mr. Bulfield, the landlord of the "Queen's."

18,145. Mr. Bond ?—I do not know him.

18,146. Did Mr. Edmondson come ?—John Edmondson ; I do not know that he did.

18,147. Did Mr. John Curwen come ?—Yes, he did.

18,148. And did Mr. James Bell come ?—He did not frequent the committee room at all. He had nothing to do with it.

18,149. Mr. Charles Lodge, did he come ?—He did.

18,150. And Mr. Bulfield ?—Yes, he did.

18,151. And Mr. Thomas Procter ?—I do not know that I ever saw him before the morning of the election.

18,152. You saw him there that morning ?—Yes, I did.

18,153. What was Proctor doing there that morning ?—I really do not know ; he just came into the lobby and out again ; he never sat down in the house.

18,154. Was anybody with him ?—I think not ; he walked right through and out again.

18,155. There was Lodge, Bulfield, Proctor, Vince, Bell, and Curwen ?—Lodge had nothing to do with it.

18,156. But he used to come to your house ?—Only once, and that was when Mr. Lawrence made his speech.

18,157. Did you ever see any treating going on there with the voters ?—Yes, a deal of treating was going on.

18,158. Who used to treat the voters ?—I really do not know indeed ; I treated them.

18,159. You treated them ?—Yes, I did.

18,160. How long before the election ?—The Friday before ; the election was on the Wednesday. There was a little before that, but it was very little. I think that the bill had only run to 3*l.* or 4*l.* before that.

18,161. And then you went into it pretty well on the Friday ?—Yes, we did on the Friday night.

18,162. How much did you give them on the Friday night ?—I cannot exactly say ; perhaps 7*l.* or 8*l.*, or something like that.

18,163. Before that there was only about 3*l.* ?—Yes, there was not 4*l.* It was something betwixt 3*l.* and 4*l.*

18,164. Did you not send in a bill on the 7th of July for 8*l.* 5*s.* 3*d.* ?—I did not.

18,165. Did your husband send in any bill ?—No, he did not.

18,166. "July 7th, bill delivered, 8*l.* 5*s.* 3*d.* ?"—Not from me.

18,167. Is your husband James Willacy ?—Yes, he is.

18,168. On Saturday night you had a good lot ?—Yes, we had.

18,169. And then again on the Monday night ?—Yes.

18,170. And on the Tuesday night ?—Yes.

18,171. And then on the 12th, the day of the election ?—Yes.

18,172. On the 7th and 8th the amount of the bill was 8*l.* 5*s.* 1*d.* 17 bottles of gin, 11 glasses of brandy, six bottles of whisky, and so on, and at the end of all your bill amounted to 41*l.* 7*s.* ?—I daresay it did, but I cannot account for it, whether it did or did not.

18,173. Who paid you that money ?—Mr. Coupland. I got 28*l.* from him, and 10*l.* from Mr. Gibson.

18,174. What did you receive from Coupland ?—28*l.*, and 10*l.* from Mr. Gibson.

18,175. How did you get the remainder ?—27*l.* 11*s.*, I believe, I received from Mr. Coupland ; I believe that was the sum.

18,176. Did you see any money going about on the afternoon of the nomination day ?—I did not see any in the afternoon, but I did at night.

18,177. Who had the money ?—I had.

18,178. Who gave it to you ?—I do not know.

18,179. A stranger ?—Yes ; I never saw him before or since.

18,180. What was he like?—A little dark-complexioned man, with a dark billycock hat on; I thought he was a Welshman.

18,181. Do you know his name?—I do not.

18,182. What did he call himself?—He called himself nothing. He was not three minutes there.

18,183. Then you had not much conversation with him?—He just jumped out of the gig. I was standing at the front door, "Are you Mrs. Willacy?" I said, "Yes, sir." He said, "If you will go upstairs "into a private room with me I will give you some "money."

18,184. Did he say what for?—He did not.

18,185. I suppose you knew pretty well?—Yes, I did, I thought.

18,186. What made you think him a Welshman?—I have heard those captains that come off those vessels from Wales, and I thought he was one of them.

18,187. Do you think that all the captains who come to Morecambe come from Wales?—We can tell them.

18,188. Did you ever hear Irish there?—Well——

18,189. Supposing he should turn out to be an Irishman?—I do not know; he might be an Irishman.

18,190. I think he was probably?—I do not know.

18,191. He gave you the money; how much?—I believe 200*l.* that night, and he brought me some more in the morning.

18,192. Was the money in gold or notes?—It was in gold.

18,193. 200*l.*?—Yes.

18,194. And how much did he give you the next morning?—He gave me 100*l.*

18,195. At what time did it come?—About half-past 5 in the morning as near as I can think.

18,196. That was 300*l.* altogether?—Yes.

18,197. I suppose your house was pretty full at the time he came?—There was a good deal of people in, no doubt.

18,198. How did you set to work?—I went into a little room and began to call the voters. I got John Curwen to call the voters in.

18,199. How many voters did John Curwen bring you?—I do not know; I cannot exactly say; perhaps ten or a dozen; some came without fetching; they knew where I was.

18,200. How many did you pay altogether?—I do not know; I have a paper; I should pay perhaps seven or eight and twenty.

18,201. That night?—I paid them all that night.

18,202. What have you in your hand?—A paper (producing the paper and handing it to the Commissioners).

18,203. Who made out this list for you?—John Curwen.

18,204. What is he?—A grocer.

18,205. Who keeps the books for you?—I have none, not on account of the election.

18,206. Who kept this book?—I believe Mr. Physick, one of Mr. Briggs's book-keepers.

18,207. Who was the first man you paid?—I think I paid James Dodgson first, from Bare.

18,208. Did you not pay some one on the Friday night?—There were 2*l.* Mr. Bulfield paid a-piece; I was with him at the time. That will account for the 2*l.* Mr. Vince spoke of, and I was with him when he paid it. I assisted him in getting the voters in.

18,209. Did you see it paid yourself?—Yes, I saw a good deal of them paid.

18,210. You saw them paid this 2*l.*?—I saw a deal of them paid, but I cannot say I saw them all.

18,211. Who got 2*l.* on the Friday night?—You will see on that paper; they very nearly all got it.

18,212. Did you see Richard Armistead get 2*l.*?—He would not have it; he came for it; he said, "Perhaps when I go to the other party they will say I have received 2*l.*," so, he says, "Give it to Mr. Bulfield, and I will call for it on Saturday." His 2*l.* were turned over to Mr. Bulfield, and I daresay he would call for it on the Saturday. He said he did not want the Liberal party to know that he had got anything on the other side.

18,213. Bulfield was a sort of stakeholder?—Yes; Bulfield took it, and he was to call for it on the Saturday.

18,214. Did Armistead get 2*l.* on Saturday night?—I do not know; it was given to Bulfield to give to him.

18,215. You saw Bulfield take it?—Yes, I saw Bulfield take it, and put it down in his book.

18,216. Was there anybody else paid on the Friday night?—Yes, they all got 2*l.*; it was given to them for assisting in canvassing.

18,217. The whole of that list?—Yes, the whole of that list for 2*l.* That is what was understood.

18,218. On Saturday night did any of these men come for their 2*l.*?—All got the 2*l.* on Friday.

18,219. I thought Bulfield was stakeholder?—That 2*l.* went to Lancaster, and Armistead said he would call for it. I do not know anything more about it till the election day.

18,220. On the nomination night, when you got this 200*l.*, what did you give to Richard Armistead?—He got nothing that night.

18,221. When did he get his money?—He came about 9 o'clock on the morning of the election.

18,222. Did he get his money?—Yes; he called on me and came in to me in the kitchen, and said he had come for his money; I said, "How much am I to give you?" and he said, "You will have to give me 12*l.*" I said, "You have received 2*l.* from Mr. Bulfield."

18,223. And you gave him 10*l.*?—Yes.

18,224. There are two Richard Armisteads?—Yes.

18,225. Is it father and son?—No; William Armistead is the father of Richard Armistead.

18,226. Did you pay William Armistead 8*l.*?—Yes,

18,227. Can you read?—No, I cannot; I cannot read writing at all.

18,228. Do you know from what John Curwen made this list out?—Only from my memory.

18,229. What you told him?—Yes, it was only from my memory; I had no books.

18,230. Then there is another Richard Armistead?—I think he would get 9*l.* He is the son of James Armistead.

18,231. Then Nathan Armistead got 8*l.*?—Yes.

18,232. John Armistead was paid 10*l.* and returned it?—Yes, he could get more money on the other side?

18,233. He voted on the other side?—Yes, he got more money.

18,234. What did he get on the other side?—I do not know.

18,235. Then James Armistead 9*l.*; Vince had paid 2*l.* before?—Yes, all of them.

18,236. Thomas Armistead 8*l.*; William Beesley 5*l.*?—Yes, he got it after the election was over; it was for working.

18,237. He was an active supporter?—Yes, he was.

18,238. Daniel Bell 9*l.*, Thomas Bond 9*l.*, Charles Bond 10*l.*, Edward Bond 13*l.* He is since dead?—Yes.

18,239. The sum of money killed him, I suppose?—He was scalded to death by the boiler explosion.

18,240. Richard Bond 9*l.*, Richard Bond, 8*l.*, George Bond 8*l.*, John Bond, farmer, 10*l.* He is since dead?—Yes, he is.

18,241. Charles Bond 12*l.* 5*s.*; he had nothing from Vince?—No, he had not.

18,242. That is the reason why he got 12*l.* 5*s.*?—Yes, he was very bad to manage; I was obliged to give him 5*s.* more.

18,243. He was difficult to get hold of, slippery?—Yes, he was.

18,244. William Bond 10*l.*, Frank Bond 11*l.*, Thomas Bond 10*l.*?—Yes.

18,245. William Bond received some money for the whole of the Bond family?—Yes, he received 40*l.* for four.

18,246. Do you remember the four for whom he received the money?—Yes, for his father.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

I. Willacy.

17 Sept. 1866.

18,247. What is his father's name?—John Bond.

18,248. A farmer?—Yes. Thomas Bond, Charles Bond, and William Bond.

18,249. Robert Edmondson, 9*l.*, John Edmondson, 9*l.*, Daniel Edmondson got 10*l.* paid to him, but returned it?—Yes, he did.

18,250. What was that for?—I daresay he would get more money on the other side.

18,251. The same as the other one?—Yes, I think so.

18,252. (Mr. Hill.) Is that old Daniel Edmondson?—No, the young one.

18,253. (Mr. Newton.) Jonas Edmondson 11*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.*, Thomas Hadwen 9*l.*, William Hadwen 9*l.*, James Howson 9*l.*, John Threlfall 9*l.*, James Dodgson, farmer, from Bare, 12*l.*, James Bond 12*l.*, William Threlfall 9*l.*?—Yes.

18,254. That was 274*l.* What did you do with the balance?—The balance is over on the other side of that paper.

18,255. You paid John Bond 10*s.* for expenses?—Yes.

18,256. And he went and voted against you?—Yes.

18,257. Then J. Curwen, for sundry expenses at different times, 13*l.*?—Yes.

18,258. That included his vote?—He got nothing for his vote.

18,259. Who paid him for that?—He did not get anything. He was a worker all the time.

18,260. (Mr. Hill.) Vote and assistance 13*l.*?—He would not have anything for his vote.

18,261. It was merely for his assistance?—I daresay he will tell you all about it.

18,262. (Mr. Newton.) Sundry advances to freemen during canvass for assistance, 2*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes, for delivering the cards and such like.

18,263. Then 12*s.* paid for delivering voting and other papers during the election?—Yes.

18,264. To whom did you pay that?—To boys to take them round and deliver them out. They came twice over. They had the voting cards to take and then the voting papers to take.

18,265. John Bond got two bottles of brandy?—His son took them for him, William Bond.

18,266. How much is that?—12*s.*

18,267. Then you paid 18 staff-men 10*s.* each?—Yes.

18,268. Then as expenses for yourself, I suppose, 2*l.*?—I did not charge anything for myself and did not keep anything. I could not say what I paid it for.

18,269. This is a very nice little account?—I believe it will be a true one.

18,270. I dare say it is. That makes a total of 302*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.*?—I only got 6*l.* from Richard Armistead. I got it the day after the election was over. I went and demanded it and got only 6*l.*, but I got all he had I daresay. I went on the Saturday as soon as I found out how he had voted.

18,271. You lost 4*l.* by him?—I will tell you what he said. He said, "I daresay you owe me something over Gregson's election"; and I said "How? what is that?" and he said he was owed 4*l.* over that election, and should keep it, and he handed me 6*l.* Then he came back to our place to fetch it back, but I said "I shall not part with it; I have the staff-men to pay."

18,272. That is one of the expenses with which Mr. Sharp was not acquainted?—He went to Mr. Shackleton and said, "If "you don't deliver back "that 6*l.* I'll deliver you into the bribery court."

18,273. You have got a court of bribery down at Morecambe, then?—Yes, I think so.

18,274. Are you a member of the court?—No.

18,275. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a judge?—No, I think not.

18,276. Mr. Barstow.) Do you know Robert Bond of Belmont, husbandman?—Yes.

18,277. Some one would pay him for his vote, I suppose?—Yes; and I believe Mr. Shackleton did. He told me so last Sunday. He told me he had got 10*s.* of him, and 12*l.* on the morning of the election. Mr. Shackleton gave him a slip of something, and he went into a room and got it.

18,278. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know of any Armistead that did not receive any money?—I think there would be none.

18,279. There was one Edmondson who was not bribed?—Which was that? I do not think there was. Yes, there would be the old gentleman.

18,280. They gave him a reward for not being bribed afterwards?—Yes; and I do not think he would take a bribe.

18,281. (Mr. Newton.) You say that Mr. Curwen made out this list for you?—Yes.

18,282. What relation is he to you?—My son-in-law. He made it out last night at half-past 10, but he made it out of my head. I have a very good memory, and though I am no scholar I am very particular.

18,283. Do you know a man of the name of Hodgson, of China Lane?—Yes.

18,284. Have you seen him lately?—Yes.

18,285. What did he come to you about?—He came to my house last Friday but one, and asked me to allow him to put the name of James Dodgson and James Bond in his account.

18,286. Hodgson, of China Lane, is a gentleman who keeps a public-house?—Yes.

18,287. The "Lord Nelson?"—Yes.

18,288. Did he say why he wanted to do that?—He said it was in his district.

18,289. Did he say why he wanted to do it?—He said it would not matter at all to me if he accounted for it, and I said, "I shall have plenty to do to make up my own account."

18,290. You would not let him do it?—No; I had plenty to do to make mine up without that.

18,291. (Mr. Hill.) Did you kick him out of the house for being a rascal?—No, I did not.

18,292. (Mr. Newton.) Did you give the stranger any receipt for the money?—No; I cannot write.

18,293. Did your husband?—No; my husband never saw him.

18,294. Who did?—I do not know anyone that did, that I can recollect.

18,295. Did anybody give a receipt?—I do not recollect.

18,296. When he came the next morning who was present?—He came into the bar parlour, put the money on the table and walked right out again. I was the only one there.

18,297. Do you know anybody of the name of Barker?—I do not.

18,298. Do you know Mr. Hartley?—Yes, I do.

18,299. Which is the Bond, do you think, that Hodgson wanted to put down on his list?—James Bond. He lives in Skerton. His house stands in Skerton, but still it is in Bare.

18,300. What is he?—A farmer.

18,301. You have got him down?—Yes, I have, but the man in China Lane wanted me to give up the money to him in his books.

18,302. Did they read you his evidence?—Yes.

18,303. Do you know whether he has stuck into his list any of your people?—I think not.

18,304. There is a Dodgson in his list?—Yes; but I do not know whether he gave him anything or not.

18,305. There is a Dodgson in his list?—James Dodgson was in my house on Saturday night and he said he got 2*l.*, but got nothing of him.

18,306. Nothing of Hodgson?—No.

18,307. He did not mind getting it of you?—No. He was a very bad one to bargain with I can assure you.

18,308. Tight, was he?—Yes, he was, indeed.

18,309. (Mr. Barstow.) Your Dodgson is James Dodgson of Bare?—Yes.

18,310. Have you told us all the story?—I think I have.

18,311. Have you omitted to tell us anything about the paying of the money, and the receiving of the money?—I received the money and paid the men with it.

18,312. Except the money that was paid to you for the use of the house, and for the bill, have you or your husband received anything else?—No.

18,313. I suppose you have had read to you, if you have not read it yourself, all the account of what took place at Morecambe?—Yes, I have.

18,314. Do you know of anything else of which you can tell us besides what has appeared in the paper?—I do not know that I can.

18,315. On either side?—Nay, I don't know that I can.

18,316. I think you can if you will try and recollect?—I do not think I can. I do not think the Liberal party gave you exactly the right state of things.

18,317. What is the part of the case they did not tell us right?—I think there was a deal more drink going on beyond what they gave you an account of, and I think they have not given an account of all the money they have paid to the voters.

18,318. Why do you think that?—Because I can hear them talk when they are in the house. I can hear the men talking.

18,319. What do you think was the greatest sum paid for a vote?—I think 17*l.* was paid to one; I believe it was. I heard the man say so himself.

18,320. Who was that?—John Bell. I heard him say he got 17*l.* for his vote that morning.

18,321. Did he say who paid him?—He did not.

18,322. What is John Bell?—A fisherman.

18,323. When did he say so?—Perhaps three or four days since.

18,324. Three or four days ago?—Yes, he did.

18,325. Can you tell us anything more?—No, I think not.

18,326. You, I see, paid one man here 12*l.* 5*s.*?—Yes.

18,327. And another one 13*l.*?—Yes; he brought his money back that morning that I gave him 13*l.* He got 10*l.* from me, and 2*l.* from Mr. Vince; and on the morning of the election, about half-past 8 or 9, when all the voters had gone, he brought his 12*l.* back and said, "Mrs. Willacy, I cannot go for this "money. My father got 15*l.* from the Liberals, and "mother says if I do not get the same I cannot vote." I said, "I have paid all my money nearly, but I will give you all I have," and I gave him 1*l.* more and half-a-crown, and said, "Now will you go?" And he said "I don't know whether I will or not." He stood there a little bit, and then he said, "I will," and he went.

18,328. What was his name?—Jonas Edmondson, the son of Jonas Edmondson.

18,329. You paid the dead man 13*l.*?—Yes, but he never got 2*l.* of Mr. Vince. He was out at the time.

18,330. Were all these men Liberals?—Fishermen, and such like, a deal of them.

18,331. Earning weekly wages?—It is very uncertain. Sometimes they earn very little, and sometimes a great deal.

18,332. There was no better class of people amongst them?—No, only James Dodgson and James Bond, farmers. The others were all poor fishermen.

18,333. I mean men earning their weekly wages?—Sometimes they had very little and sometimes a little more. They are very uncertain with their earnings.

18,334. (Mr. Hill.) Had your husband a vote?—No, he had not.

Adjourned for a short time.

Robert Aldren sworn and examined.

18,335. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Skerton, and are a maltster?—Yes.

18,336. Are you a Conservative in politics?—Yes.

18,337. What part did you take in the last election?—Conservative.

18,338. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the last election?—I got 5*l.*, after I had voted for my services, and what money I had spent. I got nothing at all for voting, nor did any person ask me to take anything for voting.

18,339. You received 5*l.* after you had voted?—Yes.

18,340. From whom did you receive it?—From a person who was at the "Black Bull," at Skerton.

18,341. Do you know his name?—No, I do not.

18,342. You received it from a stranger, then, at the "Black Bull?"—Yes.

18,343. What services had you rendered at the last election?—I assisted Mr. Carruthers and Mr. Ellershaw.

18,344. What had you done in the way of assisting them?—By looking after the voters.

18,345. How did you look after the voters?—Well, I went to them and tried to get them to vote for our side.

18,346. What did you do for them?—I do not know that I did anything.

18,347. Did you begin by asking them what price they required for their votes?—We went like to get them together.

18,348. How many weeks did you spend in doing this?—Perhaps a fortnight, or something like that.

18,349. Doing that and nothing else?—No; I followed my own business and all.

18,350. You did not find that much of your time was taken up from your business, did you?—Part.

18,351. What did the stranger say to you when he gave you the money at the "Black Bull?"—I will tell you how it was.

18,352. Was this on the 12th of July?—It was on the voting day. Mr. Ellershaw said "Give Aldren "and me 5*l.* a-piece for our expenses and what we "have done," and so we took it. I did not ask for anything.

18,353. You did not ask for anything, but you took 5*l.*, and James Ellershaw took 5*l.*?—Yes.

18,354. And you do not consider that that was for your vote?—No.

18,355. You would not have had it unless you had voted?—Well, it was never mentioned about what it was for.

18,356. Did you not come to any agreement before you voted?—No.

18,357. You knew that you were to be paid for your services?—No, I did not.

18,358. What made you take the 5*l.*, then?—I thought I had been money out, and my time.

18,359. No money had been spent; you have not told us a word about spending any money?—When I met the voters I had to spend money out of my own pocket.

18,360. You say that you received this sum of money, 5*l.*, after you had voted?—Yes.

18,361. And you received it on account of your having voted?—No.

18,362. You would not have received it if you had not voted?—Well, I do not know, I am sure.

18,363. You know that neither you nor Ellershaw would have received it if you had not voted?—But I never asked for anything for voting.

18,364. You would not have received it, however, unless you had voted?—That I cannot say.

18,365. Do you mean that if you had gone to the stranger and had said to him, "I have not voted on your side, please to give me 5*l.*," he would have given it to you?—I do not know that he would.

18,366. You know he would not, do you not?—Very likely he would not.

18,367. You are a well-to-do man, are you not?—Yes.

18,367*a*. You are what they call pretty warm?—I do not know as to that.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

17 Sept. 1866.

JOHN BOND sworn and examined.

J. Bond.

18,368. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you ?—A fisherman.

18,369. Living at Poulton ?—Yes.

18,370. Are you a Conservative ?—Sir ?

18,371. "Blue"?—No, "Yellow," not "Blue"; there is enough "blue" at present.

18,372. You were very active on the part of the Liberals at the last election ?—Yes.

18,373. Did you receive any money ?—Yes.

18 374. Was that to distribute ?—No.

18,375. Did you give any money to any person on account of his vote ?—No.

18,376. Did you spend any money in treating ?—Yes.

18,377. That was not your own money, I suppose ?—No.

18,378. From whom did you get that ?—1*l.* from James Bell.

18,379. Anything else ?—10*s.* from Mrs. Willacy.

18,380. That came out of the enemy's camp ?—Well.

18,381. Did you spend that in treating ?—Yes.

18,382. Treating yourself, I suppose ?—Yes, and others besides.

18,383. Any other money ?—Mr. Shackleton gave me about 3*l.* or 4*l.*, I cannot exactly say which.

18,384. How much shall I say ?—3*l.* or 4*l.*, I do not exactly know.

18,385. Any other money to spend ?—No.

18,386. What became of this 5*l.*?—We spent it one among another, the freemen among us; I had it given me to spend and I spent it.

18,387. You treated the other freemen and the other freemen treated you ?—Yes.

18,388. How long were you spending this 5*l.*?—About a week or ten days.

18,389. You spent this 5*l.* besides what the other freemen spent upon you in a week or ten days ?—Yes.

18,390. You received something for your vote, what was that ?—Well, I did receive something, but not for my vote particular; I wrought hard for it.

18,391. You wrought hard in drinking, I suppose ?—It is very hard, drinking is.

18,392. You received something, we will not say for your vote; what was that ?—15*l.*

18,393. You got that from Mr. Shackleton ?—Yes.

18,394. You had voted for the "Blues" previously, had you not ?—No.

18,395. (Mr. Hill.) Are you of Poulton-le-Sand, farmer ?—No, I am a fisherman.

28,396. (Mr. Newton.) What is the most you can earn in a week ?—To tell you the truth I made about 14*l.* one day; that is true.

28,397. That was by your vote, I suppose ?—No, you will find that correct.

18,398. But you made that by your vote ?—No, I make about 10*s.* or a pound a day average as near as I can come to it.

W. Armistead.

WILLIAM ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

18,399. (Mr. Newton.) What are you ?—A fisherman.

18,400. Where do you live ?—At Morecambe.

18,401. Are you "Blue" or "Yellow"?—Well, "Yellow" in my own mind; in my own way.

18,402. You were "Yellow" the last time ?—Well, I was always that; ever since I could poll a member of Parliament; I was always on that side.

18,403. Which side did you vote last time ?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

18,404. You were "Yellow then ?—Yes.

18,405. And the time before ?—Yes.

18,406. Have you always voted "Yellow" ?—Well, not exactly.

18,4071 When did you not vote "Yellow"?—I once voted for Mr. Saunders; I gave him a vote.

18,408. You were bought then ?—No, I never was bought in my life.

18,409. How then came you to vote for Mr. Saunders ?—Well, I had good reason for that.

18,410. I have no doubt you had; what was your reason; come, tell us ?—Well, I am farming.

18 411. Come, let us have it ?—I suppose as it is put to me I must explain it. I am farming some land under Mr. Clark, of Crosshills, and he wished me to vote for the "Blues," and before I would lose my land and my living I thought I would give him a vote.

18,412. You are a fisherman, are you not ?—Yes, I am both a fisherman and I have land at the same time.

18,413. Then on that occasion you voted "Blue"?—Yes, at that time.

18,414. Is that the only time that you voted "Blue"?—I think it is.

18,415. Did you not vote "Blue" for Garnett ?—No, never.

18,416. You always voted against Garnett ?—Yes.

18,417. Did you vote for Greene or against him ?—I never voted for Greene.

18,418. This last time you voted "Yellow" according to your conscience ?—Yes, according to my conscience.

18,419. I always like to see a man do that ?—I have always been a Liberal; that was my mind.

18,420. How much money did you get for the purposes of the election ?—This last time ?

18,421. Yes ?—I got 15*l.*

18,422. That was conscience money; did you get anything more ?—Yes, I had something given me for treating the freemen with. I was put on for getting the freemen up, and treating them.

18423. By whom ?—By Mr. Shackleton.

18,424. What did he give you ?—I cannot say.

18,425. 5*l.* ?—No, he never gave me 5*l.* or 4*l.*; he says he gave me 5*l.* or 4*l.*, but I should like to come before him and let him answer for himself.

18,426. Shall I put it down 4*l.* ?—No, I believe 2*l.* to be what he would give me.

18,427. Shall I say 3*l.* 10*s.* ?—No, not 3*l.* 10*s.* I think.

18,428. How much will you say ?—I cannot exactly say.

18,429. 2*l.* ?—I should think that would be quite as much as he would give me. I should say he did not give me 4*l.* as he stated by a good deal.

18,430. What did you do with the 2*l.* 10*s.* that you got ?—I spent it.

18,431. What in ?—In treating the freemen.

18,432. I think you have been spending a little this morning ?—No, I never did.

18,433. Then somebody has been spending a little for you, I think ?—No.

18,434. (Mr. Hill.) You are the son of James Armistead ?—Yes.

18,435. Then you are No. 17 on the register ?—Well, I cannot say.

J. Edmondson.

JOHN EDMONDSON sworn and examined.

18,436. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live ?—At Morecambe.

18,437. What are you ?—A fisherman.

18,438. What money did you receive for the purposes of the last election ?—I cannot tell you, not to tell you the truth, and I do not want to tell you anything else.

18,439. Tell us about how much ?—I think nearly 24*l.*, or happen it might be 25*l.*; I cannot tell exactly. That was for spending altogether.

18,440. Might it happen to be 28*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* ?—I do not think it should.

18,441. Not more than 25*l.* ?—No, and I will tell you the reason why when you ask me.

J. Edmondson

17 Sept. 1866

18,442. Then I will ask you at once?—Because I do not think that Mr. Shackleton is right in saying I got what he says I got. He says I got 4*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* to go and release John Bell out of prison.

18,443. Did you release John Bell out of prison?—No, he was released out of prison before I got there. The money was paid for him the Saturday before.

18,444. But you did get the money to do it?—I—I got 4*l.* on the Sunday to come and try to buy his vote.

18,445. Who gave you the money?—Robert Shackleton.

18,446. And did you buy his vote?—No, I did not offer him enough, I expect.

18,447. And so you kept it yourself?—No, I did not.

18,448. What did you do with it?—I gave 2*l.* to Thomas Edmondson.

18,449. What relation is he?—A brother. By Robert Shackleton's orders.

18,450. You received from him first 4*l.*?—The first money that I received from him was 1*l.*

18,451. Your number on the register is 252, is it not?—I do not know the number.

18,452. John Edmondson, of Poulton-le-Sands, fisherman. Is that you?—Yes, I daresay it will be.

18,453. You received altogether, you say, about 25*l.*?—I think something like 24*l.* or 25*l.*

18,454. And Shackleton did not give you so much as he says he did?—No, he did not.

18,455. That you are sure of?—That I am sure of.

18,456. You are sure you are speaking the truth?—I am speaking the truth, and I do not want to speak anything else.

18,457. How much money did you get from the other side?—I do not know exactly, but I think it was a shilling.

18,458. Was that all the "Blue" money that you got?—I think it would be; all the "Blue" money I got I was up in Lancaster here, and I think I got a shilling.

18,459. You got that out of some "Blue" captain?—The Blue captains wanted me; they wanted to buy me, and for me to buy other folks, but I was not exactly inclined that way.

18,460. You voted "Yellow?"—Yes.

18,461. And you got 24*l.* for it?—No, I did not.

18,462. What did you get then?—I do not know what I got. I should think at last of all I got something like 13*l.* clear. I was engaged to spend money. Now what I tell you is the truth.

18,463. We know that pretty well without your telling us?—That is what I was engaged for, to ask voters for their votes, and to try to get them; and I did all I could to get them to vote for Fenwick and Schneider.

18,464. That money was paid for your vote?—If I had not been a voter I do not suppose I should have got it.

18,465. Have you always voted "Yellow?"—No; I voted for Saunders the election before.

18,466. (Mr. Newton.) What did you get then?—5*l.*

18,467. (Mr. Hill.) And what did you ask?—I asked nothing. They asked me what I wanted, and I said, "The same as the others;" and they told me I ought to have had more, and I said, "I do not want it."

18,468. That is a piece of modesty that I should not have expected from you?—That was my modesty. They have told you that I did things I never did; and Mr. Shackleton will admit that I spent what he gave me to spend.

WILLIAM ARMISTEAD recalled and further examined.

W. Armistead

18,469. (Mr. Newton.) How much did you get from the "Blues?"—I got 1*l.* to spend.

18,470. In addition to the 17*l.* 10*s.*?—I got it to spend and I spent it; and I have a witness here to prove it, Mrs. Willacy.

18,471. (Mr. Hill.) How did you spend your 1*l.*?—I spent it at her house 20 minutes after I got it.

18,472. Who gave it you?—James Bell.

18,473. Did you spend it at Mrs. Willacy's house?—Yes, I did.

18,474. All of it?—Yes, every penny.

18,475. How many did you treat?—I cannot say what I treated, a good deal.

18,476. You did very well; you got 18*l.* 10*s.* for your vote?—No; I never got anything for my vote. I never sold my vote; no man ever asked me what I would take for my vote in this world.

JOHN CURWEN sworn and examined.

J. Curwen.

18,477. (Mr. Barstow.) You are Mrs. Willacy's son-in-law?—I am.

18,478. And you live at Morecambe?—Yes.

18,479. What are you?—A grocer.

18,480. You took part for the Conservatives at the last election?—I did.

18,481. Did you receive any money to spend?—Yes, I did.

18,482. How much?—I received 1*l.* from George Vince in the first place.

18,483. You do not remember on what day you received it, perhaps?—No, I do not. It would be the Friday, I suppose.

18,484. Friday, the 7th of July?—Yes.

18,485. Anything else?—No; George Vince says in his evidence that he gave me 2*l.*, but he never did.

18,486. Then that is all you received?—No; but it is all I received from George Vince.

18,487. Now tell us what other sums you received?—I made use of Mrs. Willacy's money for what was required. Did you receive any money from anybody else?—No, except from Mrs. Willacy.

18,488. You collected the voters and took them to her house?—No. I went to other places.

18,489. Did you receive money for other purposes?—Yes, for the purpose of treating; but I do not know exactly the items I received. The total amount will be altogether about 13*l.*

18,490. From whom did you receive that?—I received it in different sums from Mrs. Willacy.

18,491. At different times?—At different times, and in different amounts.

18,492. What did you do with it?—I paid it away in various directions. The first item I paid was 10*s.* 6*d.* to a public-house.

18,493. At what different times did you receive it?—In the first place, I got money of her before she ever received any from head-quarters, most likely on the Thursday or Friday previous to the election.

18,494. What was the last you received?—The last amount I received was the night previous to the election.

18,495–6. How much was that?—I really forget the total amount, but of course I took it down to a certain voter which she has taken credit for, and that is Jonas Edmondson, and paid him with it.

18,497. What did you receive on the day of the election?—I never received a copper.

18,498. Do you mean that you had no money at all on the day of the election?—No, I had not.

18,499. On the day of the nomination?—I had part then. Of course I got it from her; I do not know the amount, but I should spend something like 30*s.* on the nomination and other days, and Mrs. Willacy has taken credit for the money. I got it from her.

18,500. Are you a voter?—Yes, I am.

18,501. You have to account for 14*l.*, how do you do that?—The first item I paid was Mrs. Berry's, at the "Sword Fish Arms."

18,502. What is the "Sword Fish Arms?"—It is a jerry shop, we call it. I never saw the house itself, only outside.

18,503. What did you pay at the "Sword Fish Arms?"—I paid 10*s.* 6*d.* the first time, and at the same place the second time I paid about 6*s.* within three or four pence.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

J. Curwen.

17 Sept. 1866.

18,504. Let me see the paper which you have in your hand.—(The paper is handed by the witness to the Commissioner.) When did you make this out?—Last night, from memory.

18,505. Is your memory as good as your mother-in-law's?—I scarcely imagine it is; I know I could not have recollected as well as she did.

18,506. She helped you?—I cannot say she did. I recollect a great portion of what I did pay; it is not a great sum altogether. I paid the Bonds.

18,507. Do you say on your oath that you gave John Bond 7*l.*?—I do.

18,508. He is a not voter?—No, he is not a voter, but he is a broker of voters, and it was an understanding that he had to be paid for his services without being a voter. The broker came on the election morning and said, that unless he got paid for his services they would not vote, although he had got paid.

18,509. Is that the John Bond who was here?—No, not that John Bond; it is a son of John Bond, a farmer, and brother to William, Edward, Thomas, and James.

18,510. The money that you gave to Bond from Vince, from whom did you get it?—I got it from Mrs. Willacy.

18,511. Did she tell you to give it to Bond?—I went and told her what I wanted it for.

18,512. Did you tell her that you wanted it for Bond?—That I wanted it for Bond.

18,513–14. Did you tell her that he was not a voter?—It was understood that he was not a voter, but it was that he had come to assist, and it was a kind of sop for the other parties to vote for us if you will, that is his brothers; there were five of them I think. Mrs. Willacy should not have said it was for my vote and assistance, for I never had anything for my vote.

(Mr. Barstow.) You have given a very extraordinary account of your expenditure of the money that you received, and we think that Mrs. Willacy is quite correct in what she says.

(Mrs. Willacy.) No, I offered him 10*l.*, and his wife said, "Take it, John;" and he said, "No, I will not take it; I am not going to be published as taking money."

(The Witness.) I never took anything. I had a balance in hand the night of the election, which I turned over to Mrs. Willacy, which she will acknowledge.

18,515. (Mr. Barstow.) John Bond got 2*l.* from Vince to go to Leeds?—He had no occasion to go to Leeds.

18,516. He had no occasion to get 2*l.* for coming from Bradford?—The money was paid for bribery purposes; he had to assist, and it was understood that his brothers would vote for the same side if they were paid; they are marketable, there is no question about that, and this was an inducement in addition to what they had been paid.

18,517. But you got 2*l.* from Vince?—I did not, because I was not at home the time he was there.

18,518. We have your name down, "John Curwen, 2*l.*?"—That is what I say. Mr. Vince in his evidence has given it wrong, because I did not see Mr. Vince on that occasion.

18,519. You only got 1*l.*?—I got 1*l.*, and part of that was refunded to Mrs. Willacy for money I had got of her.

18,520. (Mr. Hill.) How came you to be spending money in Lancaster?—Because I had occasion to come up several times.

18,521. What did you spend 2*l.* 5*s.* upon?—If you look at Hodgson's evidence you will see that I was assisting him in getting voters together for the purpose of their being bribed at his house; and you cannot do that without treating them; and I was up on the nomination day.

18,522. Every expense was paid for them?—Where at?

18,523. At the places where they had their breakfasts, and so on?—I mean a day or two previous to the election.

18,524. You say here (referring to the paper) "Nomination and election days?"—Yes, nomination and election days; if I have not entered the others I have told you of them, I hope.

18,525. "On several occasions, including the nomination and election days, and canvassing." You were not canvassing?—Of course I was canvassing.

18,526. Did you spend 2*l.* 5*s.* in public-houses?—Yes, decidedly I did.

18,527. You did not go into any public-houses at which there were not bills?—Yes, I did.

18,528. Give us the name of any one public-house that you went to that was not free?—Mr. Shaw, of the "Ship Inn," at Morecambe; his house was not free, and Mr. Coate's was not free.

18,529. What is Coate's?—The "Morecambe Hotel."

18,530. We have both of them down as free?—I do not know that they were free.

18,531. How much did you give to John Bond for railway fare to Carnforth?—2*l.*; that was for his expenses to Carnforth and Garstang.

18,532. I will give you Garstang in; did you pay him 2*l.* for his railway fare?—Yes; it was for going to Carnforth and from there to Garstang; and then I had a conveyance for him besides.

18,533. (Mr. Barstow.) How far is it from Carnforth to Garstang?—14 miles, I should suppose, but his brother did not reside close to the station, but some distance off; he charged me cab fare.

18,534. (Mr. Newton.) Did you go with a fly and pair?—No, I did not go at all myself.

18,535. Did Bond go in a fly and pair?—I cannot tell you I am sure; but there was that difficulty in dealing with the family, that every farthing they are debited with they were paid, and rather more if anything.

18,536. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you tell us on your oath that you gave Bond 7*l.* altogether?—I do on my oath. I gave him 7*l.* altogether.

J. Ball.

JAMES BALL sworn and examined.

18,537. (Mr. Newton.) What are your politics, Blue or Yellow?—Blue.

18,538. Have you always been "Blue"?—Yes, with the exception of once, I think, that is all.

18,539. When was that?—In Armstrong's time.

18,540. A long time ago?—Yes; it was a split vote you know.

18,541. What did you get for splitting your vote?—Nothing. I never got nothing in my life for my vote.

18,542. Where do you live?—At Poulton-le-Sands.

18,543. What are you?—A yeoman.

18,544. How much do you farm?—I farm nothing but my own land.

18,545. How much is that?—About 80 acres; and I let five or six acres or perhaps more; and eight or 10 cottages.

18,546. Have you anything to say to the election in July 1865?—No.

18,547. Did you go down to Morecambe?—Yes. They call it Morecambe now. It was called Poulton-le-Sands.

18,548. Did you go down there?—I live down there.

18,549. Did you treat any fellows to any drink?—Yes.

18,550. Where did you get the money from?—Mr. Coupland gave me 5*l.*

18,551. How long before the election?—It might be a week, five or six days or a week. I do not know what day it was.

18,552. Did he give you anything more?—No.

18,553. Did anybody else?—Mr. Carruthers gave me 2*l.* to take to Armistead and Bond there. He said he did not know them, and they had been canvassing for the Blues. He said, "I don't know them." I said, "I see one of them," and he said, "Just take them those two sovereigns for their trouble;" and I just took it in my hand and went and took it to them. That is the money that Bond gives an account of.

18,554. What are the two men's names?—John Bond and William Armistead.

18,555. That is all the money that you had?—Yes, and all that I ever saw.

18,556. What did you do with the 5*l.*?—Spent it.

18,557. What in?—In drink and refreshments.

18,558. Did you get anything for your vote?—No; and nobody ever asked me for my vote.

18,559. You are a good man, I suppose?—Yes, I went and polled without.

CHARLES LODGE sworn and examined.

18,560. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A gentleman.

18,561. In no occupation?—In no occupation.

18,562. Where?—At Bare.

18,563. Are you a Conservative in politics?—Yes, and always was.

18,564. What monies did you receive at the last election?—Nothing at all.

18,565. From nobody?—No; except that after the election I received 2*l.* for expenses, and at the same time I had been upwards of 4*l.* out of pocket.

18,566. From whom did you receive the 2*l.*?—I think from Mr. Wilson, but I am not exactly certain about that; at least from Mr. Isaac Jackson.

18,567. Did you receive anything from Hodgson?—No, not a farthing.

18,568. Have you read his evidence?—I have.

18,569. Do you know that he says he gave you 3*l.*?—Yes, I read the evidence to that effect, but it is a falsehood. He never gave me a farthing.

18,570. And 15*s.* besides for refreshments?—Never.

18,571. You swear that distinctly?—I do. I will swear most solemnly on my oath that he never gave me a farthing in his life. He never gave me a farthing in no shape or way whatever.

18,572. That is Hodgson, of the "Lord Nelson?"—Yes. He tells a most abominable falsehood. I never received a farthing in my life, never since I was a voter, never.

18,573. You never received a farthing for your vote?—No, never in my life; and I never will do.

18,574. Do you mean to tell us that 2*l.* was the whole money that you received?—After I had voted I got 2*l.* for expenses, given to me, I think, to the best of my recollection, by Mr. Isaac Jackson, but I had been at the same time upwards of 4*l.* out of pocket; that I can prove.

18,575. What had been the character of the expenses to which you had been put?—I went to see him canvassing, and I went to Morecambe, and Torrisholme, and Bare, spending money among the freemen. Of course they expect something.

18,576. Were you much astonished to see this evidence of Hodgson's?—Yes, I was very much astonished; and it is a falsehood.

18,577. You are quite sure that you never received any money except 2*l.* you have mentioned?—Yes, I am certain of it. I will swear to it.

18,578. Perhaps you will have to meet Mr. Hodgson, then, at the assizes?—I shall be most happy to meet him.

WILLIAM BULFIELD sworn and examined.

18,579. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A publican.

18,580. Where?—In Market Street, Lancaster.

18,581. What is the sign of your house?—The "Cross Keys."

18,582. We have heard that you were very active on the Conservative side at the last election?—Well, I was, I believe.

18,583. Whom do you consider your captain to have been, to begin with?—Mr. Vince.

18,584. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—30*l.* altogether.

18,585. From whom?—I received it in different sums (producing a paper).

18,586. You are producing an account, I suppose?—Yes, a memorandum of the monies I received, and how they were disposed of.

18,587. Was it made at the time?—No, it was not made at the time.

18,588. Just hand it me up. (The paper is handed by the witness to the Commissioners.) When was it made?—Last night.

18,589. From what did you make it?—Chiefly from memory. I could not get wrong. If you will read it, you will see that.

18,590. Now take back your list (returning the paper to the witness), and tell me first of all the occasions on which you received the money, and from whom you received it?—1*l.* from Mr. John Cross, about three weeks before the election; on the 7th of July, 10*l.* from Mr. Coupland. The next item is the 8th of July, 5*l.* from Mr. George Clark; on the 10th of July, 2*l.* from Mr. George Vince; on the same day 2*l.* from Mr. Vince.

18,591. And 10*l.* from Mr. Wilson Barker?—Yes.

18,592. That makes up the whole amount?—Yes.

18,593. What is the date of the payment from Mr. Barker?—As near as I can recollect, three weeks after the election.

18,594. It was on the day of the election, was it not?—No. When I went to him on the day of the election he had not got the money, and he said that he would reimburse me if I would pay it, and so I went down home and got the 10*l.* and gave it to the man, and I received it from him afterwards.

18,595. How did you spend it?—Are you alluding to the first 1*l.*?

18,596. Yes?—There was myself, Mr. Edward Masheder, and Mr. William Proctor got 3*l.* from Mr. John Cross.

18,597. Tell us what money you spent in treating, before the election?—That 3*l.* was spent in treating, about three weeks before the election.

18,598. What next did you spend?—The next was 10*l.* on the 7th of July, from Mr. Coupland. I gave Thomas Parker 3*l.*

18,599. When did you give him that?—At the same time that I got it; we all went down to Morecambe together.

18,600. Now the next?—Mr. Vince 2*l.*

18,601. You gave Mr. Vince 2*l.*?—Yes.

18,602. Now the next?—Mr. Edward Masheder 2*l.*, and another 3*l.* I spent myself.

18,603. Spent in treating?—Yes; it was a kind of squander I call it.

18,604. That was at Morecambe, was it?—That was at Morecambe; the whole 10*l.* was spent there; that was on the Friday before the election, and we went down on the Monday as well following; the next was 5*l.* on the 8th of July, from Mr. George Clark.

18,605. That is money received; we have got all that; we want to know how you spent it?—That 5*l.* I gave to Mr. Edward Masheder.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

W. Bulfield.

17 Sept. 1866.

18,606. What did you give it to him for?—For a voter called Joseph Bond Richmond. I believe his name is on the list for Aughton.

18,607. Now the next?—On the 10th of July, 10*l.* from Mr. Vince, for Richard Armistead, of Morecambe.

18,608. That is one of those two who have been here to-day?—No; the one that says he never got the money.

18,609. Did you give it to him?—Of course I gave it to him. I can prove that if you wish it.

18,610. (Mr. Newton.) Do you know his number on the register?—No, I do not.

18,611. Where did you give it to him?—In my own house.

18,613. (Mr. Barstow.) Was anyone present when you gave it to him?—No; but one of my servants was a native of Morecambe, and she knew him better than I did; and I asked her to go and look at the man before I paid him the money; she went and looked at him, and said yes, he was the man. "Do you know what he has come for?" "Yes, of course I know."

18,614. Have you got that servant yet?—Yes. I drew it out on paper. "Received 2*l.* on account of election." He said he was not a good writer, but he put "R. Armistead," and I showed that to Mr. Vince; and I said, "Armistead has been here this morning, "and I gave him the 2*l.*, and that is the paper that "he signed."

18,615. What next?—2*l.* on the same date, the 10th of July, from Mr. Vince, to spend among the Morecambe voters.

18,616. Did you spend it among the Morecambe voters?—I did, and a trifle more too.

18,617. What next?—The next is 10*l.* from Mr. Wilson Barker.

18,618. What became of that?—I paid it to John Howson for his vote, and he assisted us a good deal at Morecambe; he went down and stayed there all night, and assisted us among the voters there.

18,619. (Mr. Newton.) Is that the same man that Mrs. Willacy paid?—No; I think no one else would pay him.

18,620. You do not think that he has had it twice over?—No, I do not think he has; he is a very decent sort of a fellow, he is one of the right sort.

18,621. That makes 32*l.*, that is 2*l.* too much?—No, I think not.

18,622. (Mr. Hill.) You said treating before the election, 3*l.*?—No, 1*l.*

18,623. (Mr. Barstow.) That will make it right. Did you give Vince any money?—I gave him 2*l.*

18,624. And he gave you two 2*l.*?—He gave me two 2*l.*

18,625. Is that all the money that you received?—That is all.

18,626. I thought I saw in your list that you wished to make some explanation?—It was only about Armistead, and I have said what I wish to say about him.

18,627. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not get any money for your own vote?—No, not a farthing, and I did not let my house. I believe it is all humbug that letting committee-rooms.

18,628. You think it is another way of bribing?—Yes, except in very exceptional cases. I would have nothing to do with it myself.

18,629. Did you not vote Blue?—I did, rather.

T. Procter.

THOMAS PROCTER sworn and examined.

18,630. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In China Lane.

18,631. What are you?—A publican.

18,632. What is the sign of your public-house?—"The Volunteer."

18,633. I believe you are a Conservative in politics?—Yes.

18,634. What part did you take in the election?—I took part both in Lancaster and at Morecambe.

18,635. Tell us about Morecambe first. What monies did you receive altogether for the purposes of the election?—16*l.* 13*s.* altogether.

18,636. Who paid it to you?—I received 3*l.* from Mr. Vince, and 2*l.* from Mr. Bulfield, 3*l.* from Mr. Barker, 1*l.* from Mr. Hatch, and 5*l.* 13*s.* from Mr. John Cross.

18,637. You have left out an item. You got 3*l.* from Vince, 2*l.* from Bulfield, 3*l.* from Barker, and 1*l.* from Hatch?—Yes, and 2*l.* from Mr. William Storey.

18,638. Now tell us how you spent that?—6*l.* 13*s.* was spent in Lancaster at my own house in treating up and down.

18,639. For refreshments to voters?—Yes.

18,640. Before or after the election?—About a fortnight before the election, up to the time of the election.

18,641. Go on?—I gave 2*l.* to John Cross to go to Garstang to bring his brother and himself to vote, and he received 20*l.* after he got here, and I think there will be 1*l.* to Thomas Mallinson, of Galgate, and the other was spent at Morecambe.

18,642. The balance was spent there?—Yes.

18,643. In what way?—In treating.

18,644. At whose house?—It was spent, some at the "Joiners' Arms," at the "King's Arms," the "Fisherman's Arms," the "New Inn," the "Morecambe Hotel," and the "Queen's hotel."

18,645. Was there a sober man in Morecambe all that time?—Not very many.

18,646. What did you get for your house?—8*l.*

18,647. That is not included in the 16*l.* 13*s.*, is it?—No.

18,648. Who paid you that?—Mr. Hatch paid 15*l.* for refreshments altogether. I think there were 30 to breakfast and 10 to lunch.

18,649. Was this the morning of the poll?—Yes.

18,650. Had your house been taken by anybody?—No, I do not think it was; the bill altogether was 15*l.* including the house. 8*l.* was for the house.

18,651. What would the house bill be?—That would be all for the house and the refreshment altogether.

18,652. But what was the house; does that include drink for the people who go there?—Yes, drink and breakfasts.

18,653. Did you furnish drink?—Yes.

18,654. You say you got 8*l.* for the house, how do you make out that 8*l.*?—It was for the use of the room.

18,655. There was a committee at your house, was there?—Yes.

18,656. Used voters regularly to go there?—Nearly every night some.

18,657. Were they working men who went there?—Yes.

18,658. All working men?—Yes, all working men. There were five or six sometimes of a night, and sometimes none, not voters.

18,659. They were all working men who frequented your house?—Yes.

18,660. Who had the breakfast?—I cannot tell. I went down to Morecambe at the time; it was the people in the China Lane district, I suppose; they were all done when I got back.

18,661. How many breakfasts did you furnish?—I think 25, or from that to 30.

18,662. How do you make up the sum of 7*l.*?—With drink the night before; there was all the nomination day, and the day before that, and the election day, and then there were about 25 from Morecambe. We brought them from the polling booth to our house, and they stayed there all day.

18,663. (Mr. Barstow.) May I ask whether you were not paid from day to day as well?—No, there were three days; that 7*l.* was for three days, for breakfasts, luncheons, and refreshments.

18,664. You say you spent in Lancaster, at your own house, 6*l.* 13*s.*?—Yes, at my own house, and up and down.

18,665. (Mr. Hill.) The 6*l.* was at your house, and the 13*s.* was up and down, I suppose?—No, I went to Galgate once out of that 6*l.* and once to Bolton.

18,666. They never used your committee-room except when they were drinking?—Yes; there was a deal of writing there, Mr. Thomas Foster hired the room.

18,667. They never wrote dry?—Yes, he generally did.

18,668. (Mr. Newton.) Was any bribery going on at your house?—I cannot tell you.

18,669. There was no "illustrious stranger" or anything of that sort?—I cannot tell you.

18,670. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you know Thomas Foster, of China Lane?—Yes.

18,671. Was not he bribed in your house?—I cannot tell you; he must have been. They were all gone when I got back from Morecambe.

18,672. Do you know where he is now?—I do not; I have not seen him only once since.

18,673. Only once since the election?—No.

EDWARD MASHEDER sworn and examined. E. Masheder.

18,674. (Mr. Hill.) What is your occupation?—A draper.

18,675. No. 564?—I believe that is the number.

18,676. Are you a Conservative?—Yes.

18,677. At the last election what monies did you receive?—I had about 11*l.* altogether.

18,678. From whom did you receive monies, and when?—I received 1*l.* from John Cross about three weeks before the election. I received 2*l.* from Bulfield, that would be about a fortnight before the election, 2*l.* from Vince, and 5*l.* from Bulfield for Richmond.

18,679. That is what he has just told us about?—Yes.

18,680. From whom did you receive the money for Richmond?—From Bulfield, 5*l.*; that was from Bulfield to give to Richmond.

18,681. Anything else?—1*l.* from Connor; that was the "man in the moon."

18,682. That was the Irish stranger?—Yes.

18,683. Or Welcher, as Mrs. Willacy thinks. Was that all the money you received?—Yes.

18,684. How did you spend it?—I spent 6*l.* in drink at Morecambe, with the exception of 4*s.* or 5*s.*, which I had left, and gave to Thomas Cross after the election.

18,685. What was the next?—That is all.

18,686. What did you did you do with the other 5*l.*?—I gave 5*l.* of it to Richmond.

18,687. What is Richmond's christian name?—Joseph Bond Richmond.

18,688. For his vote?—He said he wanted it for spending. I do not know whether he spent it or not.

18,689. That is the whole?—Yes.

18,690. And that is all you can tell us about it?—Yes.

18,691. You did not assist in paying anybody else any money?—I did not.

18,692. And you do not know personally anything about any being spent?—Except the party who was with me spent it.

THOMAS CROSS sworn and examined. T. Cross.

18,693. (Mr. Barstow.) You are the brother of John Cross?—Yes.

18,694. What are you?—A plasterer.

18,695. Where do you live?—In Bath Street.

18,696. What money did you receive for the purposes of the last election?—12*l.* 7*s.*

18,697. You are a Conservative, I suppose?—Yes.

18,698. How did you receive it; in what sums?—I received 10*l.* from Mr. Hagart, and 2*l.* from Mr. Vince.

18,699. And 7*s.*, I suppose, from somebody else?—Yes, from Proctor and Masheder.

18,700. What did you do with the money?—I gave 10*l.* to George Cooper Hatton for his vote. I spent 34*s.* in treating electors at Morecambe and Lancaster—the freemen. I sent it down the day after the election. John and William, I think, father and son.

18,701. How much did you send?—13*s.*

18,702. That is the whole sum?—Yes, that is all.

18,703. Is that all you had to do with the election?—Yes, the reason that I sent the 13*s.* to the two Threlfalls was, that when I brought them from Morecambe to vote, a man of the name of William Woodhouse got hold of them and offered them 15*l.* a-piece, so they would not go and vote unless I promised them something else. William Woodhouse is a member of the Local Board of Health.

18,704. Where at?—At Morecambe.

18,705. Did you get anything for yourself?—No.

18,706. Absolutely nothing?—Nothing at all.

JAMES SIMPSON CARRUTHERS sworn and examined. J. S. Carruthers.

18,707. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A wine merchant.

18,708. Where do you live?—I live at No. 11, Springfield Terrace; I did live in Lime Street, Skerton, at the time of the election.

18,709. You are a Liberal?—No, a Conservative.

18,710. You are a Blue. I made a mistake; I took you for somebody else?—Yes, I am a Blue.

18,711. What money did you receive for the purposes of the last election?—I received 5*l.* from George Clark; I think it was about the 15th of June.

18,712. Did you receive anything more?—Nothing more that I am aware of from him.

18,713. Is that all you received?—No, I received 10*l.* from Mr. Coupland about the end of June.

18,714. Did you receive anything else?—No, nothing.

18,715. How did you spend this 15*l.*?—The first 10*s.* I spent was given to William Armistead and John Bond, 5*s.* each.

18,716. The two celebrated men that have been here to-day?—Yes. The next 2*l.* I gave to James Bell to give to them.

18,717. You paid Bell 2*l.* more to give to those two identical men?—Yes, I did.

18,718. How long after the 10*s.* was that?—I believe they got their 5*s.* on the Saturday, and I will not be confident whether it was on the Monday following, or the Tuesday, that they got the 2*l.*

18,719. How did you spend the rest?—You will find it all down on this piece of paper (handing a paper to the Commissioners).

18,720. I see that you got 20*l.* from William Lamb?—Yes, but that was about a month ago, given by Mr. Wilson Barker towards paying a refreshment bill.

18,721. According to this statement you are out of pocket?—Yes, considerably, 48*l.*

18,722. You received 20*l.* by William Lamb from Wilson Barker?—Yes, I believe he paid William Lamb 20*l.* 11*s.*, but I got 20*l.* only.

18,723. When was that?—I think about August the 27th, but I believe Lamb received the money before that.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

J. S. Carruthers.

17 Sept. 1866.

18,724. You received it the other day?—Yes, since the inquiry. They disputed the account previously.

18,725. That was the very day we first sat here?—Yes, about that time.

18,726. The last payment Mr. Barker gave us was July the 27th?—I believe Lamb was paid on that day.

18,727. Lamb has paid that 20*l.* since?—Yes, he has paid it to me in four 5*l.* notes.

18,728. Who was the captain of your district?—I do not know. I thought I was, but they contradicted it. I want to know who was.

18,729. The first payment you made was to Armistead and Bond?—Yes.

18,730. The next payment was to Sanderson, 4*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes, in different sums, at different times, amounting to 4*l.* 10*s.*

18,731. Who is he?—Thomas Sanderson. He keeps a public-house in Chapel Street.

18,732. In this town?—Yes.

18,733. Did anybody authorize you to pay him that money?—Yes.

18,734. Who did?—Christopher Thornton Clark, and Bond also.

18,735. What is the name of his public-house?—I do not know.

18,736. John Mitchell, who is he?—He is a gentleman residing in Lime Street. That was to assist me to get a few voters; in fact, he did not ask me for it. I gave it to him to spend.

18,737. James Jackson?—That was another person to assist. He was sent down to me for money, and I provided him.

18,738. You paid him 15*s.*?—Yes.

18,739. By whose orders?—George Clark's.

18,740. James Walker 5*s.*, and James Pennington 5*s.*; who are they?—They are two voters.

18,741. Is Jackson a voter?—Yes; but they all voted the wrong way.

18,742. You gave him 5*s.*, for what?—I do not know; to go and get drunk with, I suppose. He said he had given over work and must be supported, both of them.

18,743. I suppose he put himself on the committee?—Yes, he was on the committee.

18,744. This seems to be a sort of relieving committee?—Yes, it was.

18,745. The next item is James Wilson, 1*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*?—George Wilson, I think. It is for the same thing. That was given at different times.

18,746. Relief, I suppose?—Yes, he was off work too.

18,747. What is Mr. Wilson in private life?—I do not know. I believe he is a cabinet-maker.

18,748. A journeyman?—No, I think not.

18,749. A master?—No.

18,750. William Lamb, 37*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.*; what is that for?—An hotel bill, from the 12th up to the end of the time. I have a receipt for it.

18,751. What hotel does Mr. Lamb keep?—The "Black Bull." It is a house where all the carriages stopped, and that makes it so heavy.

18,752. Have you got Lamb's receipt there?—Yes (handing it to the Commissioners).

18,753. Thomas Winder, 4*l.* 15*s.*?—He keeps a beerhouse called the "Heart and Hand."

18,754. Is he a voter?—Yes.

18,755. Then William Lamb again, 5*l.* 0*s.* 2*d.*; what is that for?—A bill incurred at the time. I was living at Morecambe at the time, so anything he put down I paid to him the first time I saw him.

18,756. Why was not that put into the first bill?—My bill of 7*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* has been since paid—a considerable time since.

18,757. Then "wages for staff-men, 13*l.* 10*s.*" How many staff-men had you?—35. I have the names of all of them. I paid them myself.

18,758. Were they voters or non-voters?—Non-voters principally; but there were voters as well in the number.

18,759. Can you give us the names of the voters?—I can give you the names of the staff-men (handing in a list to the Commissioners).

18,760. How many of these were voters?—I cannot say.

18,761. After your examination is over, be good enough to mark the voters on that list and give it in?—Yes. I can take that from the register.

18,762. Then the next item is, "Disbursements at Morecambe and Lancaster from the 20th of June to the 12th of July, 12*l.*?"—Yes.

18,763. What is that for?—It is for treating. I had the whole of the paying of the district. At least, I do not know that anybody else paid anything.

18,764. Disbursements for 22 days?—Yes.

18,765. Where at?—At Morecambe, Skerton, and at Lancaster. I was known almost by all of them, and the voters would come to me whether they were in our district or not.

18,766. Those items make 83*l.* 14*s.*?—Yes, I think so.

18,767. Why have you not been paid the full amount?—I do not know.

18,768. Have you sent in your bill?—Yes, I have. Mr. Gibson had it.

18,769. What does Mr. Gibson say?—Mr. Gibson would willingly have paid it if the rest of the captains had been agreeable.

18,770. The rest of the captains were not agreeable?—No.

18,771. Why were not the rest of the captains agreeable?—I do not know.

18,772. That is what I want to arrive at?—I hope you will.

18,773. I think you might tell us?—They say I was not authorized, and I want to know who was. I suppose it was to evade paying.

18,774. How came Mr. Lamb to pay you 20*l.*?—Because Mr. Wilson Barker paid him 20*l.* 11*s.*

18,775. What of that?—That was a separate bill for the night of the nomination. He asked him to make out two bills.

18,776. Who did?—Mr. Barker. That is what Lamb has stated to me, and he made out two bills, one of 36*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.*, and the other, I believe, 17*l.* something. That 37*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* would be the correct thing.

18,777. I think if your bill had been correct, the other captains would have allowed you to have been paid. That is my own opinion. They would not have allowed you to be out of pocket 48*l.* odd?—They have, whether they would or not.

18,778. (Mr. Barstow.) You were very unlucky. You seem to have paid other people pretty freely. You are in the wine and spirit trade?—Yes.

18,779. Do you supply this house, the "Black Bull?" Yes, I have done; but more houses than that.

18,780. No doubt; but that house is, so to say, in your trade?—Yes.

18,781. Was anything due from Lamb to you at the time of the election?—I cannot say whether there was or not. No doubt there would be 8*l.* or 9*l.* There might or might not.

18,782. How much do you think was due?—I do not think it would be more than 10*l.*, if it was 10*l.* He is a good payer.

18,783. It is a good house?—Yes. It is a house where all the traffic goes past, and they all pulled up there.

18,784. Was this the only bill you received from Lamb?—No, I had another bill from him for 5*l.* 0*s.* 2*d.*

18,785. Did he not give you the items?—No, the items were sent, I believe, to Mr. Gibson.

18,786. Have you received the items of the account?—No, I have not.

18,787. Did you pay the account in this form without receiving the items?—Yes, I did.

18,788. Then, I think, the captains were abundantly justified in not repaying you?—The account has gone in in full to the captains.

18,789. I can quite understand why the captains refused to pay you the 48*l.*?—They denied afterwards that they ever received the items.

18,790. (Mr. Hill.) Why did you pay Lamb that bill without having the items sent in?—I saw the bill with the items, and it was sent to the agent, Mr. Gibson.

18,791. Why did you not leave them to pay it, and not you yourself, pay it?—Because the man would not go on. He refused to go on. The order was from the committee room to allow the licensed house 30*s.* a day, and the beerhouse 1*l.* That was strictly carried out, and if you put that together for 12 days, you will find 20*l.* 11*s.* The amount is there.

18,792. Whose arrangement was that?—It was Mr. Coupland's.

18,793. With whom?—With William Atkinson.

18,794. Mr. Couplands and Atkinson's arrangement, with whom?—With Winder.

18,795. I thought this was a general arrangement you were going to tell us about with beerhouses, and licensed houses?—Yes.

18,796. Mr. Coupland and Mr. Atkinson arranged with what beerhouses?—The "Heart and Hand," and the "Black Bull."

18,797. (Mr. Newton.) With those two only?—Yes, those two only.

18,798. (Mr. Hill.) What was the arrangement?—The arrangement was that the beerhouse ——

18,799. Which is the beerhouse?—The "Heart and Hand." That was to be 1*l.* a day, and the licensed house 30*s.* a day. That is what the bill amounted to from the date.

18,800. You are talking rigmarole. You say Mr. Coupland and Mr. Atkinson engaged with the "Heart and Hand" to be 1*l.* a day, and the "Black Bull 30*s.* a day?—Yes.

18,801. What has that got to do with this matter?—That has to do with the receipt.

18,802. What has it to do with your paying Lamb 37*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.*?—He asked me if I would see him paid, and I said, "Yes," never expecting but what I should have been paid.

18,803. How many thirty shillings are there in 37*l.* 11*s.* 4*d*?—That is only for 12 days. On the nomination night he made out a separate bill for 20*l.* 11*s.*, and that is the item Mr. Barker has paid.

18,804. Mr. Lamb's house was the "Black Bull" and the "Black Bull" you say was to have 30*s.* a day?—Yes.

18,805. How many days was the "Black Bull" engaged?—12 days, I think it was.

18,806. That would be twelve 30*s.*?—Yes.

18,807. That would be 18*l.*?—I cannot give you the exact number of days.

18,808. But you agree with me that twelve 30*s.* is 18*l.*?—Yes.

18,809. How is the remainder of the 37*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* made up?—On the night of the nomination they were allowed to go further; that is the bill they have paid; —there was no restriction.

18,810. That does not convey much to my mind?—That was the bill that was incurred on the nomination night.

18,811. Do you understand the English language? If so, will you be kind enough to speak it to me. Tell me what you mean. There are 12 nights at 30*s.* making 18*l.* How is the remainder of the 37*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* made up?—It could not be 12 nights.

18,812. You told me 12 nights, and that is the reason I took it. Take any smaller sum you like?—It must be nine or ten.

18,813. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you hear either Mr. Coupland or Mr. Atkinson make this agreement?—No.

18,814. How did you know they made the agreement?—Mr. Atkinson told me so, and I know it was the agreement, because I went over the bridge with him to Winder's and Lamb's to state that they were to go to this amount.

18,815. Did you hear him make this agreement?—Mr. Coupland?

18,816. Or Mr. Atkinson?—Atkinson and myself.

18,816*a*. Did you hear Mr. Atkinson make the agreement with Lamb?—Yes, together.

18,817. Did you hear Atkinson make the agreement with Lamb that he was to have 30*s.* a night for the use of his house?—Yes.

18,818. (Mr. Hill.) When did you hear that agreement made?—It was about the 1st of the month, I cannot say to a day.

18,819. The 1st of what month?—The 1st of July.

18,820. From the 1st of July to the 12th of July is 12 days?—About that time. I cannot speak to the time exactly.

18,821. That would be 18*l.* How is the other 19*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* made up?—That was on the night of the nomination for breakfasts.

That answer is quite sufficient to show me that you do not mean what you say, or at all events there is something wrong.

(Mr. Newton.) I am not in the least surprised at the captains not paying your claim.

William Atkinson sworn and examined.

18,822. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I am a surveyor.

18,823. Where do you live?—I live at Morecambe at present.

18,824. Are you a Conservative in politics?—Yes.

18,825. What monies did you receive at the last election?—27*l.*

18,826. How did you receive it, and from whom?—I received 2*l.* from Mr. Coupland.

18,827. When?—Sometime about the 1st of July; I cannot say exactly.

18,828. What next?—I received on the morning of the election 25*l.*

18,829. From whom?—Mr. Bakewell.

18,830. Is that all that you received?—It is.

18,831. Have you not received anything since?—No.

18,832. Nothing at all in the way of paying bills?—No.

18,833. 27*l.* is all you received?—Yes.

18,833*a*. How did you lay it out?—I paid 15*l.* to Martin Ireland.

18,834. Is he a voter?—Yes.

18,835. You paid it to him for his vote, is that so?—Yes.

18,836. How came you to pay Martin Ireland 15*l.*? Was he in your district?—Yes.

18,837. I did not ask what your district was?—My district was Bulk and Skerton.

18,838. Did you give Martin Ireland anything else?—No.

18,839. What else did you pay?—I paid Henry Huntington 15*l.*

18,840. Is he a voter?—Yes.

18,841. Where?—He is a farmer in Bulk; he was then at least, but is not now.

18,842. What has become of him now?—He lives in Lancaster, on the Quay.

18,843. Did you pay anybody else?—I paid David Irvine 5*l.*

18,844. What was that for?—For his vote.

18,845. What is he?—A farmer.

18,846. What else did you pay?—I can scarcely tell you; I paid from 12*l.* to 15*l.* in refreshments during the time.

18,847. Where?—Some in Bulk, some in Skerton, some in Bare, and some in Morecambe. I did not keep any particular account.

18,848. You could not have paid much at Morecambe, I should think?—Yes, they were rather a sappy lot there.

18,849. What shall we say altogether? Give me the nearest figures you can?—12*l.*

18,850. It was rather more than 12*l.* was it not?—I daresay it was. I did not keep any particular account.

18,851. What shall I say?—12*l.*

18,852. What else did you pay?—I paid nothing more. I expect I shall have some more to pay, but that is all I have paid as yet.

18,853. What else do you expect to have to pay?—

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

W. Atkinson.

17 Sept. 1866.

10*s.* for David Atkinson and 10*s.* for John Winder for going to Bolton on the morning of the election.

18,854. When do you expect to have to pay that?—I should like to pay it as soon as I get the money.

18,855. You owe the money?—Yes; I engaged the men, and they expect to be paid, no doubt.

18,856. Anything else? Let us have a schedule of your liabilities?—There is 5*s.* to John Winder, not 10*s.*; 10*s.* to David Atkinson, 10*s.* to William Wearing, and 10*l.* to James Walker.

18,857. What is that for?—For his vote.

18,858. The poor man has not been paid for his vote?—No, he did not get it from me.

18,859. Am I to say "I owe James Walker 10*l.* for his vote?"—Yes.

18,860. James Walker unfortunately polled before he was paid?—He did, I believe.

18,861. How came James Walker not to be paid?—Because he went away from the "Black Bull."

18,862. Has he turned up again lately?—He turned up that day.

18,863. What had James Walker to do with the "Black Bull?"—It was the place where we collected the voters together.

18,864. How came he to go away?—I cannot tell you.

18,865-6. How came he to vote without being paid?—Because he went out of the room without his money.

18,867. Did he forget it?—I do not know. I was not there.

18,868. He voted without being paid?—He did.

18,869. And has not been paid yet?—No, he has not.

18,870. When are you going to pay him?—I do not know.

18,871. Are you waiting for anything before you do pay it?—I do not know. I do not think he ever will get paid now.

18,872. From whom do you expect to get the money to pay him with?—I expect to get it from Wilson Barker.

18,873. He has not given it to you?—No.

18,874. You have told us of the expenditure of 47*l.*, and you tell us you only received 27*l.*; from where did the other 20*l.* come?—It came out of my pocket.

18,875. Are you that much out of pocket?—Yes.

18,876. Do you really mean to say you have not had that 20*l.* repaid you?—I do.

18,877. Why has not Wilson Barker repaid you?—I do not know.

18,878-9. Have you asked for it?—Yes, I have.

18,880-1. Often?—Yes.

18,882-3. What reason did he give for not paying you?—He said I was to get the amount certified by some of the captains.

18,884. Does he not quite credit that you have paid this?—I do not know; I do not know that he disputes it.

18,885. He said you were to get it certified by a captain?—Yes.

18,886. You are 20*l.* out of pocket?—Yes.

18,887. Besides your liabilities?—Yes.

18,888. You are Mr. Clark's head man at Morecambe, are you not?—I do not know that I am.

18,889. Do you do business for Mr. C. T. Clarke?—Yes I do; I am the surveyor to the Board of Health.

18,890. Did you invest this 12*l.* at Morecambe for the health of the people there?—No, I did not, only some of it.

18,891. How much did you lay out as clerk to the Board of Health?—I laid out nothing.

18,892. Mr. Clark is the chairman of the Board of Health?—Yes.

18,893. And you are surveyor?—I am surveyor to the Board of Health.

18,894. In spite of your connexion with the party from whom you cannot get the money which you are out of pocket?—I cannot get it; I do not know the reason, and I would like to know it.

18,895. (Mr. Barstow.) Did no one give you any money for Martin Ireland?—Yes, I got 25*l.* from Mr. Bakewell; I paid Martin Ireland 15*l.*

18,896. (Mr. Newton.) That was not the arrangement?—It was the second arrangement.

18,897. What was the first arrangement?—I got 10*l.* for Martin Ireland and 10*l.* for Huntington.

18,898. And now you make it out 15*l.* instead of 10*l.* a-piece?—I paid them 15*l.* each, and I will tell you how that was. When I got the money it was early in the morning, and before I could meet with them other parties had got hold of them, and they would not vote unless I gave them 15*l.*

18,899. Who saw you pay them?—There was nobody saw me excepting themselves.

18,900. (Mr. Barstow.) Who gave you authority to pay them?—Ido not know; Mr. Wilson, I fancy.

18,901. What Mr. Wilson?—Mr. H. T. Wilson.

18,902. Did he give you authority to pay them 15*l.*?—He did not give me authority to pay those two men exactly. He gave me authority in this way, I was with Mr. Carruthers, and he said we were not to lose a vote.

18,903. When did he say that?—The night of the nomination.

18,904. (Mr. Newton.) When did you make the first arrangement with Ireland and Huntington about the 10*l.*?—That would be some time previous to the election.

18,905. How long?—Two or three days perhaps.

18,906. (Mr. Barstow.) When Ireland and Huntington as you say declined to take 10*l.*, why did you not bring them back to the stranger at the "Black Bull?"—Because I was not near the "Black Bull" then.

18,907. You cannot have been very far from it; how far were you?—We were in Lancaster, those two men were in Bulk; they never were at the "Black Bull."

18,908. (Mr. Newton.) Do you know the last witness, Mr. Carruthers?—Yes.

18,909. Have you ever seen his bill at the "Black Bull?"—Yes, I have.

18,910. What do you make of it?—I do not know.

18,911. What is your private opinion about it?—My private opinion is that it is correct.

18,912. 37*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.*?—Yes.

18,913. 39*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.* the two bills?—Yes; there were about 12 days; we were allowed to go as far as 30*s.*, and that is 18*l.*; and on the nomination night and election morning for breakfasts and other refreshments for voters from Morecambe, Carnforth, and Kellett, and other places, it was something like 20*l.* I cannot speak to a shilling or two, but that was somewhere about the amount.

18,914. I want to know who gave you authority to pay Lamb 30*s.* a day for the use of his house?—Mr. Coupland and Mr. Cross.

18,915. When was this?—It would be the latter end of June or the 1st of July; I cannot speak to it exactly.

18,916. Where was it?—At the "Royal Hotel," in the committee room.

18,917. Who else was present?—I do not know whether Danson was there; I do not remember any but those three, not in the room where we were, excepting Winder from the "Hand and Heart."

18,918. Have you ever asked anybody to pay you that 10*l.* for James Walker?—Yes, I have.

18,919. What have they told you?—I do not know. Mr. Barker said he expected I should get the money.

18,920. From whom?—I expect from him; I do not know any other.

18,921. After this inquiry is over, do you mean that?—I do not know.

18,922. When did he tell you that?—Sometime before the inquiry.

18,923. Was it a month ago?—Yes.

18,924. He said you would get the money?—He said there would be a meeting called, and I should lose nothing.

18,925. Who is James Walker?—He is a cotton spinner, I think.

18,926. When did you pay him?—I have not paid him, I owe it to him.

THOMAS TAYLOR sworn and examined.

18,927. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A wine and spirit merchant.

18,928. Carrying on business by yourself?—No.

18,929. Who is your partner?—Mr. Carruthers.

18,930. Did you take an active part for the Conservatives at the last election?—Not very.

18,931. Where did you canvass?—I went on the day of the nomination with George Coulston to Kellett.

18,932. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—I received, by direction of Mr. Coulston, 21*l.* from Mr. Barker.

18,933. Did you receive any other money?—No.

18,934. What did you do with it?—By the direction of Mr. Coulston I gave a woman 36*l.*

18,935. What was that for?—For three votes.

18,936. What woman was that?—The wife of one of the Garths, of Kellett. I fancy so.

18,637. Who were the voters?—There were three Garths; there is R. Garth, J. Garth, and R. Garth, junior.

18,938. They were to have 12*l.* a-piece?—Yes.

18,939. This woman you say was the wife of one of them?—Yes, I think so. No one told me so.

18,940. What makes you think so?—Because she accompanied them to Lancaster.

18,941. Did you give it to her in their presence?—Yes, I did.

18,942. What other money did you pay?—I paid a bill contracted by Mr. Coulston before the nomination night, 3*l.* 5*s.* He wished me to disburse the money. He did not wish to have anything to do with money, and that is why I paid all these sums.

18,943. Did you really receive nothing but 21*l.*?—That is all I received. There is a statement of it (handing a paper to the Commissioners.)

18,944. (Mr. Hill.) What is this debtor and creditor account?—It is a debtor and creditor account, as far as I am concerned, with relation to the last election.

18,945. There is a receipt here from Mr. Coulston of 16*l.*?—Mr. Coulston received 16*l.* He went out for the purpose of getting some more money, and brought in 16*l.*

18,946. You received that from Mr. Coulston?—Yes.

18,947. Then why did you not tell me so?—I think I did.

18,948. You said 21*l.* was the only sum you received. What did you receive?—I should receive the 16*l.* from Mr. Coulston.

18,949. You seem to have received from Mr. Barker, on behalf of Mr. Coulston, 2*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—I received in March the balance, 10*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*, with a receipted bill, which you will see there attached to my statement, of 9*l.* 15*s.*

18,950. You have accounted for 36*l.* How do you account for the rest?—Mr. Coulston paid 5*l.* to a voter named Machell. He borrowed the money from me. He told me he paid him 5*l.*, but I did not see it paid.

18,951. Did you pay an account, of a man named Ireland?—Yes, 3*l.* 5*s.*

18,952. And another account, making a total of 4*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*?—Yes.

18,953. Then there was a further payment to one of the Garths?—Coulston asked me for 10*s.* for one of the Garths to treat another of the Garths with during the day of the election. He was a sort of captain over the Garths. You have a correct account there of all the matter.

18,954. Then there is 30*s.* for your own disbursements and expenses?—For gates and toll-gates, and so on.

18,955. (Mr. Barstow.) The toll charges must be very heavy?—It is for both Mr. Coulston and myself.

18,956. Did you go in separate carriages?—We had a 'bus and Whitechapel.

18,957. It is not any matter for us, but you charge 30*s.* for toll-gates?—Yes. That is for Mr. Coulston as well as myself.

18,958. (Mr. Hill.) And refreshments, I suppose, for both of you?—What we gave to the voters.

18,959. That is all, is it?—Yes, that is all. I gave you that statement because Mr. Coulston is away, and it will prevent the necessity of your sending for him. He cannot tell you any more than I have already told you.

18,960. Who is Mr. Coulston?—He is now living in Caln, in Normandy; he is a gentleman.

18,961. Is he any relation to Mr. Coulston, the banker?—Yes.

18,962. His son?—No. Mr. Coulston at the bank is a bachelor.

18,963. His nephew, then?—I do not know the relationship. He may be a cousin, but I do not know. Mr. Coulston wished me to take charge of the money because he had been on the Liberal side before, and he thought there might be some reflections passed if he fingered the money. That is the reason the cash was handed to me.

18,964. Did the fact of Mr. Coulston being on the Liberal side before at all invalidate him from holding the cash?—He thought the Tories might be suspicious about him. There was a great difficulty in getting money.

18,965. (Mr. Newton.) What is the meaning of this Kellett bill?—On the eve of the election I inquired if there was anything owing, and they said the voters had had sundry refreshments, and the canvassers, which amounted to so much, by order of Mr. Coulston. He had given an order that they were to have so much.

18,966. Did you see the bill?—Yes, I did. Mr. Barker has the bill.

18,967. Was it a fair bill?—I suppose so,

18,968. Do you think all the ref eshments were had?—I thought so when I paid it, and of course I thought if we left the bill unpaid it would be much larger another day; therefore I was determined to have it all paid up.

18,969. Is this your entry? "Thirteen voters on the "register; seven voted Lawrence, four Fenwick and "Schneider. All were bribed but two?"—Yes. The two not bribed were Dr. Ainslie and Mr. Wilson.

18,970. You say all the voters at Kellett were bribed excepting two?—Yes.

18,971. Then you say, "This is all I know of the "election. I was from home on the eve of the election, "and therefore did not canvass any voters?"—No, I never asked a man for a vote; but with regard to some of those men who really did receive money I do not think any man would have influenced them to vote differently from what they did. That is Bleasdale and Machell. If they had had 100*l.* each offered to them they would not have voted on the Liberal side.

18,972. But at the same time they thought it right to receive the same as others?—They thought, I suppose, they might as well have something.

CHARLES EDWARD QUARME sworn and examined.

C. E. Quarme.

18,973. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—I am editor of the "Lancaster Gazette."

18,974. What may the politics of that Gazette be?—Conservative.

18,975. I suppose you are a Conservative yourself?—Yes, of course; I hope so.

18,976. Can you give us any information about the election of 1865?—I am afraid not. I was not engaged in it in any way further than that which has been testified before you. I think some witness said that I was engaged in addressing the electors in my village where I live, at Scotforth. That is perfectly true, and that is all I know about it.

18,977. I hope you made them a pure speech?—Oh

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

C. E. Quarme.

17 Sept. 1866.

I am afraid my eloquence was entirely thrown away.

18,978. How many days before the election was that?—I cannot tell you exactly; some two, three, or four, I should think, but I really cannot tell.

18,979. I hope your speech was well received?—I got plenty of cheers, but I am afraid no votes.

18,980. You were unsuccessful?—I should think so, because there were other means employed of obtaining votes apart from any eloquence that I could bestow upon the voters, I am sure. I knew before that I could be of very little service indeed. I did not canvass any voters. I live in the village of Scotforth, and there are only seven voters there; and if I had interested myself I should have had very little to do.

18,981. You had not a very large audience, then?—Oh, no; very, very small, indeed.

18,982. I must ask you how much money you spent in paying voters?—How much what?

18,983. How much money did you spend in paying voters?—I can very easily answer that question; I did not spend any.

18,984. How much money did you spend in paying voters?—None; I had nothing to do with any money at all.

18,985. You did not receive any money?—Certainly not.

18,986. Are you a voter yourself?—I am not.

18,987. All you did was to address the seven electors of Scotforth?—That was all.

W. Cross.

WILLIAM CROSS sworn and examined.

18,988. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A plasterer.

18,989. Where do you live?—In Market Street.

18,990. Are you a Conservative?—Yes.

18,991. What part did you take in the last election?—I went to Ellel, the higher part.

18,992. Did you receive any monies?—I did.

18,993. What monies?—I received 30*l.*

18,994. From whom?—Mr. Barker.

18,995. Did you receive anything besides?—That is all.

18,996. When did you receive that from Mr. Barker?—On the evening of the nomination.

18,997. What did you do with it?—I gave 10*l.* to Henry Nelson. He was the captain of the district.

18,998. Is he a voter?—Yes, I believe he is.

18,999. What did you give him the 10*l.* for?—5*l.* was for James Towers, a voter, and the other was for expenses.

19,000. The other 5*l.* was for himself?—No; I think he said he had expended some money before I went up.

19,001. You say that the 5*l.* was for his own expenses?—Yes.

19,002. What other monies did you lay out?—I gave 5*l.* to Bartholomew Pye for Thomas Fox.

19,003. Was that for Thomas Fox's vote?—Yes.

19,004. What else did you spend?—About 13*l.* for expenses in breakfasts and so on.

19,005. Where was this?—At the "Fleece" inn.

19,006. Breakfasts at the "Fleece" inn, how much?—9*l.* for the breakfasts.

19,007. How many voters?—14 or 15 voters, with their wives. I should think there would be nearly 40 at breakfast.

19,008. How much money did that come to?—That was 9*l.*; but there were the conveyances staying all night, and beds, and the horses.

19,009. That was part of the 9*l.*?—Yes; and then there would be about 3*l.* or 4*l.* for what they had to drink, besides the 9*l.*

19,010. What did you do with the balance?—I returned it to Mr. Barker.

19,011. How much did you return to him?—Something over a pound.

19,012. There would be 3*l.* left?—There is another pound I forgot, for a young man that went with us for assistance.

19,013. What is his name?—James Bradshaw, a non-voter.

19,014. Are you quite sure you paid James Bradshaw?—Yes, quite certain.

19,015. Where did you pay him?—I think I paid him in my own house, but it was not given to him till after the election was over.

19,016. What is James Bradshaw?—He is an ironmonger.

19,017. In what way did he assist?—He went with us. He knew the voters in that district.

19,018. How many voters were there?—There are about 21 in that district.

19,019. You handed back a balance of 1*l.* to Wilson Barker?—1*l.* odd. I do not know what it was exactly, but I gave him back every halfpenny.

19,020. You kept the money separate?—Yes; I had not a halfpenny of my own with me, and I gave him the balance, whatever it was.

19,021. The same evening?—No, the day following the election.

19,022. There are 2*l.* remaining?—There might be a little more spent than I have given an account of; I cannot tell exactly, but I know that that is the exact sum that was returned.

19,023. Are you sure you gave that back to Barker, because he has not told us of that?—I am certain I did; I met him in the street.

19,024. Have you spoken to him about it lately?—Never since. It was over 1*l.*, but I cannot say how much.

19,025. Did you receive any money yourself for your vote?—Not a halfpenny.

19,026. You never received any money for voting?—Never.

19,027. Did you ever ask for anything?—No, never. I never wanted anything.

19,028. Do you expect anything?—No.

19,029. (Mr. Newton.) What was Fox?—A farm labourer. He is a brother to William Fox. The other Foxes were paid at Lancaster.

19,030. (Mr. Hill.) Henry Nelson got his money really for his vote, did he not?—No, I believe not. He had, I think, expended some part of it before I went up there, but he will be able to tell you.

19,031. Who paid him?—I do not think he got paid.

19,032. James Towers got the 5*l.* for his vote?—Yes, he did.

J. Carruthers.

JAMES CARRUTHERS recalled and further examined.

19,033. (Mr. Newton.) Have you got the list of the staff-men who were voters?—Yes (handing a paper to the Commissioners.) There is only one George Wilson.

19,034. George Wilson, of Skerton, labourer?—Yes.

19,035. What sort of labourer was he?—A cabinet-maker.

19,036. He gave up his work?—Yes.

19,037. And went upon your list?—Yes.

19,038. What were the staff-men engaged at a piece?—It is all down there; 7*s.* 6*d.* I think, but some got more.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

NINETEENTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Tuesday, 18th September 1866.

PRESENT:

MR. BARSTOW. | MR. NEWTON. | MR. HILL.

R. Peckover.

18 Sept. 1866.

RICHARD PECKOVER sworn and examined.

19,039. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A yeoman.

19,040. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

19,041. You are not a voter I think?—No.

19,042. What had you to do with the last election?—Very little indeed.

19,043. Tell us what part you took in it?—Mr. Whiteside had got a sovereign given to him to spend among the voters on the election, and he did not wish to have anything to do with it, and he asked me to take it and spend it, which I did.

19,044. Did you spend it among freemen, or on yourself, or how?—I spent it among freemen and others, both voters and non-voters.

19,045. That is all you know about it?—Yes.

19,046. What is Whiteside's christian name?—William Whiteside.

J. Marshall.

JOHN MARSHALL sworn and examined.

19,047. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A wine and spirit merchant.

19,048. Where do you live?—I live in High Street; my place of business is in New Street.

19,049. Are you a voter?—Yes.

19,050. What part did you take in the last election?—Very little indeed.

19,051. What was that little?—The only transaction I had was, I went down to Stirzaker's, the gardener, on the morning of the election.

19,052. By whose orders did you go there?—By order of some friends of mine, Mr. Cross and Mr. Halstead; they wished me to go and call upon them.

19,053. Did you see them?—I saw them both, the father and son, and was with them perhaps most of half an hour.

19,054. Where?—I wished to induce them to vote for Mr. Lawrence; the bargain had been made with some friends of mine before—that is with father and son for 17*l.* 10*s.*

19,055. Were you told to make the bargain with them?—No, the bargain had been made previously.

19,056. You did not make the bargain?—I did not.

19,057. Do you know who did?—No, I do not. Stirzaker said that our party had named it at one of the inns at Lancaster. Old John Stirzaker told me that it had been repeated over at one of the inns at Lancaster that a bargain had been made, and for that reason he should not vote that way; that he should not vote for Mr. Lawrence. He said he had been told by the other party that he should be brought up for bribery, and would have to go to London, and that for a man of his years it would almost kill him.

19,058. What time in the day was this?—It was early in the morning; about 5 o'clock in the morning.

19,059. Of course that was before the polling had begun?—Yes.

19,060. It must have been known, then, probably on the day previous, or the day previous to that?—Yes, it must have been; and, moreover, he said that Mrs. Schneider and the Miss Turners, the vicar's daughters, were very good customers, and paid them a great deal of money for plants and different things out of the garden. A good deal has been said about a geranium, but there was no certain plant named at all.

19,061. What else took place?—I think that was all.

19,062. Did you get them up to vote?—No, I did not go down after; some of my friends did, but they could not make anything of them; they went the other way both of them.

19,063. Were you told that there had been a bargain made?—They told me themselves.

19,064. Had you been told of it before?—No.

19,065. What were you told to do?—I was told to go down and see if I could prevail upon them to come and vote for Mr. Lawrence.

19,066. This you say was at 5 o'clock in the morning; the poll was not open then?—No, but I would see the money paid to them.

19,067. You knew that there had been that bargain made?—Yes, but I did not know before that morning.

19,068. Who told you that there had been a bargain made?—Mr. Cross and Mr. Halstead.

19,069. They both told you that there had been a bargain made?—Yes.

19,070. Did they mention to you the sum?—Yes.

19,071. Are you a householder or a freeman?—A householder.

19,072. What is the value of your house?—Well, it is my own house—about 20*l.* a year.

19,073. Is it a good house in the High Street?—Yes, it is a small house. I am a bachelor.

19,074. Is it larger than the houses of your neighbours?—No; there are about four in the row all the same size.

19,075. Were your neighbours going about much that morning?—My next neighbours are two maiden ladies and a widow lady, and the next is Mr. Vivian, who is not entitled to vote; he is not much in that district; it is a very quiet part of the town.

19,076. Is Stirzaker a householder?—Yes, he is a householder; it is his own property. I think it is father and son and daughter.

19,077. Do you think many people like Stirzaker had been looked after?—There is no doubt of that.

19,078. You think there is no doubt that they had had bargains made with them?—I have no doubt that a bargain was made.

19,079. I mean with other people?—Well, that is the only party I called on myself, and I cannot speak to anybody else.

19,080. Have you any doubt about it—do you think that many householders had been offered money?—I think there is no doubt about it; it was offered on all sides and in all directions, and they took it.

19,081. On both sides?—Yes.

19,082. Do you know what sums they ranged from?—I suppose they ranged from 5*l.* to 50*l.*

19,083. Do you believe that they did?—I only know what I have heard from other parties.

19,084. Do you mean 50*l.* paid down, or a promise of some future benefit?—I understand that there has been as much as 50*l.* paid down, but I cannot speak to that from any knowledge of my own.

19,085. Can you give us any sort of clue to that?—No, I cannot.

19,086. When did you hear those reports?—Soon after the election.

19,087. 50*l.* is a very large sum?—Yes.

19,088. Much larger than anything we have heard of yet. To what class of persons do you suppose that was offered?—It was said that Mr. Schneider had made the remark himself that for the last hour there was 200*l.* or 300*l.* paid for about five votes.

NINETEENTH DAY.

J. Marshall.

18 Sept. 1866.

19,089. Mr. Schneider said so?—It was reported so in the town. I cannot speak to it myself.

19,090. That they bought five votes for how much money?—I cannot speak to the sum; it was a very large sum.

19,091. But you think that a man wanting 50*l.* would be a person moving in the highest circles in Lancaster?—I cannot speak to that. Mr. Schneider had any amount of money to dispose of.

19,092. (Mr. Barstow.) You had not yourself any money to offer to anybody?—I had not; I neither offered or gave a penny nor received one.

19,093. You negotiated this business with the Stirzakers. Do you know yourself of any other person in the same position who had money offered to him?—No, I cannot speak to any one individual.

19,094. You cannot speak to any one in the same position as the Stirzakers who has told you that he had had any money offered to him?—No.

19,095. You have told us that it was reported that money was offered to people in a very respectable position?—Yes, I have been told so.

19,096. It was so reported?—Yes.

19,097. Did the report go any further and say how it was offered to them?—No, I am not aware that it did.

19,098. No details were given as to the means by which it was offered to them?—No.

19,099. As, for instance, whether it was offered to themselves, or to any member of their family, did the report go to that extent?—Yes, it did.

19,100. What was it; can you say?—John Stirzaker said that he never received a farthing, nor his son in London, and I suppose it has been proved since, by Mr. Wilson, that they took 20*l.*

19,101. You have spoken of a general report that people in a respectable position of life took bribes?—Yes.

19,102. Does the report go on to say through what medium they took them?—No.

19,103. Whether the money was offered to them, and put into their hands, or not?—I cannot speak to that.

19,104. I do not ask you of your own knowledge, but you have spoken of a report. Can you say whether the report went any further than you have told us?—It was publicly reported in different parts of the town. I heard it from different parties.

19,105. So you said before; but I want to know whether the report spoke as to the means by which this money was offered to comparatively respectable people?—No; I cannot speak to that.

19,106. Because I should say that it would be rather a brazen thing to do to go to a man living in a house worth 30*l.* a year, and to say to him, "I will give you 10*l.* for your vote?—I cannot speak to that.

19,107. You cannot say how it was done?—No.

19,108. Nor can you say how it was reported to have been done?—No.

19,109. (Mr. Hill.) No doubt the Stirzakers might say safely that they had not received the money themselves—that is, the father and son?—Certainly they might.

19,110. And yet it has been pretty clearly proved that they had it. They would be safe in saying that they had not received it, because it had been offered to some other member of their family, and not to themselves?—Very likely.

19,111. Is that what you mean?—Yes.

19,112. It might have been offered, for instance, to the women part of the family?—Yes.

19,113. Do you know that that was so; that it was offered to the women part of the family?—No, I did not offer it to them.

19,114. They were both there themselves?—Yes, they were both there, both father and son.

19,115. Would that be rather the way of getting out of it—that if it was offered to the women the men might be called up, and might say that they had not received it?—I cannot say that.

19,116. Is it not well known that a good deal of the bribery, with reference to one part of the constituency of Lancaster was done through the women part of the family?—I have had so little to do with it, that I cannot speak to that.

19,117. But as to the report you have been speaking of?—I suppose the money was paid in different ways.

19,118. You have been in Lancaster all the time, and you would hear what we may not have had an opportunity of hearing. In what way would the money find its way through Mr. Schneider's party to the women part of the family?—I cannot speak to that at all.

19,119. Who are the persons that we have not had before us, through whose hands it would be likely to come?—I cannot give you the least information about money matters.

19,120. But living here as you do, and knowing the way in which these sort of things would be worked, who would be the persons who would be selected for the payment of money to the more respectable part of the constituency?—I cannot say. I was not in any of the committee rooms, nor did I take any active part. That which I have stated was the only thing I had to do; that was as to the Stirzakers, and a great deal has been said about them.

19,121. But still you would be a person in the way of hearing what had taken place?—Certainly, I have heard reports.

19,122. Who have you heard of going about with money on behalf of the Schneider party that we have not seen or heard of?—You have seen or heard of most of them.

19,123. I think there are some one or two behind that we have not got hold of. Who would they be?—I cannot say.

19,124. In what class of life?—That I cannot speak to, I had so very little to do with it.

19,125. But still, being a man with your eyes and ears open, who were the persons employed on that side? Just tell me. I am sure you will fairly. You will not be inculpating anybody. We shall have them before us, and shall have an opportunity of hearing what they say?—I should be very glad to tell you if I could, but I do not know.

19,126. There were such parties, but you do not remember their names?—I cannot speak to any one individual. The only two parties were Mr. Cross and Mr. Halstead that I had any conversation with on money matters. It was reported in the garden that I took the money to the Stirzakers, and that they ordered me about my business, which is not correct.

19,127. Was Mrs. Cross or was Mrs. Halstead (if there are such ladies) active at all?—I do not know; I never was in their houses or saw them.

19,128. Was there any machinery of that sort which we have not got at used for the purposes of the election?—No, I should think they were too much of ladies to do anything of that sort.

19,129. Ladies are very active electioneerers sometimes, but you can give us no clue to that at all?—No.

19,130. You have told us that you understood there had been as much as 50*l.* paid for a vote. Would that be, as far as you understood, in more than one instance, or was it a solitary case?—I cannot say. It was merely a report going about the night when the election was over.

19,131. Of what sort of person was it reported that he had been so lucky as to get 50*l.*?—I cannot give you any name.

19,132. Did not rumour attach the 50*l.* to any particular person?—No.

19,133. Or to any particular class of persons?—No.

19,134. Did they not say who were the lucky people who were making the most money?—I do not know.

19,135. You think that the 50*l.* and those large sums would be paid to the last few voters who polled for Mr. Schneider?—Yes, it was so reported.

19,136. (Mr. Newton.) Do you know Mr. Lawrence personally?—I do not. I never spoke to him except once, at the time he called.

19,137. Were you on his committee?—I was not.

19,138. Did you see him in the course of the election?—I saw him going about with his friends, but I never spoke to him.

19,139. Who was with him generally when you saw him?—There was a largish party with him altogether.

19,140. But you cannot call to mind who the parties who were with him were?—No.

19,141. (Mr. Hill.) Did Stirzaker the father say at all what price was given for the plants?—No, he did not name any price. He only said theywere good customers, and that they paid them a good deal of money. That was the remark that he made.

19,142. He was not speaking of any particular recent transaction?—No, he was not.

THOMAS BOARDMAN sworn and examined.

T. Boardman.

19,143. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Penny Street.

19,144. What are you by trade?—I am assistant to Mr. Kelsall, the spirit merchant.

19,145. What part did you take in the last election?—I went down with Mr. Hartley to Morecambe, Heysham, and Bare.

19,146. Is that Mr. Christopher Hartley?—Yes.

19,147. Did you go down much before the election?—No, I never took no interest in it before whatever.

19,148. When did you first go down?—We went to Morecambe first.

19,149. Upon what day did you go there?—The day before the nomination day.

19,150. Monday, July 10th?—Yes.

19,151. What did you do at Morecambe?—After we got to Morecambe we went to Torrisholme and went to Bare. He said there was some voters there, and when we got there they had come to Morecambe.

19,152. You went canvassing?—Yes.

19,153. Did you make any bargains on that day with the voters?—No, we never did. In fact I did not take any part in it at all.

19,154. Did you not arrange as to the price of the votes?—No, I never did.

19,155. Are you a Lancaster man?—No, I am not.

19,156. How long have you been in Lancaster?—About six years.

19,157. You began to take a little interest in elections then?—The last time was the first.

19,158. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—I received 15*l.* a few days after the election from Mr. Hartley.

19,159. Shall we say it was two or three days after the election?—I cannot tell you not to a day or two.

19,160. What was that 15*l.* for?—It was for expenses, and going about with him.

19,161. Were your wages then deducted during the time you were at work?—Yes.

19,162. How much were your wages?—My wages was not always alike. I was working for Mr. Christopher Baines then.

19,163. Who is Mr. Christopher Baines?—He is a stonemason.

19,164. You were working for a stonemason?—He is a master man is Christopher Baines.

19,165. What was your occupation?—I was in the quarry.

19,166. You were working as a quarryman?—Yes.

19,167. Ready to turn your hand to anything, from stonemasoning to spirit-merchanting?—It seems so.

19,168. You received 15*l.*?—Yes.

19,169. For whom did you vote?—I voted for Mr. Fenwick and Schneider.

19,170. What expenses were you put to during the election?—I could not tell. I had 3*l.* or 4*l.* in my pocket, and I had a few shillings in my pocket when I got home.

19,171. You were driving about with Mr. Hartley?—Yes.

19,172. And Mr. Hartley was paying the expenses?—Yes.

19,173. I suppose that the money you were out of pocket might be represented by a very small sum?—I had a few shillings.

19,174. So long as you and Mr. Hartley were together Mr. Hartley paid the expenses, and not you?—Yes, I never paid a halfpenny for expenses.

19,175. And you got 15*l.*?—I got 15*l.*

19,176. You never received any other monies at any other time?—No, I never did, only that 15*l.*

THOMAS BENNETT HILL sworn and examined.

T. B. Hill.

19,177. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A smith, in business for myself.

19,178. Where do you work?—My shop is in Nile Street, in Lancaster.

19,179. What part did you take in the last election?—I was a sub-captain in Mr. Clark's district.

19,180. What money did you receive?—21*l.* 15*s.*

19,181. Probably all from Mr. Clark?—No.

19,182. From whom did you receive it?—Thirty shillings from Mr. Clark before the election; at three different times I received that money.

19,183. Three ten shillings?—I think I had 1*l.* and 10*s.* afterwards; and the other 5*l.* from Mr. Cross; 20*l.* I had given to me on the election day in the morning, at the "White Cross" committee room by a gentleman from Liverpool, to take two voters.

19,184. Who were they?—Richard and Thomas Tomlinson. I believe it has been named by Mr. Clark before.

19,185. Did you pay them?—I gave them each 5*l.*, and in the next half hour they received money from the Liberal party, and voted for the Liberals.

19,186. What did you do with the other 10*l.*?—I took it to Mr. Clark, and he returned it for my services; I was on three or four weeks before the election at different times assisting him.

19,187. Are you a freeman?—Yes.

19,188. You are your own master?—Yes.

19,189. I suppose besides that your smithy was going on as usual?—There is only myself and a boy; I had to leave my work at different times during those three weeks.

19,190. You did not leave it the whole day?—Yes, many a time a whole day, and half days. There is myself and an apprentice, that is all, and often the work was standing.

19,191. How many whole days were you away?—I cannot say, not many whole days; I was there at any time to be called on, ready to go at any time.

19,192. You are not in all the day I suppose when it is not election times?—A deal of my work is outside, and I have to go to any job that I am called to.

19,193. On what day was it Clark gave you this money for your services?—I cannot say; two or three different times three weeks before the election.

19,194. But the 10*l.* for your services, was that on the polling day?—Yes, on the polling day; I took it him some time after I had been with those Tomlinson's, some time during the day, I am not sure what time it was.

NINETEENTH DAY.

A. Harrison.

18 Sept. 1866.

ALEXANDER HARRISON sworn and examined.

19,195. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A rope-maker.

19,196. Where do you live?—I live in Market Street.

19,197. Are you a freeman or a householder?—Neither.

19,198. Not a voter?—No.

19,199. What part did you take in the election?—I was a sub-captain.

19,200. Under Clark?—Yes.

19,201. What money did he pay you or anybody else?—I think I had 6*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* altogether.

19,202. Are you not sure about it?—I am sure; quite certain.

19,203. Then why do you say you think; what did you do with that 6*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.*?—I spent it in different ways for the purpose of the election.

19,204. In what way?—There was a sovereign spent at the "Volunteer" public-house some few days before the election; we had a meeting of the electors there, and got a few of them together, and it was spent in drink; and then I had 5*l.* to go down to Galgate with.

19,205. What did you do at Galgate?—I went down to look after the voters.

19,206. What did you do with the 5*l.*?—It was all spent.

19,207. In how long a time?—Three or four hours.

19,208. What did you drink?—Mostly spirits; they are very particular at these times, as long as they know they are not going to pay for it, they will have the best they can get.

19,209. And as long as there is plenty going, they will drink it?—Yes.

19,210. How many voters did you treat at Galgate?—I do not know, they brought their friends as well; I should think there were sixty or seventy present sometimes.

19,211. Was this in the evening?—Yes.

19,212. After the men had done their work?—Yes.

19,213. Who had given you this 5*l.*?—Mr. Barker.

19,214. Did you receive the whole of it from him?—No, only the 5*l.*

19,215. Who did you get the 1*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* from?—Mr. Cross.

19,216. You spent that 5*l.* in drink?—Yes.

19,217. In two hours?—More than two hours, three or four hours; we got there about half-past 4, and I should think we were at work till perhaps 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning.

19,218. And then you brought them up to Lancaster?—Some of them, what we could get.

19,219. Did they get very drunk?—No, they can take a good deal without being drunk.

W. Jackson.

WILLIAM JACKSON sworn and examined.

19,220. Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A manufacturer.

19,221. What sort of manufacturer?—Cotton.

19,222. Where do you live?—In Church Street, Lancaster.

19,223. Are you an elector of the borough?—I am a freeman.

19,224. And what are your politics?—Liberal.

19,225. Have you been in the habit of taking an interest in the borough elections?—Yes.

19,226. Always all your life?—I cannot say that; I have taken no very decided part since I was mayor in 1859 and 1860. I became afterwards a director of the bank.

19,227. You took an active part up to 1859 or 1860?—Yes.

19,228. At that time you filled the office of mayor?—Yes, in that year.

19,229. When did you become a director in the Lancashire Bank?—About 10 years ago.

19,230. How many is your board at the Lancaster Bank composed of?—Five when the number is full.

19,231. I will take, if you please, the number on the board at the time of the last election; give me the names of the directors?—John Coulston, Richard B. Armstrong, Leonard Redmayne, Samuel Edward Bolden, and myself.

19,232. Did you take an active part in the management of the bank?—Yes.

19,233. You are managing director?—I am one of the managing directors, and Mr. Coulston is the other.

19,234. Have you an equal amount of duties as managing directors, you and Mr. Coulston?—No, he has a good deal more than I have to do.

19,235. He is more at the bank than you are?—While he was well he was a good deal more.

19,236. But still you were in the constant and daily habit of going to the bank?—Yes.

19,237. And exercised a complete supervision over the bank interests?—Yes.

19,238. Have you any bill committee, or do you and Mr. Coulston look after the bills?—We see the bills as they come in, and we know the amount we have in our possession.

19,239. Have you weekly board meetings?—Yes.

19,240. Which is your board day?—It is Thursday now.

19,241. Which was it at that time?—Tuesday.

19,242. You held a board meeting on the Tuesday before the election day, the nomination day?—I had been confined to the house for nearly two months; I attended very little.

19,243. You know there was a board meeting then?—I have no doubt about it, but I am not sure.

19,244. There was a board meeting, I may take it, on the nomination day?—I cannot say there was positively, but I suppose there would be, and for anything I know to the contrary there was.

19,245. Were you at that board meeting?—No, I was not.

19,246. Where were you?—At my own house.

19,247. Were you confined to your house at that time?—Yes, I was; I got out to vote on the polling day, and was at the bank the same afternoon.

19,248. Were you not out of doors at all on the Tuesday?—I do not remember that I was. The bank is about 50 yards from my house.

19,249. So that if any directions were required with regard to the bank they could come to your house?—Yes.

19,250. When were you first spoken to as managing director, with regard to receiving the account of Mr. Schneider?—We had no account of Mr. Schneider I think, till September or October, not at the Lancaster Bank.

19,251. When were you first spoken to as to opening an account with Mr. Schneider?—I do not know.

19,252. Will you just try and think. The election was on the 12th of July; how long before that were you first spoken to with regard to opening an account with Mr. Schneider?—I was never spoken to at all about opening an account.

19,253. You managed the matter equally with Mr. Coulston?—I cannot say equally.

19,254. You had equal power with him?—Yes.

19,255. And equal responsibility?—Yes; except that he had been called the manager, and was so really, the sole manager.

19,256. You were both managing directors?—Yes, I was one of them.

19,257. That being so, when did you first hear of the probability of Mr. Schneider opening an account with the Lancaster Bank?—I think in September.

19,258. Do you mean to say you never heard of it before?—No.

19,259. Do I understand that you never had any conversation with Mr. Coulston as to an account being opened with Mr. Schneider before September?—I had some conversation with Mr. Coulston, but not about opening an account with Mr. Schneider.

19,260. As to money matters with Mr. Schneider?—Yes.

19,261. What was the conversation between yourself and Mr. Coulston as to Mr. Schneider's account, or as to Mr. Schneider's money matters, rather?—Mr. Coulston told me he had advanced Mr. Schneider 2,000*l.* or 2,500*l.*, but that was a debt owing by Mr. Coulston to the bank; that was some time afterwards.

19,262. When did Mr. Coulston tell you that?—I should think it would be a week or a fortnight after the election.

19,263. Had you ever taken any steps with regard to getting an account opened between Mr. Schneider's firm and the bank?—Not at Lancaster, certainly. The account was opened before I joined the bank.

19,264. At Ulverstone?—Yes.

19,265. Was there any question of removing that account at all, to the Lancaster bank?—Never, that I heard of.

19,266. Your account with Mr. Schneider at the Ulverstone branch was a valuable account?—Yes.

19,267. An account which perhaps made it worth while opening the branch at Ulverstone?—I will not say that. His account was afterwards removed to Barrow. We should have had a branch there independently of Mr. Schneider's account.

19,268. Did you yourself at all supervise the Ulverstone branch?—Very little; we visited it sometimes.

19,269. You and Mr. Coulston each went over it occasionally?—Yes.

19,270. Of course the matters of the Ulverstone branch were fully discussed at your board-meetings in Lancaster?—Yes, they were.

19,271. That branch is an integral part of the Lancaster bank?—Yes.

19,272. Did you discuss, before the election, with Mr. Coulston the matter of Mr. Schneider's account?—No, I had been very little at the bank for two months.

19,273. So that it may have been discussed in your absence?—Yes, it may.

19,274. What had Mr. Coulston said to you as to advancing money to Mr. Schneider?—He told me that he had advanced this money and that Mr. Schneider was to give him, or had given him his promissory note for it.

19,275. This, you say, took place some time before the election?—I did not hear of it till after the election.

19,276. Did Mr. Coulston tell you for what purpose he had advanced that money?—I am not aware that he did, but I presume it would be before the election.

19,277. You did not think for one moment that Mr. Coulston had advanced the money for trade purposes?—No, certainly not.

19,278. Why did Mr. Coulston mention the subject to you?—I can scarcely tell you. It was in the course of conversation.

19,279. Did he tell you why he took the promissory note from Mr. Schneider?—He gave me no particular reason for it, that I remember.

19,280. Did he not say anything to you about holding it as security from Mr. Schneider?—He probably might, but I do not remember the circumstances.

19,281. Did Mr. Coulston tell you at the time of that conversation to what extent Mr. Schneider had drawn upon the bank, or drawn upon Mr. Coulston, rather?—No; he told me nothing but this 2,000*l.* or 2,500*l.*

19,282. He told you that he had advanced 2,500*l.*?—Yes.

19,283. You knew there had been an advance of more than 2,000*l.*?—I did not know it then,—not till long afterwards.

19,284. Do you go regularly over the Ulverstone accounts?—No.

19,285. Who does?—The manager at Ulverstone.

19,286. Who is he?—Mr. Satterthwaite.

19,287. Did you see Mr. Satterthwaite here at the time of the election?—No.

19,288. Do you know that he was over?—I do not know, and I do not think he was, or I should have heard of it.

19,289. Can you tell me what is the amount of gold you are in the habit of sending over to the Ulverstone branch?—It varies very much. Sometimes they get it from other banks in the neighbourhood. A good deal is required at Ulverstone for the payment of wages and other demands there. I saw yesterday that we had about 14,000*l.* in gold at Preston.

10,290. That is not the question. What were you in the habit of sending over to Ulverstone for the purpose of wages?—We do not send anything regularly; only when it is asked for.

19,291. Have you sent anything during the last two months?—Yes.

19,292. To what amount?—I cannot tell you that without referring to books.

19,293. Would you say it is a very large amount if you were called upon to send over a couple of thousand pounds?—No, I should not.

19,294. Do you mean to say 2,000*l.* is not considerably above the average?—No.

19,295. Is it below the average?—I should think it was below the average.

19,296. Did you send over every fortnight?—No, not regularly. It depends upon their wants.

19,297. What would be the average of what you send over every fortnight?—I cannot give a direct answer to that question. I know that the wages of Schneider, Hannay, & Co., are more than 2,000*l.* a week.

19,298. Would 2,000*l.* be fully the average amount that you would be called upon to send over?—Probably it might, but I am not quite sure.

19,299. You would scarcely have to send over the full amount of wages to Ulverstone?—The sending of gold is exceedingly irregular. They get it from neighbouring banks sometimes.

19,300. I apprehend that a certain amount of gold finds its way at once back into the bank from shopkeepers and so on?—Very probably, but Mr. Hadwen could give you better information on these points than I can. These are things that do not come before the board to be discussed at all.

19,301. Have you never had the question of the amount of gold which the Ulverstone branch draws from you, brought before the board?—Not to ask any directions from the board,—certainly not.

19,302. Not to ask directions, but as to guiding you in your mode of carrying on your business?—We should receive a letter from the manager at Ulverstone when gold was wanted.

19,303. Do you know that it was the subject of conversation during the last election, as to the amount of gold you had in your bank?—No, I do not know anything about it. As I said before, I do not think I was twice at the bank for a month.

19,304. Have you, since then, at the bank meetings talked over the amount of gold that there was in the bank at the time of the election?—No, never.

19,305. Do you mean that the fact of the small amount of gold there was in the bank on the day of the election has never been the subject of conversation?—I heard something about gold being applied for by Stirzaker, but I do not know what was said upon the subject.

19,306. When did you hear that discussed?—Some time after the election.

19,307. Tell us what took place about that?—I do not know who it was with. Some of the bank clerks must have told me,—the cashier, perhaps.

19,308. Must have told you what?—That Stirzaker had applied for money and got it.

19,309. Was that what he told you?—I think it was the cashier.

19,310. He scarcely would have given you that as a piece of information, that Stirzaker had applied for money and had got it, because I hope all persons who apply for money get it?—I suppose it was a suspicious case that it was thought to be wanted for the election.

19,311. Did he also tell you that your bank refused or rather neglected to give Stirzaker gold?—I am sure that he did not say that the bank refused to give him gold, but I heard he had been paid in notes.

19,312. The bank-clerk at the same time he told you of Stirzaker's application also told you that he paid him in notes?—Yes, I think so.

19,313. Was not that rather an extraordinary piece of information to give to you?—I do not know.

19,314. To tell you that some person had applied at the bank for money and that he had given him notes and not gold?—I suppose he thought it was singular his asking for it during the time of the election.

19,315. He gave you that information at the time?—I think so.

19,316. That Stirzaker had applied for money for the purposes of the election, and he (the clerk) had given him notes and not gold, and that it was a suspicious thing I suppose, Stirzaker applying on that day. Did he tell you it was something he had done to help up the Conservative party or the Liberal party?—He did not say either the one or the other.

19,317. Mr. Schneider has at present an account at the Lancaster bank?—Yes.

19,318. Is that a private account or an account of his firm?—A private account.

19,319. I will not go into it, but I suppose it is a considerable account?—As compared with the account of the concern it is not considerable.

19,320. It is what you would call a good private account—that is all I want?—Yes.

19,321. Will you explain to me this,—how it is that if Mr. Schneider has at present a private account with the bank, that money which is debited to Mr. Coulston in the bank books has never been debited to Mr. Schneider,—how it is that it remains still debited to Mr. Coulston?—I cannot give you any reason for it. Mr. Coulston's security is quite ample to the bank.

19,322. You, as having a personal knowledge of Mr. Coulston's affairs to a certain extent, cannot give us any reason for that?—No.

19,323. Why that still remains debited to Mr. Coulston?—No, I cannot. It is Mr. Coulston's own doing. He has had the management of it himself, and I know nothing about it.

19,324. Will you tell me what proportion does that amount debited to Mr. Coulston in the bank books bear to Mr. Schneider's usual account?—I have never looked at Mr. Schneider's account.

19,325. You, as manager of the bank, have never looked at Mr. Schneider's account?—I see checks and bills, but we only look at accounts that we think want watching.

19,326. Do you really say with regard to a large private account of this kind that you do not look at it to see how it stands?—No, never.

19,327. Do you never look at any private accounts?—Oh yes, occasionally.

19,328. When and under what circumstances?—When the attention of the board is called to them.

19,329. You, as manager, would not look at any private accounts unless the attention of the board was called to them?—Not generally.

19,330. Do you really mean to tell me that that is so?—Yes.

19,331. That the managing director does not look at private accounts unless the attention of the board is called to them?—The board generally look at all the ledgers together.

19,332. The managing director and board are two different persons. I presume the managing director looks more carefully at the matters than the board does?—Yes.

19,333. Do you mean this to go forth that the managing director of a bank does not look into private accounts unless his attention is called to them? Do you really wish that to go forth as the practice of the Lancaster bank?—It is to some extent.

19,334. Is it to any extent?—During Mr. Coulston's illness here it has not been done.

19,335. I must have an answer really upon this point. Do you mean to tell me as managing director of the bank you do not look into private accounts or see the state of a private account unless your attention is drawn to it?—Yes, I say so, generally.

19,336. Whose duty is it to draw your attention to it?—The sub-manager.

19,337. That would be Mr. Hadwen?—Yes.

19,338. The reason why you know nothing about Mr. Schneider's account is because Mr. Hadwen has not drawn your attention to it?—Yes.

19,339. You do not in fact know at the present time, or since Mr. Schneider placed his account with you, whether it has been on the right side or wrong side?—I do not.

19,340. You have no notion?—No.

19,341. Not within thousands. You cannot say at this present moment whether the bank is indebted to Mr. Schneider in 10,000*l.*, or Mr. Schneider indebted to the bank?—No, I cannot.

19,342. And that is so with regard to all private accounts?—Any account to which our attention is called we look into.

19,343. That is so with regard to all private accounts to which Mr. Hadwen has not called your attention?—Yes, generally.

19,344. I ask you this question, and I desire a very plain answer upon the point, do you know, either by report or in any other way, of any other sums of money passing through your bank on behalf of Mr. Schneider's election except that 3,555*l.*?—I know nothing beyond the 2,500*l.* I have heard something of gold being had from the bank since the election.

19,345. Do you know of any other monies besides those which have been given in evidence before us as passing through the bank for the purpose of Mr. Schneider's election?—No, I do not.

19,346. I ask you this as a matter which will be canvassed considerably in the town and neighbourhood: Do you believe (and I ask you to give a very calm and cool answer upon the point) that any money passed through the bank for the purpose of Mr. Schneider's election, except those sums which have been given in evidence before the Commissioners?—I have no reason to believe there was.

19,347. Do you believe it?—No, I do not.

19,348. Do you know that any money was drawn from the Ulverstone branch for the purposes of this election?—I do not.

19,349. Do you know or believe that any money was drawn from the Barrow branch for the purposes of the election?—I do not.

19,350. You do not believe it?—No.

19,351. Do you believe that if any other monies than these sums which have been proved in evidence before us were spent upon that election they were obtained from other source than through the bank?—Yes.

19,352. Or any of its branches?—Yes, certainly.

19,353. Do you know of any arrangement between Mr. Coulston and Mr. Schneider as to the repayment of that money?—No, I do not.

19,354. Have you never heard of any?—If I have heard of any I have no recollection of it. I do not think I have ever heard of any.

19,355. Have you heard of any?—I cannot say that I have.

19,356. Have you any belief in any arrangement?—No, I have not.

19,357. Do you think there is no such arrangement?—Very probably there might have been, but I do not know.

19,358. Mr. Coulston never spoke to you about it?—Yes, he told me of the circumstance.

19,359. Did he not say when the money was to be repaid?—No, I think not.

19,360. Just consider?—I am pretty sure he did not.

19,361. Mr. Coulston never said anything to you about when the money was to be repaid to him ?—No, I think not.

19,362. You have no recollection upon the subject? —No. I have not. If any specific time had been mentioned, I think I should remember it.

19,363. Did he not say how the money was to be repaid ?—No, certainly not.

19,364. Or whether there was to be any further security than the promissory note ?—No, none, I never heard of any.

19,365. Mr. Coulston is not a man who generally accepts indifferent security ? — Mr. Schneider was good enough for a much larger sum.

19,366. All of us are liable to shake sometimes, and a promissory note is but a promissory note ?—If Mr. Schneider had come for the money himself, and it had been ten times the amount, he would have got it.

19,367. Merely for the sake of securing his account, and the firm's account ?—Yes, to oblige him.

19,368. Did you see the letter to Mr. Coulston enclosing that promissory note. It is worded somewhat to the effect, "I send you the note as per arrangement." Do you know what that arrangement was ?—I never saw that letter.

19,369. Have you seen the evidence ?—No, I have not read the whole of the evidence.

19,370. Did you not read that part of the evidence which affected the bank ?—I do not remember anything about that letter.

19,371. It is a letter to Mr. Coulston put in by Mr. Hadwen enclosing a promissory note. There are some private matters in it upon which we did not touch, but the first two lines of the letter are, "I enclose you the promissory note as arranged" ?—I do not know anything of that letter.

19,372. Had not Mr. Coulston said anything to the bank board ?—No.

19,373. Did Mr. Coulston ever show you the promissory note ?—I think not.

19,374. Have you any explanation to offer to us why that promissory note was dated April the 28th ? —I do not know, unless it was to veil the transaction. I cannot give you any good reason.

19,375. What transaction ? — Of lending Mr. Schneider this money at some particular time. I cannot tell.

19,376. With regard to the bank, Mr. John Coulston's politics we know, and your politics we also know : with regard to Mr. Richard Armstrong, what are his politics ?—He is a Liberal.

19,377. And Mr. Richard Redmayne ?—I think he has never voted for many elections past, and I do not know what his politics are.

19,378. Is he an elector ?—Yes, a freeman. He has usually been in London.

19,379. He is a very old gentleman ?—Yes, very old, and blind.

19,380. Hel ives in London ?—Yes. He has a residence here as well.

19,381. He is not often down here ?—He has come now permanently to reside here.

19,382. Was he here at the time of the election ?—No, I think not.

19,383. Then Mr. Bolden ?—He was here at the time of the election.

19,384. What are his politics ?—Liberal.

18,385. To use your own Lancashire expression, you were all in a band, as far as politics goes ?—There was no great difference between us.

19,386. (Mr. Newton.) You said just now you went to the bank on the day of the election ?—Yes.

19,387. At what time did you go ? — About 3 o'clock.

19,388. Was the bank closed then ?—I am not quite sure. Three o'clock is the usual hour of closing, but I am not sure whether it was open longer that day or not.

19,389. When were you told about Stirzaker's cheque ?—A day or two after perhaps, but I am not quite sure.

19,390. Were you told about any other cheques ?— No.

19,391. The explanation you give is that it was a very suspicious thing as coming on the day of the election ?—Suspicious, wanting it in gold, I thought.

19,392. Would it be a suspicious thing for anyone to go to the bank to get change for a 500*l.* note ?—It depends upon circumstances.

19,393. Did you hear about that ?—No ; I never heard anything about it.

19,394. Did you hear that Mr. Schneider changed a 500*l.* note in gold ?—I have heard of it since.

19,395. Was that a suspicious thing ?—Everybody must form their opinion upon that matter.

19,396. (Mr. Hill.) There is one thing which arises out of Henry Threlfall Wilson's evidence as to your connexion with the Lancaster and Carlisle Railway ; you are a director ?—I am vice-chairman of the board.

19,397. The porters and officers on the Lancaster and Carlisle Railway are virtually not under your control at all ?—No.

19,398. It is all North-western ?—Yes.

19,399. Under a lease to the North-western ?—Yes.

19,400. Did you yourself do anything at all in canvassing at the last election ?—I had to issue letters, I think printed letters, calling meetings, and requesting electors to come to the poll on the day ; whether it was in my capacity as chairman or not I do not know.

19,401. Were you chairman of Mr. Schneider's committee ?—I never presided at any meeting.

19,402. Were you called the chairman ?—I think I was called chairman in those circulars ?

19,403. Have you got one of those circulars ?—No, I have not.

19,404. Were these circulars sent to all the "free and independent ?"—I did not send them.

19,405. Were they addressed to the "free and independent ?"—Yes.

19,406. Not to the railway porters alone ?—No.

19,407. You attended some of these committee meetings ?—No.

19,408. None at all ?—No ; I was not able.

19,409. When did you accept the office of chairman ? —I can scarcely tell you ; as far as I can remember a printed copy was sent me asking me whether I had any objection to its going out in my name.

19,410. Was that a week before the election ?—More.

19,411. A fortnight or three weeks ?—Yes, I should think so.

19,412. The circulars went out under your name to the voters asking for their vote and interest ?—I presume so ; I did not send them.

19,413. Giving the details of the election ?—I forget I am sure.

19,414. Were there other names upon that circular besides your own ?—I think not.

19,415. Can you get me a copy of that circular ?— I have no means, but perhaps Mr. Maxsted might assist me.

19,416. This circular will go out, amongst others, to the railway servants ?—Yes, I should think so.

19,417. Were your titles put underneath it, "Vice-chairman of the Lancaster and Carlisle Railway," for instance ?—No.

19,418. It was pretty well known, I suppose ?—I suppose so.

19,419. Apart from that, did you at all personally canvass anybody ?—I think but one voter.

19,420. Who was that ?—A person called Edward Cutts.

19,421. A railway porter ?—No ; he has nothing to do with the railway ; he is a cabinet-maker.

19,422. You canvassed him yourself ?—I sent for him to my house.

19,423. When was that ?—Four or five days before the election.

19,424. Was Mr. King present when you sent for him ?—No.

19,425. William King ?—No.

NINETEENTH DAY.

W. Jackson.

18 Sept. 1866.

19,426. Do you know what Cutts got for his vote?—I do not.

19,427. Do you know that he got 8*l.* from William King?—No.

19,428. You did not all arrange with him what price he was to have?—No, I did not.

19,429. Was anything said about the price of his vote when he came?—No, nothing.

19,430. You sent for him to canvass him?—I heard that he was going to the other side, and Mr. Gregson, who had been our member, had got three of his brothers Government situations, or situations in the Customs or Post-office, and I represented to him that it would be very ungracious on his part now to go against us, and I fancy the consequence was that he voted for us.

19,431. Gratitude, plus the 8*l.*?—I know nothing about the 8*l.*; I paid the expenses of several elections myself, and I have never paid a sixpence in bribing, or never sanctioned one being paid, and never saw it done.

19,432. I am not at all accusing you, but did you at all yourself canvass any of the railway people?—No, I did not, excepting a William Batty, to whom I wrote, but who did not get my letter till after he had voted.

19,433. What were the inducements which you held out to Batty?—None whatever; he was a distant relative of mine, and always supported our side, I believe.

19,434. Did you canvass anybody else?—I wrote several letters to persons with whom I thought I had some little influence.

19,435. We have been asking some questions as to the money that was spent. Have you heard of any rumours as to the top price of votes at the last election?—No, I have not; 20*l.* or 30*l.* I have heard.

19,436. To what class of people would that 20*l.* or 30*l.* be given?—I should fancy to small shop-keepers, or small householders.

19,437. Do you think that that was given to any great extent?—I have no means of knowing.

19,438. You were mixing with people in the town, and you are a bank director?—It is said that a great deal of money was given on both sides.

19,439. You have no doubt that there was?—No, I have not.

19,440. Amongst small householders as well as freemen?—I am afraid so.

19,441. You know of no especial case to which you can direct our attention?—I do not.

19,442. Did you canvass any other railway persons?—I sent for a person called James Malley to my house.

19,443. Is he a railway man?—No.

19,444. Were you out canvassing with Mr. Schneider?—No, never.

19,445. Were you never in his company?—Yes.

19,446. Canvassing in his company?—No.

19,447. Did you discuss with Mr. Schneider the probable cost of the election?—Before the election or after?

19,448. At any time?—No, never, that I know of.

19,449. Then why did you ask me whether it was before or after the election?—I can scarcely tell you; I may have mentioned to him the cost of previous elections.

19,450. You may have mentioned to him what the probable cost would be?—Yes, probably I may.

19,451. Do you recollect any sum that you put forward as the probable cost?—At the contested election in 1847 I paid for Mr. Gregson, up to a day or two after the election, about 700*l.*

19,452. Was that legal or illegal expenses?—I do not think they were strictly legal; there would be some treating amongst it.

19,453. Did you talk to Mr. Schneider as to what the probable cost would be to him?—I am not quite sure; I may have said it ought not to exceed 1,200*l.*

19,454. Would you say that before the election?—Yes, I think so; I would not swear to it, but it is very possible I might say so to him.

19,455. Did you say anything to him about what the cost would be if votes had to be bought?—No, never.

19,456. Was Mr. Schneider frequently with you during the election?—No; I think he called upon me twice.

19,457. And in this instance he never alluded to money matters?—I do not think he did.

19,458. You have no recollection of it?—No recollection at all. I should like to be allowed to make a remark upon some previous elections, and I speak more especially with regard to the election of 1847, in which I paid all the expenses with the exception of carriages, and some portion of the legal expenses; I had no authority to do it, but I took upon myself the paying of everything relating to that election, and Mr. Clark has said in his evidence here that bribery began then; now I never paid a farthing for a man's vote, nor sanctioned the payment by anybody else, and I am quite sure Mr. Gregson never did so. In any of the former elections, he never sanctioned any buying of votes, but a man who had the money given to him for the payment of carriages, without any instructions, or communicating with anybody else, took upon himself to give seven men at Overton and two at Heysham 2*l.* a piece, and for this, I think, Mr. Gregson was very unjustly unseated.

19,459. Were those all the cases that were put in the bribery list?—I believe they were, and I may mention at the same time that the petitioner, Mr. Salisbury, who was the opposing candidate, did not ask for the seat.

19,460. The conclusion you draw from that is, I suppose, that he also had touched the tar?—I think so, although I do not know of any particular case; with the exception of building the chapel for the poor and baths and wash-houses for the town, I am sure Mr. Gregson's memory can never be charged with anything like bribery.

19,461. Still he was unseated?—Yes.

19,462. Did you give evidence?—No, I think not; I was there, but did not give evidence.

19,463. Did Mr. Gregson get into the chair himself?—I do not remember that he did. Perhaps you will allow me to say a word about Mr. Coulston. Mr. Coulston has always kept himself off the register, although he might be entitled to vote as a householder, but on account of his interest in the bank he would not; he thought he ought to be regarded as quite impartial, and I know that at the last election but one he requested the clerks at the bank not to attend the nomination.

19,464. (Mr. Newton.) It is very unfortunate that Mr. Coulston cannot be here to speak for himself, but really we are not here to inquire into his political principles. We are inquiring into corrupt practices during the election of 1865?—

19,465. (Mr. Hill.) Have you anything to say with regard to the evidence given against Mr. Coulston?—I do not exactly call to mind what has been said.

19,466. We thought, perhaps, that you might have been deputed by Mr. Coulston to say something?—I have not seen Mr. Coulston for three weeks.

19,467. You have nothing further to add?—No.

A. Harrison.

ALEXANDER HARRISON recalled and further examined.

19,468. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand you wish to make some statement?—Yes, I have got a correction or two to make in Mr. George Clark's evidence. He has got down as having paid two men of the name of Parker, from Galgate; and they were not paid by him.

19,469. Who paid them?—I do not know; but Mr. Preston, of Ellel Grange, voted them. We brought them from Galgate, and when we got here we had no money left, and they left our committee room, and the next thing I saw of them was in the hands of young Mr. Preston, of Ellel Grange. Mr. Clark's money notwithstanding, will be perfectly correct, because there are two men from Galgate who got 10*l.* a piece, and they are both down for 5*l.*

19,470. Mr. Clark will be able to correct his own evidence?—I thought it right to mention that the two Parkers were not paid by Mr. Clark.

19,471. By whom were they paid?—I do not know. They voted for the other side.

19,472. They might have been paid by both sides?—No; I had got vouchers for them, and went to the Dummy, but the money was done. He had none to give them.

Bartholomew Sharples sworn and examined. B. Sharples.

19,473. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

19,474. Where do you live?—Market Street.

19,475. You assisted Mr. Coupland at the last election?—Yes.

19,476. What money did you receive?—I received 10*s.* from Mr. Coupland first.

19,477. Do you remember when that was?—I think it would be about a week before the election.

19,478. When did you get any more money?—I received a sovereign from him about a day or two, I think, before the election.

19,479. What next?—The next I received on the election day to pay the voters as they came in.

19,480. How much did you receive?—I received it as they came in and paid it out.

19,481. You received the money from whom?—From a stranger.

19,482. And you put it into the hands of the voters?—Yes.

19,483. Have you read Coupland's evidence?—Yes.

19,484. Does the list he has given correspond with yours or have you any correction to make?—It corresponds with mine with the exception of John Gardner.

19,485. How many did you pay? Read out the names, and when you come to where your list differs from Coupland's, stop?—Septimus Hodgson, William Gill, Henry Wilson, John Swainson, John Wilcock, William Shaw, James Whittaker and John Winder. That is all.

19,486. You say there is some difference between you and Coupland as regards a man named John Gardner?—Yes.

19,487. (Mr. Hill.) You paid all those, as Coupland has stated?—Yes.

19,488. (Mr. Barstow.) What about John Gardner?—I paid him 8*l.*

19,489. I have not Coupland's evidence before me. In what way does he differ from you?—It is 10*l.* in Mr. Coupland's evidence.

19,490. Have you any way of accounting for the difference between you and Mr. Coupland?—No, I have not. There is a mistake, and I cannot tell where it is.

19,491. Is that all the money you received, 30*s.*, besides the money you paid for votes?—I received 3*l.* about a fortnight after the election.

19,492. That is all?—Yes; I was 12 days, and I sent in a bill of 5*s.* a day.

19,493. That was for yourself?—Yes, that was for myself, 3*l.*

19,494. Did you receive no money for yourself?—No, not beyond the 3*l.* I never received anything for my vote in my life.

19,495. The 30*s.* you spent in treating, I suppose?—Yes.

19,496. No one has ever said you did receive anything for your own vote. Is that all you can tell us of your own personal knowledge?—Yes, I do not know anything else.

19,497. (Mr. Newton) Whereabouts do you live?—I live in Market Street now.

19,498. Have you lived in Moor Lane?—Yes, I did live in Moor Lane.

19,499. Who lives in Moor Lane now?—James Sharples.

19,500. What is he to you?—My son.

19,501. Is he a voter?—Yes.

19,502. James Sharples, cabinet-maker?—Yes.

19,503. (Mr. Barstow.) You spent this 30*s.* in treating?—Yes, in treating.

Thomas Capstick sworn and examined. T. Capstick.

19,504. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A joiner.

19,505. You assisted Stanton in this election?—Yes.

19,506. In what district?—Damside Street and Cable Street.

19,507. How much money did you receive?—In all, 56*l.* 15*s.*

19,508. That is the total amount?—Yes.

19,509. From whom did you receive it, and how did you receive it?—The first I received was 7*l.* 10*s.*, from Mr. Stanton.

19,510. When?—I should think about three weeks before the election.

19,511. When was the next sum?—1*l.*, from Mr. Danson.

19,512. When was that?—The night before the election; and 5*s.* from a man of the name of Cooper. That is all, except the four voters which Mr. Stanton named.

19,513. What about the four voters?—I got 10*l.* for Thomas Taylor.

19,514. From whom?—From Stanton.

19,515. Have you read Stanton's evidence in the paper?—I have.

19,516. Is that correct?—Yes, it is.

19,517. Have you no alteration to make in it?—No, none whatever; only he says, "I paid John Dobson, and it should be Thomas Dobson."

19,518. Give me the names of those you paid?—I paid John Wilcock 13*l.*, Thomas Taylor 10*l.*, Thomas Dobson 10*l.*, and Robert Howson 5*l.*

19,519. How did you spend 8*l.* 15*s.*?—I think, as near as I can tell, I spent 25*s.* at the "Black Bull," in Church Street.

19,520. In treating voters?—Yes.

19,521. Before the election?—Yes, it was perhaps a fortnight before the election. Then at Johnson's, the "Moulders' Arms," in Wood Street, I think I spent about 2*l.* Then there is the "White Hart." I spent about 50*s.* there, and at the "Sawyers' Arms," about 15*s.*, as near as I can tell.

19,522. Is there anything more?—Yes, I spent about 15*s.* in sundry little sums, treating anywhere. Then I paid William Bond 1*l.*; Bridge Lane, beer-house keeper.

19,523. He keeps the "Three Mariners?"—Yes.

19,524. Did you only give a 1*l.* to the "Three Mariners?"—I gave it to him to spend amongst the voters. After the election was over Mr. Stanton gave me 10*l.* for my services.

19,525. How long was that after the election?—It was between 4 and 5 o'clock on the same day.

19,526. 10*l.* for your services?—Yes.

19,527. Your services being to go and make the voters drunk?—I suppose it was.

19,528. Are you a householder or a freeman?—A householder.

19,529. You would not have taken any money for your vote, of course?—No.

19,530. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a master joiner?—No.

19,531. You work?—Yes.

19,532. How many days were you off work?—I could not say indeed.

NINETEENTH DAY.

T. Capstick.

18 Sept. 1866.

19,533. You were off work at nights mostly ?—Yes, and days too occasionally.

19,534. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you offer any other people bribes except these ?—No, I do not know that I did.

19,535. Did you bargain with any ?—With Robert Howson only. That is the only one I bargained with.

19,536. He is a freeman ?—Yes, he is.

19,537. Do you know any householders who have taken money for their votes ?—No, I do not.

19,538. You never spoke to any about it yourself? —No.

19,539. Have you heard about these sums that have been offered, 20*l.* and 30*l.* for a vote ?—Only from what I have seen in the daily paper.

19,540. Have you heard no rumour about it ?—No, I have not.

19,541. (Mr. Hill.) Were you with Stanton at the "White Horse" vaults, in Church Street, on the night of the nomination ?—I was there, but I do not think Stanton was there at the time, not when I was there.

19,542. What was the row about there ?—I do not know indeed, what the row was about.

19,543. There was a considerable row, was there not ?—I do not think I was in it. I believe I was in the street.

19,544. You would remember it if you had been ? —I was in the street, I think. I did not see any row.

19,545. You do not know what the row was about ? —No.

19,546. Are you sure of that ?—Yes.

19,547. Do you know what the origin of that row was ?—No, I do not.

19,548. Come, come ; yes, you do ?—No, I do not, indeed.

19,549. Stand up and tell me what it was about. You know very well what it was about ?—No, I did not see any row, not to my knowledge.

19,550. Did you not hear of it ?—I heard a rumour that there was rows going on.

19,551. What was the row about ?—There was rows about in different parts of the town.

19,552. I am speaking about the "White Horse" vaults ?—I did not see it myself.

19,553. What was the origin of that row ?—I do not know indeed.

19,554. You never talked the matter over with Stanton ?—No, I did not.

19,555. (Mr. Newton.) What rent do you pay for your house ?—18*l.*

19,556. Who is your landlord ?—He is a man at Blackburn.

19,557. Did he write to you about the election ?— No, he did not.

F. Miller.

FRANCIS MILLER sworn and examined.

19,558. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live ?—In Moor Road.

19,559. What are you by trade ?—A cabinet maker.

19,560. Were you at work with Stanton at the last election ?—Yes, I helped him a bit.

19,561. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the election ?—22*l.* 5*s.*

19,562. From whom did you receive that money ? —I received 10*s.* from Mr. William Storey about a week before the election.

19,563. What next ?—On a Saturday before the election I received 30*s.* from Danson.

19,564. The next ?—5*s.* from Stanton on the nomination day.

19,565. On the 12th ?—The nomination day.

19,566. What was the next sum you received ?—I received two 10*l.* on the day of the election.

19,567. Who did you receive that from ?—I cannot tell you that.

19,568. Where did you receive it ?—The "Sun Inn."

19,569. The stranger at the "Sun Inn ?"—Yes.

19,570. What is the next sum ?—That is all.

19,571. What did you do with these monies ?—10*l.* was paid for my vote. I will begin with the biggest lump first.

19,572. You received for your vote 10*l.* ?—Yes, and the next 10*l.* was for another vote.

19,573. Whose vote was that ?—John Dobson, cabinet maker.

19,574. Did you pay him yourself ?—Yes.

19,575. 10*l.* ?—Yes, it is put per Capstick, I think, in the list, but it is wrong. I paid him.

19,576. Whose evidence is it in ?—In Stanton's, I think.

19,577. You paid him and not Capstick ?—Yes.

19,578. Capstick tells us that his ought to have been Thomas Dobson's ?—That is very likely.

19,579. Do you recollect what figure Thomas had ? —No, I cannot tell ; I did not pay him.

19,580. Anything else ?—Yes, there is 30*s.* and 15*s.* ; 15*s.* was for me to spend and 30*s.* was for my pay.

18,581. For how many nights was that ; did you charge a certain price per night ?—No, it was given to me, and I suppose I must be satisfied with it.

19,582. You received for your wages 30*s.*, and 15*s.* you had to spend ?—Yes.

19,583. Which I suppose you did spend ?—I spent a good deal of it on myself. I did not give it all away.

19,584. Do you know anything about any other sums that were paid ?—No.

19,585. You got 10*l.* for your vote ?—Yes.

19,586. Did you think when you got that that you got a good price ?—I thought I ought to have some money for working, because they did not give me 10*l.*, the same as three other chaps.

19,587. You think that some of them went a good deal higher than 10*l.* ?—Yes.

19,588. What was the highest price you heard of as having been given for a vote ?—I had 30*l.* offered myself.

19,589. Who offered you 30*l.* ?—Thomas Cleminson.

19,590. When did Thomas Cleminson offer you 30*l.* for your vote ?—He begun at 15*l.* and rose to 30*l.* for my vote and services.

19,591. Why did you not take the 30*l.* when he offered it to you ?—I told him I liked brass as well as anybody, but I thought then that I should be paid by the other side better than I was.

19,592. You did expect to get a little more than 10*l.* ?—Yes, I expected to be paid after the election was over, but I never got a farthing. I sent a bill in to this chap here (pointing to Mr. Gibson), but I never got anything.

19,593. How much did you send in your bill for ?— 1*l.* 15*s.*, I think.

19,594. That was not exorbitant was it ?—I doubt not.

19,595. What was it for ; was it for additional services ?—It was for additional work. I consider that I worked as hard as——

19,596. Can you tell me anybody else who was offered 30*l.* besides yourself ?—No. I do not know whether he would have paid me the 30*l.*, but he offered it.

19,597. On the whole, which got most money for their votes, householders or freemen ?—I cannot tell you.

19,598. You are a freeman ?—Yes.

19,599. (Mr. Newton.) Was this the first election at which you had voted ?—No ; it was the second.

19,600. Were you a "Blue" the first time ?— Yes.

19,601. And were you Blue last time ?—Yes.

19,602. I do not suppose you will be Blue next time ?—I do not suppose I will have a chance.

ROBERT JACKSON sworn and examined. R. Jackson.

19,603. (Mr. Barstow.) Mr. Joseph Wilson tells us that you were active on the Conservative side at Carnforth?—I was.

19,604. I suppose that you would not have been of much use at Carnforth without money?—I had none.

19,605. What are you?—A gentleman.

19,606. Living on your own land, perhaps?—I have land of my own.

19,607. (Mr. Hill.) Do you live at Carnforth?—Yes.

19,608. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you do towards forwarding your party at the last election?—I canvassed.

19,609. Did you spend no money?—A few shillings of my own.

19,610. Did you receive any money from anyone?—Not a farthing.

19,611. Did you make any bargain with the voters about their votes?—Not any.

19,612. You did not arrange what they were to have?—No.

19,613. Did you only ask them to vote for Mr. Lawrence?—I only asked them to vote for Mr. Lawrence.

19,614. Did you not introduce them to some one else?—No.

19,615. Did you see Mr. Isaac Jackson there?—I did.

19,616. Did you assist him at all?—No.

19,617. Did you go to the railway station with the voters?—No.

19,618. You have told me a great many things that you did not do. Now, can you tell me anything that you did?—I came along with Richard Nelson, his wife, and a friend, a young girl or two, in one of Mr. Lawrence's carriages, along with Halliwell, the late station-master.

19,619. Is that all you did on the election day?—Yes; I gave my vote.

19,620. You voted for Lawrence, I suppose?—Yes.

19,621. And that is all you can tell us?—That is all I can tell you.

19,622. I believe you are indebted to Mr. Joseph Wilson for having been brought before us at all?—I saw Mr. Wilson canvassing along with Richardson, the postmaster.

19,623. The postmaster canvassed, did he?—I took it for granted he was canvasssing; he was with Mr. Wilson.

19,624. (Mr. Hill.) Did it appear to have much success?—I believe they got some voters from us.

19,625. They were got from you by Mr. Joseph Wilson's arguments?—I cannot say whether it was by his arguments or not. I rather think it was something else.

19,626. Do you know anything more about the election?—No.

19,627. (Mr. Newton.) How did the young lady vote?—I do not think they polled her; but ladies have great influence.

19,628. (Mr. Hill.) A good deal of the election was worked through their influence, was it not?—I fancy it was.

19,629. Money was paid to them?—Yes, I think so.

19,630. On which side?—Perhaps on both sides, but I do not know it myself. In fact, I had nothing to do with money.

ROBERT CLARKSON sworn and examined. R. Clarkson.

19,631. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A stone-mason and builder.

19,632. Where do you live?—At Carnforth.

19,633. What part did you take in the election?—I think I was a sub-captain.

19,634. Under whom?—Under Mr. Halliwell, the late station-master at Carnforth, and Mr. Hodgson, gentleman, of Carnforth Lodge.

19,635. And Mr. Jackson?—Mr. Jackson took very little interest in the election.

19,636. Not so much as you did?—I took very little interest in it.

19,637. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—I received 2*l.*

19,638. Who from?—From Mr. Richard Coupland.

19,639. When did you receive that 2*l.*?—Perhaps it would be three days before the election.

19,640. Was that all you had?—That was the whole money I got.

19,641. What did you do with it?—I spent it in refreshments for the voters, and I paid for breakfasts for upwards of 16, I think, including voters from Carnforth and non-voters.

19,642. Where at?—At the Carnforth inn.

19,643. You got no more money?—No.

19,644. Did you come over to vote with Mr. Jackson and a jolly party?—I came over with three voters, William Whinray, Thomas Mashiter, who is since dead, and Abraham Heald.

19,645. That is all you can tell us of?—That is all I can tell you of.

19,646. You have to thank Mr. Joseph Wilson for having been brought here to-day?—I am aware of that. We were of very little use after Mr. Wilson came with the money to Carnforth.

19,647. How much money did Mr. Wilson come with to Carnforth?—I cannot tell you that.

19,648. How much should you suppose?—I cannot give you any idea.

19,649. Would he come with 50*l.*?—I think so, at the very least.

19,650. What makes you think that?—He gave to the Whormbys 15*l.* each, and there was a Mashiter that he gave 15*l.* to, and there was a Nelson he gave 14*l.* to, and, I think, Nelson got 2*l.* from Mr. Lawrence's party besides.

19,651. Who paid him?—I think Mr. Cross said he paid him in his evidence.

19,652. (Mr. Hill.) Have we had those three men whose names you have just mentioned in the evidence that has been given before us?—Yes.

19,653. Those three that you brought over?—Yes. I think they would be paid by some one of Mr. Lawrence's committee, but I do not know who paid them.

19,654. Have you seen their names down?—Yes, I think I did, as having been paid from one of the committee-rooms, but who paid them I do not know.

19,655. What are the names of the persons that Wilson paid?—Richard Whormby, Thomas Whormby, and Richard Nelson, and there was a John Mashiter. There are not any names that I know. They only refer to what Mr. Nelson has acknowledged himself to have paid.

THOMAS HODGSON sworn and examined. T. Hodgson.

19,656. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A farmer.

19,657. Where at?—At Carnforth.

19,658. What district did you look after at the last election?—I canvassed.

19,659. You canvassed Carnforth?—Yes.

19,660. About how many voters were there at Carnforth that you canvassed?—About seven, I think.

19,661. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the election?—1*l.*

19,662. From whom?—From Mr. George Clark.

19,663. Is that all that you received?—Yes.

NINETEENTH DAY.

T. Hodgson.

18 Sept. 1866.

19,664. And you spent it in paying voters?—No; I spent it in refreshments.

19,665. In refreshing voters?—Yes.

19,666. Who paid your voters?—I do not know, I am sure. Mr. Clark brought them to Lancaster in a conveyance, and I remained at Carnforth and came by train afterwards.

19,667. And voted afterwards?—Yes.

19,668. Did you receive anything for your vote?—No.

19,669. No payment of any sort?—No.

19,670. And no promise of anything?—No.

19,671. Did anyone of your family receive any payment?—No, none.

19,672. You are quite sure of that?—I am quite sure of it.

19,673. What sized farm have you?—It is only about 20 acres.

19,674. Under whom do you hold that farm?—Mr. Gilbert Procter, the Reverend Gilbert Procter, of Eyton parsonage.

19,675. Have you no other business besides that of a farmer?—No. I have land of my own. I am independent of farming, as it were; but this is a small place called Carnforth Lodge that I rent of Mr. Procter.

19,676. But you have had land of your own?—Yes.

19,677. Where?—At Yelland.

19,678. You know nothing more about the election than you have told?—No.

19,679. You did not arrange about any votes?—Yes. I arranged with three voters, and bargained with them for the price they got—Abraham Heald, 7*l.*; Thomas Mashiter, 7*l.*; and William Whinray, 8*l.*

19,680. You got them cheap, as prices went?—Yes, I suppose so.

19,681. Did they get nothing from you afterwards?—Nothing at all.

19,682. When did you make those bargains with them?—It was, I think, the night before the election.

19,683. Had they not been offered money on the other side?—Yes, I believe they had.

19,684. They had been offered less, I suppose, on the other side?—They had all been offered more, a good deal, I believe.

19,685. Why did they not take more?—They wanted to have 10*l.*, and would all vote for Mr. Lawrence if we would give them 10*l.*, or if we would promise them 10*l.* I told them we were not authorized to go as far as that. I came over to Lancaster, and saw Mr. Wilson, and he asked me what I could do. I told him I could get the principal part of them in Carnforth if he would give them 10*l.* each, and he said he would do nothing of the sort.

19,686. That was the night before the election?—I cannot say exactly whether it was the night before the election or not, but it was just before the election; he said he would not give them more than 5*l.* each. I went back and told them so, and they would not do any different, and so I raised them and I got two of them at 7*l.* and one at 8*l.*; but when they went out at night Mr. Joseph Wilson took them away. The two Whormbys he gave 15*l.* each to, and Mashiter he gave 15*l.*

19,687. You had arranged with them?—Yes; and they would all vote for me for 10*l.*, and I would not give it.

19,688. Then they were bought over your head?—They were bought over my head that night.

19,689. Had you received from Mr. Wilson any authority to raise the price?—No.

19,690. You did that of your own accord?—I did it of my own accord.

19,691. (Mr. Newton.) When did you go to Wilson to tell him this?—I went before the election; he authorized me to go to 5*l.* and no further, and before I left Lancaster I heard somebody say he would not grumble if I gave I think more perhaps, and so I did do so.

19,692. Was it the impression that Wilson had plenty of money?—I never heard anything about that.

19,693. Was it at all said where the money was to come from?—No, I did not know where the money was to come from.

19,694. You did not hear it said?—No.

19,695. Did you know Mr. Wilson before?—Not at all.

19,696. What were these three men you bought at 7*l.* and 8*l.*? Were they labourers?—Yes, they were poor infirm old men that work hard for their living in Carnforth.

19,697. And they were very glad to make the best bargain they could I suppose.?—Yes.

J Rowe.

JAMES ROWE sworn and examined.

19,698. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—An innkeeper.

19,699. Where?—In Chapel Street.

19,700. What is the sign of your house?—"The Dolphin."

19,701. What part did you take in the last election?—None at all.

19,702. Do you know nothing of it?—I never went out canvassing and had nothing to do with it.

19,703. Did you let your house?—I did.

19,704. To whom?—To Mr. Lawrence's party.

19,705. Was there a committee held there?—Yes.

19,706. How much did you let your house for?—10*l.*

19,707. That I suppose was for the use of the committee-room?—Yes.

19,708. How often did the committee assemble there?—About three or four times.

19,709. Did they drink a good deal of stuff when they were there?—I was only in one night.

19,710. But you know quite well what they had?—Yes.

19,711. About how much was your bill each night the committee met there?—It was 2*l.* 14*s.*

19,712. Altogether?—Thirteen breakfasts at 1*s.* 3*d.* a piece.

19,713. I asked you how much was spent in drinking each time the committee met there?—I did not wait on them.

19,714. But you got the money?—Yes; altogether it was that.

19,715. It was not paid day by day?—No.

19,716. The whole amount was how much?—There were two nights that were never paid for at all till after when the bill went in.

19,717. When were the other nights paid for?—It would be a week before the election.

19,718. And how much was that?—I cannot say indeed. I did not wait upon them.

19,719. Do you not know what your bill was?—The bill was 2*l.* 14*s.* altogether.

19,720. Then you had another bill besides that?—No, that was the only bill; that was for their breakfasts and what they had to drink.

19,721. I understood you to say that a bill went in after the election?—It did.

19,722. Was it a bill for 2*l.* 14*s.* that went in after the election?—It was.

19,723. Then besides that you were paid ready money were you?—Yes, the 10*l.* for the house.

19,724. Was all the money that you received for refreshments in the course of the last election 2*l.* 14*s.*?—Yes.

19,725. Did no one come round and pay you after the committee had broken up?—Yes, but it was some time since; the 2*l.* 14*s.* was paid in 1866.

19,726. Do you remember whether at the time of the election anybody paid you for refreshments that had been supplied in your house?—Well all that was put in the bill was that 2*l.* 14*s.*

19,727. I am not asking about what was put into the bill; I am asking you about what was paid the week before the election?—That was paid for by Thomas Garnett as it came in as I understood.

19,728. That is what I have been trying to get out of you all this time; how much was that?—I do not know. I did not receive it, and I did not wait on them.

19,729. You are the master of the house?—Well, I am not in every room.

19,730. I suppose you receive the money that is taken in every room though?—I dare say I do.

19,731. Just tell me how much it was?—I cannot tell.

19,732. About how much?—I do not know. I cannot tell at all.

19,733. Was it as much as 5*l.*?—No, nor half of it, I should think, nor half of that.

19,734. Then you do seem to know because the half of half is 1*l.* 5*s.*?—I do not know what there was because I did not wait upon them, and I did not ask any questions.

19,735. Will you pledge your oath that it would not be 1*l.* 5*s.*?—I dare say it would be that, but I never waited on them.

19,736. The whole amount you received except this bill you swear was under 1*l.* 5*s.*?—I should say so.

19,737. Do you represent to us that that was the whole amount that was paid for refreshments consumed by the committee?—Yes.

19,738. 2*l.* 14*s.* and 1*l.* 5*s.*?—Yes.

19,739. And you say a man named Gardener paid you?—Yes, he paid as he went on, but James Hatch paid me the other bill.

19,740. What Gardener was it?—He was a joiner in Chapel Street, but he is not there now; he was a sub-captain as they called him.

19,741. (Mr. Hill.) What was the number of the committee?—In the room?

19,742. Yes.—Sometimes five, six, or seven, but I never waited on them.

19,743. They only came two or three times did they?—About three times. I cannot say how much they had, to tell you the truth.

19,744. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

19,745. Have you always voted Blue?—Yes.

19,746. (Mr. Hill.) When was your committee-room taken?—It might be a fortnight before the election.

19,747. Was the money paid to you when it was taken?—It was paid the night of the nomination day.

19,748. They paid you at night?—Yes.

19,749. Before you voted?—Yes.

19,750. (Mr. Newton.) Suppose your committee room had not been taken for Lawrence, how should you have voted?—Then it should have remained as it was and as it always had been.

19,751. How should you have voted?—I should have voted the same way as I did.

19,752. (Mr. Hill.) Not if the yellows had come and taken your house?—I should not have let them have it.

19,753. You did not set apart any separate room as a committee-room?—No.

THOMAS TAYLOR sworn and examined.

T. Taylor.

19,754. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Church Street.

19,755. What are you?—A stonemason and letter cutter.

19,756. Does that mean that you cut letters on tombstones?—Yes.

19,757. Were you under John Cross as a captain? I assisted all I could.

19,758. What did John Cross give you?—11*l.*

19,759. When did he give it to you?—On the nomination day.

19,760. Was that all that he gave you?—Yes.

19,761. Did anybody else give you any money?—No.

19,762. Coupland?—No.

19,763. Clark?—No.

19,764. Only Cross?—Only Cross.

19,765. And what did you do with the 11*l.*?—I had it to go and bribe a voter with.

19,766. What was the voter's name?—T. Barrett Taylor.

19,767. What did you pay Taylor, 11*l.*?—No, I did not; he would not have it.

19,768. Why not?—The Liberals would give him more.

19,769. (Mr. Hill.) He had 12*l.* from John Marsden?—Yes.

19,770. (Mr. Newton.) He would not take the 11*l.*?—No.

19,771. What did you do then?—So I returned the money to Mr. Cross in the afternoon.

19,772. Did you do anything more for the purposes of the election than that?—I spent very little.

19,773. Where did you get it from to spend?—I spent it out of my own pocket.

19,774. Did John Cross give you back the 11*l.*?—No, he gave me 3*l.* for the trouble I had had, he said.

19,775. What trouble had you had?—For my services was what he called it.

19,776. What services?—Assisting in getting all the voters I could for Mr. Lawrence.

19,777. What assistance did you render?—I assisted to get all the voters I could get for Mr. Lawrence.

19,778. It seems everybody assisted everybody else to do nothing?—Yes, that is about it. I did not want it. I never got a farthing for my vote in my life.

19,779. Are you a householder or a freeman?—A freeman. I told them I did not want it, but the stranger says, "Oh, give him 3*l.*, it will do for him (he says) for something for himself."

19,780. Where was this done, in the street?—They gave me the 11*l.* in the street on the nomination day.

19,781. But the 3*l.*?—No, they gave me the 3*l.* in the room.

19,782. Which room?—The "Golden Ball" in Market Street, when I took the 11*l.* back.

19,783. Was that on the nomination day?—On the polling day.

19,784. Had you polled at that time?—Yes, I believe I had.

19,785. There was no occasion for your taking it?—No.

19,786. Why did your take it?—They pushed it on me.

19,787. You might have left it there?—Yes, I might have done.

19,788. Why did you not?—Well, money is tempting when they force it on you.

19,789. How many days had you assisted?—Perhaps I was engaged a fortnight before the election.

19,790. You call yourself a stonemason, I suppose you are a master stonemason?—Yes.

19,791. (Mr. Hill.) Had you not been able to work for a fortnight?—Yes, I was at work.

19,792. It did not interfere with your work at all then?—No, very little.

THOMAS MILLER WILLIAMSON sworn and examined.

T. M. Williamson.

19,793. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Fleet Square.

19,794. What are you?—An oil baize manufacturer.

19,795. What part did you take in the last election?—I was employed as a joint captain in the Quay district, but I did not act in that capacity.

19,796. In what capacity did you act?—In no special capacity.

19,797. You were joint captain with whom?—With Mr. Moser and, I think, Mr. Cole.

19,798. That was Alfred Cole?—Yes.

19,799. What work did you do in the election?—I simply used my influence as far as I could.

19,800. Your influence over whom?—Over any voters with whom I might be acquainted.

19,801. You canvassed, I suppose?—I did.

19,802. Have you many freemen in your employment?—We have.

19,803. How many?—I think we have about 20; from 20 to 24.

19,804. And those, I suppose, you simply looked after?—No, I did not.

19,805. But you had some influence over them?—None. I did not exercise any influence over them at all.

19,806. Who were the persons then that exercised an influence over them?—I recollect offering Cleminson Riley, the proprietor of the "Mitre Inn," 7*l.* for his vote. I think he received 12*l.* from the other party previous to that; 12*l.* or 14*l.*

19,807. And you offered him 7*l.*?—Yes.

19,808. He voted for you at last, did he not?—Yes.

19,809. He took 10*l.* off a form?—I do not know anything about that.

19,810. He would not have the 7*l.* that you offered him?—He decided to vote for the 7*l.*

19,811. But he went off that bargain, did he?—He had received the 14*l.* or 12*l.* previously to that, I think.

19,812. What other vote did you arrange for?—None.

19,813. Was that the only one?—That was the only one.

19,814. Did you receive no monies for the purposes of the election?—I received 5*l.* from Mr. Ball, the coal dealer, 2*l.* of which I spent for the purposes of the election, and 3*l.* I returned to Mr. Welch.

19,815. What other monies did you receive from Mr. Ball, the coal dealer?—None.

19,816. What monies did you receive from anyone else?—None. That was the only money I spent during the election.

19,817. You returned to Mr. Welch 3*l.* you say?—To Mr. Welch, or to Mr. Wearing to give to Mr. Welch.

19,818. Was that all you had to do with the election?—That was all.

19,819. Do you know of any sums of money having been offered to these freemen who were in your employment?—I was under an impression at the time, from what I had heard, that 10*l.* was the value placed upon the votes. I cannot say exactly who was my authority which caused me to come to that conclusion, but I had heard that sum mentioned.

19,820. How many of these 20 to 24 freemen voted Liberal?—One out of the lot voted for Mr. Lawrence.

19,821. One voted Conservative and the others voted Liberal?—Yes.

19,822. And you exercised no influence over them?—No, I did not.

19,823. Nor any of your firm?—None.

19,824. But still you were appointed a captain in that district?—I was appointed a captain in that district.

19,825. Is that one freeman who voted for Mr. Lawrence still in your employ?—He is.

19,826. What is his name?—Ireland.

18,827. What is his christian name, is it Martin Ireland?—No, George.

19,828. He is still in your employ, you say?—He is.

19,829. And you know nothing of any other sums of money having been paid?—I do not; not previous to the election.

19,830. But at the election?—No, I do not.

19,831. Why do you say previous?—All I have heard I have heard since the election.

19,832. Why do you say previous?—Because I did not hear it; the major part of what I have heard about the election I have heard since the election, and principally in this court.

19,833. Tell me the names of the persons who you heard out of this court had received money?—I recollect a man named Huntington, and another man named Smith, each received 8*l.* from the Liberal party, and 12*l.*, I believe, from the Tory party—this especially, I recollect.

19,834. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do those men live?—I cannot say.

19,835. Do you know what their christian names are?—No, I cannot say.

19,836. Do you know how they voted after all?—I believe they voted for the Liberals.

19,837. John Huntington, of John Street, labourer, is that the man?—Yes; I believe both men were in our employ at the time. I believe so.

19,838. But they are not now?—They are not now.

19,839. When did they leave your employ?—Since the election.

19,840. How soon after the election did they leave your employ?—Probably two months.

19,841. How much did your 24 freemen get?—I believe they got 10*l.* each.

19,842. They all got the same price?—I believe so, but I cannot speak to it positively.

19,843. (Mr. Newton.) What is the christian name of Smith?—I cannot say.

19,844. (Mr. Hill.) Can you give us the names of your 24 men?—Not the whole of them; there is Gregson, Hornby, and Richardson. Really I can scarcely recollect them, but I can provide you with the whole of their names.

19,845. Will you kindly send us a list of those who were in your employ in 1865?—I will do so.

19,846. You have more than one Gregson in your employ, have you not?—Only one.

19,847. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you know who canvassed your voters?—I believe Mr. Cole canvassed them.

19,848. Is Mr. Cole in your employ?—He is.

19,849. In what capacity?—Foreman.

19,850. I suppose he canvassed the men then, at your mill?—I cannot say whether he canvassed them at the mill or at their houses.

19,851. Do you know whether he was the man who bargained with them as to what they were to receive?—I cannot say that; I heard him simply make reference to the 100*l.* which he had provided Mr. Slater with, which he had taken to Mr. Slater on the morning of the election. That was all he stated to me with reference to the voters.

19,852. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know how long before the election it was arranged that they should be paid 10*l.* each?—I cannot say.

19,853. Two or three days before?—I do not know. I know nothing about money matters in the Quay district.

19,854. You knew the price that was being asked for votes?—That was well known throughout the town.

19,855. What was the price asked for those votes?—I think I heard that some of them had been offered 12*l.* by the other party. I think I heard that remark made, but I will not say positively that I did.

19,856. Who was the spokesman or head man of your freemen to look after their own interests?—I cannot say.

19,857. (Mr. Newton.) Have you a man in your employment named James Hornby, of St. Mary's Place, painter?—Yes.

19,858. He got 10*l.*?—I believe he did. I believe they all received 10*l.*

19,859. (Mr. Barstow.) Is Parker in your employ?—No.

THOMAS JOHNSON sworn and examined.

19,860. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your occupation?—A cabinet-maker.

19,861. Where?—At Mr. Gilchrist's, in High Street.

19,862. What part did you take in the last election?—I assisted to get voters up at Morecambe.

19,863. Who do you consider to have been your captain?—Shackleton.

19,864. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—None.

19,865. You received no money?—Not before the election.

19,866. Do you really mean to say that you received no money?—Not before the election.

19,867. You took it out in drink did you?—I paid money out of my own pocket.

19,868. How much?—Six or seven shillings, I should say.

19,869. That would not go very far. You received money after the election?—Yes.

19,871. Is that all?—Yes.

19,872. Was that for your own services?—Yes, and expenses.

19,873. What did you do at Morecambe?—I went down on the nomination day, and went to the "Joiners' Arms," and they told us to look up the voters, and get them to the house.

19,874. Why should Lancaster people go there to get up the voters?—I do not know.

19,875. Were the Morecambe people too drunk to look after the voters?—Yes, I think they like drink very well.

19,876. Do you know anything about paying money?—No, I did not see anybody paid.

19,877. You paid no one yourself?—No.

19,878. And you saw no one paid?—No.

PHILLIP THOMAS sworn and examined. P. Thomas.

19,879. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—I am manager for the Morecambe Gas Company.

19,880. Are you anything else besides the manager of the gas company?—By trade, do you mean?

19,881. No, by profession?—I am not in possession of any vote.

19,882. Because we have been told that you are a local preacher, and manager of the gasworks?—I am nothing of the kind.

19,883. You are not a local preacher?—No, I am nothing of the kind. I heard that stated by one Mr. Vince, but it is false.

19,884. (Mr. Hill.) Do you ever preach?—Never.

19,885. At any rate, you have no congregation?—No.

19,886. (Mr. Newton.) What are your politics?—If I were privileged with a vote, I should vote for the Liberals, but I am a non-voter.

19,887. You have a Liberal inclination?—I have.

19,888. Did you take an interest in, and did you take part in the election, in 1865?—I was not engaged or asked by any one to take any part, but still I joined with the non-electors.

19,889. You went with the rush?—Yes, I went with the people, moved by the excitement.

19,890. Where did you go; to Morecambe, or Lancaster, or what did you do?—I remained at Morecambe. I took no part whatever till the evening previous to the day of election.

19,891. What did you do that evening?—I was merely at a house called Daniel Edmondson's, a public-house.

19,892. What is the name of the public-house?—The "Joiners' Arms."

19,893. What did you do there?—I was getting a glass of something to drink the same as the rest.

19,894. I suppose you were treating?—Yes. I did not pay for it. It was given to me by the landlord, and I was invited upstairs. I suppose there would be what they call a committee, but I do not know who would be the committee; there was Mr. Shackleton for one, and a gentleman named Henry Gorst, and several others. I suppose they would be voters and non-voters. It was named that they were going up to Mrs. Willacy's, at the "King's Arms," to see if they could get some people that they considered were bottled, and of course, I went with the rest to the house.

19,895. To see whether there was any bottling there?—Yes.

19,896. And did you find any who had been bottled;—We looked through the window, and saw some men, as it were, dead drunk—them was the men that they considered voters that they wanted to get out of the house.

19,897. That is what bottling means; men being drunk?—Yes, and incapable.

19,898. Everybody has denied having bottled anybody. You saw some drunken men there?—Yes, through the window. We were not allowed to go into the house.

19,899. What did you do?—We attempted to get in. We said it was a public-house, and that we had a right to go in and get a glass, and in the act of getting in we were thrust out by the throng inside.

19,900. Did Mrs. Willacy come in and turn you out?—No, I did not see her. There would be some of my friends there, as Mr. Shackleton said, on the other side.

19,901. You saw men drunk and lying about; that was all?—That was all.

19,902. Did you get any money from anybody?—Perhaps I might state that in endeavouring to get into the house, we were thrust back, and in the act of getting out my body was rather pressed in the doorway by extricating myself.

19,903. (Mr. Hill.) We knew all about that; you lost the tail of your coat, and got half-a-crown for it?—Yes.

19,904. Do you know anything more about it?—No, I do not know anything more than that Mr. Shackleton made a mistake as to the money he had, if that is of any consequence.

19,905. What was the mistake that he made?—It was 7*s.* 6*d.* to Garston, instead of 2*s.* 6*d.*

19,906. (Mr. Newton.) Did you see anybody paid?—I did not.

19,907. Did you see any money at all?—I did not.

19,908. They were all too drunk, I suppose, to take money?—Yes.

19,909. (Mr. Hill.) How soon was Morecambe at all sober after this election? How soon did you see sober men after the election?—I saw plenty the same night.

JAMES LEAHY MILNER sworn and examined. J. L. Milner.

19,910. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A printer and bookseller.

19,911. You are the proprietor of the Lancaster Guardian?—Yes.

19,912. Where do you live?—In St. Leonard Gate.

19,913. What are your politics?—Liberal.

19,914. What part did you take in the last election?—I accompanied the candidates on their canvass principally.

19,915. What else did you do?—Well, I think I confined myself to that pretty nearly.

19,916. Were you one of the committee?—No, not one of the secret committee.

19,917. You were one of the general committee?—One of the general committee.

NINETEENTH DAY.

J. L. Miner.

18 Sept. 1866.

19,918. Had you any special district assigned to you?—No, I had not.

19,919. What was the first you heard of the spending of any money at the last election?—I do not know that I heard anything definite, beyond the general rumours that were current as to the spending of money.

19,920. When did you first hear anything definite?—Those rumours prevailed a week or two previous to the polling.

19,921. When first did you hear anything definite?—I cannot fix any particular time.

19,922. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the last election?—I did.

19,923. What was that?—I received the parcel that was afterwards transferred to Mr. Wright Wearing.

19,924. It was a brown paper parcel, was it not?—It was not a brown paper parcel when it left my custody.

19,925. From whom did you receive it?—From Mr. Smith of Barrow.

19,926. Who is Mr. Smith?—He is the manager, or one of the managers, of the Barrow Hæmatite Steel Company.

19,927. Was he at that time in the employ of Mr. Schneider?—Schneider, Hannay, & Co.

19,928. Do you know what employment his was?—He is one of the managers, I think—one of the general managers.

19,929. I speak at the time of the election; he was one of the managers then?—Yes, he would be.

19,930. When did you receive the parcel?—To the best of my recollection, I received it ten days or a fortnight before the day of polling.

19,931. Where did you receive it?—It was left at my house.

19,932. By Mr. Smith?—By Mr. Smith.

19,933. What directions did Mr. Smith give you with regard to that parcel?—As far as I remember, he said it was for Mr. Welch, and he was not able to inform Mr. Welch, or did not know, where he lived; I forget exactly what he said about it, but he asked me to send it on to him.

19,934. How long did you keep it before you sent it on?—I followed him out of the house in the course of two or three minutes, and sent one of my assistants down for it, and he took it to Wearing's.

19,935. Down for it to where?—To my house; it was left at my house.

19,936. Mr. Smith, then, came to your place of business?—No; he came to my house, and I was at home, and then he left this parcel; there were three parcels, I think, and I immediately left the house after Mr. Smith, and sent one of my assistants down for the parcels, with directions to take them to Mr. Wearing.

19,937. There were three parcels, you say?—I think so; I think there was a canvass bag, and there were also two paper parcels, as far as I remember.

19,938. You sent down a servant of your own to your house for it?—Yes.

19,939. Did he get it?—Yes, he got it.

19,940. And brought it up to you?—No—he took it direct to Wearing's.

19,941. Did you give any directions that he was to take it secretly to Wearing's?—No, I think not.

19,942. You did not inform this man as to what was the character of the parcels at all?—No, I do not think I should.

19,943. Who was the person whom you sent for it?—A man of the name of Wright.

19,944. You sent Wright for the parcels, and told him to take them to Wearing's?—Yes.

19,945. What was the next thing you heard about them?—I think I asked Wearing in the course of the evening if he had received the parcels, and he said he had; and so I had no further interest in the matter.

19,946. Both you and Wearing knew at that time what were the contents of the parcels?—I presume so; I was not told.

19,947. It was understood?—I assumed it was money.

19,948. Did you know at all the amount?—No, I did not, at all; I simply knew from Mr. Welch's evidence that it was a parcel containing 700*l*.

19,949. How long had you known Smith?—I was introduced the year previous, at Barrow.

19,950. Were you over on business at Barrow?—The public authorities were dining there, on the invitation of Mr. Schneider; I was there at that time, and was introduced to Mr. Smith.

19,951. At Mr. Schneider's house, or the works?—At Furness and the works.

19,952. Lancaster went over for a day to Barrow?—Yes, that was it.

19,953. Were you introduced by Mr. Schneider?—Yes, I was.

19,954. That was the year before?—Yes.

19,955. In the summer of 1864?—Yes, it was immediately after Mr. Schneider's first election—Easter Monday I think it was.

19,956. Did Mr. Schneider introduce you for any specific purpose at the time?—No, not at all.

19,957. He only introduced you to him generally?—Yes.

19,958. Had you had anything to do with Mr. Schneider at the walk over?—Yes.

19,959. Had you managed matters for him?—I had not managed matters at all, in any way; I was on his committee.

19,960. There was no money, of course, paid, at least none to any extent?—Not a penny, that I am aware of; in fact, I never had anything to do with the pecuniary part of electioneering.

19,961. When did you next see Smith after your introduction to him?—I did not see him from that time till he called upon me; that is, to the best of my knowledge.

19,962. He called at your house?—Yes.

19,963. Will you tell us what took place between you and Smith?—He came into my house and produced these three parcels, and said they were for Mr. Welch; and I think he said, "I presume you know what they are for," and, as I understood, he said he had not been able to find Mr. Welch, and asked me to take charge of them.

19,964. From whom would you have learnt that there was money coming?—From Mr. Schneider.

19,965. What had Mr. Schneider said to you?—I think he called on me the previous day, and said there would be a parcel for Mr. Welch, and would I take charge of it; or it might be the same day—I am not sure which.

19,966. Did he tell you what would be the nature of the parcel?—No, he did not.

19,967. Was nothing said to you about what the character of the parcel would be?—I presumed it would be money.

19,968. Did Mr. Schneider, at that time, talk to you about the probabilities of his success?—He has done so during the course of his canvass.

19,969. Did he at that time?—I do not think he did; that would be before the canvass commenced.

19,970. In what way did he connect the parcel with the election?—He was coming down then on his canvass; it was immediately after Parliament had expired, and he was coming down to canvass the town.

19,971. Did he tell you he was coming to canvass?—I do not know, but I presume so; the members were down for that purpose; he was in the habit of calling upon me frequently.

19,972. Did you and he discuss together the probable cost of the election ?—Not the cost, certainly.

19,973. The topic of the election ?—Yes.

19,974. What was said about money matters ?—Nothing was said to me about money matters, with that exception.

19,975. What was said by Mr. Schneider in your presence about money matters ?—I do not know that anything was said ; I never discussed money matters, and this was the only money transaction I had to do with through the election.

19,976. How do you connect this bag with the canvass ?—He was down for the purpose of canvassing.

19,977. And he was also down for the purpose of telling you about the bag ?—Yes ; he was in the town ; he had come to reside during his canvass.

19,978. Was that the first time you had seen him on that canvass ?—I am not sure about that.

19,979. You cannot recollect ?—No ; I saw him daily during the canvass.

19,980. You do not remember whether that was his first visit ?—No, I do not.

19,981. You knew it had been arranged that Mr. Welch was to manage his money matters ?—Yes, I understood so.

19,982. From Mr. Schneider ?—From general report.

19,983. Did not Mr. Schneider at that time, when he told you there would be a bag for Welch, say, "You know Mr. Welch is looking after my money matters ?"—He would assume that I knew that, I expect.

19,984. Did you tell Mr. Schneider afterwards that the bag had come all right ?—I do not think I ever mentioned it to him again.

19,985. Did you speak to Mr. Wearing about it shortly after ?—Yes, I did, that night.

19,986. Was this all that took place between you and Smith when he came ?—Yes ; he was not above two or three minutes in my house ; I followed him out immediately ; I was anxious to get rid of it.

19,987. Did you know that there would be more required than those parcels were likely to contain ?—I did not know what they contained.

19,988. You knew by the weight of them ?—I never even touched them.

19,989. You knew by the size of them ?—As I have said before, I never entered at all into money matters, and knew very little of the cost of an election.

19,990. To whom was the previous parcel of 300*l.* given—making up the 1,000*l.* ?—I know nothing about it at all.

19,991. Have you never heard anything about it ?—Yes, from Mr. Welch's evidence ; but that was my first knowledge that there was another parcel.

19,992. Has Wright, your man, taken any parcel to Welch's shop ?—I know nothing about it ; he did not, to my knowledge, at all.

19,993. Do you not know anything about that other parcel of 300*l.* ?—Not at all, not the slightest.

19,994. Do you know how it got to Welch's shop ?—No, except from seeing it in Welch's evidence.

19,995. You know nothing at all about it ?—No.

19,996. You have no idea how it got there ?—Not the remotest.

19,997. Did Smith say, when he brought that over, anything about its being the second lot ?—No, he did not.

19,998. You did not give Wright any intimation as to keeping this parcel secret ?—I do not remember at all what I said to him.

19,999. You probably told him not to talk about it ?—I may have done that.

20,000. Mr. Smith had spoken to you about not being able to find Welch ; why did you send it to Wearing ?—I think I called on Wearing on [my return from my house to the office ; I knew they were acting in concert, and Wearing was more likely to be found at home than Welch.

20,001. You knew Wearing and Welch were acting in concert in money matters ?—Yes ; and I called at Wearing's on my way from my house to the office, and told him that some parcels were left at my house, and asked him what I should do with them, and I think he said, "You had better send them on to me, and I will forward them," or something to that effect.

20,002. What parcels did you tell Wearing they were ?—I said they had been left by Mr. Smith of Barrow ; he at once inferred, I presume, what they were.

20,003. You told him it was some of Mr. Schneider's money ?—I daresay I should tell him that ; I should tell him that Mr. Schneider had called about it ; I cannot remember the conversation.

20,004. In fact, it was quite understood between you what it was ?—Yes ; he would understand it.

20,005. Did you know that Wearing expected money ?—No, I did not know that at all.

20,006. The difficulty I am in is this— why, if you were only spoken to about Welch, did you go to Wearing ?—I do not know whether I may have called at Welch's shop, and found him not in, and then gone on to Wearing's ; they are neighbours.

20,007. Perhaps you have answered my question by saying you knew they were acting in concert ?—Yes, that is about it.

20,008. And you really do not know how that 300*l.* parcel got there ?—I do not know anything at all about it.

20,009. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of the last election ?—No, not a penny.

20,010. Did you arrange with any voters as to the price of their votes ?—No, certainly not ; never in my life.

20,011. I am obliged to ask you these questions, and do not think I am at all accusing you ; not having arranged with any voters, I presume you did not pay anybody ?—No, certainly not.

20,012. Do you know of any other money having been expended than that of which the Commissioners have taken evidence ?—No, not at all ; in fact I was not aware that so much money had been expended.

20,013. You would pretty well have information of everything that was going on ?—Not with regard to the money department.

20,014. What sums of money were being offered during the election for votes ?—From personal knowledge I am not aware of any sums being offered.

20,015. Take rather a wider range than personal knowledge : what sums were being offered ?—I really do not know. The evidence given before this commission has been a revelation to me ; I had no conception of the extent of bribery, and I believe this last election was quite unexampled.

20,016. Were you not aware of the sums of money that had been paid ?—No, I was not.

20,017. There were rumours that a very large sum had been paid for a vote ?—Yes, there were rumours.

20,018. Going up as high as 50*l.* ?—I do not know that I ever heard that.

20,019. Did you hear any difference made between the class of voters that had received money ?—No ; I suppose the bribery was amongst the freemen principally.

20,020. Why do you suppose that ?—I do suppose so ; it is based upon common rumour entirely.

20,021. Have you any reason to suggest how it happened that it was amongst the freemen rather than amongst the householders ?—No ; the freemen have always been petted and pampered for generations, and brought up under the system of receiving money.

20,022. (Mr. Newton). And a good many householders too, I should think ?—So I see now, but I was not aware of it.

20,023. (Mr. Hill.) In fact, between the freemen and the lower class of householders there is not a very great difference ?—No.

20,024. A great many freemen are householders, and vice versâ ?—Yes.

NINETEENTH DAY.

J. L. Milner.

18 Sept. 1866.

20,025. Excepting on the register there is no broad distinction between them ?—Yes, I should think there was.

20,026. In what way ?—A householder must have a 10*l.* house, and you have some gauge of his respectability which you have not amongst the freemen; they are simply born freemen, and may be the very lowest and poorest class, and therefore exposed to the greater temptation.

20,027. In your opinion the gauge of respectability is to a certain extent a prima facie presumption against bribery ?—Yes, I should say so.

20,028. That is the only reason you can suggest ?—Yes, that is the reason that occurs to me now.

20,029. (Mr. Newton.) Do you believe these stories about the householders and these large sums of money ?—I have no reason to believe or disbelieve them. I have no personal knowledge of it whatever.

20,030. I mean with regard to the influence used by means of the females of the house ?—I should think that is a mere tale.

20,031. A tale of what—of romance ?—Yes, I should think so, to a great extent.

20,032. You think it is not true ?—Perhaps I do not understand the purport of your question.

20,033. I mean that the voters have been influenced by the wives, daughters, aunts, and grandmothers ?—No, I should think not. I should think voters would not be influenced in that way.

20,034. They might be influenced by money being given to these female relatives. Supposing it is said to them, "I will give you so much money if you get "your husband, brother, or father (or whatever it is) "to vote for me ?"—I never heard of it.

20,035. That is what I wish to know. You think no influence has been used in that way ?—I am not aware of it at all.

20,036. (Mr. Barstow.) The story that reaches us is that the money is in many cases given to the wives and daughters, and then the voter sells his conscience with that, and comes here and says he has received no money ?—I cannot confirm the story or rebut it.

20,037. (Mr. Newton.) The wives or daughters having received the money ?—I am not aware of it.

20,038. What made you and Mr. Schneider talk about the parcel that day ? You said he told you you were to expect a parcel ?—Yes; he said there would be a parcel for Welch, and asked me if I would take charge of it.

20,039. Did he say what was in the parcel ?—No, he did not.

20,040. That was all he said ?—Yes.

20,041. Did you know by that what he meant ?—Yes, I assumed it was a parcel of money.

20,042. How many days was that before the parcel was left at your house ?—The same day or the day previously.

20,043. Three weeks before the election ?—Not so much as that; a fortnight or ten days.

20,044. Did it occur to you as rather a curious thing for a candidate to bring 700*l.*, or whatever it was, into the town in sovereigns a fortnight before the election ?—I thought it was very indiscreet and imprudent.

20,045. Is that all you thought about it ?—It was for electioneering purposes, and I knew that elections were very expensive things.

20,046. It is not the first election you have had at Lancaster ?—No.

20,047. You must have known it was illegal for a candidate to bring 700 sovereigns into the town a fortnight before the election ?—It depends upon for what it was required.

20,048. It could be for no other purpose; it would be perfectly illegal if it was only paid to one person. Mr. Welch was not his election agent ?—No, certainly not.

20,049. Then it must have been an illegal thing, and yet you tell us you never heard of bribery going on till the revelations before the committee ?—I was not connected with the money matters at all.

J. Williamson.

JAMES WILLIAMSON sworn and examined.

20,050. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a brother to the witness who was examined to-day ?—Yes.

20,051. Are you the partner of the last witness ?—Neither my brother nor myself are partners; we are with our father.

20,052. Were you actively engaged for the Liberal party at the last election ?—I cannot say I was actively engaged; I did take some little interest in it, but I was not active.

20,053. I suppose, if you took a little interest in it, you got a little money and spent a little money ?—I did not.

20,054. Do you know of any money transactions ?—Mr. Welch desired me to go down to Overton. He knew I was acquainted with the persons in that district, and I said I would. That was on the night previous to the election.

20,055. Did you go to Overton ?—Yes.

20,056. Did you go to Overton empty handed ?—Yes, except what I had got in my pockets, which was my own; I did not ask for any money.

20,057. And you never received any money ?—No.

20,058. Did you spend any money of your own ?—If I did spend any money it would not be more than 6*d.* or 1*s.*, and that would be on my own account.

20,059. Is that, seriously, all you did at the election ?—That is all I can tell you.

20,060. When you went down to Overton what did you do ?—When I got down, a person of the name of Gorst had a lot of voters in a public-house there. I went down to another public-house that there is in the same place, and whether I saw any voter there or not I am unable to say. There may have been one or two, but I really cannot say who they were, if there were any. Rather than go into the public-house, and see those men that Gorst had I suppose bottled, I came home; I would not go to see them.

20,061. I do not think they will send you to Overton again ?—I am sure I do not care if they do not.

20,062. That is all you did ?—Yes.

20,063. Do you know anything about what was going on on the Quay ?—No, I do not know a thing.

20,064. You know nothing at all ?—No, I took no part at all; in fact I was careful to avoid everything of the kind.

20,065. You were not very careful, because if you had been very careful you would not have gone to Overton ?—I mean I was very careful not to do anything which I considered illegal.

20,066. (Mr. Hill.) Did you go down to Overton with Maddock ?—No, I went down in our own conveyance.

20,067. (Mr. Barstow.) Your horse did not eat 20*l.* worth of fodder down there ?—No, it did not.

20,068. (Mr. Newton.) When did you know that all the freemen in your employment got paid ?—It was rumoured that they were paid as well as other freemen.

20,069. When did you know it ?—I really cannot answer you, because I do not know.

20,070. How long ago was it ?—I really cannot say. I am here to tell you the truth, and I would tell you if I knew.

20,071. (Mr. Hill.) It was not the freemen only who got paid ?—No, I am sorry to say it was not.

JOHN MITCHELL sworn and examined. J. Mitchell.

20,072. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At Skerton.

20,073. What are you?—I am out of business.

20,074. What were you when you were in business?—A commercial traveller.

20,075. You are a gentleman living on your own means?—Yes.

20,076. What are your politics?—Conservative.

20,077. What part did you take in the last election?—I assisted in getting voters.

20,078. Who with?—Along with Mr. Carruthers and Mr. Atkinson.

20,079. I suppose you did not assist without getting some money to assist with?—I did get some money.

20,081. From whom did you get that?—Mr. Carruthers.

20,082. When?—A fortnight before the election.

20,083. Is that all you got?—That is all that I got.

20,084. Altogether?—Yes, altogether.

20,085. I suppose, like all the rest, you spent that money in treating?—Yes, I did.

20,086. I must ask you, did you get anything for your own vote?—I had not a vote.

Adjourned for a short time.

ELIZABETH HELME sworn and examined. E. Helme.

20,087. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a married woman or single?—Married.

20,088. What is your husband?—He is a guard on the railway.

20,089. And he keeps the "Swan" at St. Leonard Gate?—No, Mrs. Ralph keeps the "Swan," my mother.

20,090. Who was summoned?—Mrs. Ralph or Mrs. Helme it says on the summons.

20,091. You are the daughter of Mrs. Ralph?—Yes.

20,092. And you live at the "Swan Inn" in St. Leonard Gate?—Yes.

20,093. Do you look after your mother's public-house?—Yes, when she is not able.

20,094. Do you remember Anthony Knowles Allinson coming to you in June or July 1865, and taking your public-house?—Yes.

20,095. Did he make an arrangement with you or with your mother?—With me. I believe we were both present.

20,096. What were the terms on which he was to have the public-house?—He did not state any terms.

20,097. Do you know what your mother was paid for the use of the house?—5*l.*

20,098. Why do you say 5*l.*?—Because it was paid to me; my mother was ill at the time.

20,099. By whom was it paid?—Mr. King.

20,100. You were only paid 5*l.*?—Yes.

20,101. Did you give a receipt for it?—Yes; Mr. King has got the receipt.

20,102. Did you or your mother give the receipt?—My son wrote the receipt out, and my mother signed it.

20,103. You received the money, your son drew out the receipt, and your mother signed it, is that it?—Yes.

20,104. Allinson says that he gave at your mother's house 7*l.*?—Well, I do not remember the sum being named.

20,105. Not when he first came and took it?—No.

20,106. How long before the election was it that he came?—Perhaps a month.

20,107. What is your husband's christian name?—Matthew.

20,108. How did he vote, do you know?—He has no vote.

20,109. Is your father dead?—Yes.

20,110. Have you got any uncles?—No; I have got some brothers.

20,111. How did they vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

20,112. They all voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

20,113. Is William Ralph, of Aldcliffe Street, smith, one of your brothers?—Yes.

20,114. And John Ralph, of Leonard Gate, spinner?—Yes.

20,115. And Joseph Ralph, of China Lane, tailor?—Yes.

20,116. And Robert Ralph, who is he?—He is my brother.

20,117. They all voted Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

20,118. Is Charles Ralph, Aldcliffe Street, weaver, one of your brothers?—Yes.

20,119. Do you happen to know what Charles Ralph got for his vote?—No, I do not know what none of them got.

20,120. (Mr. Newton.) What did the railway porter get for his vote?—I cannot say.

20,121. Who paid Charles Ralph?—Well, I do not know, I am sure. Mr. King paid all that I am aware of.

20,122. (Mr. Hill.) The four brothers were paid by King?—There are five brothers.

20,123. But four of them were paid by King—William, Joseph, John, and Robert; those are the four brothers?—Yes.

20,124. Those were paid by King?—Yes.

20,125. And as to Charles you do not know who he was paid by?—No.

20,126. Is he in Lancaster now?—Yes.

20,127. What is his direction?—His address is Winder's Court, Monmouth Street.

20,128. (To Mr. Allinson.) You told us that you engaged her house for 7*l.*?—No; I said I thought 7*l.* was paid for the house. I did not pay for it myself; very likely the captain would make some arrangement.

20,129. Would King be the captain of the district?—He would pay for it.

20,130. Mrs. Helme says that no sum was mentioned at the time the arrangement was made?—I think I stated that we should not pay more than 10*l.* I said 7*l.* for beerhouses, and we should not pay more than 10*l.* for a public-house.

20,131. (Mr. Hill.) And this was a beerhouse?—This was a beerhouse.

JAMES TOWNLEY sworn and examined. J. Townley.

20,132. (Mr. Hill.) You keep the "Black Cat?"—Yes.

20,133. What street is the "Black Cat" in?—St. Leonard Gate.

20,134. Yours was a Liberal house at the last election?—Yes.

20,135. And were you engaged by Allinson?—The committee room was engaged.

20,136. Is yours a licensed house or a beerhouse?—A licensed house.

20,137. Your house was engaged for 10*l.*, was it?—Yes.

20,138. What sum of money did you receive for it?—10*l.*

20,139. How much money did you receive for bills during that election?—I think about 18*l.* 17*l.* 17*s.* or 18*l.*, about that I think.

20,140. And how much was spent in your house in ready money?—That I cannot tell, perhaps 10*l.* or 12*l.* I cannot tell.

20,141. Shall we say 12*l.* or 14*l.*?—Somewhere about there I should think it would be.

20,142. 14*l.*?—Yes.

NINETEENTH DAY.

J. Townley.

18 Sept. 1866.

20,143. What room did you set apart for the purposes of the committee?—The club-room.

20,144. That was a room they went to drink in?—Yes.

20,145. Anybody connected with the election who wanted to drink went and drank in the club-room?—They went in all the places, but that was the room they got their breakfast in that morning.

20,146. You yourself voted for Fenwick and Schneider, did you not?—Yes.

20,147. Did you pay any persons any money for the purpose of the election?—No.

20,148. Nor did you receive any money besides this?—No.

20,149. Have you any relations or brothers upon the register?—Yes.

20,150. Which are they?—Richard Townley in Nicholas Street.

20,151. (Mr. Newton.) Is he your brother?—Yes.

20,152. (Mr. Hill.) He voted for Lawrence?—Yes, I believe he did.

20,153. Have you any other brother?—No.

20,154. Or any other relative?—No.

20,155. No son?—No.

R. Batty.

RICHARD BATTY sworn and examined.

20,156. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you the landlord of the "Crown?"—I am.

20,157. In what street?—St. Leonard Gate.

20,158. How far is your house from the "Black Cat?"—Perhaps about 400 yards, or from that to 500, as near as I can guess.

20,159. So that a man might get thirsty between the "Black Cat" and the "Crown?"—They did pretty often, no doubt.

20,160. Is it a licensed house or a beerhouse?—A beerhouse.

20,161. Your house was engaged by the Liberal party at the last election?—It was.

20,162. Who engaged it?—Mr. Johnson, Mr. King, and Mr. Allinson engaged the house.

20,163. Who paid you for it?—Mr. Welch; Mr. Hutchinson that is at Mr. Welch's.

20,164. And what did he pay you?—He paid me 10*l.*, and I sent him a trifle.

20,165. He paid you 10*l.* for the house?—10*l.* for the committee room. I gave 5*s.* for a bottle of wine. I returned him 5*s.* out of the 10*l.* out of my pocket for a bottle of wine for his dinner after he gave me the 10*l.*

20,166. What was your bill?—For refreshments.

20,167. Who paid you your bill for refreshments?—Mr. Welch himself.

20,168. How much did your bill come to?—I think it was either 11*l.* or 12*l.* I cannot say exactly whether that was for a fortnight.

20,169. Then there would be ready money spent in your house?—I think there was no ready money except that sum that Mr. Whiteside mentioned the other day; 9*d.*, I think, that was all the money that was spent.

20,170. I meant money paid night by night?—No. I kept an account, which Mr. Welch paid me altogether afterwards, for a fortnight.

20,171. And that came to 11*l.* 10*s.*?—It came to between 10*l.* and 12*l.*; I cannot say exactly what the amount was.

20,172. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

20,173. Have you any brothers or relatives on the register?—I have, I have a nephew and a brother.

20,174. Are you a householder?—I am.

20,175. You voted as a freeman though you are not?—I am a freeman.

20,176. What are your relatives who are on the register?—One is my nephew.

20,177. What is he?—He is a clerk to the railway company; that is William Batty.

20,178. And are you related at all to John Batty of Cable Street?—He is my brother.

20,179. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know what your nephew got for his vote?—Nothing, not a halfpenny piece; we were after him in the afternoon and went to his house, me and Mr. Fothergill, and we wanted him to vote for Fenwick and Schneider; I pressed him, but he popped out of the house and went and voted for Lawrence and Fenwick.

20,180. And he would not have anything for his vote?—Nothing; he would have told me of it if he had.

20,181. But your brother, John Batty, I see, was paid by Stewardson?—That was to his wife.

20,182. It is quite as well to be accurate?—It is tantamount to the same thing.

20,183. Is there anything else that you want to tell us?—Nothing.

J. Townley.

JAMES TOWNLEY recalled.

20,184. (Mr. Barstow.) You wish to add something to the evidence you have given?—Yes, I wish to state that I received about 16*s.* from Colonel Yeadall.

20,185. What for?—It was for refreshments.

20,186. He paid your bill for refreshments?—Yes.

J. Wright.

JANE WRIGHT sworn and examined.

20,187. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a widow?—Yes.

20,188. Do you keep the "Plasterers' Arms?"—Yes.

20,189. Where is that?—In Wood Street.

20,190. Is it a beerhouse or a licensed house?—A licensed house.

20,191. Was a room in your house engaged for the election?—Yes.

20,192. By whom?—By Mr. Knowles Allinson.

20,193. What did he agree to give you for it?—5*l.*

20,194. Who paid you the 5*l.*?—Mr. Welch.

20,195. Henry Welch?—Yes.

20,196. What was the bill besides?—10*s.*

20,197. What was spent in your house?—I cannot exactly say; it might be about 6*l.*

20,198. Besides the 5*l.*?—Yes; it was all paid as it went on in ready money.

20,199. Did Henry Welch pay you himself?—He paid me 5*l.* and the 10*s.*

20,200. Who paid you the remainder?—Mr. Watson; John Watson.

20,201. Who is John Watson?—A pawnbroker.

20,202. How much did he pay you?—I cannot exactly say; it might be between 5*l.* and 6*l.* I never kept any account, they paid as they went on.

20,203. Have you got any brothers?—No, not voters.

20,204. Have you a son?—I have a brother-in-law.

20,205. What is his name?—George Waters.

20,206. Have you no son?—No.

20,207. And no brother?—No.

S. Dobson.

SAMUEL DOBSON sworn and examined.

20,208. (Mr. Hill.) You keep a house with a sign under the name of that good beast the "Craven Heifer?"—No, the "Craven Inn."

20,209. Is the "Craven Inn" a beerhouse or a licensed house?—A beerhouse.

20,210. Your house was engaged by the Liberal party for the purposes of the last election?—Yes.

20,211. By whom was it engaged?—By Mr. Allinson.

20,212. And he engaged it for 10*l.*, did he?—No, he did not.

20,213. How much did he engage it for?—Nothing. There was no sum mentioned, and he never paid for it either.

20,214. How much was paid for it?—I consider 1*l.*

20,215. How much did you get altogether?—I got 6*l.* altogether, but 5*l.* was to treat voters with.

20,216. That is out of your own drinks?—Mr. Hadfield gave me 5*l.* on the election day.

20,217. Do you mean to say that Mr. Allinson did not give you 10*l.*?—No, he did not give me anything; it was in the papers that he gave me 10*l.*, but he gave me nothing.

20,218. You say all you got was 5*l.* from Mr. Hadfield, and how much else did you get?—5*l.* for my bill and 1*l.* some months afterwards; there was no bill, he merely gave it to me on the election day to spend among the voters.

20,219. You did not spend among the voters as much as 5*l.*, did you?—Not that day, but I did afterwards.

20,220. After the election?—Yes.

20,221. What for?—They said all the election money they thought was done, and I said that I had some left yet.

20,222. That was to bring them to your house?—They were in there at the time.

20,223. Did you not receive any other money besides the 6*l.*?—I think Mr. Hadfield called about twice and left me half-a-crown or 3*s.* at a time, and said I was to fill their glasses.

20,224. Who else called upon you with money?—No one.

20,225. Had you a committee room?—When Mr. Allinson came to me once he wanted to have it as a committee room the same as at a previous election, but I said I could not let him have it in that way at all; but, however, he said he would have the house, and at last I said, "If you want the house I shall expect the same as other people."

20,226. That was 10*l.*?—I did not get 10*l.*

20,227. It was 5*l.* for a beerhouse?—I did not get that, all I got was what I considered was 1*l.*

20,228. But Mr. Hadfield gave you 5*l.*?—He gave 5*l.* on the election day.

20,229. How much value in drink did you ever stand to electors?—Very little, indeed, I can tell you. I should think that they did not spend altogether more than 1*l.* in the house.

20,230. How much of this 5*l.* did you lay out in drink?—I spent it all and perhaps more.

20,231. What other monies did you receive for the purposes of the election?—Nothing else.

20,232. What did you get for your vote?—I got nothing for my vote; that was all the money I received during the election.

20,233. You are a cabinet-maker?—Yes.

20,234. (To Mr. Allinson.) What have you to say to this?—I did not say I paid him 10*l.*; if you refer to my evidence you will find I said the house was engaged for 10*l.*; some of them I paid, and some of them I did not pay.

20,235. Do you agree with what this gentleman has just said?—He said to me at the time what he says now; he said that he must have the same as other people were getting.

20,236. Have you anything to say with regard to his statement that all the money he got was 5*l.* from Mr. Hadfield?—He stated that he had spent it in champagne.

20,237. Who stated that?—Mr. Dobson.

(The witness.) I stood half-a-dozen bottles after the election, and Mr. Hadfield had his share of it as well as the rest.

20,238. (Mr. Hill.) You understood that the 5*l.* was for the house?—I understood it was to spend for the electors, and I did do it.

ALICE BRADLEY sworn and examined.

A. Bradley.

20,239. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you keep the "Dolphin's Arms?"—Yes.

20,240. Is that in Bulk?—Yes.

20,241. Who hired your house at the last election?—I think it was Mr. Charles Blades.

20,242. Do you remember what you got for it?—Yes, I remember what we got for it.

20,243. How much did you get?—It was 10*l.*

20,244. It is a licensed house, is it not?—Yes.

20,245. Did you have some bill besides?—Yes.

20,246. How much did that come to, do you remember?—The bill was 10*l.* 10*s.*; that made 20*l.* 10*s.* altogether.

20,247. Who paid you that bill?—Mr. Robert Blades.

20,248. You had some money paid from time to time by the captain of your district, had you not?—I remember Mr. Fothergill being in one night, but he did not give anything.

20,249. Thomas or Christopher?—I do not know his name, he is a tobacconist.

20,250. I suppose he paid you something?—No; he paid for what drink came in; he did not pay anything to me.

20,251. Do you know what it was that he paid?—No, I cannot tell.

20,252–3. Do you mean that you never had the money?—No, never only for the drink that went in.

20,254. Did Fothergill pay the money into your hands or not?—I am sure I am not certain who paid it; I think it was him when the waiter went in; I did not take the voter in myself.

20,255. Whoever it was, was the money paid into your hands?—Yes.

20,256. About how much was it?—Perhaps 16*s.* or 18*s.*

20,257. Under 1*l.*?—Yes.

20,258. Was that all the money you received in that way from any of the Liberal captains?—Yes, it is all that I remember.

20,259. Do you remember for whom your late husband voted?—Yes, Fenwick and Schneider.

20,260. Have you yourself any relations who are voters?—No.

20,261. Had your late husband any?—No.

20,262. (Mr. Hill.) Perhaps you are not a Lancaster woman?—I have lived in the neighbourhood a long time. We were out of the borough.

20,263. Your husband's name was John, was it not?—Yes.

MARGARET NIXON sworn and examined.

M. Nixon.

20,264. (Mr. Newton.) Your late husband kept the "Sawyers' Arms?"—Yes.

20,265. Where is that?—At the top of Dolphin Square.

20,266. Was it a licensed house or not?—Not for spirits.

20,267. A beerhouse?—Yes.

20,268. Was it engaged for the election?—Yes.

20,269. Who by?—Well, I think Mr. Allinson engaged the room.

20,270. How much was he to give for it?—There was no amount mentioned.

20,271. What did he pay afterwards?—He did not pay me.

20,272. Who paid you?—Mr. Cleminson.

20,273. How much did he pay you?—5*l.*

20,274. What did you get for the bill?—I have got the balance here to be looked at (producing the paper.)

20,275. How much was the bill?—It is 3*l.* 6*s.* 5½*d.*

20,276. Who paid that?—There is every particular there if you will look at that (handing the paper to the Commissioners.)

20,277. Had your late husband any brothers?—Yes.

20,278. How did they vote?—They are not voters.

20,279. Had you any brothers?—No.

20,280. Have you brothers-in-law?—Not voters.

20,281. Have you a father who is a voter?—No.

20,282. (Mr. Hill.) What was your husband's christian name?—Richard.

NINETEENTH DAY.

M. Newton.

18 Sept. 1866.

20,283. That bill which you have shown us has not been paid yet, has it?—Yes.

20,284. (Mr. Newton.) Who paid that?—A person of the name of John Court paid it by Colonel Yeadell's orders.

20,285. I see it is made out, and there is no receipt for it?—This is merely a balance; I gave the receipt to the bill that was paid, and this is a balance that was kept.

20,286. By "balance" you mean a copy?—Yes; but Court received the receipt for Colonel Yeadell, but Colonel Yeadell did not pay me up to this amount; this is my bill, but he did not pay according to it.

20,287. How much did he pay you.?—As near as I can remember it was 3*l.* 4*s.*

James Paterson.

JAMES PATERSON sworn and examined.

20,288. (Mr. Hill.) You keep the "Wheatsheaf?"—Yes.

20,289. Is that a licensed house?—Yes.

20,290. Licensed for spirits?—Yes, and wines.

20,291. You were engaged at the last election?—Yes.

20,292. By whom were you retained?—I voted for the Liberal candidates.

20,293. But were you retained?—I was not engaged in any way.

20,294. Was there not a committee room taken at your house?—Yes.

20,295. That is what I call being retained; by whom was that committee room taken?—I think by Mr. Allinson.

20,296. And did he agree with you as to the price?—No.

20,297. Who paid you for it?—Mr. Henry Welch.

20,298. What did he pay you?—10*l.*

20,299. When?—Perhaps two months after the election.

20,300. You do not recollect who had engaged the committee room; was it Mr. Allinson?—Yes.

20,301. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider, you say?—Yes.

20,302. And you got your 10*l.* paid?—Yes.

20,303. What amount was paid you for a bill?—21*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.* I fancy.

20,304. Have you got it here?—No, I have not.

20,305. And what was paid you by the captains besides?—Nothing.

20,306. Nothing from night to night?—No.

20,307. Had you no sums paid you at all nightly?—Not in sums; when they came they paid ready money.

20,308. What do you recollect they paid you?—I do not know.

20,309. 5*l.* or 10*l.*?—No, nothing of the sort.

20,310. 3*l.* or 4*l.*?—Perhaps they might spend about 2*l.*

20,311. That is all you know about it?—Yes.

20,312. Have you any relations on the register?—No.

20,313. None at all?—No.

20,314. You are only on as a householder?—That is all.

20,315. Not as a freeman?—Not as a freeman.

20,316. (Mr. Newton.) Did Bleasdale pay you?—No, Mr. Welch paid me the 10*l.*, and Mr. Cleminson paid me the bill for the refreshments.

John Long.

JOHN LONG sworn and examined.

20,317. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you keep the "Rose Tavern?"—Yes.

20,318. And you are a householder?—Yes.

20,319. Is that a licensed house?—It is now, it was not at the time of the election; it was a beer-house.

20,320. Your house was engaged by the Liberals?—It was; one room as a committee room.

20,321. Who took that room?—Knowles Allinson.

20,322. What was he to pay you for it?—3*l.*

20,323. Had you ever a committee meeting there?—Yes, there were several meetings of a sub-committee.

20,324. And what did they spend?—Very near nothing; a few shillings.

20,325. And that you received, I suppose, from time to time?—Yes.

20,326. Had you any bill?—Yes, I had a bill.

20,327. How much?—The bill for refreshments was 1*l.* 12*s.*

20,328. Then was 4*l.* 12*s.* all the money you received?—Yes, except perhaps an odd shilling that might be spent by persons coming in.

20,329. Was that all the money you received?—Yes, it was.

20,330. You received none on any other consideration?—No.

20,331. (Mr. Hill.) Had you ever been engaged at any previous election?—Yes, I have mixed a little among them.

20,332. But has your house been retained?—No, it was a new house.

20,333. You had not got much into work then, I suppose?—No.

20,334. (Mr. Newton.) How do you usually vote?—I have usually voted voted for the Liberals.

20,335. (Mr. Hill.) How came it about that your house was 3*l.* instead of 5*l.*?—I do not know; I suppose they knew I was all right, and so they gave me as little as they could.

Mary Rogerson

MARY ROGERSON sworn and examined.

20,336. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a widow?—I was at the time of the election.

20,337. What was your name at the time of the election?—Charnock; Mary Charnock.

20,338. Is your name still the same?—No, it is not.

20,339. What is your name now; will you disclose the name of your present husband?—I am not ashamed to do so.

20,340. What is the name?—Rogerson.

20,341. At the time of the election you kept the "Nag's Head," did you not?—Yes.

20,342. In Church Street?—Yes.

20,343. Did anybody engage your house for the election?—Mr. Knowles Allinson.

20,344. What was he to give you for the house?—There was no bargain made.

20,345. Somebody paid you afterwards?—Yes.

20,346. Who was that?—Mr. Stewardson.

20,347. What did he pay you?—4*l.* 10*s.*

20,348. And what was the bill besides?—They had no bill.

20,349. What were the refreshments that they had in the house?—They paid for it as they got it.

20,350. Did each individual pay, or did the captains pay?—Each paid for their own.

20,351. All you got was 4*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

20,352. Have you got any brothers who are voters?—No.

20,353. Had your late husband any brothers who were voters?—No.

20,354. Then you were quite independent?—Yes.

20,355. And you exerted no influence on anybody?—Not in the least.

20,356. May I ask how Mr. Rogerson voted?—I do not know for that.

20,357. Is Mr. Rogerson a voter?—I really do not know; his brother was, I believe, but not him.

20,358. Then I must ask a further question; did you use your influence with the brother?—Not in the least.

20,359. (Mr. Hill.) What was your maiden name?—Mary King.

BENJAMIN HARTLEY sworn and examined. B. Hartley.

20,360. (Mr. Hill.) You keep the "Rose and Crown?"—Yes.

20,361. Is that a licensed house?—No.

20,362. A beerhouse?—A beerhouse.

20,363. Were you engaged in the Liberal cause at the last election?—Yes.

20,364. By Mr. Allinson?—Yes.

20,365. For what price did Mr. Allinson engage your house?—I do not think there was any price agreed about.

20,366. Only that it was to be engaged?—It was to be engaged.

20,367. In what district is the "Rose and Crown?"—I think the Dalton Square district.

20,368. Were you paid for the house at the last election?—Yes.

20,369. How much were you paid?—I think it was 3*l.*

20,370. By whom was that paid?—By Mr. George Cleminson, I believe.

20,371. How much was your bill?—I think that has been given in evidence by Mr. Bleasdale and Mr. Thomas Cleminson.

20,372. But I want to know from you what the amount was that was paid as your bill?—I do not think there was a bill.

20,373. Did you not send in any bill?—No, I did not.

20,374. How much was spent at your house during the election?—Mr. Cleminson paid 2*l.* 10*s.*

20,375. And how much did Bleasdale pay?—2*l.* he says in his evidence.

20,376. That is 4*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes; but I was not much at home, and I do not know.

20,377. Have you sent in any bill since?—No.

20,378. Have you been paid anything since?—For the house?

29,379. Yes?—No, I have not.

20,380. How much did you get altogether for your house?—I had 3*l.* 10*s.* for myself.

20,381. And how much for your house?—And 3*l.* for the house; about 6*l.* 10*s.* from Mr. George Cleminson, and 2*l.* 10*s.* from Mr. Thomas, and 2*l.* from Mr. Bleasdale.

20,382. That makes altogether 11*l.*; is that all the money that you were paid at the last election?—I believe it is.

20,383. What was the payment to yourself for; for your vote?—No, I had no vote.

20,384. There are a good lot of men of your name that have votes; are any of them relatives of yours?—No.

20,385. Have you relatives of any other name on the register?—No, none.

20,386. What did they give it to you for yourself if you had no vote?—I was off work, and working about in the election a good deal.

20,387. What sort of work was it?—Taking a few circulars out

20,388. Had you any claim upon them in the way of voting, or in the way of supporting their party?—No; only assisting them as well as I could in the election, that was all.

JOHN FORREST sworn and examined. J. Forrest.

20,389. (Mr. Barstow.) You keep the "Fat Scot?"—Yes.

20,390. Is that in Mary Street?—Yes.

20,391. Who engaged your house at the last election?—Mr. Allinson.

20,392. For the Liberal party?—Yes.

20,393. What was he to pay you for it?—It was not never mentioned.

20,394. What were you paid for it?—Nothing.

20,395. You had better have made an engagement beforehand. Did you get nothing at all for your house?—Nothing at all.

20,396. Then if you got nothing, I suppose no one paid you anything?—No.

20,397. Had you any bill?—No.

20,398. Perhaps you had no vote?—No.

EDWARD ROBINSON sworn and examined. E. Robinson.

20,399. (Mr. Newton.) Do you keep the "Bull's Head?"—Yes.

20,400. In Common Garden?—Yes.

20,401. Did Allinson hire your house?—Yes.

20,402. Did he mention any terms to you?—No terms at all; I was to have the house the same terms as himself.

20,403. The same as he got himself?—Yes.

20,404. We cannot ask you what he got, but what did you get for your house?—I got 10*l.*

20,405. Is yours a licensed house?—No.

20,406. A beerhouse?—Yes.

20,407. Who paid you?—Mr. Henry Welch.

20,408. When did Mr. Allinson come to you?—He came several times at the commencement of the election to engage the house, but I would not settle upon it; I went to him at last to engage the house.

20,409. Did the other side come to you at all?—Yes, they came several times.

20,410. Who was it who came?—Mr. Clark came at first; that was the beginning of June some time, early on in June.

20,411. Did he offer you any money?—No, he merely wanted to engage the house, and we could come to no terms at all; they were passing just at the time; they were going about to engage all the houses they could, I suppose.

20,412. Why did you not close with the bargain?—Because I was not at one with myself what to do.

20,413. I suppose you had always been a Yellow, had you not?—I would have been.

20,414. You had been, had you not?—No; at the last election I voted for Saunders, but I shall tell you the reason why after a bit.

20,415. Do you know Hatch?—Yes.

20,416. Did he ever come to your house?—Yes.

30,417. Did he find an alderman of the town closeted with you?—No, not that I am aware of; I do not remember anything of the sort.

20,418. Is not there an Alderman Jackson in the town?—Not that I am aware of.

20,419. When Hatch came, did he not find you closeted with some gentleman?—No, he did not; when Hatch came, me and my wife were by our two selves in the house.

20,420. And no alderman between you?—No alderman. There was Mr. Hatch, and Mr. John Cross, and our two selves.

20,421. And no one else?—There was no one else in at the time they came.

20,422. You got 10*l.* from Mr. Welch?—Yes.

20,423. What was spent in your house?—I received it altogether in one sum 28*l.*, that would be 18*l.* for refreshments. That would be from the 6th or 7th of July till the close of the poll on the election day.

20,424. The alderman had nothing to say to that?—I do not know.

20,425. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you receive from the other side?—We received 2*l.*

20,426. Who paid it?—James Hatch.

20,427. (Mr. Hill.) You were going to tell us why you voted for Mr. Saunders at the last election?—The reason why I voted for Mr. Saunders at the last election was, I had only just become entitled to a vote

NINETEENTH DAY.

E. Robinson.

18 Sept. 1866.

as a householder, and their party was the first to come into the house to inquire, and I accidentally tumbled into it in that way.

20,428. You went to the first person that asked you?—I did at that time, I was no electioncerer.

20,429. You got no money for it?—I got no money at all, only for refreshments.

20,430. How much did you get for refreshments?—About 6*l.* 10*s.* I think it was, about three or four months after the election; that is as near as I can remember.

W. Lofthouse.

WILLIAM LOFTHOUSE sworn and examined.

20,431. (Mr. Hill.) You are the landlord of the "Old Sir Simon's?"—I was at that time.

20,432. Who engaged your house?—Henry Welch and Stephen Wright Wearing.

20,433. The "Old Sir Simon's" is a licensed house, is it not?—Yes.

20,434. What were you to be paid for your house?—10*l.*

20,435. That is what Mr. Welch told you you were to have?—Yes.

20,436. Did you receive 10*l.* for your house?—I did.

20,437. From whom did you receive it?—From Henry Welch.

20,438. When did he pay you?—A few days after the election.

20,439. And what did they pay you by way of a bill?—He paid 10*l.* for me, and for services besides.

20,440. And how much for your bill?—About 3*l.* 18*s.*

20,441. That was not the whole of your bill at the "Old Sir Simon's;" there was more than 3*l.* 18*s.* surely?—No; what they got they paid for themselves.

20,442. How much did the people pay for themselves?—I cannot say.

20,443. 50*l.* or 60*l.*?—No, nothing like that.

20,444. Tell me about how much?—I scarcely can.

20,445. You can give me a guess. If you were about to sell your business to me me you would say, "At election times I have had as much as—" what sum would you fix?—I cannot tell. We take it in three-halfpences and twopences, and that kind of thing.

20,446. If you were trying to puff it off and to make the most of it, what should you say?—About 10*l.*

20,447. More than that, with all those Barrow people. You know you had some of the top sawyers staying with you?—They stayed with us all night.

20,448. Who paid you for everything that was supplied to them?—The captain paid for the extras you know.

20,449. How much did the captain pay?—He paid it as it went on.

20,450. How much?—I cannot say, I am sure.

20,451. About how much?—Well, I cannot tell.

20,452. How much do you guess the last election was worth to you?—I can scarcely tell you. There was a good deal that set against us; there was the breaking of glasses and the stealing of jugs, and so on.

20,453. What should you think would be the gross amount of money taken?—I hardly can tell; we never expected this sort of thing or we should have taken more notice.

20,454. Shall we say 40*l.* or 50*l.* altogether?—It might be happen that; perhaps you might say that.

20,455. And besides that there would be 10*l.* for the committee room and 10*l.* for your services?—Yes.

20,456. So you see I was not very far wrong when I put it at 60*l.*?—No.

20,457. They tried to get hold of you on the other side. That is what made me think you were a valuable man. What did they give you?—What did they give me?

20,458. The other side?—Nothing at all.

20,459. What did they give you?—Not a halfpenny piece. I told them if they were minded to take the house for 20*l.* they might do it, but they would not give it to me.

20,460. You voted Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, I did.

20,461. On which side did you vote at Saunders's election?—I voted for Saunders.

20,462. How much did you get for your house then?—About 3*l.*, I think.

20,463. It was scarcely worth while voting Blue for that, was it?—No, it was not; it was only a "flat shine." I know other parties were getting a great deal more than I was getting.

20,464. You say that you knew that a great many other parties got more than you did?—It was so reported.

20,465. Who were they?—I never thought about these things. It came up promiscuously in company.

20,466. You did not do so badly altogether?—I do not know.

20,467. You did not make such a bad thing of it, including your breakages?—I do not know. There is a deal of things to be considered besides that as well.

20,468. Have you got nothing more to tell us?—I think not. I think that you have got the sum total from me that I can give you.

20,469. You would not mind if there came another election to-morrow?—I would never interfere with it. I would sooner have never voted at all.

M. Murphy.

MICHAEL MURPHY sworn and examined.

20,470. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your house?—The "Queen's Head."

20,471. In Church Street?—Yes.

20,472. Did you let your house to anyone at the last election?—To Mr. Bell, authorized by Mr. Harrison.

20,473. What did Mr. Bell say he would give you for it?—Half of what the other licensed houses were getting.

20,474. What was that?—That was the word he mentioned, half of what the others was getting, as I had no vote myself.

20,475. You had no vote and no interest?—No.

20,476. Did you get half?—No, I got 3*l.* 10*s.*

E. Gardener.

EDWARD GARDENER sworn and examined.

20,477. (Mr. Newton.) You keep the "Station Inn?"—Yes.

20,478. In Nile Street?—Yes.

20,479. What were you paid for the use of your house at the election?—10*l.*

20,480. Hutchinson paid you?—Yes, and I received 3*l.* for fetching a voter from Liverpool.

20,481. What else did you receive besides?—2*l.* for an old account from 1859.

20,482. Did they not pay you in 1859?—No. It was 2*l.* for refreshments.

20,483. Whose election was that?—Mr. Garnett's, Fenwick's, and Gregson's. Mr. Hutchinson paid me that.

20,484. How did you manage to get over the election of 1864?—I voted for Mr. Saunders then because they would not pay me my balance up.

20,485. When they paid you your balance, you voted the other side?—Yes; I would not have voted no way this time unless they had paid me that balance.

20,486. How much was your bill in that case?—1*l.* 8*s.* Mr. Turner paid me that.

20,487. What was the drink besides?—Very little. It was paid as they went on, what they drunk.

20,488. Did the captains pay, or did the men pay?—James Turner paid it, but it was very little.

20,489. He was the captain?—Yes.

20,490. He used to pay about 1*l.* a night?—Oh dear no.

20,491. What was it?—I do not think half-a-crown a night.

20,492. There is 16*l.* 8*s.* you got?—He gave me 1*l.* for my expenses for going to Liverpool, and Mr. Moser gave me 2*l.*

20,493. I want to know about these expenses of a night?—I do not suppose it was 2*s.* 6*d.* a night.

20,494. For how long?—Four or five nights.

20,495. Three weeks, was it not?—Oh, dear no. We had little doing in our house, and in fact I did not want it.

20,496. Is the "Station Inn" out of the way?—Yes, it is.

20,497. I am sorry for it, for your sake?—I got as much as I wanted.

20,498. You are satisfied?—Yes.

20,499. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you any relations voters?—Yes.

20,500. Brothers, perhaps?—Yes, a brother in Church Street, John Gardener.

20,501. Is he a freeman?—Yes.

George Cleminson Riley sworn and examined. G. C. Riley.

20,502. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At the "Mitre," Church Street.

20,503. Is it a licensed house?—Yes.

20,504. Engaged by the Liberals at the last election?—Yes, I believe it was.

20,505. Engaged by whom?—Mr. Allinson.

20,506. Have you a brother Edward?—No, I have no brother in Lancaster.

20,507. At what price was your house retained?—I think I had 10*l.*

20,508. Was there a committee held at your house?—Well, there was, part, but not much.

20,509. What they called a committee?—Yes.

20,510. People coming in to drink?—Yes, part.

20,511. What was the other part?—Part for one side, and part for the other.

20,512. What do you mean?—Part for the Liberals, and part for the Tories.

20,513. You were engaged for the Liberals?—Yes.

20,514. But you opened it for both?—Yes.

20,515. What did the Liberals pay you?—I cannot remember being paid.

20,516. Were you not paid any money for your house?—I cannot remember.

20,517. This is a thing you must have some recollection of?—But I cannot.

20,518. We shall be obliged to keep you here till your memory is better, unless you tell me?—I cannot remember it.

20,519. We must have it remembered. This will not do?—I cannot remember anything about the election.

20,520. Why was that?—Because I was drunk all the time.

20,521. On your own drink?—Some of my own, and some I paid for.

20,522. When did you begin to get drunk?—Before the election.

20,523. How many days before the election?—I cannot say exactly.

20,524. A week before?—Oh, perhaps a month.

20,525. Until how long after the election?—I cannot say exactly.

20,526. Tell me?—Perhaps as near a month as could be.

20,527. Are you a married man?—Yes.

20,528. Was your wife living with you at the time?—Yes.

20,529. I hope she was not in the same state?—Well, I believe not, or if she had been, the house would have taken a great deal of harm.

20,530. It does not take much harm by your making a beast of yourself?—No.

20,531. How is it you recollect Mr. Allinson engaging you if you were drunk a week before the election?—Because it was before that time.

20,532. It was not a month before the election?—Yes, it would be.

20,533. (To Mr. Allinson.) When was it you engaged this man's house?—It was during the week—at the same time I engaged the other houses. I think when I saw Mr. Riley, he was scarcely in a fit state. I called several times, and he was always in the state he says he was in.

20,534. (Mr. Hill.) (To the Witness). You shelter yourself under the pretence that you were filthily drunk for two months?—I dare say I was.

20,535. And you have been drunk ever since?—I dare say. I am scarcely sober now.

23,536. I am not quite sure that it would not be a very good thing to send you to a very strong place near here where they have a happy knack of sobering people. Do you mean to tell me that you do not recollect any money being paid to you?—No, I do not.

20,537. (Mr. Barstow.) Stand down now, and take care that you are sober the next time you come, because, if not, we shall have to put you somewhere where we shall know where to find you.

20,538. (Mr. Hill.) Come and report yourself at 10 to-morrow and be sober, because if not, you must come every morning till you are sober?—Then I had better go home to bed now.

20,539. Yes, and do not take a night-cap?—Very good, sir.

John Atkinson Bibby sworn and examined. J. A. Bibby.

20,540. (Mr. Barstow.) I think you keep the "Bear and Staff"?—Yes.

20,541. Was your house engaged by either party at the last election?—Yes.

20,542. Who engaged it?—Knowles Atkinson.

20,543. What was he to pay for it?—I was to be paid the same as other people got. I got 10*l.*

20,544. It is a licensed house?—Yes.

20,545. Had you a committee there?—Yes.

20,546. What were you paid for their drinking?—Eating and drinking too, it was all put together in one sum.

20,547. You were paid a bill?—Yes.

20,548. Who paid you that?—Henry Welch.

20,549. How much was it?—Between 20*l.* and 30*l.* I do not recollect exactly what the sum was.

20,550. I do not ask you exactly, but you must know about what it was?—It was between 20*l.* and 30*l.*

20,551. Did you keep no books?—My daughter kept a book, I think, but it was only a piece of loose paper.

20,552. What sum do you say would be nearest to the mark?—It would be under 30*l.*; I should think 28*l.*; but I am not certain of that.

20,553. Were there any bills paid from time to time by the captains of the district?—Not on my side.

20,554. I mean by you?—No, I never saw none, and paid none.

20,555. Did this bill comprise all the sums spent in your house during the election?—Yes.

20,556. There was no bill paid nightly after the meetings of the committee?—Not to me or none of my family.

22,557. Are we to understand that all you received was 10*l.* for your house and 10*l.* for your bill?—I think it is pretty near that, but I would not say to a few pounds.

20,558. That is as near as you can give it?—Yes.

20,559. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, Fenwick and Schneider.

20,560. Have you any relations in the town?—Yes, I have a brother.

20,561. Did he vote Fenwick and Schneider?—No, I think he voted Fenwick and Lawrence.

NINETEENTH DAY.

J. A. Bibby.

18 Sept. 1866.

20,562. Is he a freeman?—No.

20,563. Do you know anything of your brother?—No, not at all.

20,564. You do not know what he got for his vote?—No, I do not know anything about it.

20,565. You have got no sons, have you?—No.

W. Jackson.

WILLIAM JACKSON sworn and examined.

20,566. (Mr. Newton.) What is your house?—The "Malt Shovel."

20,567. What did you get for your house?—10*l.*

20,568. Who hired it?—Mr. Allinson.

20,569. Is it a licensed house?—Yes.

20,570. What was the bill you had?—42*l.*

20,571. Who paid that?—It was a young man came to pay me; I did not ask his name. I do not know whether he came from Henry Welch or not, but I fancy he did.

20,572. Was it Hutchinson?—I do not know, I did not ask his name.

20,573. Did you give him a receipt?—Yes.

20,574. How did he pay you,—by cheque?—He paid me in gold.

20,575. How long after the election?—About three weeks after the election.

20,576. What was the bill during the election?—That was it for about three weeks, and during the election altogether.

20,577. There was another bill, was there not?—Yes; for staffmen, 6*l.*

20,578. Who paid that?—Colonel Yeadell.

20,579. Which was the other bill?—That was all.

20,580. Was there anything for refreshments?—That includes the refreshments. That 42*l.* includes it altogether.

20,581. You got 58*l.*?—Yes for my stuff as I let them have.

20,582. When were you paid for your house?—It was after the election.

20,583. The same time as you got the 42*l.*?—No, I can tell you who paid the 42*l.* It was Bleasdale, and it was this young man that paid me the 10*l.* for my house.

20,584. Have you got any brothers who are voters?—Yes, I have a brother.

20,585. What is his name?—Thomas Jackson.

20,586. Where does he live?—He was keeping the "Yorkshire House" at that time.

20,587. Where is that?—On the Green Area.

20,588. (Mr. Hill.) What did he get for his vote?—I do not know. I do not interfere with any other people's business besides my own.

20,589. (Mr. Newton.) You know very well what he got?—I do not know.

20,590. Yes, you do?—No, I do not.

20,591. (Mr. Hill.) He had the Yorkshire house at the time?—Yes.

20,592. Was that taken?—Yes.

20,593. By the Liberal party?—Yes.

20,594. (Mr. Newton.) How many staff men came to your house?—About 60 or 70 of them.

20,595. Are you William Jackson, Leonard Gate. Yes, that is where I have got my vote from.

20,596. (Mr. Hill.) When this young man paid you the 10*l.*, did he ask for any of it back?—No.

20,597. Not a bottle of wine out of it?—No.

G. Lund.

GEORGE LUND sworn and examined.

20,598. (Mr. Hill.) What is the name of your public house?—The "Cabinet-makers' Arms."

20,599. Is that a house of call for cabinet-makers?—No, not particular.

20,600. Was your house engaged at the last election?—Yes, it was engaged.

20,601. By the Liberal party?—Yes.

20,602. Who engaged it?—Knowles Allinson spoke about it.

20,603. Did he tell you what you were to have for it?—No.

20,604. Is your house a licensed house or a beer house?—A beer house.

20,605. Was it open for the Liberal party?—Yes.

20,606. How much did you receive for it?—I received from Johnson 6*l.* and a few shillings—five or six—six likely.

20,607. Who is Johnson?—He was captain of the district.

20,608. What did you receive from anybody else?—Robert Whiteside fourteen or fifteen shillings.

20,609. That was for refreshment of voters?—Yes.

20,610. What else did you receive?—A few shillings from Edward Hutchinson.

20,611. What else?—I received nothing else up to the time of the election.

20,612. After the election?—After the election there was 3*l.* 15*s.*, I believe, from Hutchinson.

20,613. What was that for?—That was for the house.

20,614. What else?—Nothing.

20,615. What did you get for yourself?—I got nothing for myself.

20,616. Are you a voter?—Yes.

20,617. You and your house together went for 3*l.*?—3*l.* 15*s.*

20,618. How much did you get for the house?—That would be for the house.

20,619. Does that 3*l.* 15*s.* include any drink supplied?—No, I do not suppose it would.

20,620. How much for the house and yourself?—Myself you may include if you like.

20,621. That is all the money you received?—Yes.

20,622. How came you to get only 3*l.* instead of 5*l.*?—I do not know.

20,623. What was the 6*l.* for?—Drink and refreshments during the election, and the bill previous.

20,624. 10*l.* 15*s.* is all you got?—I dare say it will be.

20,625. You got something more during the election?—No, I do not know that I did.

20,626. Come, brush up your memory?—I cannot say.

20,627. Did you not get anything more than that?—No, I do not know that I did.

20,628. I am sure, if you do not know I do not?—I am sure I do not.

20,629. Do you think you did?—I cannot say as I did.

20,630. You got nothing more than that?—No, I do not recollect.

20,631. How much did you get for your house in Saunders' election?—Perhaps 30*s.* for all together.

20,632. How did you vote then?—I voted for Fenwick.

20,633. And you got 30 shillings?—I dare say. It was all that was spent and all that was done.

20,634. You improved in 1865—you got a little more in 1865?—Aye.

20,635. Have you got any relations?—No.

20,636. None at all?—No.

J. Parkinson.

JOHN PARKINSON sworn and examined.

20,637. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your house?—The "New Inn," Market Street.

20,638. What did you get for your house?—10*l.*, I believe.

20,639. Who engaged your house?—Knowles Allinson.

20,640. Who paid you?—Henry Welch paid my missis.

20,641. There would be some bill for refreshments, I suppose?—22*l.* 15*s.*, altogether.

20,642. Who paid you that?—It was paid at the same time—20*l.* however of it.

20,643. Would that be all?—Yes.

20,644. No money was paid from day to day?—No, there was work going on as business.

20,645. I do not mean exactly money passed over the counter, but did not the captains call and pay at night for anything that had been drunk during the day?—No; anything they had to drink they paid for the same as anyone else, and what they paid I cannot say.

20,646. You can give a guess?—I cannot.

20,647. Shall I say 5*l.*?—No, nonsense, neither half nor a quarter of it. It might be 30*s.* altogether.

20,648. That is rather more than a quarter. Welch paid you 32*l.* 15*s.*?—No, 30*l.*

20,649. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

20,650. Have you any relations?—No.

20,651. No brothers?—No.

20,652. Are you a householder?—Yes.

W. Lawson.

WILLIAM LAWSON sworn and examined.

20,653. (Mr. Newton.) What is your house?—The "Three Tuns," in China Lane.

20,654. What did you get paid for your house?—10*l.*

20,655. Who paid it to you?—I do not know who he was; he was a young man.

20,656. I dare say it is young Hutchinson. Is yours a licensed house?—Yes.

20,657. Was there a bill at the house besides?—No.

20,658. No bill at all?—No.

20,659. Used not men to come in and drink?—Yes, there was a little drink previous to the election.

20,660. Who paid for that?—The captains.

20,661. What did they pay at the house?—They paid for it as they came in.

20,662. What did they spend?—Perhaps 3*l.* or 4*l.*

20,663. Shall I put down 4*l.* 10*s.*?—I should think that would be near the mark.

20,664. You had no little bill after the election?—No.

20,665. Did you get nothing more? Just try and recollect?—For the house do you mean?

20,666. Something besides the house; a little bill in addition?—No; not for refreshments nor drink.

20,667. What else did you get?—Mr. Ball mentioned something.

20,668. What did he give you?—On the election forenoon, about 10 or 11 o'clock, as I was coming past the "Queen's Hotel, William Sharples and Mr. Ball called to me. Mr. Bull asked me if I would go and see him vote.

20,669. Who?—Sharples. I did go, and I came and told him he had voted, and that it was all right, and he asked me if I had voted, and I said "No," and so I went and voted.

20,670. What did you get for going to vote?—When I came back he gave me 10*l.*; I was to go and look after voters and get any if I could, assistance I call it.

20,671. We know what it is; it was for a little assistance in the day?—Yes.

20,672. You got 24*l.* 10*s.*?—About that.

20,673. It is a pity you could not have made it another 10*s.*?—You can put on another 10*s.* if you choose; it might be so, I cannot say exactly.

20,674. (Mr. Hill.) Have you got any brothers?—No.

H. Richmond.

HENRY RICHMOND sworn and examined.

20,675. (Mr. Hill.) What is your house?—The "Commercial Inn."

20,676. That, I think we may say, is a licensed house?—Yes.

20,677. By whom were you engaged for the last election?—By Knowles Allinson.

20,678. At what price did Mr. Allinson retain you?—He gave me 10*l.* for the house.

20,679. When were you paid?—A short time after the election.

20,680. By whom?—By a young man.

20,681. Hutchinson?—I do not know his name.

20,682. What bill did you send in after the election was over?—There was a bill for refreshments for about 7*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.* and another for about 3*l.* 18*s.*

20,683. How were you paid, first of all by the captains, if you like to take it in that way?—They paid for everything they got.

20,684. To what amount?—In the way of drinks they paid for everything they got at the time they got it.

20,685. To what amount?—I cannot say.

20,686. 10*l.*?—No; nothing like it.

20,687. 2*l.* or 3*l.*?—2*l.* would be the extent of it.

20,688. What was the bill you sent in after the election?—There was for horses and men stopping, 13*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.*

20,689. Is that for post horses or what?—It was for the keep of the post horses and men that drove them.

20,690. You do not say how much for the horses and how much for the men?—I cannot tell you exactly; it was all done together.

20,691. Besides that, how much were you paid?—There was a bill of a little over 7*l.* for some other men out of the country.

20,692. Refreshments for country voters?—Yes.

20,693. 7*l.* how much?—I cannot tell you exactly the odds.

20,694. 7*l.* 10*s.*?—That would be the outside of it.

20,695. What besides?—About 3*l.* 18*s.*; that was for refreshments.

20,696. To whom?—For voters.

20,697. What sort of voters?—Part out of the country, I daresay.

20,698. The last bill was for country voters?—They came from two different quarters.

20,699. There was a good deal going on at your house?—But there was very little going in.

20,700. Was there not some of the paying going on at your house?—No.

20,701. There was not as much going on as you would have wished?—No.

20,702. Were you paid anything for yourse besides?—No.

20,703. Are you quite sure about that?—Yes.

20,704. Are the sums which you have given me, namely, 10*l.*, 2*l.*, 13*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.*, 7*l.* 10*s.*, and 3*l.* 18*s.* the whole of the monies that were paid to you?—Yes.

20,705. That you swear?—Yes.

20,706. 36*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*?—That will be about the amount.

20,707. Something between 35*l.* and 40*l.*, was it?—Yes, altogether.

20,708. There are a good many Richmonds on the register; are any of them your brothers?—No.

20,709. You are a freeman?—Yes.

20,710. Is Francis Richmond your relative?—No.

20,711. How are you described on the register?—As an ironmonger.

20,712. You duly voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

20,713. Had you voted for Fenwick in the election previous?—Yes.

20,714. How much were you paid for your house then?—5*l.*

L. Crook.

LAWRENCE CROOK sworn and examined.

20,715. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am a farmer and grocer.

20,716. Where do you live?—At Heysham.

20,717. What part did you take in the last election?—I was engaged by Mr. Welch.

20,718. What were you engaged to do?—I was engaged to canvass and work for him, for Mr. Fenwick and Schneider.

20,719. You are not a voter, are you?—No.

20,720. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—Yes.

20,721. How much?—I received 10*l.*

20,722. Is that all?—Yes, and 1*l.* for my horse and conveyance; that was all that I received.

20,723. 11*l.* altogether?—Yes.

20,724. What did you do with this money?—I worked with it; I treated the freemen and worked the best I could.

20,725. You did not give any of it away?—No.

20,726. You were not such a fool as that?—No.

20,727. Had you any people at your house?—Yes.

20,728. I believe the inn at Heysham was engaged by the other side, and they made a sort of inn of your house?—Yes; what drink we had at our house we got from the inn and paid for it.

NINETEENTH DAY.

20,729. Did you see any money paid to any of the voters?—No.

20,730. You know nothing except that you touched the 11*l.*?—No.

20,731. It all went into your own pocket?—No.

20,732. I thought you said you did not pay it away?—I paid it away in drink and refreshments to the voters.

20,733. How much did you pay away in drink and refreshments to voters?—I paid the 10*l.*

20,734. All of it?—Yes.

20,735. (Mr. Newton.) Have you any political principles?—No.

T. Dearden.

THOMAS DEARDON sworn and examined.

20,736. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At the "Corporation Arms," at the top of Penny Street.

20,737. I presume by that you keep a public-house?—Yes.

20,738. Was it taken by Allinson?—It has been taken by him, but not this last election.

20,739. Who did engage it at the last election?—I cannot tell, to tell you the truth; it was several folk that was about; they never made any particular agreement.

20,740. What did you get paid for your house; that is more to the purpose?—6*l.*

20,741. Which side was your house, blue or yellow?—Blue.

20,742. Who paid you the 6*l.*?—I cannot tell you. To tell you the truth, he was only a boy. I should think he was not more than 6 or 7 years old; there was a man with him that I know by sight.

20,743. Did you give him a receipt?—Yes; and I told him I did not want anything more to do with elections, they might do as they liked. I never got much profit by them.

20,744. We shall see what profit you got; what was the bill?—I think it was 14*l.* 18*s.*; there might be some copper besides, but I cannot say, not to tell the truth.

20,745. What was the other amount?—What other amount?

20,746. The refreshments that they had in your house?—They had plenty, both eating and drinking. I always keep a good house.

20,747. How much was that?—That is the 14*l.* 18*s.* No; there is 1*l.* and 2*l.* besides. That is all I received.

20,748. What was the 1*l.* and 2*l.* besides?—There was a bill going on.

20,749. (Mr. Barstow.) How far is your house from the "White Cross?"—It is like next door, they join one another.

20,750. They used to come in and out from the "White Cross" into your house?—Yes.

20,751. (Mr. Newton.) Have you always been "Blue?"—I had a little bit of "Blue" in me at first.

20,752. Were you "Blue" at Saunders's election?—No; I would have been, but don't you see I married a "Yellow" wife.

20,753. She was a "Yellow," was she?—Yes.

20,754. You have got the best of it now, and gone back to your old colours?—I have had two wives; I have been married to two.

20,755. Do you mean that your present wife is "blue" or "yellow?"—She left me to do as I liked.

20,756. Would not the first one let you do as you liked?—No; she said I was to give Mr. Gregson a vote.

20,757. Is it customary for the wives in Lancaster to dictate to their husbands what they are to do?—She said I was to give Mr. Gregson a vote.

20,758. (Mr. Hill.) You have a baddish time of it if you do not do what they tell you?—You do indeed. She said I was to give Gregson a vote, and do what I liked with the other; but I said I could not be both "yellow" and "blue" at the same time.

20,759. Was your wife a Lancaster woman?—Yes; Hannah Rowe was her name.

20,760. She has got a brother, has she not?—Yes.

W. Butterworth.

WILLIAM BUTTERWORTH sworn and examined.

20,761. (Mr. Hill.) What is your house?—The "White Lion," St. Leonard Gate.

20,762. Is it a licensed house or a beerhouse?—A licensed house.

20,763. Were you engaged at the last election?—Yes.

20,764. By whom?—Knowles Allinson.

20,765. At what price did he take you?—10*l.*

20,766. When were you paid?—I cannot recollect exactly.

20,767. By whom were you paid?—I was paid by Knowles Allinson.

20,768. Before the election?—No; after the elec-

20,769. How long after the election did he pay you?—I should say two months.

20,770. What bill did you get paid besides?—I received altogether in money 21*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*

20,771. Was that besides the 10*l.*?—No; including the 10*l.*

20,772. Then your bill came to 11*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*?—Yes.

20,773. Besides that you had some little money spent at your house by the captains?—Robert Whiteside paid 17*s.* 6*d.*

20,774. Does that 11*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* include all the money that was spent at your house during the election?—Yes.

20,775. Was there no more?—No.

20,776. Was there any committee held there?—Yes.

20,777. How many served on the committee?—I do not know; there was not many in the room altogether.

20,778. You had no separate room for it?—No.

20,779. The taking of the committee-room was a retainer for yourself?—Yes.

20,780. And they came in, a few of them, to drink occasionally, I suppose?—Yes; I think they pigged in one among another.

20,781. They did not talk much about politics?—No.

20,782. Perhaps that was a forbidden subject?—I do not know.

20,783. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a butcher?—No.

20,784. What is your trade?—An innkeeper.

20,785. (Mr. Hill.) Have you anything else to add?—No.

H. Hartley.

HENRY HARTLEY sworn and examined.

20,786. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A plasterer.

20,787. Where do you live?—Damside Street.

20,788. What part did you take in the last election?—I was on the Conservative side.

20,789. You assisted Mr. Cross?—No.

20,790. Whom did you assist?—I assisted no one.

20,791. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I received 12*l.* for my vote.

20,792. Is that all the money you received?—Yes.

20,793. And you stuck to it?—Yes.

20,794. From whom did you receive it?—I suppose the man they called "Dummy," but I am not quite sure.

20,795. Where did you receive it?—At the "Sun Inn."

20,796. Who was the captain of your district; do you recollect?—No, I do not.

20,797. All you know about it is that you got 12*l.*?—Yes.

20,798. Did you give anybody anything for their vote?—No.

20,799. Did you receive any money to spend in treating?—No.

20,800. Were you on the committee?—No.

20,801. (Mr. Hill.) You did no work at all in the election?—No.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TWENTIETH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Wednesday, 19th September 1866.

PRESENT :

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

Mr. HILL.

GEORGE CLEMINSON RILEY recalled and further examined.

20,802. (Mr. Barstow.) I hope you will give us a better account than you did yesterday ?—I think I can.

20,803. (Mr. Hill.) What sums of money did you receive during the last election ?—I got 14*l.* from William Storey on account.

20,804. When ?—On the election morning.

20,805. July 12th ?—Yes.

20,806. What was the next ?—I got 10*l.* I believe from Mr. Wise.

20,807. Thomas Wise ?—Yes, I think so.

20,808. When did you receive that ?—That was on the election day.

20,809. What other sum ?—5*l.* ; my wife received 5*l.* from Mr. Ellershaw.

20,810. James Ellershaw ?—Yes.

20,811. What else ?—That is all.

20,812. What bill had you paid besides ?—None.

20,813. Was that all the money that you received, 29*l.*?—That is all.

20,814. What was the 14*l.* for ?—That was for spirits on account of 18*l.* 17*s.*

20,815. Did you send in the bill ?—I took in the bill myself, at least I went in for it.

20,816. You went in with the bill to whom ?—To Mr. Storey at the "Sun."

20,817. A bill for 18*l.* 10*s.* ?—18*s.* 17*s.*

20,818. And you received the 14*l.* on that?—On that account.

20,819. When was the balance paid ?—Mr. Ellershaw made it up ; of course I would not vote for the Tories, and Mr. Ellershaw made it up for voting for the Radicals.

20,820. James Ellershaw paid up the balance ?—Yes.

20,821. About 5*l.* ?—Yes.

20,822. For voting for the Radicals ?—Yes.

20,823. Who did you vote for ?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

20,824. What money did you get from Mr. Lawrence's side ?—I got the 14*l.* on account for drink.

20,825. You got 14*l.* from Storey, and then James Ellershaw paid you the balance of the bill ?—After.

20,826. And so you voted for Fenwick and Schneider ?—Yes, because James Ellershaw was one of the Radical party.

20,827. When did James Ellershaw pay you the balance ?—The day after the election he paid my wife.

20,828. If he paid it to your wife the day after the election that could not have been your inducement ?—I said from the first that I would give Mr. Schneider one, and I was not exactly settled for both.

20,829. What did Thomas Wise give you the 10*l.* for ?—For the house. I suppose it would be for that.

20,830. Was that 10*l.* that you got from Thomas Wise the 10*l.* you picked off the form?—I suppose so ; he says so, but I cannot remember which it was.

20,831. That was for your vote ?—That was for the house.

20,832. What you call for the house ; have you got no other account to give ?—That is all as I know of.

20,833. I suppose the truth is that your wife has told you to say this, and so you have come and said it ; you have no recollection of it yourself ?—Part of it I recollect and part my mistress told me.

20,834. What do you go and get drunk for, making yourself a beast and not doing any good to yourself or anybody else ; if you live long enough you will live to be ashamed of the evidence you gave yesterday ?—I is now.

H. Pilkington.

HENRY PILKINGTON sworn and examined.

20,835. (Mr. Barstow.) You keep the "Warper's Arms ?"—Yes.

20,836. Who hired your house at the last election ?—Knowles Allinson.

20,837. What did he offer you for it ?—He did not pay me for it.

20,838. But what did he agree with you for ?—5*l.*

20,839. Your house is a beerhouse ?—Yes, but I got 10*l.* for it.

20,840. Who paid you the 10*l.* ?—Mr. Hutchinson.

20,841. I suppose you had some bill besides ?—I had 2*l.* 10*s.* for refreshments, that was 12*l.* 10*s.* altogether.

20,842. Did you receive nothing more than 12*l.* 10*s.*?—Of course there was Mr. Gardner and Mr. Wright, they spent a few shillings.

20,843. Just say what you think that was ?—To speak the truth I could not say exact, but I should say about 1*l.* or somewhere that way on.

20,844. Mr. Gardner, and who was the other ?—Mr. Roger Wright.

20,845. Do you know where Gardner is ?—No, I do not.

20,846. Is he in the town do you know ?—He lives in the town, but I do not know whether he is in it at present.

20,847. Whereabouts does he live ?—In Church Street.

20,848. 13*l.* 10*s.* is all you had ?—Yes ; there was Roger Wright, he gave me 5*l.* for James Jackson ; he was very poorly, he was at our house all night ; he could not look after it himself, (he is dead since,) and he asked me to look after it for him, and I think Mr. Wright gave it in his evidence that he had given me 5*l.* for Jackson.

20,849. He gave it to you and you gave it to Jackson ?—Yes.

20,850. Which Jackson was it ?—I think he was a groom ; it would have been a good job if he had gotten 5*l.*, for he was in very bad circumstances—very.

20,851. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider I suppose ?—Yes.

P. Moore.

PETER MOORE recalled and further examined.

28,852. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you anything to add to your evidence ?—Nothing, only Colonel Yeadall paid me about 2*l.* 10*s.* for refreshments. I think I did not state that last time.

R. Townley.

RICHARD TOWNLEY sworn and examined.

20,853. (Mr. Newton.) You keep the "Golden Ball ?"—Yes.

20,854. Is that a public house ?—Yes.

20,855. Licensed ?—Yes.

20,856. What did you get for your house ?—10*l.*

20,857. Who paid you ?—John McCann.

TWENTIETH DAY.

R. Townley.

19 Sept. 1866.

20,858. That is John McCann, of King Street?—Yes.

20,859. When did he pay you for that?—On the day of the election.

20,860. Who hired your house?—John McCann.

20,861. But who hired it before that?—I do not know as any one particular.

20,862. We know perfectly well and you must tell us; Allinson hired it?—Not properly.

20,863. But he came and made an arrangement with you?—Yes.

20,864. You were retained for the Liberals, and then you went over to the Conservatives?—Yes, they did not suit me, not properly.

20,865. What did not suit you?—The Liberals.

20,866. Did they not spend money enough?—No.

20,867. How much did they spend?—Perhaps about twenty shillings.

20,868. Who were the people that spent that?—Well I do not know.

20,869. But your neighbours got more?—Well I cannot say for that.

20,870. Then I want to know what made you go over to Lawrence; John McCann would not have made you go over for 10*l.* for you would have got it from Allinson?—Allinson never gave me any satisfaction what he would give me.

20,871. What did he offer you?—Nothing; he said I might have the same as the others.

20,872. The others had 10*l.* nearly all round?—Well I did not know.

20,873. What did McCann give you?—10*l.*

20,874. He gave you more?—No, he did not.

20,875. He paid the bill?—No, he did not.

20,876. Somebody else did?—Yes, a man named High paid 8*l.* 1*s.*

20,877. And then you had spent in your house twenty shillings by the Liberals?—Yes.

20,878. Did the captains spend any money at your house?—Yes.

20,879. Who were they?—Harrison I believe his name was.

20,880. Who paid you for that?—They paid in ready money.

20,881. Was that included in the twenty shillings?—No.

20,882. Besides that?—Yes.

20,883. How much did you get for the election?—Perhaps I received 8*l.* or 10*l.* in ready money during the election.

20,884. And you got 10*l.* for the house?—Yes.

20,885. Henry High paid you 8*l.* 1*s.*?—Yes.

20,886. You got very nearly 30*l.*?—I cannot say not exact.

20,887. (Mr. Barstow.) You voted for Lawrence, did you not?—Yes.

T. Jackson.

THOMAS JACKSON sworn and examined.

20,888. (Mr. Hill.) You keep the "Yorkshire House," Green Area?—I was living there then, I am not living there now.

20,889. By whom was your house taken for the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

20,890. By Mr. Allinson?—By Mr. Allinson.

20,891. How much did Allinson agree to give you for it?—He made no bargain; he gave me 10*l.*

20,892. When were you paid?—About a fortnight after the election, I think.

23,893. Who by?—By Knowles Allinson.

20,894. Yours is a licensed house?—Yes.

20,895. What bill did you send in?—I never sent in no bill at all.

20,896. Did you not prepare any bill?—No.

20,897. Were you not paid any bill?—Yes, they paid me 10*l.* for the house.

20,898. But a bill for refreshment?—Yes, about 10*l.* for refreshment; I cannot say to a few shillings.

20,899. Who paid you that?—James Turner, a cabinet maker.

20,900. You say it was not a bill?—No, it was for refreshment; I had no bill.

20,901. Was that paid in small sums or in a lump sum?—All together.

20,902. About 10*l.*?—Yes.

20,903. Not more than 10*l.*?—No, I think it was rather the under side.

20,904. How much did you get paid by the Captains in ready money on different nights do you suppose?—I should think about 3*l.*

20,905. Altogether?—Yes.

20,906. Was it not more than that?—I think not.

20,907. And you voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

J. Littlewood.

JOHN LITTLEWOOD sworn and examined.

20,908. (Mr. Barstow.) You are cashier to the firm of Edward Lawrence and Company?—I am.

20,909. Were you cashier in July 1865?—I was.

20,910. Do you remember the late Mr. Chambers coming to your office?—I do not.

20,911. Did you not see the late Mr. Chambers with reference to a credit opened by him with your firm?—I did not.

20,912. Do you remember Mr. Chambers coming to your office on the subject?—I do not.

20,913. Did you never see him at all?—I could not say that.

20,914. Did you never see him at all in your office on money matters in July 1865?—On commercial matters certainly I have seen him several times.

20,915. Do you produce the ledgers of your firm for last year?—Not the ledgers; I have got the memorandum book, (producing a book.)

20,916. Have you read the evidence of Mr. John Lawrence?—I have.

20,917. Are you able to give us an explanation of the items which he mentioned?—Every one.

20,918. Have you any objection to do so in open Court, or is there anything of a private nature in them?—I think they are perhaps a little complicated, and I could explain them better to you in private I think, but if you would rather have it done here I can go through them in open Court.

20,919. The custom is to go into a private room if there is anything mixed up with them relating to private matters?—They are rather mixed up, and will require a little explanation.

20,920. (Mr. Hill.) Will you let me see the book if you please? (The book is handed to Mr. Hill.)

20,921. (Mr. Newton.) Is this what you call the balance book?—Yes.

20,922. Is it what Mr. Lawrence called the balance book?—That is the book to which he alluded in his evidence.

20,923. What he called the "balance book?"—What he called the "balance book."

20,924. Are you now aware that money was advanced by your firm for the purposes of the late election here?—I have never been told a word about it with reference to the Lancaster election.

20,925. Have your firm business transactions with that of Messrs. H. T. Wilson and Company?—They have.

20,926. I believe that Mr. Tronson is in the employment of Messrs. Edward Lawrence and Company?—He is.

20,927. In what capacity?—He is the managing clerk.

20,928. Do you remember giving him any money about the 10th of July 1865?—I gave him money on the 11th of July.

20,929. What sum was that?—2,000*l.*

20,930. In notes or in gold?—Partly notes and partly gold.

20,931. Do you remember how much was in notes and how much in gold?—I could not swear to it.

20,932. You can give us an idea I dare say?—I should not like to do so. It is 14 months ago, and considering the quantity of cash that has gone through my hands since that time, I would not dare to do it.

20,233. Does an entry of that 2,000*l.* appear in this memorandum book?—It does.

20,934. (M. Hill.) Under what date?—The 11th of July.

20,935. (Mr. Barstow.) By whose directions did you give that money to Tronson?—By his own directions. He asked me for it.

20,936. Had you no orders from anybody to give that money to Tronson?—No; he is the managing man, and Mr. John Lawrence being out of town at the time his authority was quite sufficient.

20,937. (Mr. Hill.) You say that Tronson is the managing man?—Yes; he is the managing man.

20,938. And you take orders from him?—In Mr. Lawrence's absence.

20,939. In which Mr. Lawrence's absence?—In Mr. John Lawrence's absence, because Mr. John Lawrence manages the financial department in our office.

20,940. (Mr. Barstow.) Is this sum of 2,000*l.* the only sum you gave to any one at Tronson's request about that time?—I believe it is. In fact it is.

20,941. Have you a clerk in your office of the name of Hagart?—We have.

20,942. Do you remember his coming to Lancaster at the time of the late election?—I do.

20,943. Do you happen to know whether he came here more than once?—No, I could not say that. It was a matter of no consequence whatever to me.

20,944. Do you know whether he brought money with him?—I fancy so, but that I would not say, because I am merely cash keeper, and after the money has gone from my hands I have done with it.

20,945. Did you know at the time that he came to Lancaster, that he took money with him—that is what I mean?—I thought so, but I would not swear to such a thing because I had nothing whatever to do with it, but I fancy he did.

20,946. We infer from your answer that you had nothing to do with giving him any money?—I had nothing to do with giving Hagart any money.

20,947. Would not any money paid from your office be paid though your hands?—It would. That is, anything connected with the firm.

20,948. But any money paid out of the funds of the firm would pass through your hands?—It would; and through my books.

20,949. For whatever purpose?—As long as it appears in the books it would pass through my hands.

20,950. That is not quite what I want to know. If any money is paid for any purpose whatever from the funds of your firm, would that money pass through your hands?—It would, and would be entered in the books.

20,951. But you answer first that it would pass through your hands?—It would.

20,952. Having passed through your hands you would make an entry of it in the books of the firm?—I should. May I be allowed to say that in this instance it would not. That is, suppose one of the firm drew a cheque away from Liverpool and sent it to anyone, he would give me a memorandum of it and it would pass through the books; but in that case it would not pass through my hands. That is the only case I might not touch the cheque, and therefore the money would not pass through my hands, but it would appear in the books in the same way.

20,953. Look in the margin (handing the book to the witness.) Under the date of July the 7th, you will see a memorandum which I cannot decipher. What is the meaning of that, "E. L. per T. E. T. 400*l.*" What is represented by the letters "E. L.?"—I mean Edward Lawrence.

20,954. And who is represented by the initials T. E. T.?—Thomas Edward Taylor.

20,955. Mr. Thomas Edward Taylor is a partner in your firm?—He is.

20,956. Do you know any particulars of that sum of 400*l.*?—I know nothing more than this, Mr. Taylor asked me for 400*l.* and I gave it to him.

20,957. On what day did Mr. Taylor ask you for that 400*l.*?—The date that is mentioned here, and that is charged in this memorandum of the 7th of July.

20,958. What is the meaning of "E. L. per T. E. T.?"—It is a private memorandum of my own. I at the the time was not aware to what that cash was to be charged. Mr. John Lawrence was out of town, and therefore I made a private memorandum of my own till he came into town, intending to ask him what it meant when he came back for another amount, on the 11th, of 2,000*l.* which is charged to the same, "E. L." I said, "What account are those amounts to go to," and he said, "suspense account," and the "E. L." you will find on the 15th of July ceases, and it commences then "suspense." That is the history of the "E. L."

20,959. Did Mr. Thomas Edward Taylor ask you for the money for Mr. Edward Lawrence?—No, that was my own conjecture.

20,960. That was your own conjecture at the time?—It was my own conjecture that it might be for Mr. Edward Lawrence. You must recollect that this is a private memorandum book of my own, and I put down anything I choose there. All I have got to do is to account for my cash. This book accounts for that cash, but it is not a book of the office you will understand. It is not the cash book, it is a memorandum book.

20,961. I thought I understood it before, but after your explanation I do not understand it. At all events, the fact remains that you did put that sum down to "E. L. per T. E. T.?"—Yes, what I thought then would go to "E. L."

20,962. In point of fact, when Mr. Taylor asked for that 400*l.*, you thought he was asking for it for Mr. Edward Lawrence?—Yes, I conjectured so in my own mind, but I had no authority whatever for it.

20,963. You thought it was for Mr. Edward Lawrence, and, at the time, you made a memorandum accordingly?—I made the memorandum accordingly.

20,964. Did not Mr. Taylor give you any explanation as to why he wanted this 400*l.*?—No, he did not, because I should have put it definitely if he had done so.

20,965. But you have put it definitely?—That is from conjecture, but if you ask me what Mr. Taylor said to me 14 months ago, considering the number of things I have to think of in the day, with hours from 10 to 3, I could not tell you, and I honestly tell you so.

20,966. But I am asking you for an explanation of a transaction of which you made a memorandum at the time?—Yes.

20,967. You made a memorandum at the time, "E. L. per T. E. T." That you explain to be "Edward Lawrence per Thomas Edward Taylor." I now ask you, did not Mr. Taylor at the time you gave him that money, mention to you that it was for Mr. Edward Lawrence?—To the best of my memory he did not.

20,968. Now I must put this question to you. Will you swear to us that he did not?—I cannot.

20,969. I suppose Mr. Taylor, being a partner in the firm, could have drawn this sum of 400*l.* for himself?—I should have charged it direct to him if he had.

20,970. We may infer then from the fact that you did not charge him directly for it, that he said at the time that he required it for some one else?—Certainly not. He may have asked me for the money, and told me to keep a memorandum of it; I had no authority for putting the "E. L. per T. E. T." It was a conjecture of my own. That is what I said, and I still stick to it. I waited for Mr. John Lawrence till he came back, and then I asked him what account the money was to go to, and he said it was to go to "suspense," and you will find that from that day the "E. L." ceases.

20,971. From your having entered this in a different way from what you would have done if Mr. Taylor had drawn the money for himself, surely Mr. Taylor must have given you some explanation why he wanted the money?—That does not follow. If this were a book of the firm, it would follow, but it is not a book of the firm. It is, as I have already stated, a private book of my own, as it were. I have to account for my cash. The Lancaster election was on then, and I may have put that down just as a memorandum to call to my mind where the 400*l.* went to, but I was not told to charge it to anything until Mr. John Lawrence came back.

20,972. I see on the 11th of July "Sus. E. L. 270*l.*;" and then in the line underneath "E. L. 2,404*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*" Now, first with regard to the 270*l.*, what is your explanation with regard to that?—The 270*l.* is a private matter of Mr. Lawrence's.

20,973. (Mr, Hill.) It runs from the very beginning of the book?—Yes; it is a private amount of Mr. Lawrence's. I do not know any more than the man in the moon, what it is.

20,974. Then with regard to ths 2,404*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*; what is your explanation of that?—That 4*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*, is also a private thing of Mr. Lawrence's; and the 2,400*l.* is accounted for, 400*l.* on the 7th of July, and 2,000*l.* on the 11th.

20,975. That is to say, that the sum which stood at 400*l.* on the 7th of July and following days, is raised to 2,400*l.* on the 11th?—Yes, that is so.

20,976. Did you pay that 2,000*l.* to anyone?—To Mr. Tronson.

20,977. At whose request?—At his own, as managing man.

20,978. Do you pay money to Mr. Tronson at his own request, when Mr. Taylor is present?—No.

20,979. Do you know at all how Mr. Tronson disposed of that money? Did you at the time know what he was going to do with the money?—Only from conjecture.

20,980. May I say that you did not know at the time what Tronson intended to do with that money?—I was not told.

20,981. Although you were not told, perhaps you knew?—In my own private mind of course I may think anything, but I cannot, on authority, say I was told. I cannot go further than that. When the money has gone from my cash-box into another man's hands it is done with as far as I am concerned.

20,982. Did you think at the time that it was for any matter of business?—I did not think at the time that it was for a matter of business.

20,983. You did not know of any business matter for which the sum of 2,000*l.* was at that time required?—I did not.

20,984. In what manner did you pay that sum to Tronson?—You have asked me that question before; in notes and gold.

20,985. Your answer then applied to the sum of 2,000*l.*?—Yes.

20,986. With regard to the 400*l.*, was that paid partly in notes and partly in gold?—I really cannot tax my memory how it was paid. I pay such thousands and thousands of pounds, that I cannot recollect whether it was in gold or notes.

20,987. You do not pay away large sums in gold, do you?—Yes, sometimes. If a man particularly wishes gold, I would go and get it changed for him, to accommodate him.

20,988. Do people often ask for gold from you?—They might. If they ask for it, I should get it.

20,989. It would be a very unusual thing for a man requiring money from your firm to ask you to pay him in gold, would it not?—Yes, decidedly; unless he wanted it for a special reason, such as paying off the crew of a vessel. For that purpose he would want gold, every penny of it. And I might accommodate him in that way.

20,990. Do you, as a matter of fact, give gold instead of notes?—No; as a rule, I give the money just as I have it, if I am not asked to give it in a different way.

20,991. That does not answer my question. I ask you, is it the rule, and do you usually pay any one coming to your office for money in gold?—It just depends. If a man pays me 1,000*l.* in gold, I pay it away to the next man that comes with a bill; and if a man pays me in notes, I should pay the next man that comes in notes.

20,992. That does not in the least answer my question. I ask you whether it is usual or unusual to pay a man coming to your office for money, in gold?—It is usual, if I have got the gold.

20,993. That is not what I ask you?—I really cannot exactly understand you.

20,994. Is it usual or unusual? You know the meaning of that?—Yes. I do pay in gold if I have got the money.

20,995. Never mind if you have got the money. Is it usual or unusual for you to do so?—Really I cannot understand the question. I have explained it as far as I am able. If I have got the money in the office, he gets it in the same way. It is not usual more than that.

20,996. May I say that it is not usual to pay in gold?—It is usual if I have got it in gold.

20,997. Is it usual to have such an amount of gold?—If a man pays me 2,000*l.* in gold, I have got it, and if he pays me in notes I have the notes.

20,998. You can scarcely say that is affording me any information, to say that if a man pays you in gold, you have the gold?—But you ask me how I would pay it away. I say, that if I am paid in gold, the next man who comes for a bill I should pay in gold.

20,999. Would it be an unusual thing for you to have such a large amount of gold as 2,000*l.*?—It would not be a usual thing.

21,000. A very unusual thing, I suppose?—I cannot say very unusual; but an unusual thing.

21,001. Have you ever upon any occasion before, made a payment to Tronson, of 2,000*l.* in gold?—I have not.

21,002. Would not his asking for that sum of money in gold excite inquiry from you?—I do not think he did ask for it in gold. He asked for 2,000*l.*, and he arranged himself how he would have it changed.

21,003. You only paid Tronson 2,000*l.*?—Yes.

21,004. And after he received it he changed it?—He just did what he liked with it.

21,005. You cannot tell us in what way you gave the money to Tronson?—No, I cannot. I paid him 2,000*l.*

21,006. If you had paid him 2,000*l.* in gold, you would remember that you had paid it to him in gold, I should think?—I did not then. I am quite sure I did not pay it to him all in gold.

21,007. How much of it did you pay in gold, if you are sure you did not pay it all in gold?—I cannot say,—but I am certain I did not pay it all in gold.

21,008. I see on the 15th of July the suspense account becomes 3,150*l.* How was that increase made?—750*l.*

21,009. How does that come into the account?—That was given either to Mr. John Lawrence or to Mr. Taylor, I could not say which.

21,010. How was it given to them?—In notes or gold do you mean?

21,011. Yes?—I could not say.

21,012. When was it given to them?—On that date, the 15th of July.

21,013. At your office?—Yes.

21,014. Did you make any memorandum at the time you made that payment?—Probably I made a memorandum on a bit of paper, until I balanced in the evening.

21,015. I see no memorandum in this book?—No; not in that book.

21,016. Why was that?—I did not want it. I wanted no other memorandum but just the amount that I paid.

21,017. On a former occasion when the 400*l.* was paid you made a memorandum, and on this occasion you did not. I only want to know why on the second occasion you did not make a memorandum?—That I cannot tell you. It did not form a matter of consideration for me. You must recollect all through that book, it is a private memorandum of mine. It is a matter between me and Mr. John Lawrence, and if he is satisfied with that book that is all. He can see it every day, and he is throughly satisfied with it.

21,018. That is scarcely what I should call a private memorandum book, if your employer can investigate it every day?—If you will allow me I will explain how that item comes into that book. I have a cash-book which belongs to the firm, and on the debit side there is so much money received; and on the credit side, so much money paid. Deducting the one from the other gives the balance that I ought to have in hand, and Mr. John Lawrence can say at any moment, "John Littlewood, show me the balance you have in hand"? I open the drawer, and can only show half the amount. He says, "Where is the balance?" and I say, "Sir, there's the book."

21,019. (Mr. Hill.) Have you brought over the firm cash-book?—No, I have not. There is nothing whatever in the cash-book, not an item of any description.

21,020. (Mr. Barstow.) On the 17th of July the suspense account increased to 4,150*l.*?—Yes; that is an increase of 1,000*l.*

21,021. What is that 1,000*l.*?—That is a cheque drawn by Mr. John Lawrence.

21,022. Cashed at the Preston Bank?—I cannot tell you at all further than that it is a cheque drawn on the Royal Bank. This cheque will explain what I was telling you before, that it is not always necessary that a cheque should pass through my hands. That cheque did not pass through my hands.

21,023. The Royal Bank is the bank of your firm?—Yes, it is.

21,024. Can you tell us at what date this suspense account was altered, either diminished or increased?—It was diminished by 1,000*l.* on the 15th of November.

21,025. That is diminished by the payment of 1,000*l.*?—Yes, to me.

21,026. By whom?—Mr. John Lawrence gave me 1,000*l.*, and told me to deduct it from that amount.

21,027. To deduct it from the suspense account?—Yes.

21,028. I see also "suspense account J. T. L. 100*l.*?"—That is a private matter entirely.

21,029. That was paid by Mr. John Lawrence?—Yes.

21,030. In your office?—Yes, in our office.

21,031. Was Mr. Edward Lawrence present at the time when when Mr. John Lawrence paid you that 1,000*l.*?—That I cannot recollect, but I should think not. Mr. John Lawrence gave it to me.

21,032. Was Mr. Edward Lawrence in the office at the time?—I could not tell I can assure you.

21,033. I do not mean, was he in the room, but was he attending to business?—I could not tell you; he would come in and out fifty times a day, and as to whether he was in at that minute I cannot tell you more than fly.

21,034. Do you remember how that money was paid to you?—No, I would not say. With the thousands of pounds that I have passing through my hands I could not pretend to say such a thing.

21,035. Can you tell me whether it was paid by cash or by cheque?—By cash.

21,036. Do you remember when that account which remains at 3,150*l.* was next altered?—On the 30th of December, but you will see it is not altered to the suspense account. You will see "suspense H. T. Wilson and Company, 500*l.*" It is the 22d of January that it becomes suspense account. I was away at the time, and the young man that had the cash did not know about it, and when I came back it was altered to the suspense account. You will see it is different writing there. When I came back I inquired as cash keeper, and put it to the proper account.

21,037. On the 22d of January the account becomes 3,652*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*?—Yes.

21,038. That would not be exactly so if the 3,150*l.* was increased by 500*l.*?—You will see two guineas on the 14th of July for "Hagart expenses."

21,039. (Mr Hill.) It is "E. L. per Hagart 2*l.* 2*s*?"—Yes, it is like the other matter, my conjecture.

21,040. (Mr. Barstow.) Was that account altered at all between the 22d of January and the 5th or 6th of March?—On the 6th of March 150*l.* was added "paid to Mr. Taylor," making the account 3,802*l.* 2*s.*

21,041. Did the account remain at that amount till August?—On the 9th of August. I believe I was away at the time; there was 50*l.* added which ought not to have been added to the account. It is not a part of it at all, and it still remains so. You will see "Yesterday's balance is 3,852*l.* 2*s.* It ought to be 3,802*l.* 2*s.*

21,042. (Mr. Hill.) It is entered on the 10th of August?—I thought it was the 9th.

21,043. You can easily have made the mistake because no date is put?—I did not do it myself; I was away at the time. You will see the entry is in a different writing.

21,044. I see the date is put, but in very small and infinitesimal figures?—I cannot speak to that myself because I did not do it.

21,045. (Mr. Barstow.) What account have you to give us of that 50*l.* which you say was placed to the account by error?—I do not think it is exactly an error. It is to be given back to us; we hold an I. O. U. for it.

21,046. Whose I O U do you hold?—That I cannot say for certain.

21,047. You ought to know that. There can be no great difficulty about such a sum as 50*l.*?—I believe it is "H. T. Wilson," or "H. T. Wilson and Company," but I will not say for certain.

21,048. In whose hands is that I. O. U.?—It is in my cash-box.

21,049. How came you to pay the amount of 150*l.* to Taylor on March the 6th?—Because he asked me for it.

21,050. What did he say to you when he asked you for it?—I could not say. Very likely he said, ——— it is no good my saying what it is likely he said, is it?

21,051. Finish your sentence.—It is very likely he said, "I want 150*l.*, Littlewood; will you put that down to the suspense account?"

21,052. When you were desired to put it to the suspense account you added it to these sums with which we have been treating just now?—I did.

21,053. Those sums being, I believe, sums entirely spent on account of the Lancaster election?—That I have got nothing whatever to do with further than cash-keeper. I know nothing about the Lancaster election, and I should be very sorry to either.

21,054. Are you aware of anything else connected with this suspense account with regard to which we have not asked you?—I can swear that there is nothing in our books connected with that suspense account but what you see in that memorandum book. There is nothing in the suspense account but 3,852*l.* 2*s.* at this minute.

21,055. Have you accounted to us for all the variations of that account as far as you know?—Yes, I have. To make certain I can give you all the dates and amounts now if you like over again; I have nothing to hide.

21,056. I have not examined this book, but does this book show all the drawings on account of your firm, whether for business or private purposes?—I do not exactly understand what you mean; I have explained what that balance book is. With regard to the large amount on the debtor side which you see at the top, that is all to be seen in the cash-book belonging to the firm. Then on the creditor side the large amount at the top is also to be seen. Every amount is specified in the cash-book. If I had the cash-book here I could show you the whole thing; you see all the rest besides what is in the cash-book there in that book.

21,057. It shows all the money transactions of your firm?—It shows it in a lump sum at the top of course for the month. Of course every month begins again, but up to that date it shows every day the balance brought down.

21,058. There is no book in the possession of your firm the product of which does not appear in this book. Do you understand me?—Not exactly. There is no other book in my possession, and I am cash-keeper which shows everything connected with the firm except that book and the cash-book.

21,059. Every payment of the firm is mentioned in the cash-book and in this book?—It is not mentioned in that book.

21,060. There is a summary of it?—Yes.

21,061. The gross total is found here?—Yes, only for a month mind. Every month it is different. You will see each day the balance varies, and becomes greater on the debit side and less on the other side. Amount paid and amount recovered.

21,062. I have not examined the book, and I ask you the question merely to know whether from looking at this book we know the gross amount of all the accounts of your firm?—Yes.

21,063. (Mr. Newton.) Do your partners look over your books?—Yes, frequently. When they want to know anything they do.

21,064. Do answer the question. Do they or do they not (and do not run on because you will not get anything by that) look over the books frequently?—Do you mean——

21,065. Do not ask me any questions. Do your partners look at the books frequently?—They do look at the books, but they may look at them only for a minute. If you mean whether they examine them——

21,066. Answer the question and do not run on. Do they or do they not examine the books frequently?—I cannot answer that question.

21,067. Do not say you cannot answer it because you will have to answer it. Do they or do they not examine the books frequently?—With all respect I certainly do say I cannot answer the question. Suppose I were out at the time, and they were to examine the books.

21,068. That is not the question, and you know I do not mean that. Do they come to you and ask you to look at the books?—Yes, certainly, of course; decidedly they do.

21,069. Then why did you not say so? Do not answer in that impertinent sort of a manner?—I beg your pardon. I did not intend that in the least.

21,070. We have been told that those accounts were not examined by Mr. John Lawrence till some time after the election?—That might be.

21,071. I want to know whether that was so?—I could not tell you at what dates he examined them.

21,072. I do not ask you for dates; was it so or not?—Do you mean whether he examined the books shortly after the election?

21,073. Do not ask me questions. Did he examine those books shortly after the election or not?—Yes, he has seen them frequently since the election. He has examined them frequently since the election.

21,074. Has Mr. Edward Lawrence seen them frequently since the election?—No, he has not.

21,075–6. Has Mr. Taylor?—No, he has not.

21,077. With respect to this item of 400*l.*, just try and tax your memory how it was Tronson asked you for it?—I did not give that to Mr. Tronson at all, I gave it to Mr. Taylor.

21,078. Have you any idea what Mr. Taylor did with that money?—I only have my own conjecture.

21,079. That is what I want to have?—I fancied that he was going to take it to Lancaster.

21,080. Going to take it himself?—Yes.

21,081. Was it the day that Hagart went to Lancaster?—I think not, but I would not say.

21,082. Did you ever hear it mentioned at your office that Tronson gave a bag of gold to Hagart to bring to Lancaster?—I may have.

21,083. When was the first time you heard it mentioned?—I could not say in the least. These are things that would pass from my memory.

21,084. Give me some idea; was it a year ago, or six months ago?—It would be at the time, if at all, but I have no recollection whatever of it.

21,085. Did you or did you not hear of it at the time?—Certainly not.

21,086. When did you first hear of it?—I had nothing to do with it.

21,087. I do not ask you that, I asked you this question, when did you first hear of Hagart coming over here with a bag of gold?—It would be on that date if at all.

21,088. Did you ever hear of it?—Yes, I did.

21,089. You heard of it on that day?—Yes.

21,090. Why could you not say so at once; you would save me a great deal of trouble, and a great deal of time if you would answer the questions properly like a good witness ought to do?—I am sure all through I have tried to be as clear as possible.

21,091. Pray do not run on; you tell us you heard of it on the day when Tronson gave the gold to Hagart. From where did Tronson get that gold?—I have no doubt he sent Hagart for it.

21,092. Where to?—To banks probably.

21,093. How would he get it, by cheque?—He would get the cash from me.

21,094. Where is the entry of it in your book?—It is the 2,000*l.*

21,095. I am speaking about another 400*l.*, the 400*l.* which Tronson gave to Hagart?—I never gave such an amount to Tronson as 400*l.*

21,096. From where did he get the money?—Are you speaking of the 2000*l.*? I never gave such an amount as 400*l.* to Tronson, I gave it to Mr. Taylor.

21,097. Do not let us misunderstand one another. You say you heard Taylor brought the money that you gave to him with him to Lancaster?—Yes.

21,098. If Taylor brought that money with him to Lancaster, and Hagart brought money with him too to Lancaster, there is still a sum of money not accounted for?—That is the 2,000*l.* that Hagart brought.

21,099. No, he did not indeed?—Then I know nothing about it.

21,100. We know that Tronson gave money to Hagart; where would Tronson get that money from?—From me.

21,101. Where is the entry in that book of that money?—2,000*l.*?

21,102. No?—That is the only amount I know of. On the 11th of July I gave Mr. Tronson 2,000*l.*, and that is entered in that book.

21,103. You tell me that you heard on the day that Hagart came to Lancaster that he brought some money with him, I will not say they amount?—Yes.

21,104. Where is the entry of that money in the book which he brought to Lancaster?—Hagart came on the 11th.

21,105. Never mind when he came, where is the entry in the book of the money he brought here?—That 2,000*l.*?

21,106. No?—Then I know nothing whatever about it.

21,107. It is only on your assumption that Mr. Taylor did bring with him to Lancaster that 400*l.*?—Yes.

21,108. (Mr. Hill.) Any sums that may be drawn by Mr. Lawrence for private purposes are found in this book with "E. L." against them?—It is so.

21,109. And the 400*l.* with the odd shillings is entered in this book against "E. L."?—Yes, it is, for a time.

21,110. At the time it was first entered on the 7th of July?—Yes.

21,111. I see there is added to that sum 1*s.* upon one occasion, and 11*s.* 6*d.* upon another occasion, which are debited to Mr. Lawrence for cab hire and omnibuses?—Exactly so.

21,112. That is undoubtedly for his private purposes and not for the purposes of the firm?—Yes, merely a memorandum of my own till the end of the month comes.

21,113. To come to the entry of the 14th of July, you have debited Mr. Lawrence per Hagart with 2*l.* 2*s.*, do you recollect what that was for?—It was for his expenses.

21,114. Expenses to Lancaster?—Yes, I think so.

21,115. Can you recollect at all by whose direction you paid Hagart the 2*l.* 2*s.*?—I do not think anybody's; he would come to me for it, and I should pay it, a small amount like that, and I should tell Mr. John Lawrence of it afterwards.

21,116. I observe you carefully add the name of Mr. John Lawrence; do you mean that Mr. John Lawrence is the only person to whom you would tell that?—Yes, he is the partner who attends to the financial part of the business, and therefore I always go to him when he is in town and consult him about everything connected with money.

21,117. Supposing some person had come to you and informed you that he had expended 1*l.* or 10*l.* for Mr. Edward Lawrence, should you not ask Mr. Edward Lawrence whether that had been so expended by his direction?—Yes, certainly; that is a private matter.

21,118. Supposing one of the clerks came and told you that, would you not ask Mr. Edward Lawrence whether it had been by his directions that the clerk had laid out the money which he alleged he had so expended?—Decidedly, but not when I knew differently, or rather if I conjectured differently.

21,119. Do you not believe that you asked Mr. Lawrence whether he authorized Hagart's expenses of 2*l.* 2*s.*?—I am sure I did not.

21,120. What makes you sure; did you receive instructions not to mention anything to Mr. Edward Lawrence about the election?—No.

21,121. Then what makes you so sure?—Because I spoke to Mr. John Lawrence about the whole of that affair.

21,122. What makes you sure about it; it is 14 or 15 months ago?—I cannot do more than swear to it, I cannot give you a better answer.

21,123. How comes your memory to be so very clear upon that point when the entry in the book would rather lead to a contrary inference?—I really cannot tell you, but I do recollect that I never spoke to Mr. Edward Lawrence about it.

21,124. Had you received special instructions not to speak to Mr. Edward Lawrence upon any matters connected with the election?—I had not.

21,125. Do you swear that distinctly?—I do swear it most distinctly.

21,126. You will not go so far as to say there was no understanding between you that you should not mention it to Mr. Lawrence?—Not a single word passed about not mentioning anything to Mr. Lawrence.

21,127. I find an entry afterwards for a pound's worth of postage stamps entered to "E. L." That would be private as distinguished from the firm?—Yes.

21,128. And that is the reason why you put "E. L." against it?—Yes.

21,129. I see on the 17th, or rather on the date previously, there is a separation of the suspense account and a small sum is debited also to "E. L." of 7*l.* odd?—Yes, that is a private matter entirely.

21,130. I observe on the 15th you commence a separate "suspense" account, if I may so call it; up to that date there have been the two sums of 270*l.* which you say was a private account, and the large amount of 2,407*l.* On the 15th that is divided into three, and from that date, and I believe ever afterwards, you keep up the large sum against the "suspense" account without adding any names to it?—Yes.

21,131. By whose direction did you make that alteration?—By the direction of Mr. John Lawrence.

21,132. You received instructions on the 15th from Mr. John Lawrence. Will you give me the character of those instructions?—That I was to put all that money to the "suspense" account.

21,133. All what money?—4,150*l.*

21,134. That you were to put all that sum to the "suspense" account?—Yes, excepting the 7*l.*

21,135. You say that on the 15th you were directed by Mr. John Lawrence to put that sum to the "suspense" account?—Yes.

21,136. And in fact to divide the sum into a private account to Mr. Lawrence and a "suspense" account?—He knew about that smaller amount.

21,137. Were Mr. John Lawrence's directions to that effect?—They were.

21,138. To separate the sum into a private sum for Mr. Edward Lawrence and a "suspense" account in your books?—No, he saw the book and directed that that amount should go to the "suspense" account; he did not mention Mr. Edward Lawrence's private account at all.

21,139. Just look at your book, you will see that the sum is divided on the 15th, and you tell me that you divided that by the direction of Mr. John Lawrence. I asked you to tell me what words Mr. John Lawrence used when he gave you directions as to dividing that sum?—He did not mention the 7*l.*

21,140. You do not follow me; on the 14th it is all in one sum; on the 15th it is divided into the large sum and the sum of 7*l.* You told me that you did that by Mr. John Lawrence's directions, and I now ask you to tell me what Mr. John Lawrence's directions to you were as to that. I want you to tell me what his words were?—I cannot tell you what he said, it was to the effect that I was to charge that sum to the "suspense" account, and there it ended.

21,141. Why did you on the 15th for the first time divide off Mr. Lawrence's private account from the other sum?—Because they were all distinct. I knew what those others were.

21,142. Why did you do that on the 15th?—Because Mr. John Lawrence told me to do so.

21,143. What were his directions?—Merely that I was to put it to the "suspense" account.

21,144. Did he tell you to divide off Mr. Lawrences private account to the "suspense" account?—No, he said "put so much to 'suspense' account."

21,145. Did he mention the sum?—I believe so.

21,146. Did Mr. John Lawrence tell you to place that specific sum to the "suspense" account, which is there placed to the "suspense" account?—He did.

21,147. What is the sum?—3,150*l.*

21,148. And the balance to Mr. Edward Lawrence's private account?—He never mentioned that.

21,149. What were you to do with the balance?—That was a private matter.

21,150. Did he tell you to place no more than the 3,150*l.* to that account?—That was all I had to do with it.

21,151. Mr. John Lawrence's instructions were in effect to divide the account?—He did not mention a division, and therefore I cannot say that they were.

21,152. You had a gross sum before you, and he told you to take off 3,150*l.*?—Of that he said "Charge 3,150*l.*"

21,153. That is what I call dividing the account, if the sum was more than that?—Yes.

21,154. And from that date you did in effect keep the two accounts separate?—I did.

21,155. But before that the whole balance stood against the initials "E. L."?—It did.

21,156. At what time in the year are the books balanced, as between the partners. I mean the books of the firm for the purposes of the profit and loss?—The 30th June. I think that for profit and loss, the transfers are only once a year, but the books are balanced twice a year.

21,157. At Midsummer and Christmas?—Yes.

21,158. What did you do with this "suspense" account of 3,150*l.* in balancing the books, as between

TWENTIETH DAY.

J. Littlewood.

19 Sept. 1866.

the firm and the partners, at Christmas, 1865?—Nothing.

21,159. How did it remain?—In the balance. It went on from December to January as that book will show.

21,160. It was not debited to any particular partner?—No; it now stands as it did on the 7th of July 1865. You will find it mentioned at every date since.

21,161. Then is that a debit at present from Mr. Lawrence to the firm?—Certainly not; I know nothing about it, it is a matter between themselves. All I know is that if they were to ask me where that is, I should say it is in the "suspense" account in my balance book. I know nothing further than that.

21,162. Is this the only book that you keep as cashier?—No; I have got my cash book. The cash-book is the only book I keep.

21,163. Are there not any entries in the cash-book as to the the payment in and payment out of all the sums that come into the hands and leave the hands of the firm?—There are every one.

21,164. Then you would have an entry in the cash-book of the payment of 2,000*l.*?—Decidedly. It is in the expenditure and the receipt of the day.

21,165. Would it be put in as a separate transaction?—It might. No, it would not.

21,166. Which do you mean?—We might on one day have 8,000*l.* or 9,000*l.*, and on another day only 100*l.* in the office. It just depends.

21,167. Do you enter the transactions of the firm from hour to hour?—If a man pays so much on cotton, it goes to the cotton account.

21,168. In what book should you enter the payment out of the 2,000*l.*?—In that book (referring to the book before produced.) It is not entered in that book.

21,169. Do you not enter into some scribbling book, or into some journal, the payment out of every sum which leaves the hands of the firm?—No, the book is the one I have entered it in. It is not charged in the cash-book.

21,170. Suppose Mr. Taylor were to come into your office to morrow, and were to say to you "Give me 1,000*l.*?" you say you would give to him?—Yes.

21,171. Where should you first enter that 1,000*l.*?—Till he told me where to charge it to in our books belonging to the office, I should put it into that book "T. E. T., 1,000*l.*"

21,172. At once?—At once; when I balanced at night I should be short that much at night.

21,173. You would make that memorandum perhaps on a slip of paper?—Yes.

21,174. And you would enter it in your books at night?—Yes.

21,175. And that would be the only place where it would appear?—Until I was told where to charge it to.

21,176. And if you were not told where to charge it to, it would run on from day to day in this book?—It would.

21,177. Let me understand this clearly from you; is this the only book in which that sum would occur?—That is the only book in which that sum occurs.

21,178. I see an entry which begins on the 17th of July, "J. T. L. 900*l.*," what was that for?—That was a private matter entirely; I think that is on the credit side. Is it not deducted from the balance? It is a private matter entirely. I think you will find that that runs on for some days.

21,179. (Mr. Barstow.) Had you ever any conversation with Mr. John Lawrence on the subject of a credit of your firm, to Mr. W. E. Chambers?—I had not.

21,180. With reference to that, Mr. John Lawrence in his examination here said "I gave these orders to Mr. Littlewood, my cashier, who is still in my employment;" You are aware that he said so?—I know he did, but he has made a mistake, it was Mr. Tronson probably to whom he gave the orders.

21,181. Then you can tell us nothing about the relations existing between the late Mr. W. E. Chambers, and your firm?—Nothing whatever.

21,182. Mr. Tronson is at Liverpool, now, I suppose?—He is.

W. Connor.

WILLIAM CONNOR worn and examined.

21,183. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At West Derby, near Liverpool.

21,184. What are you?—Well, I am out-door manager to some steam ships.

21,185. A steam shipping company?—No, belonging to one owner.

21,186. You know Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson, do you not?—I met him at Lancaster.

21,187. Did you know him before you came to Lancaster?—No, I did not.

21,188. Who sent you to Lancaster?—Mr. Lafone, a person I do business for, asked me if I would come and assist.

21,189. Are they merchants at Liverpool?—Yes.

21,190. Mr. Lafone, one of the partners in a firm at Liverpool, asked you to come over here?—He asked me if I would come and assist at the election.

21,191. When was that?—In July, the evening before the nomination.

21,192. Did you see Mr. Chambers before you came?—I did not. I did not know him.

21,193. Did you come with any one from Liverpool? I came by myself.

21,194. Did you bring anything with you?—Nothing.

21,195. No money?—No money.

21,196. When you got to Lancaster, where did you go to?—To "Sly's Hotel."

21,197. What time was it when you got there?—I think it was nearly 10 in the evening, at least 10 at night.

21,198. Who did you see?—Mr. Wilson.

21,199. Did you know him by sight before?—I might have known him by sight before.

21,200. How did you become acquainted with him there, did you ask for him?—I asked for him.

21,201. And where did you find him?—There.

21,202. In a room?—No. I sent for him; he was sent for, and came to me.

21,203. When he came he gave you some instructions did he not?—Not then.

21,204. Did you go out into the town that night?—I did not. I went through the town that night.

21,205. The following morning was the nomination day?—Yes.

21,206. When did you see Mr. Wilson again?—That morning.

21,207. At what time?—I dare say about 7 or 8 o'clock.

21,208. What did he tell you?—He told me nothing then.

21,209. Did he give you anything?—Nothing.

21,210. Did you see him again later in the day?—After the nomination.

21,211. Where?—At the committee-room, not at the hotel. I cannot tell you where the committee-room was.

21,212. Did he give you anything then?—No, but he sent me to Mr. Barker, or to Mr. Barker's place; that is he sent Mr. Barker with me to Mr. Barker's own place, and Mr. Barker gave me 400*l.*

21,213. What time would this be?—I think it would be after 4 o'clock.

21,214. What did you do with the 400*l.* that Mr. Barker gave you?—I brought it back to the Committee-room, and got instructions to go with six or eight men in a bus, with four horses, and distribute it as they told me.

21,215. Who did you see at the committee-room?

The men, they were all strangers to me; every one was a stranger to me.

21,216. You put yourself into a bus with some other gentlemen, and put four horses into the bus?—Yes, I did not put the four horses into the bus.

21,217. The ostler did, and you went to Morecambe?—Yes.

21,218. When you got to Morecambe what did you do?—I was instructed to see Mrs. Willacy.

21,219. They told you to go there?—I had my instructions with me. I had six or eight. I did nothing of myself.

21,220. And what did you do then?—I was told to give Mrs. Willacy 150*l.*, which I did.

21,221. What became of all your instructors who went with you, did they leave the bus?—No, they stuck to me till the money was gone.

21,222. They remained in the bus did they?—No, they came into the house with me, and some of them stood by while I gave the money to Mrs. Willacy.

21,223. When you gave her the money what did you do?—I came down with these men, and went through Morecambe to do as they told me.

21,224. What did you do with the remaining 250*l.*?—I went down to one family with four votes, three or four, that evening, it was getting a hot shop down there.

21,225. What do you mean by getting a hot shop?—It was getting too warm for me to be there with gold, there was a row going to take place; they were going to take the voters that Mrs. Willacy had out of the house.

21,226. That was the time when they thought you were a Welshman?—I do not know what they thought me, but I was not.

21,227. And then you paid four voters?—No, I went to Lancaster then, because it was thought they were going to have a row there to take these men out and make them vote in the morning, and I came back in the morning, early, and gave Mrs. Willacy 150*l.* more.

21,228. Did your instructors lose sight of you during the night?—They did, but I saw them in the morning; this is an account of what they received, here is Mrs. Willacy's receipts for the money. (handing some papers.)

21,229. Did you go there the next morning?—Yes, I went to see the voters, there were three busses to take the voters in.

21,230. To bring the voters back?—I did not bring them back, I saw them into the bus with these two men that came down with me.

21,231. That is 300*l.*; what did you do with the other 100*l.*?—It was for voters, and to pay expenses, that these men told me I was to pay to parties.

21,232. That makes 300*l.*?—Yes, and then I went to these parties' houses that are named in the paper with these instructors of mine, or pilots.

21,233. Did you see a man named Richard Armistead?—I think I did.

21,234. Somebody brought him to you?—No, I was brought to him.

21,235. And he got 12*l.* did he?—He did.

21,236. Who signed this paper, the 12th; was it Curwen?—I think so, she was present; there was three or four in the room; she was present.

21,237. Mrs. Willacy you mean?—Yes.

21,238. She cannot write?—No, I do not think she can.

21,239. They signed it for her?—They did.

21,240. Who do you say it was?—I do not know who it was.

21,241. You say Richard Armistead got 12*l.* from you; you went to his house?—Yes.

21,242. And William Armistead?—I think there was three in the house, 12*l.* each.

21,243. The next man got 12*l.*, Edward Bond?—I think that is the name, that is the name I got at all events.

21,244. When was this written?—When I returned to Lancaster to give an account.

21,245. By whom was it written?—By my son, it was taken from a slip of paper that I had.

21,246. What has become of that slip of paper?—It was torn, or burnt, long since.

21,247. Was Mrs. Willacy present?—No, I was brought to these people's houses and was told to give them that money in the presence of one or two.

21,248. What sort of man was this Richard Armistead that you paid?—One was an old man, and I think there were two young men.

21,249. Which was the old man? Bond?—I think Bond was a young man. I think so, but I am not certain.

21,250. Did you ever hear that Richard Armistead got money twice?—No, there was one of them that received 12*l.*, or 10*l.*, I am not certain which; he had not voted when we came into Lancaster in the middle of the day, so this gentleman nailed him, and he would not vote unless he got 10*l.* or 12*l.* more. I am not certain which, but it is on that paper.

21,251. Do you mean the individual in Lancaster?—Yes.

21,252. You do not know his name?—No.

21,253. It is not one of the three first?—No, it is not one of the three first.

21,254. Who was present when you paid these three men?—Mr. Procter, he is in court.

21,255. Who else?—I am not certain whether Mr. Vince was not there, I will not be certain whether he was present or not, but Mr. Procter was.

21,256. (To Mr. Procter.) Who was the Richard Armistead that Mr. Connor paid?—I did not see any money paid in Lancaster.

21,257. But who was the Richard Armistead that Mr. Connor paid at his house in Morecambe?—I do not know. Mr. Connor has got the wrong names.

21,258. He says he thinks you were present when he paid 12*l.* to Richard Armistead, 12*l.* to William Armistead, and 12*l.* to Edward Bond?—The three names are James Threlfall, Henry Threlfall, and Edward Bond.

21,259. (Mr. Newton.) (To the witness.) You have made a mistake in the names, which is very natural, the next item in your account is this: Edward Bond, 12*l.*, ditto in Lancaster 10*l.*?—Yes, I have only the name that was told to me.

21,260. You have got 10*l.* more against Edward Bond in Lancaster.

21,261. (To Mr. Procter.) Was it Edward Bond of Poulton-le-sands, engineer?—Yes, Mr. Saunders was present when he was paid the second time, and Mr. Wilson.

21,262. Which Mr. Wilson?—Mr. H. T. Wilson.

21,263. (Mr. Newton.) (To the witness.) You say you met him again in Lancaster?—Yes.

21,264. You found that he had not voted?—Yes.

21,265. And what did he say?—He would not vote till he was paid 12*l.* more.

21,266. And did you pay him that in Lancaster?—Yes.

21,267. The next item in the account is a man named Bell, 12*l.*, where did you pay him?—I paid him in Lancaster.

21,268. Do you know his christian name?—No.

21,269. Who told you to pay him?—I had a big lot with me and I am not able to tell you.

21,270. A man named Bell in Lancaster?—Yes.

21,271. (To Mr. Procter.) Do you know what Bell is?—No.

21,272. (To Mr. Vince.) Do you?—No.

(The Witness.) I was told that his name was Bel, and that I was to give it to him.

21,273. (Mr. Newton.) (To the witness.) Was he a fisherman or a yeoman, do you recollect?—He looked like a fisherman.

21,274. You gave it him in a public-house?—Yes.

21,275. Do you remember what the sign was?—No, I do not, I was taken in at the moment.

21,276. They knew you were a wealthy man?—They knew that I had got the money, and that I was to do as they told me.

TWENTIETH DAY.

W. Connor.

19 Sept. 1866.

21,277. And then there was another one 10*l.*, who was he?—Will you let me look at the paper, if you please, (the paper is handed to the witness) the one in Lancaster; I am not able to recollect that one.

21,278. Where did you pay him?—It would be in some public-house.

21,279. 10*l.*?—10*l.*

21,280. We will call him as you do, "one in Lancaster," what is the next item?—One split ditto.

21,281. What is split?—I do not know whether he would have two votes or not; that is the way they named it when I was present.

21,282. You got a split vote for 5*l.*?—Yes, for 5*l.*, I put it down as well as I could get it.

21,283. Then Masheder, 1*l.*?—Yes; he stopped at Morecambe, and he was to stop up all night to prevent their taking some voters from Mrs. Willacy's.

21,284. When did you pay him?—The evening of the nomination.

21,285. You do not know his christian name?—No.

21,286. He was to sit up all night?—Yes, to mind the voters.

21,287. And to have them ready to bring in in the morning?—Yes.

21,288. Was he sober?—He was, and there was another man as well as him to stop.

21,289. (To Mr. Procter.) What Masheder was this?—Edward Masheder, who was mentioned the other day.

21,290. (Mr. Newton.) (To the witness.) The next is "three men, 1*l.* 10*s.*, what were they to do?—To assist him in case of a row.

21,291. Three men to take care of him?—No, not to take care of him; to take care of the voters, I suppose.

21,292. Then there is "Mr. Whitaker, Lancaster, 10*s.*?—Yes, he assisted in the morning.

21,293. He assisted the three men?—No, he assisted in getting the voters into the buss in the morning.

21,294. Then there is "Mr. Barker's balance, 21*l.*?"—Yes; that I delivered to Mr. Barker in the evening.

21,295. The rest I suppose was sundries?—Yes, the rest was sundries that I could not account for.

21,296. When did you pay this man, Bell; the night before or the day of the election?—The day of the election.

21,297. What time?—About 1 or 2 o'clock, as well as I can remember.

21,298. And where did you pay this other man; the "one in Lancaster"?—In a public-house. I am not able to tell you where it was now.

21,299. Had he voted?—He had not voted.

21,300. Where did you pay the "one split ditto?"—Further on in the same neighbourhood; there were many that had these people ready, and then I was sent to pay them the money.

21,301. Have you seen Mrs. Willacy since the election?—I have not, nor the neighbourhood either.

21,302. (Mr. Hill.) You cannot tell us who was present when you paid the "split ditto?"—I cannot, I think I had ten men altogether to take charge of.

21,303. (Mr Newton.) Cannot you give us the name of the person who was present when you paid Bell?—Mr. Procter was.

21,304. (To Mr. Procter.) Is that so?—I saw Bell, but I was not present when you paid him.

21,305. You know he got it?—No, I do not.

21,306. Which Bell was it?—Bell of Morecambe.

21,307. A fisherman?—He is a fisherman.

21,308. (Mr. Hill.) (To the witness.) Who was present when you paid the "one in Lancaster?"—I am not able to tell you; they were all strangers to me, and I did not know their names; there are two here that I see; Mr. Vince and Mr. Procter.

21,309. (To Mr. Vince.) Did you not see this man paid?—No, I never saw him after he came to Lancaster.

21,310. (To the witness.) Who took you to this man in Lancaster?—I cannot tell who it was; if I was to see him I should know him.

21,311. What sort of looking man was he?—I am not able to distinguish him now.

21,312. Was it Curwen, a short, youngish man without any whiskers, Mrs. Willacy's son-in-law?—No, it was not.

21,313. (To Mr. Vince.) Who else could it be?—I cannot tell.

21,314. (To the witness.) Did you go into the "Royal Oak," do you think?—I could not say it was the "Royal Oak." I know it was a public-house.

21,315. Should you know the public-house if you were to see it again?—I do not suppose I should; it was very sharp practice.

21,316. Do you know Mr. Danson by sight?—I do not recollect the name.

31,317. A florid man who looks like an auctioneer?—I know there was an auctioneer; he was one I know.

21,318. I think it must have been Mr. Danson. Did Mr. Danson go down to Morcambe with you?—I think he did.

21,319. (To Mr. Vince.) Is that so?—No.

21,320. Who did go down?—Proctor, myself, Bulfield, Cross, and William Burroughs. I think that was all that went down.

21,021. (The witness.) There was a lot, and there was more waiting for me that moment when I arrived.

21,322. (Mr. Hill) (To the witness.) Was it in the presence of one of those men that went to Morecambe with you, that you paid this man in Lancaster do you think?—I cannot say. I paid no attention to the matter.

21,323. We do not blame you. We want to find out who this man was in Lancaster. Did you pay the 10*l.* man and the 5*l.* man together?—No, I was brought from one place to another.

21,324. Do you know in what house it was that you paid him?—I do not know indeed.

21,325. You do do not know Lancaster at all?—I never was in it before till that morning.

G. T. R. Preston.

George Theophilus Robert Preston sworn and examined.

21,326. (Mr Hill.) What are you?—A rectifier and wine merchant in Liverpool. I reside at Belmont House.

21,327. You came over to Lancaster at the time of the election?—Yes, I spend a good deal of time at Ellel Grange near Lancaster.

21,328. What part did you take in the last election?—I did not take any very particular part in it all.

21,328*a*. What general part did you take in it?—None. I went round with Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider canvassing, but nothing more.

21,329. In what district?—I went round about the Ellel district, but no district in particular.

21,330. Did you look up the voters at Ellel?—No, I did not.

21,331. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of the last election?—Not a farthing.

21,332. Did you pay any?—I did not.

21,333. Out of your pocket?—Not a penny.

21,334. Are you a personal friend of Mr. Fenwick, or of Mr. Schneider?—I am a personal friend of Mr. Fenwick's. I have known him for years.

21,335. Did you have some conversation with Mr. Fenwick as to the expenses of the election?—Not a word.

21,336. Did you have no conversation with him as to the proportions of the expenses that were to be borne by him and Mr. Schneider?—Never a word; he never mentioned to me a word about the expenses.

21,337. Did you ever say to him that it would be a costly affair?—No, I never said a word to the effect that it would be a costly affair.

21,338. Not a word passed between you to that effect?—No, not to my knowledge.

21,339. That it would be an expensive matter?—No, I did not.

21,340. Had you any talk with him at all about what money he would have to pay ?—No.

21,341. Did he not say a word to you about it ?—He never said a word to me upon the subjecct.

21,342. When did you first become acquainted with Mr. Schneider ?—I think it would be about the election time.

21,343. Were you on the committee ?—No, I was not.

21,344. Did you have any conversation with Mr. Schneider as to money matters ?—Never a word.

21,345. Did you look after two voters of the name of Parker ?—If I remember right, they are joiners in Galgate. I did not look after them, anything particular.

21,346. Generally, how did you look after them ?—I asked them if they would vote for Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider; that is all I said to them.

21,347. Did you bring them to the poll ?—That I could not swear to. I really do not think I did. I do no not remember really.

21,348. Did you see anything of those Parkers coming to the poll ?—I do not remember.

21,349. Do you know what they got for their votes ? I do not indeed. I swear that I do not.

21,350. You had nothing to do with them with reference to money being paid to them ?—No, I had nothing to do with the money.

21,351. Did you go up at all to what has been called the secret committee-room ?—Never. I do not know where it was. I never was in it, and I do not know where it was.

21,352. Do we understand you to say that in no way had you any knowledge of money transactions at the last election ?—One heard you know of money being spent.

21,353. When did you first hear of money being spent ?—It was going about; it was a rumour in the town that a good deal of money would be spent.

21,354. When ?—I could not say. I should say that a week or a fortnight before the election there was a rumour that money was going to be spent for the election.

21,355. Who told you money was going to be spent for the election ?—I heard it flying about ; there were rumours. I did not hear it from anybody in particular; it was only what was reported in the town.

21,356. You were a personal friend of the candidates ?—Yes.

21,357. Did you contradict such a rumour or confirm it ? You say, you heard a rumour as to money being paid to voters. Did you contradict that rumour ?—I do not mean to say that I heard that money was being paid then. I did not know that any money was paid to voters before the day of election. I heard that there would be a good deal of money spent at the election.

21,358. You heard on the day of the election that a good deal of money was being paid to voters ?—Yes.

21,359. And you saw it yourself ?—No, I never saw it.

21,360. Did you never see any money paid to voters on the day of election ?—No.

21,361. Where were you then ?—I was knocking about, I think, at the "Queen's Hotel."

21,362. Did you not see any money coming from the "Queens ?"—Never. I never saw any.

21,363. (Mr. Barstow.) Were you going about at the time of the election ?—Yes, I was knocking about.

21,364. (Mr. Hill.) You were at Galgate, were you not ?—Yes ; that is the same as Ellel you know.

21,365. Do you know James Robinson at Galgate ?—James Robinson ?

21,366. Yes ?—No, I do not know James Robinson, a voter.

21,367. But do you know James Robinson who is not a voter. I mean the manager of the silk mills ?—I know that there is a man named James Robinson, at the silk mill at Galgate.

21,368. Were you not about with him ?—No, I do not think I was.

21,369. Just think. I remind you of his name now. Were you not going about with James Robinson ?—I do not think I was.

21,370. Did you see James Robinson pay any money ?—No, I did not.

21,371. Did you hear him bargaining for the price of any votes ?—No, I did not.

21,372. That you are quite sure about ?—Yes, I am quite sure that I never heard him bargaining.

21,373. (Mr. Barstow.) You were going about at the election time. What were you doing on the polling day ?—I was more like running about. I do not think I was doing anything particular.

21,374. You do not mean that you were running up and down the town doing nothing. When you ran about the town you ran about for some purpose I am sure. Come, now tell us what you did ?—I was looking about to see if I could get any votes among the men, but I did not know them at all, and, when I was aware that money was going about so, I would have nothing to do with it. I would not put my hand to it. I kept myself clear of that.

21,375. I suppose you took voters to the poll ?—I think I took one man but I do not know the man, I was standing at the "Queen's Hotel" and some party came and said, "Will you take this man to the poll, and see that he does poll ?" and I did so, but I swear that I do not know who the man was, and I do not know who told me to do it.

21,376. Were there not more than one ?—Well I could not say. I do not think I went more than once, if I went twice I hardly think so.

21,377. Did you not go with two men ?—I really could not say.

21,378. We certainly have been told very explicitly that you went with two men named Parker to the poll? —Everything was in confusion, and there was so much excitement at the time that I should not like to say.

21,379. I hope you were not excited ?—Well, I was not excited. I might have done it, and I would not like to swear that I did not.

21,380. We do not want you to swear you did not if you did ?—I might have done it.

21,381. You might have taken two men ?—I might.

21,382. Just think; did you not ? It is no great matter, you know, taking two men to the poll ; we are told that you did. This is not a cock-and-bull story ; it is sworn to us in evidence, that you took two men named Parker to the poll, is it so or is it not ?—It might be. I should not like to say. I really forget. I could not call it to mind.

21,383. Did you take so many to the poll that you forget the number ?—No, I am sure I did not do that.

21,384. How many did you take to the poll ?—I do not think I took more than one or two.

21,385. You get on very slowly. You took one a short time ago and now you have got to two. Did you take more than two ?—No, I do not think I did.

21,386. Did you give any money to these two men whom you took to the poll ?—No.

21,387. Did you hold the money for them as stakeholder ?—No.

21,388. Did you see them paid any money ?—I did not.

21,389. You are quite sure ?—Yes.

21,390. I must say, when you looked up in that manner, I thought you would have said, "Yes." Are you quite sure you did not ?—Yes, quite sure.

21,391. You did not promise that they should have any money paid to them ?—No.

21,392. You did not engage with them that if they would go with you to the poll they should have something when they came back ?—No.

21,393. You are quite clear about that ?—Yes, quite clear.

21,394. It seems to me that the Lancaster voters cannot go by themselves. They want somebody to take them to the poll. Why is that ? Do not they know their way ?—When you take men to the poll you see that they vote right. You take them to the poll, but you do not go up to the clerk.

21,395. You were in the polling-booth a little way off?—There is a sort of barricade in front of the polling booth, and you do not go into the barricade.

21,396. The voters go into the barricade and you stay out?—Yes.

21,397. And you listen to what they say, whether they say, "Fenwick and Schneider," or "Lawrence?"—Yes.

21,398. And then you go back and say, "This man is all right, I heard him vote?"—Yes.

21,399. To whom did you say that?—I did not say it to anyone.

21,400. Then what was the use of your going if you did not say so to anyone?—When once a man has voted it is done with. He cannot vote again.

21,401. That could not be the reason. You would be glad if he could have voted again?—No, I should not. When once he had voted, it was quite right.

21,402. Surely you reported it to some one?—I do not think I did.

21,403. What was the use of going with these men to the poll if you did not report to some one that you had taken them to the poll?—To see that they voted correctly. One might vote one way and the other the other.

21,404. What then if they had?—You ask them to vote for your own men.

21,405. Supposing they had not, what then?—I do not know what I should have done.

21,406. You would have gone and run about again perhaps?—Yes.

21,407. Should you not have told anyone supposing Parker had voted for Lawrence? I think you would have run back to the "Queen's?"—Yes, I might have told some one in the "Queen's" if the Parkers had not voted correctly.

21,408. What would the result of that have been, do you suppose?—I do not know what the result of that would have been. I do not know indeed.

21,409. Do you not think that the result would have been they would not have got something that they bargained for?—I do not know. I had nothing to do with the bargaining.

21,410. I do not know whether you had or not. You say you had not. You did not make any report at all about these men that you polled?—No, I do not think I did.

21,411. You have been so long dwelling upon the subject, perhaps you can tell us the names of the voters you polled?—I really do not know the names. I am like a stranger.

21,412. You were here going about canvassing with the candidates?—Yes; but when I went with the candidates canvassing, sometimes I did not go into the houses. I just like followed in the rear.

21,413. Why did you not go into the houses? I should have thought you were just the sort of man. I should have thought they would have put you forward?—No, I did not do so.

21,414. Were you so very modest? I am surprised they did not put you forward?—I did not indeed.

21,415. On the morning of the election did you preside over any entertainment for the voters?—No, I never did.

21,416. Did you see that any of them had their breakfasts?—No, certainly not. I never saw them having breakfast at all. I drove in from Ellel Grange in a dog-cart.

21,417. That is no reason why you should not see them at breakfast?—I did not see them at breakfast really.

21,418. Where did you breakfast yourself?—At Ellel Grange.

21,419. It was later on in the morning when you came?—I should think about 9 o'clock. I did not leave the Grange so early that morning.

21,420. At what time did you come to Lancaster?—I should think it would be between 9 and 10 when I got into Lancaster.

21,421. Did you ever go into any public-houses in China Lane on that day?—I looked into a public-house in China Lane, nothing more.

21,422. What did you see there?—I saw a lot of men drunk, but I had nothing to do with them.

21,423. Did you merely look in at the door?—I forget who the parties were who were there; but I looked in. I was more like knocking about than anything else. I did not go for any particular purpose.

21,424. You run about to amuse yourself?—Yes.

21,425. Did you not go into the house where these voters were?—In China Lane?

21,426. Yes?—Yes, I think I did go into that house.

21,427. What did you do when you were in the house?—I did not do anything, I looked on.

21,428. You looked about and did not do a thing?—Yes.

21,429. Was there no breakfast going on?—I did not see any breakfast.

21,430. It was all eaten up was it?—I did not see any breakfast.

21,431. If there was no breakfast, I suppose there was some drinking?—Yes, I have no doubt there would be drinking.

21,432. You did not pay for that drink?—No.

21,433. You knew somebody else would?—I do not know about that.

21,434. (Mr. Hill.) You got rather hot running about so much on the 12th of July, I should think, did you not?—Yes.

21,435. Did you not go with any of the voters to refresh yourself with them?—No.

21,436. You seem to have exercised yourself so industriously that it is suggested you must have had some one to assist you?—I had no one to assist me.

21,437. Who assisted you in running about?—I ran about by myself.

21,438. You took these men to the poll?—Yes.

21,439. And you went back and reported to some one that they had polled all right?—Yes.

21,440. To whom did you report?—I do not remember having reported to anyone. I may have said to somebody that they had voted.

21,441. You tell me that you did report to somebody that they had polled all right. To whom did you report it?—I really could not tell.

21,442. Come, tell me to whom did you report it? To whom do you think you would have reported that the Parkers had voted all right?—To anyone in the room, not the committee-room but the room downstairs.

21,443. You would not have reported it to the "boots"?—Oh, no.

21,444. To whom did you report it? Come, out with it?—I really forget. I should not like to swear who it was.

21,445. Tell us to whom you reported it?—I do not know; there were so many in the room downstairs.

21,446. That is the greater reason why you should be able to pick out one?—There were so many; I do not know to whom I reported it.

21,447. Shall I give you the names of one or two to select from?—Yes; I think that would be better.

21,448. Was it Bradshaw?—He is a little man, I think.

21,449. Then was it a big man to whom you reported it, if you go by size?—I do not remember.

21,450. Was it Bradshaw, Rawes, or Johnson?—I should not like to swear to anyone.

21,451. To the best of your belief. We can easily correct it if you are mistaken, without imputing anything wrong to you?—There was a young man named Williamson there.

21,452. Is it one of the Williamsons at the oil works that make such a smell at the bottom of the town?—Yes.

21,453. Did you report it to him?—I had never seen him before, but I may have said something to him.

21,454. Was it the light-haired one or the dark-haired one?—He is rather tallish.

21,455. Was it the light-haired one?—I do not know whether he has light hair or dark.

21,456. Do you know his christian name?—No.

21,457. Do you think you reported it to him?—Yes, I may have said something.

21,458. That the Parkers had voted all right?—Yes, I my have said it.

21,459. What makes you think you reported it to Williamson?—Because I saw Williamson in the room. He was in the lower room.

21,460. Was the person to whom you reported it the person who told you to take them to the poll?—I could not swear to it.

21,461. Or did you run up to the first man you saw in the room and say, "All right, the Parkers have polled"?—I may have said something of that kind.

21,462. Or did you say, "I have polled the Parkers, give me another." Was that what you said?—No, I never said that.

21,463. What was the nature of your report?—I said they had voted all right.

21,464. You think you said that to Williamson?—I should not like to swear that I did.

21,465. (Mr. Newton.) Would Williamson give them the money?—I do not know. I do not know anything more about it.

21,466. Just try; you have recollected a good deal. Did Williamson give them the money?—I do not know. I did not.

21,467. Who did give them the money?—I do not know; I will swear it.

21,468. Take care?—Yes; I am taking care.

21,469. Mr. Williamson did not give them the money?—I would not like to swear that. I told Mr. Williamson.

21,470. You would not like to swear that you told Mr. Williamson what?—That Parkers had voted all right. I might be wrong in that matter.

21,471. I want to know who paid the Parkers?—I swear I do not know. I did not, and do not know who did.

21,472. Did you see them paid?—I did not see them paid.

21,473. It seems to me that your memory wants assisting. You have no vote?—No.

21,474. You came to assist?—Yes, as a friend.

21,475. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you ever say that you would spend between 2,000*l.* and 3,000*l.* sooner than Mr. Schneider should be rejected?—I will tell you to the best of my recollection what was said.

21,476. We do not want the whole of the conversation. What did you say?—I ought to tell you the nature of the conversation. I should not like to say what afternoon it was, whether it was Saturday or Monday afternoon.

21,477. We do not want to know?—I went into the "King's Arms" and I saw there Mr. George Clark, Mr. Coupland, and another Mr. Coupland from Liverpool. I sat down there reading the paper, and something was said about "Mr. Lawrence is sure to get in," and then something was said about, "We will see which "of the other two we shall allow to get in," or something to that effect. They evidently seemed to be twitting me, and I did not much like it.

21,478. Chaffing you?—Yes. Then something was said about shooting, that they should have some nice shooting from Mr. Lawrence; and I said, it was Mr. John Lawrence who had the shooting in Scotland. After that, Mr. Coupland from Liverpool said something about the Liverpool election, that they would turn out Mr. Ewart; and said to them, "What a pity "it was you could not get a local man." Mind, this is to the best of my recollection. Afterwards they began twitting and chaffing me again, and I said, "If "it costs me a thousand pounds I would rather spend "it than that Mr. Lawrence should get in." It was only said in that twitting manner.

21,479. (Mr. Hill.) Who was it who was looking forward to Mr. Lawrence's shooting in Scotland as the consideration for supporting Mr. Lawrence here?—I think Mr. Clark said something about it.

21,480. Somebody said so?—Yes, it was said; and I said, "Mr. John Lawrence had the shooting in Scot-"land, and not Mr. Edward Lawrence."

21,481. (Mr. Barstow.) You did not spend a thousand pounds?—No, not a farthing.

21,482. (Mr. Hill.) You only wore out a little shoe leather?—Yes.

21,483. (Mr. Newton.) You did not pay for the breakfasts in China Lane?—No; something has been said about Mr. Preston, of Ellel Grange, having offered 50*l.* to canvas voters. They do not say whether it was my father or myself specially, but I can take my solemn oath that neither my father nor myself ever offered that amount.

21,484. What amount was offered?—There was no amount.

21,485. You said that neither you nor your father offered "that amount"?—There was no amount at all offered.

Adjourned for a short time.

FREDERICK AUSTIN sworn and examined.

F. Austin.

21,486. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a railway ticket collector at Galgate?—Yes.

21,487. And you got 10*l.* for your vote?—I did.

WILLIAM CAWSON sworn and examined.

W. Cawson.

21,488. (Mr. Newton.) You are a shoemaker?—Yes.

21,489. Where do you live?—In Aldcliffe Street.

21,490. Did Mr. Clark pay you 10*l.* for your vote?—He did.

THOMAS SANDERSON sworn and examined.

T. Sanderson.

21,491. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A publican.

21,492. What is the name of your public-house?—the "King's Head."

21,493. Was your house retained at the last election?—Yes.

21,494. By whom was it retained?—By Knowles Allinson.

21,495. At what price?—10*l.*

21,496. Were you paid the 10*l.*?—Yes.

21,497. By whom?—By Knowles Allinson.

21,498. Did you send in a bill besides?—No, I sent in no bill.

21,499. How much did you get paid besides for refreshments?—10*l.* for refreshments in all.

21,500. What do you mean by "in all"?—All the refreshments that were supplied at the election.

21,501. Do you mean to say that you did not sell either drink or refreshments during the election to an amount more than 10*l.*?—10*l.*

21,502. It amounted to exactly 10*l.*?—Yes.

21,503. By whom were you paid that?—I was paid 3*l.* of it by one of Mr. Welch's shopmen, and I was paid 7*l.* by Chistopher Hartley, grocer.

21,504. When was the 7*l.* paid?—On the Saturday

TWENTIETH DAY.

T. Sanderson.

19 Sept. 1866.

previous to the election, and the 3*l.* was paid perhaps 10 weeks after.

21,505. Did you receive any other money beside that for the purposes of the election?—I received 2*l.* from Mr. Carruthers to spend in refreshments among the voters.

21,506. James Carruthers?—Yes.

21,507. Any others?—No, that is all.

21,508. Then 22*l.* was all the money you got out of the election?—Yes.

21,509. That was all you got in any shape or way?—Yes, I received no other money at all.

21,510. And you voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—I did.

E. Clark.

EDWARD CLARK sworn and examined.

21,511. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A chemist.

21,512. You are a Conservative?—I am.

21,513. What part did you take in the last election?—I was on the carriage committee.

21,514. Then you can give us information about all the carriages that were hired by the Conservative party at the last election?—I could not give you the number, I should think there were between 30 and 40.

21,515. You can tell us what money you received for the purpose, and what money you paid?—No, I had nothing to do with the money; I left that entirely to Mr. Fenton.

21,516. In what way did you arrange the carriage department?—The carriages were appointed to different places, and I sent them there.

21,517. Did you receive any money?—No, none at all.

21,518. And you paid no money?—No, none at all.

21,519. Then you know nothing more about the election than distributing the carriages according to the districts?—Not a word.

21,520. How came you to be summoned then?—I do not know; my name has never been mentioned.

21,521. Yes, your name was mentioned with reference to the carriage department. Did you vote?—Yes.

21,522. Did you get anything for your vote?—No, I should be very sorry to take anything.

T. Cottam.

THOMAS COTTAM sworn and examined.

21,523. (Mr. Newton.) You are a farmer, are you not?—Yes, I have a small farm.

21,524. Where do you live?—At Five Ashes, Scotforth.

21,525. How many acres do you farm?—Only eight long acres.

21,526. Those are Cheshire acres?—Yes.

21,527. How many English acres?—About 12 or 12 statute acres I suppose.

21,528. Did you get 10*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

21,529. Did you get anything besides that from anybody else?—No.

21,530. Not from the other side?—No, and I never asked for it; I received 20*l.* for my son and myself.

21,531. What is your son's name?—John Cottam.

21,532. Is he here?—No, he is not in this country.

21,533. Where is he?—He is up at Capenray.

21,534. (Mr. Hill.) Did you give it to him?—I gave it to him that day.

21,535. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you receive it from Mr. Halstead?—Yes.

21,536. Are you and your son on good terms? You have no hostility against your son? You and he are very good friends?—Yes, very; he is at home when he is not at work; he is a horse-breaker by trade.

J. Edmondson.

JOHN EDMONDSON sworn and examined.

21,537. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A woodturner.

21,538. Did you receive 10*l.* for your vote?—No, I received 13*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* not for my vote.

21,539. What did you receive it for?—For my services for a month and a day.

21,540. Doing nothing else in the world?—Canvassing.

21,541. Doing nothing else?—Nothing else; doing no work at all.

21,542. What is your general work?—Wood turning.

21,543. And what do you get as wages?—It depends on whether I get a good job or a bad one.

21,544. In one day I should think you might visit every voter in Lancaster?—I was not here; I was away at a great many different places.

W. Parker.

WILLIAM PARKER sworn and examined.

21,545. (Mr. Barstow.) You come from Ellel do you not?—No, from Galgate.

21,546. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,547. Who paid you?—Edward Bradshaw.

21,548. Then you voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

21,549. Did Mr. Preston take you to poll?—No.

21,550. Who paid you?—Edward Bradshaw.

21,551. Before or after you had voted?—After.

21,552. (Mr. Hill.) Who did you receive it from?—Edward Bradshaw.

21,553. Where did you receive it?—At the "Commercial."

21,554. Was Mr. Preston present, and did he tell you that you had voted all right?—No, Mr. Preston did not; I never heard him mention money.

21,555. But it was Mr. Bradshaw who paid you?—Yes.

21,556. You got 10*l.*?—Yes.

21,557. What else had you?—Nothing else.

21,558. Except drink?—Not much of that.

21,559. Did you get anything else?—No.

21,560. (Mr. Newton.) You arranged to vote for the Conservatives did you not?—I think there was a ticket made out for me, but I left the room.

21,561. You did not get any money from them?—No money at all.

21,562. And your brother John the same?—Yes.

21,563. And then Mr. Preston got you and polled you the other way?—Yes.

21,564. Where did Mr. Preston get you?—At the "Queen's."

21,565. (Mr. Hill.) Who first induced you to go over to the other side after you had had your ticket?—No one; I went into the room to see what was going on, and I left the room.

21,566. Having had your ticket from the one side you went to the head-quarters of the other side?—I left the room and went down and voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

21,567. How much did you get from the Conservatives?—Nothing.

21,568. Your feelings are Liberal are they?—Yes.

21,569. Your tendencies are Liberal?—Yes.

21,738. Were you not on the committee?—No.

21,739. Did you get no other money given you at all?—No.

21,740. Only 5*l.*?—Only 5*l.*

21,741. That is all you got out of the election?—Yes.

H. Thornton.

HENRY THORNTON sworn and examined.

21,742. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A labourer.

21,743. What did you get for your vote?—I got 10*l.*

21,744. Were you on the committee?—Yes.

21,745. What did you get for that?—I got 4*l.*

21,746. Well?—And I got 5*l.*

21,747. What was the 5*l.* for?—I had to give it in.

21,748. For what?—George Clark said that he gave me 10*l.*, he never gave me a farthing.

21,749. Who gave you anything?—William Mashiter and John Dodgson, he put 10*l.* into his hand for me and William Mashiter gave me that, and he gave me 4*l.* after, and six weeks after he gave me 5*l.*

21,750. What are you then that you got so much money?—A labourer.

21,751. Why did you get that 5*l.* afterwards?—I cannot tell you.

21,752. Did you tell Mashiter that you had not had your money?—Yes.

21,753. But you had had it?—No.

21,754. When did you get this 10*l.* from Mashiter?—About 10 o'clock on the election day.

21,755. When did you get the 5*l.*?—Six weeks after the election.

21,756. Why did you get that 5*l.*?—It was due to me.

21,757. What for?—We joined.

21,758. Where did it come from?—I do not know. He gave me 5*l.*

21,759. (Mr. Barstow.) You may stand down, sir, but do not leave the court. We shall want you again when you are in a fit state to give evidence.

T. Tomlinson.

THOMAS TOMLINSON sworn and examined.

21,760. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Spring Garden Street.

21,761. What are you?—A clogger.

21,761*a*. How much money did you get for your vote at the last election?—10*l.* of the Liberals and 5*l.* of the others.

21,762. Which way did you vote after all?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

21,763. Because they paid you the most?—Yes.

21,764. Why did you get 5*l.* from the other side?—Because they would not give me 10*l.* I would not vote.

21,765. I suppose you consider yourself an ill-used individual that you did not get 20*l.*?—I do not know I am sure.

21,766. (Mr. Hill.) On which committee did you serve, the Conservative or the Liberal, or both?—Conservative.

21,767. Which party did you drink for?—Both.

21,768. (Mr. Newton.) What are your politics?—I was brought up a Liberal.

21,769. Do you care about it?—I care very little about it.

21,770. There is another Tomlinson?—He is dead, my brother.

J. Towers.

21,774. That is besides the other 10*l.*?—Yes, for assistance.

21,775. What else did you get?—2*l.* from Mr. Coupland besides.

21,776. For assistance?—Yes.

21,777. What else did you get?—Nothing.

21,778. Did you get nothing as a committee-man?—No.

21,779. Which side did you drink for?—I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

21,780. And you had Conservative drink?—Yes.

21,781. For a fortnight?—Yes, a glass now and then.

21,782. 22*l.* 10*s.* was all you got?—That was all I got.

21,783. What are you?—A whitesmith.

21,784. Are you a master whitesmith?—No.

21,785. A journeyman?—Yes.

21,786. Did you tell one of these gentlemen that you had not had the money when you got the second 10*l.*?—Mr. Clark has in his bill that he paid me 10*l.* which he did not, I got it through John Dodgson, it came through Mr. Clark's hand.

21,787. Did you tell Mr. Coupland that you had not

TWENTIETH DAY.

J. Towers.

19 Sept. 1866.

had the money?—Mr. Coupland and me three weeks previously had made arrangements for 10*l.*

21,788. Did you tell Mr. Coupland when he paid you that you had had the money already?—No.

21,789. Did you tell him that you had not?—No, I did not mention anything to him about it.

21,790. You did not enlighten him upon the subject that you had been already paid?—No.

21,791. Do you keep a public-house?—No.

21,792. (Mr. Barstow.) You did not at the election time?—No, I did not; I lodged at a public house.

21,793. (Mr. Hill.) Was it a Conservative public-house?—Yes, it was.

21,794. What was the name of it?—Woodhouse's. He married a daughter of mine.

J. Whiteside, jr.

JOHN WHITESIDE, junior, sworn and examined.

21,795. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A tailor.

21,796. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,797. Who paid it to you?—I did not exactly recognize the gentleman, but I think by all description it would be Mr. Clark.

21,798. Did you get anything else?—Nothing.

21,799. Were you on the committee?—No, not at all.

21,800. You got nothing whatever besides the 10*l.*?—No, nothing at all.

21,801. Did you receive any money to pay anybody else?—No.

T. Wilson.

THOMAS WILSON sworn and examined.

21,802. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A cotton spinner.

21,803. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,804. Who paid it?—Mr. Clark.

21,805. What else did you get?—2*l.* 5*s.*

21,806. For being on the committee?—Yes.

21,807. Did you get any drink besides?—Yes, as much as I could get hold of.

21,808. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing, only a sup of drink.

21,809. What wages did you earn at that time?—Somewhere about fifteen or sixteen shillings a week.

J. Ellershaw.

JAMES ELLERSHAW sworn and examined.

21,810. (Mr. Hill.) What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

21,811. On which side did you vote?—For the Liberals.

21,812. Who canvassed you?—No one.

21,813. Did any one canvass you for the Tories?—No, I took care they should not get me at all. I was that careful that I would not be seen with them.

21,814. Were you ashamed of your party?—No, not a bit of it.

21,815. Why would you not have anything to do with them?—They make a great fuss about you at election times, and then they do not know you, and so I thought I would exercise my own ideas independent of being canvassed.

21,816. You are a Liberal in politics?—Yes.

21,817. On principle?—Yes.

21,818. Have you always voted Liberal?—No, I voted once contrary.

21,819. Who was that for, for Mr. Saunders?—No.

21,820. For Mr. Gregson?—No.

21,821. For Mr. Garnett?—No, Mr. Ellis.

21,822. You voted Blue on that occasion?—I was Blue at that time.

21,823. Where do you live?—At the "Carpenters Arms," Bridge Lane.

21,824. Was not your house taken?—Yes.

21,825. By whom?—Knowles Allinson.

21,826. Have we examined you before?—No.

21,827. How much money did Knowles Allinson engage your house for?—There was nothing mentioned.

21,828. How much did you get?—6*l.*

21,829. From whom?—From Hadfield.

21,830. And how much drink was there paid for?—Well, there was a few shillings one night; Ben Long came in with some parties, but what they spent I do not know, there was no account.

21,831. Was that all the money that was spent at your house?—It was partly up to the election day; some was spent then, but there was no bill.

21,832. How much was spent on the election day?—I do not know, the mistress minded the house and I went upstairs.

21,833. What did you do upstairs?—I was trying to get and influence what voters I could to vote for Fenwick and Schneider.

21,834. Whrt influence did you bring to bear upon them?—I spent 1*l.* or 2*l.* of my own money.

21,835. You had that paid back to you I suppose?—No, I did not, and I don't want it.

21,836. How did you spend it upon them?—I "tret" them, both voters and non-voters.

21,837. At your own house?—No.

21,838. Where at then?—Anywhere where I met them; I went to any house; I was not particular.

21,839. Which committee were you of?—I was on no committee.

21,840. Were you on the committee at your own house?—I did not take any particular active part, there were parties came there frequently.

21,841. They came when they wanted something to drink?—Yes.

21,842. And they did not come for any committee purposes?—They might sometimes. They occupied the sitting room.

21,843. And when they came they would occupy it for getting drunk in it?—Yes.

21,844. And you got 6*l.*?—Yes.

21,845. But you did not get more than 3*l.* or 4*l.* besides that spent altogether at your house?—No, and I do not think there was that.

21,846. Who was the money spent by? Long?—Long. He was the only one that came previously up to the election morning, and then they came in by wholesale.

21,847. Who paid for those who came in by wholesale?—I do not know; I was not there, but my wife told me of it. When I went home I asked her how things had been going on, and she said, "very well." and I asked her whether there had been any rows, and she said no, all had been very quiet.

21,848. She took a pretty good sum I suppose, did she take 9*l.* or 10*l.*?—No, no such things; perhaps 4*l.* but I cannot say.

21,849. You were a sub-captain, were you not?—No.

R. Woodhouse.

ROBERT WOODHOUSE sworn and examined.

21,850. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am a poor beerhouse keeper, as Mr. Clark represented.

21,851. Is that a public-house or a licensed house?—A beerhouse.

21,852. What did you get for your vote?—I believe I got 10*l.*

21,853. Who paid it to you?—I think it came through Mr. Clark's hands.

21,854. Did yon get any money from anyone else?—Yes.

21,855. What did you get from anyone else?—I got 10*s.* from Mr. Booth about the 7th of the month.

21,856. Did you get any money for anyone else, that is to pay anyone else?—Yes, I got 30*s.*

21,857. Who was that for?—For staff men as they would term them; I can tell you their names if you require it.

21,858. They were not electors were they?—No.

21,859. Did you get anything else for yourself?—No.

21,860. Nothing?—No, not for my vote.

21,861. But did you get anything else for yourself?—Yes.

21,862. What was that?—I got 1*l.* after, I think I said 10*s.* at first, did I?

21,863. Yes.—I got 1*l.* after, after I got 2*l.* 10*s.*

21,864. That made 4*l.*?—Yes, and I sent a bill in after that and got 2*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*

21,865. That is altogether 6*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*?—Yes, and I got 6*l.* for my house.

21,866. And 10*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

21,867. What is the rent of your house?—15*l.*

21,868. And what is the sign of the house?—The "Painter's Arms."

21,869. In Penny Street?—Yes.

JOHN BALL sworn and examined. J. Ball.

21,870. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

21,871. You are a boatman?—Yes.

21,872. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,873. Who paid it to you?—John Speight.

21,874. What else did you get for your vote?—I got 30*s.* for committee money, that is all.

21,875. And you got a good deal to drink besides?—Yes.

21,876. Up and down?—Only on one side, the side that I voted on; I got nothing from the other side, not a farthing, nor a glass of ale either.

21,877. They did not pay you any money at all?—No, not one halfpenny.

EDWARD BOND sworn and examined. E. Bond.

21,878. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A tailor.

21,879. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,880. From whom?—John Dobson.

21,881. How much did you get for working on the committee?—I got 30*s.* before the election.

21,882. And how much after?—I got nothing after the election.

21,883. How much did you get altogether?—13*l.*

21,884. What was the other 1*l.* 10*s.* then?—I got 10*s.* from Mr. Tilly's office.

21,885. What was that for?—At least 1*l.* from Mr. Tilly's.

21,886. What did you get that 1*l.* from Mr. Tilly's for?—I do not know what it was for.

21,887. Did you not tell him what it was for?—I would have taken as much again if they would have given it to me.

21,488. What did they give it to you for?—I do not know.

21,889. Was it for your good looks?—Very likely.

21,890. Did not Mr. Tilly give you any reason why he gave it to you?—It was not Mr. Tilly.

21,891. Who was it then?—It was a clerk in the office.

21,892. And you do not know what that 1*l.* was given to you for?—No.

21,893. Did you go to Mr. Tilley's office for legal advice?—No, I went to the "Queen's Hotel," and they gave me a paper to go to Mr. Tilley's office for it.

21,894. What was it for?—I do not know; I delivered the paper in and got the money.

21,895. What did you tell the people who gave you the paper that you wanted the money for?—Sir?

21,896. Do you not know what you got it for?—No, unless it was for wages for being off work.

21,897. That is almost too ridiculous to mention. Then you got 13*l.* for your vote, in fact, altogether, and you drew 1*l.* from the enemy, Mr. Tilly?—Yes.

21,898. But they knew that you had voted for the other side?—No, I had not voted at all; I did not draw but 10*l.* till after I had voted.

21,899. But when you got the 1*l.* from Tilly had you voted then?—That was on the Saturday before the election.

21,900. That was under a promise to vote?—I did not promise at all.

21,901. But you led them to believe that you would vote for them?—I do not know.

WILLIAM FOX sworn and examined. W. Fox.

21,902. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you get for your vote?—5*l.*

21,903. Who gave it to you?—I cannot say, I do not know who the man was who gave it to me.

21,904. Who gave you the ticket?—I had not a ticket; Mr. Lawson told me to go into the room.

21,905. What are you?—A farmer.

21,906. How many acres do you farm?—About 150.

21,907. What rent do you pay?—220*l.*

21,908. Were you on any committee?—No.

21,909. Did you get any money to pay to anyone else?—No, none whatever.

JOSEPH FOX sworn and examined. J. Fox.

21,910. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A farmer.

21,911. Did you live with your father, William Fox?—No.

21,912. Your's is a separate farm?—Yes.

21,913. Of how many acres?—111 statute acres.

21,914. What rent do you pay?—140*l.* a year.

21,915. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,916. Who paid it to you?—Dodgson paid it me, but it came through Mr. Clark.

21,917. Should you have voted if you had not had the 10*l.*?—Yes.

21,918. Which way should you have voted?—For Lawrence.

21,919. Did you get anything more?—No.

21,920. Did you serve on any committee?—No.

21,921. Did you get any beer?—No, I did not get a drop beyond what I paid for, and I did not get much of that either.

JOHN FOX sworn and examined. J. Fox.

21,922. (Mr. Hill.) What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,923. From whom did you get it?—Through Mr. Clark.

21,924. What else did you get?—Nothing.

21,925. Were you not on any committee?—No.

21,926. Do you hold a farm?—No.

21,927. Do you live with your father?—Yes.

TWENTIETH DAY.

T. Fox.

19 Sept. 1866.

Thomas Fox sworn and examined.

21,928. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

21,929. Who paid it to you?—I got it through Mr. Clark.

21,930. What are you?—I live with my father.

21,931. Which Fox is your father?—William Fox.

21,932. You live on the farm?—Yes.

21,933. Was that 10*l.* all that you got?—Yes.

J. Whormby.

John Whormby sworn and examined.

21,934. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—An auctioneer and farmer.

21,935. What do you know about the election of 1865; were you a sub-captain?—Well, I was captain of the conveyances, that is all.

21,936. Where at?—At Warton.

21,937. You arranged all that?—Yes.

21,938. Did you receive any money from anybody?—Yes.

21,939. How much?—20*l.*

21,940. From whom did you receive it?—From George Danson, auctioneer.

21,941. Did you receive any more money?—No.

21,942. When was this money received?—Previous to the election, I do not know exactly the date.

21,943. How did you pay it away?—Well, I paid some for the horses' hay and corn.

21,944. Did you keep any account?—No.

21,945. Just tell us how you paid it away?—I kept the horses in hay and corn, and the men with plenty to eat and drink. There were three or four horses.

21,946. Had you more than one horse to keep for this 20*l.*?—I kept them four, but there were other matters besides that.

21,947. What else was there?—There were their beds as well.

21,948. Do you mean for the men to sleep on or the horses?—For both.

21,949. For how many nights?—Only one night.

21,950. 20*l.*?—Yes; I had five days canvassing, and there were a few drink shops.

21,951. How many days were you engaged?—Four or five, I think.

21,952. You say there were four horses; how much do you put them at?—I would say a couple of pounds.

21,953. You had three days canvassing; how much do you make that?—2*l.* a day. I paid at one inn 4*l.* 18*s.* 7*d.*

21,954. What was the inn at which you paid that?—The "Red Lion" at Warton.

21,955. Did you pay anything more for drink?—Yes, 2*l.* 2*s.* at Mrs. Carter's, at Bolton-le-Sands, and 5*s.* at the "Black Bull."

21,956. Anything more?—There are many more that I do not remember.

21,957. Give me one more that you do remember?—There is 3*l.* at Nether Kellet; that is not paid yet.

21,958. Give me one that you remember?—I shall have that to pay.

21,959. Give me one that you can remember that is paid?—Them that I have given you are paid.

21,960. Have you given me all that you paid?—Yes, with the exception of going round canvassing; there were many scores.

21,961. 7*l.* 5*s.* 7*d.* you have accounted for; I suppose the balance would be for your assistance?—What I have given you must come to more than that, I think; I know that I was out of pocket when I had got the 20*l.*

21,962. (Mr. Hill.) There is 12*l.* 13*s.* that you have not accounted for yet?—I could easily account for it. I paid at all the public-houses we went to. We went through Warton, both the Kellets, Carnforth, and other places.

21,963. Tell us how much you paid?—I cannot, but I know I was money out of pocket.

21,964. You have forgotten to tell us what you paid for toll bars?—I have; I had the toll bars to pay and I gave Lawrence Lawrence, of Nether Kellet, 1*l.* 3*s.* and I gave the men at Kellet 5*s.* each; I do not know how many of them there were.

21,965. Can you tell us the name of any one man to whom you gave 5*s.*?—Moses Mawson, and Lawrence Lawrence 1*l.* 3*s.*

21,966. Is Moses Mawson here, if he is, let him stand up (the person referred to stands up in Court.) (The witness.) That is not him; it is the same name too, he is a labourer, at Nether Kellet.

21,967. He is not a voter, perhaps, is he?—I do not know whether he is or not.

J. Foxcroft.

John Foxcroft sworn and examined.

21,968. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your house?—The "Fox and Goose."

21,969. Where is that?—In Queen Street.

21,970. What monies did you receive at the last election?—5*l.*

21,971. From whom did you receive it?—3*l.* from Mr. Tilly and 2*l.* from John Bleasdale.

21,972. What else did you receive?—Nothing.

21,973. What was the 5*l.* for?—3*l.* for the house, and 2*l.* for refreshments.

21,974. Are you a voter?—No.

R. Curwen.

Robert Curwen sworn and examined.

21,975. (Mr. Newton.) You keep the "St. George's Tavern" on the Quay?—Yes.

21,976. What did you get at the last election?—22*l.*

21,977. Altogether?—Yes.

21,978. How much did you get for your house?—Nothing.

21,979. Had you not a committee there?—No.

21,980. No one came there?—They came for eating and drinking.

21,981. You had nothing except your bill?—That was all. There was perhaps between 2*l.* and 3*l.* spent before.

21,982. Are you a voter?—No.

21,983. Bill and expenses about 25*l.*?—Yes.

21,984. Who came there drinking?—Several people. I should think there might be 100 in the house one night.

21,985. Who was with them?—Mr. Hadfield was one, and there was Mr. Cole with them.

21,986. Did you ever observe them do anything except eat and drink?—No, nothing.

21,987. (Mr. Hill.) They did not discuss politics? I do not know, I am sure; I was too busy myself.

21,988. Who paid your bill?—Mr. Hadfield.

J. Sumner.

James Sumner sworn and examined.

21,989. (Mr. Newton.) What public-house do you keep?—None.

21,990. What are you?—A grocer.

21,991. Where do you live?—In St. Nicholas' Street.

21,992. What are your politics, Blue or Yellow?—Blue.

21,993. What money did you receive for the election?—8*l.*

21,994. From whom?—Mr. Coupland.

21,995. Any more?—15*s.*

21,996. From whom?—William Harrison the tinman.

21,997. Anything more?—No.

21,998. No committee money?—That was committee money.

21,999. 15*s.*?—Yes.

22,000. What was the 8*l.* for?—I suppose for services.

22,001. (Mr. Hill.) Services at the poll?—Yes.

22,002. Are you in a pretty good way of business as a grocer?—Not very, I think.

22,003. You live in a pretty good house?—Yes.

22,004. What rental do you pay?—16*l.*

RICHARD BAINES sworn and examined.

R. Baines.

22,005. (Mr. Hill.) You keep a beer-house in Bridge Lane?—Yes.

22,006. What is the name of your house?—The "Hatters' Arms."

22,007. Was your house taken at the last election?—Yes.

22,008. By which side?—Mr. Welch's side.

22,009. What did Mr. Welch's side give you for your house?—They gave me 5*l.*

22,010. Yours is a beer-house?—Yes.

22,011. Did Welch pay you?—He sent it down by his man.

22,012. By Hutchinson?—Yes.

22,013. Had you any bill as well?—About 23*s.*

22,014. What did they spend at your house during the election?—Nothing.

22,015. Did not the captains bring anybody to drink?—No, never.

22016. Did you not have a single shilling spent there?—Only what I tell you.

22,017. Only 6*l.* 3*s.*?—Yes.

22,018. Are you a voter?—Yes.

22,019. Which way did you vote?—Fenwick and Schneider.

22,020. According to the way you were retained?—Yes.

22,021. Is that all you have to tell us?—Yes.

22,022. Have you got any sons on the register?—No.

22,023. Did you not have any money from Mr. Moser?—Yes, Mr. Moser paid me that 1*l.* 3*s.*; and the 5*l.* came from Mr. Welch.

22,024. You got nothing else?—No. That is all I got, every halfpenny.

ELIZABETH HODGSON sworn and examined.

E. Hodgson.

22,025. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your house?—The "Blue Anchor," on the Quay.

22,026. Was your house taken at the last election?—Yes.

22,027. By whom?—Mr. Moser.

22,028. What did he pay you for it?—He promised 5*l.* for it, and paid me 3*l.*

22,029. How did that come about?—I do not know.

22,030. Had you a husband at that time living?—No, it was a brother of mine keeping it, and he is dead about five months ago.

22,031. Was your brother a voter?—No.

22,032. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get much of a bill paid?—15*l.*

22,033. Besides the 3*l.*?—No, with the 3*l.* included.

JAMES FARRADAY sworn and examined.

J. Farraday.

22,034. (Mr. Newton.) You keep the "Spink Bull," in Morecambe?—Yes.

22,035. What is the meaning of the "Spink Bull"?—I do not know. It is the name of the house.

22,036. You keep a public-house, at all events?—Yes.

22,037. Who came and hired the "Spink Bull?—Knowles Allinson."

22,038. What did he give you for the "Spink Bull?"—I was not at home at the time he took the house. He took it of my missus for 5*l.* I happened to be from home at the time. It was hay time, and she told me she had let the house for a committee-room, and they were to give her 5*l.* for it.

22,039. Are you a voter?—No, and never was.

22,040. That is the reason they gave you only 5*l.* for your house?—They gave me 5*l.*

22,041. Was there a good bill?—No, there was nothing.

22,042-3. Nothing besides?—No. There was about half-a-crown spent, that is all.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Thursday, 20th September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

Mr. HILL.

GEORGE LUND recalled and further examined.

22,044. (Mr. Barstow.) We understand that you wish to make some correction of your evidence?—Yes, I wish to correct a statement that I made on Tuesday. I got 5*l.* of Hutchinson more than I gave account of.

22,045. Did you receive that at the same time as you received the 3*l.* 15*s.* that you spoke of?—Yes.

22,046. For your vote?—For the house.

22,047. How came you to tell us that you received 3*l.* 15*s.*, when you had in fact received 8*l.* 15*s.*?—That 3*l.* 15*s.* was spent on the election day in refreshments and drink, and there was 5*l.* besides.

22,048. How came you not to tell us before that you had had the 5*l.*?—Because it quite slipped my memory.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

T. Bindloss.

19 Sept. 1866.

THOMAS BINDLOSS sworn and examined.

22,049. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

20,050. What did they pay you for your vote?—They gave me two sovereigns, you know. I never asked any more, and I did not want any more.

22,051. Who gave those two sovereigns to you?—Mr. Whiteside—William Whiteside.

G. Blezard.

GEORGE BLEZARD is called but does not answer.

(Mr. Cross.) He is in Manchester.

22,052. (Mr. Barstow, to Mr. Cross.) Did you pay him?—Yes.

22,053. How much did you pay him?—2*l.*

22,054. Was that in the presence of anyone?—Mr. Hagart, I believe, was with me.

22,055. Was he one of these old men in the hospital?—No, a young man.

22,056. How came he to get so little?—He promised to come on the day of the poll; whether he came or not I do not know. I never saw him.

22,057. At all events he got 2*l.*?—He got 2*l.*

22,058. (Mr. Hill.) And he voted for Lawrence?—He did.

W. Cumpsty.

WILLIAM CUMPSTY sworn and examined.

22,059. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A tailor.

22,060. On Castle Hill?—Yes.

22,061. You got some money at the last election?—Yes.

22,062. How much?—12*l.*

20,063. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Cross, through Mr. Mills.

22,064. He was a sort of stakeholder?—Yes.

22,065. I suppose they could not trust you?—I do not know as to that.

22,066. You could not trust them, perhaps. I see there are five or six of your family on the register, There are five besides yourself?—They are nothing to me.

22,067. They are no relations of yours?—No, none whatever.

22,068. Do you mean that none of them are related to you at all?—Not that I know of, not at all.

22,069. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

22,070. Do you know a man of your name, a tailor, of Leonard Gate?—Yes, of the same name as myself.

22,071. He is in no way related to you; you only know that there is such a man?—That is all.

22,072. Have you heard who paid him?—No, I have not.

22,073. (Mr. Hill.) Were you not on a committee?—No, I was not.

22,074. Did you get nothing besides the 12*l.*?—That is all.

W. Fawcett.

WILLIAM FAWCETT sworn and examined.

22,075. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A tailor.

22,076. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,077. What did they give you for your services?—1*l.* 15*s.*

22,078. And how much did they give you for your vote?—10*l.*

22,079. Who paid you?—Mr. Hodgson, of China Lane.

22,080. That was for services and committee work, I suppose?—Yes.

22,081. Were you paid anything more?—No.

C. Fawcett.

CHRISTOPHER FAWCETT sworn and examined.

22,082. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—An attorney's clerk; I am marked as a book-keeper here, but I am not; I am an attorney's clerk.

22,083. To whom are you clerk?—At present I am out of a situation.

22,084. Whose clerk were you at the time of the election?—I was out of work then.

22,085. What did you get for your vote?—I got 30*s.* for my week's wages. I got nothing for my vote. I believe that my mother got 5*l.*, but I did not see it paid.

22,086. Are you a brother of the poor man who died?—No, I am brother to the last witness.

22,087. Your mother, you say, got 5*l.*?—Yes, I believe she did.

20,088. But she gave you part of it, did she not?—No, I do not recollect it; I was out of work and she was keeping me, and I got it in that way; the 30*s.* I got myself.

22,089. What work did you do?—I do not know that I did any work.

22,090. That is a very honest way of putting it. Who paid you?—Hodgson paid me the 30*s.*

22,091. You voted for Lawrence?—I voted for Lawrence and Fenwick.

22,092. That accounts for your getting 5*l.* only instead of 10*l.*?—I did not get anything from the Yellow side.

22,093. But you only got the price of a split vote?—No.

J. Gardner.

JAMES GARDNER is called but does not answer.

22,094. (Mr. Barstow, to Mr. Cross.) Who paid him?—I paid him.

22,095. Who was present when you paid him?—Mr. Hagart.

22,096. 10*l.*?—Yes.

T. Foster.

THOMAS FOSTER is called but does not answer.

(Mr. Cross.) He is away.

22,097. (Mr. Barstow, to Mr. Cross.) What did you pay him?—12*l.*

22,098. Who was present?—Mr. Hagart.

22,099. When did you last see him?—I saw him about a week ago.

22,100. (Mr. Hill.) Did he get anything for being on the committee?—I believe he did.

22,101. Do you know how much he got?—3*l.* or 4*l.* I gave you a statement before.

22,102. (Mr. Newton.) He was a sub-captain, was he?—Yes.

22,103. He got 6*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.*?—That would be the amount.

22,104. Then in fact he got altogether 18*l.*?—Yes.

EDMUND GARNETT sworn and examined. E. Garnett.

22,105. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you get for your vote at the last election?—4*l.*

22,106. Who paid you?—John Cross.

22,107. Did you get anything besides?—No.

22,108. You were not on the committee?—No.

22,109. You voted for Mr. Lawrence?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,110. (Mr. Hill.) You are a coal dealer?—Yes, I have been a coal dealer, but I am not in business at present; I am getting too old for it.

22,111. You are living on your means?—I am close on 80.

22,112. You are living on your own means?—Yes.

WILLIAM HARRISON sworn and examined. W. Harrison.

22,113. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Penny's Hospital.

22,114. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,115. What did you get for your vote?—I got 2*l.* two days after the election, but I was not aware of it.

22,116. How do mean you were not aware of it?—I never asked a farthing in my life.

22,117. Was that the first time that you ever touched money for a vote?—Yes.

22,118. Was that all that you got?—That was all I got.

22,119. Who gave it to you?—James Wilson, the grocer.

22,120. How had you always voted before?—The first time I voted for Cawthorne in 1818, and every time as Greene came I voted for him.

22,121. Who came to you this time about your vote?—Nobody; I went myself to the gentleman.

22,122. Who did you go to?—I went to Mr. Lawrence.

22,123. You went and voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

22,124. Without being asked to do so?—Yes.

22,125. And they sent you a present of 2*l.* afterwards?—Yes.

22,126. How long after the election was that?—The second day I think.

22,127. Did they give it to you yourself, or did they give it to somebody else for you?—They gave it to me.

22,128. What did they tell you it was for?—They said there was 2*l.* for me for voting, and I did not want to take it.

22,129. Did you ever promise to vote before? Did anyone come to you about your vote?—I believe there was some gentlemen came to me on the opposite party, but I told them that I could not vote for them.

22,130. They never told you that if you voted for Lawrence you should have some money?—No, they never came near me to ask me, only once. They knew pretty well that I should not vote for them.

22,131. Was this the first time that you ever got any money?—Yes.

WILLIAM HARRISON sworn and examined. W. Harrison.

22,132. (Mr. Hill.) What did you get for your vote?—13*l.* 10*s.*

22,133. Who paid you?—Thomas Foster.

22,134. What other money did you get, or did you get any other money at all?—No.

22,135. From neither side?—No.

22,136. And you voted for Lawrence?—Yes, that that is the whole I got.

22,185. Was 13*l.* all he got?—Yes.

22,186. You only got 29*l.* between you?—Well, that was not so much.

22,187. Did you pay anybody else besides?—No, I did not.

22,188. There are a great many other Kitchens?—Yes, there are some more.

22,189. And cookery going on in all of them, I suppose?—No, I think it was going on down below stairs.

R. Bigg.

RICHARD RIGG sworn and examined.

22,190. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

22,191. And you got something after?—I got 2*l.* after I voted, and no more.

22,192. From Wilson?—Yes.

22,193. That is all you got?—Yes, that is all I got.

22,194. Have you always voted Blue?—I voted for Mr. Green as long as he was a member.

22,195. (Mr. Hill.) Did anybody promise you anything for your vote before the election?—Never such a thing.

22,196. Would you have agreed to vote Yellow if they had offered you money?—I should not.

T. B. Rowe.

THOMAS BENNISON ROWE sworn and examined.

22,197. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A painter.

22,198. How did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence.

22,199. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

22,200. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—That was including for being on the working committee as well.

22,201. Did you get nothing for your services?—No.

22,202. Nothing for drink?—No.

22,203. You only got 10*l.*?—Yes, that is all.

J. Satterthwaite.

JOHN SATTERTHWAITE sworn and examined.

22,204. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

22,205. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

22,208. Anything besides?—No.

22,209. (Mr. Barstow.) You were paid by Mr. Hatch?—Yes.

22,210. (Mr. Hill.) You did not pay anybody?—No.

J. Simpson.

JOHN SIMPSON sworn and examined.

22,211. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you vote for Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

22,212. What did you get?—10*l.*

22,213. Who paid it to you?—James Wilson, grocer.

22,214. Did you get nothing for being on the committee?—Yes.

22,215. How much?—6*l.* from George Danson.

22,216. You got 16*l.* in all?—Yes.

22,217. That is pretty good; did you get nothing more?—No.

22,218. Nothing for drink?—No drink.

22,219. Did you keep the 6*l.* for yourself?—Yes.

W. Simpson.

WILLIAM SIMPSON is called but does not answer.

22,220. (Mr. Barstow, to the witness.) Do you know anything of John Simpson?—No,

22,221. Is he any relation of yours?—No.

THOMAS RAMSDEN THOMPSON sworn and examined. T. R. Thompson.

22,222. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote?—For Lawrence.

22,223. What did you get for your vote?—5*l.* 10*s.*

22,224. What did you get for your services?—Nothing.

22,225. Were you not on the committee?—I got 10*s.* from John Cross.

22,226. For being on the committee?—Yes!

22,227. You got 6*l.* altogether?—Yes.

22,228. (Mr. Barstow.) You were paid by Wilson?—Yes, James Wilson, grocer.

CHRISTOPHER TOWERS sworn and examined. C. Towers.

22,232. What did you get for your work on the committee?—30*s.*

22,233. Anything else besides?—I got a sovereign off John Bleasdale, butcher.

22,234. Did you get anything else?—No, that is all.

22,235. What did John Bleasdale the butcher give you 1*l.* for?—For to spend for all I know; to treat myself with.

22,236. You got 12*l.* 10*s.* altogether?—Yes.

22,237. (Mr. Newton.) John Bleasdale is on the other side?—Yes.

22,238. He gave it to you for the other side?—Yes.

22,239. He wanted you to vote Yellow?—Yes, I daresay he did.

RICHARD WILLAN sworn and examined. R. Willan.

22,240. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

22,241. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

22,242. What money did you receive about the election time?—3*l.*

22,243. Who gave you that?—Mr. Cross.

22,244. You say you got nothing for your vote; what did you get it for?—For services at the last election; for Saunders's and this one, for the time that I lost.

22,245. A sort of payment of arrears?—Yes, I thought for losing my time that it was very little.

22,246. You would not vote without it, I suppose?—Yes, I would. I did not want it.

22,247. (Mr. Hill.) What time did you spend over it?—It was about three days this election and three days the last.

22,248. (Mr. Barstow.) That is 10*s.* a day you were paid?—I suppose it would be.

22,249. What is your usual work?—Upholsterer.

22,250. What can you earn?—About 26*s.* a week.

22,251. You told them you would not vote unless they paid up the arrears?—I told them I would not vote, and I would not have voted if I had not promised Mr. Lawrence at all.

22,252. You would not have voted this election unless they paid you the arrears of the last?—Yes, I would.

22,253. What made them pay the arrears of the last?—I suppose they thought it was right. There is Mr. Cross there.

(Mr. Cross.) I have no recollection about it.

22,254. (Mr. Hill to the witness.) Did you receive that money before you voted?—Yes, the night before.

JOHN BAINBRIDGE sworn and examined. J. Bainbridge.

22,255. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,256. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

22,257. What are you?—I am not in any business at present.

22,258. You are a gentleman living on your own means, and you got 10*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

22,259. What did you get for your services?—Nothing at all.

22,260. No attendance on committees?—I was on the committee, but I did not get anything. I made a mistake in not getting that. I see that many of them got it.

22,261. I think you might as well have come in for that?—Yes, I might, but I am too late now I suppose.

22,262. You live in a 14*l.* house?—No, I do not.

22,263. You are a householder?—Yes, the house is only valued at 9*l.* 10*s.*, and I pay 11*l.*

22,264. (Mr. Barstow.) You are living on your own means?—I am living on what I have, and on my friends as well. I have something allowed me from my friends.

JOHN EARNSHAW sworn and examined. J. Earnshaw.

22,265. (Mr. Hill.) You are a householder?—Yes.

22,266. What is the rental of your house?—About 13*l.*

22,268. What did you receive for your vote?—12*l.*

22,269. From whom?—Mr. Holden's clerk.

22,270. What did you get for committee work?—Nothing.

22,271. Is 12*l.* all you got?—Yes.

22,272. Did you not get any more money at all?—No.

JAMES ELLERSHAW recalled and further examined. J. Ellershaw.

22,273. (Mr. Barstow.) You keep some public-house?—No, I am a hosier.

22,274. Have you been examined before?—Yes, last Saturday.

22,275. You told us what you got for your vote?—I got it for my services. I got 6*l.*, and I spent 1*l.* 10*s.* of it.

22,276. You got 2*l.* from Mr. Cross?—Yes.

22,277. From whom did you get the rest?—John L. Bradshaw.

22,278. You got 6*l.*?—Yes.

22,279. And nothing more?—No.

22,280. And you voted Lawrence?—Yes.

THOMAS GARNETT is called but does not answer. T. Garnett.

22,281. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Cross.) Do you know anything of Garnett?—No, I believe he is away in Preston.

22,282. Did you pay him?—Yes, I did; and he also paid some others. He paid Watson and Kew.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

T. Garnett.

19 Sept. 1866.

22,283. You paid Garnett yourself?—Yes.
22,284. How much ?—6*l.*
22,285. What else did he get?—I think he got about 3*l.* besides.
22,286. Who paid him the other 3*l.* ?—I did.
22,287. He got 9*l.* altogether ?—Yes.
22,288. Do you know where he is at Preston ?—He went down to Fleetwood I think. His address might be got at Fleetwood from Mr. Ward, of the Fylde Timber Company.

T. Gill.

THOMAS GILL sworn and examined.

22,289. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.
22,290. What did you get for your vote ?—5*l.*
22,291. Nothing else ?—5*s.* before the election.
22,292. Nothing more than that ?—No.
22,293. Who paid you ?—Mr. Cross.
22,294. (Mr. Hill.) What is the rental of your house ?—14*l.*

J. Hewitson.

JAMES HEWITSON sworn and examined.

22,295. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A wheelwright.

22,296. What did you get for your vote ?—My wife got 8*l.* from a stranger.

22,297. What did you get for expenses on committee ?—Nothing at all.
22,298. Did you only get 8*l.* altogether at the election ?—Yes, altogether 8*l.*
22,299. You voted Lawrence ?—Yes.

E. Hoggarth

EDWARD HOGGARTH sworn and examined.

22,300. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote ?—Lawrence and Fenwick.
22,301. What did you get for your vote ?—4*l.*
22,302. From which of them did you get the 4*l.* ?—From Lawrence's party.
22,303. What did you get from Fenwick ?—Nothing.
22,304. How came you to make a split of it ?—Well, I don't know in particular.
22,305. Did they not offer you enough for a plumper ?—I did not want anything. John McCann brought 5*l.* to my house, and I told him I did not want anything, and he said, "The money is there; you might as well have it." I then offered him 3*l.* back, but he would not take it, but took 1*l.*, and left me 4*l.*
22,306. That was before you voted ?—Yes.
22,307. They almost compelled you to take it ?—Yes. Mr. Cross also asked me before the election if I wanted anything, and I told him I did not, but after all the money came.
22,308. (To Mr. Cross.) Is that so ?—McCann came to me for the money. I have no recollection of what he states.
22,309. Had you any conversation with him about voting ?—I saw him many times.
22,310. Was the subject of money named between you ?—I do not think it was.
22,311. He did not press you to take the money back ?—Not at all. I should have been glad to receive it.
22,312. (To the witness.) I think you are making out too good a story for yourself?—It is true.
(Mr. Cross.) I paid McCann 5*l.* for him.
22,313. (Mr. Hill, to the witness.) Do you say that you only got 4*l.* ?—Yes.
22,314. Are you certain of it ?—Yes.
22,315. McCann is coming ?—I don't care. I am quite ready to meet him.
22,316. What is the rent of your house ?—10*l.*
22,317. What are you ?—A coal agent.
22,318. A pretty good business, is it ?—Pretty fair.

E. Johnson.

EDWARD JOHNSON sworn and examined.

22,319. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.
22,320. What are you ?—A beerhouse keeper.
22,321. Have you been examined before ?—No.
22,322. What did you get at the last election ?—10*l.*
22,323. Anything else ?—No.
22,324. Nothing for the use of the house ?—It was for the use of the house and vote as well.
22,325. Is that all that you got ?—Yes.
22,326. Who paid you ?—Mr. Cross.
22,327. (Mr. Hill.) Which did they use the most, your house or your vote; did they not spend some money in your house ?—Yes.
22,328. How much was spent in your house ?—I cannot tell just that.
22,329. 10*l.* or 20*l.* ?—Yes, I should think I got that.
22,330. How much did you send in a bill for ?—I sent in three or four different bills.
22,331. How much was it altogether ?—I don't just right know.
22,332. Would the bills altogether come to 30*l.* ?—No, they would not.
22,333. 25*l.* ?—They might come to 20*l.* I would not say more.
22,334. What is the sign of your public-house ?—The "Moulders' Arms."
22,335. Bills paid by captains about 20*l.* ?—I would not say just what it was.
22,336. (Mr. Barstow.) Who paid you these bills ?—Mr. Stanton paid a deal of them.
22,337. Did he pay them over night ?—No, not just over night.
22,338. (Mr. Hill.) Have you anything more to tell us ?—No.
22,339. Did you pay anybody ?—No.
22,340. Did not your wife get a dress or a bonnet, a blue bonnet, or anything of that sort ?—No.

T. Miller.

THOMAS MILLER sworn and examined.

22,341. (Mr. Newton.) What is your business ?—A painter.

22,342. How did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

20,343. For doing so what did you get ?—12*l.*

20,344. Who paid you ?—Mr. John Hatch.

22,345. What did you get for committee work ?—Nothing.
22,346. What did you get for assistance ?—Nothing. I never did anything.
22,347. You are the first man I have heard say that ?—No, I never interfered at all about it.
22,348. (Mr. Barstow.) Were you not paid by Mr. Wilson ?—No, I was paid by Mr. John Hatch, joiner.

FRANCIS RICHMOND sworn and examined.

22,349. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

22,350. What did you get for your vote?—I got 7*l.*

22,351. What did you get for committee work?—That was altogether.

22,352. You got nothing more than 7*l.*?—No.

22,353. What are you?—A publican.

22,354. What inn do you keep?—The "White Hart."

22,355. What did you get for your house?—I got that 7*l.* for all together.

22,356. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you been examined before?—No.

22,357. (Mr. Hill.) How much did they spend at your house?—I cannot tell you that.

22,358. 10*l.* or 20*l.*?—No, not so much.

22,359. 10*l.*?—Not so much as that.

22,360. 5*l.*?—I really cannot tell you. They paid for drink as it went in.

22,361. Did you send any bills in?—No.

22,362. They spent money at your house?—Yes.

22,363. You can give me an amount in round numbers, whether it was a 5*l.* note they spent there or not?—I cannot, indeed.

22,364. Did you not serve out the drink?—The missus chiefly I think.

22,365. Was the election week a good week for you?—Yes, pretty fair.

22,366. What is your average per week for drink sold?—I cannot tell you that; I do not know, indeed.

22,367. You do not seem to know much about your own business. I suppose the "missus" looks after it. Are you engaged in any other trade?—No.

22,368. Then you ought to know something about it?—I cannot tell you any more.

RICHARD WOODHOUSE sworn and examined.

R. Woodhouse.

22,369. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A tea-dealer and grocer.

22,370. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

22,371. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

22,372. What did you get at all?—5*l.*

22,373. It was not for your vote?—No.

22,374. What was it for?—For services rendered in favour of Mr. Lawrence.

22,375. I do not doubt that they were very considerable?—5*l.* is all I got.

22,376. (Mr. Hill.) What did you get for other services?—Nothing.

22,377. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you get anything else besides 5*l.*?—No.

22,378. Nothing at all?—No.

22,379. You were not on the committee?—No.

22,380. (Mr. Hill.) What were your services?—You see I go into the country regularly, and I endeavoured all I could in my power to persuade men to vote.

22,381. Did you put one of Mr. Lawrence's cards in with the grocery—"Lawrence for ever"—amongst the packages of tea?—I persuaded all I could.

JAMES CALVERT sworn and examined.

J. Calvert

22,382. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A cordwainer by trade.

22,383. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

20,384. What did they give you?—15*l.*

22,385. Did you get anything besides?—5*s.* or 6*s.* before the election.

22,386. What was that for?—I was not very well. It was to get some nourishment with.

22,387. 15*l.* for your vote, and 5*s.* or 6*s.* because you were not very well?—Yes.

22,388. Did you get anything after that?—No.

22,389. Nothing?—No.

22,390. Were you very well after the election?—No, I was very poorly a long while.

22,391. Why did they not give you 5*s.* after the election?—I cannot tell you.

22,392. (Mr. Newton.) What time in the day did they give you the 15*l.*?—It would be before dinner.

22,393. Prices were high then. How did you come to get so much as 15*l.*?—I cannot tell.

22,394. Did you ask for it. Did you say you would not vote unless you got it?—I cannot say exactly.

22,395. Yes, you can, if you choose to say?—He gave it to me.

22,396. I know he gave it to you, but did you say you would not vote unless you got 15*l.*?—No, I did not say that.

22,397. What did you say?—I should like 15*l.*

22,398. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick.

JOHN GARDNER sworn and examined.

J. Gardner.

22,399. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22.400. What did you get for doing so?—8*l.*

22.401. What else did you get?—5*s.* on the nomination day.

22,402. Is that all?—Yes.

22,403. Was that because you were assisting?—Yes.

22,404. Did you not assist on the polling day as well?—I assisted as well as the rest.

22,405. You got more than 5*s.*, come?—No, I did not get anything more.

22,406. 8*l.* 5*s.* altogether?—Yes.

23,407. Who paid you?—Bartholomew Sharples paid me 8*l.*, and a man of the name of Whittaker paid me 5*s.*

22,408. (To Mr. Coupland.) How is that?—It does not answer at all. Sharples had a voucher for 10*l.* which I gave him myself, and Mr. Taylor in his list states that he has paid 10*l.* to him; therefore Sharples received 10*l.* beyond question, and has handed this man 8*l.* Here is the voucher (handing it to the Commissioners), and here is Mr. Taylor's own mark on the register, "10*l.*"

22,409. He has ticked it off?—Yes.

22,410. (To the witness.) Bartholomew Sharples owes you 2*l.* He did not tell you he got 10*l.* for you?—No, he said I was to be satisfied with 8*l.*

WILLIAM HARRISON is called but does not answer.

W. Harrison.

22,411. (Mr. Barstow, to Mr. Coupland.) Have you a voucher for William Harrison, of China Lane, nail maker?—No, I have not.

22,412. How does that come to appear in your list?—From Mr. Taylor's list. I may tell you when Mr. Taylor left he gave me the book with the vouchers in it. I do not think he remembers it. He had his own list as well, which he has left with me, and it is all marked with his own figures. There are several for which I have not got vouchers, and that is one of them.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

19 Sept. 1866.

T. Harrison.

THOMAS HARRISON sworn and examined.

22,413. (Mr. Newton.) You live at Leonard Gate, and are a book-keeper?—Yes.

22,414. How did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

22,415. What did you get for doing it?—10*l.*

22,416. What else did you get?—1*l.* 10*s.* of George Danson.

22,417. What for?—For work on Mr. Coupland's committee.

22,418. Was that all you got?—No, I got 10*s.* from William Harrison.

22,419. (Mr. Hill.) Was that all you got?—Yes.

22,420. Have you got any brothers?—Yes.

22,421. What did they get?—I cannot say. I do not know.

22,422. Is James Harrison your brother?—No.

22,423. Which are your brothers of those who are on the register?—William is.

22,424. Do you know what he got?—He is court now to speak for himself.

22,425. What other brother have you got?—John.

22,426. What did John get?—I cannot say.

22,427. Is he in court?—I do not know. I think not.

22,428. (Mr. Newton.) What did he get for his vote?—I cannot tell.

22,429. Yes, you can.—No, I cannot.

22,430. (Mr. Hill.) Who paid him?—I do not know.

22,431. He was a captain for Lawrence, was he not?—No; not that I am aware of.

22,432. You do not seem to know much about him; are you on friendly terms with him?—Yes.

22,433. And have you never discussed with him what you each got at the election?—No.

W. Harrison.

WILLIAM HARRISON sworn and examined.

22,434. (Mr. Hill.) Your name is also William Harrison?—Yes.

22,435. You are of Leonard Gate, coach maker?—Yes.

22,436. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,437. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

22,438. What did you get for committee work?—Mr. Danson gave me 1*l.*, and I got 1*l.* besides, and I spent 2*l.* in refreshments.

22,439. Who gave you that?—Mr. William Harrison.

22,440. That makes 14*l.* Did you get anything else?—No.

22,441. 2*l.* of that was to spend?—Yes.

22,442. You spent it on yourself and other people, I suppose?—Yes.

J. Harrison.

JAMES HARRISON sworn and examined.

22,443. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a whitesmith?—Yes.

22,444. Where do you live?—In Alfred Street.

22,445. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

22,446. What money did you receive?—There was 1*l.* from Mr. Coupland, and 2*l.*

22,447. That is 3*l.*?—Yes, 3*l.* from Mr. Coupland, and then there was 1*l.* that I received from William Harrison, and then there is the list I gave you on Saturday.

22,448. You have been examined here before?—Yes, I was here on Saturday, but there is one I misstated to you on Saturday, one that I forgot about; that was Mr. Marshall, 12*l.*, and there was 1*l.*, I believe, I got of George Danson. I gave a list of voters.

22,449. What Marshall is that; is he a freeman?—Yes, he is a freeman; and then I believe I got 1*l.* of George Danson, but I am not certain.

22,450. Do you say that you gave Marshall anything for his vote?—I gave him 12*l.* I could not bring it to my mind then, but I have brought it to my mind since.

22,451. What Marshall is it?—Thomas Marshall, of Leonard Gate, shoemaker.

22,452. You are the man who said you received for your servitude and your vote 10*l.*?—Yes.

22,453. You did not give us the amounts that you paid to the people before; you only gave their names?—Yes, I did. I have the list here, except one that I have brought to my mind to-day (producing a paper).

22,454. Is that the list which you had when you were examined before us on Saturday?—Yes, there are two Harrisons; it was down 12*l.*; it is down in Mr. Coupland's book 12*l.*

22,455. (Mr. Barstow.) Besides the list you gave us on Saturday you gave Marshall 12*l.*?—Yes.

22,456. From whom did you get that 12*l.*?—From a stranger at the "Boar's Head."

22,457. (Mr. Newton.) What is Marshall's christian name?—Thomas, I think. I do not know his christian name.

22,458. (To Mr. Cross.) The money passed through his hands in fact?—Yes.

(The witness.) I had so many on me at the time they were on me like a flock of bees; there are two Harrisons. I paid them 10*l.* each, but it is down 12*l.* each.

22,459. (Mr. Newton.) Somebody gave you 12*l.*, and you cannot say whether you gave it to the Harrisons or not?—Mr. Coupland gave evidence of 12*l.* each.

22,460–1. The long and short of it is that Mr. Coupland says he gave 12*l.*, and the Harrisons say they only received 10*l.*?—They only received 10*l.*

22,462. And you are the man to whom the money was given?—Yes, I can remember giving them 10*l.* each.

22,463. Mr. Coupland remembers having given you 12*l.*, and you remember giving them 10*l.*?—Mr. Coupland never gave me the 12*l.*; it was the stranger as gave me the money.

(Mr. Coupland.) I have no vouchers for those two, but in this book they are down as 12*l.* to each.

22,464–5. (Mr. Hill to the witness.) Did you get only 14*l.* for yourself?—That is all I got, except 1*l.* that I said I got from Mr. Danson. I am not sure about it.

22,466. If you think you got it, I think we may be sure you got it?—I will not be certain about it.

22,467. You say you received 15*l.*?—I cannot be certain that I received the other 1*l.*, but I think I did.

22,468. I do not suppose you put it in the savings bank?—I cannot say for that.

22,469. (Mr. Newton.) This was only for your servitude and vote?—Yes.

22,470. That was all?—Yes.

W. Harrison.

WILLIAM HARRISON sworn and examined.

22,471. (Mr. Newton.) Do you live in Edward Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

22,472. And are you a moulder?—Yes.

22,473. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

20,474. Who paid you?—My brother paid me.

20,475. Is that the last witness?—No, over here (pointing to a person in Court).

22,476. What is his name?—Edward Harrison.

22,477. What did you get for your services?—Nothing.

22,478. What did you get for being on the committee?—I was not on the committee.

22,479. Did you get nothing more than the 10*l.*?—No.

EDWARD HARRISON sworn and examined. E. Harrison.

22,480. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A silk-piecer.

22,481. Where do you live?—In Edward Street.

22,482. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

22,483. What did you get for your vote?—11*l.* 15*s.* in all.

22,484. That included 1*l.* 15*s.* for committee work, did it?—Yes.

22,485. What did you do when you were at committee work?—Canvassing voters.

22,486. Did you get any more money at all?—No.

20,487. Did you canvass the Harrisons?—Yes.

22,488. And had they canvassed you?—No, I took care of myself.

22,489. You did the work in the family?—Yes.

JOHN HADWEN HARRISON sworn and examined. J. H. Harrison.

22,490. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A joiner.

22,491. In St. Mary's Place?—Yes.

22,492. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

22,493. What money did you get?—Well, I got 3*l.* 5*s.* from Mr. Storey, 1*l.* from Mr. Stanton, and 10*l.* from the "Dummy," as they call him, in the "Sun."

22,494. Did you get anything else?—No.

22,495. Nothing whatever?—No.

22,496. Nothing after the election?—No, not a halfpenny.

22,497. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

ROBERT HODGSON sworn and examined. R. Hodgson.

22,498. (Mr. Newton.) You live in Nicholas Street?—Yes.

22,499. What are you?—A carter.

22,500. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

22,501. What did you get for doing it?—15*l.*

22,502. What did you get for your expenses?—1*l.*, off George Danson.

22,503. What are your day's wages, or weekly wages?—Sometimes I get 1*l.*, and sometimes 5*l.*

22,504. How do you manage that?—I keep carts and horses. I cannot tell you what I can make a day.

22,505. You are a master carter?—Yes.

22,506. You got 15*l.* for your vote, and 1*l.* for expenses?—Yes.

22,507. Is that all?—Yes.

22,508. What did you get for drink?—As much as ever I could drink; as much as ever I could get into me.

22,509. (Mr. Hill.) How long were you at it?—Happen a week or a fortnight.

22,510. (Mr. Newton.) I think you have been at it this morning, have you not?—No, I have only had one glass of ale this morning yet.

JOHN HODGSON sworn and examined. J. Hodgson.

22,511. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Nicholas Street?—Yes.

22,512. And are you a whitesmith?—Yes.

22,513. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,514. How much did you get?—15*l.*

22,515. And what else besides?—1*l.* from George Danson, and 10*s.* from William Harrison.

22,516. 16*l.* 10*s.* altogether?—Yes.

22,517. Are you brother of the last witness?—Yes.

22,518. How came you to get 10*s.* more than the last man?—Robert was out of town, working at Carnforth.

22,519. So he missed it?—Yes.

22,520. And you had as much drink as you could put in for a fortnight, had you not?—No, I had no drink.

22,521. Are you a temperance man?—Yes.

22,522. You do the book department of the farm, do you?—Yes.

22,523. Did you vote for Fenwick at the last election?—No.

22,524. How did they come to give you 15*l.* for voting for Lawrence?—I cannot tell you I got 15*l.* Very likely they gave the other men the same.

22,525. I want to know why they gave the other men and you 15*l.* a-piece. You had voted Yellow the time before?—No, never.

22,526. Always Blue?—Always Blue.

THOMAS MARSHALL sworn and examined. T. Marshall.

22,527. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you of Leonard Gate?—Yes.

22,528. And are you a shoemaker?—Yes.

22,529. You voted for Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

22,530. What did they give you?—12*l.*

22,531. Who gave it to you?—Harrison.

22,532. Was that all you got?—No, 1*l.* from George Danson three days before the election; 30*s.* from George Clark. That is all I got, but my son got his freedom took up.

22,533. Who took up your son's freedom?—George Clark paid him. He paid him three weeks after the election.

22,534. When did he take up his freedom?—The last time it was took up. I do not know exactly when that was.

22,535. (Mr. Hill.) This year?—Yes.

22,536 (Mr. Barstow.) Is that which you have told us of all the money you received from either side?—No; I will tell you. I was going to tell you, but you told me to stand down. About five weeks before the election I was doing nothing, so I went to Johnson—Edward Johnson—to see if he would give me a job. He says, "I can give you some circulars to deliver out," and he gave me some. I was half a day giving them out, and I was half a day finding him, and he gave me a shilling. So a little while afterwards I saw him again, and he gave me another shilling. I did not ask him for it; there was 6*d.* and two threepenny bits, and he said, "Go and treat yourself." I was three times getting that half-a-crown.

22,537. That is really all you got from the other side?—And I went to a man named Bell and made complaints. I had been delivering several circulars, and he gave me 5*s.* He gave me 10*s.*, I think, at three times, and Robert Whiteside too. That is all I received.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

T. Marshall.

20 Sept. 1866.

22,538. How much did you get altogether from the other side?—12*l.*, 1*l.* 10*s.*, and 1*l.*

22,539. I mean from the Liberals?—That is all.

22,540. How much?—10*s.*, and 2*s.* 6*d.*, and 2*s.*

22,541. 14*s.* 6*d.*?—14*s.* 6*d.*

22,542. Do you really mean to tell us that that is all you got from the other side?—Yes.

22,543. Were you not on the committee on the other side?—Not that I am aware of.

22,544. You got no money?—No, that is all I got.

22,545. How did you vote at the election before the last?—For Fenwick. I would have given him one this time, but he was rather forward.

22,546. What do you mean when you say "he was rather forward?"—He was too many; I thought I would plump for Lawrence.

R. Masheder.

ROBERT MASHEDER sworn and examined.

22,547. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A draper's assistant.

22,548. Do you live in Alfred Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

22,549. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,550. Did you get any money for your vote?—Yes.

22,552. Did you get anything for your services?—No.

22,553. Did you get anything for rendering assistance?—No.

22,554. Or for any other purpose?—No.

20,555. Who paid you?—Thomas Garnett.

22,556. (To Mr. Coupland.) Have you got a ticket?—Yes, but it is not for that amount.

22,557. What is the amount that you have got a ticket for?—8*l.*

22,558. (To the Witness.) Did you go for that ticket?—Mr. Garnett gave me the money after.

22,559. What Garnett?—Of Chapel Street.

22,560. Do you know where he lives?—At Warrington, I believe.

22,561. I am afraid he has done you out of 3*l.* Was that all you got?—Yes.

22,562. Then there is 3*l.* more that you ought to have had, and if you get hold of Mr. Garnett you had better put him in the county court and get it?—Thank you.

W. Mashiter.

WILLIAM MASHITER sworn and examined.

22,563. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Leonard Gate, Lancaster, and are a printer?—Yes.

22,564. For whom did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,565. What did you get for your vote?—5*l.*

22,566. From whom?—From Mr. Coupland.

22,567. (To Mr. Coupland.) Is that right?—Yes.

22,568. How much did you give?—5*l.*

22,569. (To the Witness.) What else did you receive?—Nothing.

22,570. Nothing from anybody?—No.

J. Miller.

JOHN MILLER sworn and examined.

22,571. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a cabinet-maker?—Yes.

22,572. Of Moor Lane?—Moor Road.

22,573. Did you vote for Lawrence?—I did.

22,574. What did they give you?—10*l.*

22,575. Nothing more?—Yes; I received 30*s.* from George Danson, and 10*s.* from Harrison. That is what I received.

22,576. That is all?—Yes, that is all.

22,577. Did you get anything from the other side?—No, but there is a statement in Mr. Storey's evidence that he gave me 6*l.* I went to him the next morning after he had given his evidence, and told him he had made a mistake, and he said "No;" and I said "I never received such a thing from you;" and he said "Well, I was under the impression that I had given you 6*l.*;" I said "I never received it;" he said "You had better go to Mr. Stanton." I went to Mr. Stanton, and he said he had nothing down against me; he said Mr. Storey had told him that he had given me 5*l.*, but he had never given me it, and he was not in the room; and I have not the slightest recollection of ever receiving anything from him, only I met him in the street and he put his hand in his pocket and said, "John, there is half-a-crown to go and get something to drink with." I have not any idea of receiving anything else from him.

22,578. He gave you five sixpences, and says he gave you 5*l.*, is that it?—I do not recollect receiving the 5*l.* from him; I have not the least idea of it.

22,579. (Mr Hill.) There was a good deal of drink about at that time, was there not?—There was, but I was not that way particular.

22,580. Not more than usual?—No, I do not get so much.

22,581. (To Mr. Coupland.) Do you know anything about this?—On the 1st of July I gave John Miller 1*l.*

(The Witness.) Yes, you, Mr. Coupland, did go up to a jerry-shop with me; yes, I recollect that. That is quite correct.

22,582. (Mr. Hill.) And you went to the jerry-shop, and forgot all about the 5*l.*?—I had forgotten that entirely.

22,583. When you went to the jerry-shop you took so much to drink that you forgot all about the 5*l.*?—I do not know for that.

22,584. Do you know anything about this 5*l.*? Are you in Mr. Stanton's list?—No. I asked Mr. Stanton, and he said he had not got me down, and was not there, and did not see him give me anything. I have not the slightest idea of ever receiving that money.

22,585. Will you swear that you did not receive it?—I will not swear it, but I do not recollect it.

22,586. You will not swear that you did not receive it?—What I say is true, that I have not the least idea of having received it, because there was a gentleman in Mr. Stanton's shop when I went to him, and he said "Was there anything to drink?" and Mr. Stanton said "No, that I was perfectly sober." I will never acknowledge to having received it.

22,587. You will not acknowledge to receiving it, but you will not say that you did not receive it?—I do not recollect receiving it.

22,588. I daresay you recollect having it though?—No, I do not.

22,589. Do you mean that you did not put your hand into your pocket and find yourself richer than you were before?—Do you mean to tell me that I could not tell the difference between having 6*l.* in my pocket and nothing? I would not swear it for the value of 6*l.*, but I do not recollect having such a thing in my pocket.

22,590. (Mr. Newton.) Harrison paid you?—Paid me what; 10*l.*?

22,591. Yes?—Yes, he did; it came through Mr Coupland's hands.

WILLIAM POWELL sworn and examined.

22,593. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a cabinet-maker?—Yes.

22,594. And do you live in Edward Street?—Yes.

22,595. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence,

22,596. What did you get for doing it?—10*l.*

22,597. Who paid it to you?—James Harrison.

22,598. And what did you get for assisting on the committee?—2*l.* 5*s.*

22,599. Did you get anything more?—No.

22,600. That is all you had?—Yes, that is all.

22,601. You had no money for drink?—No.

22,602. You are a cabinet-maker?—Yes.

22,603. Are you a journeyman?—Yes.

22,604. What wages do you earn?—I work by the piece; some weeks I get more, and sometimes less; the average is about 26*s.* a week.

THOMAS RICHMOND, of Great John Street, painter, and GEORGE RICHMOND, of Great John Street, painter, are called, but do not answer.

(Mr. Coupland.) I have vouchers for the two Richmonds.

WILLIAM SHAW sworn and examined.

22,605. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a shoemaker?—Yes.

22,606. And do you live in Lodge Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

22,607. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

22,608. To begin with, what did you get for voting for Fenwick?—I got 30*s.* for running errands.

22,609. What more did you get?—Nothing else.

22,610. Nothing else from Fenwick?—No.

22,611. What did you get from Lawrence?—6*l.*

22,612. For your vote?—Yes.

22,613. And how much for committee work for them?—Nothing.

22,614–5. Was 7*l.* 10*s.* all that you got altogether?—Yes, that is all.

EDWARD SMITH sworn and examined.

22,616. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you of Lucy Street, piecer?—Yes.

22,617. Did you vote for Lawrence?—No, for Fenwick and Schneider.

22,618. (To Mr. Coupland.) Is this the man you paid?—Yes.

22,619. (To the Witness.) You voted, you say, for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

22,620. First of all, what did you get from Fenwick and Schneider's people?—8*l.*

22,621. Who paid it to you?—Thomas Bland.

22,622. Is that all you got from Fenwick and Schneider?—No.

22,623. What else did you get?—(Hesitating) I cannot tell rightly.

22,624. You have taken time enough to think?—Happen I might get 5*l.* or 6*l.* before the election.

22,625. Did you get the 8*l.* after the election?—After voting.

22,626. And you got 5*l.* or 6*l.*, you say, happen before the election?—Yes.

22,627. Who gave you the 6*l.*?—First one and then another.

22,628. But some one must have given it to you; tell us who?—I got three weeks, I think, in the committee room.

22,629. Who paid you the 6*l.*?—I cannot tell you.

22,630. Yes, you can?—No, I cannot.

22,631. You know that Thomas Bland paid you the 8*l.*?—Yes, because I know him so well.

22,632. And you know also who paid you the 6*l.*: come, tell us who paid you that?—I cannot tell you, not the name.

22,633. Where were you paid that?—In Sun Street.

22,634. In what house?—The "Queen's Hotel."

22,635. Was there a committee room there then?—Yes.

22,636. Did you attend there?—Yes.

22,637. How often did you attend there?—Sometimes once a day.

22,638. Was that at Jacob Stanley's the "Queen's Hotel?"—I do not know what they call him. Yes, I think it was.

22,639. Who did you see at this committee?—I saw Moser there.

22,640. How many used to be there?—There was a good deal.

22,641. About how many?—About as many as are sitting all round this table.

22,642. About 20?—I did not count them.

22,643. But you must know about how many there would be?—Happen 10 or 12.

22,644. Do you know whether they were voters?—I do not know.

22,645. Do you know the names of anyone beside Moser?—There was others, but I do not know who they were.

22,646. Tell us their names?—I never took notice of them.

22,647. Did you see nobody there but voters?—Plenty; but Moser gave us papers to take out, and I took most notice of him, because he was like cashier.

22,648. Was that all the money that you got from the Liberal party, 8*l.* and 6*l.*?—Yes.

22,649. Would it not be a little more; did you not get some to spend?—Well, I was always drinking.

22,650. But you would have a little more besides the 8*l.* and the 6*l.* from Fenwick and Schneider?—Half-crowns, and shillings, and sixpences.

22,651. When you were dry?—Yes.

22,652. How long was that going on?—About five weeks.

22,653. You got half-crowns and shillings and sixpences any day that you liked for five weeks?—No, not any day I liked.

22,654. When did they pay you for their committee work?—At the "Queen's Hotel."

22,655. But when did they pay you is my question?—Every week they paid us at the week ends.

22,656. And were you paid at the end of five weeks?—No, I was not on the committee five weeks, you know.

22,657. You told us just now that you got half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences for five weeks?—Yes, but I was not on the committee.

22,658. How long were you on the committee?—Three weeks.

22,659. And on the Saturdays you were paid?—Yes, we were paid for that week.

22,660. How much were you paid?—30*s.* a week.

22,661. Were you all paid together?—Yes, one after another.

22,662. But you were all paid the same night?—Yes.

22,663. You went to the "Queen's" and got your money?—Yes, we went out of the "Queen's Hotel" into an office there at the back of it and got the money.

22,664. There was a regular office, was there?—Yes.

22,665. And Mr. Moser was there paying you, was

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

E. Smith.

20 Sept. 1866.

he?—No, Mr. Moser was not there paying us, but he sent us there.

22,666. He sent you there to be paid; who paid you?—I think Tilly was one.

22,667. Are you sure that Tilly was one?—I am sure that he was there.

22,668. Are you quite sure that Tilly was there?—Yes, I am sure he was there.

22,669. Did Tilly give you the money?—No.

22,670. Who did?—I did not know him.

22,671. Was Tilly there always when you were paid?—I did not take notice; I know he was there the last week.

22,672. Can you remember anybody else who was in this office?—There was two or three in, but I did not know them by name.

22,673. Had you seen them before?—I must have seen them, but not noticed them.

22,674. Have you ever seen them since?—Not that I know of.

22,675. Were they Lancaster people?—Yes, I think they was.

22,676. Why do you say you think they were Lancaster people?—I might have seen them many a time, but not so as to know their names.

22,677. What makes you think they were Lancaster people?—By their language as much as aught.

22,678. You had never seen them before, and have never seen them since, you tell us?—I might have seen them, but I never noticed them.

22,679. You never noticed them, I will say, either before or since?—No, that I know of.

22,680. Did the committee men do anything except drink?—I went twice to Carnforth.

22,681. Did you do anything else?—I went once round the town here.

22,682. You got from the Liberals 8*l.* and 6*l.*, and a few half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences?—I do not know whether it was 6*l.* or not, but altogether I should think it was 6*l.*

22,683. Now, then, who paid you for voting for Lawrence?—Mr. Coupland.

22,684. How much did he pay you?—12*l.*

22,685. Is that all you got from him?—I got once half-a-crown.

22,686. How did you come to get that?—He gave it to me.

22,687. Of course he did, but you asked for it?—Yes, I axed for it.

22,688. What did you "ax" for it for?—For my vote.

22,689. How came you to ask Mr. Coupland 12*l.* for your vote?—I meant giving Lawrence one and Fenwick one.

22,690. And you told him so?—Yes.

22,691. Where did you tell him that?—I did not tell him that there.

22,692. What was it that you did tell him then?—I told him naught except 12*l.* for my vote.

22,693. Did you tell him naught, and did he then give you 12*l.*?—For my vote.

22,694. What did you tell him?—What I have told you.

22,695. What did you tell him?—He axed me what I wanted, and I said 12*l.*

22,696. He said, "What do you want?" what for?—It would be for my vote.

22,697. Did you not promise to vote for Mr. Lawrence?—Yes.

22,698. Did you go to Mr. Coupland's?—Yes.

22,699. And then you told him that you would vote for Lawrence?—Yes.

22,700. And then he gave you 12*l.*?—Yes.

22,701. And then you went and voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

22,702. He paid you before you had voted, I suppose?—Yes.

22,703. (Mr. Newton.) What are you, a piecer?—Yes.

22,704. What wages can you earn a week?—About 20*s.*

22,705. What sort of a house do you live in now?—A cottage house.

22,706. What rent do you pay for it?—2*s.* 7*d.*

22,707. 2*s.* 7*d.* a week?—Yes.

22,708. And you can earn 20*s.* a week as wages?—Yes.

22,709. And you are a voter?—Yes.

22,710. (Mr. Hill.) Which of the Lawrence committee rooms did you attend?—Well, George Danson was my master.

22,711. But which committee was it?—I think it was at the Assembly Room.

22,712. That was the general committee room, was it?—Yes.

22,713. Did you get paid regularly on Saturday night there?—No.

22,714. How many Saturday nights did you get paid there?—I think one.

22,715. How much did you get paid for that?—20*s.*

22,716. How much besides that did you get from Lawrence's people?—I cannot tell you.

22,717. How much did they give you to spend at different places?—I never took no notice.

22,718. Did they grve you 2*l.* or 3*l.* to spend?—No.

22,719. Did they give you a sovereign to spend?—Yes, they gave me a sovereign, all put together.

22,720. They gave you more than that a good deal, did they not?—No, I think not.

22,721. Did you not get altogether at least 2*l.* to spend from Mr. Lawrence's party?—No.

22,722. 30*s.*?—No, about 1*l.*

22,723. Were Lawrence's committees held on the same nights as the Liberal committees?—Yes.

22,724. Which did you attend first?—Them that was paying first.

22,725. Which committee did you attend at the earliest hour in the evening?—Fenwick's.

22,726. At what time was Fenwick's committee over?—I do not know; I did not notice.

22,727. At what time did you go to Lawrence's committee of a night?—As soon as I had done there.

22,728. What time would that be?—Abont 6 o'clock, the time of shutting up.

22,729. Would they shut up the committee as early as that?—For such as me.

22,730. What time did they pay at Fenwick's?—About 4 o'cock.

22,731. And at what time did they pay at Lawrence's?—About 6.

22,732. So you went and drew your wages at Fenwick's, and then went and drew your wages at Lawrence's?—Yes.

22,733. You say you got paid for about three weeks at Fenwick's?—Yes, I would.

22,734. And you got 2*l.* a week there?—No, 30*s.*

22,735. How much a week did you get at Lawrence's?—I cannot remember; only a sovereign.

22,736. Did they find out that you were on both sides?—No.

22,737. They never found that out?—He knew it, did George Danson.

22,738. He knew that you were on both committees?—Yes.

22,739. Do you mean to say that George Danson knew that you were on the Yellow committee too?—Yes.

22,740. Did you tell him so?—Yes.

22,741. And did he pay you your wages?—He did; he gave me a sovereign.

22,742. Did you tell him what was going on at the Yellow committee?—I told him what they were giving me.

22,743. Did you tell him how they were getting on there?—No.

22,744. Do you mean to say that Mr. Danson paid you your wages as a committee man, when he knew that you were on the other committee?—He knew it at the same time.

22,745. How many persons were in the same position as yourself, working on both committees?—Very near all as I knew.

22,746. Just give us the names of those that were on both committees?—I could not tell without I was to see the chaps here.

22,747. You can tell me their names; you have not got such a bad memory as not to be able to tell who they were?—I could not tell you without I saw them here.

22,748. You can tell me the names of one or two who were on both committees. Come, I do not think you will see their names written above, now give me their names?—I never saw anybody but was on both; I think they were all on both.

22,749. Do you mean really to say that?—The main part of them was.

22,750. Drawing wages on both sides?—The main part of them was.

22,751. Give me the name of anyone who was on both committees. Come, you have rubbed that chin of yours long enough, give me the names of some of those that were on both committees?—(No answer.)

22,752. Come, you must recollect?—I think they had best give their names for themselves, the same as I have done.

22,753. Come, give me their names, tell me the name of some of your friends who were there?—There was Dick Tomlinson, and Tom Tomlinson was there.

22,754. Now, then, give me some other name?—I did not take much notice.

22,755. But the little notice that you did take will enable you to tell us, I am sure?—The notice I took was of myself.

22,756. We are all very well aware that you looked after yourself pretty well, but I want to know about your neighbours. Give us the name of anybody besides Dick and Tom Tomlinson; I do not want to quicken your memory in a patent way which we have got of quickening it?—I cannot tell you any more names.

22,757. Tell me the name of some man you talked to on those Saturday nights?—I cannot tell you.

22,758. Who got paid next to you by Moser, or whoever it was who did pay you?—Moser did not pay me.

22,759. The man who was with Tilly?—I cannot tell you.

22,760. It is not so far back as that you cannot remember it?—It is that back that I never took notice.

22,761. Come, give me some other name besides Dick and Tom Tomlinson?—I cannot.

22,762. Come, out with it, who was it?—(No answer.)

22,763. Come?—I cannot recollect the other names. I never took notice of them.

22,764. Who besides?—There was plenty, but I did not notice them.

22,765. Was John Gardner, the cotton spinner, one?—I daresay he would be one.

22,766. You daresay he would be on both committees?—I will uphold him to be. I should think he would be one, but I did not take notice of him.

22,767. You will back him to have been one, will you?—He generally is.

22,768. John Gardner is generally on both sides?—Yes.

22,769. John Gardner, the plasterer, is that him?—No.

22,770. Is he a cotton spinner?—Yes.

22,771. Is not the plasterer on both sides?—I did not take notice of him.

22,772. What is Gardner?—I do not know them Gardners so well.

22,773. Who else, come?—I never took notice of them.

22,774. We have been a long while getting out John Gardner?—I do not know who were there, there were plenty.

22,775. How many do you suppose there were there who were on both sides?—I think all that I saw.

22,776. How many?—Happen 50.

22,777. You think there were 50 who were being paid on both sides?—And a great deal more if I took notice of them all.

22,778. Have you not seen any of them since?—I daresay I have many a time.

22,779. And have you not talked the matter over with them as to how much you all of you got?—No.

22,780. Can you not give me the name of anybody else besides those you have mentioned who were on both sides?—I did not take notice of them.

22,781. Who was president of the committee, or chairman, or whatever you call it. I am speaking now of the committee in Sun Street at the "Queen's Hotel," who was the chairman there?—I do not know who was the chairman; we never bothered with anybody, only Mr. Moser, to tell us what to do.

22,782. Was he the only man that had any authority there?—We never used to go to nobody else.

22,783. How many men do you suppose got paid on the Saturday nights?—I could not tell you that.

22,784. How many should you think?—Happen 200 or 300.

22,785. You think there were as many as 200 or 300?—At Lawrence's committee I should think there were that or more.

22,786. Where were they paid?—At the Assembly Room.

22,787. That would be on the Saturday before the election?—Yes.

22,788. Who was doing the paying there?—George Danson.

22,789. How many do you suppose got paid at the "Queen's?"—Not as many as that there, but a good deal.

22,790. How many?—I could not tell; as soon as I got my own I went away

22,791. But you had a muster before you went into the back office; you had had your deliberations on the committee you know, what you call committee work. How many of you were present at the meeting of the committee first of all?—The street was full one Saturday night, pay night, with people waiting to go in.

22,792. How many people do you suppose were there?—There were as many as the street would hold about the door.

22,793. I do not know how many the street would hold?—Market Street.

22,794. Do you mean to say that Market Street was full?—That square was full.

22,795. Do you suppose there would be 150 there?—There would.

22,796. More than that?—There would be that.

22,797. Do you mean to say that there were 150 paid on the Fenwick and Schneider committee on that Saturday night?—If they all got paid that was there there would be that many.

22,798. Did they go in one after another?—Yes.

22,799. And did they then come out?—Yes.

22,800. They did it pretty sharp?—Yes.

22,801. How did they pay you, had they gold there; was the paymaster standing at a counter?—There was gold and silver.

22,802. Was the paymaster standing at a counter or a table?—I did not take that notice.

22,803. Did you take any ticket or anything?—No, not that I know of.

22,804. Or did you give in your name?—The name.

22,805. To whom did you give your name?—The chap that paid us.

22,806. Who was the chap that paid you?—I cannot tell you that.

22,807. Did you know him?—Him that paid me?

22,808. Yes?—I knew him by sight, but I did not know his name.

22,809. Is he a Lancashire man?—Yes, I have often seen him.

22,810. Have you seen him in this court here?—No, not that I know of.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

E. Smith.

20 Sept. 1866.

22,811. Was Moser present when you were paid?—No.

22,812. Did Moser give you any ticket or anything of that sort?—I forget whether they gave us tickets or not; I have clean forgotten it.

22,813. Was Mr. Tilly present when you were paid?—Yes, the last time.

22,814. The Saturday before the election?—Yes.

22,815. You are certain Tilly was there?—Yes, I am sure Tilly was there that day.

22,816. The Saturday before that was Tilly there?—No.

22,817. How many were paid on the Saturday before?—I cannot tell you.

22,818. Fifty?—I cannot say. I do not think there was 50.

22,819. Twenty?—There would be about 20 while I was there, but I do not know what there might be after.

22,820. How many were there on the Saturday before that?—I cannot tell you that.

22,821. Twenty?—I cannot say. You just went in as you could get in.

22,822. There would be at least 20 if there was any squeeze?—I daresay there was 20.

22,823. 28*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* was the biggest part of the money you got?—Yes, I should think so.

22,824. Your drink and food besides?—I eat nowt.

22,825. Did you eat nothing?—No.

22,826. Did you drink anything?—Yes.

22,827. For a fortnight or three weeks?—Yes.

22,828. Did you drink at the expense of the Blue or Yellow?—Both.

22,829. (Mr. Newton.) All you care about at an election is to get the money for your vote?—I do not know.

22,830. Is not that so. You do not care about having a vote except to get the money for it. Is that so or no?—Yes.

(Mr. Newton.) Stand down. You will not get your expenses.

J. P. Singleton.

JOHN POWELL SINGLETON sworn and examined.

22,831. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A butcher.

22,832. What did you get for your vote?—20*l.*

22,833. How many committees were you on?—None.

22,834. None at all.—No.

22,835. On neither side?—No.

22,836. Perhaps that is the reason why you got 20*l.* Did you get any other money besides?—No.

22,837. You got no other money from the other side at all?—No.

22,838. I suppose you voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

22,839. How was it you got 20*l.*?—I do not know.

22,840. Was that so?—All I know is I got it.

22,841. You know perfectly well why you got 20*l.*, and you will tell us?—For the vote. That is all I know.

22,842. Why did you get 20*l.* for your vote; you must tell us?—(No answer.)

22,843. Why did you get 20*l.* for your vote; do you hear me?—Yes.

22,844. You will answer the question. Who did you arrange with for 20*l.*?—Mr. Coupland.

22,845. How came you to arrange with Mr. Coupland?—He sent Mr. Backhouse to ask what I wanted, and I told him.

22,846. You told him what?—20*l.*

22,847. Mr. Coupland sent Mr. Backhouse to know your price?—Yes.

22,848. Had you butchers all entered into an arrangement beforehand?—There was four of us together.

22,849. You four butchers had entered into an agreement?—We were all together.

22,850. Did you agree all together that you were to get 20*l.* for your vote?—Yes, 20*l.* each.

22,851. You, one and all, agreed that you were to get 20*l.* for your votes. Is that so?—Yes.

22,852. Are you a master butcher?—No.

22 853. A journeyman?—Yes.

22,854. What are your wages a week?—I am living with my step-father.

22,855. What are your wages?—I do not get any.

22,856. How do you live?—My step-father keeps me.

22,857. Does he pay you nothing a week?—No.

22,858. What is your step-father's name?—Davis.

22,859. Is he a butcher?—Yes.

22,860. He was not one of the four if he was not a voter?—No.

22,861. Who were the other three?—William Gill, Septimus Hodgson, and Henry Wilson.

22,862. What are Mr. Wilson, Hodgson, and Gill; are they apprentices like you?—No.

22,863. What are they?—Mastermen.

22,864. How long before the election was it you made this arrangement?—The night before.

22,865. Had the other side been to you before that?—Yes.

22,866. What did they offer you?—They did not say particular.

22,867. What did they say?—They said they would give what the other side would give.

22,868. Did they mention any price?—No.

22,869. Come, they did you know?—No, not particular.

22,870. They mentioned the price, and you know perfectly well they did?—Well, 10*l.* perhaps.

22,871. Was it not more than 10*l.*; was it not 15*l.*?—I do not recollect.

22,872. Was it not 12*l.*?—No.

22,873. Was 10*l.* the highest sum they mentioned?—Yes, for anything I know.

22,874. Answer the question. Was it, or was it not?—Yes, 10*l.*

22,875. What did you say, "For anything you know for?"—I never heard anyone say anything else.

22,876. Who was it offered you 10*l.*?—John Bleasdale, I believe.

22,877. He is a butcher, is he not?—Yes.

22,878. Did he offer Gill the same thing, 10*l.*?—I do not know.

22,879. You know perfectly well whether he did or not?—I was not with them. I do not know as he did to them.

22,880. Why did you four agree together to stand out for 20*l.*?—(No answer.)

22,881. Do you hear me. Why did you four stand out for 20*l.*?—I do not know how it was.

22,882. Why did you four make this arrangement that you were to get 20*l.* for your votes, and you got it? Who first mentioned the sum of 20*l.*?—Septimus Hodgson, I think, was the first.

22,883. Where at?—In the market.

22,884. What day?—The night before the election.

22,885. To whom?—To Mr. Backhouse.

22,886. Am I to understand that you, Gill, Hodgson, and Wilson, were all in the market on the night before the election?—Yes.

22,887. Tell the story, what happened. Backhouse came and said what?—Asked what we wanted for our votes.

22,888. And you said how much?—20*l.*

22,889. Or was it Septimus Hodgson that said 20*l.*?—Yes.

22,890. Which was it?—Septimus Hodgson.

22,891. Did Backhouse go back to Coupland?—For anything I know.

22,892. Did you hear Hodgson say this about 20*l.* to Backhouse?—Yes.

22,893. You had arranged beforehand that you would not vote unless you got 20*l.*—No, we did not say that.

22,894. What did you say?—We did not say we would not vote unless we got 20*l.*

22,895. What did you four arrange together before Backhouse came to you?—20*l.* each was what was arranged.

22,896. You arranged that you were to have 20*l.* each before Backhouse came?—Yes, or else at the time he was there.

22,897. When did you see Mr. Coupland?—The same night.

22,898. What did he say to you?—He asked the figure and we told him.

22,899. What did you say?—20*l.*

22,900. What did he say to that?—"It is a high price," or "a high figure," or something like that.

22,901. Were the other three men present?—No, they went before me. I was the last.

22,902. Where did you go to Mr. Coupland?—To the "Slip Inn."

22,903. It was then arranged that you were to get 20*l.*?—Yes.

22,904. When did he pay you; before voting or after voting?—After voting.

22,905. (To Mr. Coupland.) What do you say to this?—I beg to state that I had no conversation with any of these men.

22,906. Did you ever send Backhouse to these men?—No, certainly not; and as to the "Slip Inn," I was never in it to my recollection. It was quite out of my district. What he states is entirely untrue.

22,907. (Mr. Newton to the witness.) At what time do you say you saw Mr. Coupland at the "Slip Inn?"—It was in the evening, about half-past 7.

22,908. Take care what you say. This may be very serious for you indeed. Who was present?—There were the other butchers and me.

22,909. Tell me their names?—Septimus Hodgson, William Gill, and Henry Wilson.

22,910. They were present, were they?—Yes, we were all together, but we went in one by one out of the parlour.

22,911. What do you mean by saying they were all present?—We all went together.

22,912. Were they all present when this bargain was made with Mr. Coupland?—No; we went in one by one.

22,913. Was anybody present when the bargain was made?—No, I think not.

22,914. Was the bargain made in the kitchen?—Yes, I think so.

22,915. Was anybody present that you recollect?—Not that I recollect.

22,916. If anybody had been present should you have recollected it?—Yes, I think so.

22,917. You say that in the kitchen of the "Slip Inn" Mr. Coupland bargained with you for 20*l.* for your vote. Is that so?—Yes.

22,918. You understand the question perfectly well?—Yes.

22,919. Nobody was present?—No. That was the night before the election.

22,920. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Coupland.) You have heard what this man says. Is it true or not?—To the best of my recollection I never saw these men till the morning of the election. They came into the committee room where I was sitting.

22,921. Where at?—At the "Boar's Head," and they asked, or rather demanded 20*l.* a vote, and said if I did not get it they would not vote at all.

22,922. On the morning of the election?—Yes.

22,923. Do you ever go to the "Slip Inn?"—I was never at the "Slip Inn" to my knowledge. I have not the slightest recollection of it.

22,924. (Mr. Hill.) What time in the morning did you pay them?—I should think it would be forenoon, about 11 or 12 o'clock.

22,925. Votes were of consequence then. I suppose these men knew that when they stood out for the money?—I suppose that was the reason. I gave them the vouchers. If there had been any bargain of that description made it would have been known about the town, and everybody would have had 20*l.*

22,926. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you remember whether they were paid before or after voting?—I do not know who took them up.

22,927. (To the witness.) Who took you up?—I do not know the man.

S. Hodgson.

Septimus Hodgson sworn and examined.

22,928. (Mr. Hill.) You are a butcher, we hear?—I am.

22,929. And a householder?—Yes.

22,930. A master butcher?—Yes.

22,931. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

22,932. How much did you receive for your vote?—20*l.*

22,933. When was the price of 20*l.* fixed?—The night before.

22,934. By whom?—William Backhouse, and me, and Henry Wilson.

22,935. At what time?—The night before the election.

22,936. At what time?—Between 6 and 7, as near as I can tell.

22,937. You say it was arranged between you and Backhouse?—Yes; and Henry Wilson.

22,938. Where did you first see Backhouse?—Henry Wilson and me was talking in my shop.

22,939. Where?—At the bottom of the market. Backhouse came in and asked who we were going to vote for, and I told him we thought for Lawrence. He said he thought we might as well have a good thing as not, and he would put us on a good thing; he had been sent, I think he said, by George Danson, and he said there was plenty of money; and if we would name the figure, he had no doubt we should have it. There was nothing said about the price till Backhouse said, "Say a score and you will get it."

22,940. That is a butcher's phrase?—William Backhouse said, "Say a score and you will get it." Nobody but Henry Wilson and Backhouse was there at the time; that was all that was said. William Backhouse went across to the "Slip Inn," and presently came back again and moved for us to come, and we went, and there was Mr. Coupland and George Danson in the kitchen; they took our names down, and did not say anything else to us.

22,941. What time was it then?—It was all done in about 10 minutes or less.

22,942. Was that that Mr. Coupland who is sitting there (pointing to a person in the body of the court)?—Yes; it was he that took our names down in the kitchen. I am certain I am correct, and I will stand any consequences whatever. I am sure he took our names down in a book or on a piece of paper; it was a bit of loose paper, I think. Presently we saw Swainson; he was called in the next.

22,943. That is the last witness?—Yes. After that, going up the market, we met with William Gill and told him what had occurred, and he said, "I will be in at it as well;" that is all I know. I went away directly afterwards.

22,944. You told Gill the price?—Yes; and he said he would be in at it as well.

22,945. You received 20*l.*?—Yes.

22,946. What other sums of money did you receive during the election?—None whatever, or drink either.

22,947. Were you on no committee?—No.

22,948. How had you voted at the last election before that?—For Fenwick.

22,949. What did you get for voting for Fenwick?—5*l.*

22,950. Did the other butchers get 5*l.* at that election?—I do not know.

22,951. (Mr. Barstow.) When were you first asked for your vote?—I do not know I am sure.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

S. Hodgson.

20 Sept. 1866.

22,952. Yes, you know that?—That was the first commencement when I had anything to do with the election, the night before.

22,953. Do you mean to say that you were not canvassed before that?—Yes, I had been canvassed, but I cannot say when exactly; it was some time previous to the election.

22,954. When?—I should think it would be 10 days or a week.

22,955. Who canvassed you?—All parties canvassed me; all the three parties.

22,956. Give me the names of them?—Mr. Schneider's party and Mr. Fenwick's; they were together.

22,957. I do not ask you for the parties, I mean the names of the persons who canvassed you?—There was no single individual, I believe; not that I am aware.

22,958. What do you mean?—There was no single individual; a quantity of them came round canvassing together; some of the party would ask me certainly, but I really cannot call to mind who it was.

22,959. Who canvassed you on the part of Mr. Lawrence?—There was Mr. Lawrence and his party came, but I really cannot tell you who it was that asked me.

22,960. Had you any offer from Mr. Fenwick and Schneider's people of money?—No, not that I am aware of; I do not remember that I had.

22,961. Did Bleasdale offer you any money?—No, I do not remember it; he once said that I had a man working for me who was a voter, and that if I could get him, their party would give me as much as anyone else.

12,962. He did not offer that to you yourself?—I do not think he did; I cannot remember that he did.

22,963. How did that come about?—I cannot say.

22,964. He knew that you had taken 5*l.* on the previous election?—I do not know.

22,965. What was the name of the man who was working for you?—John Swainson Harrison.

22,966. Do you say that Bleasdale never offered you money?—I am not aware of it.

22,967. If he did you must be aware of it?—I am not aware of it; I have no recollection of it if he did; I am positive I have not.

22,968. Do you swear that he did not?—I will swear that I have no recollection whatever of it, and do not think he did, to the best of my knowledge.

22,969. You must know if you had been offered money?—Well, I do not think I was then.

22,970. When had you had any talk with Wilson?—Never before that night; we chanced to be talking together at the time when Backhouse came, but never before and never since.

22,971. Do you mean that you never mentioned the subject of money to Wilson at that time?—Yes, I will swear it distinctly.

H. Wilson.

HENRY WILSON sworn and examined.

22,972. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A butcher.

22,973. Where do you live?—I live in Marton Street at the present time.

22,974. Where did you live at the time of the election?—In Penny Street.

22,975. You are a householder?—Yes.

22,976. What rent do you pay?—At that time I was paying 21*l.* a year.

22,977. You voted for Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

22,978. What monies did you get for your vote?—20*l.*

22,979. Who gave it to you?—I do not know the party's name that gave it to me. It would come through Mr. Coupland's hands, I think.

22,980. Is that all the money you received?—Yes, for that election it was.

22,981. Where did you get this money?—At Mr. Hodgson's house.

22,982. Who gave it to you?—I do not know the person's name; I think it was Sharples. He was examined this week sometime.

22,983. Sharples is a Lancaster man?—For anything I know. I have not seen him but once since the election.

22,984. Did you know him before the election?—I had seen him before, but never knew where he lived.

22,985. Was 20*l.* all you received?—Yes.

22,986. Is it all you received from either side?—Well, I received 3*l.* from Mr. Moore for the election before, but it was for drink I had let them have.

22,987. You voted for Fenwick in the election before?—I had not a vote at that election.

22,988. How came Mr. Fenwick's people to owe you the 3*l.*?—I was keeping a beerhouse at that time, and a good many voters attended it, and I let them have some drink.

22,989. (Mr. Hill.) Is that Peter Moore?—Yes.

22,990. (Mr. Barstow.) Why did Peter Moore pay you that bill?—I had applied for it several times and they never would pay me, but when another election was coming on they sent to me and paid me the money.

22,990*a*. You said you would not vote unless they paid you that bill?—I did not say I would not vote. They sent for me to pay the bill, and they said, "I suppose this time you will give us a vote," and I said, "I think I shall vote for Mr. Fenwick, but I will not promise the other."

22,991. You received altogether 23*l.*?—Yes.

22,992. Did you receive anything else from the other side besides that 3*l.*?—No.

22,993. Did you see Bleasdale?—He never came to me. I have seen him in the market, but he never asked me for a vote.

22,994. Did anybody on the other side offer you money for your vote?—No one that I can remember.

22,995. Are you quite sure that no one on the other side offered you money?—Yes, I am quite certain.

22,996. Did you ever make any bargain for your vote with anyone?—The night before the election Mr. Backhouse came up to me and Hodgson.

22,997. Where did he come to you?—In the Shambles.

22,998. Did you make any bargain with Backhouse?—He said, "You might as well have something for your vote."

22,999. You intended before that to vote without money?—Yes, I intended to vote for Lawrence and Fenwick.

23,000. Without money at all?—Yes.

23,001. Did Backhouse make you an offer?—He said, "Ask enough," and I said, "Well, what would you call enough?" He said, "Say 20*l.*"

23,002. You made up your mind to ask for 20*l.*?—I said, "If they are willing to give it, it is all right."

23,003. Of whom did you ask 20*l.*?—Mr. Backhouse made that proposition.

23,004. Mr. Backhouse did not give you the money?—No. I had no more words with anyone, but in a few minutes afterwards I was called into Mr. Lamb's public-house.

23,005. What public-house is that?—The "Slip Inn," I think it is.

23,006. Whom did you see there?—Mr. Coupland.

23,007. Which Mr. Coupland?—This gentleman here (pointing).

23,008. Where did you see him?—In one of the rooms downstairs.

23,009. In what room?—I think they call it the kitchen.

23,010. You know a kitchen when you see it?—I do not know any name to it except that.

23,011. Was it a kitchen?—Yes; it was a small room that was used for the kitchen.

23,012. Why did you not say it was a kitchen at once if it was a kitchen?—I do not know any particular name they give it.

23,013. What passed between you and Mr. Coupland?—He asked us our names, Mr. Hodgson and me, and took them down, and no more passed, only that he wished us to vote the first thing in the morning.

23,014. Did you vote the first thing in the morning?—Yes.

23,015. At what time did you poll?—In the first hour.

23,016. Did Mr. Coupland, if it was Mr. Coupland, make any difficulty about giving you so much money?—No, not at all. He did not say a word.

23,017. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Coupland.) Having heard this evidence, what do you say?—It is quite true that I may have made a mistake in saying that I was not at this place at the time. I do not certainly recollect anything about it, but I may have made a mistake; but as for making any bargain I say still that I never did any such thing. I never made any bargain for any sum, though I might have asked them for their votes, but no sum was named.

23,018. How came they to get 20*l.*?—They did get 20*l.* I gave them vouchers for it. They came into my committee room and they said they would not vote unless they had 20*l.* a-piece.

23,019. (Mr. Newton.) You say it would be at 12 o'clock on the morning of the election?—Yes, about that.

Adjourned for a short time.

(Mr. Coupland.) Will the Commissioners be kind enough before they proceed further to allow me to correct a statement that I made. I said that I had never been to the "Slip Inn," but circumstances have since come to my knowledge which lead me to know that as a matter of fact I was at the "Slip Inn."

23,020. (Mr. Barstow.) But the rest of your statement as to paying the men and seeing them on the election morning, and not in the evening preceding the election, remains the same as before?—Yes; but I made no bargain with them, and I should like Hodgson, who is here, to be called. I made no bargain with Septimus Hodgson.

23,021. (To Septimus Hodgson.) When did you make your bargain with Mr. Coupland?—Never; not with Mr. Coupland. Mr. Coupland took our names down afterwards.

John Starnforth sworn and examined. J. Starnforth.

23,022. (Mr. Newton.) You are a plasterer?—Yes.

23,023. And you live at Mary Street?—Yes.

23,024. Are you a Conservative in politics?—Yes. I have always voted that way, ever since I could vote.

23,025. And that was the reason why you voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

23,026. What did you get for doing it?—I got 7*l.*, but I had my expenses to pay from Chester out of the 7*l.*

23,027. You voted for Lawrence on account of your politics?—Yes.

23,028. And you got 7*l.* for doing it?—I had my expenses to pay.

23,029. Where did you come from?—From a place five miles the other side of Chester. I got 6*l.* and my expenses.

23,030. You got 6*l.* for your vote and 1*l.* for your expenses?—Yes.

David Sykes sworn and examined. D. Sykes.

23,031-2. (Mr. Hill.) You are a cooper, and you live in Great John Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

23,033. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

23,034. What did they give you for your vote?—9*l.*

23,035. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Coupland.

23,036. How came it to be 9*l.*?—I cannot say.

23,037. Did you not get anything besides?—No.

23,038. You were not a committee-man?—No.

Henry Thomas Waterhouse, of Moor Lane, Lancaster, cabinet-maker, is called. H. T. Waterhouse.

(Mr. Coupland.) He is dead.

23,039. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Coupland.) Did you pay him?—No, he was paid through the committee.

23,040. Do you know who paid him?—I do not know who paid him; he was paid.

23,041. What was the amount?—10*l.*

James Whittaker, of Lodge Street, Lancaster, tailor, is called, but does not answer. J. Whittaker.

(Mr. Coupland.) He was paid in the same way.

John Whittaker, of Lodge Street, Lancaster, cabinet-maker, is called, but does not answer. J. Whittaker.

23,042. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Coupland.) Is John Whittaker an old man?—I do not know him at all. He got 6*l.* for his vote.

Thomas Willock sworn and examined. T. Willock.

23,043. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In George Street, Lancaster.

23,044. What are you?—A carver.

23,045. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,046. What did they give you?—I got 10*l.*

23,047. Anything else?—I got 1*l.* 10*s.* on the nomination day.

23,048. What was that for?—Danson gave it to me for being on the committee, I suppose.

23,049. Anything else?—I received 1*l.* from Mr. Coupland about eight days before the election.

23,050. Anything else?—No, nothing else.

23,051. No half crowns or shillings when you were thirsty?—No.

23,052. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

John Winder sworn and examined. J. Winder.

23,053. (Mr. Newton.) You come from Golgotha?—Yes.

23,054. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,055. What did you get for doing it?—10*l.*

23,056. What did you get for being on the committee?—I never was on any committee.

23,057. You got more than the 10*l.*, did you not?—No.

23,058. Have you got any brothers who are voters?—No, I have not any brothers.

23,059. Have you any sons who are voters?—I have got one.

23,060. What is his name?—Richard Winder.

23,061. Of Overton?—Yes.

23,062. A husbandman?—That is him.

23,063. What did he get for his vote?—I do not know as he got anything.

23,064. If the father votes one way and the son the other, there must be some good reason for it?—I do not know; he does not live at home; I do not know anything about it.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

20 Sept. 1866.

JOHN WILCOCK sworn and examined.

J. Wilcock.

23,065. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A brewer at present.

23,066. Of Penny Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

23,067. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,068. What did you receive for your vote?—12*l.*

23,069. From whom did you receive it?—I do not know the gentleman's name.

23,070. Where did you receive it?—In Septimus Hodgson's back kitchen.

23,071. Who took you there?—The gentleman who paid the money. Mr. Coupland will be able to tell you the man's name.

23,072. What did you receive besides the 12*l.*?—Nothing.

23,073. Were you not on any committee?—No.

23,074. You are a householder?—I was then, but I am not now.

23,075. What house did you live in?—The "Malt Shovel," in Penny Street.

23,176. You kept that house?—Yes.

23,077. What are you?—I am a brewer at present.

23,078. What rent do you pay for your house?—I do not keep a house now.

23,079. Where do you live?—I live in lodgings.

W. Singleton.

WILLIAM SINGLETON sworn and examined.

23,080. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Edward Street.

23,081. Are you a joiner?—Yes.

23,082. For whom did you vote at the last election? For Mr. Lawrence.

23,083. How much did you get?—10*l.*

23,084. Anything else?—Yes.

23,085. What did you get besides?—I got 10*s.* and 30*s.*

23,086. Did you get anything more?—No.

23,087. Nothing to drink. Did you get no half-crowns or shillings or sixpences to get drink with?—No.

23,088. Do you know what John Singleton got paid for his vote?—He got the same as I did.

23,089. Did you see him paid?—Yes, I did.

23,090. Then there is W. H. Singleton?—He is gone out of the town.

23,091. Who paid him?—Well, he was paid 10*l.*

23,092. By Mr. Cross?—No, Mr. Coupland; it came from Mr. Coupland.

23,093. What did Benjamin Singleton get?—Just the same as me; we were all together.

23,094. How many of you were there together?—There were four of us.

23,095. (Mr. Newton.) Are these men all day labourers?—One is a joiner and another is a plumber.

23,096. (Mr. Barstow.) Did he take 12*l.* altogether?—Yes.

23,097. Then there is another Singleton, William Henry; did you see him paid?—Yes.

23,098. He got 12*l.* too?—Yes.

T. Richmond.

THOMAS RICHMOND sworn and examined.

23,099. (Mr. Newton.) Are you of Great John Street, Lancaster, painter?—Yes.

23,100. What are your politics?—A painter.

23,101. Of what colour? Are they painted Blue or Yellow?—Blue.

23,102. And you voted Blue?—Yes.

23,103. What did you get for voting Blue?—9*l.*

23,104. What did you get besides that?—Nothing.

23,105. Were you on any committee?—No.

23,106. Did you not get something for drink?—No, I never tasted it.

23,107. Did you not get something to spend?—No.

23,108. You only got 9*l.*?—That is all.

G. Richmond.

GEORGE RICHMOND sworn and examined.

23,109. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a painter, and do you live in Great John Street?—Yes.

23,110. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

23,111. What did they give you for voting?—10*l.*

23,112. Who gave it to you?—Thomas Garnett gave it to me.

23,113. And what did you get besides the 10*l.*?—Nothing.

23,114. Were you not on any committee?—No.

23,115. How came you to get 1*l.* more than the other painters?—I do not know; I cannot say.

23,116. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you related to William Richmond, of Great John Street, painter?—Yes.

23,117. And Benjamin Richmond, of Great John Street, painter?—Yes.

23,118. Who would pay them?—I do not know.

23,119. Have you never heard anything about it?—No.

23,120. Have you never had any talk about it?—No.

23,121. Have you never told them you got 10*l.*?—Yes, I believe I told them.

23,122. And what did they tell you?—They told me nothing. I know my brother Thomas received 9*l.*

23,123. So he has told us. You cannot tell us about any other Richmond?—No.

J. Shrigley.

JAMES SHRIGLEY sworn and examined.

23,124. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

23,125. Where do you live?—In Plumb Court.

23,126. You voted for Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

23,127. What did they give you?—10*l.*

23,128. Were you on any committee?—Yes.

23,129. What did you get?—I got 30*s.*

23,130. Nothing more?—Yes.

23,131. What more?—I got 2*s.* of Mr. Coupland.

23,132. But you got something more than that, did you not?—No.

23,133. We have been informed that you got a good deal more than that?—It is not truth.

23,134. How much do you say you got altogether?—I got 10*l.*, and 30*s.*, and a two-shilling piece; and from George Danson about a shilling, as near as I can tell.

23,135. More than that, did you not?—Well, I did not get it, because my wife got it. My wife got the 10*l.*

23,136. No doubt she gave it to you?—No, I always leaves it all to her.

23,137. After your wife got the 10*l.*, what did you get?—Nothing.

23,138. You got more than that, did you not?—No, I did not.

23,139. You told us just now that you did—that you got 33*s.*?—Them was the oddments, I suppose.

23,140. You consider 33*s.* nothing?—I got that when I was doing nought, you know.

23,141. I wish you would teach me that trade.—George Danson engaged me for that week at 5*s.* a day.

23,142. Your wife got 10*l.*, and you got 33*s.*?—Yes.

23,143. And you really mean to say that that is all you got?—Yes.

23,144. Is it, on your oath, all you got?—Yes, most distinctly it is.

23,145. Did any other relation of yours get any money?—No, not that I am aware of.

23,146. (To Mr. Coupland.) Is that correct?—I have him down here for 14*l.*

23,147. Have you any voucher for that?—I have not. This is Mr. Taylor's list.

23,148. (To the Witness.) Who paid it?—Henry Waterhouse paid me.

J. Shrigley.

RICHARD SMITH sworn and examined. R. Smith.

23,149. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you come from?—Cleveley.

23,150. What are you?—A labouring man.

23,151. You were a voter here at the election in 1865?—Yes.

23,152. And you voted for Mr. Lawrence?—Yes.

23,153. What did you get for voting for Mr. Lawrence?—10*l.*

23,154. And what did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing at all.

23,155. You got nothing besides the 10*l.*?—10*l.* is the money I received.

23,156. Are you an agricultural labourer?—A what?

23,157. Do you work in the fields?—I work in the fields, and shift dirt, and do other things.

23,158. You do all you can to get a livelihood?—Yes.

THOMAS DOBSON sworn and examined. T. Dobson.

23,159. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A joiner.

23,160. Where do you live?—In Damside Street.

23,161. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

23,162. What did they pay for it?—10*l.* and 1*l.*

23,163. Who gave it to you?—Stanton.

23,164. What was the 1*l.* for?—For coming from Manchester, for expenses.

23,165. Did you get anything else?—No.

REUBEN PIMM, jun., sworn and examined. R. Pimm, jun.

23,166. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A mason.

23,167. Where do you live?—In Damside Street.

23,168. You voted for Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

23,169. What did they pay you?—12*l.*, and 3*l.* 5*s.* for the committee.

23,170. Nothing more?—No.

23,171. (Mr. Newton.) You are a mason?—Yes.

23,172. A journeyman?—Yes.

23,173. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you serve on both committees?—No.

23,174. Only on one?—That is all.

23,175. You only served on the Conservative committee?—That is all.

23,176. And you received no money from the other side?—No, not a farthing.

JONATHAN WOLFENDALE sworn and examined. J. Wolfendale.

23,177. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a Conservative in politics?—No, I am nothing.

23,178. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

23,179. Why did you vote for Lawrence at the last election?—Because I had the vote, and I did not know who to give it to then.

23,180. Somebody came to you?—Yes.

23,181. And offered you 10*l.*, was not that it?—I suppose so.

23,182. And you voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

23,183. Did you get anything else?—No.

23,184. What are you?—A butcher.

23,185. Then you did not stand out with Hodgson and the other butchers?—No.

23,186. Were you on a committee?—No, I was not on any committee.

23,187. You only got this money for your vote?—That is all.

JAMES GREGSON sworn and examined. J. Gregson.

23,188. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A painter.

23,189. Where do you live?—At the Pothouses.

23,190. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,191. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

23,192. Were you on either committee?—No.

23,193. Did you get anything besides the 12*l.*?—No.

23,194. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you the brother of the other Gregson, who has just been called?—Yes.

23,195. Do you know what he got?—No, I do not.

ROBERT NORMAN sworn and examined. R. Norman.

23,196. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At Preston now.

23,197. Where did you live at the time of the last election?—I was boating on the canal.

23,198. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

23,199. What did you get?—10*l.*

23,200. Nothing else?—Yes.

23,201. What besides?—I got 30*s.* from George Danson the Saturday night before the election.

23,202. For being on the committee, perhaps?—Yes.

23,203. Anything else?—Christopher Pimm and me got a pound as the expenses for fetching my brother from Preston.

JOSEPH SOWERBY sworn and examined. J. Sowerby.

23,204. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a butcher?—Yes.

23,205. Do you live in Union Square?—Yes.

23,206. What are your politics? Did you vote Blue or Yellow?—Blue.

23,207. What did you get for voting Blue?—10*l.*

23,208. Who paid you?—Well, I was booked by Mr. Stanton, but I do not know who paid me; he was a gentleman I did not know.

23,209. What did you get for being on the committee?—I got 1*l.* from George Danson. That was all I got.

23,210. Are you a master butcher?—No.

23,211. Only a journeyman?—A journeyman.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY

20 Sept. 1866.

E. Townson.

EDWARD TOWNSON sworn and examined.

23,212. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A whitesmith.

23,213. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,214. What did you get for so doing?—10*l.*

23,215. What did you receive as a committee man?—30*s.*

23,216. What other monies did you get?—I got 10*s.* of Mr. Stanton.

23,217. Then you got 12*l.* altogether?—Yes.

23,218. Were you on both committees?—Yes.

23,219. How much did you get from Mr. Fenwick's committee?—30*s.*

23,220. For how many weeks were you on Fenwick's committee?—Only one.

23,221. You were paid there at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, were you?—Yes.

23,222. And then you walked off and got your 30*s.* at Lawrence's?—Yes.

23,223. Did all of you do that?—Well, I do not know; I did.

23,224. And a good many others?—I daresay they did.

23,225. Who paid you the money at Fenwick's?—A young man in Mr. Tilly's office.

23,226. Do you know that young man's name?—No, I do not know his name.

23,227. Did he pay the others, too, while you were there?—Yes; there was only me and two more.

23,228. He paid you and two more while you were there?—Yes.

23,229. Who were the two others?—Two brothers; they call them Ralph.

23,230. What are their christian names?—Robert is one of them, and I do not know the other's christian name.

23,231. You got nothing besides 13*l.* 10*s.*?—No.

23,232. Did you ever intend to vote for Fenwick?—Yes, at the beginning.

23,233. How much were you offered to vote for them?—I was never offered nothing.

23,234. And that was the reason why you voted "Blue?"—Yes.

23,235. They came in first with an offer?—Yes.

21,236. Do you mean that you never had any bid from the other side?—I went to the "Sun Inn."

23,237. Was that Mr. Fenwick's committee room?—No; Lawrence's committee room.

23,238. What changed you from Fenwick to Lawrence?—I do not know.

23,239. I am sure if you do not know I do not?—I went there, and they asked me to vote for him, and I did.

23,240. When they asked you to vote for him did they give you a reason for voting for him?—No. I went there to see what was going on.

23,241. And you made the best bargain you could for your vote?—Yes.

23,242. Who did you bargain with?—Well, he was a stranger in the room.

23,243. (Mr. Newton.) What are you by trade?—A whitesmith.

23,244. What wages do you receive?—22*s.* a week.

23,245. Have you a house of your own?—No.

23,246. You are merely a lodger?—Yes.

23,247. You do not care anything about politics, do you?—No, not much.

R. Parker.

ROBERT PARKER sworn and examined.

23,248. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a horse breaker?—Yes.

23,249. Where do you live?—In Brewery Yard.

23,250. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,251. What did you get?—10*l.*

23,252. Anything else?—Yes, 24*s.*

23,253. You got nothing more?—No.

23,254. 11*l.* 4*s.*, then, was all you got?—Yes.

23,255. (Mr. Newton.) Were you on the committee on the opposite side?—No.

W. Rennison.

WILLIAM RENNISON sworn and examined.

23,256. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A painter.

23,257. What are your politics?—Conservative.

23,258. Did you vote for Lawrence the last time?—Yes.

23,259. What did you get for doing so?—10*l.*

23,260. How many committees were you upon?—Only one.

23,261. How much money did you get for that?—24*s.*

23,262. Then you got 11*l.* 4*s.*?—Yes.

23,263. Is Thomas Rennison here?—No.

23,264. Do you know anything about what your brother got?—Yes, he got the same as I did.

23,265. Did you see him get it?—Yes.

G. Croskell.

GEORGE CROSKELL sworn and examined.

23,266. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a yeoman living in Damside Street?—I am living there. They call me a yeoman, but I cannot be a yeoman. They call me in the papers a yeoman.

23,267. And you answer to the name?—I live on charity.

23,268. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Schneider and Lawrence.

23,269. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

23,270. What did you get afterwards?—I never got nought but a sovereign from George Danson. One Sunday morning he followed me down, and said, "Who will you vote for? You have a vote. I have something for you." He was not above two minutes. He said, "Here is something for you."

23,271. How long was that after the election?—It was the Sunday before the election.

23,272. Then you made up your mind how you should vote?—Yes, I had made up my mind a fortnight before to go and vote with my old neighbour.

23,273. Mr. Schneider?—Aye, for them; but with William Nicholson; he went with me.

23,274. You got 1*l.* for it?—He gave me 1*l.* I said, "I do not take bribes," and he said, "But get yourself something to drink." I do not take bribes, but George betrayed me this time.

23,275. How had you always voted before?—I generally split between Whig and Tory if there was two.

23,276. All your life?—For many years I always split if there was a Whig and Tory. I did not look at politics. I thought it would seem more peaceable. I know very little about politics. I do not go to London.

23,277. You thought it looked more peaceable?—I always thought it was more peaceful for the town.

23,278. You think that they are all about the same when they get up to the Parliament house?—Their business is not ours; they should do the best they can, I think.

23,279. That sovereign was all you got?—Yes, it was all that I ever got.

23,280. Did you not get anything from anybody else?—Never from nobody else, and I never was asked, and never was molested the whole election neither by man nor woman nor anybody else.

23,281. Mr. Stanton says that you got 10*l.*?—I let him hear of it as soon as ever I saw it in the papers. I have been at him several times since to speak to him about it.

23,282. And have you spoken to him about it?—Two or three times, and I said I would bring him before the justice. I never made a bargain for money with him nor anybody else. The old gentleman and me went together. There was a cab fetched us. William Nicholson and me got in; he helped me in and out did Nicholson. I was very poorly at that time, and he helped me in and helped me out, and I polled for them two.

23,283. What are you?—I am an old man that has done naught for the last seven years. Since my wife died for two or three years, I have been creeping about when I could get out, doing naught, but being kept by charity.

23,284. How old are you?—I was born in 1804.

23,285. Then you are only 62 now?—82; I miscounted.

23,286. You were born in 1784?—Yes, I miscounted; 82 will be it.

THOMAS VARLEY sworn and examined. T. Varley.

23,287. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Lime Street, St. George's Quay.

23,288. And you are a painter?—Yes.

23,289. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

23,290. What did they give you?—10*l.*

23,291. Anything more?—No. Mr. Isaac Jackson said that he gave George Storey 5*l.* for me, but I never got it.

23,292. You have only received 10*l.*?—10*l.*; that is all.

23,293. From whom did you receive it?—I suppose through Mr. Stanton.

23,294. (Mr. Hill.) Then you deny the statement as to the 5*l.*?—Yes.

23,295. At least you say you did not receive it?—Yes.

23,296. Did you not get anything on the committee?—No, I had nothing to do with the election except voting and getting the money; that was all.

JOHN WILLOCK sworn and examined. J. Willock.

23,297. You are a joiner?—Yes.

23,298. And you live in Lodge Street?—Yes.

23,299. What did you get for your vote?—13*l.*

23,300. Was that 10*l.* for your vote, and 3*l.* for the committee?—No; 13*l.* for my vote.

23,301. Anything besides?—30*s.* for being on the committee.

23,302. Which committee?—Lawrence's.

23,303. Did you get anything for being on the other committee?—No.

23,304. What are you?—A joiner.

23,305. A journeyman or a master?—A journeyman.

23,306. Capstick paid you, did he not?—Yes.

HENRY HARTLEY sworn and examined. H. Hartley.

23,307. (Mr. Hill.) You live on Castle Hill?—Yes.

23,308. What are you?—A plasterer.

23,309. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,310. What did you get?—12*l.*

23,311. That was for your vote?—Yes.

23,312. How much did you get for being on the committee?—I was not on the committee at all.

23,313. Did you not get anything besides the 12*l.*?—No.

EDWARD COLEMAN sworn and examined. E. Coleman.

23,314. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I keep a shop.

23,315. What sort of a shop?—A confectioner's shop.

23,316. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,317. What did they give you?—10*l.*

23,318. Nothing more?—No.

23,319. (Mr. Hill.) What is your rent?—13*l.*

23,320. (Mr. Barstow.) You were not on any committee?—No.

WILLIAM MECOID is called, but does not answer.

GEORGE MECOID sworn and examined. G. Mecoid.

23,321. (Mr. Barstow.) Can you tell us anything about the money that William Mecoid received?—Yes, I got it for him.

23,322. (Mr. Newton.) Are you the son of William Mecoid?—Yes.

23,323. Is your father ill?—Yes.

23,324. He cannot attend?—No.

23,325. What did he get at the election of 1865?—3*l.*

23,326. How do you know?—I got it for him.

23,327. From whom?—Mr. George Storey.

23,328. How did he vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,329. Is that all he got?—Yes.

JAMES BARBER is called, but does not answer.

DANIEL HARDY is called, but does not answer.

JOHN BARBER sworn and examined. J. Barber.

23,330. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,331. What did you get for so doing?—8*l.*

23,332. That was for your vote. Did you get anything for attending on the committee?—No, I was not on the committee.

23,333. Did you get any other money at all?—No.

23,334. (Mr. Barstow.) There is another Barber. James is his name, I think; did he get anything?—Yes, he is my father. He got the same.

23,335. Did you see him paid?—Yes.

23,336. He was paid by Procter?—Yes.

23,337. Then he need not attend. Did you see Daniel Hardy paid?—Yes.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

J. Barber.

20 Sept. 1866.

23,338. Was he paid, 8*l.* ?—Yes.

23,339. By Procter ?—Yes.

23,340. Then Richard Barber, shoemaker; do you know him ?—Yes; he is my brother.

23,341. What did he get; did you see him paid at the same time ?—Yes, 8*l.*

23,342. By Procter ?—Yes.

23,343. Then there is another man named Robert Wilson; was he by at the time ?—Yes.

23,344. Did you see him paid too ?—Yes.

23,345. Each got 8*l.* ?—Yes.

23,346. Did any of them get more than that ?—I did not, but I cannot say for the others.

23,347. Did you get any more ?—No. Richard Barber is in Preston.

23,348. Do you know what Robert Wilson got ?—He got 8*l.* when we got ours, but I cannot say whether he got anything else.

23,349. You do not know whether he did or not ?—No.

23,350. Has he ever told you ?—No, he has not.

23,351. Do you know whether he was on any committee ?—Yes, I believe he was on Mr. Lawrence's committee.

23,352. Was he on the other committee too ?—Not that I am aware of.

23,353. Is Robert Wilson here ?—No, I have not seen him.

23,354. Have you seen him to-day ?—No.

W. Standen.

WILLIAM STANDEN sworn and examined.

23,355. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A currier.

23,356. Where do you live ?—In Lodge Street.

23,357. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,358. What did they give you ?—7*l.*

23,359. Who gave it to you ?—I do not know the man who gave it to me. I was on Stanton's list.

23,360. You got your ticket from Stanton ?—No, I did not receive any ticket.

23,361. Was that all you got ?—I got 1*l.* more from George Danson the night before the election.

23,362. Did you get anything more than 1*l.* ?—No

23,363. 8*l.* altogether ?—Yes.

23,364. You received nothing else ?—No.

23,365. You were not on any committee ?—No.

23,366. For what did you get the 1*l.* ?—I suppose on account of taking up my freedom.

23,367. You had taken up your freedom before, of course ?—Yes.

R. Beeley.

ROBERT BEELEY sworn and examined.

23,368. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A brushmaker.

23,369. Where do you live ?—In Cheapside.

23,370. What are your politics ?—Conservative.

23,371. What did you get for voting Conservative ?—I got 6*l.* for my vote and services. I was on Mr. Storey's committee.

23,372. Was that all ?—No.

23,373. Were you on the committee on the other side ?—No. I got 10*s.* from Mr. Storey a few days before the election to treat the voters with.

23,374. Is that included in the 6*l.* ?—No.

23,375. You got 6*l.* 10*s.* ?—Yes. At the nomination I was down at the "White Horse." I was looking after a man of the name of William Woodburn the greater part of the day.

23,376. What about William Woodburn ?—I had very great difficulty in keeping him all right. At that time he was in a very weak condition.

23,377. How do you mean "keeping him all right ?"—Keeping him in our hands. I was afraid of him going over to the other side.

23,378. Was he all wrong with drink ?—He would not have common stuff then. He got nothing but port wine all day.

23,379. That is the way you spent the 10*s.*, is it ?—I treated a lot of freemen's wives.

23,380. You went to the freemen's wives, did you; with what did you treat them ?—A gallon of ale.

23,381. They like that, do they ?—Yes, they appeared to appreciate it very much.

23,382. Did they ask for a cap, or a gown, or a shawl ?—They were not very particular.

23,383. What did you get besides the 6*l.* 10*s.* ?—Nothing.

23,384. (Mr. Hill.) You got something for keeping Woodburn straight all day ?—No, I was very glad to get away from him.

23,385. Did you not get something to keep him straight with, to pay for the port wine ?—It was paid for afterwards, I suppose.

23,386. (Mr. Newton.) You got 6*l.* 10*s.* altogether ?—Yes.

W. Cubin.

WILLIAM CUBIN sworn and examined.

23,387. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A whitesmith.

23,388. Living in Bridge Lane ?—Yes.

23,389. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,390. What did you get ?—5*l.*

23,391. Is that all ?—Yes.

23,392. Did you get nothing more than 5*l.* ?—No.

23,393. What was that for ?—For voting, I suppose.

23,394. That was not the price of a split vote, you know ?—No, it was not half enough.

23,395. However, was that all you got ?—Yes.

23,396. Did you not manage to get on to one of the committees ?—No, I was carrying bills out.

23,397. What did you get for carrying the bills out ?—5*s.* a day.

23,398. How much did that come to ?—I got 15*s.* for three days.

23,399. You got 5*l.* 15*s.* altogether ?—Yes.

23,400.—What did you get for work on the committee ?—I got nothing but that.

23,401. You got something beyond the 5*l.* 15*s.* ?—Not that I know of.

23,402. You are more likely to know than I am. Did you not get something else besides the 5*l.* 15*s.* ?—No, not any that I know of.

23,403. Nothing at all ?—No, I think not.

23,404. Nothing but your drink ?—I got part for drink when I was out in the country delivering bills.

23,405. 5*l.* was all you got for voting ?—Yes.

C. Row.

CHARLES ROW sworn and examined.

23,406. (Mr Barstow.) What are you ?—A farmer.

23,407. Where do you live ?—Highfield, Lancaster.

23,408. You voted for Lawrence at the last election ?—Yes.

23,409. What did you get ?—5*l.*

23,410. Nothing more ?—No.

23,411. You call yourself a farmer; what do you farm ?—It is 120*l.* a year that I live on, and I have other land besides.

23,412. Of your own, perhaps ?—No.

23,413. What rent do you pay altogether ?—I can hardly tell.

23,414. Cannot you tell me the whole amount that you pay; I should have thought you might do that sum in your head—250*l.*? it has happened rather more. I can tell you all the land I farm.

23,415. We do not want that; we want to know what your rent is. Are you sure it is not 300*l.*?—Yes, I am sure it is not 300*l.*

23,416. (Mr. Hill.) Is it 275*l.*?—No, it is not that.

23,417. 250*l.*?—I have never reckoned it up.

23,418. Were you on any committee?—No.

23,419. Was 5*l.* all you got?—Yes, every shilling.

23,420. And little enough too?—I got that.

BENJAMIN SANDHAM sworn and examined. B. Sandham.

23,421. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A painter.

23,422. A journeyman?—Yes.

23,423. Where do you live?—Anchor Lane.

23,424. Are you a Conservative in politics?—Yes.

23,425. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

23,426. What did you get for doing it?—10*l.*

23,427. What did you get for being on the committee?—30*s.*, from George Danson.

23,428. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

23,429. 11*l.* 10*s.* is all you got?—Yes.

23,430. What are your wages?—24*s.*

23,431. A week?—Yes.

RICHARD PROCTER sworn and examined. R. Procter.

23,432. (Mr. Hill.) Did you vote for Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

23,433. What did you get for your vote?—2*l.*

23,434. Is that all?—Yes.

23,435. How came you to go for 2*l.*?—I never asked for anything.

23,436. When did they give it to you?—After I had voted.

23,437. How long after?—Two hours.

23,438. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Nelson.

23,439. Who took you to the poll?—I went myself.

23,440. Who brought you up from Ellel?—Mr. Lawson.

23,441. Who told you where to go for your money?—Nobody.

23,442. How did you and the 2*l.* come across one another?—I told him I did not want anything, that he might just please himself whether he gave me anything or not.

23,443. That was before you voted?—Yes.

23,444. You seem to have been very hardly used. They insisted on your having 2*l.*?—That is all I got.

23,445. That is all you have got to tell us?—Yes.

23,446. How did you vote at the election before?—I never voted at all.

23,447. You had a vote?—Yes.

23,448. They did not offer you anything?—I never came at all.

JOSEPH MASON sworn and examined. J. Mason.

23,449. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a painter?—Yes.

23,450. You voted for Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

23,451. What did they give you?—5*l.*

23,452. Anything else besides the 5*l.*?—No.

23,453. Nothing at all?—No.

23,454. You were on no committee?—No.

JOHN HARGREAVES sworn and examined. J. Hargreaves.

23,455. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A gardener.

23,456. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

23,457. Which way did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,458. Take care what you say. What did you get 5*l.* for?—General expenses at the election.

23459. From whom did you get the 5*l.*?—I got 2*l.* from George Clark, and 3*l.* from John Cross.

23,460. How did you spend it?—I spent it amongst the voters generally.

23,461. Tell me a single voter you spent it upon?—Yes, I can do it.

23,462. Tell me one?—Henry Stirzaker.

23,463. Is he a gardener too?—Yes.

23,464. How did you spend it upon him?—I gave him 10*s.* for his vote.

23,465. Do you mean to say that you bought his vote for 10*s.*?—Yes.

23,466. That is the lowest price I ever heard of?—And I gave him 10*s.* during a week or ten days; a shilling at a time, when he required it.

23,467. What for?—Allowance, I suppose.

23,468. That is 1*l.* Now go on?—I have done, except treating.

23,469. What did you do with the remaining 4*l.*?—I spent it during the election.

23,470. Tell me anyone else upon whom you spent it?—I cannot say.

23,471. Where did you spend it?—At different public-houses.

23,472. Tell me a public-house where you spent it?—I spent it at so many.

23,473. Tell me the name of one?—I spent some at the "Bay Horse," in China Lane.

23,474. How much did you spend there?—I cannot say that.

23,475. Tell me the name of another public-house where you spent some in drink?—I cannot tell the public-houses where I spent it.

23,476. Did you treat the voters?—Yes.

23,477. Did you sit and drink with them?—Of course I would have a glass, the same as they had.

23,478. Tell me another house where you spent the money. You did not spend 4*l.* in China Lane?—No, not all in China Lane.

13,479. Tell me the name of another house where you spent it?—I spent it in many a one.

23,480. Give me another?—The "Anchor," in Market Street.

23,481. How much did you spend there?—I cannot say.

23,482. Now tell me another?—It was at different public-houses. I cannot give you the names of them.

23,483. You must?—Am I to tell you them all?

23,484. Yes, every one?—But I do not know every one.

23,485. I think you will before you go away. We have got two now. Tell me another one?—I really cannot; not to name any particular house.

23,486. Perhaps you did not spend it at all?—Well, I think I did.

23,487. You ought to know. Did you or did you not spend it?—Yes, I did spend it.

23,488. When did you get that 3*l.*?—The night before the election.

23,489. Where at?—In George Clark's shop, Market Street.

23,490. 2*l.* from Clark, and 3*l.* from Cross?—Yes.

23,491. You got 3*l.* from Cross in Clark's shop?—Yes; at least from a young man that was with him. I do not know him. I had never seen him before or since.

23,492. What did Cross say to you?—He asked me what my expenses were during the election.

23,493. Had you incurred any expenses?—Yes, I had.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

J. Hargreaves.

20 Sept. 1866

23,494. What made you go to Clark's shop —I was there when he came in.

23,495. What were you doing there?—I was talking with Mr. Clark's man.

23,496. What about?—I do not know, I am sure, what the conversation might be.

23,497. What made you go to the shop?—I go there every night. I very seldom miss a night.

23,498. This was the evening before the election?—Yes, it was.

23,499. You went there to see what you could get?—No.

23,500. Do you mean to say that Mr. Cross volunteered to give you 3*l.* to go and treat the electors with?—He came into the shop when I was there. He asked me what my expenses were, and I said, "Perhaps thirty-five shillings," and then I said, "I shall want some more during the election."

23,501. You volunteered to spend 30*s.* more?—No, not 30*s.*; I had spent 35*s.*

23,502. He paid you the 3*l.*?—The young man who was with him did. I do not know who he was.

23,503. Why did you not come yesterday?—I had not a summons till this morning.

23,504. (Mr. Barstow.) Who asked you to treat the voters?—I do not know. It was mentioned by different parties.

23,505. Who asked you?—Mr. Cross did for one.

23,506. Do you really mean to tell us that Mr. Cross asked you to treat the voters?—Yes.

23,507. When did he do that?—Some time before the election.

23,508. Had he given you any money then to treat them with?—No.

23,509. When did you receive this money from George Clark?—About two days before the election; on the 10th of July.

23,510. What did you do on the election day?—I looked after the voters up and down the town.

23,511. Whom did you treat on the election day?—I cannot say.

23,512. Where did you treat anyone on the election day?—I do not know; at public-houses.

23,513. (Mr. Newton.) You know very well that you got 3*l.* for your vote?—I spent it in treating the voters.

23,514. (Mr. Hill.) Cross asked you to treat voters. Did he tell you to what extent you might treat the voters?—No.

23,515. What did he say?—He said I must look after the voters, and if a man wants a glass of ale give him one.

23,516. In what district?—Any district.

23,517. Were you to give a glass of ale to every one who wanted one?—No.

23,518. What were you to do?—To look after the voters.

23,519. Did he not tell you what the houses were which were opened for Mr. Lawrence?—No.

23,520. Did you take these voters whom you treated to "Yellow" or "Blue" houses?—I took them nowhere. I met them in the houses.

23,521. Did you go into public-houses for the purpose of finding men to whom you might give drink?—No.

23,522. Then what do you mean?—I mean to say if I found a man in a house, who I knew was a voter, I would give him a glass.

23,523. Did you go round to every public-house to see if there were any such men?—No.

23,524. Did you take one single man into a public-house?—Yes.

23,525. Tell me one?—Stirkazer.

23,526. Besides Stirkazer?—I do not know.

23,527. On the day of the election, did you take a single man into a public-house?—Many a one.

23,528. Give me the name?—I cannot remember one.

23,529. When did you balance up your accounts?—I never did.

23,530. Do you know how much of the 5*l.* you have spent, and how much you kept for yourself?—I do not know. I kept the remainder of what I did not spend.

23,531. (Mr. Newton.) Then you were bribed.

J. Hartley.

JOHN HARTLEY sworn and examined.

23,532. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,533. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

23,533*a*. Did you receive anything besides the 10*l.*?—No, I did not.

23,534. You got only 10*l.* altogether?—That is all that I got.

23,535. You are a teetotaller, are you not?—Yes.

23,536. You never take any drink?—Well, I have done since the election, but I did not afore.

23,537. When did you begin?—I began a few days after the election.

23,538. You broke the pledge, did you?—Yes, I did.

23,539. Had you taken the pledge before?—No, I had not.

23,540. What do you mean by calling yourself a teetotaller, then?—I was ordered by a doctor to take gin. Mr. Harker told me I should have such a thing, but I was badly off then. He told me to drink gin.

23,541. You followed his advice?—Yes.

23,542. Did he tell you how much gin you were to drink?—Yes.

23,543. How much did he tell you, because I am anxious to have the prescription?—I could drink a glass about twice a day.

23,544. Were you to take it with water, or pure?—He said I might take it as it was.

23,545. Did you take it as it was?—Yes, I did.

23,546. And you drank a good lot?—No, I did not.

23,547. Have you been better for it, or worse?—Well, I was rather better.

23,548. You have been going off since?—Yes, rather.

23,549. Have you had your medicine to-day?—No, I have not, nor have not had for these two or three months.

23,550. Besides 10*l.*, did you get anything else?—No.

23,551. Were you not on any committee?—No.

23,552. They did not require you at their deliberations?—No.

23,553. (Mr. Newton.) How much money can you earn in a week?—15*s.*

23,554. Are you a married man?—No, a single man.

W. Jackson.

WILLIAM JACKSON sworn and examined.

23,555. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

23,556. What are you?—A Liberal.

23,557. Where do you live?—Chapel Court.

23,558. What did you get from Fenwick and Schneider?—18*l.*

23,559. Who gave it to you?—I got 8*l.* of Knowles Allinson, and 10*l.* in a jerry-shop on the Quay.

23,560. The "Blue Anchor?"—Yes.

23,561. Was that all you got from Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

23,562. You are sure of that?—Yes, for voting.

23,563. You got something besides?—On the committee I got 1*l.*

23,564. You got more than that?—I think not.

23,565. Are you sure?—Yes.

23,566. Did you not get anything to spend?—No.

23,567. You would be having half-a-crown from time to time?—No.

23,568. Are you quite sure?—I was at work.

23,569. Where were you at work?—I was labouring.

23,570. Where?—I am up at the Freehold at present.

23,571. Where were you then?—Down at Morecambe, on the railway.

23,572. All you got from Fenwick and Schneider was 19*l.* Are you quite sure you did not get any more?—Yes.

23,573. Now we come to the other side; what did you get from them?—Nothing.

23,574. Nothing from Mr. Cross?—I never saw Mr. Cross. I saw my name in the paper, but I never saw him or spoke to him.

23,575. Did you get no money from anyone on the other side?—No, not a penny; and let anyone come and say so, whoever he may be! I saw it in the paper, but I never spoke to the man in my life.

23,576. He does not say he gave it to you himself?—No, nor never a one of that party did. Never a one of that party canvassed me.

23,577. Have you always voted "Yellow?"—I did this time.

23,578. Have you always?—No.

23,579. When did you vote "Blue?"—At Garnett and Saunders's election was the only one where I voted "Blue." Last election I voted Fenwick and Schneider.

23,580. Were you at the "Golden Ball" at all on the election day?—I was not.

23,581. Were you never in the house?—No, never.

23,582. Were you in the "Slip Inn?"—No, I never was.

23,583. Not on the election day?—No.

23,584. Were you in the "Volunteer" on the election day?—No. I believe I was only in three houses on that day.

23,585. Which were the three?—Saunders's, in Chapel Street, Peter Moore's, and the "Wheat Sheaf." Those are the three. I do not remember another.

23,586. Are you quite sure you never received any money from Lawrence's side?—I never did.

23,587. You have seen in the papers that you did?—I have seen William Jackson, but I do not know whether it was me or not.

23,588. Yes, it is you, by your number on the register?—I never had a penny.

23,589. Have you said anything about it?—No.

23,590. You have taken no notice of it?—No.

23,591. You have taken no notice of it, and do not care if it is said of you?—No, not as long as I did not get it, and I did pretty well out of the other party.

JOHN WILKINSON THOMPSON sworn and examined.

J. W. Thompson.

23,592. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,593. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

23,594. From whom?—Thomas Foster.

23,595. What did you get for being on the committee?—2*l.* 10*s.*

23,596. Was that all you got?—Yes.

23,597. You were not on any other committee?—No.

23,598. What are you?—A painter.

23,599. A journeyman?—Yes.

23,600. What wages do you earn?—24*s.* now; and it was 22*s.* then.

WILLIAM THORNTON sworn and examined.

W. Thornton.

23,601. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Lancaster?—Yes.

23,602. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,603. How much did they give you?—I got 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* for writing, and 4*l.* 10*s.* during the day of the election.

23,604. For your vote?—Call it what you like.

23,605. I want to know whether you can call it anything else?—You can call it what you think proper.

23,606. You received 7*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.* altogether?—Yes, that was all.

23,607. You were busy writing for a long time?—Yes.

23,608. How many weeks?—Three weeks and two days. I think there should have been more remuneration than that.

23,609. What are you?—A butcher.

HENRY THORNTON sworn and examined.

H. Thornton.

23,610. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am a butcher at present.

23,611. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

23,612. What did they give you?—I got 19*l.* altogether.

23,613. How do you make out the 19*l.*?—John Dobson gave William Mashiter 10*l.* to give to me, and he got 8*l.* from George Danson, and I got 4*l.* of that, and I think he got 10*l.* from Barrow, of which I got half.

23,614. How did you get half of the 8*l.* and half of the 10*l.*?—We joined in what we could get, and he got it all.

23,615. Who got it all?—William Mashiter. He paid me.

23,616. Mashiter got it all?—Yes; he paid me half of it.

23,617. That makes 19*l.* altogether. Did you see Mashiter get this money?—I saw him get 20*l.* from John Dobson. That is all I saw him get, and he told me afterwards who he got the other of.

23,618. You saw him get 20*l.* from Dobson?—Yes.

23,619. And he gave you 10*l.* of that?—Yes.

23,620. You did not see him get the 10*l.* from Barrow?—No, he did not give it to me till six weeks afterwards, not that 5*l.*

23,621. He told you of it?—Yes.

23,622. Then he got 8*l.* from George Danson?—Yes, and he gave me 4*l.*

23,623. Were you on the committee at all?—No.

23,624. You seem to be a keenish fellow; I wonder you were not put on?—I was not on the committee.

23,625. You got some money from the other side, I suppose?—No.

23,626. Not a farthing?—No.

23,627. Is 19*l.* all you touched in that election?—Yes.

JOHN WATSON sworn and examined.

J. Watson.

23,628. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A gardener.

23,629. Where do you live?—New Street.

23,630. Did you vote for Lawrence?—Yes.

23,631. What did you get for your vote?—8*l.*

23,632. Who gave it to you?—Thomas Gardner.

23,633. Did you get anything more for being on the committee?—No.

23,634. Only for your services?—No.

23,635. Nothing to drink?—Yes.

23,636. How much did you get to drink?—I cannot tell that.

23,637. You got it in drink and not money?—I did not get so much drink.

23,638-9. You got 8*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Friday, 21st September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. Barstow. | Mr. Newton.

Mr. Hill.

J. Clark.

21 Sept. 1866.

John Clark recalled and further examined.

23,640. (Mr. Barstow.) We understand that you wish to make a statement with reference to some evidence that has been given before us by William Armistead?—Yes, I wish to say that I read with great astonishment the other day a statement made in the evidence of William Armistead, from which it would be inferred that I had used my influence over him by threatening to take from him the land he occupies if he did not vote for Mr. Saunders in the contest with Mr. Fenwick. With reference to that I will say that I took no active part whatever in that election. I only went to Skelton to ask for a few votes. I never asked William Armistead for his vote, nor did I say anything to him from which he could have inferred that he would lose his land if he did not vote as I wished. I did not care how he voted. I defy anyone of my tenants (and they are rather numerous) to say that I ever attempted to interfere with them or to influence them as to how they should vote in my life. I will also say that at the last election this man promised me his vote for Mr. Lawrence, and voted against him. That, however, made no difference as regarded him; I did not give him notice to quit; I have no intention of doing so; and he still holds the land which he always held under me.

W. Armistead.

William Armistead recalled and further examined.

23,641. (Mr. Barstow.) You have heard what Mr. Clark has said; what have you to say to it?—He never asked me for my vote at Mr. Saunders' election.

21,642. Why did you tell us the other day that he did?—It was a misunderstanding. I thought it was my duty to give a vote that way, but he never tried me or asked me for my vote on that occasion.

23,643. Do you remember what you said when you were examined before us the other day. I will read to you your own words. You said: "I suppose, as "it is put to me, I must explain it. I am farming "some land under Mr. Clark, of Crosshills, and he "wished me to vote for the Blues, and before I would "lose my land and my living I thought I would give "him a vote." That is word for word what you said to us?—That was a misunderstanding of mine.

23,644. It could not be a misunderstanding?—I was alluding to this last election; in that first election he never asked me for my vote—that is at Mr. Saunders' election.

23,645. That was the election to which you alluded in your evidence. You were asked if you had always voted for the Liberals, and you said no, that you had once voted for Mr. Saunders, in the contest between him and Mr. Fenwick, and then you were asked why you had done so, and you gave this which I have read to you as your explanation?—Well, I did not wish to vote against Mr. Clark, but at the same time he never asked me for my vote.

23,646. What you said was, "I am farming some "land under Mr. Clark, of Crosshills, and he wished "me to vote for the Blues?"—I am very sorry I made a mistake.

23,647. And you went on to say, "And before I would lose my land and my living I thought I would give him a vote?"—I am very sorry that I made them remarks, but Mr. Clark never asked me to vote for Mr. Saunders.

23,648. Then I suppose it comes to this, that what you said when you were examined before is a falsehood, or in fact perjury?—No, it is not perjury. I thought it was alluding to this last election.

23,649. You could not possibly have thought so; it is quite impossible that you could. I think it was a wilful and a very malicious lie, vety much calculated to injure Mr. Clark?—I did not wish to injure Mr. Clark, or to tell a falsehood myself.

J. Parkinson.

John Parkinson sworn and examined.

23,650. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—I live in Bridge Lane at present. I lived on St. George's Quay at the time of the election.

23,651. What is your employment?—A joiner.

23,652. Who did you vote for at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,653. What did they give you?—He gave me nothing.

23,654. Had you nothing?—Mr. Stanton gave me 5*l.* for my vote.

23,655. Did you get anything else?—Yes.

23,656. What did you get besides?—2*l.* 5*s.* from Danson.

23,657. That would be for being on the committee?—Yes.

23,658. Did you get anything else?—Yes, from Mr. Gibson, 15*s.*

23,659. What did you get that for?—The same.

23,660. For being on the committee—Yes.

23,661. Anything else?—No, I think not.

23,662. You would have a little money to drink with?—No.

23,663. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

23,664. You are sure that you did not serve on their committee?—No, I never went nigh them.

23,665. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not get anything for anybody else?—No.

23,666. Did you get nothing for your wife?—No, I have none.

23,667. That was all you got, 8*l.*, was it?—Yes, you know what I have got; you have got it down. I got nothing else.

W. Gregson.

William Gregson sworn and examined.

23,668. (Mr. Newton.) You live at the Pothouses?—Yes.

23,669. And you are a tin-plate worker?—Yes.

23,670. Why did you not come here yesterday?—Because I had no summons.

23,671. When did you get your summons?—Last night.

23,672. At what time?—Six o'clock.

23,673. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,674. What did you get for voting for Mr. Lawrence?—12*l.*

23,675. Who paid you?—I do not know; a stranger.

23,676. Was that for being on the committee?—I was not on the committee.

23,677. What did you get for drinking?—Nothing.

23,678. You only got 12*l.* for your vote?—Yes, that is all.

23,679. You swear that that is all you got?—Yes.

WILLIAM WOODBURN sworn and examined.

23,680. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A warehouseman.

23,681. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Liverpool.

23,682. For what?—For Lawrence.

23,683. Was there much money stirring on that side?—Yes, a good deal.

23,684. How much of it came to you?—Very little.

23,685. How much was that little?—6*l.*

23,686. Only 6*l.*?—That is all.

23,687. That was scarcely enough to buy you a coat?—I hardly could get one; I lost it.

23,688. 6*l.* was not all that you got, was it?—Yes, it was; where I lost it was at Bob Hodgson's, in China Lane.

23,689. What did he do?—He bottled me, and got it all within 1*l.*

23,690. You received 6*l.*?—I did.

23,691. And Bob Hodgson got 5*l.* of it?—I suppose he did. I do not know who else. I lost it.

23,692. I suppose you were drunk all the time of the election?—I had a good deal to drink. I was in a fever for nine weeks, and Mr. Maxstead and two or three of them got me knocked off the list; but at the same time I always had voted for the Blues, and I always would again. I think I shall be on the list again.

23,693. Are you on the register now?—I am on as soon as the gentleman in the middle (referring to Mr. Barstow) comes here.

(Mr. Barstow.) I am not coming here this time.

23,694. (Mr. Newton.) Who paid you the 6*l.*?—I cannot say whether it was Fenton or a man who keeps Mr. Sly's office in the Market Street.

23,695. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not manage to get on to a committee?—Yes, I was with George Danson.

23,696. How much did he give you for that?—A fat lot; he gave me 10*s.* for a fortnight.

23,697. That makes 6*l.* 10*s.*; what else did you receive?—Perhaps to the value of 1*l.*, by bits at a time, just to keep me alive, that was all.

23,698. Then you got altogether 7*l.* 10*s.*?—You might call it 7*l.* 10*s.*, and then you would be at the outstretch. Robert Whiteside did give me a shilling one time, and another time he gave me 6*d.*, and I believe that once he gave me a bit of mouldy cheese.

23,699. Did you not manage to get on Fenwick's committee?—No, nor never bothered him at all.

23,700. (Mr. Newton.) How long after the election were you paid?—I was paid before I did vote.

EDWARD WILLIAMS sworn and examined.

23,701. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A painter

23,702. Where do you live?—In St. George's Quay.

23,703. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,704. What did you get?—6*l.*

23,705. Did you get anything else?—I got 1*l.* 4*s.* for being on the committee.

23,706. Did you get anything besides?—No.

23,707. You would be having a little from time to time, would you not?—I got a glass now and then.

23,708. But would you not get half-a-crown or a shilling sometimes?—No.

WILLIAM WOODHOUSE sworn and examined.

23,709. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

23,710. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,711. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

23,712. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—Yes, I got 1*l.* 4*s.*

23,713. Anything else?—No.

23,714. Which committee were you on?—I was on Mr. Stanton's, I suppose, or George Danson's.

23,715. You were not on the committee for Fenwick and Schneider?—No.

23,716. All you got was 11*l.*?—That is all.

23,717. Are you a day labourer working by the week?—I was a day labourer.

23,718. What sort of wages do you earn?—Sometimes more and sometimes less; it is all piecework what I do.

23,719. Do you work in the country?—No, I work for Mr. Storey.

RICHARD LAMB sworn and examined.

23,720. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A cotton spinner.

23,721. Of Robert Street?—Yes.

23,722. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,723. What did you get for it?—10*l.*

23,724. Who paid you?—Mr. Stanton.

23,725. And what did you get besides the 10*l.*?—1*l.* 4*s.*

23,726. Were you on the committee?—Yes.

23,727. Was anything more paid you?—No.

23,728. Was nothing given you to keep you straight till the election came on?—No.

23,729. Were you on the other committee?—No.

JOHN RALPH sworn and examined.

23,730. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A painter.

23,731. Do you live on the Quay?—Yes, I did do.

23,732. Who did you vote for at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,733. What did he give you?—10*l.*

23,734. Did you get anything else?—Yes.

23,735. What did you get besides?—30*s.*

23,736. Who did you get that from?—Mr. Danson.

23,737. Was that for being on the committee?—Yes.

23,738. Did you get anything else?—No.

23,739. Did you confine your services to one committee?—No.

23,740. You served on both?—Yes.

23,741. What did you get for being on the other committee?—2*l.* 5*s.*

23,742. That was for being on Fenwick and Schneider's committee?—Yes.

23,743. And you got 1*l.* 10*s.* from Mr. Lawrence's committee?—Yes.

23,744. Did you get anything else?—No.

23,745. You would be getting a little more for eating and drinking from time to time, would you not?—I would get no money, but I got some drink.

23,746. Is Thomas Ralph any relation of yours?—My father.

23,747. Was he on any committee?—Yes.

23,748. Why is not he here to-day?—He says that the summons was dated the 28th.

23,749. Do you know anything about him?—I do not know what he got.

23,750. You did not see him paid?—No.

23,751. Where is Robert Ralph?—He is at Skerton.

23,752. Do you know what he got?—He got the same as I did.

23,753. Do you know that for certain?—Yes.

23,754. Did he serve on both committees?—Yes.

23,755. He has told you that he got 13*l.* 15*s.*, has he?—Yes.

23,756. You may tell him that he need not come here.—Very well.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

21 Sept. 1866.

W. Ellwood.

WILLIAM ELLWOOD sworn and examined.

23,757. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

23,758. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,759. What did you get for your vote?—6*l.* 10*s.*

23,760. What else did you get for being on the committee?—30*s.*

23,761. Which committee did you serve on?—Mr. Lawrence's.

23,762. What did you get from the other committee?—Nothing.

23,763. Did you not serve on that?—No.

J. Leighton.

JOHN LEIGHTON sworn and examined.

23,764. (Mr. Hill.) What are you now?—I follow as a clock jobber.

23,765. You used to wear a blue coat as a policeman, did you not?—No. I am described on the register as a policeman, but that is a mistake. I have been a pointsman on the Lancaster and Preston, the Lancaster and Carlisle, and the London and North-western for about 16 years. I must beg to refer you to the evidence that was given by Mr. Turner; he did not give any evidence respecting this election, but he directed your attention——

23,766. You shall tell us that by-and-bye. Who did you vote for at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,767. And what did you receive?—I received 9*l.* in the whole at the election.

23,768. 9*l.* altogether?—That is all.

23,769. How much of that was for being on the committee?—I was not put on any committee.

23,770. How much of that was for your vote?—I can tell you where I got it, and who gave it.

23,771. From whom did you receive it?—I received 5*l.* at the "Black Bull," but who the man was I don't know exactly; I did not take much notice of him.

23,772. Where did you receive the rest?—Harrison gave me 2*l.*, and I received 1*l.* at the "Sun."

23,773. Where did you receive the last 1*l.*?—I received it of a young person in Mr. Tilly's office.

23,774. When?—It would be a few days before the election.

23,775. That came from the other side?—Yes, it did. I should have voted for Lawrence and Schneider, but when I was on my way from the "Black Bull" to the polling I met with John L. Bradshaw; he asked me who I was going to vote for, and I told him I was going to vote for Lawrence and Schneider. So I agreed to take 1*l.*, and vote for Lawrence entirely.

23,776. Plump for Lawrence?—Yes; and I got the 1*l.* at the "Sun."

23,777. Bradshaw got you for 1*l.*?—That's it.

23,778. You got 9*l.* for your vote?—Yes. Mr. Turner stated here that I always had the top price at previous elections, and he stated that he gave me 5*l.* Now he gave me 2*l.* at the previous election, and the whole amount I have received in my whole life is 12*l.* 6*s.* I found a good Samaritan, in the person of Thomas Wise, once. He gave me 1*l.*, and that is all I got in my life. I got a shilling from Stackhouse, and that makes up the other item of 6*s.*

23,779. It has been said to us that you were promised 10*l.* for your vote?—That is wrong.

23,780. Did you not promise your vote for 10*l.*?—Never.

23,781. You are not what is called a top-price man?—It appears not. I say I am not.

23,782. Have you got anything else to say?—Yes. He said I had always voted for the Liberals at the previous elections. If anybody will look at the register they will see how I voted. I voted for Saunders always, for Mr. Greene and James Garnett. So that at every election I have voted for a Liberal and Conservative when two representatives were wanted.

23,783. And when there has been only one wanted?—I voted both Liberal.

23,784. When only one was wanted, for which have you voted?—I voted for Robert Baines Armstrong in opposition to Lord Stanley.

23,785. The whole value to you of your elective franchise in the course of your life has been 12*l.* 5*s.*?—12*l.* 6*s.*

W. Gibson.

WILLIAM GIBSON sworn and examined.

23,786. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In George Street.

23,787. What are you?—A shopman.

23,788. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

23,789. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.* from Mr. Coupland.

23,790. Anything else?—2*l.* 5*s.* from George Danson, and 10*s.* on the election morning to spend for expenses.

23,791. Did you receive anything from the other side?—Nothing at all.

23,792. Did you not serve at the committee on the Quay?—No.

23,793. You got 12*l.* 15*s.* altogether?—Yes.

S. Gunson.

SAMUEL GUNSON sworn and examined.

23,794. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,795. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

23,796. Who paid it to you?—Through Mr. Coupland, a man of the name of Harrison paid me.

23,797. What else did you get for being on the committee?—2*l.* 5*s.*

23,798. What else besides?—10*s.* for expenses.

23,799. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

23,800. You were upon the committee upon the other side?—No.

23,801. Are you quite sure?—Certain.

23,802. What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

23,803. A journeyman?—Yes.

J. Hartley.

JAMES HARTLEY sworn and examined.

23,804. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At Caton.

23,805. What are you?—A wheelwright I am set down as in the books.

23,806. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

23,807. What did they give you for your vote?—They gave me 5*l.*; at least they gave it to me in a day or two.

23,808. Who gave it to you?—A son-in-law of mine gave it to me, but it was given to him by Blades, I believe.

23,809. Was that all you got?—Ay?

23,810. How much did you get altogether?—5*l.*

23,811. You got something more than that, did you not?—Not yet I have not. It will have to come in if I have.

23,812. I am afraid if you have not got it yet you never will get it?—No, I never will get it. I never had anything else offered to me. I have heard tell that they report me as having been offered 10*l.* from the other side, but they never axed me for a vote.

23,813. What did they give you?—Now't. They never axed me.

23,814. Did you not get anything from Lawrence's party?—No; they never axed me for a vote. They offered me now't, and if they had I should not have taken it.

23,815. Did you not hear of somebody else having some money for you?—No; they never gave anybody else nothing for me.

23,816. Are you sure nobody got the money for you?—Never; nobody got no money for me of Lawrence.

23,817. Not that you heard of?—No, not that I ever heard of, nor ever shall do either. I can bring witnesses to show that I never got now't.

23,818. It would be a difficult thing to call a witness to say you never had it?—I can call witnesses as was with me the whole of the day, and never seen me with any of the Lawrence chaps.

23,819. Have you ever got anything since?—Me! I never had now't, except 5*l.* What the devil—do you think me silly? I should not have asked for 5*l.* if they had not proffered it me. That was for Schneider.

23,820. They gave you 1*l.* for voting for Schneider?—Yes; that was all I ever got, and ever heard tell on.

23,821. Were you on no committee?—No.

23,822. Did they not put you on a committee?—Put me on! Do you think they would put a fellow like me on?

23,823. Were you on no committee?—On no committee.

23,824. Were you on any committee?—No. What committee should I have been on, a fellow like me?

23,825. Do not ask me questions?—I say I was on no committee, I tell you.

23,826. Did they give you anything for drink?—Me anything for drink!

23,827. You hear my question; did they give you anything to drink?—Yes.

23,828. Did they give you any money to spend in drink?—No.

23,829. Will you swear that?—No, they never did.

23,830. Will you swear that they gave you no money to spend in drink?—Not that I know of.

23,831. Will you swear it?—Hold your noise a bit. Blades gave me 1*s.* 6*d.* to spend in drink.

23,832. How much more did you get?—Now't that I know of.

23,833. Come, what else did you get?—To spend in drink?

23,834. Yes.—They never gave me nothing more to spend in drink.

23,835. You have told me that Blades gave you 1*s.* 6*d.* Did he not give you more than 1*s.* 6*d.*?—What, money?

23,836. Yes. You have just told me that he gave you 1*s.* 6d.?—I say he gave me 1*s.* 6*d.*

23,837. Did he not give you something besides that?—I got 5*l.*, which would come from him very likely.

23,838. Did he not give you something besides 5*l.* 1*s.* 6*d.*?—No, not that I know on.

23,839. Did he or did he not? Do not keep us here all day with this nonsense. Did he give you anything else besides 5*l.* 1*s.* 6*d*?—George Lund's wife gave me 5*s.*

23,840. That makes 5*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.* How much else did you get?—Now't.

23,841. You told me just now that you had not had anything more than 5*l.*?—I was not giving the other a thought.

23,842. How much else did you get to spend in drink besides the 5*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.*?—Now't; they never gave me now't to spend in drink. He happened to come in, did Blades, to the public-house the night before, I think.

Moses Mawson sworn and examined.

M. Mawson.

23,843. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am a labourer, if you will. I work in gardens as a jobbing gardener.

23,844. Where do you live?—I live in Market Street, the "Old Sir Simon's" Yard they call it.

23,845. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence.

23,846. What did you get?—7*l.* 10*s.*

23,847. Were you on any committee?—No.

23,848. Did you get anything to drink?—No.

23,849. No money to spend in drink?—No.

23,850. Was the 7*l.* 10*s.* all you got?—Yes, every farthing.

23,851. You live in Lancaster?—Yes.

23,852. Did you see Whormby, the auctioneer, of Carnforth, during the election?—No.

23,853. You got 7*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

John Huntington sworn and examined.

J. Huntington.

23,854. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

23,855. Where do you live?—In Bulk Street.

23,856. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

23,857. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

23,858. Were you on any committee?—Yes.

23,859. What did you get for being on the committee?—About 30*s.*

23,860. Who paid you?—I do not know who he was.

23,861. You must know?—I do not know the man.

23,862. Where did he pay you?—At the "Queen's," I think.

23,863. When?—It was the week before the election, Saturday.

23,864. What did he pay you the week after the election?—Nothing.

23,865. Do you mean to say you only got 1*l.* 10*s.*?—I got it from the man who paid me at the "Queen's."

23,866. You got some more from another man?—I got 1*l.* 3*s.* from Allinson, of Moor Lane.

23,867. That is 2*l.* 1*s.* 3*d.* What else did you get?—That is all I got from that side.

23,868. What did you get from the other side?—I got, I daresay, 2*l.* 5*s.* from the Blue.

23,869. For being on the committee there?—Yes.

23,870. Who paid you that?—Mr. Danson.

23,871. What did Danson pay you for your vote, to vote for Lawrence?—I got 12*l.*

23,872. Why did you not vote for Lawrence?—Because I heard some of them had "jewed" the Liberals, so I thought I would "jew" the Blues.

23,873. So you voted Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

23,874. You did not get any money for your vote there?—No.

23,875. You take your oath of that?—Yes.

23,876. How did you vote at the election in 1864?—I did not vote at all.

23,877. Was this the first time you voted?—Yes.

23,878. You got 16*l.* 18*s.* for your vote?—Yes, very likely.

23,879. What are you?—A labourer.

23,880. A day labourer?—Yes.

23,881. What wages do you earn in the week?—If I get a full week I might earn 14*s.* or 15*s.*

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

J. Moser.

21 Sept. 1866.

JACOB MOSER recalled.

23,882. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A pawnbroker.

23,883. We heard yesterday what you do not appear to have told us anything about in your evidence, as to this committee that there was at the "Queen's." Why did you not tell us about that?—I did not know I had anything to tell you, except what you heard. I knew very little about it.

23,884. You did not tell us anything at all about this committee, as far as I can see from my notes?—No; I did not.

23,885. What was this committee which met at the "Queen's?"—Sometimes Mr. Blades, Mr. Welch——

23,886. I do not mean the committee upon which Mr. Blades sat, but I mean those men that were paid regularly every Saturday night in Sun Street?—I do not know anything about that committee.

23,887. Do you mean to say you were not there?—No, I was never there. It will be my brother, Richard Moser.

R. Moser.

RICHARD MOSER sworn and examined.

23,888. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A timber merchant.

23,889. Where?—In Lancaster.

23,890. What part did you take in the last election?—For the last three years I was the registrar for the Liberal party. I attended to the registration, and at the election I had to take the charge of the committee room at the "Queen's Hotel." For some weeks previous to the election I was engaged in making out the sheet lists, and getting information respecting the voters, where they were residing and where they were employed——

23,891. You got the voters' addresses?—Yes.

23,892. First of all, with regard to this committee at the "Queen's," when was it appointed?—I do not know of any committee at all. No committee was held there at all. It was simply a sort of office.

23,893. Did you not pay a lot of men on Saturday night?—I acted under Mr. Tilly. The captains brought the names of parties who had assisted them, and we had a printed bill. I made the account out, and it was taken to Mr. Tilly, and he paid them.

23,894. Who made out the printed bill?—I do not know. Mr. Tilly gave that to me.

23,895. When were you first appointed to that work?—About five weeks before the election.

23,896. What was the first payment you made in that room?—I did not make any payment at all myself.

23,897. When was the first payment you made?—The room was open at the "Queen's Hotel," I think, about seven days previous to the election.

23,898. And payments made of men long before that. We have heard of payments being made for three Saturday nights?—Not by me.

23,899. At which you assisted?—No; it is not correct at all.

23,900. What was the first payment at which you assisted?—The first payment that I assisted at would be after I went to the "Queen's," and I think that place was open about seven days before the election.

23,901. I am speaking of an office that is said to have been opened in Sun Street?—That was Mr. Tilly's office.

23,902. Mr. Tilly's private office?—Yes; Messieurs Johnson and Tilly.

23,903. You went there to assist the payment?—No. Mr. Tilly's clerk made, I think, the principal part of the payments.

23,904. What is his name?—I do not know his name, but he is with Mr. Tilly at present.

23,905. At what payments were you present?—I was present at no payments at all.

23,906. Were you not present at the payment of any person?—No; I simply made out the accounts. The captains brought me the men that had assisted them to the "Queen's Hotel," and I made out the account on the printed form, and took it to Mr. Tilly's office.

23,907. A sort of pay-sheet?—Yes, stating what they had been doing, assisting in canvassing, delivering bills, and so on.

23,908. What day did you first make out a pay-sheet?—I could not say. You will have the vouchers in the town clerk's office. They were returned in the legal charges.

23,909. Do you mean to say that everything you paid, or rather that the whole of your pay-sheet was included in the legal expenses?—Every penny, I believe.

23,910. You must have seen something of this office in Sun Street on the Saturday night. Who were the persons that went there?—The men that came to the "Queen's" for their accounts.

23,911. And none others?—I was not present in Mr. Tilly's office at all when the money was paid.

23,912. How many persons did you include in the pay-sheet, do you suppose?—I could not form any idea, they came so often and so confusedly.

23,913. Did you make out more than one pay-sheet?—Yes.

23,914. One every night?—No. When the men were brought by the captains, at different times, the account was made out.

23,915. How many nights did you make out pay-sheets?—There was no stated time.

23,916. How many nights did you make out pay-sheets; it is a simple question?—I could not say.

23,917. About?—They would come, perhaps, every day, just according to the time they had been engaged.

23,918. If they came every day, how many days did you make out pay-sheets?—About seven days before the election.

23,919. You made out pay-sheets for seven days?—Yes.

23,920. Were there many pay-sheets made out?—There were many scores made out. Every man got a separate pay-sheet. For every man that was paid through Mr. Tilly I made out the account.

23,921. I thought you put down the whole of these accounts on one sheet of paper?—No; there was a separate account for each man.

23,922. Did every man come for his voucher?—Yes, and took it on to Mr. Tilly and got the money paid there.

23,923. How many do you suppose you made out on the day on which you made out the most?—I cannot say.

23,924. Have you seen Mr. Tilly's account?—No, I have not.

23,925. You cannot tell me whether all that is included in Mr. Tilly's account or not?—I am certain they would be, because he had a book in which they were entered as they were paid, and this book was given over to the town clerk.

23,926. Do you mean that this (showing a book to the witness) is the book in which they were entered?—Yes.

23,927. Just look and see (handing a book to the witness) if it is the right one?—Yes, this is the book.

23,928. Are all the persons who were paid entered in that book?—Yes, they are.

23,929. Were you present at the payment of any monies at all during the election?—No.

23,930. What did you receive for your own services?—25 guineas.

23,931. That is also included?—Yes; but I was engaged after the election as well as settling up the accounts of the legal payments for the men who had been employed.

23,932. You are a voter?—Yes.

23,933. You voted Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

23,934. You say you have been three years engaged as registrar for the Liberal party?—Yes, both for the county and borough.

23,935. Are your expenses down in this list?—They are sure to be there.

23,936. You were paid by Mr. Tilly?—Yes, five weeks after the election.

23,937. Did you receive any other money besides the 20 guineas?—No, except a small amount for postage stamps and things required in the office.

23,938. Petty cash?—Yes.

23,939. What are you paid each year for the registration of the Liberal party?—30*l.*; 20*l.* for the borough and 10*l.* for the county.

23,940. From whom did you receive that last year?—I received, for the county, 10*l.* from Mr. Beswick, of Preston.

23,941. I mean the borough?—I got 20*l.* from Mr. William Jackson.

23,942. Who is Mr. William Jackson?—A witness who was examined here the other day.

23,943. A bank director?—Yes.

23,944. When did you receive that last year?—I cannot exactly remember the date, but I should receive it from him for the last three years, but not at any particular date. The account is due about February, after the revision.

23,945. You received it at some time in February last, to the best of your belief?—It would be about that time.

23,946. Do you know from whom Mr. Jackson receives it?—I believe it is paid by the members.

23,947. The sitting members whoever they may be?—Yes; I am not certain of it, but I think so.

23,948. How do you generally receive it; by cheque on the bank?—No, generally in cash.

23,949. Mixing as you do as registrar, you are well acquainted with the movements of those for whom you act?—Yes.

23,950. Do you know what provision was made last year for the taking up freedoms?—Yes; both parties have generally taken up a certain number of freedoms, but not with a view to their votes. It has been a custom for a long time back, I believe.

23,951. You do not really mean to tell us that?—Yes; the fact is they have taken boys at 16.

23,952. You do not really mean to tell us that they do not do it with a view to their votes. That is drawing a little too much on one's credulity?—I believe the late Mr. Gregson benevolently did do so.

23,953. For whom the benevolence was intended we will not say?—It is generally done among the poorer class of freemen who cannot afford to do it themselves, and of course they are anxious it should be taken up.

23,954. Both parties do take up freedoms?—Yes, certainly.

23,955. My question is, what provision was made last year for the monies necessary to take up the freedoms?—With regard to the parties I took up I got the money from Mr. William Jackson.

23,956. The bank director?—Yes.

23,957. How much was the cost of those you took up last year?—1864 would be the last year I took any up—the year previous to the election—and I should think the cost was somewhere about 50*l.*

23,958. And in the previous year?—The previous year, I think, about 30*l.*, and the year before that about 20*l.*

23,959. And how much in 1865?—I had nothing to do with it that year. I have given the office of registrar up.

23,960. You are no longer registrar for the party?—No.

23,961. Who is the present registrar?—William Stewartson. There has been no revision since he undertook it.

23,962. Do you know from whom those sums employed for taking up the freedoms came?—I suspect from the members, but I do not know positively.

23,963. You cannot tell me what the cost was in 1865?—No, I do not think there was any; that was the year of the election, and there was very few taken up. The fact of the matter is, that nearly the whole of the freemen who were available were taken up the previous year, so that I suppose there would not be above half a dozen or so in 1865.

23,964. You have no doubt followed the evidence as it has been given to us?—Yes.

23,965. Can you give us the names of any of the captains and persons of your party which we have not received?—I think you have had a correct list of all the captains, but of course under those there were a lot of sub-captains.

23,966. Whose names we have not received?—I think there will be some, but I am not quite certain. Mr. Maxsted would give a list of them, I think.

23,967. Can you give us the names of any persons we have not had?—Not from recollection.

23,968. Being accustomed to watch the movements of the other party, I daresay you could give us the names of other persons who have not been brought before us?—The latter part of the time I was much engaged in the committee room, and could not take notice.

23,969. But you have talked about the election since?—I do not know anyone particularly.

23,970. Do you know of any sum of money set aside for the payment of any persons beyond those whom we have had before us?—No.

23,971. For instance, was there some money set apart for the payment of captains—remuneration for captains after the election?—No. I believe the captains acted a very honourable part in the last election all through.

23,972. Was their honourable part rewarded?—No, I do not think it was; at least they did it voluntarily.

24,973. Did they remunerate them for their voluntary acts? They gave poor Daniel Edmondson, you know, a premium, because he had not got a bribe?—I believe many of them were out of pocket.

23,974. Did they act in the same way to any of the captains as they did to Daniel Edmondson?—No. I believe the captains on the Liberal side were perfectly honourable. They were men of respectability—tradesmen.

23,975. Have they not had some reward for their trouble?—No.

23,976. You have not heard of any?—No, I should have heard of it if they had.

23,977. Have you heard of anything having been paid on the other side?—No. I believe also on the other side the captains employed were men of the same class—perfectly honourable men, with the exception of one or two we had from Liverpool, and one in China Lane.

William Threlfall sworn and examined.

W. Threlfall.

23,978. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A farm labourer.

23,979. Where do you live?—At Cockerham.

23,980. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence.

23,981. What did you get?—7*l.*

23,982. Did you get nothing besides?—No, nothing else.

23,983. Did they give you nothing to drink?—No, I got nothing at all; 7*l.* was the money as I received.

23,984. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get nothing on the other side?—No.

23,985. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you sure you got no more than 7*l.*?—I received no more.

23,986. Who paid you?—Jacob Nelson of Cockerham.

23,987. Where did he pay you?—He paid me at the top of the town.

23,988. In Lancaster?—Yes.

23,989. After you had voted?—Yes

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

J. Hartley.

21 Sept. 1866.

JAMES HARTLEY sworn and examined.

23,990. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—On Castle Hill.

23,991. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

23,992. What did you get for your vote?—9*l.*

23,993. Who paid it to you?—A stranger.

23,994. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing.

23,995. What did you get for drink?—I got a few glasses of ale, that is all.

23,996. Did you get anything for your services besides?—No, not a farthing.

23,997. You only got 9*l.*?—That is all.

23,998. What are you?—A slater and plasterer.

R. Tronson.

ROBERT TRONSON sworn and examined.

23,999. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Liverpool.

24,000. Whereabouts in Liverpool?—In Anfield.

24,001. You are engaged in the employ of Messrs. Lawrence?—Yes.

24,002. In what character?—As manager.

24,003. And you were engaged with them at the time of the last election in July 1865?—Yes.

24,004. Do you recollect any sums of money being paid out of your office for the purposes of the Lancaster election?—Only one.

24,005. When was that?—Not for the purposes of the election, but only one sum of 2,000*l.* paid to Mr. Wilson to go to Lancaster.

24,006. At what date?—That was on the 11th of July.

24,007. Paid to Mr. H. T. Wilson?—Yes, to his cashier.

24,008. That was Mr. Chambers?—Yes.

24,009. What was your first intimation of that sum of money being required?—Mr. John Lawrence told me that if Mr. Wilson should require any money while he was away to let him have it.

24,010. In what manner was that 2,000*l.* paid to Mr. Chambers?—In gold.

24,011. In what way did it go from your hands to Mr. Chambers?—I gave it to Mr. Hagart to take down.

24,012. Was that to take down to Mr. Chambers?—Yes. I told him that he would have to go to Lancaster, and that he had better get his instructions from Mr. Wilson's office.

24,013. From Mr. Chambers?—Yes.

24,014. When first did you receive an intimation as to the amount that would be required?—That morning.

24,015. The morning of the 11th of July?—Yes.

24,016. From whom did you receive those instructions?—From Mr. Chambers.

24,017. Mr. Chambers came up to your office and told you that 2,000*l.* would be required?—Yes.

24,018. Where did you procure that 2,000*l.*?—From the cashier.

24,019. From Mr. Littlewood?—Yes.

24,020. Did you procure it from him in gold, or in what shape did you procure it?—He gave it to me partly in notes and partly in gold, and I got the notes changed.

24,021. To what account in the firm did you debit that 2,000*l.*?—I did not give any instructions about it.

24,022. Did you make any entry at all of that transaction in your books?—None whatever; I simply received the money from Mr. Littlewood and sent it away. Mr. Littlewood of course would make an entry in his balance book.

24,023. Do you see the books of the firm?—Very seldom.

24,024. Can you say whether there was any entry made in the books of the firm apart from that entry which Mr. Littlewood has spoken to with reference to this transaction?—I can say positively that there was not.

24,025. Have you looked for the purpose of ascertaining?—I have not looked for the purpose of ascertaining, but I know there was not.

24,026. Can you say yourself as to whether Mr. Hagart came over to Lancaster once or twice?—He came twice.

24,027. Have you a distinct recollection of that?—Yes, distinct.

24,028. Can you tell us on what days he came to Lancaster?—I think he was here on the Saturday and came back on the Tuesday.

24,029. By whose orders did he come over on the Saturday?—Mine, I think.

24,030. Was that the 2,000*l.* transaction?—No.

24,031. What did you send him over to Lancaster for on the Saturday?—To be of service to Mr. Taylor or Mr. Barker.

24,032. Did you send him anywhere for orders before he left Liverpool?—No.

24,033. Do you know anything of any money that he brought over on that occasion?—He did not bring any over on that occasion.

24,034. That is more than you can possibly know?—I am pretty sure about it. When he left the office he had not any money with him.

24,035. There was a sum of 400*l.* which came from your office, as no doubt you have seen from the evidence?—Yes.

24,036. Can you say in what way it was taken from your office?—I had a conversation with Mr. Taylor about it yesterday, and he is now under the impression that he brought it over himself on the Friday or Saturday; I think on the Friday; I am not quite certain about that, but it was the week before the election.

24,037. Do you remember what Mr. Taylor's account of the transaction was?—Do you mean yesterday?

24,038. When he gave his evidence here?—No, I do not. He was under an impression until yesterday that he had not brought it; but yesterday, on talking the matter over with Mr. Littlewood, Mr. Littlewood put circumstances to him which convinced him that he had brought it.

24,039. Then from what Mr. Littlewood said to Mr. Taylor, Mr. Taylor came to the conclusion that he must have brought it over himself?—Yes.

24,040. Do you know anything yourself as to how that money passed to Mr. Taylor's hands?—I suppose he got it from Mr. Littlewood, he could not get it from anyone else.

24,041. I ask you whether you know yourself how the money went to Mr. Taylor's hands at all?—No, I do not.

24,042. You have no knowledge of the transaction?—No, none whatever.

24,043. Besides those two sums of 2,000*l.* and 400*l.* you know of no other sums that came over to Lancaster?—None, except what came out in Mr. Littlewood's evidence yesterday.

24,044. As to which sum do you mean?—The whole of the sums that he explained in his evidence yesterday. Those are the only two that I know anything at all about.

24,045. We hear that the books are made up as between the partners at the end of each half year; the summer half year and the winter half year?—Yes.

22,046. Do you know yourself whether Mr. Edward Lawrence looked over the accounts as made between the partners?—I do not know.

24,047. There would be a balance sheet submitted to each of the partners I presume?—He would see his balance sheet of course.

24,048. When would Mr. Lawrence see the balance sheet which would contain (I do not mean actually but virtually in gross) these two items?—In the course of the following month, January and July.

24,049. Then he would not see these till January 1866 ?—No.

24,050. When I speak of Mr. Lawrence I mean the head of the firm. Was Mr. Lawrence down at the office as usual constantly during the month of July ?—He was a good deal here.

24,051. But except when he was here ?—Yes.

24,052. Do you at all discuss with Mr. Lawrence on financial matters ?—No, not at all.

24,053. And you cannot tell us whether in any way Mr. Lawrence became aware of this money passing from the hands of his firm ?—My impression is that he does not know anything at all about it.

24,054. Just answer my question — yes or no. My question is, can you tell us whether in any way Mr. Lawrence became aware of this money passing from the hands of the firm ?—Then I answer no.

24,055. When did you first know that the firm had advanced large sums of money for the Lancaster election ?—They have been spread over some time, and I cannot fix a day for that.

24,056. When did you first become aware that the 2,000*l.* had gone for the Lancaster election ?—The first time I knew about it was the 2,000*l.*

24,057. You knew that that was coming over to be spent in the election ?—Yes, at least that was my idea.

24,258. Have you brought any book over with you to-day ?—No.

24,059. (Mr. Barstow.) You have an I O U with you ?—Yes, I have an I O U (producing and handing a paper to the Commissioners).

24,060. (Mr. Hill.) Whose initials are these ?—I believe they are Mr. Wilson's.

24,061. Henry Threlfall Wilson ?—Yes.

24,062. That is an I O U, then, from Mr. Wilson to Mr. T. Taylor, dated 10th August 1866, for 50*l.* ?—Yes.

24,063. What do you know of this I O U ?—I did not know it was in existence until yesterday, when Mr. Littlewood gave it to me to bring up here. I knew nothing whatever about it till then.

24,064. (Mr. Barstow.) In the absence of any of the partners Mr. Littlewood would take directions from you ?—Yes.

24,065. But I suppose that if Mr. T. Taylor was present you would not give Mr. Littlewood directions ?—No.

24,066. You are speaking of the present time ?—At that time Mr. Taylor was not a partner.

24,067. We certainly understood that he was ?—In July 1865 he was not a partner. The 1st of September is the date when he joined the firm.

24,068. How came Mr. Taylor, not being a partner, to have power to direct your cashier to give the sum of 400*l.* to Mr. Wilson ?—I cannot explain that at all.

24,069. Mr. Littlewood's evidence was to the effect that in the absence of a partner you would be the proper person to give directions as to money ?—Certainly.

24,070. But that he would not take directions as to money matters from anyone except the partners and yourself ?—Just so.

24,071. Was there any limit as to the sum that you were to allow Mr. Wilson to draw upon you for ?—There was no limit whatever.

24,072. Would that be a usual thing in business to allow any other person to have an unlimited order on your house ?—Certainly not at all a usual thing.

24,073. I suppose it is a thing that has never occurred before within your experience ?—No, I do not think it has.

24,074. (Mr. Hill.) And unusual steps of that sort are very seldom taken without the concurrence of the partners ?—Very seldom indeed.

24,075. (Mr. Newton.) Can you fix the date when the order was given, or when permission was given for Mr. Wilson to draw money ?—That would be perhaps the last few days of June or the beginning of July; about a fortnight before the election.

24,076. And at that time was Mr. Edward Lawrence at Liverpool ?—No, I think he was at the Lakes.

24,077. Do you know of your own knowledge whether that ever reached him ?—Do you mean the knowledge of the 2,000*l.* ?

24,078. Do you know of your own knowledge whether this order from J. Lawrence ever reached Edward Lawrence ?—Not of my own knowledge.

24,079. Can you tell whether it did or did not ?—I believe it did not.

24,080. What makes you think that it did not ?—Because I believe Mr. Lawrence knew nothing at all of the money matters then. I have no special reason for believing it, but that is my impression.

24,081. Why should you arrive at that impression ?—Because the election was never mentioned to him.

24,082. That is no answer to my question. Why do you believe that Mr. E. Lawrence had no knowledge of that transaction ?—I have no special reason for that belief, but it is my impression.

24,083. That, like the other transaction, would be a very extraordinary thing, would it not ?—I do not know about that.

24,084. Do you mean to say that Mr. Lawrence, the senior partner, knew nothing of the money matters of the firm ?—I do not mean to say that he must have known of the money matters of the firm, but he did not go into them in detail.

24,085. Do you mean to say that he, as the senior partner, would not go into the details of the money transactions of the firm ?—He does when he chooses, but he might not have done it.

24,086. Then it comes to this that he did not choose to know, is that it ?—I do not say so. I have no authority for saying so.

24,087. But that is the inference which I draw from your answer ?—I do not believe that he looks to the money matters of the firm. Mr. John Lawrence managed all the finance.

24,088. Purposely ?—I do not say so.

24,089. Was it so or not ?—I do not think it was.

24,090. Mr. Taylor you say was not a partner then; the only partner of Mr. Lawrence was Mr. J. Lawrence ?—Yes.

24,091. He looked to the money affairs ?—Of course; he managed all the finance matters always, and Mr. Edward Lawrence did not trouble himself much about it.

24,092. Has he troubled himself much about it since ?—I do not think he has.

24,093. He has not troubled himself about the money matters of the firm ?—He and Mr. John Lawrence may have talked matters over, but I do not know that they did.

24,094. Is it not an unusual thing where there are two partners for one of them not to trouble himself with the affairs of the firm ?—Mr. Edward Lawrence does not, because he has such implicit confidence in his brother; for that reason perhaps he does not care to trouble himself about it.

24,095. Perhaps he does not care to know anything about it ?—I do not know anything about that.

24,096. (Mr. Barstow.) How long have you been manager ?—Nearly three years.

24,097. (Mr. Newton.) Has it always been the case that Mr. Edward Lawrence has troubled himself very little with the money matters of the firm ?—Yes.

24,098. Then are we really to have it taken down as an answer to my question that for the three years you have been there Mr. Edward Lawrence has taken very little interest in the monetary affairs of the firm ?—Yes; of course I speak from my own observation.

24,099. Then you think that that state of affairs might arise which apparently did arise, namely, money being paid out of the firm, and that that might not come to Mr. Edward Lawrence's knowledge until some months afterwards ?—Yes.

24,100. Used you and Mr. J. Lawrence to discuss the affairs of the firm ?—As regards finance do you mean ?

24,101. Yes. Did he ever take anybody in his confidence ?—His brother when he wished.

24,102. His brother ?—Of course.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

R. Tronson.

21 Sept. 1866.

24,103. And his brother only?—Latterly Mr. Taylor, since there has been a partner.

24,104. I do not quite understand now how it was that Mr. Taylor got this 400*l.*?—Neither do I.

24,105. Because it is only to-day that we have heard for the first time that he was not a partner at the time of the election?—He was not a partner then.

24,106. What was he then?—He was connected with our house in Nassau, and he had just come home; he was our agent in Nassau.

24,107. Then surely Mr. Littlewood would never have given him 400*l.* without authority from some one?—That is a matter which I cannot explain, for I know nothing at all about it.

24,108. It seems that Mr. Littlewood gave him 400*l.*, which appears in the balance book as to "E. L.," that is to Edward Lawrence?—I saw that in the evidence yesterday.

24,109. It is so?—It is so.

24,110. At that time Mr. Taylor was not a partner?—No he was not.

24,111. Mr. Taylor, then, had no power to give orders as to any money?—I do not know what power he had; he was in the office then, but I do not know what power he had over money.

24,112. The case stands thus: somebody in the office, not a partner, obtains from the cashier 440*l.*, takes it away with him and brings it to Lancaster?—Yes.

24,113. By whose authority does that person obtain it?—That I cannot tell you.

24,114. With respect to this 2,000*l.*, you say Mr. Hagart took it?—I gave it to Mr. Hagart to go to Wilson's, and to take instructions from Wilson's cashier how he was to bring it here. I told him he was to go to Lancaster, but that he was to take instructions from Wilson.

24,115. Have you discussed the matter with Mr. Hagart since?—I have talked it over since.

24,116. Do you state from your three years experience that Mr. Lawrence is not in the habit of interfering with the monetary habits of your firm?—Not absolutely so; but he is not in the habit of troubling himself much about them, because Mr. John Lawrence does the whole of the finance business.

24,117. Has that been so during the whole time?—Yes.

24,118. Has it always been equally so?—Yes.

24,119. It was not more so during the year 1865 than it had been at any other time?—No, not more so.

24,120. In 1865 Mr. Lawrence was the mayor at Liverpool?—Yes.

24,121. Did that divert his attention from business at all?—He was always ready for business, the Town Hall was close to the office.

24,122. Is not the fact of the case that you were careful to keep this concealed from Mr. Lawrence?—I never mentioned the matter to him at all.

24,123. Is it not the fact that you and the partner were careful not to let him know anything about this?—If he had asked me whether I had sent the money down I should have told him.

24,124. Was there any understanding amongst you that Mr. Lawrence was to know nothing of the 2,000*l.* transaction?—No.

24,125. You know nothing about it; you cannot say whether there was or was not?—There was no understanding at all.

J. L. Standen.

JOHN LANGHORN STANDEN sworn and examined.

24,126. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A currier.

24,127. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

24,128. What did you get?—I got 3*l.* on the 2nd of August for expenses.

24,129. You were a sort of sub-captain, were you not?—Something of the sort I believe.

24,130. What was the 3*l.* given to you for?—For services rendered.

24,131. Did you get anything else?—I received 30*s.* from William Harrison, a tinman.

24,132. When was that?—On the nomination night, for the purpose of treating voters.

24,133. Anything else?—No.

24,134. (Mr. Newton.) Are you an assistant in a leather shop?—Yes.

24,135. In Ulswater Street?—I am an assistant in a leather shop in Great John Street.

24,136. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you do during the election time?—I exerted myself a little.

24,137. Did you go about canvassing?—No, I did not.

24,138. Were you engaged in treating voters?—Yes, I treated voters with the 30*s.* that I received from William Harrison, in fact it cost me a little more than that.

24,139. What did you do with this 3*l.*, or rather what did you do for it; what did you do to earn it?—I spent my leisure time during the evening with the committee.

24,140. Drinking with the committee?—No, I did not drink with them.

24,141. Do you mean to say that?—Certainly I had a glass or two, but that was all.

24,142. What did you do except drink?—I tried to persuade voters, and I did all that ever I could for them.

24,143. You had Mr. Lawrence's committee there, and you tried to persuade Mr. Lawrence's committee to vote for Mr. Lawrence?—No, I did not say that.

W. Atkinson.

WILLIAM ATKINSON sworn and examined.

24,144. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A shoemaker.

24,145. In Penny Street?—Yes.

24,146. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,147. What did you get for voting for Fenwick and Schneider?—10*l.*

24,148. Who paid you?—Knowles Allinson.

24,149. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—I was not on.

24,150. Did you get anything for drinking?—No.

24,151. Or for treating?—No.

24,152. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

24,153. Are you a journeyman shoemaker?—Yes.

T. Calvert.

THOMAS CALVERT sworn and examined.

24,154. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A joiner.

24,155. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,156. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

24,157. How much did you receive for being on the committee?—Nothing.

24,158. Were you not one of the committee?—No.

24,159. They must have wanted you on the committee, did they not?—No.

24,160. Did they not give you any offer to come on the committee?—No.

24,161. There are a good many joiners in Lancaster, are there not?—Yes.

24,162. Were there none of them that you had any influence over?—No, not at all.

24,163. Are there any persons who had influence over you?—No.

24,164. If you were not on Fenwick and Schneider's committee you were perhaps on Mr. Lawrence's committee?—I do not know whether I was or not.

24,165. Did you get any money from them?—Yes, I got 30*s.*

24,166. How much else did you get?—That is all.

24,167. Did you not get any money to spend?—No.

24,168. From whom did you receive the 10*l.*?—Knowles Allinson.

24,169. Was that all that you received from him?—Yes.

24,170. Did you not receive anything to spend from Fenwick and Schneider's people?—No.

24,171. Was 11*l.* 10*s.* the whole of the money that you got?—Yes.

24,172. During the whole of the election?—Yes.

24,173. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a journeyman?—Yes.

H. Croft.

HENRY CROFT sworn and examined.

24,174. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Alma Road, Scotforth?—Yes.

24,175. You are a draper?—I am clerk warehouseman at present.

24,176. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,177. What consideration did you receive for your vote?—For services rendered as clerk in the general committee room I had 10*l.*

24,178. Was that all you received?—Yes.

24,179. Were you on the committee?—No, merely as a working clerk, to do the machinery work.

24,180. How long were you a working clerk?—All the time the committee was open.

24,181. I want to know how long that was?—It would be open, I should imagine, about seven days.

24,182. Did you give the whole of your services to Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, of course I did.

24,183. You had no time to spare for Mr. Lawrence?—No; one thing at once.

J. Edmondson.

JAMES EDMONDSON sworn and examined.

24,184. (Mr. Newton.) You live in St. Nicholas Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

24,185. You are an engine-fitter?—Yes.

24,186. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,187. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

24,188. How many committees were you on?—None; I could not do one.

24,189. Were you not man enough?—I suppose not.

24,190. You had not time enough?—That was it.

24,191. You could not assist anybody?—I do not know.

24,192. You only got 10*l.* altogether?—That is all.

24,193. Did you get nothing from the other side?—No.

24,194. Really, do you mean to tell us you got nothing for drink from the other side?—I do.

24,195. You could not be on the committee because you had no time; but did they not give you some money instead?—I never got any money.

24,196. Is your father dead?—Yes, my father has been dead a long time since.

24,197. Was Thomas Edmondson, who is dead, any relation of yours?—He was a half-brother of mine.

24,198. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know that he got 9*l.*?—I do not know that he got anything.

24,199. You know nothing about him?—No.

(Mr. Allinson.) I believe themoney was given to his wife.

H. Harrison.

HENRY HARRISON is called, but does not answer.

(Mr. Allinson.) He is, I believe, at Settle; his father came to say that he was working there.

24,200. (Mr. Hill.) Did he say he had not had any money?—His father said he had had the money.

24,201-2. He will not be able to come over at all?—You could send for him.

24,203. How much did you give him?—I said I gave him 5*l.*, but it was 4*l.* 10*s.*; I named that before.

24,204. Do you know whether he got anything on the committee?—No, I think not; I do not think so.

J. Johnson.

JOHN JOHNSON sworn and examined.

24,205. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—An iron-turner.

24,206. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,207. What did you receive?—7*l.*

24,208. And what for being on the committee?—Nothing.

24,209. From neither side?—No.

24,210. Is 7*l.* all you got?—Yes.

C. Lupton.

CHARLES LUPTON sworn and examined.

24,211. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A labourer.

24,212. Where do you live?—Rose Court.

24,213. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,214. What did you get for your vote?—9*l.*

24,215. Did you serve on any committee?—Yes.

24,216. Whose committee?—Fenwick and Schneider's.

24,217. What did you get for that?—About 30*s.*

24,218. What did you get from Mr. Lawrence's committee?—Nothing at all.

24,219. You would have some money to spend?—No.

24,220. No one gave you half-a-crown to spend in drink?—No.

24,221. Not in the whole course of the election?—No.

W. Noble.

WILLIAM NOBLE is called, but does not answer.

(Mr. Allinson.) He is now living at Preston.

24,222. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know anything about him?—No; he is connected with the Telegraph, I think.

24,223. Will he be here?—I do not know; I have not seen him since the election.

24,224. (Mr. Newton.) Did you pay him in the presence of anyone?—No; I do not think anyone was there.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

21 Sept. 1866.

S. Simpson.

JAMES SIMPSON sworn and examined.

24,225. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A painter.

24,226. A journeyman?—Yes.

24,227. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,228. What did you get?—13*l.*

24,229. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing.

24,230. What did you get for being on Lawrence's committee?—Nothing.

24,231. Did you get nothing to drink besides?—No.

24,232. You only got 13*l.* for your vote, and no assistance?—No.

24,233. You did not give any assistance?—No.

S. Sykes.

SOLOMON SYKES sworn and examined.

24,234. (Mr. Hill.) Solomon, are you the son of David?—Yes.

24,235. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,236. What are you?—A cooper.

24,237. What did you get for your vote?—5*l.*

24,238. Nothing more?—No.

24,239. Were you on either committee?—No.

24,240. Did you get anything to spend in drink?—No.

24,241. Is 5*l.* all you got?—Yes.

R. Tomlinson.

RICHARD TOMLINSON is called, but does not answer.

(Mr. Allinson.) He is dead. Thomas Tomlinson said yesterday that they each got 10*l.*

J. T. Whalley,

JAMES THORNTON WHALLEY sworn and examined.

24,242. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A painter.

24,243. Where do you live?—In Marton Street.

24,244. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

22,245. What did they give you?—9*l.*

22,246. Anything else?—1*l.* for being on the committee.

22,247. Anything besides?—That is all.

24,248. Did you get nothing to drink?—A little.

24,249. Did you get any money to spend in drink?—No.

24,250. Did you get anything from Lawrence's committee?—No, not a halfpenny.

24,251. You got nothing from the other side at all?—No.

24,252. Not a farthing?—No.

T. Whalley.

THOMAS WHALLEY sworn and examined.

24,253. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,254. What did you get for your vote?—I got 36*l.* for myself and three sons.

24,255. What are the names of your sons?—The last witness was one, and there is Thomas and John.

24,256. You got something besides?—I got 1*l.* for being on the committee, but nothing else.

24,257. Did your sons get the same?—They all got alike? that is all they got.

24,258. (Mr. Hill.) The family got 40*l.*?—I got 36*l.*, and we got 1*l.* a-piece for being on the committee, which makes 40*l.*

24,259. Did you give that money to Thomas and John, your sons?—Yes, they got it.

24,260. Did you pay your sons?—Yes; but they can answer for themselves.

24,261. They are in court, and hear your evidence?—Yes.

J. Morland.

JOHN MORLAND sworn and examined.

24,262. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A publican.

24,263. Under what sign do you sell your beer?—The "White Horse."

24,264. Is that a licensed house?—Yes.

24,265. What is your rent?—60*l.*

24,266. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,267. What did you receive?—7*l.*

24,268. Nothing else besides?—No.

24,269. Is 7*l.* all you got?—Yes.

24,270. What bill did you send in?—I sent in none.

24,271. Had you no bill at all?—No; I was not living there at that time.

24,272. Where were you then?—I was in a private house.

24,273. You were a farmer at the time of the election?—Yes.

24,274. What was your rental then?—The house was 14*l.*

24,275. What land did you hold?—I had two or three lots of land of different parties.

24,276. You can tell me what the rental was?—It would be about 27*l.*

24,277. Altogether?—Yes.

24,278. You got 7*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

24,279. Nothing else?—No.

24,280. They put you on the committee, did they not?—No.

24,281-2. On neither committee?—No; I never attended one.

T. Carrett.

THOMAS BARRETT sworn and examined.

24,283. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A grocer.

24,284. Where do you live?—In Moor Lane.

24,285. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,286. What did they give you?—I got 5*s.* a day for seven days on the committee, and then I got 3*l.* 10*s.* after the election.

24,287. Did you get anything from Lawrence's people?—No.

24,288. Did you get any money to drink with?—No, I got no money to drink with either.

T. Roberts.

THOMAS ROBERTS sworn and examined.

24,289. (Mr. Newton.) You live at Skerton?—Yes.

24,290. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,291. What did you get for doing that?—10*l.*

24,292. Who paid it?—William Towers.

24,293. What else did you get?—30*s.* from Lawrence's committee.

24,294. Did you get anything for being on Fenwick and Schneider's committee ?—No, nothing.

24,295. You are merely a journeyman ?—Yes.

24,296. Do you know about anybody else being paid ? Did you see anybody else paid ?—On the committee, do you mean ?

24,297. When were you paid ?—On the Saturday after the election, for voting and services.

24,298. Who paid you ?—William Towers.

24,299. Did you see anybody else paid at the same time ?—No.

24,300. Did you see anybody else paid by Towers at all ?—No.

24,301. You saw no other voters paid ?—No.

24,302. Did you pay any voters yourself ?—No.

24,303. Did you treat any voters with beer or drink? —No.

24,304. (Mr. Hill.) You are the man who volunteered to get information from the enemy's camp ?—Yes.

24,305. Did you get any information ?—Yes.

24,306. What was it ?—To see how they were going on and treating men and such like, and I told Mr. Towers.

24,307. You attended the enemy's committee regularly ?—Yes.

24,308. Did they discuss much politics ?—Not much of that.

24,309. Pretty well all the information you could get was the quantity of beer they drank ?—No, it was not that particular.

24,310. Or was the information that you were to get the price at which voters were going ?—On the election day, in the morning, Mr. Carruthers followed me over the bridge and wanted me to go back with him. I went back a bit after and was sent for into the "Black Bull," but I never saw Mr. Carruthers; it was Mr. Aldren, junior. He said he would give me 5*l.* for a split, or 12*l.* to plump for Mr. Lawrence.

24,311. Why did you not take the 12*l.* ?—Because I never intended to vote that way at all. He never belonged to my politics at all.

24,312. Those are not your politics ?—No.

24,313. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the election before ?—For Mr. Fenwick.

24,314. (Mr. Hill.) Had you been a spy then ?—No.

24,315. (Mr. Newton.) What are your politics ?—Liberal. I am for Liberal principles altogether.

THOMAS EASTWOOD sworn and examined.

T. Eastwood.

24,316. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—I suppose I am put down as a cabinet-maker.

24,317. For whom did you vote at the last election? —Schneider and Fenwick.

24,318. What did you get for your vote ?—Nothing.

24,319. What did you get for your assistance ?—I got 4*l.* altogether.

24,320. What was the assistance which you gave ? —Amongst the voters.

24,321. What did you do amongst the voters ?—I got 10*s.* before the election, 10*s.* the election day, and 3*l.* after.

24,322. That is 4*l.* ?—Yes.

24,323. The 3*l.* after the election was for what ? —For assistance.

24,324. I want to know what the assistance was ? —Amongst the voters.

24,325. Did you carry about a bill, or what ?—No, I never carried a bill in my life.

24,326. What did you do ?—I run up and down the town.

24,327. Like Mr. Preston. Like a dog in the fair ; running up and down ?—Yes.

24,328. That was all you did ?—Yes.

24,329. What did you get from Lawrence ?—Nothing at all.

24,330. Were you on any committee ?—No.

THOMAS BENNISON sworn and examined.

T. Bennison

24,331. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live ?—In Bolton.

24,332. What are you ?—I am a labourer; but I am jobber, running errands and such like now-a-days. Working does not do for me now.

24,333. For whom did you vote at the last election ? —For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,334. What made you do that ?—I do not know what made me. What made others vote for them ?

24,335. What made you ?—I don't know ; my own inclination.

24,336. What did they give you ?—10*l.*

24,337. Who gave you that ?—Robert Shackhouse.

24,338. Were you on any committee ?—Yes, I was at committee.

24,339. What did they give you for being at the committee ?"—They gave me money there.

24,341. Did you not get anything besides 10*l.* ?—No, I did not ; not a halfpenny.

24,342. (Mr. Hill.) How have you voted generally ? —Oh, I don't know ; first one side and then another. I voted for old Cawthorn. He was the first one.

24,343. He was a good sticker, was he not ?—Yes ; he was the best that ever came yet.

MATTHEW BARROW sworn and examined.

M. Barrow.

24,344. (Mr. Newton.) What are you ?—A shoemaker.

24,345. Where do you live ?—In Lodge Street.

24,346. Are you a master shoemaker ?—No, a journeyman.

24,347. How did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,348. What did you get for doing it ?—I got 9*l.* from Mr. Harrison.

24,349. What did you get for being on the committee ?—I got nothing. I also got 6*d.* from a person called Moloney, which I afterwards returned to Mr. Welch.

24,350. You got nothing for services ?—No.

Adjourned for a short time.

JAMES ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

J. Armistead.

24,351. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you ?—A fisherman.

24,352. Where do you live ?—At Morecambe.

24,353. For whom did you vote at the last election ? —Mr. Lawrence.

24,354. What did you get ?—2*l.* of Mr. Vince and 9*l.* of Mrs. Willacy.

24,355. You had something to spend in drink besides that, had you not ?—No.

24,356. Nothing ?—No.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

21 Sept. 1866.

RICHARD ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

R. Armistead.

24,357. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,358. Which way did you vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,359. What did you get for doing that?—10*l.*

24,360. Who paid you?—It was a stranger to me. I never saw him before or since.

24,361. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—I got that for being on the committee.

24,362. Not for your vote?—No.

24,363. Did you assist anybody?—Yes.

24,364. What did you get for that?—I got 30*s.* or 2*l.* to spend among the freemen.

24,365. Which shall I say, 30*s.* or 2*l.*?—You may say which you like.

24,366. From whom did you get that?—I got it from Mr. Shackleton.

24,367. And what did you get from the other side?—I got 2*l.* for Mr. Bulfield to spend.

24,368. But Mr. Bulfield was on the other side, was he not?—Yes.

24,369. Who else?—6*l.* from Mrs. Willacy.

24,370. Are you sure it was 6*l.* only?—Yes, I am sure it was 6*l.*

24,371. Take care what you say?—I will take care; I am speaking the truth.

24,372. Very likely you may be?—I am sure I is.

24,373. Do you mean to say that it was 10*l.*?—I mean to say it was 6*l.*, and not a penny more.

24,374. Did you pay anything back to Mrs. Willacy?—My wife did.

24,375. How much?—6*l.*, she paid 6*l.* back; that was what I received.

24,376. How much did she pay back?—6*l.*

24,377. When?—It was after the election, I do do not know when; it was in the course of two or three days.

24,378. You got 2*l.* from Mr. Shackleton, 2*l.* from Mr. Bulfield, and 6*l.* from Mrs. Willacy?—Yes.

24,379. And the 6*l.* you say was paid back by your wife?—Yes, I was present when it was paid back. Mrs Willacy gave me 6*l.*, and not a farthing more.

24,380. Who was present?—No one.

24,381. Where did she pay you the 6*l.*?—She paid me in the stable.

24,382. Was no one present?—There were two horses present, that was all.

24,383. What man or woman was present?—No man; only two horses.

24,384. Do not be impertinent, but answer the questions that are put to you?—I is telling you the truth.

24,385. You say that nobody was present?—No.

24,386. Where was the money paid to you?—In the stable.

24,387. In Mrs. Willacy's stable?—Yes.

24,388. At what time in the day?—In the morning at 7 or 8 o'clock, I cannot exactly say when.

24,389. On what day?—It was the election morning.

24,390. Had you voted?—No.

24,391. It was paid to you, then, before you went to vote?—Yes.

24,392. And nobody you say was present?—Nobody was present.

24,393. What did Mrs. Willacy pay it to you for?—She wanted me to give Mr. Lawrence a vote, and I had promised that I would do so, but I considered afterwards that I would not, and I returned the money.

24,394. Why did you not vote for Mr. Lawrence?—Because I did not think fit.

24,395. And so you broke your promise?—Yes; Mrs. Willacy had broken her promise at the election before, and I thought I would pay her back.

24,396. But you did, in fact, break your promise?—Yes, I did.

24,397. When did you get your 10*l.* for voting for Fenwick and Schneider?—The morning before I polled.

24,398. Was that before or after you had got the 6*l.* from Mrs. Willacy?—After.

24,399. So with 6*l.* in your pocket from Mrs. Willacy you got 10*l.* from Mr. Shackleton?—No, I did not say I got it from Mr. Shackleton.

24,400. Who did you get it from then?—I got it from a stranger I had never seen before and have not seen since.

24,401. I think you are a scoundrel. You get 6*l.* from one side and 10*l.* from the other side besides your expenses?—But I returned the money back again.

24,402. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you mean to say that you took 6*l.* as the price of your vote for Lawrence?—Yes, and 2*l.* that Bulfield gave me.

24,403. That was the current price, was it?—I do not know what was the going price. That was what I got.

24,404. And you swear that you got no more than 6*l.* from Mrs. Willacy?—I mean to swear that I got no more than 6*l.* from Mrs. Willacy.

24,405. Had you any debt against Mrs. Willacy?—Yes, I had.

24,406. What was that?—Mr. Gregson sent every man a sovereign a-piece down, and she was guarantee to me, and she never gave it to me.

24,407. And did you then deduct that?—No, I did not, she got back the 6*l.* that she gave to me.

24,408. (To Mrs. Willacy.) How much did you give to Richard Armistead?—I gave him 10*l.*

24,409. He says that you only gave him 6*l.*?—I gave him 10*l.*

24,410. Where did you give it?—On the election morning, in our back kitchen.

24,411. Was anybody present?—I do not know whether the landlord of the "Cross Keys" was there or not when I gave him the money, but he was there when I made the bargain with him. I gave him 10*l.*; when I went back to him for the money, he said that I owed him 4*l.* on account of Mr. Gregson's election, and he stopped that out. He said to his wife, "Fetch it down, Moll," and she fetched down 6*l.*, and he stopped 4*l.* on account of Mr. Gregson's election.

W. Armistead.

WILLIAM ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

24,412. (Mr. Hill.) Which William Armistead are you?—The oldest.

24,413. Do you know what your number is on the register?—No.

24,414. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,415. How much did they give you?—10*l.*

24,416. Did you get anything else besides that?—No.

24,417. Was 10*l.* all that you got?—Yes.

R. Armistead.

RICHARD ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

24,418. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,419. At Morecambe?—Yes.

24,420. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,421. What made you do that?—I do not know.

24,422. What did they give you to vote?—Oh, they gave me 11*l.*

24,423. Is that all?—Mr. Vince gave me 2*l.* and Mrs. Willacy 9*l.*

24,424. Is that all you got?—Yes.

24,425. Did you get any money to drink with?—No, I never had a farthing.

WILLIAM ARMISTEAD, jun. sworn and examined.

24,426. (Mr. Newton.) You are a fisherman?—No, I am a husbandman.

24,427. Are you the son of William Armistead?—Yes.

24,428. How did you vote?—I voted for Mr. Fenwick.

24,429. Are you sure you voted for Mr. Fenwick?—Yes.

24,430. You did not vote for Mr. Lawrence?—No.

24,431. Did you vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—No.

24,432. Then did you plump for Fenwick?—Yes.

24,433. Are you quite sure that your name is William?—Yes.

24,434. Are you sure also that you plumped for Fenwick?—Yes.

24,435. Who paid you for your vote?—Mr. Shackleton.

24,436. Have you got a father alive?—Yes.

24,437. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your father's name?—William.

24,438. (Mr. Newton.) What did you get for your vote?—I got 10*l.*

24,439. Has your father been examined here to-day?—Yes.

24,440. You do not know how he voted, do you?—Oh yes, I do.

24,441. Who paid you the money to go and vote?—Mr. Shackleton.

24,442. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

24,443. What did you get from Mr. Shackleton?—I got 10*l.*

24,444. How do you know that you voted for Mr. Fenwick?—I know it very well.

24,445. Did you vote for Schneider as well?—No.

24,446. (Mr. Hill.) Your vote was taken down for Fenwick and Schneider at any rate?—Well, I did not vote that way; I voted for Fenwick a plumper.

24,447. (To Mrs. Willacy.) Do you know how this man voted?—I do not know. He is on the Liberal side, but I do not know how he voted.

24,448. (Mr. Newton to the witness.) You got 10*l.*?—Yes.

24,449. And nothing else?—No.

WILLIAM ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

24,450. (Mr. Hill.) Why did you not answer just now when your name was called?—I never was subpænaed to come to-day.

24,451. Your appearance now cures the defect. What is your name?—William Armistead.

24,452. Whose son are you?—The son of James.

24,453. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,454. What did you get for your vote?—I got 10*l.*

24,455. From whom did you get it?—I got 10*l.* on the election morning, but I got 5*l.* previously; that is 15*l.* altogether.

24,456. You received 15*l.* from Fenwick and Schneider's party?—Yes.

24,457. How much did you receive from the other side?—I received nothing but a sovereign for treating freemen with on the other side.

24,458. You got a sovereign?—Yes, from James Bell.

24,459. That made 16*l.* that you received altogether?—Yes.

24,460. Do you mean to say that Mrs. Willacy did not give you more than that?—Never a penny.

24,461. Did you not receive that sovereign to vote Blue?—No; I got it to treat the freemen with.

24,462. How came you to go and vote on the other side?—Well, I cannot say. I was fond of the Liberal side; they tried to get me on the Blue side to vote for that side, but I did not wish it.

24,463. Could they not keep you?—No, I never was on that side.

24,464. Where were you on the night before the election?—I was at Daniel Evans's, I should think.

24,465. Do you not know?—I was at Daniel Evans's.

24,466. Where did you sleep that night?—I slept at home.

24,467. All you got was 16*l.*?—Yes.

24,468. You got more than that, I think?—Yes, to treat the freemen with. Mr. Shackleton gave me some money, but I cannot say what.

24,469. You got a good deal more money than that; it is all nonsense to tell us you only got 16*l.*?—If you can explain how much more I got I will tell you.

24,470. How much money did you get altogether; come, tell us how much?—I got 10*l.* on the election morning; 5*l.* Mr. Shackleton gave me previous to the election morning, two or three days before the election—that is 15*l.*; James Bell gave me, to treat the freemen with on the Blue side, 1*l.*—that makes 16*l*; and Mr. Shackleton gives account of giving me 4*l.* to treat the freemen with, but I think he is wrong in his statement; I think he never gave me that 4*l.*

24,471. Do you say that you never had it?—I would not swear it, but I think he has made a wrong calculation.

24,472. Do you think you got anything from the Blues besides the sovereign you have told us of?—Never a penny, not at this election.

24,473. Then 20*l.* was all you got?—Yes, by Mr. Shackleton's account. 4*l.* and 10*l.* on the election morning, and 5*l.* previous to the election, and 1*l.* that James Bell gave me; that made 20*l.* altogether.

24,474. And is that all you got?—Yes, it is every penny.

ISAAC ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

24,475. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a blacksmith?—Yes.

24,476. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,477. What did you get?—I got 5*l.* before the election and 7*l.* the morning of the election.

24,478. Are you quite sure it was only 5*l.*?—Yes positive. That maks 12*l.* in all.

24,479. Did you get anything from the other side?—No, not a halfpenny.

24,480. Nothing to drink from Bulfield?—No.

24,481. Nor from Mrs. Willacy?—No.

NATHAN ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

24,482. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,483. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,484. What did you get for your vote?—8*l.*

24,485. Who paid you?—Mrs. Willacy.

24,486. When did she pay you; was it in the morning?—Yes.

24,487. What else did you get?—2*l.*

24,488. What for?—For expenses.

24,489. Was that all you got?—Yes.

24,490. Where did you sleep on the night of the nomination?—I was at home.

24,491. Did you sleep at Mrs. Willacy's house?—No.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

21 Sept. 1866.

J. Armistead.

JOHN ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

24,492. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a fisherman ?—Yes.

24,493. Who did you vote for at the last election ?—For Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

24,494. What did they give you ?—11*l.*

24,495. And how much besides ?—Not a farthing.

24,496. Did you not get anything before or after ?—No.

24,497. Did you get anything from the other side ?—No, I got 2*l.*, and I gave it them back again.

24,498. Who did you receive it from ?—My brother Thomas.

24,499. And who did you give it back to ?—To his wife.

24,500. (To Mrs. Willacy.) Do you know anything about this ?—Yes, he got 2*l.* and 8*l.*, and he sent it all back the night before the election.

T. Armistead.

THOMAS ARMISTEAD sworn and examined.

24,501. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a fisherman, and you live at Doulton-le-Sands ?—Yes.

24,502. What did you get for your vote at the last election ?—10*l.* 8*l.* from Mrs. Willacy and 2*l.* from George Vince.

24,503. You voted for Lawrence ?—Yes.

24,504. Did you get anything else ?—No, not a farthing.

W. T. Beisley.

WILLIAM THOMAS BEESLEY sworn and examined.

24,505. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,506. What did you get for your vote ?—I got 2*l.* from Mr. Vince, and 5*l.* from Mrs. Willacy on the 14th of April last.

24,507. Is that all ?—That is all I got.

24,508. You only got 7*l.* ?—I got 7*l.*

24,509. Take care ?—That is all I got.

24,510. You are a tailor ?—A tailor and grocer.

24,511. You would get more than that for your vote ?—No, I did not; I did not get that for my vote.

24,512. What did you get it for then ?—For assistance.

24,513. For assisting whom ?—Assisting the Conservative party.

24,514. (To Mrs. Willacy.) How came you not to give him this money till April ?—It was for working. We thought there would come out something more against him in the books. He was very active for the Conservative party. He worked very hard. I did not think it was for his vote, it was considered to be for wages.

(The Witness.) I spent 15*s.*, the same night that I got the 2*l.*, in treating freemen.

24,515. (Mr. Newton.) What did you do with the other 2*l.* 5*s.* ?—It was all spent during the election.

24,516. How long were you at work during the election ?—Perhaps seven or eight days.

24,517. And you got 5*l.* paid to you for it ?—Yes.

24,518. When did you send in a claim for money ?—I sent in none. Mrs. Willacy paid me herself, without my making any claim.

24,519. Did you not ask for the money ?—No.

24,520. (To Mrs. Willacy.) How was it that you came to pay him ?—I thought it was due to him for his services; he was a very hard worker.

24,521. Who gave you the money to pay him ?—I had money in hand.

24,522. But I do not understand your letting it go on until April; how was that ?—I will tell you the reason why it was not given to him before; it was thought that something would come out in the books that he had got paid before, but I believe that he had not been paid.

24,523. It was doubtful ?—Yes.

24,524. He had not made a claim ?—No; there was a doubt whether some one had not paid him.

24,525. But he had not made a claim ?—No, he had not.

J. Bell.

JOHN BELL sworn and examined.

24,526. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A fisherman.

24,527. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Schneider and Fenwick.

24,528. How much did you get ?—15*l.* 10*s.*

24,529. Is that all you got ?—No.

24,530. What else did you get ?—10*s.*

24,531. From whom ?—From Mr. Shackleton.

24,532. How came they to give you 15*l.* 10*s.* ?—I do not know.

24,533. Did they give it to you all in one lump ?—I got 10*s.* before the election.

24,534. And then 5*l.* ?—No, it was all paid at once.

24,535. 15*l.* ?—Yes.

24,536. Why did they make it up to 16*l.* ?—I do not know I am sure.

24,537. I am sure if you do not know I do not. What did you get from the other side ?—Nothing.

24,538. You were satisfied with the 16*l.* ?—Yes.

D. Bell.

DANIEL BELL sworn and examined.

24,539. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A fisherman, and I farm a little bit of land, a couple of acres very likely.

24,540. For whom did you vote ?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,541. What did you get for your vote ?—I got 11*l.*; 9*l.* from Mrs. Willacy and 2*l.* from Mr. Vince.

24,542. Did you get anything else ?—Yes; I got 2*s.* 6*d.* from Mr. Curwen for delivering the voting card, the night before the election.

T. Bond.

THOMAS BOND sworn and examined.

24,543. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live ?—At Morecambe.

24,544. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Lawrence.

24,545. What did they give you ?—8*l.*

24,546. Nothing else ?—2*l.*

24,547. Where did you get the 2*l.* from ?—Vince.

24,548. And the 8*l.* you got from Mrs. Willacy ?—Yes.

24,549. Did you get anything else ?—No.

C. Bond.

CHARLES BOND sworn and examined.

24,550. (Mr. Newton.) You are No. 120 on the register, and are described as Charles Bond, of Poulton-le-Sands, husbandman. How did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

C. Bond.

21 Sept. 1866.

24,551. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*
24,552. Who paid you?—Mrs. Willacy.
24,553. Is that all you got?—5*s.*
24,554. Who did you get that from?—John Curwen.
24,555. Is that all you got?—Yes.
24,556. What did you get from Shackleton?—Nothing.
24,557. You only got 12*l.* 5*s.*?—That is all.

CHARLES BOND sworn and examined.

24,558. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A joiner.
24,559. Of Poulton-le-Sands?—Yes.
24,560. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.
24,561. What did you receive?—10*l.*
24,562. Did you get anything besides the 10*l.*?—Yes, 2*l.* for my expenses.
24,563. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.
24,564. Was that 12*l.* all that you received?—Yes.

R. Bond, jun.

RICHARD BOND jun., sworn and examined.

24,565. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A fisherman.
24,566. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.
24,567. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.
24,568. What did they give you?—Mrs. Willacy gave me 9*l.* and Mr. Vince gave me 2*l.*
24,569. Is that all you got?—Yes.
24,570. Are you Richard Bond, junior?—Yes.

R. Bond.

ROBERT BOND sworn and examined.

24,571. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.
24,572. Who paid you?—I do not know the man.
24,573. Where?—At Daniel Edmondson's.
24,574. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.
24,575. What did you get for going on the committee?—Nothing.
24,576. What did you get for going on Lawrence's committee?—Nothing.
24,577. You got 12*l.* for your vote?—Yes.
24,578. Who did you vote for?—For Fenwick and Schneider.
24,579. (Mr. Barstow.) Who gave you a ticket to get this money?—Mr. Shackleton.
24,580. He gave it to you in your own hand?—Yes.
24,581. What were you running away for just now when your name was called?—I was never summoned to come.
24,582. But you were here and were called. Why did you not answer when your name was called?—I am a poor man, and I want to receive my day's wages.
24,583. (Mr. Barstow.) Then you will not get your day's wages?—I do not want it.

Robt. Bond.

RICHARD BOND sworn and examined.

24,584. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Poulton-le-Sands, and are described as "fisherman (son of Thomas)." For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.
24,585. And what did you get for it?—8*l.*
24,586. And how much besides?—2*l.*
24,587. And how much besides that?—Nothing.
24,588. Was that all you got?—Yes.

G. Bond.

GEORGE BOND sworn and examined.

24,589. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Morecambe.
24,590. What are you?—A fisherman.
24,591. You voted for Lawrence?—Yes.
24,592. What did they give you?—8*l.*
24,593. Nothing more?—2*l.*
24,594. Nothing more than that?—No.
24,595. Not a farthing?—No.
24,596. (To Mrs. Willacy.) John Bond, No. 116 on the register, is dead is he not?—Yes.

J. Bond.

JOHN BOND sworn and examined.

24,597. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A fisherman.
24,598. Which way did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.
24,599. What did you get for your vote?—15*l.*
24,600. What else did you get?—Nothing.
24,601. What did you get on the other side?—Nothing.
24,602. Did you get nothing from Mrs. Willacy?—Yes.
24,603. How much did you get from her?—10*s.*
24,604. What did you mean then by saying just now that you got nothing from the other side?—Not for voting; that was three weeks before the election. I got 1*l.* of James Bell, and 10*s.* of Mrs. Willacy, and 5*s.* from Mr. Carruthers.
24,605. What else did you get?—And I think I got 5*s.* from Mr. Storey; that was for spending.
24,606. (Mr. Newton.) What did you get on the 5th of July from Mr. Shackleton?—I do not know.
24,607. Shall I tell you?—Yes.
24,608. 1*l.*, and on the 6th July you got another 1*l.*; on the 8th July another 1*l.*; on the 9th July 1*l.*, and another 1*l.* on the 10th of July?—Yes, I got something of Mr. Shackleton for spending money.
24,609. Why did you not say so before?—You said for voting, but I believe that is not correct; I think it was about 3*l.* or 4*l.* that I got from Mr. Shackleton.
24,610. I shall take it that Mr. Shackleton speaks truth. You got 10*s.* from Mrs. Willacy and 1*l.* from Mr. Bell?—Yes, and 5*s.* from Mr. Carruthers.
24,611. That is 1*l.* 15*s.*?—And 5*s.* from Mr. Storey.
24,612. That makes 22*l.* in all?—I do not know what it is. I did not count it up. I had not anything down.

W. Bond.

WILLIAM BOND sworn and examined.

24,613. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A farmer.
24,614. For whom did you vote?—Mr. Lawrence.
24,615. What did you get?—I got 10*l.* or 12*l.* for myself from Mrs. Willacy.
24,616. (To Mrs. Willacy.) How much was it that he got?—I think he got 10*l.* from me and 2*l.* from Mr. Vince.
24,617. (To the Witness.) Is that so?—I got 2*l.* from Mr. Vince besides.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

W. Bond.

1 Sept. 1866.

24,618. That is 12*l.*; what else did you get?—I got 10*l.* from Mrs. Willacy for my father.

24,619. He is alive, is he?—No, he is dead since.

24,620. Which Bond is that?—John Bond.

24,621. How much did you get for yourself besides the 12*l.*?—I got 2*l.* from Mr. Vince.

24,622. Did you get anything else?—No. I got 2*s.* 6*d.* from Mr. Booth and 2*l.* from Mr. Vince for my brother Thomas, and 2*l.* for my brother Charles, and 2*l.* for my father; that is 8*l.*, and I returned 6*l.* to Mrs. Willacy.

(Mrs. Willacy.) It is all accounted for.

(The Witness.) But I did not receive the 10*l.* as she gave in evidence; they received it themselves.

24,623. (Mr. Hill.) Then it comes to this, that you only got the 12*l.* for yourself?—I got it myself, but they got it you know.

24,624. You got 12*l.* for yourself?—Yes.

24,625. And you received for your father 12*l.* also?—Yes.

24,626. And did you pay that to him?—Of course I did.

24,627. Did you repay it to him?—Yes.

24,628. Did you pay the 12*l.* to your father?—I had the management of the money at the same time.

24,629. Did you pay the 12*l.* to your father?—I did not.

24,630. Then why did you tell a lie about it just now?—Your father is dead; you ought to be ashamed of yourself. To whom did you pay the 12*l.*; you kept it yourself?—He told me I could receive it.

24,631. You kept it yourself, did you not?—Of course I did.

24,632. Then you kept 24*l.* for yourself?—I wish not to tell a lie.

24,633. You do not seem to me to have that wish at all. The fact is that you kept 24*l.* for yourself?—Yes.

24,634. How much of that which was paid for your brothers did you keep?—I kept nothing.

24,635. Are they all alive?—They are all alive that I have had anything to do with. I have a brother dead, Edmond; he was scalded in that explosion.

24,636. Did he get any money?—I do not know.

24,637. Did you receive any for him?—I did not.

24,638. What monies did you receive besides this 24*l.*?—I cannot say as I received any.

24,639. There was some that you received you know, even according to your own account, besides what you received for yourself and your father. What other money did you receive?—From Vince, that was returned back to Mrs. Willacy; 6*l.* was returned back to her.

24,640. (To Mrs. Willacy.) Is that so?—It was accounted for, 10*l.* and 2*l.* that he had of Mr. Vince.

24,641. Did he pay back the 6*l.* virtually?—No, I made it up to 12*l.*; that was the way we did it. I paid him for his father, and his brother that is a joiner, and his brother Thomas that is a servant, and himself, 40*l.*

24,642. (To the Witness.) Did you keep your brother's (the joiner's) money?—I did not, it was accounted for; I gave it back to Mrs. Willacy.

24,643. (To Mrs. Willacy.) Did you get it back?—No.

24,644. (To the Witness.) What other money did you receive from Mrs. Willacy?

(Mrs. Willacy.) I paid him 40*l.* over.

(The Witness.) I did not receive it.

24,645. (Mr. Hill to Mrs. Willacy.) Then he got altogether 44*l.*?—Yes; for his father, his two brothers, and himself.

24,646. (To the Witness.) You got altogether 44*l.*?—I did not.

24,647. How much of that have you ever paid away?—I received the money for my father and myself.

(Mrs. Willacy.) His brother Charley is in court.

24,648. Do you say that all you received was 24*l.*?—Yes, for my father and myself.

24,649. (To Mrs. Willacy.) Is that so?—He only got 12*l.* for himself.

24,650. He stuck to 24*l.*?—I had nothing to do with his father.

24,651. You had 2*l.* to bring your brother from Bradford?—No, I had nothing from Bradford.

24,652. For your brother?—No, he got it himself.

24,653. Did you not get 2*l.* to bring your brother from Bradford?—No.

24,654. Did you get 2*l.* to bring your brother from Carnforth?—No; I went to Carnforth myself out of my own expenses.

(Mr. Vince.) I gave him 2*l.* to bring his brother, and a sovereign for brandy.

(The Witness.) I did not receive it.

24,655. (Mr. Barstow.) You will not get your expenses; you have given your evidence in such a way that it is impossible for us to believe a word you say.—I am telling you the truth.

F. Bond.

FRANK BOND sworn and examined.

24,656. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,657. Of Poulton?—Yes.

24,658. Who did you vote for at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,659. What did you get for your vote?—11*l.*

24,660. Anything else?—No.

24,661. You got nothing but that 11*l.*?—Nothing.

24,662. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes, quite sure.

24,663. Did anyone else get anything for you?—No.

24,664. Are you a relation to the last witness?—No.

24,665. You are not a relation at all to him?—No.

H. Casson.

HENRY CASSON sworn and examined.

24,666. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

24,667. How did you vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,668. What did you get for it?—12*l.*

24,669. Who paid you?—I did not know him.

24,670. What did you get besides?—Nothing.

24,671. What did they stand for drink?—Nothing.

24,672. What did you get on the other side?—Nothing.

24,673. You only got 12*l.* for your vote altogether?—No.

Edmondson.

JOHN EDMONDSON sworn and examined.

24,674. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,675. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,676. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*; I suppose it would be for my vote, but they never told me what it was for.

24,677. Is that all you got?—Yes.

T. Edmondson.

THOMAS EDMONDSON sworn and examined.

24,678. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,679. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

24,680. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,681. What did you get?—10*l.*

24,682. Nothing more?—Yes; I received 2*l.* from John Edmondson on the Monday night. That is all that I received.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

21 Sept. 1866.

ROBERT EDMONDSON sworn and examined. R. Edmondson.

24,683. (Mr. Newton.) What did you get for your vote?—I got 11*l.*

24,684. How did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,685. What did you get besides?—2*l.* for my son, John Edmondson.

24,686. Who gave you that?—Mrs. Willacy.

24,687. You got 13*l.* altogether?—No, 11*l.* I got for myself. I received 2*l.* from Vince, and 9*l.* from Mrs. Willacy.

24,688. You and your son each got 11*l.*?—Yes.

THOMAS EDMONSON sworn and examined. T. Edmondson.

24,689. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,690. What did you get for your vote?—I got 10*l.* for my vote.

24,691. How much else?—And 4*l.* for travelling expenses.

24,692. Where did you come from?—From Londonderry, in Ireland.

24,693. How much of that was spent in expenses?—I spent it all coming and going back.

24,694. It did not cost you 4*l.* to come from Londonderry to Morecambe and back?—Yes, it did, stopping three days besides.

24,695. I suppose it was worth 12*l.* to you altogether?—No, I call it 10*l.*

JOHN EDMONDSON recalled and further examined. J. Edmondson.

24,696. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you get for your vote?—I got nothing for my vote; they told me it was for my expenses.

24,697. What did you get altogether?—As near as I should think, 23*l.* or 24*l.*; I cannot tell you exactly.

24,698. How much of that did you keep for yourself; how much of that had you left?—I do not believe any public-house keeper or any voter will say anything different but what I spent the money. I was the only one spending money at the time. I used to go round the town two or three times a day.

24,699. How much did you get of that 23*l.* or 24*l.* for yourself?—13*l.* There is 10*s.* I have missed telling you of; on the Monday I gave 10*s.* to John Kitchen, and Thomas Edmondson he had 2*l.*

DANIEL EDMONDSON sworn and examined. D Edmondson.

24,700. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A publican.

24,701. You keep the "Joiners' Arms?"—Yes.

24,702. What money did you receive altogether at the last election?—Between 56*l.* and 57*l.* in all.

24,703. You mean 57*l.* 10*s.*?—I believe 56*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.*; that is as near as I can remember.

24,704. What was it for?—For room and refreshments supplied to voters.

24,705. What did you get for your room?—10*l.* for three rooms; 5*l.* for one first, and then 5*l.* afterwards for two more. They occupied three rooms.

24,706. What was your bill?—The last bill for rooms and refreshments together was, I think, 38*l.* 3*s.*, but the 3*s.* I did not take.

24,707. You got 10*l.* for your room and 38*l.* odd for rooms and refreshments?—Yes; the whole bill together was 56*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.* There was one account of 38*l.* 3*s.*, another of 11*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.*, and another of 6*l.*

24,708. What was the 6*l.* for?—For drink and refreshments supplied; and then there was 10*l.* for the rooms.

24,709. You told us of that before.—Then I have told you all. I have told you it all amounted to 56*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.*

24,710. (Mr. Hill.) Yours is a licensed house?—Yes.

24,711. So you got the regular licensed house price?—Yes.

JONAS EDMONDSON, jun., sworn and examined. J. Edmondson, jun.

24,712. (Mr. Newton.) Which way did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,713. What did you get for your vote?—11*l.*

24,714. Who paid it to you?—John Curwen gave me 10*l.*, and Mrs. Willacy 1*l.* on the election morning.

24,715. Is that all you got?—No; I got 2*l.* before.

24,716. Who from?—I suppose Mr. Vince.

24,717. That is 13*l.*?—Yes.

24,718. Anything more?—No.

24,719. All you got was 13*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

THOMAS HADWEN sworn and examined. T. Hadwen

24,720. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a fisherman?—Yes.

24,721. For whom did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,722. What did you get?—9*l.* from Mrs. Willacy, and 2*l.* from Mr. Vince.

24,723. Was that all?—Yes.

WILLIAM HADWEN, jun., is called, but does not answer. W. Hadwen, jun.

24,724. (To the Witness.) Do you know William Hadwin?—He will be my son. He is not here, he is at Barrow.

24,725. What did he get?—I cannot say.

24,726. Which way did he vote?—He voted for Mr. Lawrence, but what he got I do not know any more than my hat.

(Mrs. Willacy.) He got 11*l.*; 2*l.* from Vince and 9*l.* from me.

24,727. (Mr. Hill to Mr. Vince.) Do you agree to that?—Yes.

TOBIAS HADWEN sworn and examined. T. Hadwen.

24,728. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,729. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

24,730. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,731. What did you get?—5*l.*

24,732. No more?—No.

24,733. From whom did you get it?—Mr. Stewartson.

24,734. Do you keep a beerhouse?—No.

24,735. Did you get none of this money that was going about on the sands at Morecambe?—No.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

22 Sept. 1866.

W. Hadwen.

WILLIAM HADWEN sworn and examined.

24,736. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,737. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

24,738. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,739. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

24,740. Anything more?—No.

24,741. You got 10*l.* altogether?—That was all.

A. Henderson.

ADAM HENDERSON sworn and examined.

24,742. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a shoemaker at Poulton?—I am a shoemaker by trade, but am not following it at present.

24,743. What are you following at present?—Photography.

24,744. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,745. What did you receive for your vote?—10*l.*, for my services.

24,746. How much else?—Nothing else.

24,747. What do you mean by "services?"—Conveying voters from Morecambe to the polling place in Lancaster.

24,748. What did you convey them in?—In a 'bus.

24,749. Who paid for the 'bus?—I suppose it was engaged.

24,750. It was not your omnibus?—No.

24,751. Then what do you mean; you received 10*l.* for your vote?—No, not for my vote.

24,752. You received 10*l.* for taking voters in another man's omnibus?—I was requested to close my business, and see the voters to the poll on the day of the election.

24,753. Is 10*l.* your day's wage; that is at the rate of 3,650*l.* a year. You got 10*l.* for your vote?—It was for my services.

J. Howson.

JAMES HOWSON sworn and examined.

24,754. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A plumber and glazier.

24,755. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

24,756. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,757. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

24,758. Nothing more?—2*l.* from Vince.

24,759. 12*l.* altogether?—Yes.

24,760. Did you get nothing beyond 12*l.*?—No.

24,761. Nothing to spend?—No.

J. Jackson.

JAMES JACKSON sworn and examined.

24,762. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,763. What are you?—A fisherman.

24,764. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

24,765. Do you mean to say that you really got nothing for your vote?—Nothing, positively.

24,766. You need not look so astonished?—I am astonished, that is all.

24,767. Are you really in earnest to say that you got nothing for you vote?—Yes, I am in earnest; I am on my oath.

24,768. Did you get anything for your assistance?—No; nor did I assist, so that I could have no prospect of getting anything for my assistance.

24,769. That does not follow at all?—However, I did not receive anything either directly or indirectly.

24,770. That is the truth, is it; that you did not receive anything either directly or indirectly?—No, I did not.

24,771. (Mr. Hill.) You make up the dozen of unbribed people?—I did not take any part in the election at all, and I am only surprised that I have been summoned.

24,772. It may be made a baker's dozen before we have done, but I think it is not very likely?—I hope it may.

J. Kitchen, jun.

JOHN KITCHEN, jun., sworn and examined.

24,773. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A stonemason.

24,774. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,775. What did you get for your vote?—8*l.*

24,776. Is that all?—No.

24,777. What else did you get?—There was 10*s.* from John Edmondson.

24,778. What else?—And 1*l.* 15*s.* from Shackleton.

24,779. And what else?—That is all I can tell, but there might be some small things.

24,780. Making up 5*s.*?—Yes.

24,781. Making it up to 10*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

24,782. You did not get anything from the other side?—No.

24,783. (Mr. Newton.) Do you live in King Street?—No, Morecambe; it will be my brother.

24,784. (Mr. Hill.) Is your brother here?—No; I have never seen him since Whitsuntide.

24,785. Where is he?—I do not know where he is; he would be somewhere about Lancaster.

24,786. What did your brother get?—I do not know; I never spoke to him about it.

J. Knipe.

JOSEPH KNIPE sworn and examined.

24,787. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A retired farmer.

24,788. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

24,789. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,790. What did they give you?—I never received anything from them.

24,791. Not a farthing?—No.

24,792. You had absolutely nothing at all?—No; but my son got some money.

24,793. And gave it to you?—Well, I never got it yet, but it came into the house; I do not know that I ever see it.

24,794. What do you mean?—What I say.

24,795. You had some money for voting?—My son got it.

24,796. And gave it to you?—No.

24,797. To whom did he give it?—It was taken out of his pocket by somebody—his sister, I believe.

24,798. This will not do, this is nonsense; how much was it?—10*l.*

24,799. Did he get any more?—No; I do not know what he got.

24,800. How much did you get?—I had never nothing given to me; the money was 10*l.*, but I never had it.

24,801. Did not Shackleton give you 10*s.*?—No.

24,802. Will you swear that?—Yes.

24,803. He never gave you 10*s.*?—I will swear it.

24,804. What do you do now?—I sometimes works a bit at land, and sometimes do nothing.

24,805. (Mr. Hill.) Do you live on your own property?—Yes.

GEORGE KNIPE sworn and examined. G. Knipe.

24,806. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,807. What did you get for your vote?—I received 25*l.* altogether; Shackleton put down 15*l.* for me and 10*l.* for my father.

24,808. Did you get anything more?—No; that is all I got.

WILLIAM LORD sworn and examined. W. Lord.

24,809. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A spinner.

24,810. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,811. What did you get?—Ten sovereigns.

24,812. Is that all?—Yes, it is.

24,813. Nothing else?—It is all I got, and all I have got for 47 years.

24,814. You got nothing before; you got it all in a lump?—No; I got two sovereigns and then 8*l.*

24,815. (Mr. Newton.) Have you been a freeman for 47 years?—Yes.

JOHN THRELFALL sworn and examined. J. Threlfall.

24,816. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A fisherman.

24,817. Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

24,818. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,819. What did you get?—I got 12*l.* altogether; 8*l.* from Mrs. Willacy and 4*l.* from Thomas Procter. It might come through her hands, but that is how I got it; 8*l.* from her and 4*l.* from him.

24,820. 12*l.* altogether?—Yes.

24,821. Did you get nothing more?—Nothing more from them.

24,822. Did you not get some drink before the election day?—I got some drink, but no money to spend.

24,823. (Mr. Hill.) What did you get from the other side?—I got 1*l.* from Mr. Shackleton.

HENRY THRELFALL sworn and examined. H. Threlfall.

24,824. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

24,825. What did you get for that one vote?—I got 12*l.* from a stranger, but I do not know who he was; he brought it into the house to us.

24,826. For which side?—For Lawrence.

24,827. What did you get for Fenwick's vote?—Not a halfpenny piece.

24,828. Did you get nothing from Shackleton?—No; I received 2*l.* a fortnight before that, Thomas Proctor gave it to me; I asked him what it was for, and whether it had anything to do with the election, but he said, "No; it is for a free gift;" and I received 12*l.* from a stranger.

24,829. (Mr. Hill.) Did you receive any other free gifts?—No. I believe Mr. Vince accounts for having given me 2*l.*, but I never saw him.

24,830. (To Mr. Vince.) What do you say to that?—I believe it was Procter spoke to him; it was taken with a lot by somebody. I have a lot of them down here 8*l.*

JAMES THRELFALL sworn and examined. J. Threlfall.

24,831. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A fisherman and market gardener.

24,832. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,833. What did you get?—I received 2*l.* from Thomas Procter and 12*l.* from a gentleman who brought it into the house, a gentleman I did not know.

24,834. That is 14*l.* altogether?—Yes.

24,835. That is all you got?—Yes.

WILLIAM THRELFALL sworn and examined. W. Threlfall.

24,836. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

24,837. You are a fisherman?—Yes.

24,838. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,839. What did they give you?—12*l.*

24,840. Did you get anything more than 12*l.*?—Yes, 1*l.* from Mr. Shackleton.

24,841. Is 13*l.* all you got from anybody?—Yes.

24,842. How did you get the 12*l.*?—8*l.* from Mrs. Willacy and 4*l.* from Thomas Procter.

24,843. Did you get anything more from Shackleton?—No.

24,844. Did you get anything of Edmondson?—No.

24,845. 13*l.* is all you got altogether?—Yes.

WILLIAM WHITESIDE sworn and examined. W. Whiteside.

24,846. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A farmer.

24,847. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,848. Where do you live?—At Torrisholme.

24,849. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

24,850. Did you get anything from anybody else?—No.

24,851. Is that all you got?—Yes.

24,852. You call yourself a farmer. Do you farm your own land?—No, I farm it.

24,853. What is the rent?—50*l.*

ROBERT BOND sworn and examined. R. Bond.

24,854. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A farmer.

24,855. What rent do you pay?—30*l.*

24,856. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,857. What did they give you?—He gave me nothing. I got 4*l.*

24,858. From whom?—Robert Hodgson.

24,859. What Robert Hodgson?—Of China Lane.

24,860. Did you get anything more?—No.

24,861. When did Hodgson pay you?—On the election day.

24,862. Before or after you voted?—Before.

24,863. Hodgson says he gave you 5*l.*?—He did not.

24,864. That is not true?—No.

24,865. Will you swear you only got 4*l.*?—Yes there was another party in the room besides.

24,866. Who was that?—I cannot say; a stranger to me.

24,867. Did you get anything from the other side?—No, nothing.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

1 Sept. 1866.

J. Bond.

JOHN BOND sworn and examined.

24,868. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a land surveyor at Bare?—Yes.

24,869. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,870. What did you get?—10*l.*

24,871. You got it from Hodgson?—Yes, Robert Hodgson, of China Lane.

24,872. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get anything else?—No, nothing.

J. Dodgson.

JAMES DODGSON sworn and examined.

24,873. (Mr. Newton.) You live at Bare?—Yes.

24,874. Which way did you vote last time?—For Lawrence.

24,875. What did you get for your vote?—14*l.* Mrs. Willacy gave me 12*l.*, and Robert Hodgson 2*l.*

24,876. Did Robert Hodgson give you only 2*l.*?—That is all.

24,877. He says he gave you 15*l.*?—It is not true.

24,878. When did he pay you the 2*l.*?—On the election day, about 11 o'clock, I daresay.

24,879. How came he to pay you, and Mrs. Willacy also?—James Bond and me were together, and Robert Hodgson said, "You have got something, will 2*l.* do?" and I said "Yes." We did not ask for it, and never expected it. We were coming along the Green Area, and just going to vote. We never expected 2*l.* from him at all.

24,880. (Mr. Hill.) You would have been satisfied with the 12*l.*?—Yes.

T. Hodgson.

THOMAS HODGSON sworn and examined.

24,881. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,882. What did you get for your vote?—5*l.*

24,883. Is that all?—Yes.

24,884 Nothing more from anybody?—No.

24,885. On neither side?—No, not a fraction.

J. Hodgson.

JOHN HODGSON sworn and examined.

24,886. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you live at Bare?—No, Slyne.

24,887. You are a farmer?—Yes.

24,888. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,889. What did you get for your vote?—3*l.*

24,890. Who paid it to you?—Robert Hodgson, of China Lane.

24,891. If my note is correct, he put you down as having received 5*l.*?—It is not true, nothing of the kind.

24,892. Was 3*l.* all you got?—Yes.

T. Curwen.

THOMAS CURWEN sworn and examined.

24,893. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—Torrisholme.

24,894. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,895. What did you get for your vote?—2*l.*

24,896. Who paid you?—Robert Hodgson.

24,897. Where?—At his own house.

24,898. He says he gave you 5*l.*?—It is not true.

24,899. (Mr. Hill to Thomas Hodgson.) Are you father of Robert Hodgson, China Lane?—Yes.

24,900. Where is he?—I do not know anything about him.

24,901. You do not see him much?—No, not so much.

24,902. He does not seem to have been giving everybody what he ought to have given them?—I cannot help that. Some of them will tell the truth, and some will not. I do not think he was capable on the election day.

24,903. (To the Witness.) Are you sure you did not receive more than 2*l.*?—Yes.

24,904. You were rather tipsy, were you not?—No, I never got tipsy.

24,905. Are you quite sure you did not get more than 2*l.*?—Yes.

24,906. How came you to put up with having 2*l.*?—I was content with it. I thought it my duty to vote without anything, and I did not want anything.

24,907. Did Hodgson tell you that was all he had for you?—No; he had more for me.

24,908. Why did he not give it to you?—I did not ask for it.

24,909. He told you that he had got more for you?—I saw him get it.

24,910. What are you?—A farmer.

24,911. Or a labourer?—I farm land now. I have been a labourer.

24,912. How much do you farm now?—55*l.* a year.

24,913. And you were content to take 2*l.* for your vote?—Yes, I was.

J. Curwen.

JAMES CURWEN sworn and examined.

24,914. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A labourer.

24,915. Where do you live?—At Torrisholme.

24,916. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,917. What did you get for your vote?—I got 5*l.*

24,918. From whom?—Robert Hodgson.

24,919. Did you get anything else?—No.

24,920. You got no more than 5*l.*?—No.

24,921. Robert Hodgson says he gave you 6*l.*?—He did not.

24,922. That is not true?—No; 5*l.* was all I got.

R. Wadeson.

RICHARD WADESON sworn and examined.

24,923. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Hest Bank.

24,924. What are you?—The station-master.

24,925. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,926. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

24,927. Did you get nothing else?—No.

24,928. Who paid it to you?—Mr. Isaac Jackson.

24,929. Not Hodgson?—It was paid at Hodgson's house.

24,930. Hodgson did not pay you?—No.

T.W. Hodgson.

THOMAS WILKINSON HODGSON sworn and examined.

24,931. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—Slyne.

24,932. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

24,933. What did you get for your vote?—3*l.*

24,934. Who paid you?—Robert Hodgson.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

T. Shaw.

21 Sept. 1866.

THOMAS SHAW sworn and examined.

24,935. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you come from?—Slyne.

24,936. What are you?—A labourer.

24,937. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

24,938. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

24,939. From whom?—I got it at Robert Hodgson's, but I do not know who gave it to me.

24,940. You did not get it through his hands?—No.

24,941. Did you receive any other monies besides?—5*s.* before the election.

24,942. What else?—That is all.

24,943. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

24,944. 10*l.* 5*s.* was all you got?—Yes.

D. Edmondson.

DANIEL EDMONDSON sworn and examined.

24,945. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,946. How much did you receive?—I received 12*l.*

24,947. Did you receive anything else?—John Curwen brought 10*l.*, and wanted me to give one vote to Mr. Lawrence, and I told him I would not. He left the money, and after I came back to the house I sent it back to him. I would not vote for him.

24,948. You did not keep any of it?—No.

J. Thompson.

JOHN THOMPSON sworn and examined.

24,949. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Stonewell.

24,950. What are you?—A shoemaker.

24,951. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

24,952. What did you get for your vote?—9*l.*

24,953. Anything else?—No.

24,954. Were you on any committee?—No.

24,955. You got nothing for drinking money?—No, not a farthing.

J. Jackson.

JAMES JACKSON sworn and examined.

24,956. (Mr. Barstow.) You keep the "Spinners' Arms?"—Yes.

24,957. Was your house engaged by the Conservatives?—Nobody engaged it, but they held their committee meetings there.

24,958. What money did you receive at the last election?—I have on this paper (handing a paper to the Commissioners) what was spent.

24,959. "For 20 staff-men, engaged at about 5*s.* a "day, for two days, 9*l.* 10*s.*; use of house, 6*l.*; bill "for refreshments, 8*l.*; refreshments at the committee meetings, 6*l.* 14*s.* 6*d.*; canvassing, 1*l.*?"—Yes.

24,960. Have you always voted the same?—I have.

R. Lamb.

ROBERT LAMB sworn and examined.

24,961. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I keep the "Slip Inn."

24,962. Who engaged your house at the last election?—Mr. Hatch and Mr. Cross.

24,963. What for?—They engaged it for 10*l.*

24,964. What bill did they pay?—5*l.* It was paid altogether. I had nothing paid besides.

24,965. Then am I to understand that 5*l.* was the gross sum you received, and that it was paid altogether?—Yes.

Adjourned to to-morrow 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Saturday, 22d September 1866.

PRESENT:

MR. BARSTOW. | MR. NEWTON. | MR. HILL.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

J. McCann.

22 Sept. 1866.

JOHN McCANN recalled and further examined.

24,966. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand that you have some statement to make to the Commissioners?—Yes, I have.

24,967. (Mr. Newton.) You paid Edward Hoggarth 5*l.*?—I did.

24,968. That was for his vote?—It was.

24,969. You wish to state this morning that you received part back?—Yes; he gave me 1*l.* back.

24,970. You got 1*l.* for yourself?—I got 1*l.* and I spent it; and then there is Mr. Coupland; Mr. Coupland has booked 3*l.* against me and I never got 3*d.* I asked him why he had booked 3*l.* against me, and he said it was in his books. I said, "When did you give it to me?" and he could not recollect. I never got a farthing.

24,971. (Mr. Hill.) Is Mr. Coupland here now?—No.

24,972. Have you spoken to him about it?—Yes; he said it was in his book, but he could not tell anything about giving it to me; and there is 2*l.* from John Cross that I never received. I acknowledge to 2*l.*, but there is 4*l.* put against me.

24,973. (Mr. Barstow.) I must say that we have found these gentlemen's accounts very accurate.—I am positive that I never received that 3*l.* or the 2*l.* either.

24,974. (Mr. Newton.) I have it that you got 3*l.* from Cross?—4*l.*, is it not?

24,975. No, 3*l.*—I only got 2*l.* from Mr. Cross.

24,976. (Mr. Newton.) You say that in fact you only gave Hoggarth 4*l.* instead of 5*l.*, and that you spent the other 1*l.* in treating?—Yes.

H. Wolfendale.

RICHARD WOLFENDALE sworn and examined.

24,977. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a butcher?—Yes.

24,978. Where do you live?—In Damside Street.

24,979. Are you a householder?—Yes.

24,980. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

24,981. What money did you get?—8*l.*

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

R. Wolfendale.

21 Sept. 1866.

24,982. Who gave it to you?—James Turner gave 5*l.* to my wife and another man as used to be with Mr. Welch; I forget his name.

24,983. Was it Alfred Tinker?—Yes; he gave me 3*l.*

24,984. Did you receive anything else?—No.

24,985. You were on the committee?—No.

24,986. Had you no money to spend in the town for drinking?—No.

24,987. Is 8*l.* all you received?—Yes.

T. Slinger.

THOMAS SLINGER sworn and examined.

24,988. (Mr. Newton.) You are a householder?—Yes.

24,989. And you live in Market Street?—Yes.

24,990. How did you vote?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

24,991. What did you get for your vote?—5*l.*

24,992. Who did you get it from?—John McCann.

24,993. How came John McCann to pay you?—I do not know.

24,994. Where did he pay you?—About their own place of business; somewhere about their own stables.

24,995. What are you?—I am a fruiterer.

24,996. Is that all you got for your vote?—That is all I got from any party in any shape.

24,997. Were you on any committee?—No.

24,998. McCann paid you 5*l.* to vote for Lawrence?—Yes.

24,999. (Mr. Hill.) He gave you 5*l.* for a split vote?—Yes.

25,000. (Mr. Newton.) Did Cross give you 5*l.*?—I got no more money.

25,001. Did Cross give you 5*l.*?—No.

25,002. Did he give your wife any money?—No.

25,003. (Mr. Hill.) Come, tell us at once?—I got nothing more; that is all the money I got.

25,004. (Mr. Newton.) When did you receive a summons to come here?—I believe on Wednesday night. I was away from home.

25,005. Then you got 5*l.* from Cross?—No, I got nothing from no one else, only from John McCann; I got 5*l.* from him; that is all the money I got, either in money or in anything else.

25,006. (Mr. Hill.) Did not any of your family get some money?—No.

25,007. Will you swear that none of your family got any money?—They did not.

25,008. (To Mr. Mc Cann.) Did you give this man 5*l.*?—Yes. I do not believe that Cross paid him a farthing.

(Mr. Barstow to the witness.) I believe you are right, you got nothing from Cross.

G. C. Hatton.

GEORGE COOPER HATTON sworn and examined.

25,009. (Mr. Hill.) You are a painter, and you live in Cheapside?—Yes.

25,010. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

25,011. What money did you get?—10*l.*

25,012. From whom did you get it?—From John Cross.

25,013. What else did you get?—Nothing.

25,014. Were you not on any committee?—No.

25,015. Not on either side?—No.

25,016. Was that all you got?—Yes.

25,017. You got no more either directly or indirectly?—No, and that I did not ask for. I did not receive anything from Thomas Cross.

25,018. Did he say you did?—I saw it mentioned in the papers that he said so.

25,019. Who do you say you got the 10*l.* from?—John Cross.

25,020. (Mr. Barstow.) What is it you say Thomas Cross said?—That he gave me 10*l.*

25,021. And you say that John Cross gave you 10*l.*?—Yes.

25,022. Then you both agree?—But Thomas Cross says that he gave me 10*l.* as well.

25,023. Did you receive no other money except this 10*l.*?—No.

25,024. From whose hand did you receive it?—A stranger I had never seen before.

25,025. Was John Cross there?—Yes.

25,026. And was Thomas Cross there?—Yes, I I believe so.

25,027. (Mr. Hill.) Did anybody else receive any money for you?—No.

25,028. Were you sober at the time?—Yes.

S. Pickard.

SAMUEL PICKARD affirmed.

25,029. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Vale Cottage now.

25,030. Vale Cottage, where?—Near Lancaster is the most certain direction by post.

25,031. Is that in Skerton?—It is; it is the farthest house I believe in Skerton, but to address a letter that way is wrong; letters so addressed get into the Skerton bag.

25,032. What are you by trade or profession?—I am nothing at present.

25,033. You are living on your own means?—Yes.

25,034. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

25,035. What money did you receive?—3*l.* 5*s.* at first, but I returned 2*l.*

25,036. We will have what you received in the first instance, if you please?—On the election day I did receive five guineas.

25,037. What was that for?—For expenses to come from the North, with an additional sum added, for what I was not aware, and which I returned.

25,038. You say you came to Lancaster from the North; did you come from John o' Groat's house?—No, from Cockermouth, in Cumberland; I started that morning, the 11th.

25,039. Are the fares very heavy on that line?—I travelled in the most heavy way. I had planned to come home by a roundabout way; I thought it was possible for me to accomplish it and I did so. I left the rail at Penrith and travelled by way of Patterdale and along the Kirkdale Pass to Bowness.

25,040. In fact you took a tour of the lakes at the expense of Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider?—But I did not start with that intention.

25,041. From whom did you receive this money?—From Henry Welch.

25,042. Is that all you received?—Yes, that is the amount in full.

25,043. That is all you received originally?—Yes.

25,044. Is it all you asked for?—It is more actually.

25,045. Is it all you asked for?—It is more.

25,046. Did you ask Henry Welch for any more than five guineas?—5*l.* was the amount I asked for. Charles Blades was present and suggested the idea of my going to William Jackson, and I did so.

25,047. Did you ask Henry Welch for more than five guineas is my question?—No, less. 5*l.* was what I asked before going to William Jackson; he fixed the amount of five guineas.

25,048. Did you ask from anyone for more than five guineas?—No. I was not aware what to ask, not knowing what my expenses would be to return.

25,049. Did you ask for more than five guineas from anyone?—No, not to my knowledge; it was only 5*l.*

25,050. That was all you asked for from anyone?—Yes.

25,051. You did not ask Mr. Blades or anyone else for any sum of money besides 5*l.*?—No; I stated at the time that I was not able to fix the amount, having to return the same day.

25,052. To whom did you state that?—To Henry Welch and Charles Blades, the only two persons who were present.

25,053. Then are we to understand that if it has been stated to us in evidence that you asked for more than 5*l.* that is a mistake?—It is quite a mistake.

25,054. You did not ask for more than 5*l.* from any person whatever?—No; I did not know what to ask for in fact.

25,055. You said just now that you returned a portion of what you received?—Yes, after I returned home after the election. I had to return to the north the same day. I had to post, in fact, from Windermere to where I went that night, which is near Hawkshead.

25,056. I suppose you went across the ferry?—No, I went by way of Ambleside.

25,057. Why did you do that?—I considered it was more direct to the place I was going to near Hawkshead; it is the usual way to go to our friends we find; it must be very tempting weather to induce us to go across the lake.

25,058. When did you return this money?—I believe the latter end of the week after the election.

25,059. Was it out of your own head that you returned it?—Yes.

25,060. Nobody suggested it to you?—No; I did it without the knowledge of anybody.

25,061. How much did you return?—2*l.*

25,062. To whom did you return it?—To Henry Welch.

25,063. Then you kept 3*l.* 5*s.* for your expenses?—I did.

25,064. I must ask you now what your expenses were?—I made as accurate a calculation as possible after returning home, and I made them out to be 3*l.* 5*s.*

25,065. You left home on the 12th July, I suppose?—No, I left home before. Do you mean returning after the election? I left home on the election day the second time.

25,066. You returned from Lancaster on the 12th of July?—No, I stayed several days.

25,067. I thought you said that you had left Lancaster on the day of the election?—I did, to go into the north again.

25,068. And I suppose you took at some point on the railway, a return ticket?—No, I did not.

25,069. Why not?—I was not able to do so. I believe I tried at the Windermere Station the night before. I took a first-class ticket both ways. I had to post from Windermere to near Hawkshead that night.

25,070. (Mr. Newton.) Do you say you posted?—I did.

25,071. (Mr. Barstow.) There is a railway, is there not?—There is no railway station nearer than Braithwaite Station.

25,072. To post by Windermere the distance must be about 13 miles, whereas you might have gone across in a boat?—The expense to cross with the horses would be 2*s.* I believe.

25,073. You have not told us yet what your expenses were?—3*l.* 5*s.*

25,074. Do you mean to say that you spent 3*l.* 5*s.* in going from Cockermouth to Lancaster, and from Lancaster back to Hawkshead?—Yes, I did; I went to Cockermouth first.

25,075. There is a station at Cockermouth from which you might get by railway to Whitehaven, is there not?—Yes, but I came the contrary way towards Penrith instead of going by Whitehaven.

25,076. The Penrith route is as much used as the Whitehaven route, is it not?—Yes. I went by railway and made up my mind to return as I did return, having just the time to do it in, arriving at about 10 o'clock, I believe, on the 11th.

25,077. You have a paper in your hand; is that a memorandum of your expenses?—Yes.

25,078. Just let me look at it (the paper is handed by the witness to the Commissioner). You have another paper in your hand; what is that?—It is merely a piece of paper.

25,079. Let me look at it (the paper is handed to the Commissioner). Do you mean to say that you returned this money of your own accord?—I did.

25,080. Had you no conversation upon the subject with anybody before you returned it?—No.

25,081-2. You never mentioned it to anyone?—I daresay I named it to my wife; I believe I did. Finding that I had been overpaid I returned it.

25,083. What made you take five guineas to begin with?—Not knowing what the amount was in reality that I should be entitled to receive, having to return the same day into the north.

25,084. Was there any reason why returning should be more costly than coming?—No, it proved less costly, the distance was shorter.

25,085. You tell us seriously this morning that the money was not returned by you at the instigation of any other person whatever?—By no means.

25,086. (Mr. Newton.) You keep a carriage and horses, do you not?—Do you mean myself?

25,087. Yes?—No, I do not.

25,088. In order to get where you wanted was it necessary to go by carriage instead of by rail, or across the water?—I went by rail as far as possible.

25,089. My question is, was it necessary to go by carriage instead of by rail, or across the water?—It was quite necessary on that night in particular, having fixed to do so before.

25,090. How many miles had you to go by carriage?—I am not certain of the distance; I believe it is about the distance that one of the Commissioners has named.

25,091. I ask you to tell me the distance, for I know nothing about it myself?—I believe it is 20 or 30 miles going round.

25,092. What did you pay?—I fancy there are some figures on that paper which will show.

25,093. What did you pay?—You have the items on the back of that paper in pencil; you will see the amount exactly.

25,094. It strikes me that if you cared about voting you would have gone there without being paid, and you would have gone the cheapest way?—To tell you the truth I cared nothing about it; I should have been glad to have remained with my friends a little longer. It was 10 years since I had paid them a visit before, and I felt anxious, to tell you the truth, to remain longer with them. I went the night before nearly at midnight to get to Cockermouth, and I had to post that too.

25,095. There is a railway from Penrith?—To Penrith from Cockermouth?

25,096. From Penrith to Lancaster?—There is; but I did not consider myself bound, having fixed to return the way I did, to be prevented from doing so on account of coming home.

25,097. (Mr. Hill.) What would have been the expense if you had come by rail?—I have not ascertained.

25,098. What do you suppose the expense would have been? Would it have been about a 1*l.* there and back?—My object was not to go there and back.

25,099. But a return ticket from the place from which you came would have been about 1*l.* viâ Penrith; is not that so?—Not both ways.

25,100. Would it have been much more?—I should think it would have been nearer 2*l.* to travel in the manner I did, if not more than 2*l.*

25,101. Do I understand you really to say (and give me an accurate answer, if you please, upon this point) that you never asked for more money than 5*l.*?—I wish to do so.

25,102. Is that what you mean to say?—Most undoubtedly.

25,103. We have had a most accurate witness before us who has said this: "I paid Pickard, a Quaker, for "his expenses from Cockermouth, 5*l.*; he wanted 10*l.*,

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

S. Pickard.

22 Sept. 1866.

"and he brought me back afterwards 3*l*." Do you mean to say that that is untrue?—It is quite false.

25,104. Do you mean to say, then, that if Mr. Allinson stated that he stated that which was untrue?—I do not know the man.

25,105. Was he present when you received the money?—I do not know; there was some one.

25,106. Did you mention any specific sum of money to Mr. Welch?—Yes, I mentioned 5*l*.

25,107. When?—When first I called.

25,108. What did you say to him when first you asked for a specific sum of money? Just tell me exactly what took place between you?—There was so much said that I had no opportunity of saying anything or next to it. Charles Blades was there.

25,109. What was said about your expenses?—That I was not able to say what they would prove to be.

25,110. What did you ask for? You have told me that you asked for a specific sum. What was the specific sum that you asked for?—I consented to accept 5*l*.

25,111. That is not an answer to my question. What was the specific sum that you asked for?—Well I have no knowledge.

25,112. We shall keep you here, and shall have these witnesses back if necessary to find out the truth?—I should be glad to meet them face to face.

25,113. What was the specific sum you asked for?—5*l*. to the best of my knowledge was the only sum I named. That is true; that is what I said I should be willing to accept.

25,114. That, again, is not an answer to my question. My question is, what was the specific sum that you asked for? We have it all down here in print you know. Will you swear distinctly that you never asked for 10*l*.?—I have no desire to swear anything; but I will stand to what I have already said.

25,115. Do you say distinctly that you never asked for 10*l*.?—I do decidedly, and quite certainly.

25,116. Then you say that Mr. Henry Welch is mistaken when he gives this evidence: "I recollect now that I paid a man a few pounds, a Quaker, for his expenses in coming from Cockermouth." "What was his name, do you remember?"—"Pickard." "You paid him personally?"—"I did." "His expenses from Cockermouth?"—"Yes." "What was the amount?"—"I gave him five guineas; he wanted 10*l*." What do you say to that?—I say it is quite false. I must repeat that.

25,117. Then you state that both Mr. Henry Welch and Mr. Allinson have stated what is false?—Or anyone else who said that. It is certainly wrong.

25,118. Do I understand you to say that you never asked for a specific sum at all?—Not till the last.

25,119. Answer my question if you please. Did you or did you not ask for a specific sum of money?—No; I was not able to name the amount.

25,120. Tell us exactly what took place between you and Mr. Welch, and then we will take it down and hear what Mr. Welch has to say about it. At what time did you go to Welch's?—About 10 o'clock in the morning.

25,121. On the 12th of July?—Yes.

25,122. What did you say to him when you saw him?—I produced a letter which I had received, offering to pay my expenses.

25,123. Have you that letter here?—No.

25,124. From whom was that letter?—From William Jackson.

25,125. Of Lancaster?—Yes.

25,126. Is that the bank director?—No. I am told now that it is the same person.

25,127. You received a letter from Mr. William Jackson, the bank director, offering to pay you your expenses?—Yes.

25,128. What were the terms of that letter as nearly as you can recollect?—He seemed to be anxious.

25,129. I ask you to tell me as near as you possibly can what the terms of the letter were?—I do not remember the terms of it. I have not the letter to refer to.

25,130. Tell me as nearly as you can recollect what the terms of it were?—It was a pressing invitation.

25,131. Tell me as nearly as you can what the terms of the letter were. I suppose it began "Sir," or "Dear sir." Now, then, go on?—I do not recollect how it was worded.

25,132. What was said about expenses?—That if I came they would be refunded to me, or something to that effect.

25,133. Who did the letter say would refund them?—I believe it was not named.

25,134. Did it not say the committee or anybody else?—No, I think not.

25,135. You cannot tell me whether it did or not?—No, I cannot.

25,136. In consequence of that letter you came to Lancaster?—Yes.

25,137. What made you go to Henry Welch?—Henry Rawes advised me to go to him.

25,138. Who is Henry Rawes?—A draper, in Market Street.

25,139. Was he a personal friend of yours?—Yes.

25,140. When did Henry Rawes advise you to go to Henry Welch?—After I had voted that morning.

25,141. Did you show him the letter?—Yes, I think I did.

25,142. Was it a written or a printed letter?—A written one.

25,143. It was written by Mr. Jackson?—It was.

25,144. When you went to Henry Welch did Rawes go with you?—Not into the room. I believe he showed me where the room was.

25,145. Was that at Mr. Welch's house?—No, at the "Queen's" committee room.

25,146. Then you went up into the "Queen's" committee room?—I did.

25,147. How many persons were there present?—Only Henry Welch and Charles Blades.

25,148. Will you swear that Allinson was not there?—He was not there at first. I do not know who Allinson is.

25,149. What made you tell me that he was not there at first if you do not know him?—I do not know him. I noticed a third person after going again, after having been to William Jackson.

25,150. You first went there and found Henry Welch and Charles Blades there; what did you ask for then?—I produced the letter and expected to be paid.

25,151. What did you say? You produced the letter, and then of course you said something?—That I was not able to fix the amount.

25,152. You did not hold the letter in your hand and say at once, "I am not able to fix the amount." What did you say when you produced the letter?—I believe I had to be quiet, for Charles Blades had so much to say.

25,153. I suppose you asked for something; what was it that you asked for at that time?—5*l*. I consented to accept.

25,154. That is not an answer to my question. What did you ask for at that first interview? You understand my question. You are not like one of those people who do not understand questions that are put to them. What was the first sum you asked for at that first interview when you produced the letter from Mr. Jackson?—I do not remember naming any amount; it might be about 5*l*. I might have said that.

25,155. Or it might have been about 10*l*.?—No. I remember distinctly that it was nothing of the kind.

25,156. You might have asked for 5*l*.?—Yes.

25,157. And did they consent to pay you that then?—No.

25,158. Did they send you to Mr. Jackson?—Yes.

25,159. Did you go to him?—Yes.

25,160. And did you show him the letter?—I believe I did. I think that he put on the letter the amount.

25,161. Where was Mr. Jackson?—I believe he was in his office in Church Street.

25,162. What did you say to Mr. Jackson?—I said, "I have come." I told him of the interview I had had.

25,163. You began your answer by saying "I said, 'I have come.'" Now go on?—"To invite you to name the amount I am entitled to."

25,164. "To invite you to name the amount?"—Yes, something to that effect. I believe I requested it through other parties having come on purpose.

25,165. Was not what you said to Mr. Jackson this, "Please to give me an order for 10*l.* on the committee?"—No.

25,166. Do you affirm that solemnly?—I do certainly.

25,167. Did you mention 10*l.* to Mr. Jackson?—I did not.

25,168. You got the letter endorsed by Mr. Jackson?—Yes.

25,169. How much was it endorsed for?—Five guineas. He thought that would amply pay me, or something to that effect.

25,170. He thought that would amply pay you?—That was my impression.

25,171. And with that endorsed letter you went to the committee?—I did.

35,172. And they gave you the five guineas?—Yes, without difficulty.

35,173. And you still say that Welch and Allinson are both entirely mistaken in saying that you ever asked for 10*l.*?—I am quite certain about it.

25,174. And you further say that this evidence is altogether mistaken which my eye catches a little further down. In answer to a question put to him by me Mr. Welch said, "No, he wanted 10*l.*, but he only got 5*l.*, and he afterwards brought 3*l.* of it back again." That is altogether wrong is it? It is altogether wrong that you wanted 10*l.*?—Certainly, as far as that goes, it is quite wrong.

25,175. Did you answer that letter of Mr. Jackson's before you came?—No, I received it on the morning I started.

25,176. What was Mr. Charles Blades talking about all this time?—Nonsense, in reality, as I considered.

25,177. How do you mean "nonsense"?—Nothing that I cared anything about.

25,178. What was it that he said. He spoke in a grudging spirit, rather, to prevent me accepting anything.

25,179. He was talking to you in a "Grudging spirit"?—Yes, quite.

25,180. What were you asking for?—Nothing particular.

25,181. What was the "grudge" that Charles Blades had against you?—That is best known to himself.

25,182. What was he talking about?—Well, I think it was to induce me to to look over it without receiving anything. That was what he hinted at as much as anything.

25,183. Then you were sticking up strongly for your own rights?—Undoubtedly I was.

25,184. What did you think were your rights at that time?—I did not feel inclined to accept less than 5*l.*, believing that I might have to spend as much.

25,185. And Charles Blades said it was "nonsense"?—No, I thought what he said was nonsense.

25,186. What was the purport of what he said?—That was the construction that I put upon it.

25,187. Did Charles Blades say that a man in your position ought to come without being paid?—Something to that effect.

25,188. Did he mean by that being paid your expenses only, or being paid for your vote as well?—There was nothing alluded to as to anything being received for the vote. I had already voted then.

25,189. But money might be paid after you had voted as well as before?—I had no desire to receive anything of the kind.

25,190. Do you mean to say that there was no meeting of the society to which you belong as to your having received this money?—Not to my knowledge.

25,191. Is it entirely untrue that they threatened to turn you out of the society unless you refunded the money?—I am sure it is untrue.

25,192. There is not a word of truth in it?—There is not.

25,193. There has never been any meeting of any sort about it?—No, not to my knowledge, I have never heard of it.

25,194. Do you say distinctly on your affirmation that there never has been any such meeting?—Yes.

25,195. And that the subject has never been discussed in the society to which you belong, be careful?—I believe it has been noticed but not individually to me.

25,196. What has been noticed?—The affair altogether, the rumour; the false rumour in fact; they have never come to the fountain head (myself) to ascertain the truth.

25,197. Was there not a meeting of the society held to discuss it?—No.

25,198. Be careful?—There was not, so far as I am aware.

25,199. Would there be a meeting held without your being aware of it, do you think?—I think not. I was present at the meeting on other business.

25,200. What meeting was that?—At our own meeting house.

25,201. Was that the meeting at which it was discussed?—That was the meeting I allude to when it was hinted at.

25,202. Was that the meeting at which it was discussed?—Yes.

25,203. Who discussed it?—Richard Batt was the only one that I know of.

25,204. Who is Mr. Batt?—He lives at Yelland.

25,205. Did he bring it before the meeting?—Yes.

25,206. What was the point that he brought before the meeting?—It was rumoured in the town what you have already stated.

25,207. What was the question that Mr. Batt brought before the meeting?—I do not remember the words.

25,208. I do not care about the words; what was the subject of it?—That was the subject.

25,209. What was the question or the subject which Mr. Batt brought before the meeting?—That he had heard, and wished to be informed whether such a rumour was correct.

25,210. Whether what rumour was correct?—What you have alluded to.

25,211. He did not say "What Mr. Hill has alluded to?"—That one of our members had received the amount of 10*l.*, or had asked, or something of the kind, or had been——

25,212. He asked whether one of your members, (meaning you), had received the amount of 10*l.*, or had been—what? What was the word you were going to add when you said "or had been—— ?"—Something to that effect.

25,213. What was the other word you were going to use, which you say was to that effect; was it "whether one of our members had been—'bribed'?—I am not sure whether the word "bribed" was named or not.

25,214. But if what was said got as far as "had been," very probably the word that would follow would be the word "bribed." Was the subject then fully discussed?—No, it was not gone into; it was discouraged by other members present.

25,215. Who discouraged it?—I believe Charles Wilson of near Garstang.

25,216. And who encouraged it?—Not one besides myself.

25,217. Only Mr. Richard Batt?—He was the only one.

25,218. Has he any personal feeling against you?—I am afraid so, he used to have.

25,219. Then this was not brought forward in order to give you an opportunity of clearing yourself?—No, I think not.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

S. Pickard.

22 Sept. 1866.

25,220. It was brought forward in a "grudging "spirit?"—I think so.

25,221. How many persons were present at that meeting?—Perhaps 20.

25,222. For what purpose was that meeting called?—It was a meeting for discipline and the usual business.

25,223. Tell me what other topic was discussed at that meeting, except this one of your conduct?—I do not remember any particular subject besides.

25,224. Can you tell me whether, in point of fact, there was anything else discussed, or any other business matter dealt with except this one?—Yes, the usual business had to come before the meeting.

25,225. What is the usual business?—Generally what takes place monthly.

25,226. On what day was the meeting held?—I do not remember the date. I believe it might be the latter end of last year.

25,227. And was it after that that you returned the money?—No, by no means.

25,228. Do you say that certainly?—I am quite certain of it; I returned the money the week after the election, the week after arriving at home.

25,229. Did you not return the money after that meeting?—No.

25,230. You say the meeting was held at the end of the year; do you know at what time?—Every month a meeting of the kind takes place.

25,231. Was it at the July meeting?—No, it was after that.

25,232. Was it the August meeting?—It might have been the latter. I think it was.

25,233. But, as far as you recollect, it might have been the August meeting?—I cannot deny it; I cannot tell what meeting it was, it was not a monthly meeting; it occurred last year.

25,234. Did you make a speech in answer to Mr. Batt's accusation?—No.

25,235. Did you not say anything for yourself?—No, I had no opportunity of doing so.

25,236. How do you mean?—Other friends hastily stood up, and put him down very shortly.

25,237. And the subject then dropped?—Yes.

25,238. (Mr. Barstow.) All we can say of you is that you are a very dear traveller?—I do not know; I consider myself economical in most things.

R. Parker.

ROBERT PARKER sworn and examined.

25,239. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

25,240. You live in Alma Road, and are a tin-plate worker?—Yo, I live in Alfred Street, now.

25,241. What did you get for your vote?—13*l.*

25,242. Who paid you?—Knowles Allinson.

25,243. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing.

25,244. Is 13*l.* all you got?—Yes.

J. R. Raby.

JOHN RICHARD RABY sworn and examined.

25,245. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,246. How much did you receive?—5*l.* 10*s.*

25,247. What besides?—Nothing.

25,248. Did you get any payment before?—No.

25,249. Nor after?—No.

25,250. Nor anything from the other side?—No.

25,251. You received 5*l.* from Allinson, and 10*s.* from somebody else?—No, I received it all from Allinson.

E. Winder.

EDWARD WINDER sworn and examined.

25,252. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A painter.

25,253. Where do you live?—No. 19, Moor Street.

25,254. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,255. What did you get?—13*l.*

25,256. From whom?—From Allinson.

25,257. Is that all you got?—Yes.

25,258. Did you get a little something to drink?—No.

25,259. Were you on no committee?—No.

J. Winder.

JOHN WINDER sworn and examined.

25,260. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A joiner.

25,261. Where do you live?—In King Street.

25,262. For whom did you vote at the last election?—The railway company.

25,263. For whom did you vote?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,264. What did you get for doing that?—13*l.*

25,265. What did you get for voting for the railway Company?—I misunderstood you. I thought you asked me who did I work for.

25,266. You work on the railway?—Yes.

25,267. Who paid you?—Knowles Allinson.

25,268. (Mr. Hill.) You work on the railway and voted for the railway?—No.

25,269. Did you get a letter from Mr. William Jackson?—No.

R. Walsh.

RICHARD WALCH sworn and examined.

25,270. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

25,971. What did you receive?—I received 12*l.* 19*s.*

25,272. That is a very odd sum to receive. What did they do with the odd shilling?—I will just tell you. I received 7*l.* from Mr. Allinson—he had taken the house as a committee room—in the first place, and I received 4*l.* 19*s.* for refreshments from Mr. George Shaw, and 1*l.* from Mr. Harrison, Moor Lane, innkeeper.

25,273. Were you not on any committee?—No.

25,274. On neither side?—No.

25,275. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am a mason by trade.

25,276. Do you not keep a beerhouse?—No, I do not.

25,277. What was the name of your house?—The "Freeholders' Arms."

25,278. Did you pay anybody?—No; my vote is included in that money.

25,279. (Mr. Barstow.) Is that all the money you received?—Yes.

25,280. From any person?—From any person.

25,281. You got no money from the other side?—No.

W. Gardener.

WILLIAM GARDENER sworn and examined.

25,282. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A shoemaker.

25,283. You live in Spring Court?—Yes.

25,284. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I never voted at all.

25,285. What did you get for not voting?—Nothing.

25,286. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get no money at all?—Nothing at all.

25,287. No drink?—No, no drink.

25,288. Who did you vote for?—I have not voted for a long while; I never vote when they give money for voting.

25,289. You are put down as voting; some one must have voted for you?—Very likely.

25,290. Are you sure you did not vote?—Yes.

25,291. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you "William Gardener, Spring Court, cordwainer?"—Yes.

25,292. On your oath, do you say that you did not vote at all?—I can swear all day that I did not, if that will do.

25,293. Once is enough. You are down as having voted?—I cannot help that.

25,294. Is this the first time you have heard that you had voted?—No.

25,295. When did you hear it before?—I see it in the paper.

25,296. What paper?—The Observer.

25,297. You saw that you had voted?—Aye.

25,298. Did they publish a list of voters?—Yes.

25,299. What did you do when you found it out?—I sent a note to Lawyer Clark to say that I had not voted.

25,300. Did Lawyer Clark try to make out who had voted?—I do not know.

25,301. Is that all the notice you took of it?—Yes.

25,302. Have you ever heard who it was who voted for you?—No.

25,303. Do you not know at all?—Only rumours, you know.

25,304. What rumours?—I heard last night that Mark Taylor knew who voted for me; but you know it is all foolish. He said he knew who voted for me.

25,305. Did Taylor tell you that he knew who had voted for you?—He told another man when they were fuddling.

25,306. Did you hear him say so?—No, not I.

25,307. What is Taylor's address?—I believe he lives at Brough's Court, Leonard Gate. It is all nonsense, he knows nothing about it.

25,308. (Mr. Hill.) At what booth was your vote given?—I believe St. Thomas's Schools. I think so. It is nine or ten years since I voted.

25,309. That is just the time when bribery began. You have never voted since?—I never voted when they paid money. I would not go near them.

25,310. (Mr. Newton.) When you did vote, which side did you vote, Yellow or Blue?—I voted for Stanley and Green, and I gave a vote once for Garnett.

25,311. You never voted for Yellow?—No, never.

25,312. Is Taylor a voter?—I think not.

25,313. (Mr. Hill.) You think it is all nonsense, his saying that he knows about it?—I think it will be.

25,314. You think he does not know?—I do not think he does.

25,315. You think it is all brag?—All chaff, you know, over the drink.

25,316. Who do you think does know about it?—I do not know. I should think Whiteside, shopkeeper Leonard Gate, is the likeliest chap. He was a Yellow captain. I told him particular I would not vote at all.

25,317. You told Robert Whiteside you would not vote at all?—Yes, I did.

25,318. Did he ask you for your vote?—No; I do not know that he asked for my vote, but he inquired if I was going to vote.

25,319. Who asked you for your vote; some people did, I suppose?—They came canvassing, both parties.

25,320. Did you tell both parties that you would not vote?—I told them both I would not.

25,321. Did you give them the reasons you have given us now, that you would never vote when there was bribery?—I told Lawrence I would never vote again till things were altered.

25,322. Did you tell the other party the same?—No.

25,323. (Mr. Newton.) When did you tell this to Lawrence?—When he came canvassing.

25,324. How many days was that before the polling?—I cannot say.

25,325. What made you tell it to Lawrence?—He wanted my vote, and I told him I would never vote till things were altered.

25,326. What do you mean by that?—I meant paying money for voting.

25,327. Was money going about then?—Like smelling on it. I partly guessed.

85,328. (Mr. Hill.) They were getting on the scent?—Aye, a good deal too, I thought.

25,329. (Mr. Newton.) What did Mr. Lawrence say, when you told him this?—He did not say anything.

25,330. Who was with him?—I think Danson was with him, but I do not know particular.

25,331. Mr. Lawrence made no remark?—No.

25,332. (Mr. Barstow.) We cannot put you down as bribed, at any rate?—No, I guess not.

25,333. (Mr. Hill.) Do you think anybody knew better you were not going to vote than Whiteside?—I told Shackleton I would not vote if I could get a cart and horse; and he said it was not a cart and horse, it was 50*l*.

25,334. Would you have voted if you could have got a cart and horse?—No, I told him I would not.

25,335. What did Shackleton say?—He said it was not a cart and horse, it was 50*l*.

25,336. He promised you 50*l*.?—No; it was some speech about a cart and a horse at some contest he had been at before.

25,337. (Mr. Barstow.) I think you are a very honest fellow, and wish all the others were like you, that is, if your own account is true, which I can see no reason to doubt?—I never got anything for voting.

TWENTY THIRD DA

W. Gardener

22 Sept. 186

Thomas Crane sworn and examined.

T. Crane.

25,338. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,339. What are you?—A railway clerk.

25,340. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing at all.

25,341. Are you quite sure about that?—Confident.

25,342. Who canvassed you?—All three candidates.

25,343. Did either one or the other promise you anything?—I never heard anything mentioned at all.

25,344. Did Mr. Welch come to you?—No, I never saw Mr. Welch.

25,345. Mr. Wilson Barker?—No, I never saw anyone.

25,346. Mr. Danson?—No; Mr. Danson was along with Mr. Lawrence.

25,347. Did Mr. William Jackson come?—No.

25,348. Did any of the directors canvass you?—No, not one.

25,349. Have you voted at previous elections?—Yes.

25,350. How have you voted?—I have voted for Fenwick before, and Gregson.

25,351. (Mr. Hill.) Did you vote for Fenwick in the contest between Fenwick and Saunders?—Yes.

Ambrose Fox sworn and examined.

A. Fox

25,352. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A broken-down farmer, I think.

25,353. You do not look so broken down. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,354. What did you get?—Naught.

25,355. Did they not give you anything?—No, not a halfpenny.

25,356. What did they promise you?—Naught.

25,357. Did they not give you anything to drink?—No, I never had a bit nor sup with them.

25,358. From neither side?—No.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

A. Fox.

Sept. 1866.

25,359. Were you on no committee?—No, I was never on no committee.

25,360. Where were you working at the time of the election?—Gardening.

25,361. Who were you gardening for?—Richmond, and anybody who wanted me.

25,362. You did not garden for Mr. Hargreaves, did you?—No.

25,363. Do you really say that you never had anything?—No, I had not indeed. I never had in my life.

25,364. You have always voted pure?—They did give us 5*s.* a-piece at one time, but they have dropped that.

25,365. They have become more stingy?—I never let them give me anything.

25,366. Are you any relation of the other Foxes?—None at all.

25,367. Are you in Perry's Hospital?—Yes.

25,368. How do you generally vote, Blue or Yellow?—I always voted for the Yellows. I voted for Mr. Garnett, but he came up in false colours.

W. Lamb.

WILLIAM LAMB sworn and examined.

25,369. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—North Edward Street.

25,370. For whom did you vote at the last election? Fenwick and Schneider.

25,371. What did you get?—12*l.*

25,372. Who from?—That was paid into Wilson's hands by Mr. Towers.

25,373. Did you get any money for being on a committee?—No.

25,374. Did you get no other money besides 12*l.*?—Yes, 30*s.*

25,375. From whom did you get that?—From Mr. Danson.

25,376. You were on Mr. Lawrence's committee?—No, I was never on no committee that I know of.

25,377. Where did you get the money from Danson?—I had a note sent to our house when I was at work, saying I was to take it up to the committee room; so I took it up, and when I got there a man gave me 1*l.*, and another man 1*l.*, and he had to give me 10*s.* out of it.

25,378. You were never at any of these committee rooms of Lawrence's drinking?—Yes, I was, once or twice.

25,379. Then you were on the committee?—I never knew I was.

25,380. Is that all you received?—Yes, every farthing.

J. Lamb.

JOHN LAMB sworn and examined.

25,381. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

25,382. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,383. What did you get for doing that?—15*l.*

25,384. You are described as a silk-comber on the register?—Yes, but I am a labourer at present.

25,385. Do you live in Moor Lane?—I live in Skerton at present.

25,386. What did you get for being on the committee?—4*l.* from the Yellows, and 30*s.* from the other side.

25,387. Is that all you got?—Yes.

25,388. Who paid you that 1*l.* 10*s.*?—It was from the Blues—Mr. Danson.

25,389. That is 17*l.* 10*s.* you got?—Yes.

J. Jackson.

JAMES JACKSON sworn and examined.

25,390. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A labourer.

25,391. Where do you live?—Skerton.

25,392. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,593. What did you get?—10*l.*

25,394. And how much for being on the committee?—30*s.*

25,395. That was the Yellow committee?—No, I got 1*l.* from them.

25,396. 30*s.* from the Blue, and 1*l.* from the Yellow?—Yes.

25,397. Was that all you got?—No, 30*s.* from Mr. Clark.

25,398. Was that all you got?—No, 10*s.* after the election.

25,399. From whom?—From Mr. Tilly's office.

25,400. What was that for?—That was for working on the election day.

25,401. Was 14*l.* 10*s.* all you got?—15*s.* from Carruthers.

25,402. What besides?—Nothing.

25,403. Is that all?—Yes.

25,405. 15*l.* 5*s.* altogether?—Yes.

25,405. (Mr. Barstow.) Was it Mr. George Clark that paid you the 30*s.*?—Yes.

23,406. (Mr. Newton.) Who paid you the 1*l.* 10*s.* from the Blue committee?—George Danson.

G. Loxham.

GEORGE LOXHAM sworn and examined.

25,407. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A dyer.

25,408. You live in Captain's Row, Skerton?—Yes.

25,409. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,410. What did you get for your vote?—6*l.*

25,411. Did you get anything else?—No.

25,412. Were you not on any committee?—No.

25,413. That is the whole sum you received?—Yes.

25,414. Did you get that from Towers?—Yes, William Towers.

25,415. You did not get anything from the other side?—No.

J. Cowperthwaite.

JOHN COWPERTHWAITE sworn and examined.

25,416. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

25,417. Where do you live?—Lune Street, Skerton.

25,418. You came from Wolverhampton?—I came from West Bromwich.

25,419. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

25,420. And what for your expenses?—2*l.* 10*s.*

25,421. Is that all you got, 12*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

25,422. Did you take a return ticket from West Bromwich?—No. I came from West Bromwich to Wolverhampton on the Great Western, and from Wolverhampton here.

25,423. You took a return ticket?—No.

25,424. Have you not been back to Wolverhampton since?—Yes, I have been back. I was superintending a quantity of work going to New Zealand for Mr. McKewan and Company, of London.

25,425. At whose works?—At John and Samuel Roberts and the Horsley Iron Company.

25,426. That cost you 30*s.* coming up?—Better than that. It cost me 15*s.* here and 15*s.* back.

25,427. And you had to stop a day here?—My family was living here.

25,428. You are a householder?—I have lost my good lady 16 years back.

25,429. You were at the time?—Yes.

25,430. Are you working there now?—No. I am at home at present, but I am waiting a situation in the same company again.

JAMES PENNINGTON sworn and examined. J. Pennington.

25,431. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A mason.

25,432. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,433. What did you get?—10*l.*

25,434. How much besides?—1*l.* 10*s.*

25,435. For being on the Yellow committee?—Yes.

25,436. And how much from the Blue committee?—35*s.*

25,437. How much money to spend besides?—Nothing.

25,438. Is 13*l.* 5*s.* all you got?—I never reckoned it up.

25,439. Was there anything else besides?—No, nothing.

WILLIAM TURNER sworn and examined. W. Turner.

25,440. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—Penny Street.

25,441. What are you?—A shoemaker.

25,442. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

25,443. What money did you get?—8*l.*

25,444. Nothing more?—Yes, 30*s.* more.

25,445. Who did you get that from?—John Bleasdale.

25,446. Did you get anything from George Danson?—No.

25,447. Did you get anything at all from the other side?—No, nothing at all.

25,448. 9*l.* 10*s.* is the whole sum you received?—Yes.

RICHARD GARTH sworn and examined. R. Garth.

25,449. (Mr. Newton.) Do you live at Galgate?—No.

25,450. Where do you live?—I live in Germany Street.

25,451. What are you?—A shoemaker.

25,452. What did you get for your vote?—I got 1*l.* 15*s.* for seven days' attendance at the "Queen's Hotel," and 4*l.* from Turner.

25,453. You voted Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

25,454. Who else paid you?—No one else.

25,455. The seven days' attendance at the "Queen's Hotel" was serving on the committee, I suppose?—Yes.

25,456. What did you do at the "Queen's?"—I attended at the door.

25,457. You got 1*l.* 15*s.* for standing at the door?—Yes.

25,458. What did you get for hallooing at the nomination?—Nothing.

25,459. You got nothing for that?—No, that was free gratis.

25,460. You hallooed for nothing?—Yes.

25,461. And stood at the door for 1*l.* 15*s.*?—Yes.

25,462. If I had been you I would have just exchanged. You only got 5*l.* 15*s.*?—Yes, that is all.

25,463. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not get anything from the other side?—No; I was not so much liked by the other side.

25,464. What did they dislike you for, you look pleasant enough?—They never axed me, however.

25,465. (Mr. Newton.) Towers paid you 10*l.*?—Nothing at all of the kind. He is here in court.

25,466. Did you go to Skerton?—No; it is my son.

25,467. (Mr. Hill.) You are a shoemaker, in Germany Street?—Yes.

25,468. Turner tells us he gave you 5*l.*?—He gave me 4*l.* at three different times.

25,469. He says, "I gave Richard Garth 5*l.* He had received something from somewhere else?"—That was 1*l.* 15*s.* for seven days' attendance at the "Queen's Hotel."

25,470. You say he gave you only 4*l.*?—Yes. He asked me if I had voted, and I said, "Yes, long since;" and he said I ought to have something for my vote, and he gave me two sovereigns. He said he had no more in his pocket. He saw me afterwards and gave me another 1*l.*; and on the Saturday night following, coming up the street, he was just coming out of the door, and I saw a bag in his hand, and I said, "I am just in time." He said, "Only just. I am going to settle the business;" and he gave me 1*l.*

25,471. Is that all you got?—Yes.

RICHARD LEWIS GARTH sworn and examined. R. L. Garth.

25,472. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you the son of the last witness?—Yes.

25,473. What are you?—A labourer.

25,474. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,475. What did you get?—I got 10*l.* for my assistance.

25,476. Was that all you got?—Yes.

25,477. Did you get nothing else?—Barring 10*s.* from George Danson. He has put me down 30*s.* for it.

25,478. How do you mean, "put you down 30*s.* for it?"—I do not know how he has done it.

25,479. He says he gave you 30*s.*, and you say he only gave you 10*s.*?—Yes.

25,480. What did he give you that for?—To get something to sup, I suppose.

25,481. You got 10*l.* for expenses?—Yes, from Mr. Towers. He engaged me.

25,482. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you not touch any Blue money?—No, only that 10*s.*

JOHN IRELAND sworn and examined. J. Ireland.

25,483. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,484. You are a householder?—Yes.

25,485. Where do you live?—Stonewell.

25,486. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

25,487. What did you get for your services?—I assisted Mr. Towers at Skerton the same as I have always done for the last three elections.

25,488. How much did you get for that?—Three pounds.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

J. Ireland.

22 Sept. 1866.

25,489. For your assistance?—Yes; it was paid about the Monday after the election.

25,490. What assistance did you render?—I frequently went with him to Skerton during the election.

25,491. What did you do when you got to Skerton?—I did what I was ordered to do.

25,492. You went to the "Black Bull," I suppose?—No, I did not.

25,493. The "Red Cross," at Skerton?—I was there once.

25,494. And I suppose you got as much to drink there as you could?—No, I am no drinker.

25,495. What else did you get besides the 3*l.*?—The night before the election I went over with him to Skerton the same as usual.

25,496. What did you get for that?—He left me at the "Black Horse," I think it is.

25,497. What did he give you; answer the question?—He left me there, and gave me a sovereign.

25,498. What else did you get?—Nothing.

25,499. What did you do?—I assisted the same as any other might do.

25,500. You assisted everybody to do nothing. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

25,501. Have you always voted "Yellow?"—Yes, the last 18 years.

25,502. And always got paid for your assistance? You got 4*l.*, you say, for assistance. I say you got 4*l.* for your vote?—You should not put it down as such. I spent the other 1*l.*

25,503. How much did you get in Fenwick's fight?—30*s.* for the same work that I did this time.

25,504. It was double this time?—There were two of them this time.

25,505. That is the reason why you got double?—I suppose so; I did not expect to get anything. I never took a bribe ever since I was a voter, and nobody can say so.

G. Wilson.

GEORGE WILSON sworn and examined.

25,506. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

25,507. Where do you live?—At Skerton.

25,508. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

25,509. What money did you get?—12*l*' for my vote.

25,510. And there was 14 days doorkeeper, at 5*s.* a day?—No, I never was a doorkeeper.

25,511. Are you not the man that Mr. Wearing spoke about?—No. I was never under Wearing; Mr. Carruthers was the captain'

25,512. You worked under Carruthers?—Yes.

25,513. Do you know of any other George Wilson?—No.

25,514. How much did you get altogether?—I got 12*l.* for my vote, from Mr. Bakewell I think they call him, and 10*l.* from Hodgson, of China Lane. It was put down 13*l.*

25,515. How much besides?—1*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* from Mr. Carruthers.

25,516. What was that for?—I was three weeks assisting in Skerton.

25,517. Doing nothing else for three weeks?—I was at it a good bit.

25,518. What else did you get?—30*s.* from George Danson.

25,519. And what besides?—1*l.* from Mr. Coupland.

25,520. What else?—Nothing else.

25,521. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

25,522. Nothing at all?—No.

25,523. 26*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* was all you got?—Yes.

25,524. You do not consider yourself badly paid, do you?—No, very well paid. That 1*l.* I got from Mr. Coupland was to treat voters with.

25,525. You need not trouble about that. You want to make out that you only got 25*l.* You got 26*l.* odd for your vote?—I paid five voters through Mr. Bakewell.

25,526. Besides?—Yes.

25,527. Where did you get the money for that?—From Mr. Bakewell.

25,528. How much did you receive?—72*l.* altogether; that is including my own 12*l.*

25,529. For the five voters how much did you receive?—60*l.*

25,530. Did you pay them?—Yes. William Redhead, Robert Wilson, Edward Marshall, Christopher Gudgeon, and William Gudgeon. They were on the list that I gave in to get the money for.

25,531. Did you pay them?—Yes, every farthing; 12*l.* each.

25,532. Did you bargain with them?—They said they would go with me if I could get the money.

25,533. Who fixed the price?—I cannot say exactly to that.

25,534. Was it you?—I told them I would get as much as I could.

25,535. You did fix the price?—Yes.

25,536. With whom did you work it out?—Mr. Bakewell.

25,537. You fixed it at 12*l.* a head?—He said it was rather too much at first, and I said I thought it was not.

25,538. In fact you regularly bargained with Mr. Bakewell?—I went to get as much as I could.

25,539. You would not let your men vote under that?—No, not exactly; that was like the price going.

25,540. The current price?—Yes.

25,541. (Mr. Barstow.) What price had you asked before?—I do not know that I asked any price.

25,542. What price had you asked to vote before?—Who with?

25,543. With anybody?—I asked none that I know of.

25,544. Do you mean that you had not settled with anyone the price of your vote before that morning with Bakewell?—No.

25,545. Had no one made a bid before?—No, not with me.

25,546. Do you mean to tell us that seriously, that no one made a bid for your vote before this was fixed with Bakewell?—Not to me. No one named a sum to me.

25,547. No one made you an offer?—No.

25,548. What time was it when you fixed the price?—A little after 8 o'clock, I fancy.

25,549. After the poll was open?—Yes, as near as I can tell.

25,550. (Mr. Hill.) How came you to get 10*l.* from Jackson?—I considered that was for my time and services.

25,551. When were you paid that?—On the election day.

25,552. Was that before you voted?—Yes.

25,553. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a journeyman?—Yes.

25,554. How many days' work did you lose?—Before the election, it was three weeks, as near as I can tell.

25,555. You were on the drink, I suppose?—No.

25,556. You got yourself put on the committee and then asked to be paid 10*l.*?—That was what I got.

25,557. What did you do with all that money; it is more money than you are in the habit of getting?—I spent it in different ways.

25,558. You spent it in different public-houses?—No, not all.

25,559. You idled till it was gone?—No, I was off work a fortnight after the election. I was ill.

25,560. I should think so, I can fully believe it. How much do you say Hodgson paid you?—10*l.*

25,561. (Mr. Barstow.) He says he paid you 13*l.*?—It is false.

WILLIAM JACKSON sworn and examined. W. Jackson.

25,562. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Penny Street.
25,563. What are you?—A twine spinner.
25,564. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
25,565. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*
25,566. Who paid you?—John Bleasdale.
25,567. Did you get anything else?—Yes, 1*l.* from the committee.
25,568. Anything else?—No.
25,569. Are you quite sure?—Yes.
25,570. Did you get anything from Lawrence's committee?—No.

HENRY STIRKAZER sworn and examined. H. Stirkazer.

25,571. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.
25,572. How much did you get for your vote?—10*l.*
25,573. Who paid you?—I think it was Mr. Bleasdale.
25,574. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—No.
25,575. What did you get from the other side?—I did not get anything.
25,576. Were you not on the "Blue" committee?—No.
25,577. All you got from the election was 10*l.*?—Yes.
25,578. Are you any relation to another Stirkazer, the gardener?—I am the nephew.
25,579. (Mr. Hill.) Were you up in London?—No.
25,580. You are a painter?—Yes.

JOHN MILLER WILSON is called, but does not answer.

ROBERT WILSON sworn and examined. R. Wilson.

25,581. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a voter?—Yes.
25,582. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
25,583. What did you get?—10*l.*
25,584. Did you get anything else at all?—1*l.* for being on the committee.
25,585. Which committee was that?—Mr. Fenwick's.
25,586. The "Yellow" committee?—Yes.
25,587. Did you get anything else?—No.
25,588. Did you get anything from the "Blue" committee?—No.
25,589. Now as to your son: what is your son's name?—John Miller Wilson.
25,590. Where is he?—He is at work at Carlisle.
25,591. He cannot come down here?—No.
25,592. What did he get?—He got 11*l.* for his vote and expenses.
25,593. He got 1*l.* for his expenses?—Yes.
25,594. What else?—Nothing else.
25,595. Was he not on any committee?—No.
25,596. Is 11*l.* all he got?—Yes.
25,597. Did you see him get it?—Yes.
25,598. Where did he come from?—He came from Carlisle.
25,599. There is no doubt about it. You and your son are on good terms with one another?—Yes.

WILLIAM SPENCER BARROW sworn and examined. W. S. Barrow.

25,600. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Skerton?—Yes.
25,601. What are you?—I keep a shop there.
25,602. What sort of a shop?—A grocer's shop.
25,603. You are a householder?—Yes.
25,604. What is your rent?—10*l.* a year. I was in Common Garden Street, Lancaster, at the time of the election, and have moved now to Skerton.
25,605. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Lawrence.
25,606. What did you get?—I got 13*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* altogether.
25,607. How do you make that up?—It was not for my vote, it was for my services.
25,608. I have no doubt it was.—Yes, it was. I was busily engaged canvassing all the time for a month. I was as active as any of the canvassers.
25,609. How did you get this money?—First, I had half-a-crown from Mr. Clark, and then again 5*s.* from him; at least he gave it in the committee room while we were on committee. Then next I had 30*s.* from George Danson, then I had 30*s.* from Speight, and next I had 10*l.* from Mr. Clark. That was all I had, and it was for my services.
25,610. (Mr. Hill.) Your services were paid at 1*l.* a week for three weeks, and 10*l.*?—There is no excess whatever in what I had.
25,611. No, I think this was a very moderate demand.—13*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* covers all that I had for everything.
25,612. For whom did you vote the time before?—Mr. Saunders.

RICHARD SWAINSON sworn and examined. R. Swainson.

25,613. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
25,614. You are a ship's carpenter, in Penny Street?—Yes.
25,615. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*
25,616. Who paid you?—John Bleasdale.
25,617. What did you get for being on the committee?—I never was on one.
25,618. Were you on no committee at all?—No.
25,619. Did you get anything from the "Blues?"—No.
25,620. All you got is 10*l.* for your vote?—Yes.
25,621. That is all the money you made out of the election?—That is all.

ROBERT CALVERT sworn and examined. R. Calvert.

25,622. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A railway signalman.
25,623. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
25,624. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*
25,625. Did you get anything as committee-man?—No.
25,626. On neither side?—No.
25,627. Did you get no money besides 10*l.*?—No.
25,628. How did you vote at the election before?—I only polled the last election, I was not a freeman before.
25,629. Who took up your freedom?—I paid for it myself.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

22 Sept. 1866.

JAMES WALKER sworn and examined.

J. Walker.

25,630. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A cotton spinner.

25,631. Where do you live?—At Skerton.

25,632. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

25,633. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.* from the "Yellows," from a stranger, Mr. Slater, I believe. I got it at the "Blue Bell," Mrs. Dixon's.

25,634. Was that all you got?—Yes.

25,635. Is it all you got altogether?—No; I got 30*s.* for being on the committee.

25,636. (Mr. Hill.) You got 12*s.* from William Towers?—I do not know.

25,637. Towers says you did.—I daresay it will be right; I do not know what I got. I did get something from Towers.

25,638. (Mr. Barstow.) Why did you not tell us so at once?—I was going to tell you.

25,639. (Mr. Hill.) Towers says he offered you 10*l.*, and he says that 10*l.* would not touch you on the morning of the election?—He did not.

25,640. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you get from the other side?—30*s.* for being on the committee, and 5*s.* from Mr. Carruthers.

25,641. Do you mean to tell me that you got no more than 30*s.* from Mr. Lawrence's side?—No; and 5*s.* from Mr. Carruthers.

25,642. Who paid it to you?—George Danson.

25,643. You had 10*l.* from the stranger at Mrs. Dixon's?—Yes.

25,644. And yet you voted for Lawrence. What made you vote for Lawrence?—I do not know.

25,645. Come, what made you vote for Lawrence?—It was best to my own mind. I had promised him one vote, and so I gave him one.

25,646. Is it true that Towers offered you 10*l.*?—No, it is not true; he offered me 7*l.*

25,647. You got 10*l.* from his side. Did you get nothing more than 30*s.* from the "Blues"?—Nothing, excepting 5*s.* from Mr. Carruthers.

25,648. Do you really mean to tell us that you got nothing more than 35*s.* from the "Blues"?—Yes.

25,649. (Mr. Hill.) Were you not on any committee?—I was on both committees.

25,650. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you get from Fenwick and Schneider's committee?—30*s.*

25,651. And 30*s.* from George Danson?—Yes.

25,652. And 5*s.* from Mr. Carruthers?—Yes.

25,653. Was that all you got?—Yes, and what I got off Towers.

25,654. You got 12*s.* from Towers?—Yes.

25,655. Did you get anything else?—No, I think not.

25,656. An odd shilling I daresay you picked up of a morning?—No; that was what I got of Towers.

25,657. You got nothing more?—No.

25,658. Were you off work during the election time?—Yes.

25,659. On the drink?—Yes.

25,660. (Mr. Newton.) Did you vote in 1864?—No.

25,661. Is this the first time you ever voted?—Yes.

25,662. Are you a married man?—Yes.

25,663. With children?—Yes.

25,664. Do you care about politics?—I do not know.

25,665. Can you read?—No.

25,666. Can you write?—No.

W. Barrow.

WILLIAM BARROW sworn and examined.

25,667. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

25,668. How did you vote?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,669. Who paid you?—Turner paid me 1*l.*, and Long says he gave me 2*l.*, but he never did.

25,670. What did he give you?—30*s.*

25,671. What else did you get?—That is all.

25,672. Did you only get 2*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

25,673. What did you get 1*l.* for?—He wanted me to go out and have something to drink, but I never do drink, and he said I might treat myself out of it.

25,674. Long gave you 2*l.*?—No; he only gave me 30*s.* He came up two or three days after the election, and says, "Will that satisfy you?" It was a deal more than I expected; I expected 10*s.*, and that is all I did expect.

25,675. How did you vote in the election of 1864?—For Fenwick.

25,676. Had anybody canvassed you before this in 1865?—Only Mr. Schneider and Mr. Lawrence.

25,677. They canvassed you themselves?—Yes.

25,678. Did anybody of their people come to you?—No, not one.

25,679. Did they ask you to be on a committee?—Yes, I had two or three notes come to me, but I never went.

25,680. Who signed the notes?—Both sides.

25,681. By whom were they signed?—I do not remember.

25,682. (Mr. Hill.) Where did Turner give you 1*l.*?—He came in the afternoon to see if I had voted; and I voted the first thing in the morning.

25,683. He had arranged with you to vote?—No.

25,684. What did he give you 1*l.* for?—To treat me.

25,685. For having voted?—No, I do not know; I never do drink anything, and he said I might treat myself with it.

25,686. You knew which side Turner was?—Yes, of course I did.

25,687. You knew when you received the 1*l.* he was on the side for which you had voted?—Yes.

25,688. How much did you get from Long?—30*s.*

25,689. What was that for?—I expected 10*s.* for my two days' wages.

25,690. What had you been doing?—I expected 10*s.* for loss of time.

25,691. You expected to be paid 10*s.* by the side for which you voted, and you took 1*l.* 10*s.*?—He gave me 30*s.*

J. Townley.

JOHN TOWNLEY sworn and examined.

25,692. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A labouring man

25,693. Where do you live?—Henry Street.

25,694. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

25,695. And you received from John Bleasdale 10*l.*?—8*l.* 10*s.*

25,696. He says he gave you 10*l.*?—Then I have 30*s.* to come in yet.

25,697. Have you only had 8*l.* 10*s.*?—That is all I got of him.

25,698. What did you get of somebody else?—I got 1*l.* 2*s.* from George Danson a week before the election.

25,699. What else?—8*l.* 10*s.* of Bleasdale.

25,700. What did you get besides those two sums?—I got 20*s.* from Knowles Allinson a week before the election.

25,701. I see you are right; Bleasdale put you down for 8*l.* 10*s.* You were not on the "Blue" committee?—I got 1*l.* 2*s.* of George Danson a week before the election.

25,702. Did you get nothing besides for committee work?—No, that is all I got, 10*l.* 12*s.* altogether.

25,703. How came you to take money from the "Blues?"—He offered it to me, so I took it; I was not going to miss taking it.

SAMUEL TAYLOR sworn and examined. S. Taylor.

25,753. Who canvassed you ?—Only the members.
25,754. Who came with the members ?—The solicitor.
25,755. Who was he ?—Mr. Maxsted, I believe.
25,756. What did they say to you ?—Merely solicited my vote.
25,757. And what did you tell them ?—I promised that I should vote for them.
25,758. Why should they pay you 2*l.* afterwards ?—I do not know what the reason was ; they gave me 2*l.*
25,759. Was it because you voted ?—I daresay that would be one amongst the rest.
25,760. (Mr. Hill.) Are any of the other Kitchens your relations ?—No.
25,761. They are not related to you at all ?—No.
25,762. (Mr. Newton.) What is the rental of your house ?—10*l.*, I believe.
25,763. You are a freeman ?—Yes.
25,764. And live in a 10*l.* house ?—Yes.

NATHAN WHITE sworn and examined. N. White.

25,765. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.
25,766. What did you get for your vote ?—5*l.*
25,767. From whom did you get it ?—From Mansergh Bell.
25,768. Did you get nothing else ?—No ; I was offered 10*l.*
25,769. Did you serve on any committee ?—No, I had nothing to do with it at all.
25,770. You only got 5*l.* ?—Yes.
25,771. Did you not get any "Blue" money ?—No ; I was offered 10*l.* by the opposite party, but I would not have it.
25,772. Who offered it to you ?—Lawrence's party.
25,773. Who was the man that offered it ?—He was on the committee but I do not know their names. I know the men by sight, but I do not know their names.
25,774. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you get nothing beyond the 5*l.* ?—No, not a farthing ; I never interfered in no way. Money was flying about, and I thought I might as well have a bit ; I have voted for many years, and never got nothing for it.

JOSEPH SMITH GORRILL sworn and examined. J. S. Gorrill.

25,775. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.
25,776. What are you ?—A currier.
25,777. Are you a householder ?—Yes.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

J. S. Gorrill.

22 Sept. 1866.

25,778. What is the rental of your house?—16 guineas.

25,779. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*, left by Mr. Stephen Wright Wearing, I suppose.

25,780. What do you mean by "left?" It was not a legacy?—Left in the house, placed on the chimney-piece, I suppose.

25,781. What did you get besides?—A new hat, the result of a wager a few weeks before the election that the Liberals were returned, a bottle of ginger beer and half a glass of brandy; that is all I got, directly or indirectly.

25,782. 10*l.* was the real consideration for your vote?—Yes.

25,783. You got a new hat, and drank the members' health in ginger beer?—Yes.

G. Waters.

GEORGE WATERS sworn and examined.

25,784. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A white-smith.

25,785. Where do you live?—In Damside Street.

25,787. What is the rent of your house?—12*l.*

25,788. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

25,789. What money did you get?—I got 10*l.* from Mr. Welch for services.

25,790. Anything else?—Yes, I got 5*l.* 10*s.* to spend among the voters. I was on the committee, and I went canvassing and such like with them, about three weeks altogether; and this was to treat voters with refreshments and such like.

25,791. You got 10*l.* for your vote and 5*l.* 10*s.* to spend?—Yes.

25,792. Did you get anything from Mr. Lawrence's people?—No.

25,793. 15*l.* 10*s.* was all you got?—Yes; Mr. Welch paid me 10*l.*

25,794. But 15*l.* 10*s.* was all you got?—Yes, that was all.

J. Sharples.

JOHN SHARPLES sworn and examined.

25,795. (Mr. Newton.) You are John Sharples, of Slyne labourer?—Yes.

25,796. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

25,797. What did you get for voting for Mr. Lawrence?—10*l.*

25,798. Where were you paid?—At Hodgson's, in China Lane.

25,799. By a stranger?—No, Hodgson gave it to me.

25,800. You got something besides, did you not?—I got 35*s.* besides.

25,801. What for?—For assistance.

25,802. Who paid you that?—Hodgson.

25,803. Is that all you got?—Yes.

25,804. Are you a farmer?—Well, yes, I am a small farmer; I have a little bit of land, and a cow or two.

25,805. How many acres do you farm?—About one, perhaps, and some garden ground; that is all.

25,806. (Mr. Hill.) You received altogether 11*l.* 15*s.*?—Yes.

J. Sharples.

JOSEPH SHARPLES sworn and examined.

25,807. (Mr. Hill.) You are Joseph Sharples, of Slyne with Hest, husbandman; for whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

25,808. What did you get?—10*l.*

25,809. That was for your vote; how much did you get besides?—Nothing.

25,810. Did you not get anything for being on the committee?—No.

25,811. 10*l.* was all you received?—Yes.

R. Sharples.

RICHARD SHARPLES sworn and examined.

25,812. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A labourer.

25,813. Where do you live?—At Slyne.

25,814. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

25,815. What did you get?—10*l.*

25,816. Who paid it to you?—It was paid at Hodgson's.

25,817. Did you get anything besides 10*l.*?—No.

25,818. Nothing whatever?—No.

RICHARD SHARPLES, jun., is called, but does not answer.

25,819. Is Richard Sharples, junior, your son?—Yes.

25,820. Is he here?—I have not seen him.

25,821. Did you see him the morning of the election?—Yes.

25,822. When you were paid?—Yes.

25,823. How much did he get for his vote?—He got 10*l.*

25,824. Did you see him paid?—I was in the room; I know he got 10*l.*

25,825. How do you know that?—Because he said so.

J. Clark.

JOHN CLARK sworn and examined.

25,826. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Lodge Street, Lancaster, silk piecer?—Yes.

25,827. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

25,828. How much did you get?—8*l.*

25,829. What else did you get?—1*l.*

25,830. And what else?—And 30*s.*

25,831. What else?—That is all, I believe.

25,832. Did you not get anything from the other side; how much did you get from the Blue side?—I got 10*s.* I do not know whether he was Blue or what; he did not say what it was for. There was a man stated that he gave me 30*s.* to take a man out of the town, and he never gave me a penny.

25,833. Did you help to bottle a man?—Yes.

25,834. And did you get nothing for it?—Yes, Mr. King gave me 1*l.*; I got 30*s.*, and 8*l.*, and that 1*l.*

25,835. Did you keep your man away from the poll?—I did not stay with him.

25,836. Who was the man?—Croft; there was two men stayed along with him.

25,837. Did he vote?—Yes, he voted.

25,838. On which side did he vote?—For Lawrence, I believe.

25,839. (Mr. Barstow.) Where did you take him to?—I took him to Bolton.

25,840. Did Speight go after him?—I do not know who went after him; I left him there, and came home right away.

25,841. You are not an alderman?—No.

25,842. (Mr. Newton.) Or a prize fighter?—No, neither

25,843. What made you come here to-day; you have not been summoned, have you?—No, I have not.

25,844. Then what made you come?—I came for pleasure.

25,845. Did you know that you were going to be summoned?—No, I did not know it, but I was told in Barrow that I should be summoned.

25,846. (Mr. Hill.) You knew that if you had received some money you were likely to hear of it?—Yes; I cannot get off any day, and so I thought I might give my evidence when I was here.

EDWARD BARROW is called, but does not answer.

25,847. (To Spencer Barrow.) Is Edward Barrow your brother?—Yes.

25,848. Do you know what he got?—He told me he got nothing; he would not take anything at all, and I do not know that he was employed.

25,849. (Mr. Newton.) He might assist you know?—Yes, he might.

25,850. And he would get paid for that?—I cannot answer for that; he told me he got nothing.

RICHARD BURTON sworn and examined.

25,851. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A publican.

25,852. In Market Street?—Yes.

25,853. At the "Golden Cross?"—The "Golden Ball."

25,854. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

25,855. Your house was engaged by Mr. Lawrence's party?—Yes.

25,856. What money did they pay you for it?—They paid me 10*l.* for the house—three rooms.

25,857. What did they pay you for refreshments?—4*l.* for refreshments—breakfasts and refreshments.

25,858. There would be some bills paid from night to night, would there not?—Yes; there was a trifle two or three nights.

25,859. How much would that amount to?—I should think between 2*l.* and 3*l.* altogether.

25,860. More than that, was it not?—No.

25,861. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

25,862. Tell us what it was; it cannot matter to you?—I cannot tell; it might be 3*l.*, no more than that.

25,863. Did you receive any other money besides?—Yes, John Cross gave me 2*l.* to spend; he said he was going to send out a man, and he would give me 2*l.*

25,864. Was that all, 19*l.*?—Yes.

25,865. Was that every farthing you received?—Yes.

25,866. We have heard a great deal about you, Upon your oath is 19*l.* the whole money you received from Mr. Lawrence's party at the last election?—Yes; I have taken my oath.

25,867. Do you remember Allinson coming to you to take your house?—Yes; he came to try to take it, but never did take it.

25,868. What did he offer you?—He never offered me nothing.

25,869. Did you decline to let him take it?—I would not let it to him at all.

25,870. You refused at once?—Yes.

25,871. (Mr. Hill.) Have you always voted Blue?—No; I have only voted twice. I voted for Fenwick the time before.

25,872. Was your house taken by Fenwick then?—Yes.

25,873. How much did they give you?—5*l.* for the house.

25,874. How was it that it came to be taken by the Blues this time?—I do not know.

25,875. It was a case of the highest bidder?—No; I could have got more, I daresay, from the other side.

25,876. How came you to let your house to those who gave you the least money?—Because I did not feel inclined to vote for the other side again.

25,877. Why?—Because they did not pay up well the time before.

JOHN COLLINSON sworn and examined.

25,878. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A plumber.

25,879. Of St. George's Quay, Lancaster?—Yes.

25,880. How did you vote?—For Lawrence.

25,881. How much did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

25,882. Who paid you?—A stranger at the "Sun Inn."

25,883. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing; I was not on.

25,884. What did you get for being on the other committee?—I was on neither committee.

25,885. Did you get no money to spend?—No.

25,886. Nothing but the 12*l.*?—Nothing.

ROBERT HOWSON sworn and examined.

25,887. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A joiner.

25,888. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

25,889. What did they give you?—5*l.*

25,890. Was that all?—That was all.

25,891. Did you get nothing for being on the committee?—No.

25,892. And nothing to spend?—No.

25,893. Did you get anything on the Yellow side?—No.

25,894. 5*l.* was all you got?—Yes, 5*l.* was all I got.

25,895. When did you fix your price?—I fixed no price at all.

25,896. When did they give you the money?—It was after I had voted.

25,897. Did you go to them for it?—No, they brought it to me.

25,898. Into your house?—No, not into my house.

25,899. Where?—I got it in Market Street.

JOHN BEELEY sworn and examined.

25,900. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—An upholsterer.

25,901. Where do you live?—In Cheapside.

25,902. Who did you vote for at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

25,903. What did you get?—10*l.*

25,904. Was that all?—Yes.

25,905. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—No.

25,906. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

25,907. Where were you paid?—At the "Boar's Head."

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

W. Hodgson.

2 Sept. 1866.

WILLIAM HODGSON sworn and examined.

25,908. (Mr. Newton.) Do you keep the "Black Bull?"—I did at the time of the election.

25,909. How did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

25,910. You are a householder?—Yes.

25,911. What did you get for the use of the committee room in your house?—Nothing at all.

25,912. Was not your house taken by the Conservatives?—It was.

25,913. What did you get for it?—Nothing at all.

25,914. How was that?—They did not pay me the bill let alone the use of the house.

25,915. What did they pay you?—They paid me 18*l.*

25,916. Have you got your bill there?—I have not got the bill; Mr. Storey has got the bill. Mr. Storey said in his evidence, if I remember right, that he did not take the house. After I had taken the 18*l.* I burnt, as I thought, everything I had belonging to the concern, but I have found this letter since which will convince you, gentlemen, I think, that he did take the house (handing a letter to the Commissioners). I would rather you did not read it aloud. I think it will be tried in another court, but if you wish to do so I do not fear.

25,917. Was this the only bill that was paid you?—No, I was paid 4*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*; he says it was 4*l.* 18*s.* 9*d.*, but I think I am right in that. I have no account of it.

25,918. When was that?—I think the week before the election, but they will have the date no doubt, and the amount.

25,919. How much were you paid before the election?—4*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*

25,920. And besides that you got 18*l.*?—Yes.

25,921. According to that you got 22*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*?—Yes.

25,922. (Mr. Hill.) When did you get your 18*l.* bill paid?—Perhaps six or eight weeks after the election.

25,923. Was it 18*l.* exactly?—Yes.

25,924. What bill did you send in?—I sent a bill in for refreshments.

25,925. To what amount?—For refreshments in the house.

25,926. What was the amount of the bill?—39*l.*, with the 10*l.* I should have had for the house.

25,927. Did it include the 10*l.* for the house?—No, it would not.

25,928. Then it was 49*l.*?—Yes, I think it was.

25,929. To whom did you send in that bill?—To William Storey.

25,930. And he sent you back 18*l.*?—He did not send it back just then.

25,931. But he did afterwards?—I went to Mr. Stanton's for it.

25,932. You got 18*l.*?—Yes, I did.

25,933. And did you give him a receipt in full for it?—I did.

25,934. In the 18*l.* how much did they count to have allowed for the house?—Nothing at all.

25,935. They said it was all for refreshments?—Yes; they said nothing about the house at all.

25,936. Did you make out a separate bill?—I did not, but I sent in a second bill and put the house, and left it to his honour whether he would give me anything for it or not.

25,937. Was that after you had received the 18*l.*?—No; that (handing another letter to the Commissioners) is the answer to his letter; it is the original one. The one that he got was copied from it.

25,938. (Mr. Barstow.) Besides this, had you any money paid day by day by Stanton?—Nothing at all.

25,939. And nothing paid by Mr. Storey?—No, nothing.

25,940. Do you mean to say that in the evening of each day neither Mr. Stanton nor Mr. Storey paid you anything for the use of the house?—No.

25,941. Nor any other person?—Nor any other person.

25,942. Nor for any refreshments received in the house?—No, not concerning the election. The only two amounts I got was the 4*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.* and the 18*l.*

25,943. (Mr. Hill.) Do you mean to say that there was no allowance at all for the house in this 18*l.*?—Nothing at all.

25,944. Was there not 15*l.* for refreshments and 3*l.* for the house?—No.

25,945. Is yours a beerhouse or a licensed house?—It is a licensed house.

25,946. When did you agree that the Blues should have your house?—It would be perhaps ten days or a fortnight before the election; I am not exactly sure.

25,947. With whom did you agree?—With William Storey. But at the first commencement they sent for me to the "Sun Inn," and I went there, and then they agreed with me afterwards to have the house.

25,948. Was there any agreement made as to what should be paid?—There was. When he came to my house he went upstairs, and when we got to the top of the stairs I said, "Other parties I understand is going to have 10*l.*" He said he thought that was more than they were likely to give, but whatever other parties had I was to have the same.

25,949. And in consequence of that you made your house a Blue house?—I always was that way, but I did not vote for Mr. Saunders; I could have done so, but I did not.

25,950. You voted for Fenwick?—No.

25,951. Your house was engaged for Fenwick?—No, it was engaged for Mr. Saunders. I was summoned on the day when Mr. Maddock gave his evidence, but I could not leave very well. I do not know whether you want to know anything about him; I do not know anything about the man.

25,952. Did you see him pay anybody?—I did not. I was never out of the house more than half an hour, and that was when I went to vote. I did not see anyone paid that day, and I do not believe he was there. I am quite sure he did not pay ten men upstairs; I was sitting down there close to him when I heard his evidence.

25,953. Why did you not mention this at the time?—I should have got into trouble, I think, if I had done so. Mr. Wilson, when I met him on the platform afterwards, told me that I should have my bill paid, everything that was owed to me.

J. Dean.

JOHN DEAN sworn and examined.

25,954. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Torrisholme?—Yes,

25,955. What are you?—A labourer.

25,956. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

25,957. What did you get?—10*l.*

25,958. Anything else?—2*l.* 10*s.* for committee.

25,959. Anything else?—No.

W. Ralph.

WILLIAM RALPH sworn and examined.

25,960. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you of Castle Hill, Lancaster?—Yes.

25,961. And are you a painter?—Yes.

25,962. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

25,963. What did you get?—12*l.*

25,964. Who paid it to you?—Stanton, the painter.

25,965. Did you get anything else?—Yes, I got 3*l.* from Mr. Wearing before the election; 2*l.* at one time and 1*l.* at another.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY

W. Ralph.

22 Sept. 1866

25,966. What did you get that money from Mr. Wearing for?—For assisting.

25,967. For assisting Fenwick and Schneider's people?—Well, sir, I do not know.

25,968. Which Wearing was it, the shoemaker?—Yes.

25,969. Wright Wearing?—Yes.

25,970. How came you to get that?—He gave me a sovereign first and then 2*l.* I intended to have split my vote, to give Fenwick one and Lawrence the other; but I understood that they did not want split votes.

25,971. Did you promise Mr. Wearing to vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—No.

25,972. Did you promise to vote for the Liberal candidates at all?—I told him that I would give him a vote, that I would split my vote.

25,973. How much did you get from Stanton?—12*l.*

25,974. Did you get anything else?—No.

25,975. Are you a master painter?—No, I work for Shrigley.

25,976. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know anything about the other Ralphs?—No.

25,977. You do not know what they got?—No, I do not indeed.

25,978. What relation is the other William Ralph of yours?—Half cousin, or something of that sort.

J. Metcalfe.

JOHN METCALFE sworn and examined.

25,979. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Brewery Lane.

25,980. (Mr. Hill.) Are you John Metcalfe, who is described on the register as of Ann Street, Lancaster, labourer?—Yes.

25,981. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

25,982. What did you get for voting for Lawrence?—10*l.*

25,983. Who paid you?—John Speight's son.

25,984. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing.

25,985. What are you?—A labourer.

25,986. How do you work?—I work at the quarries.

25,987. Is all you got 10*l.*?—Yes.

25,988. Did you get nothing from the other side?—No.

T. Woodman, sen.

THOMAS WOODMAN, sen., sworn and examined.

25,989. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Germany Street, Lancaster.

25,990. Are you a wool-comber?—I used to be.

25,991. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

25,992. What money did you get?—10*l.*

25,993. Did you get anything besides that?—No.

25,994. Were you not on any committee?—No.

25,995. Did you not get any money to spend?—No.

25,996. 10*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

25,997. Did you get nothing from the other side?—No.

25,998. Are there any other of the Woodmans here?—I have a son at Barrow.

25,999. What is his name?—Thomas.

26,000. What did Thomas get?—He got the same as me.

26,001. Is he a labourer?—Yes.

26,002. A stonemason?—No, that is a cousin of mine.

26,003. Is he a fisherman?—No, he is a labourer.

26,004. Where does he live?—At Barrow.

26,005. Did he live with you in Lancaster?—Yes, he lived with me when he took his freedom up and long after.

26,006. Did he ever live at Heysham?—No, he lived at Overton.

26,007. Did he live at Heaton with Oxcliffe?—No.

26,008. He lived at Overton, did he?—Yes, he was on the list for Heysham the last time.

26,009. He is not a stonemason?—No, a labourer.

26,010. He is at work at Barrow you say?—Yes.

26,011. Did you see him paid for his vote?—I did not see him paid.

26,012. But did you hear him say he had been paid?—I heard him say that he got the same as I did.

26,013. And that was 12*l.*?—Yes.

26,014. Is there any other Woodman that you are capable of speaking to? Do you know Michael?—Michael is my brother, but he is not here, and I cannot speak for him.

26,015. Which other can you speak for?—A summons was brought for James, in Germany Street, and I was here all day yesterday, and so he altered it for me when he could not find James.

26,016. What has become of James?—He is either at Overton or Sunderland; he is down in that neighbourhood somewhere. He is my cousin, but he is not in Lancaster.

26,017. What did your cousin get; did he get the same as you?—I do not know; he was on the other side.

26,018. But have you not discussed as to which side it was best to be on?—No, not I. I keep to one side, and they suit themselves.

26,019. You do not know what James got then?—No, I do not.

26,020. Has that James got any other relative on the list?—Oh, yes; he is brother to Thomas, the stonemason, that you mentioned.

26,021. Then Thomas will be able to tell us what James got?—I cannot say I am sure.

26,022. Is Thomas on the other side?—Well, I do not know.

26,023. Where is Thomas, the stonemason?—He lives in Middleton, about a mile from Overton.

J. Sharples.

JAMES SHARPLES sworn and examined.

26,024. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you of Ullswater Road?—Yes.

26,025. What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

26,026. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

26,027. What did you get?—I received 35*s.* from Mr. Danson and Mr. William Storey a few days before the election to spend among the voters, and 6*l.* on the day of the election from Mr. Stanton for three weeks services.

26,028. That would be before you voted?—No, after I had voted.

26,029. Is that all you received?—That is all the money I received.

26,030. 7*l.* 15*s.*?—Yes.

26,031. Did you receive nothing from the Liberal side?—No, nothing whatever.

26,032. (Mr. Hill.) You say you got 6*l.* for three weeks; what did you suppose you were doing?—I was taking bills out and assisting Mr. Danson.

26,033. On which side?—Mr. Lawrence's.

26,034. Did you not do anything for the Fenwick side?—No, not anything whatever.

Adjourned to Monday 12 o'clock.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.

24 Sept. 1866.

Lancaster Castle, Monday, 24th September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

Mr. HILL.

(Mr. Barstow to Mr. Patteson.) You wrote a letter, by our directions, to Mr. Fenwick; will you be good enough to read it?

(Mr. Patteson.) It is dated September 18th. I believe it was wrongly dated the 8th, "Judges' Lodgings, Lancaster, September 18th, 1866," and it is addressed "E. M. Fenwick, Esqre., Burrow Hall, Kirkby Lonsdale."—"Sir,—The Commissioners desire me to inform "you that having considered the evidence that has "been brought before them they are of opinion that "it has been sufficiently proved that the part you "have taken in the recent election brings you within "the provisions of the Acts of Parliament. The "Commissioners, however, have instructed me to say "that they are quite willing to hear any statement "that you may wish to make upon the evidence that "has been given, and that such statement will be "taken down as part of their proceedings. I am "further desired to inform you that whatever you "may think fit to state before them will be entirely "voluntary on your part, and that you must not expect by any such statement to entitle yourself to "any certificate of indemnity against future proceedings. The Commissioners will be ready to hear "you on Monday next at 12 o'clock, if you will kindly "communicate with me before that time.—I am, sir, "your obedient servant, J. H. PATTESON, Secretary "to the Commissioners."

(Mr. Barstow.) I believe that Mr. Fenwick replied to that letter.

(Mr. Patteson.) He did.

(Mr. Barstow.) Will you have the goodness to read his reply?

(Mr. Patteson.) It is dated Burrow Hall, Kirkby Lonsdale, Thursday, 20th September, 1866, and is addressed J. H. Patteson, Esqre., Secretary to the Lancaster Election Commissioners, Judges' Lodgings, Lancaster.—"Sir,—I have the honour to acknowledge "the receipt of your letter, dated the 8th instant, "though probably intended to be 18th inst., acquainting me with the opinion formed by the Commissioners upon the evidence which has been "brought before them; and further informing me "that they are willing to hear any statement I may "wish to make, but that I must not expect any such "statement to entitle me to a certificate of indemnity "against future proceedings, also adding that they "will be prepared to hear me at 12 o'clock on Monday next. I beg therefore to say that I shall readily "avail myself of the opportunity thus afforded to me "in order that I may give the fullest contradiction to "many of the statements which have been made respecting myself in connection with the late election "for the borough of Lancaster.—I have the honor to "be your most obedient, E. M. FENWICK."

(Mr. Barstow.) Is Mr. Fenwick in court?

(Mr. Fenwick.) Yes.

(Mr. Barstow.) We shall be glad to hear you if you desire to make any statement to us.

(Mr. Fenwick.) If any other letter of the same kind as that which has been read has been addressed to anybody else, perhaps the Commissioners will think it right that that letter should be read also.

(Mr. Barstow.) I think not at present.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I apprehend, then, that I must deal entirely now with the letter that has been addressed by your secretary to myself, but I should tell the Court that I am aware that a similar letter has been addressed to Mr. Schneider, and therefore I thought the Commissioners would probably think it right to have that letter read also.

(Mr. Barstow.) If you wish it, it shall be read.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I should desire it to be read.

(Mr. Patteson.) It is in the same terms as the letter (to Mr. Fenwick) which I have read; shall I read it over again?

(Mr. Barstow.) Perhaps you had better do so.

(Mr. Patteson.) It is a letter from me, dated Judges' Lodgings, Lancaster, September 18th, 1866, and is addressed to H.W. Schneider, Esqre., Lightburne House, Ulverstone. "Sir,—The Commissioners desire me to inform you that having considered the evidence that "has been brought before them, they are of opinion "that it has been sufficiently proved that the part you "have taken in the recent election brings you within "the provisions of the Acts of Parliament. The "Commissioners, however, have instructed me to say "that they are quite willing to hear any statement "that you may wish to make upon the evidence that "has been given, and that such statement will be "taken down as part of their proceedings. I am "further desired to inform you that whatever you "may think fit to state before them will be entirely "voluntary on your part, and that you must not expect by any such statement to entitle yourself to "any certificate of indemnity against future proceedings. The Commissioners will be ready to hear "you on Monday next at 12 o'clock, if you will "kindly communicate with me before that time.—I "am, sir, your obedient servant, J. H. PATTESON, "Secretary to the Commissioners."

(Mr. Barstow.) Now read, if you please, Mr. Schneider's reply.

(Mr. Patteson.) It is dated Lightburne House, Ulverstone, 20th September, 1866. "Sir,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 18th "inst., and to express my great surprise at its contents. The conclusion referred to by the Commissioners in the first paragraph of your letter leads "me to infer that reliance has been placed upon the "volunteered evidence of Mr. H. T. Wilson, more "particularly with reference to the alleged conversation between me and Mr. Starkie as to an expenditure of 10,000*l.* I distinctly deny (and am ready "to do so upon my oath) any conversation with Mr. "Starkie on the 10th July 1865 (Monday), or at "any time during the election, except after the nomination. I differ with Mr. Starkie as to the exact "words used on that occasion, but at the present "time I need not do more than refer to the evidence "given by Mr. Starkie before the election committee. "Mr. Wilson grounds his course of proceeding upon "this alleged converation on the 10th. There can be "no difficulty in the way of ascertaining the facts correctly. Mr. Starkie would, if called, speak to them. "The provision of 10,000*l.* in gold by the Lancaster "Banking Company has already received explanation, "and every other point volunteered by Mr. Wilson "is capable of explanation to an extent which would "remove the erroneous impression he has evidently "conveyed to the minds of the Commissioners, and "that explanation I am prepared to give. Since the "commencement of the sitting of the Commissioners "I have remained at home in readiness to obey their "summons, and I ought not (in fact I should decline) "to give evidence except as a summoned witness. I "am much obliged by the offer of the Commissioners "to meet my convenience. Monday next, at 12 "o'clock, will suit me, and I can be in Lancaster "early on that day. If I receive a summons I will "attend the Commissioners.—I have the honor to "remain, sir, your very obedient servant, H. W. "SCHNEIDER.—J. H. Patteson, Esqre., Secretary to "the Royal Commissioners, Judges' Chambers, Lancaster.—P.S. I send this by special messenger, who "will await reply. H. W. S."

(Mr. Barstow.) I believe there was a reply sent to that letter.

(Mr. Patteson.) Yes.

(Mr. Barstow.) Will you have the goodness to read that?

(Mr. Patteson.) It is dated September 21st, 1866. Judges' lodgings, Lancaster. "Sir, the Commissioners desire me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th instant, and to inform you that they intend to adhere to the course pointed out in my letter of the 18th instant. The Commissioners desire me further to inform you that they have not been led to the conclusion at which they have arrived by the evidence to which you allude in your letter. I am also directed to inform you that this correspondence will be read in Court, and will be taken down as a part of the proceedings of the Commission. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, J. H. Patteson, Secretary to the Commissioners."

(Mr. Fenwick.) The Court I am sure will forgive me if I ask whether a similar letter to that which has been addressed to myself and my late colleague, Mr. Schneider, has been addressed to Mr. Lawrence?

(Mr. Barstow.) No; we have sent a summons in the usual form to Mr. Lawrence.

(Mr. Fenwick.) Well now, sir, I will submit, with very great deference, to this Court one or two subjects for their consideration. In consequence of the letter which has been read by your secretary I have come here quite prepared to make a statement to you, and I have also come prepared to give the fullest contradiction to many of the statements which have been made with reference to myself; but I am rather startled when I hear from you that Mr. Lawrence is to be dealt with in a different manner from my colleague and myself. I must speak, of course, more particularly with reference to my own case, but I submit to you that mine is a particularly hard case, under the circumstances. Mr. Lawrence took a very active part in the proceedings at the election; he was not elected, but he was a candidate at the election with ourselves, and I venture to think that if Mr. Lawrence is summoned, that is putting Mr. Schneider and myself certainly in a very disadvantageous position before this Court.

(Mr. Barstow.) It would not become us to enter into any altercation with you upon the subject. We shall justify ourselves, I have no doubt, fully to those who have sent us here as regards the course we have taken. I will merely say that the evidence against Mr. Lawrence is, in our opinion, very different from that against you and your late colleague.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I do not presume, of course, nor do I desire to have any altercation with the Court, but still I do feel that, supposing we appear before the Court to make our statements now, we are called upon to do so under very considerable disadvantages. I need not trouble this Court by pointing out that Mr. Lawrence will have a great advantage over us. I need not trouble this Court with any opinion upon the Act of Parliament, but I do think that Mr. Lawrence will come before this Court, if he comes here under a summons from the Commissioners, under very advantageous circumstances as compared with us. It is very true that statements have been made affecting myself very materially, but as yet the Commissioners have not heard me. I shall be able to give the flattest contradiction to a great deal of that which has been said, particularly in the evidence of Mr. Wilson, and surely I shall labour under a very great disadvantage if I have not the same privilege extended to me as is extended to Mr. Lawrence. There is another point that I have to submit to the Court with great confidence, and it is this:—you are about to extend this privilege to Mr. Lawrence, and I am called upon to make a voluntary statement as to the part I took in the election. That I shall be quite ready to do at the proper time, but you call upon me to do so without extending to me the privilege which you extend to Mr. Lawrence, and that without knowing the effect of the whole of the evidence that has been laid before this Court. How do I know that Mr. Lawrence may not add material facts or make material statements that may cast an additional appearance of guilt upon myself and my colleague? How do I know that other witnesses may not be called who may or may not add considerably to the weight of your opinion one way or the other? You will pardon me if I remind you that by the letter which you have directed your secretary to address to me you distinctly affix the stigma of guilt upon myself. I assure the Commissioners that the fact of the position in which Mr. Lawrence will be placed has come upon me quite by surprise this morning since I arrived in the town, and by it you place me in a position in which you would not place the humblest criminal in the land; and I submit to you that I ought not to be asked to make any statement until the whole of the case has been completed, and until substantially and literally the whole of the case in support of the prosecution (to use a figure of speech) has been heard by the Commissioners.

(Mr. Newton.) We are of opinion that if you think justice to you will be furthered by your deferring your statement until Mr. Lawrence has been heard, or even until Mr. Schneider has been heard, if he wishes to make a statement to us, you may be allowed to make your statement at the end.

(Mr. Barstow.) In the first place, it must be understood that any statement that may be made by you must be perfectly voluntary, and we have mentioned that at this time thinking that it would be convenient to you. It was not done in such a manner as could lead you possibly to suppose that we wished to pin you to this particular time. If you think that Mr. Lawrence is likely to say anything on which you may desire to reply we will defer hearing you until after we have heard him.

(Mr. Fenwick.) What I really feel is this—that upon coming into the town this morning I have heard for the first time that Mr. Lawrence is put avowedly in a different position from my colleague and myself.

(Mr Newton.) What of that? You have no business to throw that at our heads.

(Mr. Fenwick.) It has come upon me by surprise, and I have had no time to confer with anybody, or to consider what course I shall pursue.

(Mr. Barstow.) You have had a considerable time. The letter was written to you on the 18th, and this is the 24th, but if you desire further delay we are quite willing that you should have it.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I do submit, sir, that until the whole of the case is closed the Court cannot, I think, reasonably ask me to make any statement.

(Mr. Barstow.) We cannot promise to wait until the case is closed. That is quite out of the question.

(Mr. Fenwick.) But how am I to answer the charges made in a part heard case?

(Mr. Barstow.) I should think that, as far as you are concerned, the case has been closed for a very long time. Of course there is a possibility of something else cropping up, but I should think that practically for a fortnight everything likely to be known about you has been known.

(Mr. Fenwick.) The fact is that I wrote that letter under the full impression that we were all to be dealt with in the same manner, and I should certainly like to reserve to myself the right further to consider what course I shall take when the case has been fully heard by the Commissioners.

(Mr. Barstow.) Do we understand that you wish to withdraw your letter?

(Mr. Fenwick.) Yes, I will withdraw my letter—that is, I beg leave to ask for further time to comply with your request when the case is completed.

(Mr. Barstow.) That is not our offer; we wish to know whether you withdraw your letter.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I have no objection to withdraw it, but the letter may remain on the records of the Court.

(Mr. Hill.) The matter stands thus: we are not bound to hear any more witnesses than we consider sufficient to make out the case into which we have to inquire; but it was thought fair, as your name and the name of Mr. Schneider had been mentioned a good deal, that you should have the opportunity now of putting yourselves right before the public if you should be so pleased, and that opportunity we are willing to give you if you voluntarily avail yourself of it. Our desire was to do that which in fairness ought to be done towards you.

Mr. Fenwick.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I am much obliged to Mr. Hill for so kindly explaining the matter. I follow you entirely, but I submit that the opportunity you are good enough to afford me ought to be afforded after the whole case has been heard.

(Mr. Barstow.) It is impossible for us to say that.

(Mr. Newton.) Probably we may not close the case until the last week in January.

(Mr. Hill.) Until the close of the Lancaster evidence.

(Mr. Barstow.) I should have thought that if you had any statement that you desired to make you would have wished to make it in the presence of the audience before whom you had been accused.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I am much obliged to you, sir, for the suggestion, but this is a very grave matter, and we are to be dealt with in a different manner from Mr. Lawrence. I should like, therefore, to have time allowed me to consider the course that we may be advised to take. If I were to go into the box and make a full statement, how do I know that other witnesses may not be called who may make further accusations against me without my having an opportunity of answering them.

(Mr. Barstow.) In that respect you would not be in a different position from that of other witnesses. We have had witnesses come before us three times already to supplement their previous statements.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I daresay that may have been the case.

(Mr. Barstow.) I think that in all probability we should agree that if there should be anything omitted by you we should be glad to hear you on a further occasion; but you must bear in mind that if you come and make a statement at the end of the case you will not have an opportunity of supplementing it, or of supplying any omission you may have made.

(Mr. Fenwick.) Then with submission to the Court I will take time to consider the course I shall pursue.

(Mr. Barstow.) There is one thing that I still do not entirely understand, and that is whether we are to take that letter of yours as withdrawn.

(Mr Fenwick.) No, I do not think it is necessary for me to withdraw the letter, but I will do so if you desire it.

(Mr. Hill.) May we take it in this way, that you wish to come before us upon the terms of the letter, only that instead of coming this morning you wish to come at a later period of the evidence?

(Mr. Fenwick.) I wish, under the new state of circumstances.

(Mr. Barstow.) There is no new state of circumstances. We cannot say that we will receive your statement at the close of the case—that is quite impossible. There will be many little points to fill up after the bulk of the evidence has been gone through, and after you have made your statement.

(Mr. Hill.) The evidence will be of a kind that cannot possibly affect Mr. Fenwick; it will be the same sort of evidence that we have been going through the last three or four days.

(Mr. Barstow.) I do not think that for the last fortnight there has been a single statement made to us affecting Mr. Fenwick, and I do not think that if we were to sit here for another fortnight we should hear any further statement affecting him.

(Mr. Fenwick.) As to one statement that has been made before you, I shall give it a flat contradiction; but I may say generally that the whole of my case lies in a very short compass. How do I know what further evidence may be given in this court by Mr. Lawrence?

(Mr. Barstow.) We will say that we will take your statement on Friday morning, if that will suit you.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I desire to deal most candidly with the Commissioners, and I shall ask that my attendance may be deferred till Friday morning, and in the meantime I shall take advice by which I shall be governed as to the course I shall take.

(Mr. Hill.) Of course you are not at all bound by anything that has been said to-day.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I hope the Commissioners do not think that there is anything unreasonable in my application.

(Mr. Barstow.) No, not at all. Is Mr. Schneider here?

(Mr. Schneider.) Yes.

(Mr. Barstow.) Do you wish to make any statement to us?

(Mr. Schneider.) No, I am prepared to go into the box when I am summoned in the ordinary course; but until I have received a summons I decline to make any statement of any sort or kind. I shall most respectfully attend any summons I may receive, if you shall feel disposed to change the determination at which you have arrived, and I shall take care to be in the way to receive such summons in the event of your altering your determination.

(Mr. Barstow to Mr. Fenwick.) I am reminded that Mr. Lawrence will be here at noon to-morrow. I mention that in case you should wish to attend.

(Mr. Fenwick.) No, I do not suppose that I shall be present.

E. Gaffney.

26,105. On the committee?—Yes, for assisting Mr. Allinson to canvass.

26,106. What else did you receive?—That is all.

26,107. Was 13*l.* the whole that you got?—Yes.

26,108. Did you not get another sovereign?—No.

26,109. Had you not anything on the other side?—No.

26,110. Were you not on the Blue committee?—No.

26,111. 13*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

26,112. Are you a master mason?—No.

GEORGE JACKSON sworn and examined.

G. Jackson.

26,113. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A blacksmith.

26,114. Where do you live?—At Scotforth.

26,115. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

26,116. What did you get?—I got 8*l.*; at least my wife did. I did not get it. I never saw it.

26,117. Did you get nothing?—Yes, I got a trifle for my work.

26,118. What did you get besides?—I got 3*l.* for being on the committee for working.

26,119. Is that all you got?—Yes, every farthing.

26,120. Who paid your wife?—My own son that was on for Scotforth, but not till after the election; I did not see it and never heard of it till after. I never took any bribe, and took nothing but what I wrought for.

26,139. Nor did any work?—No.

26,140. Who paid you?—Mr. Bradley, a tinplate worker.

26,141. And you did not get on to the other committee either?—No.

26,142. 10*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

26,143. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you know Richard R. Cumpsty, of Leonardgate?—Yes, he is my nephew.

26,144. Do you know what he got?—No, I have no acquaintance with him. There is William Cumpsty.

26,145. Of Leonardgate, a tailor?—No, he is a tinplate worker; he got 8*l.*

26,146. From Kirby?—Yes, and then Thomas Cumpsty 10*l.*

26,147. By Bradley?—Yes.

R. Gardner.

RICHARD GARDNER sworn and examined.

26,148. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—I live in Union Street.

26,149. What are you?—A labourer.

26,150. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

26,151. What did they give you?—10*l.*

26,152. Did you get that from Stanton?—No, I got 10*l.* for my vote.

26,153. But who gave it to you?—George Danson.

26,154. Was that all you got?—No, I got 15*s.* and 30*s.*

26,155. What did you get that for?—On the committee.

26,156. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

26,157. 12*l.* 5*s.* is all you got altogether?—Yes.

26,158. You got nothing to spend in drink?—No.

J. Birkett.

JAMES BIRKETT sworn and examined.

26,159. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a woolcomber?—Yes.

26,163. Who paid you?—Anthony Downham.

26,164. Is Anthony Downham a voter?—No.

26,165. How came he to pay you?—He got it from William Jackson.

26,166. Who is William Jackson?—He is a blacksmith at Scotforth.

26,167. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing.

26,168. Are you a master man or journeyman?—A labourer.

26,169. What wages do you earn?—17*s.* and 18*s.* a week.

26,170. Can you read?—Some little.

26,171. Can you write?—Yes.

26,172. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not get 3*l.* from Burchell?—No.

R. Gudgeon.

RICHARD GUDGEON sworn and examined.

26,173. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A farm labourer.

26,174. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,175. What did you receive?—10*l.*

26,176. Did you get anything besides?—No.

26,177. Were you not on any committee?—No.

26,178. You received only 10*l.*?—Yes.

26,179. (Mr. Newton.) Who paid you the 10*l.*?—Robert Blades.

W. Hartley.

WILLIAM HARTLEY sworn and examined.

26,180. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A silk spinner.

26,181. Where do you live?—Quernmore.

26,182. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,183. What did you get?—10*l.*

26,184. Who paid it to you?—Robert Blades.

26,185. Did you get anything else?—Yes.

26,186. How much?—30*s.*

26,187. Did you get that from Allinson?—Yes.

26,188. Anything else?—No.

26,189. Nothing?—No, nothing.

E. Hartley.

EDWARD HARTLEY sworn and examined.

26,190. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A silk comber.

26,191. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,192. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

26,193. Who paid you?—Mr. Robert Blades.

26,194. Were you on the committee?—No.

26,195. On neither side?—No.

26,196. Did you get anything to drink?—Nothing.

26,197. No money to treat?—I cannot say anything about that.

26,198. What did you get to treat voters with?—I might get a few glasses.

26,199. Did you get any money to treat voters with?—No, nothing of that sort.

26,200. You only got 10*l.* for your vote?—That is all.

26,201. Can you read?—No.

26,202. Or write?—No.

C. Hartley.

CHRISTOPHER HARTLEY sworn and examined.

26,203. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A wheelwright.

26,204. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,205. What did you get?—10*l.*

26,206. Did you receive anything for being on the committee?—No.

26,207. Were you not on the other committee?—No; I was not in at all.

26,208. Was 10*l.* all you got?—Yes.

26,209. By whom were you paid?—Robert Blades.

GEORGE MARSHALL sworn and examined. G. Marshall

26,210. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I have always been in the gardening line.

26,211. Where do you live?—In Scotforth. I have been there all my life.

26,212. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I polled for the two Yellows.

26,213. What did you get?—They made my old woman a present of 6*l.*, but I never knew what she got. Mine was a free vote.

26,214. Who gave it to her?—Anthony Downham.

26,215. Did you get anything else?—Not a farthing piece.

26,216. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get this after the election?—Yes; I did not hear of it until after I had voted.

26,217. Did you not know that you were going to get something?—No; I always give a free vote.

26,218. When did your missus tell you what she got?—When I got to the public-house, after I had polled. I do not come here to tell lies.

26,219. (Mr. Newton.—Did you vote at the last election of 1864. The Fenwick and Saunders fight?—Yes.

26,220. Which one did you vote for?—I cannot say now.

26,221. Did you vote Blue or Yellow?—I voted for the Yellow, and I polled for Mr. Green 11 times.

EDMUND MASHEDER sworn and examined. E. Masheder

26,222. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—At present I have a little farm.

26,223. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Schneider.

26,224. What did you get for your vote?—I believe 11*l.* for both.

26,225. Who paid you?—I think, for Mr. Schneider, Robert Blades.

26,226. What did he pay you?—5*l.*

26,227. Who paid you for Lawrence?—I cannot say the man that did pay me for Lawrence. I never saw him before nor since and do not know his name.

26,228. Where were you paid?—I cannot tell whether it was in a private room or public-house. It was in the new market, at the bottom of the new market.

26,229. Who took you there?—I believe Mr. Edmondson's footman or butler.

26,230. Was it at a public-house in the market-place?—I think so. I can take you to the room, but whether it is a public-house or not I cannot say.

26,231. You know how much you got?—Yes; I have told you that.

26,232. How much did you get?—11*l.*

26,233. 5*l.* from Robert Blades?—Yes.

26,234. You say you could take me to the house, but you do not know whether it is a public-house?—I could take you to the room, but I do not know whether it is a public-house or not.

26,235. What nonsense. What street is it in?—That I do not know. It is in the new market, and that is all I can tell you.

26,236. Where do you live?—I live at Caton.

26,237. What are you?—I am a farmer at present.

26,238. You come in here every week to market, do you not?—No.

26,239. What did you get for voting for Fenwick?—I did not vote for Fenwick.

26,240. What did you get for voting for Fenwick? I tell you I did not vote for him.

26,241. What did you get for voting for Fenwick?—I did not vote for Fenwick.

26,242. You were to vote for Fenwick. What did you get for it?—I did not get anything.

26,243. That you swear to?—Yes.

26,244. Who came to you first, Blades or the butler?—Blades, I think.

26,245. What did Blades tell you?—He did not tell me anything, no further than that he asked me whether I would give Mr. Schneider or Mr. Fenwick a vote.

26,246. What did the butler ask you?—He did not ask me anything connected with these things.

26,247. What did he say to you?—He told me that Mr. Edmondson wished me to give Mr. Lawrence a vote, and I told him I should be obliged so to do.

26,248. You obliged Mr. Edmondson's butler by giving Mr. Lawrence a vote?—Yes.

26,249. Did you know Mr. Edmondson?—Yes.

26,250. Did the butler take you to this room?—Yes, he took me there.

26,251. Why should you like to oblige Mr. Edmondson?—On account that I farm under Mr. Edmondson.

26,252. He is your landlord?—Yes.

26,253. The butler knew where to take you to?—It was at the bottom of the new market, but I do not know whether it was a private room or a public-house. It was a place where I had never been before and never been since.

THOMAS PARKER sworn and examined. T. Parker.

26,254. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A joiner.

26,255. You come from Dolphinholme?—Yes.

26,256. And for whom did you vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

26,257. What did you receive for your vote?—I got 10*l.*

26,258. From whom?—Richard Davis.

26,259. What is he?—A farmer in Ellel.

26,260. Whereabouts in Ellel is his farm?—Not so far off the "Fleece Inn."

26,261. How much did you receive from him?—10*l.*

26,262. Was that all you got?—Yes.

26,263. Did you not get 7*l.* 10*s.* from a woman who came to you from Henry Rawes?—No.

26,264. Did you know that Henry Rawes sent you 7*l.* 10*s.*?—No.

26,265. Do you know a man of the name of James Towers?—Yes.

26,266. Did not you and James Towers get 15*l.* between you?—No, I did not.

26,267. Do you know about James Towers getting it?—No, I do not.

26,268. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

26,269. Did you have any conversation with Rawes?—No.

26,270. Did you not tell Rawes that you had not been paid by the Conservatives when you had voted for them before, and would not vote for them again?—Never, as I recollect.

26,271. May you have said it and forgotten it?—If I have said it I have forgotten it.

26,272. Did you not say to Rawes, "You must pay "as well as the other side?"—No, I never did.

26,273. (Mr. Hill, to Mr. Henry Rawes.) What do you say to this?—There was something to that effect.

26,274. Something to that effect. I am reading from your own evidence?—I was so confused at the time that I did not know what I said when I was here before.

26,275. This was your own voluntary statement. Do you mean to say it was not true?—I do not remember.

26,276. Do you mean to say it was not true?—I do not know, I am sure. I forget what I said.

26,277. I am reading what you said from my note of it. We take down all the things that are said, so that people should be careful what they say?—I am very sorry that ever I said it.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.

T. Parker.

24 Sept. 1866.

26,278. Is it untrue?—I do not remember. I am in that state of mind I scarcely know what to say.

26,279. What did you do with this 15*l.*?—I returned it to Mr. Welch.

26,280. When did you take back the money?—I forget the date. It is on that paper (handing a paper to the Commissioners).

26,281. This is somewhat of a serious matter. What day were you examined before us?—I forget the date of the month. It was Friday, I think.

26,282. On August the 31st you stated to us that you had given a woman who was with you for James Towers, and Parker, of Dolphinholme, joiner, 15*l.*?—I beg to contradict that statement. I was so confused that I did not know what I said, scarcely.

26,283. Do you mean to say that that is all untrue?—I am afraid it is.

26,284. You had kept the money for yourself all the time, and on the 7th of September you took it back to Mr. Welch after you had given your evidence?—Yes; I have suffered most acutely since. I do not know what made me say such a thing.

26,285. You embezzled the money, committed perjury about it, and then go and return the money afterwards?—I am very sorry.

26,286. Now tell us what other of your evidence is untrue?—No other part of it.

26,287. I suppose you have been thinking it over?—I have thought of it till I cannot think any longer.

26,288. Is there any other untruth in your evidence that you wish to correct?—Not the slightest; it is all true.

26,289. Is it true that on July the 22nd you paid back to Mr. Welch the balance of 24*l.* 6*s.*?—Yes, I did, in his own office.

26,290. Then why did you not pay him back this 15*l.*?—I do not know why I did not do it.

26,291. Had you some urgent necessity in your trade?—I sustained a great loss in trade through voting on the Liberal side.

26,292. (Mr. Newton.) Do you mean to say that the whole story of the giving this money to a woman is an invention?—I was with some women. I scarcely know why I said it.

26,293. You gave a long and detailed story of putting 15*l.* in her hand. Was the whole thing an invention?—I beg to contradict it.

26,294. I hope you have got a conscience?—I do not think it will occur again.

26,295. (To Thomas Parker.) We hear you did not get 7*l.* 10*s.* from Rawes?—No.

26,296. Was 7*l.* 10*s.* all you received?—Yes.

26,297. Were you on no committee?—No.

(Mr. Hill, to Henry Rawes.) The Commissioners will refuse you your certificate and your expenses.

(After an interval.)

(Mr. Hill, to Henry Rawes.) As you have made the best amends in your power by coming here at once to tell us the truth, the Commissioners will not proceed any further in the matter.

R. Richmond.

RICHARD RICHMOND sworn and examined.

26,298. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A co-operative storekeeper.

26,299. Where do you live?—At Dolphinholme.

26,300. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,301. What did you get for your vote?—6*l.*

26,302. Did you get nothing else?—No, nothing else.

26,303. 6*l.* is all you touched?—Yes.

26,304. Who paid you?—John Burchell.

J. Sherson.

JOHN SHERSON sworn and examined.

26,305. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A cart driver.

26,306. Do you live at Caton?—Yes.

26,307. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

26,308. What did you get paid for it?—10*l.*

26,309. Who paid you?—Mr. Blades.

26,310. Were you on any committee?—Yes.

26,311. What did you get paid for that?—18*s.*

26,312. By whom?—By Robert Blades.

26,313. Were you on any other committee?—No.

M. Woodman.

MICHAEL WOODMAN sworn and examined.

26,314. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A pointsman on the London and North-western Railway.

26,315. For whom did you vote?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,316. What did you get?—5*l.*

26,317. Did you get anything else besides?—No.

26,318. Nothing to spend in drink?—No.

26,319. Was 5*l.* all you got?—Yes.

26,320. How long have you been in the employment of the company?—About 18 years.

26,321. What are your wages?—Half-a-crown a day are my wages on the works.

26,322. You got nothing from the other side?—No, not a farthing.

26,323. Who canvassed you?—Mr. Towers gave me the 5*l.*

26,324. Who canvassed you?—Nobody; never nobody.

26,325. Did not anybody come and ask you for your vote?—No.

26,326. Did you get no letter from Mr. Jackson?—No.

J. Harrison.

JOHN HARRISON sworn and examined.

26,327. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A farm servant.

26,328. Where do you live?—At Middleton.

26,329. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

26,330. What did you get?—19*l.*

26,331. How did you manage to get that?—I got 10*l.* for my vote of George Danson.

26,332. And how did you get the other 9*l.*?—I got 1*l.* for my expenses.

26,333. From whom?—I think it was at Mr. Tilly's office, in Sun Street.

26,334. Was that before or after the election?—Before.

26,335. What else did you get?—8*l.*

26,336. From whom did you get that?—I think it would be from Proctor Hutchinson in the "White Lion."

26,337. Is that Knowles Allinson's house?—No, Peter Moore's.

26,338. For what did you get that?—I do not know, I am sure.

26,339. You must not make that answer, you know well enough what you got it for?—To vote for them, very like.

26,340. To vote for whom?—For Fenwick, very like.

26,341. Were you on Fenwick and Schneider's committee?—Yes.

26,342. Is 8*l.* all you got from Fenwick and Schneider's people?—Yes.

26,343. Did you get no more from Mr. Lawrence's side?—No.

26,344. You got 11*l.* from Lawrence's side and 8*l.* from Schneider?—No; 10*l.* from Mr. Lawrence, and 9*l.* from Fenwick and Schneider.

26,345. (Mr. Newton.) Are you an agricultural labourer?—Yes.

26,346. Can you read?—Yes.

26,347. Can you write?—Yes.

JAMES DICKENSON YATES sworn and examined. J. D. Yates

26,348. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A small farmer.

26,349. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,350. What did you get paid for your vote?—5*l.* 10*s.*

26,351. By whom?—Mr. John Burchell gave it to my wife on the afternoon of the election without my knowledge or consent. I gave a free vote.

26,352. Go on.—That is all I have got to say.

26,353. Who came canvassing you?—Mr. John Burchell.

26,354. How long before the election?—I cannot say, perhaps a week. I do not remember exactly, but it was only a short time before the election.

26,355. What did he say then?—He asked me for my vote, and I promised him Mr. Fenwick without any hesitation.

26,356. What did he say about Schneider?—I said I would consider it, but before I left I promised it to him.

26,357. For what consideration;—None whatever.

26,358. Come, come, what was the consideration to be?—He was a stranger, and I made no hesitation.

26,359. I daresay there was no hesitation; but you said, "I must be paid for it?"—No, never.

26,360. Come, tell me the truth?—I have told you the truth.

26,361. (Mr. Hill.) Where was it?—In my yard.

26,362. You went away, and left him to discuss it with your wife?—No.

26,363. You do not know who fixed the price?—There was no price fixed.

26,364. You did not send the money back?—No.

JOHN BLEASDALE recalled and further examined. J. Bleasdale

26,365. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you wish to make some statement?—Yes. In addition to the names I gave before, there are three other names I have since thought of—Edward Barrow——

26,366. Where does he live?—In Penny Street, mariner. I gave him 13*l.*; and John Blezard, tinman, 10*l.*, through William Jackson of the "Malt Shovel," and Thomas Parkinson, shoemaker, Penny Street, 12*l.* Marsden says he paid him, but it is a mistake, I paid him.

26,367. Who was it that he paid?—Two Talbots, Richard and Joseph Talbot. Then I would say I got 150*l.* from Mr. Welch instead of 125*l.* The names I have given you come to 152*l.*, and I think I got 3*l.* or 4*l.* from John Marsden.

26,368. (Mr. Hill.) You told us that you got 50*l.*, 50*l.*, and 25*l.* That last 25*l.* ought to be 50*l.*?—Yes.

26,369. (Mr. Barstow.) You say you got 3*l.* or 4*l.* from Marsden?—Yes, once during the day when I was short. I think it was 4*l.* Then 2*l.* I gave to James Cornthwaite for a voter named Kelsall."

26,370. Marsden says he paid him?—It will be another.

26,371. What is Kelsall's christian name?—I do not know. Cornthwaite came to me and said, "I want 2*l.* for Kelsall."

26,372. How do you know it is not the same Kelsall that Marsden says he paid?—Well, I think it will not be.

26,373. Is that the same James Cornthwaite to whom you paid the 10*l.*?—Yes.

JOHN RICHMOND sworn and examined. J. Richmond

26,374. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Wyresdale.

26,375. What are you?—I am a servant man.

26,376. A farm servant?—Yes.

26,377. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,378. What money did you receive?—6*l.*

26,379. Anything else?—No.

26,380. That is the whole sum?—Yes.

26,381. Do you know anything of William Richmond?—He is dead.

26,382. Did you know anything of him when he was alive?—Yes.

26,383. Do you know what he got?—6*l.*

26,384. From whom did he get it?—From John Birchell.

26,385. Were you both paid together?—We were both in one room, and he was paid the same as I was I think.

26,386. (Mr. Hill.) Was he your brother?—No, cousin.

RICHARD RICHMOND sworn and examined. R. Richmond

26,387. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At Forton.

26,388. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,389. What did you get for your vote?—6*l.*

26,390. Are you a day labourer?—Yes.

26,391. What wages do you earn?—About 2*s.* a day.

26,392. Who paid you the 6*l.*?—John Birchell.

HENRY COTTAM sworn and examined. H. Cottam

26,393. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A farmer.

26,394. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,395. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

26,396. Who paid you?—William Welch.

26,397. What else did you get?—Nothing.

26,398. Were you not on any committee?—No.

26,399. Was 10*l.* all you got?—Yes.

26,400. (Mr. Newton.) How many acres do you farm?—30 acres.

26,401. What rent do you pay?—82*l.*

26,402. And you got 10*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.

24 Sept. 1866.

John Armer sworn and examined.

J. Armer.

26,403. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Cockerham.

26,404. What are you?—A labourer.

26,405. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Fenwick and Schneider.

26,406. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*; at least I did not, but my wife did.

26,407. Who gave it to your wife?—William Welch.

26,408. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get nothing beyond the 10*l.*?—No.

26,409. (Mr. Barstow.) Who asked you for your vote?—Henry Simpson.

26,410. Anyone else?—No.

26,411. Did no one else see you about your vote at that time?—No, not of that party.

26,412. Do you know young Mr. Preston of Ellel Grange?—No, I do not.

26,413. Did you never see him?—I never saw him with my eyes that I know of, and I do not know him.

26,414. Did he come and canvass you?—No.

26,415. Are you sure that no one except Mr. Simpson canvassed you on behalf of Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider?—No.

26,416. Come, think, did no one else canvass you?—No, no one.

26,417. Are you quite sure?—Yes.

26,418. Did you not see either of the candidates?—No.

26,419. Nor Mr. Lawrence?—No, Mr. Lawrence sent for me. I was mowing some grass, but I would not go. He sent for me to go to Mr. Atkinson's, the vicarage, at Cockerham. I would not go, and did not go, and never went near.

26,420. Have you always voted "Yellow?"—Except once.

26,421. When was that?—It was the time Mr. Greene was put up after he had been out one year, I think.

26,422. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

26,423. What sort of wages do you earn?—7s. a week with my meat at the house, or 2s. or 2s. 6d. a day.

26,424. You thought 10*l.* a good wage?—I thought nothing about it.

26,425. Who paid you?—William Welch.

26,426. You got nothing but this 10*l.*?—No.

26,427. Were you paid before you voted?—Yes.

26,428. You took care of that?—Yes.

William Armer sworn and examined.

W. Armer.

26,429. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,430. Who paid you?—William Welch.

26,431. How much did you get for your vote?—He paid my mother 10*l.* and she gave it to me.

26,432. When did William Welch promise you the 10*l.* for voting?—I don't know.

26,433. Was it the morning before you voted, or when was it?—I think it was the nomination day. He asked me if I would give him a vote and I said "Yes."

26,434. When did he promise to pay you the 10*l.*?—I don't know.

26,435. I think you do.—No, I don't.

26,436. Just try and recollect; was it the morning you voted?—I don't know; he said I should get the same as the rest.

26,437. Who came and canvassed you?—Henry Simpson and William Welch, I think.

26,438. Did Mr. Fenwick come and canvass you?—No, I never saw him.

26,439. Did Mr. Schneider come and canvass you?—No, I never saw him.

26,440. Did Mr. Lawrence?—No, I never saw Mr. Lawrence.

26,441. Did you see the other two?—No, I saw Jacob Nelson.

26,442. Did you see Mr. Fenwick or Mr. Schneider?—No, not that I can recollect.

26,443. Did you go up to the rectory, the clergyman's house?—Mr. Atkinson's?

26,444. Yes?—No.

26,445. Were you sent for to go up there?—Mr. Rothwell sent for me to go up there when I was mowing.

26,446. What did you do?—They asked me for a vote and I would not promise it.

26,447. Who was to ask for your vote there, was it Mr. Lawrence?—Yes.

26,448. You are sure it was Lawrence?—It was Rothwell that asked me to go.

26,449. But was it Mr. Lawrence who was to ask you for your vote?—Yes.

26,450. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you know Anthony Armer of Cockerham?—Yes.

26,451. Do you know what he got for his vote?—No.

26,452. Do you know Thomas Armer?—Yes.

26,453. Are they relations of yours?—Yes, my uncles.

26,454. Do you know anything about what they got for their votes?—No.

26,455. They never talked to you about it?—No.

26,456. (To John Armer.) Do you know Richard Armer?—Yes.

26,457. Is he your brother?—Yes.

26,458. Do you know what he got?—My wife took 10*l.* for him at the same time as she took mine.

26,459. Do you know what Anthony Armer got?—No.

James Parker sworn and examined.

J. Parker.

26,460. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A clog maker.

26,461. Where?—In Nicholas Street. I am on the register for James Street.

26,462. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

26,463. What did you get?—Nothing.

26,464. Nothing at all?—No.

26,465. Were you not on any committee?—No.

26,466. How came you to get nothing?—That is very soon answered; I never took no part in the election.

26,467. You voted?—Yes, of course I did.

26,468. Did not anybody offer you anything?—Yes, I could have had money if I had chosen.

26,469. Who offered it to you?—Mr. Cross.

26,470. What did he offer to you?—It was on the nomination day.

26,471. I do not care when it was, what was it that he offered?—He did not state any sum.

26,472. What did he say?—He asked me if I was going to take part in the election on the polling day, and he asked would I take a sovereign or two for expenses, and I said, "No, I was not going to take any part."

26,473. Did you have any offer from the other side?—No.

26,474. You did not get on any committee?—No.

26,475. Do you really tell us that you received nothing?—Yes.

26,476. (Mr. Barstow.) You say Mr. Cross made you the offer?—I simply met him in the street and he asked me if I would take a sovereign or two for expenses.

26,477. (Mr. Hill.) Are you quite sure that you got nothing?—Yes.

26,478. (Mr. Barstow.) Most likely the summons has miscarried. It was meant for another James Parker.—There is only one James Parker, clog maker; there is a William Shepherd Parker, Penny Street, but he took no part in the election.

26,479. You cannot say whether he got anything or not?—Yes, I am sure he got nothing.

26,480. What makes you sure about it?—Because I was with him all the polling day and a good part of the day before.

26,481. How did you vote at Fenwick and Saunders's election?—Fenwick and Saunders.

26,482. Did you get anything?—No, except I came from Bolton Moors and got second-class fare.

26,483. You never got anything for your vote?—No.

26,484. How many times have you voted?—I voted at Greene, Gregson, and Ellis's elections.

26,485. That was in July 1852?—Yes.

JOHN MARSDEN recalled and further examined. J. Marsden.

26,486. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand you wish to make some statement?—Yes. I mentioned in my evidence before the names of two parties whom I did not pay.

26,487. Which are those?—Parkinson was one and Reuben Pimm the other.

26,488. Those are your sins of omission. You have some of commission I suppose?—Yes, the two Talbots.

26,489. Parkinson and Reuben Pimm were paid by Bleasdale?—No; Parkinson was paid by Bleasdale, and Reuben Pimm by Mr. Welch.

26,490. Mr. Henry Welch?—Yes. Richard and Joseph Talbot I paid, but did not account for them; I believe also I gave Mr. Bleasdale 3*l.*

26,491. What did you pay the Talbots?—10*l.*

26,492. You gave them each 10*l.*?—Yes.

JOHN DICKENSON sworn and examined. J. Dickenson.

26,493. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A shoemaker.

26,494. Where do you live?—Spring Garden Street.

26,495. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,496. Did you get anything for your vote?—5*l.* 15*s.* altogether.

26,497. Who gave it to you?—Roger Wright gave me 5*l.*, and 15*s.* I got at Mr. Tilly's office the Saturday night before the election.

26,498. Have you anything else to tell us?—No, that is all.

26,499. Are you a journeyman shoemaker?—Yes.

JOHN ELLERSHAW sworn and examined. J. Ellershaw.

26,500. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A grocer and farmer.

26,501. Where do you live?—At Skerton.

26,502. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

26,503. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

26,504. Were you on any committee?—I was one of the captains of Skerton.

26,505. What did you get for being captain of Skerton?—Nothing.

26,506. Come, come?—You will see I have told you the truth.

26,507. Then tell me the truth?—I tell you I got nothing.

26,508. Nothing at all?—No.

26,509. No thanks?—No, no thanks.

26,510. Are you anything else besides a grocer?—Yes, I am a farmer.

26,511. Are you a freeman?—No, a householder, and have been ever since Salisbury's election. I have voted for the same side ever since.

26,512. You are mayor of Skerton, too, are you not?—I do not know.

26,513. But I want to know.—We have no mayor there.

26,514. Did you take an active part in the election?—Yes.

26,515. What part did you take?—I canvassed Skerton.

26,516. Did you get any money to canvass with?—No.

26,517. You are an exception to the rule?—I never tried for money; I could have got it if I wanted it, I daresay.

26,518. You thought smooth words would do better?—I did not try for any money.

26,519. Do you know a man of the name of Aldren?—Yes.

26,520. Did you see him about the election time?—Yes.

26,521. Where?—At the "Black Bull."

26,522. What was he doing there?—Helping, the same as me, I suppose.

26,523. What were you doing, helping to do what Aldren was doing?—I will tell you all about it; I know what you mean by Aldren.

26,524. I want to know what you were doing.—Ask me a question and I will tell you.

26,525. It will not do, there is no use in your trying to shuffle.—We canvassed Skerton along with Bakewell the night before.

26,526. Have you anything more to say?—No, nothing particular about that.

26,527. Have you anything more to say?—No, nothing more than that Robert Aldren and me each had 5*l.* for expenses. You will be so kind as to look at that paper (handing a paper to the Commissioners) and see how much I was out of pocket.

26,528. Then you did get 5*l.*; why did you tell me a deliberate falsehood?—I am not telling a falsehood.

26,529. I asked you what you got and you said "Nothing?"—You asked me what I got for voting.

26,530. I asked you for any purpose?—If that was the meaning I beg your pardon, I did not understand you. 3*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.* was for expenses for treating at Skerton. Mr. Bakewell was there at the time when they were eating the stuff.

26,531. To whom did you sell these goods?—It went to the "Hand and Heart" beershop you will see; Mrs. Winder fetched it herself.

26,532. Where from?—From me.

26,533. From your own house?—Yes.

26,534. You being a grocer sold them these things?—Yes, or rather my sister did. I was not at home then; she is manager of the shop.

26,535. 1*l.* 14*s.* 3*d.*?—Yes, there was 1*s.* I let Richard Willacy, a voter, have.

26,536. To whom did you send in this bill?—I never sent it to no person because I knew I was paid when I had 5*l.* for expenses.

26,537. You were paid at the time?—Yes.

26,538. How did you spend the 5*l.*?—There is 3*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.* for expenses in Skerton.

26,539. What sort of expenses?—For drink.

26,540. You did go drinking with these people?—Treating men and women, and such like.

26,541. You did go treating?—Yes, I did, a week before the election. I kept company with many of the working men.

26,542. About this bill of 1*l.* 14*s.* 3*d.*, how much of it was for your vote?—Nothing. It is a true bill that. I never had a penny in my life for voting.

26,543. Whose goods are these?—My sister and me keeps the shop together. My sister served them out.

26,544. This is your handwriting?—Yes, I made the bill out this morning from a little ticket she had.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.

J. Ellershaw.

24 Sept. 1866.

26,545. You made it out this morning ?—Yes, I did, and it is correct. It was ordered by William Atkinson, and he will not deny it, you will see.

26,546. I suppose the houses in Skerton were open during the whole of the time ?—There were only two belonging to our party. Mr. Bakewell, Mr. Carruthers, and me called at the "Millstone," "Royal Oak," and the "Blue Anchor," and we paid for everything as we got it. Mr. Carruthers paid for what was got there.

26,547. (Mr. Hill.) How much did Mr. Carruthers pay ?—Carruthers lent Bakewell a pound.

26,548. And that was to pay for treating while you three were together ?—He threw 30*s.* away at the "Blue Anchor" where there was no call for it.

26,549. What do you call throwing it away ?—He gave it to the landlady to treat people with where there was no chance of getting a vote.

26,550. That is nothing to do with you. You gave him a pound ?—No, Mr. Carruthers lent Bakewell a pound.

26,551. Neither Bakewell nor Carruthers got any money out of you ?—No, only what I spent.

26,552. When did you get the 5*l.* ?—The afternoon after the election.

26,553. When did you begin to spend money of your own ?—A week before the time.

26,554. Who gave you the order to do it ?—Well, I have always done so at every election.

26,555. Who gave you the order ?—I had different notes from the committee to help them.

26,556. Have you got any of the notes here ?—I had no orders to spend money.

26,557. Were you in the habit of spending money out of your own pocket without having an order ?—I have done so.

26,558. Is it your custom to spend money without having an order ?—I am not particular about spending a few shillings at any time.

26,559. Did you know from where you were to get it back again ?—I did not care whether I got it back or not.

26,560. Am I to understand from you that you were willing to spend 4*l.* or 5*l.* without knowing where you were to get it back again ?—I would rather do that than take 4*l.* or 5*l.* from the side I belong to.

26,561. Were you willing to be laying out 4*l.* or 5*l.* out of your own pocket without knowing where to get it back from ?—I never thought about it.

26,562. Tell me when you spent 10*s.*?—I spent 15*s.* on the nomination day.

26,563. Where at ?—At Skerton and Lancaster.

26,564. On yourself ?—I could not drink 15*s.* worth in one day.

26,565. I do not know that. How much did you spend on yourself ?—Perhaps 3*d.* or 6*d.* I should get a glass along with the rest.

26,566. Every house was open that you went to on the nomination night ?—Not for us.

26,567. How do you mean not for you ? You cannot tell me where you spent anything beyond that? —In Skerton, at the "Royal Oak."

26,568. Tell me another place ?—I was at the "Old Sir Simon's" for another place.

26,569. You did not spend much there ?—Not above a shilling or so.

26,570. Why did you not tell them to put it to the account ?—I do not think they were on our side.

26,571. Do you mean to say you could not have had whatever you liked at the "Old Sir Simon's ?"—I do not think so.

26,572. Out of the 5*l.* that is a shilling we have got to. Now give me another shilling you spent ?—There is a man of the name of William Helme, a sawyer at Skerton, who has cost me three or four shillings.

26,573. Has he been called ?—No, I think not.

26,574. How much has he cost you ?—I really cannot say, not to come to particulars.

26,575. What did Helme get, do you know ?—I believe he got 8*l.*, but I believe Mr. Bakewell says 10*l.*

26,576. And he got 4*s.* or 5*s.* from you ?—Yes, I should think so, at different times.

26,577. Not to go further with that, when did you get the 5*l.* paid to you ?—On the election day in the afternoon.

26,578. After you had voted ?—Yes, I voted in good time in the forenoon.

26,579. You knew you were coming up this morning ?—Yes.

26,580. Were you summoned ?—No.

26,581. You came here of your own accord ?—No, I heard that my name was called on on Saturday, but I have never received any summons.

26,582. You came here without being summoned, and before coming you took the precaution of making out this bill ?—Yes, I copied it from a little ticket of my sister's.

26,583. I see 15*s.* 8*d.* is for your own ham ; 5*s.* 2*d.* for your own cheese ; 4*s.* 6*d.* for your own eggs ; 1*s.* 5*d.* for your own butter; 3*d.* for your own biscuits, and 6*d.* for milk ?—Yes, that was for the breakfast.

26,584. At the "Heart and Hand ?"—Yes.

26,585. You supplied it ?—Yes.

26,586. Did the "Heart and Hand" send in a bill for it ?—I do not know. They never asked me.

26,587. Did the "Heart and Hand" get paid for it ?—I believe not.

26,588. From what did you make out this bill ?—From a strip of paper.

26,589. Why did you not bring the strip?—Because my sister is not a very good writer.

26,590. Can you read her writing ?—No, I scarcely can.

26,591. Who wrote this ?—I did.

26,592. Yours is not the very best of writing. We do not generally spell cheese "ches ?"—The bill is correct, if it is not rightly spelt.

26,593. Why did you not bring the strip of paper ? —If I had thought you wanted it I would have brought it.

26,594. (Mr. Barstow.) What do you farm?—I do not farm any land. It is my own.

26,595. How many acres ?—I occupy about 11 and let five.

26,596. You have 16 acres of freehold ?—Yes.

26,597. By whom were you paid the 5*l.* ?—By Mr. Bakewell.

26,598. Did Mr. Bakewell know what you had spent ?—Yes, he knew about the stuff I have mentioned.

26,599. Did he know how much you had spent ?—I suppose so. He saw the frying pan going at work the night before.

R. Watkinson.

RICHARD WATKINSON sworn and examined.

26,600. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

26,601. What did you get for your vote ?—10*l.*

26,602. From whom ?—Mr. Slater. I suppose it was Mr. Slater, but I did not know him then.

26,603. Were you on any committee ?—I got 1*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* for being on Fenwick and Schneider's committee.

26,604. Did you get anything else ?—No ; there is 30*s.* put down to me for George Danson, but he never gave me a halfpenny in his life. I see it in the supplement.

26,605. (Mr. Newton.) How do you know George Danson said so ?—It is in his statement.

26,606. You read it in the paper ?—Yes.

26,607. What are you ?—A brushmaker.

26,608. A journeyman ?—Yes.

JOHN JOHNSON sworn and examined. J. Johnson.

23,609. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you ?—A cabinet maker.

26,610. Where do you live ?—I lived in Southport during the election.

26,611. For whom did you vote at the last election? —For Mr. Lawrence.

26,612. What did you get ?—5l.

26,613. Altogether ?—Yes.

26,614. Including your expenses from Southport ? —That is what I got altogether.

26,615. Of course your expenses from Southport would be nothing like 5l. ?—No.

26,616. You got nothing but 5l. ?—No.

JOHN HARTLEY sworn and examined. J. Hartley.

26,617. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live ?—In St. Leonard Gate.

26,618. You are a householder ?—Yes.

26,619. How did you vote at the last election ?— For Mr. Lawrence.

26,620. How much did you get for your vote ?— Nothing.

26,621. How many committees were you upon ?— None.

26,622. You were on no committee, either for Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Fenwick, or Mr. Schneider ?—No.

26,623. What did you get for your assistance ?— Nothing. I gave no assistance.

26,624. Did you help anybody ?—I did not.

26,625. Did anybody come to you to ask you for your vote ?—Well, they did. Mr. Lawrence did, and the other parties also, Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

26,626. Did George Danson ever come to you ?— No, not without he came along with theparties.

26,627. Did he ever ask you to be put upon the committee ?—No; no person ever asked me anything of the sort.

26,628. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you get nothing at all ? —Nothing whatever, and I would not have taken anything if I had been offered it.

WILLIAM PROCTER sworn and examined. W. Procter.

26,629. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A smith.

26,630. You are not a householder, are you ?—No, not at present.

26,631. For whom did you vote at the last election ? —For Fenwick and Schneider.

26,632. What did you get ?—8l.

26,633. Did you get anything on any committee ?— No.

26,634. Was 8l. all that you got ?—Yes.

26,635. From whom did you get it ?—A man at the "White Lion." I cannot say who he was.

WILLIAM IRELAND sworn and examined. W. Ireland.

26,636. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live ?—In Common Garden.

26,637. What are you ?—A labourer.

26,638. For whom did you vote at the last election ? —Mr. Lawrence.

26,639. What did you get ? — 12*l.*, and 1*l.* from Mr. Danson.

WILLIAM TROUT sworn and examined. W. Trout.

26,640. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live ?—On Castle Hill.

26,641. For whom did you vote at the last election ? —Mr. Lawrence.

26,642. What did you get for your vote ?—10*l.*

26,643. Who paid you ?—I do not know.

26,644. Where was the money paid ? — At the "Black Bull" at Skerton.

26,645. Were you on any committee ?—Yes.

26,646. What did you get for that ?—1*l.*

26,647. Who paid you that ?—Mr. Danson.

26,648. You got 11*l.* altogether ?—Yes.

26,649. Are you a twine spinner ?—Yes, and I got 10*s.* from Mr. Cross.

26,650. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you been a clerk ?— No.

EDWARD BARROW sworn and examined. E. Barrow.

26,651. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ? — A master mariner.

26,652. There is one of your name a mariner and the other a master mariner; are you the master mariner ?—Yes.

26,653. Living in Borrowdale Road, Lancaster ?— Yes.

26,654. For whom did you vote at the last election ? —Lawrence.

26,655. What did you get ?—Nothing.

26,656. Did you get nothing at all ?—No, nothing.

26,657. Were you not on any committee ?—No.

26,658. Were you never spoken to about receiving money for your vote ?—No.

26,659. You have not been summoned here, have you ?—No.

JOSIAH TIMMIS SMITH sworn and examined. J. T. Smith.

26,660. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Barrow ?—Yes.

26,661. Are you in the employment of the Hæmatite Steel Iron Company ?—Yes.

26,662. In 1865 were you in the employ of Schneider, Hanney, and Co. ?—Yes.

26,663. We have been told by Mr. Milner that at some time previous to the election of 1865 you brought some money to his shop ?—Yes.

26,664. How many times have you brought money to Lancaster ?—Only that once.

26,665. Are we to understand that that is the only occasion upon which you brought money from Barrow to Lancaster ?—That was the only time that I was in Lancaster during the election period

26,666. That answers my question inferentially ; but I wish to have it answered specifically. Have you never except at that one time brought money from Barrow to Lancaster ?—No.

26,667. From whom did you receive that money?— I got it from our office.

26,668. The office did not give it to you ; from whose hand did you receive it ?—From the cashier's hand.

26,669. What is his name ?—Bigg ; part of it I got from him, and part I had of my own money.

26,670. What is Bigg's christian name ?—James.

26,671. Is he still in the employment of the Hæmatite Steel Iron Company ?—Yes.

26,672. In the same employment of cashier ?—Yes.

26,673. How much money did you receive from him ?—I do not know how much I received from him. I know the entire amount I brought.

26,674. How did you receive it from him ?—In gold.

26,675. But in what manner did you receive it ?—I asked him to give me what money he had by him and to charge me with it.

26,676. What authority had you to ask him to give you what money he had by him ?—I was the responsible agent of the company, and I got anything that I asked for.

26,677. You say you are the responsible agent of

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.

J. T. Smith.

24 Sept. 1866.

the company. What was your employment?—I was general manager of the company.

26,678. Had you authority to direct the cashier to pay you whatever sums you chose?—Yes.

26,679. Was this money given to you openly into your own hand, or was it given to you wrapped up in any manner?—Some of it, I daresay, was open, and some of it I recollect was wrapped up in the usual way in which we received gold from the bank in 50*l.* packets.

26,680. In rouleaux?—Yes.

26,681. How much of it was in rouleaux?—I have no idea. I know accurately the amount that I took from the office; but I do not know in what shape it came.

26,682. Was it in a bag, or was it put into your pocket loose?—I cannot recollect. I got it at several times.

26,683. Did you take any account of it at the time you got it?—No more than to make a memorandum.

26,684. Have you that memorandum here?—No. I have it not in existence. I did not keep it; I simply took a memorandum of the amounts I received, and when I had got the amount that Mr. Schneider desired me to get I charged him with it, and there was an end, as far as I was concerned, of the transaction.

26,685. Why did you get this amount at several times?—Because we had not the amount that I had to get at the office at any one time, and I collected it during two or three weeks from the spare cash that we had and the spare cash that we received.

26,686. In what sort of sums did you collect it?—I do not recollect, perhaps I got it at four or five times.

26,687. But in what sort of sums?—100*l.* or 200*l.* at a time.

26,688. Till it amounted to what sum?—1,000*l.*

26,689. Was that the sum that you told us Mr. Schneider desired you to collect?—Yes.

26,690. Please to tell us, as near as you can remember them, what Mr. Schneider's directions were to you?—He told me to get him 1,000*l.*

26,691. When was this?—Perhaps a month before the election. It might be more, about a month.

26,692. Give us the time as nearly as you can remember?—I cannot remember the time nearer than that.

26,693. You say "about a month before the election Mr. Schneider desired me to get him 1,000*l.*?"—Yes, in gold.

26,694. Was that all that he said to you?—Yes.

26,695. Was it really all. Did you ask him how you were to get it?—No, he knew how I should get it.

26,696. I presume it would have been quite possible for you to have got on Mr. Schneider's credit 1,000*l.* in a quarter of an hour, would it not?—Yes, if it had been necessary.

26,697. Did he give you any directions as to how you were to get it?—No, none whatever.

26,698. How did it happen that you got it in these comparatively small sums?—Because they were such sums as we could spare out of our usual transactions at the office.

26,699. Why did you adopt that mode of collecting the 1,000*l.*?—Because it was the easiest way that presented itself to me of getting that amount in gold.

26,700. There are many mysteries in business matters. That would not have presented itself to my mind as being the easiest mode of getting it. You might have gone to the bank and got it, might you not?—Yes, but there was no necessity for that. I had plenty of time to get it. Mr. Schneider wanted it in about a fortnight.

26,701. How did you know that?—He told me so.

26,702. And then you collected it as you have told us?—Yes.

26,703. In a fortnight?—Yes, about a fortnight.

26,704. You have told us that you added a sum of money of your own to it?—Yes.

26,705. How much of your own did you add to it?—I do not know the proportion.

27,706. Tell us about how much.—I have no idea. The full amount that I had to get was 1,000*l.* I collected it in the most convenient way I could, and as soon as I had paid it away I charged it to Mr. Schneider and got my portion of it back.

26,707. You tell us now that Mr. Schneider said he wanted 1,000*l.* in a fortnight. Did he tell you what he wanted it for?—I cannot say what he said about that. It is possible that he would say something to me with respect to the purpose for which it was to be used. He might say it was for the general purposes of the election, but as to any particular expenditure he never named it to me in any way.

26,708. Did he say that it was for the general purposes of the election?—I am not sure, but I daresay he did.

26,709. Did he mention the election at the time he gave you the order to get the money?—I cannot tell indeed. These conversations were not impressed upon my mind. I took no interest in the matter.

26,710. Is it so common a thing for you to be required to get 1,000*l.* in gold for the purposes of the election, as you knew that to be, that you would let it slip from your memory?—I do not quite understand the question.

26,711. Is it so common a thing with you to get 1,000*l.* in gold, for the purposes of an election, that you have let all the conversation relating to it slip from your memory?—I never got any for an election before.

26,712. Then is it a thing which would be likely to impress itself upon your memory?—Not the details of the conversation. I was not in Mr. Schneider's confidence in any way respecting the election.

26,713. Surely you were in his confidence so far that he desired you to get him 1,000*l.* in a fortnight for the purpose of the election?—I daresay he did, but I cannot recollect the conversation that occurred. When he asked me to get this money he must have told me that it was for the purpose of the election, because I knew it was for that purpose.

26,714. You say he must have told you that it was for the purpose of the election. Why must he have told you that it was for the purpose of the election?—I knew it was for the purpose of the election, and I must have known it in that way.

26,715. That answer I confess I do not understand?—Mr. Schneider told me to get him this money.

26,716. You knew that it was for the purpose of the election, and you could not have known that it was for the purpose of the election unless Mr. Schneider had told you so?—I think not.

26,717. What direction did Mr. Schneider give you with reference to this sum of money?—To keep it until he asked me for it. At least I believe that was it, but I am not certain as to that.

26,718. How long did you keep it before you gave it to him?—I think it was ten days or a fortnight.

26,719. Before I go into this part of the subject I will ask you whether you have given the conversation between Mr. Schneider and yourself as accurately as you can remember it?—I have.

26,720. You kept this money for ten days or a fortnight?—Yes.

26,721. And then we may take it that Mr. Schneider gave you some directions with reference to it?—He asked me to bring the amount that I had to Lancaster, which I took to Mr. Milner's.

26,722. Do you remember the date?—I do not. I had not time to turn up my diary this morning. I only got the summons at 11 o'clock, and came away directly.

26,723. You kept a diary of these transactions, did you?—I should have a diary as to when I came to Lancaster, that will be all.

26,724. What did he say to you when he desired you to bring the money to Lancaster?—He told me to meet him at Lancaster.

26,725. Do you remember his words?—No.

26,726. Where were you to meet him?—At the station.

26,727. At the Lancaster station?—Yes.

26,728. Did you meet him there?—Yes.

26,729. At what time in the day did you meet him?—I think it was 3 o'clock.

26,730. Had you any conversation with him then?—Not much.

26,731. Had you any?—I had some, because I was with him a few minutes.

26,732. What was the conversation that you had with him?—I do not recollect anything more of the conversation than his directing me to take it to Mr. Milner's house, to leave that parcel there and say it was for Mr. Welch.

26,733. Did you take it to Milner's house?—Yes.

26,734. Did you go to Milner's house before you went to Welch's?—I did not go to Welch's.

26,735. When you went to Milner's did you see anyone there?—Only Mr. Milner.

26,736. And you delivered the parcel to him?—Yes.

26,737. In what shape did you deliver the parcel to him? How was it wrapped up, or what was the outward form of it?—I think it was a paper parcel.

26,738. Do you know what the contents of that parcel were?—Yes.

26,739. What were they?—710*l.*

26,740. What had become of the difference?—I gave it to Mr. Schneider.

26,741. You say the sum was 710*l.* exactly?—I believe so. I saw in the paper the other day that it was 710*l.* 10*s.*, but I thought it was 710*l.*

26,742. How much money do you remember you gave to Mr. Schneider?—290*l.*

26,743. Where did you give it to him?—I do not recollect where I gave it to him. It was two or three days before that time.

26,744. You gave him 290*l.* Where was it, in London or in Lancaster, or where?—I do not recollect where it was. He was often at the works, and sometime I saw him at Ulverston. I do not recollect whether it was in Ulverston or at Barrow, that I gave it to him.

26,745. Was it north of the sands that you gave it to him?—Yes. I do not recollect the circumstances attending my giving him that amount, and I only know it was 290*l.*, because the 710*l.* that was in the bag at Milner's I considered to be the balance of the 1,000*l.*

26,746. Did he ask you for no specific sum when you gave him this 290*l.*?—No, it was what I happened to have. I had collected that much in gold then, and gave him what I happened to have with me.

26,747. How long would that be before you brought this parcel of 710*l.* to Lancaster?—I do not recollect how many days it was before, but it was some time between the time of his asking me to get the money and coming to Lancaster. Perhaps it was a week before.

26,748. It was some time between the time when he had asked you to collect the sum of 1,000*l.* and the time when you came to Lancaster?—Yes. I had no more than 290*l.* when I gave it him first.

26,749. You gave Mr. Schneider all that you had then?—Yes.

26,750. How long was it after you gave Mr. Schneider this 290*l.* that you collected the balance of the 1,000*l.*, that is, the 710*l.* making up the gross sum of 1,000*l.*?—It might be a week.

26,751. (Mr. Hill.) It might be a week?—It was a month before the election when I was told to collect it, and I gave it all up about a fortnight before.

(Mr. Barstow.) In point of fact you are wrong about that.

26,752. (Mr. Hill.) It was about a month before the election that you began to collect, you say?—Yes.

26,753. And you had given it all up within a fortnight?—The day I went to Milner's was about a fortnight before the election, I believe.

26,754. (Mr. Barstow.) And we may say that it was between a month and a fortnight before the election that Mr. Schneider asked you for whatever you had collected?—Yes.

26,755. Was it nearer a week, or was it only a few days after you had begun to collect?—It was only a fortnight in the whole.

26,756. Did you collect this money in pretty even sums?—No, I think not. I do not recollect. 200*l.* or 300*l.*, as I said before, I might get from the office, and 50*l.* at another time, and so on just as it happened.

26,757. But at what time did you give this 290*l.* to Mr. Schneider?—I do not recollect.

26,758. Was it a very short time before you came to Lancaster?—It must have been some days before, because I collected the larger amount on the day I went there.

26,759. I asked you if you had collected it in pretty even sums. Was the collection of it spread evenly over the time of a fortnight?—No, it could not be.

26,760. I do not see why not?—Because I gave 290*l.* to Mr. Schneider a week after he asked me, and in a week after I found the 710*l.*

26,761. That is what I asked you some time ago?—I did not understand it in that way.

26,762. What did Mr. Schneider do with this 290*l.*?—I do not know.

26,763. So far as you saw, what did he do with it?—I do not recollect the time of my giving it him or anything about it.

26,764. Do you really mean to say that you do not recollect any of the circumstances?—I have not the slightest idea when I gave him that amount.

26,765. How do you know that you gave it to him then?—Only by knowing that I took the balance to Lancaster, and the exact amount was 1,000*l.*

26,766. Did you examine the amount that you took to Lancaster?—Yes. I put in the exact amount to make up the 1,000*l.* that I charged him with.

26,767. Then you only know that that was the 290*l.* by knowing that the balance was 710*l.*?—Yes, I only know it in that way now, I knew it at that time by my memorandum.

26,768. You have a memorandum then?—I had at that time.

26,769. Did you enter this in your diary?—No, I did not make any entries or memorandums sufficient to account for my charging him with 1,000*l.*

26,770. What was your reason for not making a memorandum of this in your diary?—It is a travelling diary in which I should make a memorandum of my coming to Lancaster, but not of what I did in Lancaster.

26,771. The memorandum would be that you went on such a day to Lightburne House, and that on such a day you went to Ulverstone?—Yes.

26,772. Would you not go on to say, "and gave "290*l.* to Mr. Schneider?"—No.

26,773. You would put down a memorandum that you went to the place, but the object of your going there you would omit to mention?—I should not have thought it worth while to put it down at the time.

26,774. Do you really mean to say that you thought it so immaterial a thing that you would not mention it in your diary?—It was perfectly immaterial to me when I got it back again; I took no particle of interest in the matter.

26,775. You say that part of this sum was furnished by yourself to Mr. Schneider?—Yes.

26,776. How much was that?—I do not know the proportion, but I know that I got 100*l.* or 200*l.* or so in gold out of the bank on my own account, as part of that 1,000*l.*

26,777. Out of what bank?—The Lancaster Bank.

26,778. (Mr. Hill.) Which branch?—At Barrow.

26,779. (Mr. Barstow.) Then this money was repaid to you by Mr. Schneider. When was it repaid to you?—Immediately after the 1,000*l.* was completed, I believe.

26,780. Before the election?—I think so; I am not sure of the day; but the moment the transaction was complete I charged it to him, and the matter was put straight in our office.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.

J. T. Smith.

24 Sept. 1866.

26,781. Where were you repaid?—I was repaid in the office.

26,782. (Mr. Hill.) By whom?—I received it in money from the office, the amount that I found for Mr. Schneider, and when the amount came up to 1,000*l.* it was charged to him.

26,783. (Mr. Barstow.) But you advanced some of your own money, and that you say was repaid by Mr. Schneider shortly before the election?—No, excuse me. It was not paid to me direct; the only transaction that appeared on the books with Mr. Schneider was 1,000*l.* The gold that I found myself I repaid out of my own cash.

26,784. (Mr. Hill.) You said you got 100*l.* or 200*l.* from your own account in the bank. How was that repaid to you?—Out of the office.

26,785. By cheque or in cash, or in what way?—In cash.

26,786. And you paid it back into the bank to your account?—I do not know.

26,787. (Mr. Barstow.) It was repaid in the office?—Yes.

26,788. Who repaid you?—The cashier, Mr. Bigg.

26,789. When was it repaid you?—I do not know, immediately after the transaction was completed. I do not know how many days.

26,790. Surely you must know how it was repaid to you?—It was repaid to me, my own amount was repaid in the way I have just stated.

26,791. You have not stated any way except that it was repaid by Bigg the cashier?—By cash that we had in the office.

26,792. Do you mean that this money was repaid you out of the cash box?—Yes.

26,793. (Mr. Hill.) And no entry made of it in the books?—There was nothing but a memorandum kept between him and me of the amounts that I took.

26,794. Between whom and yourself?—The cashier.

26,795. (Mr. Barstow.) When you lent this money to Mr. Schneider did you take any security from him?—No.

26,796. No memorandum?—No.

26,797. No I O U?—No.

26,798. What did you do with the money when it was repaid to you?—The money was not mine.

26,799. I cannot make myself understood. You have just answered me, "I was repaid in our office by "Bigg the cashier. I was repaid by cash?"—To the extent of the money I got on my own account out of the Lancaster Bank.

26,800. That is exactly what I ask you?—I really do not know what I did with it when I got it back.

26,801. Did you put it in your pocket and spend it?—No.

26,802. What did you do with it?—I believe I sent it to the bank again, but I have no knowledge or recollection whether I did or not, in all probability I should.

26,803. (Mr. Hill.) Have you got your bank book here?—No, I have not.

26,804. (Mr. Barstow.) You really do not know what you did with it?—No, I do not.

26,805. When you took this money to Lancaster you took it to Mr. Milner's; what did you then say to him?—I said I had been desired to leave this parcel for Mr. Welch.

26,806. You had known Milner before, had you not?—I had seen him once.

26,807. That was on the occasion of Mr. Schneider entertaining some Lancaster people, was it not?—Yes.

26,808. Where?—At Barrow, the Barrow works.

26,809. What was the conversation?—Mr. Milner rather objected to receive it.

26,810. Well?—I left it on the table and said that those were my instructions, and then walked away.

26,811. That was all that passed?—I believe so.

26,812. Are you quite sure that that was all that passed between you and Milner?—I believe I said nothing else.

26,813. Then I suppose you reported what you had done?—I did not see Mr. Schneider again afterwards that day, I came home.

26,814. When did you see Mr. Schneider again?—I am not sure whether I saw him at all before the election, I think not.

26,815. Then did you give no account to anyone what you had done with the money?—No, I left it there by his directions, that was enough for me.

26,816. And you did not think it necessary to say what you had done with it?—I had no one else to tell.

26,817. You had Mr. Schneider to tell?—He knew that I went by his directions.

26,818. Did you tell him that you had complied with his directions?—I did not see him afterwards.

26,819. But you might have written to him?—I did not write to him.

26,820. I forgot to ask you how long you have been in the employ of Schneider, Hannay, and Company, and the Hæmatite Steel Iron Company?—Seven years.

26,821. Did you come here on the election day?—No.

26,822. Was the visit you have told us of (I mean your own visit to Lancaster) during the election time?—I believe so, I believe I have not been in Lancaster since until to-day, unless it has been coming through by the train.

26,823. When you say you believe, do you know?—I believe I have not been here since; if I have been I do not recollect it. The only possibility of my having been in Lancaster would be getting here by the last train at night, and sleeping here and going away the next morning.

26,824. You must excuse me for saying that your evidence is very minute in some things and very diffuse in others?—I cannot help that.

26,825. Do you really mean to say that you cannot tell us?—My firm impression is that I have never been in Lancaster till to-day since then.

26,826. That does not answer my question, which is, whether that was the only occasion on which you came to Lancaster on business connected with the election?—It certainly was the only time.

26,827. Have you ever given any sums of money to anyone to bring to Lancaster?—No.

26,828. During the election time?—No.

26,829. Is this sum of 1,000*l.* which you have just told us of the only sum of which you are cognisant as having come to Lancaster for election purposes?—It is the only sum that came from our office that I know of, or from anywhere else that I know of.

26,830. Should you have the means of knowing if any other sum had left your office for election purposes?—I should.

26,831. Is it your habit from time to time to examine the books of your firm?—No.

26,832. It is not part of your business to do so?—It is not part of my business.

26,833. And you never do so?—I never do so. I have nothing to do with the private ledgers of the firm.

26,834. Have you nothing to do with the money matters of your firm?—Not the money matters between the partners.

26,835. I did not ask you as to that.—All the money matters as between the partners and the customers.

26,836. Have you access to all the books of the firm?—To all except their private books.

26,837. What do you mean by the private books?—Books that would be kept between the partners.

26,838. I suppose every entry as between the firm and the partners must appear in the books of the firm?—No, not the entries as between the partners; they do not appear in the books of the firm, except in one sum.

26,839. But as between the firm and the partners?—Yes.

26,840. Drawings by any partner?—Drawings by any partner appear.

26,841. But you answered just now that you had not access to the private books of the partners, which

I did not ask you about; have you access to all the books of the firm?—All except the private books which relate to the private transactions between the partners. When the balance is struck at the end of the year, and the amount is divided between the partners, I do not know how it is divided or what becomes of it.

26,842. Do you from time to time make an examination of those books, which I must call the books of the firm?—Not the books which would relate to the cash transactions; the only cash that I know anything about is the cash that is paid by people who receive our goods, and the cash that we pay for things that we buy.

26,843. Then I suppose it would be possible for money to be paid for other purposes (as for instance the purpose of an election) out of the funds of the firm and you know nothing about it?—It would have been possible to do so.

26,844. When you say it would have been possible to do so, you mean it would have been possible at the time of the election?—Yes, it could have been done.

26,845. Can you tell us who would know? Is there any clerk or any person in the employ of the company who would know of any payment made for the purpose of the election?—No.

26,846. Would the cashier, for instance?—No, Mr. Schneider drew it out so that we should not know what he did with it.

26,847. May I say, then, "If Mr. Schneider drew "money from the funds of the firm we should not "know what he did with it?"—Yes.

26,848. Would you know that he had drawn so much?—No.

26,849. Would the cashier?—Yes, the cashier would, but not Mr. Bigg; Mr. Hannay acted as cashier between themselves.

26,850. (Mr. Hill.) Was not Mr. Hannay a partner at that time?—Yes.

26,851. But he acted as the cashier partner?—Yes, as cashier.

26,852. (Mr. Newton.) Was Mr. Bigg under Mr. Hannay entirely?—No, not entirely.

26,853. Was he sub-cashier then?—Yes.

26,854. And Mr. Hannay would know of this money having been paid out to you?—No, he did not know till the 1,000*l.* was complete.

26,855. How was that?—Because he was not told.

26,856. You say Mr. Hannay was cashier?—Yes; when the 1,000*l.* transaction was complete Mr. Hannay was told about it, and he then charged Mr. Schneider with 1,000*l.*

26,857. Then it is charged in the books to Mr. Schneider alone?—Entirely.

26,858. You say it is entered in the books to Mr. Schneider alone?—Yes.

26,859. In what ledger would it appear?—In their private cash account.

26,860. What book would you call it?—It is called the private cash book.

26,861. (Mr. Hill.) This item of 1,000*l.* would appear in this private cash book?—Yes.

26,862. (Mr. Newton.) When was that known to Mr. Hannay?—It was known when I was repaid.

26,863. When was that?—It was immediately I had given up the money.

26,864. It was then known to Mr. Hannay?—Yes.

26,865. Was that previous to the election?—I am not sure to two or three days when I was repaid; I should think it was about the time of the election, within a day or two, but I do not know exactly when it was.

26,866. You told Mr. Barstow just now that you were quite sure that no money was sent out of the firm for the purposes of the election, because if there had been you would have known of it; will you explain that, if you please?—I only know of it because I have been told by both partners that it was so.

26,867. Then you do not know it of your own knowledge?—No.

26,868. Would it be possible for money to be paid by the firm without your knowing it?—Yes, it is competent for Mr. Schneider to draw money, but for what purpose it was drawn no one would know.

26,869. Then what do you mean by saying that it would be impossible for money to be paid without your knowing it?—I am not aware that I did know it.

26,870. You said it was impossible for money to be paid out of the partnership without your knowing it?—Then I did not understand the question in that way.

26,871. Then it is perfectly possible for money to be paid out of the firm without your knowing it?—Perfectly.

26,872. (Mr. Barstow.) You said, "I know this is "the only sum that came to Lancaster for the purposes "of the election?"—Yes.

26,873. And you said, "I have means of knowing "I have access to all the books of the firm except the "private books of the firm?"—I did not understand the question in that way; no doubt it is perfectly competent to Mr. Schneider to draw a cheque and take any money he likes.

26,874. You say there was only 100*l.* of this 1,000*l.* your own?—I do not know the amount.

26,875. Was Mr. Schneider in the habit of borrowing money from you?—No, I did not consider it was in the way of borrowing.

26,876. Answer my question, if you please, yes or no, was he in the habit of borrowing money from you?—Certainly not.

26,877. How came he on this occasion to borrow money from you?—He asked me to get this 1,000*l.* in gold.

26,878. How came he to borrow money from you?—He asked me to get 1,000*l.* in gold.

26,879. That is no answer to my question; my question is how came he to borrow money from you?—This that I got in gold on my own account was part of the 1,000*l.*

26,880. That is no answer to my question, how came he to borrow money from you?—I do not know.

26,881. Then why did you not say so at first? Why was it that Mr. Schneider borrowed money from you?—Mr. Schneider would not call it borrowing money, nor do I.

26,882. What do you call it then?—Certainly it is borrowed in a certain way, but I am repaid immediately I find it.

26,883. Is not that borrowing it?—It is.

26,884. How was it that this transaction took place?—It took place because I had 1,000*l.* to find in gold, and we had not 1,000*l.* in the office.

26,885. Why did you not say at once "We had not "1,000*l.* in the office." This is the first time we have heard of that. Now go on and tell the story?—A part of it I got from the Lancaster Bank.

26,886. Have you an account of your own with the Lancaster Bank?—Yes.

26,887. Are you in the habit of lending Mr. Schneider money?—No.

26,888. Or the firm?—No.

26,889. This was the only transaction of the sort?—The only one.

26,890. And you are not able to tell us within 100*l.* how much it was?—Not now.

26,891. What is the memorandum that you have got of this?—I have none.

26,892. I thought you said that you have a diary?—I have no memorandum of these money transactions whatever.

26,893. I thought you excused yourself for not having brought it by saying that you came away from home in a hurry?—That was with reference to the day that I was at Lancaster.

26,894. What made you destroy that memorandum?—I have not destroyed my diary as to the day when

I was in Lancaster. The memorandum that I made with respect to this money was of no further use when the 1,000*l.* was charged to Mr. Schneider and the transaction completed.

26,895. What made you destroy it?—Because it was of no use.

26,896. When did you destroy it?—I daresay the moment the transaction was ended.

26,897. When did you destroy it?—I cannot say any nearer than that.

26,898. Are you prepared to swear that you did destroy it then?—No, not at this moment; I am prepared to say that it was destroyed.

26,899. That is very likely to be the case; but the question is, when was it destroyed?—Immediately the transaction was completed.

26,900. Was it destroyed then?—Whether it was on that day or at that minute I cannot recllect.

26,901. You know perfectly well what I mean, was it destroyed then, or was it destroyed lately?—Then, of course.

26,902. Were not your suspicions very much aroused by Mr. Schneider having said he wanted 1,000*l.* in gold? Could he not have got that money within a fortnight in gold without asking his managing man to help him?—That was not my business; he asked me, and I did what he asked me to do.

26,903. You said that the firm had not 1,000*l.*?—Not in gold.

26,904. Were not your suspicions aroused?—In what way?

26,905. Do not ask me in what way; however, I will answer your question by putting to you whether it was a very unusual thing for Mr. Schneider to want 1,000*l.* in gold?—I knew that it was wanted for the purposes of the election.

26,906. It was commonly talked about?—You mean money being spent.

26,907. It was certainly talked about this money being wanted for the purposes of the election?—Yes, this 1,000*l.*, no one knew it but myself until it was given up.

26,908. Then it was talked about?—I do not know.

26,909. I ask you the question.—I think not; it was not known.

26,910. Will you swear positively that it was not known?—As far as I am concerned I swear that it was not known, except to our cashier and Mr. Hannay; he knew because the 1,000*l.* had to be paid by him, at least in the private ledger.

26,911. Are you prepared to swear that, so far as you know, nobody but the cashier and Mr. Hannay knew?—Yes, until it was given up.

26,912. Was it commonly known then?—No; I believe not. I never spoke about it.

26,913. (Mr. Hill.) You tell us that Mr. Hannay knew this because the amount had to be placed against Mr. Schneider in the private ledger?—Yes.

26,914. Then do I understand from you that whatever amounts are placed against Mr. Schneider in the private ledger are known to Mr. Hannay, or were known at that time?—Yes.

26,915. So that Mr. Hannay can give us a full account of all amounts placed at that time against Mr. Schneider in the private ledger?—Yes.

26,916. And the private ledger ought to show that?—Yes.

26,917. By the "private ledger" you mean the same thing as the private cash book?—It will be in both.

26,918. Which will it be entered into first? Will it be entered first into the private cash book and then posted into the ledger?—Yes.

26,919. This matter was arranged according to Mr. Schneider's orders between you and Mr. Bigg at the office?—No, not between me and Mr. Bigg at the office. It was arranged between Mr. Schneider and me that I should get the money.

26,920. And then you and Mr. Bigg arranged in what way it should be got?—Mr. Bigg did not know of the amount of 1,000*l.*

26,921. I do not ask that; but I presume you went to Mr. Bigg and told him you wanted some money, and that you wanted it for Mr. Schneider?—I am not sure that I did tell him I wanted it for Mr. Schneider. I do not think I did. I told Mr. Bigg to get me so much money in gold if he could.

26,922. Did Mr. Bigg, the first time you went to him, give you some money?—Yes.

26,923. Was that in gold?—Yes.

26,924. And did you tell Mr. Bigg to keep any gold he might have to spare and to hand it to you?—I did.

26,925. Do you mean to tell us that it was a fortnight before you could succeed in getting 800*l.* in gold from Mr. Bigg?—I did not get it all from Mr. Bigg. It was a fortnight before I succeeded in getting it because I had time to procure it. I could have got it in a day if I had wanted it.

26,926. Did not Mr. Schneider tell you to get it as soon as you could?—No; he said he should want it in a fortnight.

26,927. Did you arrange with Mr. Bigg to draw it out only in small sums at a time?—I told him to get more money on pay days than he required and to let me have the balance.

26,928. That, of course, was to prevent the bank from knowing that large advances in gold were being drawn out for any other purpose than the pay?—I took it in a way to prevent anyone knowing it.

26,929. Can you tell us then what amount of money is usually drawn out for the purposes of pay, or what was the usual amount at that time at the works?—Yes, I should think about 800*l.*

26,930. And how much of that would be wanted in gold?—I do not know the proportions that are got in gold.

26,931. Half?—More than that, I should think.

26,932. Five eighths?—More than that. I should say seven eighths. We pay all in gold and silver.

26,933. Some would be paid in notes, would they not?—No, none would be paid in notes. The entire wages are paid in gold and silver.

26,934. Do you mean, when you say 700*l.* or 800*l.*, per week or per fortnight?—It would be per fortnight.

26,935. Then you would require for the purposes of payment 800*l.* every fortnight in gold?—Yes.

26,936. Not much more than that?—Sometimes there were considerable amounts to pay besides the wages, perhaps 300*l.* or 400*l.*

26,937. But that would not require payment in gold?—No, not necessarily.

26,938. Generally would 800*l.* worth of gold be the amount required at the works per fortnight?—It depends on the men who have their accounts paid on pay days. We might have a contractor who wanted 200*l.* or 300*l.*, and to save him the trouble of getting it from the bank we should get it for him.

26,939. 1,000*l.* would be the outside?—Yes.

26,940. And if you wanted more than that you would tell Mr. Bigg of it?—Yes.

26,941. And Mr. Bigg no doubt would tell the bank?—Mr. Bigg would get a cheque to represent the amount we wanted.

26,942. And if he required any greater sum than that he would send to the bank, and say, "Please to "have a few hundred pounds more than usual in "sovereigns?"—No.

26,943. You do not know what takes place between Mr. Bigg and the bank?—Nothing takes place. All he does is to place the cheque in the bag and send it to the bank, and the money comes back.

26,944. Do you really mean to tell me that it took you a fortnight to collect this money at the office in spare gold?—In the office, and what I got.

26,945. I am speaking of the 800*l.*, apart from your own money. Was Mr. Bigg perfectly conscious of the purpose for which you were collecting this money?—I never told him.

26,946. Was he conscious of it?—He must have had an idea of it, I think.

26,947. Did you collect this money pretty well every day, or every other day, or every third day, or how?—Only three or four times.

26,948. You went to Mr. Bigg and asked him how much money he had got for you?—Yes.

26,949. Now just direct your attention, if you please, to this answer that you gave. You said that Mr. Schneider must have told you that it was for the purpose of the election. Tell us distinctly why you say he must have told you that it was for the purpose of the election?—I think it would have appeared to me an extraordinary request, if he had not said what he wanted it for.

26,950. You had never known him do such a thing for any other purpose?—No.

26,951. He would not have told you to collect gold in that way if it had been wanted for the purpose of buying a horse or a picture?—No.

26,952. Can you recollect what he said about the election, or why he wanted gold?—He did not say anything to me that I recollect about it.

26,953. He said nothing to lead you at all to the subject of the election?—No.

26,954. Do you mean to say that?—I do.

26,955. Did he call you apart privately and tell you to collect it?—I do not know that he called me apart. He had often an opportunity of seeing me without anybody else being by.

26,956. And it was some such opportunity as that he took?—I believe so.

26,957. You say you had never been engaged in any transaction of this nature before the period of the election?—Yes.

26,958. Were you with Mr. Schneider at the time when he stood for Norwich?—Yes, I was doing something for him. Yes, I must have been there during the time. It is seven years since I came to them.

26,959. Do you recollect his standing for Norwich?—Yes.

26,960. And were you in his employment at that time?—Yes.

26,961. Had you been engaged for him in any of the matters connected with the Norwich election?—In none whatever.

26,962. That you are certain of?—Certain.

26,963. Do you know which of the persons at your works had been so engaged?—None that I know of.

26,964. Do you not remember?—I am not aware that anyone connected with our concern was engaged with him at that election.

26,965. Now, calling that to mind, do you still say that you had never had anything to do with Mr. Schneider in election matters before?—Yes, I do.

26,966. You tell us that Mr. Schneider met you at the station at the 3 o'clock train?—Yes.

26,967. Can you tell us when it was that the arrangement had been made for you to meet him?—I do not recollect one. He had sent me word to come to meet him.

26,968. You must tell us, if you please, whether you repaid this money into your own account at the bank?—I could tell you if I had my pass-book here.

26,969. If you had been told to bring your pass-book you could have told us?—I believe so. I should have seen the entries that I had at that time.

26,970. Who brought the 300*l.* for Mr. Schneider to Lancaster?—The 290*l.*?

26,971. Yes?—I do not recollect how I gave it to him, but it was not at Lancaster.

26,972. You have heard the matter discussed since, and can tell, I think, who brought the 290*l.* over to Lancaster?—I have never seen it mentioned.

26,973. I do not ask you whether you have seen it or not?—I never read it then.

26,974. I ask you who brought that parcel over to Lancaster?—I do not think it was brought over. I believe I paid it myself, but I do not recollect where.

26,975. Do you believe that Mr. Schneider brought it over himself?—I suppose so. I believe I gave it to him myself.

26,976. Then, so far as you know, no person brought it from the works?—I am sure that no person brought it from the works.

26,977. Mr. Schneider was coming over to Lancaster at that time?—Of course he would be.

26,978. And to the best of your belief Mr. Schneider would have brought that money over himself, from what you recollect?—Yes.

26,979. How far is Mr. Schneider's house from the works?—Ten miles.

26,980. Do you often go to his house?—No.

26,981. I forget the name of it?—Lightburne House.

26,982. Do you think you should have recollected it if you had gone and taken the money to him at his house?—I do not think I should.

26,983. Did he when he was coming to Lancaster from his house come to the works first?—Yes; the works are between his house and Lancaster.

26,984. Then to the best of your belief would Mr. Schneider have taken the money from you at the works?—I have no recollection how I paid him that money.

26,985. Do you live at the works?—I live two miles from them.

26,986. You would not carry 290*l.* in gold about you in all probability?—No, I should not.

26,987. You would either have taken it to Mr. Schneider, or Mr. Schneider would have called at your house for it?—No clue, that I have, would enable me to recollect that transaction. I have no doubt that I gave him the money, but whether I gave it to him at Ulverston or at Barrow I do not know. He certainly did not come to my house for it.

26,988. Can you say as certainly that you did not go to his house with it?—I think I can.

26,989. Can you say as certainly that you did not give it him in the office?—I do not recollect where I gave it to him.

26,990. Wherever you gave it to him it would be just in passing for him to take on somewhere?—I suppose so.

26,991. And I understand you to say that you only know that it was 290*l.* and not 300*l.* on account of reading in the papers or hearing that the other sum was 710*l.*?—Not from reading it, but from knowing that 710*l.* was the balance of the 1,000*l.* that I brought to Lancaster.

26,992. You do not recollect that it was 710*l.*?—Yes, I do; but I saw it stated in the paper that it was 710*l.* 10*s.*

26,993. Have you a recollection of giving him 710*l.*?—I know it was 710*l.*; at least I counted it for 710*l.* I want to correct an answer that I gave before about getting money back from the office. I believe that I did get part of it back in a cheque. I stated that I got it back in cash. I am not at all sure about it.

26,994. You have said that you do not know of any other money coming from Barrow to Lancaster. Have you known of any money coming to Lancaster for the purposes of the election at all?—No, I have not.

26,995. Nothing coming "over sands" in any way?—No, not in any way.

26,996. And you have not brought any as far as Carnforth?—No.

26,997. There is no equivocation or reservation of that sort, I hope?—No, none whatever.

26,998. There is none?—I have given you the extent of my knowledge as far as the money to Lancaster is concerned.

26,999. Sometimes people excuse themselves by saying, "But you did not ask me if I brought it as far "as Carnforth." I ask you and you say that you have no reservation of that sort?—No, none whatever.

WENTY-FOURTH DAY.

C. Roberts.

Sept. 1866.

CHARLES ROBERTS sworn and examined.

27,000. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—I am barman at Mr. Rowcliffe's, of the "Hartington Hotel," at Barrow.

27,001. You are a voter for the borough of Lancaster?—Yes.

27,002. A freeman?—Yes.

27,003. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

27,004. How much did you get for your vote?—I got 8*l.* for my vote and 10*s.* for my expenses from Barrow.

27,005. Who paid you?—Mr. Moser for the expenses and Mr. Johnson for the vote.

W. Slater.

WILLIAM SLATER recalled and further examined.

27,006. (Mr. Hill.) You were over here at the election and were connected with Mr. Hoskins and another?—Yes.

27,007. What do you know of any money coming over from Barrow to Lancaster?—I know nothing of it.

27,008. What do you know of any money being brought from Barrow to Carnforth?—Not a word; not a single syllable about it in any way.

27,009. Was there no money over which you had any control at any time?—Not a farthing, only what I got here at Lancaster, the same as I told you before, not a farthing.

27,010. Do you pledge your oath distinctly to that?—I will, a hundred thousand times if you like.

27,011. I do not want you to do it a hundred thousand times; once is enough. I understand you to pledge your oath that there was no money at all that you know of that came from Barrow at all?—Not a farthing that I am aware of.

27,012. Or brought into Lancaster for the purposes of the election?—Mr. Hosking will have something to tell you about 100*l.*, but what it is I do not know. I had nothing to do with it.

27,013. How do you mean he will have something to say about it?—He will tell you something about it when he comes.

27,014. Have you not said to some persons since you were examined here by us that there was one point upon which you had not given your evidence?—Not that I know of.

27,015. You could not have said it and forgotten it?—No.

27,016. Did you not say to one person, "The Com-"missioners did not ask me one question; if they had "I should not have known how to answer it," or something to that effect?—Not that I am aware of.

27,017. Come.—I do not know that I did.

27,018. Do you mean to tell me that I am to write down that you did not say that, or words to that effect, to any person?—Not that I am aware of.

27,019. Did you not, after you left this court, say that there was one point on which you had not been questioned, or words to that effect?—No; I made two or three little discrepancies in my evidence which I wish to correct to-day. I told you that one John Case came with me in the railway carriage over the sands. He did not come, but he came by the train following.

27,020. Why do you draw that distinction?—By seeing him since, and he drew my attention to it. I said I could not swear whether he did or did not, but he said he did not. He says it was not as I said.

27,021. Is that really a point that has troubled your conscience very much?—No, not particularly, but I wished to right it as I was here. I also said that he slept in the same room at the "Old Sir Simon's," with Captain Hoskins and me, and he did not do that either; he slept in the room adjoining.

27,022. Had John Case anything to do with any money?—I believe not. He said, "Not a farthing." He told me so in my own house since I was examined. Then about Moser; I was sitting in court when he was called the second time. I could not account for 23*l.* and 12*l.* that you questioned me about, and if that memorandum of mine had not been destroyed, which I did destroy, it would have been shown to have been given to the voters and not to Moser, and the names of the voters would have appeared.

27,023. Give us the names of the voters.—I cannot do that; I have destroyed the lists.

27,024. Then I understand you to say that those sums of money, 23*l.* and 12*l.*, were paid to voters?—I knew when I heard Mr. Moser's explanation how it had occurred. It would be put down to each voter and not to him. I mentioned at the commencement of my examination before, having given Moser a sovereign, and I think you would not let me proceed with that. I know I mentioned it. You might not take a note of it, but I know I mentioned it particularly.

27,025. Was it at the beginning of your evidence?—Yes; I paid him another account which he gave me, a sort of bill, but what that was I cannot speak to positively.

27,026. Do you not recollect how many voters you paid with this 35*l.*?—No, I do not.

27,027. (Mr. Barstow.) You mentioned that you paid him other sums?—Yes; but I paid him 1*l.* and a bill besides. When I got home I had the bill in my pocket and sent it to Mr. Blades in a letter, wishing him to give it to Moser, thinking it might be of use.

27,028. Would that 35*l.* be to three or to two voters?—I do not know, but Moser said it was to several; 6*l.*, 7*l.*, 5*l.*, and on in that way.

27,029. Have you had any talk about this matter with "Jenkins" Baines since you were examined?—I have seen him.

27,030. You have talked it over, of course?—Yes; but he did not know what I did, and I did not know what he did.

27,031. But you did talk the matter over with him?—Yes, at my own house.

27,032. Have you not spoken to him about something that you did not tell the Commissioners?—Not that I am aware of.

27,033. It is only a fortnight since you were examined; now just tell me what it was?—I do not know.

27,034. Yes, we shall be sure to hear of it somehow or other.—I would gladly answer if I knew what it was.

27,035. What is the topic upon which we have not ouched? It will come better from your lips than from us?—I do not know of any.

27,036. What makes you say to the best of your recollection you did not say so?—I say I do not know of anything that was left untouched.

27,037. Why you have said that to Mr. Baines; may you have said to him that there was one point that you had not told the Commissioners about?—I do not think I could.

27,038. Is it possible that you may have said so?—I cannot give you the slightest answer to that question, not in that way.

27,039. Cannot you say whether it is possible or not?—I do not know that there is anything that was left untouched.

27,040. Is it possible that you may have said, "There is one thing that I did not tell the Commis-"sioners, and I am very glad that they did not ask me "about it?"—I do not know that I did say so.

27,041. May you have said the thing and forgotten it?—I think I should not have forgotten it if I had said it.

27,042. Do you think you may have said it and have forgotten it?—No.

27,043. Generally did you make such a reply to Mr. Baines?—I do not know that I did; he was in our house, and we had a long talk for half an hour; I do not know what passed particularly.

27,044. Did Baines say anything about what had been omitted to be asked him?—Not a syllable; not that I recollect.

27,045. You say distinctly as to Baines that he did not, but you cannot say that distinctly as to yourself?—I do not recollect either positively, but I do not think he said so, nor do I think that I made the remark; but if you will ask me what it was I will answer you.

27,046. You talked to Baines the day after your examination?—No; it was a good bit after it, a week perhaps after it; I do not know the day, but it was several days after.

27,047. Therefore it was all the less time ago from the present time?—Yes.

27,048. And therefore you can recollect all the better whether you said such a thing or not?—I really do not remember, but if you will please to ask me I will answer you.

27,049. That would be very little credit to yourself?—Yes, it would, because if you can remind me of anything I have said I can tell you whether I said it or not.

27,050. What I ask you is solemnly and distinctly to tell me, as a person of truth and integrity, whether you have or have not said to Baines or to any other person since you were examined here that there was some one point on which the Commissioners did not examine you?—There is not anything that I am aware of that I have not mentioned.

27,051. That you say distinctly?—Yes.

27,052. That there is no point connected with the election of which you have knowledge upon which you have not given full and complete evidence?—Just so.

27,053. That you say?—Yes.

27,054. I ask you the question because our inquiry will be going on for some time yet, and if anything should turn up it would be very unsatisfactory to you?—I am wishful to speak the truth and to answer every question faithfully if I can.

27,055. Things reach our ears, and it is our duty to investigate them?—Just so; but as to money I know nothing but what I have told you already. That I will swear as fully as you like.

TWENTY FOURTH DAY.

W. Slater.

24 Sept. 186

JOSEPH RALPH sworn and examined.

J. Ralph.

27,056. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A tailor.

27,057. Where do you live?—In Brock Street.

27,058. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,059. What did you get for your vote?—8*l.*

27,060. Who gave it to you?—Mr. King.

27,061. What did you get besides?—Nothing.

27,062. (Mr. Hill.) Were you not on any committee?—No.

WILLIAM HARRISON sworn and examined.

W. Harriso

27,063. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—No. 109, Market Street.

27,064. Are you a householder?—Yes.

27,065. For whom did you vote?—Mr. Lawrence.

27,066. And what did you receive?—Nothing, I am happy to say, and I should consider myself insulted if anybody offered me anything.

27,067. Nobody did offer you anything?—No, and not only that, but at no other election.

27,068. Were you on Mr. Lawrence's committee?—I was, but I took no active part in the election at all. I believe that mine was the first vote given in the morning, and I had nothing to do with the election afterwards.

27,069–70. Have you voted Blue always?—I have always voted on that side. Everybody who knows me knows that.

Adjourned to to-morrow 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Tuesday, 25th September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

Mr. HILL.

TWENTY FIFTH DA

WILLIAM ADDISON sworn and examined.

W. Addiso

25 Sept. 186

27,071. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a tailor in Moor Lane?—Yes.

27,072. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,073. Did you receive any money during the election time?—No.

27,074. Absolutely none whatever?—No, none whatever. I had nothing at all to do with the election.

27,075. Were you not on the committee?—No.

27,076. You had nothing in fact to do with the election, except voting?—No.

27,077. That you swear?—Yes.

THOMAS HENRY BAINBRIDGE sworn and examined.

T. H. Bainbridge

27,078. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A bookkeeper.

27,079. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

27,080. What did you get for your vote?—I was 12 days in attendance in the committee room, at 10*s.* each day.

27,081. What else did you get?—Nothing.

27,082. Who settled the price of 10*s.*?—Mr. George Clark.

27,083. Why did you work only 12 days?—He did not speak to me till the 28th of June, to ask me if I was engaged.

27,084. What did you do on the committee?—Making out books and papers.

27,085. What books?—District books for the captain, and such like.

27,086. Tell me a single captain's book that you made out?—I cannot tell the names of the captains. I knew nothing about the captains. Mr. Clark gave me them to make out.

27,087. For which district did you make them out?—Mr. Clark's district.

27,088. Which was that?—That I cannot tell you. Mr. Clark was attending to the Penny Street district, I think they call it.

TWENTY-IFTH DAY.

T. H. Bainbridge.

5 Sept. 1866.

27,089. (Mr. Barstow.) Who paid you?—Mr. Clark.

27,090. (Mr. Hill.) Is what you were paid returned among the legal expenses, do you know?—I do not know.

27,091. How many hours a day did you work?—It varied, sometimes more and sometimes less.

27,092. What do you call the more, and what do you call the less?—A few hours a day.

27,093. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your usual business?—An accountant.

27,094. Did you do any business of your own during the election time?—No.

27,095. You are quite sure of that?—Yes, quite sure.

27,096. Were you employed the whole day for Mr. Clark?—Yes, I was engaged the whole of the time, but I was not writing the whole day through.

27,097. When were you paid?—On the Saturday.

27,098. Which Saturday?—There were three Saturdays.

27,099. You were paid on each Saturday?—Each Saturday; that was on the 1st of July, on the 8th, and on the 15th, I think.

27,100. You were paid 2*l.* each time?—No; 30*s.*, 3*l.*, and 30*s.*

27,101. (Mr. Newton.) Had you ever been asked to vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—Never.

27,102. Had anybody been to you about it?—No.

27,103. (Mr. Barstow.) You were paid by Mr. Clark?—Yes.

27,104. Where were you paid?—At his shop.

27,105. Were you paid with the other people concerned in the election?—There was no one there at the same time as I was.

27,106. (Mr. Hill.) You say you are an accountant; what can you generally make a day?—It varies; sometimes more and sometimes less.

27,107. When you are employed in making up bankrupts' accounts, and all those sort of things, what do they pay you a day?—Sometimes 7*s.*, sometimes 7*s.* 6*d.*, and sometimes more.

27,108. (Mr. Newton.) Did your wife take any part in this election?—Not that I know of.

27,109. Did she go to Johnson on the other side?—I heard tell of it.

27,110. What did you hear about it?—I heard that she had been there; that she had seen him or something or other; that she had seen him at the door passing.

27,111. Was anything said about a chest of drawers?—She said it was named about a chest of drawers.

27,112. That she was promised a chest of drawers if you would vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—I do not know about that.

27,113. But it is said that she got the price of two or three chests of drawers?—I do not know anything about that.

27,114. Have you had any new drawers lately in your house?—No.

27,115. (Mr. Hill.) You have not had anything directly or indirectly but what you have told us of?—No, nothing at all.

27,116. Had you anything when you voted before?—I was on the committee of Mr. Saunders at the election before.

27,117. How much did they give you for that?—4*l.* 2*s.*

27,118. How long were you at work for it?—A week.

27,119. That was very high wages for a week?—Why, it was a similar way of doing it at 10*s.* a day, and they made it into a guinea for the polling day and the nomination day. I suppose that was the way they did it.

W. Barrow.

WILLIAM BARROW sworn.

27,120. (Mr. Hill.) Are you of Skerton?—Yes.

27,121. You keep the "Red Cross," do you not?—Yes.

27,122. By whom was your house engaged at the last election?—Mr. Towers and Mr. Welch.

27,123. When was your house taken?—About a fortnight I think before the election, a fortnight or three weeks, I cannot speak to the date.

27,124. At what price?—I understood that I was to have 10*l.* for my house and 2*l.* for my services; only I consider it is all a bribe.

27,125. You save me a good many questions by saying that; your house was first taken about a fortnight or three weeks before the election?—Yes.

27,126. As you seem to be a clear-headed man, I will try to get from you an account of what was done after any house was taken; what was the first thing that was done on the matter of the election at your house?—There was drinking.

27,127. A good deal of drinking, was there not?—Yes, there was a good deal of drinking at different times.

27,128. Who used the house?—The Liberal party; and the Tory party came one night, but I have never got paid for it yet. I want 3*l.* 19*s.* from them; it was James Carruthers, and I intend trying to get it too.

27,129. That would be early on?—Yes; when the election was beginning.

27,130. What time did they come to your house to begin to drink of a day?—They generally came of a night.

27,131. About 6 or 7 o'clock?—Yes.

27,132. And then did they call for drink as they wanted it?—It just depended; sometimes they used to pay; one would pay and then another would pay. I do not know that it was exactly an election thing altogether; but I know that this of Carruthers's was because he said I might put it down and he would pay for it; but I had to pay him 8*l.* for a bill I owed him after, and he would not deduct that.

27,133. Did Carruthers at all offer to take your claim upon the party as part of his account; was he willing to take your claim upon the party?—No, he said he would have his money as I owed him, and that I might get mine as I could; he said I might go to the Conservative party for it.

27,134. When the other party for whom your house was taken came you say they used to drink; who used to pay for the drink?—Different parties; Mr. Hadfield paid part, and then I received the other; Mr. Towers has my account, and he paid me.

27,135. How much did your bill come to altogether?—I think about 25*l.*, but I could not tell to 1*l.*

27,136. Do you mean that it came to 25*l.* inclusive of your house or exclusive of it?—The house and my services, or what they called services; that is all I got, except 10*s.* that Mr. Hadfield gave me one day.

27,137. Would the 25*l.* represent all the drink you sold and the 12*l.* for your house and services?—It would, unless it was what different parties paid for as they got it.

27,138. Then the bills altogether were only 13*l.*?—It was 25*l.* for my services and all.

27,139. Then the bill for refreshments would be only 13*l.*?—Yes, Mr. Towers has the bill.

27,140. Was there much committee work going on at your house?—No, not so much as I liked.

27,141. Committee work is beneficial to the publican?—It is, no doubt. I only had one good night, that was all I had.

27,142. Which night was that?—The Saturday night before the election.

27,143. What was taking place then?—What they call an open house.

27,144. Who opened it?—I was ordered by Towers and Boardley; they told me it was all to be opened.

27,145. When it was opened could anyone come in?—Very near everybody got drink as came in. I do not think anybody was refused anything.

27,146. Could any stranger have come in and got drink?—I daresay some of the party would have given them drink; there was glasses in and jugs in, and I daresay they would have given anybody drink whether they were voters or not.

27,147. That was a good night?—Very good.

27,148. How much did you take that night; did you take as much as 10*l.*?—No.

27,149. How much then?—About 9*l.*

27,150. I will now ask you how much of that was profit?—I do not know. I know I never put down anything but what was brought in.

27,151. On the election day was there much going on at your house?—Not so very much; certainly there was breakfasts in the morning.

27,152. And they had been sitting up all night pretty well, I suppose?—No; I was in bed myself about 9 o'clock at night; I was not very well, and I did not get up till 8 o'clock next morning.

27,153. But your going to bed does not necessitate the shutting up of your house?—Our house was shut up at 12 o'clock at night, and was not opened till 5 o'clock in the morning.

27,154. Was there any paying going on at your house?—Yes.

27,155. Who were paid there?—I could not tell. I saw some go for money. I could tell you the names of two or three parties.

27,156. Who were they?—John Cowperthwaite was one, he came from West Bromwich; and Thomas Taylor, I think he was paid; I saw him go in. I never saw anyone get money.

27,157. They went upstairs?—They went upstairs and I never saw them get any money at all.

JOHN BATTY, Cable Street, joiner, is called but does not answer.

J. Batty.

(Mr. Patteson, the Secretary.) John Batty has sent this letter:—

"Lancaster,
"September 25th, 1866.

"To the Royal Commission.

"Gentlemen,

"I am unable to attend at the Castle through being sick, but my wife received 5*l.* from Mr. Stewardson two days after the election, without my knowledge.

Signed, JOHN BATTY."

27,158. (Mr. Barstow, to William Stewardson.) Did you pay John Batty 5*l.*?—I paid Batty's wife.

27,159. I suppose you paid her in fact for her husband's vote?—Yes.

EDMUND BOARDLEY sworn and examined

E. Boardley.

27,160. (Mr. Newton.) You are a grocer in Skerton?—Yes.

27,161. And you voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

27,162. I believe you took rather an active part in the election?—Yes.

27,163. What money did you receive?—I received 5*l.* about three weeks after the election for my services.

27,164. Is that all the money that you received?—No; I received about 3*l.* 11*s.* for treating voters with.

27,165. From whom did you receive it?—From William Towers.

27,166. That was before the election day?—Yes.

27,167. Did you receive anything on the election day?—No.

27,168. Did you receive anything after the election?—About three weeks after the election I received 5*l.* for my services.

27,169. From Towers?—Yes, from Towers.

27,170. Is that all the money you received?—It is.

27,171. (Mr. Barstow.) What were your services?—I was delivering circulars out, and such like, and looking after voters.

27,172. Could they find no one but a grocer from Skerton to deliver out circulars?—Well, I delivered them out.

27,173. Is that all you did, deliver out circulars?—Yes, and look after voters.

27,174. How did you look after voters?—Taking them and treating them, and such like.

27,175. But you were paid for that; you had 3*l.* 11*s.* to do that with?—Yes.

27,176. And you had 5*l.* for treating them?—No; I had 5*l.* for my services.

27,177. You tell us you delivered out circulars and treated voters. I say you had 3*l.* 11*s.* to treat them with, and you were paid 5*l.* for treating them?—Yes, for about a month's work looking after them.

27,178. I suppose you treated yourself at the same time as you treated the others?—A little, not very much.

27,179. (Mr. Hill.) The persons who took out circulars are down in Mr. Tilly's book, and your name is not among the number?—There was no one living in Skerton but myself for Fenwick and Schneider.

27,180. The persons delivering out circulars are put down in Mr. Tilly's book, and your name is not among them. I find that 1*l.* 10*s.* is the most that was paid to anybody for delivering out circulars?—It was not in Skerton.

ANTHONY CLARK is called but does not answer.

A. Clark.

(Mr. Patteson, the Secretary.) Anthony Clark has sent this letter:—

"Lancaster,
"September 24th, 1866.

"To the Royal Commission.

"Sirs,

"I have been of my work 5 weeks poorly, and I would not like to loose any more work, as I am perfectly satisfied with what the parties have stated I have received at the last election.

"ANTHONY CLARK,
"Silk spinner,
No. 5, Lodge Street,
"Lancaster."

JOHN TOWERS sworn and examined.

J. Towers.

27,181. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you come from?—I came from Bare Lane now.

27,182. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,183. What did you get?—10*l.*

27,184. That was for your vote. What did you get besides?—Nothing.

27,185. Were you not on either committee?—No.

27,186. Did you get no money given to you to spend?—No.

27,187. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

27,188. A day labourer?—Yes.

27,189. What wages do you earn?—2*s.* 8*d.* a day.

27,190. Do you care about politics?—(No answer.)

27,191. Do you know what the word "politics" means?—Not exactly.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

25 Sept. 1866.

J. Furness.

JAMES FURNESS sworn and examined.

27,192. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Freehold.

27,193. What are you?—A coalheaver.

27,194. Who did you vote for at the last election?—Mr. Fenwick and Schneider.

27,195. What did you get?—8*l.* after I had voted.

27,196. Did you get anything more?—No.

27,197. Only 8*l.*?—No.

27,198. Who paid you?—Mr. Cleminson, the tailor.

27,199. What do you earn a day?—Half-a-crown.

27,200. Are you a scholar at all?—No.

27,201. You cannot read?—No.

J. Gardner.

JAMES GARDNER sworn and examined.

27,202. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Castle Hill, plasterer?—Yes.

27,203. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

27,204. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.* for coming from Gloucester and going back again. I paid my own fare and loss of time.

27,205. Is that all you received?—That is all, every halfpenny.

27,206. Where are you at work now?—In the town.

27,207. Are you a scholar?—Yes.

27,208. Can you read and write?—Yes.

27,209. (Mr. Hill.) How much did it cost you to come from Gloucester and back?—23*s.* each way, and I was detained in Liverpool one night.

27,210. It cost you altogether about 3*l.*?—Yes, thereabouts. There was my loss of time too.

27,211. How long were you away from Gloucester?—I was five days before I got back.

W. Garth.

WILLIAM GARTH sworn and examined.

27,212. (Mr. Hill.) Do you live in Germany Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

27,213. And are you a silk spinner?—Yes.

27,214. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,215. What money did you receive?—I received 2*l.*

27,216. What was that for?—To spend among freemen.

27,217. Did you receive anything else?—No.

27,218. Was that all you got?—Yes, with the exception that I got two or three shillings of Cleminson on the election day. I received that before the election.

27,219. You do not keep a beerhouse, do you?—No.

27,220. Who paid you your 2*l.*?—Richard Cleminson.

27,221. Did he not give you anything more?—No; yes, he gave two or three shillings more.

27,222. Did he not give you 12*l.*?—No.

27,223. Did he not give you more than 2*l.*?—No.

27,224. (Mr. Barstow.) Who paid you?—Richard Cleminson, the draper.

27,225. (Mr. Hill.) How did you spend the 2*l.*?—Well, I cannot describe every halfpenny and penny that I spent. I spent it in treating freemen.

27,226. And yourself, also, I suppose?—No doubt about that.

27,227. You got 2*l.* in two different sums, 1*l.* and 1*l.*?—Yes.

27,228. Were you not on any committee?—No, I simply assisted Mr. Cleminson in going about and canvassing the voters before the election.

W. Gudgeon.

WILLIAM GUDGEON sworn and examined.

27,229. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Skerton.

27,230. What are you?—A twine spinner.

27,231. Who did you vote for at the last election?—Lawrence.

27,232. What did they give you?—12*l.*

27,233. Who gave it to you?—George Wilson.

27,234. What time in the day did you get this money?—Between 7 and 8 in the morning.

27,235. At the "Black Bull?"—Yes.

27,236. Did you get anything else?—I got 30*s.* from George Danson.

27,237. Anything else?—2*l.* from John Watson; his evidence was 1*l.*

27,238. Anything else?—No. In John Watson's evidence he set me down for 1*l.*

27,239. What John Watson is that?—John Watson, the pawnbroker.

27,240. (Mr. Newton.) Are you learned? Can you read or write?—Yes, both.

27,241. Do you know what politics means?—Yes.

C. Gudgeon.

CHRISTOPHER GUDGEON sworn and examined.

27,242. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Skerton and are a twine spinner?—Yes.

27,243. How did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Lawrence.

27,244. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

27,245. Who paid you?—George Wilson.

27,246. What did you get for being on the committee?—30*s.*

27,247. Who did you get it from?—From George Danson.

27,248. Did you get anything else?—No.

27,249. No money to spend?—No.

D. Gudgeon.

DANIEL GUDGEON sworn and examined.

27,250. Do you live in Penny Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

27,251. What are you?—A smith.

27,252. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

27,253. What did you get?—Nothing.

27,254. Did you not receive anything at all?—Nothing, not a penny.

27,255. Were you not on any committee?—No.

27,256 On neither side?—No.

27,257. Did they offer you anything?—Yes.

27,258. What did they offer you?—Well, I did not exactly ask them the sum. They asked me if I wanted money.

27,259. Who made you a bid?—He is a clerk in this town.

27,260. What is his name?—John Bateson.

27,261. Which side did he bid for?—He was canvassing for Lawrence.

27,262. Is Bateson a voter, do you know?—I do not know, I am sure.

27,263. Where does he live?—In Edward Street, I think.

27,264. Did he not mention any sum at all?—No; he wanted to know if money was of any use, and I said it was not. That was all he asked me.

27,265. Was Bateson pretty busy canvassing?—I cannot say. He came to our shop the night before about half-past 10 or near on to 11 o'clock.

27,266. Was that on the nomination night?—Yes.

27,267. Was there anybody with him?—Yes, a man from Aldcliffe.

27,268. What was his name?—John Hall.

27,269. (Mr. Newton.) Did they mention any sum?—No

27,270. (Mr. Barstow.) Did your own side offer you anything?—No.

27,271. (Mr. Newton.) They only came to canvass you, then?—Yes, that was all.

27,272. (Mr. Barstow.) Who do you work for?—I am a master.

27,273. (Mr. Hill.) Did your own side offer you anything after you had voted?—No.

JOHN HARRISON sworn and examined.

J. Harrison.

27,274. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—An architect.

27,275. Where do you live?—St. Leonard Gate.

27,276. What part did you take in the last election?—I took no part at all, except voting.

27,277. You voted for Mr. Lawrence, I see?—Yes.

27,278. Did you not canvass anyone?—No.

27,279. Were you on Mr. Lawrence's committee?—No.

27,280. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Not any.

27,281. Did you receive any money for your vote?—Nothing.

27,282. If anyone has described you as a Conservative captain they are mistaken?—They are decidedly.

27,283. Really is that what you wish us to believe, and what we shall believe if you say so, that you took no part in the election except voting?—Yes, no part whatever. I had nothing to do with it.

27,284. (Mr. Hill.) Was any offer made to you by the other side?—No.

27,285. None at all?—No, none at all.

JOSEPH HADWEN sworn and examined.

J. Hadwen.

27,286. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labourer.

27,287. You live at Overton?—Yes.

27,288. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

27,289. What did you get for your vote?—I got 10*l.* from John Albright of Lancaster, and 11*l.* from William Maddock of Liverpool?

27,290. Is that all you got?—Yes.

27,291. 21*l.*?—Yes.

27,292. What are you?—A labourer.

27,293. A fisherman?—No, a labourer.

27,294. A common day labourer?—Yes.

27,295. Earning two or three shillings a day?—About 3*s.*

27,296. Are you a scholar?—A little.

27,297. (Mr. Hill.) Were you not offered anything to vote for Schneider?—No.

27,298. I suppose Albright wanted you to vote for Schneider too?—No, he did not mention anything. He asked who I was going to vote for, and I told him.

27,299. Do you mean to lead us to believe that Albright was satisfied with your voting for Fenwick alone?—He did not object to it; he did not say anything.

27,300. Did he give you 10*l.* to vote for Fenwick alone; do you tell me that?—Well, it is true he did not say anything.

27,301. Do you say that Mr. Albright entirely forgot Mr. Schneider's name?—He did not mention any party's name, not alone. He said, "Who are you going to vote for?" and I said, "Fenwick and Lawrence," and he says, "Will you be content with the same as I give the others." I says, "Yes." He says, "Meet me at the 'Bear and Staff,'" and he gave it me at the "Bear and Staff."

27,302. Are you quite sure you said Fenwick and Lawrence?—Yes.

27,303. Did he pay you after you had voted?—No.

27,304. Are you quite sure you said "Lawrence" in a clear and audible voice to Mr. Albright?—Yes.

27,305. I think you must have said "Lawrence" in a voice that sounded very much like "Schneider?"

27,306. (Mr. Barstow.) You are one of those voters that could not pronounce the German name?—I do not know anything about that.

THOMAS CATON sworn and examined.

T. Caton.

27,307. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A fisherman.

27,308. Where?—At Overton.

27,309. You are described as a farmer in the register?—Yes, I know, but it is wrong.

27,310. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,311. What did you get?—10*l.*

27,312. Was that all you got?—No, I got 5*l.* from Mr. Lawrence.

27,313. You got the 10*l.* from whom?—John Albright.

27,314. And where did you get the 5*l.*?—I do not know his name. He was a stranger to me. He comes from Liverpool. It was the same man as gave Hadwen his money.

27,315. That is Mr. Maddock?—I do not know his name.

27,316. He says he gave you 10*l.*?—Yes, but he only gave me 5*l.*

27,317. Are you quite sure you only got 5*l.*?—Yes, I will swear it.

27,318. How came you to get only 5*l.* when all the others got 10*l.*?—I never went near him, and never should have done, but he came to our house on the election morning and asked me if I would give him a vote, and I said I had never promised a vote to anybody, that nobody had asked me for a vote, and I told him I would see him at Lancaster. He said, "I will give you 5*l.* now, and see you again at Lancaster," but I never saw him no more.

27,319. The consequence of that was that you went and voted the other side?—Yes.

27,320. If you had seen Maddock you would have voted for Lawrence's side?—Yes, I intended to when I set off.

27,321. When did Albright get hold of you?—I never saw Albright till the night before the election.

27,322. Did he pay you the 10*l.* then?—No.

27,323. When did he pay you the 10*l.*?—The next morning, in Lancaster, at the "Bear and Staff."

27,324. As soon as you had voted?—No, before.

27,325. You got the 5*l.* from Maddock over night, came in to Lancaster to see him the next morning, but could not find him. Albright got hold of you and gave you 10*l.*, and you voted Fenwick and Schneider. That is your history?—Yes.

27,326. (Mr. Newton.) You did not care for which side you voted?—No, I did not.

27,327. You did not care as long as you got the money?—Not I.

27,328. Did you go to look after Maddock at all?—I went to the "King's Arms."

27,329. He was not there?—No, and I could not hear tell where he was.

27,330. (Mr. Hill.) I suppose you had a good deal of drink out of the election?—No, I had not.

27,331. Not at your place?—No; I do not believe in getting so much drink.

27,332. Are you a scholar? Can you read and write?—I am a scholar, but I am very short-sighted, and cannot see neither to read or write.

27,333. You could do it if your sight was good?—Yes.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

J. Hosfield.

25 Sept. 1866.

JOHN HOSFIELD sworn and examined.

27,334. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Chapel Street.

27,335. You are a painter?—Yes.

27,336. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,337. What did you get?—10*l.*

27,338. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Slater from Barrow.

27,339. You were paid on the quay?—Yes, at the "Blue Bell."

27,340. Is that all you got?—No. I got 30*s.* from Mr. Moser.

27,341. Did you get anything from George Danson?—No.

27,342. You got nothing from Lawrence's people?—No, not a halfpenny.

27,343. Did you get anything more than 30*s.*?—No.

27,344. 11*l.* 10*s.* is all you got?—Yes.

27,345. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Chapel Street.

27,346. What number?—There is not a number on the door.

E. Marshall.

EDWARD MARSHALL sworn and examined.

27,347. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A blacksmith.

27,348. You live at Skerton?—Yes.

27,349. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

27,350. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

27,351. Who paid you?—I got 1*l.* 10*s.* of George Danson.

27,352. Who paid you the 12*l*?—George Wilson, cabinet maker.

27,353. You got 1*l.* 10*s.* of George Danson besides?—Yes.

27,354. Is that all you got?—Yes.

27,355. 13*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

27,356. Did you get no money to treat with?—No, I got nothing; not a halfpenny.

27,357. (Mr. Newton.) How did you poll in 1864, when Fenwick and Schneider stood?—For Mr. Fenwick.

27,358. What made you change your politics?—I changed before, when Mr. Gosnett was up.

27,359. What made you change your politics?—I polled for Mr. Gosnett twice.

27,360. But you polled for Fenwick. Did the 12*l.* make the change?—I polled for Mr. Fenwick twice.

27,361. You voted for Mr. Lawrence this time. Was it the 12*l.* that made the change?—Yes. I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

R. Masheder.

RICHARD MASHEDER sworn and examined.

27,362. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A cordwainer.

27,363. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,364. What did you get?—10*l.*

27,365. Did you receive anything else besides as a committee man?—No.

27,366. Did you get any money to treat with?—No.

T. Nelson.

THOMAS NELSON sworn and examined.

27,367. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Overton?—Yes.

27,368. What are you?—A farmer.

27,369. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence and Fenwick.

27,370. What money did you get?—5*l.* from Mr. Maddock.

27,371. Then you would get something from Albright?—Yes, 4*l.*

27,372. What was that for?—Well, I suppose it was for my vote.

27,373. Who did he ask you to vote for?—He wanted me to vote for Schneider.

27,374. What did you say to him?—I said I would not; not for any money.

27,375. Why did he give you 4*l.*?—On Mr. Fenwick's account.

27,376. Did he pay you before you voted?—Yes, he did.

27,377. Where did he pay you?—I believe it was in Penny Street.

27,378. In what house?—I believe it was at the "Bear and Staff."

27,379. Are you quite sure he did not pay you that for voting for Schneider?—Yes, I am sure.

27,380. Did he say anything to you after you had voted?—No, I never saw him after I voted.

27,381. (Mr. Newton.) Why would you not vote for Schneider?—Well, it was not my politics.

27,382. Was it because it was a German name?—I would not do it for money.

27,383. It was not because it was a German name?—No, it had nothing to do at all with the name whatever. I knew his name as well as anybody.

27,384. (Mr. Hill.) You voted for Mr. Fenwick as belonging to the same party as Mr. Lawrence?—I voted for him the last election.

27,385. How do you mean Fenwick was your politics, and Schneider was not?—I do not know, I am sure. I voted for the men I wanted to go in.

T. J. Nicholson.

TIMOTHY JACKSON NICHOLSON sworn and examined.

27,386. (Mr. Newton.) Do you know what you have done?—Yes.

27,387. What is that?—Voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

27,388. No, I mean with regard to kissing the book. What is that for?—For my oath.

27,389. That means you are going to tell us the truth?—Yes.

27,390. Do you live in Wise's Court, Penny Street?—Yes.

27,391. Are you a cabinet maker?—Yes.

27,392. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

27,393. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

27,394. Who paid you?—Robert Powell.

27,395. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing.

27,396. Did you get any money from the Blues?—No, not one farthing.

27,397. How long have you been a freeman?—I cannot say, 12 or 13 years, I think.

27,398. Do you care about politics, or do you only care about money. Which is it?—No.

27,399. You only care about money?—No. I have always been Yellow but once.

27,400. Who did you vote for then?—Mr. Saunders.

27,401. Can you read?—Yes.

27,402. And write?—Yes.

27,403. (Mr. Hill.) What made you vote for Mr. Saunders?—Because I was working for a person then as wished me to.

27,404. You got a little money then?—I got 5*l.*

27,405. That entered into the consideration, too, I daresay; I daresay that was a reason also for your voting?—Yes.

HENRY PARKER sworn and examined.

27,406. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A book-keeper.

27,407. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

27,408. What did you get?—For the committee room 15*s.*, 2*l.* 5*s.*, and three months afterwards 1*l.* 16*s.*

27,409. What do you mean by "committee room." Do you keep a public-house?—Working the general committee room under Mr. Gibson and Mr. Clark.

27,410. That was for committee work?—Yes.

27,411. What else did you get besides?—Nothing at all.

27,412. Did you not get anything?—No, I preferred a bill against Mr. Cross for street lists, and other matters, amounting to three guineas, which I never got.

27,413. How long were you at work upon the committee?—I was nearly a fortnight making out street lists, directing envelopes and cards, and showing the other clerks what to do.

27,414. You say you have sent in a bill for the rest of your work, and that has not yet been paid?—No.

27,415. How many days do you suppose you were employed altogether?—With Mr. Cross nearly three weeks.

27,416. You are a book-keeper by occupation?—I was on the railway, the last place I was in, for three years.

27,417. What did you get a week there?—I was not there regular.

27,418. What do you generally get when you are employed?—5*s.* a day.

27,419. If you are looking over books and making up accounts what do you get?—Either 5*s.*, 7*s.*, or 7*s.* 6*d.*, and half a guinea sometimes.

27,420. You got 4*l.* 16*s.* for three weeks?—Yes; taking it altogether it was a great deal more than that, taking the work I did from time to time.

27,421. You mean to say you were not paid so much as you ought to have been paid?—No, I was not; about half of it.

27,422. And you did not get some of it till some time after the election?—No, the 1*l.* 16*s.* I did not.

27,423. You only got 1*l.* a week till then?—Yes; some way or other I missed getting it. 15*s.* and 2*l.* 5*s.* was all that I got paid in the committee room.

(Mr. Barstow.) We shall not put you down in the list of those bribed.

WILLIAM REDHEAD sworn and examined.

27,424. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Skerton?—Yes.

27,425. What are you?—A joiner.

27,426. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

27,427. What did you get from Lawrence's party?—12*l.*

27,428. Were you one of those whom Wilson paid?—Yes.

27,429. What did you get from the other side?—Nothing.

27,430. Are you quite sure?—Yes.

27,431. Have you always voted "Blue?"—No.

27,432. Did you get anything besides the 12*l.*?—30*s.* from George Danson.

27,433. Are you quite sure you did not get any money from Fenwick and Schneider's people?—That is all I got.

27,434. Did not Towers pay you anything?—No, he never gave me nothing.

27,435. Did you get nothing from Ellershaw, the grocer at Skerton?—John Ellershaw?

27,436. Yes. Did you get any money of him?—No, I got no money of him.

27,437. Did you get some drink from him?—Yes.

27,438. How much drink did you get?—He did not pay for it. At least, he was in company when we got it.

ANTHONY RICHARDSON sworn and examined.

27,439. (Mr. Newton.) You live in Monmouth Street?—Yes.

27,440. You are a printer?—Yes.

27,441. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,442. What did you get for your vote?—For my vote?

27,443. Yes.—I was paid 8*l.* after I had voted.

27,444. Who gave it to you?—Mr. King.

27,445. Were you on any committee?—Yes.

27,446. Which?—On Fenwick and Schneider's committee.

27,447. What did you get for that?—I got nothing for that.

27,448. What did you get for being on the other committee?—Nothing at all. I was not on the other committee.

27,449. Were you not on Lawrence's committee?—No.

27,450. Are you quite sure?—Yes.

27,451. All you got was 8*l.*?—Yes.

27,452. Is this the first time you have voted?—Yes.

27,453. You always mean to vote "Yellow," I suppose?—Yes, I told Mr. Schneider I would not vote against him. I told that to Mr. Fenwick and to Mr. Schneider.

27,454. Those are your politics?—Yes.

WILLIAM SMITH ROW sworn and examined.

27,455. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,456. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

27,457. Were you on any committee?—No.

27,458. Did you not get anything besides the 12*l.*?—No, nothing.

27,459. Is that all you got?—Yes.

27,460. How came you to get more than Richardson, the last witness?—I do not know. I was in a different district to him.

27,461. You got a more liberal captain I suppose?—I suppose so.

27,462. From whom did you receive it?—From Robert McKinley, under Mr. Ball.

27,463. Who is McKinley?—He works at the station, I believe, the Lancaster and Carlisle Station.

27,464. The Castle Station?—Yes.

27,465. What is he?—I do not know exactly; a clerk, or something of the kind.

27,466. Was he pretty active?—I do not know; he paid me, that is all I know about it.

27,467. Did you see him pay anybody else?—No.

27,468. How came he to pay you?—Because I went up to meet the conveyance that was to take down the voters, and I got into the conveyance when he was in, and he paid me.

27,469. What other voters had he in the conveyance with him?—I cannot give you the names of all; there was my brother for one, James Row, and a man called William Jackson, of Scotforth.

27,470. Who else?—I cannot say, to tell the truth, who the other parties were; there were four or five, I think, altogether.

27,471. Anybody else?—No, I think that was all.

27,472. How many of you were there altogether about?—Either four or five.

27,473. Did McKinley pay any of these others besides you?—I did not see him.

27,474. Where were you paid, in the omnibus?—It was not exactly an omnibus, a conveyance.

27,475. You received it before you got out to vote?—Yes.

27,476. Did not the others receive theirs also before they got out to vote?—I did not see them.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

W. S. Row.

25 Sept. 1866.

27,477. Did they see you paid?—Yes, they would see me paid.

27,478. How came they to let you be paid and not put in their claims?—I suppose they had got theirs already.

27,479. You think they had got it before you?—Yes, I suppose so.

W. Scales.

WILLIAM SCALES sworn and examined.

27,480. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A tailor.

27,481. Where do you live?—King Street, Penny's Hospital.

27,482. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,483. What did you get?—5*l.*

27,484. Nothing more?—No.

27,485. Anything from Lawrence's people?—Not a halfpenny.

27,486. Is 5*l.* all you got?—Yes.

27,487. Who paid you?—Richard Cleminson, tailor and draper.

W. Simpson.

WILLIAM SIMPSON sworn and examined.

27,488. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In China Lane.

27,489. What are you?—A whitesmith.

27,490. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

27,491. What did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

27,492. Who paid you?—Thomas Foster; he paid me in China Lane.

27,493. Is this the first time you have ever voted?—Yes.

27,494. Was anybody present when Foster paid you?—No.

27,495. Did he pay you in a house?—Yes, at the "Volunteer" Inn.

27,496. Were you on any committee?—Yes.

27,497. Which?—Mr. Lawrence's.

27,498. What did you get for that?—30*s.* from Danson.

27,499. Have you ever talked to Danson about this since?—No, I got also 10*s.* from William Harrison, tinman.

27,500. Besides the 30*s.*?—Yes.

27,501. When did Danson pay you?—About three days before the election.

27,502. Is that all you got?—Yes.

27,503. Have you ever talked with Danson about this 1*l.* 10*s.*?—No, I have never seen him since the election.

J. Smith.

JOSEPH SMITH sworn and examined.

27,504. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A silk dresser by trade.

27,505. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,506. What did you get?—2*l.*

27,507. When did you get the 2*l.*?—On the election day.

27,508. From whom?—From Mr. Richard Cleminson, tailor and draper.

27,509. What else did you get besides?—Nothing.

27,510. Is that all you got?—Yes.

27,511. How came you only to get 2*l.*?—I do not know indeed.

27,512. Did you not know what prices other people were getting?—No.

27,513. (Mr Barstow.) Were you paid before you voted?—No.

27,514. (Mr. Hill.) You were paid as a reward for having voted?—No.

27,515. Then for what were you paid?—I was on a committee.

27,516. What did you do on the committee?—I did nothing at all; I merely attended the committee.

27,517. Where?—In Nicholas Street.

27,518. And drank in the evening there?—Yes, occasionally.

27,519. And talked over the probabilities of the election?—Yes.

27,520. Were you not bid for by the other side?—No.

27,521. How came that about?—I do not know, I am sure.

27,522. Were you not canvassed?—No; I was canvassed, of course, by the candidates before the election.

27,523. What did you tell them when they canvassed you?—I told them I should not vote for the opposite side, for Mr. Lawrence, that I should vote for Fenwick and Schneider.

27,524. Did not anybody offer you anything?—No.

27,525. How came that about?—That I cannot tell.

H. Smith.

HENRY SMITH sworn and examined.

27,526. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A cotton spinner.

27,527. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

27,528. What money did you receive?—I received nothing.

27,529. You received nothing from either side?—Robert Whiteside gave my wife 15*l.*

27,530. Is that all you received?—No.

27,531. You got something from Lawrence?—Yes, 12*l.*

27,532. You are the man who would not go in the omnibus, but would walk?—Yes.

27,533. You got the 12*l.*, I suppose, from George Wilson?—I do not know who I got it from; I got it at the "Black Bull" in Skerton.

27,534. I suppose at the "Black Bull" you promised to vote for Lawrence?—I promised to vote for Fenwick and Lawrence.

27,535. I suppose you were on some committee, were you not?—Yes.

27,536. On whose committee, on both, perhaps?—Yes.

27,537. What did you receive for that?—I got, I believe, 30*s.* apiece.

27,538. Who paid you for Lawrence?—I cannot tell exactly.

27,539. Was it George Danson?—No.

27,540. Someone paid you for Lawrence?—Yes.

27,541. Who paid you for the "Yellows?"—They did not pay me at all, but Robert Whiteside paid my missus.

27,542. I mean who paid you for being on the committee?—I cannot tell.

27,543. Do you not remember?—No, I do not.

27,544. You do not remember who paid you these small sums?—No, I do not.

27,545. Is that all you received?—For anything I know it is.

27,546. You would have a few shillings to spend in drink, I suppose?—Yes, there was plenty of drink about.

27,547. Did they give you money to spend in drink?—Well, I do not know. I believe Danson once gave me a shilling.

27,548. Did you not get anything from the other side to drink?—Yes.

27,549. What did you get?—I got no money.

27,550. Are you any relation to Edward Smith?—Brother.

27,551. (Mr. Hill.) You got 30*l.* altogether?—Yes.

27,552. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a scholar?—Yes.

27,553. What did you get at the election in 1864?—Nothing; I did not vote.

27,554. That is no reason why you should not have got some money?—Sir.

TWTENY-FIFTH DAY.

H. Smith.

25 Sept. 1866.

27,555. That is no reason why you should not have got some money because you did not vote?—I did not vote in 1864.

27,556. That is no reason why you should not have got some money?—Got some money! I got two days' pay.

27,557. How much did you get—10*s.*

27,558. From whom did you get that 10*s.*?—George Danson.

27,559. In 1864?—Yes.

27,560. What did you get at the election in 1859?—I got my expenses coming here, that was all.

27,561. How did you vote then?—For Garnett and Gregson.

27,562. What did you get then?—I got my expenses, about 3*l.* I think.

27,563. At how many elections have you voted?—I do not know; I cannot tell; I have been out of town at some elections.

27,564. How long have you been a freeman?—35 years.

27,565. Have you always got paid at every election?—No.

27,566. Tell me any election at which you did not get paid?—None, only that.

27,567. None, only which?—Only that 3*l.* for expenses for coming down.

27,568. And then you got 10*l.* in 1864?—10*s.* It was only two days' pay.

27,569. Do you care about having a vote?—Yes.

27,570. Why do you?—In what way?

27,571. Why do you care about having a vote? What good is a vote to you?—What good is it?

27,572. Yes?—For a man that suits, to vote for him.

27,573. What good is a vote to you?—What good is it to any man?

27,574. Do not ask me, I ask you; why do you care to have a vote?—I do not know about that.

27,575. Is it to make money by it?—No.

27,576. It is not to make money?—That 15*l.* I could not get away from.

27,577. You could not get away from where?—From these chaps that met me up town. I could not get away from it; they had got some brandy into me.

27,578. Is it for the money that you care to have a vote?—No, it is not.

57,579. Why did you take money on both sides?—I never intended but to poll for Fenwick and Lawrence. I never intended no other way.

27,580. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, because I could not get away from them. They got some brandy into me and then persuaded me.

27,581. You got 30*l.*?—Yes.

27,582. Do you feel ashamed at having got 30*l.*?—Well, I do not know about that, I am ashamed for taking it both sides.

27,583. (Mr. Hill.) You did not offer to pay it back again?—No.

27,584. Which side should you have voted for if you had had no money at all?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

WILLIAM PARKER is called but does not answer.

W. Parker.

(Mr. Patteson, Secretary.) William Parker has sent the following letter:—

"Sep. 25. William Parker, wite smith, Leanard "Gate, got 5*l.* for voting for Fenwick and Schneider, "and 3*s.* before the election, and not 22*s.* as stated by "Mr. Edward Johnson. I have been ill for 18 weeks "and not able to atend personaly. WILLIAM PARKER. "To the Royal Commissioners."

WILLIAM MASHEDER called.

W. Masheder.

27,585. The witness. What is it, mister? I know you; well, go on, go on with it.

27,586. (Mr. Newton.) Why did you not come before when you were summoned?—Begging your pardon, I was drunk.

27,587. So you are now; you must stand down there till we tell you to go.

27,588. (Mr. Hill.) Do you understand what you are talking about?—Well, I know I was drunk.

27,589. Can you answer a question now?—Yes, yes, go on, go on, do it.

[The witness is directed to withdraw, but not to leave the court. He is afterwards removed from the court under the care of an attendant.]

27,603. Were you not on any committee?—No.

27,604. Did you not get anything else at all?—No.

27,605. Was nothing given you to drink with?—Nothing but that 5*l.*

27,606. When did they give you the 5*l.*—After voting.

27,607. From whom did you get it?—From Richard Cleminson.

THOMAS SWAINSON sworn and examined.

T. Swainson.

27,608. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A tailor.

27,609. Where do you live?—In Lodge Street.

27,610. For whom did you vote?—Mr. Fenwick and Schneider.

27,611. What did you get?—5*l.*

27,612. From Cleminson?—Yes.

27,613. Anything else?—No.

27,614. That is all you received?—Yes.

JOHN TAYLOR sworn and examined.

J. Taylor.

27,615. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a cabinet maker?—Yes.

27,616. Do you live in Chapel Street, Lancaster?—No.

27,617. Where do you live?—In Friar Street.

27,618. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

27,619. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

27,620. That you are prepared to swear?—Yes, positively.

27,621. Did you get anything for your services?—Not a penny, either directly or indirectly.

27,622. You were summoned by mistake?—Yes; I live close to Chapel Street, and there is not a John Taylor in Chapel Street at present.

27,623. Where is he now?—I do not know. I do not know the man.

ROBERT MCKINLAY sworn and examined.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

R. McKinlay.

25 Sept. 1866.

27,624. (Mr. Hill.) Were you in the employment of the railway company in July 1865?—Yes.

27,625. What as?—Clerk.

27,626. A booking clerk?—No, clerk in the engineer's office.

27,627. Of the London and North-western Railway Company?—Yes.

27,628. What part did you take in the election?—Well, I was on the committee for Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider.

27,629. Who put you upon that committee?—I was put on by the Reform League, the Reform Club.

27,630. What Reform Club is that?—Mr. Welch is president.

27,631. The Reform Club in this town?—Yes.

27,632. Are you a member, then, of the Reform Club?—Yes.

27,633. Is that a large club?—Well, it is pretty extensive now. I should think there are a large number of members; I do not know the number, I am sure.

27,634. Have you any house, or do you merely meet occasionally for political purposes?—We had regular meetings once a fortnight or once a month, I think.

27,635. Have you now?—I have not attended them lately. I do not know whether they are going on now or not; they were before the election.

27,636. They go on mostly about election times?—Yes.

27,637. Mr. Welch put you on this committee of Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider?—I do not know whether Mr. Welch put me on or not. I was put on.

27,638. What was your duty on the committee?—To look after voters.

27,639. What district did you look after?—Scotforth.

27,640. Who was associated with you in looking after Scotforth?—Josiah Ball was captain.

27,641. When were you first spoken to on the subject of paying voters?—On the morning of the election.

27,642. July 12th?—Yes.

27,643. Who spoke to you?—Josiah Ball asked me if I would hand a parcel to a person of the name of Row, in the Scotforth district; a voter of the name of Row, I think.

27,644. Was it wrapped up in paper?—Yes.

27,645. Was that the only parcel that you had to give?—I think it was. I am not sure whether there was more than one or not; if there was it was to his brother, but I cannot recollect; I do not recollect whether I gave one or two.

27,646. Where were you to meet Row to give him this parcel?—We breakfasted at the "Boot and Shoe," at Scotforth and he joined us at the "Pointers."

27,647. How many voters did you bring up?—I should think nearly a dozen.

27,648. And how many did you pay?—Only Row, and I am not sure whether I paid the brother or not.

27,649. Was that all the money you received for the purposes of the election?—No.

27,650. What else did you receive?—After polling these men I was met in the street by a man and told that there were two voters in the "Bull's Head," I think, in Common Garden Street, and that they would vote for Fenwick and Schneider if they were paid. I went and saw them and they told me they would vote if they were paid, and I went to Mr. Welch and told him.

27,651. You went to Mr. Henry Welch?—Yes.

27,652. What did you tell Mr. Welch?—I told him that there were some voters in the "Bull's Head" who wanted pay, and he gave me, I think, about 40*l.*

27,653. And what did you do with it?—I gave one of them 7*l.* and the other 5*l.*, and I gave two men who had been looking after those two voters 1*l.* each; I think I gave something else, but I cannot recollect.

27,654. What did you do with the other 26*l.*?—Gave it back; I gave Mr. Welch 27*l.* back.

27,655. Then he must have given you 41*l.*?—I do not know the exact amount.

27,656. Who were these two men that you paid?—One of them was James Howson.

27,657. And what was the name of the other?—Richard Bonnell.

27,658. (Mr. Barstow.) Is he a householder?—No, a freeman.

27,659. (Mr. Hill.) Which James Howson was it? Was it the brakesman at Bulk?—Yes.

27,660. Who is Richard Bonnell?—He is a labourer.

27,661. Had you anything else to do with any money payments at the election?—No, I think not.

27,662. Are you pretty certain that you had not?—There is 10*s.* which I gave to somebody, and I cannot think who it was, but I think that is about all.

27,663. At this Reform Club were either of the candidates present at any of your meetings before the election?—No.

27,664. Was the subject of the cost of the borough at all discussed at the Reform Club?—No.

27,665. Only the price of the votes?—No.

27,666. Did you yourself know long before the election that it would be an expensive matter?—Well, I did not know for certain.

27,667. But you had a shrewd suspicion?—I had a suspicion that it would cost some money.

27,668. Is there anything connected with your district that you wish to tell us that we have not heard, either on your own side or on the other side?—No, I do not know that there is. I was surprised at Mr. Quarme's evidence; I understood that he had offered Jackson, the blacksmith, some money, but I see I was wrong.

27,669. I do not understand you.—I was given to understand that Mr. Quarme had offered some money to Jackson, the blacksmith, but Mr. Quarme says he did not.

27,670. What made you think that he had offered Jackson money?—I heard it said at Scotforth that he had.

27,671. We asked Mr. Quarme about it and he told us that he had not done so.—That is what made me make the remark, I thought that he had.

27,672. Have you anything to add?—No.

27,673. Did you know of any other persons being paid in your district?—No.

27,674. Did you yourself look after the railway men who had votes?—No, they were managed by the district to which they belonged, I think, the town district.

27,675. You can tell us nothing about the railway voters?—No, nothing more than what you know, that they were nearly all bought, like other voters in the town.

27,676. (Mr. Newton.) All the railway men?—No, most of them; I only know through seeing it in the newspapers.

27,677. Did you know of any other money coming into Lancaster than what we have heard of?—No.

27,678. Did the Reform Club find any?—No, they are too poor for that, they are mostly composed of working men.

27,679. (Mr. Barstow.) Can you tell how it comes that your name has not been mentioned in our inquiry till to-day?—No, I do not know; I think Mr. Welch must have overlooked the thing.

27,680. Have you had any conversation with Mr. Welch about it?—No, I was not going to say anything about it.

27,681. Have you had any conversation with Mr. Welch about it?—No.

27,682. You have not asked him to keep back your name?—No, I have not.

27,683. Have you had any conversation with Bonnell and Howson about the money you gave them?—I have seen Howson since.

27,684. When did you see Howson?—About a week ago.

27,685. Did you talk to him about the money that you had given him?—No.

27,686. You never mentioned the subject?—Yes;

I said, "Well, Jem, I think you are going to escape."

27,687. What did he say to that?—He said he would be very glad if he did.

27,688. (Mr. Newton.) You were not going to split on him?—No, I should not, I assure you.

27,689. (Mr. Barstow.) But you have not wilfully planned with anyone to keep your name out of this inquiry?—No.

27,690. (Mr. Newton.) When Ball asked you to give the parcel to Row was anyone else by?—No; it was as we were coming down from the breakfast room he said "Row will get in at the 'Pointers.' Just hand him this parcel."

27,691. And that is the only man you are certain of?—Yes.

27,692. You might have paid his brother?—Yes, I might, but I think that is all.

27,693. Do you know what was in the parcel?—No, it was not my business to look.

27,694. How was it wrapped up?—It was a sort of roll; it looked very like sovereigns; I should not wonder if it was.

27,695. Did it smell like 15*l.*?—No, it did not smell.

27,696. Those were the only two men that you directly or indirectly assisted in paying before the election. You paid those two men Bonnell and Howson afterwards?—Yes.

27,697. (Mr. Hill.) What did they make you a present of for your services?—Nothing. I think the members have paid enough without paying me anything. I could have got something if I had liked, but I did not want it.

27,698. From whom could you have got something?—I think it would have been from Mr. Tilly, for being on the committee.

27,699. Is there any other person to whom you can refer who was doing the amiable after the election?—No.

27,700. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

27,701. Have you not heard of anybody who had presents given to them after the election?—No.

27,702. Nobody?—No, I think not.

27,703. No separate little fund that came in afterwards which we have not got at yet?—No.

27,704. (Mr. Barstow.) You have told us that you gave to one of the voters 7*l.* and to the other 5*l.*, but you have not told us to which of them you gave the the 7*l.* and to which you gave the 5*l.*?—I gave the 7*l.* to Howson. I wish to make another statement. Mr. Batty has just reminded me that I asked him for his vote at the station.

27,705. Which Batty was that?—A railway clerk.

27,706. William Batty?—Yes. I asked him for a vote. I was given to understand about 1 o'clock that he had not polled, and somebody told me to go and see after him, and to see if I could make anything of him, and so I went and offered him either 12*l.* or 15*l.*

27,707. Who instructed you to offer him 12*l.* or 15*l.*?—Well, I got it in the committee-room. I was told in the committee-room, we were looking who had polled from the list, and I was told by someone in the committee-room, but I cannot charge my memory who it was.

27,708. Was it Mr. Blades or Mr. Welch?—It would be some of those.

27,709. In what we call the secret committee-room?—Yes.

27,710. And what did you do with Batty?—I did not do anything with him, he would not have it.

27,711. Why would he not have it?—Well, I do not know.

27,712. He voted eventually for Fenwick and Lawrence?—But he said he would have liked to have voted the other way after.

27,713. Did you not give him something for his split vote?—No.

27,714. You had no instructions to do that?—Yes, I offered him 5*l.* if he would vote for Schneider and Lawrence.

27,715. But he would not do it?—No, he would not, but I daresay he was sorry after.

27,716. Why should he be sorry after?—Well, he said as much, that since he was giving the Liberals one he might as well have given it to one as the other and got the money.

27,717. Now that you are reminded of Batty I will ask you whether you canvassed anybody else?—No.

27,718. What time in the day did Batty poll, do you know?—I think it would be about 2 o'clock, or after.

27,719. (Mr. Newton.) You came back just now after your examination had been concluded, having seen somebody else in court and your memory having been refreshed?—Yes.

27,720. You have been sworn to tell us the whole truth. Is there anything within your knowledge relating to the election that you have not told us of?—No.

27,721. There is no reservation whatever?—No.

27,722. If you can recollect anything else you will come back and tell us of it?—Yes.

JAMES THRELFALL sworn and examined. J. Threlfall.

27,723. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A ship carpenter.

27,724. Where do you live?—In Glasson Dock.

27,725. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

27,726. What did you get for your vote?—I do not know that I got anything for my vote.

27,727. What did you get for assistance?—I got 5*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* for my expenses.

27,728. For your expenses from where?—I got it from a man that came from Liverpool.

27,729. For your expenses from what place? Expenses for what?—I do not understand you.

27,730. You say you got 5*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* for expenses?—For canvassing and going round the country.

27,731. Who paid you?—A man that came from Liverpool to Conder Green.

27,732. Do you know his name?—I did see his name in the papers; I did not know him then.

27,733. What was the name you saw in the paper?—I do not know. Eaves I think was the name I saw in the paper.

27,734. How many gentlemen did you canvass?—I canvassed the Armers and William Threlfall.

27,735. Anybody else?—I went to Richard Armer of Thurnham.

27,736. He went the other way; did you canvass anybody else?—That is all; James Gardner of Conder Green.

27,737. (Mr. Hill.) Just the people close to you?—Yes, three miles.

27,738. (Mr. Newton.) Were you paid before or after the election?—On the election morning.

27,739. Before you voted?—Yes, before we left Conder Green.

27,740. 5*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*?—Yes.

27,741. Were you put to any expense in canvassing?—Yes.

27,742. In what way?—In treating.

27,743. How many voters did you treat?—Not many, only two or three.

JAMES TOWERS sworn and examined. J. Towers.

27,744. (Mr. Hill). Do you live at Dolphinholme?—I live at Bare now.

27,745. But you are on the register as living at Dolphinholme?—Yes.

27,746. Are you a labourer?—Yes.

27,747. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence.

27,748. What did you get?—5*l.*

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

J. Towers.

25 Sept. 1866.

27,749. From whom did you get it ?—Bartholomew Pye.

27,750. What else did you receive ?—Nothing.

27,751. Was that all you got ?—Yes.

27,752. How came you only to get 5*l.* ?—Because I had only that offered me.

27,753. You were not on any committee ?—No.

27,754. (Mr. Newton.) Are you an agricultural labourer ?—Yes.

27,755. Getting 2*s.* a day ?—2*s.* 8*d.* a day.

27,756. Are you a scholar ?—Yes, part.

E. Lawrence, Esq.

EDWARD LAWRENCE, Esq., sworn and examined.

27,757. (Mr. Newton.) You are a merchant at Liverpool ?—I am.

27,758. And in partnership with your brother and Mr. Taylor ?—Mr. Taylor is a partner now.

27,759. He was not your partner at the time of the election ?—No.

27,760. I believe that in the year 1865 you were mayor of Liverpool ?—I was elected on the 9th of November 1864.

27,761. You were desirous of becoming a member of Parliament ?—Certainly not.

27,762. When was it first intimated to you that a candidate in the Conservative interest was necessary for the borough of Lancaster ?—Some time in the spring of 1865, I cannot remember when it was first mentioned to me.

27,763. Can you tell us by whom it was first intimated to you ?—I think by Mr. Wilson.

27,764. Mr. H. T. Wilson ?—Yes.

27,765. Were Mr. H. T. Wilson and yourself personal friends ?—We have been commercially connected with him for the last 11 years, and I may say politically for the last five years.

27,766. Where were you when this intimation was conveyed to you ?—In Liverpool.

27,767. Can you at all tell us what the nature of the intimation was ?—The first intimation that I had was that a Conservative candidate was wanted, and a request was made to me that I would consent to become a candidate. I declined at the time.

27,768. You are not positive as to the time when this intimation was conveyed to you?—No, it would be probably about the month of April, as far as I can recollect, but I could not speak to the date with any certainty.

27,769. You then declined ?—I then declined

27,770. How long after that was it before you had any other notification made to you upon the subject ?—The subject was frequently renewed from time to time by Mr. Wilson, and I think by Mr. Saunders when he was in Liverpool ; of course it is hard to say when anything definite was stated, but he pressed me at last, and I said, "Well, I would consider about it."

27,771. How long previous to the election was it before you finally determined to become a candidate ?—I told him I would not consent to become a candidate.

27,772. Have the goodness to answer my question if you please ; how long previous to the election was it before you finally determined to become a candidate ?—I think it was about the first week in June when I finally decided upon it.

27,773. You were going to give some explanation just now when I interrupted you ?—I was going to say that when I told them I would think the matter over, one of the first questions I asked was what money would be required.

27,774. Was that before you finally determined on becoming a candidate ?—Yes, that was before I finally decided upon it.

27,775. Would that have been at one of the interviews between you, Mr Saunders, and Mr. Wilson ?—No, it would not be with Mr. Saunders. I think it would be on one of the occasions when Mr. Wilson spoke to me about it in Liverpool, in the month of May very likely,

27,776. What information on the subject did Mr. Wilson give you ?—He told me he thought that the expenses would probably be 1,200*l.* or 1,500*l.*, but that he would ask me to contribute 1,000*l.*

27,777. Were those terms ever altered ?—I must explain what followed. I told him that I thought if I came forward to oblige the Conservative party by fighting the battle for them, it would be quite enough if I paid half the expenses, or about 750*l.* ; of course I cannot pledge myself to the very words, but that was the tenor of what I stated.

27,778. "I said that if I came forward to oblige the "Conservative party I thought that 750*l.* ought to be "enough for me to pay ?"—Yes, to that effect ; he said he thought that was not sufficient for the ordinary expenses of the election, and that it would be difficult in Lancaster to raise money for the rest.

27,779. That it would be difficult ?—Yes (or impossible probably he may have said), to raise money in Lancaster for the rest. I remained firm about it for some time, and at last he said, "Well, supposing "you say 750*l.*, and leave me a discretion in case I "see fit to ask you for a little more money.

27,780. Did you assent to that ?—No ; I told him I would not consent to any discretion as to a single penny, that I would not consent to his or to anyone's discretion as to a single penny ; that I would pay a specific sum and no more.

27,781. Did he make any answer to that ?—No, the thing passed off for the time, and ultimately as the election drew near I consented to pay 1,000*l.* ; that was after I had been over to Lancaster.

27,782. You ultimately changed your determination and agreed to contribute 1,000*l.* ?—Yes ; I consented to contribute 1,000*l.*

27,783. What led you to make that alteration in your determination ?—Simply because he pressed me to stand, and I was solicited by the party in Lancaster ; they told me that there was every prospect of a Conservative candidate being successful, that the legitimate expenses of the election would be more than that sum, and therefore I consented to pay that amount.

27,784. Then having assented to pay 1,000*l.*, and having been told that the legitimate expenses would be either 1,200*l.* or 1,500*l.*, was anything said as to who was to pay the balance ?—Nothing further than "I will find the balance."

27,785. He still adhered to what he had said as to the cost ?—Yes, he said, "I will undertake to find the balance."

27,786. Are we to understand that those are the terms on which you undertook to become a candidate ?—Yes.

27,787. Was your brother's name ever brought into this conversation or into any conversation between you and Mr. Wilson respecting the election ?—I do not think it was. I do not remember it.

27,788. I mean by your brother Mr. J. T. Lawrence ?—Yes.

27,789. It had never been mentioned ?—I do not remember that it was ever mentioned.

27,790. Did you ever discuss the matter with your brother ?—Not further than to tell him what had passed.

27,791. Had you ever asked your brother whether he would assist you in the expenses of the election ?—Never.

27,792. Never at any time ?—Never.

27,793. Can you at all give us the date when you consented to become a candidate ?—I was in Lancaster on the 1st of June, and met a deputation from the Conservative party at the "King's Arms :" the question was then formally put to me from the electors.

27,794. Then we may take that as the earliest date you can give us of your intention of becoming a candidate ?—Well, I did not consent then ; it was not till some few days afterwards that I consented to become a candidate.

27,795. You had not then finally decided ?—No, I had not then finally decided, but my reply was that I would consider the matter and give an answer in the course of a day or two.

27,796. Shortly after that you had this interview with Mr. Wilson?—No, I think that my interview with Mr. Wilson would be before that; because, in discussing the matter from time to time with him, those were the grounds upon which I would have consented to become a candidate that I have stated to you; but my final decision was not made till after I had seen the Lancaster people, because I was not going to commit myself to Mr. Wilson or to anybody till I had seen what the feeling was in Lancaster.

27,797. You still left the matter open?—I still left the matter open, so that I might say yes or no.

27,798. Until you found out what was the state of feeling in Lancaster?—Yes.

27,799. You say you told them that two or three days afterwards you would give them your decision?—I did.

27,800. And did you then give them your decision?—I did.

27,801. On what day?—I really cannot tell. I think it was by issuing an address.

27,802. But you must know the date of that?—No. I could not tell you the date; it was some time within two or three weeks after that.

27,803. We have been told that your address was issued about the 15th of June?—I may be wrong about that; it is very difficult to recollect dates. I addressed the electors here on the 15th of June. I think I am right in saying that my reply was a day or two afterwards.

27,804–5. You cannot give any definite answers as to dates?—Not as to the date of the address.

(Mr. Hill.) We have been told that it was the 6th of June.

27,806. (Mr. Newton.) You say you addressed the electors on the 15th of June?—I believe that was the date.

27,807. Where did you address them?—In a public room here in Lancaster. I do not know the name of it.

27,808. Was it the Palantine Hall?—Yes, I think that was the name.

27,809. And then you finally announced your intention of contesting the borough?—I finally announced that when I issued my address on the 6th.

27,810. I thought you said you could not give us the date of that?—I understood Mr. Commissioner Hill to say it was the 6th. I told you that I could not of my own knowledge speak to the date, but it was a day or two after I met the deputation. I received the deputation on the 1st and two or three days after that I issued my address to the electors personally on the 15th.

27,811. On the 7th you addressed the electors by issuing an address, and on the 15th you addressed them by word of mouth?—Yes, if that date is correct; it must have been within a day or two.

27,812. And in this address on the 7th you announced your intention of becoming a candidate?—Yes.

27,813. When did you first commence your canvass in Lancaster?—(Referring to a paper) I think the canvass was not commenced till the 29th of June. I returned to Liverpool the night of the 15th, after addressing the electors.

27,814. Between the 15th and 29th did you take any steps towards furthering the election?—No, I am wrong. I came over to Lancaster on the 22d of June, I think it was, to address electors at Morecambe, and returned again to Liverpool on the 23d.

27,815. I will ask you incidentally here who went with you to Morecambe on that occasion?—I am afraid I cannot tax my memory about it; it would really be a very random guess if I were to make any, because most of the gentlemen were strangers to me.

27,816. Then from that I suppose I may take it that you had no connexion with Lancaster previous to this time?—No, none whatever.

27,817. You were a stranger to Lancaster yourself?—No.

27,818. Between the 22d and 29th did you take any steps?—None whatever.

27,819. Then on the 29th you commenced your canvass?—Yes.

27,820. You have talked about seeking the opinion of the people of Lancaster; whose opinions did you seek to obtain when you came over here on the 1st of June?—There were about (I should think) 40 gentlemen who met me at the "King's Arms," who were represented to me as the leading gentlemen connected with the Conservative party, and I heard from them a simple statement of their opinions as to the success of a Conservative candidate.

27,821. Can you tell us who were the chiefs or leaders of that party?—No, I really cannot, for the simple reason that I do not think I knew a single gentleman present at the time.

27,822. Who introduced you to that meeting?—I rather think Mr. Saunders did, but I am not sure, either Mr. Saunders or Mr. Wilson; we were up here with reference to a company of which I was a director.

27,823. You were a director of the Lancaster Ship Owners' Company?—Yes.

27,824. Was Mr. Wilson at that meeting as well as yourself?—Yes; by the way Mr. Wilson is not a director of that company, but he was in Lancaster at that time.

27,825. You said you thought that either Mr. Saunders or Mr. Wilson attended the meeting?—I understand you to ask me whether Mr. Wilson was present at the meeting at the "King's Arms."

27,826. Yes.—Yes, he was.

27,827. You are a shareholder in the Shipbuilding Company?—I am.

27,828. And we hear that Mr. Wilson is also?—Mr. Wilson is.

27,829. You have no recollection, at this distance of time, who the gentlemen were who took upon themselves to become the leading parties, on the Conservative side, in the borough?—No, it would be pure guesswork.

27,830. Can you at all tell me whether anything was said as to a committee being formed in the borough?—No; I think, if I recollect right, I asked Mr. Wilson something about forming a committee, and the impression on my mind was that in Lancaster they did things differently from other places, as regards committees; that they had not a committee, that the town was divided into districts, and each district was under a captain, and that there was no committee, in the sense in which we in Liverpool understand a committee for such purposes; that was the impression left on my mind.

27,831. When did that conversation take place between you and Mr. Wilson?—I really could not tax my memory for the date; it might probably be either that day or some other day about that time, when we were talking the matter over; it was simply put as a matter of inquiry on my part as to how elections were worked in Lancaster, and whether the organization was the same as that which we have in Liverpool.

27,832. Was that your only inquiry, as to how the 1,000*l.* or 1,200*l.* was to be spent?—I made no inquiry about that, further than to ascertain that the legal expenses would exceed 1,200*l.* I made no inquiry further than that I had a pretty good idea how legal expenses go in an election.

27,833. And we are to understand that you came to Lancaster primed by Mr. Wilson with this information that you tell us of?—I received it from him.

27,834. Had you ever inquired who had been or who was the legal agent in the Conservative interest in Lancaster?—Nothing further than that Mr. Wilson told me he had engaged Mr. Clark to be the legal agent.

27,835. When did he tell you that?—That I really could not answer.

27,836. Do you mean to say then that you took no steps in the matter yourself?—Not the least; I had my own work to do in Liverpool.

27,837. When was the first time that you ever saw

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

E. Lawrence, Esq.

25 Sept. 1866.

Mr. Christopher Thornton Clark?—I am afraid I cannot answer that question. I do not know whether I ever saw him before the 1st of June. I am not sure whether Mr. Clark was over in Liverpool some months previously or not; there were a number of gentlemen of Lancaster in Liverpool in January, and I do not know whether Mr. Clark was one of the number. I daresay he could tell.

27,838. In January?—Yes; I can explain how I came to be there. Mr. James Shuttleworth asked me, as mayor of Liverpool, if I would take an interest on behalf of the Idiot Asylum.

27,839. It was nothing concerning the election?—No, nothing.

27,840. Then it was from a casual introduction at Liverpool that you first made acquaintance with Mr. C. T. Clark?—I have said that I do not remember whether he was there or not.

27,841. And you say you cannot call to mind when it was that you first saw him here as your accredited authorized agent?—I could not have seen him before the 1st of June in Lancaster, because that was the first day I was here; but I cannot call to mind whether Mr. Clark was in Liverpool or not. I do not remember.

27,842. Was anything said to you or did you say anything about forming a committee to carry out your election here?—No.

27,843. Nothing?—Nothing further than I have already told you. I found that the system was different here, and I never bothered my head about it after.

27,844. We have been told that there was a committee formed, of which Mr. Sharp was chairman; were you aware of the existence of that committee?—I was aware that Mr. Sharp was called the chairman, but I never could make out what the committee was.

27,845. Did you ever attend any committee meeting?—Never.

27,846. Do you know that there were any committee meetings held?—Nothing further than that I understood that the town was divided into 12 districts, as I told you, and that the captains met together, and I always thought that they were the committee; but I was never present at any meeting, and heard nothing more about it.

27,847. Was all this information conveyed to you before the 29th?—I never asked a question about it.

27,848. Was all this information about the committees and captains, and so on, conveyed to you before the 29th, when you commenced your canvass?—Yes.

27,849. I asked you just now to tell me the names of the gentlemen who accompanied you to Morecambe, because I thought something might turn upon it, but you say you do not remember?—I might guess one or two who were with me, but I have no data to guide me, none whatever.

27,850. Now be good enough to bring your attention to the 29th of June, and from that time to the day of the election. On the 29th of June you commenced your canvass?—Yes.

27,851. Where did you stay when you came here?—At the "King's Arms."

27,852. You engaged a bedroom, I suppose, and a sitting room?—Yes.

27,853. Did you engage more than one sitting room?—No.

27,854. Was Mr. Wilson staying in the hotel?—I think he was. Do you mean the latter part of the time?

27,855. We know he was there latterly?—The first time I came to Lancaster I came and returned the same day.

27,856. But on the 29th?—On the 29th I arrived in Lancaster in the morning at half-past 11. That was on the Thursday, and I went back again to Liverpool on Saturday the 1st of July, arriving in Liverpool about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

27,857. That was on Saturday the 1st of July?—Yes. I then returned to Liverpool.

27,858. What had you been doing all the time you were here?—Canvassing.

27,859. Can you at all tell us who the gentlemen were who accompanied you in your canvass?—On the first morning a great number of gentlemen met me at the "King's Arms."

27,860. They were anxious to make your acquaintance?—I believe it is the custom in Lancaster that when a candidate commences his canvass he commences by having an array of gentlemen around him. I was met by a number of gentlemen at the "King's Arms."

27,861. And they accompanied you on your canvass?—They went out with me, but after the first hour or two a great portion went away, and I was left to continue the canvass with only a few.

27,862. Can you at all tell us who those gentlemen were?—I think Mr. Brockbank was with me at the outset. I do not know whether he was called chairman of the committee or not, but he took the chair at the first meeting at which I was present, and I think he was the leading man on that morning, as far as I can recollect. I think also that Mr. Clark would be there.

27,863. Your election agent?—Yes, and Mr. Wilson and Mr. Saunders.

27,864. Mr. H. T. Wilson?—Yes, and Mr. Saunders. Really I come back to what I said before, that there was an array of Lancaster gentlemen. I should not like to say who were there, not feeling at all certain about it. As I have said before, they were strangers to me, and it is impossible for me to tax my memory as to who they all were. I do not suppose I could now summon up the names of more than half-a-dozen if I tried who might have been there.

27,865. These gentlemen accompanied you on your canvass?—Yes.

27,866. You went about the town with them, or rather they went with you?—You may put it either way.

27,867. Up and down the town?—We went up and down the town.

27,868. That is a provincial expression used here; was the same system pursued on the Friday?—The same system was pursued on the Friday.

27,869. And on the Saturday?—Yes, except that I may mention that after the first day there were never more than one or two with me.

27,870. After the Friday?—After the Thursday there never was the same array.

27,871. It did not pay going up and down the town?—It did not pay me.

27,872. Can you at all tell us who went with you on the Friday, if there were only one or two?—No, I could not, because they varied each day. I could not possibly say who the parties were who were with me.

27,873. You can tell me who generally accompanied you?—I think there was no one who was generally with me. I think that one day there would be one gentleman and another another.

27,874. I suppose you have read the evidence that has been given here day by day?—I have not read nearly the whole of it; some of it I have read.

27,875. Do you remember the gentleman who was said to have led the canvass, Mr. Danson? Did he accompany you?—He was there generally.

27,876. As the general canvasser?—Yes; I believe he was called the leader of the canvass.

27,877. Can you recollect whether he accompanied you on the Friday?—I have no doubt he did.

27,878. Can you tell us who went with you on the Saturday?—No, I cannot.

27,879. Were you taken round to any of the principal inhabitants and introduced to them?—No, I think not at the first. I think not, except such as may have been voters and came in the way of the canvass. They seemed to take me through a certain routine of streets, and of course any of the principal inhabitants who might live there I called on.

27,880. In fact it was really up and down the town?—They seemed to think you must call on all, whether friend or foe.

27,881. And you did so?—I did so, I believe.

27,882. Did you entertain any of these gentlemen at dinner that night?—No, never.

27,883. Did you at any time entertain any electors at dinner?—Never.

27,884. You say that on the Saturday you went back to Liverpool?—Yes, I went back to Liverpool on the Saturday.

27,885. When did you return to Lancaster?—On the Monday morning.

27,886. Monday would be the 3rd?—Yes; that day was spent in the same way, in canvassing, and on the Tuesday I went back again to Liverpool, that would be Tuesday the 4th. In the afternoon of Wednesday the 5th I returned, and I went back again to Liverpool on Saturday the 8th.

27,887. During all this time was Mr. Wilson in Lancaster?—I think he was, but I saw very little of him.

27,888. Did you ever discuss with him during that time the question of expenses?—No, never.

27,889. Do you really mean to say that?—Certainly, because I had agreed to pay a certain sum of money, and there was an end of it.

27,890. Did you ever agree as to who you were to look to to pay that money?—I presume I was to pay it to him.

27,891. But he was not your agent?—It is a difficult question to answer; I agreed with him that I would pay 1,000*l.*, and it did not signify to me who I paid it to.

27,892. On the contrary I may enlighten you perhaps a little about it?—Possibly you may.

27,893. Then I will tell you that it is a very serious offence to pay any money for election purposes to any one but a legal agent?—I did not know it till you tell me now. I did not know it was an illegal thing to do.

27,894. If you had an election agent should you not think that that election agent was the proper party to receive money from you?—I should think he would be the proper party to make up accounts, but I could not imagine that it would make any difference whether I, in Liverpool, sent the money to him by one person or by another.

27,895. That is your explanation?—That is what I mean.

27,896. You are speaking of paying it through the hands of a third person to the election agent?—Quite so.

27,897. But further than that, you have already told us that up to this period of the 8th or 9th you had no conversation with Mr. Wilson as to the election expenses?—Not further than this, which may have been either before or after the 8th.

27,898. You cannot tell me when you first spoke to Mr. Wilson upon the subject?—If you will dispense with dates I can tell you.

27,899. I would rather not dispense with dates; the 8th was on a Saturday?—I could not say when it was, but the next time I ever spoke to him about election expenses, I think, was when a report reached me that Mr. Schneider had said that I could get in for Lancaster if I chose to pay 10,000*l.*

27,900. I think it just as well I should remind you that this is not a personal fight or contest between you and Mr. Schneider?—I am quite aware of that.

27,901. And that we are not sitting here to adjudicate upon your disputes, I merely remind you of that in consequence of something that was let fall on a previous occasion?—I thoroughly understand that, and I wish you to understand that I have no personal feeling in the matter, and have not had from first to last.

27,902. I wish to have all personal feeling kept out of this inquiry?—Quite so; but when you ask me what matters were discussed, I shall be obliged to tell you. Am I to finish?

27,903. If you please.—I heard this report, and I said to Mr. Wilson that if those were Mr. Schneider's views he was perfectly welcome to the borough, for that I was not going to pay any money to get in.

27,904. A report was brought to you to the effect that Mr. Schneider had said——Just repeat that, if you please?—To the effect that if I liked to pay 10,000*l.* I might get in, or some words to that effect.

27,905. That he was welcome to the borough?—Yes; I said that if those were his views he was quite welcome to the borough, for that I was not going to pay money to get in; in other words that I was not going to bribe to get into Parliament.

21,906. That was what you said to Mr. Wilson?—Yes; and we went a step further than that; I told him that sooner than do anything of the kind I would resign the contest and leave the place.

27,907. According to your recollection this was a conversation between you and Mr. Wilson about the 8th?—It was somewhere about that time. I could not tell you on what day it occurred it may have been the 8th or it may have been the 10th.

27,908. Was it here, in Lancaster, that the conversation took place?—It was here, in Lancaster.

27,909. Did Mr. Wilson make any remark upon your saying that?—Yes, he did.

27,910. What did he say?—He said he would take care that it was not done, and that I might feel perfectly satisfied on the subject. I think I added that if our opponents were going to fight the battle in that way let them do so, and then they (the Conservative party) could claim the seat with pure hands.

27,911. Was anything further said?—No, nothing further.

27,912. Had you ever any conversation with any voter in Lancaster as to the expenses?—I do not know that I ever named such a subject.

27,913. Not even to your legal agent, Mr. Clark?—I think I never saw Mr. Clark after the election.

27,914. I am speaking of up to the 8th?—No, I never discussed the matter with him. I told Mr. Sharp, as I believe Mr. Sharp has told you here, that I had no intention of spending any money whatever for any purpose, except the legal expenses of the election. I think that what Mr. Sharp stated was very nearly verbatim what took place.

27,915. You have read his evidence in the newspapers?—Yes.

27,916. Did you ever make the acquaintance (I suppose you now know the gentleman) of Mr. Wilson Barker?—I now know him.

27,917. When first did you make his acquaintance?—I think I first became acquainted with him through the Ship Building Company.

97,918. When?—I really do not remember, but it was some time previous to that that I first saw him. I did not make his acquaintance. I knew him by name because he was one of the officers, and I had seen him.

27,919. Where did you see him?—I was over here at a ship launch; I think, I must have seen him there, and I think it possible that I may have seen him in Liverpool, but I do not know that I did.

27,920. When was that ship launch?—I cannot tell.

27,921. Can you not give us some notion when it was?—I think it was some time in the spring of last year.

27,922. In the spring of 1865?—Yes, I think so, but I am not quite sure.

27,923. In the spring of 1865 you came over to a ship launch?—Yes.

27,924. And there you made the acquaintance of Mr. Barker?—No, I did not make his acquaintance. I believe I saw him here.

27,925. You must know by this time that Mr. Wilson Barker is a very prominent character in these proceedings?—I am quite aware of that.

27,926. I was waiting rather for you to introduce his name, but as you have not done so, I will ask when first did you become acquainted with Mr. Wilson Barker as a probable constituent of yours in Lancaster?—I do not remember; I could not answer such a question. I have told you that I may have seen him then, and if he has been over to Liverpool, I may have seen him there, but I could not tax my memory to say whether he was there or not.

27,927. That is no answer to my question. When

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

E. Lawrence, Esq.

25 Sept. 1866

first can you recall to mind having seen him in Lancaster as an inhabitant and as a person to canvass?—I cannot recall to mind ever having seen him prior to the election for any such purpose as that.

27,928. Can you give us some day?—No, I could not; it is utterly impossible for me to do that.

27,929. Did you ever go to his house?—No.

27,930. Did you ever go to canvass him?—Simply to pay him the compliment of calling on him at his place of business.

27,931. At his shop?—Yes.

27,932. Did you buy a gown there?—No, I did not.

27,933. When did you call upon him?—It would be some time between the 29th of June, when I first commenced to canvass, and the day of nomination, but what day it was I cannot say.

27,934. You will not fix on any day?—No, I could not do it.

27,935. And you cannot recall to your recollection any occasion when you had an interview with him?—I do not think I ever had any interview with him; I may say, I never had an interview with him.

27,936. You say you do not think you had?—I am certain I had not; I have seen him as I have seen other voters about the town, but if you ask me if I had an interview with him for the purpose of talking with him, I say I never had—never.

27,937. Did it ever transpire that he was your cashier for the purpose of the election?—No, never.

27,938. Not even afterwards?—No, I never heard it said that he was cashier until I saw it stated in the evidence that had been given here. That was the first time that I had ever heard of such a thing.

27,939. You cannot recall to mind having had any conversation with Mr. Wilson as to the spending of money further than that which you have just now told us?—No.

27,940. Except the story as to the 10,000*l.*, and Mr. Schneider?—No, I do not think I ever discussed the subject with him after the first settlement. I may supplement what I have said before by saying, that in the preliminary stages of the negotiation I told Mr. Wilson that I knew I had an opponent to fight who had spent money over elections, and who might do it again. That was at the outset, and I told him that I would be no party to anything of the kind.

27,941. We have got now, as far as dates go, up to the 8th of July; the 8th would be Saturday. On Sunday the 9th you were at Liverpool?—Yes, and I returned on the Monday morning.

27,942. On the 10th you came back?—Yes.

27,943. How did you find things then?—Much as usual. We spent the day in canvassing some of the out districts. I forget where.

27,944. And on the Tuesday what did you do?—Tuesday was the nomination day.

27,945. That you attended, of course?—Yes.

97,946. And then things looked promising?—I knew no more than what Mr. Sharp told me.

27,947. We have heard that it was intimated to Mr. Sharp what was going to happen on the other side on the Monday, I suppose that was kept from you?—Yes, I heard nothing of that; I mean I merely heard from him the result of the canvass, that was all.

27,948. You heard that from Mr. Sharp?—Yes, that was all.

27,949. Tuesday was the nomination day and Wednesday was the day of polling?—Yes.

27,950. And I suppose you returned to Liverpool very soon after that?—I was in Lancaster at half-past 9 o'clock on the day of the election.

27,951. You returned to Liverpool, you say, on the 12th?—Yes.

27,952. But before we have quite finished with the subject I was upon before we adjourned, I should like to ask you, did you see your present partner, Mr. Taylor, here?—I saw him here on the day of nomination, and I may have seen him on the Monday, but I do not remember.

27,953. Did it occur to you to ask him what he was doing here?—No, it did not, because many of my friends came over on the day of the nomination from different places.

27,954. Who else of your friends came over on the day of the nomination?—Is it necessary that I should introduce ladies names, and so forth?

27,955. Not at all; but we have heard of a great many Liverpool gentlemen coming here?—I had friends from Windermere, and I had friends who came over from Clapham, and several gentlemen from Liverpool I saw, who, I presume, were interested in my success.

27,956. Did you know of any of Mr. Wilson's clerks being here?—No, I did not.

27,957. I put that to you distinctly?—I did not know that they were here.

27,958. Did you know that one of your own clerks was here, Mr. Hagart?—I did not know he was here.

27,959. You did not see him here?—I saw him in the train the night of the election. He was, in fact, in the same carriage with me.

27,960. Going back?—Yes.

27,961. Did it occur to you to ask what Hagart had come over here for?—I did ask him.

27,962. What reply did you receive?—I said, "What have you been doing here?" and his reply was, "I have been paying the voters."

27,963. What did you say to that?—I said it was a very disgraceful proceeding.

27,964. Did the conversation end there?—Yes, there was nothing further; I discussed the matter no further with him.

27,965. Did you see Mr. Taylor going back?—No.

27,966. You saw your brother here, I presume?—Yes, I saw my brother here.

27,967. Did you see Mr. Wollaston here?—I do not remember.

27,968. You know him, I presume?—Yes, I know him by sight.

27,969. You did not see him here?—I would not say. He says he saw me outside the "King's Arms," in his evidence, and it is quite possible, but I do not remember it, and I am quite certain I did not speak to him.

27,970. Did you see Mr. Bakewell?—I do not know him.

27,971. Mr. Eaves?—I do not know him either.

27,972. Mr. Maddock?—No, I do not know him.

27,973. Mr. Pace? You know him?—I think I saw Mr. Pace.

27,974. The gentleman whom we hear is now in India?—I do not know where he is.

27,975. You think you saw Mr. Pace?—I think I remember seeing him. With regard to the others, I do not know them. They are all of them strangers to me.

27,976. Mr. Scanlan?—No, I do not know him.

27,977. Mr. Connor?—No, I did not see him.

27,978. Of all those gentlemen I have mentioned, Mr. Pace is the only one you can recollect seeing?—I know him when I see him, but not so with regard to the others, except Mr. Connor.

27,979. Mr. Pace is a gentleman who is said to be in India?—Yes, he is said to be in India.

27,980. When did it occur to you after the election to inquire into the expenses?—The night of the election, almost immediately afterwards, and I will tell you how.

27,981. Before you left Lancaster?—Yes; I will explain to you how it occurred. My brother brought me up, I think, the final close of the poll, and he made some remark.

27,982. Where were you at this time?—At the "Kings Arms." He said something about money having been flying about very fast, or something to that effect. I cannot remember the exact words; and I said to him, "Why, what do you suppose it has cost?" or "What do you suppose has been paid?" and as far as I can recollect, his reply was that he fancied the Conservative party must have spent, one way or another, between 4,000*l.* and 5,000*l.*

27,983. What did you say to that?—I expressed my amazement.

27,984. In what terms?—I really cannot tell you, but I was perfectly staggered at the amount, and I said to him "What have you spent?" and his reply, I think, was "I do not know. I have drawn a cheque "for 1,000*l.* here, and I do not know what they have "got at the office, or what has been drawn at the "office."

27,985. By the office he meant your place of business at Liverpool?—Yes.

27,986. Did you make any rejoinder to that?—Nothing further passed then.

27,987. Nothing further?—No, because it was said in the hurry and excitement of the close of the election, and we parted almost immediately afterwards.

27,988. Nothing further passed then?—No.

27,989. When was the next time you had some conversation about it?—I do not think I spoke to my brother about it until November again.

27,990. Had you spoken to anybody in the meanwhile?—Very likely I may have said to Mr. Wilson what I have said to many of my friends, how disgusted I was at what had been done, but not to discuss it in any other way.

27,991. Are we to understand that immediately you are told by your brother that you are defeated, and that 5,000*l.* had been spent by your party, you made no remark and make no inquiry from anybody?—There was no use in making inquiry. They told me they had spent the money; I was not going to pay it; I could not help it.

27,992. Did it never occur to you to make any inquiry?—I was not going to make any inquiries about it?—I was disgusted at the whole proceeding.

27,993. Did it occur to you to make any inquiry or not?—If you will explain to me exactly what you mean by "occurring to me," I will answer the question.

27,994. If I were to be told a thing that staggered me, as this seems to have staggered you, I should naturally go to those who could give me information upon the subject.—My brother had told me that a certain sum of money had been spent, but he could not tell what he had spent himself.

27,995. I beg your pardon, he said he had spent 1000*l.* by cheque?—Yes, but he could not tell how much more.

27,996. You could have ascertained the rest from the office?—Let me explain how matters connected with this subject——

27,997. Before you go into any explanation, I wish to have a distinct answer to this question; did it occur to you to ask for any explanation?—It occurred to me that I would not ask for any explanation further than I knew. I was told it was spent in bribery.

27,998. It occurred to you that you would not ask for any information?—I would not ask, and I did not want any information about it.

72,999. Before you left Lancaster did you see Mr. Wilson?—Yes, I must have seen him at the hotel after the election.

28,000. After you had seen your brother?—Very likely.

28,001. You did not ask him for any explanation? No; I may have said to him what I said to my brother, that I was disgusted about the spending of the money. I did not ask him any details, and I asked him no questions. Perhaps you will allow me this explanation, that in the bustle and excitement there the thing was almost impossible to be done, because I went away very shortly afterwards.

27,802. You, being engaged in mercantile pursuits, would not care to be told that 5,000*l.* had been spent on your behalf without knowing by whom it had been spent?—Not at all; if people choose to spend their money it is no business of mine.

28,003. What do you mean by that?—I mean to say this, that after the election is over I am told that 5,000*l.* has been spent. I cannot recall that 5,000*l.*; it was not done with my sanction, nor was it supposed to be with my money.

28,004. Very true, but I should like to know who did spend the 5,000*l.*?—You have had the gentlemen here who did disburse the money.

28,005. I ask what occurred to you at the time?—It occurred to me that from some source or other money had been brought for the purposes of bribery, but it was utterly opposed to my expressed wishes, and I was not going to mix myself up in any way with the matter.

28,006. You knew from whence some of it had come at all events?—The 1,000*l.*?

28,007. Besides that?—I did not.

28,008. Your brother said some of it had come from the office?—He said he did not know what amount had come from the office.

28,009. Therefore you knew some of it had come from the office?—I knew then that my brother had chosen to spend money, and it was the first time I ever heard of it or dreamt of it.

28,010. Not your brother only, but it seems you must have spent money?—I did not.

28,011. It comes from your firm?—My brother drew the money out of the firm, of course.

28,012. If your brother drew the money out of the firm you must be responsible for it?—Why should I?

28,013. It comes from your firm?—You do not mean to say that I, as a partner in a firm——

28,014. I do not mean to say anything; I ask you for an explanation; do not expostulate with me?—I do not wish to expostulate; I simply wish to say this, that I, as a member of the firm, cannot be held responsible for what an individual member in that firm may choose to do.

28,015. Do you wish that to be taken down as your answer, that you, as a member of the firm, cannot be held responsible for what an individual member in that firm may choose to do?—Yes, certainly.

28,016. You would be responsible if one of your firm advanced money?—No doubt I should, but I should not be responsible for the use he might make of the money. If he uses the name of my firm I am responsible, but if an individual partner takes money there is a distinction; I cannot be responsible for that.

28,017. Did you hear anything more said before you left Lancaster that night about what had occurred?—Not a word.

28,018. Are we to understand that the only two persons before you got back to Liverpool, who mentioned to you the fact of money being spent, were your brother and Mr. Hogart?—Yes.

28,019. I assume, as a matter of course, you would go the next morning to your office and inquire what money had been paid?—I am afraid you assume what is not correct.

28,020. You did not do so?—No, the next morning I was otherwise engaged.

28,021. Did you at any time go and inquire at your office what money had been spent?—No, I did not.

28,022. Will you give us your reason for not doing that?—Before I accepted the office of Mayor of Liverpool I had a conversation with my brother about the business. I told him that I could not attend to the office duties and attend also to the duties of mayor in the way I should wish to do. His reply to me was, "If you will accept the office of mayor I will take the "office work, and release you from it for the 12 "months." The consequence was that I never went near my office excepting occasionally in the morning to ask the question, "Is there anything particular," when I might be perhaps two or three minutes in the private office with my brother. I do not think I ever opened a book during the 12 months, though I may have signed papers brought over for my signature, when the other partner was not there; but I confined myself strictly to my duties of the office as Mayor of Liverpool, and considered myself released entirely from commercial pursuits.

28,023. Although you were told the election had cost 5,000*l.* and your brother had drawn a cheque for

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

E. Lawrence, Esq.

25 Sept. 1866.

1,000*l.*, it never even occurred to you to look into the books to see what amount of that money the firm was responsible for?—The firm was not responsible for it.

28,024. Supposing your brother had died?—It would be a matter of account between him and me. If he had taken money out of the firm, and he died, that must have been passed to his debit without a question.

28,025. Have you seen a book in your office called the balance book?—I have not.

28,026. Have you never seen the balance book?—No.

28,027. We are better informed than you are upon that point, because we have seen it, and in that balance book there appears in the month of July a sum of 400*l.* drawn out, and it is initialed "E. L. per T. E. T.," and also that 2,000*l.* was drawn out to which also are the initials "E. L.?"—I never heard of that before. I understood the 2,000*l.* was put to the suspense account.

28,028. The whole of it is afterwards. That 2,400*l.* is initialed "E. L.," and remained so up to the 15th of July, and then on the 15th of July put to the suspense account, but up to the 15th of July, if your brother had died, you would have been responsible for that 2,400*l.*?—Certainly not.

28,029. Can you explain why?—For this simple reason, which the cashier has already told you I think, that he put that memorandum "E. L." unauthorized.

28,030. Because he knew it was ordered to be drawn out for your expenses?—Not on my account.

28,031. For the purpose of the election at Lancaster?—And therefore he has told you that he supposed as I was the candidate, all election expenses belonged to me. In the absence of instructions he puts the memorandum "E. L." If my brother had died then I should simply have said, "That is a mis" take; that is my brother's doing, you must put that to his debit.

28,032. What evidence would you have had of it?—I should have required proof of his putting it "E. L." My proof would have been that I could have sworn I had never authorized any money to be drawn out, or to be put down to my name, not a sixpence.

28,033. We are to take that as your explanation of the initials put to those sums?—Yes.

28,034. Then we are further told by your cashier that on the 15th of July the balance book is altered, and that the sum of money for the purposes of the election is ordered to be put to the suspense account by your brother?—Yes, so I understood.

28,035. However, if you have never looked at this book it is almost unnecessary for me to examine you upon the items or entries in it?—Perfectly. I really do not know what the entries are.

28,036. Has your curiosity never been excited enough to examine it?—I have already explained to you that last year I had nothing to do with the office affairs.

28,037. You are no longer Mayor of Liverpool now?—No; if you were engaged in commercial pursuits as I am you would know that if one partner takes a particular department he attends to it, and the other partner does not interfere unless his attention is called to it for some purpose, and therefore my brother, acting as the financial partner in the business, I have not now for some years past meddled with finances at all. Prior to that I was the financial partner, and then I kept the cash book myself, and my brother never troubled himself about it. We had implicit confidence in each other, and each took his own department, consulting each other when there was any occasion so to do.

28,038. It is now eight months since this matter has been re-opened. One would have thought that you would have looked into the "suspense" account and balance book?—If you will allow me to explain I am perfectly prepared to tell you all I know. I do not wish to keep one single fact from you.

28 039. That is what we are desirous of having?—I will tell you everything I know. Probably from July to November I rarely saw my brother, who was most of the time in Scotland. I was in Liverpool and occasionally up at the Lakes, and on the 15th of November I had in my possession privately some funds, and then I said to my brother "I may as well pay my 1,000*l.* for the election expenses." I believe that was the first time I ever named the subject to him subsequent to the election. I gave him the 1,000*l.*, and he made, I believe, a remark to this effect, "I have been thinking over the other matters." (I understood what he meant quite. It was a matter of course of notoriety,) "and I suggest that you should pay a share of them." That was the effect of what he said.

28,040. Was any sum mentioned?—No.

28,041. Have you got anything further to tell us upon that point?—My reply to him was I think somewhat to this effect; "It is a disgusting piece of business, but I do not mind paying something towards it."

28,042. Towards it you say?—Towards the sum whatever it was.

28,043. Did you then know what the sum was?—I do not think I did know. I am sure I did not know the full amount then.

28,044. May I ask you when you did know?—I cannot tell you, but I very much doubt whether I knew the exact amount until it had been stated in court here.

28,045. Was that all that passed between you and your brother?—Yes; I gave him the 1,000*l.*, and left the office at that time immediately after.

28,046. Your mayoralty was up then?—Yes, I know, but I could explain to you privately what the nature of the transaction was.

28,047. Did you refer to the books?—No, not for that amount. I knew there was a large sum there, but I never referred to see what it was.

28,048. I suppose the long and short of it comes to this, that you then begun to find out that a great deal more money had been spent than even they had said, 5,000*l.*?—Yes, I understood afterwards; I do not know whether it was on that occasion or not, from my brother, that he fancied the total expenses would be nearer 7,000*l.* than 5,000*l.*

28,049. You think on that occasion your brother said that to you?—I think it would be on that occasion that he said it.

28,050. What did you say to that?—I do not know that I said anything further than to express my astonishment, which I felt. I thought the 5,000*l.* was bad enough but the 7,000*l.* was a good deal worse. If you will allow me I will explain to you why the matter was not settled in some way sooner.

28,051. Certainly; we should be glad to have the explanation?—Shortly after that, in the month of December, my brother went away to the north, to Scotland. He remained there until the beginning of January when he left England and went abroad and remained abroad until, I think, the beginning of May. After his return home he was very little at the office, being very unwell and confined to his house; and as soon as he was able to leave his house he went away to Scotland again, so that, in point of fact, I have seen very little of my brother since November last up to the present time, excepting occasionally two or three days at a time; therefore, you will see that in his absence nothing was said whatever about this account which remained in abeyance, nor have we ever spoken about it since.

28,052. Are we to understand it may go on infinitively unless you and your brother meet?—No; it will have to be settled up at once, shortly.

28,053. Why have you never appointed a meeting with your brother?—I have explained how it was. I seldom saw my brother. It was a matter rather for him to approach me about than for me to approach him. It was a matter probably equally distasteful to both parties.

28,054. Why should it be distasteful to him?—Because I do not think he liked having spent so much money. He would not be likely to like it.

28,055. I do not think it could be so very distasteful to him?—I think it is.

28,056. He promised to do it?—I do not know that.

28,057. He told us so the other day?—My impression is, my brother had not the faintest idea of the amount he was spending.

28,058. As far as we know this is all clear in the book as a debt owing by the firm?—Excuse my saying, with every respect to the court, that I think you do not understand the nature of commercial books, or you would not, I am sure, say so.

28,059. According to the evidence that Mr. J. T. Lawrence gave us the other day, and according to the statement given by your cashier, it appears to us that it is a debt owing by the firm?—Oh, dear, no; first of all you want to make out——

28,060. I do not want to make out anything?—You put it to me to disprove it. You say "E. L." is put to it. Then I give you my reason why it is not my debt; and now you say it is a debt owing by the firm. The thing is as plain as possible, and there is really no mystery about it. A certain amount of money was taken out, as I told you, for illegal purposes, and apparently some memorandum is made of it until some settlement may be come to.

28,061. And you wish to throw the burden upon the partner who took it?—You are putting your own construction upon it.

28,062. I wish to have an answer?—I have told you that I did not consider myself responsible for one sixpence over 1,000*l.* My brother made the remark to me which I have told you, and from the feelings of a brother to a brother, we having mutual confidence in each other, I told him I would be prepared to pay him something, but as to the money being taken out in the first instance, I declare most solemnly that I had no more knowledge of it than you had.

28,063. Did you ever see Mr. Henry Wilson about this subject?—I have often told him how disgusted I was with what had been done.

28,064. That is not what I mean. Did you ever see Mr. Henry Wilson upon the subject?—If you will explain to me what you wish to know I shall be very happy, if able, to give you the information.

28,065. What was the first time you ever saw Mr. Wilson upon this point?—I never saw him upon this point specially.

28,066. When did you first see Mr. Wilson and talk to him upon this point?—I cannot tell you.

28,067. Can you at all bring to mind your ever discussing the question with Mr. Wilson?—I can call to mind the fact that I have told him on occasions, when the Lancaster election has been spoken about, how utterly disgusted I was at all that had taken place.

28,068. You make use of the term "disgusted" very frequently, but I am talking of money matters. Did you ever discuss the question in a monetary point of view with Mr. H. T. Wilson?—No, never; and I had not until I saw it stated in this court the remotest idea what Mr. Wilson had paid.

28,069. Are you prepared to accept at the hands of Mr. Wilson that which he told us the other day was the amount of the expenses he was going to bear?—Mr. Wilson has paid so much money and he will have to bear what he has paid. I am not going to pay it.

28,070. 2,260*l.*; are you prepared to accept that at his hands?—I do not accept it at his hands. I beg to say it was not money spent by my authority.

21,071. It was money spent on your behalf?—Not by my authority.

28,072. That is quite another thing. I wish an answer to a very simple question. Are you prepared to accept that 2,200 and odd pounds—— ?—I have no money to accept from Mr. Wilson.

28,073. Are you prepared to accept that 2,200 and odd pounds at the hands of Mr. Wilson?—Mr. Wilson has never offered me such a sum, and therefore I cannot accept it.

28,074. Mr. Wilson told us that he was prepared to pay it, and I ask you now are you prepared to accept it?—When Mr. Wilson offers it to me will be the proper time to answer that question.

28,075. You know what I mean. Mr. Wilson tells you he has spent 2,260*l.* in your behalf, and I ask you now, are you prepared to accept that at his hands?—I respectfully submit it is putting a false word into my mouth to say I "accept" it at his hands. I do not "accept" that sum of 2,260*l.* at his hands.

28,076. I put it to you again; are you prepared to accept that sum of 2,260*l.* at the hands of Mr. Wilson?—I respectfully submit it is a question that I cannot answer, because it has no application to me. I may be, perhaps, allowed to say this: I am not going to pay the money Mr. Wilson has spent for the purposes he has spent it. I say so most emphatically.

28,077. You mean by that that you are not prepared to accept it?—I must appeal to the court whether a word is to be placed in my mouth which I cannot use.

28,078. It comes to this, that this money has been paid by your firm?—No; Mr. Wilson's money has not been paid by my firm.

28,079. Mr. Wilson told us that he had paid already 3,018*l.*?—I understood it was 2,200*l.* odd.

28,080. But he has been paid by your brother 750*l.*—I know nothing about that.

28,081. Therefore there is a balance of 2,268*l.* Are we to understand that that is still to remain a balance as against Mr. Wilson?—It remains money paid out of Mr. Wilson's pocket. It does not appear on our books at all. I have nothing to do with Mr. Wilson's affairs.

28,082. It is a very large item of the expenses incurred in this election, and it is necessary for us to inquire into it?—If gentlemen spend their money they must account for it; I cannot.

28,083. Have you ever paid any money yourself for the purposes of the election?—1,000*l.* only.

28,084. How did you pay it?—In bank notes. I gave it to my brother on the 15th of November.

28,085. And that is all?—Yes, that is all.

28,086. That is the 1,000*l.* you spoke of previously?—Yes, that I promised to pay; and I may add, if it is of any use to the court, that I intended bringing my private cash book with me this morning, but in the hurry of coming away early I left it behind me. I have telegraphed for it and it will be here this afternoon.

28,087. At that time you knew perfectly well that there had been extreme expense incurred in the election?—Yes, perfectly well.

28,088. And that it was useless for you to trouble yourself about your election agent?—Yes, quite so; I felt that. I was told that the legal expenses had exceeded considerably 1,000*l.*

28,089. Who told you that?—Mr. Wilson.

28,090. When?—I cannot speak exactly to the day, but I asked him the question. I cannot remember when, but he told me that it was so.

28,091. Did you make any remark upon that?—No, nothing at all.

28,092. Have you paid, directly or indirectly, up to this time any further sums than this 1,000*l.*?—Never.

28,093. And further, I may ask you whether it is your intention to pay any further sums than that portion of the expenses which you have agreed to pay with your brother?—Not one sixpence.

28,094. There is another question which I must put to you, though it is painful to have to put it; have you directly or indirectly bribed any voter in Lancaster with money?—Never, directly or indirectly.

28,095. With the promise of a place?—Never. The only man that ever asked me a question about a place was a man in the railway employ, and he was not a voter. He asked me if I could use my influence to get him put on permanent employment.

28,096. What was his name?—I cannot tell you his name. I said to him, (I did not know at the time whether he was a voter or not) "This is not the time for you to ask me any such question," and his reply was, "I am not a voter." I said, "That does not matter."

28,097. I must also ask you, were you ever present when money was paid, or when money was offered to be paid by anybody on your behalf at that election?—Never.

28,098. Or when any promise was made on your behalf for any promotion or situation?—Never.

28,099. (Mr. Barstow.) You have told us already that in 1865 you were Mayor of Liverpool?—Yes.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

E. Lawrence, Esq.

25 Sept. 1866.

28,100. And we infer from what you say that that is an office requiring very close attention?—Yes, it is if a gentleman chooses to give it such.

28,101. You have told us that in consequence of that you paid less attention to your business matters than you otherwise would have done?—Virtually, I gave no attention to business.

28,102. I ask you that particularly, because I put the question to your manager, Mr. Johnson, and the answer he gave us was, (I think the expression was) that you were always "pretty handy" for business?—What he meant by that was this: that if at any time a document wanted signing when my brother was not present, the Town-hall being on the opposite side of the street, he could run in to get my signature.

28,103. That would not explain it, because the question put to Mr. Johnson was with regard to money transactions?—I do not think during the whole year I entered into one single money transaction on behalf of the firm. I may have signed a cheque when they have come over to me, money being wanted out of the bank; but that is all I possibly could have done.

28,104. You are an old friend, you say, of Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson, and you have mentioned that you have known him politically for five years?—Yes; we have worked together politically.

28,105. May I ask the meaning of working together politically for the last five years?—We have taken an active interest in the Conservative party in Liverpool and worked together in the ordinary way people work at elections; that is to say, attended meetings, interested ourselves to get gentlemen to come forward to represent wards, and generally taken an active part in municipal matters in the town.

28,106. Would that period of five years embrace two contested elections in Liverpool?—No, only one; in which I may add I took no part, being Mayor of Liverpool.

28,107. How long have you been acquainted with this Lancaster Shipping Company?—I think it was organized at the beginning of last year.

28,108. The beginning of 1865?—I think it was then.

28,109. Does your connexion with it date only from the beginning of 1865?—I believe that was the time

28,110. Were you connected with the Shipping Company from its first establishment?—The Shipowners Company. There are two companies—the Lancaster Ship Building Company.

28,111. That is the company I was alluding to?—I have nothing to do with that further than that I hold a few shares in it.

28,112. You are not a director of that company?—No. I am not a director. It is the Lancashire Shipowners Company of which I am a director.

28,113. That I suppose brought you into connexion with Lancaster men?—I do not think it will have done myself.

28,114. In the interval between the time it was proposed to you to stand for the borough, and before you finally assented to do so, did you make any inquiry as to the character of the borough for electoral purity?—I did; and I was told that there had been bribery—that Mr. Gregson had been unseated for bribery.

28,115. Did you make any inquiry of Mr. Saunders?—I do not think I did from Mr. Saunders, but I asked Mr. Wilson about Mr. Saunders's election, and he said there had been a little money spent, but not to a great amount, by the Conservative party.

28,116. Were you content to take that second hand through Mr. Wilson?—Yes, I understood that Mr. Wilson knew it. He was an intimate friend of Mr. Saunders.

28,117. You also were a friend of Mr. Saunders at the time?—Yes; but I never asked him. I thought what I got from Mr. Wilson upon the subject was sufficient.

28,118. Did you make any further inquiries?—No.

28,119. As to the amount of money, for instance, spent at previous elections for Lancaster?—No. I think I heard Mr. Sharp repeat pretty much what he is reported to have said in the papers, in this court, as to Mr. Garnett's election. I think he gave me that information.

28,120. That you know was not the last election for Lancaster?—No. Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Saunders' was the last contested election, and I understood, including some amount which had been illegally spent, the total expenditure was about a couple of thousand pounds.

28,121. Had you at the same time made inquiry as to what the legal expenses were likely to be?—I had it from Mr. Wilson that from 1200*l.* to 1500*l.* would be about the legal expenses.

28,122. What was your idea as to the surplus over the amount required for legal expenses—the balance between 2000*l.* and the legal expenses, whatever they were?—I understood from Mr. Wilson that there had been some money improperly spent at Mr. Saunders's election.

28,123. I mean as to future matters—as to whether money would be likely to be improperly spent?—I told Mr. Wilson distinctly that I would be no party whatever to any money being spent for illegal purposes.

28,124. There are other persons besides the candidate concerned at an election?—I am quite aware of this; that in a contested election injudicious friends may in the heat of a contest do injudicious acts, but I gave Mr. Wilson distinctly to understand that I would neither directly nor indirectly sanction anything of the kind, nor directly nor indirectly be a party to it; and that if the election was to rest upon that I would not go near the place.

28,125. Did I not understand, from the answer you made just now, that you contemplated the expenses of your election would amount to 2,000*l.*?—No; I said that I understood, from Mr. Wilson, that money had been spent in Mr. Saunders' election amounting to 2,000*l.* He also stated that he believed there had been some gross squandering of money on that occasion, and that it was no criterion of what ought to be spent, and what would be spent.

28,126. You yourself of course, we know, only proposed to contribute 1,000*l.* What amount did you look to as being the probable sum the election would cost?—I did not think that in any way it could have cost more than Mr. Saunders' cost, under any circumstances.

28,127. That is to say, it could not cost under any circumstances more than 2,000*l.*?—No.

28,128. Is not that in effect, that you contemplated the election costing 2,000*l.*?—I did not contemplate that further than this, that I could not see how it would cost, under any circumstances, more.

28,129. Can you tell us now, what you then thought the election would cost altogether?—I thought it could not possibly exceed, under any circumstances, a couple of thousand pounds, and I did not mean it should have come up to that, because I pressed it that the election should be contested without bribery, so that if there was bribery by our opponents, it would be competent to the Conservative party to petition and claim the seat.

28,130. Do you say you entered upon the contest with the prospect of being beaten at the poll, and gaining the seat on petition?—If bribery was resorted to. Perhaps I may be allowed to say, that Mr. Sharp told me, a few days before the election, that he had been the chairman of Mr. Garnett's election, and he said, "I do not see how you are to be beaten without money; the canvass is the best I ever saw for the Conservatives and you have far more promises than Mr. Garnett had."

28,131. You were aware, however, that the borough was not perfectly immaculate?—Yes, I suppose I was aware of that.

28,132. You were aware also as to the character of your opponents?—I knew the character of one of them from his own personal account to me.

28,133. Will you be more definite if you please?—I had the honour of travelling with Mr. [illegible]der from Lancaster to London in 1861, when we were both going to shoot as Volunteers at Wimbledon. We were alone in the carriage, and got talking about politics, and one thing and another, when he informed me who he was, and I believe he entertained me with a description of his experiences at Norwich. I was coming from the Lakes, and Mr. Schneider got into the same compartment with me at Lancaster.

28,134. No doubt he told you that he had been unseated for bribery on a petition?—Yes, he did, and a great deal more.

28,135. I do not want to go into detail?—I have already told the Court that one one occasion I called Mr. Wilson's attention to the fact, that I knew one of the candidates had, on a former occasion, spent money for election purposes. If you will allow me, I will tell you in my own way why I accepted the invitation. I was very indisposed to do so, but I have taken a great interest in politics, and in working for, and supporting the Conservative party. I was told, on a previous occasion, that there had been a division in the Conservative ranks, which had led to Mr. Saunders's defeat; that for many years Lancaster had returned two, and one Conservative, and that if a gentleman presented himself, in whom the Conservative party had unanimously confidence, he was sure to be returned. They told me that they had that confidence in me, and assured me that I should have the support of the party unanimously, and I felt as a public man, taking a part in public matters, that I was under some obligation to my party, and that I would contest the borough for them, if my doing so would lead to the probability of gaining a seat for the Conservative party in Parliament. That was my reason for coming to Lancaster.

28,136. You proceeded to canvass the borough?—Yes.

28,137. Do you consider yourself that you had a successful canvass?—I was assured so by Mr. Sharp.

28,138. Did you notice any hesitation on the part of the electors in promising you?—Nothing more than what I knew to be very common; that there are two classes, who, when they are canvassed, give the reply, "I have not made up my mind."

28,139. That is what I wish to ask. Was there much of that?—There was a fair amount of it. My experience is, that those who are going to vote against you, as a rule, make that reply, because they do not like to tell you they are going to vote against you; and those who have not made up their minds, and who are going to wait to see what they can get, give you the same reply.

28,140. Did you infer from anything you saw in the canvass, that money would be required?—I inferred that there would be parties, who would probably wait to see if they could get any money; and I may give you an instance: I cannot tell the voter's name, but I was with Mr. C. T. Clark at the time in the market, and we met a very respectably dressed man, in the garb of a gentleman. I was introduced to him, and I asked him if he would give me his vote; and he said he had not made up his mind what he should do. I thought it was not worth my while to discuss the matter with a man in his position, so I gave some reply and went away; and Mr. Clark, when we had got away, turned round and said to me, "You will be "surprised to hear, respectable man though he is, "he will not vote without a bribe."

28,141. Which Mr. Clark was that?—Mr. C. T. Clark. He said that or something to that effect, "He will not vote without money." I do not know at all who he was, and I do not remember him at all.

28,142. Was that the only elector you met in the same position?—That is the only remark of the kind I ever heard made during the whole of my canvass.

28,143. During the progress of your canvass did you see any houses placarded with your name?—I may have seen placards as is usual at election times.

28,144. On public-houses I mean?—No doubt, very possibly.

28,145. How many of them?—I really cannot recollect.

28,146. We, in fact, know how many?—Well, I cannot pretend to say.

28,147. Do you mean that it passed your notice?—I mean to say that I was so busy the whole time I was at Lancaster with the canvass that I really took very little notice of what was going on in any other way.

28,148. Did not these frequent placards, as we know them to have been, on the public-houses attract your attention?—No it would not. I know it is a common practice in elections to put placards into windows.

28,149. Did not the number of public-houses engaged in your interest call forth any remark from you?—Never.

28,150. I think we have it from you that the first thing you heard of money being paid at the election was from your clerk Hagart?—No; my brother. I met Hagart in the train.

28,151. At the time you pushed that inquiry no further?—No further than I have stated.

28,152. Did you go all the way from Lancaster to Liverpool with Hagart?—No, I think not; we merely went as far as Preston together I think.

28,153. Between Lancaster and Preston you had an opportunity of inquiring into what had been done, and you forbore to do so?—Yes, I did not go into it.

28,154. Did you inquire from Mr. H. T. Wilson what money had been spent?—No, I did not.

28,155. Did you make any inquiry at all, immediately after the election, as to the amount of money that had been spent?—I did not further than what I have stated with regard to my brother.

28,156. Or with regard to the mode in which the money had been spent?—No, not at all.

28,157. When did you become aware that an unlimited credit had been opened with your firm for Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson?—When I saw it in the newspapers.

28,158. That would be a fortnight ago perhaps?—Yes.

28,159. I am not very well acquainted with business, but since you have been in business have you ever known an unlimited credit opened with your firm for any person whatever?—No.

28,160. Never?—No.

28,161. Would not such a thing be a matter upon which all the partners in the firm ought to be consulted?—Undoubtedly, if it was a matter for business purposes.

28,162. For any purpose?—I think you scarcely do justice to my brother by saying he opened an unlimited credit in the ordinary commercial sense.

28,163. I have his words before me?—Yes, but I think they are capable of a different construction.

28,164. He says, "I did not limit the sum, but the "sum was based on the probability that the election "would not cost more than 2,000*l*." That was in effect an unlimited credit?—Yes, it was in one sense, but with the supposition that it would not involve more than a certain expenditure.

28,165. Do you not think, seeing that you were a partner in the concern, it was a subject on which you ought to have been consulted?—No, I think not; my brother drawing it out for himself he would never consult me if he wanted money for his own purposes, he would not consult me about taking it out.

28,166. I do not quite understand this. Am I really to take it from you that one partner may give another person a credit in effect unlimited upon the funds of the firm without consulting any of his other partners?—My brother and I, you must understand, were the sole partners at that time, and such was the confidence that had existed between us since we commenced business in 1850, that my brother would never have asked me what I was drawing money out for, nor should I ask what he was doing it for. If he had found I was drawing money out to such an extent as to cripple the finances of the firm, then no doubt he would have asked, as I should have asked if I had found him doing so, what it was for.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

E. Lawrence, Esq.

25 Sept. 1866.

28,167. But if you did not look into the books you could not have known?—Quite so, and I have given you the reason why last year I did not look into the book at all.

28,168. (Mr. Newton.) Only up to the 9th of November?—Very well, and I tell you subsequently to that my brother says to me "There is the money spent."

28,169. (Mr. Barstow.) Did I not understand you to say that on the evening of the 12th of July, your brother said to you, "I have paid 1,000*l.*, and do not know what the office may have paid?"—Yes, "I do not know what may have been drawn in Liverpool."

28,170. You never had the curiosity to inquire what the office had spent?—No, and I did not for this simple reason. My brother had told me that money had been flying about, and that this money had been spent. I knew it was spent for improper purposes, and I could not then recall the money.

28,171. That was the reason why you did not look into it?—I did not ask anything about it. In the first place I did not look into it, for the simple reason, as I have said that I attended to my magisterial duties, and did not go to the office; but I quite understood that the money had been spent for improper purposes by my brother.

28,172. Mr. Hogart, I believe, is still in your employment?—He is.

28,173. We have been told, and you have told us I think to-day, that Mr. Taylor drew money from your firm?—No, I have not told you so.

28,174. Mr. T. E. Taylor?—I have not told the court so.

28,175. You do tell the court so now?—I simply know what I have seen in the evidence. I never knew, if you will believe me, how that money was drawn till I saw the report of it in the newspapers.

28,176. Have you spoken to Mr Taylor about it since?—I have not, not to discuss the matter with him.

28,177. Even when you have seen what you now tell us you have seen with reference to this inquiry, you have not spoken to Mr. Taylor on the subject of his drawing money from your firm?—No, I have not; I have hardly seen Mr. Taylor since.

28,178. You are now aware that there is an entry in the books of your firm, "E. L., per T. E. T." ?—There was.

28,179. That was afterwards carried to the suspense account?—Yes.

28,180. That indicated, I suppose, that money was drawn for Edward Lawrence by T. E. Taylor?—It indicated that idea on the part of the cashier at the time, but allow me to explain—

28,181. It was in effect so, was it not?—Yes, so I understand.

28,182. It was money drawn by T. E. Taylor, on your behalf?—So it seems that Mr. Littlewood thought.

28,183. So it was in effect, was it not?—No; It was drawn by my brother's orders.

28,184. That we have not heard before?—I do not give it in evidence, but that is my impression at present. I am residing at the Lakes, and have scarcely been in Liverpool at all the last week. I went down to Liverpool on Saturday last and Mr. Taylor was away, and I merely saw him for a few minutes this morning. Yesterday I called Mr. Littlewood into my office, and asked him how it was he had put that down in my name, and he gave me precisely the same answer as he gave you. He said, "I was asked for the money and I assumed it was on account of the Lancaster expenses, and I supposed what was for Lancaster expenses was yours, as you were the candidate, and that is the reason I put it down in that form without any authority."

28,185. At that time we have been informed that Mr. Taylor had no authority to draw money from the firm?—Mr. Taylor was occupying a responsible position with us, and I can quite understand if he went to the cash keeper and asked for the money, the cash keeper was quite justified in supplying it.

28,186. We were told by Mr. Littlewood that no one was authorized to draw money but the partners, and that in their absence Mr. Tronson only would be authorized, and that he, Mr. Littlewood, would take orders from no one but Mr. Tronson?—I do not think that is quite so.

28,187. He certainly made use of words to that effect?—Mr. Taylor had not been there in Liverpool till just previous to the election, and in the absence of the partners Mr. Tronson was the man who managed.

28,188. (Mr. Newton.) Mr. Littlewood contradicts Mr. Taylor upon that point?—He could not contradict him upon that point. There is the fact.

28,189. He contradicts him as to the practice of the business of the office?—I understood Mr. Littlewood to tell you that he considered Mr. Taylor's authority was sufficient.

28,190. (Mr. Barstow.) He told us, previous to that, that no one but the partners would have such authority?—Mr. Littlewood is a cashier in whom we place implicit confidence.

28,191. He was incorrect in saying so. Mr. Taylor had a right to draw money on his own account?—Not on his own account, because if he had not money there he could not be entitled to draw on his own account, but even then Mr. Taylor had money to his credit in our firm. Mr. Tayler occupied such a responsible position under us, and had such trust placed in him, that I am quite certain if he went to Mr. Littlewood and asked for three or four hundred pounds Mr. Littlewood would not hesitate to give it him, feeling it was quite right to do so.

28,192. On that head we may have been misinformed by Mr. Littlewood?—I should have thought so, and he appears to have given Mr. Taylor the money.

28,192*a*. It was only when Mr. Littlewood came that we were enlightened as to the fact that Mr. Taylor was not a partner?—On that point when I saw my brother's evidence I wrote to him to say, "How stupid of you to say Mr. Taylor was a partner;" and his answer to me was, "I understood it to mean, was he a partner now." I was sorry to see it because everything that does not tally to a letter is taken as a contradiction where really there is none. That was my brother's reply to me, and he said it was simply done with that idea.

28,193. You say you have seen Mr. Taylor for a very short time this morning?—For about ten minutes, which was occupied in talking about some business matters.

28,194. Not at all upon this subject?—No. I said I had to go to Lancaster to give my evidence, but I did not discuss his evidence.

28,195. You also tell us that you have seen your brother from time to time at different periods since the election. Have you not discussed the matter with him?—I have not discussed the question of dividing the amount.

28,196. Neither have you discussed the matter with Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson?—No, not at all. I have no hesitation in saying to the court, for I have nothing to conceal, that when I found what had been done I was determined I would not probe into the matter. It was coming before a tribunal of the House of Commons, and I was not going to probe.

28,197. (Mr. Hill.) You have already said, "I did not ask for, and did not want any information?" —Yes; I wish the court thoroughly to understand that I do not deny what has been done. Now the election is over a light is thrown in, but I do say most solemnly that I had nothing to do with it.

28,198. (Mr. Barstow.) Why should you shut your eyes after the election?—For the simple reason that I knew I was no party to the transaction. I understood the matter was to be brought before another court, and I was determined I would not know anything further than I could help in the matter. I did not know but that I might be called up, and when you know a thing after it is done it is very easy for an astute barrister of the House of Commons to try and make out that you must have known it before.

28,199. Though you knew you were so deeply compromised in the Lancaster election you declined to inquire into it?—The money was gone.

28,200. There were other things to be considered besides money?—Yes; and I thought I best consulted my own position by refusing to probe into matters that I could not then remedy.

28,201. Why do you say you could not remedy the matters?—Because the money was paid.

28,202. You might have set yourself right in explaining how it happened to have been paid?—How could I have done so?

28,203. Your evidence here is that you have been compromised by other people?—My statement is as simple as possible, and it is this, that I declare to the court most solemnly that I went into that election with the determination to spend 1000*l.*, and no more, and what was spent beyond that was spent in opposition to my wishes.

28,204. That is precisely what I say. You have been compromised by injudicious friends. Why should you not make such an inquiry as would have set you right in the eyes of the public?—In what way?

28,205. In the same way that you say now?—I had no opportunity; I could not write to the newspapers.

28,206. Why not, for instance? I do not suggest that you should?—I think the Commissioners will know what newspapers are. Even now I know very well that they have said in Liverpool that I knew all about it; and if I had written to the newspapers they would only have laughed at me. If a man gets unfortunately in the position I am in he must take his chance for the course of events to put him right.

28,207. We must take the fact that you did take no steps whatever to put yourself right in reference to the Lancaster election?—I did not, and I could not have done.

28,208. You did not because, in your opinion, you could not have done so?—I had no means of doing so; and permit me to add, in continuation, that I was no party to the petition, neither directly nor indirectly.

28,209. That is no part of our inquiry at all. I will ask you, are you not at this moment on the same terms with these injudicious friends as you were before the election?—Yes, I am.

28,210. You have had no quarrel, and there is no ill-feeling between you on account of what they have done?—Do you think it would have answered for me to have quarrelled with my brother?

28,211. He is only one of them?—Mr. Wilson, with whom we have business connexion, it would not do to quarrel with.

28,212. You have had no coolness with these gentlemen?—Certainly not.

28,213. You are on the same terms with them as you were before?—Yes.

28,214. I think you say you have never even seen the private cash book which we have examined?—I said I had not examined the balance book.

28,215. Your brother said there was an understanding between you that you and he were to divide the balance in the suspense account, which is in effect the sum remaining for the Lancaster election?—When I made the remark to him I was quite willing that we should divide the thing and have done with it.

28,216. (Mr. Hill.) I shall have to refer you to what took place in the petition to the House for another purpose. I believe you did say that you never agreed to any petition being presented to the House against the return?—I did.

28,217. And you yourself were no party to it?—No.

28,218. Can you give me the date at which that was said by you?—I cannot.

28,219. About? It was said publicly, I believe, in Lancaster. Can you give me the date at which that was said?—No, I really cannot.

28,220. How long after the election?—I cannot answer the question; but when the thing was first named, whenever that would be, I then said to Mr. Wilson that I would be no party to the petition.

28,221. Did you not say at that time, "My party "have chosen their own weapons, and we have been "beaten, and therefore I will have nothing to do with "the petition," or words to that effect?—In Lancaster?

28,222. Yes?—No.

28,223. Have you not said so to anyone?—I have not been in Lancaster.

28,224. Have you used words to that effect with regard to the petition that was presented to the House?—I do not think so; I do not remember it.

28,225. I want to get from you what was the time you first became aware of the fact with what weapons the contest had been fought?—Immediately after the close of the poll.

28,226. Was that when your brother said to you that the cost of it would be between 3,000*l.* and 4,000*l.*?—Yes.

28,227. Your brother has given us that conversation also, and he tells us that he said to you after the election that the cost would be probably 6,000*l.* or 7,000*l.* Was that the same conversation?—No. He must, I think, there be referring to the conversation which took place between us when I paid him the 1,000*l.* He then told me that he believed the expenses would be nearer 7,000*l.* than 5,000*l.*

28,228. You had agreed previously with Henry Threlfall Wilson that if the expenses were 1,500*l.* you would bear 1,000*l.* of it?—That I would pay 1,000*l.* out of it.

28,229. That would leave Mr. Wilson to pay 500*l.* and you to pay 1000*l.*, supposing the contest had been conducted upon that footing?—Yes.

28,230. If we deduct that 1,500*l.* from the 6,500*l.* which your brother told you the cost would probably be, that would leave a balance to be paid of 5,000*l*?—May I ask you to repeat the question.

28,231. You had understood that the expenses of the election, if conducted properly, would be 1,500*l.*, of which you were to bear 1,000*l.* expenses and Mr. Wilson and his friends and your friends to bear 500*l.*?—Yes.

28,232. When you knew the cost of this election had been between 6,000*l.* and 7,000*l.* it would leave 5,000*l.* not provided for by your arrangement with Mr. Wilson?—Yes.

28,233. Your brother agreed to pay 1,000*l.* of that?—My brother?

28,234. Your brother did pay and was willing to pay it?—I heard that he drew a cheque for 1,000*l.*, but I never heard that he agreed to pay a penny before.

28,235. Did you understand that you were to repay your brother the amount of that cheque?—No.

28,236. Then your brother had paid 1,000*l.*?—He had actually paid more, because more was drawn out of the firm in Liverpool.

28,237. I am not coming to the firm. All your brother had actually paid upon his own account was 1,000*l.*?—He had drawn a cheque for 1,000*l.*, but he could not tell what amount had been paid at Liverpool.

28,238. That is 1,000*l.* on his own private account?—He drew it out of the firm's money.

28,239. He drew it on the firm, did he?—He drew a cheque in the name of the firm on the bank.

28,240. I did not so understand his evidence. Do you know whether that cheque was drawn on the Royal or on the Alliance Bank?—I do not know further than that he stated he thought it was drawn on the Alliance Bank.

28,241. Deducting that 1,000*l.* from the 5,000*l.*, it would have 4,000*l.* still to be provided for?—Yes.

28,242. Who did you understand at that time was to pay that 4,000*l.*?—I did not understand at all. I presumed that those gentlemen who had gone into the thing and paid the money would be responsible for it.

28,243. 4,000*l.* was a large sum of money even in your business ?—I am aware of it.

28,244. Who was to pay the 4,000*l.* ?—As I tell you I presumed that those who had spent the money were responsible for it. I know that I felt I was not responsible for one sixpence of it.

28,245. That is your clear answer upon that point; that even at the time when your brother told you this, and, from the figures which I have put showing at once that 4,000*l.* was to be provided for, it never occurred to you to consider who would have to bear the brunt of that 4,000*l.* ?—I did not know who had spent it.

28,246. That is not my question—did it ever occur to you who would have to bear the brunt of that 4,000*l.* ?—It occurred to me that it had already been borne.

28,247. You made up your mind at that time that you would pay nothing more than the 1,000*l.* ?—Yes.

28,248. And if any other arrangement has been come to between yourself and your brother it is a subsequent arrangement and has nothing to do with any thought of yours at that time ?—No, it has nothing to do with the election or anything that occurred at that time.

28,249. When you first entered into the question of this election you yourself had had considerable experience of elections at Liverpool ?—I had had a good deal of experience.

28,250. And you knew probably the enormous cost of those elections ?—They are not very costly, nothing like Lancaster.

28,251. In proportion ?—In amount.

28,252. Do you mean to tell me that the elections at Liverpool would not, as far as actual expenses are concerned, always overtop Lancaster ?—I mean to say that the last election at Liverpool did not cost the Conservative party half what it cost the Conservative party at Lancaster.

28,253. What did you understand it cost ?—I understood it cost the Conservative party about 3,000*l.* I may be wrong.

28,254. Do you believe it cost the other party about the same ?—I do not know.

28,255. You did not expect that Lancaster could cost more than Liverpool ?—No, nor as much, or anything like it.

28,256. You were a little enlightened upon the canvass by this respectable man being pointed out to you ?—Yes, as to an individual.

28,257. That was not the only case ?—It was the only case brought before my notice in that way.

28,258. Did you not get one or two such answers as this from voters. "I will see nigher the time ?"—Yes.

28,259. Those words recall one occasion to you, do they not ?—I cannot say that they do.

28,260. Did you not, upon hearing those words, remark to a person near you, "I suppose it means he wants paying ?"—I may have done so.

28,261. It is probable that you did so ?—It is possible.

28,262. It is probable ?—Yes, it is probable.

28,263. Do not those two incidents bring before your mind the fact that you knew at the time that there must be a good deal of money laid out in the purchase of votes ?—Not more than I have already told the court. Of course I could not shut my eyes to the answers of some people, and I was aware that there would be amongst the voters a certain number more or less that might look for money.

28,264. And besides the answers in words there would be a good deal told you by what is called gesture language—a tap on the pocket ?—I do not remember anything of the kind. I never made it my business to talk much with the voters.

28,265. With regard to this private book, do I understand you distinctly to say that this private book of Mr. Littlewood's never came into your hands since the election ?—Certainly not; I have seen it on his desk but never examined it.

28,266. That is not coming into your hands. You have not examined it ?—No.

28,267. There are entered up in that book certain small expenses of your own such as omnibus, 1*s.*, cab expenses, 7*s.*, with the initials "E. L." against them, and 2*l.* 2*s.* for Hogart's expenses; the whole thing together amounting to about 7*l.* ? That is first of all put together with the whole of this large sum of 2,400*l.*, which is afterwards increased to 3,150*l.* Then on the 15th of July that is divided off, and that 7*l.* is placed to you personally "E. L.," and the other is placed to the suspense account; did you authorize the division of that account, and if so, when ?—I did not. With regard to the small expenses, the practice is this, during the month I may say to Mr. Littlewood, "Pay this bill ?" I may send a message for my own private purposes, and he makes a memorandum of it, and at the end of the month he debits me with what he has paid during the month.

28,268. He stops that and wipes it off himself without saying anything to you ?—He gives me at the end of every month a list so that I may enter it, because I keep my own private cash book.

28,269. What are those two books you produce ?—Two cash books.

28,270. What is the large book ?—This is my private cash book up to the 31st of last December, and the larger book continues it in the present year.

28,271. What entries do you point out to us there as bearing upon this question ?—Simply the one of the 15th of November (the book referred to is handed by the witness to the Commissioners.)

28,272. Is it the item beginning "profit and loss ?"—Yes.

28,273. There I see on the credit side of the profit and loss "expenses of Lancaster election, 1,000*l.*," with "52" against it ?—That is an entry of the posting it in the ledger.

28,274. What have you to say about the entry on the 15th of November ?—Simply what I have already said, that I paid that 1,000*l.* in accordance with the engagement I had before entered into with reference to the contest; it was the sum I had agreed to pay for the expenses.

28,275. It would be impossible for me or for my brother commissioners to go through the book here in court, but do I understand from you that that is the only entry in the book connected with the Lancaster election ?—Yes. I am perfectly willing to leave the books in the hands of the Commissioners; and I am sure they would not find an entry of a sixpence more connected with the election in any way, if you look at the end of each month you will find a certain entry made of money for my current expenses.

28,276. That is just what I wish to avoid looking at ?—I want to explain that in the office I may order some little amounts to be paid, and then, at the end of the month an entry is made of them; and I must enter them in my books in order to keep my books in accordance with the books of the firm.

28,277. You will understand that neither my brother commissioners nor myself at all referred in any way to any private entries in your book; we only looked at those entries which concerned the election; so far were we from doing anything of the kind that we had your own clerk up here to explain to us one or two things before we alluded to them, lest we should be referring to private matters. Do I understand you now to say that there is no other entry of any kind connected with the election in that book ?—There is not.

28,278. Will you tell me, if you please, what monies you expended personally in Lancaster apart from those sums which are put down in the account of legal expenses ?—Nothing beyond my railway expenses and one or two small hotel bills.

28,279. To what amount ?—Six times to Lancaster would be about 5*l.*

28,280. The hotel bills ?—A few shillings.

28,281. A dinner for four at the "King's Arms" was not paid with a few shillings I am looking at an item on the 15th of July?—I came away at the end of the election. I left for Liverpool that evening and did not pay the bill; but I believe it was put into some general account of Mr. Wilson's.

28,282. I have no doubt that it has been paid since; if not by you, by some friends who interested themselves warmly on your behalf?—It has been paid I have no doubt.

28,283. Do I understand you to say that there is nothing in the entries in July which have any bearing on expenses out of pocket?—No.

28,284. Do you keep any account here of pocket expenses?—I have a little memorandum book in which I enter them for a month, and at the end of the month they are entered in the cash book.

28,285. Just show me an entry of the sums that would come from the little memorandum book in July 1865?—You will see if you look at the last entry in July.

28,286. Shall I find the same entries in June and August?—You will find them in each month at the end of the month.

28,287. I find that the entries in July are very much the same, within two or three pounds, as those in June, and they are a little more than those in August; is that so?—Yes; I think it is 5*l.* odd in July.

28,288. 83*l.*?—No, you will see there are two amounts added there.

28,289. It is sufficient for me that it is under 100*l.* If it is under 100*l.* it may reasonally be inferred that it has not much to do with the Lancaster election. It is 5*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*

28,290. Then of that I want no explanation. I apprehend that neither you nor any other gentleman desirous of getting into Parliament would enter into the matter without first having a conversation with his friends; did not several of your friends who you consulted tell you that this would be a very expensive affair?—No, I do not think so; many of my friends have said "Lancaster has earned a notoriety," and my reply was always "Well, I am not going to have any-"thing to do with that. I will not be a party to "anything in the way of bribery; I am told that the "contest can be conducted without bribery, and upon "those grounds alone I have entered into the con-"test."

28,291. The persons in your firm connected with money matters were at that time yourself and your brother as partners, and, as under you, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Tronson, and Mr. Littlewood?—Yes.

28,292. Your brother knew all about these expenses, Mr. Tronson and Mr. Littlewood knew about them, Mr. Taylor knew a little about them, and you were the only person who knew nothing about them?—I knew nothing about them.

28,293. You are the only person in the whole establishment of those in the upper part of it, who was not in the secret?—If you will allow me to say so I think there is nothing extraordinary in that.

28,294. I do not say whether it was ordinary or extraordinary, but you did not in fact know anything about it?—No, I did not.

28,295. And you did not wish to know?—I had nothing to wish about.

28,296. When did you first know that a petition was going to be presented to the House of Commons?—I think, shortly after the election, Mr. Wilson said they would see if they could get up evidence for a petition.

28,297. At that time you knew that you would not be able to pray for the seat?—Certainly.

28,298. That is equivalent to saying that you knew that there had been corrupt practices?—I knew that after the election from my brother.

28,299. We shall not see you here again; you are here as a man of truth, and I hope of complete honour; now before us, and on your solemn oath, is there anything further that you know as regards the election that you have not told us?—Nothing whatever.

28,300. That you swear distinctly and solemnly?—I swear it most distinctly.

28,301. (Mr. Newton.) When you came over here the first time you tell us you met these gentlemen at the committee?—I met a deputation.

28,302. Was anything then said by any one to you as to the expenses of the election?—No, nothing at all.

28,303. Have you ever talked the matter over since?—No; because they simply waited upon me as a deputation from the electors to invite me to stand for the borough—not to go into any details.

28,304. Is it not rather a curious circumstance that they did not enter into any explanation at that time?—I have stated I think already that I had discussed the matter.

28,305. With Mr. Wilson?—Yes.

28,306. I wish to know whether you or anybody in your presence discussed the question of expenses?—Not a word. I came there simply to meet them; they preferred their request in the hotel to me, and I explained my views to some short extent at the time, and told them I would consider the matter, and then retired.

28,307. (Mr. Hill.) There is one question I have omitted to ask—when did you appoint Mr. Gibson your election agent? You signed a paper appointing Mr. Gibson your election agent?—I believe I did.

28,308. On the day before the election or the day before that?—I do not recollect doing it. I must have done it, but I do not recollect the circumstance.

28,309. Do you recollect who introduced Mr. Gibson to you?—I do not recollect Mr. Gibson at all.

28,310. Not even by sight?—No, I have no doubt I saw him then, and probably canvassed him.

28,311. You would not canvass your own election agent?—But everybody seemed to expect to be called on.

28,312. Then you knew nothing about Mr. Gibson?—No, I know nothing about him.

28,313. (Mr. Newton.) If anything should occur to you when you have read your evidence, which I have no doubt you will do, you will come here and tell us?—Yes. There is one thing I should like to say, which occurs to me now. It has been stated, that I was very busy about Lancaster on the day of the election.

28,314. On the contrary, my recollection is that, according to the evidence, you were never seen anywhere, because the question has been put to all the captains on either side?—It has been so stated here in Lancaster, if it has not been stated before the Commissioners, and that statement having been made, I wish to deny its truth.

28,315. (Mr. Barstow.) You may depend upon it, that if anything of that kind had been stated to us, we should have examined you about it, for that is the most important thing of all?—Perhaps you will allow me to say that it is not true.

28,316. We asked everybody likely to know, and the answer uniformly was, that you were not to be seen. I believe we need not trouble you with any further questions?—I will only say that I shall always regret that my name has been mixed up in the transactions that have been brought before this court.

RICHARD HOSKING sworn and examined.

28,317. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A mining agent.

28,318. Mining agent to whom?—To the Barrow Hæmatite Steel Company.

28,319. How long have you been in the employment of that company, and of their predecessors, Messrs. Schneider and Hannay?—26 years.

28,320. When you say you are a mining agent, are you engaged in any confidential capacity with the

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

R. Hosking.

25 Sept. 1866.

firm as regards money matters?—No, I am managing agent.

28,321. Going by the name of Captain Hosking?—Yes.

28,322. You were over at Lancaster at the last election?—Yes.

28,323. And you came over with Mr. Slater?—Yes.

28,324. And some others?—Yes, Mr. Baines and Mr. Gardner.

28,325. Did he come with you?—Yes.

28,326. Who is Mr. Gardner?—He is a builder.

28,327. In the employ of the company?—No.

28,328. Independent of the company?—Yes, independent of it.

28,329. What did Mr. Gardner come over for?—He came over as a matter of mere curiosity, I think, to see the election.

28,330. Did you bring anything with you from Barrow?—I came from Dalton, not from Barrow.

28,331. What did you bring with you from Dalton, in the way of money?—I brought 100*l.* with me.

28,332. Where did you find that 100*l.*, at Dalton?—I got it at Barrow.

28,333. Where did you first receive it?—I got a cheque from Mr. Hannay, drawn in my name, and I cashed it at the Ulverstone Bank.

28,334. You got a cheque payable to you, which you cashed at the Ulverstone Bank?—Yes.

28,335. You cashed it, I presume, in gold?—In notes.

28,336. What did you do with that money?—I gave 10*l.* of it to a person in Lancaster, and took back the 90*l.* with me.

28,337. Who was the person in Lancaster to whom you gave the 10*l.*?—Thomas Barrow.

28,338. Is he a Lancaster man?—Yes.

28,339. And you took the 90*l.* back with you?—Yes; out of the 90*l.*, some days after I paid Mr. Gardner 8*l.* T. C. Baines for expenses at the "Old Sir Simon's," while we were stopping there, 2*l.* 1*s.* 6*d.*; for railway fares I paid 1*l.* 14*s.*, and the balance I handed to our clerk, who keeps the petty cash account at Barrow, 78*l.* 4*s.* 6*d.*, I think it was.

28,340. What did you pay to Mr. Gardner that 8*l.* for?—For money which he had spent in the town at the time of the election.

28,341. What did you give the 10*l.* to Thomas Barrow for?—For two voters.

28,342. Was that that Thomas Barrow, of Hill Side, draper?—He is a tailor.

28,343. Do you know where Barrow lives?—No; he is with Barrows, the tailors and drapers, in Lancaster. They used to do business with them.

28,344. You gave it him you say for two voters?—Yes.

28,345. Do you know who those two voters were?—No.

28,346. When did you give it to Barrow?—I gave it him on the nomination day.

28,347. What did you give Gardner the 8*l.* for?—For expenses which he had incurred, for what he gave to voters in the town during the day.

28,348. Did you give it in notes or gold to Barrow?—I gave it to him in notes.

28,349. And what did you give this to Baines for?—For expenses at the "Old Sir Simon's" while we were stopping there.

28,350. That was all that Baines had from you?—Yes, that was all that Baines had from me.

28,351. Who had given you directions to call upon Mr. Hannay for this cheque?—No one.

28,352. Did Mr. Hannay meet you then and give it to you?—No, I asked Mr. Hannay for the cheque. I said that I was going over to Lancaster, and that it might be of some use.

28,353. Then it was pretty well known at Barrow at that time that money was wanted in Lancaster?—I daresay it was.

28,354. It was, was it not?—I did not know anything more about it than what I was told.

28,355. When you come over to Lancaster, you do not usually go and get 100*l.* for your expenses?—No. I understood from this Mr. Barrow that something would be required, and I did it upon that.

28,356. Had Mr. Barrow written to you then?—Yes, and we had talked about it together.

28,357. When did you talk about it?—Previous to the election; the same day.

28,358. Mr. Barrow had written to you to bring over some money?—No, he did not write to me to bring over some money.

28,359. He told you what?—He told me that money would be required.

28,360. Did he tell you at all, how much money was wanted?—No, I am not aware that he did.

28,361. He did not give you any hint about it?—No; he said he thought he might get 14 or 15 votes.

28,362. You know Mr. Barrow pretty well, but you cannot tell where he lives?—I cannot tell where he lives, but I know him very well. I have known him for years.

28,363. I may take it that you know, as a fact, that the Thomas Barrow, of whom you speak, is not a cabinet maker?—He is a tailor. I have been in the habit of giving him orders for clothes, and I suppose he is a tailor.

28,364. Do you know of any other money that came over?—No.

28,365. You did not pick up any money on the road?—No, not a farthing.

28,366. And you did not drop any?—No.

28,367. Did you mention to Mr. Hannay, when you were coming here, that you were coming?—Yes.

28,368. And he knew pretty well, did he not, upon what errand you were coming?—I think so.

28,369. Before you left Barrow had Mr. Schneider any intimation that you were coming?—No; I saw Mr. Schneider the evening before the nomination, and Mr. Schneider asked me to come over. I had drawn the money before then, but Mr. Schneider did not know it.

28,370. Did Mr. Schneider say nothing to you about money?—Not at that time he did not.

28,371. When did he?—I named to him previously that I had heard from this Mr. Barrow that he could get some few votes for Mr. Schneider, and that he thought that some money would be required; and he told me to act on my own discretion about it.

28,372. You told Mr. Schneider that Barrow had told you that you could get 14 or 15 votes for money?—Yes, and I came over the evening before the nomination and saw Mr. Schneider at the "Queen's," and told me Mr. Schneider what I was come over about; and he told me to tell Mr. Barrow that he was not going to do anything of the kind, that they were not going to bribe.

28,373. What did Mr. Schneider say when you told him in the first instance that you could get 14 or 15 votes for money?—He told me to use my own discretion.

28,374. Can you tell me at all the date of that conversation of yours with Mr. Schneider?—No, I cannot, except that it was the day before the nomination day.

28,375. You first saw Mr. Schneider and told him this, that Barrow had said on the 10th of July, the day before the nomination day?—I went home that evening and came to Lancaster the next morning.

28,376. And you saw Mr. Schneider again, the evening of the 11th, the nomination night?—No, the evening previous to the nomination.

28,377. You had your first conversation with Mr. Schneider the day before the nomination?—That was on the Monday.

28,378. At Barrow?—No, I beg your pardon.

28,379. Where was it at?—At the "Queen's," in Lancaster.

28,380. You then went back to Barrow?—To Dalton.

28,381. That took place on the Monday evening?

—Yes, and on the Tuesday morning I came again to Lancaster.

28,382. Having first seen Mr. Hannay on the Tuesday morning?—No, I beg pardon. I drew the money from Mr. Hannay in the week before, before the Monday.

28,383. Then you came over here again on the 11th, and in the evening of that day you had this second conversation with Mr. Schneider?—It was the Monday evening that I had the conversation with Mr. Schneider. I had no conversation with him on the nomination day on any matter of the kind.

28,384. You had first of all a conversation with Mr. Schneider, in the course of which you told him that Barrow had told you that he could get 14 or 15 votes for money, and Mr. Schneider told you, to use your own discretion. On what day was that conversation?—I cannot tell.

28,385. How long was it before the election?—Some days. It might have been a week or two before the election.

28,386. It was certainly in the week preceding the election at least?—I think it was.

28,387. In the second conversation with Mr. Schneider, you say he told you what? Just repeat his words again?—To tell Barrow that he was not going to bribe.

28,388. Did you pass this on to Barrow?—No, I did not.

28,389. On the contrary, you gave Barrow money?—Yes.

28,390. That was not very well obeying Mr. Schneider's instructions, was it?—No, I did not obey them.

28,391. When did you first tell anyone that Mr. Schneider had ever given you these instructions?—I never said it to anyone.

28,392. You never told it before telling me now here?—Yes.

28,393. Tell me any single person to whom you stated it?—I named it last week.

28,394. To whom?—It was in the course of conversation.

28,395. Tell us the man?—With Mr. Schneider and Mr. Fell.

28,396. Last week you first told this to Mr. Schneider and Mr. Fell?—Yes.

28,397. Who is Mr. Fell?—Mr. Fell, of Ulverstone.

28,398. What is he?—A gentleman.

28,399. In what occupation is he?—I believe he is one of the directors of the Barrow Hœmatite Steel Company.

28,400. That was the first time you ever said this to anyone. What led to your saying it to Mr. Schneider and Mr. Fell?—It was in the course of conversation in the office.

28,401. What were you talking about?—It was general matters; the Lancaster election among the rest.

28,402. Did you then remind Mr. Schneider that he had said this to you?—Yes, I did.

28,403. Why would you remind Mr. Schneider, could he not recollect a matter of that sort himself?—I do not know if he would recollect it or not, but I recollect it very well.

28,404. Who was present when Mr. Schneider said this to you at the "Queen's?"—No one. There was no one in the room but ourselves.

28,405. No one but you two?—No.

28,406. Did you mention to anyone, before you came into court just now, that you were going to give this account of what had taken place between you and Mr. Schneider?—I do not know indeed.

28,407. You must know that?—The conversation has been so frequent that I do not know what has taken place.

28,408. Do you mean to tell me that you do not know whether you have repeated this story to any one or not?—I have not said it to anyone to-day.

28,409. Did you mention it yesterday?—No, not that I am aware of.

28,410. When did you mention it to Mr. Schneider?—Last week, I believe it was.

28,411. Tell me as near as possible the date?—I believe it was last Monday or Tuesday.

28,412. Do you mean by "last Monday or Tuesday," Monday or Tuesday in the last week?—Yes.

28,413. That would be the 17th or 18th of September?—Well, they came to visit the mines, and they got into conversation about this among other things.

28,414. When did you tell Mr. Slater that you were coming over here, and that you had something to say about 100*l.*?—I saw him last night.

28,415. You did not tell him last night you told him before last night?—He knew it long since. It has been well known, has that, by many parties.

28,416. What has been well known?—That I had the 100*l.*

28,417. But that you wanted to come and tell us about the 100*l.*?—I did not want to tell you more about that than any other matter.

28,418. When did you tell Slater to give us notice yesterday that you had something to tell us about the the 100*l.*?—I never told Slater anything of the kind, not that he was to tell you anything of the kind. I never saw Slater yesterday till last evening, when he returned from here.

28,419. (Mr. Newton.) Did you go to Mr. Welch's on the day of the polling?—I was at the "Queen's."

28,420. Did Mr. Welch give you any money?—I do not know Mr. Welch.

28,421. Did anybody give you any money?—There was a gentleman gave me money there.

28,422. What was he like?—I have understood since that it was Mr. Welch.

28,423. Is that the gentleman (pointing to Mr. Welch)?—I am sure I could not say. I had never seen him before.

28,424. A gentleman in the room at the "Queen's" gave you some money?—Yes.

28,425. What made you go to the "Queen's"?—I was fetched across from the "Old Sir Simons."

28,426. After Mr. Slater had gone?—After Mr. Slater had gone.

28,427. When you got to the "Queen's," where did you go to?—I went into a little room in the back part of the house, and there I saw Mr. Blades. I knew him.

28,428. What money did you get?—I got 100*l.* at the "Queen's."

28,429. (To Mr. Welch.) Is that so?—It is.

(The witness.) And 50*l.* Mr. Welch brought me at a public-house, Peter Moore's I think they call it. I do not know the sign of the house. It was a place I was never at before.

28,430. (Mr. Newton.) What did you do with the first 100*l.*?—I paid it according to the dictation of Mr. Welch's assistant who was with me.

28,431. Do you know his name?—Alfred his name was.

28,432. Alfred T nker?—I understand so from reading the evidence.

28,433. Where did you pay it?—In a little bedroom upstairs.

28,434. In what public-house?—I do not know the sign, Peter Moore I think they call the owner of the public-house.

28,435. I suppose the men were brought up to you?—They were brought there.

28,436. How many were there of them?—I believe they were about 14 or 15.

28,437. You paid from 14 to 15?—From 14 to 15 voters.

28,438. You have not got a list of their names, I suppose?—Well, I have a list of their names.

28,439. Just let us look at it (A small memorandum book is handed by the witness to the Commissioners)?—but I am sorry to say it is not the original but a copy.

28,440. You paid, I see, to Richard Winder 8*l.*?—Yes.

28,441. To James Caton 8*l.*?—Yes.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

R. Hosking.

25 Sept. 1866.

28,442. Then there comes the name of Procter without any sum put to it?—It is "Procter, per Atkinson, 8*l.*" Atkinson received it, and Procter was the man it was for, I believe.

28,443. Do you know Procter's christian name?—No.

28,444. Or Atkinson's christian name?—No, I do not know either of them; I never saw a face that was there before.

28,445. Then you paid William Jackson, per Atkinson again, 8*l.*?—Yes.

28,446. You paid Woodman 8*l.*?—Yes.

28,447. And Richard Shaw, by Henry Gorton, 4*l.*?—I do not know whether I have spelt those names right or not; they were strange names to me.

28,448. You paid him 4*l.*?—Yes.

28,449. And you paid John Ritchie, per Peter Moore, 8*l.*?—Yes.

28,450. Then there is a name that looks like Richards, what do you make that out to be?—I think it is Richmond; it is exactly the same as I took it down first.

28,451. Where is the original from which that is copied?—I did it indiscreetly. I tore the leaf out sometime since. I wrote it out in the book, and then pulled it to pieces, and I threw the pieces in among some waste paper, and I went to a great deal of trouble to pick it out and put the pieces together, and I have them with me now if you would like to see them.

28,452. Do you mean the orignial?—Yes, the original.

24,453. I should like to see them very much?—It was not done without a great deal of trouble I assure you.

(A torn leaf from the memorandum book inclosed in an envelope is handed by the witness to the Commissioners.)

28,454. The next one in your memorandum book is James Bond, of Overton, or if not that what is it?—I do not know. They are names that I am not at all acquainted with.

28,455. (Mr Hill.) It is John Kitchen as I read it in the original?—That which you have is the original.

28,456. The next one is James Verden, per Peter Moore, 10*l.* Then William Jackson, 10*l.*?—There is Jackson, a groom, I think.

28,457. 5*l.*?—Yes.

28,458. Matthew Winder, 8*l.*; W. Procter, 8*l.*; C. Hartley, 2*l.*; J. Catterell, per Peter Moore, 8*l.*; and Riley, innkeeper, 10*l.*?—You will not find Riley on that sheet; it is in the other little book.

28,459. What Riley is that an innkeeper?—I do not know; I do not know anything at all about Lancaster.

28,460. It is Cattell or Cattall. Are those the names of all the persons you paid?—Yes, they amount to 113*l.* You will find that they are in that little book, but you will not find them on that sheet.

28,461. (Mr. Barstow.) Why so?—It is on the other side. I can point it out to you if you will allow me.

28,462. You say you returned the balance to Mr. Henry Welch?—Yes.

28,463. How much did you give Riley?—10*l.* There is the name Riley there, and the little sheet was riven from that place. That will show that there is no deception in it.

28,464. There is Riley, innkeeper, 10*l.*; is that Riley, of the "Mitre;" do you know whether you paid Riley yourself?—I cannot say.

28,465. You returned the balance you say to Mr. Henry Welch?—Yes, I believe it was Mr. Welch; it was in the committee-room; it was 150*l.* that I had.

28,466. You had a second 50*l.*?—Yes, at Peter Moore's.

28,467. How did you get that?—Mr. Welch brought it to me.

28,468. What did he come to you for?—It was from Mr. Welch; it would be Tinker.

28,469. Somebody came to you?—Mr. Welch brought it down; Tinker was with me at the time, and I believe Mr. Welch brought it.

28,470. Somebody brought you a 50*l.* note, or fifty sovereigns?—It was fifty sovereigns in a 50*l.* packet.

28,471. You did not pay that all away?—No.

28,472. You paid away some of it and brought the balance back?—Yes.

28,473. Have you anything more to tell us?—No.

28,474. Is that all the money that you paid away?—Every farthing.

28,475. (Mr. Newton.) Is there anything else that you know respecting the election?—There is nothing that I know of at all beyond what I have named.

28,476. This story which you have told us about Barrow is a true story?—Yes.

28,477. Mr. Barrow, of Lancaster?—Yes.

28,478. And I understand you to say that when you first told it to Mr. Schneider he said, "You must use your own discretion?"—Yes.

28,479. And he afterwards told you what?—To tell Barrow that he was not going to do anything of the kind.

28,480. But he told you to use your discretion when he was at home?—That was sometime before.

28,481. And when he said that he would have nothing to say to it that was in the town?—It was the evening before the nomination.

28,482. (Mr. Hill.) Did you come over more than once?—I came the evening before the nomination and the next morning.

28,483. Did you come over more than once?—No; that is all. I stopped over night after the nomination till after the election was over.

28,484. You stopped at the "Old Sir Simons"?—Yes.

28,485. (Mr. Newton.) Did you tell Mr. Hannay what you wanted the 100*l.* for?—I do not know that I did; I do not think I did.

28,486. What makes you think that?—Because Mr. Hannay is a man of that sort that he would not care about knowing anything about it.

28,487. How do you mean?—He would not care about knowing that I was spending money for the election.

28,488. Are you in the habit of borrowing money from Mr. Hannay?—No; but I have been in the habit of drawing money from the company for many years for petty cash payments.

28,489. Did you make any excuse to Mr. Hannay?—No, he would not take any more notice of my asking him for 100*l.* then than he would at any other time.

Adjourned to to-morrow, at 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

PRESENT :

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

Mr. HILL.

Lancaster Castle, Wednesday, 26th September 1866.

ISAAC NEVATT sworn and examined.

28,490. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Cheapside.

28,491. What are you?—A printer and stationer.

28,492. Did you receive any money from a man named Bell at the last election?—I received 2*l.*

28,493. Was that all that you received?—All I received from him.

28,494. What did you do with it?—I had made arrangements with Mr. Harrison the night before the election to cancel his account, provided he would give us one vote, that is for the Liberals; that he would vote for Mr. Schneider.

28,495. That has nothing to do with the 2*l.*, you know?—It has not, but it accounts for part of the 2*l.* His account was not 2*l.*; to the best of my recollection it was about 1*l.* 14*s.* The remainder of it was spent with Mr. Bell in refreshments at the "Queen's Head."

28,496. Then, in fact, the money went directly into your pocket?—It did.

28,497. (Mr. Hill.) The other 6*s.* you spent in refreshments?—Yes.

28,498. Where did you spend it in refreshments?—At the "Queen's Head."

28,499. (Mr. Barstow.) How long had Mr. Harrison owed you this account?—Only a short time; up to June, 1865.

28,500. Did Mr. Harrison give you any authority to go to Mr. Bell and get money from him?—He did not. I went to Mr. Harrison first, of course.

28,501. Mr. Harrison had made no application to you for money?—No, none whatever. It was a consultation between Mr. Bell and myself as to how we could obtain a vote from Mr. Harrison, and I said I thought that was the way to get him to split his vote, as I did not think he would give them two votes.

28,502. You got this money from Mr. Bell; where did the money go to?—I have explained that Mr. Harrison's bill went into my pocket and the remainder of the money was spent in refreshments.

28,503. Your arrangement with Mr. Harrison was that you would cancel his bill?—Yes.

28,504. What do you consider the meaning of cancelling a bill to be?—Sending him a receipt for it, which I did.

28,505. When you offered Mr. Harrison to cancel the bill, did you give him to understand that that was to be at your loss?—I did not.

28,506. Did you say anything about getting the money from elsewhere to pay your own bill?—I did not.

28,507. Will you explain how it was that you did not give him to understand that the cancelling of the bill should be your loss?—I cannot explain it any further. The conversation that I had with him was this: I said to him, "Will you give us two votes?" The conversation was to this effect, "Will you give us two votes?" He said, "No, I will not give you two votes." I said, "Will you give us one? If you "will I will cancel your account, or I will send you the "receipt for your bill." I think those were the words, and I did so, and saw him on the day of the election, and went with him to poll.

28,508. Those facts being so, what right had you to go to Mr. Bell to get money from him?—I had made arrangements with Mr. Bell before that. I had told him what a split vote would be. I said I should think a couple of pounds, and I went to Mr. Bell afterwards, and he paid me for it, or rather Mr. Bell came to me.

28,509. You had told Mr. Bell what you could get a split vote for?—Before I went to Mr. Harrison I had been talking to Mr. Bell as to how I could get this one vote, or two votes if I could.

28,510. Was this the arrangement that was come to with Mr. Bell, that if he would pay your bill you would cancel your bill in favour of Harrison?—The arrangement with Mr. Bell was that, if I could get his vote.

28,511. Just answer my question, if you please. Was the arrangement with Mr. Bell that if he (Mr. Bell) would pay your bill you would cancel that bill in favour of Harrison?—It was something to that effect.

28,512. Was that the arrangement? Surely the question is a very plain one?—Yes.

28,513. (Mr. Hill.) What do you say the arrangement was?—It was that I spoke to Mr. Bell the night before I saw Mr. Harrison, and I told him for what I thought I could get Mr. Harrison's vote, and he said, "If you can do so I will make it all right with you." I think those were his words, as near as I can tell.

28,514. (Mr. Barstow.) What did you understand Mr. Bell to mean when he said he would make it all right?—That he would pay me the account; that if I could get Harrison's one vote he would make it all right with me.

28,515. That is, that he would pay your account?—Yes.

28,516. How does that differ from your answer, "That if Bell would pay my debt I would cancel that debt in favour of Harrison?"—I am trying to give you the words as nearly as possible.

28,517. Did you receive any other money?—Only for legal expenses; that was for my printing bill from Messrs. Tilly and Johnson.

28,518. You received nothing else but what you received from Mr. Tilly and Mr. Johnson. Is Mr. Johnson Mr. Tilly's partner?—Yes. That was for stationery and binding, in the usual way of elections.

28,519. In what point of view did you regard this debt of Harrison? Did you consider it a good debt? Yes, perfectly.

28,520. I think you have told us before that it had not been long owing?—No, it was up to June preceding the election in July.

28,521. What occasion had you to spend this money in refreshments at the "Queen's?"—Well, I was there, and I paid for refreshments for some men that were there.

28,522. But the "Queen's" was open that night?—It was the "Queen's Head."

28,523. The "Queen's Head" was open?—I had no occasion for it. I might have put it in my pocket and kept it there,

28,524. Are you quite sure that you did not?—Yes, quite sure. I spent a good deal more than that out of my own pocket.

28,525. Anybody might have had whatever they liked gratuitously?—No.

28,526. Not at the "Queen's Head?"—No.

28,527. It was an open house for Fenwick and Schneider's party?—That might be, but I did not consider myself authorized to order anything on anybody's account, either for the members or for anybody else. I did not consider that it belonged to me to do so.

28,528. Did you send Mr. Harrison a receipt?—I did.

28,529. When was it dated?—I cannot tell the date; probably a month afterwards, or not quite so long.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

I. Neratt.

26 Sept. 1866.

28,530. Why did you not send him one at the time?—I cannot tell.

28,531. You were paid, you know?—I was.

28,532. You must have had some reason for not sending it?—I had none whatever.

28,533. Did Mr. Harrison make no application to you for it?—No.

28,534. Is Mr. Harrison in court?—(Mr. Harrison.) Yes.

28,535. (To Mr. Harrison.) Have you had a receipt?—I never had it sent in; he never gave me a receipt at all.

28,536. (To the witness.) What were the terms of the receipt?—I think one was for newspapers and one for advertisements.

28,537. That is the bill; the receipt?—It was in the usual way; just a receipt for the money, not stating how it was received, or anything.

28,538. At what time was the amount erased from your books?—I have been trying to find my book. Since January I have removed to new premises, and that account was in the newspaper account book, which with the other books has been destroyed as useless, and they only appear in those books, and not in the ledger.

28,539. And you cannot tell whether it was erased from the books or not?—Yes it was erased from the books at the time I gave the receipt, or it would have been transferred to the ledger; these books, I may say, are yearly books; newspaper account books just for the year.

28,540. (Mr. Newton.) Then you are prepared distinctly to swear that in consideration of Harrison giving a vote for Schneider you allowed the bill to be cancelled?—I am most emphatically and that the receipt was sent to him; whether the receipt was received by him or not I cannot swear.

28,541. It was sent to him a month after?—It was not longer than a month.

28,542. When did this arrangement with Mr. Harrison take place?—The day previous to the election.

28,543. When did the arrangement with Mr. Bell take place?—I think the night before that.

28,544. Tell us exactly what took place between you and Mr. Harrison?—I saw him in Church Street opposite the Lancaster Bank and began talking to him. I said was he going to vote and would he give us one vote; he said no, he was going to vote for the other side. I said "If you will give us one vote I will cancel the account." I made the first offer to him.

28,545. What did you say?—I said what I have stated, that if he would give us one vote I would cancel the account or give him a receipt; that is the pith of the arrangement.

28,546. What did he say to that?—I think that his remark was something about its not being known, or something of that kind.

28,547. Try and recollect what it was?—I cannot remember, not having expected to have appeared here; he said he should not like it to be known; there was some conversation about his not liking it to be known, and that he should not like his name to appear as receiving it; that was the substance of the remark.

28,548. Then, in fact, you got Mr. Harrison's bill paid to you by Bell?—By Mr. Bell, but on account of Mr. Harrison's vote.

28,549. But you got his bill paid to you by Bell, that is how the transaction stands?—Yes, on account of Mr. Harrison's vote; If Mr. Harrison had not voted as he did the arrangement would have been null, and Mr. Bell would not have paid me the money.

28,550. When did he pay you the money?—Some months afterwards.

28,551. When did he pay it, take care?—I cannot remember.

28,552. Take care?—It was some months afterwards, I cannot positively say when; if I could remember it I would say so. There is another thing that occurs to me that I may be allowed to state, and that is that when Mr. Bell paid me I said, "Mr. Bell it is more than I want." "Well," he said, "it will do for what you spend at the 'Queen's Hotel.'" The money was not given to me then at the time, but he said he would not take it back; he said "Never mind it will do for what you spend at the 'Queen's Hotel,'" or the "Queen's Head" rather.

28,553. (Mr. Hill.) As far as I understand from you the transaction was of this character, the party got Mr. Harrison's vote, and Mr. Harrison got his bill paid?—Yes, that was it.

28,554. And you were only the medium through which it was paid?—Yes, and instead of paying him the money he paid his account.

28,555. That is your account of the transaction?—Yes; I wish to tell the truth.

28,556. Mr. Harrison is a gentleman to whom (from his position) you could not well have offered the money?—No, and yet I was anxious to get the vote.

28,557. (Mr. Barstow.) It was about 1*l.* 14*s.* in your own books?—Yes.

28,558. (Mr. Hill.) And you knew that it was a perfectly good debt?—Yes.

28,559. What is the usual amount of Mr. Harrison's half-yearly bill?—About a guinea.

28,560. What is it for; advertisements?—It was then for advertisements and for a newspaper account.

28,561. Are you an advertising agent?—No, it was a small paper that I had of my own that he advertised in regularly for a month or two.

28,562. What paper was that?—The Lancaster Advertiser and Time Table.

28,563. Is that paper still in existence?—Yes.

28,564. And did you advertise during that half year for Mr. Harrison?—I cannot tell.

28,565. You say that this bill was for advertisements?—As it was to that amount it would be the previous half year, perhaps up to December 1864.

28,566. Were there any advertisements that year?—I cannot tell.

28,567. Had he advertised during that half year?—Up to December it is my impression that he had.

28,568. Then the bill was standing for more than half a year?—Yes.

28,569. Then it was a bill which was due up to June?—It was over due.

28,570. But it was not a bill that had been incurred in the preceding half year?—No, not the whole of it.

28,571. Then it was a bill of some standing?—Yes.

28,572. Had you sent in the account previously?—I think I had; yes, I had.

28,573. (Mr. Barstow.) That is not what you have told us before.

28,574. (Mr. Hill.) How much of it was of old standing?—Probably half of it or a little more.

28,575. How long before the December previous?—Perhaps the previous half year.

28,576. Do not say perhaps?—It would include the previous half year.

28,577. Some of the items were of more than a year's standing?—They would be of a year's standing.

28,578. Fully a year's standing?—Some of them would be of fully a year's standing to the best of my recollection.

28,579. Can you charge your memory as to whether Mr. Harrison had paid you any bill at the Christmas preceding?—He might have paid me something on account, but I cannot say.

28,580. Did you enter up his name from those books of which you have spoken into the ledger?—Not for that year; they remained in the magazine or newspaper book, and it was crossed out from that book and the receipt was sent to him, and those books have been destroyed with my other books; that is those that were of no use in January.

28,581. How long has Mr. Harrison been a customer of yours?—Several years.

28,582. Have you destroyed all your books preceding this date?—This magazine book I have.

28,583. How came it that the advertising account was put into the magazine book?—It was a newspaper account.

28,584. How came the advertising account to appear in the magazine book ?—I do not think it was there.

28,585. Then why do you say it was. I understood you to say just now that this account was in the magazine book ?—The newspaper account was.

28,586. Was the newspaper account kept separate from the advertistng account, or in what book was the advertising account kept ?—They were added up.

28,587. In what book was the advertising account kept ; that is a very simple question ?—In a separate book.

28,588. Where is that separate book ?—Well, it was destroyed with the other books.

28,589. Was that a book that was kept separately for advertisements ?—Yes.

28,590. Why did you destroy that book ?—Because I thought it was of no use.

28,591. Were the debts all cleared up and wiped off ?—Or transferred into the ledger.

28,592. When did you transfer those accounts from the advertisement book, and from the magazine book into your present ledger ?—I think in December 1864.

28,593. December last year ?—Last year but one. I did not enter the June accounts into the ledger.

28,594. What a rigmarole account you are giving us ; you say you did not enter this account into the ledger because it was wiped off; that was in June 1865, and now you tell me that these accounts were entered up in December 1864; how do you reconcile those two statements ; when were these accounts entered from the magazine book and the other book respectively into the ledger ?—In December 1864.

28,595. Then that book is still in existence ?—No, it was destroyed with the other books.

28,596. But the book into which they were entered was not destroyed ?—No, that would be into the ledger I fancy.

28,597. The ledger is still in existence ?—Yes.

28,598. Then if so, those two accounts must be in it, because they were not paid off in December 1864. I understand you to say this ; and do not let there be any mistake about it. I understand you to tell me that your accounts that were unpaid in the magazine book, and in the other book, were entered in the ledger in December 1864 ?—Generally they were.

28,599. Did you not tell me that all unpaid accounts were entered up into the ledger in December 1864 ?—Yes, I think they would be.

28,600. Then if these were unpaid they would be in the ledger ?—Yes.

28,601. Where is your ledger book ?—At home.

28,602. Let us have no misunderstanding about this; either they are in the ledger book of 1864, or they were not owing from Mr. Harrison in December 1864; you cannot escape from that ?—I cannot positively say.

28,603. You say you entered up in December 1864 all accounts due and owing on these two bills ; you see what I mean do you not ?—Yes.

EDMUND HARRISON sworn and examined. E. Harrison.

28,604. (Mr. Newton.) You live in Church Street ?—Yes.

28,605. And you are a dentist ?—Yes.

28,606. How did you vote at the last election ?—For Schneider and Lawrence.

28,607. How had you voted at the election in 1864 ?—I voted for Saunders.

28,608. How came you to vote for Schneider in 1865 ?—Because I was treated badly ; they said I voted for an "old Tory."

28,609. How were you treated badly ?—I was bullied.

28,610. By whom ?—By several people in the town.

28,611. What were you bullied for ?—Because I had voted for an old Tory ; that is what got talked about.

28,612. Who was the old Tory for whom you voted ?—Saunders ; that is what they accused me of.

28,613. Your having voted for an old Tory at the previous election was no reason why you should vote for Mr. Schneider ?—I had friends on both sides ; and I did not like voting for one side and not for the other. I should have voted on both sides, if there had been three candidates, when Mr. Saunders came forward. I should have voted then ; both for a Liberal and a Conservative candidate.

28,614. You wished to oblige your friends ?—Yes.

28,615. You have heard what Mr. Nevatt has said ?—Yes.

28,616. Had you an account owing to Mr. Nevatt in July 1865 ?—He sent me an account, I think, in June, two or three days or a week or two, before the election.

28,617. What was the amount of it ?—1*l.* 11*s.*, I think it was, in June ; it would be just after Midsummer I think.

28,618. Who canvassed you for your vote ?—Mr. Schneider.

28,619. Did anybody canvass you in the town ?—Mr. Nevatt came up to me in the street, and began a conversation with me.

28,620. When was that ?—On the night after the nomination ; the evening of the nomination day ; the nomination had taken place before.

28,621. Just tell me what he asked you ?—He asked me who I was going to vote for. I said I was going to vote for Schneider and Lawrence. I distinctly recollect his asking me to vote for Fenwick ; and I said I would not vote for Fenwick, and I said I would vote for Schneider; then he said to me "If you will vote for Fenwick, I will strike out your account," I said "Oh no, Mr. Nevatt, I could not think of anything of the sort."

28,622. What did he say upon that ?—I suppose he struck it out.

28,623. What did he do when you said "Oh no I shall not do anything of the sort," ?—He went away and left me, and I went home.

28,624. Did he say anything about cancelling your bill ?—Yes, he did.

28,625. After that again ?—No.

28,626. Then all he said to you was, "If you will vote for Fenwick, I will strike out your account" ?—Yes, that is what he said to me, and I said, "Oh no, I "could not think of doing anything of the sort, I will "pay you your account," I said.

28,627. You voted for Schneider and Lawrence ?—Yes.

28,628. Did you receive from Mr. Nevatt a receipt ?—Never.

28,629. A month afterwards ?—Never ; I never had a receipt at all.

28,630. Have you paid that bill ?—No, I have not.

28,631. Why have you not paid it ?—Because I had to change my residence, and I had lost the account, and I could not tell what I owed him at the time of the election.

28,632. How do you mean at the time of the election ; you know now ?—Yes ; because I have found the account.

28,633. Why have you not paid it ?—I was ill just about that time.

28,634. You said that you changed your residence ?—Yes ; I was ill at the time, and it was a serious loss to me. I was very backward.

28,635. Do you mean to tell us that you did not know the amount ?—I knew that I owed him about 30*s.* ; but I could not tell exactly what it was, because there was a mistake in the next bill that was sent in. I have it now in my pocket.

28,636. When was the next bill sent in ?—In December 1865.

28,637. You say you have it in your pocket ?—Yes.

28,638. Just let me see it. (Some accounts are handed by the witness to the Commissioners.) Here

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

E. Harrison.

26 Sept. 1866.

is a bill dated June 1865, and it says "to account delivered, 17*s*." ?—Yes.

28,639. "One Examiner, to June 1865, 14*s*.," and the total is 1*l*. 11*s*.?—Yes.

28,640. That is in June 1865 ?—Yes.

28,641. That is the bill which you say was then owing to Mr. Nevatt ?—Yes.

28,642. And that bill you say is not paid?—No, it is not.

28,643. Then comes the next bill, December 1865., "one Daily Times, to December 1865, 1*l*. 1*s*." ?—That is a mistake.

28,644. What is the mistake ?—I do not owe that guinea at all. I only owe 14*s*. for it; there is a quarter charged twice over.

28,645. If you owe 14*s*. in December 1865, he would put in "to account delivered" ?—Yes; I could not make that out.

28,646. But he does not do so ?—He does not.

28,647. And therefore 1*l*. 11*s*. went for your vote ?—No; it did not.

29,648. Yes; it is quite clear from these papers that it did ?—I do not understand it so at all.

28,649. But I do perfectly, and anybody who looks at these papers must understand it too; you have convicted yourself. You may stand down ?—I never intended to take any bribe.

W. Fort.

WILLIAM FORT sworn and examined.

28,650. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A dentist.

28,651. You are a householder ?—Yes.

28,652. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.

28,653. Did you receive any money at the last election ?—No, none at all; not at the election.

28,654. After the election ?—After the election I did.

28,655. What did you receive ?—I brought three bills from Preston, which I presented to Mr. Barker, and he gave me the money.

28,656. Three bills of what sort ?—Accounts against the election.

28,657. Let us look at them ?—I will explain them to you. In consequence of so very much personating having been practised, during Mr. Saunders election, I was spoken to about it; for it was suspected that there were some parties coming over from Preston, that had personated voters here, and the parties who had been over during that election had told afterwards of what they had done in Lancaster during Mr. Saunders' election; of course it was then well known who the parties were who had been here.

28,658. You mean that by that means you had found out who the people were that had done the personation at Mr. Saunders' election ?—Yes; and in consequence of that I sent people to see if those parties were at home. Several days before the election they were away from home, one in particular; and I was in conversation with Mr. Saunders about it, and Mr. Lawrence as well, and I told them that I thought the best way would be to send two or three parties over from Preston that knew those very men, and who might detect them if they tried to vote.

28,659. And so you had some persons over here ?—Yes; and they made out an account to me afterwards.

28,660. What was the amount ?—12*l*. for two of them that came over, and then there was either John or James Turner, I do not know which; he is since dead. A lawyer.

28,661. Were those persons voters or not voters ?—They were not voters.

28,662. But they were persons who came over to a certain extent to do detective work at that election ?—Yes.

28,663. And you paid that ?—I paid it.

28,664. How much did you pay altogether ?—Altogether it was 15*l*. 12*s*.

28,665. What else did you pay ?—I paid this Mr. Turner 2 guineas.

28,666. Who is Mr. Turner ?—He was a lawyer; he is since dead.

28,667. He came for the same purpose ?—He brought Dallabella, a voter, over from Preston.

28,668. What else did you pay ?—1*l*. 10*s*. I paid in expenses, railway fares, cab fares, and refreshments for those two men, when they were here.

28,669. Did you pay anything else ?—Nothing.

28,670. That made altogether then a sum of 15*l*. 12*s*. ?—Yes.

28,671. From whom did you receive the money for that ?—Mr. Wilson Barker.

28,672. When ?—I do not know the date, I think he states the 26th.

28,673. After the election ?—After the election.

28,674. Did you receive anything from Mr. Wilson Barker besides that ?—No, nothing.

28,675. Did you receive any compensation or remuneration for your trouble ?—No, nothing at all.

28,676. You did this then simply for the love of the cause ?—Yes.

28,677. Have you got anything else to say upon that point ?—No, nothing further.

28,678. Having yourself been connected with this matter, of looking after personation, do you believe that any personation occurred at the election in 1865 ?—Yes, those two men that I sent over saw one man vote.

28,679. Who was that man ?—I forget the name; it was the very man that was found personating in South Lancashire.

28,680. What are the names of the two men you have referred to ?—John Southworth and Edward Pearson.

28,681. Where are they to be found ?—One is in Fyld Road, Preston, and Edward Pearson is in Church Street. Southworth is a grocer, and Pearson is a tobacconist in Church Street.

28,682. Are there any numbers to their houses ?—The houses have numbers, but I am not acquainted with them.

28,683. Those were the two persons who saw personation in Lancaster ?—Yes.

28,684. Personating what voter ?—I cannot tell. They did tell me at the time.

28,685. Was the vote allowed ?—Yes.

28,686. You were not present at the time ?—No, I was not present.

28,687. Is there any other case of personation that you know of ?—I do not know of any more.

28,688. Have you yourself anything further to tell us on the subject of personation ?—No, nothing further.

28,689. Do you believe that there was only that one case ?—They only saw one man vote. I daresay others were deterred in a great measure on account of several of the Preston police having been sent for, and having come over here, and they were men who were acquainted with the parties who were over for that purpose, and knew them very well.

28,690. In fact they had got the names of the persons who had done the personation at Mr. Saunders's election ?—Yes.

28,691. To what extent do you believe personation had taken place at Mr. Saunders's election ?—I believe it took place to a very great extent; I cannot tell the numbers, but I was told that there were a great many that were personated.

28,692. When you say a great number, do you mean 10 or 20 ?—I should think 20 would be a great number.

28,693. (Mr. Barstow.) I suppose it was done on both sides ?—I do not know anything at all about the other side. It was only known by their own telling when they got back to Preston, where they made a boast of what they had done.

28,694. How many voters did your side personate?—I do not know, indeed.

28,695. (Mr. Hill.) That you did not look after so closely?—No, I did not.

28,696. Who were the persons who were personated. Would they be freemen or householders?—I believe they would be chiefly freemen out in the country, because the personating, I believe, was done principally at the Leonardgate booth.

28,697. And the Leonardgate booth comprises what voters?—People from Kellet and from Morecambe, I believe.

28,698. The persons who were personated then were outlying freemen?—Yes, I understood so.

28,699. Has the practice of personation been common with regard to outlying freemen?—Yes.

28,700. May I say that personation to a considerable extent has been practised with regard to outlying freemen at previous elections?—I do not know anything further than what took place at Mr. Saunders's election. The party that the men came over particularly to look after was Satterthwaite alias Jones.

28,701. Was he the man who was supposed to be at work here?—He was the man they came to stop, and a man he brought with him.

28,702. And in consequence of their coming to look after him he transferred himself to another place?—No, I believe he was here on the day of election dressed as an old farmer in the streets.

28,703. On the day of which election?—On the last election.

28,704. Was not that the same day as the Great Yarmouth election?—I think not.

THOMAS TAYLOR sworn and examined. T. Taylor.

28,705. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Mason Street, Lancaster.

28,706. What are you?—A quarryman.

28,707. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for nobody; there was one voted for me; my vote was gone when I went to poll.

28,708. At what booth did you go to poll?—The Girls National School.

28,709. For whom did you intend to vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

28,710. Where is Mason Street?—It is in Lancaster, off Damside Street.

WILLIAM TOWERS recalled and further examined. W. Towers.

28,711. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand that you can explain this?—I can. According to the evidence of Mr. William Storey and Mr. Stanton they paid this man 10*l.* to go and poll for another, Thomas Taylor, at Bolton; this man had not a vote at the last election. This man made an attempt to personate Thomas Taylor at Bolton; I saw him.

28,712. Thomas Taylor of Bolton voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—He did.

28,713. (Mr. Patteson, the Secretary.) He is on the register twice?—Yes.

28,714. (Mr. Barstow.) How is he on the second time?—He is on the second time as of Skerton. Nos. 823 and 825 on the register are the same person. In 1864, Thomas Taylor, labourer, of Bolton, resided at Bolton, and in August of that year he removed to Skerton; he was put on that year for Skerton and was not removed from Bolton, that is how he came to be on the register twice.

28,715. Then this man was neither of them?—No. It was conveyed to me early in the morning, that this man was going to vote for Thomas Taylor, labourer, of Bolton, and the consequence was that I voted Thomas Taylor, labourer, the first man. We had no sooner gone out of the booth than this man came in to vote for Thomas Taylor, rather on in the day. I was in the polling booth about 3 o'clock when this man came in again.

28,716. Had you seen him come in before?—Yes.

28,717. About what time?—As far as I could say it would be, perhaps, about 25 minutes to 9 in the morning.

28,718. Between 8 and 9?—Yes.

28,719. He came in to try it on?—He came and tendered his vote.

28,720. What took place upon that occasion?—He went up, I suppose, to the poll-clerk.

28,721. He went before the deputy returning officer?—Yes.

28,722. And then he tendered his vote?—Yes.

28,723. And was asked his name?—He was asked his name.

28,724. And what name did he give?—He gave his proper name and address, as of Mason Street.

28,725. He gave his name as Thomas Taylor, of Mason Street, quarryman?—Yes.

28,726. Then I suppose the vote was refused?—Yes, the vote was refused; he was told that he was not the man, and he was told to go away.

28,727. Did you take any objection to him then, or who took the objection?—At that time I did not take any objection.

28,728. Who took the objection?—The returning officer.

28,729. He would say to him, "There is no such man on the register?"—I do not know that on that occasion he did; but he told him that Thomas Taylor had voted, and that if he was the voter somebody had voted for him. That was on the first occasion.

28,730. Can you say whether at that time there was a Thomas Taylor, of Mason Street, quarryman, on the register?—No, there was not.

28,731. Then the poll-clerk was not exact in what he told this man, was he?—I beg your pardon.

28,732. The poll-clerk would not have been exact in what he told this man?—I do not know that he was not.

28,733. This man gave his name correctly, as I understand you?—He did.

28,734. Thomas Taylor, Mason Street, quarryman?—Yes, and he tendered his vote as Thomas Taylor, labourer, Bolton.

28,735. He tendered his vote as being the same man as Thomas Taylor, labourer, Bolton?—Yes.

28,736. And the returning officer then told him that Thomas Taylor had voted?—Yes.

28,737. And then, I suppose, he left the booth?—He left the booth then, and afterwards returned again about 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

28,738. Were you in the booth at that time?—I was.

28,739. What took place the second time?—He came and laid down his voting card as No. 823 for Thomas Taylor of Skerton, labourer.

28,740. I do not quite know what a voting card is?—It is a card with the candidate's name and the number on the register.

28,741. That is sent by the Committee to each voter?—Yes.

28,742. By each party?—Yes, and at the time he laid it down he said, "I vote for Lawrence."

22,743. But the poll-clerk does not permit a man to deliver in his voting card, I suppose, or rather does not permit him to vote by handing in a card?—The returning officers never make use of voting cards.

28,744. A man has to state viva voce who he is?—They see the number on the card, and say, "Are you Thomas Taylor?"

28,745. When he put down his polling card, the poll-clerk asked him "Are you Thomas Taylor of Skerton, labourer"?—Yes.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

W. Towers.

26 Sept. 1866.

28,746. Am I right in that?—Well, before he had spoken again, after he came in and put down his card and said how he voted, I said, "I demand that the returning officer swear this man," and when he came to ask him the question, "Are you Thomas Taylor, labourer, of Skerton," the man turned round and walked away.

28,747. Was he sworn?—Yes. When he was asked the question, "Are you Thomas Taylor, of Skerton, labourer," he turned round and walked away.

28,748. After he had been sworn, on being asked that question, he left the booth?—He did.

28,749. And that is all you know about him?—Yes.

28,750. He never did in fact personate anyone?—No.

28,751. But he attempted it?—He attempted it; and when Mr. Stanton said in his evidence that they had paid this man 10*l.*, and that he had afterwards given it up again; I remember reading in the paper that he was complimented by the Court for having shown himself an honest man by so doing.

28,752. He did return the money at all events?—Yes; they went, like a troop of soldiers after a first unsuccessful attempt, to get the money back from him. They threatened to besiege the place and everything else, and then the money was given up.

T. Taylor.

THOMAS TAYLOR'S examination resumed.

28,753. (Mr. Barstow.) What induced you to go and say that you were Thomas Taylor of Bolton-le-Sands, labourer?—They gave me the number to go and vote, and said I had to go and vote for Bolton, and asked me how it came that I was put down for Bolton.

28,754. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Capstick.

28,755. Mr. Capstick gave you the number you say; you mean a card?—Yes.

28,756. Have you ever been a voter at all?—Yes.

28,757. When was that?—At the election before I voted for Mr. Saunders; I lived in Mason Street then where I do now.

28,758. How came you to lose your vote?—I do not know.

28,759. (Mr Hill.) Are you quite sure that you were on the register when you voted for Saunders?—No.

(Mr Towers.) I believe he did vote then, and that he was on the register for Thurnham Street.

28,760. (Mr. Barstow.) (To Mr. Towers.) Was he drunk or sober when he came to the booth?—In the morning he was not drunk, and in the afternoon he knew what an oath meant, but I should say that he was nearer drunk than anything else in the afternoon.

28,761. (Mr. Newton.) (To the witness.) What made you go and try to vote a second time?—A gentleman asked me if I had voted, and I said, "No, sir, I have not," and he said, "If you will go I can get you voted."

28,762. Who gave you the card?—Nobody gave me a card.

28,763. Yes, you had a card?—I had not a card then.

28,764. You had a card the second time. Was 823 upon it? Who gave you that card?—I cannot tell you; it was a gentleman from Skerton.

28,765. Not Mr. Capstick?—No.

28,766. Another gentleman caught you at 2 o'clock?—Yes.

28,767. (Mr. Hill.) Are you on the register now again?—Yes.

T. Taylor.

THOMAS TAYLOR sworn and examined.

28,768. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—Going up in the back market, now in Lancaster.

28,769. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

28,770. (To Mr. Towers.) Is this Thomas Taylor of Skerton, labourer?—Yes, this is the man; he did not vote for Skerton at that time; he voted for Bolton.

28,771. (Mr. Newton.) (To the witness.) You voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

28,772. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

28,773. Who paid you?—Mr. Towers.

28,774. What did you get for being on the committee?—1*l.*

28,775. Who did you get it from?—I do not know.

28,776. Did you get anything for being on the Blue committee?—No.

28,777. How long have you had your freedom?—Twenty-seven or twenty-eight years.

28,778. Have you always voted?—Yes, I was off going on for ten years.

28,779. Do you care about having a vote?—Yes.

28,780. Why do you care about it,—because it brings you in money?—No; I have polled often enough for nothing.

28,781. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I is following fishing now.

S. Winder.

STEPHEN WINDER sworn and examined.

28,782. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A watchmaker.

28,783. Where do you live?—Marsh Lane.

28,784. You are down in the register as Damside Street?—I was in Damside Street, but I live in Marsh Lane, now.

98,785. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Schneider and Fenwick.

28,786. What did you receive?—7*l.*; and 1*l.* a week before the election.

28,787. Did you receive anything besides that 8*l.*?—No.

28,788. Did you not manage to get anything from the other side?—No.

28,789. You only got 8*l.* altogether?—Yes.

C. Lewtas.

CUTHBERT LEWTAS sworn and examined.

28,790. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A warehouseman.

28,791. Where do you live?—At Sun Street.

28,792. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

28,793. You would have some money I suppose?—My wife was paid 5*l.*, and I got 6*s.*

28,794. Are you a householder?—Yes.

28,795. You are a sort of man that ought to be above taking money for your vote. May I ask you what your income is?—1*l.* a week wages.

28,796. (Mr. Hill.) What else?—49*l.* a year from income.

28,797. (Mr. Barstow.) At all events, you got 5*l.* 6*s.*?—My wife got 5*l.*, and I got 6*s.* to spend.

28,798. Where you on any committee, or anything of that sort?—No.

28,799. (Mr. Hill.) Your wife gave you the 5*l.*?—No; I do not suppose she did.

28,800. She spent it on you. Besides this 1*l.* a week, do you get a house in addition?—I get nothing from my brother but 1*l.* a week.

28,801. What is he?—A corn dealer.

28,802. What is your work?—Packing in the warehouse, doing anything that there is to do, mixing flour, or anything of that sort.

28,803. You do not want to throw the whole blame on your wife, do you?—No. I knew it.

28,804. (Mr. Newton.) What is the rental of your house?—11*l.*

THOMAS BORROW sworn and examined. T. Borrow.

28,805. (Mr. Newton.) You live at Church Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

28,806. Are you the man who said you would not come?—I never was summoned until yesterday, and have been here since 10 o'clock yesterday.

28,807. What are you?—I keep a grocer's shop, and am a gardener.

28,808. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Schneider.

28,809. What did you get for your vote?—I got 6*l.*

28,810. From whom?—John Cross.

28,811. That was for voting for Lawrence?—Yes.

28,812. What did you get for voting for Schneider?—I got nothing. I should have got nothing from neither side. I was not intending to do, but a man asked me to go in, as they were paying the voters, and I went in and they gave me 6*l.* without asking for it.

28,813. Somebody gave you 6*l*?—It was given to me from the table where Mr. Cross was sitting.

28,814. You never asked for it?—I went up, and they asked me what I wanted, and I said "The same as you give the others." I understood they were paying two days wages. I never agreed for any amount. They gave me what they thought proper.

28,815. What committees were you on?—I was on none; I never had anything to do with them at all.

28,816. You were on neither committee?—No, I never had anything from them, only that.

28,817. You got nothing for voting for Schneider?—No.

28,818. And you got nothing for not voting for Fenwick?—No, nothing.

28,819. All you got was 6*l.*?—Yes.

28,820. How did you vote at the election before?—For Fenwick.

28,821. What did you get then?—I got 5*l.* Mr. Welch left 5*l.* at my house.

28,822. This time, when there were three candidates, you were going to vote for them for nothing?—I intended to vote for both men for nothing. I did not intend to have any more money for voting.

28,823. Why not?—I thought it was not right to take it, and did not intend having any more.

22,824. Why not?—Because I did not want it.

33,825. You did not want the money?—I did not want any more money.

22,826. Are you so rich that you do not want any more money?—I intended to give my vote this time.

22,827. And not to sell it?—As they were paying all the others I thought I might as well have it as the others.

22,828. You did not intend to sell it?—No, I intended to give it to both men.

22,829. What do you mean by both men?—Both candidates.

22,830. There were three candidates?—I meant to give it to Schneider and Lawrence this time.

28,831. Why should you leave out your old friend Fenwick?—These two were what I had promised, and I could not give it to all three.

28,832. Why should you leave out your old friend Fenwick who gave you 5*l.* last time?—I promised Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Schneider. They called at my house, and my wife told them she thought I would vote for them, and as long as they thought so I did not like to change; otherwise I should have plumped for Lawrence.

28,833. Do you mean to say you always intended to vote for both sides?—I intended to vote for Lawrence and Schneider.

28,834. You did not get anything from your old friend Fenwick this time?—No. I did not want to vote for him, and for that reason I did not want to have anything from him.

28,835. (Mr. Hill.) You made no application to the Liberal party for any money?—I made none to either side this time.

28,836. You went and asked for what the other people were getting?—I was asked in the street by a man to go up, and he told me they were paying all the voters.

RICHARD BONNELL sworn and examined. R. Bonnell.

28,837. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A labourer.

28,838. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

28,839. What did you get?—5*l.*

28,840. Is that all you got?—Yes.

28,841. Did you not get anything for being on the committee?—No.

28,842. Did you get anything from the other side?—No, not a halfpenny.

28,843. We are not talking about halfpence here. Did you get any gold or silver?—No.

28,844. 5*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

28,845. And I suppose as much drink as you wanted?—I got scarcely any; two or three glasses.

28,846. Then you did not get as much as you wanted?—Yes, I did.

EDWARD COOPER sworn and examined. E. Cooper.

28,847. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

28,848. Where do you live?—Upper King Street.

28,849. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

28,850. What did you get?—5*l.*

28,851. Who paid it to you?—Benjamin Long.

28,852. Were you on any committee?—No.

28,853. That is all you got?—Yes.

28,854. You got nothing else at all?—No.

RICHARD CARTER sworn and examined. R. Carter.

28,855. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—Damside Street.

28,856. What are you?—A hosier and draper.

28,857. How did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

28,858. What did you get for your vote?—I got this (handing a watch to the Commissioners).

28,859. Is it a new watch?—No, it is not a new one.

28,860. Tell us the story how you came by it?—

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

R. Carter.

26 Sept. 1866.

Robert Whiteside, in Leonard Gate, came to me and asked me if I would vote for Fenwick and Schneider, and I said "Yes." He said "Will you be on the committee?" I said I had not time, and I says to him "I will be nothing out this time, if I help you in any way I will be nothing out." The first time I was a voter I was nearly 15*s.* or 16*s.* out of pocket for Mr. Gregson in spending my own money in treating the people. He says "I will take care thou isn't." He is an intimate acquaintance of mine, and has been so 14 or 15 years. He says "I will take care thou is nothing out;" and he came to me in a day or two after, and asked me what I had been out. I said I had been nothing out, I was not going to charge anything. He said "What money did they give you for your vote?" and I said I would have no money. He went and brought me three or four watches to look at, perhaps a month or five weeks after the election, and he said "Which wilt thou have?" and he said "This one used to belong to the Reverend Rowley, the chaplain," and I says "Oh, I will have that."

28,861. Because it came from the church?—It came from Mr. Rowley, and him and me very intimate, and I respect the honour of the old man very well.

28,862. You took the watch?—Yes.

28,863. What is Whiteside?—A grocer in Leonard Gate.

28,864. Did he tell you where he got the watch from?—From Beesley.

28,865. Did he say what he paid for it?—No, he did not; I never asked him.

28,866. You were quite right. What do you think it is worth?—I will leave you to put the value on it.

28,867. (To Mr. Vickers.) Take that watch in your hand, and put a value upon it.

28,868. (Mr. Hill.) Your selling price. What would you sell me such a watch as that for?—About four guineas.

28,869. (Mr. Newton.) You think that is a fair price?—Yes.

28,870. Can I go to your shop and buy as good a one for four guineas?—Yes.

28,871. (To the witness.) You would not have voted if it had not been for that?—I had voted.

28,872. You would not have voted without you were to get free of all expenses?—Yes I should, on account that it was Mr. Schneider who was coming into Mr. Gregson's shoes.

28,873. Do you always vote for the man that comes into the dead man's shoes?—Yes.

J. Bannister.

JOHN BANNISTER sworn and examined.

28,874. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At the "Sun Inn."

28,875. What is the rental of the "Sun Inn"?—60*l.* a year.

28,876. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

38,877. What did you receive?—Nothing at all, only my refreshment bills.

28,878. How much were your refreshment bills? The first bill was 50*s.*, which Mr. William Storey paid, and the next was 5*l.* paid by Mr. Gibson for the rent of the committee-rooms which they had for three weeks, and 45*l.* was the refreshment bill during the election.

28,879. What else?—That is all.

28,880. You call 51*l.* 10*s.* nothing at all? How much was spent at your house besides?—I really cannot say.

28,881. 20*l.* or 30*l.*?—No, not that.

28,882. About 10*l.* or 20*l.*?—Perhaps about that.

28,883. About 20*l.*?—I do not think it would be as much as that.

28,884. Shall I say 15*l.* or shall I say 19*l.*?—About 15*l.*

28,885. Spent by the captains at your house in treating?—Yes.

28,886. Was there anything else given to you?—No.

28,887. Did you receive any other sums of money?—No.

28,888. Did you pay anybody, or receive any other sums of money?—No not anything, except what was paid to me for refreshments.

28,889. Did you set apart any room for the committee?—Yes.

28,890. That was the room in which they met?—Yes.

28,891. And in which they had the drink represented in this bill?—They had two committee-rooms. The head sitting room which they had for the private committee room. There was very little drink went in there. I think there was more went in on the election day.

28,892. But there was before?—Well, one night I think.

28,893. That was the only night they deliberated there, perhaps?—No, it was not the only night they deliberated there; they had several meetings in that room, but I think it was only one night that they had drink in that room.

28,894. That is 66*l.* 10*s.* altogether you got?—Yes.

28,895. By whom was your committee-room taken?—Mr. Cooper and Mr. Greenall came in and said they had come for the room the same as they had for Mr. Saunders.

28,896. What was said about price?—Nothing at all. They never made any bargain. I charged that in my bill for the use of the rooms.

28,897. Do I understand you that you charged something for the use of the rooms in the 45*l.* 10*s.* besides the 5*l.*?—No, the 5*l.* was for the use of the rooms.

28,898. And the 45*l.* was for drinking and eating?—The 45*l.* was for eating and drinking.

28,899. I put "drinking" first, advisedly?—That 45*l.* was all for eating and drinking.

R. H. Harrison.

ROBERT HOLT HARRISON sworn and examined.

28,900. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A nail maker.

28,901. Where do you live?—China Lane.

28,902. Who paid you?—Thomas Foster.

28,903. How much?—12*l.*

28,904. Who was present when you were paid?—I cannot say that there was any one.

28,905. You voted for Lawrence?—I voted for Fenwick and Lawrence.

28,906. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get anything besides?—30*s.* from Knowles Allinson.

28,907. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you get anything from Danson?—No.

28,908. Did you get anything to spend in drink?—No.

28,909. Nothing?—No.

28,910. What did Knowles Allinson give you 30*s.* for?—I was delivering circulars out one or two days.

28,911. For Messieurs Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

28,912. (Mr. Newton.) Did you get nothing from Schneider's party?—I got 30*s.* from Knowles Allinson.

28,913. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not get anything from Mr. Lawrence's party to spend in drink?—Alexander Harrison gave me 30*s.*

28,914. What else did you get besides?—Nothing.

28,915. Was 15*l.* all you got?—Yes, that is all.

28,916. Is William Harrison in this part of the world?—He is in Yorkshire somewhere.

28,917. Do you know what he got?—I cannot say.

28,918. He is a nail maker too, is he not?—Yes, he is.

28,919. He is some relation of yours?—He is a brother of mine.

28,920. For which party did he vote?—He voted a plumper for Lawrence.

28,921. Do you not know what he got?—No, I was not in the room at the time he was paid.

29,922. Did you hear what he said he got?—No.

28,923. Did he ever mention it to you?—No.

28,924. What do you believe he got?—I cannot say.

28,925. Do you think he voted without being paid?—No. I think he got something, but I cannot say what.

28,926. Have you ever voted before?—I have.

28,927. What did you get for that?—5*l.* I think, but I cannot say exactly.

28,928. That was when you voted last time?—Yes.

28,929. You do not care about voting except to sell your vote?—The money was offered to me, or else I should not have taken it. I did not go to look after it.

28,930. Was it offered to you on both occasions?—Yes.

28,931. For whom did you vote the time before?—For Mr. Fenwick.

28,932. Why did you vote for Lawrence this time?—Because I thought they were the two fittest persons to go.

28,933. (Mr. Hill.) What wages do you make at nail making?—It depends; sometimes as much as 5*s.* and 5*s.* 6*d.* a day, and 4*s.* some days.

28,934. You are at work now, are you not?—Yes.

28,935. Did you go off work to get this 3*l.*—I was off work at times.

28,936. For how long?—A week before the election.

28,937. Do you ever go and work down Kingswinford way?—No.

JAMES MARSH sworn and examined.

J. Marsh.

28,938. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—New Street, Lancaster. That is my place of business.

28,939. What are you?—A brass founder.

28,940. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

28,941. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing at all.

28,942. What part did you take in the election?—The only part that I took in the election was to pay Mr. William Parkinson for coming from Bradford 2*l.* for his expenses here and back, and I suppose other expenses. He told me if he was disposed to sell his vote he could get 12*l.* or 15*l.* for it, but he was not disposed to sell it, and simply wanted his expenses, but could not find anyone to get them from, and I said I would apply to Mr. Henry Welch, and get them for him.

28,943. He was in the market?—No, he was not in the market. He told me he would not sell his vote, but wanted his expenses. He had been written for, and he thought he ought to have them, and wanted to go away by an early train.

28,944. You went to Mr. Welch and got his expenses?—Yes.

28,945. What other money did you get from Mr. Welch?—None. I took no part in the election till then.

28,946. When was this?—On the day of election.

28,947. At what time?—Early in the morning, between 8 and 9.

28,948. You had taken no part in the election till then. What part in the election did you take after?—I assisted in bringing voters to the poll.

28,949. Like everybody else?—Yes.

28,950. You assisted to get voters to come?—Yes.

28,951. Who told you to do that?—Nobody.

28,952. Did you go and get money from anybody?—No.

28,953. Did you see anybody paid?—No.

28,954. Did you pay any body yourself?—None but the one I have already told you of.

28,955. What shop is it you keep in New Street?—A furnishing ironmongers and a brassfounders shop.

28,956. Was there much going on there that morning of the election in New Street?—Nothing very particular that I know of. It was not a very thronged place.

28,957. At what time did you poll?—The first hour.

28,958. After you had polled you went and assisted?—Yes.

28,959. Do you represent to us that you got nothing for rendering that assistance?—No. I should be very sorry to take money for my vote.

28,960. I asked you whether you got anything for your assistance?—I consider my assistance is not worth anything, and I told you distinctly that I did not get anything for my vote or assistance, and I should consider myself insulted if I were offered anything.

28,961. I ask you again, further, do you still adhere to that statement, that you got nothing for your assistance which you rendered. Give me an answer, yes or no?—I got nothing.

28,962. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you not canvass before the election?—No.

28,963. You did not ask anyone for their vote?—I might have asked some friend or other, but I do not remember doing so.

28,964. You do not remember asking anyone for their vote on behalf of Fenwick and Schneider?—I do not remember doing so, but I might possibly do so.

28,965. I should think you would remember a thing of that sort?—I do not remember doing so.

28,966. Do you really mean to say you do not know whether you did or not?—No, I do not.

28,967. Then why did you not say so at once? Is this all you had to do with the election, getting this 2*l.* for expenses for Parkinson?—Yes, that is all.

28,968. How did you assist on the day of the election?—One portion of the day I assisted Mr. Charles Cleminson to carry Dr. Lee, who had come from Buxton at his own expense, I believe, up to vote. Mr. Cleminson said he wanted some one to assist him, and he did not want to be carried up by the railway porters; and I said I would go and assist in carrying him to the poll booth, and also in taking him home afterwards. He was an invalid, and required carrying up.

28,969. So I assumed from what you said. Is that all you did?—No. I went down to St. George's Quay.

28,970. What did you do there?—It was not exactly St. George's Quay, but in that direction. I went to a man of the name of Lawson Swain.

28,971. What did you do there?—I do not know that I did anything particular, any more than go to the place and assist in bringing him up to the poll.

28,972. He was not an invalid?—He had a broken leg.

28,973. You were the head of the ambulance corps?—I do not know that I was at the head of it.

28,974. Swain was paid by Henry Welch 10*l.* Did you assist in paying him?—No. I do not know anything about paying.

28,975. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you assist in paying money at all?—No.

28,976. That you swear to us that you know nothing about money matters?—No.

28,977. (Mr. Hill.) Who knows most about money matters in your street; who was looking after it?—It is only a small street, and I do not suppose it would want much looking after.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

J. Marsh.

26 Sept. 1866.

28,978. What little it did want looking after, who did it?—I do not suppose anybody went paying in our street. It is a street composed of tradesmen.

28,979. What of that? We have a pretty good list of them already?—They ought to be above it.

28,980. That is one thing; but who did the paying in New Street?—I do not know.

28,981. You living in New Street, have you not heard at all?—No.

28,982. Who was it?—I do not know anything about it. I never saw anyone pay money.

28,983. I did not ask you whether you saw it, but from information you have received, from gossip in the town, and common talk, who was it paid in New Street?—I cannot tell you. I do not suppose any money was paid in New Street.

28,984. Do you mean to tell me that there was not one single person in New Street who was paid?—Not to my knowledge.

28,985. I am not asking you of that. I am asking you, from the information you have had, and from your belief?—There is Gorst, but you have had his name already.

28,986. Was he doing any paying?—I think so, but it is only hearsay, and I do not know who told me of it either. It was merely common report.

28,987. You would call him a respectable tradesman, would you not?—I do not know.

28,988. He took 6*l.* and asked for 4*l.* more?—So I have heard.

28,989. Who was paying in New Street?—I do not know.

28,990. Whom have you heard of?—I have not heard of anyone.

28,991. How many voters have you in New Street?—I do not think I could tell you without I had the list and went over it.

28,992. Five or six?—Not more I should think.

28,993. Amongst those, do you not think any of them were paid?—I should think not.

28,994. Not by anybody?—I should think not.

29,995. Did you see Mr. Schneider in your street on the day of nomination?—No.

28,996. Are you sure of that?—I never saw him in the street.

28,997. You did not see him in the street on the day of nomination?—No.

28,998. Where did you speak to Mr. Schneider on the day of nomination?—At the side of the "Queen's Hotel."

28,999. Did you not speak to him also in New Street?—I do not remember doing so.

29,000. What did you say to him at the side of the "Queen's Hotel?"—I told him they had no occasion to come and canvass me, as I should vote without any canvassing.

29,001. Did you not also say something about other people in New Street?—No.

29,002. Are you quite sure of that? Just recollect?—I do not remember saying anything.

29,003. Not about anybody else in New Street?—No.

29,004. Do you not recollect seeing one of Mr. Schneider's friends (I will not mention his name now) in New Street on that day looking after voters?—I do not remember it.

29,005. On the election day, did you see Mr. Schneider there?—No.

29,006. Did you see any of his friends there on the election day looking after voters?—I do not remember seeing anyone, but I might see plenty passing backwards and forwards.

29,007. Who took the New Street voters to the poll?—I do not know that.

29,008. Were you there all day?—I was not in New Street. I closed my shop on the day of the election.

29,009. Then you cannot tell me who did the New Street work?—No.

29,010. Are you quite sure you never saw Mr. Schneider there on the nomination day?—I am quite sure.

29,011. You did not mention the name of any New Street person to him?—I am quite sure I did not.

29,012. Is this William Parkinson that you have mentioned of Cable Street?—Yes.

G. Sergeant.

GEORGE SERGEANT sworn and examined.

29,013. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—I live in the Freehold now. I did live at 59 Penny Street.

29,014. What are you?—A cabinet maker.

29,015. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,016. What did you get for your vote?—1*l.* 10*s.*

29,017. Nothing else?—No.

29,018. Who paid it to you?—Benjamin Long.

29,019. What was that for?—He paid it to me two or three days after the election for loss of my time.

29,020. What time had you lost?—What time I did lose it was my own fault. I need not have lost any, but at election times we do lose time.

29,021. Is that 30*s.* all you got?—Yes.

29,022. You were on no committee?—No.

29,023. Had you no money given you to drink with?—No.

29,024. (Mr. Newton.) How did you lose your time?—I never went to work at all on the nomination and election day.

29,025. What wages do you earn in a week?—I do not make much, perhaps 18*s.* I never work before breakfast in the morning. I have not been very well.

29,026. You lost two days' work?—I lost more than that altogether.

29,027. How many days did you lose?—I could not tell to an hour or two; perhaps four or five days altogether.

29,028. (Mr. Hill.) You are employed by Messrs. Gillow?—Yes.

29,029. Are you not well enough to work full days?—No.

29,030. You are not strong enough to work full days?—No.

29,031. When you do work full days, what do you get?—24*s.* or 26*s.* a week. We work by the piece.

29,032. Was there any arrangement between you cabinet makers at Messrs. Gillow's as to how you should vote?—No.

29,033. You all did vote one way nearly, did you not?—The majority would vote for Mr. Lawrence, I think.

29,034. Have you ever been paid for your vote before?—No. I never did vote but once before.

29,035. Were you offered anything else besides?—No.

29,036. By anybody?—No.

29,037. How long after the election were you paid?—Either two or three days after.

29,038. Did you go and ask for it, or did they bring it to you?—They brought it to me.

29,039. Who brought it?—Benjamin Long.

29,040. (Mr. Newton.) Benjamin Long had told you beforehand that you would be paid?—No.

29,041. What made you leave your work?—For my own pleasure.

W. Speight.

WILLIAM SPEIGHT sworn and examined.

29,042. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A beer-house keeper.

29,043. What is the sign of your house?—The "Coachmakers' Arms."

29,044. In Leonard Gate?—Yes.

29,045. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

29,046. Was your house taken by the Conservative party ?—Yes.

29,047. By whom ?—George Danson.

29,048. When ?—About a fortnight before the election.

29,049. Was anything said as to what he was to pay you ?—No.

29,050. Nothing ?—No, nothing.

29,051. What was you paid ?—I got 5*l.* through Mr. Coupland.

29,052. Who paid it ?—A person at the "Boar's Head," in Nicholas Street.

29,053. What refreshments were paid for previous to the election ?—They were down two separate nights, and there would be 2*l.* spent in drink, altogether.

29,054. Had you a bill besides ?—No.

29,055. You only got those 2*l.* for refreshments ?—For drink, and 1*l.* from George Danson on the day of the election, after the election was over.

29,056. What was that 1*l.* for ?—For drink.

29,057. Then you got 3*l.* for drink ?—Yes. They paid for this 2*l.* as it came in.

29,058. All you get out of the election was 8*l.* ?—Yes, that was altogether.

29,059. You got nothing more than 8*l.* ?—No, nothing more.

29,060. Did you get anything from the other side ?—Nothing.

29,061. Did not Allinson come and try to hire your house ?—No.

29,062. Why not ?—He knew I was a Conservative and it was no use to interfere with me.

29,063. Have you always been "Blue" ?—Yes, always.

29,064. As I understand, the 2*l.* was paid for the drink as it was drunk ?—Yes, as it went into the room.

29,065. They came down there two nights ?—Yes.

29,066. Who were the captains ?—A person of the name of Harrison was the principal man.

29,067. It was open house very nearly, I suppose ?—Merely for the party that came down.

29,068. To do you a turn, I suppose ?—Yes, I suppose it was.

EDWARD BRADLEY sworn and examined. E. Bradley.

29,069. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A beerhouse keeper.

29,070. What is the name of your beerhouse ?—The "Royal Oak."

29,071. Was your house taken ?—Yes.

29,072. By whom ?—By Towers.

29,073. How much money was given you for it ?—5*l.* for the house.

29,074. When were you paid that ?—It might be a week after the election.

29,075. What bill had you ?—I got 2*l.* 10*s.* for refreshments, and 5*l.* for the house; that was all I got.

29,076. Was the 2*l.* 10*s.* sent in a bill ?—No, it was altogether.

29,077. Was that all that was spent there at all ?—Yes.

29,078. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider ?—Yes.

GEORGE COWELL is called but does not answer. G. Cowell.

(Mr. Patteson, Secretary.) I have received the following letter from George Cowell :—"This is to "sertify that i, George Cowell, Cannot a tend through "Bad helth ; i Got 7*l.* 10*s.* For my Hous, and 7*l.* 10*s.* "For refrements ; my Wife Got 1*l.* 10*s.* from the "Blue Partey to treat a lot of their Partey that Was "in our Hous ; this is the Truth So help my God.—"GEORGE COWELL."

GILBERT HALL sworn and examined. G. Hall.

29,079. (Mr. Barstow.) You keep a public-house at Skerton ?—Yes.

29,080. Is it a licensed house ?—Yes.

29,081. What is the sign of your house ?—The "Millstone."

29,082. Your house was taken for Fenwick and Schneider at the last election ?—Yes.

29,083. What did you get ?—7*l.* 10*s.*

29,084. What did you get for refreshments ?—They paid for it as it went in, but as near as I can tell it would come to about 5*l.*

29,085. Who paid for it ?—William Towers.

29,086. Did he come every night and pay ?—Yes, he paid for the drink as he got it.

29,087. Did you send in any bill ?—Yes.

29,088. You received nothing else but that ?—No.

29,089. Do you know George Cowell ?—Yes.

29,090. Have you seen him lately ?—Yes.

29,091. When did you see him ?—Yesterday.

29,092. How is he ?—Poorly.

29,093. What is the matter with him ?—I cannot say. He is in the doctor's hands.

29,094. (Mr. Hill.) Has he been drinking too much of his own drink, or anything of that sort ?—I cannot say.

29,095. You do not know at all ?—No, I do not.

THOMAS ROBERTS sworn and examined. T. Roberts.

29,096. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live ?—In Leonard Gate.

29,097. What are you ?—A tin-plate worker.

29,098. How did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,099. What did you get for your vote ?—Edward Johnson arranged with a son of mine and me together —my son Charles, from Barrow—and I told him I was not in the habit of taking money for my vote; and he said, "I know that." He said, "I was the captain in your district last election ;" and I said, "Well, I got nothing from you," and he said, "No." I then said my son would want arranging with, that he would be a good deal out of pocket coming from Barrow and stopping here and going back again, and that he would want something decent. He says, "Come in and I will arrange with you both," and he counted 13*l.* down; and he said, "I hope that will satisfy you both."

29,100. You got 6*l.* 10*s.* ?—No, I got 5*l.* of it, and no more.

29,101. 13*l.* was paid ?—I asked how he would divide it; and I said I could not expect to have anything like my son had.

29,102. Why not ?—Because of his expenses from Barrow. He was above a week engaged.

29,103. You got 5*l.* ?—Yes, but I think Edward Johnson charges me with 7*l.*

29,104. (Mr. Hill.) Yes, he does. He says he gave your son 7*l.* and 1*l.* for his expenses, and you 7*l.* ?—Yes, but that is not correct. I did not have it in that way. I got no more than 5*l.*, and I am positive that he gave me no more than 13*l.*

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

T. Roberts.

26 Sept. 1866.

29,105. Your son got 7*l.*?—No, he got 8*l.* altogether.

29,106. (Mr Newton.) How many committees were you on?—None. I never interfered at all with the election in no way. I used to be rather fond of it, but this election I never interfered at all. I was not well.

29,107. You were not up to the drink?—No, I am not one of that sort much.

29,108. (Mr Hill.) Was your son Charles present when you were paid?—Yes. Johnson says, "Take it "altogether, and you can arrange it amongst your-"selves."

29,109. Did he give it to you or your son?—He gave to me altogether, and told me to count it, and said, "You can arrange with yourself," and I said, "I should like you to name how it is to be divided;" and he said, "There is 5*l.* for you and 8*l.* for your son."

J. Pimm.

JOHN PIMM sworn and examined.

29,151. How far is that from Bridge Lane?—Not far.

29,152. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,153. What money did you receive?—5*l.*, after I voted.

29,154. Was that from Slater?—No, Barsby.

29,155. Did you receive anything from William Slater?—No.

29,156. What else did you receive?—1*l.* 10*s.*, committee money.

29,157. From whom did you get that?—Mr. Allinson.

29,158. Did you get anything else?—No.

29,159. Are you quite sure you got nothing from Slater?—Positive.

29,160. Were you in the "Blue Anchor?"—Yes, a few minutes.

29,161. Did you receive the money from Barsby at the "Blue Anchor?"—No.

29,162. Where did you receive it from Barsby?—At the "Commercial Inn," Market Street.

29,163. Do you know Richard Tomlinson, junior?—Yes.

29,164. Is he dead?—I have a brother called Richard Tomlinson, who is dead.

29,165. Did he live in Henry Street, shoemaker?—I believe so.

29,166. You ought to know. He was your brother?—I do not know exactly where he lived.

29,167. How much did he get?—According to the evidence that I read in the paper he got 15*l.*

29,168. But I want to know what you know yourself?—He got 15*l.*, according to what I have seen in the papers.

29,169. But besides the papers?—I do not know.

29,170. Did you not see him get any money?—No.

29,171. Did you not talk to him about getting money?—Not particularly that I know of.

29,172. Generally, what did you say to him?—I had very little conversation with him at all.

29,173. Did he not tell you what money he got?—I do not recollect that he ever did.

29,174. I see you got this 5*l.* from Cole through Barsby?—Yes,

29,175. What other Tomlinsons on the register are there that are your relatives?—Thomas Tomlinson, Monmouth Street.

29,176. Do you know what he got?—No.

29,177. Then there is Edward Tomlinson?—He is dead. He is an uncle of mine.

29,190. Who paid you?—George Wilson.

29,191. Who is he?—A cabinet maker at Skerton.

29,192. What did you get for being on the committee?—30*s.* George Danson paid me.

29,193. Did you get anything else?—George Danson paid me a few shillings besides.

29,194. What for?—To treat myself with, I suppose, and others.

29,195. Did you get anything else?—I got a few shillings from Watson, of North Road.

29,196. How much shall I say?—I should think about 7*s.* or 8*s.*; not more.

29,197. What did George Danson give you the second time?—He gave me 5*s.* one time, and about 4*s.* another, as near as I can think, but I cannot say to a shilling or so.

29,198. You got about 2*l.* altogether, besides what you got for your vote?—Yes, I daresay.

29,199. Is that all you got?—Yes.

29,200. How long have you been upon the register?—Twenty years.

29,201. Have you always voted "Blue"?—Nearly about.

29,202. When did you vote on the other side last?—It is a good deal of years since. I cannot recollect.

29,203. What did they give you for voting "Blue"?—When?

29,204. The last time before this?—2*l.* 10*s.*

29,205. What do you pay for your house?—I do not know; 5*l.* a year, I think.

29,206. (Mr. Newton.) Do you care about having a vote?—Yes.

29,207. Why?—Because I can suit myself who I poll for.

29,208. You can sell it?—No, I do not know that I particularly want to sell it.

ENOCH MONKS sworn and examined. E. Monks.

29,209. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At Cheapside.

29,210. What are you?—A clogger.

29,211. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,212. What did you get?—10*l.*

29,213. Were you on any committee?—No.

29,214. Did you not get anything else besides the 10*l.*?—That is all the money I got.

29,215. From either side?—Yes, from either side.

THOMAS WOODMAN sworn and examined. T. Woodman.

29,216. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Lawrence.

29,217. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.* on one side and 8*l.* on t'other.

29,218. Who gave you the 10*l.*?—Blue 10*l.*

29,219. Who gave it to you?—He is a stranger to me. I do not know him.

29,220. Is that all you got?—Yes.

29,221. Where did the stranger pay you?—At Overton.

29,222. In your own house?—No.

29,223. Where?—At a public house.

29,224. From where did you get the 8*l.* from the "Yellows"?—In Lancaster.

29,225. Who paid you?—I do not know him. He was a stranger to me. He is a Lancaster man, I suppose.

29,226. What are you?—A stonemason.

29,227. Where do you live?—At Heysham.

29,228. You got 18*l.* for your vote from two benevolent strangers?—Yes.

29,229. (Mr. Hill.) Did you tell them, when they bought your vote, that you could only give them a split vote?—They only asked me for one of the "Blues."

29,230. What did you get at Fenwick and Saunders's election?—I believe I got 6*l.* or 7*l.* the last election before.

29,231. (Mr. Newton.) Have you always been selling your vote?—Generally so.

29,232. That is what you like to have a vote for?—Well, it is very useful.

29,233. Are you a scholar?—Not much.

29,234. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a stonemason, or have you got some property of your own?—I am a stonemason.

29,235. Have you some property of your own?—No.

29,236. You were not paid by Proctor Hutchinson, were you?—I do not know the man by name.

29,237. Was he a young man from Welch's shop?—He was a stout man. I never saw the man before nor since.

29,238. Is there a Thomas Woodman that lives at Barrow?—Yes.

29,239. Do you know him; is he any relation of yours?—Yes, a half cousin of mine.

29,240. He was over here to vote, was he not?—I suppose he would be, but I did not see him.

THOMAS BINLESS sworn and examined. T. Binless.

29,241. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,242. What did you get for your vote?—5*l.*

29,243. Who paid you?—Mr. Stewardson.

29,244. Where did he pay you?—At the "Commercial Inn" yard.

29,245. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—No.

29,246. Is 5*l.* all you got?—Yes.

29,247. Did you get nothing from the "Blues"?—No.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

M. Winder.

26 Sept. 1866.

MATTHEW WINDER sworn and examined.

29,248. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Leonard Gate.

29,249. What are you ?—A sawyer.

29,250. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,251. What did you get ?—8*l.*

29,252. Did you get anything else besides ?—No.

29,253. Did you get no committee money or anything of that sort ?—No.

29,254. 8*l.* is all the money you touched ?—Yes, the only money I got.

J. King.

JOHN KING sworn and examined.

29,255. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live ?—Slyne.

29,256. What money did you get for the purposes of the last election ?—I received up to and previous to the day of election 24*l.* 10*l.*

29,257. And after ?—5*l.* from Mr. John Cross.

29,258. From whom did you receive the first sum ?—George Clark.

29,259. What did you do with the 24*l.* 10*s.* ?—I paid 3*l.* to Joseph Bond Richmond and Thomas Crossfield. They are returned in Danson's evidence as being paid by him, but I received the money from Danson, and paid it to them.

29,260. You say you received 24*l.* 10*s.* from Mr. Clark ?—No, the whole sum I received was 24*l.* 10*s.* I received 6*l.* from Mr. Clark.

29,261. That is not what you said. From whom did you receive the 24*l.* 10*s.* ?—6*l.* from George Clark, 3*l.* from Mr. Coupland, and 15*l.* 10*s.* from George Danson.

29,262. Now tell us what you did with it ?—I paid 3*l.* to Joseph Bond Richmond, and Thomas Crossfield 30*s.* each ; 1*l.* 5*s.* to Joseph Bond Richmond for money that he had expended; 7*l.* 10*s.* to Nathaniel George Richmond for his vote ; and 1*l.* to Joseph Bond Richmond on the morning of the election.

29,263. What was that for ?—He had been assisting me. I had him on the committee, and he came to me in the morning of the election, and said he thought he ought to have something for drink, and I gave him a sovereign, and I spent 12*l.* or 11*l.* 15*s.* during the canvassing in treating and so on.

29,264. On what day did you receive the first sum ?—A fortnight or so before the election ; I do not know the exact date.

29,265. (Mr. Hill.) What did you do with the 5*l.* ?—That was given to me by John Cross for my services.

29,266. (Mr. Newton.) Where did you spend the greater part of the 12*l.* ? — Part at Slyne, Bolton, Kellett, Carnforth, and Lancaster, but the greatest portion in Halton.

I. Greenwood.

ISAAC GREENWOOD sworn and examined.

29,267. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live ?—At Slyne.

29,268. How did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,269. What did you get for your vote ?—Nothing.

29,270. Did you get any money for being on any committee ?—No ; I never was on any committee.

29,271. Did you get no money to treat with ?—No, not a penny.

29,272. Did you treat anybody ?—No.

29,273. Did you pay anybody ?—No.

29,274. Did you see anybody paid ?—No ; I merely recorded my vote ; I was up in London on the inquiry, but was not called upon.

29,275. May I ask you what you are ?—A gentleman.

29,276. Did you go up to London to the committee ?—Yes.

29,277. For what reason ?—I was subpœnaed.

29,278. By whom ?—The "Blues ;" by Mr. George Clark, I suppose.

29,279. The state of things now before us is very different from what it was before the House of Commons. Do you know anything now that you can tell us with regard to the election of 1865 ?—No ; I took no part in the election, except recording my vote, and I never got a penny for any vote in my life.

29,280. (Mr. Hill.) Did you canvass anybody ?—No.

29,281. Or treat anybody ?—No.

29,282. Did you ever hear that a man named Hadfield said that Wearing had paid you 15*l.* ?—Yes, I heard that there was a report current, but there was nothing substantiated at all.

29,283. You heard that Mr. Hadfield made a statement—not that a report was spread—to a solicitor that you had received 15*l.* from Wearing ?—Yes, I have heard such a thing.

29,284. You have now an opportunity of saying whether it is true or false ?—It is a falsehood.

29,285. A very deliberate falsehood on the part of Mr. Hadfield ?—Yes, a deliberate untruth. I never got a penny for my vote in my life.

29,286. Did you see Mr. Hadfield here this morning ?—No.

29,287. Do you know him by sight ?—No.

29,288. You did not see him come in and speak to a person here ?—No, I do not know him. If I were to see him I should not know him.

29,289. I am very glad you have had an opportunity of clearing your character from the imputation. You have cleared your character from this imputation which no one who has the slightest knowledge of Mr. Hadfield would be likely to believe?—I never received anything for my vote in my life.

J. Ward.

JOHN WARD sworn and examined.

29,290. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A quarryman.

29,291. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,292. What did you get ?—8*l.* 10*s.*

29,293. From whom ?—From Edward Bradshaw.

29,294. Did you get anything else ?—Nothing at all.

29,295. Did you get anything else of any sort or description ?—No.

29,296. Bradshaw says he paid you 8*l.*, so that you put on 10*s.* Was the 10*s.* paid separately ?—No, it was paid all at once.

R. Smith.

ROBERT SMITH sworn and examined.

29,297. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,298. What did you get ?—10*l.*

29,299. From whom did you get it ?—Mr. Slater I believe they call him.

29,300. What did you get from the other side ?—Nothing.

29,301. Nothing at all ?—No.

29,302. Are you quite sure ?—Yes.

29,303. Were you on any committee?—Yes; I got 35*s.* from the same party I think.

29,304. What same party?—From Knowles Allinson.

29,305. What else did you get?—A shilling.

29,306. Is that all that you got?—Yes.

29,307. 11*l.* 16*s.*?—Yes.

29,308. You are quite sure you got nothing from Lawrence's people?—Yes.

29,309. Are you any relation to the two witnesses we have had here before?—Yes.

29,310. Brother?—Yes.

29,311. You were not so fortunate as they were?—No, not quite.

JOHN LAYTHAM sworn and examined. J. Laytham.

29,312. (Mr. Newton.) Do you live in Lune Street?—Yes.

29,313. You are a labourer?—Yes.

29,314. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,315. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

29,316. Who paid you?—Mr. Slater.

29,317. What did you get for being on the committee?—Nothing.

29,318. Were you on no committee at all?—No.

29,319. That is bad luck. On neither side?—No.

29,320. 10*l.* is all you got?—Yes.

MATTHEW GREGSON sworn and examined. M. Gregson.

29,321. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A smith.

29,322. You live at the Pot-houses?—Yes.

29,323. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,324. How much did you receive?—10*l.*

29,325. Did you get anything else for being on the committee or anything of that sort?—Yes, 30*s.* from Mr. Tilly's office.

29,326. Anything else?—No.

29,327. You did not get on to the other committee did you?—No, I did not.

29,328. Is 11*l.* 10*s.* all you got?—Yes, that is all.

29,329. Did you go to Tilly's office to draw your wages on the last Saturday before the election?—Yes, I think it was.

29,330. You did not know it a week before?—No, I did not. It was a sinecure I think.

29,331. What was a sinecure?—The office was.

29,332. No, I think not?—I mean my office as committee man.

29,333. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote the election before?—For Mr. Fenwick.

29,334. (Mr. Hill.) Your cares as a committeeman did not keep you awake at night?—No, they did not indeed.

29,335. (Mr. Newton.) Had you been canvassed by anybody?—I was canvassed by the candidates themselves.

29,336. What did you tell them?—I told them I would vote for Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider.

29,337. How came they to pay you if you were going to vote for them?—Do you mean as committeeman?

29,338. No; how came you to be paid for your vote if you were going to vote for them?—Mr. Slater of Barrow paid me.

29,339. Should you have voted for them if you had not been paid anything?—Yes, I should have voted for them any way.

29,340. How came you to be put on the committee, do you know?—I do not know exactly.

29,341. Because you were a staunch man they put you on?—I cannot say for that. Mr. Moser put me down on the committee.

29,342. Is Moser a great friend of yours?—Not particularly.

29,343. He put down all his friends on the committee?—I cannot say for that. He put my name down—that is all I know.

29,344. Have you always voted "Yellow?"—Yes.

29,345. What did you get on the previous election? Fenwick and Saunders's contest?—I think 2*l.* or 3*l.*

29,346. Did you vote for Fenwick or Saunders?—For Fenwick.

RICHARD JEMMISON sworn and examined. M. Jemmison.

29,347. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,348. What did you get?—10*l.*

29,349. Who paid you?—Mr. Slater.

29,350. Did you get anything more than 10*l.*?—30*s.* from Johnson in Tilly's office.

29,351. Anything else?—1*l.* from George Danson. He sent it to me by William Parker.

29,352. Is 12*l.* 10*s.* all you got?—Yes.

29,353. Did you get any money to spend in drink?—No.

29,354. (Mr. Hill.) How came George Danson to give you money?—I do not know. I did not see him. He sent it me.

JOHN TAYLOR sworn and examined. J. Taylor.

29,355. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A cabinet maker.

29,356. Where do you live?—I live in Skerton now; I did live in Chapel Street.

29,357. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

29,358. What did you get for your vote?—8*l.*

29,359. Who paid you?—Thomas Garnett gave it to me, but Mr. Cross gave it to Garnett I think.

29,360. What did you get for being on the committee?—5*s.* from Garnett.

29,361. Only 5*s.*?—Yes.

29,362. Did not Danson put you on?—No, not that I am aware of. I did not get anything if he did.

29,363. You only got 5*s.*?—Yes.

29,364. Were you not on the other committee?—No.

29,365. Is this the first time you have voted?—Yes.

29,366. (Mr. Hill.) You did not get anything from Clark?—No; I received all I got from Garnett.

JAMES HORNBY sworn and examined. J. Hornby.

29,367. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,368. What did you receive?—10*l.*

29,369. Did you get anything for being upon the committee?—No.

29,370. Did you get nothing else besides that 10*l.*?—No.

29,371. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Slater, of Barrow

29,372. What are you?—A painter.

29,373. A master painter?—No, a journeyman.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

J. Hornby.

26 Sept. 1866.

29,374. Are you one of Williamson's men?—Yes. A summons came to my house for my son, but he is out of town.

29,375. What is his name?—Edward Clark Hornby.

29,376. For whom did he vote?—He voted for Lawrence.

29,377. What did he get?—I do not know. He was not living with me at the time.

29,378. Have you heard him say what he got?—No.

29,379. We shall have to send for him?—I do not know where he is. He went through here two months since. He is on the tramp to seek work.

29,380–1. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you ever hear him say that he got anything?—No, I never did personally.

29,382. Have you heard that he got anything?—Yes, I heard that he got 10*l.*

29,383. From whom?—From Lawrence's party.

29,384. From whom?—I believe he was paid at the "Sun," from what I heard, but I cannot exactly say.

29,385. From whom did you hear that?—I cannot speak to anyone particularly. I think it was John Harrison, joiner, that said so.

29,386. You think he told John Harrison and John Harrison told you?—Yes.

29,387. You think he got 10*l.* at the "Sun"?—Yes.

29,388. Where does John Harrison live?—He is a joiner and lives in St. Mary's Place.

29,389. You cannot tell us anything more about your son than that?—No.

29,390. Is there anybody else you can tell us anything about?—No.

J. Mounsey.

JAMES MOUNSEY sworn and examined.

29,391. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

29,392. What did you get for your vote?—9*l.*

29,393. Who paid you?—Mr. Bradshaw.

29,394. You are a silk dresser?—Yes.

29,395. Not a silk comber?—They are both the same.

29,396. Which are you put down on the register as?—I daresay I should be put down silk spinner.

29,397. Is your son here?—No.

29,398. Do you know what your son got?—No.

29,399. You did not see him paid?—No.

29,400. Did you not come to vote with him?—I came to town with him, but I did not see him paid.

29,401. You know he was paid?—No, I do not.

29,402. Has he never spoken to you about it?—No; he never said aught to me about it.

29,403. You came up together, and voted?—I did not vote when he did.

29,404. You came up from Galgate with him?—Yes.

29,405. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get the money for both?—No.

29,406. (Mr. Barstow.) Where were you paid?—At the "Commercial Inn."

29,407. Did you see your son at the "Commercial Inn"?—Yes; but I did not see him paid.

29,408. Did you never hear that your son had received money?—Well, I do not know whether he received money, or not.

29,409. Why do you not answer at once?—I do not know whether he got aught, or not.

29,410. You saw him with the rest of the voters, at the "Commercial Inn"?—Yes.

29,411. (Mr. Newton.) You know he got money very well?—No; I do not know whether he got money, or not.

29,412. What was your son doing with the other Galgate voters, at the "Commercial Inn"?—I do not know. Getting something to drink I should think.

29,413. Was he doing like the rest?—Yes; he seemed to be.

29,414. Did you go one by one into the room to Mr. Bradshaw, to be paid?—Yes.

29,415. Did you see your son go into that room?—I cannot tell as he did.

29,416. Where is your son?—At Galgate.

29,417. (Mr. Hill.) Are you sure you did not vote for both?—No; I did not vote for both.

29,418. (Mr. Newton.) Are you sure you did not receive your son's money?—Yes.

29,419. What did all the Galgate men get?—I cannot tell; I can only speak for myself.

29,420. You know perfectly well what they got?—I cannot tell.

29,421. You know perfectly well?—How can I tell what they got.

29,422. What did they get?—I do not know.

29,423. Tell us what they got?—I cannot.

29,424. Yes you can?—No, I cannot.

29,425. Have you heard them say what they got?—No, I have not.

29,426. Do you mean to say you did not talk about it going home, what each of you got?—No; I do not know that we went home together.

29,427. You talked about it?—Nay; I do not know that we did.

29,428. You did?—I do not know that we did.

29,429. What did you talk about; you told your son what you got?—Nay; I did not.

29,430. (Mr. Hill.) What relation are you to William Mounsey?— Brother.

29,431. He and you got the same?—My brother is here.

29,432. You and he got the same?—We got our money.

29,433. You got the same amount of money, for your vote respectively, you, and William Mounsey, shoemaker?—William Mounsey, shoemaker, is not my brother, he is my uncle.

29,434. You got the same?—I do not know what he got.

29,435. What did your brother get?—I do not know.

29,436. There were four of you paid at the same time, James, John, William, and William; where is your son?—At Galgate; he lives with me at Galgate. He has not been summoned.

R. Threlfall.

ROBERT THRELFALL sworn and examined.

29,437. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At Galgate.

29,438. What are you?—A silk dresser.

29,439. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,440. Did you get paid for your vote?—Yes.

29,441. How much?—9*l.*

29,442. By whom?—Mr. Bradshaw.

29,443. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—I never was on the committee.

29,444. You were all paid I believe at the "Commercial Inn"?—I was paid at the "Commercial Inn."

29,445. Was James Mounsey paid?—I cannot tell. I did not see him paid.

29,446. You know whether he was paid?—I do not. I was paid.

29,447. Was he paid there?—I cannot tell. I did not see him.

29,448. Have you heard it said so?—Yes; I have heard so.

29,449. Have you heard what he got for his vote?—No.

WILLIAM PARKER sworn and examined. W. Parker.

29,450. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A smith.
29,451. Where do you live?—At the Pot Houses.
29,452. For whom did you vote, at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
29,453. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*
29,454. From whom?—Mr. Slater.
29,455. Did you get anything else?—1*l.* from George Danson. He sent for me, and gave me 1*l.*
29,456. Did you get anything else?—No.
29,457. Is 11*l.* all you got?—Yes.
29,458. How came you to take the 1*l.* from Danson?—He sent for me by Bingham, and he gave me 1*l.* I did not ask him what it was for.
29,459. Was that before or after the election?—The Saturday night before the election.
29,460. That 1*l.* had no effect upon you; it did no good in turning you round?—No.

RICHARD TAYLOR sworn and examined. R. Taylor.

29,461. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
29,462. What did you get for your vote?—9*l.*

29,467. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*
29,468. Who paid you?—Slater, I believe it was.
29,469. You were on no committee?—I got a sovereign from George Danson.
29,470. Is that all you got?—Yes.
29,471. You did not get anything for being on any committee on the other side?—That is all I got from George Danson on that side.
29,472. Did you get anything else from the other side?—I got 30*s.* from Tilly's office.
29,473. Why did you not say so when I asked you. You have come here to speak the whole truth?—I thought you said from George Danson.
29,474. I asked you what you got altogether, and you said you got nothing more than the sovereign from George Danson?—I did not off that side.
29,475. Who paid you that 30*s.*?—I think a clerk of Mr. Johnson's.
29,476. Did you get anything else?—No.
29,477. You got altogether 12*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.
29,478. Is that the whole?—Yes.
29,479. That you will swear to?—Aye.

WILLIAM MOUNSEY sworn and examined. W. Mounsey.

29,480. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A shoemaker.
29,481. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
29,482. How much did you get?—8*l.*
29,483. You got more than that?—No.
29,484. You were paid by Bradshaw?—Yes.
29,485. He says he gave you 10*l.*?—Yes, but it is wrong.
29,486. Are you sure of that?—Yes.
29,487. Who else was present when you were paid?—Mr. Pilkington.
29,488. How did he pay you—in a note or gold?—In gold.
29,489. Are you quite sure that that 8*l.* is all you received from Bradshaw?—Yes.
29,490. What else did you receive?—Nothing.
29,491. Did you not get anything from George Danson?—No.
29,492. Nothing from anybody else?—No.
29,493. What relation is James Mounsey to you?—Cousin.

JOHN STIRZAKER sworn and examined. J. Stirzaker.

29,494. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a gardener?—Yes.
29,495. In Meeting House Lane?—Yes.
29,496. Is your garden your own freehold?—Yes.
29,497. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.
29,498. Did you get any money during the election time?—I did not get a farthing.
29,499. Did any of your friends get any money?—No.
29,500. Are you quite sure?—Yes.
29,501. You are quite sure that no relation of yours got any money?—My son got something for electioneering purposes, but nothing as a bribe.
29,502. How do you know that?—I know from what he says.
29,503. Do you know Joseph Wilson?—Yes.
29,504. Did you see him the evening before the election?—I saw him at our house the day before the election.
29,505. Did he say anything to you about voting?—He said nothing to me.
29,506. To whom did he say anything?—He was talking to my son.
29,507. Did he not say anything to you at all?—I do not recollect his saying anything to me.
29,508. Did he not ask you for your vote?—No, he did not. He knew I was a reformer, and did not ask me at all for my vote.
29,509. Did you not say anything to him?—No.
29,510. Do you mean to say that Joseph Wilson came to your house and you said nothing to him?—I had no conversation with him.
29,511. Do you mean that you did not say a single word to him?—I do not know that I did.
29,512. Do you wish us to believe that Joseph Wilson came to your house, and you never asked why he came?—His conversation was with my son.
29,513. You know Joseph Wilson quite well?—Yes, he is there (pointing to a person in the body of the Court).
29,514. You know him quite well?—Yes, I know him well. I have been a freeman 54 years, and never received a bribe in my life.
29,515. Did you say anything to your son about voting?—Did I say anything to him?
29,516. Did you?—Not about voting. I talked to him about not taking anything as a bribe before the election.
29,517. When was that?—I should say so, several times. I cannot tell you any time in particular.
29,518. Did he tell you he had received anything from Joseph Wilson?—Joseph Wilson wanted him to go and help him.
29,519. Did your son tell you he had received any money from Joseph Wilson?—Yes, for electioneering purposes.
29,520. When did he tell you that?—I think it was after the election that he got it.
29,521. Do you swear that it was after the election?—I think so.
29,522. Do you mean to say that your son said nothing to you about having received money from Joseph Wilson on the night of the nomination?—I do not recollect that he said anything to me about it then.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

J. Stirzaker.

26 Sept. 1866.

29,523. Will you swear he did not?—I could not say. I cannot say either way.

29,524. You know that memory very often is a very convenient thing?—When you get to be as old as I am your memory will not be quite so good as it is now. I am a man between 70 and 80 years of age.

29,525. Elections do not come every day?—They do not.

29,526. Cannot you really remember whether your son spoke to you the night of the nomination upon the subject of money?—I don't think he did.

29,527. When did you first hear he had received money from Joseph Wilson?—I did hear it, but I could not say to a day or two when it was.

29,528. Did he offer you any portion of that money? He never did.

29,529. If he received any money for you he did not pay it over to you?—He did not receive any for me, nor did he pay any over.

29,530. How do you know he did not receive any?—I know he did not.

29,531. How do you know it?—I am certain of it.

29,532. Is that your only reason for not knowing it, that you are certain of it?—He said nothing to me about it, nor offered me nothing.

29,533. Do you mean to tell us that your son never offered you any money for your vote?—He never offered me a farthing.

29,534. And never told you that he had received money from Joseph Wilson for your vote?—No, he never did.

29,535. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the election in 1864?—For Mr. Fenwick.

29,536. What did you get for your vote then?—Do I not tell you that I never received a bribe in my life.

29,537. I ask you the question?—That will answer it.

29,538. What did you get for your vote, then?—I got nothing, I tell you.

29,539. When Wilson came to you that morning what did he say to you?—I cannot hear what you say.

29,540. When Wilson came to you that morning what did he say to you?—I cannot hear you.

29,541. Yes you can?—I cannot, indeed.

29,542. When Wilson came to you that morning what did he say to you?—It was not in the morning.

29,543. When Wilson came to you what did he say to you?—Did I not tell you before that he did not direct his conversation to me at all.

29,544. When he came to you on the morning of the polling, what did he say to you?—He never did come the morning of the polling.

29,545. Did he come the morning of the nomination?—Yes, the day of the nomination.

29,546. What did he say to you?—I have told you before he said nothing to me.

29,547. What did he say to you?—His conversation was not directed to me.

29,548. What did he say to you?—I say his conversation was not directed to me.

29,549. He would not come to you for nothing?—I do not know what you say.

29,550. You know perfectly well what I say?—I do not.

29,551. What did he come for?—He came to talk to my son; to ask him to help him at Carnforth about the voters.

29,552. He came to you?—No, he did not.

29,553. What did he say to you?—He said nothing to me. Mr. Wilson is here; put the question to him.

20,554. Do not speak to me. Understand that you must be respectful to us; be careful?—He is here, and if I am telling a falsehood he can answer it.

29,555. I am asking you a question, and not Mr. Wilson. When Mr. Wilson came to you what did he say to you?—Do not I tell you he said nothing to me.

29,556. What did he say?—He said nothing.

29,557. What did he say when he came into your house?—He began talking to my son.

29,558. Tell me what he said when he first came into the house?—I cannot tell you what he said.

29,559. Why not?—Because I do not know. I have not come here to tell a parcel of lies.

29,560. You have come here to tell the whole truth, and you shall do so?—I should not be telling you the truth if I were to begin telling you what he said, because I do not know what he said.

29,561. What did he say when he first came into the house?—I do not know what he said.

29,.562. What did he say when he first came into the house?—He came to talk to my son about going to Carnforth.

29,563. What did he say when he first came into the house?—I cannot tell you that.

29,564. Did he talk about money?—He never talked about money to me.

29,565. Did he talk about money at all?—I do not recollect his mentioning money in the house. I believe it was outside where he gave the money to my son.

29,566. What did he say outside the house about money?—I do not know.

29,567. What did he say outside the house about money?—I could not hear through the wall.

29,568. What did he say outside the house about money?—I cannot say.

29,569. What did he say outside the house about money? Answer the question.—I cannot. I was in the house, and they were outside.

29,570. How do you know they talked about money outside the house?—I know it from my son; from what he said.

29,571. What did he say?—He said that Mr. Wilson wanted to get him to go to Carnforth with him, and that he would give him money to help the voters on.

29,572. Did he say what money?—I believe he got about 20*l.*

29,573. To go to Carnforth with?—Yes. He paid a man 10*l.* for voting, and returned 8*l.* 10*s.*, I think, to Joseph Wilson.

29,574. What did he give you?—He gave me nothing. He could not give me much out of 30*s.*

29,575. Out of what 30*s.*?—If he paid 10*l.* and gave 8*l.* 10*s.* back to Joseph Wilson, there would be but 30*s.* left.

29,576. (Mr. Hill.) When did William Halstead come to you?—It would be a few days before the election.

29,577. He offered you and your son 17*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

29,578. What answer did you give him?—He was talking to my son.

29,579. What answer did you give him?—We would not take it.

29,580. What answer did you give him?—Do you think it likely we should take 17*l.* 10*s.* when the same party had offered us 20*l.*

29,581. Halstead made you an offer of 17*l.* 10*s.*, and I ask you what answer did you give him?—We would not have it.

29,582. Did you say to Halstead you would not have it?—Most likely I should.

29,583. Did you say to Halstead you would not have it?—It was my son he was offering it to.

29,584. Did you or did you not say to Mr. Halstead that you would not have it?—I never said I would have it.

29,585. It is a plain question; did you say to Halstead you would not have it?—We did refuse to take it.

29,586. Did you or did you not say to Halstead you would not have it?—Without a doubt we should say so.

29,587. Did you or did you not?—Then I must say we did, if that will do.

29,588. Can you separate yourself from your son for a moment?—He never offered it to me.

29,589. I asked you if he offered you 17*l.* 10*s.*, and you said "Yes?"—It was my son.

29,590. Answer my questions. I am putting as plain questions as possibly can be. William Halstead came to your house?—He came into the garden.

29,591. William Halstead offered you 17*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

29,592. To whom did he make that offer?—To my son, for his vote and mine; one vote for Lawrence, but we had had 20*l.* from the same party before.

29,593. You mean had had offered, I suppose? I do not wish to catch you?—Yes, and it is not likely we should make such a bargain.

29,594. William Halstead offered you and your son 17*l.* 10*s.*? Did you give an answer to that or not?—I do not think I should.

29,595. Did you or did you not?—I do not think I did.

29,596. Did you or did you not to the best of your belief?—Then I just say I did not.

29,597. What was the next offer he made when he found you would not take the 17*l.* 10*s.*?—We had had another offer.

29,598. I am coming to that. I know all about the offers perhaps as well as you do. What was the next offer Halstead made?—None.

29,599. Did he then offer to give your son a thrashing?—He said that my son had made a fool of him, and he had a good mind to thrash him.

29,600. They did not part very pleasantly?—I do not know how they parted.

29,601. Did a thrashing take place?—My son was not there, he said it to my daughter.

29,602. He did not offer to thrash your daughter? Did he offer your daughter any money for you?—No.

29,603. How do you know that?—I am sure he did not.

29,604. How are you sure of it?—Because I am positive she would have told me.

29,605. What took place between Halstead and your daughter?—He came to the door; he was vexed, and he said he had a good mind to thrash my son for his behaviour as he had not taken his money.

29,606. Do you mean really to tell us that. You have said it once before in London, and do you mean to tell us it again now?—What?

29,607. That Halstead came and told your daughter that he had a good mind to thrash your son because he would not take 17*l.* 10*s.* for his vote?—Yes, I say so now.

29,608. When did John Hargreaves come and make you an offer?—I think it would be a week before that time.

29,609. What did John Hargreaves offer you?—20*l.*

29,610. For which side did he offer it?—Lawrence.

29,611. Did he offer that to you or your son?—He offered it to both.

29,612. 10*l.* apiece?—Yes.

29,613. What was done about that?—We refused it; we would not have it.

29,614. Was it not enough?—We did not want money.

29,615. You refused it?—Yes, the same as the 17*l.* 10*s.*

29,616. What was the next offer?—The 17*l.* 10*s.* of Halstead's.

29,617. What other offer had you?—Then Marshall came.

29,618. He came at 3 o'clock in the morning?—A little after 4, I think; between 4 and 5.

29,619. How much did he offer?—He offered that as Halstead had offered.

26,620. 17*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes; he came from Halstead, I believe.

29,621. That was from Lawrence?—Yes, for our vote for Lawrence.

29,622. You looked out of the window and spoke to him?—I looked out of the window, and then went down to him, and talked to him at my door, and my son too, and then I went upstairs again.

29,623. He had got the money in his hand?—I imagine so; I thought I saw something in his hand. I understood him to say he had brought the 17*l.* 10*s.*, but he says he did not.

29,624. You did not take that 17*l.* 10*s.* then?—No, we took no money of any description.

29,625. Did you tell Marshall you were astonished at his coming again?—No, I do not know that I did. I had very few words with him.

29,626. Did your son hear what took place between you and Marshall?—Yes, he was there.

29,627. He came down too?—He came down too.

29,628. Did he go to bed again afterwards?—I cannot say that.

29,629. Was he dressed when he came down?—We were only half dressed. He would most likely go upstairs again.

29,630. Are we to understand that between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning you and your son came down to talk to Marshall about the money and that both of you went to bed again?—I daresay we should. I am sure I did.

29,631. What made your son get up—was it not enough for one to do it?—We both went down.

29,632. Did you tell him you had received something from the other side?—I received nothing from the other side.

29,633. Did you tell Marshall that you had received something from the other side?—I did not, and could not tell it to him without telling a lie.

29,634. Did you tell him that you were going to receive something from the other side?—No.

29,635. What bill had you for plants and flowers supplied to some person on the Liberal side at that time?—I sold no plants; you mean the vicar, I suppose, and I have not sold a plant to him for these three years.

29,636. Have you had any money from any person connected with Mr. Schneider?—No.

29,637. Not for plants?—No, I never sold a plant to him in my life.

29,638. Do you swear that?—Yes, I will.

29,639. After the last election did you receive anything for your services?—I did not; I never rendered any services; I never went about; I only went to the poll. I went from my house to the poll and back again home.

29,640. Did you get anything for your services and going to the poll?—No, I got nothing.

29,641. Did they not send you a present?—They gave me nothing.

29,642. Did they give your wife anything?—Nothing.

29,643. Did they give your daughter anything?—Nothing.

29,644. Were you not rather surprised at all these people coming continually to the house offering you money?—They wanted my vote, and I was not going to vote that way for money.

29,645. Did you tell them the first time that it was a monstrous thing?—I told John Hargreaves I did not want the money, and that I was not going to vote that way.

29,646. They knowing very well that you would not vote for them, do you wish to represent that they took the trouble to come down at 3 or 4 in the morning with the money in their hands?—They had been down before that.

William Mounsey sworn and examined.

W. Mounsey.

29,647. (Mr. Newton.) You come from Galgate?—Yes.

29,648. How did you vote?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,649. What did you get for your vote?—7*l.* 10*s.*

29,650. Who paid you?—Bradshaw.

29,651. Were you on any committee?—No.

29,652. Did you get anything from Mr. Tilly?—No.

29,653. Nothing?—I got 5*s.* from Mr. Bradshaw for getting my son John from Preston.

29,654. Is that all you got?—Yes.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

W. Mounsey.

26 Sept. 1866.

29,655. You got no money for being on the committee?—No.

29,656. Neither from the Blues nor the Yellows?—No.

29,657. All you got was 7*l.* 10*s.*?—That is all with the exception of 5*s.*

29,658. Did you pay that to your son?—No, I got it for looking him up and getting him from Preston.

29,659. Did you pay it to your son?—No; that was for my own expenses. I had to write for him, and I should have gone for him but he came the night as I was going.

29,660. It did not cost you 5*s.* to write to him?—No.

29,661. You got 7*l.* 15*s.* for your vote?—The 5*s.* was for getting my son from Preston.

Adjourned for a short time.

C. Fawcett.

CHRISTOPHER FAWCETT sworn and examined.

29,662. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a cabinet maker?—Yes.

29,663. Of Leonard Gate?—Yes.

29,664. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,665. What did you get?—8*l.*

29,666. Did you get anything else?—Yes, 35*s.* from Mr. Tilly.

29,667. Did you get anything from the other side?—Yes.

29,668. How much did you get from the other side?—2*l.* 5*s.* from George Danson.

29,669. Is that all you got?—Yes.

29,670. There is a Christopher Fawcett who is dead now, is there not?—No; Robert Fawcett.

29,671. Was he a relation of yours?—No; there is a young man who got paid at the time I did; he was here yesterday, but he is not here to-day.

29,672. What is his name?—William Roberts, iron-turner, of St. Leonard Gate.

29,673. He was paid by King, was he not?—Yes.

29,674. Were you paid by King too?—Yes.

29,675. (Mr. Newton.) Were you present when Roberts was paid?—No, he went into the room after me.

29,676. And you saw him come away with the money?—Yes; that was all he got; he was on no committee.

29,677. Did he get anything from Tilly?—No, he never got nothing.

29,678. Nor from Danson?—No.

29,679. How came that?—I asked him this morning; I went to see him and he said he did not.

29,680. How much did he get?—8*l.* for his vote.

29,681. William Roberts, iron-turner, is that the man?—Yes.

29,682. You are sure that he got nothing for being on the committee?—Yes.

29,683. That is he has told you so?—He has told me that he got nothing.

T. Whiteside.

THOMAS WHITESIDE sworn and examined.

29,684. (Mr. Newton.) Are you of Alfred Street?—Yes.

29,685. Cabinet maker?—Yes.

29,686. And you voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

29,687. What did you get for your vote?—I received 2*l.* 15*s.* a few days after the election.

29,688. From whom did you receive it?—I received 2*l.* from Benjamin Long, and 15*s.* from Mr. Thomas Cleminson.

29,689. For what did you receive this 2*l.* 15*s.*?—You may call it for what you like.

29,690. For giving assistance?—Yes.

29,691. It was not for your vote?—Well, I took it for assistance, you can call it what you like.

29,692. Is that all you received?—Yes.

29,693. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

29,694. (Mr. Hill.) Did you give any assistance?—Yes; I lost several days' work.

29,695. (Mr. Newton.) That was because you choose to do so?—Yes. I may also state that Edward Whiteside, cabinet maker, received the same amount as myself.

29,696. How do you know that?—Because he told me.

29,697. Were you present when he was paid?—No.

29,698. Is he here to-day?—No, he is not here.

29,699. Is that Edward Whiteside, of Margaret Street, cabinet maker?—Yes.

29,700. Did he authorize you to come and state this?—Yes.

29,701. Why did he not come here to-day?—Well, I do not know; he thought perhaps that there was no occasion for both of us to come.

29,702. If he authorized you to come, and you tell him you have told us, there will be no occasion for him to come here to-morrow?—He does not intend to come as long as I have told you.

29,703. I have him down as having been paid by Cleminson?—15*s.* from Cleminson.

29,704. He was paid 2*l.* 15*s.* by King and Cleminson?—In all.

29,705. Is he your brother?—No, he is my father.

J. Sharples.

JAMES SHARPLES sworn and examined.

29,706. (Mr. Hill.) You are James Sharples, of Heysham, shoemaker?—Yes.

29,707. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

29,708. What did you get?—I got 9*l.* for my vote.

29,709. From whom did you get it?—From Edward Hutchinson.

29,710. What else did you get?—I received 2*l.* from Mr. Henry Welch.

29,711. What was that for?—It was about a fortnight after the election, for working.

29,712. What work did you do?—For helping him during the time of the election.

29,713. Help is very general; what did you do?—Looking up and down after the voters; delivering bills out.

29,714. What else did you get?—I got 1*l.* for services a week before the election.

29,715. What were those services?—For the same concern.

29,716. What else did you get?—That is all, I believe.

29,717. That is 12*l.* in all?—My wife got 1*l.* for a new dress.

29,718. That was for her services in the cause?—Yes.

29,719. I daresay they were as valuable as yours every bit?—Aye, exactly.

29,720. What else did you get?—I believe that is all.

29,721. 13*l.*?—Yes, I calculate it at that.

29,722. Did your wife get a Blue dress or a Yellow dress?—There were Yellow stripes in it.

29,723. At what place did you get the dress; where did you buy it?—I forget the name of the mercer.

29,724. Was it a Yellow mercer or a Blue mercer?—A Yellow mercer.

29,725. You are all in the Yellow line?—Yes, and will be.

29,726. (Mr. Newton.) Did you vote at the last election?—Yes, the last of all I did.

29,727. How did you vote in Fenwick and Saunders' time?—I voted for Fenwick.

29,728. Have you always voted Yellow?—No, not always.

29,729. When did you vote before?—I voted for Saunders once.

29,730. When was that?—The first time that Saunders put up.

29,731. What made you change sides?—Because his principles did not suit me.

29,732. What did he pay you?—He never paid me at all.

29,733. What did Fenwick pay you in 1864?—30*s.*

29,734. And therefore you have remained Yellow ever since?—Yes.

29,735. (Mr. Hill.) The principles of Mr. Saunders that you did not like were the principles of non-payment?—No, that was not it.

29,736. What was it then?—Because I thought he was not a poor man's friend.

29,737. In what way?—He wanted to do away with the freemen's rights.

29,738. Mr. Saunders did?—Yes.

29,739. (Mr. Newton.) Fenwick pays the freemen, and Saunders does not; is that it?—I did not say so.

RICHARD CASSON, junior, sworn and examined.

R. Casson.

29,740. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Heysham, husbandman?—Yes.

29,741. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

29,742. What did you get?—10*l.* for voting.

29,743. Who paid you?—Edward Richardson gave me 8*l.*

29,744. Who gave you the rest?—I do not know the man who gave me the other 2*l.*

29,745. Was he a stranger?—Yes.

29,746. Where were you paid by the stranger?—At Peter Moore's, of the "White Lion."

29,747. Was that all you got?—I got 1*l.* for my expenses coming out of Yorkshire.

29,748. Anything else?—10*s.* for a man fetching me.

29,749. That did not go to you, did it?—I got it, and I gave the man it.

29,750. Anything else?—1*l.* for my wife for a new dress.

29,751. Did you get anything besides that?—No.

29,752. That is all you got?—Yes.

WILLIAM BATTY sworn and examined.

W. Batty.

29,753. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—No. 2, West Greaves.

29,754. What are you?—A railway clerk.

29,755. Are you a voter?—Yes.

29,756. How did you vote?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

29,757. Did you get anything for your vote?—Not a farthing.

29,758. Are you quite sure of that?—Positive.

29,759. Did you get anything for your assistance?—Not a farthing. I did not assist.

29,760. A great many people say that you have been paid?—Well, but I was not.

29,761. It was told us yesterday that you got paid?—Who told you so?—I think not. I think he said he offered me money.

29,762. Did he offer you any money?—He did.

29,763. (Mr. Hill.) What have you to say to it?—I have only to say that I did not want it. He offered me 20*l.* for my vote.

29,764. Was that McKinlay?—Yes, he offered me 20*l.* if I would vote for Schneider and Fenwick.

29,765. (Mr. Newton.) But you kept to your prinples?—I voted as I intended to vote at first.

29,766. You told him to go about his business?—Yes.

29,767. I wonder you did not kick him?—I dare say he deserved it.

29,768. Was this the first time that you had voted?—Yes. I had a vote at the last election, but I did not vote then.

29,769. Why not?—Because I was not wishful to vote. I have no other reason to give you.

29,770. Who canvassed you?—Only Mr. Schneider and Mr. Fenwick. I do not think that I saw Mr. Lawrence.

29,771. Did you get any circular sent to you?—Yes.

29,772. But not by anybody connected with the railway?—No.

29,773. Did any director or official of the railway ever speak to you about your vote?—No, never.

THOMAS TAYLOR THOMPSON sworn and examined.

T. T. Thompson.

29,774. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A farmer.

29,775. Of Heysham?—Yes.

29,776. What rent do you pay?—130*l.*

29,777. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,778. What did you get?—5*l.*

29,779. Anything else?—No.

29,780. Were you not on any committee or anything of that sort?—No.

29,781. And had you no money given to you to spend?—No.

29,782. Who gave you the 5*l.*?—I did not know him.

29,783. Where did you get it?—At the "White Lion."

29,784. Peter Moore's?—Yes.

29,785. Do you know a man named Hutchinson?—I do not know him.

29,786. Have you always voted Yellow?—No.

29,787. How did you vote at the previous election?—I have voted Yellow twice.

29,788. How did you vote at the previous election between Fenwick and Saunders?—For Fenwick.

29,789. What did you get that time?—I cannot say.

29,790. Was it 3*l.* or 4*l.*?—I fancy it would be 4*l.*, but I am not sure.

29,791. It was not 5*l.*?—No, I do not think it was.

29,792. Do you recollect how you voted the time before?—Yes, I had always voted Blue before.

29,793. Have you ever been paid by Fenwick and Saunders?—No.

29,794. Never anything?—No. The election before I was in Liverpool, and I got 1*l.* for expenses in coming.

29,795. What made you take the money in Fenwick and Saunders' election?—My landlord wished me to poll for Fenwick and Schneider.

29,796. But I am asking you about Fenwick and Saunders' election in 1864; what made you take the money then?—They gave me it.

29,797. But you voted against your principles then; can you give us any reason for that?—No; only my landlord wished me to vote for Mr. Fenwick.

29,798. Was that in 1864?—Yes.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

T. T. Thompson.

26 Sept. 1866.

29,799. Who is your landlord?—Mr. Smalley, of Skerton.

29,800. And since you have lived under him have you voted Yellow?—Yes.

29,801. (Mr. Newton.) The money has no influence with you at all?—No, I never made any charge; they gave it to me.

29,802. You lived under Mr. Smalley at the two last elections, and you voted Yellow accordingly; is that so?—Yes.

29,803. Has Mr. Smalley a vote?—Yes.

29,804. Is that Mr. Richard Smalley, of Lune Villa?—Yes.

29,805. He votes Yellow?—Yes.

29,806. Was any inducement held out to you by him to lead you to vote as he wished?—No; he only wished me to do it.

29,807. He did not say that you would have to leave, or anything of that sort, if you did not vote the way he wished?—No.

J. Richardson.

JOHN RICHARDSON sworn and examined.

29,808. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you of the Brewery Yard, labourer?—Yes.

29,809. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,810. What did you get?—10*l.*

29,811. You are a shoemaker, are you not?—No, a labourer.

29,812. Who paid you?—Slater.

29,813. Did you get anything else?—Yes, I got 2*l.* for committee.

29,814. Who paid you?—It was at Tilly's office.

29,815. Anything else?—No.

29,816. 12*l.* is all you got?—Yes.

H. R. Jackson.

HENRY RICHARD JACKSON sworn and examined.

29,817. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A gentleman.

29,818. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

29,819. Did you get anything for your vote?—Yes.

29,820. How much?—10*s.*; not for my vote.

29,821. My question is, how much did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

29,822. What did you get?—I got 10*s.* ten days before the election for the election.

29,823. Who paid you?—Mr. George Clark, the bookseller in Market Street.

29,824. What else did you get?—Nothing.

29,825. That is all you got?—Every farthing; that was 10 days before the election. It was for canvassing.

29,826. If you are a gentleman, do you charge for canvassing?—No.

29,827. How was it that you got paid?—The reason was this, Mr. Robert Richardson, the maltster, of Slyne, and Mr. Thomas Baxter, who was the farm bailiff for Samuel Edward Bolden, Esq., came and asked me would I go with them for some money.

29,828. Where to?—To Mr. Clark's we went. In the first instance we went to the committee-room, and Mr. Clark went with us to the shop, and gave me 10*s.* in the presence of these two parties. I was asked would I go with them to get this. We had been 10 days or a fortnight in the election, and you may be pretty well aware that it would cost something at those sort of times. I was a good deal more money out of pocket.

29,829. You did it out of love for the cause?—Yes.

29,830. Is that all you did for the election?—Yes. I gave out of that 10*s.* 3*s.* 4*d.* to each of the others, and kept 3*s.* 4*d.* myself.

29,831. You divided the 10*s.* among you?—Yes.

29,832. Have you been summoned?—I have, to-day.

29,833. (Mr. Newton.) Have you anything further to say that you have not told us of?—No, I have nothing more to say.

29,834. (Mr. Hill.) You were a captain in the Bolton district, were you not?—This is the first time I knew of it. I did not know I was a captain.

29,835. Who told you to go canvassing?—Nobody told me at all. I went as an independent person into the committee-room, and I went of my own accord afterwards.

29,836. You were not a captain then?—I do not know that I was a captain.

29,837. Did you not talk to some persons about the price of their votes?—Never.

29,838. Then if it has been said that you did that is a mistake, is it?—Yes, I will swear it.

W. Wright.

WILLIAM WRIGHT, of Marton Street, is called but does not answer.

J. Wright.

JAMES WRIGHT sworn and examined.

29,839. (Mr. Hill.) You are the son of William Wright?—Yes.

29,840. Your father is a voter for the borough of Lancaster?—Yes.

29,841. What is the matter with him?—He has had an apoplectic stroke.

29,842. Lately?—About 12 months ago.

(Mr. Patteson, the Secretary.) I have received this certificate, with reference to William Wright: "Lancaster, September 21, 1866. I certify that William "Wright, of 13, Marton Street, had an appoplectic "attack twelve months ago, which has left him so "far paralysed, both in the powers of motion and "speech, as to make his appearance before the Commissioners (if not impossible) at least highly undesirable. (Signed) WILLIAM HALL, M.R.C.P., "Edinburgh."

29,843. (Mr. Hill. To the witness.) For whom did your father vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

29,844. What money did he receive?—10*l.*

29,845. Do you know from whom he received it?—From a stranger; he did not know the man.

29,846. Did he receive anything on any committee do you know?—No.

29,847. Have you asked about that?—No, I did not ask that, but I think he did not.

29,848. You asked him what money he had had?—Yes.

29,849. And he told you 10*l.*?—Yes.

29,850. To the best of your belief is that all that he received?—Yes.

JOHN COTTAM sworn and examined. J. Cottam.

29,851. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of the Marsh Late?—Yes.

29,852. What are you?—A farmer.

29,853. What is your rent?—I have different portions now.

29,854. What is your rent?—I cannot tell exactly what it is altogether; it is a good bit.

29,855. What is your rent?—It is hard on to 400*l.* a year altogether; I have not added it up.

29,856. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

29,857. What did you get?—8*l.*

29,858. Who paid you?—I cannot say the man's name; I did not know him.

29,859. Where were you paid?—At Peter Moore's.

29,860. Did you receive anything more than 8*l.*?—No.

29,861. Is 8*l.* all that you received in the course of the election?—Yes.

WILLIAM NEWTON sworn and examined. W. Newton.

29,862. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Edward Street Lancaster, painter?—Yes.

29,863. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

29,864. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

29,865. Who paid you?—Mr. Slater.

29,866. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—30*s.*

29,867. Who paid you that?—I was paid at Tilly's office.

29,868. Did you do anything when you were on committee?—No, I was not called on.

29,869. Did you get anything else?—No.

29,870. From nobody?—No.

29,871. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

29,872. By whom were you canvassed?—Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider came down to the shop, and Mr. Lawrence too.

29,873. Did either Mr. Fenwick or Mr. Schneider see you alone?—No, there was a good lot of us altogether.

29,874. Is Thomas Newton your brother?—Yes.

29,875. Where is he?—At Kirkby Lonsdale.

29,876. Do you know what he got for his vote?—No, I do not.

29,877. Do you know how he voted?—No, I do not exactly, but I believe that he voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

29,878. Have you seen him lately?—No, not lately.

29,879. How long is it since you have seen him?—Four or five months.

29,880. (Mr. Hill.) What is he doing at Kirkby Lonsdale?—He is working there.

29,881. For whom?—I do not know.

29,882. (Mr. Newton.) And you do not know what he got for his vote?—No.

29,883. Have you never heard him say?—No.

29,884. Mr. Slater paid you?—Yes.

29,885. Were you both paid at the same time?—No.

WILLIAM RICHARDSON sworn and examined. W. Richardson

29,886. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Britannia Street, and are a Joiner?—Yes.

29,887. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

29,888. What did you get?—8*l.*

29,889. Were you on any committee?—Yes, I got 2*l.* off the committee.

29,890. From whom did you receive it?—I got it at the office, I suppose.

29,891. At Tilly's?—Yes.

29,892. Anything else?—George Danson has got 30*s.* down against me, but I never received it.

29,893. How much of it did you get?—Nothing.

29,894. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

29,895. Did you get any Blue money at all?—Never a farthing.

29,896. It was all Yellow money?—Yes.

29,897. 10*l.* was all you got?—Yes, every farthing.

29,898. Are we to write down that George Danson did not give you anything?—Never a penny.

29,899. Did you see George Danson pay anybody?—No.

29,900. How came he to put you down for 30*s.*?—I cannot tell you that.

29,901. Have you had any talk with him about it?—No, not till I heard it mentioned here.

29,902. Did you go and speak to him then?—Yes, I spoke to him then, and he said he had me down in his list, and I said he had no business to put me down for I never got the money.

29,903. What did he say to that?—He said he should have to go by his list.

29,904. Did you tell him that it was all untrue?—Yes, I did.

29,905. Had you ever spoken to him before in your life?—No, never; I never got a penny from him in my life before.

29,906. Had you ever spoken to him in your life before?—No, never.

29,907. (Mr. Newton.) Are you James Richardson?—No.

WILLIAM ATKINSON sworn and examined. W. Atkinson.

29,908. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A painter.

29,909. Of Edward Street?—Yes.

29,910. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

29,911. What did you get?—10*l.*

29,912. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Slater.

29,913. Anything else?—5*s.*

29,914. From whom?—Mr. Hadfield.

28,915. What was that for?—To spend.

29,916. Anything else?—No.

JOHN DOBSON sworn and examined. J. Dobson.

29,917. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—I live in Edward Street now, it is Damside Street on the list.

29,918. What are you?—A cabinet maker.

29,919. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

29,920. What did you get?—10*l.*

29,921. Who paid you?—Francis Miller.

29,922. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—No.

29,923. 10*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

29,924. Had you voted at any previous election?—Yes.

29,925. What did you get for that?—About 5*l.*

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

J. Dobson.

26 Sept. 1866.

29,926. Who did you vote for then?—Fenwick.

29,927. What made you change then?—Because I was working for Mr. Coupland.

29,928. What rent do you pay for your house?—About 7*l.*, 6*l.*, or 7*l.* I do not know exactly how much.

29,929. (Mr. Hill.) How many voters are there in Mr. Coupland's employ?—Five or six.

29,930. Did they all vote for Lawrence?—No, I think not. I think there was one that voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

29,931. And the others all voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

29,932. Did Mr. Coupland make you any promise about it?—No, he only asked me for my vote, and I said I should give it to him.

29,933. Is the man who voted on the other side still in Mr. Coupland's employ?—Yes.

29,934. He has not had notice to go?—No.

29,935. When Mr. Coupland canvassed you, did he make you any promise as to what you should get?—No. I see George Danson has got 30*s.* down against me, but I never got it. I saw it in the paper.

29,936. Is Mr. Danson in court, because this is a very serious accusation against him, and it is the second that has been made to day?—He asked me one day if he did not give me 30*s.*

29,937. When did he ask you that?—I think it was about the first week that this started.

29,938. And he did not pay you?—No.

29,939. What did you tell him?—I told him it was wrong, that I did not get anything.

29,940. Was that before you saw it in the newspaper?—Yes.

29,941. Although you told him you did not get anything, he came and told us that he paid you 30*s.*?—Yes; he asked me in the back side, if he did not give me 30*s.*, and I said no, he did not, and he said "Well then somebody else has gotten it for you," and I said, "I have nothing to do with that."

29,942. You know when we began to sit here, how long before that was it?—It was since the Commission started.

29,943. Between the time of the Commission starting, and the time when he gave his evidence?—Yes, it would be about three weeks since, I should think.

29,944. Three weeks from now?—Yes.

29,945. Between the starting of the Commission, and the day he gave evidence?—Yes; I was not in court when he gave his evidence.

29,946. But you read it in the newspaper?—I do not know, it is not very often that I look at the paper.

29,947. But you must have looked at the paper, or you would not have known that he had said it?—There was just a list of names that had got 30*s.* each, that was the paper I saw it in.

29,948. (Mr. Hill.) To the best of your belief, Danson said this to you before he gave his evidence?—I believe it was before.

29,949. Did you hear Danson speak to anybody else at the same time?—No.

R. Ralph.

ROBERT RALPH sworn and examined.

29,950. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A railway porter.

29,951. North-western?—No, Midland.

29,952. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

29,953. Who canvassed you?—I never was canvassed.

29,954. Not by any person connected with the railway?—No.

29,955. Are you sure of that?—Yes, I am sure of it.

29,956. What did you get for your vote?—8*l.*

29,957. From whom?—Mr. King.

29,958. Where you on any committee?—No.

29,959. On neither side?—No.

29,960. Was 8*l.* all that you got?—Yes.

29,961. Did you not get anything to spend;—No.

29,962. You say you are in the service of the railway company; what are your duties?—I was porter at the time; I am now in the goods yard.

29,963. What are your wages?—Four shillings a day.

29,964. Is that for seven, or for six days in the week?—Six days.

29,965. (Mr. Newton.) Were you paid before or after you voted?—After I had voted.

29,966. Would you have voted for Fenwick and Schneider if you had not been promised money?—Yes.

29,967. (Mr. Hill.) Had not anything been said to you about money, before you voted?—I was asked if I would be content with the same as the rest.

29,968. That was before you voted?—Yes.

29,969. And you said that you would be content?—Of course.

29,970. And then you went and voted, and afterwards you got your money?—Yes.

R. Jemmison.

RICHARD JEMMISON recalled and further examined.

29,971. (Mr. Hill.) You wish to add something to your evidence?—Yes; I wish to say that Thomas Newton received 10*l.* for his vote; he received nothing else.

29,972. Did you see him paid?—Yes.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Thursday, 27th September 1866.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

PRESENT:

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

Mr. HILL.

C. Baynes.

27 Sept. 1866.

CHRISTOPHER BAYNES sworn and examined.

29,973. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Queen's Place.

29,974. What are you?—A stonemason and builder.

29,975. Are you a freeman or a householder?—A freeman; at least I voted as a freeman.

29,976. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

29,977. Did you take any part in the election?—Not at all: not any.

29,978. Did you receive any money?—No.

29,979. Neither yourself nor through any other person?—No, I had nothing whatever to do with it in any shape or form.

29,980. Did you spend any money in treating?—No, not any.

29,981. Or did you lend any person any money to influence his vote?—Not any.

29,982. You confined yourself entirely to voting?—That is all I did.

29,983. Did you see much of what was going on at the election?—No, I saw nothing of it. I went to Grange after I had voted.

29,984. (Mr. Newton.) Who was active in your district?—I really do not know; I took so little notice of the election that I do not know who was active in that district; I suppose there would be many, but I knew nothing about it in any shape or form.

29,985. You have no information to give us?—No, I have not or I would be very glad to do so.

J. Barrow.

JOHN BARROW sworn and examined.

29,986. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Alfred Street, cabinet maker?—Yes.

29,987. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

29,988. Did you take any part in the election?—No, none whatever. I simply went and voted.

29,989. You did not receive any money for your vote?—No, not a farthing.

29,990. Did you get any money to treat with?—No I had no connexion with it.

29,991. Were you on any committee?—None whatever.

29,992. And you know nothing about it?—No, I know nothing about it.

29,993. Can you give us any information with reference to the election?—No.

29,994. Do you know anybody in Alfred Street who was active on behalf of the Conservatives?—No, I cannot say I do.

29,995. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a master cabinet maker?—No, a journeyman.

29,996. For whom do you work?—For Mr. Gillow.

29,997. Have you always voted Blue?—I have voted at 10 contests and never received a farthing in my life.

29,998. Have you always voted Blue?—Yes, always.

F. Gardner.

FRANCIS GARDNER sworn and examined.

29,999. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Bath Street, plasterer?—Yes.

30,000. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

30,001. What money did you receive?—15*s.*, 30*s.*, and 10*l.*

30,002. You received 10*l.* from whom?—George Danson.

30,003. 15*s.* from whom?—George Danson, and 30*s.* from George Danson.

30,004. The 30*s.* I suppose was for committee?—Yes.

30,005. What was the 15*s.* for?—For committee too,—nine days.

30,006. You had a good deal of work on the committee then? You seem to laugh at that, it was light work was it?—Yes, it was.

30,007. What are you by trade?—A plasterer.

30,008. Which is the heaviest work of the work, plastering or committeeing?—I should fancy committeeing was a heavier job.

30,009. In what way was it heavier?—It was.

30,010. How was it heavier?—Of course there is more pleasure in being comfortably at work.

30,011. It is more comfortable to be at work than setting about and wasting your time?—Yes.

30,012. Did you receive anything besides what you have told us?—No.

30,013. (Mr. Newton.) What sort of wages do you get?—27*s.* a week when I am at full work.

30,014. (Mr. Hill.) How long were you off work while this election was going on?—Nine days before the election and two days afterwards.

30,015. You lost eleven days work then?—Yes.

30,016. (Mr. Barstow.) Did anyone offer you any money on the other side?—Yes.

30,017. Who was that?—Mr. Cleminson.

30,018. What did he offer you?—20*l.*

30,019. Where was that?—In the market-place, close to the "Cross Keys;" he offered Benjamin Mason the same as me; we were both together; it was on the nomination day at night.

30,020. Was this in the open street?—Yes.

30,021. Which Cleminson was it?—I do not know; he is a master joiner; I think it is Thomas. Thomas Harrison was with him at the time and Mr. Mason.

30,022. I suppose you have always voted Blue?—Yes.

30,023. Was there anyone else with you?—Only Benjamin Mason.

30,024. Did Benjamin Mason vote for Lawrence?—Yes.

30,025. Had he always voted Blue before?—Yes, I believe he had.

30,026. (Mr. Hill.) Was Mason paid the same amount that you were?—Yes.

30,027. Did you see him get it?—Oh, no; I did not see him get it.

30,028. How came they to offer you as much as 20*l.*?—I really cannot tell.

30,029. How came you not to take it?—I said to Mason "Never mind, we will not alter our principles "for a few pounds, as we always voted that way we "will stick to our side."

30,030. (Mr. Barstow.) I suppose you would have voted for Mr. Lawrence if no money had been offered you?—Yes.

30,031. (Mr. Hill.) Do you really mean that?—I do.

30,032. (Mr. Newton.) Was this 10*l.* to vote for Mr. Lawrence promised to you before you voted?—We were not promised then; we got it before we voted, but I do not know that we expected it. When that was promised we did not know that we would get it.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

F. Gardner.

27 Sept. 1866.

30,033. What time in the day were you paid?—It would be perhaps about half-past 8.

30,034. At what time did you vote?—Right away before 9 o'clock I think we voted.

30,035. Are you the head man of a lot of plasterers? Oh, no.

30,036. (Mr. Hill.) You are getting very good wages?—No; it is common wages in Lancaster.

30,037. For plasterers?—Yes.

G. K. Kendall.

GEORGE KNIPE KENDALL sworn and examined.

30,038. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—An upholsterer.

30,039. In George Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

30,040. Where do you live?—In George Street.

30,041. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,042. Did you get anything for your vote?—No.

30,043. Did you get any money at all at the election?—Yes, for work done in the general committee-room.

30,044. What did you get?—7*l.* 10*s.*

30,045. Your work was of the same character as that which we have heard of from other witnesses?—No; it was writing principally, making out district lists and voting cards.

30,046. Making out voting cards?—Yes; writing them out and sending them out, and district lists and street lists.

30,047. How long were you engaged?—Off and on about 13 days; I have generally been poll clerk, but they wished to keep me in the committee-room, and so for the last day I had 1*l.*

30,048. Who paid you?—I was paid after the election.

30,049. By whom were you paid?—At Mr. Tilly's office.

30,050. Was all this paid at Mr. Tilly's office?—No; I got 3*l.* from Mr. Knowles Allinson on account.

30,051. Where did you get the rest?—At Mr. Tilly's office, and 1*l.* before the election in the room; that made 7*l.* 10*s.*

30,052. (Mr. Newton.) Did Mr. Tilly pay you that?—At his office.

30,053. Did Mr. Tilly pay you the 1*l.*?—No; a youth from Mr. Tilly's office. I do not know his name.

30,054. When was the balance of 3*l.* 10*s.* paid?—It would be paid about three or four weeks after the election.

30,055. (Mr. Barstow.) When was the second amount paid?—I should get that perhaps 10 days or a fortnight after the election.

30,056. (Mr. Newton.) You are an upholsterer?—By trade.

30,057. How many hours were you absent from your shop?—I was in no regular employment at that time.

30,058. You are only a journeyman?—I am in no regular employment as an upholsterer; I have been.

30,059. (Mr. Barstow) You attended to your work partially at least, did you not, during this time?—Very little, if any.

30,060. (Mr. Hill.) Had you any work?—No.

30,061. Had you left off work?—As a master-man.

30,062. You had not been successful?—No.

30,063. (Mr. Newton.) How have you always voted?—As a rule I have always voted on the Liberal side.

30,064. In 1864 how did you vote?—For Fenwick, of course.

30,065. And in 1859?—For Gregson and Fenwick.

30,066. (Mr. Hill.) How many hours in a day were you at work making out these street lists?—I used to go at 9 in the morning; the hours at night were unequal, sometimes 6, sometimes 7, and sometimes later.

30,067. When it got near to the time of the election you were later I suppose?—On the night before the nomination day it was as late as 11 o'clock.

30,068. I find you down in the legal expenses only for 7*l.*; I do not know whether the other 10*s.* is here or not?—I do not know; I got 7*l.* 10*s.*

T. Winder.

THOMAS WINDER sworn and examined.

30,069. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Alfred Street.

30,070. What are you?—An attorney's clerk.

30,071. Who is the attorney?—Mr. Christopher Thornton Clark.

30,072. How did you vote at the last election?—For Messrs. Fenwick and Lawrence.

30,073. Did you get anything for your vote?—No.

30,074. Did you get anything for your services?—I got a guinea as poll clerk.

30,075. At which polling booth were you engaged?—St. Thomas's district; No. 5 I think on the list.

30,076. Where is that?—In Marton Street.

30,077. That is not near the National School?—No.

30,078. You got a guinea for acting as poll clerk?—Yes.

30,079. Who put you on the list?—Mr. Clark.

30,080. And you split your vote?—Yes.

30,081. What time in the day did you poll?—About noon.

30,082. We have heard of personations having taken place; to your knowledge was there any at your booth?—There was one attempted, but I requested the deputy Mayor to administer the oath, and the man bolted through the room; he was afraid of being caught.

30,083. Could you tell the number on the register of the man for whom he came to vote?—If I had the register I could point out the name I daresay; opposite to the name of the man who was attempted to be personated there is something written which would enable me to point it out directly.

30,084. Have you kept copies of the lists as you took the votes down?—Yes; the book is at the office.

30,085. Have you any other papers besides that list at the office connected with the polling?—Only the register and the inspector's book.

30,086. I think if you will go and fetch the register and the inspector's book it will assist us very much?—I will fetch them and bring them here as soon as I can.

J. Albright.

JOSEPH ALBRIGHT sworn and examined.

30,087. (Mr. Hill.) You are a druggist?—Yes.

30,088. Where do you live?—In Penny Street.

30,089. Are you any relation to the tobacconist?—His brother.

30,090. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

30,091. You are sure of that?—Yes.

30,092. What part did you take in the election?—I went to Slyne to look after the voters, but Robert Hodgson had been there making a speech and so I only saw one voter.

30,093. Robert Hodgson making a speech did not prevent you from seeing voters did it?—It collected all the voters together.

30,094. What did you do with this one voter that you saw?—I asked him if he would have a glass of ale.

30,095. And did he accept your offer?—Yes, he accepted it and drank it off, and said he would have another as he had forgot to drink my health, and so I paid for another. I could not find any voters, and so I went out in the place and fetched two or three labouring men into the house.

30,096. So as to make a show?—Yes.

30,097. Well?—Then Sharples, the old man, wanted another glass; and I asked the landlady if she had much beer on the tap, for I thought she would be short at the election, and I left him there.

30,098. Did you engage him to vote?—No, I never asked him for a vote.

30,099. What did you give him this beer for then?—I thought I would not be shabby.

30,100. Did he know on which side you were?—Yes.

30,101. How did he know that?—He knew me.

30,102. But though he knew you he might not know on which side you were?—He would guess.

30,103. He was a man of penetration?—If I had called for a glass of brandy he might have thought there was something nice coming after.

30,104. What did you offer him?—I offered him nothing; I paid for his drink, that was all.

30,105. When did you do anything at Slyne?—I went there again, but never saw any voters at all.

30,106. That was worse still, but it was more economical?—I took a "Tinker" with me, but they had such false bottoms that we could not mend them.

30,107. Was the tinker a voter?—It was Alfred Tinker.

30,108. He would not do any good?—No; it is reported that he offered Sharples 25*l.*, but I do not believe it is true.

30,109. Did you offer Sharples anything?—No.

30,110. Did you offer any person any money?—No.

30,111. Did you not offer money to any of those persons that you saw there?—No. When we went by they shouted out, "Oh, shabby! what, are you going home this time of night?" Tinker was with me, and he said, "Go in and pay for some more glasses if you have got the money in your pocket;" and so we left them.

30,112. Did you not do anything to retrieve your character?—No, we could not; they were a bad lot there altogether.

30,113. That is they were not under your influence?—Hodgson was a great man there, and we had no chance at all.

30,114. How many of them did you get at last?—We got none.

30,115. Did they all vote the other way?—We never looked after them.

30,116. Did they all vote the other way?—I think so, I have not looked at the list.

30,117. You took no interest in it, did you?—No, because they were a noted bad lot.

30,118. What were the next set of people that you went among?—I came home.

30,119. Did you not do anything more in the election?—Somebody shouted my name as I was passing the "White Lion."

30,120. Peter Moores?—Yes; and I went upstairs and saw Tinker, and he said, "There are two men going up to vote, will you go with them?"

30,121. That was on the election day?—Yes; and I went and heard them vote and came back, and they went up into the room and he paid them 10*l.* each.

30,122. What were their names?—I do not know their names. I know one of them by sight well enough: he works for the canal company. I have known them all my life, but I never knew their names.

30,123. Tell us something about what you did yourself?—Well, I did nothing.

30,124. Do you say you did not receive any money for the purposes of the election at all?—Not a penny.

30,125. How much did you pay?—2*s.* 3*d.*

30,126. And you never had that repaid to you?—No.

30,127. You were 2*s.* 3*d.* out of pocket?—Yes.

30,128. And the journey to Slyne?—Yes. I expected to get a ride from Fenwick and Schneider, but they passed by me altogether; but they called the next day to make an apology, and I said it was all right.

30,129. Do you know anything more about the election?—No.

30,130. What money did you receive yourself?—Nothing.

30,131. You say that Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider made an apology to you; did they not do something more than make an apology?—No. They said they were sorry they had not picked me up.

30,132. Did they not say something about being better friends for the future?—No. I told them that Stewardson was on the box, and he takes a great deal of room, and so it was of no consequence.

30,133. You know nothing more about the election than you have told us?—No.

30,134. You received no money yourself and paid none, except the 2*s.* 3*d.*?—No.

30,135. You were not a successful operator then?—No.

THOMAS ALBRIGHT sworn and examined. T. Albright.

30,136. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a tea dealer, in Market Street?—Yes.

30,137. And you voted at the last election for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

30,138. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I was paid officially as a clerk on the committee, writing in the committee room.

30,139. What were you paid?—I think, to the best of my knowledge, I was paid 10*s.* a day for 11 or 12 days.

30,140. Who paid you?—Mr. Moser. I received the money. I went to Mr. Johnson's office to get a note from Mr. Tilly, I think, but I will not be quite certain.

30,141. How many days were you engaged?—I do not know whether it was 11 or 12 days, but I got somewhere about 6*l.* or 6*l.* 5*s.* I think it was for my services.

30,142. You say you got a note from Mr. Tilly, and the note was paid by Moser?—Yes, at least I think I did. I called at Mr. Tilly's office.

30,143. Is that all the money you received?—It is.

30,144. Did you do nothing in the way of canvassing?—No, I was kept employed in the committee room from morning till night.

THOMAS ALBRIGHT sworn and examined. T. Albright.

30,145. (Mr. Newton.) You are a watchmaker?—Yes.

30,146. Of Lune Street?—Yes.

30,147. How did you vote at the last election?—I did not vote at all.

30,148. Why did you not vote?—I am employed in the post-office.

30,149. And you took no part in the election?—No. I had 10*s.* to look after two voters, that is all.

30,150. Then you did take a little part in the election?—Yes, I looked after two voters.

30,151. Who were the voters that you looked after?—One was William Cumpsty, and the other was William Jackson.

30,152. Is that William Cumpsty, of Anchor Lane?—Yes.

30,153. What did you get for looking after those two voters?—10*s.*

30,154. Who paid you?—I got paid at Mr. Tilly's office.

30,155. On what day were you paid?—It would be about a week after the election that I was paid.

30,156. Who employed you to look after Cumpsty and Jackson?—I think it was Mr. Moser.

30,157. How was it you went to Mr. Tilly then?—

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

T. Albright.

27 Sept. 1866.

Mr. Moser gave me a note to take to Mr. Tilly to get paid.

30,158. Did Mr. Tilly know that you were employed in the post-office?—I do not know.

30,159. Did he ever make any inquiry about it?—I do not know that he did.

30,160. Did you tell him that you were employed in the post-office?—No.

30,161. How long have you been a clerk in the post-office?—About five years and a half.

30,162. Did you perform any other services besides looking after the two voters?—No, that was all I did.

30,163. What did you do in the way of looking after these two men?—There was a man after Cumpsty, and I did my best to prevent his being taken away.

30,164. You took care of him and gave him drink?—Yes. I was with him I daresay a week before the election, more or less.

30,165. You did not stay all day and all night with him, I suppose?—I was with him as much as I could be. I was with him a good part of the night I daresay.

30,166. Did you poll both these men?—No, I did not; they both polled the first hour when I was away.

30,167. Do you know what William Jackson got for his vote?—No, I do not.

30,168. (Mr. Hill.) Which William Jackson was it?—The watchmaker; he is since dead.

30,169. Who paid him?—I do not know. I believe Bradley paid them both, but I am not sure. I had to go away.

30,170. William Jackson junior, of Nicholas Street, watchmaker, is that the man?—Yes.

30,171. (Mr. Barstow.) Which Cumpsty do you say it is?—William Cumpsty, a tinman.

30,172. He was paid by Kirby?—Yes, Kirby and Bradley.

30,173. And Jackson also was paid by Kirby?—It would be either Kirby or Bradley; they were both in the same district I believe.

30,174. Mr. Hill.) Were you interested in elections before you went into the post-office?—No, not much, I did a little at the last election.

30,175. Had you ever voted before?—No, I never voted at all.

30,176. (Mr. Barstow.) Where were you with Mr. Cumpsty during the night?—I was with him at several places; I was with him at the "Commercial Inn" for one place.

30,177. You used to take him to some inn and sit with him?—Yes. I was with him at the "Green Dragon," and different places up and down in Lancaster.

30,178. And Jackson in like manner?—Yes.

30,179. Is this all you did at the election?—Yes.

30,180. Have you given us a full account of all the money you received and everything you did?—Yes.

T. Winder.

THOMAS WINDER recalled and further examined.

30,181. (Mr. Newton.) Have you got your book?—Yes.

30,182. Can you tell us now who the voter was that was attempted to be personated?—There was a man attempted to personate John Wilkinson, No. 926 on the register. I found out on referring to the register that he was dead, and I requested the deputy-mayor to administer the oath to him, and upon my doing that the man went through the room and ran away.

30,183. Was there any other case of personation so far as you know?—No, that was the only one I saw.

30,184. Do you know who the man was who ran away?—I do not; he went off directly.

30,185. You, of your own knowledge, knew that Mr. Wilkinson was dead, and so stopped the man from voting?—Yes.

30,186. Did you get anything more besides the 1*l.* you have told us of?—I got a guinea for being a poll clerk or inspector.

30,187. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not receive any other money at all?—Not a farthing.

30,188. Let me look at your poll book (the poll book is handed to the Commissioners). This is the polling book at the National Schools?—Yes, I was in that district.

30,189. Did you call down the names?—No, I had a check clerk who did that.

30,190. Where is he?—He is at the foundry.

30,191, Has he got a list?—I daresay I should take them both to the office.

30,192. Have you a list in which you took down the names of voters?—They would be in the returns that were sent to the "Royal Oak" to Mr. Clark; all that he wrote was sent to Mr. Clark, what we call the returns.

30,193. Have you kept no copy?—No.

30,194. Do you know what became of them after Mr. Clark got them?—I daresay they are in his possession.

30,195. Is Mr. Clark in court?—No, he is at the office.

30,196. What would those returns show?—The names of the voters and how they voted.

30,197. Would they show also the hours at which they voted?—Yes, the hours are marked at the top. I sent the returns off every hour.

30,198. Have you the returns from every polling booth, and the different hours?—I daresay they are in the office.

30,199. Can you get them for us?—I only had to deal with those in St. Thomas's district.

30,200. We want everything in your office of this nature respecting the polling?—I cannot speak positively to anything that occurred except in St. Thomas's district.

30,201. Have you these lists at the office?—Very likely they are there.

30,202. (Mr. Hill.) You sent off these sheets every hour I suppose?—Yes.

30,203. Five minutes before each hour you sent them off, full or not full?—Yes.

30,204. Those are what we want?—Do you want those for St. Thomas's district only?

30,205. We want those for the whole of the districts; we want the returns from the five polling booths?—I will see if I can find them.

30,206. (To Mr. Maxsted.) Have you a similar book in your office?—I have the original returns.

30,207. Will you be kind enough to get them for us?—I will do so.

C. Albright.

CHARLES ALBRIGHT affirmed and examined.

30,208. (Mr Hill.) What are you?—An ironmonger, with Mr. Clark of Penny Street.

30,209. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,210. What monies did you receive for the purposes of that election?—Nothing.

30,211. Did you not receive any money at all?—Nothing.

30,212. Had you nothing given you to spend upon voters?—No.

30,213. Had you nothing to do with the election?—I went with my father to Overton, but I had nothing to do with any money.

30,214. Your father is a tobacconist?—Yes.

30,215. What did you do with him over at Overton?—I went with him merely for an out.

30,216. Did you not see any of the voters?—Yes, I saw them.

30,217. Were you not interested in finding out how they would vote?—Yes, but they had a good hand over them; there was not much to be done with them.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

C. Albright.

27 Sept. 1866.

30,218. Were you too late in the field?—We were rather late.

30,219. Were you too late?—No, we got some.

30,220. Were there any persons with whom you discussed the price of votes when your father was not present?—No. I discussed nothing about it; I simply listened to what he said.

30,221. (Mr. Barstow.) You went to serve an apprenticeship in electioneering, I suppose?—Yes.

30,222. (Mr Hill.) That is all you know about it?—That is all.

EDWARD GARTH sworn and examined. E. Garth.

30,223. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A labourer.

30,224. Where do you live?—At Galgate.

30,225. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,226. What did they give you?—11*l.*

30,227. Who gave it to you?—John Hewertson I think they call him.

30,228. Is 11*l.* all you got?—Yes.

30,229. Did you get anything from Lawrence's people?—I think I got half-a-crown the day before the election.

30,230. Did you get anything else?—No.

30,231. You are quite sure of that?—Yes.

JOSEPH EMLEY sworn and examined. J. Emley.

30,232. (Mr. Newton.) You are a husbandman at Warton, are you not?—Yes.

30,233. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

30,234. Did you get anything for your vote?—Yes.

30,235. How much?—8*l.*

30,236. Who paid you?—Joseph Wilson.

30,237. What else did you get?—Nothing.

30,238. I suppose you were on committee?—No.

30,239. Had you voted in other elections?—Yes.

30,240. How had you voted?—Generally on the Liberal side.

30,241. Would you have voted this time on the Liberal side if you had not been paid?—I do not know.

30,242. Not if the other side had offered you 10*l.*?—Nobody offered me anything.

30,243. If they had offered you 10*l.* you would have voted for them, I suppose?—No, I think not.

30,244. You would have remained staunch to your own side?—Yes.

THOMAS JACKSON sworn and examined. T. Jackson.

30,245. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A husbandman.

30,246. Where do you live?—At Overton.

30,247. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

30,248. What did you get?—10*l.*

30,249. From whom did you get it?—I did not know the man; he was a strange man.

30,250. Did you receive that over night or the next morning?—The night before the election.

30,251. The nomination night?—Yes.

30,252. What else did you get?—Nothing.

30,253. Did they not give you something next day?—No, not a farthing.

30,254. Did they not give you a few shillings to spend when you first came down?—They gave me something to drink.

30,255. You were brought over in an omnibus?—Yes.

30,256. Were you all paid in the omnibus?—No, we were paid the night before.

30,257. All of you?—I do not know that all might be; some was.

30,258. Did you receive it in gold—in sovereigns?—Yes.

30,259. What did you do with your 10*l.*?—I took it home.

30,260. All of it?—Yes.

30,261. To whom did you give it?—I gave it to my wife.

30,262. What did she do with it?—I cannot tell you

30,263. It was not spent in drinking?—No.

30,264. Did you buy anything with it?—Yes.

30,265. What did you buy with it?—Nay, I cannot tell you. I had nothing to do with it after I delivered it up.

30,266. (Mr. Newton.) Had you voted at other elections?—Yes.

30,267. And always sold your vote?—Always voted for the Conservative side.

30,268. What made you take money for voting this time?—I do not know; because they gave it me. I did not ax them for it.

30,269. Would you have voted this time for Mr. Lawrence unless you had been paid for it?—Yes, I should.

30,270. (Mr. Hill.) But you would have voted on the other side if they had given you something more, would you not?—No, I never have yet.

30,271. What did they pay in Fenwick and Saunders's election?—I do not know. I never got nothing. My wife got something, but I never knew what it was.

30,272. Do you care about having a vote?—No, I do not care nothing about it. I do not care whether I have one or not.

30,273. (Mr. Hill.) It would not break your heart if you were to lose it to-morrow, would it?—No.

WILLIAM JACKSON, jun., sworn and examined. W. Jackson, jun.

30,274. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of Middleton?—Yes.

30,275. What are you?—A husbandman.

30,276. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,277. What did you get?—8*l.*

30,278. Who gave it you?—I suppose it would be Mr. Hutchinson, but I did not know him at the time.

30,279. Was that all you got?—Yes.

30,280. You did not get anything to spend in drink?—No.

30,281. (Mr. Hill.) Had you ever voted before?—Yes.

30,282. On which side had you voted before?—The Liberals.

30,283. Have you always voted for the Liberals?—Yes; I only voted twice.

30,284. If you had not had this money given to you which way should you have voted?—For the Liberals.

30,285. Suppose the other side had offered you anything, how should you have voted?—I think I should have voted for the Liberals.

30,286. You think so?—Yes, I think so. I have got my father's summons, and my brothers and all

30,287. What is your father's name?—William Jackson.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

W. Jackson, jun.

27 Sept. 1866.

30,288. Of Heysham?—No, of Middleton; he was at Heysham at the time of the register.

30,289. What did he get?—8*l.*

30,290. He voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

30,291. Did he get it from Mr. Hutchinson?—Yes.

30,292. Do you know whether that is all he got?—Yes, I believe it is all he got.

30,293. Can you speak to any other Jackson?—My brother, Ralph Jackson.

30,294. He was paid by Hutchinson also?—Yes.

30,295. Did he also get 8*l.*?—He did.

30,296. You do not know that he got anything more?—No, he got nothing more.

30,297. (Mr. Barstow.) You were all paid together, perhaps?—No, my brother and me were paid together.

30,298. How do you know that your father got 8*l.*?—He told me he did.

30,299. When?—He told me this morning.

30,300. Do you know of any other Jackson?—There is a Samuel Jackson, of Middleton.

30,301. Samuel Jackson, of Heysham, farmer, would that be him?—Yes.

30,302. He was paid something?—I do not know what he was paid. I have not got his summons.

30,303. He has not authorized you to appear for him?—No, he has not. There is 1*l.* that Mr. Richardson said he gave to a sister of mine; that is a mistake.

30,304. He did not give anything to a sister of yours?—No, he did not.

(The two sets of polling papers referred to by Mr. Winder and Mr. Maxsted are handed to the Commissioners.)

T. Winder.

THOMAS WINDER recalled and further examined.

30,305. (Mr. Newton.) I do not see that in these papers there are any hours given. We cannot tell from what appears in them at what hour each voter voted?—I was under the impression that the hours were mentioned.

(Mr. Hill.) Mr. Maxsted's papers show the hours.

(The Witness.) I wish to make an explanation why I voted for Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Lawrence. It was simply out of the regard I had for Mr. Fenwick as a gentleman and politician, and I voted for Mr. Lawrence out of respect to Mr. Clark. I wish also to call the attention of the Commissioners to a statement made by Mr. George Danson that I had received 30*s.* from him. I never received such a sum.

30,306. (Mr. Hill.) Did you receive any money from him?—No, not a farthing.

30,307. (Mr. Newton.) Do you remember in what part of Mr. Danson's evidence it was that he mentioned your name?—It was at the close of the evidence. It was published a few days ago in the "Lancaster Guardian." I never received that sum or any sum. Mr. Clark wished me to mention that if you would like to keep those returns you are quite at liberty to do so.

30,308. (Mr. Hill.) How long have you been with Mr. Clark?—Upwards of 12 years.

30,309. Then you were there when he was agent for Mr. Fenwick?—Yes, I was.

30,310. What makes you think that the Mr. Winder to whom Mr. Danson says he gave the money is meant for you?—Well, I just wanted to call your attention to it in order that the wrong person might not be put down as having received such a sum. There are two other Thomas Winders.

30,311. All you mean to say is that you are not the Thomas Winder who received 30*s.* from Mr. Danson?—No; I have seen Mr. Danson about it since, and he says it was the one at Skerton.

T. Barrow.

THOMAS BARROW sworn and examined.

30,312. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Middle Street.

30,313. What are you?—A cabinet-maker.

30,314. How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

30,315. Did you get anything for your vote?—No; I never got a farthing for my vote in my life.

30,316. How have you always voted?—Always Blue.

30,317. Have you never been paid?—No.

30,318. Did you get anything for being on any committee this time?—No, never in my life; I never did.

30,319. Were you canvassed for Mr. Lawrence?—Yes, I was canvassed by all three.

30,320. Were you canvassed by Mr. Fenwick and Schneider?—I was canvassed by them all.

30,321. Did your wife get anything?—No.

30,322. Are you certain of that?—Yes.

30,323. Is it possible for her to have got anything without your knowing it?—It is possible; but I am positive she did not, because I am sure she would have mentioned it to me if she had had anything.

30,324. Have you any brothers?—Yes, two. One has been examined here this morning. John and William polled for Fenwick.

30,325. John is your brother?—Yes.

30,326. And is Thomas any relation of yours?—William, of Darnside Street, is a relation.

30,327. But Thomas Barrow, of Hillside, draper?—No, he is nought to me.

30,328. (Mr. Hill.) Who do you work for?—Gillow. I have wrought there all my lifetime.

B. Mason.

BENJAMIN MASON sworn and examined.

30,329. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Brewery Yard.

30,330. What are you?—A plasterer.

30,331. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

30,332. What did you get?—I got 15*s.*, and 30*s.*, and 10*l.*

30,333. Besides that were you offered anything by the other side?—Yes.

30,334. Who offered you money?—Mr. Cleminson.

30,335. Where?—In Market Street.

30,336. What did he offer you?—20*l.*

30,337. Was that Thomas Cleminson?—Yes.

30,338. What was the reason why you did not take it?—Because it was against the colour.

30,339. Was not 20*l.* and Yellow, better than 10*l.* and Blue?—No.

30,340. Not in your judgment?—No.

30,341. However, you did not take it?—No.

30,342. If there had been no money going at all, which way would you have voted?—I would have voted for Mr. Lawrence.

30,343. You would have voted without money according to the way you did vote with money?—Yes, I would.

30,344. (Mr. Newton.) Suppose there had been no money on the Blue side, and plenty of money on the Yellow side, on which side would you have voted?—I would have voted for Mr. Lawrence.

30,345. Do you mean to say that this money was forced upon you?—No.

30,346. Then why did you take it if you would have voted for Mr. Lawrence without money? Why on earth did you take it?—Well——

30,347. (Mr. Hill.) What did you do with the money?—I spent it.

30,348. Not in drink, I hope?—Part of it.

JOSEPH BARROW sworn and examined.

30,349. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am a cabinet-maker by business, but at present I am storekeeper at the waggon office.

30,350. Where do you live?—In Rydal Road.

30,351. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

30,352. What did you get?—I had a place assigned to me as poll clerk in the St. Thomas's district; but when I got there I was too late to take the books up, and some one had got the situation, so I was appointed from the "Royal Oak" room to assist the captains at the top end of Penny Street with the voters that came in from the Ellel district. I had occupied the post of check clerk at the previous election.

30,353. What did you do then?—I went to the top end of Penny Street and saw Mr. Lawson and Mr. Rothwell.

30,354. What money did you receive for all this?—I received 2*l*, for which I gave a receipt to Mr. Gibson a week after the election.

30,355. Was that for one day's work?—Yes.

30,356. (Mr. Newton.) At how many elections had you voted before?—Five.

30,357. How had you voted?—Always Blue.

30,358. Who made you poll clerk this time?—I was poll clerk on the previous election, and they sent for me. I had gone round with Mr. Saunders at the previous election with the books.

30,359. How came you to be late that morning?—I was at my usual employment.

30,360. When you went to the polling booth did you find that some one had gone into your place?—No, I asked off.

30,361. But you asked to be appointed to some other service to make up the 1*l*. you had lost by not being poll clerk. Do you understand me?—No.

30,362. You asked, did you not, for some other place to make up the 1*l*. you had lost by not being a poll clerk?—No, I did not. When I got to the "Royal Oak" I was assigned to that situation.

30,363. (Mr. Barstow.) What took you to the "Royal Oak" when you found you were too late?—That was where I ought to have received my books.

30,364. Who did you see at the "Royal Oak?"—Mr. Robert Hall and Mr. Gibson.

30,365. (Mr. Hill.) What do you call the office that you held? If you were describing it in short what should you call yourself—a sub-captain?—I should think that would be what they might designate it.

30,366. (Mr. Newton.) Were you at this time looking after the waggons, or what was your employment?—I was there at that time.

30,367. You were storekeeper at the waggon office? Yes, I was.

30,368. Why did you cry off your bargain of being a poll clerk?—I do not know that I did.

30,369. But you told Mr. Barstow just now that you asked off?—I went there for my books, and they sent me where I went.

30,370. But you were appointed to act as poll clerk?—Yes.

30,371. Why did you not execute the office which had been assigned to you?—When I got to the "Royal Oak" I was too late to take up the books, and they had sent up some one else.

30,372. You got there too late?—Yes, I ought to have been there at 8 o'clock.

30,373. When you found that you were too late did you then go to the "Royal Oak?"—That was the place where I was sent to.

30,374. Did you then ask to be employed in some other office?—No.

30,375. Who employed you then?—Either Mr. Robert Hall or Mr. Gibson.

30,376. What did they say to you?—That I was to keep in that place till they sent me on any particular message that they might want to send to any part of the town; but at first I was to go to the top end of Penny Street, and assist Mr. Lawson and Mr. Rothwell.

30,377. (Mr. Hill.) Were you engaged five days altogether?—No.

30,378. Then if you are reported in Mr. Gibson's book as having been engaged for five days at 2*l*. that is not true?—I was not engaged five days.

30,379. Is there any other Joseph Barrow who was at work in this way?—No.

30,380. Then is this entry in Mr. Gibson's book correct: "Joseph Barrow, five days ditto, 2*l*.;" is that untrue?—Well, I certainly made myself useful to them in any way I could.

30,381. But you were not engaged five days?—No.

30,382–3. Did you do any work at all except that one day?—No, I did not.

30,384. (Mr. Newton.) At what time did you poll?—About half-past 8 or a quarter to 9.

30,385. Had you received this appointment when you voted?—Yes, I had.

30,386. And you had a promise of 2*l*. for it?—No, I had not any promise of any money.

30,387. Did they tell you what you would get for doing it?—No.

30,388. You knew, did you not, that if you were appointed you would be paid for it?—Yes.

30,389. And you did in fact receive 2*l*. for one day's work?—I did.

30,390. Had you any conversation with anyone to the effect that you were to be employed, except on this day?—No.

30,391. You made no agreement with anyone, except on this day?—No.

30,392. (Mr. Hill.) Did you ever speak to Mr. Gibson?—No.

EDWARD PEARSON sworn and examined.

30,393. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At Preston.

30,394. Did you come over from Preston at the Lancaster election in 1865?—I did.

30,395. When?—On the nomination day.

30,396. On the morning of the nomination?—On the afternoon of the nomination.

30,397. Did anybody come with you?—John Southworth.

30,398. At what time did you arrive?—4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon; it might be a bit later, but I do not know exactly the time.

30,399. In the course of that afternoon did you see anybody you knew lived at Preston?—No.

30,400. Did you on the following morning?—Yes.

30,401. Where were you when you saw them?—Facing the "Queen's Arms."

30,402. Do you know Lancaster?—Not very well; I have only been here a few times.

30,403. You saw some one whom you knew to be a Preston man, when you were facing the "Queen's Arms?"—Yes.

30,404. Who was that man?—Mr. Fort.

30,405. Did you see anyone else?—Yes; I saw five or six persons, besides Mr. Fort, who had come from Preston.

30,406. Who were those men?—One was Richard Pearson.

30,407. Your name is Pearson?—Yes, but my name is Edward Pearson.

30,408. You did not look at yourself in the glass?—No.

30,409. What were the other names?—I cannot tell you the other names.

30,410. You saw three or four more?—Yes.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

E. Pearson.

27 Sept. 1866

30,411. At what time in the morning was this?—Between 5 and 6 o'clock.

30,412. You got up early?—Yes.

30,413. Did you see these four or five people do anything?—No, only walking about.

30,414. Did you see them doing anything during the day?—Yes, we saw them two or three times during the day. We saw them assisting in personating one of the voters in Lancaster.

30,415. What was it you saw?—We saw them going into the school to personate one of the voters at Lancaster, and as soon as they saw us they ran away.

30,416. And you ran after them?—No, we did not run after them, we kept first going to one school and then to another.

30,417. Both of you?—Yes; to see if we could catch the persons who came from Preston who intended to personate the voters of Lancaster.

30,418. Did you catch anyone?—That was one that was assisting.

30,419. You did not catch him?—No; we saw him going in, and before we got up to the schools they had voted him, and then they ran away.

30,420. What was the name of that Preston man?—That went away?

30,421. That voted?—He was not a Preston man that voted.

30,422. I understood you to say that it was a Preston man that personated the Lancaster voters?—The Preston man was with the individual who was personating.

30,423. Who was personated?—No, personating.

30,424. What sort of a man was this individual?—He was rather a lusty man.

30,425. A stout man?—Yes.

30,426. How do you know he was not a Lancaster voter?—Because I have seen him knocking up and down Preston many a time.

30,427. Have you ever found out his name?—No; I know many a score in Preston, but I do not know their names.

30,428. I wonder you have come over from Preston to tell us this long story. You have told us nothing. How do you know he was not a voter; there are a good many voters of Lancaster who live at Preston?—I know he is not a voter.

30,429. How do you know it?—Because he got into some hobble in South Lancashire for personating.

30,430. How do you know he is not a voter for South Lancashire?—I do not think so.

30,431. It is only your belief?—Yes.

30,432. What was the hobble he got into?—He got personating, and was caught.

30,433. What was his name?—I do not know.

30,434. If he was caught they would not let him go; you must know his name; it is a misdemeanour, and he would be handed over directly to the police?—It was stated to me that he was caught in South Lancashire; that is all I know.

30,435. In the same way as you caught him here?—Yes, perhaps so.

30,436. (Mr. Barstow.) What are the names of any of the Preston men you saw?—One was Richard Pearson, and another, James Holden.

30,437. Were either of those men one of those whom you describe as personating?—Holden was with him.

30,438 Where did you see Holden and Pearson when they were personating?—It was Leonard Gate schoolrooms where they were personating. I think it is the National School.

30,439. What did you see them do?—I see them go into the school.

30,440. What time in the day was that?—Between 12 and 1 o'clock.

30,441. Did you go in after them?—Yes.

30,442. How soon after them did you get into the school; how close did you follow them?—We were 500 or 600 yards behind them.

30,443. When you say "we," who do you mean?—Southworth and I.

30,444. Were any Lancaster people with you?—No.

30,445. You kept by yourselves?—Yes.

30,446. Were you in the booth at the same time with these people, Holden and Pearson?—No, they were coming out of the other door as we went in. They had voted him.

30,447. You were not in the booth with them?—No.

30,448. When you say "they had voted him," what do you mean?—They had taken in the person who was going to personate. They had personated some one.

30,449. Who was with these other people, Pearson and Holden?—Pearson was not there, it was only Holden.

30,450. I understood you to say that Pearson and Holden were together?—No, we saw Pearson and Holden together in the morning.

30,451. I thought you said you saw them together at Leonard Gate school?—Only Holden.

30,452. You were never actually in the booth with Holden and this other man?—No.

30,453. How do you know they had personated anyone?—We could tell by their ways.

30,454. Describe the way by which you can tell that a man has been personating another?—They never go straightforward, they are always sneaking first in one corner and then another, when they see anybody they know.

30,455. That is one of the initia of a man personating another, that he does not go straightforward, but sneaks from corner to corner?—Yes.

30,456. Do you know the name of the voter they personated?—No, I do not know; we did not get there in time.

30,457. When you got to the booth did you say to the poll clerk, "That man is personating a voter?"—No.

30,458. What did you say?—We said nothing, we could not object.

30,459. Why did you say nothing?—We did not believe we could object; we were not voters at Lancaster.

30,460. Why did you not say anything?—Because we had not a right to say anything. They would take no notice of us; we were not voters at Lancaster.

30,461. Did you tell anyone?—Yes, we told Mr. Fort.

30,462. Is Mr. Fort a voter for Lancaster?—Yes.

30,463. Did you go with Mr. Fort anywhere?—No.

30,464. (To Mr. Towers.) Who was Mr. Lawrence's poll clerk at Leonard Gate; was Winder?—No, it was not Winder. I do not know his name, but I know him by sight.

30,465. Were you at this booth?—Yes, and at the exact time this gentleman speaks to.

30,466. (Mr Hill to the witness.) You say this was between 12 and 1, and you are distinct in saying there was a person personating?—Yes, they were going to personate a person.

30,467. There were four persons only who voted during that hour for Fenwick and Schneider. There was Bartholomew Sharples; he was not personated. We have had him before us. Robert Fell; we know he was not personated. He has not been before us, but will be. Then there was William Kelsall; we know he was not personated; he will be before us. And there is William Gunson, who we know was not personated; so that your story is altogether false, completely false upon this, and you must have known it; and I want to ask you this further—on your oath, was it not you and Mr. Southworth who came over to personate, and were being watched by the other side?—No.

30,468. That is my belief, and that is by far the most probable thing. As for going together it is absurd when your interest was as detectives for one to go to each booth, and not to keep together. Your story is altogether improbable, and, I believe, utterly false?—Well, it is not.

JOHN SOUTHWORTH sworn and examined.

30,469. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A grocer.

30,470. Where?—At Preston; Fylde Road.

30,471. What were you doing at the last election at Lancaster?—I was sent over here by Mr. Fort on the nomination day.

30,472. When did you receive instructions from Mr. Fort to come over?—He had spoken to me about it a week or two previous to the election, and I came over on the nomination day.

30,473. Did you come over with the last witness, Pearson?—Yes, we both came together.

30,474. What were your instructions as to coming over?—It had been very currently reported in Preston——

30,475. What were your instructions as to coming over?—That we were to look after persons that had come over to Lancaster from Preston.

30,476. Had you ever been in Lancaster before?—Once or twice before.

30,477. Why did they send you over?—We knew the parties that were reported as being here.

30,478. Who were the parties reported as being here?—Mr. Satterthwaite, and other parties with whom he is connected.

30,479. What Mr. Satterthwaite is that?—The chemist and druggist.

30,480. The Mr. Jones?—Yes, I think so.

30,481. Did you think Mr. Satterthwaite was coming over here personating?—That was reported at Preston.

30,482. Mr. Satterthwaite was, I suppose, a man very well known at Preston?—Yes, very well known.

30,483. Do you think he was a likely man to come over here to personate voters?—It was currently reported that he had been over here the election before, and a great deal had been said about the personation that had been practised at that election.

30,484. Do you think it likely that a person so well known as Mr. Satterthwaite should be sent over from Preston here to personate voters?—I mean to say that he would be sent over from Preston to engage people in Lancaster to personate.

30,485. Why should they require to send over a Preston man to look after people to personate Lancaster voters?—That is the office he generally fulfils in elections at Preston.

30,486. He may do it in Preston, but would not that be a reason why they should have a Lancaster man to do it in Lancaster?—I suppose it was considered that he was something superior in that sort of work, and that was the reason he was sent over.

30,487. What rubbish! What did you see when you came over?—We saw no Preston people till the morning following, between the hours of 5 and 6.

30,488. Where did you stop in Lancaster?—I think it is the "Sun Inn."

30,489. To whom did you apply for your instructions in Lancaster?—Mr. Danson; I think that is the gentleman's name.

30,490. What were the instructions which Mr. Danson gave you?—We were already instructed what we had to do.

30,491. Were you told where the booths were?—Yes.

30,492. You did not know Lancaster?—No.

30,493. Were you told which booths you were to look after?—We were to go about the town generally.

30,494. Generally, doing what?—Looking after those people from Preston.

30,495. Following them?—Not exactly following them, but to watch them.

30,496. How were you to watch them?—To see if they brought any persons whom we suspected were not really voters.

30,497. Where did they stay the night before?—I cannot say. We never traced them the night before. We only found them in the morning.

30,498. And then you followed them about the town?—We found them at different booths on our traversing the town. We came across them at different booths.

30,499. They knew you as well as you knew them?—Of course.

30,500. They knew you were dogging them?—They spoke to us in the morning, and asked us what we wanted over here.

30,501. They knew you were dogging them?—Very likely.

30,502. Were they dogging you too?—I cannot say. They would be very suspicious I daresay.

30,503. At which booth did you see anything take place?—There was an attempt at personation at the Town Hall booth in the morning.

30,504. At what o'clock?—I cannot speak to the hour. It was early on in the morning.

30,505. You have been in court during the examination of the last witness?—Yes.

30,506. And you will not tell me what o'clock it took place?—I cannot say.

30,507. Was it 9 or 10 o'clock?—Perhaps it would be between 9 and 10; but I will not positively swear to it. The superintendent of police from Preston was there with me at the time, and I took it from him that an attempt at personation had been made.

30,508. Did you report it to the police, or did the police report it to you?—The superintendent reported it to me. Mr. Dunn knew me, and knew I was from Preston.

30,509. The policemen came to look after you, not you to look after the police?—I do not know that they came to look after me.

30,510. What was this attempt at personation?—I was not in the school at the time it took place; but I tell you Mr. Dunn, the superintendent of police, told me there had been an attempt at personation.

30,511. When you heard of the attempt what did you do?—We stood about to see if we could pick out any person whom we knew.

30,512. The policeman told you there had been an attempt at personation?—Yes.

30,513. And you stopped about there?—Yes.

30,514. What for?—To see if we could pick out any person we knew.

30,515. But they had done it?—Yes; but they might do it again if the opportunity was afforded.

30,516. You thought it was your duty to stand about after the thing was done—to shut the door after the horse was stolen?—They would have done it again if they had an opportunity.

30,517. Were you with the other witness all the time?—Chiefly.

30,518. Why did not one of you pick out one booth and one another?—We thought it was better, as both of us were strangers to the town, to keep together and visit the different booths.

30,519. Neither of you knowing anything of the town you represent that you were the persons selected to come over here and look after people personating?—I do not know that we were selected.

30,520. Will you tell us in what way you could trace personation better than those persons who knew the voters?—We could not trace it better than those persons who knew the voters.

30,521. Would not the Lancaster people know the voters better than you or Mr. Pearson?—Yes, of course they would.

30,522. How many did you try to personate yourself that day?—Not one.

30,523. Whom did you bring over from Preston with you?—No one but Mr. Pearson.

30,524. Did the police officer come with you?—No, the policeman came in the morning.

30,525. Did you know the policemen were coming?—I did not know the police were coming before they arrived here.

30,526. Or else you would not have come yourself perhaps?—I had promised Mr. Fort to come.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

J. Southworth.

27 Sept. 1866.

30,527. (Mr. Newton.) Are you in the police force at Preston?—No.

30,528. You are not a detective?—No.

30,529. Are you the gentleman who personated some one at South Lancashire?—I never personated anyone.

30,530. Are you the gentleman who personated some one at South Lancashire?—No.

30,531. I should think you were. Did you see any attempt at personation here yourself?—I did not myself.

30,532. How much money did you receive for yourself?—I think Mr. Fort handed over 11*l.* or 12*l.* to me some time in September.

30,533. Was that for you and Mr. Pearson?—Yes; and other expenses that had been incurred.

30,534. How much did you give of that to Pearson?—We had 3*l.* each when we balanced up.

That would be very ample for you to pay your expenses from here to Preston and back again. You will not get any from our secretary.

30,535-6. (Mr. Hill.) You never succeeded in personating anybody?—No. I never tried.

J. Mashiter.

JOHN MASHITER sworn and examined.

30,537. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—Carnforth.

30,538. What are you?—A joiner.

30,539. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,540. What did you get?—Nothing.

30,541. Nothing at all?—Nothing at all.

30,542. Do you mean that you received no money at all during the election?—I received nothing at all myself. No money was paid to me whatever.

30,543. To whom was any money paid on your behalf?—I believe my wife received the money.

30,544. You know your wife received it?—Not at the time I did not.

30,545. You know your wife received it?—I know it now.

30,546. Then why did you not say so? Do not shuffle with us in that manner or we will refuse you your expenses. How much did your wife receive?—I believe, from what I know, she received 15*l.*

30,547. Who gave it her?—Mr. Wilson, for anything I know.

30,548. Do you not know Mr. Wilson gave it to her?—Yes, for anything I know, he did.

30,549. That was for your vote?—Yes, I suppose so.

30,550. How often have you voted for the borough of Lancaster?—Only twice.

30,551. How did you vote before?—For Mr. Fenwick.

30,552. What did you or your wife get before?—Before?

30,553. Yes; in Fenwick and Saunders's election?—2*l.* 10*s.* I believe.

30,554. What caused this great rise in the price?—I really cannot say I am sure.

30,555. Were you offered money from the other side?—Yes, I was.

30,556. Who offered it to you?—Mr. Hodgson, of Carnforth Lodge.

30,557. He offered you what?—He offered me 7*l.* 10*s.*

30,558. Did you tell him you would take it?—No, I did not. I said I would not vote that way at all.

30,559. Is the 15*l.* your wife got all the money you received for your vote?—For anything I know it is.

30,560. Did you get anything yourself?—I never got a halfpenny.

30,561. And you know of nothing more?—Nothing more.

30,562. (Mr. Hill.) What do you believe your wife had besides?—Nothing as I know of.

30,563. (Mr. Barstow.) Were you in London?—Yes, I was.

30,564. Were you asked there whether you had received any money for your vote?—Yes, I was.

30,565. What did you say?—I said I received no money whatever for my vote. I said there was nothing paid to me.

30,566. That is not what you said. What was your answer?—I said there was no money paid to me whatever.

30,567. Were those the words you used? At that time no doubt you knew your wife had received this money?—I did not know what she had got at that time.

30,568. I am going to put to you the question you were asked and the answer you gave. Do you remember being examined by Mr. Karslake?—Yes.

30,569. Do you remember his putting to you this question—"Just attend to my question. Now we "put Joseph Wilson out of the way. Did you "receive a sum of money for giving your vote?" Do you remember that?—Yes, I do.

30,570. What did you say to that?—I said I never received no money at all myself.

30,571. Your answer is, "No." Then you are asked again, "Has anybody for you received it and given you the money?" and your answer is, "Well I can't swear it?"—No, I could not. I never see'd no money paid.

30,572. You knew perfectly well at that time your wife had had the money. Then you are asked, "Do "you know anybody, a friend of yours, or an ac-"quaintance who has got money which is coming to "you by and by, you think?" And your answer is, "There has nobody received anything for me that I know of." Was that true or untrue?—I did not know that there was any money paid, not to tell the truth.

30,573. Just answer me. When did you first know that your wife had received this money?—It was time after the election.

30,574. Do you mean to say she did not tell you the day after the election that she had received the money?—She did not say she had received any money at all to me.

30,575. When did you first know your wife had received money on your behalf?—She told me when I came back from London that she had got 15*l.*

30,576. Do you mean to say upon your oath that that was the first time she told you she had received money in your behalf?—She did not say anything about any money and I did not put any questions to her.

30,577. Did you not know that she had received money before you went to London?—Well, I had some idea that there was something of that sort going on.

30,578. Did you not know she had received money for you before you went to London?—No, I did not, not for truth; not exactly.

30,579. What do you mean by not knowing it exactly?—She never said to me she had got any money; only she said she had got used the same as anybody else. She had got behaved to the same as anybody else.

30,580. When did she say that to you?—It would be a few days after the election very likely.

30,581. Did she not say that to you before you went to Lancaster to vote?—No, she said nothing at all about that. She said that Joseph Wilson had promised her something.

30,582. (Mr. Newton.) You know you told the committee that you did not know that your wife had got any money at all, or anybody, and you know perfectly well that she told you of it the day after the election?—Yes.

30,583. (Mr. Hill.) Not only that, but you have said, "Before I went to vote she said Joseph Wilson had promised her something;" and when you were asked in the House of Commons, "Do you know anybody, "a friend of yours, or an acquaintance, who has got "money which is coming to you by and by you "think?" you answer on your oath, "There has nobody received anything for me that I know of?"—I could not swear it.

That is a direct contradiction to the answer you have just now given. There is no escaping from that. There are the best part of six columns of examination, every word of which is a gross prevarication if not an absolute lie. Some of it certainly is absolutely false.

(Mr. Barstow.) It is direct perjury.

(The Witness.) If the money had been paid personally to me I should not have gone to London and said I had not received any.

(Mr. Newton.) You knew perfectly well that Joseph Wilson had applied to you for your vote, and told you that your wife was to get something for it.

30,584-5. (Mr. Hill.) When you say Hodgson, of Carnforth, offered you 7*l.* 10*s.*, was not that for a split vote for Schneider?—No.

30,586. Did Hodgson never say a word to you about a split vote?—No, he did not. He said if there was a split there would be nothing for it.

30,587. What did Hodgson say to you?—I said I should not go against Mr. Fenwick; I should vote one for Mr. Fenwick.

30,588. Did not Hodgson say to you, "I will give you 7*l.* 10*s.* for the other vote or the split?"—No; he said if we split there would be nothing for it.

Isaac Bradshaw affirmed and examined. I. Bradshaw

30,589. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a cabinet-maker, in Church Street?—No. I took up my freedom by serving my time as a cabinet-maker, but I am not a cabinet-maker now, and have not been for nearly 30 years.

30,590. What are you?—A confectioner.

30,591. Where do you live?—In Church Street.

30,592. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,593. Did you get anything for voting for Fenwick and Schneider?—No.

30,594. You shake your head as if you were astonished?—I do not know that I was even canvassed. I cannot charge my memory with it.

30,595. Do you say that you were not canvassed?—I am not aware of it; I might be.

30,596. Sometimes people do get something although they are not canvassed?—Yes, we find it out so.

30,597. Did anybody come to you after the election?—No, certainly not.

30,598. If they did not come at all they could not have come with any money?—They neither came with money or anything else.

30,599. You got nothing before or after the election for your vote?—No, neither before nor after.

30,600. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—I took no part in the election further than tendering my vote.

30,601. Either for one side or the other?—Either for one side or the other.

William Backhouse sworn and examined. W. Backhouse.

30,602. (Mr. Barstow.) You are our summoning officer?—Yes.

30,603. Did you serve a summons upon William Thornton, of Littledale?—I did.

30,604. Did he say anything to you at the time you served him?—He did.

30,605. What was it he said?—He said he would not come until he was forced.

30,606. He has not attended here as far as you know?—I have not seen him.

30,607. Were his two sons present at the time?—No, they were not. He told me they were in the field harvesting. "Amongst the corn," I think was his expression.

30,608. Did he add anything to that?—I said he had better come, that he would be obliged to come; and he said, "I will not come until I am forced."

30,609. Did he say anything about the sons?—He said the sons should not come either.

30,610. How far do they live from here?—About four or five miles, and it is a very hilly road.

30,611. We quite know that their time is very important to them now?—I believe it is.

30,612. One of them must attend here to answer the questions about the others. We shall take no steps about it now, because it will be very troublesome and expensive to them, but unless one of them is here tomorrow we shall take steps to compel their attendance?—I will let them know.

(Mr. Towers.) I think I can explain: None of those three but William received any money. William is the father of one of them, and the other is his brother. William received the 9*l.*

30,613. (To Mr. Towers.) That does not tally with what Backhouse says?—Mr. Backhouse is mistaken. One of them is his brother, and the other is his son. William Bradshaw, of Market Street, Lancaster, paid him, and I was present with him when we made the arrangement.

30,614. (Mr. Newton.) You were present when Bradshaw paid him?—Not when he was paid, but when we agreed to pay him.

30,615. They were to have 3*l.* each?—We agreed with William Thornton that if he would come himself and bring his brother and son with him in his own conveyance we would give him 9*l.*, to save us the trouble of sending a conveyance for them, and Bradshaw gave the 9*l.* into William Thornton's hands.

30,616. William Thornton was to bring his brother and son to the poll at 3*l.* a-head?—We agreed to pay William Thornton 9*l.*, and did pay it to him.

30,617. That is 3*l.* a-piece?—Yes.

30,618. We heard from one witness that there were two men from Littledale, whose names were not known, who got money, and the person who gave evidence thought their names were Littledale?—There are no voters in Littledale who voted at the last election who have not been accounted for as receiving money. It was, in fact, myself, in the presence of William Bradshaw, that made the bargain, but I could not be be there and elsewhere, and that is why William Bradshaw paid him. What I agreed with him was, that if he would bring his own conveyance and save us the trouble of sending one we would give him the cost of a carriage and pair of horses, and he did so. I might as well tell you that in Littledale, at that time, there was a John Lamb, a farmer at Bell Hill, who now lives at Carnforth, who promised me he would vote for us, and 12*l.* would not fetch him on the morning, and he has never been here yet.

30,619. Did he vote on the other side?—Yes.

John Blacon sworn and examined. J. Blacon

30,620. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A painter.

30,621. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

30,622. What did you get?—Nothing.

30,623. Nothing at all?—No.

39,624. When were you first spoken to about your vote?—I was not spoken to about it at all that I know of.

30,625. When were you canvassed?—I scarcely ever was, I think.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

J. Blacon.

27 Sept. 1866.

30,626. When were you in a small way canvassed?—I do not know exactly. I think I only saw one of the candidates,

30,627. That is what I call being canvassed. I suppose the candidate asked you for your vote; he would not ask you to vote against him?—Yes.

30,628. When was that?—A little time before the election.

30,629. How long before?—Perhaps a day or two.

30,630. Who was it?—Mr. Lawrence.

30,631. Did not the other parties wait upon you?—Yes, but I think I did not see them.

30,632. Did they see your wife?—No.

33,633. Are you married?—No.

30,634. Did they see anybody on your behalf?—They would see some one.

30,635. Who was it?—I think it would be my sister.

30,636. Do you know whether your sister got anything for you?—No, she got nothing.

30,637. Did your sister receive anything on account of your vote?—No.

30,638. Did anybody receive anything on account of your vote?—No.

30,639. Are you quite certain?—Yes, positive.

30,640. Did you vote Blue the election previous?—Yes.

30,641. Have you always voted Blue?—Yes.

30,642. I know you will give me a straightforward answer, at least I hope so. Are you quite sure that there has been no money paid on account of your vote at all?—I am positive.

J. Miller.

JOSEPH MILLER sworn and examined.

30,643. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A small farmer.

30,644. Where do you live?—Carnforth.

30,645. What rent do you pay?—35*l.*

30,646. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,647. What did you get for your vote?—Joseph Wilson gave me 1*l.* to spend amongst the voters, and 10*l.*

30,648. Did you spend that amongst the voters?—Yes, all but twopence.

30,649. You keep a good account of it. The 10*l.* was for your vote?—Yes. I do not know that it was for my vote. I never got anything for my conveyance the last election, and I said to Joseph Wilson, "I think I ought to have something," and he said, "I will please you on the election day, in the morning."

30,650. Is 11*l.* all you got?—Yes.

A. Bleasdale.

ANTHONY BLEASDALE sworn and examined.

30,651. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,652. What did you get for your vote?—I got nothing for my vote. I got 5*l.* from Mr. Tilly after the election for being on the committee.

30,653. What for?—For assisting in the canvass, and being on the committee.

30,654. What was the assistance you rendered?—Going about looking for voters, seeking them up, and asking them to vote for Fenwick and Schneider.

30,655. Give me the name of anybody you asked to vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—There is William Sherson is one, on the Quay, and a man of the name of Bond, I think, who lives in Monmouth Street; John Sherson, of Caton, and a man of the name of Punch, I think it is, and several others who I cannot call to mind.

30,656. What did you do when you were on the committee?—I looked after the voters.

30,657. You were on the committee?—My name was put down in the "Queen's" committee room.

30,658. How many times did you attend?—I cannot say, a good many times.

30,659. About; was it 10 or 20 times?—I should think it was from 10 to 20 times.

30,660. What did you do when you attended those 10 or 20 times?—I did nothing very particular.

30,661. Did you do anything?—No; we were encouraged to do our best to look after the freemen and voters.

30,662. Was there drinking going on every night?—No, not where I was, only one night at the "Malt Shovel," in Penny Street.

30,663. Was it dry pen and ink work, poll books, and that sort of thing?—No, there were no poll books.

30,664. Just describe what it was?—The voters were all called together, and they had something to drink.

30,665. Then there was drinking?—At the "Malt Shovel."

30,666. I mean at the "Queens?"—There were books, and pens, and paper there.

30,667. You are a painter?—Yes.

30,668. Were you out of employment at this time?—No.

30,669. These were services rendered in the evening?—Yes, and the daytime.

30,670. Did you give up your employment?—Yes, I did. I left my business.

30,671. Are you a master painter?—I was at that time, but am not now.

30,672. You put yourself on the committee?—Yes, I did, to do my best for Fenwick and Schneider.

30,673. That is different to what other people did; they left work to go on the committee because it was better pay; was not that the reason why you went on the committee?—No, it was not.

30,674. You canvassed five people, and probably it may be more, and you attended at one or two committee meetings?—I cannot say how many.

30,675. From 10 to 20?—Yes, altogether, perhaps.

30,676. And you put yourself out of work on purpose to do it?—Yes, I did, to do as much as I could for Fenwick and Schneider.

30,677. How long have you been a freeman?—Twenty years or better, I think.

30,678. How many times have you voted?—Only three, I think. I have been out of town.

30,679. Do you care about having a vote?—Yes, I do.

30,680. Have you always voted Yellow?—Yes.

30,681. You are a scholar?—Yes, I can read and write.

30,682. (Mr. Hill.) At these committee meetings at the "Queen's," had you a separate room?—Yes, we had the large room at the front.

30,683. (Mr. Newton.) Looking on the right-hand side as you go into the door?—Yes.

30,684. (Mr. Hill.) How many of you were there sitting there?—A good many, perhaps a dozen or so.

30,685. Not doing any pen and ink work?—I was not.

30,686. Who was?—The clerk was chiefly there.

30,687. He was charged for besides; you were smoking your pipe?—No, I do not smoke.

30,688. You were looking on at other people smoking, doing the same as the other people?—Yes.

30,689. Talking?—Yes.

30,690. And having an occasional glass of beer?—No, I never had one.

30,691. Brandy and water?—No.

30,692. What was it?—No, I had nothing there.

30,693. Soda water?—I might have had a bottle of soda water or ginger beer.

30,694. We have heard of one bottle of ginger beer being drunk; were you the person who drank it?—I do not know.

30,695. You had just enough to keep the cold out?—It was not very cold then.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

R. C. Chester.

27 Sept. 1866.

RICHARD CAPSTICK CHESTER sworn and examined.

30,696. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A painter.

30,697. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

30,698. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the election?—Nothing—

30,699. Go on; what were you going to add?—Nothing at all.

30,700. Have you got nothing to tell us at all?—No.

30,701. Had you not anything to do with the election?—No.

30,702. Did you look after any of the painters—No.

30,703. Have you a relation of your name on the register?—Yes, I believe so.

30,704. What is he, your father?—Yes.

30,705. Did you not keep your father?—No.

30,706. Your father worked a good deal at it, did he not?—No, I do not believe he did anything; it would be his cousin, I think.

30,707. You got no money at all?—No.

30,708. And did nothing for it?—No.

W. T. Clarkson.

WILLIAM THOMPSON CLARKSON sworn and examined.

30,709. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am a shoemaker by trade, but have not followed it these 36 years.

30,710. What are you now?—I am now at Mr. Storey's lodge at the mill, in Moor Lane.

30,711. You are employed by Mr. Storey?—Yes.

30,712. What shall I call you, his lodge-keeper?—Yes.

39,713. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

30,714. What did you get?—A day or two after the election I had 10*s.* sent me; that is all I got. I was not promised anything nor did I ask for anything, neither did I expect anything, and it is the first time I ever received anything at an election.

30,715. Do you know who gave it to you?—I did not know till this morning. My wife had it given to her, and Mr. Edward Riley gave it.

30,716. You did not know that your wife had received it till this morning?—Yes, I knew she had received it, but I did not know who had given it to her. I do not suppose I should have had it given, but I had been off work for three months, and I considered it was sent to me as a present. I did not consider it a bribe.

30,717. How long after the election did it come?—I cannot say exactly to a day or two. It was, I think, a day or two after the election.

30,718. We do not consider it as a bribe either?—I took it as a present.

R. Nelson.

RICHARD NELSON sworn and examined.

30,719. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,720. What are you?—I have got a little farm now.

30,721. What were you at the time of the election?—A little farmer.

30,722. Do you hire land, or have you got land of your own?—I take the farm.

30,723. How much do you rent?—It would be, perhaps, 30 long acres.

30,724. How many statute acres is that?—It would be about 48.

30,725. What rental do you pay?—About 60*l.*

30,726. What did you get for your vote?—14*l.*

30,727. Who paid you?—Mr. Joseph Wilson.

30,728. Did you get anything more?—No.

30,729. Had you always voted Yellow?—No.

30,730. Had you been Blue before?—Yes, generally. I gave Mr. Fenwick one the last election before.

30,731. What made you give Mr. Schneider one this time?—I thought I might as well be on the winning side.

30,732. The 14*l.* was too much for you; you could not resist it?—I do not know that.

33,733. Did you get any other money from the Blue party?—There is one of my relations gave me 2*l.*

33,734. Who is that?—John Cross.

30,735. What was that for?—It was before the election.

30,736. What was it for?—To treat amongst the freemen.

30,737. It was not for your vote?—No.

30,738. Did you tell him then how you were going to vote?—No. I could not tell him, because I could not.

30,739. You had had no offer, then, from Wilson?—There was no offer at all about it.

30,740. How was it you got the 14*l.*?—I saw Joseph Wilson on the election day——

30,741. Tell us how it was you got the 14*l.*?—He asked me if I would give him a vote. I said, "Yes," and I said, "Well, there is plenty of money," and he says, "Oh yes, plenty." He says, "Will 14*l.* do?" and I says, "Yes, that will do very well." That is the way it was done, and I went right away with it.

30,742. If you had not got the 14*l.* should you have voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, this election I should.

30,743. You mean to say that this was a present made to you by Joseph Wilson because you had done what he had intended you to do?—Yes.

30,744. It was not for your vote?—I do not know what it was for. He said there was plenty of money, and I thought I might as well have some of it.

30,745. This was on the election day?—Yes.

30,746. The 2*l.* from Cross was before that?—Yes, two or three days before.

30,747. Had anybody been to you besides Cross?—No.

30,748. Nobody else?—No.

30,749. What did Cross say he would give you for your vote?—He did not say anything.

30,750. You could not come to terms with him?—He gave me 2*l.* to spend.

30,751. You were to have something for your vote, I suppose?—He said there would be as much money as there was on the other side, if I had a mind to take it.

30,752. Cross said so?—Yes.

30,753. You knew if you did not get 14*l.* from Wilson you could get 14*l.* from Cross?—I do not know that so much.

30,754. You could have got 10*l.*?—I daresay I could have got more. I suppose there was plenty on both sides.

30,755. You only got 2*l.* from Cross?—Yes, that is all.

30,756. (Mr. Barstow.) Had you any offer made by any other persons on Lawrence's side?—No.

30,757. You had no offer?—No. I never went near anybody, and if I had met Cross on the election day I should have given him the 2*l.*

30,758. Have you given him the 2*l.*?—No.

30,759. Why not? You have seen him since?—No; I have never seen him since.

30,760. You know where to find him?—Yes.

30,761. (Mr. Newton.) I think, after this, he will very likely look you up?—He sent after the election, and I thought he had occasion to do so.

30,762. (Mr. Barstow.) He sent to ask for the 2*l.* back?—Yes.

30,763. You say if you had seen him on the election day you would have given it back to him?—Yes.

30,764. When he sent to you for it you determined he should not have it?—Because I had spent it.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

R. Nelson.

27 Sept. 1866.

30,765. How much did you get from George Danson?—Not a halfpenny.

30,766. Did you not get anything besides the 2*l.* given to you to spend?—No.

30,767. At what places did you go and drink?—It was two days before the election.

30,768. I ask you at which places you went to drink?—We were not particular when we were at Lancaster.

30,769. You drank at all the places, Blue and Yellow?—Yes.

30,770. You were on both sides?—Yes.

30,771. Which committee did you attend?—I attended no committee.

30,772. Did you not get paid for any committee work?—No.

30,773. How much did you expect to get from Cross if you had voted Blue?—He did not say anything particular at all.

30,774. How much did you expect to get?—He did not say.

30,775. Did you hear how much they were getting on the Blue side?—Yes, I heard as far as 14*l.* and 15*l.*, and some was 20*l.*

30,776. Why did you not go for the 20*l.*?—Because I do not know that I thought of it.

30,777. If you had you would have done it?—When I got to Lancaster I altered my mind to poll for the Liberal side.

30,778. (Mr. Barstow.) What were the prices at Carnforth on Lawrence's side?—From 8*l.* to 10*l.*

G. Wilson.

GEORGE WILSON sworn and examined.

30,779. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A tailor I was, but I am too old to follow it now.

30,780. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider. I made an agreement with Mr. Wilson, in Cheapside, about two months before the election, that I was to have 5*s.* a day during the election for looking after the electors, and then he brought me, the day after the election, 3*l.*, so that it was altogether about 5*l.*

30,781. You got 5*s.* a day for the time you were looking after the electors, and then you got 3*l.*?—Yes.

30,782. You were looking after the electors eight days?—Yes; I was about the committee doing anything.

30,783. What were you doing?—Going out with circulars and such like, and opened and shut the doors. I could not do much, as I was too old to run about.

30,784. You were too old to do as much as you had done before, but I daresay you used to be keen enough?—Yes.

30,785. Have you always voted Yellow?—Yes.

30,786. Did you vote Yellow in Fenwick and Saunders's contest?—Yes.

30,787. And in the fight before that?—Yes.

30,788. Without any exception, have you always voted Yellow?—Yes.

30,789. Did you not ever vote for Mr. Green?—Yes, I did.

30,790. 5*l.* was all you got?—Yes, it was.

G. T. Metcalfe.

GEORGE THOMPSON METCALFE sworn and examined.

30,791. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Nile Street.

30,792. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,793. What money did you get during the election?—I got 1*l.* before the election, and 5*l.* afterwards.

30,794. Who paid you the 1*l.* before the election?—It was paid at Mr. Tilly's office.

30,795. Who paid you the 5*l.* afterwards?—Mr. Henry Welch.

30,796. What was that for; what were you paid these two sums for?—I asked him if I could not get put on the committee a few days, and he put me on.

30,797. That was the first 1*l.* How did you get the second sum of 5*l.*?—A week or so after the election I asked him if I could not have something for my day's pay on the election day.

30,798. What did you do for the 1*l.*?—I was waiting for a chance if I was wanted to be sent anywhere.

30,799. Were you doing any committee work?—There was not much work going on.

30,800. What little there was going on were you doing anything?—I was there if I was called on.

30,801. Were you a messenger?—Yes.

30,802. You were not a committee man but a messenger?—I was on the committee.

30,803. Were you paid for as being on the committee, or as a messenger?—I was paid for being on the committee.

30,804. For four days?—Yes.

30,805. Were you on the committee four days?—Yes.

30,806. When were you put on?—Five days before the election.

30,807. Was not your committee work done as much after the election as before?—Yes, I daresay.

30,808. (Mr. Newton.) You are a tallow chandler?—Yes.

30,809. You are employed by Mr. Welch?—Yes.

30,810. You work for him?—Yes.

30,811. (Mr. Hill.) Generally?—Yes.

J. Caton.

JAMES CATON sworn and examined.

30,812. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A farm servant.

30,813. How did you vote at the election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

30,814. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

30,815. Who paid you?—John Albright's son.

30,816. Have you been in court all the morning?—No.

30,817. Do you know his christian name?—No, I do not.

30,818. Where did he pay you?—He paid me up at the "White Lion," in the dancing room.

30,819. How do you know it was John Albright's son?—I do not know it. They told me it was; that is all I know.

30,820. You did not know him?—No.

30,821. You were merely told it was John Albright's son?—Yes.

30,822. How long have you been in court?—I came in at 12 o'clock.

30,823. Has he been examined since you have been in court?—No.

30,824. Had you ever seen him at Heysham?—No, I did not see him at Heysham. I saw him at Overton.

30,825. Who was with him?—He was with his father, John Albright.

30,826. You know him by sight?—I do not know that I do.

30,827. What sort of looking man is he?—A slender man.

30,828. With bushy whiskers?—I cannot say.

30,829. Do you recollect at all what he is like?—Not so much.

30,830. The same man as you saw at Overton paid you?—Yes, in the "White Lion" dancing-room.

30,831. Were you on any committee?—No.

30,832. 10*l.* is all you got?—Yes, 10*l.*

30,833. How long have you been a freeman?—This is the first time I voted.

30,834. Do you always intend to vote for the Yellows?—Yes.

30,835. Do you care about being a freeman?—Not so much.

30,836. Are you a scholar?—No.

30,837. Who put you on; who made you a freeman?—Who made me a freeman?

30,838. Who took up your freedom?—I took it up myself. I paid for taking it up.

30,839. You paid for it yourself?—Yes.

30,840. What did you pay?—23*s.*

30,841. Did not anybody repay you that 23*s.*?—Eh?

30,842. Did not somebody repay you that 23*s.*?—Yes, John Albright's son at the election.

30,843. Then you got that in addition?—Yes.

30,844. Why did you not say that when I asked you? I asked you what more you got than 10*l.*, and you said, "Nothing?"—I got nothing more.

30,845. Yes, you did; you got 23*s.*?—I do not mean that.

30,846. It was included in the 10*l.*?—Yes.

30,847. Is that what you got made a freeman for, to get money at the election?—Yes.

TWENT SEVENT DAY.

J. Caton

27 Sept. 18

THOMAS WISE recalled and further examined.

T. Wise

30,848. (Mr. Hill.) You told us when you were examined before that the whole of the money you received from Henry Welch and William Wearing was 4*l.*, and that you expended that 4*l.*, in sweets for the children and wives 1*l.*, and refreshments to voters and non-electors 3*l.*?—No; I said I gave Thomas Overend 1*l.*

30,849. You did not tell us that in your previous examination?—Yes, I told you so.

30,850. It is certainly not down on my notes, but that is not the material point. On coming to look through my notes I see that Mr. Wearing says something about some other money. What other money did you receive besides this 4*l.*?—I got 25*l.* for my services.

30,851. Why did you not tell us that before?—You never asked me the question, or I should have told you.

30,852. The gentleman examining you asked you what monies you received at the election?—I received that. It was a misunderstanding my not mentioning it; but it is so. I received 25*l.* for my services.

30,853. When did you receive it?—After the election.

30,854. How long after?—The same day. I believe it was the night after the poll.

30,855. When did Mr. Wearing make the agreement with you to give you 25*l.*?—I think it would be a month or six weeks before the election.

30,856. You agreed to receive it six weeks before the election?—I cannot exactly tell you the date, but it was a long time before the election.

30,857. You agreed to receive 25*l.* for your services, and you received it the night of the election?—Or the next day, I cannot say which. I know it was promptly paid, but it was not altogether for this election that I received that money. Part of it was for the election before.

30,858. The election previously you were not satisfied?—No.

30,859. Were you satisfied this time?—Yes, perfectly so.

30,860. Tell us, besides expending this 1*l.* on the sweets, and the money you say you expended on voters and non-electors, what other work did you do for the purposes of that election?—I did nothing but to attend to the Heysham district.

30,861. What did you do there?—I canvassed the whole of the electors and brought them up.

30,862. How many times did you go to Heysham?—I should think I would go a dozen times.

30,863. Have you got anything else to tell us?—I do not know that I have got anything particular to tell you.

30,864. I did not ask you for anything particular?—If you will lead me to anything, and I know it, I will tell you.

30,865. Do you know anything more about Riley's 10*l.*?—Yes; I know who gave it to him.

30,866. Who gave it to him?—Alfred Tinker. He was wrong when he said I gave it to him. I never gave anyone any money.

30,867. You put it down on the form?—No, Alfred Tinker put it down on the form.

30,868. He got it from you?—No, he got it from Hosking.

30,869. Did it not pass through your own hands?—No, I never touched it.

30,870. You told Hosking who it was for?—I never saw Hosking then.

30,871. Then how do you know Hosking gave it to Alfred Tinker?—Alfred Tinker told Towers so.

30,872. Alfred Tinker's telling Towers would not be information to you?—That is all the information I got about it.

30,873. Was there anybody else that you paid?—I did not pay anyone.

30,874. Will you swear that no money passed through your hands for the purposes of the election besides these 4*l.*?—Yes, I will.

30,875. No other money at all passed through your hands?—No, I do not know that I ever received anything at all. I was several times asked to take money, to go with the voters to the poll, and after they had voted to give them the money; but I would not do it and did not do it, that I know of.

30,876. Who asked you?—Tinker asked me, and Richardson asked me.

30,877. When you were spoken to by Wearing about this 25*l.*, did you tell him there was an account outstanding?—Yes, he knew it.

30,878. You would have nothing to do with the election unless he paid it?—I do not know that I would have had nothing to do with it; but, however, it settled all matters by his giving me that money.

30,879. You agreed to give him your support?—Not my support, my services. He knew he would get my support.

30,880. How did he know it?—I am known well enough for that.

30,881. Did you see anything about the return of the legal expenses?—No, nothing whatever.

30,882. Why were you dissatisfied with the election before?—Because I did not get sufficient money for my services.

30,883. What money did you get?—The election before?

30,884. Yes?—I do not know rightly. I think it would be about 15*l.*, from 12*l.* to 15*l.*

30,885. That is at Fenwick and Saunders's election?—Yes, I think that was the amount, but I am not sure.

30,886. What did you do at that election?—I attended to the Heysham district.

30,887. The same as you did this time?—Yes, the same.

30,888. You have done nothing else this time but to attend to the Heysham district?—I was ordered to do nothing else but attend to it.

30,889. Did you do anything else?—I took one or two men up to Hosking to get paid on the day of the election. I think it was four that I took up. There was Winder, Proctor, Riley, and Jackson I think, but I am not sure whether I took Jackson up or not.

30,890. How many voters are there at Heysham?—18 or 20 perhaps.

30,891. Did it take you 12 days to see them all?—It is a very difficult district to manage is the Heysham district, and the voters require seeing more than once, or half a dozen times too.

30,892. (Mr. Barstow.) If you had seen them once with plenty of money in your hands that would have done ?—I had not plenty of money.

30,893. Did you get the Heysham people without money ?—No, I do not say that.

30,894. (Mr. Hill.) And you would never say that you expected to do so ?—I brought them to Lancaster without asking what money they wanted.

30,895. (Mr. Newton.) I do not quite understand the reason why you did not tell us that you got 25*l.* for your services ?—I cannot tell you the reason now. If you had asked me I would have told you.

30,896. I beg your pardon. I have got it all down. Take care what you are about. Why did you not tell us of it at the time ? - For one thing I knew you knew that I got it. Mr. Wearing told you that I had got it.

30,897. What was the other thing ?—What other thing ?

30,898. You say " for one thing I knew you knew it." Now I ask you what was the other thing ?—I do not know what was the other.

30,899. We did know it, but it happened to escape us at the time, but we have found you out ?— Found me out !

30,900. Yes ?—What about ?

30,901. Having told a falsehood ?—Nothing of the kind.

30,902. Take care what you are about. You said, " The whole money I got for the purposes of the election was 5*l.*"—I did not say 5*l.* ; I said 4*l.*

30,903. You said you spent 4*l.* in sweets and refreshments, and that Overend helped you at Overton, and you gave him 1*l.* That is the 5*l.* Then you are asked, " Did you get any other money," and you said, " No, I did not ? "—I got no other money than that for spending.

30,904. You got 25*l.* for your vote ?—I know I did, and you knew it too. Mr. Wearing told you I got it.

30,905. (Mr. Hill.) You told a deliberate falsehood ?—I did not.

30,906. (Mr. Barstow.) You may stand down. You do not get your expenses.—I tell you I did not tell a falsehood.

S. W. Wearing.

STEPHEN WRIGHT WEARING recalled and further examined.

30,907. (Mr. Barstow.) You mentioned going into a room in the " Queen's " on the morning of the election and seeing Mr. Fenwick there ?—Yes.

30,908. You mentioned also that he gave you a bag containing money ?—Yes, I did.

33,909. You said that when he gave you the money he said, " I have the money I spoke to you and Welch about ? "—Something to that effect. I think, if you will look at the notes, you will find that I did not know exactly what the words were, but it was to that effect.

30,910. The question I wish to ask you is, what had you and Welch said to Mr. Fenwick about money, or he to you?—I think it would be perhaps a week before the election. He said he would not spend more than 1,000*l.*, would not give more than 1,000*l.* for the purposes of the election, and considered that that was quite ample for the legal expenses of the election. It was to that effect, but I do not bind myself to the exact words.

30,911. Give us the exact words, however, as near as you can remember them. Do you remember what his words were exactly with regard to the 1,000*l.* ?—I do not, but I assume what I have stated to you is what took place in effect.

30,912. This is what you said when you were examined before, " Fenwick spoke of rumours of " money being offered on the other side. He said he " should not spend more than 1,000*l.* Up to that " time he had not paid money ;" and then goes on what I read to you just now. What I want to know is, what conversation there was between you, Mr. Welch, and Fenwick, at the time this money was mentioned ?—I have told you all I can recollect.

30,913. Is that all you can recollect about it ?—Yes. There would be more said, but that was the import of what took place. I have heard him frequently say he would not spend a penny for illegal purposes during the course of the election ; but that is the only time he spoke with regard to any sum of money.

30,914. And you fulfilled Mr. Fenwick's wish, not to spend money for illegal purposes, by taking that money to Mr. Welch on the morning of the election in gold ?—Most certainly.

30,915. Had he said anything to you about having the money ready by a certain time ?—Never.

30,916. You understood him to say at the " Queen's " that that money which he put into your hands was the money he intended to spend for legal expenses ?—I assumed that, but I daresay he will be able to explain that. I cannot explain what he meant, or what he thought.

30,917. You have already told us what you did with the money ?—Yes.

30,918. Are you quite sure that what Mr. Fenwick said when he had his conversation with you and Mr. Henry Welch was that he would not spend more than 1,000*l.* in legal expenses ?—1,000*l.* altogether. That is the only money he would pay towards the purposes of the election.

30,919. I want it as near as you can recollect. Do you say that he said he would only contribute 1,000*l.* towards the purposes of the election ?—Yes. I do not know that he said the word " purposes," but that was his meaning.

30,920. If he said that he would not contribute more than 1,000*l.* he said it with reference to the election ; it could not have reference to anything else ?—No.

30,921. Have you given us that conversation as well as you remember ?—Yes.

30,922. (Mr. Newton.) I do not know whether you told us, but we infer it was so at this time, Mr. Fenwick was staying at the " Queen's ? "—Yes, he was staying there altogether

30,923. Where was Mr. Schneider staying ?—I should say at the vicarage.

30,924. Do you know it for a fact ?—I do not know it for a fact. I never saw him there, but I have no doubt that he was staying at the vicarage.

30,925. (Mr. Barstow.) I have omitted to ask when and where this conversation I have asked you about took place ?—It would be in his own room, at the " Queen's." That is the only room in which we ever met Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

30,926. How long before the election ?—I should think a week, not more I should think ; but I cannot say exactly.

30,927. You told us before it was a few days ?—I should think it was not more than a week, but I could not bind myself to a day or two. It certainly was within the fortnight preceding the election, and I should say, perhaps about a week.

30,928. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know the date at which Mr. Fenwick gave the cheque for 500*l.* ?—I know nothing about it, except from what has transpired since the commission opened.

30,929. Was anybody else present at this conversation besides you, Welch, and Mr. Fenwick ?—I think not ; I think I can say positively there was not.

30,930. Did you or Mr. Welch say anything about what the probable expenses of the election would be at that time ?—No, certainly not ; we knew what the expenses of the previous election were, and I can only speak for myself, and I certainly felt that the expenses of this election would not be less.

30,931. You mean that the expenses of the election of 1865 could not be less than the expenses of 1864 ? —Yes, that was my impression.

30,932. My question is, did you say anything to Mr. Fenwick about it?—It is quite possible I might, but I do not recollect it.

33,933. That the 1,000*l.* would not do it?—I should not say that; certainly not.

30,934. What should you say?—I should say nothing about that.

30,935. What should you say if you made a remark to Mr. Fenwick?—I made no remark of the kind, because my impression was that Mr. Schneider would pay the bulk of the expenses, and that Mr. Fenwick would not. When Mr. Fenwick told me he would not expend more than 1,000*l.* I quite understood that that would really be the case.

30,936. 1,000*l.* towards the election?—Yes.

30,937. Did you at no time have any conversation with Mr. Fenwick about the probable expenses of the election?—Not the last election.

30,938. I am speaking of the last election?—No.

30,939. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes, quite sure.

30,940. Had you never told him that the other side were going to spend a good deal of money?—Yes.

30,941. That is what I call the expenses of the election. When did you tell him that the other side were going to spend a good deal of money?—I think it was at the time he spoke about not spending more than 1,000*l.*

30,942. Did you say that before his remark or afterwards?—If I said it all it would be before.

30,943. But you have told me you did say it?—I think it is likely, but after 14 months one cannot recollect everything that passed; I am only speaking to the best of my recollection.

30,944. You told Mr. Fenwick that the other side were going to spend a great deal of money?—No doubt I should say something of the kind.

30,945. Was it in answer to that that he said he would not spend more than 1,000*l.*, or was it before?—I could not be certain.

30,946. Upon that, what further did you say?—I cannot say.

30,947. Did you tell him to what extent you thought the other side were going to spend money?—I could not; I had no idea at all.

30,948. Did you tell him you thought a great deal of money was coming from Liverpool?—I do not think I should; I do not recollect it at all.

30,949. Did he recognize you at all as having anything to do with money matters?—He would know that I had to do with money matters, that I had assisted Mr. Welch the previous election.

30,950. And that you had assisted Mr. Welch in buying votes at the previous election?—No, not by buying votes; handing money to the captains.

30,951. To buy votes?—Yes.

30,952. That is very much the same thing; he knew that?—I should think he would, but I do not know that he would.

30,953. Did he know also, as far as you believe, that any money had been spent for the purposes of the election for Mr. Schneider?—I have no means of knowing.

30,954. Had you had any conversation with him about it?—None whatever.

30,955. When you received that 1,000*l.* in the morning did you not say you had received a certain sum of money from Mr. Schneider?—I did not; I did not know that I had received anything at that time.

30,956. Did you say that there had been a certain sum of money received from Mr. Schneider?—No, not a word.

30,957. Was anything said about the difficulty of getting gold?—Not a word.

30,958. Was anything said about the difficulty of getting gold from the Lancaster Bank?—Not a word.

30,959. Do you know where Mr. Fenwick got that 1,000*l.* from?—I think, during the course of this inquiry, I heard that he got it from the Preston Bank, but whether that applied to the 500*l.* or the 1,000*l.* I cannot say. I think Mr. Maxted said he had received 500*l.* from Mr. Tilly.

30,960. We have had a great deal of our attention directed to these parcels left at your house. Will you tell us who left the parcel of 290*l.* at your house?—I know nothing about it; no one left anything at my house except the parcel of money I spoke about which was left in three parcels, and I folded them into one and gave them to Mr. Welch.

30,961. Who left that parcel of 290*l.* at Mr. Welch's house?—I have no idea.

30,962. Do you mean to say you had nothing to do with it?—No; I had no other parcels except those I have named to you.

30,963. Did you not see some one going into Mr. Welch's shop at a time when everybody else was out?—No.

30,964. Did you see Mr. Schneider go into Mr. Welch's shop?—No, I did not.

30,965. About a month before the election?—No; I do not know that he was in Mr. Welch's shop.

30,966. Did you see Mr. Schneider in Lancaster a month before the election?—I cannot say; if he was in Lancaster I should see him.

30,967. If he was in Lancaster he would come to your shop in all probability?—No; I do not think that necessarily follows.

30,968. Where would he come to you?—He might have called upon me at my shop, or I might have seen him at Mr. Welch's shop.

30,969. Your shop is next door but one to Mr. Welch's?—Yes.

30,970. Can you tell me whether or not he came to your shop on or about the 15th of June?—I cannot; I have no recollection.

30,971. Did he come to your shop at the end of June?—I have no recollection.

30,972. Do you recollect hearing that a parcel had been left with Mr. Welch?—Very likely I should hear it; very likely Mr. Welch, if he had received a parcel of 290*l.*, would say, "I have received a parcel of 290*l.* or 300*l.*"

30,973. You know now from his statement that he did receive a parcel?—Yes.

30,974. You see if he had received it he would have told you of it; do you remember his telling you?—No, not distinctly.

30,975. Have you any recollection of it?—I should have had no recollection of it unless I had read the evidence over.

30,976. I do not ask you that, but have you any recollection?—No.

30,977. What makes you say if he had received it you would have heard of it?—I do not think he kept anything secret from me; I did not from him.

30,078. You know he received it?—I know now.

30,979. Do you not remember his telling you about it?—No; if I were to tell you I did I should perjure myself.

30,980. Do you not remember about that time seeing Mr. Schneider in your shop?—I cannot recollect; he might have been there.

30,981. Did Mr. Schneider ever talk to you about having provided money for the election?—On no occasion.

30,982. Did Mr. Schneider never speak to you about money for the election?—No.

30,983. Never since?—No, never since, neither directly nor indirectly; his conversation was directed on all occasions to Mr. Welch. I was not present at any time when Mr. Schneider spoke about money.

30,984. You never heard Mr. Schneider speak about money?—Certainly not, previously to the election.

30,985. Have you heard him say anything since the election about the parcel left at Mr. Welch's shop?—Not a word.

30,986. Did you ever see Mr. Schneider go past your shop into Welch's about that time?—I have no recollection of it; it is quite possible I might have done, but I cannot recollect it.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

. W. Wearing.

7 Sept. 1866.

30,987. Have you not told anybody that you saw Mr. Schneider go into Mr. Welch's shop?—Never.

30,988. That you swear?—Yes, that I will swear.

30,989. You saw that old man Wilson, here this morning?—Yes.

30,990. Is it true, as you said in your evidence, that he was offered 10*l.* before?—He told me so on the Monday previous to the election.

30,991. That he had been offered 10*l.*?—Yes; that might be very likely to endeavour to make me give more than I had agreed with him. It is a very usual trick, I suppose, at elections.

Adjourned for a short time.

R. Casson.

RICHARD CASSON sworn and examined.

30,992. (Mr. Newton.) You are a voter at Heysham?—Yes.

30,993. How did you vote at the last electon?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

30,994. What did you get for that?—I got 8*l.* for my wife, and 1*l.* for my wife.

30,995. And what else did you get?—1*l.* after the election.

30,996. Who paid you?—I do not know; it was a stranger to me; I never saw him before.

30,997. Who paid your wife?—I got it altogether; my wife was not there.

30,998. Where were you paid?—At the "White Lion."

30,999. Had you voted at the election before; I mean at the election between Saunders and Fenwick?—Yes.

31,000. How had you voted then?—For Fenwick.

31,001. What did you get for that?—5*l.*

31,002. You always get something for your vote?—Yes; I do not think that ever I missed.

31,003. You got 10*l.* this last time?—Yes.

J. Smith.

JOHN SMITH sworn and examined.

31,004. (Mr. Hill.) What are you by trade?—A tailor.

31,005. Where do you live?—In Leonard Gate.

31,006. You are the only John Smith on the register; for whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

31,007. What did you get?—5*l.*

31,008. What else did you get?—Well, they sent sometimes from the public-house a pint or a quart of ale.

31,009. Did they not send any money?—No.

31,010. Did they not send your wife any money?—No.

31,011. Have you got a wife?—Yes.

31,012. Did they send her a bonnet?—No.

31,013. You got nothing but this 5*l.*?—No.

31,014. That was all you got, was it?—That was all I got.

31,015. Did you get anything from the other side?—No; they offered me something.

31,016. What did the other side offer you?—They offered me 5*l.*

31,017. The Blues offered you 5*l.*?—Yes; they was the first that offered, they always was the first that tempted.

31,018. You were tempted first by the Blues with 5*l.*?—Yes.

31,019. And then you were tempted by your own side with 5*l.*?—I intimated that they had offered me 5*l.* I had no idea of anything before that.

31,020. Then they rose to the intimation?—Yes.

31,021. And then what did the Blue side do?—They did nothing more.

31,022. Did you not intimate to the "Blue" side that you had been offered 5*l.* by the Yellow?—No, I do not think that I did; I do not recollect that I did.

31,023. At any rate, they did not offer you anything more?—No.

31,024. And so you went for 5*l.*?—Yes.

J. Smith.

JOSIAS SMITH sworn and examined.

31,025. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—At Leonard Gate.

31,026. What are you?—A tailor.

31,027. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,028. What money did they give you?—5*l.*

31,029. Had you nothing else?—No, I had nothing else.

31,030. Had no relation of yours anything for you?—No.

31,031. The 5*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

31,032. Who gave it to you?—Robert Whiteside.

31,033. (Mr. Hill.) Did John Smith get his from Robert Whiteside?—Yes, he did.

W. Richmond.

WILLIAM RICHMOND sworn and examined.

31,034. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Great John Street.

31,035. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

31,036. What are you?—A painter.

31,037. A journeyman or a master?—A master.

31,038. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

31,039. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—I was not on the committee; I took no active part in the election at all. I was a poll-clerk during the election day.

31,040. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a householder?—No, a freeman.

31,041. (Mr. Newton.) What did you get for being a poll-clerk?—A guinea.

31,042. Who paid you that?—I got it at Mr. Tilly's office.

31,043. Was that all the money you got for the purposes of the election?—Yes.

31,044. If you were poll-clerk, what time did your duties begin in the morning?—By 8 o'clock; and it was about half-past 4, I think, before we were done.

31,045. Of course, if your duties began at 8 o'clock, you would poll very early?—Very early; we were very thronged early at our booth.

31,046. And you yourself would poll very early?—No, I did not.

31,047. At what time did you poll?—I polled somewhere about 9 o'clock, I think.

31,048. Are you sure about that?—No, I am not certain.

31,049. What was the number of the booth at which you polled?—No. 5.

31,050. Were you a poll-clerk at the election of Fenwick and Saunders?—Yes.

31,051. What did you get for being that?—A guinea; the same.

31,052. Did you get anything besides?—No.

31,053. Did you canvass?—No, I never did canvass.

31,054. You did not go about assisting anybody?—No.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

W. Richmond.

27 Sept. 1866.

31,055. Did anybody assist you?—Do you mean in the booth as poll-clerk?

31,056. Anywhere?—None but the clerk; every poll-clerk has a clerk.

31,057. Did they assist you before the polling day?—No.

31,058. You did not require any assistance?—No, I did not.

31,059. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you mean to tell us that you got no more than this guinea?—Certainly I do.

31,060. Not a farthing more?—No, not a farthing more.

31,061. How came that about, your name being Richmond?—I cannot tell you that, there is a deal of Richmonds.

31,062. We have them down here, a pretty large family of them, and most of them have rated their services, on whichever side they bestowed their vote, at a pretty good price; are you not like the rest of your clan?—No, we were always Liberals before this last election; two of my sons you know voted for the other side, and one and myself that is in the court here voted both for Fenwick and Schneider.

31,063. And had you no offer from either side?—No, I never had an offer in my life.

31,064. How came they to offer your sons' money and not to offer you money?—I knew nothing about it till I read it in the paper after their examination.

31,065. Still a vote is a vote, one would think they would have made an offer to you; how came people to offer your sons money, and not offer you money?—I do not know, I am sure; they never offered me money in my presence.

31,066. Your vote is as good as your sons' vote?—Exactly.

31,067. And in one sense it was in the market?—If I had had money offered to me I would not have taken it. I never received a shilling for my vote in my life.

31,068. (Mr. Hill.) You are not quite right about the time you polled?—I do not know the time for certain.

31,069. What relation is Thomas Richmond to you?—He is one of my sons.

31,070. Of Great John Street, painter; what relation is he to you?—My son.

31,071. And you polled immediately after him to counteract his influence?—That is true enough.

B. Richmond.

BENJAMIN RICHMOND sworn and examined.

31,072. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A painter.

31,073. Are you a son of the last witness?—Yes.

31,074. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

31,075. What did you get?—9*l.*

31,076. Were you on any committee?—No.

31,077. Was 9*l.* all you got?—9*l.* was all; it was given to me half an hour after I had voted.

31,078. By whom was it given to you?—By Mr. Wearing.

31,079. Had Mr. Wearing made any arrangement with you beforehand?—Not at all; I was up at my house at 3 o'clock, or near about it.

31,080. But before?—No, he had never mentioned it.

31,081. But he knew which way you were going to vote?—Yes.

31,082. How did he know that?—I always voted for the Liberals.

31,083. But they had canvassed you, had they not?—No, they had not.

31,084. Had you never been canvassed by anybody?—Mr. Fenwick called at the shop, and said, "Which "way are you going to vote; I suppose it will be "Fenwick?" and I said, "Yes, sir."

31,085. What did you take 9*l.* for?—It was given me.

31,086. But you knew what it was given for?——Yes; but it was never offered to me before; it was given in this kind of manner after I had voted; it was just held out in that manner.

31,087. In the street?—No, at the "Queen's."

31,088. Were you not offered anything by the other side?—No.

31,089. Did you not get anything on the committee?—No.

31,090. (Mr. Barstow.) Why did you not follow the example of your good father, and refuse the money?—If the money had been offered to me before I had polled I daresay I should, but it was not.

R. Whormby.

RICHARD WHORMBY sworn and examined.

31,091. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A joiner.

31,092. Where do you live?—At Carnforth.

31,093. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,094. We have already heard that Joseph Wilson left something for you?—Yes.

31,095. What was that?—15*l.*

31,096. Is that all you got?—Yes.

31,097. Did he pay you with the rest?—He paid it to my wife, but I was present at the time.

31,098. If you were present at the time, how came Mr. Wilson to give it to your wife?—I really cannot say, I am sure.

31,099. (To Mr. Wilson.) Why was it, if this man Whormby was present, that you gave the money to Mrs. Whormby?—Well, I put it down, and the woman took it up, grabbed at it in this way (snatching).

31,100. (To the witness.) Was that so?—It was.

31,101. Did you make a grab at it too?—No, I did not, because when a woman once makes a grab at a thing she is very sure to seize it.

31,102. I hope she stuck to it when she got it?—She did.

31,103. Had you anything else?—No, nothing.

31,104. (Mr. Newton.) Had you ever voted before?—Yes, three times.

31,105. How had you voted?—I voted twice before the last election.

31,106. How had you voted?—I voted for Fenwick at the last election, and I think I voted for Mr. Garnett at the election before—for Garnett and Gregson.

31,107. Would you have voted this time as you did unless you had been paid?—I always have done.

31,108. You always have been paid?—I always had been Yellow before.

31,109. I want to know why, if you were always Yellow before, you got 15*l.*?—I should have gone this way.

31,110. Why did you get this 15*l.*?—I should have gone this way whether I had got it or not.

31,111. (To Mr. Wilson.) Can you explain this?—Yes, I think I can.

31,112. How do you explain it?—I think this man deceived me a little; he came to me, and when I was asking him for his vote, he said, "I can get a good deal on the other side; unless you give me 15*l.* I shall not vote for you."

31,113. (To the witness.) Is that so?—It is.

31,114. That is very dishonest of you; you told me that you should have voted Yellow whether you had had money given to you or not, and you led me to suppose that this money had been given to you quite unnecessarily, instead of which it appears that you imposed upon Mr. Wilson, and told him that you would vote against his wishes unless you were paid; what explanation have you to give of that?—I do not know that I have any.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

R. Whormby.

27 Sept. 1866.

31,115. I think it was a most disgraceful proceeding on your part; I was under the impression that Mr. Wilson had tempted you, whereas I think now it is quite the reverse; did anybody offer you anything on the other side?—No.

31,116. (Mr. Hill.) Then what you said to Mr. Wilson was untrue?—I told him I could get a good deal more from the other party.

31,117. You are connected with the auctioneering interest, are you not?—No.

31,118. (Mr. Barstow.) You were in London, were you not?—No, I was not.

31,119. You ought to have told your story simply, and not have shuffled and acted in the disingenuous manner you have done. Is Thomas Whormby your brother?—Yes, he is.

31,120. Were you ill at the time of the last election?—I was.

31,121. What was the matter with you?—I have been ill better than four years.

31,122. You seem to have recovered by this time pretty well?—No, I have not.

31,123. (Mr. Hill.) Your illness at that time does not seem to have been thought much of; did you go a good deal to the public-houses about that time?—No, and no one can prove that I did.

31,124. But they suggested it, did they not?—No, they did not.

31,125. You have had fits, have you?—I have had one.

31,126. What sort of fits?—Really I cannot say, I am sure.

31,127. You were up in London, were you not?—No, I was not; my brother Thomas was.

31,128. He was ill too?—He was; he was taken ill just as he was going to be tried.

T. Whormby.

THOMAS WHORMBY sworn and examined.

31,129. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Carnforth?—Yes.

31,130. A husbandman?—Yes.

31,131. You went up to London, did you not?—Did I go up to London?

31,132. Yes, that is my question; did you not go up to London to be examined?—Yes.

31,133. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,134. What did you get for your vote?—15*l.*

31,135. From whom did you get it?—Joseph Wilson.

31,136. When did he pay you?—On the morning of the polling.

31,137. Did he bring it to you the night before?—I did not see him.

31,138. Did he come to your house?—I did not see him the night before the polling; I was not at home.

31,139. There was an arrangement made that you should vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—I did not see him the night before the polling at all.

31,140. I did not ask you whether you had seen him or not; I ask you whether an arrangement was not made on the night before that you should vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

31,141. And you were to get paid for your vote?—Yes.

31,142. And you got the 15*l.*?—Yes.

31,143. How had you always voted before?—I have always voted for the Yellow party.

31,144. Why did you take money this time, can you tell? Are you a married man?—Yes.

31,145. And Mr. Wilson had been to your wife, and made an arrangement with her that you should vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—I was not married at the time of the last election.

31,146. (Mr. Wilson.) I think the other brother made the arrangement; he was too tipsy himself.

31,146*a*. (Mr. Newton, to the witness.) How did you vote at the Fenwick and Saunders's election; You voted for Fenwick, did you not, then?—Not Fenwick and Schneider.

31,147. I am not speaking of the last election, but the Fenwick and Saunders's election; you voted for Saunders then?—Schneider.

31,148. No, you voted for Fenwick then?—Yes, and that was the last election but one.

31,149. What did you get then?—2*l.* I think.

31,150. (Mr. Hill.) You do not recollect what took place the night before the election, do you?—No, I do not.

31,151. From whom did you get the money? From whose hands did you receive it?—Joseph Wilson.

31,152. Tell me quite straight, without thinking, but simply wishing to speak the truth, from whose hands did you receive the money?—Joseph Wilson gave the money down.

31,153. On the table?—No, it was on the bed.

31,154. You were in bed?—No, I was in the room.

31,155. But was it on your bed?—No, it was at Lancaster.

31,156. On what bed, then, was it?—On Mrs. Charnock's, at the "Nag's Head."

31,157. What brought you into Mrs. Charnock's bedroom? How came Joseph Wilson to find you there? Was Mrs. Charnock there?—Yes.

31,158. What brought you into that room when Joseph Wilson found you there? Was that a place where they were being paid?—Yes.

31,159. Who else was paid there?—My brother.

31,160. Richard?—Yes.

31,161. And who else?—I cannot say.

31,162. Did Joseph Wilson pay anybody else there?—Not that I know of; I did not see him.

31,163. How long did you stop there?—Not so very long.

31,164. Was any other woman present?—Not that I know of; I did not see anyone.

31,165. And you do not recollect whether the money was ever paid to your sister or your mother?—Not so very well.

31,166. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A labouring man.

31,167. What are your wages; two shillings a day?—Yes, sometimes more and sometimes less.

31,168. (To Mr. Wilson.) Who else did you pay in Mrs. Charnock's bedroom?—You have one or two to call up yet.

31,169. But I want you to tell me who the persons were?—Mashiter was one; if you will refer back to the evidence you will find the names; Richard Whormby, Thomas Whormby, Miller, and Wilson, I can recollect.

31,170. (Mr. Hill.) Then this was your paying office, was it?—It was.

31,171. What made you pick it out as your paying office?—It was very convenient; there was a large room that she had, which was used as the committee room, and then this bed-room was just at the side; it was done in a very nice, sly way; they were all paid singly.

31,172. (Mr. Newton.) Was anybody in the bed?—No.

J. Booth.

JOHN BOOTH sworn and examined.

31,173. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A wine and spirit merchant.

31,174. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For whom did I vote for?

31,175. Yes, you heard my question?—I did not understand you. I voted for Lawrence, a plumper.

The witness is directed to withdraw.

JOHN GIBSON BRIGGS sworn and examined.

31,176. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Church Street.

31,177. What are you?—A hatter.

31,178. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

31,179. Did you get any money for voting for Mr. Lawrence?—About 16 days before the election I received 1*l.* from Mr. Stanton, and about a week afterwards I received 10*s.*

31,180. Anything more?—On the morning of the election I brought four men to the "Royal Oak." You had their names from George Danson, I believe. There were the Dodgsons, father and son, and a man of the name of Garth, and another named Crossfield. George Danson stated in his evidence that he gave them 10*l.* each, but he handed the money to me, and I paid them.

31,181. Did you get any other money for yourself?—Four or five weeks after the election I received 6*l.* from Mr. Gibson, or it might be five or six weeks after.

31,182. What was that for?—That was for expenses. I had been employed for three or four weeks before the election.

31,183. Doing what?—I was looking after some voters.

31,184. Can you tell me the name of any voter that you had been looking after?—Yes.

31,185. Who?—Simon Dodgson and Simon Gibson Dodgson, Thomas Crossfield, Garth, and some others. But those I looked after for some time, and brought them to the poll.

31,186. Did anybody help you to look after these voters?—No.

31,187. You looked after them all yourself?—Yes.

31,188. What other assistance did you render?—I was in the committee room and sorted many circulars and cards, and saw that they were delivered. I gave them to different parties to take out.

31,189. Did you do anything else?—No, that is all.

31,190. You are a master hatter?—Yes.

31,191. And for these services which you have described, you charged 6*l.*?—Well, I had spent some money.

31,192. Are you a householder?—Yes.

31,193. And a voter?—Yes.

31,194. You are supposed to care about having the franchise?—Yes, I hope so.

31,195. And yet you charge 6*l.* for services such as those you have described to us?—I was fully employed for some weeks doing nothing else.

31,196. And for that you received 6*l.*?—I spent, I should say, half of what I had received.

31,197. In what way did you spend it?—I went many times up to Halton, and on the polling morning I paid the toll for the carriages.

31,198. How much toll did you pay?—I do not remember, but I paid three or four tolls that morning, and the railway fare.

31,199. Fivepence a piece?—And the horses.

31,200. Have you any recollection of the amount you paid for toll-bars? Suppose you paid four toll-bars, that would be 4*s.* Tell me anything else that you spent?—I went six or seven times up to Halton, and treated those electors.

31,201. Did you always go on wheels?—I once went with Mr. Danson.

31,202. When you went with him he paid the toll-bars I have no doubt?—We did not go through the gate then.

31,203. Tell me what money you spent for the purposes of the election except the 4*s.* that I allow for toll-bars?—I spent a good deal.

21,204. Tell me any specific sum that you paid?—I should think I paid six or seven shillings on the nomination day.

31,205. Where?—At the "Royal Oak."

31,206. Was not that an open house?—No, I paid for what I got.

31,207. The "Royal Oak" was open on the day of nomination?—No, it was not. I paid for what I got.

31,208. We have always been told that it was open.—I can prove that I paid for what was called for those electors and their friends, both on the nomination day, and the day of election.

31,209. How can you prove that?—I can prove it from the parties that got it, and I think I could prove it from those who would serve it.

31,210. How much did you spend on the nomination day at the "Royal Oak?"—I should say seven, or eight, or nine shillings.

31,211. Did you ever spend any other money except that in refreshments?—Yes, on the nomination day I spent some; indeed, I was always spending.

31,212. But this was on the nomination day?—On the polling day.

31,313. Why every house in the town was open on the election day?—No.

31,214. Tell me any one house that was not?—I paid for what I called for at the "Royal Oak" in this town.

31,215. (Mr. Barstow.) What turnpikes are there between this and Halton?—Two of the voters came from Bulh, and I was obliged to go round: two of them lived in Bulh, and two in Halton.

31,216. You received 7*l.* 10*s.* altogether?—Yes.

31,217. And you can make out that you spent nearly a sovereign of that?—I spent half of it.

31,218. (Mr. Newton.) You have only given us 4*s.* for turnpikes, and 7*s.*, which you say you spent on the day of nomination?—And I spent money besides in the town among several voters. I was employed the whole time.

31,219. (Mr. Hill.) There were two persons that you looked after, Simon Gibson Dodgson and another Dodgson as well?—Yes, the father.

31,220. What is his name?—Simon Mashiter Dodgson. He is on the list as Samuel, but his name is Simon.

31,221. Had you agreed as to the cost of your services before?—No, I did not receive the 6*l.* until five or six weeks after the election. It was paid by Mr. Gibson, and if the services had not been rendered I should not have got it from the losing party.

31,222. Did you do any work in the committee rooms?—Yes.

31,223. In which committee room?—The "Royal Oak."

31,224. That was only drinking with the voters?—I sorted the circulars and the voting cards, and gave them to the men.

31,225. That really would not take a man of business long to do?—There was a great deal to do, they were constantly going in and out.

JOHN WOODMAN sworn and examined.

J. Woodman.

31,226. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a stone mason?—Yes.

31,227. Where do you live?—At Overton.

31,228. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Fenwick and Lawrence.

31,229. What money did you get?—I got 10*l.* each side.

31,230. Who gave you the 10*l.* for Fenwick and Schneider?—John Albright.

31,231. Who gave it you for Lawrence?—It was a man that I had never seen before; he came down to Overton the night before.

31,232. What did you say to Albright when he gave you the 10*l.*?—I do not know that I said anything.

31,233. Did you promise to vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—No.

31,234. You never promised him anything?—No.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

J. Woodman.

27 Sept. 1866.

31,235. What did you take the 10*l.* for?—For voting.

31,236. But who did you promise him to vote for?—I promised to vote for Fenwick and Lawrence.

31,237. Do you mean to tell us that you promised Albright?—No, I did not promise him.

31,238. I was asking you who you promised Albright to vote for?—He knew who I was going to vote for.

31,239. Did you tell Albright that you were going to vote for Fenwick and Lawrence?—Yes, I did.

31,240. Do you say upon your oath that you told Albright that you intended to vote for Fenwick and Lawrence?—Yes.

31,241. What did he say to that?—He said I should vote for Fenwick and Schneider.

31,242. And did you then promise him to vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—No, I did not.

31,243. Do you swear you did not?—Yes.

31,244. Was this 20*l.* all you got?—Yes.

31,245. Did you promise Albright to vote for Fenwick?—Yes.

31,246. (Mr. Hill.) Did you tell the Overton stranger that you were going to give the Liberal party a vote?—He sent for me into a neighbour's, and asked me to give Lawrence a vote, and I said "Yes," and he gave me 10*l.*

41,247. Did you tell the other man that you were going to vote for Lawrence?—Yes.

31,248. Did you tell him that you had had money?—No, I did not.

31,249. But you did not keep the secret from either party how you were going to vote?—No, I did not.

D. Dawson.

DANIEL DAWSON sworn and examined.

31,250. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Church Street, Lancaster.

31,251. Are you a householder?—Yes.

31,252. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,253. What did you get for your vote?—I got 10*l.*, and 3*l.* for expenses, and 3*l.* for assistance.

31,254. Who paid you for your vote?—Knowles Allinson.

31,255. And who paid you for your expenses?—Knowles Allinson.

31,256. Was that all you got from the Yellow party?—Yes, that is all I got.

31,257. What did you get from the Blue party?—I got nothing.

31,258. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

31,259. Were you not on the Blue committee?—No.

31,260. Were you not asked to be on the Blue committee?—Yes, but I was not upon it; at least, if I was it was unknown to me.

31,261. You got no money for that?—No.

31,262. Did anybody offer you any money on the Blue side for your vote?—I do not know that they did.

31,263. Have you always been Yellow?—Always; but once I voted for Mr. Saunders.

31,264. What did you get then?—I got 5*l.*

31,265. Who paid you?—Mr. Vince.

31,266. What had you got at the election before, in 1859?—I got nothing; I did not even get a glass of ale.

31,267. What are you?—I am a joiner.

31,268. A master joiner?—No.

31,269. A journeyman?—Yes.

31,270. What rent do you pay for your house?—I do not pay any rent; the house is my own.

31,271. (Mr. Hill.) What was the 3*l.* expenses for?—That was for assistance; it was not for expenses.

T. Fell.

THOMAS FELL sworn and examined.

31,272. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A grocer.

31,273. Where do you live?—In Church Street.

31,274. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Schneider.

31,275. What did you get?—I got nothing from Mr. Lawrence's party, not anything.

31,276. Why did you vote for them then?—I always voted for that party, and always shall do.

31,277. Then we come to the other side of the account; you voted for Schneider?—Yes.

31,278. Why did you vote for him?—Because I had been always inclined to do so.

31,279. What did you get for that?—I got 10*l.*

31,280. Your inclination was assisted by 10*l.*, was it?—No, it was not.

31,281. From whom did you receive the 10*l.*?—Edward Johnson; I received it three weeks after the election.

31,282. When had you been promised it?—I never was promised it at all.

31,283. When had you agreed that you would vote for Schneider if they would give it to you?—I never agreed with them.

31,284. Come?—I never agreed to vote for money.

31,285. You voted for the opposite party and got 10*l.*, and do you mean to tell the Commissioners that you did not receive that 10*l.* for your vote?—I do not say that I did not; I received it after.

31,286. If you had not been promised 10*l.* should you have voted for Schneider?—Yes, I should.

31,287. Why?—Without either money or anything I should.

31,288. Why?—Because I should, and I felt inclined to do it.

31,289 You would have voted for Schneider and Lawrence?—Yes, I should, without the money.

31,290. Do you really wish us to understand that?—Yes.

31,291. Which committee were you upon?—I was upon no committee.

31,292. And you got nothing?—I got the 10*l.*

31,293. Did you get no money to spend?—No, I did not.

31,294. Did you get nothing else besides the 10*l.*?—I got nothing else.

31,295. (Mr. Hill.) How did you vote in 1864?—I do not know, I am sure; I voted for Mr. Greene and Mr. Gregson. Mr. Greene then was a Tory, and then I voted again for Mr. Greene and I think for Mr. Gregson; I think I did it twice over if I am not mistaken, and then I voted for Mr. Garnett and Mr. Gregson.

31,296. We will now come to the contest between Saunders and Fenwick; for whom did you vote then?—I did not vote at all.

31,297. Why not?—Because I did not feel inclined to vote.

21,298. Did not anybody offer you any money?—No, and I never had any offered to me in my lifetime before this last time.

T. Fothergill.

THOMAS FOTHERGILL sworn and examined.

31,299. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of China Laue?—Yes.

31,300. Are you a householder?—Yes.

31,301. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,302. What did you get?—I got nothing for my vote; 6*l.* 10*s.*

31,303. You got that for something, for what did you get it?—For working and expenses.

31,304. Who paid you?—Isaac Vickers.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

T. Fothergill

27 Sept. 186

J. Woodman

31,305. (Mr. Newton.) If it was not for your vote what was it for?—Henry Welch came three weeks before the election and asked me if I would atend to China Lane.

31,306. And you attended to China Lane?—Yes; at that time my mistress had been bedfast for eight months, and I said, "Now, Henry, let me alone, let "me attend to my shop, my vote is right. I would "sooner stop in my shop."

JOHN WOODMAN sworn and examined.

31,307. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A stone-mason.

31,308. Where?—At Heysham, Middleton, now we live at.

31,309. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

31,310. What did you receive?—18*l.*

31,311. Was that all for one side?—No.

31,312. From whom did you receive the first lot of money?—From Mr. Lawrence's side.

31,313. What did you receive from them?—10*l.*

31,314. Who gave it to you?—A stranger. I got it at Overton.

31,315. Was that the first money that you received?—Yes.

31,316. What was the next money that you received?—8*l.*

31,317. From whom did you receive it?—It was a man at the "White Lion."

31,318. A stranger?—I do not know him, he is a Lancaster man.

31,319. A stranger at Peter Moore's whom you did not know?—No.

31,320. Was it Hutchinson?—I have heard it said since it was, but I did not know the man.

31,321. Did you tell Hutchinson that you were going to vote for Mr. Lawrence?—No.

31,322. When did he give you the 8*l.*?—The day of the election.

31,323. Before you voted?—Yes.

31,324. What made you go to him there?—I was at home. I had been at Overton and got very drunk the night before they came for me; there was both a "blue" carriage and a "yellow" carriage there; they were both at our house at once, and the "blue carriage" had only one horse in it, and the other had two; and I said I could ride in a one-horse carriage any day, and I would go in the big one that day; so I got in and went in the "yellow" carriage and went to the "White Lion"; there was Thomas Overend and Mr. Wise canvassing our country for the Yellows, and they said whatever the Blues were giving they would give us as much again, whatever it was; so Overend and them had been to Mr. Hutchinson, I suppose, and it came out what they were giving; and then I said I had got 10*l.* from the other side and would go then.

31,325 And then you went and got it?—I told them I would go, and they said I was like silly going: they said it was so much money, if I got it and so I was called in by Mr. Wise to Mr. Hutchinson.

31,326. Mr. Wise took you up-stairs?—He was standing on the top of the stairs and called me up.

31,327. And you went up?—Yes.

31,328. And got 8*l.*?—Yes.

31,329. Did anybody see you to the poll?—No.

31,330. Did you walk out with the 8*l.* and go straight to the poll and vote for Lawrence?—I did not go straight there.

31,331. That is very natural; you went as straight as you could?—I knocked up and down the town.

31,332. Were you waiting to see if you could pick up any more money?—No, I was seeking my mate that I had lost.

31,333. At last you found your way to the poll?—Yes.

31,344. And there you polled?—Yes.

31,335. (Mr. Newton.) What wages do you earn?—4*s.* a day.

31,336. How long have you been a freeman?—This was the first time I had polled.

31,337. I suppose it was simply the pair-horsed carriage that turned you?—Yes, I never had ridden like that before.

31,338. If there had been four horses in the other carriage you would have ridden in that?—Yes.

31,339. You do not care about having a vote?—I do not know that I do.

31340. Do you know Thomas Woodman of Heysham?—Yes, I do.

31,341. Is he here?—He was examined yesterday, my father.

31,342. I mean the other Thomas Woodman?—No, he is at Barrow I believe.

31,343. Do you know how he voted?—I cannot say how he voted, but he was here.

31,344. Did he vote for Lawrence?—I cannot say.

31,345. Did he get his money at Overton overnight?—I never saw him at Overton.

31,346. Did he get his money at Hutchinson's?—I never saw him have any money.

31,347. Did you hear him talk of having any money?—No, I never did.

31,348. You cannot tell us anything about him?—No, I cannot.

THOMAS ALSTON sworn and examined.

T. Alston.

31,349. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a householder?—Yes.

31,350. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider, and without money too I did it.

31,351. Without money?—Yes, without money.

31,352. How came that about?—It came about in this way: I got nothing and saw nothing given or taken by anybody.

31,353. Did anybody ever offer you any money?—No, that is a real fact.

31,354. It is a rare fact?—It is a fact and a real fact.

31,355. Did no one speak to you about having any money?—No, nobody.

31,356. How came that?—Go on with your inquiry. With all due deference I approach you Commissioners: never. Nobody asked me to take a single penny.

31,357. And you asked nobody to give you a single penny?—No, I never did.

31,358. They were willing to give nothing and you were willing to take nothing?—I told them if either Fenwick or Schneider came into my place, or anybody for them I would order them out of my house.

31,359. If they came to canvass you?—Yes. I do not want canvassing. I have got clean hands, and I have come here with a real thorough clear feeling and spirit, and with all due deference to you Commissioners I speak what I now say. Now, then, go on.

31,360. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I am a grocer in Deanside Street. Here I have your summons (producing it).

31,361. Did no one come and ask you for your vote?—Nobody only George Danson and Mr. Lawrence. Do not mistake what I am going to say: I am going to tell you the real truth and nothing else.

31,362, We want to know the real truth, but pray do not be very long telling it.—Mr. Lawrence came and put his hands between the scales. I had been swaying between the two sides. "How are you, Mr. Alston?" he said. "Quite well, Mr. Lawrence," I said, "I hope you are well?" "Quite well, thank you." Now I kept Mr. Lawrence's hand in my hand, but I said, "No, I cannot help you, I am going to help "Fenwick and Schneider as soon as ever I can in the "morning." "Thank you for your honesty, Mr. "Alston," he said.

31,363. We are quite convinced that you received nothing, and we do not want to hear anything more. —Thank you; but I will answer more if you want to know it.

CHRISTOPHER HARTLEY sworn and examined.

31,364. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Penny Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

31,365. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,366. Are you a householder?—Yes.

31,367. Were you much engaged in the last election?—A little.

31,368. Did that little bring any grist to your mill?—None.

31,669. By that am I to understand that you got no money either for your services or for your vote?—Nothing whatever.

31,370. What are you?—A grocer.

31,371. And you swear positively that you got nothing for your vote or for your services?—Nothing.

31,372. On neither side?—No.

31,373. You were on no committee?—No.

31,374. Did you get anybody to go and vote?—Yes.

31,355. Who was that?—Thomas Boardman I think was one.

31,376. Let me look at the paper you have in your hand (a paper is handed by the witness to the Commissioners). Where did you get this money from?—From Mr. Welch.

31,377. On what day was it?—I got 50*l.* on the day of the election.

31,378. What sums did you get besides?—I got 3*l.* about three weeks before the election.

31,379. Tell me the money in gross that you got?—The money was advanced out of my pocket, and Mr. Welch settled with me after the election, perhaps ten days after.

31,380. When did he pay you?—It might be a week or ten days after the election.

31,381. He repaid you what you had spent out of your pocket?—Yes, as to which he had a list.

31,382 How much did you spend out of your pocket?—All the money went out of my pocket first. The first money that I received from Mr. Welch was 3*l.*, that was for Henry Wilson.

31,383. When was the next?—The next sum was for a person of the name of Sanderson who keeps a public-house in Chapel Street, the "King's Head," I think it is, 7*l.*

31,384. How much money did you receive altogether before the election?—About 13*l.* I think, but that was for bills.

31,385. And how much money did you receive after the election?—Well I really cannot tell you, but Mr. Welch got a list of it.

31,386. But we want you to tell us. You say you received 13*l.* before the election?—It would be near 30*l.* I daresay.

31,387. After the election?—Yes.

31,388. What money did you receive altogether for the purposes of the election?—I should think about 90*l.*

31,389. How did you spend that 90*l.*?—I paid to a person of the name of John Armistead 11*l.*

31,390. When did you pay him?—On the morning of the election.

31,391. Did you pay him yourself?—Yes.

31,392. Well?—John Edmondson 12*l.*

31,393. Did you pay him yourself?—Yes.

31,394. Who else?—Thomas Clark, 10*l.*

31,395. Well?—Thomas Boardman 15*l.*

31,396. Is he a relation of yours?—No. Thomas Horrocks 12*l.*, James Simpson 10*l.* 10*s.*; there is Mr. Walmsley down on that list for 3*l.*, but that was for a bill.

31,397. What for?—A bill for refreshments that he got settled and brought the receipt to me, and I gave it to Mr. Welch. That was for a refreshment bill, I think, at the "Marton's Arms," but I am not certain.

31,398. Did you pay a man named Sanderson?—That was a bill for refreshment at the "King's Head," Chapel Street.

31,399. Was that 7*l.*?—Yes.

31,400. Henry Wilson 3*l.*, what was that for?—For money that he had expended at the election previously; he said that if he got that 3*l.* he would not want anything for his vote.

31,401. What is he?—A butcher.

31,402. Then there are "Three voters—two Cassons and Sharples, 3*l.*?"—I think that was 1*l.* a piece. You have had one of the Cassons in the box, it was a son of his and a man of the name of Sharples. I think 1*l.* each: it was 3*l.* among them.

31,403. Do I understand you to say that after the election you balanced accounts with Mr. Welch?—Yes.

31,404. And he paid you the balance?—Yes.

31,405. Where did he pay you the 50*l.*?—At the "Queen's."

31,406. On the morning of the polling?—No, not in the morning; it would be half-past 1 o'clock perhaps.

31,407. In the day time?—Yes.

31,408. Where did you pay the voters?—I paid Boardman and Horrocks at my own shop, on the Saturday after the election.

31,409. That is to Boardman 15*l.* and Horrocks 12*l.* on the Saturday previous to or after the election?—After the election.

31,410. Had you made arrangements with them that they were to vote for money?—They went with me the day previous to the election to Morecambe, and I stayed there with them all night, and they came back with me next day.

31,411. But this was for their votes?—There is no doubt of it.

31,412. Where did you pay Simpson?—That was paid at my own shop on the Friday night, but not to Mr. Simpson.

31,413. Do you know which of the Armistead's it is?—John Armistead; the only John there is in the list, I think.

31,414. John Armistead of Bolton-le-Sands, husbandman?—Yes.

31,415. He voted for Lawrence?—No; John Armistead voted for Fenwick and Schneider I think; he is a tee-totaller and would not go to the public-house, that was the reason why I paid him, otherwise he would have been paid by Mr. Jenkins.

31,416. Which Edmondson was it?—Jonas.

31,417. Of Poulton, fishmonger?—Yes.

31,418. (Mr. Hill.) Is it Jonas, junior, or not?—No, the father.

31,419. (Mr. Newton.) Then there is Henry Wilson, what is he?—A butcher.

31,420. He is not one of the butchers who got 20*l.* is he?—I believe he is.

31421. He went the other way?—Yes.

31,422. As far as you can tell us these are all the transactions that you had to do with with reference to the election?—Yes.

31,423. You got nothing for your services?—Nothing at all.

31,424. They were all gratuitous?—Yes.

31,425. (Mr. Hill.) There is something else you can mention with reference to this election, do you remember what it is; you have been reading the evidence no doubt. Was not something further said that you had to do with—you were at Morecambe?—Yes.

31,426. You have been reading the evidence?—Yes.

31,427. Something I know has been said about you in connexion with the election, but I forget whether it was with reference to Morecambe or what it had reference to.

31,428. I was at Bolton twice, but not canvassing the voters. I went to see one individual.

31,429. Who was that?—Thornton they call him, a soda-water manufacturer.

31,430. Which Thornton was that?—Thomas Brennand Thornton; I have not read the whole of the evidence.

31,431. Did you offer him anything?—No, I wanted to take his house; he keeps a beer-house.

31,432. What did you offer him for his house?—I do not know whether I fixed any sum. I wanted to leave it open.

31,433. And he would not have that?—He would not say whether he would or would not; he put me off twice and I did not go to him any more. He did not get anything from me except a few shillings that I spent there.

31,433*a*. Was Walmsley a householder?—Yes.

James Beesley sworn and examined. J. Beesley.

31,434. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A watch-maker.

31,435. Where do you live?—In Cheapside.

31,436. You are a householder?—Yes.

31,437. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,438. What money did you receive?—Nothing.

31,439. Had you nothing to do with money affairs at the election?—Nothing at all.

31,440. Were you paid any money?—No.

31,441. Were you on any committee?—No.

31,442. Did you take any active part in the election?—None at all.

31,443. Were you offered anything?—No.

31,444. On neither side?—No.

31,445. Did you vote Yellow at the previous election?—Yes.

Thomas Baynes sworn and examined. T. Baynes.

31,446. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In King Street.

31,447. Are you a householder?—Yes.

31,448. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

31,449. Did you receive any money during the election?—I did receive 10*s.* for my trouble, but not for my vote.

31,450. What was your trouble; was it the trouble of walking from your house to the poll?—No, I went with John Gardner, of Church Street, to some public-houses.

31,451. When you go to public-houses at any other than election times, does anyone pay you for your trouble?—No.

31,452. What particular trouble was it to you to go to public-houses at the election time?—He said, "I will give you that for your trouble." I did not ask him for it.

31,453. (Mr. Hill.) Did John Gardner give it you?—Yes.

31,454. Was that 10*s.* all you got?—Yes.

31,455. Every farthing?—Every farthing.

31,456. On whom did you spend the money?—I did not spend much of it, I did not spend it at all; I might have spent part of it.

31,457. Did you spend 6*d.* of it?—More than that.

31,458. Is that all you got?—Yes.

31,459. Did you not get a promise of anything?—No, I never asked for anything, and nobody mentioned anything of the kind to me.

31,460. What are you?—A butcher.

31,461. But the butchers did not put up with small sums generally?—No.

31,462. Did you not make a bid?—No.

31,463. (Mr. Newton.) Are you sure it was not pounds instead of shillings?—Yes.

31,464. (Mr. Hill.) How did you vote at the previous election, at Fenwick and Saunders's election?—For Fenwick.

James Mashiter sworn and examined. J. Mashiter.

31,465. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Warton?—Yes.

31,466. How did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

31,467. What did you get?—10*l.*

31,468. Who paid you?—Joseph Wilson.

31,469. Did he give you anything else?—No.

31,470. Did he give it to you or to your wife?—No, not to my wife; I have not got one.

31,471. Did you get anything on the other side?—No.

31,569. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

31,570. Did you get any money during the election? Not anything. I had nothing to do with the election in any way.

31,571. You did nothing but vote?—Nothing whatever. I do not know why I am summoned here because I had nothing to do with the election in any way.

31,572. You have done no harm by coming?—Except that I look upon it as an insult.

31,573. (Mr. Newton.) I do not understand this. I do not understand your manner. We have a perfect right to summon anyone we choose, and I beg to remind you that your manner is anything but respectful. I think you ought to be very glad to have had the opportunity of saying you have not been bribed?—I am sure I had not anything to do with the election.

31,574. I begin to suspect you have from your manner?—Then you suspect wrong; you do indeed.

31,575. (Mr. Barstow.) Did anyone ask you for your vote?—No, I was from home when the two Liberal members called. I left a memorandum on the desk to say I should vote for them. I did not want to be troubled with the canvassing at all.

31,576. Then they did call?—They called when I was not in the shop.

31,577. Did Mr. Lawrence call?—No, never.

31,578-9. (Mr. Hill.) Did you use any influence over any voters?—Not at all; I never canvassed a single voter.

(Mr. Newton.) I think anybody here ought to be very glad of the opportunity afforded them of telling anything they know without showing any disrespect to us and losing their temper. I am only surprised at a man in Mr. Bell's position doing it.

RICHARD DENNY BLAND sworn and examined. R. D. Bland.

31,580. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

31,581. Did you get anything for your vote?—No.

31,613. Did you receive anything for your vote?—10*l.*

31,614. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Allinson.

31,615. Did you get anything else?—1*l.* for expenses.

31,616. How were the expenses incurred?—During the election.

31,617. Doing what?—For refreshments and the like of that for myself.

31,618. Was the money spent upon yourself?—Yes.

31,619. What is the rent of your house?—12*l.* 10*s.*

31,620. Are you a master carpenter?—No, a journeyman.

31,621. Did you vote for the Liberals in Fenwick and Schneider's contest?—I voted for Fenwick.

ROBERT ALLWOOD sworn and examined. R. Allwood.

31,622. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A clerk.

31,623. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

31,624. What did you get?—Nothing.

31,625. Did you receive nothing at all?—Nothing whatever.

31,626. In any shape or way?—No.

31,627. Did you give anything to anybody?—No.

31,628. Did you take any trouble in the election?—No, except just going to vote.

31,629. Were you on any committee?—No.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY

27 Sept. 1866.

Robert Smith sworn and examined.

R. Smith.

31,630. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

31,631. Did you get anything for your vote?—6*l.* It would be for my house. It was a sort of sub-committee-room.

31,632. What is the name of your house?—The "Prince William," Thurnham Street.

31,633. You have been examined before?—Yes. There was 1*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.* for refreshments during the election day.

31,634. By bill?—Yes. Thomas Cleminson was the person who paid me.

31,643. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

31,644. Did you receive nothing at all?—No.

31,645. Of any sort or kind?—Not in any respect whatever.

31,646. From neither side?—No.

31,647. Were you on the side that were giving instead of taking?—I was not on any committee and never saw any money paid.

31,648. You do not know of any money being paid?—No, I do not.

William Shaw sworn and examined.

W. Shaw.

31,649. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

31,650. What did you get?—12*l.* and 1*l.* for doing nothing.

31,651. Is 13*l.* all you got?—Yes; and 7½*d.*

31,652. Who paid you?—George Danson gave me 3*s.* to treat six voters.

31,653. How did you vote in 1864?—For Mr. Fenwick.

31,654. What did you get then?—Nothing.

31,655. This was put in your way this time?—I went with three more into the "Royal Oak," and Danson asked me if there were any more, and one of them said he knew two or three, and he went out and brought in two more, and Danson says, "Now lads, will 12*l.* do?" and he put the money down on the table and he said he would give us something for going to vote.

31,656. You got 12*l.* a piece?—Yes.

31,657. Who were the six?—Jackson, Punch or Pinch, Bond, Harrison, and Sherson. They were all men I do not know.

J. Ball.

31,739. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A marine store dealer.

31,740. Where do you live?—In Penny Street.

31,741. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

31,742. What did you get for your vote?—I got nothing. I got no money. I got nothing.

31,743. Speak out in a louder voice if it is so?—I got nothing.

31,144. Come, what did you get?—I got nothing.

31,745. What made you say you got "no money"?—I never did get any money at any election.

31,746. What have you had?—Nothing.

31,747. Were you on any committee?—No.

31,748. Who got anything for you?—Nobody that I know of.

31,749 Do not say that. What money was left at your house? Now come, was not any money given to any or your relations or friends for you?—No.

31,750. Where do you live?—In Penny Street.

31,751. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick.

31,752. Did you get any money then?—No.

31,753. Do you mean to tell me, on your oath, as far as you know, that no money came from the other side on account of your vote?—No.

31,754. In no way?—In no shape.

31,755. In no possible shape or way?—No.

31,756. There could not have been?—No, there was no money came for me.

31,757. You voted entirely free?—Yes.

31,758. Did you get any promise of any employmena or anything?—No.

31,759. From neither party?—No.

31,760. Were you seen by Mr. Fenwick?—Yes.

31,761. What did he say?—He asked me for a vote.

31,762. What did he say?—Nothing; he only asked for a vote.

31,763. Did you see Mr. Schneider?—Yes.

31,764. Did he ask you for a vote?—Yes.

31,765. Did he promise you anything?—No.

31,766. Did they not send some message?—No.

31,767. (Mr. Newton.) Have you not had a present since the election?—No.

31,768. What makes you laugh? What present have you had since the election?—No present.

31,769. What present has your wife had?—I have not got a wife.

31,770. Your daughter?—No.

31,771. Anybody of your family?—No.

31,772. What present have they got?—No presen at all.

31,773. No member of your family?—No.

31,774. Nothing has been given to you for the

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

J. Ball.

27 Sept. 1866.

purposes of the election, since the election?—No, nor to any one of my family.

31,775. (Mr. Hill.) Do not let us have to find this out after you have gone out of the box and so have to send for you again. You had better tell us it at once.—I have told you the truth.

31,776. (Mr. Newton.) No, you have not? I am convinced that you have had something.

31,777. (Mr. Hill.) There is something behind?—No; I have had nothing.

31,778. Is there no agreement between you and anybody as to your vote?—No, and there never was. There was never any agreement for my vote.

J. Booth.

JOHN BOOTH sworn and examined.

31,779. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At No. 60, Penny Street.

31,780. How did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

31,781. Did you get any consideration for your votes?—Not a farthing; and may I be allowed to supplement that by saying——

31,782. Be good enough to answer my question?—I got nothing for my vote; not a farthing.

31,783. Were you employed in any way about the election?—Not in any shape or form, and I may supplement that by saying this: Mr. Clark, as you are aware, was one of the captains for Mr. Lawrence, and being an old friend of mine and my family in particular, he asked me to assist him and I did so; but as to receiving a farthing, I never did, and never spent one.

31,784. We are to understand that you neither got any money nor did you render any assistance beyond that which you state?—Not at all.

31,785. (Mr. Hill.) Did you ever arrange with any voters as to the price of their votes?—Certainly not. I never did.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Friday, 28th September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

Mr. HILL.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

L. Middleton.

28 Sept. 1866.

LETTICE MIDDLETON sworn and examined.

31,786. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you the wife of Thomas Middleton?—Yes.

31,787. How is it that you appear here for him?—He is out of the country at work.

31,788. Do you know how he voted at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

31,789. Do you know what he got?—10*l.* from George Danson.

31,790. Perhaps you got it?—Well, I believe I did.

31,791. Do you know whether he got anything else?—30*s.* from the same committee.

31,792. Anything else?—Not that I am aware of.

T. Bradley.

THOMAS BRADLEY recalled and further examined.

31,793. (Mr. Barstow.) We understand that you wish to make some explanation to us?—Yes, I wish to give you an explanation with respect to a sum which I did not give you the last time I was up.

31,794. You were with Johnson were you not?—No, I was with Kirby.

31,795. You have sent us a paper stating what you wish to add to your evidence, but we must have it from you now; did you give 2*l.* to Francis Townson?—Yes, for his services; not for his vote; he did not ask for anything.

31,796. And did you give 2*l.* to Daniel Kitchen?—Yes, a few weeks after the election, for his services.

31,797. Did you give 2*l.* to John Baxter?—Yes.

31,798. What John Baxter is that?—A marine store dealer in Church Street; he was up yesterday, I think.

31,799. (Mr. Newton.) What is John Baxter?—A marine store dealer.

31,800. Is he the brother of Richard?—I think he is.

31,801. You gave Greaves 2*l.*?—Yes.

31,802. And you gave Hollinhurst, 1*l.* or 2*l.*?—Yes, I cannot tell which it was.

31,803. As they never asked for anything what made you give it to them?—I thought they deserved it for their services, they assisted me a good deal and never asked for anything.

31,804. They got it for not asking for anything?—They did.

31,805. What is Greaves christian name?—I do not know indeed.

31,806. What is Hollinghurst's christian name?—I do not know, he is a guard on the Midland Railway, I think.

31,807. Is he a voter?—Yes.

31,808. (Mr. Hill.) He is a householder is he not?—Yes, in Cheapside.

31,809. (Mr. Barstow.) Then these five people assisted you?—No, Hollinhurst did not; but he stayed in the morning previously to vote for us before he went off in the train.

31,810. He got it for staying to vote for you?—Yes.

31,811. And the other four got it for assisting?—Yes.

31,812. You do not know whether you gave Hollinhurst 1*l.* or 2*l.*?—I do not.

31,813. What assistance did these men render you?—They went up and down the streets and got hold of any of the voters that they possibly could and took them to vote, any that I wanted them to take, if I had any.

31,814. Did they assist you more than one day?—Oh! yes, several days during the week.

31,815. Of course, except on the polling day, they could not go up and down the streets taking voters to the poll?—No.

31,816. What did they do on the other days?—They were persuading.

31,817. (Mr. Hill.) Was it Francis Townson?—Yes.

31,818. Is he a householder?—Yes.

31,819. Is there any other money that you have not told us of?—No, I think there is nothing else.

31,820. (Mr. Barstow.) How came you not to tell us of these other sums before?—I do not know. I had a summons, and came here almost immediately I received it.

31,821. Had you no memorandum of these sums?—No.

31,822. How came you to think of them since?—I have been studying.

31,823. Have you talked to these persons?—Yes.

31,824. And did they agree that they had had this money?—Yes.

31,825. Have you asked any persons who you say had money, who did not agree to it?—No, I have not seen them all.

31,826. Are there any persons to whom you said you had given money, who told you that they had not received it?—No.

31,827. How much money did you get from Mr. Welch?—I do not know.

31,828. You told us that you got 68*l.* from Mr. Welch; can you give us an explanation how you spent that 68*l.*; is this 10*l.* that you have now told us of included in the 68*l.* that you got from Mr. Welch, or did you get in all 78*l.*?—I think it will make more. I did not know the sum he gave me.

31,829. Why did you say that he only gave you 68*l.*?—Because I could not make it up to any more.

31,830. (Mr. Barstow.) You took the gross sum of all the money you remembered to have spent, and you said that you had received that sum from Mr. Henry Welch?—Yes.

31,831. (Mr. Newton.) You received in truth 78*l.* Is this all that you received from Mr. Welch?—Yes, for anything I know; I am not sure, because I did not know the amount.

31,832. What do you mean by saying that you are not sure?—The reason is, that the second time I got money from him I had voters waiting, and I had the money given to me in a roll of brown paper, and I broke the end of it, and paid the money as I went on.

31,833. Did you get any money from anybody else?—No.

31,834. Nothing whatever?—No, I did not.

31,835. Did you get anything for yourself?—No, not a farthing.

THOMAS HENRY STIRZAKER sworn and examined.

T. H. Stirzaker.

31,836. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Meeting House Lane.

38,837. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,838. What did you get for your vote?—11*l.* 10*s.*

31,839. Who paid you?—Mr. Wilson.

31,840. Is that all you got?—That is all I got.

31,841. Were you on any committee?—No.

31,842. No committee at all?—No committee at all.

31,843. That you are certain of?—That I am certain of.

31,844. And that is all you got, 11*l.* 10*s.* for your vote?—Yes.

31,845. You are prepared now to make a clean breast of it and to tell us that?—Yes.

31,846. Do you understand what I mean by the words, "a clean breast?"—Yes.

31,847. You were in London?—Yes.

31,848. And you were examined before the committee of the House of Commons?—Yes.

31,849. And there you said that you had had nothing offered to you, even for your vote?—Yes; I am sorry to say that that was untrue.

31,850. Did you not receive the whole of the 11*l.* 10*s.*?—No.

31,851. Are you quite sure that 11*l.* 10*s.* was all you got?—Yes. Wilson brought 20*l.*, and I gave him 8*l.* 10*s.* back.

31,852. (Mr. Barstow.) What did Wilson give you first of all?—20*l.*; he told me that that would do for me and my father.

31,853. And you took it for yourself and your father?—Yes; but I never offered my father any of it.

31,854. (Mr. Hill.) Your father knew that you had taken it?—No, I never told him it till yesterday morning.

31,855. (Mr. Newton.) What was your motive for not speaking the truth in London?—I was afraid I should be prosecuted if I admitted that I got anything.

31,856. Were you afraid that you should be prosecuted for speaking the truth?—I thought they would prosecute those who admitted that they had got anything.

31,857. For speaking the truth?—For taking a bribe.

31,858. Who told you to say that you had not been bribed?—No one.

31,858*a*. Who told you, sir, to say that you had not been bribed?—No one.

31,859. Yes, somebody did. Tell me who the person was. Somebody told you so?—I am not aware of it.

31,860. Yes, you are aware of it. It is idle to tell us that. Come tell us at once who it was?—(No answer.)

31,861. Who was the person who told you to go to London and tell a lie?—A man they call Wilkinson on the railway when I was going in the train told me to say nothing to injure them.

31,862. And who was the other man that went up to London with you? Come out with it. It must come out?—I am not certain about it.

31,863. Yes, you are, and you shall tell us. Who was the man who was with you and Wilkinson in the train?—(No answer.)

31,864. Are you going to tell us?—Well, sir, I cannot recollect him.

31,865. Yes, you can. If you do not recollect now we have plenty of means of making you recollect?—(No answer.)

31,866. (Mr. Barstow.) You shall stay here till you do recollect?—I believe I had a conversation with Wilson, but I am not sure.

31,867. Joseph Wilson?—Yes.

31,868. (Mr. Newton.) He told you to go to London and tell a lie?—I am not certain of it.

31,869. When you say you are not certain of it, do you mean by that that you rather think he did?—I am rather inclined to think he did; but I am not certain.

31,870. You are inclined to think he told you to go to London to tell a lie?—No.

31,871. You are inclined to think that he told you to go to London, and to say that you had not been bribed?—I am not aware that he did.

31,872. What did he tell you?—(No answer.)

31,873. Come, sir, what did he tell you?—He said, I think that I was to say no more than I could help or something of that sort.

31,874. Did he tell you why you were to say no more than you could help?—No, he did not give any reason.

31,875. But you knew why?—I suppose he did not want the members to be unseated I suppose so; he did not give that as his reason.

31,876. Who else was present besides you and Wilkinson and Wilson?—Wilson was not there.

31,877. Where was Wilson?—Wilson had gone; it was some time before.

31,878. When did Wilson tell you this?—I believe it was in the street.

31,879. Here in Lancaster?—Yes.

31,880. How long before you went to London—Three weeks or a month.

31,881. Had you had a Speaker's warrant to go up?—No.

31,882. This was in the street?—Yes.

31,883. Had he been going to many people whom he had bribed to tell this?—I am not aware of it; he never told me anything about it.

31,884. But you heard?—No, I did not.

31,885. Do you suppose that you were the only person that he went and spoke to upon the subject?—I know nothing only what transpired between us two.

31,885*a*. Who was in the train besides you and Wilkinson?—Wilkinson was not in the train.

31,886. Where had you this conversation then with

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

T. H. Stirzaker.

28 Sept. 1866.

Wilkinson ?—On the platform of the railway. Wilkinson is a pointsman on the railway.

31,887. What did he tell you ?—He told me that I must not say anything to do them any harm, that I need not come back to Lancaster or something of that sort, but I think he said it in joke.

31,888. Did anybody else say anything to you about it besides Wilkinson ?—No.

31,889. Take care. Did anybody else say anything besides Wilkinson ?—No.

31,890. Was this on the platform when you were waiting for the train ?—Yes.

31,891. Who was present besides yourself and Wilkinson ?—No one.

31,892. Until that time were you going up to London to speak the truth and to tell what had happened ?—I did not know what I should say when I went there, it depended upon what they asked me.

31,893. Then it was not until you were examined in the House of Commons as to whether any money had been offered to you by the Liberal side that you made up your mind to say that you had not received it ?—Yes, I made up my mind then.

31,894. Then and there ?—Yes.

31,895. Are you really going to try to impose upon us by that falsehood by saying that you not did go up to London with a deliberate intention of telling a lie ?—No, I did not make up my mind to tell a lie till they asked me that question.

(Mr. Barstow.) Just consider what position you are in.

(Mr. Newton.) If you do not tell us the truth as to every single thing that you know and all that occurred we shall send you to Lancaster Castle from here.

(Mr. Barstow.) If you do not tell us the truth we shall refuse your certificate, and then you will be prosecuted for bribery and very likely for perjury too.

31,896. (Mr. Newton.) Now tell us when you made up your mind to say that you had not been bribed ?—I felt inclined to say I had not been bribed when I went.

31,897. What made you feel inclined to say that you had not been bribed when you went ?—I was afraid of the consequences ; I was afraid of doing the members any injury.

31,898. Had anybody induced or persuaded you besides Wilson to say that you had not been bribed ?—No.

31,899. What were the consequences that you were afraid of ?—It was always my impression that they could imprison me for having taken a bribe.

31,900. Did you not know that they could imprison you for committing perjury ?—Yes.

31,901. Which do you consider to be the greatest offence ?—Perjury I should think.

31,902. And yet in order to avoid being sent to prison for taking a bribe, you go and commit a greater offence ; are we to understand that ?—Well I thought the other would never be found out.

31,903. What inducement was held out to you to go up to London to commit this perjury ?—There was no inducement whatever.

31,904. Yes there was ?—There was not indeed ; I got nothing for going up to London to commit perjury, and no promise of anything.

31,905. Was there anything ever offered to you ?—Nothing.

31,906. Was nothing said about any money that you were to receive for denying that you had been offered any money ?—Nothing.

31,907. Then Wilson counselled you to go to London to committ perjury ?—I do not know that he did exactly.

31,908. Take care, sir ?—Not exactly.

31,909. What do you mean by that ?—He said he hoped I would say as little as possible, or something of that sort.

31,910. Then he began to be afraid ?—I should say so.

31,911. Besides Wilson and Wilkinson, who else spoke to you upon the subject ?—No one.

31,912. That you adhere to ?—Yes, that I adhere to.

31,913. (Mr. Barstow.) Where in the street did Wilson speak to you ?—I think it was in Market Street ; I was in the Market Place.

31,914. Was anyone with you at the time ?—I do not know, I am not sure ; I should say not.

31,915. Was there or was there not ?—I believe that more than once he talked to me, once in the market place and once in the market.

31,916. Where was the other place ?—In the market.

31,917. Both in the market ?—No, one in the market place, and the other in the market.

31,918. Did he speak to you oftener than upon those two occasions ?—No.

31,919. Which was the first occasion ?—In the Market Place, I think.

31,920. What did he say to you then ?—I think he said he hoped I would say as little about it as possible.

31,921. What did you understand him to mean by asking you to say as little about it as possible ?—I do not know what I understood.

31,922. What did you understand him to mean when he asked you to say as little about it as possible ?—I understood him to mean that I was to tell them nothing but only what they asked.

31,923. When you understood that to be his meaning what did you say to him ?—I do not know what I should say to him.

31,924. What did you say to him ?—I think I said I should say nothing to harm them if I could avoid it, or something to that effect ; I do not know that those would be the words.

31,925. You said you should say nothing to harm them, is that your answer ?—Something to that effect. I do not know that those were the exact words.

31,926. Was that all that passed on that occasion ?—I believe it was.

31,927. Then did you give Wilson to understand that you would comply with his wish and tell them nothing that they did not ask ?—Yes.

31,928. When was the second time he saw you ?—It would be, I believe, on the Saturday that I got the Speaker's warrant in the week following.

31,929. I do not quite understand that ?—I got the speaker's warrant about a fortnight or three weeks before I went to London, and that Saturday before that would be about a month before I went to London.

31,930, He spoke to you on the second occasion on the Saturday before you got the Speaker's warrant ?—Yes, I think so, I am not quite clear, but I think it was the Saturday before.

31,931. Why do you fix it to be the Saturday before ?—Because it was the market day, and he was in the market.

31,932. What did he say to you upon that occasion ?—Well, I cannot say what his exact words were.

31,933. Tell us what he said as nearly as you can ?—I told him that I had heard I was to have a Speaker's warrant, and that I had heard that he was to have one.

31,934. Did you speak to him first or did he speak to you ?—I do not know which spoke first.

31,935. I think you can remember that ?—I think he asked me if I had heard anything about the petition.

31,936. He spoke first then ?—Yes.

31,937. What did you say to him when he asked you if you had heard anything about the petition ?—I said that I had heard that I was to have a Speaker's warrant, and that I had heard that he was to have one too.

31,938. Who told you that you were to have a Speaker's warrant ?—I do not know, it was a common report in the town I should have a Speaker's warrant. I believe that Gardner the watchmaker told me I should have one, and Mr. Cross told me that I should have one.

31,939. Which Mr. Cross?—Mr. Cross, the plasterer, a captain on the Conservative side.

31,940. What did Wilson say to you when you told him that you had heard you were to have a Speaker's warrant?—He told me he hoped I should say as little about it as possible. I do not know whether those were his exact words.

31,941. Just think and tell us what he said?—I really cannot tell the exact words, but that was the general drift of it, that I was to say as little about it as possible, or something of that sort.

31,942. That is very vague you know, you can tell us something nearer than that I am sure?—I cannot indeed or else I would.

31,943. That is nothing more than he had said before?—No, it is nothing more than he had said before.

31,944. What did he say to you, how did he say it to you, what were the words he used as nearly as you can tell us?—I cannot recollect the exact words.

31,945. But tell us as nearly as you can what he did say to you?—I cannot recollect the exact words.

31,946. I know you do not recollect the exact words. That would be impossible, but you can tell us much more nearly than you have done?—I cannot indeed. That is as near as I can tell you.

31,947. That which you have told us now is a mere repetition of what he had said on the former occasion?—Yes,

31,948. You must really tell us something more definite than that?—I do not know that I can.

31,949. Has any one else spoken to you upon the subject, except Wilson and Wilkinson?—No.

31,950. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes, quite sure; I believe that what Wilkinson said was merely in a joke.

31,951. You do not think that what Wilson said was in joke?—Well, I do not know.

31,952. You know when a man speaks to you, whether he is in a joke or not?—He did not laugh when he said it, as Wilkinson did. I believe that what Wilkinson said was entirely a joke.

31,953. Are we to take it from you that Wilson was serious in what he said?—I should say he was.

31,954. What did you understand the drift of these two conversations to be?—Well, I took it that I was to say as little about it as possible, and if they did not ask me if I got anything—not to tell them.

31,955. Did you know at that time that you were to be sworn to tell the truth?—When Wilson talked to me I did not know that I should get a summons, only I had been told, so I was not certain of it.

31,956. Did you know that if you were summoned you would be sworn to tell the truth?—Yes.

31,957. Did you answer Wilson, that you would be sworn to tell the whole truth, and that you must tell it?—No.

31,958. Did you agree then with Wilson in his words "To say as little about it as possible?"—No, I never made any reply to it.

31,959. Did you give him to understand that you would say as little as possible?—No.

31,960. Not in any way?—No, not in any way; it was merely in passing; he walked about when he said that he hoped I would say as little about it as possible.

31,961. Do you mean seriously to tell us that you did not convey an impression to him that you meant to take his advice?—I never told him anything about it. I never told him what course I should adopt.

31,962. But you may give a man to understand a thing without telling him in words?—He merely said it in passing; he walked away, and said that he hoped I would say nothing to injure them, or something of that sort.

31,963. You have heard Wilson's evidence?—Yes, I saw it in the paper.

31,964. You have told us already that Wilson brought you 20*l.*?—Yes.

31,965. That was for yourself and your father;—Yes.

31,966. Now tell us what sum you took back to Wilson?—8*l.* 10*s.*

31,967. Do you swear upon your oath that you took him back 8*l.* 10*s.*?—I think it was 8*l.* 10*s.*

31,968. Do you know what sum you took back to him?—I never counted it. I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him under the table, in the Nags Head.

31,969. Do you seriously tell us that you never counted the money that you returned to him?—Yes, I do.

31,970. And that he never counted it?—He never counted it, he put it into his pocket.

31,971. What made you give him that 8*l.* 10*s.*?—Because he had said it was for me and my father, and I told him that my father never took anything.

31,972. How do you know that it was 8*l.* 10*s.*, that you returned to him?—Because I counted what I had left.

31,973. Do you swear that you had 11*l.* 10*s.* left, and that that was all you had left?—Yes, I think that was all I had left.

31,974. (Mr. Hill.) What made you consider that 11*l.* 10*s.* was the proper sum, instead of 12*l.* or 15*l.* or 20*l.*?—I do not know what made me think that.

31,975. Why did you select 11*l.* 10*s.* as the specific sum?—(No answer.)

31,976. Come, give me an answer sir?—I do not know what made me keep that sum.

31,977. Had you no reason for making it 11*l.* 10*s.*, instead of 12*l.*?—No.

31,978. Do you mean to say that that was all the money you received?—Yes.

31,979. When did you first speak to your father about receiving this?—About receiving money?

31,980. Yes.—For the vote?

31,981. Yes.—Yesterday morning.

31,982. Was that the first time that you had ever mentioned it to him?—Yes, I mentioned in the train, on the 23rd of April, that I had handed over 10*l.* to a man.

31,983. You mentioned it to your father?—No, I mentioned it to a man in my father's presence.

31,984. Then on the 23rd of April, you first told your father that you had received money for your vote?—No, not for my vote.

31,985. When did your father first hear of it then?—That I got money for my vote?

31,986. Yes,—Yesterday morning.

31,987. But you had mentioned it in your father's presence before?—I mentioned that I had got 20*l.* and that I had given 10*l.* to a man at Quorne, and I told him that I had given some money back to Wilson.

31,988. Am I to understand you as saying that up to yesterday morning your father did not know that you had received any money for your vote?—Yes, my father was ignorant of it.

31,989. When did you first hear that you would have to go up to London?—As soon as I heard that there was to be a petition I heard that I should be one of the witnesses.

31,990. When was that?—Soon after the election.

31,991. You heard soon after the election that you would have to be one of the witnesses?—Yes.

31,992. Would it be some time in October or November?—No, the election was in July, and I should hear of it in July, I think.

31,993. Who told you that you would be one of the witnesses?—I believe Gardner, the watchmaker.

31,994. Is Gardner at all connected with you in any way?—No.

31,995. How came Gardner to tell you that you would be one of the witnesses?—Because he is a great man on the Conservative side; he looks after the lists, and I suppose he would know all about it.

31,996. That is Edward Gardner, of the New Road, is it not?—Yes.

31,997. What did you say to him when he said that you would have to be a witness?—I said I did not care about going. I said that I should like to go to

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

T. H. Stirzaker.

26 Sept. 1866.

London, or something of that sort. I did not think he was serious when he told me of it.

31,998. When did you first hear positively that you were to go up to London?—A few days before I got the Speaker's warrant.

31,999. From whom did you hear it?—From John Cross.

32,000. The Conservative captain?—Yes.

32,001. What did John Cross tell you?—I was going up Penny Street reading a newspaper and he asked me if I was loooking for a Speaker's warrant, and I said yes but I was afraid I should not find it there, and he said I need not be concerned about it; that he knew it for a fact.

32,002. Did you then go and speak to anybody about it?—I do not know that I did. I told my father that Cross had told me that I was going to get a Speaker's warrant.

32,003. Did you tell your father that you had received money then?—No.

32,004. Did you consult anybody at that time as to what you should do in London?—No.

32,005. When did you get the Speaker's warrant in fact?—I think I got it about a fortnight before I went to London.

32,006. Listen to my question and be very careful. When you got the Speaker's warrant who was the first person to whom you showed it; be very careful about this?—I do not know who the first person was.

32,007. I think you can tell me?—I cannot indeed.

32,008. Just try?—Mr. Satterthwaite.

32,009. You took it to him?—No, he was passing down the market just as I got it.

32,010. What Mr. Satterthwaite is that?—The magistrate.

32,011. What did Mr. Satterthwaite say to you about it?—Well, I do not know, he said I had got myself into a pretty hobble, or something to that effect.

32,012. As Mr. Satterthwaite told you that you had got into a pretty hobble, who did you go to consult with about it?—Nobody.

32,013. Be careful; who did you go and speak to about it?—I do not know that I went to consult anybody.

32,014. Come, come, that will not do, who did you go and speak to about it?—I do not recollect.

32,015 Yes, you do recollect; and you shall tell me; who did you go and speak to about it?—I really, sir, cannot remember.

32,016. I mean to have a distinct answer upon that question; to whom did you go and speak to about this warrant?—I think I should speak to our people about it.

32,017. Do you mean your people at home?—Yes.

32,018. To whom did you go and speak about this warrant, who would be competent to advise you upon the subject?—I did not go and get anybody's advice.

32,019. Come, you did not leave Lancaster without having spoken to somebody about it; tell me who you spoke to?—I daresay I showed it to several, and said that I had got a Speaker's warrant, but I got no advice from them.

32,020. To what lawyer's office did you go before you went up to London?—I never went to any lawyer's office.

32,021. What lawyer did you go to?—To no lawyer.

32,022. Do you swear that distinctly?—Yes.

32,023. Did you never show it to any attorney; be careful?—I have not the slighest recollection of showing it to any attorney.

32,024. Will you swear you did not?—I will swear that I have no recollection of it. I do not think I did.

32,025. Will you swear that you did not?—I do not know that I did.

32,026. Will you swear that you did not?—I will swear that I never went to no lawyer for any advice about it.

32,027. That is no answer to my question, and you know it. Will you swear that you never showed it to any lawyer before you went up to London; now be careful?—I do not know that I did.

32,028, Will you swear that you did not?—I do not know that I did. I really cannot recollect.

32,029. Will you swear that you did not; it is a thing which you cannot have forgotten; we will have the truth out?—If I showed it to any lawyer, it would be to Mr. Gibson, but I do not recollect it.

32,030. Did you show it to Mr. Gibson?—I do not recollect it.

32,031. I mean to have an answer; did you before you went up to London, show that warrant to a lawyer?—I have not the slightest idea, I have not indeed.

32,032. Yes, you have, you cannot have forgotten it, you may as well tell me the truth, because we have a way of finding these things out, and your only hope is in telling the truth to-day; that is the only thing that can possibly save you in this world; now tell me to whom you showed it before you went to London?—I do not know that I showed it to any one.

32,033. Will you swear that you did not show it to any lawyer?—I might do, but I have no recollection of it.

32,034. You cannot have forgotten it?—I would not like to swear a thing I do not know.

32,035. I will have your answer distinctly upon the point; did you or did you not?—Well, really I cannot recollect.

32,036. Did you or did you not show it to any lawyer before you went up to London, or did you speak to any lawyer about it?—I am not aware that I did.

32,037. You can recollect that?—No, I cannot indeed.

32,038. Did you speak to any lawyer about it before you went up to London?—I am not aware that I did.

32,039. Tell me whether you did or did not to the best of your belief?—To the best of my belief I did not.

32,040. Why could you not give me that answer some time ago; what makes you think that if you showed it to anybody you showed it to Mr. Gibson?—Because he and I are pretty intimate.

32,041. Intimate in what way?—We always speak and joke when we meet.

32,042. And that being so, you think you would have shown this warrant?—I do not know that I did, but I think if I showed it to anybody it would be to him.

32,043. Where did you go when you got up to London?—I went to the "Westminster Palace Hotel."

32,044. Who told you to go to the "Westminster Palace Hotel?"—The summons from Mr. Clark ordered me to go there.

32,045. What Mr. Clark?—The agent for the petitioners. I was summoned to be at that hotel, as soon as I got to London I was to go there.

32,046. Do you mean to say that that was written on the summons?—Yes.

32,07. On the back of it?—No, it was filled up at the bottom; it said that I was to wait upon him at the "Westminster Palace Hotel."

32,048. That was a note at the bottom of the summons?—Yes, it was written on the bottom of it.

32,049. You went there?—Yes.

32,050. Did you see Mr. Clark there?—Yes.

32,051. And did Mr. Clark take down your evidence?—No, he did not.

32,052. Was any evidence taken down?—No.

32,053. Were any questions put to you?—None.

32,054. What did Mr. Clark say to you when you went?—He said, "Really I do not know what to do "with you, there are so many of you that I do not "know where to put you."

32,055. Did he ask you any questions about the election?—No, none.

32,056. Where did you go to from there?—To an office close to.

32,057. What office was that?—I believe Baxter, Rose, & Company.

32,058. You went there?—Yes.

32,059. And was your evidence taken down there?—No.

32,060. Nobody asked you any questions there?—Nobody asked me.

32,061. Where did you go to from there?—I went to "Pigott's Hotel," in Bridge Road.

32,062. Did you stop the night there?—Yes.

32,063. Where did you go to the next day?—To the House of Commons.

32,064. You were not examined on the first day?—No; on the Saturday.

32,065. You were one of the last witnesses?—Yes.

32,066. The last but two?—Yes.

32,067. Did you go to an office in Parliament Street. You know Parliament Street?—I did not go to any office beyond Mr. Rose's.

32,068. Did you go to the office of Mr. Travers Smith?—No.

32,069. Did you meet any person on the other side in London, not on Mr. Clark's side, but the other?—I saw Mr. Maxsted at the "Westminster Palace Hotel."

32,070. Had you any conversation with him at the "Westminster Palace Hotel?"—Not a word.

32,071. Did you tell him what you had come up for?—No.

32,072. Did Mr. Maxsted speak to you?—No.

32,073. Did any person speak to you on the subject of that inquiry?—No.

32,074. Except what had been said to you at the "Westminster Palace Hotel," and the office in Victoria Street?—Yes.

32,075. Do you mean to say that you did not tell anybody what you had come up to London to say?—I do not know that I did.

32,076. Did you or did you not?—To the best of my recollection I did not.

32,077. Who were you with in the lobby in the House of Commons, who were you sitting and talking with?—I was sitting with a good many.

32,078. But who especially were you talking to about this matter?—I was talking to a man they called Baines a good while.

32,079. What Baines?—The one that was at Wimbledon.

32,080. Captain Baines?—I do not know, I think they called him Baines.

32,081. Who did you go about London with during the time you were there, with whom of the witnesses were you?—I do not know, I went about with my father and mother.

32,082. Did you tell them at all what you were going to say?—No.

32,083. Were they also examined?—Yes.

32,084. Both of them?—Yes.

32,085. Did you or did you not give any sum of money to any person at that election?—Yes, I handed over 10*l.*

32,086. To whom?—To a man of the name of William Kelsall. I got it from Wilson.

32,087. Then that was a separate sum of money?—Yes, it was a separate sum.

32,088. I understand that you kept that sum of 11*l.* 10*s.* that you have mentioned for yourself?—Yes.

32,089. What was it that you told your father with regard to it, or what was it that you said about it in your father's presence?—When?

32,090. When you first told your father about having had money?—I told him I should tell what I got.

32,091. You say you spoke to somebody in the presence of your father, by reason of which your father knew that you had had something to do with the election?—I told the man that I had handed over some money to a voter, and my father overheard me, and when we got home he asked me what I had been telling that man, and I told him that I had had some money for another man. I told him that I had given 10*l.* to a man and 8*l.* 10*s.* to Wilson.

32,092. Did you tell your father how much you had received from Wilson?—I told him 20*l.*

32,093. Did Wilson in the conversation that you had with him, tell you that he meant to be off, so as not to be served with a Speaker's summons?—No, I think not.

32,094. Did he or did he not tell you so, you must have known what was going to become of Wilson?—I not think he did, to the best of my recollection he did not.

32,095. Did you expect to meet Wilson in London or not?—I expected to meet him if they summoned him.

32,096. Did you not know that you should not meet him?—No.

32,097. Did you know that he was going out of the way?—No, I did not.

32,098. When first did you know that he was not to be found?—I heard that they were seeking him with a Speaker's warrant, and that they could not find him.

32,099. Was that before you went up to London?—Yes.

32,100. How long before?—I should say nearly a fortnight before.

32,101. You knew that Wilson was keeping out of the way?—Yes.

32,102. For nearly a fortnight before then you knew that Wilson was not likely to be called?—Yes.

32,103. Then for nearly a fortnight before you thought you might safely say whatever you pleased?—Yes.

32,104. Then for nearly a fortnight before you made up your mind to tell an untruth?—I made up my mind to tell nothing only what they asked me.

32,105. What do you call that but an untruth, when you swore that you would tell the whole truth?—I am sorry to say that it was so.

32,106. You say you knew that Wilson was going to keep out of the way nearly a fortnight before?—I did not know that he was going to keep out of the way till he had gone.

32,107. Had he gone for a whole fortnight before?—To the best of my recollection I think it would have been about a fortnight.

32,108. That was a fortnight before you got the Speaker's warrant?—No, a fortnight before I went to London.

32,109. How long did you get the warrant before you went to London?—I think about a fortnight, and there was one out for him at the same time, but they could never serve him.

32,110. Did you say that Wilson did not tell you that he was going out of the way?—I do not know that he did.

32,111. You knew well enough that Wilson was going out of the way, how did you know it?—I never knew it till he had gone.

32,112. How did you know it?—I knew it when I heard that he had gone.

32,113. Did you not know it before?—No.

32,114. You knew he had gone when you had heard that he had gone, but when did you know he was going?—He never told me he was going.

32,115. That is not an answer to my question. When did you know he was going?—I never knew he was going till he had gone.

32,116. Am I to understand that from you?—Yes.

32,117. Were you surprised to hear that he was gone?—Rather.

32,118. You knew he would not be found. Did you know where he had gone?—No.

32,119. Had you no communication with Wilson while he was away?—No.

32,120. Not in any way?—No; I never knew where he was. He told me afterwards where he had been to.

32,121. Who paid your expenses for going to London?—Mr. Clark.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

T. H. Stirzaker.

28 Sept. 1866.

32,122. Was what you got from Mr. Clark all that you got?—Yes.

32,123. How much did you get from Mr. Clark?—I got 2*l.* 10*s.* for the railway fare.

32,124. How much altogether did you get?—I do not know. The money was paid to my father when I was out.

32,125. Do you mean to say that you do not know what your father got for the whole of your expenses?—I believe he got 12*s.* 6*d.* a day.

32,126. How much did he get for the expenses of himself, your mother, and you?—I do not know.

32,127. 10*l.* or 20*l.*?—Nothing like it.

32,128. Was it 10*l.*?—I do not think it was.

32,129. Do you mean to say it was not 10*l.* for three people going to London and their expenses there?—I mean to say it was not. He and I were paid 12*s.* 6*d.* a day, and I believe my mother had 10*s.*

32,130. And how many days were you up?—Three.

32,131. That would come to 12*l.* 1*s.*?—They brought 2*l.* 16*s.* for each before we went for the railway fare.

32,132. I ask you what was paid altogether for your journeys up to London and the expenses of all three of you?—I do not know. They paid the hotel bill.

32,133. Do you know how much was paid?—I believe there was 8*l.* 10*s.* for the railway fare.

32,134. 7*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes; but 10*s.* back again.

32,135. That would make altogether about 14*l.* Do you mean that that is all that you were paid?—Yes.

32,136. Have you ever made a claim upon anybody for anything further?—No.

32,137. Have you never said anything to Mr. Gibson about wanting anything further?—No.

32,138. Have you never said that you ought to be paid for having been obliged to get yourself into this scrape?—Never.

32,139. Has Mr. Gibson ever spoken to you about it, because you say you are on intimate terms with him, has he ever said anything to you about it?—I do not think he has.

32,140. Has Mr. Maxsted spoken to you about it?—No.

32,141. Or anything connected with your own side?—No.

32,142. What have you received from the other side besides this money?—From the Conservative side?

32,143. Yes?—Nothing.

32,144. Nothing at all?—Nothing.

32,145. You were a good deal in the lobby of the House of Commons with Baines?—Yes.

32,146. Baines is a man in Mr. Schneider's employment?—I was not aware of it.

32,147. Did Baines say anything to you about Mr. Schneider?—Nothing whatever.

32,148. Did Baines never mention Mr. Schneider's name to you?—No; he told me that they had brought him up to London, and that he did not know what it was for, and he showed me his memorandum-book to show that he was at Wimbledon at the time.

32,149. Did he not tell you that he was afraid it would go hard with the members?—No.

32,150. Did nobody say that to you, or words to that effect, that they were afraid that the case was going against them, or something of that sort?—I heard a man of the name of Cooke say that they would be unseated.

32,151. Who was Cooke?—He was one of the deep sea fishers, I believe.

32,152. Was this said to you?—No; he was talking to some one, and I was within hearing.

32,153. Was not something said to you to the effect that if you were not careful about your evidence the members would be unseated?—No.

32,154. Will you swear that?—Yes.

32,155. Nothing to that effect?—No; nothing to that effect.

32,156. No one suggested to you that you must be careful as to what you said?—No.

32,157. Do you mean to say that?—Yes.

32,158. And do you mean seriously to represent that without saying a word to anybody, or anybody saying a word to you, you simply of your own motion went into the committee-room in the House of Commons and committed perjury?—I was not advised by anybody.

32,159. You went and did that without having been tempted to do it by anybody?—Yes.

32,160. Then simply out of your own head and out of your own heart you went and committed perjury?—Yes.

32,161. (Mr. Newton.) That is very different from what you told me?—I understood him to mean had I been tempted with a bribe.

32,162. I understood you to tell me that you went to London with the intention of committing perjury?—I went to London with the intention of telling no more than I could help.

32,163. You made up your mind a fortnight before you went to London to commit perjury. That is what you told me?—(No answer.)

J. Wilson.

JOSEPH WILSON recalled and further examined.

32,164. (Mr. Barstow.) You have been in court all the time Stirzaker has been examined?—I have.

32,165. And you have heard what he has said?—I have.

32,166. With respect to the first meeting in the Market Place, I want to know from you what took place between you and Stirzaker?—I do not recollect it.

32,167. Come?—I solemnly declare it, and I am glad of the opportunity of doing so.

32,168. Do not be rhetorical, but just answer the questions that are put to you?—But my character is at stake. He knows that I never spoke to him or advised him to go to London to speak a falsehood in any shape whatever.

32,169. You know very well that you were the person who bribed this man?—I was the person who took the money to him.

31,170. You were the person who bribed him?—Well, admitted.

31,171. And you knew very well that you were to be served with a Speaker's warrant?—I heard so.

31,172. Who told you?—Well, I do not know; it was a rumour in the town, I, having taken an active part, thought probably I should be served.

32,173. Rumour would not tell you; rumour does not speak; some person always speaks?—Yes.

32,174. Who spoke to you?—Nobody whatever.

32,175. Nobody told you that you were to be served with a Speaker's warrant?—No, nobody.

32,176. Are we really to understand that you knew without being told that you were to be served with a Speaker's warrant?—No, I did not know it.

32,177. Then why did you keep out of the way?—I will tell you the whole truth. You shall know all about it.

32,178. Why did you keep out of the way?—Because I did not wish the members to be unseated; for no other purpose whatever.

32,179. How did you know that you would have anything to do with unseating the members?—If I had gone to London and told there all I have told you now about bribing these people, I was conscious in my own mind that I should unseat the members.

32,180. Nothing had been done at that time towards bringing you to London. I want to know how you became aware that you were to be served with a Speaker's warrant?—Now I must go into some little particulars, if you please. It was rumoured that the Speaker's warrant would be issued; then, for nearly a month the thing died away and we heard nothing about it, and I said, "Well, I do not suppose they are " going to proceed, and there will be an end of the " matter." I had previously said to my wife, " If " anybody comes to our door " (and ours is rather a lonely place) " and asks to see me, thou mayst depend " upon this one thing that something is up." However, it passed over for two or three weeks. One day I was at a distance, having sold some hay I went to see it weighed.

32,181. Never mind telling us about that ?—But you cannot come at the truth without it. You will see how I screened myself, and how I got away.

32,182. I do not want to know that. I want to know how you came to be aware that a Speaker's warrant would be issued ?—A young gentleman came to the door while I was away ; he knocked at the door and asked to see me. My wife said, " My hus- " band is not in." He said, " I should wish to see " him, how soon will he be in ?" She said she could not say.

32,183. The long and short of it is that you judged that this young man had a Speaker's warrant for you? —Yes, from what my wife told me, and I said, " If that be the case it is time for me to be off."

32,184. Had you no conversation at all with Stirzaker in the interval between the election and the time that you are now speaking of ?—Not one word. I was away one month and one day before the petition came on in the House of Commons.

32,185. At what time did you go away ?—You say you were away one month and one day, so you can tell the very day on which you went away ?—No, I cannot. You may judge from the time when it took place, for I have no record of it ; Mr. Clark and them are here ; they issued the warrants or summonses one month before it took place.

32,186. You went away about the 19th of March? —Yes, I suppose a month before the inquiry took place in London.

32,187. I will ask you upon your oath whether in the interval from the 12th of July 1865 to the 19th of March in this year you had no conversation whatever with the last witness ?—Not one word.

32,188. Were you on intimate terms with him before ?—Yes, but you know I never saw him.

32,189. You had been before on intimate terms with him ?—Yes, I have been four years out of Lancaster ; I knew them well before that.

32,190. But you are in Lancaster from time to time ?—Yes.

32,191. And he attends the markets ?—Yes.

32,192. What do you come into Lancaster for ?— Now and then I come to see my son and my friends. I go backwards and forwards. Sometimes a month will elapse without my coming and sometimes a week.

32,193. I suppose you come in for marketing ?— No, we did not come much this way for marketing ; we went mostly to Kendal.

32,194. Do you mean to say that in all the times that you came to Lancaster off and on you never saw Stirzaker at all ?—I might have seen him, but I never once told him to say false.

32,195. Did you see him in short ? — I cannot exactly say. I was hearkening to his evidence, and I think he ought to do me justice.

32,196. Can you say as a matter of fact whether you did or did not see Stirzaker ?—I might see him before I went away, a month before the petition.

32,197. If you might have seen him you might have spoken to him. Did you speak to him ?—I cannot say. He says I did, and I have been trying to call it to recollection.

32,198. Now come, put this trifling aside and tell us, did you speak to him or did you not ?—Well, perhaps I did.

32,199. May I write down that you did ?—Yes, you may.

32,200. Did you or did you not ?—I cannot positively say whether I did or not. If I did it was just " How art thou my lad ? " or something of that description.

32,201. You did speak to him ?—Yes, perhaps I might.

32,202. You will not give us a direct answer ?—I would if I could.

32,203. I am not quite sure of that. Did you speak to him or did you not ?—Well, I might speak to him.

32,204. Again you say you " might " speak to him. Is that all you are going to say ?—Did you speak to him ?—Well, we will admit that I did speak to him.

32,205. It has nothing to do with me. I am asking you, did you speak to him or did you not ?—Really gentlemen, I cannot say. If I did it was as short as possible.

32,206. Where was it you saw him ?—I cannot tell at all. I was struck with his evidence. I was indeed. Now let me tell you——

32,207. No. I am going to ask you questions. When you spoke to him what did you say to him ?— I do not recollect. I do not indeed.

32,208. You knew of the petition at this time ?— I knew of the rumour only, just of the rumour.

32,209. You knew of the rumour of the petition? —Yes.

32,210. You heard, in short, that there was to be one ?—Yes, but we thought at the same time all was dead and gone, that there would not be one.

32,211. You knew at the same time what had passed between Stirzaker and yourself ?—Yes.

32,212. You knew in short that you had bribed him ?—Yes.

32,213. You tell us that you heard you were likely to be summoned ?—Yes.

32,214. And that he was likely to be summoned ? —Yes.

32,215. Do you want us to understand now that those things being on your mind, and meeting Stirzaker you had no conversation whatever on the subject ?—Not the least in the world. I hardly ever spoke to him about it.

32,216. You say you hardly ever spoke to him ?— No, never such a thing.

32,217. Shall I take your answer that you hardly ever spoke to him ?—No. If I did it was as short as possible.

32,218. Do you say upon your oath considering the relations that existed between you and Stirzaker, you did not say a word to him on the subject of their petition ?—I might say this, " I think we shall hear no more about it. All is dead, and all is at an end." I might say something of that kind. It seems natural.

23,219. How came you to say that much ?—There was a rumour that we should be summoned up.

23,220. What made you make that answer to Stirzaker, or say to Stirzaker that the petition was dead and you should hear no more of it ?—I suppose he would tell me that he was summoned or something to that effect, that he was likely to be summoned.

32,221. When did he say to you that he was likely to get a summons ?—I cannot say, I am sure.

32,222. What led him to say to you it was likely he would get a summons ?—Because he knew that I had bribed him.

32,223. Had you made any remark to him upon the subject before he said he supposed, should get a summons ?—No, not that I know of.

32,224. Did he come up to you in the street and say to you, " I suppose I shall get a summons ?"— Yes, I think there was something of that sort.

32,225. When he saw you in the street, and without your saying a word, did he come up to you and say, " I suppose I shall get a summons ?"—Yes, perhaps that was it.

32,226. That was the beginning of the conversation ?—I really do not recollect it.

32,227. What did you say to that ?—I said, " I " think not. I think all is nearly over. I do not " think we shall hear any more about it."

32,228. What did he say to that ?—I do not know —Nothing much. No more passed. It only just happened in that way.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

J. Wilson.

28 Sept. 1866.

32,229. He has spoken to two conversations?—I do not recollect them.

32,230. You recollect one. You have been just giving us one?—I am admitting it on the probability of the thing.

32,231. You are admitting it on your oath?

(Mr. Newton.) How dare you stand there and say that?

32,232. (Mr. Barstow.) Are we really to believe that this you have been telling us is entirely untrue?—No, I would not say that altogether. I mean to tell you, gentlemen, that Stirzaker spoke false this moment.

32,233. (Mr. Newton.) I mean to tell you you have told us a falsehood?—No, I have not.

32,234. On my notes you have told us a lie. You first of all tell us you had no conversation, and then you admit that you had one?—I did not tell you so.

You have lied since you have been in that box.

32,235. (Mr. Barstow.) You give us a detailed conversation, and then you say you admit it on the probability that you had. What do you mean?—You press the questions.

32,236. Of course we press the questions?—Yes, you fairly put the words into one's mouth in that way and I cannot positively recollect any conversation.

32,237. I have asked you the question over and over again and have given you time to think. You give us the details of a conversation and then you say you admit it on the probability that it took place. Did it take place or not?—I really cannot recollect. I have been trying to recollect while Stirzaker has been giving his evidence.

32,238. Answer me now, did it take place or not?—I really can hardly say. I cannot indeed. I cannot recollect it.

32,239. Is this what you have been telling us all a baseless story?—I admit the probability of the thing; I admit it looks likely.

32,240. What do you mean by "admit the probability?" did you say it or did you not, and I ask you the question for the tenth time?—Perhaps I might.

32,241. Did you or did you not?—Well, I did.

32,242. Why did you not say so at once, what disgraceful shuffling this is?—If I am truthful you will find that it is all right.

32,243. I am afraid we cannot possibly think you are truthful after the answers you have given us here. Go on?—I mean to tell you that I never advised Stirzaker in any way about London whatever.

32,244. You admit to one conversation?—Yes.

32,245. Had you any other conversation with him at any other time?—None whatever.

32,246. How often did you see him in Lancaster between the 12th of July 1865, and the 19th of March this year?—I cannot say; I saw him very seldom.

32,247. That implies that you saw him more than once?—I did not wish to talk to him.

32,248. Stay, did you see him more than once?—I might.

32,249. Do not answer "you might." Did you or did you not?—I might see him passing by, but I never spoke to him on the question.

32,250. My question was, did you see him more than once?—Well, I might, but not to speak to him.

32,251. Do not answer "you might," did you or did you not?—I did not to speak to him.

32,252. Am I to take it that you did not see him?—I did not.

32,253. Did you not see him more than once?—I did not see him more than once.

32,254. Do you take your oath that you never saw Stirzaker in Lancaster, except on the one occasion to which you have just now spoken?—Yes.

32,255. Where was it you saw him?—I cannot recollect; it would be in Market Street, I suppose, if I did see him at all.

32,256. Did you ever see him in the market?—Before the petition?

32,257. Did you see Stirzaker at all in the market before the 19th of March?—No.

32,258. Do you swear you never saw him before the 19th of March?—Never.

32,259. Where did you see him then?—It would be in Market Street. The market comes down into Market Street.

32,260. I know the market is not where Market Street is. Did you see him more than once in Market Street?—No.

32,261. Did you see him more than once in Lancaster at all in the interval of time of which we have been speaking?—I believe not.

32,262. Will you swear you did not?—I will.

32,263. You told us just now you could not say whether you saw him after or not, then you told us you saw him seldom?—I did see him seldom.

32,264. Do you mean to say you saw him seldom, or only saw him once?—Once.

32,265. Then why do you tell me you saw him seldom?—You do press one so. I only mean to tell you this one thing, that I never advised him to go to London to say one word of which he has told you, and he ought to stand up and tell you (the Commissioners) that he has told you a falsehood.

32,266. We have heard his evidence?—And I may tell you this, he would not have been here this morning if it had not been for me. I told him to go and tell the truth from end to end. I was struck with the falsehood of his evidence when I heard it.

32,267. Be quiet. If you say another word you shall stand down. Did you ever use to Stirzaker the expression that you hoped he would say as little as possible about it?—Never.

32,268. That you swear?—I will swear it.

32,269. (Mr. Newton.) You have been very intimate, have you not, with the family of the Stirzakers?—No, not particular.

32,270. Give me a definite answer. Have you or have you not been intimate with the family of the Stirzakers?—Not particular.

32,271. What do you mean by "not particular?"—It depends upon what definition you put upon "intimacy."

32,272. Have you not been in the habit of constantly going to their house?—No.

32,273. Previous to the election has it not been your habit of constantly going to their house?—No.

32,274. Were they strangers to you?—No, they were not.

32,275. Had you had any dealings with them?—No. It is many, many years since I had any dealings with them in any shape whatever.

32,276. What made you go to them and tempt them with money?—That night?

32,277–8. Yes, look at me and answer me. What made you go to them and tempt them with money that night?—I had seen him a few days before the election.

32,279. Where?—In Market Street, and he told me the other side had plenty of money, and that they were tempting him. I said, "Why you have always "voted our way; why not vote our way this time "without any trouble?"

32,280. That is before the election?—That is before the election.

32,281. And it was in consequence of that you went to see him on the nomination night?—It was.

32,282. Where did you see him when he told you this?—In Market Street. Do you mean when I went with the money?

32,283. No. When you had this conversation with him about money on the other side?—In Market Street. I met him coming down.

32,284. How long before the election?—Three or four days, perhaps.

32,285. What did he tell you?—He told me they were bidding higher prices on the other side. He said, "I think we can get plenty of money, Joe, if we wish to have it the otherway," and I said, "I will see "you again before night, and if I can manage it for "you thou shalt have it with the greatest pleasure."

32,286. He had always voted Yellow, and so had his father?—Yes.

32,287. Why should you give him money?—Because they were tempting him on the other side, and I thought they might tempt him and lead him astray, and I would try to secure him.

32,288. This was the evening of the nomination?—Yes.

32,289. Who did you see when you got there?—I saw them all three; that is, I saw Stirzaker, and the old man, and the mother and all.

32,290. What did you say?—I said, "Well, how do you do to-night?" or something of that sort.

32,291. To whom did you speak?—To them all; just in that way.

32,292. Go on?—Then I directed my conversation to the young man.

32,293. What did you say?—"Let me speak to you for a minute." We went to the door and I gave him the money.

32,294. What did you say before you gave him the money?—Very little, if anything passed.

32,295. What did you say before you gave him the money?—I cannot recollect; just "How do you do?"

32,296. As near as you can recollect what did you say?—I said, "Here is 20*l.*"

32,297. What did you do with the 20*l.*?—I said, "This will do for thy father, and thee, and all; don't be led astray."

32,298. Where are you looking? Look at me. Where was all this conversation?—At the door.

32,299. The wife was there?—No.

32,300 The mother?—No, the young man.

32,301. The mother was in the room?—No.

32,302. You said the mother was there?—The mother was in the house when I went down.

32,303. Was old Stirzaker there?—Yes.

32,304. And the son?—The son came out with me.

32,305. Who else?—I never spoke to the old man.

32,306. I did not ask you whether you did. Who else was there?—Nobody else that I saw.

32,307. Only those three?—Yes, those three.

32,308. You put the 20*l.* into his hand?—Yes.

32,309. You said nothing to him about going to Carnforth?—Yes, I did.

32,310. What was that?—I had previously asked him in the street if he would go with me to Carnforth.

32,311. Where was that?—In the street a few days before.

32,312. Did you say anything to him about it that night?—Yes; I said, "I have no one to help me; just come and assist me a little bit."

32,313. Had you been in the constant habit of going to the house?—No, I had not.

32,314. Did the father ask you what you had come for?—No. He sat in a sullen state and never spoke. I knew he was a decent old man, and was not going to bother with him. I did not tempt him.

32,315. You thought it would be a shame to tempt an old man?—Yes, it would be, and I am ashamed of the whole thing.

32,316. You are a preacher of the gospel?—Yes, I am ashamed of the whole thing.

32,317. How often was it between that time after the election and the 19th of March that you saw young Stirzaker? Be careful now?—Is the 19th of March the time of the petition?—I was away only a month and one day before the petition took place.

32,318. The first hearing of the petition was the 18th of April. Do not look out there; there is somebody you want to look at?—No, there is not, indeed.

32,319. How many times between that time and the 19th of March did you see young Stirzaker?—I did not see him above once. I did not see him at all that I can recollect hardly.

32,320. How do you recollect this conversation?—It looks likely that I should talk in that way.

32,321. Do you mean to say it looks likely that you should invent a conversation if it did not occur? Did you or did you not see him?—Yes, I think I recollect seeing him.

32,322. How many times?—Once.

32,323. What did you mean when you told Mr. Barstow you could not say whether you saw him often or not?—I cannot recollect it.

32,324. Do you know that you were in the habit of seeing him constantly?—Only a few times before the election.

32,325. I am asking you after the election?—No, I was not in the habit of seeing him.

32,326. What did you mean by telling Mr. Barstow that you could not say whether you saw him after or not?—I mean as I say; I cannot recollect seeing him.

32,327. You cannot say whether you saw him often or not?—No, I cannot.

32,328. You did see him often?—No, I did not. I did not see him often.

32,329. You say you cannot say whether you saw him often or not?—No, I was not much in the town after the election.

32,330. Did you or did you not see him often?—I did not.

32,331. He then began to talk to you about the Speaker's warrant that he had had?—Yes, I think there was come conversation that once I saw him.

32,332. He began to talk to you about the Speaker's warrant?—Yes.

32,333. What did he say to you about the Speaker's warrant?—I understood he said "We are to get one."

32,333*a*. Go on, and tell me every word, and look at me, if you please?—I said, "I think not, my lad. It "seems to have died away, and there is an end of it. "I do not think there will be a petition at all."

32,334. Why should he begin talking about the Speaker's warrant? What had that reference to?—I do not know.

32,335. You know perfectly well?—No, I do not.

32,336. Yes you do. What did you infer from that?—What might I infer from it?

32,337. Yes.—I do not understand you.

32,338. You knew what the Speaker's warrant was?—Yes, I knew it meant we should go up to London.

32,339. What for?—To tell the truth.

32,340. And you knew the Speaker's warrant would come out against you then?—No, I did not.

32,341. Why should there be a Speaker's warrant out against Stirzaker and not against you?—I did not say so.

32,342. But I say so?—I expected to receive one.

32,343. Why should Stirzaker be afraid of having one?—I suppose because he took the money and knew it.

32,344. He knew that you had bribed him?—Yes.

32,345. And you knew at that time that you were going away, did you not?—No, I did not.

32,346. You did not know that you were going away?—No.

32,347. Not at the time you had this conversation with Stirzaker?—No.

32,348. You knew if you had a Speaker's warrant you would go away?—No, I did not. I made up my mind a bit before-hand. I said to my wife, "if any "person calls let me know, because I really do not "like to go to London."

32,349. You knew at the time you had this conversation with Stirzaker, which you denied at first, that you were going away?—I did not.

32,350. That is the first direct answer you have given. You knew if you had a Speaker's warrant you would go?—No, I did not.

32,351. Yes you did?—No I did not.

32,352. Yes you did?—No.

32,353. You knew if a Speaker's warrant was coming you would go?—I had some thoughts of it.

32,354. At the time you had the conversation with Stirzaker?—No, I did not.

32,355. Did you not advise him to say that you did not bribe him, upon your oath?—Put that again, if you please.

32,356. Did you not advise him to say that you did not bribe him?—No.

32,357. That you will swear?—I will, positively.

32,358. You intend us to believe that, after the evidence you have given here to-day?—Yes.

32,359. Having first of all denied the fact—do not look away, look at me. Having first of all denied the fact that you had any conversation with him at all, and now admitting that you talked with him about the Speaker's warrant, how are we to reconcile those two statements?—When did I deny it?

32,360. From the very first?—Because I did not recollect it.

32,361. You get into the box and repeat everything he told you, and now say that you never had any conversation with him; you denounce him as a liar, you yourself having been caught out in a lie?—I admitted the possibility of seeing him.

32,362. We go upon truth?—I want to go upon truth.

32,363. We shall not get that from you?—You will, every word.

32,364. (Mr. Hill.) Who was the person of the name of "Joseph Miller" whom you bribed?—He was here yesterday.

32,365. There were two "John Masheders," one who was before the House of Commons and the other not, who was he?—He is here.

32,366. Who was Emley?—A man from Warton; he was here yesterday.

32,367. You bribed altogether nine persons?—I have not counted them exactly.

32,368. That is a far less number than most of the other persons who have been before us, bribed?—Perhaps it is.

32,369. There were connected with the bribery of the two Whormby's also two women, Mrs. Whormby and Betsy Jackson. Will you be good enough to give me an answer upon this point, how it happens that out of your flock, and your flock alone, five people committed absolute perjury, and one evaded it by being ill? Those are the only persons that have committed perjury, as far as we know, in this inquiry, and they all belong to you, and you kept out of the way; please to account for that. Who planned it?—I did not.

32,370. Who planned it? You were the head and front of the offending, and those are the only persons that so disgraced themselves?—Now, I am very sorry.

32,371. Who planned it; and tell me who planned it at once?—I do not know, myself for anything I know, I went away.

32,372. You planned it for anything you know. When did you plan it?—A few days before I got the Speaker's warrant.

32,373. Where were you when you planned this?—In my own mind, at home, in streets and lanes, just as I was walking about.

32,374. Who was the first person you saw as to carrying out your plan?—I never spoke to a soul.

32,375. Who was the first of the Whormby's that you spoke to?—When was this?

32,376. Who was the first person of the Whormby's you spoke to about taking up this line which you have called your plan?—I did not see any of them that I know of.

32,377. That cannot be the case. I will put it once more to you again before I ask you further upon it. Do you mean to say without any suggestion from you it happened merely as a coincidence that every person who committed perjury belonged to those who were connected with you and nobody else did?—I am very sorry it did take place.

32,378. How happens it that they all belong to you?—Well, it would seem that they had taken advantage of my being away.

32,379. "It would seem that they had taken ad-"vantage of your being away" is absolute nonsense?—I cannot account for it.

32,380. It is absolute nonsense, and you must know it. How comes it that these persons were of your flock, and only your flock?—I cannot account for it.

32,381. I am going to have it. When did you first suggest this to the Whormby's?—That I was going away?

32,382. No; as to their conduct, not as to yours?—I never did suggest it.

32,383. When did you first speak to Mrs. Whormby as to what she was to say in the House of Commons?—I never said a word to her in my life.

32,384. When did you first know she was going up?—I did not know she was going up.

32,385. Not before she went away?—No.

32,386. When did you first speak to Mrs. Jackson?—I never did speak to Mrs. Jackson, never.

32,387. You never spoke to her in your life?—No, never, that I know of.

32,388. You know who I mean?—Yes, a butcher's widow or something of that sort.

32,389. I mean Mrs. Whormby's daughter?—No.

32,390. You never spoke to her?—No, I had nothing to do with her.

32,391. Do you mean to swear that?—Yes.

32,392. You never saw her?—I do not say that.

32,393. Was she in the house when you took the money on the night before?—No.

32,394. Was she not present when you took the money?—No; I never did take any money.

32,395. Was she not present when you asked the brother about money?—No.

32,396. Do you mean to say that?—Yes.

32,397. Do you remember being at Mrs. Whormby's on the night before?—Yes.

32,398. Do you mean to say Mrs. Jackson was not there?—No, she was not.

32,399. Do you mean to say that this statement is untrue; in their evidence before the House, Mrs. Jackson is asked, "Did you see Joseph Wilson at any time before that?" Answer, "Yes, I saw him at my brother's." Then she is asked, "Did you hear him saying anything to your brother?" and she says, "I heard him ask my brother for their vote." Then, "What did they say?" and so on through a whole series of questions. "Did Wilson say anything more?" and she says, "No, he only asked him for his vote." Do you mean to say that that is all untrue?—Yes. I think I recollect seeing a stout woman in the street.

32,400, I do not ask you that. I ask you whether you saw Mrs. Jackson?—No, I did not.

32,401. That is another of your flock whom you say has committed perjury?—Yes. The conversation about the price took place.

32,402. I shall not ask you any further questions, and for this simple reason, that I believe you to have been at the bottom of this string of disgraceful perjury, committed before the House of Commons. It is utterly impossible that out of 600 witnesses, those who we have connected with you should be the only ones to have committed perjury; unless you had something to do with it?—I can only say I never advised a single soul of them.

(Mr. Newton.) You are perjured.

32,403. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you give any money to Stirzaker to give to any other person in the election?—No, not that I know of.

32,404. Did you hear Stirzaker say he had got 10*l.* of you to give to a man named Kelsall?—Yes, that is true.

32,405. You have finished with something that is true. You may stand down.—I was going to tell you that.

32,406. What Kelsall was that?—I do not know. It was about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. I wanted to admit this; and there is something else I can tell you.

32,407. If it is about bribery voters we will hear it?—There were two I wanted to tell you about.

32,408. What is it you want to tell us?—I said in my examination before, that I only got two out of Warton; but there was John Ball, he was not in Warton at the time, I could not find him anywhere on the canvass, but they brought him to me on the morning of the election.

32,409. (Mr. Hill.) How much did you give him?—8*l.* or 10*l.* He came from a distance They found him, I suppose, at the committee-room, and sent him down to me.

32,410. Is this John Ball a marine store dealer, in Penny Street?—No, he was a perfect stranger to me. I did not know him.

32,411. You gave him how much?—8*l.* or 10*l.* I rather think it was 10*l.* He asked it for his expenses for coming from somewhere.

32,412. (Mr. Barstow.) The other one is Kelsall?—Yes. They brought him to me, I think about 1 o'clock or so.

32,413. Was he a Quernmore man?—Yes, I believe so.

32,414. Did you give him 10*l.*—Yes. I went into the committee-room and saw Mr. Welch, and said, "There is a voter, I believe, who has not voted, and he requires 10*l.*"

32,415. Have you any other names to add?—No, none whatever. John Ball comes from over sands, I think. I ought to have added to my expenses the other day that I paid for the breakfasts at the place where we stayed. It was suggested to me by a man named Stephenson.

32,416. Where did you pay for these breakfasts?—At Carnforth. He belongs to the Inn, we stayed at the "Carnforth Inn," I think.

32,417. What did you pay?—I think 2*l.* something. He said to me, "Joseph, they make a great noise about "this horse of yours, do you not recollect that you paid me for the breakfasts," and I said I had forgotten it. He then said, "You gave me a sovereign besides."

32,418. That was besides his bill?—Yes.

32,419. He is an inn-keeper, I suppose?—He has to do with it, assisting or something; but he took a very active part for us.

32,420. How many people breakfasted?—There were twenty something. There were wives and daughters, and I cannot tell what; they all come in together, and the 'bus drivers, and one thing and another, they all sat down together.

32,421. Is that all?—Yes, that is all I believe.

JOHN MASHEDER sworn and examined.

J. Masheder.

32,422. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—Brook House, Caton.

32,423. What are you?—A husbandman.

32,425. What did you receive?—5*l.*

32,426. From whom?—Joseph Wilson.

32,427. Was that all that you got?—No, I got 8*s.* from Robert Whiteside.

32,428. What else did you get?—Nothing.

32,429. Nothing else at all?—There was a sixpence Joseph Wilson gave me.

32,430. Was 5*l.* 8*s.* all the money that you received?—Yes.

32,431. Did you give anything to anybody?—No.

32,432. You did not pay anything to anybody for Mr. Wilson?—No, I did not.

Statement of E. M. FENWICK, Esq.

E. M. Fenwick, Esq.

(Mr. Barstow.) We are now prepared, Mr. Fenwick, to hear any statement you may wish to make.

(Mr. Fenwick.) I appear here to-day in consequence of the intimation I received from the Court, on the last occasion I was here. I have very fully considered the circumstances and what took place upon that occasion, and I feel, after the letter I wrote to the Court assenting to their offer to come here, and make a voluntary statement, that it is due to myself I should act up to the letter I addressed in answer to that letter which was sent to me. I also feel that it would be unbecoming indeed if I appeared in any way to evade appearing here under any technical objection. But before I make any observations, I would most urgently once more, and most respectfully submit to this Court the difficulty and embarrassment in which I find myself placed, by the circumstance of having been treated differently in this matter to Mr. Lawrence, and as I said before, I submit to the Court that has pressed very harshly and very heavily upon me; but, at the same time, I appear. I cannot help thinking that when the Commissioners determined to deal with me in a different manner to that in which they dealt with Mr. Lawrence, from that moment the first paragraph of their letter to me on the 18th of September placed me in a position of considerable embarrassment. Of course, I am only giving my own opinion, and only submit it for the consideration of this Court. I cannot but feel that the first paragraph of the letter (and without that paragraph I feel greatly obliged to the Commissioners for the letter) is, in some measure, prejudging my case upon the evidence that has been laid before them. Having said that much, I am now here to make a statement.

Now, sir, the first thing I desire to do, is justice to the memory of a public man of this town, Mr. Coulston, who has just passed away from us, respecting some observations made by Mr. H. T. Wilson, as to his having been engaged canvassing at the railway station with Mr. Schneider and myself. It is due to the memory of that gentleman that I should say with regard to those remarks made by Mr. H. T. Wilson, and which have given considerable pain to some of his relations, that the statement is wholly untrue. Mr. Coulston never canvassed with us at the railway station. I have no remembrance of his ever having been at the railway station at the time I was there canvassing, but I have been informed only this morning, that he was there upon that occasion; but this I do distinctly assert, that Mr. Coulston never canvassed, and never took any part whatever in our proceedings upon that occasion. If he was there I do not recollect it. I believe he was there, but I am quite certain that, in no stretch of language, could he be said to have been canvassing with us at the railway station. Just let me tell the Court what the effect of the canvass at the railway station was. One would naturally suppose if Mr. Coulston had taken an active part in it that we should have some of the leading officials at the station voting for us. First of all, there is there Mr. Chauncy, who fills an important position at the station, he plumped for Mr. Lawrence; then Mr. Fitzsimons, who also fills an important position, plumped for Mr. Schneider. Mr. Peel, the station master, did not vote at all, and Mr. Lumb, who fills the important position of cashier, has no vote, and another gentleman, Mr. King, did not exercise his vote at all. As to the ordinary officials, and the lower class, I believe we had the majority, but I am quite satisfied, and I think it right on every ground to say, that Mr. Coulston certainly afforded me no kind of assistance on that occasion. I saw Mr. Coulston once during the course of the election, it was a mere complimentary visit in the ordinary way. I believe I was in company with Mr. Schneider, and he (Mr. Coulston) said something very general as to how we got on, and ended by thanking me for some trifling services I had rendered him by affording him some information with regard to a bill affecting joint stock banks that has been passing through Parliament. That really ended all the negotiations I had with Mr. Coulston during the election. I felt it due to his memory to say that much. There are some other matters of detail I should like to deal with, though the Commissioners do not point out the part of the evidence in their letter to me which they consider brings me within terms of the Act of Parliament. I will deal at once with the name of Mr. Wearing as to the sum of 1000*l.* I am here at once to avow that I did furnish 1,000*l.* upon the day of election. It has been a matter of difficulty to me to bring to memory all that passed upon that occasion, which is now upwards of 12 months since, and what did occur took place at a moment of very considerable excitement, and I may say, I think truly, one of the most warm and urgent contests that has taken place in this borough for some time. But I may tell the Court that up to the day before the election I had made no preparation whatever. I had not prepared any money, or brought money, or had money with me in any shape or way whatever, and I had repeatedly spoken to Mr. Welch, to Mr. Wearing, and I think I may say to Mr. Maxsted, who is sitting by me, as to my determination not to spend more upon that election than I considered to be a fair amount for legitimate expenses. I named the sum repeatedly and openly to them; 1000*l.* I considered would be pretty near what would be the legal expenses, and that was the limit I put to my expenditure upon that occasion. Now, sir, on the morning I think, before the election, when of course one can easily understand a great deal of excitement prevailed, some one said to me in my room, "We shall "want your 1,000*l.* We shall be glad to have your "1,000*l.*" I confess, knowing what I did of the system adopted at all elections, and knowing also as a fact that upon every election a very large sum of money—several hundred pounds I may say, and I am sure it must have been so in this case—is always spent during the actual progress of an election, and long before those sums appear recorded in any account by the election auditor, I was not surprised at the intimation that money would be wanted from me on that occasion. Under those circumstances I felt in fact that I could hardly expect my election to be carried on without supplying the money, and I said, "I have my 1,000*l.* ready. I can give you what is wanted." The request came to me that I should furnish at once my 1,000*l.* I made arrangements for drawing 1,000*l.* immediately. I went to see Mr. Ball at the Preston Bank, whom I had known previously, having had a small account there formerly, though not an account upon which I operated much latterly, and asked him if he could oblige me, as I was suddenly called upon for some money, by letting me have 1,000*l.* at once if I should want it the next day. Accordingly, the next morning he let me have that 1,000*l.* I have no doubt that what Mr. Wearing states is correct, though I have no recollection of having given it to him; but, however, I did no doubt produce the 1,000*l.*, and he took the 1,000*l.* away. What he did with it I know not, but I am as confident as I stand here that I distinctly repeated to him, that which I had over and over again repeated to him, that that 1,000*l.* I gave then was for legal expenses.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

E. M. Fenwick, Esq.

And, sir, I beg leave to say that I had no desire (though it hardly becomes me to speak much of myself, but I believe I am not very wrong in saying I had no actual necessity) to bribe. I believe it was quite an understood thing at the time of the election that my seat was tolerably secure, and that there was no occasion for my bribing in any shape or way whatever. I never expected to undergo a contest of that kind unless I expended something like 1,000*l.* or 1,500*l.* I do not know whether I have the honour in addressing the Commissioners of addressing gentlemen who have had any experience in parliamentary matters, but I am quite satisfied, and I appeal to the experience of many members of the House of Commons, that they will admit, in a contest of that kind in the town of Lancaster where a large body of freemen have to be brought from rural districts, several miles round the town—where the expenditure for horses and carriages forms an item of something like 500*l.* or 600*l.*, with the ordinary men who have to be paid during the fortnight the canvass was being carried on, in the shape of runners, committee expenses, and so on—that I was not wrong in being quite prepared and quite expecting that at least several hundred pounds would be wanted as my share. However, be that as it may, I do at once avow that I did produce the 1,000*l.*, and the 1,000*l.* was paid.

While I am on that head, the Court will allow me to say one word about what became of the money. We have heard something during these proceedings of a secret committee room. I beg leave to say I had not the remotest idea where the secret committee room was, or that there was such a committee at all; whether it existed in a room at the "Queen's Hotel" or any other room, or in any other private or public house in the town, that was a matter upon which I was totally and entirely ignorant. All I could do when I gave that sum of 1,000*l.* was to repeat again and again, as I had insisted over and over again previously on numerous occasions, that that 1,000*l.* I intended as my contribution towards the election, and that it was for my legal expenses. The circumstance of my being at the "Queen's Hotel," and as I heard afterwards, of this private committee being held at the same hotel, amounts to this, that I have always resided during elections and had my rooms at the "Queen's Hotel." My former excellent colleague, Mr. Gregson, used the hotel for all purposes, and held his committee room there; but he had the advantage of residing at his brother's house at Moorlands close to the town. My residence is 14 or 15 miles from here; and therefore it was utterly impossible that I could do without having some accommodation in the town. Mr. Schneider, my colleague at the last election, had the advantage of a residence in the immediate neighbourhood. I believe he stayed at the Vicarage; but my ordinary room for taking my meals, where my colleague and myself dined and took our refreshments, and where friends came in to ask the result of the canvass-book, or how we were getting on in the election, was quite my own room, quite apart and distinct from the room that I have since heard described as the private committee room. I was never in that room; I do not know the room, and do not know where it is. I believe it is a part of the hotel with a different entrance from the town from that in which I passed and repassed when I went to my own room. So much in regard to that part of the story as to the secret committee room.

What became of the 1,000*l.* I honestly confess to you I inquired no further; but I would say this, I said, as I had said on all occasions when I had conversations with Mr. Welch and Mr. Maxsted, that that was to be my contribution towards the election; and I considered I was acquitted of any further expenses during the election.

Now I know another sum of 500*l.* has to be accounted for; and I shall be very happy to give the fullest explanation of it. After the election was over it came to my ears that a very large sum of money had been expended; and I heard it in this manner. Mr. Maxsted wrote to me to say, or sent word to me that he was getting in the bills as electioneering agent, and more money would be wanted. I went to Mr. Maxsted and expressed to him my great surprise that I was to be called upon to pay anything additional. Mr. Maxsted is here, and I am sure he will forgive me for speaking to the conversation particularly. I said to him, "How is this? Why am I called upon to pay more money now?" He said, "Well, it is very sad," and shook his head. "I am afraid things have been sadly managed," or some words to that effect; and I think he said, "I hear a "very great deal of money has been spent. It is "really a matter very much between yourself and "your colleague whether you think you ought to pay "something more. The legal expenses will be 1,400*l.* "or 1,500*l.*, or something of the kind." I said (and I do not hesitate to tell the Commissioners, feeling the position in which one gentleman is placed with reference to another), "Very well, of course if it is expected it seems to be reasonable." Mr. Maxsted could not tell me any particulars, and I must say he never discussed the question of money in any shape or way beyond the conversations we had with regard to the 1,000*l.* and this 500*l.* I said, "Under those circumstances it is clear what I ought to do," and I gave another cheque for 500*l.* That cheque for 500*l.* I beg leave to say was a 500*l.* cheque upon my own bankers in London. I made no scruple about it, and from that moment to this I have never paid another farthing; and I considered that that acquitted me from all further trouble with regard to this election.

I am sure that in making this voluntary statement to the Commissioners I have endeavoured to give the fullest account I can of these two payments of 1,000*l.* and 500*l.* I know of course my conduct is liable to observations respecting the payment of the money. It will be said, "You ought to have paid that 1,000*l.* to the election agent." I can only say in answer to that observation, "It may be so; one does not always "act with the utmost legal discretion in cases of this "kind."

Then with regard to the fact of my having a treasurer, I think it will be seen one is not departing in that case from the rule; but that it has always been a customary thing; and Mr. Welch, as my treasurer, only held the position that had been held by many before him. Mr. Paget Gregson was always the treasurer of Mr. Samuel Gregson. Mr. Edmund Jackson acted in the same capacity for Mr. Garnett and Mr. Greene, and I believe the late Mr. Whelon acted in that capacity for Mr. Saunders; and Mr. Welch, I avow at once was always in that light considered as the person acting as treasurer for me. Mr. Welch knew my opinions very well about money, and I had the right to assume that Mr. Wearing, when he gave that money to Mr. Welch, would deliver it with the very strong and distinct understanding I had given him at the time.

Now, sir, so much with regard to that question. During this inquiry, I think rather an unfair opportunity has been taken to make observations which could only tend to prejudice one rather in the eyes of the public; and before I go any further I will allude to some observations of Mr. Christopher Clark. I was rather surprised that Mr. Clark should say what he did before the Commissioners, because Mr. Clark is a gentleman of very considerable experience as a professional man in this town, and I observed particularly the great susceptibility he displayed when one of his own tenants on a recent occasion said he had done something in the shape of compelling him to vote for Mr. Saunders, because he was his tenant. The Chief Commissioner very properly said it was a most unbecoming thing to make a statement of that kind, and therefore I think I have a right to complain of Mr. Clark with respect to some statements he has made about myself. I think he should not have done it unless he had been better informed. Probably the Court will think I need not answer the absurd nonsense about personal friendships, uttered by Mr. Clark.

Mr. Barstow. No, certainly not.

Mr. Fenwick. But Mr. Clark thought proper to say, and I think I am quoting his words correctly, that in 1864, 120 freedoms were taken up. I think his words were "either by Mr. Fenwick or by his friends," implying that that was done with the object of my gaining so much additional strength at the election of that year. No doubt those statements going abroad created a good deal of prejudice, and I think when I I have given my explanation I shall have the satisfaction of satisfying the minds of this Court that it was not so.

First of all, the Court at which these men were elected took place in the month of July, 1864, and I beg the Court will notice that fact. My election took place in the early part of April, 1864, so that no kind of money payment made by me in July for freemen in 1864 could have any reference in any shape or way whatever to an election which took place in April 1864. I find, in July 1864, instead of 120 there were 134 freemen admitted. I do not know whether the Commissioners are aware of it, but the practice in this borough is of this kind. I am told that 134 admittances took place, but out of that 134 a very large proportion of the freedoms taken up are of boys, 16 years of age, whose voting right cannot possibly ensue till another succeeding five or six years. I am told that that was really the case upon that occasion; and I think about 70 or 80 men competent to exercise the franchise were admitted upon the freemen's roll, and the remaining 57 or 60 whatever it was, were composed of boys whose privilege would not be enjoyed probably for some four or five years hence. Mr. Clark was good enough to say that I paid for 120 myself, or my friends, therefore I show the Court clearly that it is not likely I should pay for 120, supposing the statement were true, in order to avail myself of the votes of 70 or 80, for that is all I could have in the succeeding year, but certainly not in the year 1864; and then I think it is only reasonable to consider that if 70 or 80 were admitted, some deduction should be made on account of some of the freemen entertaining as they would have a perfect right to do, opinions directly in opposition to my own; and also, I think, it would be reasonable to infer that some of those paid for would become adherents of the Conservative party, and not of the Liberal party. So you see all this fabric raised by Mr. Clark falls to the ground when I tell the Commissioners that all I paid for in 1864, were something like 21 or 22, so that out of the 80, whose first vote they could give, must have been in the year 1865, I only paid for something like 20 or 21 admissions. I really have not the means of knowing at this moment whether those 20 were composed partly of boys whose privilege of voting would come into force hereafter, or whether they all voted for me in the election of 1865. I cannot speak to that, but as to the system of paying for these votes—I can only say this, I believe it to be a vicious system. But I have heard Mr. Gregson's name mentioned in conjunction with the system, and with regard to anything he did he was, I am sure, prompted with his usual feelings of benevolence and kindness of heart, and I can only say, after the contest of 1864, in which I had been eminently successful, I did in spending the money for these 20 or 21 freemen, only follow out a practice which I found existed when I came to this borough—a practice which I shall be very glad and hope to find from this time forth will be quite discontinued. I think it can hardly be said that Mr. Fenwick or his friends, in 1864, paid for 124 admissions, implying that I got the benefit of those votes on that occasion. So much for that statement. Now I come to another statement. I will pass on to Mr. H. T. Wilson, and I wish he had been a little more guarded in his statements. In this voluntary statement of mine I do not want to bring in the name of any gentleman unnecessarily, and I should be very sorry to do so; but my name has been used so freely that I think it is only just to myself that I should make this statement. Mr. Wilson, after going through the memorandum which he held in his hand, and making a running commentary upon the whole of the evidence, thought it necessary to start some absurd story about my having bribed Thomas Newton with my own hands. I assure the Commissioners, on my honour as a gentleman (I am not on my oath, and therefore cannot swear upon the subject), but I assure you, on my honour as a gentleman, that there is not an atom of truth in the statement from first to last. I do not know that I ever saw the man in my life. I believe, in the summer before the election of 1865, one evening, in company with my own family, I was walking through the village of Burrow, and one of my sons has since reminded me of the circumstance of my having met him. He was at that time engaged in working for a tradesman at Kirkby Lonsdale. He was with some other men (this was at the time the election was coming on), and one of them said, "This is Mr. Newton," and no doubt I said, "How do you do?" He said something about the election, and I remember his words were, "I intend, Mr. Fenwick, to "give you one vote, but what I shall do with the other "vote I have not made up my mind yet." That was all that passed. I did not think that was the proper time to discuss the question, walking through the village, and how on earth Mr. Wilson can think it worth his while or fair towards myself (a gentleman whom I know very little about, and against whom I have nothing to say) to impute to me that I had bribed this man with my own hands I am at a loss to comprehend. If the Commissioners feel any doubt upon the matter (I do not know whether the man is here, I have had no communication with him) I should be quite content for them to put him in the box to hear any statement he might make, feeling sure he will say that the whole thing is a pure fabrication from beginning to end. Another statement Mr. Wilson makes is, that Mr. Stanley, at the "Queen's Hotel," had a bill for 500*l.* That also astonished me, and I have made some inquiry into it. I have always used the hotel for my family, and I used it when I first came to Lancaster, because I was told it was the Liberal house; but I find, so far from Mr. Wilson's statement being correct, Mr. Stanley's bill, including his contract for carriages, was 120*l.* I have asked the man himself, and he says there is not an atom of truth in the statement. These things are in themselves probably insignificant as far as Lancaster is concerned, but when they get reported in the London papers and disseminated amongst one's friends, they do certainly cast some kind of reflection upon one from which I would be rather relieved in the face of this Court. Now, I believe I have dealt with most of the points with which I propose to deal. There is another statement of Mr. Wilson. He says that my election in 1864 cost 4,000*l.* against 2,100*l.* on the part of Mr. Saunders. Mr. Wilson is very indistinct, because he says he either sent 1,000*l.* or 1,500*l.* from Liverpool for the purposes of Mr. Saunders' election, but he absolutely charges me with bribery at my election in 1864. All I can say to that is, that his observations about my bribing at that election of 1864 are as unworthy of credit as are his observations which he has made about my bribing Newton. I am really very much obliged to the Court for the patience with which they have listened to me. There is only one other subject that occurs to me upon which I should like to say one word. I am travelling probably a little out of the way, but I should like to say this. Mr. Lawrence was permitted to make the remark, and I am sure I shall be allowed to do so. Mr. Lawrence, in his evidence before you made some allusion to the petition, and I am very glad to hear that Mr. Lawrence disavows any part or share in that petition. I think it is in justice to him that I should state to the Court this circumstance. The Court, no doubt, are quite aware who the petitioners were. Mr. Wilson Barker and another Mr. Wilson, who is also I believe a connexion or a personal friend of Mr. H. T. Wilson, the sureties for the petition being Mr. H. T. Wilson and Mr. Saunders. The Court knows the history of these gentlemen, which has been sufficiently narrated in the evidence, and made quite as public as the history of my colleague, Mr. Schneider and myself. I was very glad to hear Mr. Lawrence say he was opposed to that petition, but I think it right now to tell you that, in the beginning of this year, a certain meeting took place in London, at which I was not present myself, for reasons which I will state. That meeting was the result of a private correspondence which had been passing for some time between Mr. Clark and my colleague, Mr. Schneider, perfectly unknown to me, but that correspondence resulted in a proposal that a meeting should take place in London upon the subject of the petition. I was asked to be present at that meeting, and probably the Court will hardly think I acted unwisely in positively declining to have anything to do with the meeting in any shape or way. At that meeting Mr. Maxsted was present representing myself and Mr. Schneider, the parliamentary agents were also present, and they inquired of the gentlemen who were present in the room, whom they represented? Mr. Maxsted was asked whom he represented, and another gentleman was asked whom he represented, and at last the parliamentary agent went up to Mr. Wilson and said, "Pray whom do you represent?" and he said, "I am here as the representative of Mr. Lawrence, "whose written authority I have in my pocket." It is only right I should say that much on behalf of Mr. Lawrence, and I am very glad to hear him state that he had nothing to do with the petition. I give you that statement as it reached me upon unexceptional authority. I feel very much obliged to you, as I have said before, for the kind and patient hearing you have given me. Probably no man has felt a deeper sense of pain and sorrow than I have at the revelations which have been made in this court. I have not been present during the proceedings, and for this reason, that I hardly felt it would be decorous after what had taken place, that I should come here, and appear to join in the laughter or amusement at the painful and discreditable disclosures which have taken place. I can only say I am exceedingly sorry to hear that men for whom I feel great respect, and whom I have always held in high esteem, should have allowed themselves in an evil moment to accept bribes. I trust the lesson that is now passing before us will be a severe one for the borough of Lancaster, but I think for the honour and credit of the old town, it is well to remind the court that with all her faults, and all her failings, she has returned men who have done great credit and honour to the House of Commons, and in saying so I need only mention the names of Green, Gregson, Marton, Garnett, and Armstrong, four of whom at least are gentlemen well known as residents in this neighbourhood, and who have done honour and credit to Lancaster.

(Mr. Barstow.) The Court are much obliged to you for your statement.

B. Latham.

BENJAMIN LATHAM sworn and examined.

32,433. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Overton and are a labourer?—Yes.

32,434. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence.

32,435. What did you receive?—10*l.*

32,436. Was that all you received?—Yes.

32,437. From whom did you receive it?—I cannot say; he was a stranger from Liverpool.

32,438. Where did you receive it?—At Overton.

32,439. On the night before the election?—Yes.

32,440. That was all you got?—Yes.

T. Woodhouse.

THOMAS WOODHOUSE sworn and examined.

32,441. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

32,442. What did you get?—12*l.*

32,443. Who gave it to you?—John Albright.

32,444. Is that all you got?—Yes.

32,445. You got nothing for being on the committee I suppose?—No; I was not on the committee.

32,446. Did you get anything to spend in drink?—No. Mr. Danson gave me a report that he had given me 1*l.*, but he never did.

32,447. Did you read it in the paper?—Yes; I have it here.

32,448. It is not true?—No, it is not true.

32,449. All you got was 12*l.*?—Yes.

R. Mashiter.

ROBERT MASHITER sworn and examined.

32,450. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A wheelwright.

32,451. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

32,452. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

32,453. Who paid you?—Knowles Allinson.

32,454. Were you on any committee?—No.

32,455. What are you, a master man?—No; a journeyman wheelwright.

32,456. What wages do you earn?—23*s.* a week.

32,457. Have you ever voted before?—Yes, I voted in 1852.

32,458. Have you always voted "Yellow?"—Yes.

32,459. Why did they pay you this time?—I had the offer of some money and I thought I might as well have it.

32,460. Did you go and ask for it, or did they come to you?—They came to me.

32,461. You would have voted if you had not had the money?—Yes.

JOSEPH BOND RICHMOND sworn and examined. J. B. Richmond.

32,462. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A husbandman.

32,463. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

32,464. What did you get?—I got it from three parties; one was 2*l.* 10*s.* to spend.

32,465. From whom did you get that?—John King.

32,466. John King, of Slyne?—Yes. 5*l.* from Edward Mashiter to spend, and 10*l.* from the "Black Bull," at Skerton. I do not know the gentleman from whom I got it.

32,467. That was for your vote?—Yes.

32,468. You got 17*l.* 10*s.* altogether?—Yes.

32,469. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

32,470. That was all you got altogether?—Yes.

32,471. You are down on the register as a husbandman? Are you a labouring man?—Yes.

WILLIAM THORNTON sworn and examined. W. Thornton.

32,472. (Mr. Barstow.) We expected you here before?—It was very nearly night when I got the summons, and they never informed me that another day would do.

32,473. Have you come to speak for your father and brother?—No.

32,474. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

32,475. What did you get?—I got nothing for my vote.

32,476. What money did you get?—I got 3*l.*

32,477. Who gave it to you?—Mr. Bradshaw.

32,478. What was that for?—It was for my conveyance. We were very busy at hay at the time, and we considered it was a great loss to us to break up. I told him we could not come done at any time.

32,479. You got 3*l.* each. The other two Thorntons got 3*l.* Did you all come together?—Yes; we did.

32,480. Was it your own conveyance?—Yes it was, and I paid for it; I paid my expenses besides. I paid for my son's freedom. It was not paid for out of Mr. Fenwick.

32,481. How far is Littledale from here?—Betwixt five and six miles; I do not justly know.

32,482. Is 3*l.* all you got?—Yes.

32,483. (Mr. Newton.) Who paid for your son's freedom?—I paid for it.

32,484. And you were repaid afterwards?—No.

32,485. I thought you said this was part for your son's freedom?—No.

RICHARD THORNTON sworn and examined. R. Thornton.

32,486. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A farmer at Littledale.

32,487. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

32,488. What did you get?—I got nothing for my vote. I never was canvassed.

32,489. What did you get altogether?—I got 2*l.* after. It was three weeks after the election, but I got nothing for my vote.

32,490. What was the 2*l.* for?—It was sent after. I do not know what it was for.

32,491. What was it for?—I do not know. It was sent after.

32,492. By whom was it sent?—I do not know who sent it. My brother brought it.

32,493. You do not know what it was for?—No.

32,494. Did you not get 3*l.*?—No.

32,495. Did you not say you would not come over and vote unless you got 3*l.*?—No, I never saw anyone to canvass.

32,496. Did you not tell that to somebody?—No.

32,497. Did you know that you were to have 3*l.*?—No.

32,498. Was the last witness your brother?—Yes.

32,499. And Richard Thornton your nephew?—Yes.

32,500. You three Thornton's received 3*l.* a piece?—I received 2*l.*

32,501. Your brother told us he received 3*l.*?—He might.

WILLIAM THORNTON recalled and further examined. W. Thornton.

32,502. How much money did you get?—9*l.*

32,503. What for?—There were three of them, a younger brother and younger son, and it was divided betwixt them.

32,504. Three besides yourself?—Yes.

32,505. Who were the three besides?—Two sons and my brother. My other son had not taken up his freedom, but they divided it amongst them.

32,506. What is his name?—Robert.

32,507. He was not a voter?—No; but he had it as a free gift, and that is why we thought we would give him some and all.

32,508. You were to give a non-voter some money because he had not power to vote, was that it? It was to pay for his freedom.—No, it was not. Nothing of the kind.

32,509. You have done your brother out of 1*l.*?—No, I have not.

32,510. Yes, you have. Mr. Bradshaw said you were to have 3*l.*, and your brother was to have 3*l.*, and your son was to have 3*l.* You have robbed your brother of 1*l.*?—Mr. Bradshaw never mentioned 3*l.* to anyone of us.

32,511. Mr. Bradshaw did. I would rather believe Mr. Bradshaw than I would you?—Very well. I can tell the truth as well as Mr. Bradshaw. He never asked me for a vote.

32,512. Mr. Bradshaw gave you 9*l.*, 3*l.* for yourself, and 3*l.* for your brother, and 3*l.* for your son?—He never mentioned such a thing. I was coming up Cheapside, and he gave it to me a fortnight, if not more, after the election.

32,513. You now put in your younger son, talking about his freedom, and try to do your brother out of 1*l.*?—I gave him the money the night I got home.

32,514. You only gave him 2*l.*, and you ought to have given him 3*l.* Did Bradshaw know you had got another son?—Yes.

32,515. I do not believe it?—He could not miss knowing it. He was a neighbour.

RICHARD THORNTON, jun., sworn and examined. R. Thornton, jun.

32,516. (Mr. Hill.) You are the son of William Thornton?—Yes.

32,518. What did you get?—My father gave me 2*l.*

32,519. Did your younger brother get 2*l.*?—Yes, I believe he did, but it was not mentioned what it was for. My father knowing, told me what it was for.

32,520. Does your uncle live with you?—Yes. Mr. Bradshaw never made any arrangement with me. He never mentioned anything about any money, and he never canvassed me.

32,521. He never made any arrangement with you?—No.

32,522. You got the 2*l.*?—Yes.

32,523. You were put to no expense? It was all money in pocket?—Mr. Bradshaw made no arrangement with me.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

28 Sept. 1866.

T. G. Dodgson.

SIMON GIBSON DODGSON sworn and examined.

32,524. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

32,525. What did you get?—10*l.*

32,526. Who gave it you?—George Danson.

32,527. Was that all you got?—Yes.

32,528. You were on no committee?—No.

J. Christopherson.

JOHN CHRISTOPHERSON sworn and examined.

32,529. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

32,530. What are you?—An agricultural labourer.

32,531. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

32,532. Who paid you?—Edward Keely.

32,533. Who is he? Does he live near you?—No. He lives in the town, I think. George Danson gave it to him to give to me.

32,534. Is that all you got?—No.

32,535. What more did you get?—I got 15*s.* for going to Garston for my brother.

32,536. Is he a voter?—Yes.

32,537. Did you bring him?—Yes, I did.

32,538. How did you go?—I went by the railway.

32,539. Did you get anything else?—Yes, I got 25*s.* for wages from the committee.

32,540. Is that all?—Yes, that is all.

32,541. (Mr. Hill.) Did you see your brother paid?—Yes.

32,542. Is he here to-day?—No, not that I know of.

32,543. Where was he paid?—At Thomas Procter's. He was paid in the house along with me.

32,544. How much was he paid?—10*l.*

32,545. What did he get for wage from the committee?—He got nothing at all but that.

32,546. Is 10*l.* all he got?—Yes.

32,547. Who paid him?—The same as paid me, Edward Keely.

32,548. Have you got any other brother or cousin that was paid at the same time?—No.

32,549. (Mr. Newton.) He got nothing for being on the committee?—No, he was not there.

W. Threlfall.

WILLIAM THRELFALL sworn and examined.

32,550. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At Carnforth.

32,551. Are you a labourer?—I am, in the goods' yard on the London and North-Western Railway.

32,552. You are entered on the register as a labourer?—I am a yard's-man.

32,553. You are down as a labourer?—Yes, that was when I was entered at first.

32,554. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

32,555. How much did you get?—5*l.*

32,556. From whom?—John King, of Slyne.

32,557. Is that all you got?—Yes.

32,558. You did not get on any committee or anything of that sort?—No, nothing.

32,559. Nor did you get anything from the other side?—No.

32,560. 5*l.* was all you got?—Yes, I am quite sure of it.

32,561. Are you in the company's service now?—Yes.

W. Sherson.

WILLIAM SHERSON sworn and examined.

32,562. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

32,563. What did they give you?—12*l.*

32,564. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—No.

32,565. No money excepting 12*l.*?—No.

32,566. Nothing whatever?—No.

32,567. Nothing from the other side?—No.

32,568. Who paid you?—Mr. Danson.

J. Lamb.

JOHN LAMB sworn and examined.

32,569. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—At Littledale.

32,570. What are you?—A farmer.

32,571. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

32,572. How much did you get for your vote?—I got nothing. My wife got 12*l.*

32,573. That comes to very much the same thing. Who paid her?—Mr. Cranston.

32,574. Where at?—At the bottom of the Shambles. I do not know what they call the house.

32,575. Were you on a committee?—No.

32,576. Have you always voted "Blue?"—No.

32,577. How did you vote last time?—I voted for Mr. Fenwick.

32,578. What made you vote "Blue" this time?—I always had voted "Blue" before.

32,579. Why did you vote for Fenwick?—Because I set my mind more on him than the other.

32,580. You thought Fenwick better than Saunders?—Yes.

32,581. Did you get any money for that?—No.

32,582. Who came to canvass you?—Mr. Edmondson.

32,583. Did he promise you any money?—No.

32,584. What Mr. Edmondson is that?—Of Grass Yard Hall.

32,585. Is he a young man?—Yes.

32,586. Did he not say anything about money?—No.

32,587. Who was the first person that mentioned money to you?—I do not know anybody in particular. I was not so often at home. I think my wife mentioned something about money to him.

32,588. Your wife bargained for your vote in your absence?—She did not bargain. We had lost a cow, and so she axed for summut.

32,589. The vote went into the cow. You got 12*l.* at all events?—Yes.

32,590. Do you care about having a vote?—Do I care about having one?

32,591. Yes?—I should think I did.

32,592. Only when you lose a cow?—I always give my vote free when I give any, and I did this time.

W. Kelsall.

WILLIAM KELSALL affirmed and examined.

32,593. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election? Fenwick and Schneider.

32,594. What did you receive for your vote?—10*l.*

32,604. What did you get ?—2*l.* 5*s.*

32,605. Who paid you ?—I do not know. Thomas Kelsall gave me 5*s.* after the election was over, but I do not know who gave me t'other.

32,606. How do you mean you do not know ?—I do not know the man.

32,607. Was he a stranger ?—Yes.

32,608. Where were you paid ?—In Penny Street.

32,609. In what house ?—It was not in a house, it was in the street.

32,610. You got some money besides ?—I got no money but 2*l.* 5*s.*

32,611. Was that all you got ?—Yes.

32,612. What are you ?—I have a little independence. I do not work much.

Thomas Kelsall affirmed and examined. T. Kelsall.

22,613. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

32,614. What did you get ?—10*s.*

32,615. Is that all ?—Yes.

32,616. Who paid you the 10*s.* ?—Benjamin Mills.

32,617. What did he give you the 10*s.* for ?—For taking my father down in a conveyance to the poll.

32,618. What is your father's name ? — Thomas Kelsall.

32,619. Is that all you got ?—Yes.

32,620. Where do you live ? — West View Scotforth.

32,621. There is another Thomas Kelsall of West View, Scotforth ?—Yes, my father.

32,622. Where is he ?—He was not at home this morning. He has not got any summons.

32,623. Where is he?—He is at Littledale at Henry Huddleston's.

Joseph Kelsall affirmed and examined. J. Kelsall.

32,624. (Mr. Hill.) Do you live at West View, Scotforth ?—No.

32,625. Where do you live ?—At Hala Car, Scotforth.

32,626. Where did you live when you were put on the register in 1864 ?—I believe at West View, Scotforth.

32,627. For whom did you vote at the last election? Fenwick and Schneider.

32,628. What did you get for your vote ?—3*l.* 10*s.*

32,629. From whom ?—1*l.* from William Jackson, and 2*l.* from James Cornthwaite, and 10*s.* from Thomas Kelsall.

32,630. For what did you get the 10*s.* I do not know ; for my vote as far as I know.

32,631. Did you get anything else ?—No.

32,632. 3*l.* 10*s.* was all you got ?—Yes.

32,633. What are you ?—A farmer.

32,634. How much do you farm ?—About 30 acres.

32,635. What rent do you pay ?—45*l.*

Thomas Brown sworn and examined. T. Brown.

32,636. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

32,637. Where do you live ?—Leonard Gate.

32,638. What money did you get ?—None at all.

32,639. Are you quite sure ?—Yes.

33,640. Were you on no committee ?—No; I had nothing to do with it at all except voting.

32,641. You did not go to any of these committee meetings ?—No.

32,642. Did no one offer you money ?—No.

32,643. Some people have money given to them after they have voted ?—I had never none brought to me, and I would have had none if they had brought it to me.

32,644. Has any relation taken any money for you? No.

32,645. Not your wife ?—I have no wife.

32,646. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—I farm some lands in Bulk, but I live in Lancaster.

32,647. Have you always voted "Yellow?"—I never voted before.

32,648. How did you come to vote this time ?—Through farming land.

32,649. Have you not been on the register before ?—No.

33,650. Why did you not vote last time ?—I did not because Fenwick was far enough ahead of Saunders and that is the reason I did not.

33,651. If it had been a neck and neck race you would have come in?—Yes, I would, and that sharp too.

32,652. (Mr. Barstow.) You have been summoned here because I have a note that Mr. Hadfield said you had been bribed ?—Me ?

32,653. Yes. Mr. Hadfield said so, and that is the reason why you are summoned here to-day. Go and tell Hadfield about it ?—I do not know the man. I cannot tell him.

32,654. Let him make your acquaintance ?—I do not know the man.

Thomas Brown sworn and examined. T. Brown.

32,655. (Mr. Newton.) You voted for Fenwick and Lawrence ?—Yes.

32,656. What money did you get ?—I got 8*l.* for voting for Lawrence.

32,657. From whom ? — A gentleman with Mr. Cranston.

32,658. Had you always voted "Yellow ?"—No.

32,659. How had you always voted "Yellow ?"—I only voted once before, and I voted "Yellow."

32,660. How did you vote then ?—I voted for Mr. Fenwick.

32,661. What did you get for voting for Fenwick this time ?—Nothing at all.

32,662. What made you lay stress upon your words when you said you got 8*l.* for voting for Lawrence, as if you had got something from Fenwick ?—I did not get a halfpenny from Fenwick either time.

32,663. Were you on any committee ?—No.

32,664. All you got was 8*l.* ?—Yes.

William Bailie sworn and examined. W. Bailie.

32,665. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A coal merchant.

32,666. Where ?—At Lancaster and other places.

32,667. Where do you live ?—Formerly in Ullswater Road, Lancaster. At present Red Bank, Bolton-le-sands.

32,668. You are a householder ?—Yes.

32,669. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Lawrence and Schneider.

32,670. What money did you receive ?—None.

32,671. None at all ?—No.

32,672. How came you to vote for Lawrence and

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

W. Bailie.

28 Sept. 1866.

Schneider?—Because I considered the borough in a rotten state. I had not voted before, though I had been personated.

32,673. How do you mean voting for Fenwick and Schneider helped the rotten state of the borough?—I thought I should neither please nor displease anyone then.

32,674. That is more to the purpose. You got nothing at all?—I never got anything from any party. The thing was never named to me.

J. G. Bailey.

JOHN GARNETT BAILEY sworn and examined.

32,675. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence.

32,676. Did you get any money?—Not a farthing.

32,677. Nothing at all?—No, neither bite nor sup.

32,678. Did you give any money to anybody?—No.

H. Huntington.

HENRY HUNTINGTON sworn and examined.

32,679. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A farmer.

32,680. At Bulk?—At present I is in Lancaster I was in Bulk at the time when I voted.

32,681. How did you vote?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

32,682. How came you to vote for Lawrence and Fenwick?—I do not know.

32,683. Did you get any money?—Yes.

32,684. How much did you get?—I got 15*l.* from William Atkinson.

32,685. To vote for whom?—I voted for Lawrence and Fenwick. I believe he was for Lawrence.

32,686. You did not know much about it then?—No.

32,687. And did not care?—Very little.

32,688. How had you voted in 1864?—For Saunders.

32,689. Did you get anything then?—No.

32,690. You are quite sure that you got nothing?—Yes.

32,691. Were you on any committee?—No. I got 5*l.* besides that.

32,692. From whom did you get that?—I believe it came from Lawrence.

32,693. You got 5*l.* from Lawrence also?—Yes, but not from William Atkinson.

32,694. Who did you get it from?—I do not know who it was from.

32,695. What sort of a looking man was it that paid you?—There were two or three of them. I do not know which of them it was.

32,696. Where was it that the money was given to you?—In Market Street.

32,697. Was it given to you before you voted or after?—Before I voted.

32,698. That was also to vote for Lawrence?—Yes; but I did not know that it was perhaps all for Lawrence.

33,699. How do you mean you did not know that it was all for Lawrence?—I did not know what it was for.

32,700. But they told you, did they not, how you were to go and vote?—I had money offered me to go and vote for Lawrence and Fenwick; that is all I know.

32,701. How much money had you to vote for Fenwick?—None.

32,702. Did anybody give you any money to vote for Schneider?—No, I did not vote for him.

32,703. But did anybody give you any money to go and vote for Schneider?—No.

32,704. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

32,705. You had no money given to you to vote for Schneider?—No.

32,706. You only got 20*l.* then?—Yes, 20*l.* was all I got.

32,707. (Mr. Barstow.) Which did you get first; the 15*l.*, or the 5*l.*?—The 15*l.*

32,708. Where did Atkinson pay you?—I think in the "Cross Keys."

32,709. Where is the "Cross Keys?"—In Market Street.

32,710. How did he come to give you 15*l.*?—He gave me 15*l.*, and I was to go and make what I could after, but I was to be sure to give Lawrence a vote.

32,711. How came you to get 15*l.*; that is very much more than what was going?—I do not know, I got it.

32,712. (Mr. Hill.) Which are you naturally, "Blue," or "Yellow?"—I do not think that I am much partial to either.

32,713. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your rent?—I rented 100 guineas a year at that time.

M. Ireland.

MARTIN IRELAND sworn and examined.

32,714. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Bulk.

32,715. You also were paid by William Atkinson?—Yes.

32,716. What did you receive from him?—15*l.*

32,717. What did you get besides 5*l.*?—5*l.*

32,718. From whom did you get that?—From a jumbled-up lot. Mr. Sharp brought the money, but who put it into my hand I cannot say.

32,719. For whom did you vote?—Fenwick and Lawrence. You understand, I do not know who gave me the money.

32,720. You were standing in with the last witness?—Yes; we were Butty-mates we was, hand in hand.

32,721. Both of you agreed that you would go for 20*l.*?—Yes.

32,722. Which Mr. Sharp are you speaking of?—I do not know that Mr. John Sharp has any son but one; but it was Mr. John Sharp's son; he came across from the committee.

32,723. On what day did you get the 15*l.* from William Atkinson?—On the election day morning.

32,724. When did you receive the 5*l.*?—Perhaps an hour and a half after I got the 15*l.*

32,725. Would that be half-past 9 o'clock?—I think it was later than that: I was at home at 12 after polling and all done.

32,726. Where were you when you received the 5*l.*?—I received it in Townley, the hatter's, parlour. They took us up there into a parlour to give it to us.

32,727. Who took you up there?—John Bateson and Townley the hatter.

32,728. Which Townley is that? Where does he live?—He lives in Market Street. He is a hatter.

32,729. You received it from Townley?—I do not know that I got it from him: I do not know who I got it from, but I got it there.

32,730. Where did they come to you at, Townley and Bateson?—We were coming up Market Street and they were standing opposite Townley's shop, and they asked if we had voted, I said, "Not yet." Then they asked which way we was for.

32,731. Speaking to you and Huntington?—Yes; I said I did not know. "Would you like to know?" "No, we were not particular which way." "Would you give Lawrence one?" "No, I do not think we would." "Why not?" We did not know, and so on. "Would we plump him for 10*l.*?" "No," (I said) "We will not plump him." (I said) "We will give Fenwick and Lawrence one for 5*l.* each." So he agreed to give it to us. Townley then went across to the committee rooms; it was the committee room for anything I know, to fetch the money: he went in that direction.

32,732. In which direction?—To the "Royal Oak."

32,733. And left you standing in the street?—Yes, with Bateson.

32,734. Bateson was to look after you to see that you did not run away?—I do not know. We stood with him.

32,735. Then he came back with Mr. Sharp?—Yes.

32,736. Which Mr. Sharp was it?—Mr. John Sharp's son: I do not know his name.

32,737. What should you say was his age?—24 or 25. I know him very well: I know he is Mr. John Sharp's son: I do not know which son it is, if there is more than one.

32,738. And where did they take you to?—Into Mr. Townley's parlour or house: it is carpeted, &c.: it looks like a parlour.

32,739. When they got you there, what did they do?—They stopped counting the money.

32,740. Who had the money in his hand?—They took it out of a little caddy, something like that, (a despatch box), but less than that.

32,741. Who took it out?—Townley took it out.

32,742. And who gave it to you?—John Bateson put mine into my hand.

32,743. But if they took it out of the little box, they had not gone to the committee room for it: they did not bring the box from the committee room?—No, I did not see that.

32,744. Did they pay you and Huntington at the same time?—Both, one at once: I do not know which they paid first.

32,745. About how much money did they bring out of the box?—I do not know.

32,746. Was it gold?—It was gold that they gave us.

32,747. Was the rest gold?—I did not see into the box, and could not say.

32,748. Besides this 20*l.*, did you get anything?—Not a farthing.

32,749. Who took you to the poll?—John Bateson and John Speight, senior, and John Speight, junior.

32,750. And then you voted?—We voted.

32,751. Having got your money?—Yes.

32,752. Was Mr. Sharp present when this money was paid to you?—Yes, he was.

32,753. Then there were present at the time when this money was paid, Mr. Sharp, Mr. Bateson, Mr. Townley, Henry Huntington and yourself?—There was.

32,754. Anyone else?—No one else.

32,755. Did Mr. Sharp speak to you?—I do not know that he did, I do not think he opened his lips the whole time we was in, but we was not in many minutes.

32,756. Did you see Mr. Sharp pay anyone else?—I did not.

32,577. (Mr. Newton.) What is Bateson's name?—John Bateson.

32,758. Where does he live?—I fancy in Edward Street. He is clerk at Green Area Chapel.

32,759. (Mr. Hill.) He is not a voter?—No.

32,760. (Mr. Barstow.) Who is Sharp's father, do you know?—John Sharp.

32,761. What is John Sharp?—An attorney.

H. Huntington recalled and further examined.

32,762. (Mr. Barstow.) You have heard what Martin Ireland has said?—I heard it as well as I could.

32,763. He tells us that he and you were standing together, and a lot of them came up including Mr. Townley, Mr. Bateson, and young Mr. Sharp, and asked how much you would take for your vote, that you agreed that you would receive 5*l.* a piece, that you went into the parlour of Mr. Townley, and that he, out of a box which looks like a caddy, took some money and gave you each 5*l.*, is that true?—Yes, we received money in that kind of form, but from what persons I do not know.

32,764. But there were three or four people there?—Yes.

32,765. It was in Mr. Townley's parlour?—Yes, or whatever it is.

32,766. You received each 5*l.*?—Yes.

32,767. And the money was taken out of a box there?—Yes.

Martin Ireland's examination resumed.

32,768. (Mr. Newton.) Do I understand you to say that Mr. Sharp came out of the committee room?—He came in that direction; I cannot say that he went into the committee room. Mr. Townley and Mr. Sharp came together.

32,769. Had they got anything in their hands when they came?—I did not see that they had any caddy or anything else, only Mr. Sharp had a large dog whip-stick.

32,770. He would not have money in that?—No, there might be money in the end; I did not see the caddy.

32,771. What did Mr. Sharp go into Townley's house for?—Perhaps to witness us paid. I do not know what he went there for, but he was there; I do not think that John Sharp's son touched the money, I do not think he did, but I am not positive.

32,772. Mr. Sharp was present then when this money was paid?—He was standing right facing me as I am facing you now.

32,773. Did the caddy seem to belong to Townley's house?—I cannot speak to that, it looked like a piece of furniture on a table or something like that, but I cannot speak to who the caddy belonged to.

David Irvine sworn and examined.

32,774. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A farmer.

32,775. Living in Bulk?—Yes.

32,776. What rent do you pay?—Over 200*l.* a year, 250*l.* a year.

32,777. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I had no vote, it was the first time I had voted.

32,778. Do mean the last election was?—Yes.

32,779. For whom did you vote then?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

32,780. What money did you get?—5*l.*

32,781. Did you get anything else?—No.

32,782. Were you on no committee?—No.

32,783. You did not get 15*l.* from William Atkinson?—No.

32,784. Where were you paid?—In the Green Area in Lancaster.

32,785. Who paid you?—William Atkinson.

32,786. Do you say that your rent is over 253*l.*?—Yes.

32,787. What is it? You know accurately what it is.—260*l.*

32,788. (Mr. Newton.) That is all you got for your vote?—Yes.

32,789. Only 5*l.*?—Only 5*l.*

William Burrow sworn and examined.

32,790. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Penny Street.

32,791. How did you vote at the election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

32,792. What did you get for your vote?—I received 2*l.* from Mr. Wilson Barker.

32,793. When did he pay you?—A day or two after the election.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

W. Burrow.

28 Sept. 1866.

32,794. Was that all you got?—Yes.

32,795. What are you?—A basket maker.

32,796. (Mr. Hill.) You received that from Mr. Wilson Barker?—Yes.

32,797. Were you on any committee?—No.

32,798. How had you always voted at former elections?—"Blue."

32,799. What were you paid 2*l.* for then?—For treatment and refreshments.

32,800. Had you been treating?—Yes.

32,801. You had been refreshing people?—Yes.

32,802. Did you pay any money out of your own pocket?—I did.

32,803. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you go to Mr. Wilson Barker and ask for the money?—I saw him and he told me to call the day after.

32,804. Where did you see him?—I do not know whether it was in Market Street or New Street.

32,805. Do you mean his own house?—No, I went to his own house the following day; he told me to call.

32,806. Did you ask him for money?—I did.

32,807. Why was that?—I had been down at Morecambe two or three times and I had been in the town.

32,808. Who told you to go there?—Well I do not know that anybody did. Mr. Hatch knew I was down there and so did Mr. Vince.

32,809. (Mr. Hill.) Where did you spend any money?—I spent money both at Morecambe and in Lancaster.

32,810. Where at Morecambe did you spend any money?—At Mrs. Willacy's.

32,811. That was an open house you know?—But there was nothing there when I was there.

32,812. When was that?—I was down twice before the nomination day, and I was down on the nomination day at night.

32,813. Do you mean to tell us that you spent 2*l.* exactly?—If I was to swear, it would be over 2*l.*, for I was down there several days and about the town too.

32,814. How much of it did you drink yourself?—Well, not a great deal.

32,815. Some little?—Yes, I drank a little of it.

32,816. Just enough to keep the others in countenance?—Well, perhaps so; I never do much at it.

32,817. Did you ever spend any money out of your own pocket?—I have done so frequently.

32,818. On what day did you spend money at Mrs. Willacy's?—I spent several shillings on the nomination day at night. There was no open house then, or if there was I knew nothing of it.

32,819. When else did you spend any money there?—I was there perhaps a day or two before.

32,820. What money did you spend there a day or two before?—I spent money both there and in other houses.

32,821. What money did you spend at Mrs. Willacy's a day or two before?—I might spend a few shillings.

32,822. Might means nothing. What money did you spend?—I should not spend less than 2*s.* or 3*s.*

32,823. I do not want to know what you should or should not spend; what money did you spend?—I do not know, I might say three or four shilings.

32,824. I do not want to know how much you could, would, should, or might spend, but how much money you did spend?—I should say half-a-crown at one time, and six or seven shillings at another. I was down at Morecambe two or three times before that.

32,825. (Mr. Newton.) Why on earth should you go to Morecambe?—I went after some voters.

32,826. Give us the name of any single voter that you treated?—I treated the Bonds.

32,827. What Bonds?—Thomas, Richard and George Bond, and there was others in that I did not know.

32,828. Who went down with you?—Nobody.

32,829. Did you go by railway or did you walk?—Sometimes I went by railway and sometimes I walked.

32,830. Who went to Morecambe with you?—I never went with anyone except a person from Liverpool. I always went by myself except on the nomination day at night.

32,831. It seems very unnecessary that you, a basket maker in Penny Street, Lancaster, should go to Morecambe. There was a captain appointed for Morecambe, and why should you go down there?—I had gone down many a time at other elections about voters and never asked for anything.

32,832. We are not concerned with other elections, but only with this at present. On what day did you get this money?—I cannot say, but it was a day or two after the election.

32,833. Was that the first time you ever mentioned money, when you spoke to Mr. Barker after the election?—I do not know, I think I might have spoken to somebody about it before.

32,834. What a rigmarole way of answering me that is. Had you spoken to Mr. Barker about it?—I had.

32,835. Before this time when he told you to call at his house?—I spoke to him and he told me to call the day following.

32,836. That was the only time you ever spoke to him about money?—Yes.

32,837. (Mr. Barstow.) On what day was it that you got this money?—It might be the day but one after the election.

32,838. On what day was it?—It was not on the nomination day, or the election day, or the day after.

32,839. Then Mr. Barker is wrong, for he says it was the election day?—But it was not, it was neither on the nomination day, the election day, or the day after. If Mr. Barker was here he would tell you the same thing, he would tell you that it was neither on the nomination day, nor the election day, nor the day after that.

32,840. We have it down that it was the 12th of July?—But it was not, and if Mr. Barker was here he would tell you the same.

32,841. I do not think he would?—I will swear it. I knew when I saw it in the account that it was wrong.

T. Ralph.

THOMAS RALPH sworn and examined.

32,842. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A painter.

32,843. Where?—In Lancaster.

32,844. Do you live in the New Road?—Yes.

32,845. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

32,846. What did you get?—10*l.*

32,847. From whom?—From Mr. Stanton.

32,848. What else did you get?—I got 2*l.* 5*s.* from George Danson.

32,849. What else did you get?—4*l.* from Mr. Coupland.

32,850. What was that for?—That was previous to the election.

32,851. What was it for?—For treating purposes.

32,852. To treat yourself among the number?—Decidedly.

32,853. What else did you get?—That was all.

W. Kelsall.

WILLIAM KELSALL recalled and further examined.

32,854. (Mr. Barstow.) Can you tell us anything about Joseph Kelsall, who is No. 504 on the register, and who is described as of Quernmore, husbandman?—He is living at the south of Ray near Bentham.

32,855. What money did he get?—I cannot say.

32,856. Yes you can, we shall have to send for him if you cannot tell us?—I cannot tell, I think Benjamin Mills can tell.

32,857. Is that all you can tell us about him?—Yes it is.

W. Kelsall

28 Sept. 186

32,858. He says he gave him 3*l.*?—I have heard people say he gave him 3*l.* but I never heard him say he got it.

32,859. Was he living with you at the time of the election?—No; at the time of the election he was living at Bentham.

32,860. Did he come over from Bentham to the election?—He came over from Bentham.

32,861. And had he to be paid his expenses?—I should think he had, there is no doubt about that I think.

32,862. What would be his expenses?—I cannot say.

32,863. 1*l.* or 10*s.*?—10*s.* would clear him I should think.

32,864. Is he an old man?—No, he is about 45 I think, he may be rather older than that.

32,865. How did he vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

32,866. Now about this other man, Thomas Kelsall of Quernmore, what do you know about him?—I do not know anything about him.

32,867. What did he get?—I cannot tell.

32,868. You know nothing about him?—No, I do not.

32,869. Where is he?—I think he is in the neighbourhood of Garston, but I cannot tell the place where he is at present, he lives with a son that lives down there.

32,870. Is the son a voter?—Yes, he is not at present, he is cut off.

32,871. Was he a voter in 1865?—I think not, I am not sure but I think not.

32,872. Was he paid by Mills too?—I cannot say.

32,873. Do any of the other Kelsall's know more about him than you do?—Thomas Kelsall of Moor Lane is his father.

32,874. Is he here?—He was here this morning, I do not see him now.

THOMAS AIREY sworn and examined.

T. Airey.

32,875. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A farmer.

32,876. Where do you live?—At Golgotha.

32,877. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

32,878. What did you get?—I received 7*l.*

32,879. Who gave it to you?—James Whiteside.

32,880. Anything else?—No.

32,881. You were on no committee?—No.

32,882. You are a farmer?—Yes.

32,883. How much do you farm?—About 50 acres.

32,884. What rent do you pay?—A little more than 200*l.* a year, but I have a partner.

32,885. Does he pay half the rent?—Yes.

32,886. He is not a voter is he?—No.

32,887. (Mr. Hill.) How much over 200*l.* is your rent?—It is very near 250*l.*

32,888. (Mr. Barstow) Why did you not say so at once; how much is it?—It is 250*l.*

32,889. What did you mean then by saying just now that it was a little over 200*l.*, when you knew very well that it was 250*l.*? (No answer.)

32,890. It shows that you have done a very disgraceful thing, and that you are anxious to conceal it. Is 7*l.* all you received?—Yes.

32,891. Who is Whiteside?—An innkeeper at Lancaster.

32,892. The "Wheatsheaf?"—Yes.

32,893. (Mr. Newton.) Is that all you got?—Yes.

32,894. Were you upon any committee?—No.

32,895. What did you get on the other side?—I never received a farthing but that.

32,896. When did they pay you the 7*l.*?—After I had voted.

32,897. When was that?—About 11 o'clock.

32,898. Who came to you to ask you to vote?—I was at the station when they asked me to vote. I was not thinking of voting for that side as I did vote.

32,899. On which side were you thinking of voting?—I thought of voting for the "Blues."

32,900. Why did you not vote for the "Blues"?—My landlord made such a noise.

32,901. (Mr. Barstow.) Who is your landlord?—The late Mr. Coulston.

32,902. Your landlord would not let you vote as you wished?—Would not let me? He could not have tied me altogether.

32,903. What do you mean by his making such a noise; you say your landlord made such a noise that you voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes; at least I had no particular political views, but our people had always voted for the "Blues."

32,904. Your landlord asked you to vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, two or three times.

32,905. Did you say you would not vote for Fenwick and Schneider unless you were paid?—No, I did not say so.

32,906. What did you say?—I could not say exactly about that.

32,907. Try and recollect?—I cannot recollect what I said.

32,908. But you can tell us what you told him in substance if you cannot give us the exact words?—I could not say.

32,909. What did you say when your landlord asked you to vote?—I promised him I would vote that road if I did vote.

32,910. What made you accept the money then?—I cannot say, I am sure.

32,911. You cannot say why you accepted it?—Money is useful.

32,912. (Mr. Barstow.) When did you begin to hold under Mr. Coulston?—We have lived under him 16 years.

32,913. Had you always voted for the Blues?—I never voted before.

32,914. Have you always had a vote before?—I never had a vote before.

32,915. (Mr. Newton.) What then did you mean by saying just now that you always voted "Blue" before?—I say my parents had.

32,916. (Mr. Barstow.) When did you see the late Mr. Coulston on the subject of the election?—I could not tell; it was in the hay time, that is all I know.

32,917. Did he come to your place?—Yes.

32,918. What did he say to you when he came?—I could not tell you what he said.

32,919. Where did you see him; in the house or in the field?—I believe I saw him in the field and he called me out of the field.

32,920. And what did he say to you?—He wished me to vote for that side.

32,921. Did he say, "Well Thomas, how are you "going to vote"?—I could not say for that, but he wished me to vote for that side.

32,922. You must remember something about what he said to you?—He wished me to vote for Schneider particularly.

32,923. Did you say you were unwilling to vote for Schneider?—No, I did not; I do not think I did.

32,924. He merely asked you to vote?—Yes, and then he sent two or three times after about it.

32,925. He came two or three times afterwards?—He did not come himself; he sent.

32,926. Whom did he send?—He sent Mr. Knowles; he lives at the Well House now.

32,927. How often did he send?—Either one or two times, I cannot say, but he sent.

32,928. If you told him in the first instance that you would vote for Schneider, why did he send afterwards?—I told him if I did vote at all I would vote for Schneider.

32,929. Afterwards, I suppose he wished to make you promise to vote for Schneider?—Yes.

32,930. Not that you would vote for him if you voted at all, but that you really would vote for him; was that so?—He sent word to me that he wished me

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

T. Airey.

28 Sept. 1866.

to vote that road if I did vote, and I never promised anybody as I would vote any road.

32,931. You never promised at all?—Not that I would vote in any way.

32,932. When your mind was in that state of suspense Mr. Whiteside came with his 7*l.* and decided the question?—No, he did not. I voted before I ever had a farthing offered.

32,933. You voted first and got the money afterwards?—Yes.

32,934. Did you vote in consequence of the solicitations of Mr. Coulston?—Yes, I did.

32,935. (Mr. Hill.) Did you hold all your land of Mr. Coulston?—Yes, all as I farm I do.

32,936. What did Mr. Knowles say when he came; did he tell you it would be better for you if you voted as Mr. Coulston wished?—He said, as Mr. Coulston had sent him and he wished me to vote that road.

32,937. What did he say would be the consequence of your not voting that road?—I could not say.

32,938. Yes you can?—I cannot.

32,939. What did he tell you would be the consequence of your not voting that way?—He never said there would be any consequence.

32,940. What did you understand from him would be the consequence of your not voting that way?—He did not state anything at all. I think not. I do not recollect it.

32,941. What did you understand would be the consequence of your not voting that way?—I do not think he said anything at all about it.

32,942. What did you think would be the consequence of your not voting that way?—I do not know; he was rather a peculiar man if he got out with anybody.

32,943. What do you mean when you say "he was "rather a peculiar man if he got out with anybody?" —I have heard it said that he was not good to manage for a landlord after.

32,944. He was bad to manage?—Yes. I mean this here; that he was not good to manage about farms.

32,945. How do you mean "he was not good to "manage about farms"?—He was ill-tempered.

32,946. In what way?—He fell out with his tenants.

32,947. In what way would he show his ill-temper with his tenants?—I do not know; I never had none with him.

32,948. Was it in consequence of this that you voted as you did?—Yes.

32,949. In fact, you were afraid of being turned out of your farm if you did not?—He could not have turned me out, but he could have been awkward.

32,950. A landlord can be "awkward" in a good many ways, can he not?—Yes.

32,951. Do you pay your rent pretty regularly?—Yes, I have generally been qualified for that.

J. Chambers.

JOHN CHAMBERS sworn and examined.

32,952. (Mr. Newton) Where do you live?—In Church Street.

32,953. How did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

32,954. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

32,955. Were you on any committee?—Yes, I was.

32,956. What did you get for being on the committee?—He sent for me about a month after and gave me 5*l.*

32,957. Who sent for you?—Mr. Gibson.

32,958. What did you do when you were on the committee?—I did my endeavour to get as many votes as possible.

32,959. Tell us what your endeavours were?—I attended in the committee, and went to the different places where they asked me to go and see if I could intercede with voters to get their votes.

32,960. You were like the rest of the people in Lancaster, looking after one another?—Very likely.

32,961. Was that all you got?—No, I got a little more.

32,962. How much more did you get?—I got 1*l.* from Mr. Storey for expenses.

32,963. What expenses did you incur?—I had expenses in going to intercede with voters.

32,964. Let us look at that paper which you have in your hand. (A paper is handed by the witness to the Commissioners). I see you received also 1*l.* 8*s.* from Jackson at the "White Horse?"—Yes; if you will allow me I will explain that to you.

32,965. You got 1*l.* from Storey and one month after the election you got 5*l.* for your services, for which you gave a receipt?—Yes.

32,966. You got 10*s.* also from Stanton?—Yes.

32,967. You therefore got 7*l.* 18*s.*?—That is right.

32,968. Now be good enough to say from whom you got that 7*l.* 18*s.*?—I got 5*l.* from Mr. Gibson; that was the last money I got; the first 28*s.* I got from Jackson; and other two gentlemen came to me with a conveyance and said I was to go to Morecambe.

32,969. Who paid for the carriage in which you were to go to Morecambe?—I do not know. I know I only paid the driver; that was on the day that Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider went down to address the electors at Morecambe.

32,970. Then you did not want to go there?—I was down there and was in at the "Joiners' Arms" when they came by with four horses in a coach, driving.

32,971. What about that?—I had got together as many voters as I could. I wanted to tell them something about Mr. Lawrence as they were going to tell the fishermen about Fenwick and Schneider.

32,972. How did you spend the 5*l.*?—I did not spend 5*l.* I got 5*l.* for my services.

32,973. What did you do at the "Black Bull?"—I paid some expenses there.

32,974. How much?—I could not say; they said that all the money was done.

32,975. Tell me how much you paid there?—I could not exactly say.

32,976. Was it 1*l.*?—I could not say.

32,977. Was it 1*l.*?—No, not so much.

32,978. Was it 15*s.*?—It was only 28*s.* altogether that I had, and I spent the greatea part of that in the "Joiners' Arms."

32,979. How much did you spend there?—I could not say exactly.

32,980. How much did you spend at the "Joiners' Arms?"—I might spend, we will say, about 15*s.*, more or less.

32,981. Did you, or did you not, spend 15*s.* in the "Joiners' Arms"?—I did, more or less. I could not say exactly. I had 28*s.* in my pocket when I commenced.

32,982. And how much had you in your pocket when you came away?—I cannot tell, but when I came to Lancaster I had 1*s.* 9*d.* I had to give a shilling to the driver; they said their money was done, and I had all the expenses to pay.

32,983. You put down 1*l.* 5*s.* for expenses at the "Joiners' Arms," what did you spend at the "Black Bull"?—I could not say.

32,984. Yes, you can; was it 10*s.*?—Not so much.

32,985. 7*s.*?—No, not so much.

32,986. 5*s.*?—No, not so much.

32,987. How much was it?—I could not say exactly.

32,988. I shall put it down half-a-crown?—Well, you may say about that and you will not be very far wrong.

32,989. I have no doubt about it; you were bribed and you received 7*l.* 18*s.* for your vote?—I did not get it for my vote.

32,990. (Mr. Barstow.) We are all of opinion that you did?—If you put it down in that way I think it is not exactly as it should be.

RICHARD WILLACY sworn and examined.

32,991. (Mr. Hill.) You are a freeman?—Yes.

32,992. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

32,993. What did you get?—10*l.*

32,994. From whom did you get it?—From William Maddock at Overton.

32,995. What else did you get?—30*s.* for being on the committee from George Danson.

32,996. And what else did you get?—One shilling from James Ellershaw.

32,997. 11*l.* 10*s.* was all you got?—11*l.* 11*s.*

32,998. Do you know anything about any person we have not heard of having been paid?—No, I do not.

THOMAS DEAN TOWNLEY sworn and examined.

32,999. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you remember on the morning of the last election meeting two men named Huntington and Ireland?—I do.

33,000. Where was that?—Adjoining my own premises in Market Street.

33,001. Had you any conversation with them?—Martin Ireland and his companion came up to me whilst I was standing.

33,002. Who was with you, or were you alone?—I was alone I think.

33,003. Martin Ireland and Huntington you say came up to you?—Yes.

33,004. Well?—He asked me if there was anything stirring.

33,005. What did you say to that; or what did he mean by it?—Martin Ireland said he should like a little matter for voting. I said "I have nothing to "do with money matters; but what do you call a "little matter?" And he said "5*l.* each."

33,006. They asked you for 5*l.* each?—Yes.

33,007. What did you do upon that?—I said I was taking no part in the election, but that I would go over to the committee room and see if I could find anyone who would treat with them I went out and met Mr. William Sharp at the entrance of the doorway, and to him I stated the case and went with him into the room.

33,008. Who did you see in the room?—Either two or three strangers.

33,009. Two or three strangers?—Yes, gentlemen; they were in the committee room at the "Royal Oak."

33,010. Were there no Lancaster people there?—None.

33,011. Was there no one there whom you knew?—Not one.

33,012. What did you say to the strangers?—Mr. Sharp stated that there were two men who wanted 5*l.* each outside.

33,013. Well?—I think the strangers among them had but 4*l.* 10*s.*, and Mr. Sharp advanced 3*l.* 10*s.*, and I went to my own premises for 2*l.* to make the 10*l.* complete.

33,014. Did you take the men across with you to your own premises?—Yes.

33,015. The money, then, altogether amounted to 10*l.*, and I suppose that some of your party gave it to Ireland?—Mr. William Sharp paid them.

33,016. (Mr. Hill.) Did you put the subscribed money into Mr. Sharp's hands?—Certainly.

33,017. What time in the morning was this?—A little after 11 o'clock.

33,018. Which room was it in; that is what I want to know?—Do you mean in the "Royal Oak" or in my own premises?

33,019. In the "Royal Oak?"—It was in a room upstairs.

33,020. Did you take this money out of a sort of box or casket?—Yes, my own cash box.

33,021. It was in a room upstairs?—Yes, at the "Royal Oak."

33,022. Was it the committee room?—Yes.

33,023. You say there were three or four persons there; were there three or four, so far as you remember?—Perhaps three.

33,024. Three strangers?—Yes.

33,025. How do you know that they only had 4*l.* 10*s.* among them. Did they pull it out of their pockets?—Yes.

33,026. Then it was gold and silver, I suppose?—I believe so.

33,027. As much as they could get together?—Yes.

33,028. Do you know Mr. Henry Threlfall Wilson by sight?—I do.

33,029. Was he one of the strangers?—No.

33,030. Are you sure?—Yes, certain.

33,031. Did you see any of those other Liverpool gentlemen when they were here in court?—I did not see one of them. I have not been in court before now.

33,032. And you did not hear any name mentioned?—No, I heard no name mentioned.

33,033. Did you pay anybody else?—No, I neither paid nor received.

33,034. How came you to go in for this transaction if this was the only one?—I can tell you; previous to Martin Ireland coming up to me I had been standing in company with Mr. Bell, the watchmaker, whose name will be familiar to you now. Mr. Blades passed down the street and called Mr. Bell on one side to speak privately to him. Mr. Bell returned to me and communicated to me what Mr. Blades had told him, that 25*l.* was the price in the committee room at that time; that that was the price they were paying.

33,035. Mr. Bell told you, as coming from Mr. Blades, that 25*l.* was the price, then?—Yes, and I made a reply and said, "It is all over, then." He very soon left me after that.

33,036. You said, "It is all over, then?"—"It is all over." He very soon left me after that, perhaps to go fishing with the 25*l.* bait. I do not know. It was after that that Martin Ireland came, and I thought that those two votes were very cheap in comparison with 25*l.* for one vote, and that was why I went. I thought I had got two votes very cheap.

33,037. To use your own phrase, it was a less expensive "bait?"—It was.

33,038. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

33,039. At what time in the day did you vote?—Half-past 8 in the morning.

33,040. (Mr. Hill.) How came you to vote for Lawrence and Fenwick; was it from friendship or politics?—Just friendship.

33,041. (Mr. Newton.) Were you on any committee?—No, but I am on intimate terms with Mr. Fenwick.

33,042. What are your political leanings, Liberal or Conservative?—Conservative.

33,043. And out of friendship for Mr. Fenwick you voted for him?—I did, and would do so again.

33,044. You got nothing yourself?—Certainly not, not a pennypiece, nor paid anybody.

33,045. Except these two men?—These men I did not pay.

33,046. You helped to do it?—Yes.

33,047. (Mr. Hill.) Did you get your 2*l.* back again?—I did not.

33,048. Have you ever applied for the repayment of it?—I have.

33,049. To whom have you applied?—Mr. Gibson.

33,050. Why has he not paid you?—I do not know.

33,051. How many times have you applied to him for it?—Not more than once.

33,052. You do not expect to receive it?—I do not.

33,053. You are willing to stand out of it?—I am.

33,054. Out of friendship for Mr. Fenwick?—Yes.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

W. T. Sharp.

28 Sept. 1866.

WILLIAM THOMAS SHARP sworn and examined.

33,055. (Mr. Newton.) You are a freeman?—I am.

33,056. You have heard the account that has been given by Mr. Townley; is it in substance true?—It is substantially correct; but there are some few small things which are not quite correct according to my remembrance. It is quite true that I met him at the door of the committee room or in the passage, and that we then went upstairs. He told me when I met him that these two men wished to vote and that they wanted 5*l.* each for their votes. I had known that more had been given, and it appeared to me that at that time they were tolerably cheap. We took them upstairs into the middle room and there saw Mr. H. T. Wilson. What Townley says, that he was not there, is not correct; he certainly was there, because I asked him about this, and he said, "Well, I do not "know I am sure; we are rather hard up for money "at present." He had collected what he could in the room. Who else was there I do not remember now; he turned round to me and said, "Have you got any money, Sharp?" I said, "Yes, I have a little of my own, but I have not very much." I said, "I have got thirty shillings in gold and some silver." He then said, "Never mind the silver; let me have the thirty shillings," and I gave him the 30*s.*

33,057. That means a sovereign and 10*s.*?—One sovereign and half a sovereign. Townley says the money was handed to me. I do not think it was, but I do not consider that that makes any material difference, for the money was certainly taken over by one or the other. My impression was that it was Mr. Townley out of Mr. Townley's counting-house.

33,058. Did Mr. Wilson say anything about going to get money elsewhere?—I think not; not to my recollection.

33,059. Why was it that you went out with Townley, then?—I do not know; the only thing I know is that we did go, and that Townley in his counting-house made up the remainder of the money whatever it was. I do not remember what the balance was. All I know is, that I gave 30*s.* out of my own pocket towards it.

33,060. Did this gentleman, Mr. Wilson, give you 4*l.* 10*s.*?—I do not know what he gave me at all; all I know is, that I took 30*s.* out of my pocket and gave it to Mr. Wilson, and the balance, whatever it was, was made up by Townley.

33,061. It might have been 3*l.* 10*s.* from the four gentlemen and 4*l.* 10*s.* from Mr. Townley?—For anything I know it might have been.

33,062. And then these two men were paid?—They were paid at Mr. Townley's office, 5*l.* each.

33,063. Who else was at the committee-room besides Mr. Wilson?—I do not remember now.

33,064. Cannot you call to mind?—No; the only person with whom I had any conversation on the subject was Mr. Wilson; my impression is that in that room there were a great many more people than three or four, as Mr. Townley states, for it was in the middle room at the top of the stairs, and there were generally a number of people in that room.

33,065. Had you been in the habit of going up into that room?—Yes, it was quite a general room.

33,066. Where was this money; was it on the table?—No, it was brought out of their pockets; Mr. Wilson got it from somewhere.

33,067. Had there been any paying going on in this committee-room that morning?—I do not know that there had been in that particular room, there had been at the house certainly.

33,068. But not in that room?—Not that I am aware of; I think not, I believe that some men had been paid on the stairs just above, just close to that room, but I do not know of any particular case in that room.

33,069. Had you yourself taken any active part in the election?—I had nothing to do with the election until the night of the nomination. On the nomination day I was told by Mr. Wilson that it was thought that I might do some good with the voters at Halton. I live in the parish of Halton, and I was to go, if I would, to the Conservative house at Halton that night.

33,070. What is the sign of the house?—The sign of the house I believe is the "White Lion," it is kept by Mr. Robert Clark; there is no sign up now, but I believe that that is the sign. I went there that night. Mr. Wilson had told me when he saw me that I should there find John King of Slyne; I went there and I found him and the voters were there, they were drinking and that sort of thing, and I stayed for a short time.

33,071. Did you make any speech?—No, I did not.

33,072. It would have been of no use perhaps if you had?—Yes; we polled 14 out of 16 at Halton, John King and I were in one room, and the voters came in and there was a conversation as to how they were going to vote; these men said they would poll for me, but I very soon discovered that they would not poll merely for my sake, they wanted something into their pockets, and they named their price and I said, "Well, I have nothing to do with the money, "you must come to the committee-room in the "morning," because that is what Mr. Wilson had told me, he said, "If the men want any money you must "bring them to the committee-room, and there will be a "man to pay them." I went about 8 and left a little after 9, and went there again about 6 six in the morning and got all the voters together; I then rode in on horseback, and John King with two staff men brought them up to the committee-room, and there they were paid. I have seen an account in the papers of what some of them received, and I took a note as I went along, for I found that some of them had been paid twice. I have a list here (producing it).

33,073. Tell us their names?—Joseph Bond Richmond, he seems to have received 5*l.* from Edward Mashiter, I think; he also got 10*l.* from George Danson.

33,074. He has told us that this morning?—I did not hear it. Then Martin Ireland and Henry Huntington when I saw William Atkinson's evidence of Skerton, it struck me immediately about this 5*l.* that they had each got at Mr. Townley's office; I saw that they had each got 15*l.* each from Atkinson. Then what else I have down on this list is, I received some money after the election I received about a month or six weeks after the election either 30*s.* or 2*l.* (I do not know which) from Mr. Gibson to pay three staff men with, I think it was 1*l.* 10*s.*; I can give you the names of the staff men if you wish it. Then in February, 1866, I received 10*l.* 11*s.* from Mr. Wilson Barker to pay Robert Clark's bill; he has put it down I see direct to Robert Clark, but I paid it; he gave me the money and I paid it.

33,075. That was on the 27th of February?—I thought it was about February I was not sure.

33,076. And you paid that?—I paid that and gave Mr. Barker the receipt.

33,077. Anything more?—No, I think not.

33,078. (Mr. Hill.) Is that all you have voted up there?—Yes.

33,079. Did you get back your 30*s.*?—I did not, I have never asked for it.

33,080. You are still that out of pocket?—I am.

33,081. Where did Mashiter get the 5*l.* that he paid to Richmond?—I do not know; all I know about Mashiter's 5*l.* is from seeing it in the paper and seeing the evidence he had given. When I saw that it struck me that he had received 15*l.*, whereas he ought only to have received 10*l.* in common honesty. He had been paid twice instead of once; he had made himself out worse than there was any necessity for.

33,082. Worse than he really was?—No, I do not say that.

33,083. Is that all that you recollect as to what took place?—Yes, I do not know of anything else.

33,084. You are not aware of any occurrence connected with the election that we do not know of?—I know there was a considerable amount of paying going going on at the committee-room.

33,085. Have you read through the evidence generally carefully?—I have generally read it every day.

33,086. Can you call to mind any name you know of that we have not had before us?—No, I think not. Mr. Danson or Mr. Wollaston gave you the whole of the Halton voters that were paid; they were paid by either one or other of them, and I saw they gave you the whole of those voters, and those were the only voters in fact that I knew much about.

33,087. Who paid the other two Halton men?—Do you mean the other two that voted against us?

33,088. Yes.—One of them is a Mr. James Gardner, a solicitor who was retained for Fenwick and Schneider, and I suppose he voted, and the other is Robert Pedder. Mr. Smith was the captain there; they are both of the same religion, and I think they voted one with the other.

33,089. Have you accounted for all the other 14?—I think you will find all the other 14 voted for Lawrence. I think Mr. Joseph Smith said he had given Pedder 7*l.*; it is Joseph Smith, a corn dealer. He has a farm at Halton; he was called three weeks ago, I think.

33,090. You think that is all you can tell us?—I do not remember anything more. If I remember anything more I shall be very glad to tell you. I will think it over, and if I can think of anything more I will come up to-morrow.

JOHN BATESON sworn and examined.

J. Bateson.

33,091. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Lodge Street.

33,092. Are you a voter?—No.

33,093. What part did you take in the last election?—Very little indeed. I went down to Snatcham's on the night before the election with another party to fetch up a voter.

33,094. What voter was that?—James Woodman.

33,095. Did you bring him up?—I brought him up in the morning.

33,096. Did you pay him?—No, Richard Coupland paid him.

33,097. Did you see anybody paid that night?—No.

33,098. Did you on the next day, the election day?—Yes.

33,099. Who?—I saw Martin Ireland and a man named Huntington paid.

33,100. Have you been in court while we have heard the account that has been given to us of the transaction?—No, I have not. I have only just come in.

33,101. Where did you meet these two men?—In Market Street.

33,102. You saw them go into Mr. Townley's, and receive the money?—Yes.

33,103. You were present?—Yes.

33,104. Did you go into the committee-room?—No, I did not.

33,105. Besides that, had you anything to do with the election?—No.

33,106. Those were the only two transactions in which you were engaged?—Yes.

33,107. Have you anything further to add?—No.

RICHARD BOOTH sworn and examined.

R. Booth.

33,108. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A smith.

33,109. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence and Fenwick.

33,110. Did you get any money?—No.

33,111. None at all?—No, not for voting.

33,112. Did you get any money at all during the election?—I got a sovereign of William Storey before the election, about a week or a fortnight before.

33,113. Go on?—Nothing more.

33,114. What did you do with the sovereign?—I spent it in different places.

33,115. Did you go about to pot-houses treating the voters?—Yes, I did my best gathering them up together.

33,116. And you really tell us that that is all you know?—Yes.

33,117. What did you do on the election day?—Getting voters to go up to vote.

33,118. Did you assist in paying any voters?—No.

33,119. You did not take them to any of these Liverpool gentlemen?—No.

33,120. Where did you take them, I mean the voters?—To the "White Horse."

33,121. In Church Street?—Yes. I was there all night.

33,122. You were there all the night of the 11th of July?—The night before the election day.

33,123. What were you doing there?—I was keeping the voters together.

33,124. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not get any money for all that?—No.

33,125. Were you on the committee?—Yes.

33,126. Were you not paid for being on the committee?—No. I had spent a few shillings; William Storey said that he did not wish me to be anything out, and he would give me that and it would be part towards my expenses.

33,127. You had not spent altogether 1*l.*?—Yes, I had, and more too.

33,128. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A smith.

33,129. Had you taken an active part in the previous election?—This was the first time that I had taken an active part.

33,130. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not see any people paid?—No.

WILLIAM HARLING sworn and examined.

W. Harling.

33,131. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A mechanic.

33,132. Are you a master or a journeyman?—A journeyman.

33,133. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,134. Did you get anything for your vote?—Yes.

33,135-6. How much?—8*l.*

33,137. Who paid you?—Alfred Tinker.

33,138. Were you on any committee?—No.

33,139. Did you get anything else besides the 8*l.*?—No.

33,140. That is all?—That is all.

33,141. And that is all you have got to tell us?—Yes.

33,142. Do you know anything about Thomas Harling?—Yes, I should know something about him, he is my cousin.

33,143. Is he a voter?—Yes.

33,144. How did he vote?—I really do not know, not to be certain.

33,145. What did he get for his vote?—I don't know that neither.

33,146. Did he get anything?—I believe he did.

33,147. From whom?—I cannot say.

33,148. Why not?—Because I don't know.

33,149. He has told you?—I never spoke to him about it.

33,150. You have heard?—I have not.

33,151. If you do not tell us he will have to come?—I cannot help it. I cannot tell you that. I don't know.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

28 Sept. 1866.

J. Myers.

JOHN MYERS sworn and examined.

33,152. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I keep the "Green Dragon" in Cheapside.

33,153. Are you upon the register?—I believe I should be.

33,154. Are you or are you not?—I do not know.

33,155. Did you vote at the last election?—I did not.

33,156. I suppose the reason why you did not vote was that you were not on the register then?—I was not entitled to a vote.

33,157. What had you to do with the last election?—I had nothing to do with the election.

33,158. Did you pay anybody?—Not one.

33,159. Was your house taken by either side?—Yes; Mr. Booth, the spirit merchant, gave me 6*l.* for the use of my house.

33,160. Had you any bill at your house for refreshments?—I got 3*l.* 4*s.* for refreshments.

33,161. And was there anything spent at your house besides?—That was all, but it was out of Mr. Booth's own pocket; at least, he told me that he never received a halfpenny of it.

33,162. Have you anything more to tell us?—No. That is all.

D. Black.

DAVID BLACK sworn and examined.

33,163. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Borrowdale Road, Lancaster?—Yes.

33,164. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,165. Did you get any money?—Not a farthing.

33,166. Were you on any committee?—On no committee.

33,167. You had nothing for assisting anybody?—Nothing.

T. Bailey.

THOMAS BAILEY sworn and examined.

33,168. (Mr Newton.) You are a householder, and you live in Ulleswater Road?—I did. I live now in Derwent Road.

33,169. How did you vote at the election in 1865?—For Lawrence.

33,171. That you are prepared to swear?—Yes.

33,172. Did you get anything for the purposes of the election?—Not a farthing.

33,173. Did you know anything about it?—No.

33,174. (Mr. Hill.) Did you give anything to anybody?—No.

W. Bibby.

WILLIAM BIBBY sworn and examined.

33,175. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At the Pointers.

33,176. Scotforth?—I believe it is in the borough. I believe I was living in Scotforth at the time I was put on the register.

33,177. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Lawrence.

33,178. What did you get?—5*l.*

33,179. From whom?—From Mr. Halstead.

33,180. What else did you get?—Nothing.

33,181. Is that all?—That is all.

33,182. What part did you take in the election?—I took none.

33,183. What are you?—A farmer.

33,184. What is your rental?—At that time it was about 41*l.* a year. That is at the time I was put on the register, but I have taken a little more this back end.

T. Bickerstaff.

THOMAS BICKERSTAFF sworn and examined.

33,185. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A flower dealer.

33,186. Are you a householder?—Yes.

33,187. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,188. Did you get any money?—No.

33,189. Do you mean to say you got none at all?—None whatever.

33,190. Were you on no committee?—No.

33,191. Did you render no services?—None whatever. I took no part in it.

A. Clark.

ANTHONY CLARK sworn and examined.

33,192. (Mr. Newton.) You are a silk spinner and live in Lodge Street?—Yes.

33,193. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,194. What did you get for your vote?—Well, I received 19*l.* 10*s.* altogether from the commencement.

33,195. Who paid you?—Edward Johnson and Baines.

33,196. How much did you get for your vote in the first instance?—I do not know. I was sub-captain to Edward Johnson, and I was working three weeks previous to the election every night, and during the election, and I spent a good deal of money during the time through it.

33,197. And you got 19*l.* 10*s.* paid you?—Yes.

33,198. How much of that did you put in your own pocket?—I kept 12*l.* in hand.

33,199. You consider then that you sold your vote and services for 12*l.*?—Well, it may be so.

33,200. And you got 7*l.* 10*s.* for treating?—Yes.

33,201. Who besides Edward Johnson paid you the money?—Mr. Baines from Barrow.

33,202. He paid you for the vote?—Yes.

33,203. And Johnson paid you for the treating? Was that it?—Yes.

33,204. What did Baines give you?—10*l.*

33,205. And what did Johnson give you?—9*l.* 10*s.*

33,206. (Mr. Hill.) Did you spend 7*l.* 10*s.* in treating?—I paid three committee-men 10*s.* each on the nomination day, and 10*s.* I paid for refreshments for the committee the day after the election, and the rest I spent during three weeks in treating voters and non-voters.

33,207. Did you spend 5*l.* in that way?—Yes, I should say I did.

T. Ball.

THOMAS BALL sworn and examined.

33,208. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A ship-broker.

33,209. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,210. What did you receive?—Nothing.

33,211. Were you on any committee?—On no committee. I was engaged as a poll-clerk. That is all.

33,212. You got a guinea as poll-clerk?—Yes.

33,213. You ought to have told us that?—I thought you meant with reference to the vote.

33,214. What did you get with reference to anything else besides the guinea?—Nothing at all.

33,215. Who appointed you poll-clerk?—I think it was Mr. Tilly or Mr. Maxted, I am not quite sure which.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

W. Kelsall.

28 Sept. 1866.

WILLIAM KELSALL sworn and examined.

33,216. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a householder?—Yes.

33,217. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,218. Did you get anything for your vote?—No.

33,219. Nothing at all?—Nothing at all.

33,220. Were you on no committee?—No.

33,221. You rendered no services?—No.

33,222. Did you do nothing except go to the poll and vote?—No.

R. Altham.

ROBERT ALTHAM sworn and examined.

33,223. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,224. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

33,225. Did you get anything for being on any committee?—No; I was not on any committee at all.

33,226. Did you give any assistance at the election?—Not at all.

33,227. Nothing?—No.

33,228. You had nothing to say to it except voting?—No; nothing.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Saturday, 29th September 1866.

PRESENT:

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON. | Mr. HILL.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY.

H. Knowles.

29 Sept. 1866.

HENRY KNOWLES sworn and examined.

33,229. (Mr. Barstow.) You live on Castle Hill?—Yes.

33,230. For whom did you vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,231. What money did you get?—8*l.*

33,232. Who paid you?—Isaac Vickers.

33,233. Did you not get anything else?—No.

33,234. Have you read Vickers' evidence?—Yes.

33,235. Does he mention having paid you?—Yes.

T. E. Whittaker.

THOMAS EARLE WHITTAKER sworn and examined.

33,236. (Mr. Newton.) You are a tailor and draper?—Yes.

33,237. Of Church Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

33,238. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,239. Did you get anything for your vote?—No, I think I was a little out of pocket.

33,240. In what way?—I received 10*l.* 5*s.* altogether for the purposes of the election.

33,241. From whom did you receive it?—5*l.* from Mr. William Storey, who has accounted for it; 5*l.* from Mr. Richard Coupland, who has not accounted for it; and 5*s.* from a man named Connor, who said that he gave me 10*s.* for assistance.

33,242. Altogether 10*l.* 5*s.*?—Yes.

33,243. How did you spend that 10*l.* 5*s.*?—I gave to the wife of a man named John Parkinson 9*l.*

33,244. Is he a voter?—He is a voter.

33,245. Do you know his number?—I do not.

33,246. Does he live in George Street?—It is just out of Marton Street; he is a grocer.

33,247. Is it the man No. 1,262 on the register who is described as of George Street, Lancaster?—I think it must be George Street.

33,248. How did you spend the rest of the money?—I paid 16*s.* 8*d.* for beer and spirits sent into the house to keep him in the house. I have the vouchers here (handing two papers to the Commissioners). I spent also some 10*s.* or 12*s.* down at Morecambe. I was down there about three times.

33,249. How came you to go to Morecambe?—I was asked by several parties to go down there.

33,250. What are you?—A tailor and draper.

33,251. That is the way in which you spent the 10*l.* 5*s.*?—Yes.

33,252. You received nothing for yourself?—Certainly not.

33,253. Neither for your vote nor for your assistance?—Certainly not.

W. T. Sharp.

WILLIAM THOMAS SHARP recalled and further examined.

33,254. (Mr. Barstow.) We understand that you wish to make some addition to your evidence?—Yes; you asked me yesterday whether I remembered anybody being paid in the room at the "Royal Oak." I did not at the moment remember it, but in the course of the evening I thought of three men who I feel satisfied were paid in that room.

33,255. (Mr. Newton.) That was on the day of the polling?—On the day of the polling; Richard Thornton.

33,256. (Mr. Hill.) Which of them?—He is a farmer at Halton. Thomas Norman and William Garnett.

33,257. You say they were paid in the room at the "Royal Oak?"—Yes; with regard to William Garnett, I may say that I was going out of the committee-room and I met him in the square opposite the committee-room; and I said, "Well, William, have you voted yet?" He said, "No." I said, "Very well, then, come along and I will take you to vote;" he said, "Well, but I want my day's wage." I said "How much do you want?" and he said, "A couple of sovereigns," and then he went into the committee-room and got it in that room.

33,258. You saw him get it?—I believe I did.

33,259. Who paid him?—I believe Danson paid him.

33,260. How much do you think Thornton got?—Thornton got 10*l.*

33,261. Who paid him?—I think Danson, but I will not be sure; and Norman also got 10*l.*

33,262. Yesterday the only person you could recollect as being in that room was Mr. Wilson?—Yes, but I believe now that when Mr. Townley and I went there we went into the committee-room and not finding Mr. Wilson there we went into the room where Wollaston was, and that would account for Mr. Townley saying that there were some strangers in the room.

33,263. Is there anything else that you wish to mention?—No, I do not know of anything else at all.

33,264. What time in the day was it when these

29 Sept. 1866.

W. T. Sharp.

three men went up?—Some time before noon; between 10 and 11 I should say.

33,265. Was it before you took up the other two men?—Yes, before we took up the other two men. I may mention that these men Thornton, Norman, and these Halton men did not increase their price to 10*l.* till they got into town in the morning; the night before, when I had the conversation with them, they asked 5*l.* or 6*l.*, or something of that sort.

33,266. And when they got into the town they found the price the votes were going at?—Yes.

33,267. And then they rose to 10*l.*?—Yes. I may say as I am here that I received nothing at all for myself, or anything of that sort.

33,268. I did not ask you the question previously; you were not a voter?—Yes, I was; I voted.

J. Wimpray.

JOHN WHIMPRAY sworn and examined.

33,269. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A druggist.

33,270. Where?—In Lancaster, in Market Street.

33,271. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,272. What did you get?—Nothing.

33,273. Nothing at all?—Nothing at all.

33,274. Did you give anybody anything?—No.

33,275. Were you on any committee?—No, I take no interest in elections; I merely give my vote.

33,276. Do you always vote Yellow?—I have done so for the last 20 years I think.

T. Hardacre.

THOMAS HARDACRE sworn and examined.

33,277. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In St. Leonard Gate.

33,278. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

33,279. What did you get?—8*l.* 15*s.*

33,280. How did you get it?—I got 8*l.* from Mr. William King and 5*s.* from Edward Johnson.

33,281. And who did you get the other 10*s.* from?—William Jackson.

33,282. Is that all you got?—Yes.

33,283. Did you receive nothing from Lawrence's people?—No. I was working at Blackpool during the time of the election.

33,284. Then it would be in part for your journey from Blackpool?—Yes.

33,285. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A stone mason.

33,286. A master mason?—No, a journeyman.

33,287. You are a householder?—Yes.

33,288. What is the value of your house?—10*l.*

33,289. Only just 10*l.*?—Just 10*l.*

M. Harrison.

MICHAEL HARRISON sworn and examined.

33,290. (Mr. Newton.) Do you live in St. George's Quay?—Yes.

33,291. What are you?—An actuary.

33,292. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,293. What did you get for so voting?—Nothing.

33,294. Did you interest yourself in the election in any way?—I was deputy mayor in the Town Hall polling booth and was paid two guineas.

33,295. Did you get anything else?—Nothing.

33,296. Nothing whatever?—Nothing.

33,297. Did you treat anybody?—Nobody.

33,298. Or bribe anybody?—No.

33,299. (Mr. Hill.) At which polling booth were you engaged?—The Town Hall.

33,300. Which number was that?—No. 1.

33,301. Did you see anything of any parties coming to try personation?—I do not think there was any.

33,302. You do not recollect your attention being called to it?—I have some slight recollection of one attempt but I cannot call it to my mind.

33,303. At all events it never got to actual personation?—No.

33,304. Was the oath administered to anyone?—No.

33,305. If it had been you probably would have remembered it?—Yes, and I should have made a memorandum of it at the time.

R. Bond.

RICHARD BOND sworn and examined.

33,306. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—Clerk to the Lancaster Local Board of Health.

33,307. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

33,308. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the last election?—No.

33,309. Did you pay any person?—No.

33,310. You did not take as much interest then as the clerk to the Board of Health at Morecambe?—No.

33,311. Had you nothing to do with the election?—I was above it literally; I got on to the highest hill I could find and stopped there the whole day of the nomination, and walked into the town the next morning to give my vote. I never got into a carriage, I never got a glass of beer, and never went into a public-house, and in fact I had nothing whatever to do with the election beyond giving my vote.

33,312. You had nothing further to do with the election?—Nothing at all.

T. Barrow.

THOMAS BARROW affirmed and examined.

33,313. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A woollen draper.

33,314. Of Market Street?—Yes.

33,315. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,316. Did you get any money in the course of the election?—No, I did not.

33,317. Were you on no committee?—No, I was not on any committee,

33,318. Did you take any part in the election beyond voting?—No, I did not.

A. Barrow.

AGNES BARROW sworn and examined.

33,319. (Mr. Newton.) What is your husband's name?—Edward Barrow.

33,320. Where does he live?—In Anchor Street.

33,321. In Lancaster?—Yes.

33,322. Do you know how he voted at the election in 1865?—Yes.

33,323. How?—He voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

33,324. Did he get any money for his vote?—13*l.*

33,325. How do you know that?—He told me he got it.

33,326. From whom did he tell you he had got it?—From Mr. John Bleasdale, of Penny Street.

33,327. Where is your husband now?—He is working at Glasson dock.

33,328. Do you know whether he got any more than 13*l.*?—No, he did not.

33,329. (Mr. Hill.) Are you on good terms with your husband?—Yes.

33,330. (Mr. Newton.) Does he know of your coming here?—No, only I received the summons, and he is not here.

33,331. He is a mariner, of Penny Street?—Yes.

33,332. Did he get the whole of the 13*l.* from Bleasdale?—He told me he got it from Bleasdale.

33,333. Did he get the whole of it from Bleasdale?—I heard him say that 13*l.* came from Bleasdale, and that the other 3*l.* came from a man named Marsden.

JOHN HARRISON sworn and examined.

33,334. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Church Street.

33,335. Are you a householder?—Yes.

33,336. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,337. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the last election?—No, not anything.

33,338. Did you take much interest in the election?—No, none whatever.

33,339. And you had nothing to do with it beyond recording your vote?—No.

JOHN WHITTAM sworn and examined.

33,340. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you of Lodge Street, Lancaster, cabinet maker?—Yes.

33,341. Did you not vote at the last election?—No.

33,342. Did you receive any money for not voting?—No.

EDWARD WINDER sworn and examined.

33,343. (Mr. Newton.) You are a book-keeper on Castle Hill?—Yes.

33,344. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,345. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

33,346. That you are certain of?—Positive.

33,347. Did you get anything for any assistance you rendered?—I had nothing whatever to do with the election in any shape or form.

33,348. Then you recorded your vote voluntarily?—I did.

WILLIAM WARBRICK sworn and examined.

33,349. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a householder?—Yes.

33,350. In the Ulswater Road?—Yes.

33,351. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

33,352. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of the last election?—I did.

33,353. What?—2*l.* on the morning of the election.

33,354. Who from?—Mr. Thomas Harrison.

33,355. What other money did you receive?—About a month after the election Mr. Edward Riley sent word that he wanted me, and when I saw him he asked me what he would be in my debt for assisting at the election. I said I did not know; and he said he would see about it, and a week afterwards he sent to me and gave me two sovereigns.

33,356. Did you receive any more money?—No.

33,357. How did you expend that 4*l.*?—The first 2*l.* Mr. Harrison gave me at the "Plough Inn." I was upon the committee with him, and he left it at 7 o'clock in the morning for me to expend on the voters there while he went to the "Wheatsheaf." We had no account there, we paid as we went on.

33,358. Was not the "Plough" an open house?—No.

33,359. Who kept it?—John Wearden.

33,360. He had a bill you know?—But I paid as I went on.

33,361. What did you spend the 2*l.* upon?—I did not spend it all at the "Plough."

33,362. How much did you spend there?—Perhaps about 15*s.*

33,363. In what?—In spirits and beer.

33,364. Where did you go then?—To the "Wheatsheaf."

33,365. That was an open house?—Yes.

33,366. Then you did not spend anything there?—Yes, I spent 3*s.* 4*d.*; whatever I ordered I paid for.

33,367. Where did you go to then?—To the "Old Sir Simons."

33,368. That was an open house, too?—Yes, but I always paid for everything I got.

33,369. Why should you pay for what you ordered if it was an open house?—I did not know that it was an open house.

33,370. But you knew the "Wheatsheaf" was an open house?—I did not.

33,371. Where else did you spend any money?—Nowhere.

33,372. Then you spent 18*s.* 4*d.* altogether?—No, I spent some at the "Old Sir Simons."

33,373. How much?—Perhaps 5*s.*

33,374. Did you spend anything else at all?—Yes, on the nomination day at night.

33,375. How much did you spend then?—Perhaps 15*s.*

33,376. Did you spend anything else at all?—Yes, sundry few shillings every night.

33,377. But the committee bills were being paid I never received anything.

33,378. Did you send in any claim to Edward Riley?—I did not.

33,379. Did you tell him that you were money out pocket?—I did.

33,380. When?—The first time he sent for me, perhaps three weeks after the election.

33,381. Who was Riley?—A grocer, in Moore Lane.

33,382. When did you tell him you were money out of pocket?—He sent to my father's to say he wanted to see me, and when I saw him he asked me what he was in debt. I said I was a few shillings out of pocket. He said, "I am aware of that. Can you tell me what it was?" I said, "I cannot exactly." He said, "You had better call again;" so I called in afterwards, and he said, "Here is two sovereigns for you. Will that do for you?"

33,383. Had you made up your mind then how much he owed you?—I had not.

33,384. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you receive anything from Moser?—I did not.

33,385. Are you quite sure you did not receive anything from Moser?—Positive.

33,386. And you have told us of all the money you received?—Yes.

33,387. (Mr. Hill.) What are you by trade?—A stonemason.

33,388. A master mason?—No, a foreman. There is another William Warbrick. He is no relation of mine.

33,389. Had you ever voted at elections before?—Yes, I voted for Mr. Fenwick in Fenwick and Saunders's election.

33,390. What did you get then?—Nothing.

33,391. Did you expend any money then?—No, I did not.

33,392. Who told you to go on spending money?—Mr. Thomas Cleminson.

VENTY-
TH DAY.
Rawlinson.
pt. 1866.

Edward Rawlinson sworn and examined.

33,393. (Mr. Barstow.) You used to be an attorney practising in this town?—Yes.

33,394. We have heard that you received 10*l.* at the last election from Isaac Vickers?—Yes.

33,395. Is that all you have received?—Yes.

33,396. How did you vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider. It has been stated that I refused to vote unless I was paid. That I deny. I had voted for the Liberals before, and I should have voted for them now whether I had been paid or not.

. Bland.

James Bland sworn and examined.

33,397. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A farmer and butcher.

33,398. Are you a householder or a freeman?—A householder.

33,399. Of Penny Street?—Yes.

33,400. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,401. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

33,402. What assistance did you give towards furthering the election?—I received 10*l.* to buy a man to vote.

33,403. From whom did you get the 10*l.*?—From John Bleasdale.

33,404. Who did you buy?—I did not buy him, it was John Earnshaw that I tried to buy.

33,405. Did you buy his vote?—No.

33,406. Why not?—I could not; he voted for Lawrence and got 12*l.*

33,407. Of course you returned the money?—Yes.

33,408. To whom did you return it?—To Bleasdale.

33,409. When did you return the money?—On the day of the election.

33,410. At what time?—About 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

33,411. Where was he?—At my house.

33,412. Who saw you do it?—I cannot say.

33,413. Yes, you can. Who saw you return the money to Bleasdale?—I do not know whether anyone else saw me, but my own family.

33,414. Tell us the name of anyone of your family who saw the money returned?—My wife.

33,415. Why did you say just now you did not know that anybody saw you return it?—I thought my wife had nothing to do with me as a witness against me.

33,416. Why did you say nobody saw you return the money when you now say that your wife saw it?—I mean any person that might be a witness against me.

33,417. Why did you say just now that nobody saw you return the money when you now tell me that your wife saw it?—That was my meaning; I did not think my wife could be a witness against me.

33,418. What was Bleasdale doing in your house at 2 o'clock on the day of the election?—I do not know; he many a time called in.

33,419. What was he doing?—Talking about the election.

33,420. What was he talking about with reference to the election at 2 o'clock on the day of the election? Did he come there to get back the 10*l.* from you?—Very likely.

33,421. What was he doing there?—Nothing particular.

33,422. What time did you vote?—At 9 in the morning.

33,423. At what time did you get the 10*l.* from Bleasdale?—On the nomination day.

33,424. Who is this John Earnshaw?—He is a butcher.

33,425. (Mr. Barstow.) What did Bleasdale give you altogether?—10*l.*

33,426. Nothing more?—No.

33,427. Did you receive any money from anybody except Bleasdale?—No.

33,428. Not a farthing?—No.

33,429. (Mr. Hill.) Did not Bleasdale give you 2*l.* on the day of the election?—He gave me 2*l.* back when I gave him the 10*l.*

33,430. What was that 2*l.* for?—For my services.

33,431. In what?—In running up and down trying to get votes for Fenwick and Schneider.

. Grant.

James Grant sworn and examined.

33,432. (Mr. Barstow.) Before I examine you I will state that the Commissioners are much obliged to you for having sent them a very good account of the statistics of the borough. What are you?—I am clerk to the Guardians of Lancaster Union; the superintendent registrar of births, deaths, and marriages for the Lancaster district, and clerk to the Assessment Committee of the Lancaster Union, I have been in the service of the union about 27 years.

33,433. You were engaged I believe in preparing the electoral statistics that were required by the Government in December last year, for the purpose of the Reform Bill?—I prepared most of those which were required by the Government, but there were many others besides those prepared in December.

33,434. I see that in your paper you give us as the number of 10*l.* householders who are on the freemens register of 1865-6, and are not upon the householders register, as 170?—Yes.

33,435. And you give the number of 10*l.* tenements in the borough as 1,303?—Yes.

33,436. Can you give us also the number of those freemen who hold 10*l.* tenements, but are nevertheless on the freemen's register?—About 170.

33,437. Can you give us their names or their numbers on the register?—I could do so in a short time; I think I have them marked.

33,438. (Mr. Newton.) I understand you to say that there are 170 freemen who live in 10*l.* houses?—170 on the freemen's list who are 10*l.* householders.

33,439. (Mr. Barstow.) Will you be good enough at some time to supplement this statement of yours by reading us that list?—I will.

33,440. (Mr. Newton.) I think we were told that there are about eight double entries?—Yes.

33,441. Three in one list and five in the other?—Yes, I think those are the numbers.

33,442. (Mr. Hill.) I see you have another paper before you. Have you anything to add to the information you have already given us?—I did not add on the list I have given you the number of working men on the freemen's list and on the householders list; I do not know that it is important.

33,443. Can you give it now?—Yes; with reference to the register of last year—1865-6, the freemen were 608.

33,444. What do you intend by the term "working men?"—There were instructions given by the Poor Law Board upon that subject, and it was a matter requiring a large amount of care and knowledge. Generally speaking, a working man is assumed to be a person who was chiefly maintained by wages earned by his own labour.

33,445. Those wages, I presume, being of the character of weekly wages?—Yes, I should say hand labour.

33,446. Would you call a book-keeper, earning a guinea a week, a working man?—If he were a very common kind of book-keeper, almost a messenger, I should. Such a man as Dobson, Mr. Maxsted's clerk, who got 35*s.* a week, I should not call a working man. A man also was regarded as a working man if his wife kept a shop, he himself working at hand work.

33,447. The fact of his wife keeping a shop would not take him out of the category of a working man?—No; and a man who worked on his own account, although he occasionally had a journeyman and an apprentice or two, is still regarded as a working man.

33,448. He would be under those circumstances what you would call a master working man?—Yes, I should say that 57 of the householders were working men.

33,449. Can you give us their names also?—Yes, I think I can. I should wish to make this remark, that there are cases open to very considerable question as to whether the parties are to be really regarded as working men or not. I exercised a large amount of care and inquiry as to those I did not know, and I think that on one or two occasions I wrote to the Poor Law Board. We had also supplementary instructions in consequence of the first instructions that were sent not being very clear, and I altered my return by about seven in consequence of that, so that there may be a difference of opinion as to certain individuals.

33,450. But like everything else, what you give is given to the best of your ability?—Yes; I made inquiries of numbers of persons on both sides in politics.

33,451. And you have, I hope, no bias one way or the other?—I tried to be perfectly accurate.

33,452. Have you anything else to add?—I should wish to add one or two other little matters. I do not know whether I may be allowed to refer to the Grammar School in this town.

33,453. I do not think we need go into that. We saw that ourselves, and it seemed to be very flourishing?—Yes; there are pretty nearly 100 boarders there which brings a number of people to the town, and adds to its importance. Then I may state that a large amount of pure water has been lately brought into the town by Mr. Rawlinson, the Government civil engineer, not only for domestic use, but also for manufacturing purposes; and I may state, that in consequence of that improvement, the death rate in Lancaster has very considerably decreased.

33,454. You say there are 1,303 10*l.* houses in the borough?—Yes, some persons occupy several 10*l.* tenements, and many are occupied by females.

33,455. Some are occupied by persons who are not qualified to vote?—Yes, by not having been for a sufficient period in the town, and possibly some may be disqualified in consequence of not having paid their rates. I think you asked the town clerk the number of freemen on the register in 1832–3; there were 848.

33,456. (Mr. Barstow.) How do you calculate you 10*l.* rental?—We consider that the gross estimated rental is as near the actual rent as we could get. If we consider it really a proper rental, we should take that as the gross estimated rental.

33,457. You take the actual rental as the gross estimated rental unless there be special circumstances?—Yes.

33,458. Then we may take it that there are 1,303 houses paying an actual rent of 10*l.* a year and above?—Tenements, not necessarily houses.

33,459. You have told us that the number of 10*l.* householders on the register is 467?—Yes, that was the number last year.

33,460. The number of freemen qualified to be on the register as 10*l.* householders is 170.—Yes.

33,461. That would give 637 10*l.* householders on the register?—Yes.

33,462. Can you account for the difference between the number of voters qualified in respect of 10*l.* houses and the gross number of 1,303 10*l.* tenements?—It is accounted for by the fact that many persons occupied several 10*l.* tenements, and some are occupied by females.

33,463. Because the difference strikes me as being very great?—Yes; some persons occupy three or four tenements perhaps.

33,464. However, that is the fact?—Yes, of course these are exclusive of those in Scotforth, which I give in another paragraph.

33,465. (Mr. Newton.) I understand you to say that you class only the men who are employed in manual labour?—That is so.

33,466. Then why is not a clerk who works at quill driving, and who is earning 30*s.* a week, called a working man?—To the best of my ability I carried out the instructions of the Poor Law Board. I do not know that they specifically mentioned that; but my impression was, that persons of that kind were not to be regarded as working men.

33,467. Those were your instructions, that you were merely to find out persons who are artizans and labourers, and were not to include clerks and people of that kind?—Yes; as far as I now remember.

33,468. Those were your instructions?—That is my present impression. It may not perhaps be out of place to remark, that the men you have had before you from Morecambe do not represent the Morecambe people. There are a large class of the respectable persons there quite different from the freemen you have had before you.

33,469. It so happens, that all except 12 of the voters there who are freemen have been bribed?—But there are a large number of persons resident there of quite a different class.

33,470. Morecambe is not within the borough?—No.

33,471. So that persons in the higher class at Morecambe have no votes?—No.

33,472. (Mr. Barstow.) And in consequence they have never been tempted?—No.

33,473. Have you anything else to add?—I am not aware of anything.

The following statement referred to in the examination of this witness, is put in:—"The population of "the borough of Lancaster in 1831 was 1,3934. In "the electoral statistics of this year it is stated to "have been 14,066. The error has arisen from the "inclusion of the whole of the townships of Skerton "and Bulk, part only of those townships being in the "parliamentary borough. Population of the borough "in 1861:—

"Lancaster - - -	14,487
"Bulk part of - -	51
"Skerton - - -	1,467
	16,005

"Increase in 1861 over 1831, 2,071 or 15 per cent. "stated in the electoral statistics to be 1,939.

"It is computed in the electoral statistics that the "population has decreased 81 since 1861. Such is "not the case. The following facts justify my belief "that there has been an increase of at least 1,500 "since that period.

"(1.) The increase of births at 35 per annum to "1,000 persons (the average rate of Lancaster) gives "an increase of 1,543.

"(2.) The number of hands employed at three "works established since 1861, viz., a large cotton "mill, a joint stock waggon works, and an iron ship-"building yard is 900. Many of these hands have "families.

"(3.) The number of houses in 1861 was

Inhabited - - -	2,992
Uninhabited - - -	299
	3,291

"At present there are about

Inhabited - - -	3,335
Uninhabited - - -	45
	3,380

"This gives an increase of 343 inhabited houses "and, at 5 for each house, an increased population of "1715.

"Computing the increase upon 1861 at 1,500 only, "the population of the borough is now 17,505, "making an increase upon 1831 of 3,571 or 25½ per "cent. instead of 1858 or 13 per cent. as stated in the "electoral statistics.

"There is scarcely a house uninhabited which is "fit to live in.

. Barrow.

JOHN BARROW sworn and examined.

33,474. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A painter, of Derwent Road.

33,475. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,476. Did you get any money?—No.

33,477. Were you on no committee?—No.

33,478. You got no money after the election?—None.

T. Smith.

THOMAS SMITH sworn and examined.

33,479. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—I am ostler at the King's Arms, and keeps an inn, the "Bay Horse" in China Lane.

33,480. How did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

33,481. Did you get anything for your vote?—No, I did not.

33,482. Did you busy yourself in the election?—I had nothing at all to do with it whatever.

33,483. You being ostler at the "King's Arms" probably do not know very much about what goes on at your house in China Lane?—I do not.

33,484. Is there a Mrs. Smith?—Yes.

33,485. She would know what goes on at the "Bay Horse?"—Yes, she does.

33,486. You are not ostler in the evening, you are not looking after the horses then?—I am backward and forward during the day. Sometimes I am in my own house.

33,487. At what time are you at your own house in the evening?—At different times—sometimes 6 and sometimes 7; sometimes I am kept as late as 10.

33,488. Can you call to mind any evening in July 1865 when you found a quantity of people there?—I do not know that there were more people there then than there are at other times; all was going on right.

33,489. Can you recollect any night about the election time when there were a great number of people at your house?—I cannot.

33,490. Was your house used as one of the houses engaged for the party?—No; it was never engaged since I have had it and that is going on for six years, not by either party.

33,491. Mr. Hill.) It has never been engaged do you say?—Yes, it has never been engaged.

33,492. (Mr. Newton.) Did any of the Conservative captains go to your house?—They have been in it I have no doubt.

33,493. Have you seen them there?—I have seen all sorts there.

33,494. Then they have gone there?—Yes.

33,495. Have you seen them giving drink to any of the electors?—No.

33,496. Was there ever a score run up at your house?—No.

33,497. (Mr. Barstow.) What would these Conservative captains be doing there if they were not spending money in drink?—I could not say; they used to come in occasionally you know.

33,498. What brought them in?—I cannot tell; they had been accustomed to come into the house before, and during the time of the election and since.

33,499. What Conservative captains came to your house; tell me some of their names?—I could not tell you their names.

33,500. You told us just now they were men who used your house?—They are accustomed to come into the house to have their drink.

33,501. Then you must know who they are?—I could not tell you their names.

33,502. That is too absurd an answer; you must know the names of those who use your own house? I can mention one any way.

33,503. Mention him then?—I do not know that he had any great interest in it.

33,504. Mention his name?—George Danson came.

33,505. What did he do?—I never saw him do anything.

33,506. You must have seen him do something, a man does not come into a house and do nothing you know?—No, of course not.

33,507. What did he do,—tell us what he did?—He has asked for a glass of something to drink, and perhaps he has given or taken one.

133,507*a*. Was he treating anybody in your house?—Not particularly.

33,508. Was he treating anybody?—I say he might treat a few of them.

33,509. Was your house more thronged than usual at the election time?—No, not at all.

33,510. Was George Danson treating the electors in your house in the way we have heard described?—No.

33,511. Nothing of that sort was going on?—Nothing at all.

33,512. And your house was not used by either party at the election?—It was not.

T. Winder.

THOMAS WINDER sworn and examined.

33,513. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Penny Street?—Yes.

33,514. What are you?—I am set down in my summons as an auctioneer. I am at present a furniture broker.

33,515. You are put down in the register as an auctioneer?—Yes.

33,516. And you do occasionally an auctioneer's business?—No, I beg your pardon.

33,517. You do not take out a licence?—No.

33,518. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

33,519. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the election?—Not a halfpenny.

33,520. Did you not have anybody to look after?—No, I did not interfere with it whatever.

33,521. Not in any way?—I did not.

33,522. Neither as a briber nor in any other capacity?—By no means.

33,523. Not as a captain?—No, and I never went into a committee-room or into any house that was open.

33,524. Were you canvassed by both parties?—Of course I was.

33,525. Have you always voted Blue?—Always.

Bratherton.

ROBERT BRATHERTON sworn and examined.

33,526. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live?—In Leonard Gate.

33,527. Are you a householder?—Yes.

33,528. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,529. Did you receive any money about the election time?—10*l.*

33,530. From whom?—Through Mr. Jackson.

33,531. Which Mr. Jackson?—Mr. Isaac Jackson.

33,532. Anything else?—No.

33,533. Nothing for being on the committee?—No, not a farthing.

33,534. Nothing from George Danson?—No.

33,535. Nothing from the other party?—Not a penny from anybody.

33,536. You just got a clean 10*l.*?—Yes.

33,537. (Mr. Hill.) What is your rental?—14*l.* for the house.

33,538. What are you?—A labouring man.

33,539. (Mr. Newton.) What wages do you earn a week?—I do not know, sometimes more and sometimes less. I keep a horse and cart, and sometimes I am employed and sometimes I am not.

33,540. You are a jobber?—Yes, I job about for anybody. I work for anybody that will employ me.

THOMAS HARRISON affirmed and examined.

T. Harrison.

33,541. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—I am a tea dealer.

33,542. Where do you live?—In Quernmore Road.

33,545. Did you get anything for your vote?—Nothing.

33,546. Had you anything to say at the election?—I took no part in it. I remember a conversation with one, Mr. Horrocks, about his wife in Penny Street, to the effect that Mr. Wilson of Liverpool had called and offered them money. I believe the sum named was 30*l.* for Horrocks' vote and interest or influence.

33,547. Were you present?—No, it was merely a conversation with his wife.

33,548. Did the wife receive the money?—I believe that they did not vote on that side; I believe they voted on the Liberal side; Horrocks voted on the Liberal side.

33,549. Then I did not catch the purport of the conversation?—Mr. Wilson of Liverpool (I understood her to say), had called and offered 30*l.*

33,550. For the vote of whom?—Of her husband.

33,551. When did this conversation take place between you?—Previous to the election.

33,552. Where?—It would be on a Friday. I cannot give the date.

33,553. Where was this conversation?—They were shopkeepers at that time; it was in their shop in Penny Street.

33,554. Did she say what Mr. Wilson it was?—She said Mr. Wilson of Liverpool.

33,555. What more did she say?—She said they had no intention of changing from the Liberal party.

33,556. That is all you know?—That is all I know.

33,557. You did not pay any money yourself?—I did not.

33,558. Nor receive any money?—No.

LAWSON WHALLEY SWAIN sworn and examined.

L. W. Swain.

33,559. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A carter.

33,560. Do you keep your own cart and go out jobbing?—Yes, I have done so some years.

33,561. Have you more than one horse and cart?—Several.

33,562. And a good many people working under you?—Yes.

33,563. What is the rent of your house?—The house I am living in now is 10*l.*

33,564. What do you occupy with it?—I occupy nothing with it; not belonging to the landlord you know.

33,565. How much rent do you pay altogether?—10*l.* for the house.

33,566. How much rent a year do you pay out of your own pocket?—I think the buildings I occupy are my own.

33,567. What is about the rental of them?—About 22*l.* a year.

33,568. Then you occupy to the extent of about 32*l.* a year?—Somewhere on that way.

33,569. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,570. What monies did you receive?—10*l.*

33,571. You received that from Henry Welch?—I did not receive it from Henry Welch; he was a strange person that brought it down. I did not know his name. I had never seen him before, and have not seen him since.

33,572. It came from Henry Welch through this strange person?—Yes, it came from him.

33,573. Did you receive any other money?—No.

33,574. (Mr. Newton.) How had you always voted before?—I have not been a voter very long, but I have generally voted for the Liberals.

33,575. How came you to be tempted this time by 10*l.*?—I think it was two or three months after the election the money came down to me, and of course I received it.

33,576. I do not see that there was any "of course" in it at all. If you voted according to your principles, why did you receive 10*l.*?—I did not ask them for anything, and they did not promise me anything.

33,577. Do you mean to say the money was forced upon you?—They gave it to me.

33,578. Do you mean to tell to us that you did not say that others had got money, and that you had not?—I never mentioned it to anybody.

33,579. Did you never complain that you had got nothing for your vote?—Never at all.

33,580. How long after the election do you say it was when they gave you the 10*l.*?—A great part of two or three months, I daresay. I cannot tell to weeks, for I took no notice of it.

33,581. It was three weeks or a month after, was it not?—Above two months, I should say, without any doubt.

33,582. (Mr. Newton.) Did you not say beforehand, that you would not vote unless you got 10*l.*?—To no one.

33,583. Who canvassed you?—Of course the Liberal party canvassed me.

33,584. Did the other party canvass you also?—They came, but I never saw them.

33,585. Did any of the captains come to you?—No, not one.

33,586. (Mr. Hill.) Which way did you vote in the Fenwick and Saunders' fight?—I voted for Fenwick.

33,587. And which way did you vote in the election previous to that?—I cannot possibly tell you; to tell you the truth, I do not think I have voted above twice or three times in my life.

JAMES THOMPSON sworn and examined.

J. Thompson.

33,588. (Mr. Hill.) You are a miller?—Yes.

33,589. Where do you live?—In Damside Street.

33,590. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,591. What money did you receive?—5l.

33,592. From whom?—From Robert Whiteside.

33,593. What other monies did you receive?—5l.

33,594. What besides?—Nothing.

33,595. You received 10*l.* altogether?—No, 5l. altogether.

33,596. Were you on no committee?—No.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY.

J. Thompson.

29 Sept. 1866.

33,597. When did you receive this money?—On the night of the election.

33,598. After you had polled?—Yes.

33,599. Had you had any agreement before, what you were to have?—No, not particular.

33,600. You did not take much interest in the election?—No, I did not.

33,601. Have you generally voted "Yellow?"—I voted for Fenwick when Saunders put up.

33,602. (Mr. Newton.) What did you get when you voted for Fenwick?—I think it was 20*s.*

33,603. (Mr. Hill.) What is your rental?—11*l.*

33,604. Is that all you occupy?—Yes.

33,605. You occupy none of your own?—No.

T. Kelsall.

THOMAS KELSALL affirmed and examined.

33,606. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at West View, Scotforth, and are a farmer?—I used to be a farmer; I am not now. My son is a farmer there now; but he was here yesterday.

33,607. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,608. Are you the man described on the register, as of West View, Scotforth, farmer?—There is no doubt about it, but there is two of us.

33,609. Did you get any money about the election time?—None at all.

33,610. Were you on no committee?—No, I only came down that morning, and went back at 12 o'clock.

33,611. What time in the morning did you come?—About 8 or 9 o'clock. I do not know exactly; about 9 I should think.

33,612. You got no money?—No money at all.

33,613. (Mr. Hill.) No expenses?—No.

33,614. Did you give any money away?—No, I did not give any away; I had nothing to do with the election.

W. Kelsall.

WILLIAM KELSALL affirmed and examined.

33,615. (Mr. Newton.) You are a farmer?—Yes.

33,616. At Quernmore?—Yes.

33,617. And you are a husbandman?—Yes.

33,618. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

33,619. And what did you get for your vote?—5*l.* for voting.

33,620. Who paid you?—Thomas Cranstoun.

33,621. That is Mr. Garnett's steward?—Yes.

33,622. 5*l.*?—5*l.* for vote and part for expenses.

33,623. Did you get anything else besides the 5*l.*?—No.

33,624. How much did you get for your expenses?—I went up to see a brother of mine about 10 or 12 miles off. I went by railway backwards and forwards. That was all I got.

33,625. What did you get at Fenwick and Saunders's election?—I got 2*l.* from Saunders.

33,626. Are you an agricultural labourer?—I work at land when I do work.

33,627. What wages do you get?—I get no wages.

33,628. Have you a little property of your own?—I live with a nephew of mine.

J. Booth.

JOHN BOOTH sworn and examined.

33,629. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you spend any money at the last election?—Yes, I did.

33,630. You spent money for Mr. Lawrence?—I spent it out of my own pocket. I never received a farthing. I spent it on Mr. Lawrence's behalf.

33,631. How much did you spend altogether?—I paid Myers 6*l.* for his house and 5*l.* 4*s.* for refreshments.

33,632. What is Myers's sign?—John Myers, of the "Green Dragon."

33,633. Was that all you paid Myers?—That is all I paid him.

33,634. What other money did you spend?—I paid a man named William Hunter, a non-voter, 1*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* for his expenses to Carnforth to look after a voter called Anthony Taylor. That was for two days work and his railway fare to bring Taylor up to vote. William Hunter is the non-voter who went for Anthony Taylor the voter.

33,635. Did you pay anything else?—Yes, I paid three men, for assisting during the morning of the election, 10*s.* each—two men of the names of Baines and Ward, and I forget the name of the other man.

33,636. Were they non-voters?—Non-voters; they were strangers. I believe the other man's name was Taylor.

33,637. Anyone else?—Then I paid Woodhouse, a voter, 2*l.* 13*s.* 7*d.*

33,638. Which Woodhouse?—Woodhouse who keeps a public-house. He has been examined. Robert Woodhouse; that was for refreshments.

33,639. What sum?—2*l.* 13*s.* 7*d.*

33,640. Anyone else?—No, I think not.

33,641. Are you quite sure?—Yes. William Hodgson, he was on the staff—he is a voter too—I paid him 4*l.* altogether.

33,642. What Hodgson is that?—William Hodgson, of Golden Ball Yard (a paper is handed by the witness to the Commissioners).

33,643. I see it is charged to the committee of Edward Lawrence, Esq.?—Yes, but I paid it, and I have not been refunded either.

33,644. (Mr. Hill.) Did you supply goods gratuitously to any person in consequence of the election?—No, not at all.

33,645. Do you know anything of a man named Whittaker?—No, I do not. I know one Mr. Whittaker, who is living in Church Street.

33,646. Just look at those (handing two papers to the witness)?—Yes. This gentleman lives in London now. He was a tailor and draper in Church Street.

33,647. Those are goods supplied by you to him?—Yes, goods supplied by me bonâ fide.

33,648. In the ordinary course of trade?—Yes, in the ordinary course of business.

33,649. And paid for by him?—Yes, decidedly.

33,650. You did receipt the bill gratuitously on consideration that he should vote one way?—No; everybody who knows him knows he is far above anything of that kind. He is a highly respectable gentleman.

33,651. Mr. Whittaker was the first or second witness examined here this morning?—I am not aware of that.

33,652. Why do you say he is gone to London?—He is gone into partnership with a gentleman there, I believe.

33,653. He has not gone yet?—Oh, yes, he has been there some time.

33,654. I am told that Mr. Whittaker gave those bills this morning into Mr. Hill's hands?—I believe he has been disposing of his business, and perhaps he has come for that purpose, but I was not aware he was here. He was my tailor and draper; he makes all my clothes and my nephew's clothes, and these goods were had in the ordinary course of business.

33,655. It looks very like it?—It is so.

33,656. (Mr. Hill.) I see on the bill there are three items in red ink, "16*s.* 8½*d.* were the amounts I supplied to Thomas Parkinson?" He supplied it, and you supplied it to him, and it was paid for in the regular course of business?—Yes, no doubt. Those bills were settled when I settled my own account.

33,657. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you receive any money from Mr. Lawrence's committee?—No, never a farthing.

33,658. All your assistance has been gratuitous on your part?—Yes.

33,659. Did you pay anyone for their votes?—No, certainly not. I never paid anyone a single farthing, and never saw anyone paid.

33,660. Is this all the part you took in the election?—That is all. I have another item to give you. I gave a man named George Norman 1*l.* for board and wages; he formerly lived at Kendal, but now he resides at the "Victoria Hotel."

33,661. He is a voter?—Yes.

33,662. Where is the "Victoria Hotel?"—In Penny Street, Lancaster, a few yards higher up than I reside. At that time he was living at Kendal. He came to me to say he should want something for his wages, and he was here two or three days perhaps.

33,663. You are this 21*l.* 15*s.* 1*d.* out of pocket?—Yes, just so.

33,664. (Mr. Hill.) Have you ever said you spent 100*l.* on Mr. Lawrence?—Never.

33,665. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you ever made any application for payment of this 21*l.* odd?—No, I have not.

33,666. You do not intend to do so?—No, of course not now; it has never been offered to me voluntarily.

33,667. I do not see why you should say "of course not;" but you have not—that is enough for us?—No, I have not.

33,668. What did you give George Norman the 1*l.* for?—He resided at Kendal, and he was coming to stop a few days before the election. He said he was short of money, and of course I gave it to him to keep himself and for his own expenses during the time.

33,669. (Mr. Hill.) Do you think his expenses would come altogether to 1*l.*?—He was here two or three days before the election.

33,670. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you spend any money in treating?—No doubt I was a few pounds out of pocket in going about amongst the voters.

35,671. Besides this 21*l.* odd?—Yes, but I cannot give you any definite sum.

33,672. We generally ask the witnesses to say about what they think?—I should think you might put it down, during the canvass and everything together, 3*l.* or 4*l.*

33,673. What shall we take?—I really cannot tell you.

33,674. Give us the sum; shall we say 3*l.* or 4*l.*?—You may put down whichever you think proper. I cannot tell you to a few shillings.

33,675. (Mr. Hill.) Shall we say 3*l.* 10*s.*?—If you like.

JOHN WHITTAKER sworn and examined.

J. Whittaker.

33,676. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—In Lodge Street.

33,677. What are you?—A cabinet maker.

33,678. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,679. What did you get?—I got 5*s.* for being on the committee. They offered me 10*s.*, and I said 5*s.* was sufficient.

33,680. Did you not get anything more than 5*s.*?—No.

33,681. Were you paid nothing for your vote?—No.

33,682. You received no other money except the 5*s.*?—No, not a farthing. I received it from Harrison. I see he puts it at 10*s.*, but 5*s.* of it was for a man named Gardner, a wood carver.

33,683. That is all you got?—Yes, it was.

33,684. Are you in Gillow's employment?—Yes.

MILES WILLAN sworn and examined.

M. Willan.

33,685. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a builder?—No, I am an ironmonger and plumber.

33,686. In partnership with George Cleminson?—Yes.

33,687. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, I did.

33,688. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None at all.

33,689. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the canvass?—None at all.

33,690. You were on the committee?—No I was not. I never took an active part at all beyond voting. I never asked my own workmen even for a vote.

33,691. You never received any money either for yourself or any other person?—No, nor did I pay a penny.

33,692. You did not pay any of your own money?—No, not for electioneering purposes.

33,693. Did you see anyone paid?—I saw Mr. Cleminson pay the bell-ringers a sum of money for ringing the bells, but that is all, and whether that was for electioneering purposes or not I do not know.

33,694. I suppose the church bells were rung when the members were returned?—He will be able to answer that himself I daresay.

33,695. You do not know whether they were or not?—No, I do not know indeed.

JAMES BOND sworn and examined.

J. Bond.

33,696. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Quarry Street.

33,697. What are you?—A joiner and builder.

33,698. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,699. Did you get anything for your vote?—No.

33,700. Nothing at all?—No.

33,701. Did you assist in any way at the election?—Richard Stanton called at our house about a week previous to the election, and gave me 10*s.* to treat some voters with; and on the morning of the election, at the "Sun Inn," he gave me 17*l.* 10*s.* to pay two voters with that were in the room. I merely took it in one hand and handed it to them right forward. The voters were there.

33,702. Who were the two voters?—Jonathan Wolfendale, butcher, Moor Lane, 10*l.*

33,703. Who was the other?—John Taylor Dunderdale. He will be a freeman.

33,704. How much did you give to him?—7*l.* 10*s.*

33,705. How was it Stanton did not pay them?—I do not know; he was very busy, and just gave me the money to give it to them.

33,706. Where was this?—At Bannister's, at the "Sun Inn," in Church Street.

33,707. Was that all you had to do with the election?—Out of that 10*s.* I gave to Dunderdale's mother ——

33,708. Which 10*s.*?—I got 10*s.* about a week previous to the election.

33,709. You did not tell us about that?—Yes, I did. I got it about a week previous to the election. This Dunderdale's mother is a very poor widow, and she was put to some additional expense by Dunderdale coming from Manchester. I gave her 7*s.* 6*d.*, so I had 2*s.* 6*d.* left, and I spent that amongst sundry voters. That is all I had to do with it.

33,710. Where is Dunderdale?—In Manchester he was then, but I think he is now at Ashton-under-Lyne.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY.

J. Bond.

29 Sept. 1866.

33,711. (Mr. Hill.) You paid him?—Yes, I just handed him the money.

33,712. (Mr. Newton.) Is that all you know about it?—Yes.

33,713. Did you treat any voters?—I never gave any any drink. I gave it to them in money; I only had half-a-crown to spend, but I gave a good deal more than that.

33,714. (Mr. Hill.) Where was Dunderdale when you paid him?—At the "Sun Inn." Mr. Stanton just handed me the money, and I gave it to him.

33,715. You were there helping Stanton?—No, I was not.

33,716. What brought you there?—I do not know.

33,717. What did you go there for?—I was at liberty to go there.

33,718. Yes, of course one is at liberty to go to a great many places, but one does not go without a reason?—That is the only part I took in it.

33,719. At what time in the day was it?—Between 9 and 10 in the morning.

33,720. You do not always go to public-houses between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning?—I very seldom go at all.

33,721. That is all the more reason why you should not have gone there without a reason?—That is all the part I took.

33,722. You went there to help Stanton?—If that was helping him I did.

33,723. It was helping him, was it not?—Very good if you say so.

33,724. Do you not call it helping him?—That is the only part I took.

33,725. Did you take either of them to the poll?—I do not know anything about that.

33,726. Did you take either of them to the poll?—No.

33,727. Who took them to the poll?—They went right away as soon as ever they got the money.

33,728. Who took them to the poll?—I do not know. I do not think anyone did.

33,729. Had they polled when you paid them?—No.

33,730. How do you know that?—They said they had not.

33,731. You having received this money in your hands, did you not keep it until they had polled?—No, I just handed it to them right away.

33,732. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

33,733. Were you not the man to hold the money until they had polled and come back safe?—No.

33,734. How near were they standing to Stanton when you paid them?—They were a few yards off.

33,735. What made him pass the money into your hands?—It was me that went up to them. I had seen them in the street.

33,736. And you brought them in to Stanton?—No; I do not know how it was.

33,737. Come, give us a straightforward answer. You saw them in the street, and brought them into the "Sun Inn." Is not that the truth?—I do not know whether I did or did not.

33,738. Now I put it to you, do you not recollect that that is the truth of the matter?—I am not sure whether I went in with them or not.

33,739. What did you go to the "Sun Inn" for if it was not to take them to Stanton. Did you know either of them before?—I was personally acquainted with them both.

33,740. You knew what they were going to get; did you not take them into the "Sun Inn"?—I do not know whether I did or not.

33,741. You would not have gone into the "Sun Inn" with those men without some reason; when was it arranged what money they were to have?—I do not know anything at all about it.

33,742. Had you been at the house of either of them shortly before the election?—I am in the habit of going to their houses frequently.

33,743. You cannot tell me when you were at the house of Wolfendale before the election?—I should think I was there in and out three or four times a week or more.

33,744. When were you last at Wolfendale's house, before the 12th of July 1865?—Perhaps a week before the election.

33,745. Did you arrange with him then what he was to have for his vote?—No, I did not.

33,746. Did he tell you what he wanted for his vote?—He wanted to know if they were giving anything, and I said the best thing he could do was to go up to the "Sun Inn" early on the morning of the election.

33,747. You met him in the street and took him in, why did you not tell us that before? When did you call at Dunderdale's, before the 12th?—He was in Manchester at the time.

33,748. When did you see Dunderdale before the 12th?—On the night before the election.

33,749. Did he ask you what they were giving for votes?—No; I just told him to go the same as Wolfendale to the "Sun Inn."

33,750. You also took him?—No, I think he came in afterwards.

33,751. You were with him at the "Sun Inn?"—Yes, I was.

33,752. You know in your own mind you arranged about the price or talked about the price? What is the use of giving me all this trouble. Why do you not give a straightforward account of it at once?—Mr. Stanton handed me the money and I merely just handed it over to them.

W. Gardener

WILLIAM GARDENER sworn and examined.

33,753. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A joiner.

33,754. Where do you live?—In Leonard Gate.

33,755. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

33,756. How much did you get?—10*l.*

33,757. From whom?—Mr. Stanton.

33,758. Where?—At the "Sun Inn."

33,759. What else did you get besides?—2*l.* 5*s.* from George Danson.

33,760. What else?—Nothing.

33,761. Was that all you got?—Yes.

33,762. I suppose the 2*l.* 5*s.* was for committee work?—Yes.

33,763. Were you on the Yellow committee as well?—No.

33,764. Did you not get anything to spend in refreshing?—No.

33,765. You got no odd shillings given to you at different times?—No, only that 2*l.* 5*s.*

33,766. And the 10*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

33,767. When did you arrange about the price of your vote?—I never arranged at all.

33,768. They brought it to you?—No, Mr. Stanton gave it to me after I had voted.

33,769. The same day?—Yes.

33,770. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote in 1864?—Mr. Saunders.

33,771. What made you take money this time?—Because I took it before.

33,772. You were always a Conservative?—Yes.

33,773. Did you get anything from Saunders?—2*l.*

33,774. You would not be a Conservative unless you were bought, I suppose?—Yes, I would.

33,775. Why did you accept this money. You say you did not go to Stanton to make any agreement beforehand?—No, I did not.

33,776. (Mr. Hill.) What is your rent?—About 9*l.* 10*s.*

JAMES BIRKETT Junior, sworn and examined. J. Birkett.

29 Sept. 1866.

33,777. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,778. Did you get any money?—Yes, 6*l.*

33,779. Did you get that from Birdall?—Yes, 3*l.*

33,780. How much did you get altogether?—6*l.*

33,781. Did you get anything more?—No, not a farthing.

JOHN RALPH sworn and examined. J. Ralph.

33,782. (Mr. Newton.) Where do you live?—In Leonard Gate.

33,783. What are you?—A spinner.

33,784. How did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,785. What did you get for your vote?—I got 8*l.* but I do not know that I voted for the 8*l.* exactly; I did not ask for any money.

33,786. What do you mean by that?—I mean to say I should have voted for Fenwick and Schneider if I had never got a halfpenny. I never asked for any.

33,787. Who paid you?—William King.

33,788. Where did he pay you?—At the "Swan Inn."

33,789. Were you on any committee?—No.

33,790. Is that all you did?—Yes.

33,791. You got 8*l.* for your vote?—Yes.

33,792. Did you ask King beforehand for the 8*l.*?—No. I never said anything to him about money in no way.

33,793. How did you vote in 1864?—For Fenwick.

33,794. Did you get paid then?—No.

33,795. Why did you accept this money this time?—I took it as a present.

33,796. What for?—I do not know. I would take it from you if you would give it to me for a present.

33,797. I am not likely to offer it to you, but I do not understand why you should take money if you vote according to your principles?—I am not overweighted with money.

33,798. What are you?—A cotton spinner.

33,799. What rent do you pay for your house?—6*l.* 10*s.*

33,800. What wages can you earn?—Is that a fair question?

33,801. Yes, certainly; and I beg you to understand you must answer any question I put to you. What wages do you earn?—About 1*l.* a week, but I do not know exactly.

33,802. Are you a scholar?—It just depends upon what your definition is of a scholar.

33,803. Can you read?—Yes.

33,804. Can you write?—Yes.

THOMAS HARLING sworn and examined. T. Harling.

33,805. (Mr. Hill.) Do you live in Monmouth Street?—I did at the time of the election.

33,806. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,807. What did you receive?—7*l.* 10*s.*

33,808. From whom did you receive it?—Mr. Bradshaw.

33,809. Did you get anything else besides that?—No.

33,810. Which of the Bradshaws paid you?—The young man.

33,811. What is his christian name?—I do not know I am sure.

33,812. Did you get anything else besides?—No.

33,813. Were you not on any committee?—No.

33,814. How did you vote in 1864?—I voted for Fenwick.

33,815. What did you get then?—I got my day's wage.

33,816. What was that?—He gave me 10*s.*

33,817. Did you earn 3*l.* a week then?—No, I did not.

33,818. You got 10*s.* for voting for Fenwick in 1864?—Yes.

33,819. And 7*l.* 10*s.* at the last election?—Yes.

JOHN KILNER WHITTAKER sworn and examined. J.K. Whittaker.

33,820. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A railway clerk at the Castle Station.

33,821. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,822. Did you receive any money?—None whatever, nor did I expect any.

33,823. Did you canvass the other clerks at all?—No.

33,824. Did you take no part in the election beyond voting?—None whatever.

33,825. Were you applied to by any of the officials of the railway, on either side, for your vote?—No.

33,826. (Mr. Hill.) Did not Mr. McKinley apply to you for anything?—No, I should think not.

33,827. Did he not mention the subject of your vote to you?—No.

33,828. (Mr. Newton.) Did Mr. Storey ever come to you?—No. I saw him on the election day.

33,829. Where did you see him?—At the "Sun Inn."

33,830. Did you have any conversation with him?—He asked me if I had voted and I said "No," and I told him I was going to vote immediately after I had had my dinner.

33,831. Is that all that took place?—Yes.

33,832. Nothing further passed between you two?—No.

33,833. (Mr. Hill.) You were down on the list to vote for Lawrence. You were entered as a promise for Mr. Lawrence?—Yes; I promised Mr. Lawrence.

EDWARD GARDENER sworn and examined. E. Gardener.

33,834. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,835. Who canvassed you?—No one, I was never asked for my vote.

33,836. What did you get for your vote?—Nothing.

33,837. Did nobody offer you any money?—No.

33,838. Did you take any part in the election?—Yes.

33,839. I worked very hard for Mr. Lawrence; I was engaged for three weeks.

33,840. Did you receive any money?—Yes, 1*l.* from Stanton and 10*s.* from William Storey.

33,841. How did you spend the 1*l.* 10*s.*?—I spent it among the non-electors.

33,842. In treating?—Yes.

33,843. Is that all you spent for the purposes of the election?—Yes, it was.

33,844. Did you take anyone to the poll?—I did.

33,845. Did you get paid for that?—No.

33,846. Were you on any committee?—Yes, I was on Mr. William Storey's committee.

33,847. Were you paid for that?—No; five weeks after the election I was paid.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY.

E. Gardener.

29 Sept. 1866.

33,848. How much?—5l. from Mr. Gibson, and I gave him a receipt for it.

33,849. You do not call that receiving money for the purposes of the election?—That is not previous to the election.

33,850. You knew what I meant; I asked you what money you received for the purposes of the election, and you said you received 1*l.* 10*s*?—I was not aware that you meant that.

33,851. You got 5l. from Gibson?—Yes.

33,852. How long after the election?—Five weeks after the election, and I gave him a receipt for it.

33,853. What was it for?—For services.

33,854. What services?—Services rendered on behalf of Mr. Lawrence for canvassing.

33,855. Tell me the name of any voter you canvassed?—I had some of the street lists with me.

33,856. Tell me the name of any voter you canvassed?—I canvassed the Rennisons and the Ralphs.

33,857. The two Rennisons?—Yes.

33,858. And how many Ralphs?—Three.

33,859. Tell me the names of any others you canvassed besides those five?—Harrison, the butcher I canvassed as well.

33,860. Go on?—There were a great many more but I could not give you their names.

33,861. Did anbody canvass you?—No, I was never asked for my vote.

33,862. Then I suppose you were the only person in Lancaster who was not?—I was never asked for my vote.

33,863. What other assistance did you render?—I assisted in delivering out circulars, going to the committee-room and looking after the committee-room.

33,864. You are a watchmaker?—Yes.

33,865. Are you a journeyman?—No.

33,866. A master?—Yes.

33,867. Why did you take the 5l.?—I lost my time.

33,868. Mr. William Storey told you at the time you were put on the committee that you were to be paid for being on?—No, he did not say a word.

33,869. Were you off your work the whole time?—Yes, a great deal of it.

33,870. You were off your work entirely?—Yes, I did no work at all. I was at the committee-room all the week.

33,871. (Mr. Hill.) Was that the time you were off work?—Three weeks I was at the committee-room every day.

33,872. If you say you were in the committee-room for three weeks, how is it that Mr. Gibson has written you down here "14 days?"—It was three weeks.

33,873. This is Mr. Gibson's handwriting, and he has put you down 14 days?—It might be a mistake of Mr. Gibson's.

33,874. And it may be a mistake of yours also. What other monies did you hold for people going to the poll?—None.

33,875. You took some to the poll?—Yes.

33,876. And you brought some back to be paid?—Yes.

33,877. You got some money to hold till they had polled, did you not?—No, I never got any money at all.

33,878. You took them back to Mr. Stanton to be paid?—Yes.

W. Parkinson.

WILLIAM PARKINSON sworn and examined.

33,879. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At Morecambe.

33,880. Are you a freeman?—Yes.

33,881. For whom did you vote?—Fenwick and Schneider.

33,882. What are you?—A painter.

33,883. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—None.

33,884. Did not any money pass through your hands at all?—No.

33,885. Did Mrs. Parkinson receive anything?—No.

33,886. Are you quite sure?—Nothing.

33,887. You are quite sure?—Yes, positive.

33,888. You are not one of the Morecambe 12?—I do not know, I am sure; I have not seen anything of that sort.

33,889. Did you not see 12 names given as persons who had not received bribes?—I did not see it, but I understood there was something of that sort in the paper.

33,890. You did not receive anything?—No.

33,891. You know nothing about it?—No, nothing.

33,892. Did you take any interest in it?—No.

33,893. You did not look up the Edmondsons, Armisteads, or Bonds?—No, I have no taste for that.

33,894. There are a great many of your name, and I should think you have been summoned by mistake. You are not a painter now?—No, not at present.

33,895. Have you given up business?—Yes, 20 years ago.

33,896. It must be a mistake, because I have no doubt from what I have here that you were one of the 12 who have been returned to us as not having taken a bribe?—Very likely.

W. A. Greenall.

WILLIAM AUSTIN GREENALL sworn and examined.

33,897. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

33,898. Did you receive any money during the election?—Previous to the election I received small sums.

33,899. Just tell us about those small sums?—The first was 5*s*. from Mr. Cooper; 1*l.* 10*s*. from William Storey, and 3*l.* from Stanton. That was previous to the election.

33,900. During or after the election what did you receive?—During the election I received 2*l.* for one Mr. Garnett. I got it and gave it to him after he had polled.

33,901. Where did you get it?—I got it at the "Sun Inn."

33,902. From whom did you get it?—From a stranger, and at the same time I got 1*l.* towards my own expenses during the day.

33,903. Did you receive any other money?—Perhaps two weeks after the election, but I do not know exactly. I received 5l. 5*s*. for my services.

33,904. Is that all you received?—Yes, that is all I received.

33,904*a*. Have you given us an accurate account of all you did, and all you received?—Yes, all I did and all I received.

33,905. You paid Garnett after he had voted?—Yes, the day after.

33,906. How much of this did you spend in drink before the election?—5l. 15*s*.

33,907. You could not have spent all that?—I could have spent a deal more if I had had it.

33,908. Who paid you this five guineas after the election?—Mr. Maxsted's partner, Mr. Gibson.

33,909. Are you sure Mr. Gibson paid it to you?—Yes, positive.

S. Bond.

SAMUEL BOND sworn and examined.

33,910. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—Assessor and collector of income tax.

33,911. Did you take any part in the election?—None whatever.

33,912. You did not vote?—I did not.

33,913. Is that because you were assessor and collector of income tax?—No.

33,914. What was the reason?—I was so thoroughly disgusted with the whole proceedings and had been for some time past.

33,915. Have you been summoned here?—Yes, I have.

33,916. When did you receive your summons?—Yesterday.

33,917. The reason you give for not voting is that you were so thoroughly disgusted with the whole proceeding?—Yes.

33,918. Can you give us any information which will be at all useful?—I was not canvassed at all. I have always been in the habit of avoiding the canvassers, and not speaking to them, upon principle, but one morning, on arriving downstairs, I found a stranger in the dining-room, who I found was Mr. Lawrence. I had a conversation with him in reference to the corrupt practices which were prevailing in the town.

33,919. When was this?—The week before the election.

33,920. Can you at all tell us what sort of conversation you had with him as to corrupt practices?—I told him that there was a great deal of drinking going on in the town, a great many open houses, and I was determined I would not vote for anyone who would not discountenace such practices.

33,921. What did Mr. Lawrence say to that?—He said he had come to Lancaster with the intention of not spending any money but what was strictly legal; in fact, he almost word for word stated what he stated in his evidence here the other day.

33,922. Did you tell him there was any treating going on on the "Blue" side?—I really did not know which the houses were open for, because there was no display of flags or anything of that kind. It was impossible to tell on what sides the houses were open for.

33,923. Did Mr. Lawrence make any further observation?—He said he should spend no money but for strictly legal purposes.

33,924. Did he ask you for your vote?—Yes.

33,925. What did you tell him?—I told him I never promised a vote to any canvasser, and I never should.

33,926. What am I to understand by "any canvasser?"—The candidates when they are waiting upon the voters to ask for their votes.

33,927. In fact you are of opinion that the voters ought to go to vote without being asked to go?—That is my opinion.

33,928. And that is what you told Mr. Lawrence?—Yes.

33,929. He went away with the impression that you would not vote for him?—That I should not vote for him unless he kept clean hands. I told him I should vote for the candidate or candidates that I saw had clean hands.

33,930. Did you receive a visit either from Mr. Fenwick or Mr. Schneider?—I saw them both in the streets, but I avoided them; when I saw they were coming in contact with me I avoided them.

33,931. You avoided coming across them?—Yes.

33,932-3. They never canvassed you?—No. If they wished anything to say to me I wished it said on the hustings. Whenever I have anything to say to the candidates I go to the hustings and say it to them.

33,934. Can you give us any further information?—All that I can say is this: that on the nomination day there was such a drunken rabble in front of the hustings that it was a mere farce.

33,935. In fact you had no opportunity of asking any questions from the candidates?—I could not do so. There was such a rabble; otherwise I had meant to question every one of them on the subject of bribery.

33,936. I do not suppose they did it on purpose to prevent you from asking questions?—Oh, dear, no. It was the same with anyone else. It was a mere farce speechifying or anything else.

33,937. Can you tell us anything about the election day?—I went about the town and kept my eyes and ears open.

33,938. What did you see and what did you hear?—I never saw less drinking on the election day than I saw on the last election.

33,939. Will you tell us what you did see?—The men that polled in the booths that I was backwards and forwards in, certainly the great bulk of them, were sober.

33,940. I gather from your conversation that you are a teetotaller?—I am.

33,941. You laid great stress upon the word. We are now dealing with bribery. Did you see any bribing?—No, I did not.

33,942. You know nothing about it?—No.

33,943. Can you tell us anything further?—I may state with reference to an old man of the name of Stirzaker, who has been examined here, that I heard him in a hairdresser's shop, on the Saturday evening after the election, state almost word for word what he has stated here in his evidence, that certain parties waited upon him.

33,944. We have had that from him?—I thought it was due to the old man that it should be stated.

33,945. I must ask you now, as I have asked every witness, did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—I neither received, spent, or gave any money.

33,946. You did not treat anybody?—No, nobody.

33,947. (Mr. Hill.) Which way did you vote in 1864?—For Mr. Fenwick.

WILLIAM CRAGG sworn and examined.

W. Cragg.

33,948. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At Greenbank, over Wyresdale.

33,949. Are you a freeman?—Yes.

33,950. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

33,951. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the election?—None at all.

33,952. Were you summoned here to-day?—I was not, but I was advised to come, and was told that I should have to come the far end of the week. The man as delivers the summonses out wished me to come, and said it would save me a journey.

33,953. You did quite right to come. Can you say you did not receive anything nor give anything?—I did neither.

33,954. You had nothing to do with the election?—No; I had nothing to do with it no further than just giving a vote. That is all I had to do with it.

33,955. You did not look after any voters?—No, not at all.

33,956. You were not on any committee?—No.

Adjourned.

THIRTIETH DAY.

Lancaster Castle, Friday, 4th January 1867.

THIRTIETH DAY.

4 Jan. 1867

PRESENT:

Mr. BARSTOW. | Mr. NEWTON.

T. Atkinson.

THOMAS ATKINSON affirmed and examined.

33,957. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you receive any money for the purposes of the last election?—Yes.

33,958. What was it that you received?—About 3*s.* I think.

33,959. How did you vote?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,960. How did you come to receive that money?—I received it from Benjamin Mills.

33,961. What did you do with it after you had received it?—I treated the voters at Quernmore.

33,962. Whom did you treat?—I do not know them by name; there were four or five voters there.

33,963. Where did you treat them?—In the "Dog and Partridge."

33,964. How came Benjamin Mills to give you this money to treat the voters with?—I went with him into Quernmore.

33,965. Are you sure as to the amount?—I am not sure to a shilling or two, but as near as I can recollect that was about the amount.

33,966. Did you receive anything for your own vote?—No.

33,967. Is that all the money that you received?—It is.

R. Atkinson.

RICHARD ATKINSON sworn and examined.

33,968. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,969. Did you get anything for your vote?—Yes.

33,970. How much did you get?—10*l.*

33,971. Who paid you?—Thomas Bradley.

33,972. Where did he pay you?—At the "Old Sir Simon's."

33,973. Were you on a committee?—No.

33,974. Did you get anything else?—No.

33,975. 10*l.* was all you got for the purposes of the election?—Yes.

33,976. What are you?—A labourer.

33,977. Do you work at any trade?—No.

R. Ball.

ROBERT BALL sworn and examined.

33,978. (Mr. Newton.) Are you Robert Ball, of Skerton, coachman?—Yes.

33,979. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

33,980. What money did you get for your vote?—12*l.*

33,981. That was from a stranger at the "Black Bull," was it not?—Yes.

33,982. Was that all you received?—Yes.

33,983. You were on no committee?—No.

33,984. Did you get any money to spend in drink?—No.

J. Ball.

JOHN BALL sworn and examined.

33,985. (Mr. Barstow.) Is your name John Ball?—Yes.

33,986. Of Warton, farmer?—Yes.

33,987. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

33,988. What money did you receive?—I got 10*l.* for my expenses.

33,989. From whom did you get that?—From Mr. Wilson.

33,990. Did you get anything besides?—No.

33,991. You are a farmer?—Yes.

33,992. How much land do you farm?—I farm a piece of my own.

33,993. How many acres of your own have you?—Perhaps between 50 and 60.

33,994. Do you rent any land?—No.

33,995. It is all your own?—Yes.

33,996. What do you suppose the value of that would be to rent?—I am sure I cannot say.

W. Barrow.

WILLIAM BARROW affirmed and examined.

33,997. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of King's Street, Lancaster, grocer?—Yes.

33,998. For whom did you vote at the last election—For Fenwick and Schneider.

33,999. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I did not.

34,000. Neither for yourself nor for anybody else?—I did not.

34,001. Neither directly nor indirectly?—No, in no way whatever.

J. Barrow.

JOHN BARROW sworn and examined.

34,002. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,003. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I did.

34,004. How much?—I received 50*l.* to spend on behalf of Mr. Schneider from Captain Hosking, of Dalton, of which I returned 40*l.*

34,005. You are a draper in Bath Street?—I resided there at that time, but I do not reside there at present. I am a jobber as well as a draper.

34,006. You returned him 40*l.* you say?—I returned him 40*l.*

34,007. What did you do with the other 10*l.*?—I gave that at the top of Penny Street, at the "White Cross."

34,008. To whom did you give it?—The circumstance is this: we arrived at Bay Horse at 20 minutes to 9.

34,009. Bay Horse is a station on the London and North-western line, is it not?—Yes.

34,910. What had you been doing at Bay Horse?—I had been there the night previous, and had been there at a good many elections.

34,011. What had you been doing there on is occasion?—I went there to get the voters up.

34,012. On whose behalf?—On behalf of Mr. Lawrence.

34,013. Well?—And after we got to Lancaster we had both rooms filled.

34,014. Well?—At the "White Cross;" the men were trying to get away, and the two Whitesides were trying to push past me, and I gave a man 10*l.*, and during the time I was wishing them to go back, before they received their money, he came downstairs and bolted right out of the front door ; I called out to a man (that was Holden) "There is three men gone, " and here is a couple of shillings or half a crown " (I do not know which), and you had better take " some refreshments upstairs. I had spoken to Mr. " Alexander Allinson, and asked where the men were " gone ; and he said to the "White Lion ;" I could " not run after the men then, they were trying to get " away."

34,015. Who were these men who got away ?—I tkink one was Harrison, but I cannot positively swear to him.

34,016. Which Harrison ?—He came from Galgate. I just saw him once on the buss, but I do not know him personally. I think the name of the man was Harrison, but I could not positively swear to him.

34,017. Who were the other two ?—One was Sharples.

34,018. Who was the other ?—I do not know.

34,019. Where did Captain Hosking give you this money ?—On the nomination day, about half-past 10 in Common Garden Street, the "Black Horse."

34,020. That would be on July the 11th ?—Yes, on the Tuesday I think it would be.

34,021. What were you doing at the "Black Horse"?—I had met Captain Hosking many weeks previous at the "Queen's Hotel," at Ulverston. I had known him for many years, and I made an agreement with him that if Mr. Lawrence was safe I would do my best to assist Mr. Schneider, being the second man, and that not being the case, I returned him the money.

34,022. But you did not return him all the money ?—No, the 10*l.* as I said before was given to a man that ran downstairs at the "White Cross" down Penny Street.

34,023. The 10*l.* then was given to a man to run downstairs ?—No ; he was at the top of the stairs and was going away ; he was one of the voters, and I gave him that 10*l.* to be, as I thought, the first man to go to poll.

34,024. You mean you gave 10*l.* to a voter ?—Yes, I did.

34,025. But you do not know his name ?—I have a good idea of it, but I could not positively swear to his name.

34,026. What is your idea ?—I think it was a man they call Harrison.

34,027. Who was present when you gave this 10*l.* to the voter ?—No one except the two Whitesides, of Poulton, who were pushing past to get away ; one is a tailor, and the other a labourer, living at Poulton Lane.

34,028. For whom did you give this 10*l.* ?—He was going to vote for Lawrence and Schneider, but to prevent the rest from going away I thought if I could make him all right as it were to stay it would be better to give it to him.

34,029. When did you return this money to Captain Hosking ?—At half-past 1 on the election day at the "Cross Keys," in Market Street.

34,030. When these men were pushing past did you try to stop any of them ?—Yes ; that was how the others got away, this Harrison and the other two ; I had voted the two Whitesides, Pedder, and Smith, for the last four elections.

34,031. (Mr. Newton.) You do not mean to represent that there were voters in the room, and that you, when you had 40*l.* in your pocket, did not buy them ?—We had no money ; the Conservatives had not from 20 minutes to 9. I could not part with the money to pay Lawrence's voters.

34,032. You were to buy people for Schneider ?—Yes, but that was on condition that Mr. Lawrence was the leading candidate.

34,033. How could you tell whether he was the leading candidate or not ?—I heard the statements that came up.

34,034. You represent that you got the 50*l.* on condition that if Lawrence and Schneider were at the head of the poll you were to go on buying votes for Schneider ?—I was to go on spending the 40*l.* for Schneider, and more if I wanted it.

34,035. (Mr. Barstow.) What did Captain Hosking say to you when you returned him the money ?—He was quite satisfied when I explained it to him.

34,036. You told him you had given a man 10*l.* to vote for Lawrence, and he was quite satisfied ?—No ; not to vote for Lawrence, for Lawrence and Schneider.

34,037. What Harrison was this ?—It was a man from Galgate. I saw him on the buss once, that was all, and he was at some distance from me.

34,038. You do not know how the Harrison you speak of voted ?—No, I do not.

34,039. You knew that Harrison had voted for Lawrence and Schneider did you not ?—No, I never looked.

34,040. Do you really mean to say that you had not the curiosity to ascertain how the man voted to whom you had given the money ?—I never saw him after.

THOMAS JOHNSON sworn and examined.

T. Johnson.

34,041. (Mr. Newton.) You are an attorney ?—Yes.

34,042. How did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

34,043. Did you interest yourself in the election at all ?—Not in the slightest, beyond giving my personal vote.

34,044. You received no money ?—No ; my partner received a retainer, but it was on his exclusive account.

34,045. Who is your partner ?—William Tilley.

34,046. You did not yourself receive any money or pay any money for the purposes of the election ?—None at all.

34,047. (Mr. Barstow.) You had been engaged on former occasions on the Liberal side, had you not ?—On one occasion only, and that was Mr. Fenwick's previous election. I had refused it for 20 years, but on that occasion I rather strained the point against my will.

34,048. Was that the single handed election ?—Yes.

34,049. I thought Mr. Christopher Thornton Clark had been his agent ?—No, that was at the general election some years before.

34,050. Can you tell us anything about the expense of that election, at which you were Mr. Fenwick's agent ?—Yes ; I have not refreshed my memory by looking at any accounts. I was his agent and furnished to the returning officer the account of the sums I had disbursed.

34,051. But I mean the gross sum of money ; can you tell the gross sum that was spent by Mr. Fenwick in the contest with Mr. Saunders ?—I am sorry to say anything that may appear to be like flying in the face of the court, but I thought the fact of there having been an unimpugned election between this and the last contest precludes the Commissioners from going into that.

34,052. We are not at all precluded from going into it, and we ask you that question, and you must answer it ?—Then I will state that I have reason to believe that a good deal more money was spent than passed through my hands, but I have no knowledge of the amount.

34,053. What were the legal expenses on that occasion ?—They were returned something over 900*l.* for Mr. Fenwick alone.

34,054. We have evidence on this subject already ?—I am afraid I must correct a statement when my book was closed. I asked Mr. Fenwick what I was to do with the balance. I had had 1,000*l.* put into my hands, and I had a balance of a little over 50*l.*

THIRTIETH DAY.

T. Johnson.

34,055. (Mr. Newton.) Then we may say you had in fact about 950*l.* ?—No; 940*l.* odd.

34,056. (Mr. Barstow.) Can you tell us about what sum was spent altogether ?—If I am bound to state the whole truth upon my oath, and if your Commission enables you to go into that, I ought to state that I can put you into a train for ascertaining. When my book was closed I asked Mr. Fenwick what I was to do with the balance left in my hands, and he told me to pay it over to Mr. Henry Welch.

34,057. (Mr. Newton.) We should not ask you any questions unless we thought we had a right to ask you ?—Only I had formed an opinion of my own with reference to the Act of Parliament.

34,058. And we have formed ours, and we are the persons to decide at present ?—I will answer any questions you put to me.

34,059. (Mr. Barstow.) Mr. Fenwick desired you to pay that balance of 50*l.* to Mr. Henry Welch ?—Yes, 55*l.* I think it was.

34,060. Do you know what was the gross amount for expenses of all kinds spent by Mr. Fenwick in that election. I mean the single-handed contest with Mr. Saunders ?—I have no knowledge upon the subject myself. I was absent from the room while those things were talked about, but on my mentioning to Mr. Welch that I should have to state this, he made a remark, "If you added a couple of ciphers to what "passed through your hands you would not be far "out of the mark."

34,061. He said that on your handing over to him the balance of 50*l.* ?—No, it was not on my handing over the balance; it was with reference to this Commission; when this inquiry came on I had a talk with him, and I said, "If we go back to the former election "I shall have to state about the 55*l.*," and he said, "If you add a couple of ciphers to it you will not be "far off the mark."

34,062. (Mr. Newton.) Which election was that ?—The single-handed contest; this payment of 55*l.* was several weeks after the election, and I may add further, that I disliked the transaction so much that it confirmed my resolution to have nothing to do with any further retainers; and may I as a man of character in the town make one further statement: that I felt that I could not apply to my own use the money I received. I only charged 20 guineas as election agent, and I gave away one half to pay off a debt of the Teetotallers Society, and gave away the rest in other ways; at the last election I spent the day with some friends in the country, in order to be out of it.

34,063. But you voted ?—Yes.

34,064. For Fenwick and Schneider ?—Yes.

R. Ball.

ROBERT BALL sworn and examined.

34,065. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live ?—At Heaton.

34,066. You are a farmer ?—Yes.

34,067. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

34,068. What money did you get for the purposes of the election ?—Nothing at all.

34,069. Did you get anything for your expenses ?—No.

34,070. Not a farthing ?—No.

34,071. Did no one offer you any money ?—No.

34,072 Who asked you for your vote ?—Mr. Fenwick.

34,073. Anyone else ?—Mr. Schneider was with him; they were both together.

34,074. Did anybody else besides Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider ask you for your vote ?—No.

34,075. Do you mean to say that you received nothing at all either for yourself or for any other person ?—Yes.

34,076. Did any of your relations receive money that you are aware of ?—I believe a brother of mine received his expenses.

34,077. What is his name ?—Henry.

34,078. Where does he live ?—At Stalmin.

34,079. Do you know what your brother received ?—I think it was 5*l.*

34,080. Do you know from whom he got it ?—Yes.

34,081. Was that from Birchall ?—Yes.

34,082. How did he vote ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

34,083. I understand you to say that no money came to your hands either directly or indirectly for your vote ?—No.

34,084. That you swear ?—Yes.

J. Ball.

JOHN BALL sworn and examined.

34,085. (Mr. Barstow.) How did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

34,086. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—Only for my room.

34,087. What are you ?—I am a publican.

34,088. What is the sign of your house ?—The "Red Lion."

34,089. How much money did you receive ?—Knowles Allinson took my room.

34,090. What did he give you ?—He gave me nothing.

34,091. You told me just now that you received nothing but what you got for your room ?—Only for my room, but he did not pay me for it.

34,092. Who did ?—Henry Welch.

34,093. How much did he pay you ?—7*l.* 10*s.*

34,094. Is that all you received ?—Yes.

G. Ball

GEORGE BALL sworn and examined.

34,095. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you ?—A farmer

34,096. Of Heaton ?—Yes.

34,097. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

34,098. What did you receive ?—Nothing at all.

34,099. Are you related at all to Robert Ball the last witness ?—I am brother to him.

34,100. (Mr. Newton.) Were you on no committee ?—No.

34,101. (Mr. Barstow.) Who asked you for your vote ?—I think it was Mr. Fenwick.

34,102. Did none of the townspeople ask you for your vote; Allbright for instance ?—No, it might be mentioned by some one I do not know.

34,103. Did anyone offer you any money ?—No.

34,104. Did any relation of yours receive any money; any of your own family. I do not mean Henry Ball, but any of your own family ?—No.

34,105. Not your wife ?—No, not anyone.

J. Barwick.

JOSEPH BARWICK sworn and examined.

34,106. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a stationer ?—I am.

34,107. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.

34,108. Did you receive any money ?—No.

34,109. Neither for yourself nor for any other person ?—No.

34,110. Are you aware whether any relation of yours received any money on your behalf ?—No one did.

WILLIAM BATTERSBY sworn and examined. W. Battersby.

34,111. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

34,112. Did you take any part in the election?—Not at all, beyond voting.

34,113. By that I presume you did not receive or pay anything?—Not a fraction.

ROBERT BAXTER sworn and examined. R. Baxter.

34,114. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a farmer at Middleton?—Yes.

34,115. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,116. What money did you receive?—10*l.*

34,117. Was that from a gentleman you did not know who came down?—Yes.

34,118. Who was with you when he paid you the money?—Nobody.

34,119. What do you farm?—180*l.* a year.

34,120. Was 10*l.* all the money you received?—Yes.

34,121. You were on no committee?—No.

34,122. And you had not any money given you for drink?—No, not a farthing.

JOHN BECKETT sworn and examined. J. Beckett.

34,123. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a cabinet maker?—Yes.

34,124. Do you live in High Street?—In Middle Street.

34,125. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,126. Did you take any part in the election?—I was deputy mayor, that was all.

34,127. Being the deputy mayor did you receive any money or pay away any money for the purposes of the election?—I received two guineas for my services that day.

34,128. You received two guineas for your services as deputy mayor?—That was all I got.

34,129. Who did you get the two guineas from?—Mr. Swainson.

34,130. The town clerk?—Yes.

34,160. Did you take any part in the election?—A little.

34,161. What part did you take?—I was assisting in the Penny Street district.

34,162. Did you receive any money?—Yes.

34,163. How much?—I received 1*l.* about a fortnight before the election.

34,164. From whom did you receive that 1*l.*?—From John Bleasdale.

34,165. What relation are you to John Bleasdale?—He is a cousin of mine.

34,166. What other money did you receive?—1*l.* the day before the election.

34,167. From whom did you receive that?—From John Bleasdale.

34,168. What else did you receive?—And 10*l.* for my services.

34,169. What did you do with the 2*l.* which Bleasdale gave you?—I spent it.

34,170. In drink?—In treating.

34,171. Is that all you got?—That is all the money I got.

34,172. Were you on any committee?—No; and I beg leave to correct a statement that was made by Mr. Welch in his first examination. He then stated that he gave me 3*l.*, which is incorrect.

34,173. He did not give you any money at all?—No, he did not.

34,174. The probability is that your cousin returned your name to Mr. Welch as having received 2*l.*, and that is how it occurred?—I do not know as to that.

34,175. You did not receive anything from the other side?—Nothing at all.

THIRTIETH DAY.

34,199. Was that all you got?—Yes.

34,200. Did you get any money to spend in drink?—I got this money to spend in drink, I suppose.

34,201. But did you get anything besides to spend in drink?—Nothing.

T. Baxter.

Thomas Baxter sworn and examined.

34,202. (Mr. Newton.) You are of Bolton-le-Sands?—Yes.

34,203. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

34,204. Did you get anything for your vote?—15*l.*

34,205. Who paid you?—Robert Stackhouse.

34,206–7. Where did he pay you that?—At Bolton-le-Sands.

34,208. Did you get anything besides the 15*l.*?—I got 1*l.* 10*s.* from Robert Richmond at Slyne.

34,209. Anything else?—No.

34,210. You got 16*l.* 10*s.* then for the purposes of the election?—Yes.

34,211. That is all?—Yes.

34,212. I see you are called a husbandman?—Yes.

34,213. Are you a farmer?—No, not now I am not.

34,214. What are you now?—I am a publican now.

34,215. (Mr. Barstow.) What were you at that time?—A farm bailiff.

34,216. To whom?—S. E. Bolden, Esquire.

34,217. Had you generally voted this way?—No, I only voted once before, and I voted then for Mr. Saunders.

34,218. What made you vote for Fenwick and Schneider this time?—Mr. Bolden would not allow me to vote for Mr. Lawrence.

34,219. Do you mean Mr. Bolden himself?—Yes.

34,220. Did not Mr. Bolden either propose or second one of the candidates?—Yes, I believe he nominated Mr. Schneider.

W. Bond.

William Bond sworn and examined.

34,221. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

342,22. What money did you receive?—I received 14*l.* for the use of the house and refreshments.

34,223. Are you Bond of the "Three Mariners"?—Yes.

34,224. How much money did you receive for the use of the house?—I think it was 3*l.*

34,225. And 11*l.* for refreshments?—Yes.

34,226. Did you receive anything for your vote?—No; I received 10*l.* about a week after the election for my services.

34,227. Was that all you received?—Yes.

34,228. Who paid you the 10*l.*?—Mr. Storey.

34,229. And who paid you the 14*l.*?—Mr. Storey paid me part and Mr. Stanton the other.

34,230. You assisted Mr. Storey, did you not?—Yes.

34,231. You were a sort of sub-captain to him?—Yes.

C. Bower.

Charles Bower sworn and examined.

34,322. (Mr. Newton). How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,233. Did you take an active part in the election?—I took no part whatever except voting.

34,234. Did you receive any money?—Certainly not.

34,235. And you did not pay any money?—No.

E. Bradshaw.

Edward Bradshaw sworn and examined.

34,236. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

34,243. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

34,244. Did you take any active part in the election?—Not particularly an active part.

34,245. But what did you do?—I believe I introduced Mr. Schneider to the voters.

34,246. You went about canvassing?—No, I did not.

34,247. When then did you introduce Mr. Schneider to the voters?—On one evening; the evening he came down.

34,248. When he went down to Poulton?—Yes.

34,249. There was speechifying I suppose?—Yes.

34,250. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Not a farthing.

34,251. Did you pay any money?—No, I did not.

WILLIAM FISHER sworn and examined. W. Fisher.

34,252. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,253. Did you take any active part in the election?—No, I did not.

34,254. By that I suppose you mean you did not receive or pay any money?—Yes; I did not receive or pay anything.

RICHARD BRISCOE sworn and examined. R. Briscoe.

34,255. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

34,256. You are a cotton spinner?—Yes.

34,257. Did you receive any money for your vote?—Yes.

34,258. How much?—8*l.*

34,259. Who paid you?—Isaac Vickers.

34,260. Were you on a committee?—No.

34,261. Did you get anything from the other side?—Yes, I got a sovereign.

34,262. From whom did you get that?—From George Danson.

34,263. Was that all you got?—Yes.

34,264. You are quite sure of that?—Yes.

34,265. You only got 9*l.* for the election?—Yes, and there was my son as well.

34,266. What did he get?—8*l.*

34,267. And did he vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

34,268. Is he a gunsmith?—Yes.

34,269. He got the same as you did?—Yes.

34,270. Did he get 1*l.* from George Danson?—No, he got 30*s.*

34,271. Vickers paid you, did he not?—Yes.

34,272. Did Vickers pay your son?—No.

34,273. Who paid your son?—Marsden, the brush maker.

34,274. Where is your son?—At home.

34,275. Why did he not come here himself?—He has been poorly a day or two.

JOHN BROCKBANK sworn and examined. J. Brockbank.

34,276. (Mr Newton.) You are an attorney in Lancaster?—Yes.

34,277. You were chairman of Mr. Lawrence's committee?—I was chairman at one meeting on the 15th of June; it was merely at one meeting.

34,278. Who was chairman of Mr. Lawrence's committee?—Mr. John Sharp.

34,279. You were chairman at one meeting?—At one meeting.

34,280. Was that all the part you took in the election?—Well, no; I took an interest in the election; but I was not very actively engaged in the election.

34,281. Did you canvass for Mr. Lawrence?—I do not recollect that I was out with him; I think Mr. Lawrence was under a mistake. He mentioned my name as proceeding with him on the canvass on the first day, but in that he was mistaken. I was staying in the neighbourhood of London at that time, and I did not return to Lancaster till the Tuesday before the nomination day.

34,282. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No, I did not.

34,283. Nor pay any?—Nor pay any. I do not know whether I ought to tell you that there is a neighbour of mine who I asked for a vote. I asked him what he was going to do with his vote, and he intimated to me that he would vote as he always had done, but he said, "They never come near me. They have no meetings at my house." He is a publican; and I saw Mr. Vince afterwards, and mentioned to him what he had said. I did not enquire any further about it.

HENRY BROWN sworn and examined. H. Brown.

34,284. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

34,285. You are a plumber, are you not?—Yes.

34,286. Did you take any part in the election?—No.

34,287. Did you receive any money?—Yes, 8*l.*

34,288. From whom did you receive that?—From Colonel Yeadell.

34,289. Are you sure it was not 10*l.*?—Yes.

34,290. Quite sure?—Yes.

34,291. Where did he pay you the money?—At the "Queen's Hotel."

34,292. Was that on the morning of the election?—Yes.

34,293. Were you on a committee besides?—No.

34,294. That was all you got at the election?—Yes.

34,295. You got nothing on the other side?—No.

THOMAS BUTCHER sworn and examined. T. Butcher.

34,296. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a tailor?—Yes.

34,321. None at all ?—No, none whatever.

34,322. And were you not paid anything ?—No.

34,323. And you did not pay anybody ?—No.

34,324. Were you not on any committee ?—No.

34,325. On neither side ?—On neither side.

34,326. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you receive nothing from Stanton ?—No.

34,327. You received nothing from either side ?—No; I received nothing from anyone.

R. Charnley.

ROWLAND CHARNLEY sworn and examined.

34,328. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

34,329. You are an ironmonger ?—I am not now ; I was.

34,330. What are you now ?—I am out of business.

34,331. And you live in Dallas Place, Lancaster ?—Yes.

34,332. Were you active in the last election ?—Not at all.

34,333. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—No, not at all.

34,334. Neither for yourself nor for any other person ?—From no one.

R. Chatburn.

ROBERT CHATBURN sworn and examined.

34,335. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,336. You are a yeoman, are you not ?—Yes.

34,337. Did you get any money for your vote ?—No.

34,338. Nothing ?—Nothing.

34,339. Did you pay any money for the purposes of the election ?—No.

34,340. And took no part in it ?—No.

34,341. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you take no part in the election at all ?—No.

34,342. Did you not canvass any of your neighbours ?—No.

G. Cleminson.

GEORGE CLEMINSON sworn and examined.

34,343. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a plumber ?—Yes.

34,344. And you voted at the last election for Fenwick and Schneider ?—Yes.

34,345. You took a pretty active part, did you not, in the election ?—Well, I took an active part in it.

34,346. We hear that you took a very active part in it ?—Very well.

34,347. Did you sometimes assist Mr. Wearing and Mr. Welch, and Mr. Blades ?—Well, I do not know that I did.

34,348. You surely remember whether you did or not ?—Assisted them in what do you mean ?

34,349. Were you in the room at the "Queen's" with them ?—I was in the "Queen's" several times.

34,350. Were you in the room at the "Queen's" with Mr. Welch, Mr. Wearing, and Mr. Blades ?—Yes.

34,351. Did you stay any time with them ?—Perhaps half an hour.

34,352. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—Yes.

34,353. How much did you receive ?—55*l.*

34,354. From whom did you receive it ?—From Henry Welch.

34,355. What did you do with it ?—I paid 10*l.* to Thomas Cleminson for canvassing.

34,356. Where did you receive it, at the "Queen's ?"—No; I received 5*l.* at Mr. Welch's shop.

34,357. When ?—I cannot tell you that ; it was some time previous to the election.

33,358. Where did you receive the rest ?—At my own shop. Mr. Welch brought it.

34,359. He brought 50*l.* to you at once ?—Yes.

34,360. Do you recollect what time that was ?—No, I do not indeed ; it was previous to the election.

34,361. Would it be in the same week as the election ?—Well, I cannot be certain about it.

34,362. It is not important you know, but we should like to have a date as near as can be ?—If I knew I would tell you.

34,363. It was not on the Monday or Tuesday before the polling ?—That I cannot say.

34,364. What did you do with this 50*l.* ?—I paid it away ; at least a portion of it.

34,365. We want to know how you paid it away ?—I paid Thomas Cleminson 10*l.*, as I have told you, and I paid Benjamin Hartley, of Mary Street, about 7*l.*, I think, as nearly as I can tell, and about the same amount to Thomas Wade.

34,365*a*. Who is Wade ?—He is a sort of commercial traveller. He lives in Lancaster a good deal of his time.

34,366. He is not a voter, I believe ?—No, he is not a voter.

34,367. That is 24*l.* ?—I paid Thomas Baines 1*l.* at the "Queen's" on the morning of the nomination for refreshments ; he came from Oversands, he and some friends, and I had not time to stop with them. I paid John Cross, of Claughton, 1*l.* 10*s.* for money he had expended out of his own pocket in canvassing.

34,368. Who else ?—I paid John McCann 1*l.* 7*s.* for cabs ; I paid four guineas to the bell ringers.

34,369. Who are they ; what are their names ?—The one that I paid it to they called Parker ; there were eight of them at 10*s.* 6*d.* a piece.

34,370. Who else ?—I think that was all, except I spent about 7*l.* myself. I gave the particulars to Mr. Welch two days after the election, and returned him between 15*l.* and 16*l.*

34,371. You have accounted to us for 32*l.* 1*s.* ?—I returned Mr. Welch between 15*l.* and 16*l.* I gave him the particulars at the time.

34,372. (Mr. Newton.) You gave the balance back ?—Yes, about two days after the election, and I gave him the particulars.

34,373. Then if so you would have about 7*l.* remaining ?—Yes ; I should expend about 7*l.*, as near as I could tell.

34,374. In what way did you spend that 7*l.*?—I spent it in expenses of canvassing and railway fares. I had the engagement of the whole of the conveyances. I spent part at Ulverstone and Preston.

34,375. Did you pay anything for eggs?—No, not a penny.

34,376. Perhaps those were furnished gratuitously?—I do not know; I only had one, and I cannot say.

34,377. I dare say you either heard or read what was said about you?—One hears a deal of things that is not true.

34,378. It is not true that you threw eggs out of the window, is it?—Not that I threw eggs. I threw one egg after they had been at it about three quarters of an hour.

34,479. You think that is all the money you received and all you spent?—I am certain of it.

34,380. You did not take anything for yourself?—No, not a farthing.

THOMAS ARMER sworn and examined. T. Armer.

34,381. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a labourer at Cockerham?—Yes.

34,414. Do you assist your father?—No.

34,415. Are you a farmer on your own account?—I farm a farm myself.

34,416. What is the extent of your farm? What rent do you pay?—138*l.*

34,417. Did you receive anything except this 10*l.*?—No.

34,418. Were you paid anything in Hodgson's of China Lane's House?—No.

THOMAS COTTAM sworn and examined. T. Cottam.

34,419. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a farmer at Overton?—Yes.

34,420. How did you vote?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,421. Did you get anything for your vote?—Yes.

34,422. How much?—20*l.*

34,423. Who paid you?—Maddock, of Liverpool, gave me 10 sovereigns.

34,424. And who gave you the other?—George Danson gave me two 5*l.* notes.

34,425. Did you get anything for being on the committee?—Nothing whatever.

34,426. How was it that you got 20*l.* for your vote?—George Danson knew that I had got the first 10*l.*

34,427. Did you tell George Danson that you were not going to vote unless you got 10*l.* from him?—Yes, very likely I did.

34,428. And you screwed another 10*l.* out of him?—Yes.

34,429. You are a farmer? How many acres do you farm?—I had about 10 acres at that time.

34,430. Was it your own or did your hire it?—It was about that altogether. Some of it was my own and some I farmed.

34,431. What rent did you pay?—I paid about 14*l.* a year.

34,432. And what was the value of that which was your own?—18*l.* on the rate book.

34,433. (Mr. Barstow.) What rent do you pay now?—236*l.*

34,434. (Mr. Newton.) Who is your landlord now?—Mr. Sharp is the trustee of the estate.

34,435. (Mr. Barstow.) And you farm your own land besides?—At this present time I do. I have only had it this year a few months—not a year yet.

34,436. How many acres have you of your own freehold?—Eight customary acres.

THIRTIETH DAY.

4 Jan. 1867.

J. Cottam.

JOHN COTTAM sworn and examined.

34,437. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,438. What money did you receive?—10*l.*

34,439. From whom did you receive it?—A stranger.

34,440. You knew who the stranger was, I suppose?—No, I did not.

34,441. But you know now, do you not?—No.

34,442. When did you receive it?—The night before the election.

34,443. Was that all you received?—Yes.

34,444. You received nothing but that 10*l.*?—No.

34,445. Where did you receive it?—Close to home.

34,446. You did not screw out another 10*l.* from anybody?—No.

34,447. You are a farmer, I see; what is your rent?—I am no farmer.

34,448. What are you?—I am a farm servant.

J. A. Coulston.

JOHN ADAM COULSTON sworn and examined.

34,449. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Ulleswater Road?—Yes.

34,450. And you are a tailor?—Yes.

34,451. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

34,452. Did you get anything for your vote?—10*l.*

34,453. Who paid you?—John Marsden.

34,454. Were you on any committee?—No.

34,455. On neither side?—No.

34,456. And that is all you got at the election, 10*l.*?—Yes, for my vote.

34,457. What did you get for your services?—Nothing; only I had a message to take one night and I got a shilling.

34,458. From whom did you get that?—From George Shaw, I think.

34,459. What did you do with the shilling he gave you?—I spent it.

34,460. In drink?—Yes.

R. Cragg.

RICHARD CRAGG sworn and examined.

34,461. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a farmer at Cleveley?—I was.

34,462. (Mr. Newton.) Were you at the time of the election?—Yes.

34,463. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,464. What money did you receive?—5l.

34,465. Who paid you?—I did not know the gentleman.

34,466. Did you see Mr. Clarke at the place where you were paid?—I think he was in another room; he was not in the same room.

34,467. Where were you paid?—At the "White Cross."

34,468. What rent did you pay at this time?—I was not on my own account; there was my mother along with me. It was about 220*l.* a year.

34,469. That is, you both between you paid that?—Yes.

34,470. (Mr. Newton.) Had you half and she half?—Yes.

34,471. In fact, then, you paid 110*l.* a year?—Yes.

34,472. How much rent did you pay yourself?—The lease was drawn for the two, you know, and the rent was 220*l.*

34,473. And how much of that 220*l.* did you pay?—I paid the whole of it; I managed for her.

34,474. And how much did she pay?—She paid the same as I did.

34,475. What was that?—110*l.*

34,476. She paid 110*l.* and you paid 110*l.*?—I paid the whole of it, and she had the interest of it.

34,477. (Mr. Barstow.) It was a partnership, I suppose?—Yes.

34,478. Had you both an equal interest in it?—Yes.

34,479. The rent altogether I think you say was 220*l.*?—Yes.

THOMAS CRANE is called, but does not answer.

A. Crane.

ANNA CRANE sworn and examined.

34,480. (Mr. Barstow.) You appear for Thomas Crane?—Yes.

34,481. He is your husband?—Yes.

34,482. Is he a hairdresser in Market Street?—Yes.

34,483. How did he vote at the last election?—For Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

34,484. And what money did you receive for him? I got 5*l.* after the election; he had nothing do with it.

34,485. From whom did you get that 5*l.*?—John Bell, in the North Road. He sent for me to his shop and gave it me after the election.

34,486. Did he say that that was for your husband's vote?—He said nothing about his vote; he gave me that after the election.

34,487. Did you ask him before the election for the 5*l.*?—No, I had nothing to do with it. He sent for me after the election and gave the money to me.

R. Hall.

ROBERT HALL sworn and examined.

34,488. (Mr. Newton.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for the Conservative candidate.

34,489. That, I believe, was Mr. Lawrence?—Yes.

34,490. Did you get any money for so voting?—I did not; I was retained professionally.

34,491. You are an attorney?—I am.

34,492. Did you receive any money at all for the purposes of the election?—Not a farthing.

34,493. What were you retained for?—I received my own election fee, but nothing further than that.

34,494. What was that fee?—25 guineas.

34,495. What did you do for those 25 guineas?—I was principally engaged at the committee room; I also went out on the canvass.

34,496. When was the retainer sent to you?—I think it would be about a fortnight before the election. I do not recollect exactly.

34,497. (Mr. Barstow.) For what did you consider you received the 25 guineas?—For my services as election agent.

34,498. And what services did you render as election agent?—I accompanied Mr. Lawrence a portion of the time on the canvass, and I also acted in the committee room. I had to do with preparing street lists, writing to outside voters and many other things.

34,499. Did you do anything on the polling day?—I was in the committee room, I think, the whole of the day, with the exception of the time I voted.

34,500. What were you engaged in doing?—I stood to see how the voters went, how they recorded their votes.

34,501. Can you tell us how many professional gentlemen were engaged for Mr. Lawrence?—I think I can; Mr. Clark was the principal agent, and Mr. Gibson and myself.

34,502. Do you know who were engaged on the other side?—Mr. Maxsted and Mr. Tilley; I think that was all.

JAMES CROFT, junior, sworn and examined. J. Croft.

34,503. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,504. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Nothing whatever. I was in the committee room at the "Royal Oak," for which I received 7*s.* 6*d.* a day for 10 days, making 3*l.* 15*s.*

34,505. You were employed as a clerk were you?—Yes.

34,506. How were you employed?—In writing out street lists, and doing a great number of things. I was there from 8 in the morning till 8 at night several days.

34,507. For how many days?—10 days at 7*s.* 6*d.* a day.

34,508. What is your occupation generally; what are you?—I have not been much at home. I have been with my father; he is old.

34,509. Are you a clerk?—No, I am not doing much, I am out of occupation.

THOMAS CROSSFIELD sworn and examined. T. Crossfield.

34,510. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a labourer at Halton?—Yes.

34,511. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,512. Did you get anything for your vote?—10*l.*

34,513. Who paid you?—George Danson.

34,514. Where did he pay you, do you remember?—I think it was at the "Royal Oak."

34,515. Did Mr. Sharp come to you?—Yes.

34,516. Did he tell you to go to George Danson?—No, he did not.

34,517. Who told you to go to George Danson?—It was King as told me to go there.

34,518. Which King; King of Slyne?—Of Slyne. I do not know what his name is.

34,519. Is that all you got, 10*l.*?—I got 30*s.* from King.

34,520. What was that for?—I do not know what it was for; I got it before the election.

34,521. How did you vote at the election before the last?—I voted for Fenwick.

34,522. Then you would not vote for Lawrence unless you got 11*l.* 10*s*; that was it I suppose, was it not?—I cannot say it was.

34,523. King said you must vote for Lawrence, and he paid you 1*l.* 10*s.*, did he not?—I got it before the election.

34,524. And he told you to go to George Danson, was not that it?—No, he did not tell me to go to George Danson.

34,525. I thought you said he told you to go to George Danson; he told you to go the "Royal Oak," and that you would be paid there, was that it?—Well, perhaps it was.

34,526. (Mr. Barstow.) Were you paid this 1*l.* 10*s.* at the "Royal Oak?"—No, I got it before the election.

34,527. Do you know who this Mr. King is?—He comes from Slyne.

34,528. Was that all you got?—Yes.

34,529. You got nothing to spend in drink?—I spent 30*s.* in drink; that was all I got to spend in drink.

34,530. Did you get anything from Fenwick and Schneider's people?—No.

34,531. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a day labourer?—Yes.

34,532. What wages do you earn?—I have different wages; sometimes 3*s.* 6*d.*, and sometimes 4*s.*, it depends on what I am doing.

34,533. Were you a day labourer at the time of the election?—Yes.

JOHN CROSKELL sworn and examined. J. Croskell.

34,534. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a farmer at Overton?—I was; I am not now.

34,535. Where are you living now?—I am living at Overton.

34,536. But you are not a farmer?—No.

34,537. You voted for Mr. Lawrence at the last election did you not?—Yes.

34,538. What money did you receive?—10*l.*

34,539. Was that all you received?—Yes.

34,540. Where did you receive it?—At Overton.

34,541. Did you receive anything from Hodgson?—No.

34,542. Did you receive nothing in his house?—No.

34,543. (Mr. Newton.) Were you on any committee?—No.

34,544. And you received nothing on the other side?—No.

BARTHOLOMEW PYE sworn and examined. B. Pye.

34,545. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand you wish to say something?—Yes; I have been summoned wrong.

34,546. Are you not a voter?—No.

34,547. Where do you live?—At Wyresdale.

34,548. What are you?—I have a small farm.

34,548-9. Do you know a man named James Towers?—No.

34,549. Who lives at Dolphinholme?—No, I do not know him.

34,550. Who lives at Bare then?—I do not know where he lives; I do not know a man of that name.

34,551. Did you ever pay him 5*l.* for the purpose of the election?—No, I never had anything to do with the election, and never was at one.

34,552. You are a farmer, and you live at Wyresdale?—Yes.

34,553. Are there any more of your name living at Wyresdale?—Yes, there is another man of the same name, but he had no more to do with the electioneering than I had.

34,554. Do you know that this man Towers has said that Bartholomew Pye paid him 5*l.* at the election?—No, it is a thing I never knew anything about.

34,555. Towers told us when he was standing in that place that Bartholomew Pye paid him 5*l.* for his vote?—It is the name that is wrong, if you will be so kind as to read that you will see (handing a paper to the Commissioners).

34,556. You are not the Bartholomew Pye who paid Towers 5*l.* for his vote?—No, it is a mistake in the name.

34,557. Do you know Bartholomew Pye?—Yes, there is another of that name.

34,558. Is he any relation of yours?—He is some kind of relation, but he is a very old man, and he had nothing to do with the election.

THIRTIETH DAY.

4 Jan. 1867.

J. Crosskell.

JOSEPH CROSKELL, junior, sworn and examined.

34,643. You are an accountant I think?—Yes.

JOHN EDMONSON sworn and examined.

J. Edmonson.

34,644. (Mr. Newton.) You are described as of Grassyard Hall, Caton, Esquire?—Yes.

34,645. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

34,646. Did you receive any money for your vote?—Nothing whatever.

34,647. Did you pay any money?—No.

34,648. Did you not propose one of the candidates?—No.

34,649. (Mr. Barstow.) Were any of your servants engaged in the election?—Yes, one.

34,650. Your butler?—Yes.

34,651. What is his name?—Henry Row. He is summoned for Monday.

JOHN DAVIS recalled and further examined.

J. Davis.

34,652. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand you wish to make some correction in your evidence?—Yes; I beg pardon, I believe I made a mistake in the name. I think it was Bond that gave me the money.

34,653. William Bond you think paid you?—Yes.

34,654. Where did he pay you?—He paid me at the asylum.

34,655. After you had voted?—No, before.

34,656. Had you told anybody how you were going to vote?—No.

34,657. Had you made an arrangement that you were to be paid 10*l.* if you voted for Lawrence?—Dugdale said I should be paid 10*l.* if I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

THOMAS GRASSYARD EDMONDSON sworn and examined.

T. G. Edmondson.

34,658. (Mr. Barstow.) You voted I see for Mr. Lawrence at the last election?—Yes.

34,659. I believe you either proposed or seconded him?—I seconded him.

34,660. Is that all the part you took in the election—I went round with Mr. Lawrence one day through part of Caton and Littledale to see the voters.

34,661. Did you either receive or pay any money?—No; and I saw one or two voters on the day the election was going on.

34,662. Who did you see on that day?—I saw, I think, a son of Mr. Richmond, the painter.

34,663. Did you ask him to vote for Mr. Lawrence?—He was not in; it was only his wife that I saw.

34,664. Did you offer her any money?—No.

34,665. Did you offer anyone any money?—No.

34,666. You made no promise of money to any person?—No.

34,667. Did you introduce anyone though you did not offer money yourself to people who you thought would be likely to offer them money?—No.

DANIEL EDMONSON is called but does not answer.

JOHN EDMONSON sworn and examined.

J. Edmonson.

34,668. (Mr. Barstow.) You are the son of Daniel Edmonson?—Yes.

34,669. He is unwell, we understand, and not able to come here?—He is not.

34,670. Do you know of your own knowledge how much money he received for his vote?—He received, he says, from Dr. Bradshaw 2*l.*; he put it into his hands and shook hands with him; he did not ask him how he was going to vote.

34,671. And how did he vote?—He voted for Mr. Lawrence.

34,672. Who is attending your father now?—There is nobody attending him; he has got an old man.

34,673. How old is he?—About 85.

34,674. Was that all the money he received?—Yes.

34,675. Do you know whether he received anything besides these 2*l.*?—He received nothing.

34,676. (Mr. Newton.) How was it that he received so little?—He always had voted that way, and I suppose he did not expect to receive anything; he would have voted without receiving anything.

34,677. You got 11*l.* for your vote?—I got about three or four and twenty pounds for that, and for all my expenses. I was Shackleton's mate.

34,678. Shackleton paid you?—Yes.

THIRTIETH DAY.

35,037. That is in Lancaster?—Yes.
35,038. What are you?—A commercial traveller.
35,039. I believe you were rather active on behalf of the Liberal candidates at the last election?—Yes, I was.
35,040. What money did you receive for the purpose of the election?—I received 15*l.* from Mr. Welch.
35,041. That is Henry Welch I suppose?—Yes.
35,042. What did you do with it?—I gave 10*l.* to Preston of Galgate, the son of a cordwainer there, and 5*l.* to his brother.
35,043. What is Preston's christian name?—John I think; he is the son of a cordwainer, and the other is Robert.
35,044. Is John junior or senior?—It is junior.
35,045. And the other is Robert Preston, of Galgate?—Yes; brother to the cordwainer.
35,046. Is that all the money you received?—No; I received between 6*l.* and 7*l.* from George Cleminson.
35,047. What did you do with that?—I spent it among the voters at Galgate, and other places.
35,048. Have you anything more to tell us?—No, I have not.
35,049. With whom did you spend the money?—On the Galgate voters at the "Eagle and Child" the "Green Dragon," and also another house, but I really do not know the sign of it. I was down there with Mr. Bradshaw, and when he was away whatever came in I paid for it at the time.
35,050. You cannot tell us about bribing any other voter can you?—No.
35,051. This is all you know on the subject?—That is all I know.

ANTHONY DOWNHAM sworn and examined. A. Downham.

35,052. (Mr. Barstow.) You are the overseer of Scotforth, are you not?—Yes; assistant overseer.

35,055. Will you tell us, if you please, what you did?—I paid 10*l.* to a man named Birkett for William Jackson, and 8*l.* to George Marshall.
35,056. Who gave you the money to pay them?—William Jackson, of Scotforth; you have had evidence of it before.
35,057. But we want your evidence. How much did he give you?—He gave me 18*l.* 5*s.*
35,058. When did he give it to you?—On the election day, in the morning.
35,059. And where?—At Poulton, in his own public-house.
35,060. What did you do with the money?—I gave 10*l.* to a man named Birkett.
35,061. Who is Birkett?—I think he is described as a wool comber in the list of voters.
35,062. Is he a freeman?—Yes.
35,063. What did you do with the rest?—I gave 8*l.* to George Marshall, of Scotforth.
35,064. Can you tell us anything else?—No; not as I did, nor as any other person else did. Mr. Halstead dragged me into that job, and I thought he should not.
35,065. Are you sure it was 8*l.* that you gave to Marshall?—Yes.
35,066. What Marshall do you mean?—George Marshall. I gave it to his wife.
35,067. What Marshall do you mean?—George Marshall, of Scotforth.
35,068. He says he only got 6*l.*?—But he is wrong there.

35,116. Did you take any part in the election?—No.

J. Lee.

WILLIAM LEE sworn and examined.

35,117. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a porter, I see, in Mary Street?—Yes.

35,118. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

35,119. What did you receive?—5*l.* from Fenwick and eight days pay for the committee room.

35,120. From whom?—For Fenwick's committee room.

35,121. And how much was that altogether?—I do not know.

35,122. How much a day?—5*s.*

35,123. That was from Fenwick?—Yes.

35,124. Who did you receive the pay from?—John Curwen, of Quernmore.

35,125. What did you receive from the other side?—5*l.*

35,126. Who did you get that from?—John Curwen.

35,127. Of Quernmore?—Yes.

35,128. Anything besides?—No.

35,129. Were you not on George Danson's committee?—No.

35,130. Then you got 12*l.* altogether?—No; I only got 5*l.* for my vote for Lawrence, and eight days pay for Fenwick's committee room; that is all.

35,131. You did not get anything from Lawrence?—No.

35,132. I thought you told me you got something from John Curwen, of Quernmore?—5*l.* for my vote for Lawrence.

35,133. You are a very stupid fellow; that is just what I said. Who paid paid you the 5*l.* for your vote for Lawrence?—John Curwen.

35,134. And who paid you the 5*l.* for your vote for Fenwick?—Nobody; I got it for running errands.

35,135. (Mr. Newton.) But nevertheless you got 12*l.*?—No, I did not.

35,136. (Mr. Barstow.) John Curwen gave you 5*l.* for Lawrence, and somebody gave you another 5*l.*?—No.

35,137. What did you get altogether?—5*l.* from John Curwen.

35,138. What was that for?—To vote for Lawrence.

35,139. What did you get from Fenwick?—I got eight days pay.

35,140. That was 2*l.*?—Yes.

35,141. And what did you get for running errands?—That was for running errands.

35,142. Did you get anything from Fenwick's side except what you got for being on the committee?—No.

35,143. Then it is not true that you got 5*l.* from Fenwick's side?—No, I never did.

35,144. You only got 2*l.* from him?—No.

35,145. (Mr. Newton) You only got 7*l.* altogether?—No.

T. Richardson.

35,148. How did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Fenwick and Lawrence.

35,149. And what did you get for your vote?—"Schneider" I meant, though I said Lawrence.

35,150. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

35,151. Who paid you?—I cannot say as I know him.

35,152. Where did you get paid?—At the "Shovel."

35,153. And what did you get besides?—30*s.*

35,154. Who from?—From Tilley's office.

35,155. What was that for?—For services.

35,156. Running errands?—Well, I did not do that.

35,157. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

35,158. Nothing?—No; I could have done if I would have taken it.

35,159. What could you have got?—I had 15*s.* offered.

35,160. Who offered you that?—A chap in the street stopped me.

35,161. You meant to have taken it, did you not?—No.

35,162. You only got 11*l.* 10*s.*, that was all?—That was all.

S. Ross.

STEPHEN ROSS sworn and examined.

ROBERT JACKSON sworn and examined.

35,169. (Mr. Barstow.) You are an attorney in this town ?—I was, I am not now.

35,170. For whom did you vote at the last election? —For Mr. Lawrence.

35,171. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—None whatever.

35,172. Were you professionally employed by Mr. Lawrence ?—No.

T. Lamb.

THOMAS LAMB sworn and examined.

35,173. (Mr. Barstow.) You are described as of Hay Carr, Ellel, attorney ?—Yes.

35,174. For whom did you vote at the last election ? —Mr. Lawrence.

35,175. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—I did not.

35,176. Neither for yourself, nor for any other person ?—Neither for myself nor for any other person.

35,177. (Mr. Newton.) What are you? — An attorney.

35,178. You were not engaged professionally ?—I was not.

G. Jackson

GEORGE JACKSON sworn and examined.

35,179. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A wine and spirit merchant.

35,180. For whom did you vote at the last election? —For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,181. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—I received nothing.

35,182. Nothing whatever ?—No.

35,183. Neither for yourself, nor for any other person ?—For no one.

35,184. Do you know a man named Robinson who keeps a public-house ?—I know a man of that name who keeps a beershop.

35,185. Did you canvass him ?—No, not to my knowledge.

35,186. You must know whether you did or not? —I do not know ; I do not believe I was in the house.

35,187. Can you tell me whether you did or did not canvass him ?—No; to the best of my knowledge I did not.

35,188. You ought not to answer in that manner, you must know whether you canvassed him or not ? —I cannot remember every one that I canvassed.

35,189. We were told by Mr. Hatch, I think, that you had canvassed him in Robinson's house. Was that so or not ?—It was not so to my knowledge.

35,190. Can you not tell us whether you were there or not ?—I do not believe I was.

35,191. You did not give him any money ?—No.

35,192. Nor promise him anything ?—No.

35,193. Did you promise to take his house ?—I did not ; I had no authority to do it.

E. Simpson

EDMUND SIMPSON sworn and examined.

35,194. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,195. Are you a cabinet-maker ?—I was ; but I am the registrar of births and deaths.

35,196. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—No.

35,197. Neither for yourself nor for any other person ?—No, except Mr. Cross in the forenoon said, " There is this for Kitchen," and I put it in my pocket, and gave it to him. I do not know what the amount was. Kitchen said it was all right, and put it in his pocket.

35,198. You received money from Mr. Cross, I think you say ?—Yes.

35,199. To give to Kitchen ?—Yes.

35,200. You held it while he went to poll ?—Yes ; I believe it was for that purpose.

35,201. Did Kitchen agree then that you should hold the money ?—There was no agreement ; Mr. Cross said, " Will you hold this till I tell you to give it to him ? "

35,202. Kitchen was there ?—Yes.

35,203. And he knew you were holding the money for him ?—Yes.

E. Jackson

35,248. That is 3*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

35,249. What was that for?—For services rendered.

35,250. What were those services?—Taking notes out and such like, notes round the country or anywhere.

33,251. What other money did you receive?—None whatever.

35,252. What is that paper you have in your hand?—It is from my brother Anthony.

35,253. Was that all the money you received?—I received no other money but that.

35,254. Did you hold no money for anybody?—No.

35,255. Were you engaged all day carrying notes?—Yes, when they were ready for me; I was in the committee room.

A. Hargreaves.

ANTHONY HARGREAVES is called but does not answer.

35,256. We are told that your brother Anthony is unfit to travel?—Yes; he met with an accident on Thursday, and is confined to his bed.

35,257. Do you come here to speak for him?—Yes, he is in bed; I was up with him all night; he is very ill.

35,258. What money did he get at the last election?—Nothing at all; I am quite sure of that; he is a man who has no occasion for it.

35,259. He is really bad is he?—Yes.

35,260. What is the matter with him?—He had a fall on Thursday and hurt his arm, or else he would have been very glad to come down and see you.

35,262. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,263. You are a druggist I believe?—I was formerly, but I am not now.

35,264. What money did you receive?—That might save perhaps a little trouble (handing a paper to the Commissioners). I am very deaf.

35,265. What money did you get?—You will find it there (referring to the paper).

35,266. Did you receive 1*l.* from Anthony Knowles Allinson?—I did.

35,267. And 1*l.* 10*s.* by Christopher Hartley from Mr. Welch?—I did.

35,268. And a further sum of 8*l.* from Mr. Welch?—I did.

35,269. And 5*l.* 6*s.*, as Shackleton says, from Shackleton?—Yes, as he says.

35,270. You think it is 4*l.*?—I do.

35,271. And a further 2*l.* from Mr. Welch?—Yes.

35,272. Making a total, according to Shackleton, of 17*l.* 16*s.*?—According to Shackleton 17*l.* 16*s.*

35,273. And according to yourself 16*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes.

35,274. Did you receive anything from the other side?—Nothing.

35,275. You kept this all for yourself?—No; all those sundry items were spent in expenses according to authority from the different parties.

35,276. When did you receive the 1*l.* from Allinson?—It was prior to the election, perhaps a week.

35,277. And when did you receive the money from Christopher Hartley?—About the same time.

35,278. What did you receive the money from Shackleton for?—For expenses at Morecambe.

35,279. At what time did you receive it?—At various times; 10*s.* was the first.

35,280. When did you receive the 8*l.* from Mr. Welch?—I cannot give you exactly the date, but it was prior to the election. I should say that I gave a list of those expenses every two or three days to Mr. Shackleton. I gave him a list of how the money had been expended, and also to Mr. Allinson and Mr. Hartley. It was what they had authorized me to do.

35,281. Did you account to Mr. Welch at all?—No.

35,282. What was the last 2*l.* you received from Welch for?—For expenses incurred.

35,283. Do you mean you were out of pocket that sum?—I was, and he paid it me after the election.

35,284. (Mr. Hill.) How came you not to account to Mr. Welch for the money?—Because I had agreed to assist for the sum of 8*l.*

35,285. That was not money out of pocket?—No.

35,286. Or the 2*l.* either?—Yes, the 2*l.* was.

RICHARD HARRISON sworn and examined. R. Harrison.

35,287. (Mr. Hill.) You are a shoe maker?—Yes.

35,288. And you live in Damside Street?—Yes.

35,289. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,290. What money did you receive?—10*l.* at four different times.

35,291. From whom did you receive it?—I received 2*l.* from George Danson, and 2*l.* from William Storey, who said I received 5*l.* 16*s.* 3*d.*, but I did not; and 1*l.* from Mr. Stanton; and 5*l.* from Mr. Gibson, the lawyer, five weeks after the election.

35,292. That made altogether 10*l.*?—Yes.

35,293. What did you do for that 10*l.*—It was for extra working expenses.

35,294. What working expenses used you to have?—I used to travel about in the town.

35,295. You used to go up and down the town?—Yes.

35,296. Did you get anything besides that for being on the committee?—No.

35,297. Were you not on any committee?—Yes.

35,298. Did you get anything from the other side?—No.

35,299. 10*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

35,300. And you spent that mostly on yourself?—No, I did not.

35,301. How much did you spend on yourself?—Not many shillings; I was rather out of pocket I think.

35,302. Who did you spend the money on?—They came to the shop, and I used to treat them now and then with fish.

35,303. You spent the money on your own fish?—Part of it.

35,304. You are a fishmonger, and not a shoemaker?—I served my time to it; but I left it when I took my freedom up.

35,305. You treated them off your own fish?—Part of it.

35,306. At what house did you spend the money in drink?—At the "White Horse" in Church Street.

35,307. Are you a scholar?—No, not very much.

35,308. Can you read and write?—I can write part and read part.

35,309. You can read and write imperfectly as they say?—Yes.

35,310. You cannot tell us any house that you spent this money at in drink?—Yes, the "White Horse" in Church Street.

35,311. What day did you go there to spend it?—I cannot say.

35,312. Upon whom did you spend it?—Different parties; Nathan White for one.

35,313. How much did Nathan White drink?—I do not know, a good deal of brandy.

35,314. And you drank with him?—Yes.

35,315. And he with you?—Yes.

35,316. (Mr. Barstow.) I have no doubt that when Nathan White comes, he will say he spent his money on you?—Very likely he may.

35,317. (Mr. Hill.) When were you paid this 10*l.*?—I was paid 5*l.* before the election, and Mr. Gibson, the lawyer, paid me 5*l.* five weeks after.

35,318. Have you spoken to Mr. Storey, and told him he has put you down for more than you have had?—Yes, I spoke to him when I got the summons, and I spoke to him again this morning.

35,319. What did he say about it?—He said he thought I had got it, and to tell the truth.

35,320. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you live in Damside Street?—Yes, No. 99.

35,321. How came you to go to Mr. Gibson for the 5*l.*?—He sent for me. It was for working expenses, or else I should not have it.

35,322. Have you ever had a summons to come here before?—No.

THOMAS LEYTHAM sworn and examined. T. Leytham.

35,323. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Cable Street?—Yes.

35,324. What are you?—A draper.

35,325. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,326. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—Nothing at all.

35,327. Did you receive nothing either for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

35,328. Was any money deposited with you for any person?—Nothing at all.

35,329. (Mr. Hill.) Are you in independent business?—No.

35,330. Are you with your father?—No, I am alone.

35,331. In independent business?—Yes.

HENRY HARTLEY sworn and examined. H. Hartley.

35,332. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a stonemason in Brock Street?—Yes.

35,333. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

35,334. What did you get?—I got 30*s.* from George Danson.

35,335. What else did you get?—I got 10*s.* to spend from Mr. John Cross.

35,336. What else?—Nothing else.

35,336*a*. Was that all you got?—Yes.

35,337. How came you to get the 30*s.* from George Danson?—I was on the committee.

35,338. Did not your wife get something for you?—No, not a farthing.

35,339. Are you sure that nobody has had any money on account of your vote?—I am certain of it; nobody got anything for my vote.

THOMAS HARTLEY sworn and examined. T. Hartley.

35,340. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a stonemason?—Yes.

35,341. Living in Brock Street?—Yes.

35,342. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,343. What money did you get?—10*l.*

35,344. From whom did you get it?—George Danson.

35,345. Did you get anything besides the 10*l.*?—No.

35,346. Not for being on a committee?—No; I was not on a committee.

THIRTY-FIRST DAY.

T. Hartley.

5 Jan. 1867.

35,347. Did you get any money to spend in drink?—No.

35,348. You got nothing except that 10*l.*?—10*l.*

35,349. Can you read and write?—Yes.

35,350. What rent do you pay?—I do not pay any rent.

35,351. Do you live in your own house?—No.

35,352. I should like to know how that is?—I have a lodging.

H. Hartley.

HENRY HARTLEY affirmed and examined.

35,353. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I am a husbandman.

35,354. Of Quernmore?—Yes.

35,355. Are you a labouring man?—I am a labouring man.

35,356. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,357. What money did you receive?—5*l.*

35,358. Did you get anything else?—No.

35,359. From whom did you receive it?—I cannot tell you his name.

35,360. Where did you receive it?—At Robert Lamb's.

35,361. Was that all the money you got?—Yes.

35,362. You are earning day wages are you?—Yes.

T. Hatton.

THOMAS HATTON sworn and examined.

35,363. (Mr. Hill.) You are down as of Chapel Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

35,364. You have come here from Liverpool have you not?—Yes.

35,365. What are you?—A brass founder.

35,366. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

35,367. What money did you receive?—I received 10*l.* on the day of the election.

35,368. From whom did you receive it?—From Mr. Bannister.

35,369. Who is Mr. Bannister?—The foreman in the employ of Mr. Jackson of Liverpool.

35,370. Is that Mr. Isaac Jackson?—Yes.

35,371. Where did you receive it?—In Sun Street.

35,372. At the "Sun Inn," probably?—No, in the street.

T. Haworth.

THOMAS HAWORTH sworn and examined.

35,373. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,374. What money did you receive?—I received 1*l.* 1*s.* for being poll clerk.

35,375 And nothing else?—No.

35,376. Did you hold any stakes for anybody?—No, not a farthing.

A. Heald.

ABRAHAM HEALD sworn and examined.

35,377. (Mr. Hill.) You are a farmer at Cornforth?—Yes.

35,378. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,379. What monies did you receive?—7*l.*

35,380. Did you get anything else?—No.

35,381. From whom did you receive that?—I do not know the gentleman. I received it at the "Royal Oak."

35,382. You are a farmer?—Yes.

35,383. Do you farm your own land?—No; I was a bigger farmer at one time; I only farm a cottage now.

J. Storey.

JOSEPH STOREY sworn and examined.

35,384. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in West Place, Lancaster?—Yes.

35,385. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,386. What are you?—A manufacturing chemist.

35,387. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Yes.

35,388. How much did you receive?—I think I received about 19*l.* altogether—(referring to a paper) 17*l.*

35,389. What is that paper that you are looking at?—A sort of memorandum I made out of how I spent the money.

35,390. Did you make that memorandum at the time?—No, I have made it since, from recollection.

35,391. From whom did you receive this money?—I received 5*l.* from my brother, William Storey.

35,392. Do you know when you received it?—I do not know the exact date.

35,393. Was it before or after the election?—It was before the election, but I cannot say the exact day.

35,394. What next?—2*l.* and 5*l.* separately from Mr. G. C. Clark.

35,395. Was that before the election?—Yes.

35,396. The next?—5*l.* from Mr. Wilson Barker.

35,397. When was that, do you remember. Was that also before the election?—Yes, two or three days before the election.

35,398. Anything more?—Nothing.

35,399. How did you spend it?—Well; I spent altogether at Morecambe, with a man called Edmonson, 4*l.* 15*s.*

35,400. What Edmondson is that?—He is familiarly known as "Dan," I think.

35,401. The "Joiners' Arms"?—Yes, that is the place; 5*l.* I paid to a man named John Taylor for his vote. This money is accounted for by Mr. Clark; you will find it in Mr. Clark's statement. 1*l.* 5*s.* I gave to a man named John Punch who assisted in getting voters.

35,402. How much did you give to him?—About 25*s.* I gave 15*s.* at various times to John Harrison and others. 5*s.* I gave to Thomas Hoggarth for some purpose. He is a solicitor's clerk, I think; and about 5*l.* I expended in sundries, refreshments at the "White Horse," and other places; altogether I was a trifle out of pocket.

35,403. If you are a trifle out of pocket you have not told us how you spent that trifle?—When men are coming up to one at various times, asking for 5*s.* or 10*s.*, you cannot tell how you spend your money in the excitement of an election day. I have given you an account as nearly as possible of the monies I did receive.

35,404. The money that you are out of pocket besides would be for voters coming at odd times?—Yes, I spent a good deal in a desultory way at Morecambe. I was staying down there previous to the election.

JOHN HILL sworn and examined. J. Hill.

35,405. (Mr. Hill.) You are a tailor are you not, in Leonardgate?—Yes.

35,406. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,407. What money did you receive?—1*l.* 5*s.*

35,408. What was that for?—I cannot tell you what it was for I am sure.

35,409. Was it not for your vote?—For my vote I suppose.

35,410. That was very little, was that all you got?—Yes.

35,411. How came you not to get more?—I cannot tell you that.

35,412. Were you on any committee?—No.

35,413. Did you not do any work of any sort?—No.

35,414. Did you help them in any other way besides voting?—No.

35,415. What time of day did you vote?—I cannot tell you.

35,416. Did you have any refreshments?—Very little.

34,417. You got a breakfast perhaps?—Yes.

35,418. And voted immediately afterwards?—Yes.

35,419. Did you not get anything from the other side?—No.

35,420. Was 1*l.* 5*s.* quite enough for you?—Yes, it satisfied me.

35,421. Did anybody get anything for you, your wife or anybody?—No.

GEORGE HINDE sworn and examined. G. Hinde.

35,422. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—I did not vote at all; it is a mistake in the print in one of the books.

35,423. On the register it says "George Hinde of Greaves Scotforth, gentleman," is that you?—Yes, it was on the list so, but I had left the Greaves.

35,424. They put you down as having voted for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes, but that is a mistake in the print. I never did vote.

35,425. I think you are in the poll book?—I never did vote.

35,426. (Mr. Newton.) What are your political principles?—A Liberal.

35,427. And you would have voted for Fenwick and Schneider if you had had an opportunity?—Yes, if I voted at all.

35,428. Why did you not vote?—The canvassers appeared very cool. They treated me with great coolness.

35,429. They did not payyou that respect which they ought to have done?—Just so. I suppose my vote was too cheap for them. They would rather pay for it.

35,430. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your number on the register?—414.

35,431. In what booth should you have polled?—I cannot tell. When I was treated in that way I thought I would not vote.

JOHN HALL sworn and examined. J. Hall.

35,432. (Mr. Hill.) You are an attorney, I believe, practising in Lancaster?—Yes.

35,433. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,434. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None whatever.

35,435. You were not retained professionally?—I was not; the only part I took in the election was that on one or two occasions I accompanied Mr. Lawrence on his canvass, but beyond that I took no further interest in the election; I was on no committee.

35,436. Did you accompany Mr. Lawrence on his canvass at any time near to the election?—I can scarcely call to mind.

35,437. Within a day or two of the nomination?—No; it would be previous to that; it would not be so close on to the election as a day or two. I was out with Mr. Lawrence, I think, about twice in the town and one evening I accompanied him to Heaton with Oxcliffe and Middleton and Heysham.

35,438. Had you ever any conversation with him as to the probable expense of the election?—I had no conversation with him upon the subject.

35,439. And in his presence you never heard the expenses of the election named?—They were never named in my presence.

35,440. (Mr. Newton.) Do you know a man named Daniel Gudgeon?—No; I have heard of the name, it is familiar to me, but I do not know him.

35,441. He told us that a Mr. John Hall from Aldcliffe was in Edward Street?—No.

25,442. Canvassing?—No. I never was canvassing in Edward Street.

35,443. You are not the John Hall?—No; I think that would be a mistake. There is a person named John Hall of Aldcliffe, I believe.

35,444. What is he?—I think he is a farmer.

WILLIAM ROPER sworn and examined. W. Roper.

35,445. (Mr. Hill.) You are a wine merchant?—Yes.

45,446. Of Springfield, Lancaster?—Yes.

35,447. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,448. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of the election?—None.

35,449. Did you expend any?—No.

35,450. You had nothing to do with the pecuniary part of the election?—No, nothing whatever.

THOMAS CUNNINGHAM sworn and examined. T. Cunningham.

35,451. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A cork-cutter.

35,452. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

35,453. You got 10*l.* from Stackhouse, did you not?—No, I did not get a halfpenny, nor a farthing; no coin of any sort.

35,454. Were you in Liverpool at the time of the election?—No.

35,455. Where were you?—I was in Lancaster, but I came from Belfast.

35,456. Did you get your expenses from Belfast?—No.

35,457. You came at your own expense?—Yes, I promised to come.

35,457*a*. You came at your own expense?—Yes.

35,458. And you got nothing whatever?—No, nothing.

35,459. Are you aware that Stackhouse has said that he paid you for coming here?—No, I just had that paper (the summons) handed to me. I did not know there was any inquiry about it.

35,460. (Mr. Hill.) I will read to you what Peter Moore said about you. He is asked as to different payments he made to different persons, and then he is asked "Who else?" and he says, "Thomas Cunningham, corkcutter, Damside Street; he is a householder." Then he is asked, "How much?" and he says, "10*l.*" Mr. Newton then says, "He came from Ireland did he not?" and the witness said "Yes." You may stand down for the present, but you must not leave the court. We will send for Peter Moore.

THIRTY-FIRST DAY.

5 Jan. 1867.

R. Hodgson.

RICHARD HODGSON sworn and examined.

35,461. (Mr. Hill) Are you a freeman or householder?—A freeman.

35,462. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,463. What monies did you receive?—None whatever.

35,464. Did you spend any?—I spent a few shillings.

35,465. Of your own?—Yes.

35,466. You did not receive any money to spend?—No, not a farthing.

35,467. Are you in business in Lancaster as a corn dealer?—Yes.

R. Holme.

ROBERT HOLME sworn and examined.

35,468. (Mr. Hill.) You are a cabinet maker of Glasson-with-Thurnham?—Yes.

35,469. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,470. What did you get?—I got three different sums, amounting to 8*l.* altogether.

35,471. Were you on any committee?—No, I was in the districts of Thurnham, Glasson, and Cockerham; I had to look after voters.

35,472. How much of that 8*l.* did you spend?—I spent the most part of it in conveyances and treating, and one thing and another.

35,473. What conveyances did you pay for?—Going between Lancaster and here; it is a very wide district.

35,474. Were not all the conveyances paid for?—This was before the election, and the election day as well.

35,475. How long before the election day was it that you received this money?—The Saturday morning before the election I received 1*l.*; the Saturday after that 1*l.*, and 6*l.* I received on the morning of the election.

35,746. What did you receive that 6*l.* for?—That was for my expenses, and I spent I suppose about half of it, as near as I can tell.

35,477. You received the 6*l.* from Eaves, did you not?—Yes.

35,478. And the other voters you introduced to him received 3*l.* each?—3*l.* 3*s.*

35,479. How came you to receive 6*l.*?—For my labour; it is a wide district. There are a very few voters, but they are very wide; I was engaged for a fortnight before the election.

35,480. Can you tell me any conveyance that you paid for?—I engaged them in Lancaster; I believe they came from Peter Moore's; I think so.

35,481. If they came from Peter Moore's you did not pay for them?—But I am sure I did; I merely sent for them.

35,482. Do you mean to say that you paid for any conveyance that was got from Peter Moore's?—Yes, I did.

35,483. Tell me a single conveyance that you paid for?—On each of those Saturday nights I paid for a conveyance; I did not go to the house myself to fetch it, but I paid for it.

35,484. That is, I suppose, you gave the driver 6*d.*?—4*s.* 6*d.* I think was the charge. I had no connexion with anybody but the driver; I made no bargain with anybody, but I paid the driver.

35,485. Those payments that you made to the drivers were all made before the election?—Yes.

35,486. That all came out of the 2*l.*?—It did. Then I was among the freemen; one of our freemen resided in Lancaster at the time.

35,487. Who gave you those 2*l.*?—Mr. George Clark.

W. Whiteside.

WILLIAM WHITESIDE (of Glasson), innkeeper, is called but does not answer.

35,488. (The Witness.) As to William Whiteside, of Glasson Dock, I expected to have a doctor's certificate that he is incapable of coming here. He was with me on that occasion; I am authorized by him to say that he received 3*l.* 3*s.*

35,489. He was one of those who were paid?—Yes.

35,490. In your presence?—There were none of them paid in my presence.

35,491. Which William Whiteside is it that you are speaking to?—William Whiteside, of Glasson, innkeeper.

35,492. You said you were expecting a certificate, what do you mean by that?—A certificate from the doctor stating that he is sick and incapable to travel.

35,492. What is the matter with him?—I do not know.

35,493. How did he vote?—He voted for Lawrence.

35,494. Is there anybody else you have got to speak to?—No.

35,495. (Mr. Barstow.) Was there any money spent at his house?—There was none except the money I speak of that I spent there.

35,496. There was no committee room there?—No, there was not.

W. Howson.

WILLIAM HOWSON sworn and examined.

35,497. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a farmer at Low House, Claughton?—Yes.

35,498. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,499. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—No.

35,500. Not for yourself, nor for any other person?—No.

35,501. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a tenant of Mr. Fenwick's?—Yes.

G. Howson.

GILES HOWSON sworn and examined.

35,502. (Mr. Hill.) You are a currier in Sun Street?—Yes.

35,503. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,504. What monies did you receive for the purposes of the election?—None.

35,505. Did you expend any?—No.

35,506. You had nothing to do with the pecuniary part of the election?—None whatever.

35.507. You did not take any interest in it particularly perhaps?—None.

35,508. Are you a master currier?—Yes.

P. Moore.

PETER MOORE sworn and further examined.

35,509. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you seen that man (Cunningham) before?—Yes.

35,510. Do you know his name?—Yes.

35,511. What is his name?—Thomas Cunningham.

35,512. When did you see him before?—I think I have seen him once since the election.

35,513. Did you see him at the election?—Yes.

35,514. Where did you see him?—I saw him up our stairs.

35,515. In your house?—Yes.

35,516. Did you give him anything?—I gave him 10*l.*

35,517. You are quite sure that is the man?—Yes.

35,518. Was anyone present when you paid him the 10*l.*?—No, there was nobody present. I paid it to him in the watercloset upstairs. Mr. Shackleton I think it was that gave me the money or Mr. Hutchinson. I do not know which, it was either one or the other. I will not be sure which.

35,519. You gave it to him you say in the watercloset?—Yes, upstairs.

35,520. In your own house?—Yes.

35,521. What made you pay him in the watercloset. Did you pay anybody else there?—No, I did not, but he was in there, and I went there and paid him. I went with him, and saw him vote myself.

35,522. Do you remember Hutchinson being there at your house?—Yes.

35,523. Do you remember Hutchinson saying anything to you about giving money to this man?—No, I do not remember it.

35,524. You only dealt with Shackleton in short?—I believe Hutchinson gave Shackleton the money and Shackleton gave it to me.

35,525. That is what you told us before?—Yes.

(Thomas Cunningham.) He did not tell me he gave me that for voting; I had voted then.

35,526. (Mr. Barstow to Cunningham.) Did he give you 10*l.*?

(Mr. Cunningham.) Yes, but he did not say that that was for voting.

35,527. (Mr. Barstow to Moore.) Did you pay him his expenses in coming over?—No, I did not.

(Cunningham.) I voted first.

35,527*a*. (Mr. Barstow to Moore.) After he came out of the closet you took him to vote?—Yes.

(Cunningham.) I voted first.

JAMES HOWSON, of Bulk, near Lancaster, is called but does not answer. J. Howson.

The following letter is read by the Secretary:—

"Bulk, near Lancaster, January 2, 1866. To the "Commissioners of the Royal Lancaster Election "Petition. Gentlemen—As I shall not be able (per-"sonally) to attend to your summons for the 5th "instant, I beg to admit by letter that I received the "sum of 7*l.* from Mr. R. B. McKinlay, railway clerk, "after voting for Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider at "the last Lancaster election. I am, gentlemen, "yours obediently, JAS. HOWSON, Breaksman, Bulk."

JOHN CHARLES HUDSON sworn and examined. J. C. Hudson.

35,528. (Mr. Hill.) You are a draper in Market Street?—Yes.

35,529. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,530. What money did you receive?—Nothing.

35,531. Did you receive no money at all?—No.

35,532. Did you spend any money during the election?—No.

35,533. Were you out canvassing with Mr. Lawrence at all?—No, not at all.

HENRY HUDSON sworn and examined. H. Hudson.

35,534. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a silk mercer in Cheapside?—Yes.

35,535. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,536. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—No, nothing at all.

35,537. You received no money yourself, neither did any person to your knowledge receive any money for you?—No.

JOHN HUTTON sworn and examined. J. Hutton.

35,538. (Mr. Barstow.) You are are a painter in Fenton Street?—Yes.

35,539. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,540. Did you receive any monies for the purpose of the election?—A week previous to the election Mr. Bradshaw, the draper, sent me 3*l.* to Manchester, that was for six freemen at Manchester, 10*s.* each.

35,541. Was that for their expenses?—For their expenses down to Lancaster.

35,542. Who were those men?—A man of the name of Richard Parkinson, Henry Stirzaker, William Ralph, Thomas Dobson, and myself.

35,543. That is five?—There was another.

35,544. How much do you say Bradshaw gave you?—He sent 3*l.*, but I could not find Dunderdale, one of the men, and Henry Stirzaker would not take it.

35,545. Was that all you got?—No, I got 2*l.* in Lancaster from John Cross.

35,546. Then 3*l.* 10*s.* was all you got for yourself?—Yes.

35,547. Including expenses from Manchester?—Yes. I was appointed there to assist Mr. Bradshaw in looking them up.

35,548. In looking up the Manchester men?—Yes.

35,549. That is to say you went round once and saw them?—I was round three or four times.

35,550. Who did you get the 2*l.* from?—Mr. Bradshaw, a draper in Manchester.

35,551. The 2*l.* as well?—No, that was from Mr. Cross.

35,552. Which Mr. Cross?—John Cross.

GEORGE INGALL sworn and examined. G. Ingall.

35,553. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Alfred Street?—Yes.

35,554. Are you an upholsterer?—Yes.

35,555. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,556. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—None at all.

35,557. None either for yourself or for any other person?—No.

35,558. No money was deposited with you to give to any person?—No.

35,559. And no money was received by any other person for you?—No.

THIRTY-FIRST DAY.

5 Jan. 1867.

G. Jackson.

George Jackson sworn and examined.

35,560. (Mr. Hill.) You are an upholsterer in Gage Street?—Yes.

35,561. For whom did you vote at the last election; For Mr. Lawrence.

35,562. Did you receive any monies for the purpose of the election?—No.

35,563. From nobody?—No.

35,564. And you expended none?—No.

35,565. You are a master upholsterer are you not, in business for yourself?—No. I am a clerk at present.

D. P. Jackson.

Daniel Paget Jackson sworn and examined.

35,566. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Over Kellet?—Yes.

35,567. Are you in any occupation?—No, I am out of business.

35,568. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

35,569. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—Not a fraction of a penny, neither before nor afterwards.

35,570. Neither for yourself nor anybody else?—I did not.

35,571. Do you know a man named Hadfield?—I have seen the man. I do not know whether I should know him again or not.

35,572. Do you know Stephen Wright Wearing? Yes, I know him well.

25,573. Did you receive 20*l.* from him?—I received nothing at all.

35,574. I see that Hadfield has said you received 20*l.* from Stephen Wright Wearing. I do not pretend to say I believe it, but I ask you the question?—It is false altogether.

35,575. (Mr. Hill.) Have you ever given Hadfield any cause to come here and tell lies about you?—No. I do not know the man at all.

35,576. Do you know anything of him?—Nothing.

35,577. It has been asserted of a very large number of gentlemen that they received money. Have you Lancaster gentlemen taken any steps to bring Hadfield to book for this?—No.

35,578. Then I should advise you to do so. It is not to be endured that a man should live in the town and play these tricks.

W. Jackson.

William Jackson, junior, sworn and examined.

35,579. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a blacksmith at Overton?—Yes.

35,580. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,581. What money did you receive at the last election?—I received 23*l.* altogether.

35,582. From whom did you receive that?—I received 10*l.* from Mr. Maddock, of Liverpool. I received 5*l.* from Mr. Stewardson, and 8*l.* from a man of the name of Tinker.

35,583. Is that all the money you received?—Yes.

35,584. Quite all?—Yes.

35,585. What did Tinker give you the 5*l.* for?—Tinker did not give me 5*l.* Tinker gave me 8*l.*

35,586. What did he give you that for?—To vote for Fenwick and Schneider.

35,587. And you promised him of course to vote for them?—No, I did not. He never axed me.

35,588. How came he to give you the 8*l.* then, if he did not ask you to vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—Because he thought it likely I should vote for him, but I never told him I would.

35,589. Where did he give it to you?—At the "White Lion."

35,590. That is Anthony Knowles Allinson's house?—It was at Peter Moore's, at the "White Lion."

35,591. What did Stewardson give you 5*l.* for?—For an old account.

35,592. When did Stewardson give you that money?—In the committee room.

35,593. Where was that?—In the Market Street. Fenwick and Schneider's committe room.

35,594. You know, I suppose, that Peter Moore's was a Fenwick and Schneider's house?—Yes.

35,595. And what did Maddock give you the 10*l.* for?—To vote for Lawrence.

35,596. So you got 13*l.* to vote for Fenwick and Schneider in fact, and 10*l.* to vote for Lawrence?—Yes.

35,597. And you voted for Lawrence?—Yes.

35,598. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a master blacksmith?—Yes.

35,599. What sort of a rent do you pay for your house?—5*l.* for the smithy and the house together.

35,600. (Mr. Hill.) Did they not manage to get your services on either of the committees?—No.

T. Jackson.

Thomas Jackson sworn and examined.

35,601. (Mr. Hill.) You are a farmer at Heysham?—Yes.

35,602. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,603. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—Not a farthing; I got nothing at all.

35,604. Did nobody give you anything?—Nobody.

35,605. Were you present when any money was given to anybody for their votes?—Never; I never saw any money given to anybody.

35,606. Was any money given by anybody to your knowledge on account of your vote?—No.

35,607. Are you sure of that?—Yes.

35,608. Not to any son or daughter or wife or anybody?—Not a farthing to anybody whatever.

35,609. You really mean to say that you voted without receiving any consideration for your vote?—Yes.

35,610. Had you always voted on the same side before?—Mr. Greene paid for my freedom and I polled for Greene, and then I polled for the Yellows ever since.

35,611. And you are sure you got nothing for your vote?—I never got nothing in my life.

35,612. You are a farmer?—I am a farmer at Heysham.

35,613. What is your rental?—250*l.* I once got a sovereign in a letter 20 years ago just after Gregson's election, but I never knew where it came from. That is all I ever received since I was a poller, and I have polled 40 years nearly.

M. Jackson.

Matthew Jackson sworn and examined.

35,614. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you Matthew Jackson, a husbandman, of Heaton?—I am Matthew Jackson, a farmer, of Heaton.

35,615. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,616. What money did you get?—10*l.*

35,617. Was that all you got?—Yes.

35,618. You got nothing to drink?—No.

35,619. No money was given to you to spend in drink?—No.

M. Jackson.

5 Jan. 1867.

35,620. What rent do you pay?—Somewhere between 80*l.* and 90*l.*

35,621. (Mr. Hill.) Do you farm any land of your own?—No.

35,622. (Mr. Barstow.) You know who you got the money from now, I suppose?—No, I do not.

35,623. You did not know who he was then?—No, I never saw him either before or since. I never asked him for any money, and I never asked anybody for any.

THOMAS JACKSON sworn and examined. T. Jackson.

35,624. (Mr. Hill.) Are you Thomas Jackson, of Heysham, innkeeper?—I was an innkeeper, but it is a long time since.

35,625. Were you so when you were put upon the register?—Yes.

35,626. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Fenwick and Lawrence.

35,627. What did you get for your vote?—I got 5*l.*

35,628. From whom?—From John Jackson, of Heysham, farmer.

35,629. Which part of your vote was that for, the Fenwick or the Lawrence part?—For the Lawrence.

35,630. What other money did you get?—I got no more.

35,631. Did you get nothing for voting for Fenwick?—No.

35,632. Then you voted for Fenwick for love and for Lawrence for money?—Yes, I did.

35,633. Have you retired from business now?—Yes, a long while; I am a working man, up and down anywhere now.

JOHN JACKSON sworn and examined. J. Jackson.

35,634. (Mr. Hill.) Are you John Jackson, of Heysham, husbandman?—Yes.

35,635. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,636. What money did you get?—I got nothing for myself; I got 4*l.* 4*s.* for expenses.

35,637. What expenses?—What I laid out of my own pocket.

35,638. What did you spend it in?—Among the freemen.

35,639. How much did you spend in that way?—4*l.* 4*s.*

35,640. Where did you spend it?—At Heysham.

35,641. How did you spend it?—I spent it among them.

35,642. I want to know how you spent it among them?—They put me on to look after them four or five weeks before the election, so I went out at nights and spent it to get them up together.

35,643. It does not involve any expenditure the getting these people up together; how did you spend the money?—I spent it then; I spent it at night.

35,644. How did you spend it?—I spent it out of my own pocket.

35,645. What did you spend it in?—I spent it in drink.

35,646. And who paid it you?—Mr. Hatch.

35,647. How came you to spend the exact sum of four guineas?—It was just it.

35,648. Tell me any public house in which you spent the money?—There was the "Heysham Hotel," the "Royal Hotel," and at "Alice Burrows'."

35,649. How much a night did you spend?—Happen 10 or a dozen shillings.

35,650. And you went there most nights?—Yes, most nights at the "Heysham Hotel" and "Alice Burrows'."

35,651. Who authorized you to spend the money? Mr. Clark; I was to spend it out of my own pocket, and to keep an account.

35,652. Did you keep an account of what was spent every night?—Yes.

35,653. What have you done with that account?—I did not write it down; there was no writing.

35,654. What do you mean then by saying that you kept an account?—I kept it in my own mind.

35,655. What are you?—A farmer.

35,656. What is your rental?—About 90*l.*

35,657. Are you the brother of the other Mr. Jackson?—Yes, Thomas.

35,658. Did you ever go anywhere away from Heysham?—Yes.

35,659. Where to?—Claughton, for a man.

35,660. How much did you spend at Claughton?—I cannot exactly say.

WILLIAM JACKSON sworn and examined. W. Jackson.

35,661. (Mr. Hill.) You are a whitesmith in North Edward Street?—Yes.

35,662. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

35,663. What did you get?—10*l.*

35,664. Were you on any committee?—No; I got 1*l.* from George Danson.

35,665. That was for the Conservative committee?—Yes.

35,666. How came you to be on the Conservative committee?—He got me put on; that was all.

35,667. Did you get put on the Yellow committee too?—No.

35,668. You got put on the Blue committee and voted Yellow?—Yes.

35,669. Was that all you got?—That was all.

35,670. What are you?—A whitesmith.

35,671. A master or a journeyman?—A journeyman.

SAMUEL JACKSON sworn and examined. S. Jackson.

35,672. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a farmer at Heysham?—I work at a farm.

35,673. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

35,674. What money did you get?—10*l.*

35,675. That was from Albright, was it not?—Yes.

35,676. Did you get anything more?—No.

35,677. Only 10*l.*?—Only 10*l.*

35,678. Were you on no committee?—No.

JOHN JACKSON sworn and examined. J. Jackson.

35,679. (Mr. Hill.) You are a farm servant at Scotforth?—Yes.

35,680. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,681. What money did you receive?—8*l.*

35,682. From whom?—From Mr. Halstead.

35,683. Did not you get anything else?—No.

35,684. Were you not on any committee?—No.

35,685. Did you get any money given to you to spend in drink?—No.

35,686. Was 8*l.* all you got altogether?—Yes.

THIRTY-FIRST DAY.

5 Jan. 1867.

Joseph Jackson sworn and examined.

J. Jackson.

35,687. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a labourer at Skerton?—Yes.

35,688. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,689. What money did you get?—12*l.* from Lawrence's party.

35,690. And how much from the other party?—30*s.* for taking notes out.

35,691. Was that all you got?—Yes.

35,692. Who paid you the 12*l.*?—I do not know; it was a Liverpool man I suppose; it was at the "Black Bull" at Skerton.

35,693. How came you to take notes out for one party and to vote for the other?—I had promised to vote before that.

35,694. Did your own party for whom you were delivering circulars know that?—Yes.

35,695. Did they not make you a bid of anything for your vote?—No.

W. Jackson.

William Jackson sworn and examined.

35,696. (Mr. Hill.) You are an asylum attendant?—Yes.

35,697. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,698. What did you get for your vote?—10*l.*

35,699. Did you get anything else?—No.

35,700. Who paid you?—William Dugdale.

J. Holmes.

John Holmes sworn and examined.

35,701. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Pitt Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

35,702. You are a householder, are you not?—Yes.

35,703. What are you?—A carver in wood.

35,704. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

35,705. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of the last election?—No.

35,706. You had nothing to do with any money at all?—No.

35,707. Nor with arranging as to any votes?—No.

H. Harrison.

Henry Harrison sworn and examined.

35,708. (Mr. Barstow.) You are the borough surveyor, I believe?—Yes.

35,709. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,710. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

35,711. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

35,712. You are not aware of any money having been paid to any relation for you?—No.

35,713. (Mr. Hill.) Do you happen to know anything of a man John Swainson Harrison?—No.

W. Johnson.

William Johnson sworn and examined.

35,714. (Mr. Hill.) You are a cabinet-maker in Cable Street?—Yes.

35,715. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,716. What money did you receive?—1*l.* was all I received; I had four days' pay from Mr Gibson.

35,717. Is that all the money you received?—That is all the money I received.

35,718. Did you receive no money to spend in drink?—No, not a half penny.

B. Dodding.

Bartholomew Dodding sworn and examined.

35,719. (Mr. Hill.) You are not a voter?—No.

35,720. What are you?—A farmer.

35,721. Where do you farm?—At Wyresdale.

35,722. What had you to do with the last election?—I had nothing to do with it; Mr. Clark gave me 2*l.* to spend among the voters.

35,723. And where did you spend that?—At the place and in Lancaster here.

35,724. In treating voters?—In treating them.

35,725. What nights were you in Lancaster during this time?—It was only on the election day.

35,726. Did they send for you to come in and help them?—I came along with them.

35,727. Did you arrange with anybody as to payment of money for votes?—I saw two five pounds given to Towers, and to Thomas Fox. I think Henry Nelson gave one, and I imagine Cross gave the other. I think that when we were sitting in the railway carriage I handed it over to them.

35,728. Are you ever called Bartholomew Pye?—No.

35,729. It is a mistake, is it?—Yes.

35,730. You never heard yourself called by that name?—No.

35,731. You saw somebody pay Towers?—Yes, I think so, but I really do not know. It was just in that way. I think one paid one, and the other the other.

35,732. What Towers was it?—James Towers.

35,733. Of Dolphin-holme?—Yes.

35,734. Can you say for certain that Towers had the money?—I am sure he had. It is entirely a mistake between Bartholomew Pye and me.

35,735. Do you know Bartholomew Pye?—Yes.

35,736. Which Fox was it?—Thomas Fox, of Dolphinholme.

G. Kirkby.

George Kirkby sworn and examined.

35,737. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Cockerham?—Yes.

35,738. What are you?—A farmer.

35,739. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,740. What money did you receive?—Nothing.

35,741. Nothing at all?—No.

35,742. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

35,743. Did any relation receive any money for you?—No, none whatever.

35,744. Are you quite sure?—Yes.

L. Lawrence.

Lawrence Lawrence sworn and examined.

35,745. (Mr. Hill.) Where do you live?—At Bulk.

35,746. What are you?—A labourer.

35,747. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,748. Did you receive any monies?—Yes, 10*l.*

35,749. From whom?—Mr. Slater, I believe; it came from Barrow.

35,750. That was for your vote; what other money did you receive?—I received 30*s.* from Johnson's office.

35,751. For being on the committee ?—Yes.
35,752. Did you get anything from the other side ?—No.
35,753. 11*l.* 10*s.* was all you got ?—Yes.
35,754. You are a day labourer ?—Yes.
35,755. What are your ordinary wages ?—18*s.*

LAWRENCE LAWRENCE, jun., sworn and examined. L. Lawrence, jun.

35,756. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a farmer at Nether Kellet ?—No.
35,757. You live at Liverpool, now ?—Yes.
35,758. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.
35,759. What money did you receive ?—10*l.*
35,760. From whom did you receive it ?—From Mr. Welch.
35,761. Did you receive anything besides ?—No.
35,762. Did not you get anything for your expenses ?—That was for my expenses.
35,763. Did you get nothing besides for your expenses ?—No.
35,764. Do you really mean to say that you received nothing besides 10*l.* for your expenses ?—No.
35,765. Then any statement that has been made to that effect is inaccurate, is it ?—Yes.

WILLIAM LEIGHTON sworn and examined. W. Leighton.

35,766. (Mr. Hill.) You are a tailor of Alma Road, Scotforth ?—Yes.
35,767. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.
35,768. What money did you receive ?—10*l.*
35,769. From whom ?—John Marsden.
35,770. What other money did you receive ?—I received a further sum of 1*l.*
35,771. From whom ?—From the same person, John Marsden.
35,772. Was that for being on the committee or anything ?—No.
35,773. You had 11*l.* for your vote, then; did you get anything else ?—No.
35,774. That is all you had ?—Yes.
35,775. What are you ; a day labourer ?—A tailor. There is something I would wish to explain, before I leave the box. In the supplement that appeared, published by the "Lancaster Guardian," George Danson, in his evidence, has put it down that I received 3*l.* for being on Mr. Lawrence's committee, which I did not receive. I never was on any committee.
35,776. Then George Danson is mistaken, is he ?—It appears so.
35,777. You are quite sure you did not get it ?—Yes, I never received it. Then there is another thing. He has put 1*l.* 10*s.* down to a Benjamin Leighton. I may say there never was a Benjamin Leighton.
35,778. So George Danson has put down 4*l.* 10*s.* that you know is not correct ?—Yes ; there never was a Benjamin Leighton.
35,779. There is a Benjamin Latham on the register, so that it is probably a mistake in the name ?—That may be.

THOMAS LIVER sworn and examined. T. Liver.

35,780. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a weaver, in Monmouth Street ?—Yes.
35,781. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.
35,782. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election ?—I received nothing but for my own services ?
35,783. What did you receive for your own services ?—Altogether, it would be about 4*l.* 5*s.* I was engaged in the committee room.
35,784. From whom did you receive it ?—I received 2*l.* 5*s.* from Mr. Johnson, at Mr. Johnson's office, and in the middle of August, after the election, Mr. Wearing sent for me, and he offered me 2*l.* for my services rendered, and I told him that was over-much, I thought ; but he said, "Take it ;" and I took it up, and came away.
35,785. (Mr. Hill.) What other work did you do, besides committee work ?—I assisted in looking after the men.
35,786. You did not go out of Lancaster—you stopped in Lancaster ?—Yes.
35,787. And you would have stopped in Lancaster, if there had been no election ?—Yes.

JAMES MACHELL sworn and examined. J. Machell.

35,843. What money did you receive?—I received 2*l.* three weeks after the election.

35,844. Was that all the money you received?—I received 2*l.* for John Swindells.

35,845. From whom did you receive that?—From Robert Roberts.

35,846. You received 2*l.* for yourself and 2*l.* for John Swindells?—Yes.

35,847. From whom did you receive the 2*l.* for yourself?—Robert Roberts.

35,848. And from whom did you receive the 2*l.* for John Swindells?—Robert Roberts.

35,849. You received them both from Robert Roberts?—Yes.

35,850. Anything else?—That is all.

35,851. Did Robert Roberts at the time he gave you this money tell you from whom he had got it?—Yes.

35,852. From whom did he say he had got it?—From a shoemaker in Cheapside? they call him Wearing.

35,853. Were you on any committee?—I do not know that I was, only his.

35,854. Did you receive any money from Moser?—No.

35,855. Or from Tilley?—No.

35,856. That is all the money you received 2*l.* for yourself, and 2*l.* for Swindell?—That is all.

T. Mason.

THOMAS MASON sworn and examined.

35,857. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Tarnwater Ashton?—Yes.

35,858. What are you?—A farmer.

35,859. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,860. What money did you receive?— Three guineas.

35,861. Was that all you received?—Yes.

J. Ellershaw.

JAMES ELLERSHAW MILLER sworn and examined.

35,862. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Moor Lane?—Yes.

35,863. You are a cabinetmaker?—Yes.

35,868. Were you on any committee?—No.

35,869. Did you get any money to spend in drink?—No.

35,870. That is all you got; 5*l.* 10*s.*?—That is all.

JOHN MOUNSEY sworn and examined. J. Mounsey.

35,871. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a weaver?—I am.

35,872. In Galgate?—Yes.

35,873. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,874. What money did you receive at the last election?—8*l.* 5*s.*

35,875. Were you on any committee?—I was not.

35,876. You received no other money besides that?—I did not.

HENRY NELSON sworn and examined. H. Nelson.

35,877. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a farmer living at Ellel?—Yes.

35,878. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,879. What money did you receive?—13*l.* I think altogether.

35,880. From whom did you receive it?—The first 3*l.* I received from John Cross.

35,881. Did you receive any money to spend?—Yes.

35,882. When was it that you received the 3*l.* from John Cross?—On the 27th of June I think.

35,883. When was the next?—The next I think, was on the night of the nomination.

35,884. The 11th of July?—Yes.

35,885. Whom did you receive that from?—William Cross.

35,886. How much?—10*l.*

35,887. Is that all you received?—Yes.

35,888. What did you do with the first sum of 3*l.*—I gave 1*l.* to Henry Smith.

35,889. Who is he?—He is a voter who lives in Ellel; it was for refreshments for voters and looking after them I suppose; and 1*l.* to Henry Bradshaw; the other I spent at the "Fleece Inn" at Dolphinholme. Previous to the nomination I gave 1*l.* to William Garnett of Ellel.

35,890. Is he a voter?—Yes, I believe he is.

35,891. Is that William Garnett of Halton, farmer?

35,892. Yes, he lives in Ellel now.

35,893. 1*l.*?—Yes, and I spent about 50*s.* before the nomination; that would be 3*l.* 10*s.* out of my own pocket before I got this last 10*l.*

35,894. How did you spend the 50*s.*?—In drink.

35,895. Where?—At the "Fleece Inn" and at the "Fiddle."

35,896. That makes 3*l.* 10*s.* you spent at the "Fleece Inn"?—Yes, I spent it at different times.

35,897. The "Fleece Inn" and "Fiddle," where?—At Dolphinholme.

35,898. Now go on?—I gave 5*l.* to Bartholomew Dodding for one James Towers I think it was.

35,899. (Mr. Hill.) Did you give it him in the railway carriage?—No, I gave it him at the "Fleece Inn" in Dolphinholme at the back door.

35,900. (Mr. Barstow.) Well?—The rest I spent on the election day and the night before.

35,901. On what morning did you give this 5*l.* to Dodding?—On the election morning.

35,902. Did you come in the railway carriage with him?—No, I came in a bus I think.

35,903. Did Dodding come in a bus?—I cannot say that.

35,904. What made you spend this money at the "Fleece Inn"?—I spent it among friends.

35,905. But who told you to spend it?—Some one on Mr. Lawrence's committee. I do not know who.

35,906. You got from William Cross 10*l.* on the 11th of July?—The nomination day.

35,907. What did he tell you to do with it when he gave it to you?—Some I had already spent before that.

35,908. But what made him give you a round sum of 10*l.*?—5*l.* was for this Dodding.

35,909. He did not give it you for Dodding?—It was for Towers; I gave it to Dodding for Towers.

35,910. What was the other 5*l.* for?—1*l.* was for Garnett, and some I had spent before; but I have given that evidence.

35,911. Which of those 5*l.* do you say it was that you gave to Dodding?—It was for Towers; he asked me for it for Towers, and I gave it to him.

35,912. He says it was in the railway carriage?—We came on the bus, I did; I do not know how he came, but I did and Towers as well.

35,913. (Mr. Hill.) Who is the landlord of the Fleece?—John Mallett.

35,914. To whom did you pay these sums of money?—Him and the wife together I do not know which, and the servant at different times.

35,915. How many voters did you have in there for all this amount of drink that you paid for?—Perhaps 14 or 15.

35,915. The only part of this money that went to a voter absolutely, was this 5*l.*?—Yes.

35,916. Do you say you spent all the rest in treating?—I gave money to different persons.

35,917. What did you do with the other 5*l.*?—I spent it at the "Fleece and Fiddle," and different other places.

35,918. You came to Lancaster on the election day?—Yes, I did.

35,919. At what time did you come?—9 o'clock; between 8 and 9, I cannot say exactly.

35,920. (Mr. Barstow.) When did you go back again?—At three in the afternoon; a deal of this money was spent before the election.

WILLIAM NELSON, jun., sworn and examined. W. Nelson, jun.

35,921. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Overton?—Yes.

35,922. You are a shoemaker?—Yes.

35,923. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

35,924. What did you get?—10*l.*

35,925. From whom?—Mr. Maddock of Liverpool.

35,926. Did you receive any other money?—No.

ALBERT NELSON sworn and examined. A. Nelson.

35,927. (Mr. Barstow.) Are you a cabinet maker living in Dalton Square?—Yes.

35,933. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,934. What money did you receive?—8*l.* from Richard Nixon.

35,935. What other money did you receive?—30*s.* from Johnson and Tilley's office.

35,936. Did you receive anything else?—2*l.* 5*s.* from George Danson; that is all.

35,937. You drew your full bill of committee wages then?—Yes.

THIRTY-FIRST DAY.

5 Jan. 1867.

35,938. As much as you could get?—Yes.

35,939. How long were you on the Blue committee?—During the election.

35,943. It would puzzle you to say how long you worked there would it not; what are your usual weekly wages?—25*s.* or 26*s.*

G. Nelson.

[William Nelson of Upper Bulk Street, plumber, is called but does not answer.]

(The Witness:) That is my son William; he is not here, but he wishes me to say what he got.

35,941. Why is he not here?—He is working out in the country.

35,942. Where is he working?—He is living in the town, but he is working out; he wished me to state what he got.

35,943. What did he get?—He got 8*l.* from Mr. Nixon and 39*s.* from Johnson and Tilley's office; that is all he got.

35,944. Did not he get on the Blue committee?—No, Mr. Danson put him down 2*l.* 5*s.*, but he never got a farthing.

35,945. You say Danson was wrong in putting down William for that?—Yes.

35,946. Your son is of Upper Bulk Street, Lancaster?—Yes.

35,947. A plumber?—Yes, he is my son.

35,948. Did he vote for Fenwick and Schneider?—Yes.

35,949. (Mr. Hill.) You say that he had nothing?—Yes.

35,950. Have you anything else to say?—No.

35,972. Was that all you got?—I got 25*s.* or 30*s.* from Mr. Tilley.

35,973. What was that for?—For carrying notes out.

35,974. That would be for services for the Yellows?—Yes.

35,975. You worked for them did you?—I worked for Mr. Fenwick a bit.

35,976. Did you get anything from them besides that 1*l.* 10*s.*?—No.

35,977. All the money you got altogether was 11*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes, I believe so.

35,978. Was that all you got or not?—Yes, for all I know.

35,979. Did anybody receive anything on your behalf?—Not that I know of.

35,980. Do you know whether you got anything more or not?—I did not get anything.

35,981. Did somebody receive anything for you?—Not that I know of.

35,982. Did your wife?—No.

35,983. Have you ever received anything since on account of the election?—No.

35,984. On your oath do you mean to say that 11*l.* 10*s.* is all you got?—To the best of my knowledge it is.

35,985. You must know?—I got 10*l.* at the "Royal Oak."

35,986. Was that 10*l.* and the 30*s.* the whole money that you got?—I do not know that I got any more.

35,987. Cannot you tell me whether you did or did not?—I cannot say to speak the truth.

35,988. Do you mean to say you do not know whether you received any money besides the 11*l.* 10*s.* you have told us of?—I did not get any money from any person else.

35,989. Besides the 11*l.* 10*s.* did you get any?—I cannot say that I did.

35,990. Come speak the truth, man; did you get anything besides the 11*l.* 10*s.*?—Not that I know of.

35,991. Do you not know whether you got any more money or not?—To the best of my knowledge I did not.

35,992. What are you?—A painter.

35,993. What wages were you getting at that time?—22*s.* a week.

35,994. From whom?—Mr. Williamson.

35,995. Did you get any money from anybody else?—No.

35,996. You have answered that question distinctly, why cannot you answer the other question. Did you receive anything besides the 11*l.* 10*s.*.—I do not know that I did.

35,997. Did you get any other money?—No, I believe not.

35,998. Do you know anything about William Nickal?—I have a son called William Nickal.

35,999. What did he get anything at the last election?—I believe he got nothing.

36,000. Why is not he here?—He has not been summoned.

36,001. Is he at home?—Yes, he was down at our house when I came out this morning.

R. Whormby.

Robert Whormby sworn and examined.

36,002. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a farmer at Warton?—Yes.

36,003. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,004. What money did you receive?—Nothing whatever.

36,005. Do you really tell us, your name being Whormby and you living at Warton, that you got no money whatever?—No not a halfpenny.

36,006. Had you no money offer to you?—No, none whatever.

36,007. Did not Joseph Wilson offer you anything?—No, he did not; he solicited me, but did not offer me any money.

36,008. Were you solicited on the other side?—No, I did it voluntarily. Mr. Lawrence spoke to me, and asked me for my vote, and I told him I would give it him.

36,009. Have you always voted for the "Blues"?—I never voted before.

36,010. What rent do you pay?—I rent my own house.

36,048. Was that for your vote?—I suppose so.

36,049. Were you on any committee?—No.

36,050. From whom did you receive that?—I got 10*l.* off John Dobson.

36,051. When did you get that money from John Dobson?—The day of the election—the polling day.

36,052. When did you get the other 9*l.*?—The same day.

36,053. From whom?—I got 8*l.* from George Danson, and 10*l.* from John Barrow.

36,054. What did you do with that?—I gave Thornton 19*l.* of it, and the other I kept.

36,055. What Thornton was that?—Henry Thornton.

36,056. You got altogether 28*l.*?—Dobson gave me 20*l.*, and I gave Thornton what they gave me.

36,057. How much money did you get from Dobson altogether?—20*l.*

36,058. And besides that you got 8*l.* from Danson and 10*l.* from Barrow?—Yes.

36,059. That was the whole of the money you received?—Yes.

36,060. How did you spend it?—Thornton got half of it—19*l.*

36,061. You paid Henry Thornton 19*l.*?—Yes.

36,062. Did Thornton have the whole of that 19*l.* for himself?—Yes.

36,063. You did not give him that to pay anybody else with?—No.

36,064. That you are sure of?—Yes, quite sure.

36,065. (Mr. Barstow.) Had you any agreement with Thornton to get this money out of Danson?—No, not at all.

36,066. How came you to get it?—First of all we were going up the Market Place, and met John Dobson, and he asks us to go to the "Golden Ball," and said he would get us something, and Cross gave him 20*l.* to give to Thornton and me.

36,067. What did you understand that 20*l.* to be for?—I understood it was for both of us—10*l.* each.

36,068. For what?—For voting I suppose.

36,069. Did you promise Dobson that you two would vote for 20*l.*?—I do not know.

36,070. Answer the question?—Yes.

36,071. How did it happen that after promising to vote for 20*l.*, you got a further sum of 18*l.* from Danson?—We were coming down the Street and met John Harrison, a stonemason, and he wanted us to go with him after Thornton had polled. He wanted us to go with him to the "Royal Oak," and we went there, and he said Danson was there, but he could not find him, and I was going down Street, and I saw Danson, and Danson said he would give me 18*l.*, and I gave Thornton half of it, and as I was coming up the Street John Barrow asked me if I had polled, and I said, "No." He said, "Come with me to Clarke's." I said I had rather not. He said, "Come along with me and I will get you 10*l.*;" and he went to George Clarke's for the money, but I never saw George Clarke.

GEORGE BLACOW sworn and examined. G. Blacow.

36,072. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Nicholas Street?—Yes.

36,073. What are you?—A cooper.

36,076. Nothing at all ?—I never did.

36,077. You always vote without any money do you ?—Yes, always.

36,078. Had you anything to do with paying money to anybody else ?—No.

6,079. Did you take any active part in the election ?—None whatever.

36,080. (Mr. Barstow.) You knew that money was going about did you not ?—I had a good idea that it was.

36,081. But you did not try to get any ?—No, they knew I would vote without money, they knew that well enough.

G. Blezard.

GEORGE BLEZARD sworn and examined.

36,082. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a painter in Sun Street ?—Yes.

36,083. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Lawrence.

36,084. What money did you receive ?—2*l.*

36,085. From whom ?—I never saw the man before. He was in company with Mr. Cross.

96,086. Was that all the money you received ?—Yes.

36,087. Was that before or after voting ?—I think it was before—a day before—I was at home.

26,088. (Mr. Hill.) Did you pay any money in refreshing other people ?—No.

36,089. What are you ?—A painter.

36,090. A master painter ?—No.

36,091. You have not been summoned have you ?—No, I have received none. I heard there was a summons issued for me but I never got one.

36,096. Did you pay any money ?—No, not a farthing.

36,097. Did you take no part in the election ?—I took no active part in it more than speaking to one or two friends.

36,098. Did not any money pass through your hands at all ?—I came from Blackpool to the election, and was paid my expenses.

36,099. Why did you not say so at first. I asked you if you had received any money, and you said you had not ?—Not for my vote. I received 2*l.* for my expenses. I received no money for my vote.

36,100. I asked you whether you had received any money for the purposes of the election. What did you receive for your expenses ?—2*l.*

36,101. Expenses from where ?—Blackpool.

36,102. How far is that ?—I daresay it is about 32 or 33 miles, perhaps about 40 miles.

36,103. 40 miles there and back ?—From Lancaster here.

36,104. What was your railway fare ?—I did not keep any account.

36,105. You know well enough what it was ?—No, I do not.

36,106. What class did you travel ?—Partly second and partly third class.

36,107. Had you a return ticket ?—No, I believe not.

36,108. Had you or not; you must know ?—I had not.

36,109. You are a schoolmaster, and you ought to know better than to answer as you do ?—Mr. Blades asked me what my expenses were, I said 1*l.* would suffice, and Mr. Henry Welch handed me 2*l.*, and said "That will pay your expenses back."

36,110. (Mr. Hill.) Your expenses being really from Blackpool to Lancaster and back, third class about 10*s.*, at the outside. Why did you answer as you did just now, that you had nothing at all ?—Nothing for my vote.

36,111. You got about 30*s.* more than you were out of pocket, whatever it was. You got 30*s.* more than you spent. Where did you come from to-day ?—From Blackburn.

36,112. What are you doing there ?—I am there with a friend.

36,113. You are on your way back, are you ?—No; I came home this morning. I am not going back.

36,114. So that you are only attending here from Lancaster to-day ?—That is all.

J. Capstick.

JOHN CAPSTICK sworn and examined.

36,166. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I did not. I did not receive even my legal expenses—my travelling expenses.

36,167. Did you come from a distance to vote?—I did; upwards of a hundred miles.

36,168. And you received nothing?—I received nothing.

W. Hall.

WILLIAM HALL sworn and examined.

31,169. (Mr. Hill.) You are a surgeon in Lancaster?—Yes.

36,170. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

36,171. Had you anything to do with any pecuniary matters connected with the election?—Nothing at all.

36,172. You neither received any money, nor expended any?—No; I did nothing whatever regarding the election, except give my vote.

W. Hall.

WILLIAM HALL sworn and examined.

36,173. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Leonard Gate?—Yes.

36,174. What are you?—A druggist.

36,175. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

36,176. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Nothing.

36,177. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

W. Heald.

7 Jan. 1867.

WILLIAM HEALD sworn and examined.

36,178. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—An attorney's clerk. I am on the register as a book-keeper.

36,179. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,180. What money did you receive?—I received a guinea for acting as poll-clerk of the town-hall booth.

36,181. Did you receive nothing else?—No.

36,182. Did you receive any money from the other side?—No, none.

J. Oglethorpe.

36,191. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of that election?—None whatever.

36,192. Had you anything to do with any of the pecuniary arrangements?—Nothing whatever. I was offered a retainer by Mr. Lawrence, but I declined it.

36,193. You were on the committee, were you not?—No, I was not.

36,194. (Mr. Barstow.) You have been mentioned to us as having been a captain?—My clerk may have been.

36,195. Your name was mentioned to us?—That was a mistake.

36,196. Had you a clerk named Thomas Foster?—Yes; he is in Mr. Thursfield's office, in Wednesbury.

36,197. You were not a captain?—No; I acted in no capacity whatever.

36,198. You were the general agent for Mr. Saunders, in the contest between him and Mr. Fenwick?—I was agent for election expenses, and the solicitor conducting the candidature.

36,199. Do you know what that election cost Mr. Saunders?—I have not the slightest idea.

36,200. On that occasion who managed what may be called the illegal expenditure?—Mr. Whelon would take the principal part in it, but he would have a variety of sub-agents acting under him.

36,201. Mr. Whelon is dead; is he not?—Yes; Mr. Danson was one of his agents in the matter, and there were a variety of others.

36,202. (Mr. Hill.) You must know pretty well, by report, what that election cost. It was known among you, was it not, what the expenses of that election were?—I heard it variously stated; I cannot call to mind any precise sum.

36,203. What sum, in your judgment, did that election cost?—I have no means of forming a judgment; I heard it variously estimated at from 1,200*l.* to 1,500*l.*, and some said even 2,000*l.*, but I have no idea myself what would be the correct sum.

W. G. Parkinson.

36,294. Who is your brother?—John.

36,295. (Mr. Hill.) Were you offered anything?—No.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

R. Preston.

7 Jan. 1867.

36,296. (Mr. Barstow.) How came that ?—I never looked after anything. I had nothing offered.

36,297. (Mr. Hill.) Were you not looked up by the canvassers ?—They came round to see where I was but I got nothing.

36,298. Who canvassed you ?—Mr. Wade.

36,299. Mr. Wade seems to have been pretty handy with his money ?—He gave me nothing however.

36,300. Have you always voted Yellow ?—Well, for some years I have.

36,301. Ever since Mr. Greene's time ?—Yes, I voted for Mr. Greene.

36,302. You are quite sure that you got nothing are you ?—Yes, I never received a farthing.

36,303. You are not keeping anything back from us ?—No, I am not.

W. Proctor.

36,304. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Friar Street ?—Yes.

36,305. What are you ?—A tailor and draper.

36,306. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.

36,307. What money did you receive ?—I received 3*l.* to go down to Bare to spend amongst the voters.

36,308. From whom did you receive that ?—1*l.* I received from Frost, and 2*l.* from Mr. William Storey.

36,309. Did you go to Bare and treat the voters ?—Yes.

36,310. Where did you lay out your money ?—At a public-house there.

36,311. Did you receive any other money ?—No.

36,312. Nothing at all ?—No, except there was 35*l.* left at my house for five voters of which Mr. Stanton has given you an account.

36,313. Was that deposited with you and given to five voters ?—To one voter who came for it.

36,314. Who was that voter ?—James Barber.

36,315. You received 35*l.* ; that was 7*l.* apiece for all the Barbers ?—I do not know whether they were all Barbers or not. I only saw one.

36,316. To which of the Barbers did you give this 35*l.* ?—To James Barber.

36,317. When ?—On the morning of the election.

36,318. After they had polled ?—After they had polled.

36,319. How did you know they had polled ?—He came to my shop in the morning and told me they had all polled and I gave him the money.

36,320. (Mr. Newton.) Was there anybody else besides Barber that came for the 35*l.* ?—I only saw him.

36,321. You do not know for how many votes it was ?—For five votes Mr. Stanton told me. I had nothing to do with the arrangement.

36,322. (Mr. Hill.) Are you quite sure that the 3*l.* you have told us of was all the money you got yourself ?—Yes.

36,323. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you spend that 3*l.* ?—Yes.

36,324. You paid ready money ?—Yes.

36,325. Did you leave any bill at this house ?—No.

36,326. What house did you pay it at ?—There is only one house there. I do not know what they call it.

36,327. (Mr. Hill.) How many evenings did it take you to spend the 3*l.* ?—Two nights.

36,328. Was the 35*l.* left in money, or was it rolled up in a packet ?—It was in money—in gold.

36,329. It was counted out to you and you counted it out to Barber ?—I gave it to another person, a man in the shop. I told him to hand it to Barber.

36,330. Who was the man to whom you gave it ?—Mr. Hoyle.

36,331. What Hoyle was that ?—Mr. Charles Hoyle.

36,332. What made you hand it to Hoyle ?—There was some one in the shop with me, and I told him just to give that man the money.

J. Proctor.

James Proctor sworn and examined.

36,333. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Scotforth ?—Yes.

36,334. What are you ?—A farmer.

36,335. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,336. Did you receive any money ?—Yes.

36,338. From whom did you receive it ?—William Halstead.

36,339. Did you get anything else ?—No.

36,340. You were not on any committee ?—No.

36,341. What rent do you pay ?—Better than 100*l.* a-year.

36,342. How much better ?—40*l.*

36,343. You pay 140*l.* a-year ?—I fancy so.

36,344. Do not answer in that way ; surely you must know what you pay ?—I fancy it is that, but I hold so much.

36,345. Do you mean you hold land from different landlords ?—Yes, three.

36,346. Do you pay as much as 150*l.* ?—It might be so.

36,347. Come, do not answer in that stupid manner ; do you or do you not ?—Yes, I think I do.

36,348. How much do yon pay ?—About 150*l.* I think.

36,349. More or less ?—I do not pay any more I think.

36,350. (Mr. Hill.) How much did you pay this last quarter day ?—I paid to three different landlords.

36,351. And how much did you pay to the three ?—It amounts to 150*l.* a-year.

F. Raby.

Francis Raby sworn and examined.

36,352. (Mr. Hill.) You are a mariner ?—They call me a mariner.

36,353. What are you ?—Light keeper. I keep a lighthouse, two lighthouses.

36,354. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Mr. Lawrence.

36,355. How much money did they give you ?—9*l.*

36,356. Who gave it to you ?—Alexander Harrison.

36,357. What was the 9*l.* given to you for ?—I do not know. I think they had more money than they knew what to do with.

36,358. And you had less I suppose ?—No, I am always ready to take money.

36,359. Did you get on any committee as well ?—No.

36,360. Was 9*l.* all you got ?—Yes.

36,361. When did Harrison give you this ?—On the morning of the election.

36,362. Where ?—In the street. I told him I would not have it in the street ; I said I did not want any money. I never had a penny for 20 years.

36,363. You told him that, and he absolutely compelled you to take this money ?—No, he did not compel me to take it, but a poor man is a fool and will always take money when he is tempted with it.

CHARLES RALPH sworn and examined. C. Ralph.

36,364. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A weaver.

36,365. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,366. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—8*l.*

36,367. From whom did you receive that?—From William King.

36,368. Do you live in Aldcliffe Street?—No, it is put down Aldcliffe Street, but I live in Moor Lane.

36,369. Had you had anything besides the 8*l.*?—No.

36,370. Were you not on any committee?—No.

36,371. Was any money deposited with you for any other voter?—No.

[WILLIAM RALPH is called, but does not answer.]

36,372. Are you any relation to William Ralph?—Brother.

36,373. Do you know where he is?—In Manchester.

36,374. Did he get anything?—I did not see him get anything.

36,375. Has he ever told you he got anything?—No.

36,376. You do not know whether he got anything or not?—Most likely he did.

36,377. Come, you must know, what did he get; you know well enough?—No, I do not. I never mentioned to him nor he to me what he got, nor what any of them got, nor what I got.

36,378. But he did get something?—Most likely he would.

36,379. (Mr. Newton.) You know perfectly well what he got?—I do not.

36,380. (Mr. Hill.) Do you believe that he got more or less than you got yourself?—I cannot say, I never mentioned it to him nor him to me.

WILLIAM RICHMOND sworn and examined. W. Richmond

36,381. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Bridge Lane?—Yes.

36,382. What are you?—A wood dealer.

36,383. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,384. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—11*l.*

36,385. Was that all you got?—Yes.

36,386. Had you nothing given you to spend in drink?—No, nothing at all.

36,387. Did you hold any money for anybody?—No, not a farthing.

36,388. Who did you get the money from?—He was a stranger to me; he was a good looking man; I never saw him before and have not seen him since; somebody said he came from Barrow; he was a stranger completely. I never saw him before and have not seen him since.

WILLIAM RICHMOND sworn and examined. W. Richmond

36,389. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Scotforth?—Yes.

36,390. What are you?—A coal agent.

36,391. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Lawrence and Schneider.

36,392. Did you receive any money?—No.

36,393. None at all?—No.

36,394. Did you receive anything from Cole?—No.

36,395. Were not you in the "Blue Anchor"?—No, I do not remember being there.

36,396. You do not remember being there on the polling day?—No.

36,397. You are quite sure you received nothing?—Yes.

36,398. Did you receive any money for any one else?—No.

36,399. No money was left with you to pay anybody else?—No.

36,400. Did you treat anybody?—No, I had nothing at all to do with the election except voting.

WILLIAM ROTHERY affirmed and examined. W. Rothery.

36,401. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I am out of business.

36,402. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

36,403. Did you receive any money?—Not any.

36,404. Did you pay any money?—Not any.

36,405. Was any money deposited with you for any other person?—No, not any.

36,406. Did you see any money paid?—No.

NATHANIEL GEORGE RICHMOND sworn and examined. N. G. Richmond.

36,407. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of Halton?—Yes.

36,408. What are you?—A wood cutter.

36,409. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence.

36,410. What money did you receive?—I received 6*l.* from a man of the name of King.

36,411. Anything else?—Yes, and then I got 8*l.*

36,412. What was the 8*l.* given to you for?—I do not know indeed.

36,413. From whom did you get the 8*l* ?—I do not know the man whom I got it from.

36,414. Which of the Kings was it that you got 6*l.* from?—John King I think.

36,415. Is that King, of Slyne?—Yes.

36,416. What other sum did you receive?—I got afterwards the 10*l.*

36,417. Who from?—I do not know.

36,418. That was 24*l.*?—Yes.

36,419. And anything else?—No.

36,420. Do you know which side the 10*l.* came from?—I went over to Skerton; a person took me over there, and I got it there; I suppose it would be from Mr. Lawrence.

36,421. You got a note with it did you not?—No, I did not.

36,422. You got altogether 24*l.*?—Yes.

36,423. Was that all?—That was all.

36,424. Did you not get anything to treat with?—I got no drink besides.

36,425. What did you do with your 24*l.*?—I cannot tell you, it went.

36,426. Did you get anything from George Danson?—No.

36,427. Are you quite sure?—Yes.

36,428. (Mr. Newton.) Was this 24*l.* all given to you to vote for Lawrence?—I do not know, I got the 8*l.* in Market Street.

36,429. What did he say to you when he gave you the money?—He said nothing; he only gave it to me.

36,430. What was it for?—I do not know.

36,431. Had you voted then?—No, I had not.

36,432. Who were you with at the time?—There

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

N. G. Richmond.

7 Jan. 1867.

was a young man. I did not know any of them; we went into the back place, and he gave me the money.

36,433. Was that the 8*l.* ?—Yes.

36,434. What was said when you got the 10*l.* ?—They never asked me any questions there.

36,435. Neither of them ?—No.

36,436. Was the money forced into your hand ?—Not forced; they gave it to me.

36,437. They did not say who you were to vote for ?—Not when I got the 8*l.*

36,438. Nor the 10*l.* ?—I suppose they did then.

36,439. What did they say ?—They asked me if I was going to vote for Lawrence; but they knew the man that took me there.

36,440. What did you say ?—I said I would.

36,441. Did you not tell them you had got 14*l.* already to vote for Lawrence ?—No, I did not tell them anything at all.

36,442. (Mr. Barstow.) When you received the first money what did you say ?—Well, I said nothing, only I intended voting for that party.

36,443. When you got the first money you promised to vote for Lawrence ?—I did not say any words, but I knew that the man I was receiving it from wanted me to do so.

W. Storey.

WILLIAM STOREY recalled and further examined.

36,444. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand you wish to make some statement ?—Yes. I see by this morning's report that one Richard Harrison stated on Saturday that he had not received 5*l.* 10*s.* from me. If you will look at this paper (handing a paper to the Commissioners) you will notice his receipt for 5*l.* 16*s.* 3*d.*

36,445. Did you see this little note at the bottom written ?—I saw it when he brought the bill to me at first.

36,446. You did not see the person write it ?—No.

36,447. Do you know the handwriting ?—No, but to the best of my recollection he told me he had been to Mr. Gibson's for the money.

36,448. (Mr. Newton.) Is the person to whom you are referring "Thomas Harrison," a book-keeper ?—No, it is "Richard Harrison."

36,449. (Mr. Barstow.) You say that Harrison stated that you had not paid him 5*l.* 10*s.* ?—I think I gave it in evidence that I had paid him 5*l.* 16*s.* 3*d.* and he stated on Saturday that I did not pay him the money as stated by me in my evidence. He mentions 5*l.* 10*s.*

36,450. The difference between the two amounts is 6*s.* 3*d.* ?—Yes.

36,451. Do you know in whose handwriting this note is at the bottom ?—I believe it is Mr. Gibson's.

36,452. To the best of your belief it is his ?—Yes, to the best of my belief it is.

36,453. Have you ever had any correspondence with Mr. Gibson upon the subject ?—No.

36,454. Have you ever seen his handwriting at all ?—Yes, I have seen it frequently.

The paper referred to by the witness is put in and is as follows:—

"Wm. Storey, Esq.

To Richard Harrison.

1865		£	s.	d.
July 12,	To money paid for voters -	5	16	3
	Advanced on account by Mr. Storey - - -	2	10	0
	Paid by Mr. Storey - -	3	6	3
		5	16	3

(Signed) R. HARRISON.

Mr. Storey,—Please get this for Harrison; of course I cannot recognize it in any way. T. G."

36,455. That last note you say you believe to be in Mr. Gibson's handwriting ?—I understood so at the time.

H. Row.

HENRY ROW sworn and examined.

36,456. (Mr. Barstow.) You are described as of Caton ?—Yes.

36,457. What are you ?—A servant.

36,458. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,459. Did you receive any money for your vote ?—I got 6*l.*; I had it given to me.

36,460. Who gave it to you ?—Mr. Pease.

36,461. Is that all you got ?—Yes.

36,462. Did you receive any money from any other person ?—No.

36,463. Are you butler to Mr. Edmondson, of Grassyard Hall ?—Yes.

36,464. Did you offer any money to any voters ?—No, I did not.

36,465. To no one ?—No. A man named Mashiter says I paid him, but I did not; and he says that I told him that he would oblige Mr. Edmondson by giving Mr. Lawrence a vote, and that I did not say. It is quite wrong; I did not say it.

J. Row.

JAMES ROW sworn and examined.

36,466. (Mr. Hill.) You are a brush maker living in Scotforth ?—Yes.

36,467. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,468. Did you receive any money for the purposes of that election ?—Yes, 12*l.*

36,469. From whom did you receive that ?—From Josiah Ball.

36,470. Did you get any money besides that ?—Yes, he gave me 1*l.* to treat voters with.

36,471. Anything else ?—No.

36,472. Was that 13*l.* all you got ?—Yes.

36,473. Had you anything to do with paying any other voters ?—No.

R. Satterthwaite.

ROBERT SATTERTHWAITE sworn and examined.

36,496. Where did you get it ?—I got it at Robert Hodgson's.

36,497. Do you know the man who paid you ?—No, I do not; he was a stranger to me.

G. Scales.

GEORGE SCALES sworn and examined.

36,498. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A shoemaker.

36,499. Are you in business at present ?—No, not at present I am not.

36,500. Are you in Penny's Hospital ?—Yes.

36,501. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,502. Did you get anything for your vote ?—I had 5*l.*; it was not given me then; I do not know who it came from.

36,503. When was it given to you ?—A little before the election.

36,504. Was that all the money you got ?—Yes.

S. Shaw.

STEPHEN SHAW sworn and examined.

36,505. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of Bolton-le-Sands ?—Yes.

36,532. That is Peter Moore's ?—Yes.

36,533. Is that all you got ?—Yes.

36,534. Did you get any money to spend in drink ?—No, not a farthing.

J. Slinger.

JONATHAN SLINGER sworn and examined.

36,535. (Mr. Hill.) You are a book-keeper in the Canal Office, Lancaster ?—I am assistant to the manager in our office; I am described as a book-keeper in the register.

36,536. What is your office ?—The Canal Office.

36,537. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,538. What money did you receive ?—I received nothing either for myself or for anybody else.

36,539. No money in any way came to you; is that what you mean to say ?—No money at all.

36,540. Had you anything to do with paying money ?—I paid 1*l.* 10*s.* to my brother Shadrach.

36,541. What is that for ?—He attended as one of the representatives of the Liberal party at Saint Thomas's booth.

36,542. That is, in ordinary language, he acted as poll clerk ?—Yes.

36,543. Who gave you that money to pay him ?—I paid it out of my own money.

36,544. Was not that returned among the expenses ?—No, it was not rendered at all. He, I should say, is not a voter.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

7 Jan. 1867.

Henry Gardner Smith sworn and examined.

H. G. Smith.

36,552. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A farmer.

36,553. What is your rental?—We do not pay any rent.

36,554. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,555. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I received 1*l.* from Henry Nelson about a fortnight before the election to treat voters.

36,556. Was that all you got?—Yes.

36,557. And did you spend the money in treating voters?—Yes, I did.

Peter Speight sworn and examined.

P. Speight.

36,558. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in the Market Street?—Yes.

36,559. What are you?—A brush manufacturer.

36,560. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,561. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Nothing.

36,562. No money whatever?—No, I never did.

36,563. Did you receive any money at the last election?—No, not a halfpenny.

36,564. Did any relation of yours receive anything?—No, no relation of mine did; another man received it, but he was not anything to me.

36,565. Did any member of your family receive anything?—No.

36,566. Mrs. Speight, for instance?—There is not a Mrs. Speight.

36,567. And there was not then?—No.

36,568. Do you know Isaac Vickers?—I know him very well.

36,569. Had not you and he something to do with a little bit of a money transaction?—No, never; I never had anything to do with money.

36,570. But in the matter of the election?—No.

36,571. Are you quite sure of that?—I am quite sure that we had not anything to do as to money.

36,572. Did you not come across one another at the election time?—Never. I gave my vote early in the morning, and I went home, and never was out till 3 o'clock; I never do meddle with electioneering.

Henry Stirzaker sworn and examined.

H. Stirzaker.

36,573. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A gardener I have been, but I have lost my garden. They have taken my garden away from me.

36,574. What did they take it away from you for?—Because I was unable to work at it.

36,575. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,576. What money did you receive?—Mr. John Hargreaves brought me four half-crowns, that was all I received, I am telling you the truth.

36,577. Was that all the money you got?—Before the election.

36,578. But at the election?—A fortnight afterwards they came to tell me that Mr. Clark had got a sovereign, and I received a shilling a week and sixpences a week—every Saturday I received a shilling, and he said that it was about the election. Mr. Clark gave it to me, and that was what I received, I did not know whether it was election money or committee money or what it was, but I did get that.

36,579. Were you on any committee?—No; I was at no meeting; I went away and never took a glass of ale.

36,580. Were you not doing any work of any sort during the election?—No, none at all.

36,581. They were upwards of 20 weeks then paying you your sovereign?—Yes, they paid it a shilling a week. They were frightened lest I should drink it.

36,582. (Mr. Newton.) Does anybody pay you anything now?—I cannot say anything about that; Mr. Hargreaves told me to come, that he had some money for me, and he gave me a shilling on New Year's Day; but I do not know whether that was election money or not.

36,583. What did they give you the half-crowns for?—They did not say; they said it was to get something to drink. I was to enjoy myself with it; and I did.

Thomas Standen sworn and examined.

T. Standen.

36,584. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a butcher in Church Street?—Yes.

36,585. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,586. What money did you get?—I did not receive anything for my vote.

36,587. Did you receive anything for anybody else?—No.

36,588. Did no money come to your hands at all?—None whatever.

36,589. Nor to the hands of any relation of yours?—I have some sons, and I believe they received some, but they do not reside with me.

36,590. No one received any money for you?—No one for me.

36,591. Did you see any voter paid?—No, I did not. I took no active part in the election whatever.

Solomon Sykes, jun., sworn and examined.

S. Sykes, jun.

36,592. (Mr. Hill.) You are a cooper in Church Street?—Yes.

36,593. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Messieurs Fenwick and Schneider.

36,594. Did you receive any money?—None whatever.

36,595. No money of any sort?—No.

36,596. Did you pay anybody anything?—No.

36,597. You are quite certain that you received no money?—Yes, quite.

36,598. Did nobody offer you any money?—No.

36,599. Did they know that you were on the register?—Yes.

36,600. Did they canvass you?—Yes.

36,601. Who canvassed you?—Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider and Mr. Lawrence.

36,602. Were you never offered any money?—No, never.

James Taylor sworn and examined.

J. Taylor.

36,603. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Dalton Square?—Yes.

36,604. What are you?—A grocer.

36,605. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,606. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None whatever.

36,607. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

36,608. Was no money left with you to pay any votes?—No.

JOHN TAYLOR sworn and examined. J. Taylor.

36,609. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Cable Street?—Yes.

36,610. You are a book-keeper?—Yes.

36,611. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,612. What money did you receive?—All the money I received was 3*l.* 10*s.* for my services as clerk in the committee room.

36,613. When did you get that?—About a week after the election.

36,614. How long were you engaged as clerk in the committee room?—About a week.

36,615. What do you generally make a week?—Lately I have been getting paid 5*s.* a day for my work.

36,616. They gave you rather more than double your ordinary wages then?—Yes, but I had promised my vote before ever I was engaged in the committee room. I promised my vote voluntarily.

36,617. How do you generally vote?—For the Liberal candidates always.

FRANCIS TAYLOR sworn and examined. F. Taylor.

36,618. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you live in Penny Street?—Yes.

36,619. Are you a tinplate worker?—Yes.

36,620. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

36,621. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—2*l.*

36,622. From whom did you receive that money?—Christopher Robinson.

36,623. Who is Christopher Robinson?—A coal dealer.

36,624. Where did he pay you?—At my own house.

36,625. Was that before or after you had voted?—After I had voted.

36,626. Were you a clerk?—No.

36,627. (Mr. Hill.) What did they give you this money for?—I do not know, I never asked for anything, they brought it to me.

36,628. Did you not take any part in the election?—No, none at all.

CHRISTOPHER BLAND WALKER sworn and examined. C. B. Walker.

36,329. (Mr. Hill.) You are an attorney at Sunderland?—I reside in Preston.

36,630. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

36,631. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

36,632. Had you anything to do with any of the pecuniary matters of the election?—Nothing at all.

36,633. Were you a personal friend of Mr. Lawrence's?—I have known him as one of the corporation of Liverpool.

36,634. You took no active part in the election?—No.

36,635. You just came here and voted?—Yes.

36,636. Did you not canvass the voters in the neighbourhood of Sunderland?—No.

36,637. You did not interfere with the election at all?—No.

36,638. Because your name has been mentioned to us as having done so?—I was not aware that there were voters at Sunderland. There are some at Overton I believe, but I did not interfere at all.

WILLIAM WINDER sworn and examined. W. Winder.

36,639. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a clerk in the Probate Registry?—Yes.

36,640. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,641. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None.

36,642. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No, neither for myself nor for any other person.

36,643. Did you see any voters paid?—No. I merely recorded my vote. I did not interfere with the election at all.

WILLIAM HOTHERSALL WINDER sworn and examined. W. H. Winder.

36,644. (Mr. Hill.) Do you live in Parliament Street?—Yes.

36,645. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

36,646. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—About six weeks or two months after the election I believe I received from Mr. Jackson either 2*l.* or two guineas. My father, the last witness in the box, had acted as deputy-mayor for the last 30 years, and declined voting. This year he desired to vote, but he thought that if he recorded his vote and accepted the office of deputy-mayor, his vote might be struck off, and so he declined to act; and they sent him a couple of guineas or 2*l.* for resigning his deputy-mayorship—that was to make it up to him. I took the money to him, and he declined to receive it. I got 1*l.* myself as poll clerk.

36,647. And you got two guineas for which you did nothing?—Yes.

36,648. What Mr. Jackson gave you this money?—I think it was Mr. George Jackson.

36,649. Who is he?—He lives in Church Street.

36,650. What is George Jackson?—He is a liquor merchant. I know I got 2*l.*, or two guineas I think it was. He gave it to me.

36,651. But you could not swear it was he?—No, I could not. I might be mistaken, but I know I got a couple of guineas.

36,652. Your father did not act as deputy-mayor?—No. The money was sent to him as a present because he had sacrificed his deputy-mayorship.

WILLIAM TAYLOR sworn and examined. W. Taylor.

36,653. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a labourer in Henry Street?—Yes.

36,654. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,655. What money did you receive?—5*l.*

36,656. From whom did you receive it?—From Pattison.

36,657. Is that Pattison of the "White Lion"?—Yes.

36,658. Is that all the money that you received?—Yes.

36,659. Were you on no committee?—No.

36,660. Did you receive no money to spend in drink?—No.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

W. Wearing.

7 Jan. 1867.

WILLIAM WEARING sworn and examined.

36,661. (Mr. Hill.) You are a druggist in West Place?—Yes.

36,662. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,663. What money did you receive?—Nothing at all.

36,664. Had you anything to do with paying any voters?—Nothing, in one shape or another.

R. Taylor.

ROBERT TAYLOR sworn and examined.

36,665. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a grocer in Great John Street?—I am described so.

36,666. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

36,667. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I did not receive anything at all for my vote.

36,668. Did you receive any money at all?—I paid 2*s.* for refreshments.

36,669. That is not receiving money?—I received 2*s.* and paid 2*s.*, not a farthing more.

36,670. From whom did you receive the 2*s.*?—From Edward Hodgson. That is every farthing I received. I had nothing for my vote.

36,671. (Mr. Hill.) Did you arrange with any voter or voters?—No.

36,672. Did you see any voters paid?—No.

[JAMES TAYLOR is called but does not answer.]

36,673. Do you know anything of any other Taylor on the register?—I have two brothers on the register.

36,674. Which are they?—John, and James, jun. My brother James will attend as soon as I get back. He had nothing to do with the election. I can tell you that if that will do instead of his coming up.

36,675. He is in Lancaster is he not?—Yes.

36,676. You are quite sure he got nothing?—Yes. He will come here if you want him. He voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

T. Thompson, jun.

THOMAS THOMPSON, jun., sworn and examined.

36,677. (Mr. Barstow.) You are an upholsterer in King Street?—Yes.

36,678. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Fenwick and Schneider.

36,679. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—2*l.*

36,680. From whom did you receive it?—Mr. Garnett got it from Welch.

36,681. Who is Mr. Garnett?—Of Church Street, I do not know his first name.

36,682. Is that all the money you received?—That is all.

36,683. Where did you get it?—At the "New Inn" in Market Street.

36,684. Was it on the day of the election?—No, it was three or four days before.

36,685. And what was it for?—I had spent part, and it was to spend. I spent it one way and another in treating.

36,686. (Mr. Hill.) Did you keep any for yourself?—No.

36,687. Did you have any money for yourself?—No, that is all I received.

36,688. How much of it had you spent before you got the 2*l.*?—I cannot say.

36,689. About how much before you received the 2*l.*; how much were you out of pocket?—I cannot say. I have not the slightest idea.

36,690. Where did you spend the money?—In different public-houses in the town.

36,691. I suppose so—where?—There is the "Wellington Arms" in Common Garden Street, and there was the "New Inn," and several other places.

36,692. But all those were open houses on the Liberal side were they not?—Yes.

36,693. Do you mean to swear that you paid ready money?—Yes, I did.

36,694. On every occasion?—Yes, for all that ever I got.

36,695. And you mean to swear that you spent 2*l.* in that way in treating?—I cannot say how much—it might be more or it might be less.

36,696. What is the extreme that you will swear to; will you swear that you spent 15*s.*?—I will.

36,697. Will you swear that you spent over 1*l.*?—I could not swear positively, but I think I might safely do so.

36,698. You know more about it than we do; did you or did you not spend more than 1*l.*?—I should not like to swear to it. I am not certain about it.

36,699. The "New Inn" was open you know, and the "Wellington Arms" too?—Yes, they were.

36,700. What occasion then had you to pay ready money?—I should go in with a voter I knew and treat him, and I should pay for what I got.

36,701. But you and the voter you know might have drunk whatever you chose, and had it charged to the candidate?—I did not know that till later on. I believe there were only certain nights set apart for the houses being open.

36,702. (Mr. Newton.) Are you a master plasterer?—No.

36,703. A journeyman?—Yes.

36,704. (Mr. Hill.) Do you believe you spent over 1*l.*?—Yes, I do.

39,705. Who did you treat?—I cannot tell you their names now. I cannot call them to mind.

36,706. Were there any persons you polled that you treated?—I did not go with one man to the poll.

36,707. Where did you find the people whom you took with you and treated?—I found them in the streets.

36,708. And you took them in to drink with you?—Yes.

36,709. And I suppose other people took you in to drink with them?—Well, I daresay they did sometimes.

E. Winder.

EDMUND WINDER sworn and examined.

36,710. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Cable Street, and are a druggist?—I am set down as a druggist, but I am not a druggist.

36,711. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,712. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No, I did not.

36,713. You had nothing to do with any money?—No.

36,714. Not in paying voters?—No.

36,715. Did you receive any money to spend in treating voters?—No.

36,725. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—Yes.
36,726. How much ?—I had 2*l.* from Mr. Vince on the Saturday before the election for treating voters with, and I had 20*l.* from Mr. Maddock, 10*l.* for myself and 10*l.* for my brother.
36,727. You got 12*l.* altogether for yourself ?—No, I spent the 2*l.* that I received from Mr. Vince in treating voters.
36,728. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you not go round with Maddock ?—Yes.
36,729. You took him to the houses of the different voters ?—Yes.
36,730. Did you go in with him or did you stay outside ?—I generally stayed outside ; I did not go in in many cases.

JAMES THOMPSON sworn and examined. J. Thompson.

36,731. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a farmer at Overton ?—Yes.
36,732. Are you the brother of the last witness ?—Yes.
36,733. You received 10*l.* from him did you not ?—Yes.
36,734. And you voted for Mr. Lawrence ?—Yes.
36,735. Was that all the money that you received ? Yes.
36,736. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not get any money to treat voters with ?—No.
36,737. What rent do you pay ?—I am doing nothing at present.
36,738. Has your brother the farm ?—Yes.
36,739. What rent does he pay ?—264*l.*
36,740. That is the last man ?—Yes.
36,741. Were you farming at the time of the election yourself ?—Yes, I was partner with him.
36,742. (Mr. Barstow.) Were you two the only two partners ?—Yes.

THOMAS VERITY sworn and examined. T. Verity.

36,743. (Mr. Hill.) You are a tobacconist living at Springfield ?—Yes.
36,744. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

36,776. From whom ?—Mr. Jackson.
36,777. Isaac Jackson ?—Yes.
36,778. Was that all the money you had ?—I had

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

T. B. Thornton.

7 Jan. 1867.

2*l.* sent me from Mr, Vince to spend at the house. I am a beerhouse keeper now. I am not a soda-water manufacturer.

36,779. Had you any other money ?—Mr. Coupland gave me two half-sovereigns on the Saturday before the election.

36,780. (Mr. Hill.) What was that for ?—I suppose to pay the voters at the house. They had half-a-pint or two at different houses, and they passed by my house, and I mentioned it.

37,781. Was that all you had ?—That was all ; I received nothing for the breakfasts, nor for the horses putting up, or anything of that sort.

36,782. Had you any bill at your house ?—Yes.

36,782*a*. How much ?—I forget ; I believe there were 28 to breakfast, and four horses, and the drivers.

36,783. What bill did you send in for that ?—I presented a bill but I did not leave it ; I took it to Mr. Gibson.

36,784. Were you paid it ?—No.

36,785. Have you been paid it at all ?—No ; I never made an application for it after that time.

36,786. The 3*l.* that you received went for the bill did it ?—No, I received the two half-sovereigns on the Saturday before the election.

36,787. How much would your bill have come to that you took in ?—I think it was about 3*l.*

36,788. You had received 3*l.* to spend in your house, and that would go against the bill ?—No, that was spent in treating voters.

36,789. They have not paid the bill ?—No.

36,790. (Mr. Newton.) Do you expect that they will pay it ?—I never applied again ; I had this 10*l.* given to me after I had voted.

R. Thornton.

RICHARD THORNTON sworn and examined.

36,791. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Halton ?—Yes.

36,792. What are you ?—A farmer.

36,793. A farm labourer or a farmer ?—A farmer.

36,794. What is your rental ?—120*l.* a year.

36,795. For whom did you vote ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,796. What money did you receive ?—10*l.*

36,797. From whom did you receive it ?—From Mr. William Sharp.

36,798. Is that all the money you received ?—Yes.

T. Threlfall.

THOMAS THRELFALL sworn and examined.

36,799. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a labourer at Thurnham ?—I lived there formerly ; I live in Lancaster now.

36,800. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,801. What money did you receive ?—3*l.* 3*s.*

36,802. Did you receive that at Conder Green ?—I received it in Lancaster ; I was not at Conder Green.

36,803. Is that all you got ?—Yes ; that is all I got.

36,804. Of any sort or kind ?—Of any sort or kind.

36,805. Who paid you ?—My brother, James Threlfall, paid me.

36,806. He is a ship's carpenter, is he not ?—Yes.

[Joseph Threlfall is called but does not answer.]

36,807. For whom did your brother vote ?—For Lawrence and Schneider.

36,808. And what did he get ?—He got 3*l.* 3*s.* from a person at Conder Green, and 4*l.* from John Birchall.

36,809. Is that all he got ?—That is all he got.

R. Threlfall.

ROBERT THRELFALL sworn and examined.

36,810. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Chancery Lane ?—Yes.

36,811. What are you ?—A fish dealer.

36,812. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,813. What money did you get ?—12*l.*

36,814. Did you get anything else ?—Yes ; I should get something previous to the election, but not the election morning.

36,815. How much did you get ?—Perhaps about 25*s.*, or something like that.

36,816. That was to drink with ?—Yes, and for other services.

36,817. What services did you render ?—Getting something to sup.

36,818. You did not get any work at all at the election ?—No.

36,819. You got 13*l.* 5*s.* ?—Yes.

36,820. Anything else ?—Not that I recollect.

36,821. Did you get anything from the other side ?—No.

36,822. Did you not go to look up the Yellow Committee ?—No.

36,823. Who paid you your 12*l.* ?—The 12*l.* was given to Mr. Dale. It was paid over the night before. and he paid me the next morning.

36,824. Mr. Dale held it for you ?—Yes, till the morning.

36,825. Who is Mr. Dale ?—At the vaults going into the market—the spirit vaults.

36,826. Is there any sign to the house ?—Yes ; it is what they call the "Crown Inn." I believe that is the name of it. It is the vaults going into the butchers' market.

T. Tomlinson.

THOMAS TOMLINSON sworn and examined.

36,827. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Gage Street ?—Yes.

36,828. What are you ?—An organ builder.

36,829. You are described as a joiner ?—Yes.

36,830. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,831. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—No.

36,832. None at all ?—None at all.

36,833. Neither for yourself nor for any other person ?—No.

36,834. Do you know a house called the "Black Cat" ?—Yes.

36,835. Did you take any voters there ?—I do not know that I took any. I invited some to go there, but I do not remember taking any there.

36,836. Did they accept your invitation ?—I think they did.

36,837. They came there ?—Yes.

36,838. What did you invite them to go there for ?—To take breakfast on the morning of the election.

36,839. Do you know what they got for breakfast ?—I think I do.

36,840. Did you not take them to be paid ?—I know nothing about their being paid.

36,841. Are we to understand that you received no money for any voter ?—I never received a farthing, and never saw a farthing paid.

36,842. Do you mean to swear that you never saw a voter paid ?—I do.

36,843. Did you not take them to the house for the purpose of their being paid ?—No ; I did not.

36,844. What did you take them there for then ?—To meet together, so that they might proceed together to vote from that house.

36,845. Who gave you orders to look after them and for the breakfast?—It was arranged, I think, the night before. There was a kind of meeting, I think, of the sub-committee.

36,846. Who were the sub-committee?—Mr. Johnson was chairman; Mr. King and Mr. Wright, and several more that lived in the district.

36,847. We have heard of all those gentlemen before. Was that Roger Wright?—No; Mr. Wright who was in Milner's shop.

36,848. (Mr. Hill.) Were they to be paid before breakfast or after?—I never heard it mentioned.

36,849. (Mr. Barstow.) You heard not a word said about money?—Not a word while I was there.

JOSEPH WOODMAN sworn and examined. J. Woodman.

36,850. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Sunderland, labourer?—Yes.

36,851. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Fenwick.

36,852. What money did you receive?—I received 10*l.* the night before the election.

36,853. From whom did you receive it?—A Liverpool man. I can hardly think of his name.

36,854. What else did you receive?—I received 8*l.* We made arrangements with Mr. Wise for 8*l.* apiece for three of us.

36,855. That was for the Liberals?—Yes; but he did not pay us the money, did not Wise; but I heard this morning that they called him "Tinker."

36,856. You got the 8*l.*?—Yes.

36,857. Were you not on any committee?—We went into the committee.

36,858. Did you not get anything out of the committee room?—No.

36,859. 18*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

JAMES TOWNSON sworn and examined. J. Townson.

36,860. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Penny Street?—Yes.

36,861. What are you?—A relieving officer; I am a farmer on the voters' list.

36,862. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

36,863. Did you receive any money?—No.

36,864. Not for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

36,865. Did you see any voters paid?—No; I had nothing at all to do with anything about the election—only voting.

36,866. (Mr. Hill.) Have you always voted on the Liberal side?—Yes; I see my name in Milner's book as having received 7*s.* from George Danson, but I believe it is a mistake. I have seen George Danson since, and it is a mistake.

36,867. At any rate, you did not get it?—No; not a penny.

THOMAS TOWNSON sworn and examined. T. Townson.

36,884. From whom?—Mr. King.

36,885. Was that all you got?—Yes.

JOHN WALMSLEY sworn and examined. J. Walmsley.

36,886. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in the Ullswater Road?—Yes.

36,887. Are you in any occupation?—No.

36,888. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Messrs. Schneider and Fenwick.

36,889. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Not a farthing.

36,890. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

36,891. Did you see any voters paid?—Not one.

WILLIAM WARBRICK sworn and examined. W. Warbrick.

36,892. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Mason Street?—Yes.

36,893. What are you?—A carter.

36,894. Carter to whom?—A waterside carter; I used to be on the quay.

36,895. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Fenwick.

36,896. What money did you receive?—5*l.*

36,897. From whom?—From Mr. Moser.

36,898. Did you receive anything else?—Yes, I got 2*l.* from Thomas Turner.

36,899. Was 7*l.* all you got?—I got 2*l.* out of committee, that is what I had.

36,900. Did you serve on the committee at all?—Yes I did.

36,901. Did you get anything else?—Nothing.

36,902. You did not get on to the other committee also?—No.

36,903. You stuck to your colours?—Yes.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

7 Jan. 1867.

JOHN WESTERN sworn and examined.

J. Western.

36,904. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a bookkeeper in China Lane?—Yes, I was formerly of China Lane.

36,905. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

39,906. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—10*l.*

36,907. Was that the whole money that you received?—Yes.

36,908. What was that for?—I suppose it was for services and vote.

36,909. Have you not received more?—No.

36,910. You were one of the witnesses summoned before the House of Commons?—Yes.

36,911. From whom did you get the money?—I received it at the "Queen's Hotel;" but I cannot say whether it was Mr. Wearing or Mr. Welch that paid it to me.

36,912. Were you not a very active man at the election?—I took a small part in it.

36,913. What part did you take?—I went round Carnforth, Wharton, and Bolton.

36,914. Did you pay any voters?—No.

36,915. Did you tell them that they would be paid?—No.

36,916. Did you treat any voters?—Yes.

36,917. Where did you treat them?—At different public-houses, both in the town and country.

36,918. Who gave you the money to treat with?—I paid it out of my own pocket.

36,919. (Mr. Hill.) But you got some money to pay for this drink did you not?—No.

36,920. That 10*l.* was given to you as a clear sum; what did you have besides?—Nothing.

36,921. Do you mean to say you treated voters and had no money given to you with which to pay for it?—Yes, I was told by Mr. Shackleton a fortnight prior to the election that any money I spent out of my own pocket would be refunded to me, but it was not.

36,922. Then they still owe it to you?—Yes.

36,923. How much did you lay out?—About a couple of pounds.

36,924. And that sum you have never been paid?—No.

W. Whinray.

WILLIAM WHINRAY sworn and examined.

36,925. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Carnforth?—Yes.

36,926. What are you?—A labourer.

36,927. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Lawrence.

36,928. What money did you receive?—8*l.*

36,929. Who paid you?—Mr. Isaac Jackson, I believe, of Liverpool.

36,930. Where were you paid?—In the "Royal Oak" committee room.

36,931. Was that all the money you received?—Yes.

36,932. Did he give you no money to get drink with?—He did not.

Adjourned for a short time.

J. Forrest.

JOSEPH FORREST sworn and examined.

36,933. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a currier in Market Street?—Yes.

36,934. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,935. What money did you receive for the purposes of the last election?—2*l.* 5*s.* from George Danson, and 12*l.* from James Harrison.

36,936. Anything else?—No.

36,937. What was this money that George Danson paid you for?—For being on the committee.

36,938. That is all the money you got?—Yes.

36,939. Did you get any money to pay over to anyone?—No.

A. Pailling.

AMOS PAILLING sworn and examined.

36,940. (Mr. Hill.) You are an ironmonger in West Place?—Yes.

36,941. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

36,942. What money did you receive?—I received 5*l.* for railway expenses and refreshments.

36,943. From whom?—From somebody in the "Royal Oak," I do not know who he was; a gentleman paid me.

36,944. What else did you get besides the 5*l.*?—That was all; it was for railway expenses, refreshments, and loss of time.

36,945. Where did you come from?—From Coventry.

36,946. When were you written to to come down?—About a week before the election.

36,947. How much were your railway expenses?—43*s.*

36,948. You got 5*l.* altogether to cover your expenses and everything?—Yes.

36,949. 2*l.* 3*s.* was the whole amount of your expenses?—Railway expenses.

36,950. There were no other expenses were there?—There were refreshments and two days loss of time.

36,951. Was this the first time you had voted?—Yes.

36,952. Who took up your freedom?—Myself.

M. Hardman.

MATTHEW HARDMAN sworn and examined.

36,953. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Nicholas Street?—Yes.

36,954. What are you?—A hairdresser.

36,955. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

35,956. What money did you receive for the purpose of the election?—Nothing.

36,957. Had you anything to do with the election?—Nothing.

36,958. Did you canvass anybody?—Yes I asked people sometimes.

36,959. Then why did you say in answer to my question that you had nothing to do with the election?—I just asked as a matter of form in the shop.

36,960. Who desired you to ask?—No one.

36,961. Did you do it entirely of your own free will?—Yes.

36,962. Did you ever promise any money to anybody?—No.

36,963. Did you never say that some money would be going on your side?—Yes, I have said by the reports that there was money on both sides. I was told so.

36,964. Did you before the election tell voters that money would be going on your side?—Most likely I did.

36,965. Was any money entrusted to you?—No, not a farthing.

36,966. Not a farthing to pay any voter with?—No.

36,967. Did you see any voter paid?—No.

36,968. Did you take them anywhere where you knew they would be paid?—No.

36,969. Do you persist in saying that you did this of your own heed and that no one advised you to do it?—Yes, I was always very anxious for the Liberal side and I asked the votes of people in the shop.

36,970. Did any member of the Liberal side send

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

M. Hardman.

7 Jan. 1867.

you to these people ?—Yes, I have been asked just to solicit a vote or so of a person.

36,971. Who asked you to do that ?—Mr. Coulston asked me— no, he did not ask me, but I asked him if I might ask one of his tenants to vote for Fenwick and Schneider.

36,972. Mr. Coulston did not ask you to see his tenants ?—No, he did not.

36,973. When you asked Mr. Coulston what did he say ?—He said I might ask them if I thought proper.

36,974. What Mr. Coulton are you s eaking of ?—Of the bank.

36,975. The late Mr. Coulston ?—Yes.

36,976. (Mr Hill.) You knew that money was going for votes ?—Yes, I knew what the report was.

36,977. When did you know that money was going ?—During the election.

36,978. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you ask a man named Airey for his vote ?—No.

36,979. Whom did you ask ?—Cottam.

36,980. Which Cottam is that ?—At the Well house.

36,981. Do you know his christian name ?—No.

36,982. Did you tell him that he would get anything for his vote ?—No, he said that at the last election he did not get paid his expenses, and I told him that he would no doubt have his expenses paid ; that was all I said to him.

36,983. What do you mean by his expenses ?—He said he could get some votes from farmers.

36,984. What did you mean by expenses is my question ?—For the conveyance and his trouble.

36,985. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not tell them where they would get their expenses ?—No, I cannot say that I did.

36,986. Just think ?—I might say to him he might go to some of the captains.

36,987. Did you not tell him what captains would be the men to go to ?—No, I do not know that it was mentioned.

36,988. Did you or did you not tell them where they could get the money ?—I could not say.

36,989. Did you not tell them they might get it by going to Peter Moore's ?—I might say so.

36,990. Do you believe that you did say so ?—Perhaps I might ; it was well enough known that they could get money.

36,991. Did you not tell these people that they could get money by going to Peter Moore's ?—Yes, perhaps I might.

36,992. You you it quite well yourself and took care they should know it too ?—Yes, it was well enough known in the town.

36,993. That was the part you were asked to take ?—No, I was not ; I never meddled with the money.

36,994. It was the part you volunteered to take then ? — Yes, it was my own wish; I was very anxious.

36,995. (Mr. Newton.) Why did you tell the men to go to Peter Moore's ?—Because I supposed he was engaged.

36,996. Engaged in what ?—In looking after the votes.

36,997. Why should you tell the men to go there ?—They asked me the question.

36,998. Did you not know they were paid at Peter Moore's ?—Yes I knew it by the report.

36,999. Did you send them there to be paid ?—I did not send them at all.

37,000. Did you not tell them that if they went to Peter Moore's they would be paid ?—Perhaps I might say so.

37,001. Did you or did you not, that is the question ?—Well, I could not swear to it.

37,002. Am I to to take it that you did say so ?—Perhaps you may take it down so ; he is there and can tell whether I said so or not.

37,003. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you know that the paying of voters was going on at Peter Moore's ?—I did not know it, but people came into the shop and talked and said this that and the other.

37,004. Did you believe it ?—Yes, I believed it.

37,005. (Mr. Hill.) When was it that you sent these people to Peter Moore's ?—Long before the election.

37,006. How long ?—Perhaps a week or a fortnight. I never meddled with the election no further than just that.

37,007. (Mr. Newton.) When did you first know that money was paid for votes ?—I could not say, only by the reports ; I never attended any meetings.

37,008. When did you first know by reports that money was being paid for votes ?—I never attended no meetings. I was never in no public-houses ; all I knew was only by report and what was said, and what I say now is correct.

[William Whiteside of Glasson Dock is called but does not answer.]

The following certificate is read by the secretary : "I hereby certify that William Whiteside, of Glasson "Dock, is suffering from liver disease and dropsy, and not in a fit condition to leave his house."

WILLIAM HALL,
L.A.C.P. Ed., F.R.C.S. Eng.

Lancaster, January 5th 1867.

WILLIAM WHITESIDE sworn and examined.

W. Whiteside.

37,009. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Poulton-le-Sands, book-keeper ?—I am on the list as a book-keeper.

37,010. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,011. What money did you get for the purpose of the election ?—I got nothing for my vote, I got 3*l.* for the purpose of the election.

37,012. For what purpose was that ?—Treating ; the first amount I got from George Vince, about a week previous to the election.

37,013. How much was that ?—1*l.*, and I told him I would have nothing to do with the election money, but he pressed me very much to take it, and at last I said I would take it, but I would hand it over to some one else, and I handed it over to Mr. Richard Peckover ; he has given his evidence about it.

37,014. What did he say about it ?—According to what I read in the evidence he said he spent it.

37,015. Do you know a man named Hodgson, of China Lane ?—No.

37,016. What was the next money that you received ?—2*l.* from Mrs. Willacy, that was on the morning of the election.

37,017. What did you do with that ?—I had better tell you the purpose for which she said she gave it to me. The Buss was going to start from the door with voters, and she called me to the door and said, "Mr. Whiteside I want you." I said, "What do you want ?" she said, "They have sent you 2*l.*," I said, "You know I never receive money. I told them so," and She said, "But they know you have been spending "money during the canvass and they wish to repay "you."

37,018. Was that so ; had you been spending money during the canvass ?—Yes ; of course I never intended to ask anybody for any of it. I should not have asked for it, and I never expected payment.

37,019. You took the 2*l.*, however ?—Yes.

37,020. At whose house had you spent that 2*l.* ?—At Mrs. Willacy's for one ; and at Daniel Edmondson's, and the "Joiners' Arms," and the "Ship Inn."

37,021. That was a house on the other side ?—I went to all the houses where I could find a voter, or treat one.

37,022. Did you receive anything else ?—No.

37,023. Had you no other money ?—No.

37,024. Then the only thing you did in the election was treating voters ?—Yes, and getting them to go and vote. I assisted on the election day to get as many up as I could.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

W. Whiteside.

7 Jan. 1867.

37,025. You arranged as to the prices, did you not?—No, I would have nothing to do with the prices. I would have nothing to do with money matters.

37,026. Did you not tell them that Yellow gold was as good as the Blue?—Very likely I should tell them that. I sent them to the "King's Arms," when they began to talk about money, where I had no doubt there was money. Mrs. Willacy will corroborate my evidence; In fact, I did not intend having anything to do with anybody's money but my own, and never asked for it, and never expected it.

37,027. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I am cashier and head clerk in the harbour office at Morecambe.

J. Mount.

they call him; 2*l.* from Thomas Wise, and 1*l.* from Mr. Wearing, and 1*l.* from Mr. Shacklelon at Morecambe, and the other 1*l.* I cannot tell where I got it from. I know I received 15*l.* and some odd shillings, but I cannot tell who gave me the last.

37,149. You spent the most of it upon yourself did you not?—No, I did not.

37,150. How much did you spend in treating other voters?—I kept some for myself I am aware.

37,151. That was all you got?—That was every farthing that I got.

37,152. Did any money besides this come to anybody else for you, to your wife for instance?—I believe there did.

37,153. How much?—I cannot say that.

37,154. Surely you can say how much she got?—No, I cannot. I can speak for myself but not for anybody else.

37,155. You believe that your wife had something?—I believe she had.

37,156. 5*l.* or 10*l.*?—I do not know.

37,157. Give us a figure?—I can say for 1*l.* I can say for no more.

37,158. Do you not know that it was 1*l.*?—Yes, I know of 1*l.*, but I can say for no more.

37,159. She would not be likely to take it without telling you of it?—I know she got 1*l.*, but I know of no more.

37,160. You know she got 1*l.*, and you do not know but what she got more?—She might have got a deal more for anything I know. I hope she did.

A. Welch.

ACKEY WELCH sworn and examined.

37,161. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A horse-breaker.

37,162. In Ellel?—Yes.

37,163. For whom did you vote at the last election? For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,164. What money did you get?—10*l.*

37,165. From whom did you get it?—From William Welch.

37,166. Was that all the money you got?—Yes.

37,167. You do not know whether your wife got any more?—No, she did not.

G. R. Knott.

GEORGE ROLINS KNOTT sworn and examined.

37,168. (Mr. Hill.) You are a butcher in Common Garden Street?—Yes.

37,169. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,170. What money did you get for the purposes of the election?—8*l.*

37,171. What else?—Nothing.

37,172. You are a butcher you know; do you mean to say that you only got 8*l.*?—That is all.

37,173. Did you not get put on any committee or anything?—No.

J. Hodgson

JOHN HODGSON sworn and examined.

37,174. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A butcher.

37,175. In Common Garden Street?—Yes.

37,176. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,177. What money did you get for the purposes of the election?—10*l.*

37,178. You are a householder are you not?—No.

37,179. From whom did you get the 10*l.*?—From William Welch.

37,180. Is that all the money you got?—Yes.

37,181. Did you not get any money for being on a committee?—No.

37,182. Did you get no money from anyone else?—No.

37,183. Did you get any money to give to anyone?—No.

J. Sly.

JOSEPH SLY sworn and examined.

37,184. (Mr. Hill.) You keep the "King's Arms"?—Yes.

37,185. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,186. What monies did you receive in the matter of the last election?—234*l.* 12*s.* 10*d.* (referring to a paper and handing it to the Commissioners).

37,187. What was that sum for?—For carriages during the canvass, 14*l.* 19*s.* 9*d.*

37,188. In fact, it is according to this account?—Exactly.

37,189. Your account for carriages comes altogether to 234*l.* 12*s.* 10*d.*, and then there is a carriage account after that of 178*l.* 13*s.*, making a total of 413*l.* 5*s.* 10*d.*?—Yes.

37,190. You received also on behalf of Mr. Schneider an amount of 5*l.* 16*s.*?—Yes.

37,191. Was that also for a carriage account?—Yes.

37,192. You voted for Mr. Lawrence, you say?—Yes.

37,193. For whom did you vote in the Saunders and Fenwick election?—For Mr. Saunders.

37,194. Have you always voted on that side?—Always.

37,195. Did you receive anything on account of your vote?—No.

37,196. Can you tell me what was the carriage account of Mr. Saunders at the Saunders and Fenwick election?—Not at present, but I can let you know.

M. Simpson.

MATTHEW SIMPSON sworn and examined.

37,197. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A ship builder.

37,198. Where?—At Glasson Dock.

37,199. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,200. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None.

37,201. Nothing whatever?—Nothing whatever.

37,202. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

37,203. Was any money left with you as a stakeholder for any voter?—No.

37,204. Did you see any voter paid?—No.

I. Bradley.

ISAAC BRADLEY sworn and examined.

37,205. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Damside Street? Yes.

37,206. What are you?—A photographer.

37,207. How long have you been resident in Lancaster?—15 years.

37,208. Have you had a vote during the whole of those 15 years?—No, I have voted twice.

37,209. For whom did you vote on the occasion of the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,210. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—No.

37,211. Nothing at all ?—Nothing at all; not a farthing.

37,212. For whom did you vote at the previous election ?—For Mr. Saunders.

37,213. Did you receive any money on that occasion ?—Not a farthing; I never got a farthing in my life.

37,214. Did you take an active part in the last election ?—Not at all; I never mixed myself up with it in any way; I never saw the canvassers.

37,215. You saw the nomination ?—I saw part of it.

JOSEPH HEMMINGWAY sworn and examined. J. Hemmingway.

37,216. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Damside Street ?—Yes.

37,217. What are you ?—A pawnbroker.

37,218. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,219. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—No.

37,220. Neither for yourself nor for any other person ?—No.

37,221. Did you see any voter paid ?—No.

JAMES ELLERSHAW sworn and examined. J. Ellershaw.

37,222. (Mr Hill.) You live in Moor Lane ?—Yes.

37,223. What are you ?—A beerhouse keeper.

37,224. What is the name of your beerhouse ?—The "Travellers Rest."

37,225. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,226. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election ?—I received 37*l.* altogether.

37,227. Was that the whole money you received ?—The whole.

37,228. For bills and everything else ?—For bills and everything.

37,229. Can you give me the different amounts of the bill for the use of the house and for yourself ?—I have not got the bills by me, but I got 22*l.* paid me by instalments for refreshments; 5*l.* for the use of my house, and 10*l.* I got for my vote.

37,230. Was that all you got ?—Yes.

37,231. Did you pay any money to anybody ?—No.

WILLIAM HOTHERSHALL WINDER sworn and examined. W. H. Winder

37,232. (Mr. Barstow.) I understand you wish to make some statement with reference to the evidence you have given ?—Yes. I said this morning that I received 1*l.* as poll clerk, and 2*l.* as a present to my father, and I told you he would not receive it. I did not retain the 2*l.*; I took it home and left it on the table, and when he came home he would not have it, and I would not have it. I had nothing to do with it; it was given to me, and I took it home to give to my father, and he would not have it, and I would not have it. I never got more than 1*l.* I received the 2*l.*, but I did not retain it.

37,233. Did you take it back to the people who had given it to you ?—No, I did not.

37,234. Why not ?—I left it there.

37,235. Your father must have told you that he would not take it ?—Yes.

37,236. Why then did you not take it back to the people who had given it to you ?—I said, "It is there; if you will not have it I cannot help it."

37,237. Then for all you know your father did take it ?—No, he never took it.

37,238. How do you know he never took it ?—Because he has sworn he did not; my sisters were there. He said he would not receive it, and I am sure he did not receive it.

37,239. Who did receive it ?—I do not know; I left it in the house.

37,240. (Mr. Newton.) Whether you or your sisters or your father got it is quite immaterial for the purpose of this Commission ?—I do not wish to shift the weight of the responsibility from one shoulder to another.

37,241. You took the money for a certain purpose to the person for whom it was destined, and he declined to receive it ?—Yes.

37,242. Then when he declined to receive it, it was your duty to take it back to the person who had given it to you. You must be responsible; some of your family got it ?—I did not; I thought it best to come here and let the court know what the fact was.

ANTHONY TAYLOR, of Henry Street, labourer, is called but does not answer.

WILLIAM TAYLOR sworn and examined. W. Taylor.

37,243. (Mr. Newton.) Are you the brother of Anthony Taylor ?—Yes, he goes on to the canal; he is not here.

37,244. When did he go ?—I do not know; he was here last week; I saw him.

37,245. How did he vote at the last election ?—I cannot say; I never saw him.

37,246. Have you ever heard him say how he voted ?—No.

37,247. Do you know what he got for his vote ?—10*l.* I heard friends say.

37,248. You got 5*l.* and your brother got 10*l.*, do you know who he got it from ?—From Jackie Ball, I think.

37,249. You voted for Fenwick and Schneider ?—Yes.

37,250. And your brother voted for Lawrence ?—Yes.

37,251. You do not know whether Anthony got more than 10*l.* ?—No, I do not.

37,252. And you do not know whether he was on any committee ?—No, I do not.

Adjourned to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

37,298. You were staying at Lancaster at the time were you?—I was an attendant at the asylum; I was personated at the election before in the contest between Saunders and Fenwick. I was living at Claughton Hall; I never came from there at all, but my name was voted.

37,299. Had you not anything given you to drink with?—No, not anything.

THOMAS NEWTON sworn and examined.

37,300. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at St. George's Quay?—Yes.

37,301. What are you?—A tinman.

37,302. For whom did you vote at the last election? For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,303. What money did you receive?—10*l.*

37,304. From whom?—I received it against St. George's Quay.

37,305. Is that all the money you received?—Yes.

37,306. You are sure you received nothing else?—Nothing else.

37,307. Had you any conversation with either of the candidates before the election?—No.

37,308. None at all?—None at all.

37,309. Did you see Mr. Fenwick before the election?—Yes.

37,310. Where was that?—By Burrow Hall down in the lane facing his house.

37,311. What did you say to him or he to you?—A young man was with me; there was a young man coming from Lancaster, and we went to meet him, and so this here young man who was with me said, "There is Mr. Fenwick there coming out of a field," so he said he would see him about giving him his freedom—taking it up.

37,312. (Mr. Hill.) Who was the young man?—Lawrence Baynes; so he told Mr. Fenwick as I was a voter; I did not go near him, but this young man told him.

37,313. How long was this before the election?—It was the Sunday before.

37,314. You say you met Mr. Fenwick?—Mr. Fenwick called me up, and he says, "Well, Mr. "Newton, who are you going to vote for"? I said I was going to vote for him; and he says, "Will you "give Mr. Schneider a vote"? and I said I did not know I would see about it. That was all that passed between him and me.

37,315. What did you say upon that?—I said I did not know, I would see about it.

37,316. And what did Mr. Fenwick say upon that? He said, "Oh you must give Mr. Schneider one too."

37,317. Well?—I said I could not promise, but I would see about it.

37,318. Did Mr. Fenwick then say anything further to you?—No, he left me.

37,319. He left you there where you were?—Yes.

37,320. Did he give you anything?—No.

37,321. Did he give you an order for anything?—No, he did not; he never gave me naught in his life.

37,322. Had you any clothes from Mr. Fenwick?—No.

37,323. If anybody has said you had that is not true?—No, I had naught at all of him.

37,324. Did you not go to Burrow Hall?—I did not go up to the house; we was in the lane.

37,325. Did he leave you in the lane?—Yes.

37,326. And was this all the conversation that you had with him before the election?—That is all the conversation I had with him all the time when the election was agate.

37,327. Since the election have you received anything from him?—No.

37,328. In your presence did this man, Lawrence Baynes speak to him about his freedom?—Lawrence Baynes said he would see him about it when he saw him in the field.

37,329. Did he in your presence speak to Mr. Fenwick on the subject of his freedom?—No, we were at a distance off.

37,330. He told you he would do so?—Yes.

37,331. But he did not do so in your hearing?—No.

37,332. (Mr. Hill.) What made him change his mind and not speak to Mr. Fenwick about taking up his freedom, if he said he was going to speak to him about it?—I do not know.

37,333. You say that Lawrence Baynes said he would speak to Mr. Fenwick about his freedom?—Yes.

37,334. Then why did he not do so?—He did do so, but I did not hear anything of it.

37,335. Did you not hear what he said?—No, I was a distance off at the time.

37,336. Did not Mr. Fenwick say to you it would be better for you if you would vote for Mr. Schneider?—Yes.

37,337. He said it would be better for you?—He said, "You must give Mr. Schneider one too."

37,338. Did he say in what way it would be better for you to vote for Mr. Schneider?—No.

37,339. He did not?—No.

37,340. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

37,341. There was nothing said about what you would get by voting for Mr. Schneider?—No, not at all.

37,342. Was the name of Mr. Lawrence mentioned?—I do not know. He said, "Do not let the Blues get hold of you."

37,343. You have not told us that—that you left out—Can you not recollect something else that he said?—Not at present I cannot.

37,344. Just try?—I have told you all I know now.

37,345. You have told us one thing more already; try if you cannot recollect something more? You say he said, "Do not let the Blues get hold of you." Did he say in what way the Blues were likely to get hold of you?—No, that was all he said.

37,346. Did he say, "Do not take any money from the Blues"?—He said nothing at all, only that.

37,347. Did he say anything like, "Do not take any money from the Blues"?—He said nothing at all about money.

37,348. Did he say anything about not taking money for voting for Mr. Lawrence?—No.

37,349. Have you had any talk about this within the last three or four months?—No.

37,350. Has anybody been to talk to you about it?—No, nobody.

37,351. Nobody has told you what to say here to-day?—No.

37,352. That you swear?—Yes.

37,353. Where is Lawrence Baynes—At Kirkby Lonsdale.

37,354. Was he standing by when this conversation took place?—No, he was off at the time.

37,355. On which day did you come to Lancaster at the election time? Did you come on the election day, or on the nomination day?—On the nomination day.

37,356. Who told you where to go for the money, or how did you find out where to go?—I was among a lot of other chaps when I was in the town.

37,357. How did you find out where to go for the money?—Richard Jamieson.

37,358. Who told you where to go?—Nobody told me.

37,359. How did the money and you come across one another?—There was a whole lot of us together.

37,360. Did Dick Jamieson tell you?—He told me there would be money.

37,361. Who told you first where to go for money?—Hadfield.

37,362. At what time did you get your money?—Between 8 and 9.

37,363. On the morning of the election day?—Yes.

37,364. What time were you first promised it?—The night before.

37,365. By whom?—Hadfield.

37,366. Then you went to Hadfield directly you got to Lancaster?—Yes.

37,367. Who told you to go to Hadfield?—Dick Jamieson took me there.

37,368. Is he an old friend of yours?—He is a brother-in-law of mine.

37,369. Jamieson put you up to it, and took you to Hadfield at once?—Yes.

37,370. And there you got an agreement for the 10*l.*, and you went for it the next morning?—Yes.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY.

8 Jan. 1867.

J. Hall.

JOHN HALL sworn and examined.

37,371. (Mr. Hill.) What is your name?—John Hall.

37,372. Are you a voter?—No.

37,373. Where do you live?—At Aldcliffe.

37,374. What part were you taking in the election in July 1865?—I had a conveyance for Mr. Lawrence.

37,375. What do you mean by that?—I had a horse and conveyance.

37,376. Do you mean you found it?—Yes, I found it.

37,377. You provided one?—Yes, I did.

37,378. What are you?—A farmer.

37,379. What did you do with the conveyance?—I fetched voters up and down.

37,380. Did you go to the house of a man of the name of Gudgeon?—I cannot say indeed.

37,381. On the nomination night before the election did you go with Mr. Bateson to Gudgeon's shop?—I went to Snatchem's.

37,382. That is not in Lancaster?—No.

37,383. The place I mean is in Penny Street, Lancaster?—No, I do not think I did.

37,384. Just think. Do you know Bateson?—Yes, very well.

37,385. Did you go about with him on the nomination night?—A little.

37,386. Where did you go to?—I went to Snatchem's, and from there I went up and down.

37,387. Were you in Penny Street?—Yes, I believe we was.

37,388. Do you know Gudgeon's house?—Yes.

37,389. Were you at that house?—Yes, Daniel Gudgeon's.

37,390. Were you arranging as to the payment of any money?—No.

37,391. Had you anything to do with fixing the price of any votes?—No.

37,392. Did you offer anybody any money?—No, I did not.

37,393. Besides providing the conveyance do we understand that you had nothing to do with the election?—No, I had not.

37,394. What were you doing at Snatchem's?—I was fetching a man from there.

37,395. On the nomination night?—I went for him and could not get him that night, and fetched him the next morning.

37,396. It was a case of "bottling" was it not?—No, I never gave him anything in my life.

37,397. I do not mean on your side, but on the other side?—I do not know. There was no case at all that I know of about bottling.

H. C. S. Chauncey.

HENRY CARTER SNELL CHAUNCEY sworn and examined.

37,398. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—I am the superintendent of the Lancaster division of the London and North-western Railway.

37,399. For whom did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Mr. Lawrence.

37,400. Did you get either for yourself or for any other person any money?—No, none.

37,401. Did any money pass through your hands for the purposes of the election?—None whatever.

37,402. Did you take any active part in canvassing?—No, I did not canvass.

37,403. Were you canvassed by people on both sides, on behalf of Mr. Lawrence, and on behalf of Fenwick and Schneider?—I was canvassed by Mr. Schneider, and Mr. Fenwick, and also by Mr. Lawrence.

37,404. Did you use any influence yourself on the men under your control?—None whatever.

37,405. Are you aware of any influence having been used by others?—I am not aware of any influence having been used.

I. Isaacs.

ISAAC ISAACS sworn and examined.

37,406. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Church Street?—Yes.

37,407. What are you?—A gentleman. I am out of business.

37,408. How did you vote at the last election?—For Messieurs Fenwick and Schneider.

37,409. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None whatever.

37,410. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—Possibly I should explain to you that I acted as agent for Messieurs Fenwick and Schneider in the town hall booth, and received from Mr. Tilly after the election, for being in the booth from 8 in the morning till 4 in the afternoon taking the votes, 1*l.* 1*s.*

37,411. You were poll clerk?—I think I was designated an agent. I had filled a similar situation at previous elections, and been better paid; I gave a receipt for the guinea, no doubt it will appear in the accounts. Mr. Tilly paid me some days after the election.

37,412. Was that all the money you received?—All.

37,413. Did you take an active part in the election?—None whatever.

37,414. Did you see any voter on behalf of Messieurs Fenwick and Schneider?—I did not.

37,415. Do you know Vickers?—Very well indeed.

37,416. Did you take anybody to him?—I did not.

37,417. Or to any other person?—Or to any other person. I did not ask for a vote, nor was I canvassed except by Mr. Lawrence, and that only accidentally when I met him in the street.

37,418. (Mr. Newton.) You say you were not poll clerk. What were your duties?—I had a book handed to me by Mr. Maxsted, and as the voters came in I entered the vote. I could bring you the book if you wish to see it; I have part of it left.

37,419. You were a sort of supervisor of the poll clerk?—I sat next the deputy mayor; and as the votes were recorded, I put the names down, and made a report every half hour.

37,420. Was there a poll clerk as well?—Yes; the position I filled was the same as that in which I had been at former elections; I can bring you the book, and you shall see it yourselves if you wish it, or a part of it. The object I presume was to know how the votes were given, and who had voted, and they were checked off in the committee room from the reports made. There was an agent in every booth.

R. Smalley.

RICHARD SMALLEY sworn and examined.

37,421. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Skerton?—Yes.

37,422. What are you?—A gentleman.

37,423. You are in no occupation?—No.

37,424. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,425. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None whatever.

37,426. Had you anything to do with the canvassing?—No.

37,427. Nor with looking after the voters?—No, not at the last election, I had not.

WILLIAM HENRY BAGNALL sworn and examined.

37,428. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in New Street?—Yes.

37,429. What are you?—A chemist and druggist.

37,430. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,431. Did you recieve any money for yourself, or for anyone else?—I received 3*l.* from Mr. William Storey in repayment of money that I had expended.

37,432. What money had you expended?—I had paid 1*l.* 10*s.* to a man named James Dobson, who keeps an inn, who came to me to engage his house.

37,433. What Dobson is that?—He is not a voter.

37,434. What is the name of his inn?—I think it is the "Sawyers' Arms" in Damside Street.

37,435. What else did you spend?—The remainder I spent in treating. I went to Morecambe.

37,436. Where did you spend this money in treating?—At different places.

37,437. I suppose so, but tell me where?—At the "White Horse" for one place, in Church Street.

37,438. Who did you treat?—I cannot tell you anyone in particular.

37,439. Where did you spend any money at Morecambe?—I spent some at Birkett's Hotel, the "West View Hotel."

37,440. Who did you spend it on there?—I really cannot tell you. I cannot call to mind at the present time.

37,441. (Mr. Hill.) Did you spend any money at Mrs. Willacy's?—I cannot say that I did.

37,442. When were you asked to spend money?—In the first instance I had spent money out of my own pocket.

37,443. Answer my question. It could be answered in two words. When were you asked to spend money?—I really cannot say; I took upon myself to do so.

37,444. You never were asked then. You went and spent it of your own accord?—I did.

37,445. In treating these voters to the amount of 30*s.*?—You must allow me to say that I was with Mr. William Storey in Church Street; I was with him also in the Church Street district at the "Sun" Inn;" and went with him also to the "Black Bull, and in fact I did what I could to assist in the election.

37,446. The assistance you rendered was simply giving the people something to drink?—No, it was not merely that, because I wrote out lists of the captains.

37,447. Were you paid for doing that?—No.

37,448. Then what has that to do with my question; I am only asking you as to the way in which you laid out the 30*s.*, and the other 30*s.* Can you tell the name of a single person to whom you gave a single sixpence?—I do not know that I can give you any names. It was not only treating, but many times I gave a shilling, I will not say to voters, but to non-voters also.

37,449. Can you give the name of a single person to whom you gave a single glass of beer?—I cannot.

37,450. Who authorized you to pay Dobson the 30*s.*?—I told Storey I had paid him this money, and he refunded it to me on that account.

37,451. Did you know Dobson before?—I did. He was a man I employed.

37,452. What was that money paid to Dobson for?—He came and told me that voters were coming in to his house, and that it had not been taken by the Conservative party, and he asked me if I could give him somthing to treat them with, which I did.

37,453. Dobson being a man in your employ?—No, he is not in my employ.

37,454. You said just now that he was?—I occasionally employ him.

37,455. You said "he was a man I employed." You gave a man in your employ this 30*s.*, and he is not a voter but is keeping a public-house?—I beg your pardon; I said I employed him, not that he was in my employ.

[George Bailiffe is called but does not answer.]

The following certificate is read by the secretary:—

"64, Kirkdale Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, January 7th, 1867.

"This is to certify that Mr. Geo. Bailiffe is under my professional treatment; and I further certify that "in his present state he is not fit to undertake a journey to Lancaster. He is suffering from a severe cough "and shortness of breath.

"(Signed) EBENEZER HUGHES, M.D.,
"L.F.P.S & L.M., &c."

W. Bradshaw.

WILLIAM BRADSHAW sworn and examined.

37,456. (Mr. Hill.) You are a draper in Market Street?—Yes.

37,457. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,458. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Yes, I received 23*l.*

37,459. From whom?—From Henry Welch.

37,460. What did you do with it?—I paid it to three Thornton's in Littledale; at least I paid 9*l.* to William Thornton to be given to his son and his brother; I gave him 9*l.* to be divided between himself, his son, and brother. I paid to William Fox 2*l.* 10*s.*, and to Richard Fox 1*l.*, and I returned the balance to Mr. Stephen Wright Wearing.

37,461. How came you to have such a large balance to return?—I expected to have got another voter, but he asked a larger price than I was disposed to give.

37,462. Who was that?—John Lamb.

37,463. How much did you offer him?—I offered him 8*l.*

37,464. Do you know what he took?—I believe 12*l.*

37,465. John Lamb voted against you, did he not?—He did.

37,466. You made out an estimate of these votes when you received the 23*l.*?—I did.

37,467. Then was 9*l.* all the money that those three Thornton's got?—All from me.

37,468. Do you know whether they got anything else?—I do not; I do not think they did.

37,469. (Mr. Newton.) One of the Thorntons I think I recollect kept the money belonging to the other?—I believe he did.

37,470. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not spend any money in giving refreshments?—I paid that out of my own pocket.

37,471. How much did you pay?—I do not think there was very much; perhaps 8*s.* or 10*s.*

37,472. Shall we say 10*s.*?—Yes, I have no doubt it would be about that; about 10*s.* I should say; I forgot to deduct that from the balance I returned to Mr. Wearing.

W. Briscoe.

WILLIAM BRISCOE sworn and examined.

37,473. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Cheapside?—Yes.

37,474. What are you?—A tailor.

37,475. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,476. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—No.

37,477. Not for yourself or for anyone else?—No.

37,478. Did you see any voter paid?—No; I cannot say that I did.

37,479. Was any money deposited with you?—No.

37,480. Not to pay any voters after they had voted?—No.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY.

P. Bromley.

8 Jan. 1867.

PETER BROMLEY sworn and examined.

37,481. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Queen Street?—Yes.

37,482. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Schneider and Lawrence.

37,483. Did you receive any money during that election?—None.

37,484. Did you expend any?—None.

37,485. Neither of your own nor of anybody else's?—No.

37,486. (Mr. Barstow.) What made you vote for Schneider and Lawrence?—Well, to please my own idea.

37,487. Did anybody press you to vote for Schneider and Lawrence?—No.

O. Burrow.

OBADIAH BURROW sworn and examined.

37,488. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in New Street?—Yes.

37,489. What are you?—A cabinet maker and upholsterer.

37,490. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,491. Did you receive any money?—No.

37,492. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

37,493. Did any of your relations, so far as you are aware, receive any money to give you after the election?—No.

37,494. Did you see any voter paid?—No.

T. Cardwell.

THOMAS CARDWELL sworn and examined.

37,495. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Market Street?—Yes.

37,496. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,497. Did you receive any money?—No; not a farthing.

37,498. Did you pay anything?—No, I did not.

37,499. Had you anything to do with any money at the last election?—I had nothing to do with money at all; not in the least.

G.B. Carruthers.

GEORGE BROCKBANK CARRUTHERS sworn and examined.

37,500. (Mr. Hill.) You are a chemist in New Street?—Yes.

37,501. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Mr. Schneider.

37,502. You gave him a plumper?—I did.

37,503. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No; I received none.

37,504. Did you see any voter paid?—No, I did not.

37,505. Did any person on your behalf receive any money that you are aware of?—No, certainly not.

37,506. Had you nothing to do with any money arrangements?—I took no part whatever in the election, beyond recording my own vote for Mr. Schneider.

J. Carter.

JAMES CARTER sworn and examined.

37,507. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—A painter.

37,508. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,509. Did you receive any money?—No.

37,510. None at all?—No.

37,511. Did anybody receive any money for you?—No.

37,512. Were you offered any?—No.

37,513. Did you not hear that there was money stirring?—Yes.

37,514. Were you on any committee?—No.

37,515. How did you hear that there was money stirring?—I heard it in the street.

37,516. Did you talk to anybody about the price at which votes were going?—No, I did not meddle with it at all.

37,517. Did you not arrange with anybody to get his vote?—No.

R. Charnley.

RICHARD CHARNLEY sworn and examined.

37,518. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Gage Street?—Yes.

37,519. What are you?—A joiner.

37,520. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,521. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Well, I did receive 30*s.*

37,522. From whom did you receive that?—Mr. Thomas Harrison.

37,523. What was that for?—To pay some men that was runners.

37,524. Who were they?—They were not voters; some of them were my own men; two of them were.

37,525. They were none of them voters?—No; they were just men that I employed to look after some voters.

37,526. What voters were they looking after?—Well, I cannot say exactly; they were runing about, doing anything they could.

37,527. The whole town must have been running about, I think?—Well, I think it was; then there was what was spent; they spent the money among them.

37,528. Was that all the money you received?—Yes.

37,529. Did you see any voters paid?—No.

37,530. (Mr. Hill.) Did you arrange with anybody that you should have the appointing of two runners?—Yes, I did.

37,531. With whom did you arrange that?—These men were going to be engaged by the other party, that is, the Conservative side, and I told them that if they would go in for the other side I had no doubt I could get them something.

37,532. But who did you arrange with that you should be allowed to appoint two runners?—Mr. Thomas Harrison.

37,533. How long were those runners employed?—The whole of the election day.

37,534. Were they working for you at the same time?—No.

37,535. They were not drawing wages from you at the same time?—No.

37,536. They were not working for you that day?—No.

37,537. They got 15*s.* each for their one day's wages?—No; there was what was spent in expenses.

37,538. But they got 15*s.* each, and they only got one day's work each; is that so?—Yes.

THOMAS CLARKE sworn and examined.

37,539. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Nicholas Street?—Yes.

37,540. What are you?—A greengrocer.

37,541. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,542. Had you anything to do with any money matters?—I received 10*l.* for my vote.

37,543. From whom?—From Christopher Hartley.

37,544. Anything else?—No.

37,545. Did you get anything for your services?—No.

37,546. What is your rental?—14*l.* a year.

37,547. You were on no Committee?—No; I had nothing further to do with it than that.

J. Binns.

JONATHAN BINNS sworn and examined.

37,548. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in West Place? Yes.

37,549. What are you?—A land surveyor and land agent.

37,550. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,551. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

37,552. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No; I may say I never received any money or paid any money at any time, except once, and that is a long time ago; It was at the county of York election, when Mr. Wilberforce was returned.

37,553. How much did you pay then?—I paid a guinea to the general committee.

37,554. You subscribed?—Yes.

A. Clarke.

ARTHUR CLARKE affirmed and examined.

37,555. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Penny Street?—Yes.

37,556. What are you?—An ironmonger.

37,557. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,558. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—None.

37,559. Had you anything to do with paying any?—Nothing whatever.

37,560. Did you look up any voters?—No.

37,561. Did you do any canvassing at all?—No.

37,562. Did you subscribe to the fund?—No.

C. Clarkson.

CHRISTOPHER CLARKSON sworn and examined.

37,563. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Penny Street?—Yes.

37,564. What are you?—A grocer.

37,565. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,566. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I voted free the first hour.

37,567. That is to say, you did not receive any money?—None whatever; not for voting.

37,568. Did you pay any money to anyone?—No.

37,569. Did any money pass through your hands?—No; none whatever.

37,570. Not for any purpose?—No.

37,571. Did any relation of yours receive any money?—No.

37,572. Have you received any money since the election?—One or two days after the election I was engaged by Mr. Richard Moser to look after the stationery, and to deliver out the street lists as they were required to different captains; that I received at Mr. Tilly's office, which you will find in the election expenses.

37,573. You were asked, in almost the first question that was put to you, whether any money had passed through your hands, and you said that none had?—None passed through my hands to pay to other persons. I was engaged at 5*s.* a day.

37,574. Why did you not answer the question at once, instead of shuffling in the way you did—it is very disgraceful indeed—what money did you receive?—5*s.* a day for a fortnight.

37,575. For how long?—For a fortnight. I never saw any money paid to anyone, nor did I know till after the election that money was being paid.

37,576. What money did you get besides?—None whatever.

37,577. (Mr. Hill.) Did you draw it all at once, at Mr. Tilly's office?—All at once, after the election; either one or two days after the election.

37,578. When were you engaged?—A fortnight before the election.

37,579. What are you by trade?—A grocer.

37,580. Have you a shop of your own?—Yes.

37,581. I suppose your business went on while you were away just as it did at any other time?—Yes.

37,582. (Mr. Newton.) What services did you perform for this money?—I looked after the stationery.

37,583. What stationery was there?—The table was full of papers and slips of paper, and letters coming in, and postage stamps.

37,584. What did you do with them?—I took care no one destroyed them, or took them away, till Mr. Moser came back, if he was called out.

37,585. Where was the committee room?—At the "Queen's."

37,586. (Mr. Hill.) You merely stood and looked at the papers, to see that they were not moved?—They would have moved, if I had not been there.

37,587. Who else was there doing the same thing?—I was the only person employed in that way; I had the care of the stationery; me being a teetotaller, he felt he could put trust in me. Mr. Moser had known me years gone by, and that was one cause why he engaged me.

37,588. Do you mean that you were the only person that could be trusted there, because you were a teetotaller?—I do not know for being trusted.

37,589. You ran off, I daresay, to your own shop, whenever a customer wanted you?—I neglected my business, though the shop was carried on without me.

37,590. (Mr. Newton.) What is the rental of your house?—10*l.* 10*s.*

J. Cornthwaite.

JAMES CORNTHWAITE sworn and examined.

37,591. You live in Penny Street?—Yes.

37,592. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,593. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—On the night before the election I received 1*l.*

37,594. From whom?—John Bleasdale.

37,595. What else did you get?—On the morning of the election I received 2*l.* for a voter named Joseph Kelson.

37,596. From whom did you get that?—From John Bleasdale.

37,597. What other sum did you get?—The day after the election I received 10*l.*

37,598. From whom?—From John Bleasdale.

37,599. What did you do with the 1*l.* you received first?—I spent it.

37,600. On yourself?—No.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY.

J. Cornthwaite.

8 Jan. 1867.

37,601. You spent it in refreshing yourself and others ?—Yes.

37,602. Did you give the other man the 2*l.* ?—Yes, I did.

37,603. Then you got 13*l.* altogether; 10*l.* for your vote, 1*l.* for refreshment, and 2*l.* from this other man ?—Yes.

J. Cottam.

JAMES COTTAM sworn and examined.

37,604. (Mr. Barstow.) Where do you live ?—At Quernmore.

37,605. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,606. What money did you receive ?—I did not receive anything myself; there was my son, James, who was with me, received 10*l.*

37,606. Did you get nothing for yourself ?—No.

37,607. Was any money paid to you to give to anybody ?—No; I had naught to do with the election but that.

37,608. Did you receive any money after the election ?—No; I had nothing at all to do with it, only my vote.

37,609. You say you did not receive anything for yourself ?—Not myself; my son received 10*l.*, I believe.

37,610. (Mr. Hill.) Did it pass through your hands, at all ?—No; I had nothing to do with money at all.

37,611. Did James, your son, give you any money ?—No, he did not.

37,612. Are you in partnership with your son ?—No; he lives with me generally. It is the other son that is joined with me at that place. John.

37,613. Do you mean to say you got no money at all for yourself ?—No.

37,614. I believe you are the only Cottam who has not got money. Is John Cottam, of Marsh Lane, your son ?—Yes.

37,615. And he pays 400*l.* a year rental, does he not ?—Yes, I think it is 400*l.* a year.

37,616. Who was the son who got the 10*l.* you speak of ?—The son that lives at home with me.

37,617. John ?—No, James.

37,618. Is your name John or James ?—My name is James.

37,619. Is he a freeman ?—No.

37,620–1. (Mr. Barstow.) Is your son James a voter ?—No.

37,622. That will do. Then there is no Cottam who did not receive a bribe. What rent do you pay ?—About 160*l.* a year.

37,623. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a farmer ?—Yes.

J. Cragg.

JOHN CRAGG affirmed and examined.

37,624. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Quarry Street ?—Yes.

37,625. What are you ?—A clog and patten maker.

37,626. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

37,627. Did they give you any money ?—No.

37,628. Did you receive any money ?—No.

37,629. Did you get any money for anybody else ?—No.

37,630. Did you give anybody anything to drink ?—No.

37,631. You had nothing to do with money at all ?—Nothing at all.

37,632. Do you always vote Yellow ?—I do not keep any account who I vote for.

37,633. But a man may remember that without putting it down in his diary. Do you always vote Yellow ?—Well, I cannot say.

37,634. For whom did you vote in the Saunders and Fenwick election ?—Mr. Gregson.

37,635. No, that you did not. I am not asking you about Mr. Gregson. For whom did you vote in the Saunders and Fenwick election ?—Fenwick and Gregson.

37,636. When Mr. Saunders and Mr. Fenwick were standing for the vacant seat, for which of the two did you vote ?—Well, I voted for the Liberal side.

37,637. Was that for Fenwick ?—Yes.

37,638. Then you got nothing at all ?—No.

W. Cragg.

WILLIAM CRAGG sworn and examined.

37,639. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Penny Street ?—Yes.

37,640. What are you ?—A cabinet maker.

37,641. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

37,642. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—Yes.

37,643. How much ?—26*l.*

37,644. From whom did you receive it ?—Well, I cannot tell whether it was from Mr. Cross or from the gentleman that was with him.

37,645. Where did you get it ?—At the "Golden Ball."

37,646. What did you do with it ?—I gave John Johnson 5*l.*

37,647. Who is John Johnson ?—A cabinet maker.

37,648. A freeman ?—Yes. That was for his expenses from Southport to here and back.

37,649. And what else ?—Thomas Barrow, of Church Street, 6*l.*

37,650. He is a freeman ?—Yes.

37,651. Who else ?—William Fawcett 10*l.*

37,652. Is that William Fawcett, of China Lane ?—Yes. Christopher Fawcett, 5*l.*, paid through Mr. Hodgson, of China Lane.

37,653. That makes 26*l.* ?—That was all I got.

37,654. What is Thomas Barrow ?—I think he is a grocer. He keeps a shop.

37,655. There is no Thomas Barrow of Church Street that I can see; there is of Middle Street, cabinet maker, who voted for Lawrence. Is that he ?—No.

37,656. Does Thomas Barrow work for Gillow ?—No, I think he is an excavator.

37,657. You are sure his name is "Thomas" ?—It was Mr. Cross gave me the name.

37,658. Do you think he could live in Alfred Street ?—I do not know; I was told it was Church Street.

37,659. Can you find him out by looking at this list (showing a polling list to the witness) ?—Is there a "Burrow" of Church Street ?

37,660. Yes.—Then that is it.

37,661. Look at "Burrow" in that list; you will not find him there. There is Thomas "Berrow," of Church Street ?—That will be it.

37,662. This money was given to you by Cross to pay these voters ?—Yes.

37,663. What did you get for yourself ?—Nothing.

37,664. Neither before nor after the election ?—No.

37,665. Nor any relation of yours ?—No.

37,666. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not spend any money in giving drink ?—No, not any.

37,667. You really swear before us that you got nothing for your services ?—Not a farthing.

37,668. Who first spoke to you about distributing this money ?—Mr. Cross.

37,669. Had you been engaged before in the election?—No, it was on the election day in the morning.

37,670. Were you not spoken to at all before that morning?—No, not with reference to that.

38,273. Have you been examined here before?—No, this is the first time.

38,274. For whom did you vote at the last election?—Who did I vote for?

38,275. Yes.—I have forgotten now.

38,276. What money did you get?—John Sharp gave it to me, but I forget what I got.

38,277. What did you get?—No answer.

38,278. Come now, you must know what you got, tell us?—I do not exactly know what I got.

38,279. (Mr. Newton.) You got 10*l.*—Yes, that was the money.

38,280. Do you know the man's name that paid you?—Yes, Sharp I think.

38,281. No, Speight was it not.—Yes, that was it.

38,282. Can you read?—No.

38,283. Nor write?—No.

38,284. You may stand down.—Ain't you going to give me my 2*s.* then?

S. Thompson.

SAMUEL THOMPSON sworn and examined.

38,286. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,287. What are you?—A coal agent.

38,288. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—Nothing.

38,289. Nothing at all?—No.

38,290. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

At the North-Western Hotel, Morecambe.

J. Overend.

JOHN OVEREND sworn and examined.

38,291. (Mr. Barstow.) Your name is John Overend?—Yes.

38,292. Of Poulton-le-Sands?—Yes.

38,293. What are you?—I am a gentleman following no profession.

38,294. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the last Lancaster election?—No, none whatever; I merely walked up to the hustings, gave my vote, and dined in London the same day.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY

B. Bradshaw.

8 Jan. 1867.

BARTHOLOMEW BRADSHAW sworn and examined.

38,295. (Mr. Hill.) What are you, Mr. Bradshaw?—A surgeon.

38,296. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

38,297. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—I received 3*l.* from George Vince.

38,298. Where did you receive it?—I received it in the street.

38,299. What did you do with that money?—I gave 2*l.* to Daniel Edmondson, sen., and I spent 1*l.* in taking two old men from Morecambe to Lancaster.

38,300. Did you pay for the carriage?—No.

38,301. What did you pay?—I paid for their dinners, and kept them at one of the inns till the election was over at 4 in the afternoon.

38,302. At which of the inns did you keep them?—The "White Hart."

38,303. Did you spend the whole of the 1*l.* in that way?—Yes.

38,304. Who were the two old men?—Daniel Edmondson and John Bond.

38,305. Is that all the money you received?—Yes.

38,306. Did you see any other money paid but that?—Yes; but I cannot call to mind the names. I saw Vince paying a number of men at the "King's Arms" inn, Morecambe.

38,307. Did any of that money pass through your hands?—No.

38,308. Did any other money beyond the 3*l.* of which you have spoken pass through your hands?—None whatever.

38,309. Did you arrange with any other person as to the price of his vote?—No.

38,310. Did you receive the 3*l.* from George Vince before you started from Morecambe with the old men?—I received it the night before.

38,311. (Mr. Newton.) Which Bond is it?—John Bond, sen., he is since dead.

38,312. Did he get any other money besides?—I think so, but I do not know; if anybody paid him it would be Mr. Vince; I think I saw from the newspapers that his son had 10*l.* for him.

At the House of Mr. James Brunton, at Skerton.

J. Brunton.

JAMES BRUNTON affirmed and examined.

38,313. (Mr. Hill.) For whom did you vote at the last election for Lancaster?—I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

38,314. Did you receive any money for the purposes of that election?—Nothing at all.

38,315. Were you present when any money was paid to any voter?—No.

38,316. What house were you at on the day of election?—The "Joiners' Arms," Morecambe.

38,317. Who were present?—Dr. Carruthers and the landlord.

38,318. Did you see any money there?—There was some on the table. I thought it was a sum due to the landlord, and not yet paid to him.

38,319. What were you doing there?—I was waiting for Mr. Briggs the harbour master.

38,320. Then do we understand you to say that you did not know that any money was being paid in the matter of the election?—I knew nothing about it.

38,321. (Mr. Barstow.) At what time were you at the "Joiners' Arms"?—Between 9 and 10 on the morning of the polling day.

38,322. What took you there?—I went to wait for Mr. Briggs.

38,323. Why did not you go to his house to see him?—It was put off.

38,324. What made you go up?—I was called up in a peremptory sort of manner and I went up.

38,325. Whom did you see?—Dr. Carruthers and the landlord.

38,326. Where did Briggs take you to?—He took us in a gig to the polling place in Leonard Gate.

38,327. Who went with you in the gig?—Mr. Briggs only.

38,228. Did you see Shackleton there?—I saw him at Morecambe.

38,329. He did not go with you to Lancaster?—No.

38,330. Had you canvassed any of those persons?—Not any.

38,331. Neither directly nor indirectly had you anything to do with money at that election?—No.

38,332. Were there many people in the house?—Yes, a great many; a great deal of them were tipsy and I did not want anything to do with them; I did not know any of them.

Adjourned to to-morrow 10 o'clock to Lancaster Castle.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

38,347. Neither for yourself or for any other person ?—No.

38,348. Did you see any voter paid ?—No.

L. Sanderson.

LANCELOT SANDERSON sworn and examined.

38,349. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Church Street, Lancaster ?—Yes.

38,350. What are you ?—I am a retired schoolmaster for one thing.

38,351. Are you in anything else now ?—I am actuary of the savings bank.

38,352. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,353. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—None.

38,354. Did you pay any money ?—No.

38,355. Had you anything to do with canvassing any voters ?—No.

M. Todd, jun.

MARK TODD, jun., sworn and examined.

38,356. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you ?—An ironmonger,

38,357. Of Skerton ?—Yes.

38,358. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,359. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—No, none.

38,360. Neither for yourself nor for any other person ?—No.

38,361. Did yon see any votes paid ?—No.

B. Thornhill.

BRYAN THORNHILL sworn and examined.

38,362. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—Adjutant of militia.

38,363. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Mr. Lawrence.

38,364. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—None.

38,365. Did you see any voters paid ?—No.

W. Backhouse.

WILLIAM BACKHOUSE sworn and examined.

38,366. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—An accountant.

38,367. You are not a voter, I think ?—No.

38,368. What part did you take in the last election ?—Nothing further than conveying a message from George Danson to two of the butchers in the Shambles.

38,369. When did you convey that message ?—On the evening before the day of election.

38,370. What were the names of the butchers to whom you conveyed that message ?—Septimus Hodgson, and William Gill.

38,371. What was the message that you took from George Danson to those two men ?—To ask them how they were going to vote.

38,372. Well ?—And if they wanted to make any arrangement to get them across to Robert Lamb's of the "Slip Inn," to meet Mr. Richard Coupland.

38,373. Did you take them across to the "Slip Inn" ?—I went along with them.

38,374. With the two ?—There were other two.

38,375. There were two others there when you got there ?—No, the two that I spoke to spoke to the others. I had nothing to do with the other two.

38,376. You took them to the "Slip Inn" ?—Yes.

38,377. Did you meet Mr. Coupland there ?—He was there.

38,378. Did Mr. Coupland or you fix the price that was to be paid for the votes of those butchers ?—I had nothing to do with fixing the price. I left them in less than a minute after going in, and I am not aware that I even spoke in the house.

38,379. You left the four butchers, Mr. Coupland and George Danson there ?—No, not George Danson while I was there.

38,380. You did not see George Danson go in ?—I did not. I did not see any more of him that day.

38,381. Do you know any more of it than that ?—No, nothing whatever.

38,382. Do you know the price the men were to be paid ?—No.

38,383. But you took them there to fix the price ?—To make an arrangement. I did not hear anything about the price.

38,384. You have no doubt I suppose that going there to make an arrangement meant fixing a money, price ?—I think it did.

38,385. That was all you had to do with the election ?—That was all I had to do with it.

38,386. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you say nothing to them about what they expected to get ?—I am not certain whether I did or not.

38,387. Had you any conversation with them about what they expected to get ?—I do not know that there was any conversation specially about money.

38,388. (Mr. Hill.) Did you not say to Hodgson "You might as well have something for your vote ?—No, I did not."

38,389. Wilson says in answer to the question "Did you make any bargain with Backhouse," "Backhouse said you might as well have something for your vote ?"—I am not aware that I said so.

38,390. Did you ever recommend them to ask "A score" ?—Such a word might pass, but it was not my recommendation.

38,391. But such a word passed in your presence ?—It might pass.

38,392. Did it or not ?—I think there was "A score" mentioned. I think it was mentioned in my presence.

38,393. Among the four they agreed to ask "A score"—I do not know that it was agreed.

38,394. They proposed to ask "A score" ?—They did.

38,395. Have you any doubt what "A score" meant ?—I have no doubt it meant a score pounds.

38,396. Had you any authority from anybody to fix any price ?—No, none whatever.

38,397. Can you recollect exactly what the message was that George Danson gave to you ?—I met Danson at the foot of Market Street, on the evening of the nomination day. He said in conversation "How are the butchers going to do in the market," I said, "I do not know, some are going for you and some against you," and he said, "Go and see those who "are going for us, and if they mean to make any "arrangement, get them across to Robert Lamb's to "the "Slip Inn," and there will be Mr. Coupland or "Captain Coupland." That is about as near as I can repeat it word for word.

WILLIAM MILNER sworn and examined.

38,398. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Queen Street?—Yes.

38,399. What are you?—A bookseller.

38,400. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,401. Did you receive any money for your vote?—No.

38,402. Did you receive any money to give to any other person?—No.

38,403. Did you see any voters paid?—No.

38,404. Did you take any part in arranging for the payment of votes?—No.

THOMAS SKIRROW sworn and examined.

38,405. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Damside Street?—Yes.

38,406. What are you?—A corn dealer.

38,407. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,408. Did you receive any money for the purposes of that election?—No.

38,409. Neither for your own vote nor for anybody else's?—No.

JOHN MARSDEN sworn and examined.

38,410. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A brush manufacturer.

38,411. Are you the father of John Marsden, a brush manufacturer?—Yes.

38,412. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,413. Did any money come to your hands for the purposes of the election?—Not anything.

38,414. You took no part in the paying of voters?—No, I took no part in the election whatever, no further than voting.

WILLIAM MATHERS sworn and examined.

38,415. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Main Street, Skerton?—Yes.

38,416. What are you?—I am a wool sorter by trade, but I have been in the public line.

38,417. What were you in 1865?—A publican.

38,418. What was the name of your public house?—The "Black Horse" at Skerton.

38,419. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,420. Was your house taken for the purposes of the election?—It was.

38,421. By whom?—By Mr. Towers.

38,422. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—I received 13*l.* for the use of my house and for some refreshments, and my expenses from Rochdale to Lancaster and back.

38,423. They only drank on that one day at your house?—On the nomination day as well.

38,424. But they only scored up on that day?—No, unless there was some trifle before.

38,425. I suppose 2*l.* would cover that?—I cannot say.

38,426. You know from your wife; 2*l.* would cover that, would it not?—I am sure I cannot say to tell the truth.

38,427. What were your expenses from Rochdale; would they be about 15*s.* there and back?—Perhaps it might be about that, not quite so much; it depends upon what train I came by.

38,428. How much did you receive for the use of your house?—I do not know.

38,429. Was there any committee held at your house?—Yes.

38,430. People came there drinking at night?—Yes, but I was not there so much, only on the nomination day.

38,431. Did you send in any bill?—No.

38,432. When were you paid the 13*l.*?—I think the election day, at night.

38,433. By whom?—By Mr. Towers.

38,434. And you did not give him any score or anything of that sort?—No.

38,435. What was the amount for refreshments supplied at your house?—I cannot exactly say; I was not always in the house.

38,436. Was it 10*l.* for the house, and 3*l.* for refreshments?—It was altogether.

38,437. What made you fix on 13*l.* instead of 14*l.*, or any other sum?—I cannot say.

38,438. How came it to be a sum of 13*l.*, instead of 12*l.* or 14*l.*?—I do not know, I am sure.

38,439. (Mr. Barstow.) You say you did not receive anything else?—No, I did not.

38,440. And there was no arrangement as to the price that was to be given for your house?—I do not know what arrangement might have been made with my mistress, but there was not by me, because I was not there.

[John Day, of Moor Lane, Lancaster, is called but does not answer.]

(The following letter is read by the Secretary.)

"January 5th 1867. To the Royal Commissioners.
"Gentlemen,—I have received a summons to attend
"the Court of Inquiry now being held, but am very
"sorry to be unable to do so. I have for some time
"past been laid aside by a severe attack of paralysis.
"At the last election I voted for Messrs. Fenwick
"and Schneider, and received in a fortnight after 10*s.*
"from Mr. George Bowners. I took no part in the "election, and had nothing besides the 10 shillings.
"—I am, yours very respectfully,
"(Signed) JOHN DAY."

[Samuel Mashiter Dodgson, of Bulk, blacksmith, is called but does not answer.]

(The following certificate is read by the Secretary.)—"Mr. Samuel Mashiter Dodgson is suffering from "chest disease, and quite unfit to leave his home.
"King Street, January 4th. (Signed) JOHN HARKER, M.D., M.R.C.S., &c."

JACOB NELSON sworn and examined.

38,441. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A farmer.

38,442. Where at?—At Cockerham.

38,443. You are not a voter?—No.

38,444. What money did you receive for the purposes of the last Lancaster election?—40*l.* 5*s.*

38,445. From whom did you receive that?—I received 5*s.* from Mr. Clark in Lancaster.

38,446. Where did you receive the rest?—I got 35*l.* on the election morning from Mr. Jackson of Liverpool; the young man, not the old gentleman.

38,447. Was he Mr. Jackson's son?—I believe so.

38,448. Do you know Mr. Isaac Jackson?—No, I do not; he said he was Mr. Jackson's son.

38,449. What else?—And 5*l.* that day.

38,450. From whom?—From the same young man.

38,451. Is that all the money you received?—Yes.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

J. Nelson.

9 Jan. 1867.

38,452. I suppose you received the 5*s.* some time before the election?—Perhaps a fortnight before.

38,453. How did you spend it?—I gave Thomas Armer, of Cockerham, 10*l.*; Anthony Armer, 10*l.*; and 7*l.* to William Threlfall. There is a bill of 10*l.* 3*s.* (handing a paper to the Commissioners.)

38,454. Who is the Mr. Rothwell who is mentioned in this bill? It says, "Mr. Rothwell's orders, 2*l.* 15*s.* 6d.," and there is a charge for 16 breakfasts?—It is Mr. Rothwell, of Foxholes.

38,455. (Mr. Hill.) What did you do with the balance?—It went for expenses.

38,456. Your expenses?—Yes.

38,457. Treating?—Yes, and a good deal beside that; I spent money out of my own pocket.

38,458. Was Mr. Rothwell taking a pretty active part in the election?—He was; he got the voters together and treated them.

38,459. Who arranged the price of the three votes you have mentioned; who arranged Thomas Armer's price?—Me.

38,460. By Mr. Rothwell's orders?—No.

38,461. Did Mr. Rothwell tell you how much you might give?—No.

38,462. As far as you know, Mr. Rothwell did not arrange the price of any vote?—No, I had nothing at all to do with him; their price was not arranged; they wanted the same price as the others got in the same parish.

J. Bond.

JAMES BOND sworn and examined.

38,463. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Skerton?—Yes.

38,464. Why were you not here before?—Because I had not occasion to come.

38,465. You were summoned, were you not?—There was a man left a summons, but I never had it in my hand.

38,466. Why did you not come when you were ordered to come?—Because it was at night when I got it, and it was not in my name.

38,467. What are you?—I am a labourer.

38,468. Where?—In Lancaster.

38,469. Where do you live?—I live in George Street, No. 3.

38,470. Did you vote at the last election?—No, nor never in my life.

38,471. Are you on the register?—No, I am not a freeman neither.

38,472. Did you ever live at Skerton?—I lived at Skerton about 25 years. I lived 10 years in yon house that I live in the 20th of last August, and I live in the same house yet. I never voted in my life.

38,473. But you knew you were on the register did you not?—No.

38,474. (Mr. Barstow.) What is your christian name?—"James" Bond—I never voted in my life.

38,475. Is there any relation of yours of the name of James Bond?—No, I have not a relation of that name nowhere.

38,476. Where are you working?—I work for Hartley down in Cable Street.

38,477. Were you ever a fisherman?—Never in my life.

W. J. Wane.

WILLIAM JEREMIAH WANE sworn and examined.

38,478. (Mr. Barstow.) I believe you are the present mayor of Lancaster?—Yes.

38,479. What are you?—A cheese factor.

38,694. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,698. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—About a fortnight after the election I had 2*l.* sent to me.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

W. Riley.

9 Jan. 1867.

38,699. Who sent you that?—My son was a captain you know of that party; Mr. Welch I fancy it came from.

38,700. Had you done anything besides voting during the election?—Yes, I had to take the voting papers and all that. I was on the committee about a fortnight.

38,701. Was that all the money you received, 2*l.*?—I got two voters; I went to Knowley Allinson to get 20*l.* to give them for voting.

38,702. You got 20*l.*?—From Knowles Allison.

38,703. To give to the two Tomlinsons perhaps?—Two Tomlinsons—Richard and Thomas.

38,704. Was that all the money you received?—That was all.

38,705. Where you on any committee?—I was on the committee for Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

38,706. (Mr. Hill.) What work did you do on the committee?—I took all their papers out; their voting papers and the like of that, and looked after any votes I could get.

38,707. How many times did you go round with papers?—I had a deal of places to go to, and look after voters.

38,708. What was your occupation at that time; what was your own business?—I was neglecting my business to look after that.

38,709. Did you employ anybody to look after your own business for you?—My son was there.

38,710. But he is there always?—Yes.

38,711-12. He was a captain. He was not looking after the business, was he, at that time?—He was when I was not there.

R. Robinson.

RICHARD ROBINSON sworn and examined.

Rev. H. Fielding.

Rev. HENRY FIELDING sworn and examined.

38,723. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—Chaplain of the Castle.

38,724. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

38,725. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the last election?—No.

38,726. Did you pay any money?—No.

R. Whiteside.

ROBERT WHITESIDE recalled and further examined.

38,727. (Mr. Barstow.) You were examined before us on the 4th of September last?—Yes.

38,728. We understand you wish to make some statement?—Yes; I wish to make a statement respecting one party, to whom I said I had given 5*l.*; since then, circumstances have come before me, which make me believe the contrary, and I have felt it my duty to come and state that here.

38,729. What do you mean by "the contrary?"—That I did not give the party 5*l.*

38,730. Who was the party?—That party is Mrs. Fawcett.

38,731. Mr. Robert Fawcett, a freeman?—Yes; but I stated that I gave the 5*l.* to his mother.

38,732. And you stated it with great circumstantiality, and with a very ample prelude about this young man being so anxious to do his duty to his country?—That is true.

38,733. But what you said as to giving his mother 5*l.* is not true?—As to the money, I have thought about it, and I have felt it my duty to come and state that now to you publicly.

38,734. Do you mean to say that you gave no sum of money at all to the mother?—I believe I gave no sum at all, now; circumstances have occurred which have convinced me to the contrary. I had no doubt on my mind, at the time, that I did give her the money.

38,735. And now you have no doubt the other way?—I have a doubt, but I wish to give the person the benefit of the doubt.

38,736. How do you account for the 5*l.*, supposing you did not give it to Mrs. Fawcett?—I did not receive it from Mr. Welch.

38,737. (Mr. Hill.) Do you mean to tell us now that a whole column of your evidence is false?—No.

38,738. You were cross-examined by me and by Mr. Barstow, as to all the details, putting your statement against that of a Mr. James Turner?—No; I received the money from Mr. James Turner.

38,739. In your evidence you gave a very minute explanation as to how the whole thing took place; as to who paid for the chair, and whether it should be a sedan chair, and so on?—All that is true.

38,740. (Mr. Newton.) Did you or did you not give 5*l.* to the mother?—I have a doubt that I did not give it to the mother.

38,741. What is the reason for your doubt?—The reason is this; since then I have heard she says that I did not give it to her; I was told so.

38,742. Have you seen her?—I saw her last night; she sent for me, and she said the statement was doing her mischief. I said I had no intention to tell a falsehood; and, after we had talked the matter over, I said I would come before you and make this statement.

38,743. What did she say?—She said I did not give the money to her.

38,744. What made you come here and tell us that lie?—It was not a lie.

38,745. You stated it in your evidence with all the details, and you went fully into all the circumstances, and now you come here and tell us that what you told us before was all a lie?—No; I was not wilfully telling what was not true.

38,746. (Mr. Barstow.) This happens to be the most circumstantial evidence of the whole; you said you polled the dying man, and that you paid the bribe to his mother. Do you mean now to say that you have a doubt about it?—Yes.

38,747. (Mr. Newton.) You told us a deliberate falsehood, and put the 5*l.* into your own pocket?—I beg your pardon, I did not do either; at the time I had no doubt that I had paid her the money.

R. Whiteside.

9 Jan. 1867.

38,748. If you did not pay the 5*l.* to the mother, you put it into your own pocket?—I did not.

38,749. (Mr. Barstow.) You account for a portion of the money you received, by saying that you paid 5*l.* to Mrs. Fawcett; if you did not pay Mrs. Fawcett the 5*l.* how do you account for the expenditure of it?—If you will look at my statement you will see that I said I received the money from Mr. Henry Welch after the election was over.

38,750. This 5*l.* from Mr. Turner?—Yes.

38,751. (Mr. Hill.) But you received at half-past 7 in the evening, from Henry Welch, 48*l.*?—Yes; Mr. Welch says I only received about 40*l.* I have since seen him, and he is still of the same opinion.

38,752. (Mr. Barstow.) 48*l.* is a broken sum, not a round sum?—I put down what I had paid, as I thought, and reckoned it up, and came to the conclusion that that was the amount he gave me.

38,753. You try to get out of this by saying that you have "cooked" your accounts?—No, I did not "cook" them; may I tell you the circumstance that produced a doubt on my mind?

38,754. By all means.—When I was told that Mrs. Fawcett said I did not pay her, the fact of the woman being a woman of respectability created a doubt upon my mind of itself; I then went to Mr. Henry Welch, to ask him if he could remember any particulars respecting this matter; and he stated to me that the sum he felt sure was something less than 40*l.* that he gave to me. I then went home, and looked to see if I could find any documents that I had made those statements out on, and I found the book in which the original transaction took place, and that has been the cause of my coming here. I should not have come if I had not found that.

38,755. Where is the book?—I have it in my pocket (producing a pocket-book, and handing it to the Commissioners.)

38,756. Why did you not look for that book before?—I did not know that I had such a thing.

38,757. It is strange that you should not know in September what you know in January?—I may tell you that I entirely forgot Mrs. Fawcett altogether till Mr. Turner gave his evidence. I went to Mr. Turner immediately after I had been told of his evidence, to mention the matter to him. I did not remember receiving the 5*l.* from him; but the conversation brought the thing to my mind clearly, that he did give me the 5*l.*

38,758. What has Mr. Welch to do with it, when you say that this money came from Turner?—You will find it is accounted for.

38,759. Mr. Turner says that he gave the money to you to pay Fawcett, the voter, and you say you did not pay it to him, but that you paid it to his mother?—I had no doubt in my mind at the time that I did so.

38,760. I have no doubt in my mind that you either paid it, or else that you put it into your own pocket?—I am sorry you have that impression. I had no intention of entering into electioneering matters in order to make money; if I had seen that book at first I should not have made the statement.

38,761. But Turner would have made the statement that he gave you the money?—Yes, there is no doubt that I received the money from Turner, but I accounted for it to Mr. Welch. I received 1*l.* previous to that which is accounted for also.

38,762. Who is Richard Bonnell, who is mentioned in this pocket book?—He is a voter; you will see I returned that money back to Mr. Welch.

38,763. When did you scratch out the name R. Fawcett?—Just at the time; just as it occurred.

38,764. Where do you think you paid Mrs. Fawcett, if you paid her at all?—I do not think I paid her now; the conversation took place in her parlour respecting what I stated before.

T. Sale.

THOMAS SALE sworn and examined.

38,765. (Mr. Hill.) You are of Springfield?—Yes.

38,766. What are you?—A book-keeper.

38,767. For whom did you vote at the last election? For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,768. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

38,769. Did you pay any?—No.

38,770. Did anybody pay any for you?—No.

38,771. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes.

38,772. You had nothing to do with the money part of the election?—Nothing whatever.

J. Sanderson.

JOHN SANDERSON sworn and examined.

38,773. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in the Ulleswater Road?—Yes.

38,774. What are you?—A book-keeper.

38,775. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

38,776. Did you receive anything?—No.

38,777. Neither for yourself nor for anybody else?—No.

J. Newton.

JAMES NEWTON sworn and examined.

38,778. (Mr. Hill.) Do you live in Sun Street?—We did, but we have left it now.

38,779. What are you?—A chemist and druggist.

38,780. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,781. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—Nothing.

38,782. Nothing at all?—No.

38,783. And paid nothing?—No.

38,784. Had you anything to do with any money?—No, nothing.

(Mr. Johnson.) Mr. Welch's name having been mentioned by me last Friday, Mr. Welch wishes to make a statement of his own with reference to it, and I am attending here for the purpose of hearing it.

(Mr. Barstow to Mr. Henry Welch.) Do you wish to make a statement?

(Mr Welch.) Yes, I only wish to say that Mr. Johnson made a mistake altogether.

(Mr. Barstow.) You wish to correct some statement that he made.

(Mr. Welch.) Yes, Mr. Johnson stated that in a conversation which he had with me I said to him that if he would add two ciphers to the 55*l.* which he returned to me, or which he gave me rather, that would be nearer the amount of the cost of the election in 1864; now the conversation which I had with Mr. Johnson was after the election in 1865, and after the Commission had been ordered, and he named the matter to me for this reason; he said that if he had a summons he would be asked how much money he had had for the purposes of the legitimate expenses of the election, and that he would have to say that he had 1,000*l.*; that he had returned accounts to the town clerk amounting only to 945*l.*, and that he would then be asked what he had done with the 55*l.* which he ought to have given back to the parties who had paid it to him; but that he had paid it to me, and that he would have to tell the Commissioners so. Mr. Johnson and I never had any conversation about the expenses of the election of 1864; he objected to knowing anything about them; it was no business of his, he being the authorized person to pay the legitimate expenses;

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

9 Jan 1867.

with regard to the conversation as to the 55*l.* and the two ciphers, that referred to the election of 1865, not to the election of 1864.

38,785. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Welch.) When did Mr. Johnson pay you over this balance?—I suppose about three months after the election in 1864; from two to three months after.

38,786. This conversation then related to transactions which had taken place as long ago as 1864?—With regard to the 55*l.*

38,787. Now you are here you can perhaps tell us what that election in 1864 really did cost?—I cannot tell exactly, but I can pretty nearly. I had 1,000*l.* in the first instance, two or three days before the election, and on the morning of the election between 9 and 10 o'clock, either 200*l.* or 300*l.* was brought to me, I do not remember which, it was either the one or the other; there was no money paid after half-past 9 o'clock in the morning, except in very small amounts, and after 10 nothing; the money that was brought to me on the morning of the election was never touched for the purposes of the election.

38,788. Did you receive any money to pay away after the election?—None whatever, except the 55*l.* I received from Mr. Johnson.

38,789. What did you do with the 200*l.* or 300*l.* you received and did not use?—That was paid away subsequently in public-house bills.

38,790. Then as far as you know the cost of that election was 1,200*l.* or 1,300*l.* besides the legal expenses?—Besides the legal expenses.

38,791. Have you reason to think that no money was spent in that election except what passed through your hands?—I do not think anybody else paid a penny.

38,792. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Johnson.) You have heard what Mr. Welch has said; is that correct?—I gave my version, speaking from memory, but it is quite possible that I may have misunderstood the observation made by Mr. Welch, and his explanation I believe to be consistent with the facts.

38,793. (Mr. Barstow to Mr. Welch.) Were you here when Robert Whiteside was giving his evidence just now?—No.

38,794. With reference to a man named Robert Fawcett. Whiteside in his first examination told us that he had received 5*l.* from Turner, and gave it to Mrs. Fawcett; he now says that he was mistaken as to that, and that he accounted for it to you?—He did return me some money.

38,795. Do you know how much?—I could not swear to it; it was from five to six or seven or eight, or it might be ten pounds.

38,796. Have you had any conversation lately with him on the subject?—No, I have not seen him about it.

38,797. Have you not had any conversation with Whiteside on the subject?—No.

38,798. Not since the election?—It is possible, but I do not remember it.

38,799. Has Whiteside been to you within the last few days to ask you about it?—No.

38,800. (Mr. Hill.) Do you know what became of that 500*l.* note that was changed by Mr. Schneider? I never knew anything about it till it was named in the court.

38,801. It was named by Mr. Schneider in conversation with you and you told us of it?—Yes, I never heard of it before. I told you at the time I believed it to have been in that parcel.

38,802. You mentioned it yourself; you said that Mr. Schneider told you of certain monies, and of a 500*l.* note that you changed into gold?—Mr. Sanderson had named it previously; what I said was that I thought it very likely that it would be in that parcel in the room at the "Queen's," on the morning of the election, which I never counted, but which I presumed to be 1,000*l.*. I believe that the 500*l.* in gold that was changed for that note would be in that parcel also.

38,803. Then you believe that that parcel actually contained 1,500*l.*?—I have reason to believe so.

38,804. And the fact of its being 1,500*l.* instead of 1,000*l.* would, as far as your belief goes, square with your accounts?—It would.

38,805. (Mr. Newton.) Have you been able to discover who it was who placed that parcel in the room?—No, I never did.

38,806. Have you made inquiries about it since we were here before?—No.

38,807. No more light has broken in upon you as to who left the first parcel in your shop?—No. It has been stated in evidence,

38,808. (Mr. Barstow.) The 310*l.*?—No. I do not know how it came there, except from the evidence of somebody at Barrow. I believe it had 290*l.* in it instead of 300*l.* according to what he said.

38,809. Did you not count the money in the first parcel?—I did, but it is a long time since. It was 300*l.* to the best of my recollection. The man from Barrow said it was 290*l.*

38,810. The second would be 710*l.* 10*s.*?—Yes, there was a half-sovereign over. I believe the first parcel was 290*l.* The 10*s.*, I think, was an oversight.

W. Lofthouse.

WILLIAM LOFTHOUSE sworn and examined.

38,811. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Cross Street?—Yes.

38,812. What are you?—Nothing. I voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

38,813. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Never in my life.

E. Simpson.

EDWARD SIMPSON sworn and examined.

38,814. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Derwent Road?—Yes.

38,815.—What are you?—A labourer.

38,816. For whom did you vote at the last election? For Mr. Lawrence.

38,817. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Yes.

38,818. How much?—5*l.*

38,819. From whom did you have that?—John Bradshaw, draper.

38,820. Was that all the money you had?—Yes, it was all the money I had.

38,821. What else did you get?—My wife got a dress, that was 1*l.*

38,822. Anything else?—No.

38,823. You got some money for drink I suppose?—No, none, only a glass at my own expense.

38,824. Did you not get put on to any committee?—No.

38,825. 6*l.* was all you got?—Yes.

J. Simpson.

JAMES SIMPSON sworn and examined.

38,826. (Mr. Hill.) You live in St. Leonard Gate?—Yes.

38,827. What are you?—A grocer.

38,828. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,829. What money did you get for the purposes of the election?—Ten guineas.

38,830. From whom?—From Christopher Hartley.

38,831. Anything else?—No.

38,832. Was ten guineas all you got?—Yes.

38,833. Did you not get on to any committee?—No.

38,834. Do you keep a shop yourself?—My wife keeps a shop.

EDWARD GRAHAM PALEY sworn and examined. E. G. Paley.

38,835. (Mr. Barstow.) You are an architect?—I am.

38,836. For whom did you vote at the last election? Mr. Lawrence.

38,837. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No, I did not.

38,838. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

JOHN SLATER sworn and examined. J. Slater.

38,839. (Mr. Hill.) You are a hairdresser?—Yes.

38,840. In Church Street?—Yes.

38,841. For whom did you vote at the last election? For Mr. Lawrence.

38,842. Did you receive any money for the purpose of the election?—No, none whatever.

38,843. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No, I had nothing whatever to do with the election beyond voting.

38,844. Did you not assist in paying anyone?—No, I never saw anyone paid. There was a man stated that I was a captain, he is an ironmonger—Kirby—but I had nothing at all to do with it.

WILLIAM SLINGER sworn and examined. W. Slinger.

38,845. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Rosemary Lane?—Yes.

38,846. What are you?—A tailor.

38,847. For whom did you vote at the last election? For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,848. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—3*l.*

38,849. That would be from Allinson?—Yes, from Allinson, Knowles Allinson.

38,850. Was that all you got?—Yes.

38,851. What was that 3*l.* for?—I was on the committee.

WILLIAM STEPHENSON sworn and examined. W. Stephenson.

38,852. (Mr. Hill.) You live at Springfield?—Yes.

38,853. What are you?—A book-keeper.

38,854. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,855. Did you receive any money?—No.

38,856. Not of any sort?—Of no sort whatever.

38,857. Did you pay any money for anybody?—No.

38,858. Had you anything to do with the money part of the election?—No, I took no interest whatever in the election beyond voting.

CHRISTOPHER SMITH sworn and examined. C. Smith.

38,859. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Queen Street?—Yes.

38,860. What are you?—I am in no business.

38,861. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,862. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election either for yourself or for anyone else?—I believe I have been an elector since the year 1813, and I never had the value of a pin during any election since I first was an elector.

38,863. Then I suppose you had not any money at the last election?—I voted at the last election.

38,864. But you received nothing at the last election?—Nothing. I never received anything in my life.

38,865. Did you pay anything?—I never paid or received anything—not even to the value of a pin.

[Thomas Smith of Market Street is called but does not answer.]

The following certificate is read by the Secretary:—"Lancaster, January 8, 1867. I hereby certify that "Mr. Thomas Smith, tobacconist, has been confined to the house since the 2nd of November by a serious "attack of illness, and that although his health is now much improved it is unsafe for him to leave his own "house even yet. 38,887. What was that for?—To give to a man named Varley.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

G. Storey.

9 Jan. 1867.

38,888. Did you give it to him?—No.

38,889. What did you do with it?—I spent it.

38,890. Varley never got the money from you?—No. When I went to him I found that he had voted.

38,891. And you did not return the money?—No.

38,892. Were you ever asked for the money again?—No.

38,893. One cannot help laughing, but really it was a very blackguard act, and many a man has been in Lancaster Gaol for less?—Mr. Jackson knew that I was interested in the election for Mr. Lawrence.

38,894. Did Mr. Jackson know that you kept the money?—Yes.

38,895. You kept it with his consent then?—No.

38,896. Did you ever promise Varley to get the money for him?—No. There was a party came up to the place where I was at, and said he had not voted, and so Mr. Jackson asked me if I would look after him. I had not seen him during the morning at all.

Adjourned for a short time.

T. Yates.

THOMAS YATES sworn and examined.

38,897. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of Queen Street?—Yes.

38,941. From whom did you get that?—From Thomas Bradley.

38,942. What for?—I suppose for services.

38,943. What services did you render?—I assisted in getting up the voters during the election.

38,944. Was that all you got?—That was all I got.

I. Isaacs.

ISAAC ISAACS recalled and further examined.

38,945. (Mr. Barstow.) Do you know a man named Henry Knowles?—I do.

38,946. Did you take him to Isaac Vickers?—I did not.

38,947. That you solemnly swear before us?—I do.

ISAAC VICKERS again sworn and further examined.

38,948. (Mr. Barstow.) I believe you said in your evidence that Knowles was brought to your house by Isaac Isaacs?—Yes.

38,949. Do you repeat that now?—Yes.

38,950. Do you remember the circumstances?—Yes; and I daresay Mr. Isaacs will remember the circumstance when he hears me tell it. He came down to the shop. He says, "Well my friend, I want to speak to you privately." I said, "Very well." Then he says, "Here is my friend Knowles, he is a very "decent fellow, and I know there will be some money astir." And he says, "I hope you will do the same to him as to anyone else." I think Mr. Isaacs will recollect that.

(Mr. Isaacs.) I recollect that you have manufactured the whole of this affair. I will explain that.

JOHN TOWNLEY sworn and examined. J. Townley.

38,951. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A furniture broker.

38,952. In Fenton Street?—Yes.

38,953. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Lawrence.

38,975. Did you pay any voters?—I paid no voters.

38,976. And saw no voters paid?—And saw no voters paid.

CHRISTOPHER TENNANT sworn and examined. C. Tennant.

38,977. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,978. What are you?—A boot and shoe maker.

38,979. What money did you get at the election. Did you get anything?—Not at all.

38,980. Nor any of your family?—Nothing at all.

THOMAS WHITE sworn and examined. T. White.

38,981. (Mr. Newton.) You live in Damside Sreet?—Yes.

38,982. What are you?—A tailor.

38,983. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

38,984. Did you get any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

38,985. Neither for yourself nor for anybody else?—No.

38,986. Did you see any voter paid?—No.

38,987. Do you know whether any relation or connexion of yours got any money on your behalf?—No, I do not.

WILLIAM WHITTAKER sworn and examined. W. Whittaker.

38,988. (Mr. Newton.) You live in Lime Street?—Yes.

38,989. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

38,989*a*. Did you get anything for your vote?—8*l*.

38,990. Who from?—Mr. Moser.

38,991. Did you get anything for being on a committee?—No.

38,992. 8*l*. was all you got?—Yes.

THOMAS MASON sworn and examined. T. Mason.

38,993. (Mr. Barstow.) For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

38,994. Did you receive anything for your vote?—Nothing.

38,995. Nothing whatever?—Nothing whatever.

38,996. Did you receive anything on behalf of any other person?—I did not.

38,997. Was anything paid to you after the election?—Nothing at all.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

9 Jan. 1867.

W. Jackson.

William Jackson sworn and examined.

38,998. (Mr. Newton.) Are you William Jackson, of Scotforth, farm servant?—Yes.

38,999. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,000. How much money did you get for your vote?—Nothing; I got 6*l.* for my house, and 6*l.* for breakfasts and drink.

39,001. You keep a public-house?—Yes.

39,002. What is the name of your house?—The "Bowling Green Inn," in Scotforth.

39,003. Who paid you the 6*l.*?—William Halstead.

39,004. Who paid you for the breakfasts?—William Halstead.

39,005. Was that all the money that was spent in your house?—There was two nights before they spent part; 3*l.* one night before.

39,006. Who paid for that?—William Halstead.

39,007. That made 9*l.*?—Yes.

39,008. Anything besides?—There was another night or two, but I cannot rightly say what they spent the other nights.

39,009. Who paid for that?—William Halstead.

39,010. What did you put that down at?—There was 10*s.* one night and 15*s.* another.

39,011. Was that all?—That was all.

39,012. You got 3*l.* on the previous occasion?—Yes.

39,013. What did you get on the two other nights?—15*s.* and 10*s.*

H. Knowles.

Henry Knowles sworn and examined.

39,014. (Mr. Barstow.) You told us on the last occasion when you were before us that you received 8*l.* from Isaac Vickers?—I did.

39,015. How did you come to get that money from him?—Vickers sent for me to his place after the election and gave it to me.

39,016. Had you been there before the election?—I had.

39,017. How came you to go there then?—I was sent for.

39,018. Who by?—Some boy came up to the gates where I work and said I was wanted at Vickers's.

39,019. Do you see the boy in court now?—I should not know him if I were to see him.

39,020. Is that the boy (pointing to Mr. Isaac Isaacs)?—No, he is not young enough.

39,021. Did you ever go with Mr. Isaacs to Vickers' shop?—I believe before the election, on the day you allude to, I walked up the street with him a few doors from Vickers', and went into Vickers' shop.

39,022. What was the cause of your going to Vickers' shop with Mr. Isaacs?—Well, Mr. Isaacs asked me what politics I were of, and what I intended to do; and I told him what I intended to do. And he said, "Come this way with me," and we went into Vickers' shop then. It was only a door or two from it.

39,023. You and Mr. Isaacs went together to Vickers' shop?—Yes.

39,024. Had you any conversation with Vickers in Mr. Isaacs' presence?—None.

39,025. When you got to the shop what took place?—Something passed between Vickers and Mr. Isaacs, amounting to something or nothing. I do not know that I could explain it.

39,026. Did you hear what it was?—I did not.

39,027. They talked together, but you did not hear the conversation?—It was something of this description.

39,028. Answer my question. Did you hear their conversation?—Not the whole of it.

39,029. You heard a part?—It amounted to this: Mr. Isaacs said, "He is an old friend of mine," and nodded his head, and said, "You must think of him," or something of that sort.

39,030. You were looking on?—Yes.

39,031. What did you understand Mr. Isaacs to mean when he nodded his head and said, that you must be thought of?—That there would be something given which is often expected.

(Mr. Isaacs.) Will the court permit me to give an explanation?

(Mr. Barstow.) If you please.

(Mr. Isaacs.) I was in court when Vickers gave his evidence, and I heard him introduce my name, but the court did not hear him out. I think a reference to what was taken down will show the court that my name was merely introduced. I have not the most distant recollection of having been in Mr. Vickers' shop. I went direct from the court to his place—after the court was over—after the sitting of the court.

(Mr. Newton.) Excuse me, our time is precious.

(Mr. Isaacs.) I will be very short.

(Mr. Newton.) What took place between you and Vickers is quite immaterial to our inquiry. We are here to ascertain who received bribes and who bribed.

(Mr. Isaac.) Then I beg distinctly to declare to the court on my oath that neither directly nor indirectly from the commencement of the election to the end, did I see a shilling paid to any voter.

(Mr. Newton.) I am of opinion you were guilty of bribery. You may stand down.

(Mr. Barstow.) No one ever said you saw a shilling paid. We say that you introduced Henry Knowles to Vickers for the purpose of having him paid.

(Mr. Isaacs.) And I say I did not.

(Mr. Barstow.) Do you say that what Knowles and Vickers have both said is untrue?

(Mr. Isaacs.) It is coloured.

(Mr. Barstow.) Did you take Knowles to Vicker's shop?

(Mr. Isaacs.) I did not.

T. Howitt.

Thomas Howitt sworn and examined.

39,032. (Mr. Newton.) How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,033. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

39,034. Did any of your family?—No.

39,035. You are quite certain?—Quite certain. I never was in any committee room in my life. I am opposed to the whole system of electioneering as it is carried on at present.

R. Simpson.

Robert Simpson sworn and examined.

39,036. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Moor Lane?—Yes.

39,037. What are you?—A cooper.

39,038. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,039. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Nothing.

39,040. Neither directly or indirectly?—Nothing.

39,041. Did you pay anything?—I paid nothing.

WILLIAM WILDMAN sworn and examined.

39,042. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A builder.

39,043. In Springfield Terrace?—Yes.

39,044. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,045. Did you receive anything for your vote?—No.

39,046. Did any of your family receive anything on your behalf?—Not anything at all.

30,047. Were you engaged in any way in the election?—No, not in any way.

WILLIAM WILLIAMSON sworn and examined.

39,048. (Mr. Barstow.) You live in Penny Street?—Yes.

39,049. What are you?—A gardener.

39,050. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

39,051. Did you get any money for the purposese of the election?—Nothing at all.

39,052. Did you pay anything?—Nothing.

39,053. Did you see any voters paid?—No.

HENRY WOODS sworn and examined.

39,054. (Mr. Newton.) You live in New Street?—Yes.

39,055. What are you?—A boot and shoe maker.

39,056. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,057. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Not any.

39,058. Did any of your family receive any money on your behalf?—No.

WILLIAM WRIGHT sworn and examined.

39,059. (Mr. Barstow.) You live at Springfield?—Yes.

39,060. What are you?—An architect.

39,061. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,062. Did you get any money for the purposes of the election?—Nothing.

39,063. You got no money whatever?—No money whatever.

39,064. Did you pay any money?—No.

DAVID WRIGHT sworn and examined.

39,065. (Mr. Newton.) You live in King Street?—Yes.

36,066. What are you?—A saddler.

39,067. How did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

39,068. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—Yes.

39,069. How much?—3*l.*

39,070. From whom did you receive it?—1*l.* from Mr. Wearing, another 1*l.* from Mr. Allinson, and 1*l.* from Mr. Welch through Mr. Gardener, of Church Street.

36,071. Was that all you got?—Yes.

39,072. Was it got before the election?—Before the polling day.

39,073. Did you get any money after the election?—No.

39,074. You only got this 3*l.*?—That was all.

39,075. What did you do with the 3*l.*?—It was spent. I was on the Long Street District Committee.

39,076. What did you do with the money?—It was spent in committee meetings on voters.

39,077. All before the election?—All before the election.

39,078. That was all you got?—Yes.

39,079. (Mr. Barstow.) Was any money left with you for the payment of voters?—No; my father paid the voters in that district.

39,080. Is that Roger Wright?—Yes.

JAMES YEWDALE sworn and examined.

39,081. (Mr. Barstow.)What are you?—A cabinet maker.

39,082. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Lawrence and Schneider.

39,083. Did you get anything?—No.

39,084. Did you get nothing from either side?—No.

39,085. Are you quite sure of that?—Yes, quite sure.

39,086. Did you receive any money from anyone else?—No.

39,087. Had you nothing to do with the election except to vote?—That is all.

39,088. How came you to vote for Schneider and Lawrence?—Well, I saw Mr. Schneider in the street, and he asked me, and so I promised him one.

39,089. And did you also promise Mr. Lawrence one?—No.

39,090. And you got nothing for voting for Mr. Lawrence?—No.

39,091. Or for voting for Mr. Schneider?—No.

39,092. Were you promised anything?—No.

39,093. No bargain whatever was made for your vote?—No.

ROBERT ATKINSON sworn and examined.

39,094. (Mr. Newton.) What are you?—A farmer.

39,095. Where do you live?—At Skerton.

39,096. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,097. What did you get for your vote?—7*l.*

39,098. Who paid you?—I do not know.

39,099. Where were you paid?—At the "Black Bull" at Skerton.

39,100. By a stranger?—Yes.

39,101. Was that all you got?—I got 1*l.* 10*s.* for being on the committee.

39,102. Who paid you that?—I do not know; it was sent to the house.

39,103. What committee were you on?—Lawrence's committee.

39,104. Do you know Mr. George Danson?—Yes.

39,105. Did he send to you?—Very likely.

39,106. How many acres do you farm?—Ten.

39,107. What is your rent?—50*l.* a year.

39,108. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you not get more than 7*l.* at the "Black Bull?"—No.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

9 Jan. 1867.

Jacob Stanley sworn and examined.

J. Stanley.

39,109. (Mr. Barstow.) At the time of the last election you were landlord of the "Queen's Hotel?"—Yes.

39,110. That was the head-quarters of the liberal party?—Yes, it was.

39,111. I believe Mr. Fenwick stayed at your house?—He did.

39,112. Is yours also a posting house?—Yes, it is.

39,113. Then, I presume, you let carriages, and charged for them against the Liberal party?—Yes.

39,114. Now, give us first the gross sum you received?—122*l.*

39,115. Have you your account here?—No, I have not.

39,116. Was it exactly 122*l.*?—There or thereabouts; within 1*l.* either way.

39,117. How comes it that you have not got your account here?—I have not preserved any account of the expenses, but I can give them accurately. The account was on loose foolscap paper, which, after I had been paid, I destroyed.

39,118. Can you give us generally the items of which that bill was composed?—The expenses for horses and carriages was 32*l.*; and the expenses which Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider incurred, as living in the house, and for the committee rooms, and for the other expenses, amounted to about 60*l.*

39,119. For the hotel bill of the candidates and committee rooms 60*l.*?—Yes.

39,120. I did not know that Mr. Schneider stayed there?—He did not stop at the house, but he was there to dinner every day, and occasionally for another meal. Both Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider, and their friends, were there. There were generally two or three in to dine with them. The other expenses, such as for clerks' and runners' expenses, amounted to about 30*l.*

39,121. Did you pay the clerks and runners?—No, I did not.

39,122. Then that was for refreshments supplied to clerks and runners?—Yes; and also refreshments to the booths.

39,123. That is all the money you received?—That is all the money I received.

39,124. Did you receive anything for yourself?—Not a fraction.

39,125. Did you receive any money for any other person?—Not an atom.

39,126. Did you see any voters paid?—No, I did not.

39,127. Then this 122*l.* was the whole money that came to your hands on account of the Lancaster election?—Yes, every farthing.

39,128. (Mr. Newton.) Did not Mr. Lawrence have any carriages from you?—No; none at all. Perhaps the Commissioners will allow me to say that the statement which Mr. Wilson, of Liverpool, made—that I had received 500*l.* from Fenwick and Schneider for election purposes—is entirely without foundation.

39,129. I do not remember his having said so?—It is quite incorrect.

J.P. Langshaw.

James Pearson Langshaw sworn and examined.

39,130. (Mr. Newton.) You are a surgeon in this town?—Yes.

39,131. How did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,132. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

39,133. Nor any of your family?—No.

39,134. You are a freeman?—Yes.

J. Gardner.

James Gardner sworn and examined.

39,135. (Mr. Barstow.) You are a solicitor at Halton?—Yes.

39,136. How did you vote at the last election?—I voted for Mr. Fenwick and Mr. Schneider.

39,137. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election?—2*l.*, I believe, from Mr. Smith, 1*l.* from Mr. Welch, during the canvass, and 5*l.* on the day of the nomination from Mr. Hewertson.

39,138. What more?—I never received any more.

39,139. All you received was 8*l.*?—That would be all, except after the election. After the election I got 20*l.* for my services, but not for any bribery.

39,140. First of all, who was this Smith; was that Benjamin Smith?—No; a corn dealer.

39,141. Joseph Smith?—Joseph Smith.

39,142. How did you spend the money you got?—By going over the country, and in treating voters, and such like.

39,143. Were you retained on behalf of Messrs. Fenwick and Schneider?—Never by a written retainer.

39,144. You were not one of their professional agents?—No; I was never retained.

39,145. (Mr. Newton.) How much do you say you got from Mr. Welch during the canvass?—1*l.*

39,146. (Mr. Barstow.) Was that all the money you received?—That is the only money that ever I received.

M. Fawcett.

Mary Fawcett sworn and examined.

39,147. (Mr. Newton.) You lost a son during the election in 1865?—Yes..

39,148. Do you remember Whiteside coming to your house on the day of the polling?—Yes.

39,149. Do you remember a sedan chair being talked about to take your son to the poll?—Yes.

39,150. Did you receive anything from Whiteside for your son's vote?—No.

39,151. Did you ask him for anything?—No, I did not.

39,152. When was it first brought to your knowledge that he had said you had taken 5*l.* for your son's vote?—It was seeing it in the paper.

39,153. When you saw it in the paper what did you do about it?—I went to Mr. Whiteside, and spoke to him about it.

39,154. What did you say to him about it?—I told him he was aware that I had never received anything from him, and that was nearly all that passed at the time. I said I hoped he would rectify the mistake.

39,155. And what did Mr. Whiteside say to you?—He did not say much; he said he wished he had seen me before. I was from home when he gave his statement.

39,156. What did he say to you when you said you wished him to rectify the mistake?—He said I might rest assured that if he could make it right he would do so.

39,157. Was there any pretence for his saying that you had received the 5*l.* for your son's vote?—No.

39,158. Did you ask for anything?—No, I did not.

39,159. Did your son?—No.

39,160. Then it was a pure invention on the part of Mr. Whiteside?—Well, we none of us ever asked for anything.

39,161. Then it was a pure invention of Mr. Whiteside's?—Yes.

39,162. (Mr. Barstow.) When did you return to Lancaster?—The same day as Mr. Whiteside gave his evidence.

39,163. When did you go to Mr. Whiteside?—The day after.

39,164. Did Mr. Whiteside then say to you that he should be glad to rectify his mistake?—Yes; he said that if he had an opportunity he would rectify the mistake.

39,165. As soon as possible?—He did not say "as soon as possible."

39,166. (Mr. Newton.) Did your son say, particularly, that he wished to vote?—I cannot say what conversation took place about the voting to Mr. Whiteside.

39,167. But to you?—He said he wished to give his vote, if they were short; he told me himself he should like to give them a vote if they ran short.

39,168. I do not know that it has ever appeared; did he, in fact, record his vote?—Yes.

39,169. They came to him?—Yes.

Then it is all an invention that you received 5*l.*?—It is quite untrue.

39,170. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you return the very day on which Whiteside had given his statement?—Yes, I did.

39,171. Did you see it in the paper that day, or the next?—The night of the day.

39,172. That was on the fourth of September?—Yes.

39,173. Then on the 5th of September you went to Whiteside?—Yes.

39,174. As soon as ever you heard of it?—No; not till the next day at night.

39,175–6. On the 5th of September?—Yes.

ROBERT WHITESIDE recalled and further examined.

R. Whiteside.

39,177. (Mr. Barstow.) Have you heard what Mrs. Fawcett has just said?—Yes.

39,178. Is what she says true?—Respecting the money I believe it is true.

39,179. Did you see her on the 5th of September?—What day was the 5th of September. Was it a Wednesday or a Tuesday?

39,180. The day after you were examined in court here?—I saw her on Tuesday, the night.

39,181. What did she say to you?—Which night do you mean? I saw her both on the Tuesday and Wednesday.

39,182. The night after you had been examined here in court?—I saw her both nights after I had been examined.

39,183. Did you see her the very night you had been examined?—Yes.

39,184. What did she say to you then?—I had sent for her in the morning, I wanted to see her, but she was from home.

39,185. Never mind that. Tell us what she said to you when you saw her?—But it will lead to what I said at night.

39,186. Tell us what she said to you when you saw her?—She said, "What is it you want with me, Mr. Whiteside."

39,187. Did you send for her?—I sent for her in the morning, but she was not at home; but after she came home she came to my shop, and I said, "I wanted to "see you this morning before I went to make any "statement." I cannot tell the exact words, but I can tell you the spirit of the thing.

39,188. Did she say to you then that she had seen that you had said she had received 5*l.* for her son's vote?—No, not that night, it was the following night.

39,189. Did she at any time about that time say that she had seen it?—I do not remember that she did.

39,190. Did she at any time about that time say that you were wrong in having made a statement about having paid the 5*l.* to her?—She said to me last night that she had said so, but I have no recollection of her saying so.

39,191. What is your account of your interview with Mrs. Fawcett?—Shall I begin with it and state it in the order in which it occurred.

39,192. Just make your own statement?—It is that you might get the whole truth that I come here to-day. I just want you to see the thing as it transpired. I have no motive for telling you a falsehood.

39,193. You have had a great many opportunities of coming here before?—Yes; but I thought it possible that I might be summoned again.

39,194. Why did you not come before without being summoned, when you knew you had committed such an irregularity?—I intended to come if I was not summoned, and when I heard that this was the last day of the Commission sitting I determined to come.

39,195. But the Commissioners were sitting here for three weeks after the time when this occurred. How came you to say that you had given Mrs. Fawcett 5*l.* for her son?—It was from Mr. Turner saying that he had given me 5*l.* for Robert Fawcett. That brought the affair to my mind. I went to Mr. Turner and he told me what had occurred, and then I recollected all that had passed, and believing that the money I received from him I had handed over to Mrs. Fawcett I stated that, I had no doubt upon the subject at the time when I made the statement. I was here four days sitting in court waiting to make my statement, and during one of those days Benjamin Long made a statement that he had given Mrs. Fawcett 5*l.*; I felt that that was untrue; I sent directly for Mrs. Fawcett to see if it was true.

39,196. On what day was this?—On the morning that I was examined.

39,197. That was the 4th of September?—Yes; I sent my little girl to fetch Mrs. Fawcett. It was on Tuesday, whatever day of the month that might be; she was away, I was sorry, because I felt the statement that had been made was false, believing as I did that I had paid her the money Mr. Turner had given to me.

39,198. Tell us the facts?—She came at night in consequence of my little girl having gone for her to see what I wanted with her. I told her what I wanted with her. She said, "Mr. Long did give me 5*l.*" I said, "That settles the matter then." There was an error in Mr. Turner's statement, and if you remember, gentlemen, I rectified that error. Then Mrs. Fawcett saw my evidence on the Wednesday or Tuesday night, and on the Wednesday night she came to me again. I was busy in the shop. I said, "What do you want?" She said, "I want a private word with you;" and she said there was some mistake, or something wrong, respecting my statement in the papers. She tells me that she said that I did not give her the 5*l.*, but I have no recollection of it. I thought at the time that she was coming in respect of a mistake in the names. I had no idea she came respecting the money matters. That was all that took place respecting that, and I saw her no more. After that I heard by second hand that she said she did not receive 5*l.* from me, and I then began to investigate the matter.

39,199. When was it that you heard by second hand that she said she had not received it?—I cannot say. It was some time after the election, it might be a week or two.

39,200. After you had given your evidence?—Yes, a week or two after.

39,201. Why did you not investigate it then?—I did the best I could.

39,202. Did you go and ask her about it?—I did not go to her.

39,203. Why not?—The fact of her having said so was sufficient to my mind to make me doubt, and then I went to the best possible source I could to see whether I had or not.

39,204. When she said there was something wrong did you know she had said that she had not received the 5*l.*?—I felt certain from the parties who told me.

39,205. On the Wednesday you say she came and said there was something wrong?—That is correct.

39,206. But you did not understand her to say that she had not received the 5*l.*?—No; nor did I think she meant as to money at all.

39,207. You heard of it some time subsequently?—Yes.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

R. Whiteside.

9 Jan. 1867.

39,208. Why did you not go to her as soon as you heard of it?—I felt no necessity for it.

39,209. Why not?—I felt it was true.

39,210. Why did you not go to her and ask her whether she had received it or not?—I cannot give any reason why I did not. We were the best of friends. I had no object in telling a falsehood.

39,211. (Mr. Hill.) From what did you take that piece of paper you produced to us when you were being examined?—Chiefly from my memory.

39,212. You produced a piece of paper. I see here in your evidence it is stated "a paper is handed by the witness to the Commissioners?"—You will find it in the pocket-book I think.

39,213. Is this (referring to a paper in the pocket-book) the same piece of paper?—I believe so.

39,214. What did you take this paper from?—From my memory.

39,215. Having the pocket-book in your possession why did you rely only on your memory?—I did not know that I had the pocket-book.

39,216. I daresay if you turn to the 12th of July you will find an entry on that very day?—That is quite possible. I did not know at the time of my examination that I had the pocket-book. I generally throw them into the waste paper basket when they are done with. I have been at a deal of pains to find that pocket-book. I did not know it was in the pocket-book. I knew I had made an account out for Mr. Welch, but what it was on I did not know.

39,217. Have you seen Henry Welch about this matter?—Yes.

39,218. When?—As soon as I heard that Mrs. Fawcett denied the statement. He was the only party to whom I could go.

39,219. I ask if you saw Henry Welch about it?—I did.

39,220. When was that?—Immediately after.

39,221. When?—I cannot say when.

39,222. I think you might say very well when?—It was a good many weeks after my examination.

39,223. (Mr. Newton.) A good many weeks?—Yes, as soon as I could make it convenient after I heard of it.

32,224. How far do you live from Henry Welch?—Not far from his shop, it is not more than 200 to 300 yards.

39,225. Why did you not go to Henry Welch at once?—Because I knew I should see him in the way of business by-and-bye.

39,226. (Mr. Hill.) I certainly understood you to say in your evidence to-day that you had spoken to Mr. Henry Welch about this matter lately?—Not very lately.

39,227. You certainly left us under the impression that you had been speaking to him about it within the last two or three days.?—No, no, nor weeks either; it is a misunderstanding; I went to him because he knew what money I had had, and how much I returned.

39,228. Henry Welch says he has had no conversation with you upon the subject?—I went to his own house and had supper with him.

J. Jopson.

JOHN JOPSON sworn and examined.

39,229. (Mr. Hill.) Are you a householder at Skerton?—Yes.

39,230. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Mr. Lawrence.

39,231. Did you receive any monies for the purposes of the election?—I did. I received 10*l.* through James Simpson Carruthers from Mr. Barker. I received the money from Mr. Barker.

39,232. Did you receive anything else?—Nothing else.

39,233. What are you?—A warehouseman.

[James Todd, of Lime Street, is called, but does not answer.]

The following certificate is read by the secretary:—

"Lancaster, January 7, 1867.—I certify that Mr. James Todd (being 83 years of age) is in such a feeble condition as to render his appearing before the Commissioners very unadvisable.

WILLIAM HALL, L.R.C.P., Ed., F.R.C.S., Eng."

H. Wells.

HENRY WELLS sworn and examined.

39,234. (Mr. Barstow.) What are you?—A corn dealer.

39,235. In Bath Street?—Yes.

39,236. For whom did you vote at the last election?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

39,237. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election?—No.

39,238. Neither for yourself nor for any other person?—No.

[Anthony Hargreaves is called, but does not answer.]

The following certificate is read by the secretary:—

"Lancaster, January 4, 1867.—I certify that Mr. Anthony Hargreaves is confined to bed and quite unfit to appear in court.

THOS. HOWITT, F.R.C.S., Eng."

M. Fawcett.

MARY FAWCETT recalled and further examined.

39,239. (Mr. Barstow.) Did you receive any money from Benjamin Long?—Yes, my son did, 5*l.*

39,240. Is that the son of whom we have been speaking?—Yes.

39,241. Did you see him receive it?—Yes.

39,242. When was that?—That was about 3 o'clock; perhaps between 3 to 4 on the election day.

39,243. It was paid to him himself?—Yes, it was paid; it was put in my hand, I believe, but it was given me for him; it was after he had voted; it was some time after he had voted.

39,244. Benjamin Long gave you 5*l.* into your hand for him?—Yes.

39,245. Was that all the money you received?—Yes.

39,246. Did you go twice to Whiteside's?—Yes.

39,247. Did you go the first time in consequence of having been sent for?—Yes.

[John Jackson, of Church Street, is called, but does not answer.]

R. Jackson.

ROBERT JACKSON sworn and examined.

39,248. (Mr. Hill.) What are you?—I am in no occupation at present.

39,249. You come here to speak for your brother?—Yes, he is upwards of 70 years of age.

39,250. What is his name?—John Jackson, a watch maker.

39,251. He is a householder?—Yes.

39,252. Does he live in Church Street?—Yes, No. 39, Church Street.

39,253. For whom did he vote at the last election?—He voted for Fenwick and Schneider.

39,254. Do you know whether he received any money ?—Not any I believe.

39,255. What makes you believe that he did not ?—He has told me so himself.

39,256. Were you with him at the time of the election ?—Yes, I was.

39,257. Was he confined to his house except going to vote ?—Yes ; he is not able to get so far as here.

39,258. And who helps him about ?—He scarcely goes out at all.

39,259. But at the time of the election did you help him about ?—He came here with a person named Ormrod, who is since dead ; he has never been out since.

39,260. Were you living with him ?—Yes, I was.

39,261. And are you sure that nobody brought any money to the house for him ?—I am quite sure that he got no money.

M. E. Dickinson.

MARY ELLEN DICKINSON sworn and examined.

39,262. (Mr. Hill.) Are you the landlady of the "Shakespeare Tavern" ?—Yes.

39,263. Did you keep it at the time of the election ?—Yes.

39,264. Were you a widow then ?—Yes.

39,265. Did you receive any money for your house at the election ?—5*l.* for a room.

39,266. From whom did you get that ? — Mr. Allinson proffered it, and then I got it from Mr. Welch.

39,267. Was that all you got ?—Between 7*l.* and 8*l.* altogether for refreshments.

39,268. That is all you got ?—That is all.

39,269. Who paid the 8*l.* ?—Mr. Welch.

39,270. (Mr. Barstow.) Mr. Welch paid the whole ?—Yes.

39,271. (Mr. Hill.) Were those persons to whom you supplied the refreshment to the amount of 2*l.* or 3*l.* voters ?—Yes.

39,272. The 5*l.* you kept for yourself ?—Yes.

39,273. Did you give to any of the voters any money ?—No.

39,274. Did you supply any of them with a shilling or so ?—No.

39,275. You only gave it to them in drink ?—That was all.

J. Tomlinson.

JOHN TOMLINSON sworn and examined.

39,276. (Mr. Hill.) You live in Moor Lane ?—Yes.

39,277. What are you ?—An iron founder.

39,278. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

39,279. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—No.

39,280. Not of any sort ?—No.

39,281. Did you pay any money to anybody ?—No.

39,282. Did you assist in fixing the price of a vote for anybody ?—No.

J. Walmsley.

JEREMIAH WALMSLEY sworn and examined.

39,283. (Mr. Barstow.) You are of Ulleswater Road ?—Yes.

39,284. What are you ?—A corn and flour dealer.

39,285. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

39,286. Did you receive any money for the purposes of the election ?—I received 2*l.* 18*s.* from Christopher Hartley to pay a small bill with at the "Martin's Arms," and other little expenses, which I did, at Mr. Hartley's request. I gave him an account and particulars of it at the time.

39,287. Is that all the money you received ?—Yes.

39,288. Why did not Mr. Hartley pay this himself ?—He wanted me to go to the "Martin's Arms." He wished me to go with him as far as Bell Hill and Caton.

39,289. Do you know what that 2*l.* 18*s.* was paid for ?—About 34*s.* was paid to the "Martin's Arms" for drink and refreshment for voters there.

39,290. And what was the other 1*l.* 4*s.* paid for ?—There were some expenses in going to Bell Hill and Caton.

39,291. 34*s.* was for the "Martin's Arms," and the 1*l.* 4*s.* was for your expenses ?—Yes.

39,292. What were your expenses ; treating voters ?—Yes.

J. Robertson.

JOHN ROBERTSON sworn and examined.

39,293. (Mr. Hill.) You live in King Street ?—Yes.

39,294. What are you ?—A joiner.

39,295. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—For Fenwick and Schneider.

39,296. What money did you receive for the purposes of the election ?—About 5*l.* from Henry Welch before the election, that is all.

39,297. What did you do with the 5*l.* ?—It was spent among the voters.

39,298. At what place did you refresh the voters ?—The "Bulls Head," Common Garden Street, and the "Wellington Arms."

39,299. Where else ?—And at Henry Pilkington's, in James Street.

39,300. On what day did you receive the 5*l.* ?—I received it at nearly five times—about 1*l.* once.

39,301. Did you not receive more than 1*l.* at a time ?—No, the first I got I believe was 10*s.*

39,302. Was that all the money you got ?—Yes.

39,303. Now tell me any of the people on whom you spent this large sum of 5*l.*, because it was a large sum ?—I should think there was a dozen men on the railway. Two or three different times they were there.

39,304. Were they all voters ?—They were all voters—freemen.

J. Moloney.

JOHN MOLONEY sworn and examined.

39,305. (Mr. Hill.) What are you ?—A boot and shoe maker.

39,306. For whom did you vote at the last election ?—Fenwick and Schneider.

39,309. From whom did you receive it ?—Colonel Yeadall.

39,310. Was that all the money you received ?—That was all the money I received.

39,311. From any person ?—From any person.

39,312. What did you do with that money ?—I gave 10*l.* to a man named Wilson, and 6*l.* to a man named Matthew Barrett.

39,313. Which Wilson was that ?—I am not certain as to his christian name.

39,314. Was he a householder or a freeman ?—A freeman.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

J. Moloney.

9 Jan. 1867.

39,315. You gave him how much ?—10*l.*

39,316. What money did you give to anybody else ?—6*l.* to a man named Matthew Barrett, a freeman, and 5*l.* was given me by Colonel Yeadall for myself.

39,317. Did you give anybody anything to drink ?—Yes.

39,318. What did you say you were ?—A boot and shoe maker.

The Secretary, by the direction of the Commissioners, inquires whether there is any freeman or householder in court who has not been examined, and whether any person is present who desires to make any statement with reference to the subject matter of the inquiry, or explain any matters already in evidence.

(Mr. Barstow to Mr. Swainson.) We understand you wish to make a statement.

(Mr. Swainson.) The Commissioners at the close of my evidence on the opening of this inquiry expressed a desire for information as to the number of votes on the register next following the passing of the Reform Act, that is 1833–4. The total number on the register at that time was 1,212, consisting of 958 freemen and 254 householders, making a total of 1,212. I have four other years following closely after that first year, which I can give if the Commissioners desire it.

(Mr. Barstow.) If you please.

(Mr. Swainson.) In 1834–5, there were 918 freemen and 257 householders, making a total of 1,175. In 1835–6, there were 899 freemen and 308 householders, making a total of 1,207. In 1836–7 there were 883 freeman and 278 householders, making a total of 1,161. Then the next year as to which I have been able to obtain information is 1840–41, there were then 975 freemen and 321 householders, making a total of 1,296. Then sir, I think that in the evidence of some witness it was stated that the burgesses of the borough under the Municipal Reform Act numbered some thousands ; I am not sure whether he said 3,000 or 4,000. With reference to that, I can produce the burgess roll for the year 1864–5 (the year of the election), and the number upon that roll is 1,119. I think I stated in my former evidence that the number of freemen admitted in the year 1864 was 134. I am now able to give you the number out of those who were put upon the register of that year, namely, 77, and there were seven others of the same 134 who endeavoured to be put on the register, but whose names for various reasons were not inserted.

(Mr. Hill.) When you say there were 77 put on to the register, do you mean by different political parties in the borough ?

(Mr. Swainson.) I do not go into that. I simply say they were put upon the register. The residue of the 134 probably were minors, and would only be entitled to be admitted freemen. I believe that in my former evidence I put the Commissioners in possession of information as to the position of Lancaster in history. I also referred, I think, to its increasing trade and population ; and I think I made an observation upon the borough franchise, at present not in point of fact, including a portion of the extended town of Lancaster ; that, in truth, the 10*l.* franchise, as it now exists, leaves out a part of the new town of Lancaster, in which many of the tradesmen and professional men reside, namely, the Scotforth district. And now, sir, I may perhaps be allowed to say that after the last sitting of the Commissioners a very strong desire was felt that those who had not then had an opportunity of negativing the fact that they had been concerned in acts of bribery should have such an opportunity afforded to them, and, from my knowledge of the feeling of the town, I believe I am quite justified in saying that a very general feeling of satisfaction prevails among the more educated and independent classes in the town of Lancaster that the Commissioners have taken that course. There is among a considerable portion of the voters for this borough a strong feeling of indignation that a necessity should have arisen for this inquiry owing to conduct on the part of those of whom they are wholy independent. They entertain a deep seated feeling of regret and indignation that their position should be at all affected by the conduct of other parties. Those persons consist, I may say, very much of the professional and educated classes in this place, and of those who represent much of its wealth and general intelligence. I wish to state that, as a matter of fact, being in some measure able to form an opinion upon the subject from my knowledge of the parties here. The Commissioners on the occasion of their last visit expressed themselves generally satisfied with the conduct and demeanour of the persons they had summoned as witnesses, and I believe I may say on behalf of the town of Lancaster (if I may be allowed to express an opinion based on what I know of the general feeling of its inhabitants), that I may express their satisfaction with the mode in which this inquiry has been conducted, the extreme accessibility of the secretary, Mr. Patteson, and the impartiality of the Commissioners.
